Improving The

Tax Cuts

The $16.3 billion tax cut approved by the House is clearly to be preferred over the larger and conceptually defective package proposed by President Carter last January.

To improve the bill, and possibly to sweeten the tax cut itself, the Senate will have to spurn White House pressure on behalf of President Carter's populist tax impulses.

The President dislikes the House-passed bill on several counts: First, he is unhappy that 72 percent of the benefits of the cut would go to those earning $20,000 a year or more.

Second, he prefers a smaller capital gains tax reduction.

Finally, he favors inclusion of a laundry list of revenue-generating "reforms," including lowered deductions for "three-martin" business lunches and smaller write-offs for real estate depreciation.

VIEWPOINT

Camp David Stakes

By DON GRAFF

It's a toss-up at this point as to who has the most at stake in the forthcoming Camp David summit.

For Egyptian President Sadat, it shapes up as the moment of final decision for the initiative that began with his mission to Jerusalem last November.

For Israeli Prime Minister Begin, whose inflexibility, justly or otherwise, is widely perceived as the major obstacle to progress, failure could represent a victory for principle at the cost of practical power.

For President Jimmy Carter, a failure could be especially painful. He is both initiator and host of the meeting and will be participating in a new role.

Under these changed circumstances, failure this time would bear a distinct Made in America stamp.

There are some promising signs contradicting this view, however. Two other interested parties, Jordan and most importantly Saudi Arabia, have gone on record as approving Camp David.

Cupid Alive And Well

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Just when many of us were wondering romance was dead, along comes Christmas to remind us that love still exists.

With the fortune she inherited from her father Aristotle, Christina could have had the best husband money could buy.

Which proves that Cupid is indeed alive and living in Moscow.

Just how the Muscovite, Sergei Kasov, came to be the answer to a Greek shipping heiress' prayers was not clearly explained in the western press.

One can only assume that despite her silver spoon pedigree Miss Onassis remained a simple country girl at heart, and that Kasov, sly devil, swept her off her feet.

Such a love match made of the bride's abrupt departure from Moscow four days after she had settled into the tiny flat with Sergei and Maria Kasov.

The consensus presumption was that the course of true love leads through developed hot spots. But she insisted she was merely taking a business trip, and I certainly buy that.

Knowing what I do of newswomen, I'll wager Christina's first post-nuptial impulse was to fix up her apartment in L.A. Toward which she measured the windows for new curtains she intended near-mist should cause a momentary power loss. "In a battle situation, you just don't have that type of time," said an alarmed official.

The central problem is that the ships, for the sake of economy, were left with little shielding for antennas, cables and wave guides. (The latter are the pipes that carry electricity to the weapons.)

In contrast, the Soviet Navy is designed more for battle than Sunday boating. Almost all the computers, cables and wave guides are located beneath deck.

Technical experts say armor-plating techniques are available that could protect the vulnerable control systems aboard the Navy's warships.

Below, classified studies indicate that today's ships may be even more fragile. Black holes on the hulls and leaks, for example, show that electronic equipment can be knocked out of better by concussion from underwater explosions.

A momentary loss of power can put communications and weapons systems out of commission up in an hour, and could leave a ship floundering in the sea for up to an hour in case a

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Anti-Casino Gambling Forces Ready For War

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The battle plan is ready and the troops have been briefed in the war being waged by Gov. Reubin Askew against pro-casino gambling forces.

Asked enlisting business, political and church leaders at two separate strategy sessions Tuesday for the campaign against casino gambling.

He asked the businessmen and politicians to tap their bases of support to help raise $750,000 in the next few weeks and called on the churchmen to preach the evils of casino gambling from the pulpit.

Asked made his pitch based on the theme he has used in the past — gambling is a no-win proposition that will destroy Florida's healthy family-tourist economy and ruin the quality of life in the state.

There's Money In That Wood

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — State forestry officials say local governments can make money off the million tons a year of wood being left at landfills as well as reduce their waste disposal costs.

"Marketing opportunities for wood residue appear virtually unlimited," the Division of Forestry said Tuesday in a study, "Timber for Florida, Today and Tomorrow."

"Trash wood," as the material is called, can be used for firewood, charcoal, fiberboard, soil conditioners, mulching compound and animal bedding and litter.

Sea Shells For Erosion?

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — Sea shells may be used in the future to stop erosion around bridges and one day may help solve the beach erosion problem, according to two University of Florida researchers.

