

Democrats to Begin Campaign Aug. 11; Wheeler Is Director

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler, of Montana, Democratic proponent of the senate Daugherty committee, today announced the acceptance of second place on the independent presidential ticket headed by Senator LaFollette. Although he previously declared he would not accept such a designation, Wheeler yielded and reversed his decision after he had been urged to do so by LaFollette and several of his principal advisers.

ELECTION TO BE CALLED TO VOTE ON SEWER BONDS

City Commission Will Ask Citizens to Vote More Bonds for Construction of Sewerage System. The City Commission plans to call an election probably some time during the month of August for the purpose of voting on a bond issue for the continuation of the sewerage system now being laid under the supervision of the city manager, according to an announcement made at the weekly luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce Friday noon by Mayor Forrest Lake.

In his talk to that body, the mayor pointed out that already more than $100,000 had been spent on this work but that more money is needed to complete it if the city is to keep abreast of the times. He pointed out the need of sewerage systems in Goldsboro, Georgetown, West First Street and in the several new subdivisions that have recently been opened.

If Sanford continues to grow as it has in the past, this situation must be taken care of, declared the mayor, who described the insalubrious conditions of the two new sections of this city, as being "something terrible." The mayor stated that in laying sewers during the past few months, it has been necessary to take up and either repair old sewers or put in new pipes in places that had not been included in the first estimates. Consequently more work has been done along this line than was originally planned, but it was necessary to preserve the best sanitary conditions, he further declared.

"Of vital importance to any city is its sanitary conditions. Conditions, sickness in any form is liable to break out in an epidemic and it is to safeguard the health of our citizens that the commissioners have decided to ask the citizens of this city to pass upon a bond issue for carrying on the sewerage system that we have planned," the mayor stated.

According to Mayor Lake the issue may run between $250,000 and $500,000. At present City Engineer is busily engaged compiling estimates upon the work so that figures may be available within a few days to acquaint the people with the cost of the proposed work. Further, Mayor Lake stated that within a short time the commission will publish a detailed statement showing how money voted in other bond elections for this purpose, has been expended.

In bringing the matter before the Chamber of Commerce, the mayor asked for the hearty cooperation of that body in support of the proposed issue. He declared that all efforts should be concentrated upon the project to the exclusion of others in order that the matter may be taken care of at once. The organization went on record as favoring the completion of data regarding the city as it has done previously, to aid in the sale of the bonds.

At the next meeting of the commission the election will be called, according to Mayor Lake. The bond issue will include money to construct outlets to storm sewers, manily and drainage sewers, he stated.

PHILLIPS AND 3 MORE FREED IN LUMBER CASES

Prominent Georgia Lumber Dealer, His Brother and Two Others are Acquitted of Participation in Big Conspiracy to Defraud Government With Sale of Lumber. WASHINGTON, July 19.—A jury in the District of Columbia supreme court, late Friday acquitted John L. Phillips, of Georgia; his brother, Charles Phillips, Jr., of Atlanta; Frank T. Sullivan, of Buffalo, and Charles S. Shotwell, of Indianapolis, of charges of conspiracy in the sale of government surplus lumber.

During the trial, which began 10 weeks ago, direct verdicts of acquittal were awarded in the case of two other defendants named in the indictment returned in the government prosecution and charging conspiracy to defraud the government in the sale of surplus lumber from army encampments. The two given direct verdicts of acquittal were John Stephens of Jacksonville, Fla., and Ernest M. Morse of Cincinnati.

Of the other four named in the indictment, George M. Chambers, a government inspector, has since died, and Gus Eltzen and M. A. Tourant, Jr., of Pensacola, Fla., and Roland Perry of Washington, D. C., have not yet been brought to trial. Doubt was expressed in court circles whether, in view of Friday's verdict, the latter trio ever would be tried on the indictment.

No Defense Witnesses. John L. Phillips, who is a former chairman of the Republican state committee of Georgia, and his brother, Charles Phillips, Jr., were the only witnesses in their defense, contending the government had failed to make out a case of conspiracy. Testimony was offered in defense of Sullivan and Shotwell, lumber merchants who had dealings with the government as agent in the sale of surplus lumber.

Defense counsel, in their closing argument before the court, asked for a verdict of acquittal on the contention that the contract between the Phillips and the government was an absolute sale agreement which permitted the firm to resell at a profit without liability to account for such profits to the government. The prosecution, it was further contended by the defense, had failed to show any collusion between Phillips or his firm and Chambers, who was a government lumber inspector.

The defense also asserted the government, in its presentation of the case, had asked for conviction on a different conspiracy charge from the one set out in the indictment. United States Attorney Gordon, in closing for the government, insisted the evidence offered had proved the conspiracy charge set forth and asked the conviction of all four defendants.

The indictment, in which the 10 men were charged with conspiracy to defraud the government of more than $1,000,000 in lumber sales, was returned by a special federal grand jury here July 17, 1922. It was the first indictment returned by the jury which had been impaneled to investigate war frauds after congress had appropriated $500,000 for use by Attorney General Daugherty and a special corps of assistants in the inquiry.

Shotwell, who was a material witness in the case, was charged with having approved the making of lumber sales "at less than the market price."

Federal Reserve Bank At St. Louis To Take No Cotton Receipts Except From Government after September 1

RALEIGH, N. C., July 19.—James P. Brown, in charge of administration of the United States warehouse act in Virginia and the two Carolinas, announced Friday the receipt of a telegram from the St. Louis federal reserve bank stating that after Sept. 1, no cotton warehouse receipts, other than those from the United States licensed warehouses would be accepted as collateral. The telegram said all member banks in the St. Louis district also had been instructed to conform to this ruling.

