Jaycees Hear Talk On Credit

"In this country, 97 percent of the gross national product is disbursed on credit of one form or another," Sanford Credit Bureau manager Paul Lewis told the Jaycees, Thursday.

"Credit business is good business," said Lewis, "but when credit is abused it can quickly drag a family or a business into misery."

The Credit Bureau manager told the Jaycees that credit breaks down when the borrower becomes over-extended and burdens himself with more out-go than he has income.

"The Credit Bureau is a policing agency," Lewis said, "and as such does not make decisions for the merchant or business as to whom they will accept for credit customers."

The Bureau maintains records and files on nearly everyone in the county, under a three segment division of reporting, collection and medical credits division. The local office is affiliated with the Associated Credit Bureaus of America and as such has access to files and references from any part of the country.

One of the most important questions on the file cards which are filled out on each breadwinner in the county is his education status.

"Education controls income of a citizen more than any other factor," Lewis stated.

Concerning derogatory reports, Lewis said that these are caused by unsatisfactory accounts and repossessions of goods.

A reasonable amount of time is allowed for accounts to be brought up to date, before a derogatory mark is made on a customer's file, and the point where the customer falls down is in failing to notify his creditor when he is having financial difficulties. Often when this is the case, an adjustment or an allowance can be made, to keep the customer's account from getting a bad mark.

"A first class credit record is more valuable than money in the bank," Lewis said.

Three Survive 24 Hours In Gulf

TAMPA (UPI) — Three Tampa men recuperated Tuesday from spending almost 24 hours in the Gulf of Mexico after a boating accident.

A Coast Guard helicopter sighted Floyd Jordan, about 40, swimming off Anna Maria Island at 11:30 a. m. Monday. At 2 p. m., a Coast Guard patrol boat picked up Charles Hughes, 38, and Sam Comparitto, 48, five miles to the north.

They were thrown into the water at mid-afternoon Sunday when a sharp turn capsized their 13-foot motorboat en route from Anna Maria to Tampa.

In place of life preservers, the men ripped out portions of seat cushions—the kind never meant to serve as life preservers—before the boat sank.

Comparitto and Hughes were clinging to these when rescued, but Jordan said he became water-logged at midnight Sunday and he stayed afloat by floating and swimming.

He was sighted thrashing in the water by a Coast Guard helicopter crew, who directed a nearby motorboat to haul him aboard.

Comparitto and Hughes were hospitalized at St. Petersburg in good condition. Jordan refused treatment and was released.

These new hours and the prizes are being sponsored and promoted by the Downtown Merchants Assn.

No Hike Seen For Chamber

City Manager W. E. Knowles today submitted the 1961-62 Sanford budget to the Chamber and Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber had asked for an additional $3,000—raising its budget from $10,000 to $13,000. The junior chamber asked for an additional $400.

In his memo to the commission, included with the budget, Knowles said it is time for these organizations "to tighten their budgets."

The balanced budget as presented totals $1,072,849 with $798,199 of this amount for city operations and $274,650 for debt service.

The entire budget, according to Knowles, is based on the existing tax rate of 12 mills for city operations and six mills for debt service. Although cuts of materials and labor are continuing to rise, Knowles said that now is the time for the "taxpayers to do without or at least accept reduced services rather than to face increased tax bills."

According to Knowles, the proposed budget is directed toward maintaining a satisfactory level of services and does not attempt to broaden or increase either facilities or services.

Included within this budget is City Commission contingency fund of $19,148 as compared with last year's fund of $16,768. From this contingency fund the commission must consider items that are not included in the estimated expenditures such as follows:

- Fireman's Kelly Day—to provide a three day off period every 11 days requiring four additional men and a cost of $17,000.
- There are three major divisions showing budgetary increases. A check of the proposed budget reveals:
- The Fire department with $10,543—due to salary increases and enclosing fire station No. 2 equipment area on French Ave.
- Parks—$5,821 increase—Replacing old truck.
- Streets—an increase of $21,341—replace a dozer, street sweeper and truck plus the need to acquire a fill and clay pit.

Reds Hand Over Reply On Berlin

MOSCOW (UPI) — Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko received the American, British and French ambassadors today and gave them the Soviet reply to the Western notes on Berlin.

The contents of the notes were not disclosed. They probably will be published Friday.

It was reported the Soviet note reaffirmed the Kremlin's position laid down in Premier Nikita Khrushchev's memorandum to President Kennedy in Vienna.

Tunis President Threatens French

TUNIS, Tunisia (UPI) — President Habib Bourguiba today accused France of mistreating Tunisian prisoners and threatened reprisals against French prisoners captured in the fighting for Bizerte.

Bourguiba said he has informed the French consul in Tunis that "if 24 hours from now this situation has not changed, the same fate will be reserved for French prisoners held by the Tunisian authorities."

THE WEATHER—Cloudy with chance of scattered showers through Friday. High today, 88-96. Low tonight, 70-75.

By LARRY VERSHEL

A businessman has to keep on his toes for any type of request. Larry's Mart on Sanford Ave. was no exception. On the hottest day of the year as the temperature hit 95 degrees—a customer bought a sled.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce received the following letter:

"We are two young attractive teachers from ... with an age old problem ... We have been spending the later part of our summer vacation in ... at the home of one of our parents. Most of our shopping is done in ... because ..."

"Having been here only a short time, we are unfamiliar with the local activities. We wonder if you could help us by ... some of these through which we could meet some nice young men."

"If any of you 'nice young men' out there are interested call me at the Herald and I'll fill in the blanks."

The Sea Scouts have undertaken a massive project to help pay for their new boat. The boys launch a three week paper collecting drive and will cover all areas of the city. Sea Scout officials ask that residents collect paper and save it for them. They will pick it up in about two weeks.

The local chapter of Alcoholics Anonymous is continuing to assist people who have drinking problems. This worthwhile help is available to anyone who desires to get rid of the menace of alcoholism. A phone call to FA 2-8345, Sanford, will bring assistance.

By the way, the only light burning in Sanford Wednesday afternoon for a 10-minute period was in front of the Sanford Gas Company on First St.

Only 3.72 inches of rain fell in Seminole County during the month of July, according to the records at the Central Fla. Experiment Station. This compares to annual average of 7.53 for July, indicating that the rainfall for this year was only about half the usual amount.

The Longwood City Council will meet in regular session for the month of August at 8 p. m. today in the City Hall.

Man Under Bond For Bomb Scare

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—A Jacksonville construction company and lumber yard owner was held under $1,000 bond today and faces grand jury action on charges of starting a bomb scare.

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI)—Four men, at first believed to be Cubans, hijacked a $5 million Continental Airlines jet plane with 73 persons on board today. Police and border patrolmen prevented it from taking off for Havana with 10 hostages aboard by shooting the tires and riddling at least one jet engine with bullets.

G. B. Hartman, communications officer for the Texas Department of Public Safety, quoted his men on the scene as saying the hijackers were not Latins, but "anglos." This did not, however, preclude their being citizens of Cuba.

Hartman said two of the four had guns. The two with guns were holding one pistol at the head of a stewardess and the other at the head of the pilot.

Another hijacker was sitting in a window of the plane, laughing and making obscene gestures at a crowd of 200 DPS men, FBI agents, military men and police milling about.