"Sand erodes from around bridge piers quite easily but if you put shells around the pier, the erosion is halted," said Dr. Ashish Mehta, a coastal engineering professor.

On the same day, Red Hug Elementary will hold its open house from 1:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. Those attending are asked to report first to the main office.

Anti-Gas Spill Measures Planned

Saxon, DER, Port: 'Meeting Went Well'

A meeting Tuesday afternoon of Seminole County Port Authority (SCOPA) officials, Saxon Oil Co. representatives and the Florida Department of Environmental Regulation resulted in an agreement on drainage measures to guard against a gasoline spill like the one last week.

"I'd say the meeting went very well," said Len Kotlov, DER district enforcement chief. "They apparently anticipated much of what we recommended."

Saxon agreed to put curbing on the east side of its loading ramp and build a new drainage ditch that would direct future spills to an existing retention area.

The swamp area Kotlov referred to leads to Lake Moore and the St. Johns River. A tanker driver fell asleep on the afternoon of Aug. 14 as he was filling his tanker and allowed 4,000 gallons of gasoline to overflow. That spill triggered a DER investigation, according to Kotlov.

The spill resulted in a bill of $1,000. Saxon, DER, revealed Tuesday. However, due to Saxon's willingness to improve conditions, the oil company probably will not be fined, according to Kotlov.

"I would say there probably won't be any penalties, at least I don't anticipate any at this point, but we are keeping that door open in case we meet any problems down the road," commented Kotlov.

Saxon had drainage facilities at the time of the spill, according to Dennis Dolger, those facilities were not capable of handling a spill in the area where the Aug. 14

BERRY'S WORLD

WASHINGTON — Viewed from afar, the U.S. fleet can be an imposing sight, arrayed in battle line on the high seas, its hundreds of ships stretching from horizon to horizon, advancing seaward in perfect order.

Yet all these formidable warships, gleaming in the morning sunlight, are alarmingly vulnerable. The crucial electrical systems and equipment are poorly designed. Shock waves from an explosion could knock out the average ship's communications system. A minor hit or even a near-miss could disable the ship or leaving its crew unprotected. The Navy's great armada, in other words, could

POLITICS IN BRIEF

Kirk Twits Smathers: 'Daddy Didn't Tell Him What To Say'

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gubernatorial candidate Claude Kirk, who has been directing most of his campaign fire at opponent Bob Shevin, turned his sharp tongue on Bruce Smathers Tuesday.

"Bruce's daddy got him up this morning, but he hasn't told him what to say yet," Kirk told reporters shortly after Smathers left a Tallahassee news conference.

Kirk showed up unannounced at the press center, which houses most of the state's large capitol news. He said he was there to see Smathers and gubernatorial candidate Jim Williams, who had scheduled press conferences.

He stood in the back of the room listening to the candidates. He did not interrupt, but later made comments indicating Bruce takes orders from his father George, a former U.S. Senator and one-time confidante of presidents. After staying in the background for months, he turned up last week to help attract funds and votes for his son.

Kirk, who has nothing but praise for Williams, shook Williams' hand and straightened his tie.

Teachers Endorse Van Meter

The Florida Teachers Profession and its affiliates: Orange, Brevard, and Osceola classroom teachers and the Seminole Education Association have endorsed Nathan Z. Van Meter as candidate for Florida State Senate, District 16, in the Sept. 12 primary.

Hazleton Raps Gunter $$$

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — State Rep. Don Hazleton says the newspapers that have criticized him for taking campaign money from trial lawyers should inspect insurance Commissioner Bill Gunter's reports.

Seventy-five percent of Gunter's campaign money, Hazleton charged Tuesday, has come from insurance, banking and LP gas companies, which he regulates in one way or another.

Graham: Memorable Job

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Hearing his gall of working 160 jobs around the state before the Sept. 13 primary, Democratic gubernatorial candidate Bob Graham says he will save his toughest job for last.

Graham, a millionaire developer from Miami Lakes, spent Tuesday building Seminole Indian huts called "chickens" in Hendry County.

He won't say what his last job will be, but promises it is going to be a memorable assignment and will be in South Florida a day or so before the election.

Round 2 Looms In Oklahoma Race

Oklahoma Gov. David Boren, who dismissed charges he was homosexual in the wild and dirty race for the Democratic Senate nomination, may face a Sept. 19 runoff.

As the vote counting entered the early morning hours today, Boren's tally hovered near the 50 percent majority needed for an outright win, but he told supporters at a victory party he didn't care whether or not there was a runoff.

