

NAVAL BATTLE TO OPEN THE WAY THROUGH AUSTRIA RECEIVES ATTENTION ALLIES

ITALY WILL BE SUPPORTED BY FRENCH AND ENGLISH

A naval bulletin last night referred to intense activity in the Gulf of Trieste. In this connection it may be pointed out that, while attention is chiefly fixed on the two land fronts in Venetia and in the Trentino, yet the authorities are not overlooking the fact that the navy has a sea front on the Adriatic, which many experts believe is the key to the whole situation in the Austro-Italian war theater.

U. Boats Are Scared

Diaries taken from captured U boat commanders furnish documentary evidence that the destroyer is the most effective weapon against the submarine. "Avoided destroyer" is the oft repeated entry. In fact these logs show conclusively that the submarines are having a hard time of it.

RUSSIANS ARE TIRED WANT REST

COUNTRY HAS BORNEBRUNT OF EARLY FIGHTING

London, England, Nov. 3.—Most of the morning papers print Premier Kerensky's interview with the Associated Press conspicuously but comment is not general. Petrograd correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, who is now in London writes: "Premier Kerensky's statement seems to have been taken a little too seriously in some quarters. It even has been construed as a hint that Russia is toying with the idea of a separate peace. This theory should not be allowed to establish itself."

NEW AUTO LAW NOW EFFECTIVE

READ THE LAW AND OBSERVE THE RULES

The new automobile law passed by the last legislature goes into effect January 1st, and the various forms to be used in making application for registration of automobiles and other motor driven vehicles may be had at the office of the county tax collector; who also has for distribution a supply of pamphlets giving the law. Under the heading "Read, Remember and Observe" the following from the state Comptroller is noted:

DEAF AND DUMB BOYS HERE

Foot Ball Team Were 'Enroute' to Kissimmee. The football team from the State School for the Deaf and Blind, St. Augustine, Fla., with Prof. O. W. Underhill in charge, passed through here Saturday morning enroute to Kissimmee where they are scheduled to play a game at 3 o'clock. A fine bunch of boys they are! They speak very creditably for the state school where they are getting their education.

Only bare mention is made of the American troops in France is made by the Department. In pointing out that the momentous events in Italy must not lead us to "forget that the principal battle front of the war remains" in France and Flanders, the statement says, "here our forces are fighting."

Scally & Knight, a Tampa firm have a large acreage of rice at Parrish, having there 835 acres, which is now being harvested. In harvesting the crop the firm is using two reapers and two bladders operated by tractors. Baling presses, threshing and cleaning machines for preparing the crop for market are also in use, all of the equipment having been purchased through Tampa merchants.

Trainers—One trailer of 800 pounds capacity or less may be used without payment of license tax. Trailers of over 800 pounds capacity, for each additional trailer, when more than one is used, and for each trailer of more than 800 pounds capacity same license tax is required for trucks of same capacity.

The citizens of St. Cloud are dissatisfied with their present city administration and have decided to petition for a recall of all city officials with the exception of the treasurer, who has recently been elected.

During the Atlantic deeper water ways convention, to be held in Miami, a water pageant will be one of the features of entertainment for the many visitors who will be there from all over the United States. This is going to be one of the most important and brilliant affairs ever held in the south.

HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST IN AND AROUND SANFORD

Mrs. Norma King McLaughlin, Social Editor—Anyone having guests, parties or any article for this column, it would be appreciated if they would telephone 270-3.

Masquerade Dance at Parish House
The masquerade dance given at the Parish House last night under the auspices of the Parish House Club was the largest affair of the season. Many people from Geneva, Oviedo and Chuluota, besides all of the young people of Sanford were in attendance. The Parish House was beautifully decorated. Japanese lanterns were strung from all four corners, moss, palm-leaf leaves and daisies were abundantly used.

About fifty couples were present in costumes. Uncle Sams, Columbias and soldier boys played an important part. Several of the girls were dressed as Night and Morning and the black and silver and white dresses were very effective. Ernest Sheppard was dressed as a Spanish cavalier and looked the part. His costume was very handsome. There were a number of very cute Yama Yama girls, Red Cross nurses, Klans and Queens, a few Jacks and one royal flush. One old lady brought her knitting. Mrs. Strong as Grandma Sall from Lost Mountain, Ga., won the lady's prize for the most ridiculous costume. She was fine. J. P. Roper as Uncle Sam won the gentlemen's prize. The ladies in charge of the dance, Mrs. Wilmet, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Dietrich and Mrs. Garrow, certainly deserve a great deal of credit, also a vote of thanks for they have filled a long felt want in town, a place where the young people can meet once a week and have their dances. We trust they will continue through the winter.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peabody will regret to hear of the accident to their little son

Wednesday night. While out playing with a group of children his mask caught fire and he was severely burned about the face. At last reports he was resting quietly.

The weekly dances which proved so enjoyable at the Elks Club last winter were resumed Wednesday night. Quite a number were present, among them were Mr. and Mrs. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Thigpen, Mr. and Mrs. Newman, Dr. and Mrs. Puleston, Mr. and Mrs. Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Wight, Mr. and Mrs. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Turner, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Jones, Miss Hand, Miss Wilkie, Miss Higgins, Miss Fox, Miss Puleston, Mr. Herndon, Mr. Key, Mr. Yowell, Mr. DeCottes, F. A. W. Brown, Roy Chittenden, Clarence Mahoney and Felix Frank.

Halloween Party
The Halloween party given by the ladies of the Catholic church Wednesday night was a great success in every way. The decorations were very beautiful. This season of the year seems to be the time really for parties. Nothing is more graceful than the goldenrod and when combined with pumpkins, brown stalks and black draperies, the effect is very wonderful. Orange colored cosmos in brass bowls were in every available space. Black cats and witches peeped out from the corners. The guests were received by Mrs. Wahn, who represented the "Spirit of Halloween" and Mrs. Peters in an attractive Spanish costume. Miss Adelaide Higgins as the witch was most popular. She told fortunes and predicted good luck for every one. Delicious home made candy was made and sold by Mrs. Hurt and Mr. Hines from a very attractive booth. Two amusing contests were had during the evening and Mrs. R. A. Terheun and Sarah Warren Easterby won the prizes—beautiful boxes of candy with black cat pin cushions on top. Little Margaret Brit as Columbia won the prize for the most attractive costume, a large bouquet of cosmos tied with orange ribbon. Quite a number played Five Hundred. A delicious supper was served, consisting of salad, crackers, brown bread, pumpkin pie and coffee. Father Mullally of DuLand was the guest of honor. It was a great pleasure for all present to meet him.

The Social Department of the Woman's Club are planning a very good time to be given Friday, November 9th. The proceeds will be used to send Christmas boxes to all of the boys who have gone into the army and navy from Seminole county. There will be talent from Orlando and Winter Park and a very interesting evening is promised.

Mrs. F. E. Thomason and Miss Maggie Thomason from Okeechobee were in Sanford Tuesday.

Mrs. L. L. Tucker of Enterprise was shopping in Sanford Tuesday.

Miss Agnes Edwards is spending the week end in Oviedo with friends.

Miss Natalie Moffett is enjoying a visit in Tarpon Springs. Miss Moffett is visiting an old schoolmate.

Mrs. T. A. Neal entertained the Every Week Bridge Club Thursday afternoon. After a very interesting game a cup of tea was served. Mrs. Thigpen won the prize, a pair of silk hose. Those present were Mrs. Loucks, Mrs. Watson, Mrs. Barne, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Thigpen, Miss Wilkie and Mrs. McLaughlin.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Starling had as their guest for the winter Mr. Starling's mother.

Mr. J. T. Brady left Thursday for Augusta, Ga., where he has accepted a position with W. L. Embury, jeweler. The many friends of Mrs. Brady and Miss Virginia Brady will be delighted to know that they will remain in Sanford until after Xmas.

Mr. J. F. Hayden left for Washington, D. C., on Thursday where he was called on business.

