Dog Disappeared Month Ago

Woman's Search For Pet Endless

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

Ever since Boo-Boo disappeared nearly a month ago, 93-year-old Frances Golson has gotten into her car and searched, offered a reward, notified police and sheriff's deputies and advertised in newspapers regularly in hopes that her little dog will be found. "She's so precious to me and I miss her so much," the elderly Sanford woman said, crying. "I'd give anything I have of value in this world if someone would bring her back to me."

Mrs. Golson said she last saw her canine companion of three years when she went to the Kentucky Fried-Chicken restaurant along French Avenue on Nov. 23.

"I left her in the car as I went in to get some dinner to take home," she said. "When I got back to the car, Boo-Boo was nowhere in sight. I can only guess that someone either let her out or took her. If she had gotten out herself, she would have come running when she saw me or heard me call." Since that day, Mrs. Golson said she has searched "everywhere" for the small, brown dog "with a white chest and pointed ears that always stick straight up."

Mrs. Golson said her pet was wearing a red collar and leash when she last saw her and that the dog resembles a chihuahua.

"I've advertised over and over again, hoping someone will return her to me," she said. "The police and sheriff's department said they haven't heard any news about her. No one at the dog centers or humane society has found her either."

"People keep telling me to just give up looking because Boo-Boo's probably lying dead somewhere but she's precious to me and I want to have her back," Mrs. Golson continued. "She's a good watchdog for me at my home along Beardall Avenue—that's just about two miles south of 25th Street. And, she's a good companion for me. She means the world to me."

"I did get one call from a lady about a dog but the dog she found was long-haired and Boo-Boo has short hair," she said. "I just don't know what I'm going to do."

Mrs. Golson, who moved to Florida from Illinois in 1924 for the sake of her father's health, says she won't get another dog to take Boo-Boo's place if the dog isn't returned.

"I'm an old woman," she explained. "I can only drive during the daytime. Oh, I can take care of myself, mind you. I've got good sense. But I just don't want to raise another puppy. Actually, the only dog I ever want is Boo-Boo. I just want her."

Mrs. Golson said the $100 reward she is offering still stands and will be paid if Boo-Boo is returned to her. She said if anyone has information concerning the small pet to call her at her home at 322-3957.

"I've worried and worried until I'm about sick," she said. "I hope somebody reads this and will find my dog and bring Boo-Boo home to me."

Christmas Spirit

Help For Shack Dwellers Increases

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

Johnie and Ethel Johnson may have a warm and secure newer mobile home for their home by Christmas. At least that is the goal of Operation CHURH (Christian Helpers United to Reach Humanity), a spiritual outreach and aid organization that has taken the elderly couple under its wing.

Brother Anthony Miller of Second Shiloh Church and CHURH chairman said today that volunteers cleared most of the debris from the yard of the couple's shack at 2206 1/2 McCarthy Road Saturday and plan to complete the job by 5 p.m. Tuesday.

At that point, Engineer B.C. "Cal" Conklin of Conklin, Porter and Holmes is prepared to do a percolation test free of charge for the couple to have a septic tank installed on the 60 by 100-foot lot. Conklin also has prepared a site plan in adherence to county regulations to fulfill a requirement for having a permit issued for a newer mobile home.

Miller, delighted with the progress of the project that seemed insolvable less than a week ago, could say only that the "Lord has provided."

As a temporary measure to keep out the elements, the group also placed a temporary canvas over the shack. And the couple who receives one hot meal daily, Monday through Friday from "Meals on Wheels" also were provided with two hot meals by members of the humanitarian group on Saturday and Sunday. And this service will continue on a volunteer basis, Miller said.

Operation CHURH got involved in helping the family last Wednesday when the group was notified the Johnsons were living under almost inhuman conditions inside a block covered deteriorated trailer.

The structure where the man and wife, 82 and 78 years old, respectively, were living had large holes in the caving-in roof, holes in the floor and had no kitchen.

The structure was surrounded by piles of old rubber tires, a junk car and abandoned refrigerator.

Mr. Johnson, who is nearly blind from an industrial accident years ago, cooked occasionally over an open fire in his back yard.

The couple have no cooking stove and no refrigerator to keep perishable foods. And Mrs. Johnson, suffering with very high blood pressure, is bedfast most of the time. Johnson had no bed in which to sleep.