Fifth District Will Accept. RICHMOND, Va., July 19.—Member banks in the Fifth federal reserve district will continue to accept collateral in the form of cotton warehouse receipts from other than United States licensed warehouses, where the responsibility of the private warehouse is assured, Governor George J. Seay, of the federal reserve bank of Richmond, said Friday when informed of the announcement that the St. Louis reserve bank will discontinue the practice. Governor Seay said that his bank had received no instructions to carry out the policy adopted by the St. Louis bank.

The Fifth federal reserve district includes Virginia, North and South Carolina and Maryland. Will Continue to Accept. ATLANTA, Ga., July 19.—The Atlanta federal reserve bank will continue to accept cotton warehouse receipts that seem "safe," Joseph A. McCord, chairman of the board of directors, said here Friday night. There seems no immediate likelihood the directors of the bank will change the present practice, he added, asserting that this was a matter for settlement by the individual banks.

Biggest Step Yet. WASHINGTON, July 19.—The action of the St. Louis federal reserve bank in notifying all its member banks and warehouses on its approved list that after Sept. 1, no cotton warehouse receipts except those from United States licensed warehouses will be accepted for re-discount was described by H. S. Zola, officer in charge of the division reworking for the department of agriculture, as the biggest step taken in the administration of the warehouse act since its passage. Much progress has been made in the licensing of public warehouses under the warehouse act because of the attitude of growers' cooperative associations and bankers toward receipts issued under the law. The licensed capacity of cotton, grain, wool and tobacco warehouses has been increasing and regulations have just been issued for licensing broom corn warehouses in connection with which an application has been received from a broom corn warehouseman at Amsterdam, N. Y., the world's largest manufacturing and terminal city handling broom corn.

The New Orleans Clearing House Association has declared itself in favor of licensing of warehouses. The act and the Atlanta Federal Reserve Bank also has been working in co-operation with officials here in charge of administration of the act.

Varied opinions as to whether the prisoner was the man sought in connection with the killing of Major McLeary were expressed last night after Maj. S. M. Williams, Police Chief A. H. Sumner, of Canton, N. C., and Hubert Holloway, newspaper man of Asheville, who assisted authorities in the investigation of Major McLeary's disappearance, had talked with the man in jail here.

Authorities state that a resident of Union, S. C., who knows Harrell was expected here last night to view the prisoner.

SUSPECTED PAL OF MURDERER HELD BY POLICE

Alleged Accomplice of King, Now Believed to Be Held Custody by Police at Greenville, S. C.—Description Given by King is Said to Tally With That of Man. GREENVILLE, S. C., July 19.—A young man suspected by police of being Frank Harrell, alleged accomplice of Mortimer N. King, confessed slayer, officers say, of Major Samuel H. McLeary, July 2, near Cheraw, S. C., is being held here by local authorities.

The prisoner, who was arrested here Friday morning on a charge of the theft of an automobile, first gave his name as Robert Walker, and later as Luther C. Jones, of Alto, Tenn., police say. A description given by King of the man he named as his accomplice is said to fit the man under arrest.

Varied opinions as to whether the prisoner was the man sought in connection with the killing of Major McLeary were expressed last night after Maj. S. M. Williams, Police Chief A. H. Sumner, of Canton, N. C., and Hubert Holloway, newspaper man of Asheville, who assisted authorities in the investigation of Major McLeary's disappearance, had talked with the man in jail here.

Sought Several Days. COLUMBUS, Ga., July 19.—Search for a man thought to be Frank Harrell has been in progress here several days, the authorities revealed Friday night following a report that he was seen on the streets of Columbus last Friday. As late as Sunday, he was reported to have been seen at Lumpkin, near here, but no trace of him has been found.

Convict Warden J. M. Deason, of Stewart county, who has been active in the search, expressed the belief that Harrell is not the right name of the man sought, asserting that the man he has in mind only recently completed serving a term for burglary and was thought to have "blown" a deserter from the navy.

The warden said he thought the man probably had traveled westward after leaving here with a companion. He added that he telegraphed the attorney general of North Carolina Friday asking for information concerning a possible reward for the slayers of Major Samuel H. McLeary, but that he had been referred to the South Carolina attorney general.

Body to Washington. CHERAW, S. C., July 19.—The body of Major Samuel H. McLeary, coast artillery officer, which was found 12 miles south of here Thursday after a two-weeks search which resulted in the arrest of Mortimer N. King, his alleged slayer, was sent to Washington last night.

Settlement Between English And French Delegates Possible

Dispute Between Two Countries Over the Dawes Plan Likely To Be Smoothed Out. Conference Meets Again On Monday. Frenchmen Produce a Settlement Plan; Hughes Praises Plan. LONDON, July 19.—A divergence in French and British views as to the manner of dealing with possible German defaults under the Dawes Reparations Scheme, is one of the perturbing features of the inter-allied conference in session here.

An unsuccessful attempt was made Friday to thrust fundamental differences between the two nations, but it is hoped a compromise agreement may yet be reached. There will be somewhat of a lull in the conference over the week-end, many of the delegates going to Wembley Exposition and making other visits.

May Bring Compromise. What is known in inter-conference circles as the Lamont-Clement formula, may bring about the compromise here, although this is not certain. Thomas W. Lamont, in conversation with Elymus Clement, French minister of finance, suggested the bankers might underwrite an international loan conditionally, the loan not to be subscribed to, or issued to the public, until the economic evacuation takes place. Mr. Lamont's part in the negotiations is important, although he is not an official but an unofficial observer as Owen D. Young. His position has been described by one who was "super-unofficial."

The "horror" problem of military evacuation of the Ruhr has been mentioned as a subject. It has been agreed to try to solve the economic evacuation first. French military experts have prepared a plan for "invisible" military occupation so late as after the report is in operation. The British do not believe the Germans would accept this, even if the conference occupation to last after the report is proved it.