Mr. S. M. Lloyd is expected in Sanford very soon. He will be associated with Mr. Henry in business this winter.

The many friends of Mrs. Aylett Pitts, Jr., will regret to hear of her illness.

Mrs. Irwin of Stamford, Conn., passed through Sanford Thursday on her way to Orlando. Mrs. Irwin has been president of the Woman's Exchange in Stamford for eight years and while here she visited our Exchange and rest room, which she considers an excellent thing for our town. She made a great many valuable suggestions, regarding the Exchange and it is to be regretted that her visit was so short. We trust she will find time to make Sanford another visit while in the south.

Miss Margaret Neal entertained a few of her little friends Wednesday night with a Halloween party. The children were dressed in sheets and pillow cases. After playing several games and having a good time refreshments were served. Maude Lake, Georgia Mobley, Rebecca Stevens and Albert Connelly were the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Hunt, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Hand for several weeks left Monday for their home in Berkeley, Cal.

Miss Adelaide Higgins has returned from Lakeland after a delightful visit with Miss Myrtle McRae.

Mr. C. M. Hand has returned from a business trip to Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Deas have moved to 507 Park avenue.

SWEDE ERICKSON IS BEST COAST PITCHER

Fred Snodgrass, who has seen a good many pitchers in his day, says that Swede Erickson of the Seals is the best pitcher in the Coast league. "He has wonderful 'stuff,'" declared Fred Snodgrass, and certainly looks like he's really for the majors. If he isn't there isn't a hurler in this circuit that is ready. He has shown me more stuff in the last month than any other flogger in the league. I think he will make good from the start in the big show. If he does not I'll miss my guess. He has a hop on his fast ball that very few big league hurlers have. One-time it shoots up, and the next it will fall in or out. You don't know which way it's going."

LEADS HARD-LUCK HURLERS

Leon Ames loses Many Games Through Queer Breaks.
Leon Ames, the Cardina's pitcher, claims the distinction of being the leading hard-luck hurler of the big leagues. Ames points out that a jinx has camped on his trail ever since his early days and he can recite tales of hard-luck defeats that seem to prove it. Many a game Leon pitched, holding the opposition to one or two hits and no runs until after several extra innings he has lost the game through a heart-breaking fizzle or a queer decision. He is never willing to believe he has won a game until he sees it in the paper.

EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A CHIEF IS AMONG YE TAKING NOTES AND FAITH, 'HE'LL PRENT 'EM"—SO SAYS SAUNTERER.

Talk
Make up your mind
To be discussed.
The man who is
Not talked about
Is not worth while;
He is a lout.
You never hear
Of people who
Their whole lives through.
The men who work,
The men who drive,
Are talked about—
That's why they thrive.
So, let them talk,
To this get wise:
It always pays
To advertise.
Be clean and work,
Push on ahead;
It doesn't matter
What is said
By jealous cats
Who fall themselves
And are pushed back
Upon the shelves.
Each knock's a boost,
And that is true;
They hurt themselves
Who would hurt you.
No matter what
You do or say,
If you succeed
And win the day,
The tongues will wag
On just the same;
It is a part
Of life's great game.

The use of the trademark "Limestone Brand" was recently denied the manufacturer of a cathartic medicine by the United States examiner of trademarks, on the general grounds that the application of the word limestone to something that contained no limestone was un-descriptive and deceptive.

The applicant took an appeal, the case hung on whether a word with well defined meaning of its own can be divorced from the meaning of a phrase in some other connection. The decision of the examiner was sustained, in spite of the cleverness of appellant's attorneys, a part of whose amusing brief is quoted from the Scientific American:

"There is no cream in cream of tartar, in cold cream or in chocolate creams; no milk in milk magnesia, in milkweed or in the cocoonut. These are all as remote from the cow as the cowslip.

There is no grape in grapefruit, or bread in breadfruit. A pineapple is neither a pine nor an apple. An alligator pear is neither an alligator

"Catgut is no more feline than pussy willow cattails, and fire dogs and andirons are frequently of brass, and a copper is a policeman or a bull, but an Irish policeman is not an Irish bull.

"Whiffetrees, boot trees, hall trees, and family trees are as out of place in the woods as a railway frog, a fish plate, a fish story, a macerel sky, or a crabapple in the water.

"Perhaps the court may remember the 'Country Summer Pastoral,' which was written by a learned but city bred scholar from knowledge derived from etymological deductions, rather than from actual experience. He was an advocate of the back-to-the land movement and sang: "I would fly from the city's rule and law.

From its fashion and form cut loose, And go where the strawberry grows on its straw,

An the gooseberry on the goose; Where the catnip tree is climbed by the cat,

As she crouches for her prey, The guileless and unsuspecting rat, On the rattan bush at play."

A postmaster in Ohio has been discharged for kissing one of the young lady employees of the office and while the department admits the crime does not warrant such punishment still there has been so much of this in the postal departments that it must be stopped. We hope our postmaster here will not go wrong for the disease is said to be spreading southward.

I heard that Senator Trammell was here the other night and while he came for a special purpose did not make much of a speech or as he put it "he had nothing to say" and said it. But I did not think his trip to Sanford would put him in bad altogether. Now here comes the Orlando Sentinel the morning after with the statement that "Ex-Senator Trammell arrived in Orlando Saturday from Sanford." What do you know about that? What did our Senator do here to unmake him over night?

There are quiet football players in this world. You may not believe it but there was a bunch of quiet foot ball players here last Saturday. They were deaf and dumb and were from the Deaf and Dumb School at St. Augustine. I wondered if they had a college yell.

The candidates for city positions are not announcing much. But then we have a Marshall who is running for alderman and he can probably be clerk and assessor also and take a hand at the fire station and there is no need of any other candidates.

When Frances Entertained Mrs. Porter Wakefield gived a party, did you say? Yes, and bout the han'somest thing as seen in many a day.

From what my Liza says, the house was beautified;

With lots of flowers and paper goblin things with lights inside,

An' faces, all a-grinnin' and blinkin' at you, much as to say

"This is the night for frolikin,' so come along an' play."

Lyza says were fourteen of 'em, countin' young and old,

Jess a few o' her best friends I reckon, 'cause she tol'

My Liza all those that's comin' had entertained her fine,

An' she tho't as how 'twas her turn to give them a good time.

An' I judge as they all had it by the way they laughed and played.

When they marched out to supper the table was all laid.

Bare and shiny with lacy mats for everyone instead

Or a cloth, and little cards of Hallowe'en, which each one read

To find just where to set, and when they all had found

Their places, it was a beauteous sight to see them there;

The table all set in cut-glass and silver, and faces gleamin' every-where!

An' Liza says, it won't so much the things they had to eat,

'Twas just the friendly feelin' that made it all so sweet.

And kindly. What did they eat, you ask, oh yes, I'll tell you—

'Twas all so different from the way we do it, too.

Saratoga chips made from potatoes and fresh light buttered rolls,

Thin beef and bacon and weenies—hot and juicy from the red coals;

Hickles and olives and jelly and coffee and marmalade too.

That was the first course, but Liza says forp they got thru'

She wondered what they'd do with what's waitin', and afterward, too;

But they ate it, everyone, because it was Hallowe'en

An' some had a long ride to get there and was hungry twas plain to be seen.

Then little orange men with broad faces on a lettuce leaf, with green hat

Was full of the most wonderful salad, now what do you think of that?

An' wafers, and then to my notion, the very best of all—

Rich brown pumpkin pie and doughnuts, a sure sign of the fall;

An' all the time they was eatin', the goblins winked and grinned—

With delight as it were, at their shelter from the cold and the autumn wind.

Then all had a bundle of fagots, to burn on a pot of coals

And tell a tale of their childhood, a memory braye or bold.

Willie and Theodosia Daniels were quiet as children should be,

But McDuffy and Dona Barber were full of frolic and glee.

