'Ford Country' Records Sought

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) - Records of the Kent County Republican party, headquartered in President Ford's hometown of Grand Rapids, have been subpoenaed by the Watergate special prosecutor, the party's county chairman said today.

Paul Henry, Kent County GOP chairman, confirmed a report in today's Wall Street Journal that prosecutor Charles Ruff has subpoenaed records of two Republican committees in Kent County. The subpoenaed records date back to 1964.

"We have no idea what they are looking for. But we hope to get it over quickly and get a clean bill of health," Henry

"We are cooperating in any way we can and our relationship (with Ruff's staff) is very cordial. We have made every attempt to comply," he said. "I'm not laughing. It's a serious matter. But I think we'll come out with a clean bill of health," Henry said. The Michigan Republican State Central Committee knew nothing of the investigation until informed by a reporter today, said Jerry Roe, state GOP executive secretary

The Journal reported that Ruff also has issued a subin records of the Marin Engineers Beneficial Association, which the newspaper said was Ford's largest backer in 1972, the last time he ran for Congress. Jesse Calhoon, the marine union's president, said that to disclose what is involved in the investigation would "put me right in the middle of the national election," the Journal said.

White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said he had not heard of Ruff's investigation, the Journal said, and he cautioned against inferring that it is directed towards Ford's political finances.

The Journal said that Nessen noted that Ford's records were thoroughly checked after he was nominated for vice president in 1973.

homeowners who claimed to be nar showed up in protest. Stanley Milbrun, a homeowner, presented a petition he said was signed by 200 homeowners who were "not properly notified" about the district.

"We're totally opposed to this," he said. Sweetwater Oaks developer Everett Huskey claimed economic condition mandate the institution of a street lighting district or else the lights will be turned off. About 500 families occupy the development, in south Seminole County. One homeowner estimated families would have paid a total of about $20,000 the first year. Huskey said the street lighting district is needed to offset a $150,000 deficit which wasn't covered by dues from the Sweetwater Oaks Homeowners Association.

Until the development is completed, Huskey is president of the association. Many citizens complained today that the biggest problem is a lack of communication between Huskey and association members.

One homeowner said members of an action group formed Sunday met with Huskey but were unable to acquire detailed SCOPA Awaits Action, page 3A information. In addition, the homeowners said Huskey refused to divulge the exact amount each homeowner would be required to pay to fund the special district. In defense of the district, Huskey said developers had no idea when the project was started that the nation would be caught up in an energy crisis. "Costs have escalated," the developer noted. Huskey also said action group members "don't have a solution. We have to have some relief or else the lights will have to be depleted."

Commission Chairman Mike Hattaway said any plan which results in cutting off lights is "not what the people want." Commissioner Dick Williams, the commissioner whose district includes Sweetwater Oaks, made the motion to deny the ordinance that would have created the district.

Both Hattaway and Commissioner Sid Vih against Williams' motion. Vihlen said he did not favor the street lighting district, however, he said, the government had spent funds to notify citizens by direct mail. Vihlen said these funds shouldn't be wasted. Instead, Vihlen said, the hearing should be continued until a later date. One homeowner said the street lighting district may "be the best thing that ever happened to us." But the matter needs study, he said.

Homeowners indicated that Huskey knew a street lighting taxing district would be needed as long as a year ago, but homeowners weren't notified until as late as Sunday. One resident in attendance speculated that creation of the district would cost each family about $30 per year.

NEW YORK (AP) - Jimmy Carter's wife says his statements that he has 'looked on a lot of women with lust" and "committed adultery in my heart" have caused her no anxiety about his fidelity. Rosalynn Carter said Monday that although her husband's candid remarks to a Playboy magazine interviewer came as a surprise, "I trust him completely. I've never had to worry about that at all."

Asserting in the interview that he would not attempt to impose his own religious beliefs on others, the Democratic presidential nominee said, "Christ set some almost impossible standards for us." He added that to sin is human and "God orgives me for it."

