Rayburn Pleads With House For Balanced Budget

Leader Insists Blame Is Democrats If No Slashes Are Made

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Majority Leader Rayburn, attempting to cut down spending pleaded with the house today to help balance the government's budget.

He spoke during a debate on an amendment to the 1939 post office appropriation bill which would provide a 10 percent increase in the $11,250,000 item for rent, light and fuel.

Rayburn said from now on whenever the House considers money matters he would call the members' attention to the government's financial condition in the hope all members would vote for economy.

He said if the budget is left unbalanced it would be the fault of the Democrats. The Senate continued its debate on the anti-lynching bill with the southern Democrats still filibustering to prevent the enactment of the measure.

Laughs Romance, Fun In "True Confession"

Comedy runs wild in Paramount's latest laugh fest, "True Confession" which, with Cayle Lombard, Fred MacMurray and John Barrymore, sharing co-starring honors, opens today at the Ritz Theatre.

"True Confession" is the hilarious tale of a girl who'd rather be than eat, and her straight-faced, truth-is-the-only-policy husband.

This unfortunate honesty of MacMurray, playing the young husband, is the cause of his extreme poverty, which Miss Lombard, his wife, tries to cure by getting a job. This, however, she has to do secretly, because MacMurray feels that it would hurt his prestige if his wife were known to be working.

The first day on the job, Miss Lombard walks out on her amorous boss, and almost immediately after she learns that he has been mysteriously murdered, and that she is under suspicion of having committed the murder.

MacMurray agrees to defend his wife, but only on condition that she tell him the truth. She tries to explain that she is innocent, but he doesn't believe this, and finally in desperation she kills her boss in self-defense.

As Miss Lombard says, "This, she realizes, that the publicity her husband will receive will bring him before the public and will help his business."

The trial is conducted along the lines of a "self-defense" plea, and Miss Lombard is acquitted, just as she had figured, the publicity brings MacMurray more cases, than he can handle, and she is given a contract to write her life story for a newspaper syndicate.

Just at this time, an eccentric detective, John Barrymore, attempts to blackmail Miss Lombard, telling her that he will tell her husband she has been unfaithful unless he buys her off, but MacMurray accidentally overhears Barrymore's threat and forces him to reveal that the murder was really committed by his brother-in-law, since killed in a holdup.

Barrymore's blackmail scheme washed up, vanishes, and MacMurray turns his attention to his loving wife. He is furious at the deception, and proceeds to give her a graphic lesson in how bad lying is, in one of the most laugh-provoking flashbacks brought to the screen in many, many moons.

The famous disease known as "shot hole" which attacks peaches and plums, may be controlled by spraying with a good fungicide such as self-bled lime sulphur. Applications should be made every two weeks from the time the fruit is well set until it is nearly full grown.

English Novelist Frails Japs For Chinese Invasion

Shiel Asserts Invaders Are Forgetting Power Is Borrowed

By WILLIAM MCGAFFIN
AP Feature Service Writer
HORSHAM, England, Jan. 13.—The man who takes credit for adding a new phrase to the English language—"Yellow Peril"—also by his fire these days and reads of a Japanese invasion which he believes has only just begun.

India, Australia, the Philippines—Japan will have them all before she gets through, in the opinion of Matthew Shiel, author of "The Yellow Peril" which first appeared 24 years ago as "The Dragon."

He foresees that, he says, that the yellow race would some day give the whites trouble, but he did not intend the book as a warning.

"It was merely a good theme for a dramatic novel," he believes in League.

To those who would scoff at a merger of the oriental, Shiel replies, "blood is thicker than water."

A war of yellow versus white may come, Shiel predicts, unless the League of Nations stops it. (He refuses to be discouraged by the League's flimsy status, declaring that the idea is still there and may bear fruit yet.)

If such a war ever came, he would place his wager on the white—for it would, he says, be mind against mass and the whites would win—just as in his book.