Deputies To Bring Back Tampa Robber

TAMPA, July 19.—Two deputies left here yesterday for Ashtabula, Ohio, to get Jack Kent, alias Jack White, held as the principal in the daylight robbery last April of A. C. Clewis, of $24,000 he was transferring from West Tampa to a local bank. Kent is said to have been the man who burst a revolver in Clewis' face and seized the money. A grand jury reconvened this morning to investigate the case.

United States Now Has 79 Cities That Have Population of 100,000 or More—Jacksonville is Included. WASHINGTON, July 10.—Eleven cities have grown into the 100,000 population class during the last year. Estimates of population of the principal cities of the country as of July 1 this year show there are 79 having 100,000 or more as compared with 68 last year. The census bureau in preparing the estimates did not calculate the population of some of the rapidly growing cities such as Detroit, Los Angeles, Seattle, Denver, Akron, Bridgeport, Houston and Spokane. The population of the country on July 1 is estimated at 119,079,611.

The relative rank of some of the cities is changed by their newly estimated population. New Orleans has passed Cincinnati. Rochester has outgrown Jersey City. St. Paul has surpassed Providence. Oakland's population has grown so that it now outranks St. Paul and Providence, and Springfield, Mass., has passed Grand Rapids.

New York has passed the 10 million mark. Chicago is approaching three million and Philadelphia two million, while Cleveland is somewhat short of a million. Detroit, for which no estimate was made, likely has passed the million mark as its population was estimated at almost 900,000 a year ago.

The estimates of population of the 79 cities in the 100,000 class follow: New York, 8,016,504; Chicago, 2,920,205; Philadelphia, 1,951,076; Detroit, not estimated; Cleveland, 912,502; St. Louis, 812,898; Baltimore, 784,983; Boston, 776,783; Los Angeles, not estimated; Pittsburgh, 625,015.

BRAZIL REBELS GAINING POWER IN REVOLUTION

Situation at Sao Paulo Said to Be Controlled by Rebel Forces Who Hold On With Stubborn Tenacity. BUENOS AIRES, July 19.—Trustworthy information received here from Brazil indicates that the rebels are getting the upper hand in the fighting around Sao Paulo. It is stated that the federal government has proposed to initiate "decisive operations" but "the military chiefs do not entertain hopes of definite results."

Official Bulletin. An official bulletin, issued by the Rio Janeiro government, at midnight, was received by La Nación. It states: "Our troops continue executing important maneuvers on the entire front, aiming to provoke a decisive action. Our left wing has captured the police barracks situated in Verguero Street, taking a number of machine guns and a great quantity of munitions.

"The commercial associations at Santos and the mining congress there voted motions to support the federal government. According to reports received from other states, complete calm prevails. Unless a political compromise is reached the Brazilian warfare, which has now been waged for nearly two weeks between the Sao Paulo revolutionists and the federal troops, promises to be long drawn out. This is indicated by information filtering past the censor which is corroborated by statements from various voyagers arriving recently from Rio Janeiro, Santos and even Sao Paulo.

It is pointed out that the rebels have at their command the resources of the wealthiest city in the country, where large manufacturing concerns are centered, including arms and munition factories, which are now reported working day and night. The de facto government in power is said to have the support of practically the entire population of more than 500,000 and to be functioning in an orderly manner.

CIVIC BODY TO HAVE CAMPAIGN FOR MEMBERS

Five Committees Composed of Prominent Business Men Will Do Campaign Work—Set Goal at 300. The Sanford Chamber of Commerce will begin its membership campaign promptly on next Wednesday morning with five committees under the direction of Edward Higgins, president of the body, doing the work, announced Secretary R. W. Pearman, Jr., this morning.

The goal set in the campaign is a minimum of 300. Mr. Pearman states that there are now approximately 185 members and that the 300 mark is expected to be reached with no great difficulty. No time will be lost in preliminary, he said. The city will be divided into five sections or districts and each of the five committees will work one of these.

The feature of the campaign will be that the most successful and the most prominent business men of Sanford will comprise the five committees and for that reason are expected to enlist a large number of new members. Mr. Pearman said. Mr. Higgins has not yet completed his appointment of these units, it was learned, but they will probably be made public Monday.

Mr. Higgins has said "We are going to have 300 members without possible doubt." This statement, Mr. Pearman construed, means that every effort will be put forth by Mr. Higgins in the appointment of men on the committees who are not only capable of doing the desired work, but who will also be willing to do the work.

Both the president and the secretary of the Sanford chamber have definitely stated that they do not wish to enlist the aid of outside workers in the campaign for new members. Mr. Pearman said that it would not only cost a great deal of money, but that it would also detract from interest taken by the new members. They are of opinion that to strengthen the body and increase its membership, they must do the work themselves and in a personal manner.

Coal Miners Disarm Guards and Drive Away 175 Workers

McALISTER, Okla., July 19.—Descending on the little mining settlement of Cambria on the Pittsburgh-Lattimer county line Friday, about 100 miners traveling in motor cars disarmed guards at the Kall-lula coal mine, ordered approximately 175 non-union workers to leave.

The raid was executed quickly and with precision, wires into the village having been cut. After the mine had been emptied of workmen, the invaders re-entered their motor cars and dispersed.

Officials of the company tonight would not verify a report that they had agreed not to re-open the mine.

The raiders gathered at Hartshorn, according to advices, and were recruited from mines in the Pittsburgh and Lattimer districts.

The Kall-lula is one of four in the McAlister coal field which recently opened on a non-union basis after a protracted shut-down. The wage scale was the same as that agreed upon in 1917 and was considerably less than that effected in Kansas City in May at a conference of operators and officials of the miners' union.

Workers at the mine had left the union to obtain employment and the opening of the four mines was declared to have given the open shop operators a definite entry into the field.