In one excerpt from the interview to be ublished in Playboy's November issue arter said:

"I've looked on a lot of women with lust. I've committed adultery in my heart many times. This is something that God recognizes I will do - and I have done it and God forgives me for it. But that doesn't mean that I condemn someone wh not only looks on a woman with lust, but who leaves his wife and shacks up with somebody out of wedlock.

"Christ says don't consider yourself better than someone else because one guy screws a whole bunch of women while the other guy is loyal to his wife. The guy who's loyal to his wife ought not to be condescending or proud because of the relative degree of sinfulness."

Mrs. Carter, in New York Monday to tape a television interview, said her husband was attempting to explain the Christian religion, "that God doesn't expect everyone to be perfect." She said that after 30 years of marriage "we have a very, very close relationship, and we always have had, and I think it's because we have a mutual respect for each Mrs. Carter said her biggest complaint about her husband was that "he wakes up in the morning wide awake and I don't."

What problems are facing women in Seminole County? That was the theme of a Monday night meeting of the Central Florida Commission on the Status of Women at the Courthouse. Marilyn Crotty (right), chairman of the Commission, hears about some of them from a couple of members of the Seminole delegation.

Opposition to Williams' proposal centers on the fact that citizens who don't live on lakes would be required to pay for any countywide lake cleanup program.

DeVoney asked the county to provide "in kind" services for their portion of the $50,000 needed to get the program under way. The remainder of the cash would be supplied by the city and the state. Mrs. Glenn also pointed out that city officials plan to build a park site on four acres of land donated to the city. She said the park's success depends on the clean-up program.

Officials had hoped to put white amur into the lake after the initiatial clean-up. The amur is a weed-gobbling fish that has been released with some success into Florida lakes and streams.

City and county staffs were to meet later this week. Program details will be submitted to the

Cost Of Living Rises .5 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP) - Consumer prices rose five-tenths of a per cent during August for the third month in a row, the government said today. A decline in meat prices failed to offset higher costs for most other foods, fuel and clothing.

The increase means inflation is running at an annual rate of 6 per cent, a level in line with the Ford administration's forecast. At the same time, the Labor Department reported a further shrinkage in the purchasing power of the average workers' paycheck as inflation last month offset a slight increase in pay. President Ford has claimed that his economic policies have helped cut the inflation rate in half from its 1974 levels. His Democratic challenger, Jimmy Carter, has charged that the current rate still is twice as high as when the Democrats were in office. Price increases averaged 2 per cent in the 1950s and 2.3 per cent during the 1960s.

Consumer price increases were smaller earlier this year but picked up to a 6 per cent rate in the spring. As the pace of inflation quickened, the economic recovery slowed and unemployment began rising again.

Although the administration contends the recovery will continue through next year, the Democrats have attempted to put Ford on the defensive about the economy.

In its August report, the Labor Department said consumer prices were 5.6 per cent higher than a year ago. Food prices rose three-tenths of a per cent in August as lower meat prices helped offset increases for fruits, vegetables, dairy products and coffee. But new increases for gasoline and clothing helped drive onfood commodity prices up six-tenths of a per cent, about the same rate as in the previous three months but twice as much as during the first quarter of the year. The cost of services also rose six-tenths of a per cent last month, matching increases in June and July. All prices are seasonally adjusted. Unadjusted, the August increase in consumer prices also measured five-tenths of a per The consumer price index stood at 171.9 in August, meaning a market basket of goods costing $100 in 1967 now cost $171.90.

Strike Effects Widening:

Bargainers Still Stymied

DETROIT (AP) - As the nationwide strike against Ford Motor Co. begins to cause a chain reaction of layoffs at other companies. bargainers say they are not optimistic about renewed efforts to reach a settlement.

The United Auto Workers and Ford resumed formal contract talks Monday for the first time since 170.000 workers walked off the job one week ago today.

The two sides recessed bargaining until today after a brief meeting failed to bring them closer to a new three-year accord.

Farouk's Sister Now Bankrupt

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Her summer cruises on the Nile and a $2,500 monthly allowance are things of the past. She lives no longer in an elegant palace but in a West Los Angeles apartment shared with her mother. Even the love which triggered her financial difficulties has turned sour.

Fathia Ghali, sister of Egypt's last monarch, King Farouk, was close to tears Monday as sat and watched the remnants of royal riches hauled into bankruptcy court.