Officials and passengers at first said the hijackers were Cubans. The hijackers, when they seized the plane shortly after it took off from Phoenix, Ariz., announced their intention of taking everybody on board — 73 persons, including themselves — to Havana.

But a pregnant woman showed signs of becoming hysterical, so they let 59 passengers off at El Paso and kept four volunteers as hostages, along with the six-man crew.

The plane which originally began the flight at Los Angeles, had to stop at El Paso for fuel. Attempts to talk the hijackers into leaving the huge 707 jet failed and the plane began to taxi down the runway. About 20 men opened fire. The bullets punctured the tires and disabled one engine.

The plane stopped, leaking jet fuel on the runway of the mountain rimmed airport. An FBI agent crawled into the baggage compartment and, it was reported, identified the hijackers by means of their baggage. The identity of the men, however, was not disclosed immediately.

Robert F. Six, president of Continental Airlines, rushed from his home at Denver to El Paso, presumably to discuss trading a piston engine DC7 plane for the jet.

Man Under Bond For Bomb Scare

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—A Jacksonville construction company and lumber yard owner was held under $1,000 bond today and faces grand jury action on charges of starting a bomb scare.

Samuel Silver, 35, was arrested here July 11 after boarding a plane at Jacksonville International Airport.

Campbell Apprehended

Campbell Pleads Not Guilty In Wife's Death

James M. Campbell, 38, today pleaded not guilty before Peace Justice Hugh Duncan to stabbing his wife to death with a butcher knife in Sunland Estates early Wednesday evening.

Campbell also waived preliminary hearing and was charged with first degree murder. He now will await the fall term of the grand jury in October. Campbell will be held in the county jail without bond.

Eyewitnesses said that Campbell plunged an eight inch knife into the heart of his wife, Betty Ann, to climax an argument at the home of friends at 704 Cherokee Circle. She was dead on arrival at Seminole Memorial Hospital at approximately 7 p. m. The stabbing occurred a short time after six deputies.

After the stabbing, Sheriff J. L. Hobby said that Campbell fled the scene and was apprehended by Florida Highway Patrolmen some three hours later on Hwy. 17-92 north of DeLand.

Road blocks had been placed all along the highway and at about 8 p. m. Campbell made a telephone call from a friend's house in Orange City to the Mar-Lou Motel, located three miles south of Sanford. Campbell had been living in a duplex apartment behind the motel. Deputies said that Campbell asked the manager of the motel how his wife was and was told that she was dead. The manager urged Campbell to "give himself up."

After the Sheriff's office learned of the call, the road block was enlarged and Campbell was picked up at the 17-92 truck route SR 11 without any trouble. "He gave us no trouble at all," the Sheriff's office said.

The Campbell's had been invited to dinner by Chief and Mrs. Walter Kaywalter of Cherokee Circle. According to Mrs. Kaywalter, at the dinner table Campbell asked his host for a knife and then stabbed his wife and fled from the house.

Saturn Program May Be Slashed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The space agency was reported about ready today to scrap one phase of its Saturn program in order to speed development of a rocket powerful enough to send a three-man Apollo spaceship around the moon by 1968 or 1969.

This would mean canceling the second version of the Saturn, C2, and going to work on a third version with twice C2's weight-lifting power.

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said there had been no definite decision to proceed with C2. But it was learned NASA propulsion experts have strongly recommended the shortcut.

United Press International was told that this appears to be a logical step and that it probably will be taken.

The Saturn C1 already is well along. Its booster, with eight engines developing a total of 1.5 million pounds of thrust, will be flight-tested this year. The complete C1 is expected to be ready for space missions in 1964. C1 will be able to put a three-man spaceship in low orbit around the earth, land 5,000 to 6,000 pounds of instruments on the moon, or send a 2,500-pound space probe to Mars or Venus.

President Kennedy asked a $36 million boost in Saturn funds this year to get C2 started toward operational status by 1966. This version, now apparently about to be scrapped, would have the same booster as C1.

But C2 would have an improved second stage — four engines developing 800,000 pounds of thrust — which would make it much better for deep space work than C1. It would be able to put 45,000 pounds in a low earth orbit, compared to 20,000 pounds for C1, and send 15,000 pounds to the moon or 10,000 pounds to the planets.

C2 has not yet been authorized. But as envisaged by NASA's rocket experts, its booster will consist of two F1 engines developing 1.5 million pounds of thrust each for a total of 3 million pounds.

The F1 engine, which already has performed well in ground tests, is scheduled for delivery in 1963. A C3 with F1 booster engines could be ready for space missions in 1965 or 1966, according to space experts.

The C3 would be able to put nearly 50 tons into orbit around the earth, fly an Apollo spaceship around the moon, or send 12 tons on a one-way trip to Mars.

To land men on the moon and bring them back will require Nova, a rocket still in the drawing board stage.

Congressional Fight Over Manned Bombers Looms

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A fight over funds for manned bombers loomed today with the Senate preparing to vote on a $48.8 billion defense money bill, biggest in peacetime history.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) said he expected the military spending measure would be passed by nightfall.

Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.) said he would press for a vote on his amendment to knock out $325 million for manned bombers added by the Senate Appropriations Committee over administration protests.

Senate action on the giant appropriations bill followed final congressional approval Wednesday of an extra $1 billion asked by President Kennedy for missiles and planes to meet the Berlin threat. The House passed the bill 403-0.

Kennedy was expected to sign the emergency measure into law without delay. It was the second part of his military preparedness program. The first part, already enacted, authorized him to call up 250,000 reserves.

Republicans served notice they would try to attach to the big defense bill a provision for aid to about 4,000 school districts whose enrollments are swelled by children of federal employes in so-called impacted areas.

A similar maneuver failed, 87-77, Wednesday when Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen, (R-Ill.) offered it to a $3.3 billion health and labor appropriations bill.

The giant military money measure, largest since the defense outlay of 1945, includes all of the extra $3.5 billion asked by the President last week to help counter Soviet pressures on Berlin.

Funds were included for more missiles, planes and ships, new weapons research, and money to pay for a manpower increase of 200,000 in the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps.

Sen. Stephen M. Young (D-Ohio) said he would protest $207 million included in the bill to carry out Kennedy's civil defense program for providing protection against surprise nuclear attacks.

White House No Animal Hospital

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "Is this the animal hospital?" came the plaintive voice over the telephone.

"No," the man on the other end snapped. "This is the White House."

Wise guy, the caller doubtless thought. Try another tack.

"Is this South 5-8553?" the caller wanted to know.

The man on the other end of the call was adamant. "No," he repeated. "This is the White House."

Oh, come on now, the caller might have thought. I got a sick cat here. We'll go to the top.

"Is Mr. Stevenson there?"

"No," said the voice in an exasperated tone. "This is the President."

He wasn't kidding, either. The caller hung up and President Kennedy, working late in his bedroom, got back to his papers.

The incident occurred last week and was confirmed Wednesday by Press Secretary Pierre Salinger.

The number the unidentified caller gave was the number for a Virginia animal hospital, but what rang was the President's emergency telephone.

Highlight of the entire tour was her visit to the famous Passion Play at Oberammergau, to which people come from all over the world.

Under the general heading of "Breadth of Global Understanding" one of the facets of the National Federation's over-all program of "Dimensions in Democracy," Miss Barcus' talk is the first in a series planned by the Sanford Club for the coming year.