McKenzie suffered the only injury of the game—a busted knuckle—which relieved him of mound duty.

U. S. WARSHIPS MAY STEAM TO SANTOS, BRAZIL

tremely grave.

A prominent South American, who arrived in Montevideo on the Italian steamer Duca d'Osca from Santos, in an interview asserted that the rebels at Sao Paulo apparently were in control and that the federal troops besieging the metropolis have as yet been unable to dislodge them.

"I can state that the revolutionaries have been masters of the situation since the first moment," said the South American. On the day of the outbreak State President Da Campos was obliged to seek refuge in Rio Janeiro. The rebels now engaged in the fighting number about 20,000, not counting the large contingents of civilians who morally support the revolutionary movement.

"Instead of retreating, as the various official communiques report, the rebels are advancing daily. In Sao Paulo they gained possession of the city, fighting foot by foot. There is no doubt that they can gain possession of Santos when they wish to do so. That city is poorly defended and full of sympathizers for the revolution."

WASHINGTON—Washington's W-remember when brigades, which always seeks to compare each new political circumstance with some previous similar situation preferably to take advantage of the newest development, finds itself stumped in seeking an occasion when more "fuss and fury" was made over the presentation of the name of a candidate for president than that which attended Franklin Roosevelt's speech at New York, naming "Oop" Al Smith.

After much scratching of heads and comparing of recollections, it is agreed that the demonstration made nearly approaching those staged for McAdoo and Smith, at the recent Democratic battle royal, was that accorded the presentation of Theodore Roosevelt's name in 1904.

Next to that, and running third to the recent records, was the hullabaloo accompanying Bryan's second nomination at Kansas City in 1900, when the issue was "imperialism."

THE custom of "demonstrations" at political conventions, partly ages ago, originated back in 1892. It was the Republicans who started it, although the Democrats have just carried it to the ultimate of frenzied absurdity.

At the Minneapolis convention of the O. O. P. in that year, a delegate from Colorado, in nominating James G. Blaine, by the sheer moving force of his oratory, touched off a demonstration that lasted for some 15 minutes. It was an impromptu, unorganized, spontaneous outburst of enthusiasm without parallel in political history.

But even this first "demonstration" didn't nominate the man whom it honored. Blaine got the cause he had not been apprehended. Major Williams related how King had led the searching party to the scene, indicated the skeleton lying in the bushes, and said it was that of Major McLeary.

Slayer Abandons Car
The automobile, according to King's confession as recounted by the officer, was driven by the two slayers of North Carolina near the mountains of North Carolina near Canton, King's home, where it was abandoned, following an accident.

Discovery and identification of the automobile, a touring car, led to the arrest of King several days ago as a suspect, but he was released. Further investigation, according to reports received here, resulted in the firing of a shirder of the missing officer on King's premises, which led to his reported confession.

Rebels Getting Upper Hand In Brazil City
BUENOS AIRES, July 18.—Trustworthy information received here from Brazil early today indicates that the rebels are getting the upper hand in fighting around Sao Paulo. It is stated that the federal government has proposed to initiate "decisive operations" but the military chiefs do not entertain hopes of definite results.

CONFERENCE IN LONDON MAKES GOOD HEADWAY

Nai Altogether Sure

It is understood that even the British treasury experts are not altogether sure about the flotation of a big loan, but foreign officials maintain that this point is one for the bankers as reparation commission and need have no disastrous effect upon the broad lines which the present conference should seek to maintain.

On the questions of sanctions in cases of a German default, the French delegation would not discuss the proposals they are understood to have put forward at the committee meetings Thursday. It is understood that France favors putting the sanctions into definite shape complete program will be ready for application at any time Germany is adjudged delinquent.

Ambassador Kellogg did not participate in the conference work yesterday but Colonel Logan, who attended the session of the committee No. 1, maintains that the tone of the deliberations was satisfactory and that as much progress had been made as it is reasonable to expect considering the issues involved.

Announce Opening Of Kilgore Seed Store In Welaka Building

On July 21 the Kilgore Seed Company, which has its headquarters at Plant City, will open a branch store in this city, it was learned in an announcement made here recently.

The company has stores at Palmetto, Wauchula and Moore Haven and is now preparing to open up a branch at Vero, it was learned. The Plant City store does an extensive mail order business which covers practically the entire state, it was revealed.

S. F. Peters, who has been connected with the company in Plant City, will be manager of the local store which will be in the Welaka Block at the corner of First Street and Railroad Avenue. He states that the firm has been in business for 15 years and is now establishing progressive farming sections of the state.

The store room that the company will occupy, he said, will be remodeled and new fixtures will be installed.

"Although the store will open for business on next Monday," stated Mr. Peters, "the formal opening will not be held until later."

Florida Women Ask Law For Prevention Of Child Marriages

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., July 18.—The clubwomen of Florida plan to make a strong fight at the forthcoming biennial legislative session, in April and May, 1925, to have the marriage laws of the state amended, setting a limit upon the marriageable age of girls.

The matter was a subject of great interest at Tampa recently when a girl bride was brought before the county probation officer. It was discovered that the child's parents were dead and that she had been left in the care of her aged grandmother. The grandmother had given her consent, the only legal requirement, to the child's marriage to a man of 34 years of age. The union resulted in grief to the young wife. Now the club women, backed by judges, probation officers and others, plan a fight to bring about enactment of laws designed to prevent a recurrence of such tragedies.

"As it is at present, the county judges are helpless," declared Mrs. Amos Norris, Tampa clubwoman, in making it known that her organization would carry the fight before the legislature. "If the parents or guardians of a child consent, there is no law to prevent children of 11 or even younger marrying. In the recent case of the 11-year-old bride which has brought this matter before the public, Judge Hazard at first refused to issue the license, but upon further examination of the case realized that he had no legal right to deny it when the grandmother's consent was given and so he issued it. We hope to alter this condition by bringing about a state law that will define the minimum age limit for marriages with guardian's consent." Sixteen years has been suggested as the limit.