Phaseout Of Program Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) - The federal program that has helped 650,000 Cuban exiles resettle in the United States during the past 15 years should be phased out by 1981, a taskforce report says.

The Monday report to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare said fewer than 5, 000 refugees still receive special cash grants under the Cuban Refugee Program and that number is expected to shrink by 1,500 a year over the next two years.

Showers and thundersho mued into the early hours today near a cold front that extended from the North Atlantic coast through southeast Virginia, to just off the southern Texas coast.

The heaviest activity was in southeast Texas and eastern North Carolina, with some heavy thundershowers in the central Gulf Coast states. A flash flood watch was posted for parts of Texas.

Reading Improvement Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) - School desegregation and a return to the basics in elementary schools may have contributed to the recent rise in reading ability of 9-year-olds and the "dramatic improvement" among black youths, according to a new national survey released today.

However, the federally financed National Assessement of Educational Progress found that while 9-year-olds were able to read better in 1975 than in 1971, there was little change in the reading performance of 13-year-olds and 17-year-olds in school.

Guards Fired

PEMBROKE PINES (AP) -

More than 50 guards at the South Florida State Hospital have been suspended and least 30 will be fired because of a sick-out called to protest the lack of hazardous duty pay, state officials say.

"We should have a final counting (today) as to how many people will be fired and how many will be suspended.' Kyle McCroan, a spokesman for the Health and Rehabilitative Services Department, said late Monday.

"There have been 56 suspensions as a result of the sick-out since it began Sunday morning." McCroan said. "Of these, 32 will probably receive their temination notices (today) vestigated and closed. Nine more may be fired, but their alibies have to checked out

The 101 hospital guards had asked for the $145-a-month hazardous-duty allowance that prison guards and other state employes receive.

They said their duty is just as deserving of the extra pay since about 300 of the hospital's 1,400 patients are criminally insane and are hospitalized under court orders.

Sniper Tapes Attack On Bus; Shoots Himself GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) - A sniper who ambushed a school bus and slightly wounded the driver tape-recorded the entire incident and then apparently committed suicide, police said. None of the 49 elementary school pupils on the bus was seriously injured in the Monday morning shooting, officers said. Near the scene, Guilford County sheriff's deputies found the body of an unidentified man in his mid-20s, clad in dungarees, a green sweatshirt and tennis shoes. County medical examiner H.L. Johnson said the man died from an apparently self-inflicted shotgun wound in the head. The body was sent to the state medical examiner in Chapel Hill for identification.

Authorities said that behind a cedar tree near the body they found a 10-speed bicycle, a sleeping bag, a radio and a cassette tape recorder.

"He had recorded the whole thing." said Lt. D.F. Summers of the sheriff's department. "He had these tapes with him, and he had the recorder on. He was saying, 'I'm laying in ambush for the school bus.'"

Authorities said the tape did not reveal why the man wanted to ambush the bus, which was hit with a shotgun blast as it traveled down a highway about 12 miles cast of

"You could hear the shotgun go off," Summers said of the tape. "After that he said, 'That wasn't as hard as I thought it would be,' and cut the tape off. Then I guess he turned the gun on himself."

The driver, Dennis Ray Williams, 17, of Gibsonville, was grazed on the shoulder by the blast, but managed to stop the bus safely. He was treated at a bospital then

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Police Fear Thieves May Melt Down Booty

CAPE CANAVERAL (AP) - Police say they are concerned that thieves who stole about $750,000 worth of Spanish coins and jewelry from the Museum of Sunken Treasure will melt their booty down to disguise it.

The gold and silver artifacts - some considered priceless - date back to 1715 and were recovered by divers from sunken Spanish galleons off Florida's East Coast. They were stolen early Monday from the private museum here.

"The fear I have is that they (the thieves) will try melting down the coins and gold jewelry to hide their tracks," said Police Chief Bob Tweed.

Mao's Policies Still In Force

Mao Tse-tung was an outspoken and avowed enemy of the bourgeois who told his people that the foes of China would not perish by themselves and urged his followers to carry their revolution through to the end. Yet it does not seem at all strange to hear those bourgeois extol Mao today as a "great man, ... remarkable man, ... and a man of vision."