Present at the meeting, besides the guest of honor were Miss Adrienne Waits, past-president of the Florida Federation of the B. and P. W. Clubs and Mrs. Helen B. Thompson, past director of District Five, both of Orlando.

Mrs. May Shipman of Lake Mary, Mrs. Geraldine White and Mrs. Anna Marie Reilly of Sanford were also guests of the club.

16 U.S. Tourists Perish In Switzerland Disaster

LUCERNE, Switzerland (UPI) — Swiss travel guide Hans Gut today credited the sun roof of a bus that plunged into Lake Lucerne with saving the lives of many of the 38 passengers aboard.

Police said 16 American tourists, most of them women, died Wednesday when the bus sank 200 feet below the surface of the lake.

The bus sideswiped a truck coming in the other direction on the narrow twisting road that winds its way through the Swiss Alps along Lake Lucerne.

Twenty-two persons, including the Italian driver and Gut and his wife, scrambled to safety before the bus went under. Many of them escaped by forcing the sun roof open. Others squirmed out through windows.

Three of the survivors were seriously injured. Many of the others were reported in a deep state of shock.

Although most of the Americans were elderly women school teachers, a young honeymooning couple from Connettsville, Pa., was among the survivors.

Robert Work and his bride, Judith, who were married June 22 shortly after she was graduated from college, escaped without injury.

"It happened too fast for me to realize what was going on," Work told United Press International. "The next thing I knew, we were in the water. It was simply indescribable."

Informed sources said the Afro-Asians were two votes short. The Afro-Asians called a caucus for this afternoon to consider changing their demand for an "emergency" session to a "special" session of the assembly. A special session does not carry the connotation of urgency attached to an emergency session. Several countries that were reluctant about an emergency session were reported ready to support a call for a special session.

Informed diplomats said the assembly might be called into session next Monday or Tuesday if the Afro-Asian yield to pressure to change their demand to a special session.

After-dinner talks were heard on the subjects of Americanism, local post administration and membership and plans were made for opening a membership drive during the Labor Day holiday weekend.

Cardinal Canali Dead At 87

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Nicola Cardinal Canali died today in his Vatican City apartments. He was 87 years old.

Italian-born Canali was the fifth oldest member of the college of cardinals and the second cardinal to die this week. Domenico Cardinal Tardini, the Vatican secretary of state, died Sunday of a cardiac collapse.

Canali's death reduced the college of cardinals to 82 members. There are also three secret members of the college known only to the pope.

Greatful Exiles Return Checks

MIAMI (UPI) — Grateful Cuban exiles who have found honest and jobs here are returning their U.S. government welfare checks to help less fortunate refugees from the Castro regime.

"The checks keep pouring in," said Marshall Wise, director of the Cuban Emergency Relief Center here. He estimated Wednesday that more than $25,000 has been returned, accompanied by "touching notes filled with gratitude."

The government has been paying more than $600,000 monthly to support Cuban exiles.

"I am returning my check because I have found work to help me live decently with my family," wrote Carlos M. Bayona, 48.

A 60-year-old grandmother sent back her $100 check, Wise said, and reported she had found a $23-a-week job as a housekeeper.

"I am working now and it is not fair to accept your aid further," said another Cuban returning his aid check.

UN Afro-Asians Easing Demands

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — The 46-nation Afro-Asian group considered talking the urgency off its demand for an emergency session of the General Assembly on Biserie today in hopes of winning Latin American support.

Although Afro-Asian sources insisted they were assured the 50 votes necessary to summon an emergency session within 24 hours Mongi Slim, Tunisia's senior diplomat, wooed the Latin American bloc to lineup votes if the world parliament is convened.

$311,090 Total Loaned To Area Farmers Green

A total of $311,090 was loaned during the past fiscal year to farmers served by the local office of the Farmers Home Administration at Sanford, according to Curtis J. Green, the agency's county supervisor. This office serves farmers in Flagler, Orange, Seminole, Lake, Brevard, and Volusia Counties.

The loans were made to 44 farm families after they were declared eligible to receive credit by the County Committee. A total of 128 applications were reviewed by the County Committee.

Operating loans accounted for 26 per cent of the total. An important share of these funds was used to purchase modern machinery to increase the efficiency of farm operations. FHA loans were also used to purchase seed and fertilizer, high quality livestock, and to finance other farm and home operating expenses.

The remaining 74 per cent was used for real estate loans. The largest portion of this sum went to construct new farm homes. Some borrowers were able to refinance farm debts with FHA credit.

Borrowers repaid a total of $299,723 on loans previously made, some of which were amortized over several years but repaid ahead of schedule. During the year, 20 farmers repaid their loans in full to the Farmers Home Administration.

FHA supervised credit is designed to help each farmer establish a sound farming operation, raise his income and make full contribution to the strength of our nation's economy.

Local farmers can apply for loans through the office serving this area which is located at Room 417, Sanford Atlantic National Bank Building, Sanford.

A SURPRISE DINNER HONORING THREE NAVY WIVES was given by the Girl Scout leaders of Sanford. The honorees were all Scout leaders themselves and active in Scout work here. From left, seated are the honored guests, Mrs. Helene Stutsman, Mrs. Nan Jones and Mrs. Toni Miller. Standing are hostesses, Mrs. Jim Buckler and Mrs. Randall Chase.

Three Girl Scout Leaders Honored

The three were Mrs. Nan Jones, Mrs. Toni Miller and Mrs. Helene Stutsman. All of them are leaving soon and were feted with a gathering of all Girl Scout leaders, committee mothers, neighborhood chairman and directors.

The tables were decorated with Girl Scout colors of green and gold, carried out in the green fern and yellow flowers. Girl Scout dolls, dressed as Scouts and Brownies by some of the leaders, were arranged in realistic poses on the tables.

Each of the honorees were presented with a Certificate of Appreciation, bound in a green folder, with a special contributory remarks to each by Mrs. Julia Chase, first vice-president of the Citrus Council, also a silver paper weight in the design of the Girl Scout trefoil emblem.

In bidding the honorees God-speed, Mrs. Chase said, "Much of you will remain here with us, for all that you have given of yourselves while you were among us."

Mrs. Jones has served as troop organizer of Neighborhood II and a Brownie consultant.

Mrs. Miller has been district chairman of the Seminole District of Girl Scouts and Intermediate troop consultant for Neighborhood II.

Farm Bill Waits Congressional OK

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A compromise farm bill designed to cut out surpluses and raise farm income was ready today for final congressional action.

A Senate-House conference committee turned out the catch-all Wednesday night. It included only part of what President Kennedy had proposed.

The bill would cut into the nation's huge grain surplus, saving taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars in storage costs and boosting farm income.

They said the program is based on the theory that it is cheaper to pay farmers not to grow grain than to let them grow surplus grain under the support program.

Under the bill, farmers would be forced to cut next year's wheat planting allotment. They would get payments based on 45 per cent of the normal yield of the idled land. If farmers voluntarily cut an additional 30 per cent, they would get payments based on 60 per cent of the normal yield.

Durum wheat allotments, however, could be increased in order to avert a shortage of that type.

132 Rooms

There's hardly a husband around who hasn't come home to find that his wife has shuffled the sofa and piano around the living room, or changed the walls from harmless gray to startling green.