Witherington's Interest Protection

APOPKA, Fla., July 18.—There are living in a progressive and in a progressive thought and action of new legislation and some of that already declared. H. H. Witherington, H. H. Witherington in the statement to the press Mr. Witherington is particularly protection and preservation of Florida and hopes to get legislation through to accomplish this end, wide or by uniform. "This will probably be out by the State Game Fish Protective Association. I shall co-operate with this particular matter and continues: "I have in mind improvements in the traffic laws which is to be worked out by the Automobile Association will be my pleasure with them in this regard. It is of vital importance to the State Road Department that their work be so directed that the greatest benefit should be the result of it." "These," concludes Witherington, "are only a few of the many matters that will be your course and to endeavor to give due consideration at the meeting of the West Coast Organize Assn."

It is reported that the town of Lakewood has issued building permits aggregating five hundred and twenty thousand dollars during the first six months of 1924. This is a good example of how all Florida is growing.

Here's hoping the Prince of Wales doesn't play in any of the international polo matches. Some of those Meadowbrook boys might forget about his royalty and run over him.

In spite of the selection of a presidential nominee by the Democratic National Convention, the world continues to revolve in the same old way. John D. Rockefeller is still having birthdays and giving dimes to children.

Chas. L. Shaver has been selected as chairman of the Democratic National Committee. Mr. Shaver, who managed John W. Davis' pre-convention campaign, is no shaver in spite of what they say about him.

The Brazilian government seems to be having a lot of trouble with certain robots in Sao Paulo. Fear is fast for the lives and property of United States citizens in that vicinity and it may be found necessary to send warships to a neighboring port. We predict that should this be the case our Uncle Sam can break up that revolt in about one volley.

Sanford claims an increase of eighty-six per cent in population within the last four years. The splendid growth of the Golden City is due to the enthusiastic boosterism of those solid-headed every-body-men that tempt for the best of those of that community. When we observe the civic spirit of the average Sanford citizen we do not wonder at the remarkable progress that is being achieved in that city—Ocala Star.

One month ago LaFollette and his third party were expected to hold a very conspicuous position in the next presidential campaign. Now, perhaps because of the somewhat uncertainly noticed change in the delegates at the New York convention, keen political observers are declaring that the Wisconsin senator secures a very carefully the trend of national politics during the next four months may witness some interesting occurrences unprecedented in the history of the United States.

While "The Watching Angels Wait"

There is nothing wrong with Christianity. It just happens that Christianity has never been tried to any great extent anywhere, nowhere by any great nation; nowhere by any great industry.

Does that statement sound shocking? Does it sound untrue? Could you refute it by citing any nation, any city, any great industry that is operated on unquestionably Christian principles?

The Herald gets this theme from an article urging that the Bible be put back in the schools. The article is in the form of an interview given by Henry Ford to the Rev. William Stidger for the April Good Housekeeping magazine.

During the early days of the World War when so many people were asking if the war did not prove that Christianity is a failure, Edwin Markham, the poet, wrote in a personal letter to Dr. Stidger: "I hasten to assure you that Christianity has not failed, for Christianity has nowhere been tried yet. Nowhere has been tried in a large social sense, Christianity has been tried by individuals, and it has been found to be comforting, and transforming. But it has never been tried by any large group of people in any one place—never by a whole city, never by an entire kingdom, never by a whole people. It is for this trial that the watching angels are waiting."

But Henry Ford seems to think that the watching angels will have to wait a long time for that trial, unless greater and more general efforts are made to put the Bible back in the schools, and to give its teachings every day to the boys and girls of America.

"I think," said Mr. Ford to his interviewer, "I got all the essence of the Bible in those days when I sat as a boy listening each morning to its reading in school. We were taught in those days if you steal or sin you suffer. If you do something wrong you suffer, and sometimes others suffer with you. They developed a sense of right and wrong in us in those days. I believe it was because we heard the great teachings of the Bible."

Mr. Ford, and every thinking person knows, moreover, that unless a sense of right and wrong is "developed" in a child, it seldom acquires any stable place in that child's character. Such a sense does not happen to come by the laws of Nature nor as a special gift from Heaven.

"We have made a discovery," says Dr. Walter S. Athearn, "that unless children are taught religion, they will not be religious." And neither will children ever get the best benefits from the Bible, if they do not hear its simple reading every day in the years when they can absorb its plain teaching with none of the disturbing controversy that becomes a part of Bible instruction in the so-called Schools of Religion.

Let the children at school hear the Ten Commandments, the Sermon on the Mount, the beautiful Psalms, and much of the Gospels. There will be no interference with the religious instruction they receive in their homes. Some day there may come a call for a genuine trial of Christianity. It would be well, in preparation for that time, to have American boys and girls taught what Christianity is supposed to be.

No, They Are Not Dead

"They are dead that sought the young child's life"—

In his discussion of the Sunday school lesson dealing with the childhood of Jesus, William Jennings Bryan quoting the words with which the angel told Joseph that Herod was dead and it would now be safe to bring the Babe back to the Holy Land, said that they have often been quoted when a great reform has been accomplished for the protection of the young.

"The words," said Mr. Bryan, "were quoted frequently, and very properly, when the nations were abolished, for King Alcohol had slain a million times as many children as Herod ever had."

But, unfortunately, the interests that were back of the reforms are not dead. They still seek the young child's life. They still stay their millions.

Under the guise of being liberal and broad-minded, the liquorites are the ones who champion "wide-open" town conditions. They provide the allurements that look so beautiful to unthinking boys and girls. They shout their slogan, "personal liberty"; and under its banner they lead the way to everything base, to everything unclean.