"No matter whether we go one round, two rounds or three rounds, the Boren camp will win," he said.

Former Rep. Ed Edmondson, who served 20 years in Washington and has lost the last two Senate races in Oklahoma as the Democratic candidate, finished second in Tuesday's primary. In Alaska, Gov. Jay Hammond faced former Gov. Walter Hixson in a Republican rematch and the polls favored Hixson, the interior secretary Richard Nixon fired.

If the race is close, the outcome will depend on the heavy absentee vote, which may take days to count.

While the early polls favored Hixson, Hammond claimed he was pulling even as the voters discovered his rival favored a massive development plan for the nation's last frontier.

In Oklahoma, Attorney General Larry Derryberry, one of the leading Democratic candidates to succeed Boren, was attending a party in Tulsa when a man stepped out of the crowd and fired a rusty pistol loaded with red paint pellets. Derryberry was splattered, but unharmed.

Most of the attention focused on the Oklahoma Senate race.

The Senate race was to pick a Democratic contender for the seat being vacated by Republican Sen. Davey Bartlett, who is retiring this year after two terms with cancer. Robert Kamm, former president of Oklahoma State University was unopposed for the Republican nomination.

Rep. Shasta, former University of Oklahoma football star and former state legislator, won the Republican nomination for governor, polling more than 70 percent of the vote to defeat two other contenders.

Tampa Bay: Contender Or Pretender?

TAMPA, (UPI) — The Tampa Bay Buccaneers left their fans last December in much the same state as the weekend golfer who closes out an 18-hole round of 100 with a birdie.

The first trade sent the No. 1 pick to Houston for the Oilers' first pick, which was 17th, and tight end Jimmy Giles. The second next year's first round pick to Chicago for veteran defensive lineman Willy Chambers, who is coming off knee surgery.

The 1977 edition of the Bucs sported a tough defense but a puncheon offense that scored only four touchdowns running and passing. The other scoring came on nine field goals and three pass interceptions, which came in their first trading away this year's and next year's first round draft picks, opening the door to bitter fan criticism if the deals are fruitless.

McKay blamed much of the lack of offense on injuries to his quarterbacks and tight ends, a lack of blocking and a lack of continuity along the defensive line.

McKay used his first draft pick to take Grambling quarterback Doug Williams and then look Alabama running back Johnny Davis on his second pick, in hopes of providing enough extra blocking to spring Ricky Bell, last year's top choice, for long yardage.

He then traded Anthony Taylor to Houston for Don Hardeman, another strong blocker. In still another step to help the running game, McKay lured offensive coordinator Joe Gibbs away from St. Louis.

"We want to be able to turn the ball with authority this year," McKay said. "That would set up a passing game, put points on the board and take the pressure off our defense."

At quarterback, the Bucs have veterans Gary Huff, who missed part of last year with injuries, Mike Boyla, who missed all of last year, along with Williams and second-year man Randy Hedberg.

"If we can get consistent quarterback play, we will be a much better offensive team this year," McKay said. "Having Huff and Boyla free of injuries is imperative. Losing them absolutely killed us last season. Our offensive line developed by the end of the year and we should be in much better shape there this season. Overall, we're on the road to what we said we would be in five years, a contender in our division."

The Bucs added some insurance against their defense when they obtained veteran middle guard Ernie Holmes from Pittsburgh.