Operation CHURH gave Johnson a bed Wednesday and provided them with warm clothing.

A bank account has been opened at Flagship Bank in Sanford for donations in the name of "Johnson Building Fund." Money raised will be used to pay material costs for a septic tank, to help pay for a newer mobile home and to pay connection fees to city water and electricity.

The group needs others to help in the effort to provide the elderly couple with a decent home. The use of a truck and volunteers are needed in the cleanup effort.

Interest Rates, Congress Key To Sewage Bonds

By MICHAEL BEHA
Herald Staff Writer

Members of the South Seminole and North Orange County Sewage Transmission Authority are spending these days with one eye on the interest rate and the other eye on Congress.

The interest rate and Congress will be the forces which determine when a $7.5 million bond issue to finance the authority's pipelines from the two counties into the Iron Bridge Regional Sewage Treatment Plant near Oviedo will be issued, authority director Pat West said today.

West said the authority has contracted with Prudential-Bache underwriters of Orlando to sell the bonds and now the agency is willing until the interest rate drops to its lowest point before finalizing the sale.

But they're also keeping an eye on Congress because of a law which could have an impact on the bond issue.

Under the terms of the law, the authority would have to register the bonds prior to sale. Investors also would have to register the bonds and after any sale they would have to be re-registered.

That law is set to go into effect Jan. 1 but Congress is considering extending the deadline. West said the House already has voted to extend the deadline for a year but the Senate has taken no action.

If the senators don't take action, West said, the authority will issue the bonds before the end of the year.

That way the registration fees, which West said would cost the authority between $6,000 and $7,000 annually, and hassles to investors can be avoided.

If the deadline is extended, West looks for the bonds to be sold by the middle of January, when he hopes the interest rate will have hit bottom. "We're looking for less than a 10 percent interest rate," he said.

The authority had wrestled with the bond sale issue for several months before a decision was made on Wednesday to have a negotiated sale rather than a public sale. But that decision wasn't made until the authority made a false start toward the public sale.

Authority members voted Dec. 10 to hold the public sale and legal advertisements were issued with the bids on the public sale expected to be opened Tuesday at 11 a.m. But after second thoughts, the authority made an about face last week, voting to rescind the public sale in favor of the negotiated sale.

West said the decision was made because in the negotiated sale "we can control things better." He said the authority could determine exactly when the sale should be made.

Another factor which weighed heavily on the decision was a potential lawsuit and the possible loss of status for the authority in future bond issues, West said.

"We could have been sued by the people bidding if we had rejected the bids," Barbara Christensen said. Mrs. Christensen, the county commission representative on the authority, was not present at last Wednesday's morning meeting because of a late Tuesday night commission meeting but said today she agrees with the decision to rescind the public sale.

"We could have been blackballed by the lending institutions if we rejected the bids," she said.

The bond issue will be for 22 years with the first payment in October 1984, West said.

Mother Says Couple Abused Girl; Boyfriend Denies It

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

The mother of a 5-year-old girl, who was found dead in a sack at the bottom of an Altamonte Springs pond, told officials she and her boyfriend both mentally and physically abused the child so extensively that the little girl died in her mother's arms as a result of the abuse.

The boyfriend has adamantly and repeatedly denied any knowledge of child abuse and has refused to believe the girl is dead.

Susan Barrett Assaid, 29, and Donald Glenn McDougall, 26, formerly of 817 Highland Drive in Altamonte Springs are being held in the Seminole County jail on charges of first-degree murder and aggravated child abuse in connection with the death of Ursula Sunshine Assaid.

The couple, who were returned to Seminole County from Riverside, Calif., where they were arrested Nov. 30 in connection with the murder, were indicted by a Seminole County grand jury on Wednesday.

Mrs. Assaid, who is four months pregnant by McDougall, is scheduled for trial before Circuit Judge Robert B. McGregor on Jan. 24 while McDougall will appear before Circuit Judge C.

Vernon Mize Jr. for trial on Jan. 28, court officials said. Both have pleaded not guilty to the charges.