Homer and Anna Pattishall their fagots they burned together,

He telling of boyish mischievous pranks, but the older he got the better;

Blanche and George Pattishall were children, so quiet and good,

And are still too young to remember anything bad; if they would.

And Allen and Myrtle Logan each a tale of frolic told,
And Frances let Porter Wakefield take the prize for deeds so bold.
Wilhelmina Adams could think of nothing at all bad,
So she told of the wonderful good times as a child she had.
Then a row of syrup candy balls a-hangin' from a pole
Made a lot of fun and stretchin' of the necks of young and old.
Then they had the grandest music which the Victrola played,
Till they all forgot 'twas bed time—didn't know they had stayed till ten o'clock, and all agreed 'twas time to go.

An' everyone told Frances they'd sure enjoyed it so,
They give her the biggest vote of 'thanks you ever heard,
An' all the laughin', winkin' goblins echoed every o'rd—
An' winked and blinked their lights—all-out,
When Frances entertained.

We've Bottled Up the Pirates of Business

The business world has its pirates, as unscrupulous as the marauders of the Sea. They are the makers of imitations and substitutes for standard products. They have imitated the appearance of but they have failed to imitate its deliciousness. They have imitated Coca-Cola's advertising, but the imitation does not ring true. They have imitated the Coca-Cola bottle and label—just as far as the law would allow. Note the name Coca-Cola blown into the bottle. Fix the picture in your mind. It is your sure protection against imitations and substitutes. In future, accept no bottled beverage as genuine Coca-Cola unless it comes in this bottle.

SCENES AT THE FRONT

Vividly Portrayed by Former Dean of Rollins College
(From Winter Park Post)

The following letter, written by Rev. Arthur Delano Enyart formerly the beloved dean of Rollins College has been received by friend in Winter Park:

Dear Enyart's work at Rollins endeared him to perhaps a wider circle of acquaintance than any of his who has been connected with the institution in recent years. His letter tells a vivid story of life as it is in France today and it is with pleasure that we reproduce it for our readers.

Paris, Sept. 0, 1917,

Dear Brother:— Sunday night 10:30, which makes it 4:30 with joy, I am wondering where you are and what you are doing, for I have received no mail since arriving and am afraid it has been lost on the way. I received shortly after arrival a short letter from Mr. Jenness and that is all I have had. I have written several times to you and I am anxious to know if they went through.

How I wish you were here. Two weeks ago I sent a cable to the New York office asking for you but I have heard nothing from that either. I told you in my other letters of my work in charge of the hotels here. I organized the work and was moved on so that I am now in charge of the Officers Club. I would like to send you pictures of the place if I could but I dare not send them. I can only say that it is a very fine place and you can use your imagination for the rest. Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., is my assistant and she is a good one. I am busy from early morning until late at night and have had only time to see the city as I have been going about my work. However, I know it already about as well as Boston and I think this has Boston beaten for crooked streets. It surely is the most magnificent city in the world for if you would put all the beautiful places in the large cities in America together they would not compare with this. How I wish you could see it. The aeroplanes are buzzing overhead now but that is such a common thing I scarcely notice it any more. Oh how much I have to tell you when I see you again. I am so full I feel I could talk for days and not tell half.

A short time ago I went to the front and saw the great drive at a spot as big as a dollar that had not been shelled—a barren waste as far as we could see. Intense bombardment had been kept up all night and when I say bombardment it does not begin to describe it in the least. All the bells of Dante, Milton and the Bible are not in it with this. I walked besides the big guns, heard the firing commands and watched the planes overhead as they circled about and went down wireless messages. Now and then a shell would burst near enough to make it interesting and to assure us that it was not all one-sided. Thus I passed the night and at daybreak I was taken out over a dismal hill, over looking a valley, beyond which I was told the bosches were watching every move that was made. My informer, I soon found was quite bright for suddenly I heard a hiss overhead and a short distance beyond us a shell tore up the hillside and warned us to get under cover. A cold mist and rain had fallen all night and up from the valley a dark, ugly fog was raising. Suddenly every gun ceased and a deathlike silence held, us there spell-bound and unable even to speak. Presently we were told that the men were going over the top. As I peered out into that awful mist and fog the wind swung a broken limb off an old charred tree trunk so that it stood out against the leaden background in the form of a Cross and I thought of Calvary and it was Calvary for was not each one of those brave fellows in that awful silence at that very moment meeting his Calvary. I could not keep back the tears although I did not fully realize just what it all meant. I was soon to see however just what "going over the top" meant. A few hours later standing in front of a dugout (Y. M. C. A. hut) and I write it in big letters for they are doing a wonderful work there under shell fire constantly, I saw the poor wounded fellows returning. I hesitate to attempt to tell you for my heart is sick and I cannot keep back the tears as I write.

Oh America Wake Up! You do not know half—no not one-tenth of what it means—one by one thousands passed me, I do not say men for they did not seem like men—bloody, mangled masses of flesh, clothes torn from the bodies with the barbed wire entanglements, faces half gone, mangled arms and legs. Fellows just able to crawl, all dragging themselves past the Y. M. C. A. hut for a cup of tea or cocoa or some kind of refreshment, and then down the line came a wounded Tommy with his Pal on his back. Poor fellow had been shot through the cheek, an ugly wound through one cheek and out the other. He was a mass of blood but he said, "Ah it dinna hurt but me arms and legs are good and cawn't I carry me pal who has lost his leg?"

Then the spirit of them, all touched me deeply. I saw a Tommy give his place in line to a wounded German prisoner. I saw another light a cigarette and give it to a German and give it to a German prisoner who had lost both hands and all day long three Y. M. C. A. heroes stood there serving refreshments to thousands. Some people are asking where God is. I know I saw him there in the spirit of Christ in the hearts of those men. Rough? Yes, but heroes every one with hearts pure gold. Oh how the values of things change as one stands face to face with death. Oh the petty lams of religion fade into insignificance when we face the reality of service.

Our own boys will face this soon and Oh, My Country, you do not realize how you will have to bleed. I know our boys will be just as brave—just as sacrificing; but Oh Wake Up at home and realize what it means. Brother, my heart is full. Tell every mother, sister, wife and sweetheart to work and pray without ceasing for our boys and urge all you can to send money for this great work.

Now I haven't noted a great deal, brother, and it is after midnight. God bless you and keep you in my constant prayer. Remember, me with love to all, as always. Brother, A. D. Enyart.

PUBLICITY PULLS PROGRESS

"PRODUCING NOT PROMOTING" BOARD OF TRADE RESULTS
(BY THE SECRETARY)

At the Board of Trade meeting to be held in Geneva next Tuesday night, 7:30 o'clock, the deeper waterways question will come up and arrangements made to be represented in Miami Nov. 27th to Dec. 1st. This is a very important question with people along the St. Johns river and nearby and all shippers at least should attend this meeting and interest themselves in doing all possible to secure national funds to deepen the St. Johns river which if done will mean that the inland water ways from Boston to Miami will traverse Florida, via the St. Johns river. There is a rivalry on now between central and the east coast of Florida. The east coast is advocating a canal system south from Jacksonville, through St. Augustine, Daytona, Titusville, Ft. Pierce and Palm Beach, but to establish this would mean a large outlay of money and allow the St. Johns river which already has seven feet of water from Jacksonville to Sanford to lie practically idle as an intercoastal waterway. To establish this waterway via the St. Johns river with a cut off canal to the east coast about 20 miles south of Sanford means the rapid building of central Florida and certainly we all want to do all possible to secure this route as official.

It is to be hoped that for at least the duration of the war, strikes and other hindrances will be set aside. No matter what the railroads have or haven't done in the past, the fact remains that they are now overburdened with traffic and not of a kind that "you hitch on and run with." Their terminals, particularly in the east and north are congested and at transfer points they are now sorely afflicted in many cases with inadequate facilities, due in many instances to an impulsive extraordinary business. This business is all ours. Possibly the majority of it is consigned to Uncle Sam, still that's you and I and above all that business must move and move with dispatch. If the roads are not hindered by tie-ups and tangles they can and will demonstrate their ability to handle any and all business that comes to them. For the first time in many years carriers have begun to study car efficiency and the lessons learned are being applied with success in handling traffic.