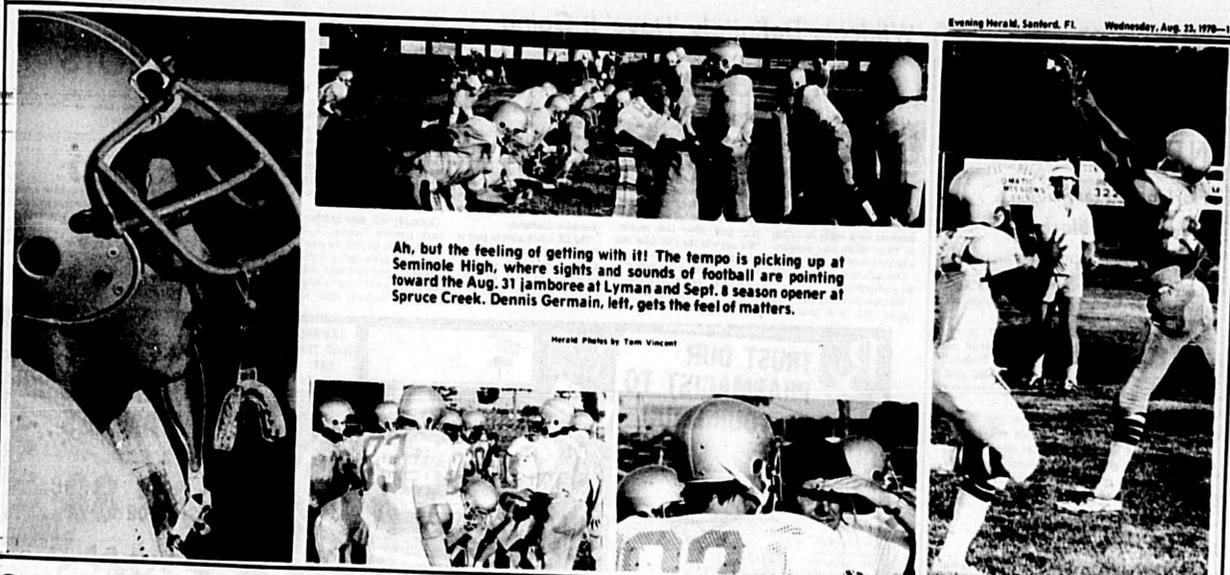

The Bucs also hope to be stronger this year in the kicking game. Last year they got spotty field goal kicking by Allan Leavitt, now gone, and from Dave Green, who also does the punting. This year Tampa Bay has Neil O'Donoghue handling the kicking and former Larry Swider is challenging Green for the punting job.

"Without question, the 1978 Bucs talent is 100 percent better than that of 1976 (the franchise's first year)," McKay said. "Because we have the talent we think we do, we will not have to spend half our time pouring over the waiver wires and trying to round up new players."

The Bucs' schedule for 1978 is based on the finish last year and is rated one of the easiest in the NFL, another factor bringing hope to the fans.

McKay says just the schedule is based on last year's performance, other teams will be making a mistake to take the Bucs lightly.

"Anyone who looks at us as being easier in 1978 than we were in 1977 will be in for a surprise," he said.

Ah, but the feeling of getting with it! The tempo is picking up at Seminole High, where sights and sounds of football are pointing toward the Aug. 31 jamboree at Lyman and Sept. 8 season opener at Spruce Creek. Dennis Germain, left, gets the feel of matters.

Just Wild About Baseball

NEW YORK (UPI) — No matter where they happen, on the highway, in the bathtub or on the so-called friendly fields of strife, accidents generally are due to one thing — carelessness.

And nowhere does this deficiency show up more clearly or more often than in athletic contests of all varieties.

"Half the games I lost were due to nothing more than plain carelessness," volunteers Hall of Famer Bob Feller, who led the American League in victories six times during his career, struck out 2,581 batters, hurled three no-hitters and was voted the "greatest living right-handed pitcher" 18 years ago.

Feller won 286 games and lost 184 with Cleveland for a .821 percentage, which still ranks among the highest ever, and had he been able to cut those deficits in half he would've wound up with a 347-81 record and a .804 percentage, unprecedented by any other pitcher in history.

Hearing such a statement, most modern ballplayers might get the idea Feller is indulging himself in some kind of Alice in Wonderland fantasy, but if there was any pitcher who owned the raw ability to even THINK in terms of such an unimaginable accomplishment, it certainly had to be Feller. In his time, he could propel a ball from the pitcher's mound to home plate faster than any man alive, almost as quick as you could blink your eyes.

Gura Gets His KC Shot, Shows 11-3 Mound Mark

My United Press International wire service says that with the New York Yankees and Billy Martin in the lead, Gura lost his starting spot and sat on the bench with a 5-1 record.

Tuesday night after leading the Kansas City Royals to a 6-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox, Gura said, "I'm grateful Willey (Herschel, the Royals' manager) has given me the opportunity to pitch."

Hergo probably is grateful, too, as Gura raised his record to 11-3 to go along with a sterling 2.78 earned run average. The left-hander is a major reason the Royals hold a slim one-game lead over California in the American League West.

Gura worked 7 1/3 innings, giving up eight hits to win his sixth game in the last seven decisions. Rookie Ross Baumgarten, 1-1, gave up nine hits and all of Kansas City's runs over 3 1/3 innings.

McKay used his first draft pick to take Grambling quarterback Doug Williams and then look Alabama running back Johnny Davis on his second pick, in hopes of providing enough extra blocking to spring Ricky Bell, last year's top choice, for long yardage.