It should occasion President Kennedy no shock, therefore, to discover that he's in for the same thing at the White House. His wife, Jacqueline, has just ordered the dining room repainted off-white, with gold for the chandeliers.

Painters scraping off the present green paint will find the dark walnut paneling which Mrs. Beas Truman had covered up when she exercised HER housewifely whims.

But Kennedy, noting his wife's daring and vigor as First Lady, may think himself lucky the dining room itself hasn't been moved.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Nathan is correct in saying that 7 math teachers should never divide 4 to 3 as whether a pupil's arithmetic problem was correct. Since law is simply codified verbal logic, our Supreme Court Justices should be as consistent as math teachers.

CASE J-48: Nathan G. aged 33, is an astute math teacher. "Dr. Crane," he began, "suppose we picked 7 math teachers and gave them the task of grading the same student's paper.

"If this pupil were then to multiply 12 by 27, what would the public think if 4 of those teachers said his answer was right while 3 of the teachers claimed it was entirely wrong?"

"Either it would be right or wrong and they should vote 7 to 0, don't you agree?"

"Well, if law is simply codified verbal logic, how under the sun could our Supreme Court Justices recently vote 4 to 3 in making DuPont divest itself of its stock in General Motors?"

Prime Minister Gladstone of England declared our Constitution to be "the greatest document ever struck off at a given time by the brain and purpose of man."

Our founding fathers provided that it could not be changed by amendments, unless ratified by at least 75% of our states, which now means by 38 out of the 50.

Since 1791, when the Bill of Rights was added, there have been only 22 Amendments.

But every time the U. S. Supreme Court renders a decision at variance with traditional law, it changes our Constitution.

For that court can alter our Constitution by the "interpretive" route just as thoroughly as the 38 state legislatures can do so by the "legislative" method.

A new 23rd Amendment should thus be added to our Constitution which would make it mandatory that at least 75% (which is 7) of the 9 Supreme Court Justices must concur before a decision can stand.

That is eminently fair, for if 75% of the states must likewise agree before any "legislative" amendment can be made, then any new "interpretive" changes should likewise require a three-fourths vote.

At present, a 3 to 4 or even a

4 to 3 vote can alter our Constitutional guarantees that have stood up for over a century.

In that recent 4 to 3 decision forcing DuPont to divest itself of General Motors stock, a tradition was changed that had been in effect for 170 years.

Ever since Colonial Days it has been customary for individuals, as well as firms, to diversify their holdings, as a "cushion" against future economic changes.

DuPont thus could legally have held on to its stock in General Motors back in 1795 or 1820 or 1910 or even 1960. Why not in 1961?

Why could just ONE MAN thus alter our Constitution in the late year of 1961?

And ONE MAN did it, for in a 4 to 3 vote, if just one Supreme Court Justice among the 4 had switched his vote, then the 170-year legal tradition would not have been upset.

So Nathan is quite right in arguing that it belittles the dignity of law for our Supreme Court Justices to feud among themselves and attack each other in public.

And unless they vote at least 7 to 2, no decision should be valid. In fact, they should always vote 9 to 0, like math teachers, if they were using pure legal logic.

But sometimes emotionalism and sentimentality alter men's precise adherence to codified legal logic, so we might concede 2 illogical votes.

But nothing less than a 7 to 2 difference should ever stand.

Adm. Erdmann Dead At 58

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Retired Rear Adm. William L. Erdmann, 58, a veteran of important World War II Navy commands, died on an air plane Tuesday night while flying here for the funeral of an uncle.

A stewardess found Erdmann slumped in his seat when she checked to see if passengers' safety belts were fastened for the Indianapolis landing. She attempted to revive him with mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

His body was taken to the mortuary where the funeral of his uncle, Fred L. Thomas, was scheduled this afternoon.

To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I want to take this opportunity to not only thank you for the beautiful floral arrangement you sent to our idyllic "open house", but also to express my appreciation for the nice coverage you gave the event in your paper.

We consider that our "open house" was very successful and appreciate all that you did to make it so.

Thanking you again, I am,
Sincerely yours,
A. K. Shoemaker, Jr.

Dear Editor:

This is in reply to two letters which have recently appeared in your paper regarding the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber wholeheartedly upholds the right of everyone to express his or her opinion, even though we may differ very radically.

One writer, a Mrs. Florence Harris, appears to be all mixed up. How ridiculous to assume that 350 business and industrial leaders are working together to further their own interest! This group, besides being the largest group of major taxpayers in Seminole County, contributes yearly in excess of $15,000 of their own money to publicize and promote Seminole County, trying to make it a better place in which to live.

In addition, they contribute endless hours of their own time on the Chamber's numerous projects.

Also, the letter suggests that a political appointee replace this group of citizens at an expenditure of $30,000. One cannot help wondering if it is possible that the writer favors some particular individual for this position.

It might be interesting for the public to know what this writer has contributed to the betterment of the county, other than attempt to organize political groups.

Might I suggest that her talents and time be used in something constructive that would be of benefit to our county.

Sincerely,
John Kruler, Manager

Dear Sir:

On Monday, May 8, I appeared before the Casselberry Board of Aldermen asking for three minutes of its time to make the following announcement:

"I have learned that backing from banks to build a $22,000 Legion Hall and Community Building in Casselberry can be secured. Such loans are available and any township can apply for a charter to establish an American Legion Post.

"I have been advised that land for such a building can be secured from Mr. Hubbard Casselberry."

A board member, at the conclusion of my statement, said, "Why not put in a charter? I think it is a good idea and it can be done because Oviedo has just put in a $17,000 Legion Home."

I also would like to state that never have I considered resigning from the American Legion. My resignation concerned only my membership in Old Glory Post 183 and was submitted and became official on July 18, 1961.

Very truly yours,
Carl C. Stoddard

DeBary Legion Opens Drive Today

By MRS. ADAM MULLER
The DeBary American Legion Herbert D. Gibb Post 229 will kick off its membership drive contest at a regular meeting of the group in the Community Center tonight.

The contest, operating under the slogan "Get the Dues for '62," under the leadership of Vice Chairman Fred H. McLaren, will continue until the Legion Birthday Party next March 15.

McLaren has set up teams under the heading of four armed forces branches with Adm. Thomas P. Lawton, navy; Four-Star Gen. Nicholas L. Kahoe, army; Four-Star Gen. Edward A. Patterson, marines and Four-Star Gen. G. Fred Smith, air force.

These division heads, with committees composed of about 10 Legionnaires each, will be contacting present and prospective members and will vie for top honors in the membership drive.

Unemployment Falls In July

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Unemployment fell by 400,000 in July to 3,140,000, but the decline was slightly less than usual for this time of year, Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg reported today.

The number of jobs also dropped by 207,000 to 68,490,000 last month.

It was possible for both unemployment and employment to decline because the number of persons in the labor force fell by 607,000.

Americans use twice as much water as do Londoners, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Gold was first discovered in Colorado at Englewood in 1839.

Peter Edson's Political Notebook

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Equally important as the backing which the American people will give to President Kennedy's new plans for dealing with Russia on the Berlin and East German situations is the support which the United States may expect from its allies. Most important of all is the United Kingdom of Great Britain.