Riverside police arrested the couple after Mrs. Assaid voluntarily came to police headquarters there and told investigators she and her boyfriend, McDougall, had abused her daughter which ultimately led to her death, then placed the body in a white canvas sail bag weighted with two, 10-pound metal chunks and, together, dumped the body in a pond in Altamonte Springs.

Based on the information provided by New Zealand-born Mrs. Assaid, Riverside police notified Altamonte Springs police who searched the pond for nine hours before finding the badly-decomposed remains of the child. Officials said the girl was clad only in a blue nightgown and that her body had been in the pond since Sept. 26, having been dumped there shortly after her death.

Mrs. Assaid told investigators the abuse toward Ursula began after McDougall was arrested in Orange County for shoplifting on July 28. She said McDougall was upset because he was having a hard time raising money for a lawyer to defend him in the case.

Mrs. Assaid told police her daughter rarely ate very much and that McDougall, one of six children, would get upset with her when she wouldn't eat and began withholding food and liquids and slapping her, saying she needed discipline.

Mrs. Assaid also claims McDougall demanded that Ursula ask permission to go to the bathroom and that the abuse seemed to focus on Ursula's need to relieve herself and her refusal to ask permission. As a result, the young girl often defecated and urinated in her pants at home and at school.

Mrs. Assaid charges that between Sept. 23 and Sept. 25 Ursula suffered extreme abuse and was unable to walk without assistance, adding that "she looked as if she had cerebral palsy," records show.

During the three-day period prior to her death, Ursula was forced by McDougall to eat a "soap sandwich" he had made, Mrs. Assaid said. McDougall also ordered the child to walk naked in circles reciting the ABCs, hit her with a belt, forced her to stand naked all night beside her bed, refused her food and liquids, knocked her repeatedly to the floor, punched her several times in the ribs with his fists, put her in the sink, covering her with ice cubes and placed water in front of her, knocking her to the floor if she asked or reached for it, court

IN BRIEF

Funding Bill OK'd, Pay Hike Granted, Gas Tax Uncertain

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress, working toward adjournment, approved an emergency funding bill that was short of any public works jobs so President Reagan would sign it.

The bill is the last absolutely necessary business of the 97th Congress, which is anxious to leave town for some rest and to make way for the new, more Democratic 98th Congress that will convene at noon Jan. 3.

The Senate, meeting late into Sunday night, also broke a filibuster that has blocked a 5 cents-a-gallon gasoline tax increase, but there was a question whether there was time to pass it before a weary Congress trudges home.

The compromise also provides the first dual pay system in congressional history. House members would get a 15 percent pay raise, from $60,662 to $69,800, while Senate salaries would be frozen. In return, senators could earn as much outside income as they want, while House members would have a 30 percent limit.

The Senate, meanwhile, crushed a conservative filibuster against the proposed nickel-a-gallon gasoline tax hike, needed to fund a multi-billion dollar road and transit repair plan.

But once approved by the Senate, the bill will go to a House-Senate conference to work out a final compromise, and it will be difficult to keep lawmakers in town once the emergency funding bill is approved.

MX Funding Denied

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A compromise plan that denies President Reagan the MX missile production money he so urgently sought was ready for votes in the House and Senate today as Congress attempted to end its lame-duck session.

The plan recommended by a House-Senate conference committee Sunday evening leaves open the opportunity for the Air Force to acquire some MX missiles during the continuing research and development program.

But it basically upholds the position of the House, which voted by a wide margin earlier this month to delete $988 million in production money from the Pentagon's 1983 budget.

The compromise calls for Congress to provide $2.5 billion in research and development money only, pending congressional approval of a basing plan submitted by the president.

However, during the research and development phase of the program, several missiles would be produced for testing, although there could be no test flights until Congress approves a basing plan. The plan allows for some of those missiles later to be deployed in whatever basing plan is eventually approved by the president and Congress.

Spending Outpaces Income

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The income of Americans grew 0.4 percent last month while their spending rose by triple that figure — 1.2 percent, the Commerce Department said today.

Recession-struck factory payrolls declined for the ninth time in the previous 12 months. A government pay hike boosted public wages. Unemployment benefit payments also climbed, but not quite as much as in October.

Personal income, after Social Security withholding, rose 0.4 percent to an annual rate of $2.621 trillion after adjustment for recurring seasonal patterns, the department said.