Giants 7, Mets 4: Darrell Evans drove in four runs with a sacrifice fly and a three-run homer to help the Giants move within a half-game of the idle, front-running Los Angeles Dodgers in the NL West.

Astrus 2, Cubs 1: Mark Lemongillo, 9-11, scattered seven hits for his ninth complete game, while Art Howe singled home one run and scored another to lead the Astros.

Reds 5, Cardinals 4: Ken Griffey, who earlier had a two-run single, walked with two out in the bottom of the 11th inning, stole second and scored on George Foster's single to lift the Reds, who were a 4-0 lead in the ninth, to victory.

Griese Gets Call Friday Vs. Tampa

MIAMI (UPI) — The Miami Dolphins are down to their NFL player limit, but team officials say the names of the 10 players cut won't be announced until today or Thursday.

Coach Don Shula released his starting lineup Tuesday for Friday's game against the Tampa Bay Buccaneers and reviewed his injury list.

Norris Thomas will start at left cornerback despite the cuts he sustained last week against the Minnesota Vikings when his plastic eyeglasses broke. Thomas wears the same type of glasses worn by quarterback Bob Griese.

Shula said Griese would start against the Bucs and was expected to play at least half of the game at Tampa. With him will be veteran Vern Den Herder and rookie Doug Betters at defensive ends.

Starting linebackers, Shula said, will include veterans Ken Barkomper, Steve Towle, Bob Matheson and Larry Torian. Veterans Tim Foley and Wayne Moore and Mike Current will back up at tackle, Shula said. The only other route in the lineup will be Gerald Small at left cornerback, playing in place of Curtis Johnson because Larry Seiple would continue to do the punting and veteran place kicker Gary Yערpman will handle kickoffs as well as field goals and extra points until Michel recovers.

ATLANTA (UPI) — The Atlanta Braves Monday said Jim Bouton, the 30-year-old knuckleball pitcher out to prove he can still play in the majors, has a 50-50 chance of playing for the Braves this year.

Bouton, the former 30-game winner for the New York Yankees and author of "Ball Four," has been pitching for the Braves since he was traded from the Yankees in 1976. He has a 1-0 record in 10 appearances, with one win and one loss.

Florida Ponders Suit Over Spinks Blackout

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Florida may sue promoters of the Sept. 15 Muhammad Ali-Leon Spinks fight in New Orleans and ABC television to lift a 200-mile blackout on coverage of the event.

Attorney General Robert Shevin is investigating the possibility of a lawsuit or administrative challenge with the Federal Communications Commission, his aides said, contending the blackout is an illegal anti-trust act.

TV coverage of the heavyweight championship fight is being blacked out for 200 miles around New Orleans, the site city. The blackout area covers all of Louisiana, part of Alabama and northwest Florida, including Pensacola.

IROC Goes To Atlanta

ATLANTA (UPI) — Atlanta International Raceway has been selected as the site for the March 17, 1979, sixth annual International Race of Champions.

The race, featuring 12 of the world's top drivers — four each from NASCAR, USAC and International Road Racing, was previously run at Daytona Beach, Fla.

Kuchler Quits NASCAR

DAYTONA BEACH (UPI) — Lin Kuchler is resigning his position as executive vice president of NASCAR to accept a position as executive director of the American Motorcycle Association effective Sept. 15.

Cheever's Under Knife

BOSTON (UPI) — Boston Bruins goalie Gerry Cheever underwent successful surgery to remove cartilage in his right knee.

The operation, performed Saturday at Massachusetts General Hospital, will leave the 37-year-old Cheever incapacitated for up to six weeks. He will miss much of the Bruins training camp, which begins Sept. 18.

Steelers Trim To 53

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Steelers waived veteran running back Reggie Harrison, stalwart backup to Franco Harris during the club's successful Super Bowl IX and X campaigns. They also placed six others on waivers, trimming the roster to 53 players.

The other six waived were: veteran linebacker Brad Cousino, draft choice tackle Lance Reynolds, kicker Tom Jurich, and linebacker Brad Carr. Also released were free agents Ron Scott and guard Tom Dornbrook.

Bills Acquire Munson

ORCHARD PARK, N.Y. (UPI) — The Buffalo Bills acquired linebackers Tom Graham and Tom Ehlers and veteran quarterback Bill Munson in trades with the Philadelphia Eagles and the San Diego Chargers.

The Bills, in need of experienced linebackers, dealt a future draft choice to the Eagles for Graham and Ehlers. They gave up another future draft choice to San Diego for Munson.