Few could venture to guess what leadership will eventually emerge in China after Mao's death. But if there is one thing certain it is that Mao was one of the truly great persons of an era in terms of power, influence, leadership and symbolism. His death was not the death of a man, it was the passing of a dynasty.

No other statesman in recent history had a longer view of the future and no other leader acquired and held power over so many people for so long a time. Mao's techniques will be studied, but we doubt that he will ever be emulated because he was one of a kind. His recipe was simple. Shining throughout the many thoughts and works of Mao was his fear of "revisionism" — the fear that purity of Mao Marxism would be diluted and corrupted by the influence of the industrial world. "Revisionism or right opportunism," Mao said, "is a bourgeois trend of thought that is even more dangerous than dogmatism. The revisionists, the Right opportunists, pay lip service to Marxism . . . but what they really are attacking is the quinessence of Marxism.

Means did not deter Mao from his ends. When it became necessary from his point of view he could gain political power with the barrel of a gun, an oft uoted thought of Mao. Or Mao could let "a hundred flowers blossom and a hundred schools of thought contend" - purportedly to promote the progress of the arts and sciences in China. The barrels and the flowers were the same, tools to promote the constant turmoil that allowed Mao to hold power. Many Chinese disappeared into the night after blooming and the blood of millions of his own countrymen was on his hands.

What does this mean to us today? Mao is dead, but the forces that he set into motion are not. Pragmatically, Mao was not directly running China for some time because of his physical impairments. But it is not clear whether the present eadership will prevail. What is known is that there is a struggle of gargantuan proportions between the power moderates who want a gradual evolution into the industrial world and the "revisionists" who argue for pure Maoism.

Added to the uncertainty of power is the nature of China itself. It is a vast country and difficult to rule. Its people have a broad streak of independence and close ties to families and clans. It is not an easy country to govern, all the more a mark of tribute to the prowess of Mao.

The plain truth is that nobody knows what lays ahead for China even if it is certain that whoever wins the power struggle will continue to evoke the thoughts and spirit of Mao. His footsteps in history are deep and his shadow into the future will be long. The best course for the United States and the West is to assume that none of the policies of China have changed until told otherwise. In poker it's called holding.

A Good Image

Congress took a lot of heat last year over voting to tie congressional salaries to those of federal employes benefitting rom annual cost-of-living pay increases. So it is only fair, perhaps, to commend the House and Senate or voting this year to deny their members the expected 5 per cent hike But the gesture revealed more political astuteness than tatesmanship, as even a few of the lawmakers conceded. Sen. James Allen, a Democrat from Alabama, noted that "Congress has enough problems maintaining a good image."

RAY CROMLEY Mao Was Greedy For Power

WASHINGTON - This is of Mao the man. And of his relationship to Chairman Mao o China and to Mao the Communist.

My knowledge of Mao comes from eigh nonths in the caves of Yenan in World War II before he came to power. I was an American Army officer in contact with Mao and his aides. four months of the time as acting commander of the American military mission there. Mao, above all was intensely interested it ideas — ideas for putting things into practice — almost disdainful of theory. Time and again he would search out people who know more about a ubject than he and probe their minds.

He was woefully weak in mathematics. And had little understanding of economics, industry or even of agriculture - though he grew up on a farm. His interest was in organization and the relationship of people. He wanted to know how organizations worked - whether armies, overnments, political groups, schools or even theaters - and if they could be useful in accomplishing his aims.

Superbly confident, certain of the correctness of his thinking and his actions, he loved to argue if the arguments turned too philosophical, he would turn away.

He had great faith in self reliance. And in planning. He planned so thoroughly in fact, that JOHN CUNNIFF after a run of defeats which would have felled another man, he was able to come back with greater strength, time and again.

For himself, he cared little for money, or clothing, or art or philosophy. He had contempt for the badges and formalities of office. But he was greedy for the power. He was a Communist, I felt, because of the Writing a newspaper column has its advantages over other kinds of work. For instance, most people can't talk and do their jobs at the same time without risking a reprimand from the boss. But a columnist, through the medium of the printed word, can "bend the ear" of thousands of people and make a living at he same time.