Personal spending, which economists say could be an antidote to recession, went up 1.2 percent to an annual rate of $2.992 trillion. Income taxes went up 0.3 percent to a rate of $399.2 billion.

With spending increasing faster than overall income the savings rate slipped to 5.8 percent from 6.5 percent the previous month. The department's latest savings rate based on a three-month average was 6.2 percent in October.

Personal income has generally shown weak to moderate growth through the recession. October's originally reported 0.7 percent increase was revised downward to a 0.5 percent increase in the latest report. August and September's growth rate was only 0.2 percent.

November's level of income amounts to $11,253.76 for every man, woman and child in the country, the department said.

As industrial payrolls shrink in the recession other sources of income become more prominent in the figures. The department said 41.5 percent of the $2.6 trillion annual income Americans would take home in a year at November's rate was contributed by a combination of interest on investments and savings, Social Security and unemployment benefits and government pay.

The rate of growth for disposable income — after income taxes — was the same as that for overall income in November, 0.4 percent.

The previous month, October, disposable income grew at a 0.5 percent rate, not enough to keep up with rising prices. After inflation the money available to spend in October was 0.2 percent less than September, the department said.

Ex-CIA Agent Wilson Sentenced To 20 Years

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (UPI) — Ex-CIA agent Edwin Wilson today was sentenced to 15 years in jail and fined $200,000 for smuggling five guns, one allegedly used in an assassination in Bonn, West Germany, to Libyan terrorists.

U.S. District Judge Richard Williams imposed punishment on an impassive Wilson, who declined comment when the court asked him immediately before and after sentencing if he had any comment.

Wilson, 54, was found guilty Nov. 17 on seven of eight counts of illegally exporting four pistols and a Colt M-16 automatic rifle from the United States to Libyan intelligence and army officials in Europe.

One of the guns, according to the indictment, was used in the 1979 assassination of an heir to an anti-Khadafy Libyan in Bonn.

The prosecution charged that the guns Wilson supplied were "samples" under a $20 million contract to supply 5,000 M-16s and other arms and ammunition to Libya. Wilson was said to have received an $8 million commission for the deal.

Little Damage From Oil Spill

KEY LARGO (UPI) — Environmentalists say there is little permanent damage in a wildlife breeding area where 3,000 gallons of diesel fuel spilled when a tanker-truck was hit by a car during the weekend.

By Sunday clean-up crews hired by the U.S. Coast Guard's Pollution Strike Force had completed mopping up the fuel that spilled the day before when a fuel truck collided with a car on U.S. 1 north of Key Largo.

The Florida Highway Patrol said that Miami resident John Steven Blakey, in his 20s, was killed when he apparently fell asleep at the wheel of his car and smashed into the northbound tanker. The tanker's driver, Juan Elio Suarez, 49, of Hialeah, was not injured.

Environmentalists, concerned the fuel could harm wildlife in the mangroves around the spill, inspected the area but found that virtually no damage had occurred.

City Elections Tuesday

The polls will open at 7 a.m. Tuesday in the cities of Sanford, Lake Mary and Casselberry for municipal runoff elections.

The polling places are the Sanford Civic Center, Sanford Ave. and Seminole Blvd., Lake Mary City Hall, 158 N. Country Club Road, and Casselberry City Hall, 95 Lake Triplett Drive.

The polls will close at 7 p.m. Absentee ballots must be turned in prior to 7 p.m., Tuesday, to Lake Mary City Clerk Connie Major and Casselberry City Clerk Mary Hawthorne or to Seminole Election Supervisor Camilla Bruce.

Sanford voters will choose between two charter questions while voters in Lake Mary and Casselberry will elect two councilmen.

Sanford voters will decide whether they want the city operated under a new charter which requires that city commissioners reside within certain geographic areas while being elected at-large or whether they want to keep the old charter in effect which allows commissioners to live anywhere in the city while being elected at-large.

Sanford's proposed new charter, in addition to residency districts, deletes sections now in conflict with state law and places the police and fire departments under the direction of City Manager W. E. "Pete" Knowles just as are all other city departments.

Under the old charter, the two uniform services are under the direction of the City Commission with Mayor Lee F. Moore serving as liaison between the commission and the departments.