Not that he disapproves. Japan's rightful place, he maintains, is at the head of Asia, but:

"Japan is becoming insolent, forgetting her power is a borrowed power. All of her machine guns, battleships, airplanes and such are the inventions of other races."

China's Millions
Shiel, who says he has made a special study of the Orient, hammers home with statements like that his strong belief in the superiority of white man's intellect over yellow.

"Russia or England or America may have to sink a few of her ships and knock Tokyo down to bring Japan to her senses," he goes on, "but I don't think that will be difficult. The yellow race is only difficult when China with her millions comes in."

Such strong words sound strange from the tongue of a mild-mannered little man of 72.

Book May Be Prophetic
But Shiel, perhaps reflecting the virile blood of the Irish parents who bore him in the

Pittman Raps Interior Group For Big Losses

Ickes' Inefficiency Is Blamed For Loss Of $84,000 In CCC Fraud Revelation

Repeal Is Urged Of Income Taxes

Treasury Says Pension Programs Are Running Deficits

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Senator Pittman, Democrat Nevada, told the Senate today the Public Lands Committee had received "astounding revelations in regard to laxity and inefficiency, if not criminal carelessness" in the Interior Department.

The Committee has been holding hearings on the nomination of E. K. Burell to be the First Assistant Secretary of Interior.

Testimony has shown that Burell, an Interior Department pay clerk, defrauded the government of $84,000 in CCC funds.

Senator Pittman said that while Secretary Ickes was primarily responsible for the Interior Department, Burell has been his administrative assistant and also has served as budget and personnel officer.

James H. R. Cronwell, husband of wealthy Doris Duke Cronwell, recommended to the House Ways and Means Committee today the immediate reduction and ultimate repeal of all forms of income tax.

He also advocated revision of the estate and gift taxes and adoption of a manufacturers sales tax on finished consumer goods.

Cronwell said that such a "scientific tax system" would end "the unjust and uneconomic discrimination between taxation of corporations and of unincorporated business enterprises."

Furthermore, he said, it would tend to encourage the distribution of wealth and enhance labor's bargaining power.

Treasury officials revealed today that Social Security and Railroad Retirement programs cost, up to Jan. 1, $294,681,000 more than the income from taxes imposed to finance them.

Total expenditures were given as $980,976,000 and receipts as $686,295,000.

Mayor Ed Higgins Endorses Move To Bring Artists Here

Heartily endorsing the Co-operative Concert Campaign being conducted by the Sanford Women's Club and urging the cooperation of the citizens of Sanford, Mayor Edward Higgins today endorsed the move to bring artists here.

"The artists series planned by this association will furnish entertainment and an educational medium enjoyed by the large citizenry throughout the nation," Mayor Higgins said. "This kind of program fits a need in Sanford that cannot be met in any other way. It will bring to Sanford citizens entertainment of the highest class, bringing a means of cultural improvement for many citizens here who would enjoy music and other forms of art."

"I urge every citizen of this community to support this association by becoming members of the Women's Club Co-operative Association; thereby availing themselves of the opportunity of making international contacts possible for Sanford."

Gifts Pour In For Egyptian King On Wedding Eve

Farida To Be Second Egypt Queen Since Cleopatra's Rule

CAIRO, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Ancient Egypt and her friends throughout the world poured gifts at the feet of King Farouk and pretty Farida Zulficar who will become Egypt's queen tomorrow.

The young king is only 17 and the bride to be only 17. Business is at standstill for ceremony which will make Farida the second queen of Egypt since Cleopatra.

Slender, dark-eyed Farida Zulficar, completed her pre-nuptial arrangements today with aplomb.

The 18-year-old bride-to-be pleaded had her 48-gown trousseau packed and sent to Koubbeh Palace where she and young King Farouk will live after their marriage.

From the time of Cleopatra, who was the country's ruler when Egypt passed under the domination of Rome in 31 B. C., there has been no queen of Egypt until Farouk's mother gained the title when her late husband, Fouad, was proclaimed king in 1922.