Instead of being dead, the spirit of evil that dwell in the old-time saloon, is returning hydra-headed. He is found in the person of smug citizens who serve cocktails in their homes to young men and women who are pitifully in need of protection against temptation. He is found in the person of the alleged Christian who takes no part in activities against vice and corruption, lest it hurt his business. He is found in the hollower-than-thou churchman who merely stands off and criticizes with never a lending hand to make things better.

"They are dead that sought the young child's life"—No, they are not dead. They are striding about in the full light of day for all to see. They are prowling about in the still darkness of the night. You know who some of them are. You could call them by name.

SANFORD'S FORUM

Editor The Herald:

Dear Sir: An item in yesterday's Herald called attention to the unsightly and splendid condition of Sanford in passing an ordinance giving general supervision over beautifying all parks, parkways, streets, alleys and sidewalks. It is provided that the board shall designate and plant all trees, shrubs, grass and flowers which shall be placed along all streets, parkways, alleys and sidewalks, and shall have the right to condemn and remove any such trees, plants or shrubs that are diseased or are detrimental to the beauty of the city.

This item is here quoted in full, in the hope that it may interest some who failed to see it yesterday, and because it points the way to one of the most immediate needs of Sanford just at present. We would like to see a great program of extension of paved streets and in the building of appropriate city parks. Our city parks are few and far between, but beyond that we hear not one single word concerning "the beauty of our city."

We have some lovely streets, but they are invariably those lined with uniformly-planted oaks that have had time to grow into beautiful trees. Many parts of the city are planted by individuals and according to individual fancy. There may be a few oaks in one block, a few palms in the next one, and the two may be all mixed together. When this heterogeneous planting makes its growth, the effect is not going to be either aesthetically beautiful, or matter how handsome the individual tree or shrub may be.

North of Tenth Street there is a beautiful, well-kept lawn. It is a beautiful, well-kept lawn. It is a beautiful, well-kept lawn.

As Brisbane Sees It

Your uncle is first. The President's heaven. Mr. Ford, please build. One more milestone.

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE (Copyrighted, 1924)

AMERICA WINS first place among all the world nations at the Olympic games. That means nervous concentration, intense WILL POWER, a good sign for the nation.

GREAT HONOR goes to the little nation Finland. Those men that live up in the cold northwest, staying indoors all through the winter, talking to their wives and children beside the fire, instead of running around in the southern sunshine, certainly developed energy.

READ OF STEENROOS, from Finland, 40 years old, who had not run a race in fifteen years, beating all his competitors by a full mile in a run of twenty-six miles. There is stamina. The man had lived regularly and simply. That's half the story.

SECOND to the great Finn, Steenroos, in the twenty-six mile marathon race, was an Italian. You realize what staying powers are in that ancient Italian race, remembering that the ancestors of that Italian runner were marching over the Roman stone road, fighting the "savages" of Gaul where Paris now stands, two thousand years ago.

THE REVEREND Mr. Pierce says, "President Coolidge believed that heaven is the abode of vital and vigorous human beings, of young people as well as of old. Does the president also believe in a heaven in which there is progress, change, a chance to get ahead and do new things?"

The most reverent must admit that eternal stagnation, through billions and billions of years, with no chance to get ahead in heaven, would be tiresome, no matter how great the bills.

HENRY FORD, who owns the famous Longfellow "Wayside Inn," at Sudbury, has bought two old houses built about 1650. They will be taken down and rebuilt near the Wayside Inn. It is a picturesque idea, affording harmless amusement for Mr. Ford, who can afford it.

BUT IT IS dipping back into history, for which Mr. Ford has not too much regard. Perhaps after he tires of old houses, Mr. Ford will show the country how to build good modern houses for modern people, at really reasonable prices.

MR. FORD'S friend, Edison, suggested that "bits" of houses "poured" of concrete. The thing is to be tried on a big scale in England. Ford ought to try that, or some better plan, here.

To finance the building of a million or twenty million low-priced houses with a little garage in each, would be a fine monument and a glorious gift to the people. Ford could do it. He is young enough, mentally, for new ideas.

THAT IS PROVED. Only a little while ago he told his writer that the flying machine was not "commercial" and it was too early for him to become interested in it. And now it is said he is contemplating building all-metal flying machines in quantity. Production that would be useful, but not more useful than the low-priced dwelling.

Civilization continues to pass important milestones. The end of slavery was one. The steam engine was another, the electric dynamo another, telegraph and telephone others. The most romantic milestone is soon to be labelled "around-the-world in a flying machine."

THE AMERICAN

around-the-world machines reached Paris, all three of them. When they landed on Le Bourget Airdrome, the six Americans, stepping from their machines, had flown 18,033 miles. The first question asked was: "How do we stand in the Olympic games?"

They did not feel tired when they learned that their Uncle Sam had carried away the championship.

CHARLES E. MITCHELL, head of New York's National City Bank, biggest in the country sets a good example to other financiers in his encouragement of labor banks.

In the organ of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, he praises the labor bank established by the engineers' union and other similar banks. With foresight and common sense, he predicts for them great success, and especially he predicts for them a useful, stabilizing influence on the business world.

DECEMBER WHEAT went to $1.25 and closed at about the highest point. THAT MEANS VOTES FOR COOLIDGE. True, the farmer has sold his wheat, and knows that the speculators in the titles get the big prices, but he hopes that such prices will hold for the crop he is harvesting now and the later crop to come in the fall. The high price of wheat also means that men lost money that failed to heed in this column the repeated prophecy: "What is going up."

THE PRINCE OF WALES opened the advertising convention in London with a common-sense short speech, saying that peace depends largely on advertising, which stimulates commerce. If that would be ADVERTISING for business instead of FIGHTING for business, there would be more business and less war.