Pincay Gets Suspension

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (UPI) — Jockey Laffit Pincay Jr., who was riding Affirmed in place of the injured Steve Cauthen, was suspended from riding for seven days for impeding Alydar during the $104,800 Travers Stakes Saturday.

The suspension, announced by the stewards at Saratoga Race Course, begins Friday, Aug. 25. Affirmed subsequently disqualified in favor of Alydar in the Saturday race.

'Skins Slice Fryer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Brian Fryer, the first Canadian player drafted by the NFL, was one of four players cut by the Washington Redskins.

The Redskins obtained Mike Hughes, a 6-4, 251-pound offensive tackle, from the New York Jets for an undisclosed draft choice. Veteran Calvin Hill, who left camp two weeks ago saying he was retiring, was released and is free to negotiate with all other NFL teams. Also cut were running back Nate Jackson, wide receiver Ed Marshall and defensive end Johnny Owens.

Wildcats Definitely 'Have' It Going Eliminate Kentucky From 'Have-Nots'

LEXINGTON, Ky. (UPI) — returns many members from the 1977 squad. Kentucky is off probation and can compete for the Southeastern Conference title and go to a bowl game after being ineligible last year.

"Being off probation gives us a lot to shoot for," said Curci, who was rewarded with a five-year pact after last season. "We can win the SEC title this year and get to a bowl game and be ranked in the poll."

Kentucky welcomed a total of 83 players to camp. Also trying for positions were several walk-ons and non-scholarship players.

Curci is credited with turning the Kentucky football fortunes around in the past three years. In 1976, he took UK to the Peach Bowl and last year had what many considered a team equal to if not better than SEC champion Alabama.

The UK coach admits part of Kentucky's success has been its ability to sneak up on some opponents, but Curci says that has been a thing of the past. "I don't think we had much of that last year, and this year, everyone is going to be shooting at the signals and provide some more versatility to its offense.

"I think we are going to look to pass a little more," Deaton said. "Derrick could blow them out. I can't say I'm going to do that, but I think we are going to show a little more variance in our offense."

Despite the switch to a more passing-oriented attack, Kentucky will rely heavily on its running attack, which features at least five returning backs to help take up the slack for Ramsey.

"We have been predictable in the past couple of years, but difficult for people to stop," Curci conceded. "I don't believe you can have a winning team with one that relies on the 'big play,' so it's going to be up to the other team, even though they may know what we are going to do, to stop us."

Kentucky opens the season at South Carolina.

Cook Of The Week Indian Visitor, Jewish Hostess Exchange Recipes

By ELDA NICHOLS
Herald Correspondent

Attractively attired in a colorful sari, Elma Fernandes of Bombay, India, explained how she and her daughter, Christabelle, came to visit the Larry Goldbergs, of Longwood, recently.

"My husband, Austin, works for Air India and met Larry on a flight about nine years ago. They talked and became friends. We have corresponded all this time. When my daughter was invited by the All-American Sports Association to come to the United States for a tennis tour, I was invited to the invitation. My husband got us special tickets through Air India. Colgate-Palmolive have been helpful in taking care of Christabelle's expenses here," said Elma.

Christabelle is ranked third in tennis for women, under 18, and fourth in the woman's class. After winning matches in Louisiana, she and her mother came on down to Longwood to meet their long-time correspondents.

"It was as though we had always known each other," said Elma. "They have been really wonderful to us. They just keep giving us surprises. On my birthday, they took us to Farrell's and we got the whole whale surprise. They were singing, so much ice-cream and everything. When the people there heard we were from India, everybody joined in the fun. We have visited Circus World, Disney World, the beach and everywhere. It is something we will remember for the rest of our days."

Elma has enjoyed sharing her cooking ability with the Goldbergs. "I've given her Jewish recipes and she's given me Indian recipes," said Elma Goldberg. Just for fun, Elma loaned Elbel one of her lovely saris, fastened her dark hair back, and to and behold, she could have passed for Elma's sister. Both wore tiny "tikas" on the forehead, a part of the formal Indian dress. "I generally dress Western style for casual occasions at home," said Elma. "When I travel, I find people like to see the authentic Indian-style of dressing." Elma looked completely at ease in the colorful and modest sari. Elma's cooking methods are most precise. Smiling, she said, "We cook two full meals a day at home. In fact, most of our time is spent in the kitchen." Staples of Indian cooking include rice, wheat, and lentils. "I'm from India and is a vegetarian and does not eat meat. However, many people in India have cultivated more Western habits," she said.