However numbers of cars now in existence are on demurrage charges. Those of experience know that demurrage money is blood money and the demurrage charge for a day does not by one tenth equal the earning capacity of a car, yet thousands are doing this demurrage stunt and no power for the present is in sight to end the trouble. There is a side to everything and both the carriers and the clerks have good and bad arguments, but since all are living and far from hardships, downright, it is to be hoped that both will be logical and refuse, for the good of the public, who after all must judge, from striking or allowing cessation of work to hamper or block the channels that lead directly to the success we all want and see just around the curve. Don't help the enemy, pull together and if need be when peace is again with us, pull off your shirts and scrap it out all in the American family, and let the best man win.

Already the tourists' re beginning to arrive. Several are in the city already. Also the fakir is beginning to show his face round about. His work is varied and his prime motive is to do you out of enough to live on in the Land of Flowers while he waits for the clouds to roll by in the northland.

Mrs. Geo. Mathieux and Mrs. Mary E. Taylor of Geneva were Board of Trade visitors Saturday.

Railroads advise that there should be no refrigerator car shortage this year, that the supply will be good and they hope to give the same prompt movement of shipments this year that has been the custom in the past. The Board of Trade will gladly assist any of our shippers or producers in any traffic or railroad problems that come up if they will but bring the matter to the attention of the organization. There are many things to be done this season that never before have been apparent in the traffic line and to obtain best results we should work together. In fact by no other means can we secure results and service required.

Arrangements have been made to hold the next meeting of the St. Johns River Scenic Highway Association in Sanford. This means that within a few days or not more than two weeks representatives from Duval, Clay, Putnam and Volusia counties will meet in Sanford and take further action in regards the north and south highway to lead from Jacksonville to Tampa.

The advertising given Sanford celery by the Board of Trade does one thing at least, increases the price and that increase is yours.

The following out of town members are requested to meet with the board of governors at the Hotel Carpes Monday, Nov. 11th at 7:30 p. m. to work out a plan for Board of Trade auxiliaries in the various Seminole county towns. The plan is a good one, gives each place its own advertising and was advocated by other out of town members: A. L. Hatch, Oviedo, M. E. Dooley, Geneva, H. I. Lyman, Altamonte, L. J. Hartley, Longwood and C. D. Brumley, Chuluota. These gentlemen will kindly advise the secretary if they will be present.

Sanford High School Girls Win Friday night was a big night for Sanford High. In the first game of the season the basketball girls defeated the Eustis girls by a score of 25 to 21. The Sanford girls kept a lead during the whole game except during the last half when the score for a short time became tied. The Eustis girls have a good team, all but two of whom are High School players. A large crowd of rooters came out from Eustis and Sanford people gave their support, making one of the largest crowds to attend a basketball game in Sanford. All the Sanford girls started but Cora Lee Tillis who made 19 out of the 25 points, and Helen Peck at running center, both of whom are due much credit for our victory. For the visitors Alberta Schmit starred. The following was the line up:

- Sanford:
- Cora Lee Tillis—Forward.
  - Dorothy Rumph—Forward.
  - 1. May Thrasher—Forward, captain.
  - Helen Hand—Jumping center.
  - Helen Peck—Running Center.
  - Catherine Levis—Guard.
  - Ruth Roberts—Guard.
  - 2. Ethel Henry—Guard.
- No. 1 took Dorothy Rumph's place at end of first half.
- No. 2 took Ruth Robert's place in middle of first half.

The Sanford girls hope to get new suits at an early date, which will enable them to play better and look better to the spectators. They have a strong schedule for this year and with the continued support of the town will have a winning team.

CREDIT GOES TO ARTIE FLETCHER

Stars Year In and Year Out as Member of Polo Grounders.

HOLDS MOST UNIQUE RECORD

Played on but Two Ball Clubs Since He Became Professional—Peppery Giant is One of Cleanest Fielders and Also One of Best Judges of Ground Balls.

The dean of National league shortstops now playing the position, and just as good as any of them today! That's Artie Fletcher, the peppery, square-jawed shortstop of the Giants, and he deserves a world of credit for the way he is starring year in and year out as a member of the Polo Grounders.

Fletcher has a unique record in organized baseball, for he has played on but two ball clubs since he became a professional—the Dallas club of the Texas league, and the New York Nationals.

Another thing about Arthur that speaks well for his ability is the fact that he has never failed to make good. When he first attracted the attention of the Dallas club he was playing with a semi-pro team at Collinsville, Ill. That was in 1907, and the same year he was signed by Dallas for a trial. Did Fletcher stick? He sure did, and though he got in so few games that year with Dallas that no record was published, he was the regular shortstop when the season of 1908 commenced, and he lingered with Dallas less than one season—altd, being sold to the Giants on August 20, 1908, after playing 147 games.

Upon joining the Giants, Fletcher showed his class right off the reel, but because of McGraw's policy of keeping many newcomers on the bench for a season before entrusting them to a regular berth, Fletcher took his schooling during 1909, and a part of 1910. During these two seasons McGraw tutored Artie according to the McGraw system, and in 1911 he decided Fletcher ready for a regular job. He got it, and he has held it ever since. All Fletcher needed was the chance. When he got it there wasn't a prouder player in the big leagues, and he determined then and there to try and outline 'em all. In point of service, barring Hans Wagner, who isn't playing shortstop any more, Fletcher is the oldest short felder holding a job in the National league, and during his term of nearly seven years as the regular guardian of the Giant shortfield, he has been a bulwark in the defense as well as the offense of the club. Since he became a regular Fletcher has had but one lean year with the bat. That was in 1915, when he hit .254. In all other seasons he has hit better than .290, and his best year, 1911, found him at the close of the season with .310 for a clubbing average.

The peppery Giant is one of the cleanest fielders and one of the best judges of a ground ball in the big leagues today. He gets 'em as a rule if he can only get a paw on the ball, and he makes throws and stops that bring the fans to their feet many, many times in a season. Consistency and reliability are Fletcher's middle names. He was born at Collinsville, Ill., January 5, 1880.

Returns as Drill Master. Nine years ago, when the Red Sox were training in Texas, one of the youngsters who was trying to land a job as pitcher was A. B. Hoffman. When he was informed he was not of big league ability he joined Uncle Sam's army. This summer when the Red Sox asked for a drill master, the man who had failed to make good as a pitcher with that team was detailed by the war department to instruct the club in military tactics.

Golfer Goes to Manila. Tom Nicoll, the San Jose professional golfer player, will shortly go to Manila to accept a position with one of the leading golf and country clubs of the Philippines.

TWENTIETH CENTURY PATRIOTISM.

The soldier of the future will be a teetotaler, either by choice or by compulsion. When it comes to the point of saving or destroying the nation, the advocates of the consumption of alcohol will be ranked among the Benedict Arnolds of the country and not among its patriots. Let your boy know the truth about these things. Appeal to his manhood and his pride. Ask him if he does not want to have a successful career, to be a leader in his class, to be an expert in his trade, to be head of his bank, or his business, whatever it may be. And then tell him, "If you have the alcohol habit, you can be none of these."—Dr. Harvey Wiley in Good Housekeeping.

THE CONSUMER PAYS TAX

Congress is a jackass. It intended for the Pullman Company to pay that tax on tickets, and it didn't have sense enough to know how to fix the law so as to accomplish that object, and the result is that the purchaser of the ticket has to pay the tax.

WHAT GERMANY IS EATING

There are contradictory reports regarding the economic situation in Germany. Some say she is starving and others deny it. That the usual living conditions of the last few years are telling on the health and vitality of the people there can be little doubt.