Some justifiable suspicions exist that the British won't go all the way with the Americans in defying the Russians, even though Britain is our best ally.

Britain differs with the United States on Red China and Nationalist China policies. The British seem eager to trade with the Russians, to promote summit and other conferences with the Russians when American foreign policy makers have found that such talks produce little or nothing constructive.

The British seem too willing to write off Southeast Asia and make a deal with the Russians in the full 14-nation conference on Laos in Geneva. When, at the last Southeast Asia Treaty conference, it was argued that a military stand be made against the Communists in Laos, the British offered only token forces.

Principal reason given for British desires to coexist peacefully with the Russians is that the British Isles can be wiped off the map with a dozen nuclear warhead intercontinental missiles. There is no future in that kind of war.

Also, England has come upon hard times. The trouble is not unemployment — which plagues the United States. It is international trade, balance of payments difficulty.

To conserve sterling reserves, to increase revenues and cut government expenses, Chancellor of the Exchequer Selwyn Lloyd has just presented the House of Commons with a new austerity program. It is so sweeping in nature that it makes the piddling sacrifices called for by President Kennedy look like a Christmas bonus.

This "Tory Prosperity" program calls for increases in postal, telephone and telephone rates, a 10 per cent raise in customs and excise taxes, Britain's first capital gains tax, a boost in interest rates from 5 to 7 per cent.

On the economizing side, the plan calls for cuts in farm price supports, rejection of pay raise demands, curbs on stock market and real estate speculation, reduced expenses for North Atlantic Treaty activities and a 20 per cent reduction in all foreign spending.

The stature of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan may decline a little because of this austerity program. The popularity of minority Labour Party leader Hugh Gaitskill may rise a bit as he makes political hay of a bad economic situation.

Gradually, both British leaders have come closer to the American position, according to Washington officials.

The U. K. got a Russian veto in UN Security Council on resolutions to Iraq's threats against the oil-rich sheikdom of Kuwait. The merits of the U. S. position on Laos are more evident.

Macmillan and Kennedy had a meeting of minds after the President's visit with Russia's Khrushchev in Vienna. Previously, there may have been some desire for a compromise on Berlin and East Germany. Now it is realized that may not be possible. An accommodation with Russia cannot be made at the expense of western integrity.

Statements of Macmillan and Foreign Secretary Lord Home have been increasingly in accord with U. S. positions during the last month, in the opinion of American observers. Consequently, it was when the chips fall, it is expected the British will stand shoulder to shoulder with the United States.

Q—I will be married in a few weeks. Shall I keep up a $5,000 life insurance policy that I've had for a number of years?—J. B.

A—Dear J. B.: Most young girls who are insured at the time of their marriage keep up their policies after marriage. This is true, whether they continue working or not.

In all cases, there is a cost involved in death; it might be a burden on the newly established husband. In most cases, there soon will be a family — and then there is a real need for "wife insurance," since the husband would have a large financial burden added if left with young children.

A wife might want to continue the policy to provide an added contribution to her own post-63 income, using the cash values for that purpose. Today, two-thirds of all married women, as well as two-thirds of all single women, are insured.

Q—What is the market price of a stock?—M.

A—Dear M.: This is usually considered the last reported price at which a stock or bond is sold. If you tell your broker to buy or sell "at the market price," he will buy or sell at the price being quoted when he puts your order in.

Q—Could you please explain what is meant by a "common-law" wife and what privileges she has under the law?—M.M.

A—Dear M.M.: A common-law wife or husband has never been married either by a judge or minister. In some states these marriages are not recognized. In others they are. Contact a lawyer for details.

Q—I've been hearing about a new kind of mutual fund called tax-free exchange fund. What is it? Does this mean I don't have to pay taxes on those dividends?—A. R. R.

A—Dear A. R. R.: You acquire shares in these funds by exchanging shares of stock you already own for those mutual fund shares. The idea is this:

Say you hold stocks that are now selling for a great deal higher price than when you bought them. You would like to sell these stocks, but you would have a large capital gains tax to pay. Instead, you exchange these stocks for the same value of the mutual fund shares—the same dollar amount your stocks are selling for on the day of exchange. However, when you go to sell the fund shares, you will have to pay a capital gains

The extra funds were added to the huge military spending bill by the Senate Appropriations Committee Tuesday, despite administration protests that they were not needed.

Judge Mize Explains Juvenile Court Set-Up

(Part One of a Series)

"Bare statistics can be most misleading without detailed explanatory interpretation," says Judge Vernon Mize in his Juvenile Court Activity Report, released to the Herald this week.

"In view of this," he continued, "we have endeavored in this report to reflect not only cases in which official action was taken, but also all cases referred to the Juvenile Court which did not receive any official disposition by the court."

These cases include the many miscellaneous complaints that were referred to the Juvenile Court and investigated by the Juvenile Counselor in which it was determined that no official court action was necessary.

This report reveals that a total number of 246 cases were referred to the Juvenile Court during this three month period. This number is almost as much as the 253 cases referred to the Juvenile Court from January 1st through March 31st of this year.

It is interesting to note that the number of truancy cases during this period totaled 64, as compared with 109 for the first three months of the year. This large decrease is probably due to the fact that the school term ended around June 1st, making this number of cases fall into a two month period rather than a three month period.

Roughly 60 percent of the 246 cases involved no official court action. However the majority of these cases took a great deal of the Juvenile Court Counselor's time to investigate and counsel with both children and parents.

As was brought out in the last report, the Juvenile Court Counselor is also the County School Truant Officer for the white schools, one-third of his salary and expenses being paid by the County School Board.

In the Juvenile Court budget which was recently submitted to the County Commissioners, it was requested that the County assume this payment of one-third of the Counselor's salary and expenses so that the Juvenile Court can have a full-time Counselor.

With a population of 50,000 and an increasing number of cases coming before the Juvenile Court, the Juvenile Court must have a full-time Counselor if it is to operate in an efficient manner.

"I know of no other counties," said Judge Mize, "where the Juvenile Court Counselor doubles as the School Truant Officer for the County School system."

The great majority of children coming before the Juvenile Court are placed on some term of probation. When this is done, the Juvenile Court Counselor must constantly keep in touch with this child and his family while he is on probation.

This is very time-consuming. The number of cases being processed and the number of children being placed on probation are constantly growing and in order for our Juvenile Court to function efficiently, the people of Seminole County are entitled to have a full-time Juvenile Court Counselor.

It should be repeated, as in the last report, that the figures in this report do not give a complete picture of juvenile delinquency and dependency throughout the county. There are probably many cases that are never referred to the Juvenile Court.

While the majority of our cases are referred to us by law enforcement agencies and school and welfare officials, any individual can institute an action by signing a sworn statement, alleging that a child is involved in a delinquent act or is believed to be in the category of a dependent child.

It should be stressed that the Juvenile Court cannot step in and take action unless the situation is brought to the attention of the Court.

MRS. COLBERT

HEADING OUT ROUTE 66 recently, the highway made famous in a popular song, were five local people: Mrs. Wilma Colbert and her son Billy, her father, C. E. Leslie and her nephew and niece, Jerry and Gay Ulrey of Oviedo.

The travelers arrived back in Sanford last week, tired but happy and full of stories and tales of the sights they saw and the adventures they had on their five-week trip.