But writing a column is not as easy as it may seem. If you do the job well, it takes a lot of thought, plus a considerable amount of research. If you write about current events and social issues, you have to teep up with what's going on in the world. Then you have to sit down and sort it all out in your mind and come up with a coherent statement. Fortunately, there are some shortcuts a columnist can take when he's feeling lazy or lacks enough time to adequately prepare a complex analysis of some situation. One of the better ways is to start off by saying used, is one I call the "Sin and Weather Gambit." The strategy here is to write about something that everybody dislikes, such as taxes, big government, Communism, sin, or floods. These subjects are sort of universal, and sufficiently broad to allow you to say almost anything without getting into trouble. One columnist, a skilled practitioner of the Sin

Weather Gambit, has even suggested that the overnment allow sick poor people to die, instead of roviding them with medical care. He attempts to justify his position by stating that government-supplied medical care obligates somebody to study medicine and become a doctor, hen abrogates the doctor's right to decide whether

In any case, the above-mentioned columnist is on safe ground, because the entire fallacious argument has nothing to do with the real world. That's why the Sin and Weather Gambit is so useful: it's hard to disprove a theory woven from thin air, even if the premises sound as if they came from Larry, Moe

PETER CAMEJO TV Debates Rule Shows . Hypocrisy

(Editor's Note: Peter Camejo is the presidential candidate of the Socialist Workers Party.)

The controversy over which presidential candidates will be allowed to debate before the American people has, itself, become a revealing aspect of the 1976 campaign. At stake is the public's right to hear, their right to know, and their right to decide.

In 1960 it took a special act of Congress to exempt the Kennedy-Nixon debates from the long-standing equal time provisions of the Federal Communications Act - provisions aimed at insuring independent candidates and their ideas receive a fair hearing at election time. But in 1975 the Federal Communications Commission made a change in the interpretation of the law.

The ready agreement of the League of Women Voters to serve as a vehicle for this thinly disguised attempt to curtail dissent is especially infortunate. The League's sponsorship of a debate designed to foster the idea that the Democrats and Republicans are the only parties worth considering contradicts the League's own well-known standard of nonpartisanship.

A debate excluding third parties is all the more hypocritical in an election year when the overwhelming majority of voters have expressed dissatisfaction with both Republicans and Democrats. Ford and Carter together received votes in the primaries from less than 8 per cent of registered voters. Problems With Promises The Socialist Workers Party is fighting its exclusion on the basis that the American people not only have the right but face the necessity of considering new proposals for moving the nation forward in this time of crisis. Both Ford and and rule of Washington in our lives, but neither of jobs; it takes private efforts to expand economic Carter have indicated that if elected they will . follow a course that has already imperiled the livelihoods of millions of working people and deepened the misery of millions more.

Hughes Wanted To Buy ABC

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - Howard Hughes would have bought the American Broadcasting Co. in 1968 if the purchase had not required a personal appearance before the Federal Communications Commission, TV Guide reports in next week's issue.

In an article by former ABC executive and board member Thomas Moore, TV Guide says the late billionire industrialist had arranged to purchase a majority interest in the radio and television broadcasting company for $148 million

Moore said the sale fell through when the reclusive Hughes refused to make the required appearance before the FCC, which must approve such a sale.

'People Don't Elect Judges

By ED PRICKETT Herald Staff Writer

State Rep. Bill Nelson says the contention that Florida voters elect their judges is a "myth." And the Melbourne Democrat is spearheading a statewide movement to change the present system.

The so-called "Missouri Plan" Nelson is advocating calls for the appointment by the governor of Supreme Court and Appeals judges if judges are voted out of office by the citizens. Nelson's amendment will be on the Nov. 2 ballot. It suggests that, after fulfillment of a six-year term, the judge's name be placed on the ballot. If the public votes "out," the vacancy on the bench will be filled by the governor after a recommendation by a non-partisan nominating commission.