In a recent issue of The Atlantic Monthly a writer who has spent much time in Germany since the war began gives some interesting observations on the food situation, as follows:

"Chunks of dried sea lion meat were shipped into the country in the manner of jerked beef. Soaked for a number of hours and cut into small pieces, it was made into a stew with onions. Some people thickened the gravy and served it with spetzle, a South German dumpling made of flour, but, alas, no eggs, as in the past. After one or two attacks of nausea people came to like the concoction. It filled a vacuum and that is everything when one's head is light from a still lighter diet. The same meat corned and called Robbin's Fleisch was sold, and served in slices at four cents a pound. It was a very good imitation of corned beef, better than stewed, and could be eaten cold on bread. As the potatoes became scarce the bread which had been doled out on allowance began to deteriorate in quality. As long as it was composed of 20 per cent of potato flour it was not bad, and served to satisfy the children when spread with mullu, extract in place of sugar or syrup, or the famous Kriegs Marmalade, a marmalade made of saccharine beeta, tomatoes and turnips, colored red. With the reduction of the potato flour in the bread, coarser grains were added; but now 5 per cent sawdust and 5 per cent flour ground from straw are used. In consequence people are suffering greatly from anemia; stomach troubles are on the increase; especially ulcers of the stomach and thread worms."

How can a people fed on sawdust and ground straw be expected to fight on forever at the behest of their rulers?

FLORIDA LOSES MILLIONS

Dispatches give the news that Kentucky will lose three million dollars inheritance taxes on the estate of Mrs. Bingham, the widow of the late Henry M. Flagler, because she will disposing of the estate at West Palm Beach, Fla., and not in Kentucky as had been expected.

Florida is in a position to share the disappointment of Kentucky. On account of the failure of the Florida legislature to pass an inheritance tax law Florida will also lose the three million dollars that might have been realized under such a law.

In this progressive age the justice of an inheritance tax law is hardly seriously questioned. Sound thinkers, economists and statesmen admit that such a tax justly placed on large fortunes being passed on to the second generation are legitimate sources of revenue for the government and that in this way wealth should be required to pay a part of its proper tax for the support of the government. The more progressive states of the Union have long ago adopted such laws. Florida, however, is without such a law, and in this instance its absence costs the state of Florida approximately (figuring on Kentucky's basis) three million dollars.

No one is to blame for this situation except the legislature. Governor Catts in his message to the legislature recommended the passage of such a law. The State Tax Commission in their annual report urgently made the same recommendation and on page 69 submitted a proposed draft of a law which could have been amended and perfected, if necessary, and passed. It is our recollection that some member of the legislature prepared and introduced a bill providing for an inheritance tax, but the legislature did not see fit to pass it. Its failure to act favorably now costs the state the tidy sum of three million dollars. This, it seems to us, is quite a sum to pay for the legislature's failure to pass needed legislation.

This question of taxation is some day going to be one of the live questions of Florida politics. We predict, with no personal reference, that some day some reputable citizen of Florida is going to digest the tax problem and go to the people on a platform of tax reform. When this issue is carried to the people as Broward carried the famous drainage platform, and with the thoughtfulness that marked the campaign of Governor Catts, it is going to make a governor and elect a legislature. At the same time it is going to unmake a bunch of would-be Governors.

Mark the prediction. —Jasper News.

WILL NEVER WIN

As the war proceeds we may expect that the situation will grow more complicated and that we will, at first, understand less of the conditions which produce the certain results of victory or defeat.

For days we have been more or less agitated by the retreat of the Italian forces and by the very doubtful position of Russia, many of us believing that the Germans were practically unbeatable and that the final ending was in doubt.

A story is related of one of the Frenchmen who are now in this country on a war mission. He is said to be a very quiet spoken gentleman and has little to say about the war in which he has taken a very active part, having been wounded several times. He was in a public place in Washington a few days ago, where there was a great discussion going on as to the war. The debate waxed long and perhaps loud, without the French officer taking any part in it. One man finally attempted to end the discussion by saying, "Well, if the Germans win."

"But," said the quiet Frenchman, "the Germans are not going to win." That is about the attitude of the American mind, and about the attitude we should all assume toward the occurrences on the continent. There may be every argument of diplomats and arms, there may be great advances made here and there, there may be many prisoners captured, vessels may be sunk, and battles may be fought, but—the Germans are not going to win.

On that basic determination we can serenely view any and all things that may occur. We were cast down because unexpectedly Italy was forced to make a great retreat, losing within a week all that she had gained in territory in the course of the summer. But Italy is not defeated, the Alps are not passed and the line holds on the Tagliamento.

So in Russia, Kerensky gives out a statement that hereafter the French and British must stand the brunt of the war, and gives expression to words that we take to mean that Russia is preparing to surrender. The facts are of course as we learn later, that the Russian leader was merely placing, in his most forcible manner, the bare facts before the Russian people, and the world and did not intimate that Russia was either looking to surrender or negotiate a separate peace.

The additional facts are that the Russians have compelled a retirement of the forces of Germans, who were pushing on toward Petrograd, thus giving occupation to German troops that might be used elsewhere.

In answer to both of these incidents the British have formed a retreat of the Germans on the line of the Aisne, accomplishing exactly what they set out to do, and that is accompanied by the news that the British navy has secured something of a victory over a part of the German patrol forces in the North Sea. It is for us to use our best judgment in weighing the values of these victories and these defeats. There is in them nothing that should make us falter in our belief, expressed by the French visiting officer that the Germans will never win in this war, or in any other world-wide war. —Miami Herald.

AMERICANS CAPTURED ON FRONT

GERMANS CORRAL BUNCH OF EAGER U. S. TROOPS

The first Americans to be captured on land and made prisoners by the Germans has happened and while no authentic reports can be gathered as yet it is presumed that the first despatches as follows are right.

Advancing under protection of a heavy barrage fire, a German raiding party before daylight on November 3 stormed a trench held by American infantry, killing three, wounding five and capturing twelve, according to despatches from General Pershing, received by the War Department tonight.

American infantry were in occupation of a small salient for instructions when cut off from the main body by heavy bombardment of Germany artillery. General Pershing reports the capture of one prisoner. Enemy losses are not known, says the despatch.

The official statement issued by the War Department is as follows: "The War Department has received a despatch from the commanding general of the American expeditionary forces which stated that before daylight, November 23, a salient occupied for instruction by a company of American infantry was raided by Germans. The enemy put down a heavy barrage fire, cutting off the salient from the rest of the men. Our losses were three killed, five wounded, and twelve captured or missing. The enemy's losses are not known. One wounded German was taken prisoner."

Gen. Pershing's cable, received late tonight by the War Department gave the first meager details of the first actual fighting experienced by America's overseas forces. Intimations of a conflict were had in despatches from Berlin yesterday, declaring that American prisoners had been captured.

Berlin, via London, Nov. 5.—Outside the brief reference in the General Staff report, no details are available here with regard to the capture of the first American troops in France.

The official bulletin says they were made prisoners in the region of the Rhine Marne Canal, in the section of the front defended by the German Crown Prince's army. While the newspapers have played up the capture of the Americans in their headlines, the only comment is made by the Lokai Anzeiger, under the caption, "Good morning, Boys!" The newspaper then says:

"Three cheers for the Americans! Clever chaps they are, it cannot be denied. Scarcely have they touched the soil of this purified Europe when they already are forcing their way into Germany. Before long they will cross the Rhine and also enter our fortresses. That is express train speed and American smartness." "It is our good fortune that we are equipped to receive and entertain numerous guests and that we shall be able to provide quarters for these gentlemen."

BALL EXPECTS EVEN BREAK

Loss of St. Louis Browns Believed to Equal Profit Made Year Ago—New Players Bought.