Mrs. Colbert is probably proudest of the fact that they traveled a total of 8,000 miles in their station wagon "without a bit of car trouble."

After leaving Sanford, their first "tourist" stop was in New Orleans. Here they visited the old part of the city, where once the pirates roamed and saw the beautiful evidences of the French era in the homes and buildings.

On out across Texas, they detoured into Old Mexico at Eagles Pass, with a visit to a Mexican town where they spent the day. On the way back, they stopped to see the historic Alamo, a sight which gave them a deep thrill, realizing the terrible battle that was fought there.

In California, they took a tour of Hollywood, but as it was a holiday (the Fourth of July) they didn't see any movie stars, though they saw some of their homes.

Biggest thrill for the younger members of the group was the two-day visit to Disneyland, which lived up to all they had heard about this fabulous place.

In San Francisco, the Florida tourists made a point of crossing all three famous bridges and journeyed on up into Oregon, saw beautiful Crater Lake, which Mrs. Colbert pinpointed as the "most beautiful sight" she saw on the trip.

There they saw snow, a "first" for Bill and Gay, and everyone had a wonderful time, romping in the snow, making snowballs and enjoying their first fun in the white wonder.

Coming back across the country, the travelers visited Yellowstone National Park and saw Old Faithful, crossed the Dakotas, visiting Mt. Rushmore, the mountain with the faces of the presidents carved upon it.

They visited relatives in Iowa and Indiana and saw a big league ball game in Cincinnati, between the Redlegs and the Frisco Giants.

In Tennessee, they stopped at Lookout Mt., where they went "straight up" in a cable car. They went through extremes of temperature, from the cold air of the mountains to the heat of the desert. At Las Vegas, the thermometer climbed to a torrid 112 degrees and in Custer, Wyoming, they awoke to a chill 35.

"It was so nice to see the familiar flat lands of Florida, after all those mountains," said Mrs. Colbert, "and wonderful to be home again, but we certainly enjoyed the trip."

Mrs. Colbert is a teacher at the Southside School and her sister, Mrs. Ulrey, the mother of the boy and girl from Oviedo who accompanied her on the trip, teaches the first grade at Oviedo.

"It was such a life-saver to have Jerry to help drive on that 8,000 mile trip. I could never have made it without him!" says Mrs. Colbert.

Lt. Cdr. Doc Faulkner, his wife Doris and two children of Loch Arbor left Saturday for duty at the Naval Academy at Annapolis, where Doc will teach engineering to the junior class at the school.

However, it will be a leisurely trip as they plan to stop a few days in Jacksonville to visit Doris' family, then go on to Nashville, Tenn., to pay a visit to Doc's folks there.

Then while Doc goes on to Annapolis to report for duty, Doris and the children will visit with Ann Mergle, former Sanford Navy wife and widow, who now lives in Washington, D. C. until the house that they have rented at Annapolis is vacated.

The Faulknors very much regret having to leave Sanford and their friends and neighbors who will miss them. So will the Castle Memorial Adult S. S. Class of the First Methodist Church of which they have been members for several years.

Seven year old Skip has become well-known around Sanford for his tap dancing. His bright personality and obvious natural ability have gained him much applause.

THE GRAHAMs, Dick and Eleanor and two sons, are also leaving Sanford. They are moving to Tampa where Dick will study to be a dispatcher with the railroad.

A telegraph operator with the ACL here, Dick has been active with the youth of the First Methodist Church and was instrumental in starting the inter-church soft ball league.

Eleanor will be greatly missed in the youth group, Sunday School teaching department and WSCS as she has been very active in these groups for several years.

Bless Those Phils

United Press International
Every night, just before they go to sleep, the grateful Cincinnati Reds give thanks that the Southern Philadelphia Phillies are still in the league.

The floundering last-place Phils happen to be 2 1/2 games off the pace, but principally because of them the rebounding Reds are back in first place again today by one game.

So far this season, the Reds have knocked over the Phillies 14 times in as many tries.

"We do pretty good against them," concedes Cincy manager Freddie Hutchinson.

Pretty good, nothing, the Reds are perfect against the Phils, but you'll never catch Hutchinson asking whether they're still in the league.

The 4-2 and 3-2 victories over Philadelphia in a two-night doubleheader Wednesday night marked Cincinnati's eighth doubleheader sweep of the current National League campaign and rather confused some of those critics who said the Reds were through after they dropped out of first place just before the recent All-Star break.

Vada Pinson's ninth homer and Garry Coleman's 21st helped southern Jim O'Toole post his 11th victory in the opener, with ninth inning help from rubber-armed Bill Henry.

Joey Jay won his 15th in the nightcap although Sherman (Roadblock) Jones preserved the victory by blanking the Phillies on one hit over the last 2 2/3 innings.

Frank Robinson's two-run single off loser Chris Short in the third inning provided the winning margin.

The San Francisco Giants snapped the Los Angeles Dodgers' eight-game winning streak, 6-0, the St. Louis Cardinals beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-2, and the Milwaukee Braves defeated the Chicago Cubs, 4-2, with the second game ending in a 7-7 tie, called by darkness after 11 innings.

In the American League, the New York Yankees widened their lead to 2 1/2 games by taking two from the Kansas City Athletics, 6-5 and 12-8; the Detroit Tigers beat the Washington Senators, 4-3, then lost the 11-inning nightcap, 6-2; the Minnesota Twins topped the Baltimore Orioles, 4-3, but lost the nightcap by the same score; the Cleveland Indians defeated the Chicago White Sox, 3-2, then lost the second game, 8-4, and the Boston Red Sox swept a pair from the Los Angeles Angels, 7-2, and 8-7.

Felipe Alou drove in four of the Giants' runs against the Dodgers with his 10th and 11th homers of the year, and Juan Marichal pitched a one-hitter while striking out 11 to win his eighth game. Tommy Davis' fifth inning single was the Dodgers' only hit. Johnny Rodgers (13-3) was the loser.

Joe Cunningham's three-run homer in the seventh inning off Bobby Shantz enabled the Cardinals to take over fifth place from the faltering Pirates, who now have lost five straight. Larry Jackson (7-8) was the winner.

Frank Thomas' two-run single in the eighth inning brought the Braves their victory over the Cubs. Carlton Willey was the winner although he gave up homers to Ron Santo and Billy Williams. Williams hit two more for the Cubs in the nightcap. Ernie Banks, Jack Curtis, Hank Aaron and Thomas each hit one.

Coch Frank Crosetti, who says he never wants to be a manager, piloted the Yankees to their sweep over the A's as Ralph Houk, beginning a five-day suspension, watched the games on TV in the clubhouse.

The Yanks won the opener on catcher Joe Pignatano's ninth-inning error, which gave them their fifth unearned run of the game. Whitey Ford, only three outs away from his 20th victory, was kayoed in the ninth when Heywood Sullivan tied the score at 3-all with a two-run homer. Reliever Luis Arroyo won his eighth game against three defeats. Ralph Terry won his seventh compared with only one loss in the nightcap, the Yankees making it easy for him with a 17-hit barrage that included Mickey Mantle's 40th homer.

The average length of life of small common birds, such as the robin, is approximately 10 to 15 years.

The fisherman must take the responsibility for knowing the law pertaining to fresh water fish in Florida, the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission warned again today.