The proposed new charter would also move the city election time from December to September to coincide with the first primary election; change the governing body's name from a City Commission to a City Council; and extend Moore's term until 1985 so that the majority of the commission will no longer be elected the same year.

In the two City Council races in Lake Mary, the voters will choose between George F. Duryea and Charlie Lytle for Council Seat 1, and Russ Megonegal and Bill Durrenberger for Seat 2.

In Casselberry, the voters will choose between incumbent Bill Grier and former Councilman Carl Robertson Jr. for Seat 3 and Richard Russo and Jim Hill for Council Seat 1.

OPEC Can't Agree On Oil Quotas

VIENNA, Austria (UPI) — A crucial OPEC meeting ended in failure today after oil ministers were unable to reach agreement on individual production quotas and prices, conference sources said.

The 13 ministers broke off their talks after agreeing to keep the base price of crude oil at $34 a barrel and raise their collective production to 18.3 million barrels a day, up from the current ceiling of 17.5 million, the sources said.

However, the ministers were unable to settle their most pressing problem — realigning the production quotas of individual nations to match a shrinking world market for oil.

It was believed the problems of production quotas and price differentials will be referred back to OPEC staff experts for further study.

Herald: U.S. Supporting Anti-Sandinista Forces

MIAMI (UPI) — The Reagan Administration, using the American embassy in Honduras as headquarters, has helped finance and train thousands of Nicaraguan exiles bent on overthrowing Nicaragua's Sandinista regime, according to a copyright newspaper report.

The Miami Herald reported Sunday that the CIA has funneled at least $1.5 million to the exiles — known as "contras" — through Argentinian couriers. The CIA has also placed between 125 and 150 agents in Honduras to train and supervise the guerillas, according to the newspaper.

The Herald said the CIA involvement in the anti-Sandinista campaign began last March, when Argentine military advisers were used to deliver money to the Nicaraguan Democratic Forces. The most powerful opposition group in Honduras, the Nicaraguan Democratic Forces reportedly has 3,000 to 3,500 armed guerrillas under its command.

Aid Not Reaching Poor

MIAMI (UPI) — Food, clothing, farm tools and fertilizer — the raw material donated to mitigate Haiti's severe poverty — is being routinely siphoned off by Government officials and associates, according to a copyright newspaper report.

Haiti, the poorest nation in the Western Hemisphere, has received $1 billion in foreign aid since 1973, the bulk of it from the United States. Much of that aid, intended for Haitian peasants, has ended up on the black market while the poor go hungry, the Miami Herald reported in today's edition.

WORLD

IN BRIEF

Martial Law May End,

But Tough Rules To Remain

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — Poles may be surprised at the toughness of the military government's new regulations aimed at crushing dissent that will be imposed when martial law is suspended in 11 days, parliamentary sources said.

The country's figurehead collective leadership, the Council of State, Sunday formalized the decision taken Saturday by Parliament to suspend martial law and empower civil rule, but with new tough measures aimed at curbing dissent.

Under the suspension of military rule, telephones will not be bugged, mail will not be inspected and most big industrial plants are to be demilitarized.

But by passing tough new laws and "kidnapping" former Solidarity union chief Lech Walesa last week to stop him from making a speech in Gdansk, authorities have made clear they will allow no resurgence of defiant opposition.

Among the tough rules that will come into operation include one that makes possession of illegal brochures or leaflets printed by the banned Solidarity trade union punishable by jail terms ranging from 6 months to 5 years.

Workers who commit acts "provoking public unrest" will be liable to three-year sentences and students involved in similar activity can be expelled from universities by their rectors.

...Mother Reveals Abuse

records show.

Mrs. Assaid said that as a result of the mental and physical abuse, Ursula lay on the couple's bed, unable to eat and defecating on herself until she died in her mother's arms at 8:50 p.m. Sept. 25.

Mrs. Assaid told police that she and McDougall then took the body and placed it in a canvas sail bag, tied the open end with a rope after placing metal weights inside, then waded into the retention pond near their home and dumped the body, records show.

Mrs. Assaid said she and McDougall then traveled to California on Thanksgiving and stayed with her cousin, Barbara Campbell, while they sought employment.

According to Mrs. Campbell, who lives in Riverside, Calif., Mrs. Assaid and McDougall told her Ursula was staying with friends or relatives.