AMERICA'S GREATEST ANNUAL ATTRACTION

JUST IN PASSING

BY R. J. HOLLY

The State Geologist is making an exhaustive research in the state looking for fossils. Of course this has no bearing on Sanford.

"Keep the People Posted on Matters Pertaining to the City," says the Lakeland Star-Telegram. Right you are. The people are entitled to know.

The most important item in bond issues today in Sanford is the item for sewers. There are parts of this city that should have sewers at once and if you investigate the matter you will see it. Pass a bond issue that will cover all needed sewers and drainage projects and let all other bond issues rest for a while.

Fellow here yesterday who wanted information on the growing of mint in Florida. Some people might give him information in the julep part of it, but the mint—well, who knows?

The writer of this column of stuff and nonsense is going to North Carolina for a much needed rest(?) and when we get up there after we slide through Georgia our friends will receive some of those letters about "wishing you were up here" and all that stuff they used to write me when I was hog-tied on the Daily Herald.

There is nothing sadder today than the picture of Judge Scheels Malins as he mops his florid brow with a bandana handkerchief and wonders when it will be cool again.

Arthur Yowell, while in Boston, lost Jack Davison and Judge Housholder and asked a policeman if he had seen them. Much to Arthur's surprise the policeman said he had never heard of either of those distinguished gentlemen and Arthur said it was a "bum place" where the police did not know Sanford people any better.

Secretary Pearman says that the State Road Department has promised to fix up the Sanford-Orlando road. Since they have promised every other man in Sanford the same thing there is no reason for Bob to be swelled up about it. The Road Department promised this same thing to the Chamber of Commerce, the County and City Commissioners, the Elks Club, the Masons, the Shriners, the Ku Klux and the Sanford Herald.

That new City Hall contemplated by our City Fathers will be an ornament to our city and something that will show off to good advantage from the water front as well as from the city side. We need a new City Building and all that pertains thereto and we should build for the future city of TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND people that we will have here in a few years.

Several of our business streets should be widened as the traffic becomes greater and it will avoid accidents and make the city safer for the ladies who drive with one eye on the street and both eyes on the passing show. One of them took off a fender on my car the other day without batting an eyelash and never even saw my car. This is a sample of good driving. She might have demolished the entire works just as well.

If there is any doubt in your minds about Sanford's growth just take your stand in front of any of the banks any morning in the week and especially on Saturday and see the constant stream of folks who are doing business in Sanford. And the best part of this banking business is the fact that our people are starting savings accounts and are putting their money where it will do them good in the days to come.

TOLERANCE

WAYCROSS JOURNAL-HERALD

Much has been said about Tolerance. It is a great virtue—a virtue which keeps one out of unpleasant relations with others and makes one's own life more pleasant. Tolerance is recognizing the rights of the other person to his own opinions, unless his expressions of those opinions is contrary to the law. It is not a simple thing. Yes many people are constantly involved in petty rows, and disagreeable quarrels because they demand that other people think about a given matter just as they do. Though the other person's opinion may be very disagreeable to you, it is well to bear in mind that he has just the same right to that opinion that you have to yours.

Radios in summer camps were being taken down. So do all kinds of things. A candidate with a little touch has his little touch. A family at odds soon ends. All a man needs to get a woman is all he needs. One drawback to being a man, you can't throw ashes on the floor to get rid of them. Be careful about the thermometer in July. It is to read before it reads. When you see a man on the corner scratching his head, how he enjoyed his vacation. Next to the water bath-tub, the soda fountain is most popular summer resort. The good die young, so do the good. Get good its own kind. When you see a tree with these days you never see lightning or an eagle. This world could be a bad as it is. The seasons are twice as long as usual. Little boys live a hard life. Tells us his big sister has bathing suit. About the only way to get out of your picnic is to let the cows get it. A neighbor tells us he has gallons of beans and starts out of only one row.

SATURDAY EVENING SERMON

By F. D. King.

It is important for the fathers of this country to stop and think seriously about their greatest job. There are many fathers who are put down by Bradstreet as very many successful business men who are falling as fathers. Has that father succeeded who has enrolled in the list of millionaires and has lost his influence for good upon his boy? Has that father succeeded who has won the place of largest power in the gift of the citizens of his state, and has lost the confidence of his daughter? What is a father's greatest job? Is it to win a fortune or to win the confidence of his children? Mr. Guest says:

"I must be fit for a child to follow. Scorning the places where loose men will go, Knowing how much he shall learn from me, I must be fair as I'm day him by; Clean as the morning I went away; He must be fit for a child's glad greetings. His are eyes that there is no cheating; He must behold me in every test, Not at my worst, but my very best; He must be proud when my life is done, To have men know that he is my son."

Watching the Boy and Girl "But while he was yet afar off his father saw him," reveals the world of thought for the father. It was no accident that the father saw the son. His was a watching attitude. Certainly one of his first considerations was the boy and his eyes were in the habit of looking for him.

There are some fathers who are looking for the chance to drive the sharp bargain. There are many who are watching for the opportunity to make money honestly and quickly. Many others are looking for jobs to meet the needs of the family, and this is well indeed. How many fathers are watching with the same concern the associates of the boy and the girl? How many fathers are watching with the same concern the boy and the girl's problems in school? Many, many fathers there are who look ahead for opportunities for a wise investment of their time and their money, and they are to be commended for their wisdom. But how many are ahead and the girl are looking for the lives of the girl and the boy? Good returns from the most important consideration than good returns from the investment of your money. And there is another matter of very serious concern about this business of watching the boy and the girl.