A. D. Aldrich, director of the commission, sent out a memorandum to news media stressing that ignorance of the law is no excuse for violations.

He also said that Florida wildlife officers will begin "a stepped-up patrol program on the fresh waters of Florida."

The increased enforcement activity by the commission is a part of an all-out effort against possible violations of fishing rules and regulations, Aldrich said. Commission records indicate that one fisherman out of every 300 checked by wildlife officers will probably violate one of the following Florida fishing laws: fishing without license, fishing with illegal gear, exceeding the legal bag limit, or fishing with illegal fishing devices. The stepped-up enforcement program is designed to apprehend the individual who would violate rules without concern for his fellow fisherman.

Fishermen are reminded that everyone 15 through 64 years of age must possess a valid fishing license when using a rod and reel or an artificial lure in fresh water. All non-residents except children under 15 years of age must buy a non-resident license to fish by any method. Residents using cane poles outside home county must possess a resident license.

The daily bag limits for fresh water game fish are as follows: 10 black bass, 35 panfish, 15 pickerel, and 30 white bass. Total possession limit is two days bag after first day of fishing.

Copies of the fishing laws and regulations may be obtained from the office of any county judge, any Florida wildlife officer, the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission at Tallahassee or any of the five regional offices located in Panama City, Lake City, Ocala, Lakeland and West Palm Beach.

McQuire Signs Warrior Pact

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Frank McQuire surrendered today to that arch-rival of the big time college coach — de-emphasis-to sign a three-year contract with the Philadelphia Warriors that makes him one of the highest-paid coaches in basketball.

The signing — officially scheduled for today — ends a campaign by clubowner Eddie Gottlieb to combine McQuire coaching wizardry with the scoring skills of Wilt Chamberlain in an effort to give Philadelphia National Basketball Association championship.

Some kids won't be quiet for even a little bit, but for two bits, that's different.

Don't Count Grid All-Stars Short

CHICAGO (UPI) — Don't be too surprised if the 1961 College All-Stars upset the Philadelphia Eagles, 10 point favorites, in Friday's 29th game between the best of the collegians and the pro champions.

In the past the All-Stars always have looked best when they've had breakaway backs who could get clear on their own speed, or on passes, and outrun the pro defense.

Buddy Young was the sparkplug for one of these victories and three years ago Bobby Mitchell, on similar plays, led the All-Stars to a win in Otto Graham's first year as coach of the collegians.

Graham returns this season, for a fourth time, aiming to end a two-game losing streak by the Stars. While he is concerned about depth in the line, both on offense and defense, he admits he has "offensive backs coming out our ears."

Among them is one who might be the same type of sparkplug Young and Mitchell were, Navy's Joe Bellino. Bellino, at 173 pounds the smallest man on the squad, has shown well in workouts.

Graham has put in a variety of offensives, even the single and double wing, to give all three of his quarterbacks, Norm Snead of Wake Forest, Bill Kilmer of UCLA and Tom Matie of Ohio State, a chance to shine under the best possible circumstances.

The line, for a change, won't have to yield an advantage to the pros in size. The offensive line, for example, will range from 225 pounds up to 250 or 265 pounds compared to a range from 250 to 250 for the pros. On defense, the Stars are well supplied with 240 and 250 pounders, equalling the top pro weights.

"Physically," Graham said, "this squad is the best we've had in three years, and they've worked hard during training."

While under the best of conditions, we don't have a 50 per cent chance to win, this year, we're better off than usual."

Littler Favored In Eastern Play

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI)—National Open champion Gene Littler today was off and running again over one of his favorite golfing tracks — Municipal Pine Ridge, home of the Eastern Open.

It is nothing short of amazing how Littler, a sweet swinger from Singing Hills, Calif., dominated play in the Eastern Open ever since it was moved to the Pine Ridge fairway.

In the past two tournaments, Baltimore golf fans have seen Littler's name on top of the board for seven out of eight rounds.

And they expect more of the same from Gene as play in the $35,000 1961 event got underway today.

Title Bout

OGDEN, Utah (UPI) — Here in this railroad and military city of 85,000, Cuba's Florentino Fernandez expressed confidence today he had achieved sufficient "space-man" effectiveness to wrest the middleweight championship from Gene Fullmer in their nationally televised fight at Ogden's Municipal Stadium Saturday night.

Fullmer, recognized as world champion by the National Boxing Association, is training at West Jordan, a mink-ranching center that might be called a suburb of Salt Lake City, which is 37 miles south of Ogden.

Banana-nosed Florentino, 25, speaks no English; but he has learned to hum that once-popular Western ballad "Don't Fence Me In," because that song truly reflects the strategy of the six eyes that have been guiding the Cuban knockout specialist in his preparations.

Those six eyes of Cuban manager Higinio Ruis and American trainers Angelo Dundee and Chickie Payton attained deepest concentration Wednesday during the brawny Cuban's final boxing drill when his long-range smashes to body and head caused sparmate Johnny Payne of San Francisco to quit after two rounds.

"I've had enough of him," declared 185-pound Payne as he climbed down from the ring at Weber College gymnasium. Weber, the name of the county here, is pronounced "wee-ber."

Payne added, "He's the hardest hitter I ever boxed. And very clever along with it."

Trainer Dundee of Miami Beach explained the space-man program today. He stressed that champion Fullmer is a rusher and a "buller." He described him as a persistent mauler at close quarters where opponents have difficulty hitting him because of lack of punning room.

Altamonte Holds Hearing On New Zoning Proposal

The Sanford Herald Seminole Area Edition.

COUNTY NEWS

THURSDAY, AUGUST 3, 1961

PAGE 11

Plan Calls For 12 Districts

By MOSA GRINSTEAD
Altamonte Springs residents packed the Town Hall Monday night for a public hearing on the proposed new zoning plan which divides the town into 12 geographical zoning districts and calls for reclassifications in each.

Luther Hart Jr., in the absence of Jeff Hodges, chairman of the Planning and Zoning Board, itemized the divisions stating that in the plan, opinions of the board had been presented and that it now sought opinions from the citizens. Other members of the board are Leslie Winters and B. D. McInosh Jr.

Most objections to the recommended plan involved residential areas with a number of the townspeople speaking out against the inclusion of their properties in multiple dwelling zones.

A Maitland Ave. resident asked "why must all duplexes be confined to Maitland Ave." He further protested that "it looks like one person can cheat in a district if the board says so and businesses can be kept out of town if just one person gets agreement from the board. There has been less building in this town than in any other city or village in the state of Florida because two or three people can go to the board and get it to agree with them," he added.

It was explained that zoning officials had worked to keep general construction of a type in a given area and that the recommendations had been drawn on the basis that they would be of use to the town for some time to come.

"Any ideal zoning laws within a town has certain areas set aside for one type of construction and they are passed with the idea of putting all of the land to the best economical use," Mayor Wilbur Hawkins said.

Objections to, also, were the minimum lot requirements for all future construction of the RIA and RIAA zones which call for at least 70 feet frontage and a total of 7,000 square feet.

Areas presently platted and re-zoned will not come under the new requirement, however, the board was advised that "most building lots in Altamonte Springs now have 50 foot fronts and this matter should be given long thought before any change is made."