Mrs. Campbell told police she learned of Ursula's death after her cousin and McDougall had fought in her home with McDougall threatening to leave the next morning without Mrs. Assaid. After the argument, Mrs. Assaid asked Mrs. Campbell to drive her to the police department, saying "This is driving me crazy. I have to tell someone." Then Mrs. Assaid relayed the information concerning the child's murder to Mrs. Campbell records show. Mrs. Campbell added that she had not seen her cousin for about five years prior to the couple's visit in November.

Meanwhile, McDougall told police that he had absolutely no knowledge of any abuse toward Ursula and that he did not believe she was dead but was visiting her natural father in California.

Investigators said McDougall told them that he gave Mrs. Assaid $300 cash to purchase an airplane ticket for Ursula to fly to the home of her father, who he believed lives in California.

According to officials, Ursula's natural father, Thomas Assaid Jr., lives in Arizona. Assaid flew to Seminole County and attended Mrs. Assaid's court hearing. The couple is legally separated but not divorced, officials said.

McDougall, who lists his employment as a tennis instructor, told investigators the decision was made to send Ursula to her father after the couple decided to leave the Central Florida area in search of better employment, deciding that the child would be a hindrance in such a lifestyle.

McDougall claims he left the Altamonte Springs home Sept. 15 to play softball at a nearby park and when he returned, Ursula was gone and he assumed she had gone to live with relatives, records show.

McDougall further states he, Mrs. Assaid and Ursula had a good relationship and that he never saw nor participated in any type of abuse toward the child.

Attacker Invades Car And Rapes Woman

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

An Oviedo woman told Seminole County sheriff's deputies that a man jumped into her car along a south county road Saturday night and forced her to drive to a dead end street where he raped her.

The 21-year-old woman told deputies that while she was stopped for a traffic light along Eastbrook Boulevard in Goldenrod, at about 10:56 p.m. Saturday, a man opened her passenger car door, jumped in and ordered her to drive to a dead end street.

The woman said the man held her arms down, removed her clothing and sexually assaulted her, deputies reported.

Following the attack, the man ordered her to drive the car to Chilean Drive which runs parallel to Eastbrook Boulevard. Once there, she drove the vehicle into a resident's yard, screaming for someone to call the police.

An unidentified homeowner heard the woman's screams and called deputies who found that the woman and the vehicle were gone by the time they got there.

Deputies later discovered the woman in her car along Eastbrook Boulevard but the attacker had fled.

HOME RANSACKED, CASH AND GUN GONE

Thieves broke into a Sanford woman's home between 7:30 p.m. Thursday and 1:30 a.m. Friday and stole about $750 cash and an antique gun valued at $50.

Orquilla Johnson, 81, of 1905 W. Ninth St., told police the thieves broke into her home after shattering a glass pane in the door, dumped the contents of dresser drawers on the floor and ripped mattresses off beds.

OIL, BRAKE FLUID STOLEN

About $840 worth of oil and brake fluid was stolen from a Sanford company between 4:30 p.m. Wednesday and 7:30 a.m. Thursday.

Thieves entered the Seminole Petroleum Company warehouse at 902 Persimmon Ave., after prying open the side of the structure. Once inside, the culprits made off with the petroleum products.

JEWELRY STOLEN FROM HOSPITAL ROOM

A diamond pendant, gold chain, watch and cash were stolen from a woman's purse while she was hospitalized at the Central Florida Regional Hospital in Sanford.

Dorothy Medley, 59, of 1773 Pine Ave., Winter Park, told police someone took the items, valued at about $1,850, from her purse while she was in the hospital between noon Sunday and 4 p.m. Monday.

WINDOWS BROKEN

A Longwood woman's car windows were shot out Friday at 8:10 p.m. as she was driving along Longwood-Lake Mary Road.

★ Police

Jennifer Dalton, 114 Pineapple Court, Longwood, said a rear window of her 1980 Buick was shot out as she was driving home. Mrs. Dalton estimated the damage to the vehicle at $180.

CASH, CHRISTMAS GIFTS GONE

Thieves broke into a Sanford woman's home between 9 a.m. and 5:17 p.m. Thursday and stole cash and Christmas gifts.