A matter of superlative importance on the part of the father is the watching of his own life. The father who drinks cannot be a wise or even a good father. The father who is careless in his manner of living cannot be the best father. The father who is not an active, enthusiastic Christian cannot be the best father. I am indicating to you that the father who is sympathetically watching his boy's life and his girl's life must also watch his own life. He must make sure that his own life is constantly holding the confidence of the girl and the boy. Fathers, you have been watching the practice of your profession; you have been watching the returns on your investments; you have been watching your chance for promotion, and you are to be commended for your wisdom. Bring to your attention now a matter of far greater importance with deepest interest.

you must watch that boy's girl. Eyes of Sympathy Now we come to the important question in our lives we must ponder this with care. What is to be the actor of our watching? I would understand the character of the father, observe what the father when he gets the first glimpse of the son. The record is the father saw him, and saw with compassion, and saw the confidence of his daughter? What is the character of the father's watching? Every eye filled with concern. Every eye filled with sympathy. Every eye filled with love. Every eye filled with hope. Very poor business! watch the boy that some evidence may be found in his department the father's heart want to be the mistakes of the son's father for one purpose only in that he may help to them.

If some one should have an elegant building and the privilege of planting in it the seeds of peace, would be your reply? If I offer you a prosperous life for the privilege of firmly planting in your boy and the drink habit, what would be your reply? If one should offer a secure complete all of your future needs, privilege of despoiling your and daughter of their and their virtue, I am sure you would spurn the offer. There are many fathers are permitting vicious habits to take hold of the boy and the life of the girl through a lack of sympathetic watching.

A tragic sentence it was came to my ears one day, sentence was spoken by a father and spoken concerning his I knew these sons intimate was much concerned about permanent progress. The shining evidence of far more ordinary native ability, he had had those that some were prophetic of disaster and perhaps ruin. The conversation between the father and myself was the sad durin ghat conversation in expression to the sentences within itself told a pitiable "I can't do much with the I have but little influence them," was the sentence uncovered the image of the father had had some basis of quite an estate, brother who had recently and was "enjoying" a competency. But with the ing of the new property fresh attacks of subtle evil habits upon the life of the father. That distressing hour had come to the father's sons. He could drive to some extent by force authority, but the moral sanction had completely disappeared. He could not look into the life of their life, and find an inspiration. The father find an example which would help them to more noble moments. The boys could get up into their own father's ways lifts young men. The way of it all! Where can I find anything to be learned? The father had his time for his boys, but he had no time for his own life. He had no time to describe the true such an experience. He has power to guide and own boys through a watching of his own life. Sympathetically watch your own life. (Continued on page 5)

SWIMMERS AND NET STARS ARE PILING UP LEAD

Stars Representing United States In Two Sports Make Excellent Showing Friday—Boxers Battling for Titles

PARIS, July 19.—While the American swimmers were clinching another team victory for the United States Friday by taking four out of five final events in the Olympic swimming pool, the American tennis stars rolled up a similar percentage of victory in the outstanding Olympic contests of the day.

Meanwhile the boxers were battling for various titles but they had their ambitions shattered in a number of events. The breaking of three world and one Olympic record marked the aquatic events, in which the United States added 60 points to its total and got out of reach of its nearest rival, Sweden.

The respective standings of the two countries last night were: United States 116 and Sweden 19.

Vincent Richards and Miss Helen Wills of the American tennis team both reached the singles finals, while two American doubles teams advanced and another, Washburn and Williams, fell by the wayside. The startling defeat of the day was that of Miss Kathleen McKane, the English star, by Mlle. Vlasto of France.

The United States is leading Finland, its nearest rival, for all round Olympic honors but more than at two to one margin on the completion of nine branches of the international competition.

OLYMPIC STADIUM, Colombes, France, July 19.—Without playing as good a game as she can, Miss Helen Wills, the American woman champion tennis player, Friday reached the final round in both the singles and doubles in the Olympic tennis championships.

On Sunday Miss Wills will meet Mlle. Vlasto, the Grecian maid of French nationality, for the singles title. Today paired with Mrs. George Wightman, Miss Wills will oppose the two best women players of Great Britain, Miss Kathleen McKane and Mrs. Covell, for the doubles championship.

The battle for the men's championships also will be a Franco-American affair with Vincent Richards on one side of the net and Henri Cochet on the other. While Miss Wills was winning her way into the final of the women's singles event Friday afternoon, through an easy triumph over Mlle. Golding of France, Richards disposed of his Italian adversary in the semi-final, Baron de Marburg, 6-3, 6-1, 6-4.

Miss Wills achieved her victory in straight sets, 6-2, 6-1. Miss Wills and Mrs. Wightman won their way into the final of the women's doubles by defeating Mrs. Shepherd-Barron and Miss Evelyn Colyer of Great Britain 6-3, 1-6, 7-5.

There is a possibility that the final in the men's doubles also will be fought out between France and the United States with Brugnon and Cochet representing the tri-color and Richards and Francis T. Hunter, the Stars and Stripes.

Before such a match can take place, however, Richards and Hunter must defeat the Frenchmen, Borotra and Lacoste, while Brugnon and Cochet must win from Gondon and Richardson of South Africa.

Cochet, who meets Richards for the singles championship, got to his position as finalist by disposing of one of his compatriots, Borotra—the same brilliant, slim young Borotra, who beat Richards at Wimbledon and later won the grass court title here. Cochet and Borotra have met many times before and excepting one time Cochet always has won.

OLYMPIA, Wash., July 19.—An attack by a cougar, one of very few on record, has been reported from the Olympic National Forest, Western Washington, by Glen Merchant, a former forest guard.

These sloops are shown turning the first beacon on the 12-mile racing course in the annual regatta of the Biloxi (Miss.) Yacht Club recently. The cabin sloop class proved one of the features of the regatta. The regatta lasted two days, was made up of 23 different races, and was the largest ever held in the south.