Attorney S. J. Davis Jr., legal representative for the town, explained that it was the board's purpose in recommending that minimum lot requirements be increased to encourage persons not to build upon the smaller lots rather than to enforce them to refrain from doing so.

Another complaint heard involved the inclusion of property along the railroad track southeast of the business district in the residential classification. "No one would want to build a home along that strip bordering the tracks and the property would be more desirable for business houses or offices," the objector stated.

Residents also complained of travel through a residential area by heavy trucks and equipment of the Winter Park Telephone Co. and were told that the company doesn't like this situation any better than you do."

It was suggested to the board that property along SR 438 should be zoned commercial "from one end to another and a good idea would be to start at both ends and work toward the town."

One resident, R. D. Masten of Lake Florida Ave., had a bouquet for the board, saying "This is the time to do something and I think the zoning board has done an excellent job. The members have worked hard and it would be impossible to please everyone in such a plan. Of course, changes and exceptions will have to be made when the council meets to take action on the matter."

Concluding statements of the hearing by Mayor Hawkins advised that the recommendations would have to go before the council for final action and, if not accepted in their present form, would go back to the zoning board.

The next meeting of the Altamonte Springs Town Council is scheduled for Aug. 14 in the Town Hall.

Fire District Valuations Over $8 Million

Tax Assessor Mary Earle Walker estimated the 1961 valuations for property in the Lake Mary Fire District at $8,138,010.

Last year's millage rate for the district was .5 of a mill and district officials are asking for the same levy this year.

A breakdown of the $8 million figure reveals tangible personal property, $310,870; Non-exempt real estate, $3,778,030; railroad and telegraph, $348,340 and homestead, $1,670,730.

Circuit Court Clerk Arthur Beckwith said today that one half of one percent of the collected revenue figure would go to the tax assessor and the same amount to the tax collector.

Casselberry Legion Petition Gets Approval

Permission to circulate a petition to gain sufficient signatures to obtain a temporary charter for an American Legion Post in Casselberry has been granted by Kenneth Moyer, sixth district area commander of Orlando, with approval by Ernest Rowden, adjutant for the State of Florida American Legion, originators of the move reported today.

The petition, approved by Legion officials at a recent meeting, gives the Casselberry group authority to proceed with its plans for which the ultimate goal is to establish a permanent Post in the town.

It has been reported that a property site was offered for the construction of a clubhouse if enough of the local veterans indicate that they would support a Casselberry Post.

Looking Ahead

The Town of Altamonte Springs held a public hearing Monday night on a plan drawn up by the Planning and Zoning Board for setting up 12 definite zoning districts in the town and calling for reclassifications in each.

The hearing culminated a great deal of hard work and many hours of thought for the four-member board and, as is to be expected in a democratic way of life, upon its first presentation brought forth a number of objections from residents of the municipality.

Granted, there perhaps will have to be changes made and exceptions allowed before an ordinance is passed which will adopt the board's plan as law. We think, however, that Altamonte Springs officials and residents should be commended and recognized for taking a "giant step forward" in preparing for a well organized growth, both residentially and commercially, in the predicted population increases.

Even though the matter may be returned to the Planning and Zoning Board for further work, the idea of embracing an entire municipality through a single action which provides for demands to come, is a good one.

Such a plan, we believe, in the years ahead will warrant the labor that already has gone into its formation and will stand as a fine example of the interest today's Altamonte Springs citizens have in those of tomorrow.

Oviedo Women's Club Gets New Building

The Oviedo Women's Club organized in 1906 and federated 10 years later, last Thursday night officially initiated its brand new building on King St. at an Open House for more than 100 members and friends.

The original clubhouse, constructed in 1913, was in continuous use until the summer of 1959 and although the club was without its own building it played an active part in civic and social life of the town during the intervening years.

The new building, costing approximately $16,500, is 80 feet by 33 feet, exclusive of porches and is fronted by an eight foot concrete walk leading to the main entrance where the double jalousie doors are flanked by decorative side panels and brick planters. All trim and the ornamental wrought iron columns are painted white to contrast with the soft, all-over gray of the exterior. Awning type aluminum windows are used throughout the clubhouse.

Interior features include terrazzo floors, central heating, heavy acoustical tile, formica table tops, hanging lantern-style light fixtures and built-in tables which appear to be decorative wall panels. Paint is in light green.

Mrs. W. J. Lawton, 1913 club president, was the first guest to receive a personally conducted tour of the new building in an advance visit on Thursday afternoon. Escorting her were Mrs. B. W. Estes, 1961 president and Mrs. W. H. Martin, chairman of the building committee.

Other members of the building committee include Mrs. B. G. Smith, Mrs. R. I. Croom, Mrs. R. F. King, Mrs. A. A. Myers and Mrs. W. T. Walker.

Greeting guests at the reception were Mrs. C. T. Niblack and Mrs. James Parin, former presidents, while Mrs. Estes, Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Croom formed the receiving line and Mrs. B.F. Wheeler, Jr. kept the guest book.

Mrs. Milton Gore and Mrs. Max Leinhardt presided at the punch bowl and board members and other club members served as floating hostesses.

Mrs. George Means, in charge of table decorations, chose for the occasion to feature a floral arrangement of pink, red and yellow roses for the refreshment table with a silver punch bowl, crystal candelabra and white tapers completing the appointments.

The stage, where a stereo set provided soft background music, was decorated with yellow chrysanthemums, crepe myrtle and philadelphium.

Mrs. J. R. Battle, house and grounds chairman, with volunteer assistance, moved all club equipment into the kitchen and storage room before the Open House so that, with the first event, the new building would be ready to begin its service to the community.

Facilities offered in addition to the storage room with its half bath and the kitchen also include a raised stage flanked by two half baths at the west end of the building.

PERIWINKLES BLOOM among a variety of other annuals and small shrubs along the concrete block fence at the home of Mrs. C. F. Rowell, North Orlando's July Garden of the Month winner. ### Garden Of Month Award To Rowells

The first Garden of the Month selection chosen by the North Orlando Garden Club's new Judging Committee went to Mrs. C. F. Rowell of 41 N. Devon Ave.

The Committee is composed of Mrs. James Black, chairman and Mrs. Malvin Campbell and Mrs. Hoberia Maupin.

The Rowells have chosen for their lawn the new Tidawn grass which is very fine in texture and according to Mrs. Rowell, very definitely is resistant to chinch bugs.

Along the front walk Alamanda, periwinkles and ivy are used in colorful plantings while fronting the house, Spanish bayonet, wandering Jew, exoria, hibiscus, croton and evergreens are interspersed with chrysanthemums and periwinkles.

Landscaping around the carport included a blooming evergreen and yellow-tipped ligustrum and a nearby trellis is covered with moon plant.

Plantings around the house are in poinsettias, gardenias, night blooming jasmine, shrimp plants, chrysanthemums, devil's back and Turk's cap. An unusually attractive climbing vine, a gift from Mrs. Rowell's mother-in-law, is featured in the landscaping bordering the home.

On either side of the fence, annuals have been used and zinnias, petunias, periwinkle and coleus provide a colorful trim.

In the back yard, larger specimens including bananas, orange trees and Japanese plums have been spaced advantageously.

The Rowells came to North Orlando in April of 1959 from Guam to make their home while he is stationed at the Sanford Naval Air Base. They have two sons, Dan, three and Eddie, six.