Nelson has many arguments in favor of the amendment. "In the last 50 years, 77 per cent of Supreme Court Justices have been unopposed and therefore they never appeared on the ople didn't get a chance to vote," Nelson argues. In Florida's four district court of appeals in the last 20 years, Nelson says, 82 per cent of the judges ran unopposed. "It is fiction to say the people of Florida elect their judges.' There are seven Supreme Court judges who compose the highest appeals court in the state. And there are 25 judges in the court of appeals, the next highest appeals court after circuit. The amendment does not apply itself to circuit judges, according to Nelson, because he said supporters were unable to garner the ecessary votes to get such an amendment on the ballot.

Obviously, there are some drawbacks to the Nelsonsupported amendment, but the legislator says, "What happens when a judge has to go out and campaign? He gets money from the lawyers who are practicing in his court. That makes him incomfortable. Nelson also cited a few additional reasons for approving the amendment. They are: - Many lawyers refuse to run in statewide or regional races because of the large sums of money it takes to win name recognition. And the salaries of judicial office are hardly high enough to warrant heavy investment of personal funds in a

- It would assure the people the right to pass on the record of an incumbent judge. If his record fails to hold up, he will be ousted and the governor will reappoint one of three names recommended

The Florida Bar - plus news reports - would have the responsibility of informing the public. The Missouri Plan was implemented in that state 20 years ago, and Nelson and many others feel it will work here. At any rate, the lawmaker feels it will work better than the present system where "hardly anybody knows anything about the andidates.

Well, Since You Asked ..

Q. Could you tell me the average salary in these four major league sports - NBA, NFL, NHL and baseball major leagues as of 1976? I understand the NBA is way ahead of the rest. - Joe Meyers, Marinette, Wis.

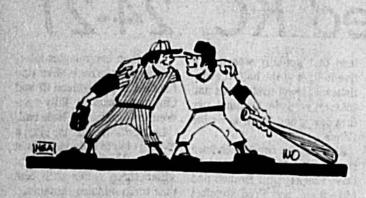

You understand right. The pro basketballers are figured at $107,000 average annual wages. Hockey is next at $15,000. Stargell, the usually talkative leagues earlier this month, fol-Baseball players register in at $45,000. Pro football players bring up the rear at $42,000. These are all educated estimates because "I've run out of words." there are no official figures.

Q. Do you think Randy Jones of the San Diego Padres has a chance at winning the MVP award over Dave Kingman, George Foster, Mike Schmidt and Joe Moran, or the Cy Young Award over Jim Lonborg, Tom Seaver and Ken Forsch? And also winning 30 games this year? Vida Blue won the Cy Young Award and the MVP award in 1971. - Gil Bowen, Bradford, R.I.

I think Randy is a cinch for the Cy Young Award, with Fred Norman of Cincinnati the only one even close (how do Seaver and Forsch get in there?) But his post-All-Star slump cost him a chance at 30 wins. And George Foster is odds-on to get the MVP award. Only pitchers besides Blue in '71 to win both the Cy Young and the MVP hences were Don Newcombe of the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1956, Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1963, McLain of Detroit in 1968.

Q. Can anyone understand why small fortunes are sunk into med stadums that fail to keep the track dry? Like building umbrellas with a sun roof. It seems the sides should be open and top closed solid, only allowing light in. - . Ken Garrison, Ventura,

After learning 100 utility bills went uncollected last February, the Seminole County Commission Tuesday hired a consultant and approved a 90-day, $15,000 study designed to get the lagging department back on its

"There has been some laxness in the (utility) department," Commissioner Dick Williams acknowledged today. "Some bills haven't been collected. I don't know why."

Utility Director Bill Dale, said he's aware of the problem. Dale said he has been unable to do anything about it because he's not sure of his legal footing. "I requested information from the attorney," Dale said. I never got a legal opinion on

Carter: 'Lust' Talk Won't Hurt Me

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) - Democratic presidential nominee Jimmy Carter said today he is not dismayed by reaction to his statements that he has "looked on a lot of women with lust" and "committed adultery in my heart." He said he doesn't think it has hurt his campaign.

Carter responded to questions from reporters as he got into his car after completing an early morning inspection of his peanut processing operation.