Three other children, Brian, Lorraine and Diane are awaiting the return of their mother and sister in Bombay. "They all play tennis, badminton and table tennis, am," said the proud Elma.

"We're really enjoyed their visit," said Larry. "They aren't like company at all. They fit right in, and Elma has been cooking so many delicious things, we must have gained 10 pounds each!"

Elma was happy to share some of her fabulous recipes with The Herald readers.

What About A Man's Rights In Divorce?

DEAR ABBY: My wife works the 4 p.m. to midnight shift. She got into the habit of going dancing and drinking every night after work with two of her girlfriends. She'd get home at 1 or 4 in the morning, and when I complained, she said she hadn't done anything wrong. I told her I was afraid it might lead to something, and she sure enough it did. She started staying out all night.

Abbey, we have two kids, 5 and 9, and I don't think she was acting like a proper mother. Finally, she got tired of my criticism and she filed for divorce. I was told she could get a divorce, plus I would have to give her one month's home and pay child support, which would just about keep me broke.

Is there a chance that I can get custody of my kids? What about a man's rights? I live in Lee County, Ala., where I'm a better father than she is a mother.

I can't afford to hire a lawyer to fight her. I'm 31 and she's 30. I live in Lee County, Ala., where a man doesn't stand a chance in a divorce case. Please help me.

Marinated flank steak — skewered with tomato, zucchini and fresh mushrooms — takes to the grill for a great combo that comes on with grandeur.

Skewered Flank Steak Is Easy, Economical, Tasty

Flank steak lends itself to marinating, which helps tenderize this economical cut of meat.

When cut into diagonal strips, flank steak "skewers" around tomatoes, zucchini and fresh mushrooms for a special barbecue treat.

This prepare-ahead kabob grills quickly, as you can eat when the mood hits you.

SKEWERED STEAK AND VEGETABLES

- 1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
- 1 can (6 oz.) frozen concentrated orange juice, thawed
- 1/4 cup Worcestershire sauce
- 2 tablespoons salad oil
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 pound beef flank steak
- 1 pint bon cherry tomatoes
- 2 medium zucchini, cut into 1/4-inch slices
- 1/4 pound fresh mushrooms, halved

Combine tomato sauce, orange juice, Worcestershire sauce, oil and salt. Remove 1 cup and set aside. Refrigerate remaining cup in a tightly covered container for later use as a barbecue sauce.

Thinly slice flank steak on the diagonal. Place in a snug-fitting bowl. Pour reserved 1 cup sauce over meat, stirring to coat all pieces of meat. Cover and refrigerate one hour. On skewers, thread a slice of meat alternately around a cherry tomato, slice of zucchini and mushroom half. Repeat using all of meat and vegetables.

Brush any sauce remaining in bowl over vegetables. Grill over hot coals or broil under a preheated hot broiler until cooked as desired, about 3 minutes on each side, brushing with any remaining marinade. Makes 4 to 6 portions; 2 cups barbecue sauce.

ALMOND-COATED CHEESE
Spread 1/2 cup sliced almonds on waxed paper or plastic wrap; place a block of natural Danish cream cheese with orange or other fruit flavor in center. Fire Chief Target

The Casselberry Fire Chief's car was not on fire early this morning.

It was the second car fire reported in that city within 11 minutes and five blocks of each other.

The state fire marshal's office is investigating the incidents, according to police.

The city owns the 1974 Plymouth Fury driven by Fire Chief Roy LaBossierie. The car was parked in front of his home at 880 Jupiter Way when the fire started at 12:41 a.m.

The chief, according to his 19-year-old daughter Janine, had left the house to investigate the earlier reported car fire.

Police said the chief's car sustained moderate damage to the right front hood area. The fire was extinguished by the Casselberry Fire Department.

At 12:40 a.m., Walter Townsend reported he heard a loud bang in front of his home at 881 Deberry Way and looked outside to find his neighbor's car on fire, police said.

Townsend used his water hose to put out the fire on the 1973 Plymouth Coupe owned by Marie Lyons of 881 Deberry Way. Witnesses at both fires reported seeing a man, described as having sandy-colored hair and a mustache, driving a Cadillac in the area of both fires when they started and again when firemen arrived to put them out.

Sanford Lawman: No Deal Offered In Promotion Try

By TOM GIORDANO
Herald News Editor

A Sanford police detective, reportedly promised a promotion for "keeping his mouth shut" during a federal probe of alleged discrimination in his department, today flatly denied the promise was ever made.