The St. Louis Americans, during the season of 1916, made a profit of about $25,000. The loss of the club during the current season is expected to equal that figure, making an "even break" on the two years. Phil Ball, chief owner of the club, whose ambition it has been to give St. Louis a winning team, has spent about $300,000 in baseball since he first invested in the St. Louis Federals. This sum of course includes his losses. He says he will stay in the game, however, and already he has spent $27,000 for new players for next year. Among the new players whom the St. Louis club has obtained are Kenneth Williams, Pacific coast star; Earl Smith, star hitter of the Western league, and Grover Lowdermilk, one of the best pitchers in the American association.

OUTFIELD CAUSE OF BOTHER

Manager of Boston Braves Has Made Novel Record in Experimenting With Fly Chasers.

George Stallings, who assumed the management of the Boston Braves in 1918, has made a novel record in experimenting without field material. In five years, including the present season, he has used nearly thirty men in the outer garden. He started out with Seymour, Zion, Titus and Lord, but soon got rid of them. Since then the Braves' outfielders have included Snodgrass, Sherwood Mages, Wilhoit, Connelly, Chapfield, Collins, Cather, Compton, Moran, Gilbert, Mann, Grithr, Whitted, Devore, Murray, Kelly, Behg, Dugey, Fitzpatrick, Twombly, Clymer, Powell and others.

LIKELY TO LOSE ITS RATING

With Denver Out of Western League Standing as Class A Circuit May Be Surrendered.

If another attempt is made this winter to reclassify the leagues remaining under the protection of the National association, then the Western league is likely to lose its standing as a Class A league, a rating it has claimed by concession rather than actual population. With Denver out of the league, as now seems possible, next year, and a small town like Hutchinson in the circuit, the Western might have some trouble mustering population enough even to make a Class B league. The circumstances are of interest, in connection with territorial changes.

MASS MEETING SUNDAY

Lyric Theatre—Moving Pictures of War—Benefit Y. M. C. A.

Everybody in Seminole county is invited to attend the big mass meeting which is to be held in the Lyric Theatre on next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The committee in charge of the meeting have arranged for two reels of pictures to be shown, through the courtesy of Manager Lane. As this is the meeting to make plans for Y. M. C. A. work in the army the pictures shown will be army and navy pictures. In addition to the pictures there will be several good speakers present.

The committee in charge of the meeting have decided that this meeting shall be absolutely free and that no collection will be taken at the meeting. It is hoped that not only the people of Sanford but those of every other city and town in Seminole county will be present as this is a great work and one of great importance.

Cattle Brought Good Price

The stock men of Geneva sold to Sam Summerland a car load of cattle all of them loaded at Sanford and shipped to Jacksonville market. The total amount received for the cattle was $1307.62, which demonstrates that Seminole county cattle right off the prairies are good enough to bring a high price.

THE Y. M. C. A. FUND

People Do Not Understand What It Means

Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 5.—Most of the people do not realize just what German kultur means. They feel sometimes that it is asking a great deal to have to contribute to Liberty Loan Bonds, Red Cross funds and now the big Y. M. C. A. fund. It is asking considerable. It is almost going the limit, but it must be done. The American soldiers cannot do their duty and crush the Huns unless they are themselves properly cared for. Those who are asked to give are not asked to die for their country. This is the soldiers' lot. He bares his breast to the enemies of his homeland.

The Government furnishes the soldier his food, clothing, training, transportation, pay, medical service, lodging and a chance to fight. The people must pay for his amusements. It will cost considerable to pay for the amusements of the American soldiers but they are our boys! If we do not amuse them so as to keep them fit, if they fall to win the war because of our failure to do our duty by them, we will pay for the amusement of the Huns!

Then we will know what cost means! Belgium, Serbia, Poland, Roumania, Montenegro and Northern France are now paying for the entertainment of the soldiers of the Kaiser. And what a price! Men, women and children are being literally starved to death in each of these countries in order that the land may be free from the Germans. Generals von Kries and von Bissing have made this boast. The cities and towns have been robbed of all their gold and treasures, the babies have been killed, the women debauched and the men led into slavery. Yes, it costs money to fight a good fight, but it will be cheapest in the end, not to mention the most patriotic.

Benefit Performance Friday Night

The Woman's Club will give a play at the High School auditorium next Friday night at eight o'clock. This in itself would bring the crowd for the talent of the ladies and gentlemen of this city is well known but when you stop to think that the proceeds will go for Christmas boxes for the boys who have gone to war from Seminole county the interest will be more intense.

We have sent up to the present 104 men from our little county and we want them to have a good Christmas and despite the fact that some of them are many miles from home we want to tighten and hold the bond that means home to them. We want them to feel that the folks back home are thinking about them and their Christmas box will bring back fond memories to all of them.

The play will be well worth the price of admission but whether you can attend or not you should purchase tickets and if you cannot go Friday night let some of your friends go. At any rate get in this proposition of sending the boys at the front their Christmas boxes and help in doing your bit.

Remember the play will start promptly at eight next Friday night at the High School auditorium and the admission is only twenty-five cents.

Towel Sale November 20th

The towel sale given by the ladies of the Presbyterian church will be held at the residence of Mrs. R. J. Holly at the corner of Park avenue and Third street on November 20th. Everybody invited to attend and enjoy a social afternoon. 22-1tc

Hyman Leaves Tonight

Dr. George Hyman, pastor of the Baptist church has received his orders to go to the front as chaplain of the National Army and leaves tonight. The best wishes of his many friends go with him. His family expects to leave for Jasper for a time and Sanford will lose the Hymans until the war is over.

School Bonds Carried

District No. 6 comprising Lake Monroe and Paola voted the school bonds yesterday by a comfortable majority. The bonds were for $15,000 and Lake Monroe will now have a fine $10,000 Grammar School building. Paola will also have a school building and the 6th district will now be equipped in first class shape.

A great many growers in the Fort Meade section intend to plant cabbage this fall, truckers operating on both a large and small scale are going in for this crop.

A meat packing plant was recently established at Clearwater, where the farmers of that section can ship their beef and pork.

D. C. Becker is in the city a few days visiting old friends and looking after his property interest. He is now located in Clearwater and has been spending the summer in Indiana.

A Finished Job.

A suitor objected because his bride-to-be had a short leg and limped. "You are wrong in objecting to that," said the marriage broker. "Suppose you marry a woman whose legs are sound and straight. What do you gain by it? You are not sure from day to day that she will not fall down and break a leg and then be lame for the rest of her life. Just consider the pain, the excitement and the doctor's bills. But if you marry this one nothing can happen. Here you have a finished job."

Presbyterian Reception

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian church held their annual reception last Friday night to the members and their friends and as usual it was a most enjoyable affair. The social rooms of the church were beautifully decorated for the occasion, the work of the Ladies' Aid-Society and after a musical program of exceptional merit the guests were treated to ice cream and cake and coffee and made to feel at home as the Presbyterians know how to do. The reception is given each year to bring all the members together and to have them bring their friends and get acquainted. There were many out of town members and guests at the reception Friday night and every one present thoroughly enjoyed the evening.

World War Bridge

Next Tuesday afternoon at the Woman's Club there will be a card party for the benefit of the Seminole Christmas boxes. This is the regular Social Department day, but the members have decided to make it a benefit game, so it is not confined to the members of the club but is open to the public. A small fee of 25 cts. will be charged for those playing bridge. There will be separate rooms for those who care to come and bring their knitting. There will be a contest in this room and a prize. No admission will be charged but a silver offering will be taken up. Mrs. Ernest Housholder is the hostess for November and has charge of this unique party. The game will begin at 2:30. Will you please phone No. 179 and reserve your place.

In Honor of Miss Johnson

Miss Ethel Hickson was hostess to a charming little card party last Friday evening at her aunt's home, Mrs. J. H. Cowan on Sanford Height in honor of Miss Lucile Johnson of Daytona Beach. Cards, music and dancing were the features of the evening. Hot chocolate and cakes were served during the evening by Margaret and Georgio Cowan. Those invited to meet Miss Johnson were Misses Irene Russell, Nellie Elder, Sugie and Gertrude Brown, Messrs. Bob Walthour, Frank Roper, Walter Holtz, Jack Booth, Phil Leonard, Martin McDaniel and James Huff.