All Cairo was aflurry over the wedding ceremony, which will be Egypt's first royal wedding since the days of the Pharaohs, for Fouad already had been married to Queen Neel when he became king.

Zero Weather Grips East United States

Meritt, N. H., reported a low reading of 23 degrees below zero. The blizzard had cut off road to the northeastern corner of the country.

Fifty Killed In Air Raid On Barcelona

Hundreds Injured As Rebel Planes Bomb Numerous Cities On Spanish East Coast

BARCELONA, Spain, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Fifty mangled bodies were removed from the wreckage in the southern part of Barcelona after a heavy bombardment today by insurgent airplanes. Officials expressed fears as many as 100 had been killed in the raid in which at least 40 powerful bombs plunged into crowded sections of the capital of government Spain.

Ambulances took scores of wounded to hospitals. Two trucks were needed to carry the dead to morgues. Insurgents also bombed Valencia, Sagunto and other east coast cities.

Moroccan cavalry conquered the heights of Alto de Muelton last night, seizing the loyalist "impenetrable" steel and concrete fortifications outside Teruel, in a battle that left 3,000 enemy dead sprawled on the snowy slopes, nationalist headquarters announced.

The Moors, leading the nationalist troops up the mountain sides on Teruel's northern outskirts, killed hundreds of young negroes and Senegalese soldiers.

"Teruel is being drawn into a pocket where the enemy's troops run the imminent risk of complete entrapment," Generalissimo Francisco Franco's headquarters announced at the end of the second day of his counter-offensive against the lower Aragonese city.

General staff members said the ruins of Teruel were unshakable to nationalist troops continued to slip off highways on the north, east and south of the city.

The fierceness of Franco's assault on the city, led by Col. Juan Yague, caught the loyalists by surprise and was believed to have taken on a toll of close to 5,000 lives around Teruel.

Youth Advises Hitch Hikers To Stay Home

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Jan. 19.—(AP)—Young Edison H. Peitler of Mt. Clemens, Mich., advises hitchhikers to stay at home and he said he feels he may speak with authority.

He collapsed on the streets here two days before Christmas and was treated at a hospital for days before he recovered his health. The Salvation Army took care of him but he warned other youths they might not be so lucky as he.

He wrote his advice to other young men in an article for the Palm Beach Post Times.

Naval Planes Reach Hawaii In Mass Flight

Unprecedented Hop Of 2,570 Miles In Complete In 20 Hours, 22 Minutes

18 Air Bombers Make The Trip

Big Flying Boats Departed From California Yesterday

HONOLULU, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Eighteen naval bombing planes arrived this morning at Pearl Harbor, completing an unprecedented 2,570 mile non-stop mass flight from San Diego, Calif. The unofficial time of the flight was 20 hours and 22 minutes.

It started yesterday when the planes gathered in formation off Point Loma for the greatest mass flight in aviation history.

The men and planes flew through favorable weather all the way and were pushed by tail winds during the last stages of the flight.

Seven officers and men were aboard each plane. The Navy called the flight the "delivery by air of new aircraft in conformity with naval practice."

The big flying boats, heavily laden with fuel, rode deep in the water as they taxied down the bay, warming up for the take-off yesterday. One by one they took the air and headed seaward for a rendezvous 100 miles off shore.

Some of the ships bounced heavily on the water before gaining flying speed; others moved smoothly, climbing swiftly aloft.

Two of the big bombers had to make two runs across the bay, because a fishing boat nosed into the takeoff area, spoiling the first run.

Skies were somewhat overcast but visibility to the north was good.

Commander Warner, in charge of VP Squadron 10-F at Pearl Harbor, celebrated his forty-second birthday last Thursday. He is a native of Iowa.

One of the flying boats was piloted by Lieut. Tom Hamilton, former Naval Academy football coach.

Each plane carried an electric stove, ice box, and complete provisions. The Navy saw to it, furthermore, that each crew included an excellent, although unofficial, cook.