And the results of an investigation into the promotion-promise allegation, conducted by City Commissioner Julian Stenstrom, is expected to confirm that denial, according to the detective.

The issue came to light soon after the July 17 firing of former Sanford Police Chief Wallace N. LaPeters.

The fired police chief alleged that two or more of his men, including a captain and a lieutenant, told him they had overheard former Police Chief Ben Butler promise the detective a sergency in exchange for remaining silent during the federal inquiry.

Stenstrom today declined to say what his investigation turned up, but added he'll issue his findings Monday night at the city commission meeting.

The detective involved, Walter L. Jones Jr., confirmed this morning he admitted he never was promised a promotion to keep quiet during the federal investigation into alleged discrimination. This probe was conducted by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC).

Stenstrom's findings also reportedly will show that the captain and lieutenant, mentioned by LaPeters as his sources for the allegation, said they never overheard Butler make the promise to the detective, according to a city administration spokesman.

"I understand everyone who was questioned in this matter was questioned in the presence of a court stenographer, and Monday night I'll ask the commission to authorize spending about $200 so we can purchase that transcript and keep it on file," City Manager Warren K. Knowles asserted today.

That transcript, according to city hall officials, also will show that one of the two police officers, either the lieutenant or captain, also said in his statement not only did he never say he overheard Butler make that promise, but that the first he ever heard of any promise was when LaPeters told him about it.

Detective Jones, a 42-year-old, 11-year-veteran of the test department, said this morning there apparently was some confusion over what was said to him just prior to taking a sergency examination — coincidentally during the EEOC discrimination probe.

DET. WALTER JONES

"I was up for sergeant before EEOC came into the picture," Jones said.

"I was up for sergeant and I was told to be quiet about it, that I shouldn't discuss the pending sergency examination with anyone. But it had nothing to do with EEOC, nor was I ever promised a promotion by anyone under any circumstances," the detective asserted.

Jones, married and the father of three children elaborated: "As a matter of fact, I was up for sergeant before EEOC came into the picture. When the EEOC was here, I was still eligible for sergeant, and that's when I was told not to discuss that promotion possibility with anyone, but it had nothing to do with EEOC."

The detective said he later took the sergeant's examination, but failed.

"As far as I'm concerned, there were several questions on the test that dealt with theory, but my answers were based on practical police experience. So I've talked with the city's Equal Employment Opportunity Officer and I've been assured I'll take the test again in September. A modified version I hope will be used."

At Hectic Board Session

BARBARA ROTENBERG, SEA BOSS BILL MOORE (RIGHT) ... 'You alone have the power to pacify these hurt feelings'

Teachers Protest Pay Freeze

By LEONARD KRANDORF
Herald Staff Writer

"I will not tolerate this professional rudeness," School Board Chairman Pat Tolson said, pounding her gavel.

But the applause continued by the teachers who had packed into the school board office Wednesday night supporting the opinion that the board had taken an "unfair action," which was expressed by Seminole Education Association (SEA) President Bill Moore.

The teachers were protesting a June 29 action in which the board voted (4) to withhold additional money and fringe benefits for most employees pending adoption of a new contract.

The affected employees were the ones in the clerical, bus drivers, non instructional and teachers. Not affected were the approximately 110 administrative staff personnel who do not negotiate contracts.

As the applause continued Mrs. Tolson adjourned the school board meeting and agreed to meet again today at 6 p.m.

"We'll be back and we'll bring some of our friends with us," said one disgruntled teacher as she left the room.

And today, Moore confirmed that there could be just as many teachers at the meeting tonight as there were Wednesday night.

"I know there were some groups who had wanted to speak and I would say that there is a good possibility there will be as many people there tonight," Moore said.

During the meeting, the teachers' spokesman, school attorney Ned Julian Jr., said the board could reverse any action it had previously taken.

School Board Member Roland Williams, who was in the hearing and of the earlier 6-1 vote said he still believed the action should not have taken place.

Asked if he would vote to reverse the action, Williams said he would.

Member Alton Koeth had no comment on whether he would change his vote.

Member E. C. Harper Jr. said he would have to see what the arguments were on both sides before he made a decision.

Member Robert Foster and Mrs. Tolson said the item should be discussed at the bargaining table.

"I'm here as a representative of the 2,500 employees in the school system some of which are out here tonight who do not agree with the action you took during the summer," Moore said, referring to the freeze.

Harbara Rotenberg, a teacher at Winter Springs Elementary School, echoed Moore's plea.