Hallowe'en Party at Moore's Station

The Red Cross Auxiliary at Moore's Station gave a beautiful Hallowe'en party Friday evening. The hall was elaborately decorated in moss, pumpkins and golden rod. Doughnuts, coffee and candies were sold. Several musical numbers were given and the evening was a great success. This little circle cleared over twenty dollars.

Miller-Williams

Miss Mary Elizabeth Miller and Mr. Volle Adkins Williams were married Sunday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Randall, Jr., Rev. Mr. Hyman officiating. Mrs. Williams is from Orlando but has often visited in Sanford. She is a very charming girl and Mr. Williams is to be congratulated upon winning so fair a bride. Volle Williams has many friends in Sanford. He is a young man who is bound to succeed in the business world. Congratulations and best wishes are extended.

Group No. 4 Holy Cross Guild, Mrs. S. O. Chase chairman, has hit upon a unique way to raise funds. Mr. Mobley at his new drug store will turn over a certain per cent of his cash sales next Saturday to these ladies who will be at his store all day to serve their friends. There are some notably good cooks in this group and in the afternoon there will be for sale also some of their good things to eat, with the recipes to be had for a nickel. People will be able to patronize these energetic ladies and supply many needs at the same time, next Saturday, Nov. 10th at Mobley's new drug store.

The many friends of Mrs. S. E. Barret will sympathize with her in the loss of her brother, William Worsham. Mr. Worsham was killed in an automobile accident in Detroit, Mich., a week ago. The body was carried to Henderson, Kentucky for interment. Mr. Worsham was just twenty-one, and a young man of unusual promise. Mrs. Barret was in Detroit at the time of the accident and accompanied the body to Kentucky.

The first basket ball game of the season was played Friday night at the Parish House. It was a dandy game. Sanford defeated Eustis, the score being 24 to 20. Coxs Lee Tilla, Dorothy Rumph, Helen Peck and Mrs. J. F. Hickson, Miss Lucile Johnson, Ethel Hickson and Messrs. Phil and Johnny Leonard. Mrs. Whitner, Mrs. Chase, Mrs. Barnes, Mrs. Vaughan and Mr. Peck motored to Orlando Monday afternoon.

Mrs. J. S. Dinkle and Miss Olive Dinkle were visiting in Sanford last week.

Mrs. J. C. Manner, Misses Louise and Mary Hanner of Orlando spent Saturday in Sanford.

Mrs. F. A. Wallace of Orlando was the guest of friends in Sanford Saturday.

Mrs. Harry Ward and Miss Fern Ward are spending a few days at Daytona Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Littleton announce the birth of a little daughter Saturday, November 3rd.

A. F. Dreka of DeLand was registered at the Hotel Carnes Sunday.

There will be the usual weekly dance at the Elks Club this evening.

"Whistle Nothing." Willie, a Southern boy, was playing in the back yard when he came into possession of a green persimmon. He ate it and it puckered his mouth in a most grotesque fashion. Becoming excited over the situation, he ran into the house, where his little sister was playing on the floor. "Oh, mother, look at Willie! I think he is going to whistle," shouted the little girl. "Whistle nothing," said Willie. "Can't you see I'm p'isened?"

Skidoo! Even the hairs of a man's head are numbered. "They must have hung the 'Twenty-three sign' on mine," quoth the baldhead.

Do Your Christmas Shopping For The Soldiers Now Send Them Tobacco and Cigarettes

Don't forget that your Christmas list ought to be a little longer this year. You have responsibilities outside of your family and friends. You owe something to the men who have gone over to France to fight in this war.

Every one in this country who is not fighting ought to recognize the fact that he has an obligation to our soldiers this Christmas. Think of the conditions under which our boys are going to be called on to "celebrate" the Yuletide season of 1917. Three years of war have made us all pretty familiar with what Christmas is on the western front. No further words are necessary.

Your chance to make one or more soldiers a little happier is right here and now through our TOBACCO FUND. The purpose of this fund is for you to make it easy for you to send inexpensive gifts of tobacco and cigarettes to the soldiers and it has been worked out to reduce your effort to the minimum. In fact the price for this privilege is not out of reach of any man, woman or child in this city.

When you realize that only 25c is required from you to place in the hands of a fighting soldier a package containing enough smokes for a week you can see what you ought to do. What's a quarter, anyway? A good deal to some people, we'll admit. But to one of our boys longing for a smoke, such a package is worth a good deal more than its weight in gold. If you have any doubt of that, just ask us to show you some of the testimony that has been coming over from the other side. The men are just longing for this country is nobly responding to the demand and sending thousands and thousands of these kits to France.

American tobacco and cigarettes and

And right now at this moment is your chance to have your contribution count at Christmas time. Don't put it off, because it takes a long time to get these kits delivered and your contributions today will just about connect with what we call over here the "holidays." That word is pretty hard to use when you apply it to No Man's Land. All the holidays they are going to get will be those minutes between fighting when they can have the consolation of a good American smoke.

So start that Christmas list of yours now. Do your soldier shopping early. Sit down and think how much money you can afford for this patriotic enterprise and send it to us —make it as much as you can. Even a quarter will make one soldier happy about a week and you can multiply this as many times as your circumstances afford.

Don't let those boys of ours go without this small package of cheer from the folks at home. There is money enough in the United States to buy a package for every soldier that we have in France several times over, and we count on the citizens of this city to do their part.

Once more we ask you to picture to yourself conditions under which our American boys are going to spend this Christmas. Then think how easy it is for you to do this little bit. We know how you will respond and we count on every one of you for your share small or large.

passenger service by approximately 25,000,000 miles. This has released thousands of train crews and locomotives for use in the freight service and cleared thousands of miles of track, thereby facilitating the movement of coal, food products and supplies needed by the government.

In addition to the foregoing saving of equipment and trackage, the shippers, big and small, have rallied so splendidly to the slogan, "Make one car do the work of two" that a saving of close to half a million freight cars has been accomplished. This saving of freight cars has enabled the railroads to move approximately 25 per cent more freight since war was declared than during the same period last year.

Intensive Loading Helps

Intensive loading and a general increase in the size of the "trade units" used by the various industries has rendered possible the saving of car space. Cotton, for instance, which was formerly moved in units of fifty bales, now moves only in units of 65 and 75. As there are 18,000,000 bales to be moved by rail each season, the increase in the trade unit in this one commodity alone has produced a saving of anywhere from 83,000 to 125,000 cars. Sugar, on which the carload minimum from the South was formerly only 24,000 pounds per car, now moves only on a 60,000-pound carload minimum. The producers of manufactured food products, especially the canners, have also come to a realization of the value of intensive loading and are now loading virtually all of their cars to capacity.

Coal, which has been loaded beyond capacity on most lines since the beginning of the war, is also moving freely now, although labor troubles in some parts of the country is tending to counteract the efforts of the railroads to meet the abnormal demand for fuel. During the past month the supply of cars on the "lake coal" lines has been increased 25 per cent and there has been some increase in the movement of bituminous coal to the lake ports, but it has not been proportionate to the increased supply of cars, as labor trouble has tended to decrease the mine production.

Renewed Efforts Necessary

Although excellent results have been achieved to date through the co-operation of the shippers, the traveling public and the railroads, it will be necessary for all concerned to exert renewed efforts, as the abnormal demands upon the railroads in the movement of both troops and supplies is constantly increasing, while the securing of new equipment is virtually impossible. From now on 2,500 cars a day will be required by the government to move food and supplies to the men in training at the National Army, National Guard and other encampments, while the demand of the allies for cars to carry export goods to the seaports will be practically doubled. All of this additional traffic must be moved by the railroads, although they have only 8 per cent more equipment than they had at this time last year.

Chicago.—Reports just compiled for the railroads' war board indicate that the traveling public in general and the shippers in particular are giving the finest kind of co-operation to the railroads in handling the increased traffic that the war has produced. What this co-operation means may be gleaned from these facts: Since May 1 the railroads, aided by the loyalty and understanding of the public, have been able to reduce their

GERMANS WANT REPUBLIC

Peculiar Movement Said to be Spreading in Kaiser's Realm—Pamphlet Tells Story

Attorney Huber Light is in receipt of a copy of the Lewistown (Montana) Democrat-News in which is published a letter from Major Whiting, a Lewistown man who is in France with the engineering corps. In his letter he spoke of a pamphlet which came to his hands from a German prisoner. The following is taken from the Democrat-News:

The pamphlet that Major Whiting refers to and which he enclosed is an exceedingly interesting one. It is printed in German and was written by Siegfried Balder and was evidently printed at Berlin. These pamphlets have been dropped by airplanes driven by Germans into the German lines on the west front and also over Germany. The inscription on the wrapper reads: "The Kaiser and war or a republic and peace." To our friends at home—spread the truth; spread this movement; agitate for a German republic.

To our comrades on the west front:—We have ascertained that the following order (command) was issued to the French army: Who allows himself to be captured and pronounces the word "Republic" will no more be treated as an enemy in war. If he will he can, with us with like disposed people (citizens) work for the freedom of Germany." Maj. Whiting had doubts about the censor passing this pamphlet, but it came through all right.—Bloomington, Ill., Pantagraph.

They All Want "Bull" Durham—read this clipping from the N.Y. Herald

While Squadron A was passing, tobacco and cigarettes were thrown to the men. Ahead of one man were several packages of cigarettes and a bag of tobacco with "papers" attached—in other words, the "makings". The trooper swung low from his saddle and, ignoring the "ready-made", picked up the "makings". It was a real wild west stunt and he was roundly applauded. His choice was expected—"Bull" Durham is the old army game.

GERMAN PEOPLE ARE STARVING

Teuton Wife of American Soldier Tells of Conditions There.

HARD FIGHT TO GET AWAY

Woman Has Harrowing Experiences in Trying to Leave Country—Says People Are Fleeing When They Can.

San Francisco.—The real conditions in the fatherland were described here by Mrs. George B. Szadelski, the German wife of an American soldier. Mrs. Szadelski arrived here after a plucky fight of over five months to get herself and three children out of Germany and over here, where she could join her husband, who is with the quartermaster's corps, United States army, at Honolulu.

"Germany is starving. Her people do not want war, and are fleeing the country when they can. Not so much the war, but food and where it is to come from is what the German people are thinking of," said Mrs. Szadelski. "When the people crowd up too eagerly in the street, waiting to get their small bit of food, men come out with whips, or pour hot water on them to make them orderly. That is in the town of Mecklenburg; there we stand waiting two hours or more in rain or snow. But in Berlin it is worse, and men and women wait in line all night.

Buy With Care.

"All things are bought by cards, even clothing and shoes. If I need a new suit or my little boy needs new underwear, I must go to the officials and explain the need and show them the worn things.

"A grown man or woman gets half a pound of meat a week, a tenth of a pound of butter and three pounds of bread. This bread is made of potatoes and a kind of green turnip, and is so soggy that only a little can be eaten at a time. There is no coffee, except a kind made from the turnip, and there is no rice. One gets a fourth of a pound of sugar, and there is no soap at all.

"Famine? There's a famine now. The rich—yes, the rich can buy a goose, but they must pay for it 175 marks (about $44). I have seen wild ravens sold in Berlin for three and one-half marks. Everything is much worse than America thinks.

"Yet there will be no revolution. That is because there are no men at home to make a revolution. The women look at one another and shake their heads. 'When the men come back,' is the word they pass around. We have men of fifty and seventy for home defense, and as doctors and officials. And we have boys of fourteen. All other men are in the army."

Mrs. Szadelski said she never received $500, which her husband sent her last February. A woman friend of hers who went to the authorities for money sent from America was told that no more money from the source would be given to any private person.

Do Not Want War.

"The people do not want war, but what can they do? They cannot even say what they think or there would soon be chains around their necks.

"Yet there is bitter feeling against America. I would be sorry for any American soldier that falls into the hands of the Germans, either the soldiers or the people. That is because the newspapers talk always of the evil-doing of America—and the people believe what they read. They began hating America long ago, when they heard it was siding England. It is not France so much, but England and America that Germany hates."

Sergeant Szadelski had been an American soldier for years before he met and married the little German woman, during a visit to Germany several years ago, but he left just before the war. This led to suspicions that he was an American spy, and so when his wife wished to leave Germany last May she had an immense deal of red tape to untangle. For a month she had to go before the police each day; then she was summoned to Berlin. At the Danish border every scrap of paper but her passport was taken away, and in Copenhagen she was received coldly by the American legation, because they would not believe that the wife of an American soldier would speak only German. After correspondence with Secretary Lansing and others, the legation was finally convinced that she was not a spy, and she was permitted to sail for New York. She will leave in a few days with their three children for Honolulu.

Potatoes Without Vines.

Findley, O.—Fred Nealey is growing some vineless potatoes in his garden here. When his potatoes failed to come up he started to plant cabbage plants, and found that the potatoes he had planted were developing, but that the vines were absent. They were larger than walnuts.

Garden Heated By Steve.

Helena, Mont.—Early frosts will have no terrors for the garden of James Swartz or Holler Dam, near here. The garden is heated by a stove from the inside and is protected on the outside by a curtain which is lowered about on a frame.

Five Ostriches Hatched.

Madison, Wis.—Five ostriches were hatched at the University of Wisconsin incubator, the first ever to see the light in the state. The eggs were laid at Vilas park and the parents are a pair of birds from California.

GERMANS THOUGHT LONDON WIPED OUT

Sharon, Pa.—That the German soldiers are victims of the grossest sort of duplicity is the statement of Phillip Fisher, a member of the American Red Cross ambulance corps in France. In a letter to friends here Fisher says that he has been present when German prisoners have been questioned. "They did not believe that the United States had any men in France," he says, "and they also thought that London had been obliterated by the Zeppelins."

Bonner Joins Marine Corps.

Pitcher Al Bonner, who has seen service in a number of leagues, and was in the Northwestern league until it disbanded this season, has joined the Marine corps and already is in service. Following the close of the Northwestern he pitched for an independent team in Dillon, Mont., before enlisting for the war.

Acquiring a Husband.

"There is too much smiling and ogling going on among the young people in the street cars nowadays," says Mrs. Freda Kuppel, the shortgrass widow. Mrs. Kuppel didn't even take the advantage of a face to face flirtation. She wrote her name on an egg she was about to take to town and the name was seen by a bartender in the act of making a gin fizz. The bartender finally became her first husband by telling her he was an actor.—Kansas City Star.

Easy & Practical Home Dress Making Lessons

Prepared Specially for This Newspaper By Pictorial Review

The Demand is For Simple Blouses.

Dressed women are asking for very simple blouses, perhaps because so many of them are trying to make their own waists. A dainty model in voile is shown here. A pointed collar finishes the open neck, while the one-piece sleeves are gathered to straight cuffs. In medium size the waist requires 2 1/2 yards, 36-inch material.

As the back and the collar have no seams, the pieces of pattern for these sections must be laid along the lengthwise fold of material after it has been placed on the cutting table. To the left of the back is the front, with large "O" perforations on a lengthwise thread. Opposite the back is room for the pocket and cuff, both of these sections having the large "O" perforations resting on a lengthwise thread. The sleeves come last, being laid to the right of the collar with large "O" perforations on a lengthwise thread.

If preferred the collar may be cut with round outline at the back. The touch of embroidery which gives smartness to the simplest waists is added to the color. It may be done in white or self-color.

In answer to the demand for simple models comes this new shirt-waist. It has an open neck with pointed collar trimmed with embroidery.

For the present, at least, well.