Estelle Y. Reece, 68, of 203 Airport Blvd., told deputies that someone forced open the back door of her home and stole a camera, a coat, two gold chains, tote bags, stationery, a wallet, a nightgown and $95 in coins.

AUTO ROBBED

Donald Chion, 2209 Linneal Beach Road, Forest City, told deputies $200 worth of property was taken from his 1977 Thunderbird while it was parked at his house.

Chion said cassette tapes, leather boots, a digital clock and a leather book bag were stolen from the vehicle.

BIKE STOLEN

An Orlando man reported his bicycle was stolen from in front of an Altamonte Springs game room while he chased several youths who were harassing him.

Russell Doughty told deputies he was in the gameroom at State Road 436 and Academy Drive when three youths came into the establishment and started harassing him. When Doughty chased them out of the building, his bike, valued at $190, was stolen from in front of the arcade.

SANFORD FIRE CALLS

The Sanford Fire Department responded to the following fire calls Thursday:

— 10:23 a.m., Seminole County Courthouse, man down.
— 4:38 p.m., S. Sanford Ave. and Cornwall Ave., auto accident, possible injuries.

— 11:28 p.m., 1803 W. 15th St., man shot in shoulder, bullet did not penetrate, man treated by rescue personnel. Police said the victim, Johnny Walter, 56, of 24 Castle Brewer Court, Sanford, did not want to take any action and declined to say how the incident occurred.

The Sanford Fire Department responded to the following fire calls Friday:

— 10:45 a.m., 219 Yale Drive, rescue.
— 5:13 p.m., 25th St. and Georgia Ave., rescue.
— 6:39 p.m., 801 1/2 Elm Avenue, rescue.

Florida Tourism Looking Up

Florida tourism appears headed to outperform last year based on visitor and expenditure totals for the third quarter of 1982, according to Ed Gilbert, director of the Florida Department of Commerce Division of Tourism.

Gilbert said Florida hosted an estimated 8.6 million non-resident U.S. and Canadian visitors from July-September 1982, an 11 percent increase over the same period in 1981. Third quarter tourist expenditures were almost $3 billion, a 35 percent increase over the previous year.

"While the increases were substantial, it should be noted the third quarter of 1981 was a depressed period for tourism in this state," said Gilbert. "Further, information on visitor arrivals at the Miami, Orlando and Tampa airports is preliminary and subject to change."

A total of 26.3 million non-resident domestic and Canadian tourists visited Florida from January-September. This is 7 percent greater than the three-quarter total for 1981 and 4 percent ahead of the state's previous peak year, 1980. Expenditures for the visitors hosted so far this year are estimated at $14.1 billion.

Gilbert said the tourism figures represent all forms of non-resident visits to the state by domestic and Canadian tourists. Statistics on overseas visitors to Florida are compiled annually and are not included in the three quarter totals, he said.

In the third quarter, 6.2 million travelers arrived by automobile. This was a 12 percent increase over the third quarter figure for 1981 and reflects an increase during each month of the quarter. Third quarter expenditures by auto visitors were more than $1.7 billion, a 41 percent jump over the previous year. "Virtually all of the major incoming highways showed increases in vehicle counts throughout the third quarter," Gilbert said. "I-95 and I-75, which account for about two-thirds of the vehicles entering the state, were up 20 percent and 14 percent, respectively."

Air visitors to Florida in the third quarter totaled approximately 2.4 million, eight percent more than last year. Expenditures by this category of traveler totaled $1.2 billion, a 27 percent increase over the 1981 third quarter figure.

Unmanageable Russians...

And now we learn that three of the five members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff recommended against proceeding with the "dense pack" basing of the MX missile. But one of the three military chiefs who voted against the plan said he was in favor of going ahead if it would help President Reagan negotiate arms reduction with the Soviets in Geneva.

Starting to build an expensive weapons system simply as a chip to be bargained away in negotiations does not seem a sensible way to proceed. We did that with the Safeguard antiballistic missile system, using it to help negotiate an ABM treaty with the Russians and then abandoning the ABM complex we had built at great expense in North Dakota. Apparently the ABM concept was not an idea whose time had come.

The White House has been reluctant to characterize the MX as a bargaining chip. But there is another non-military argument for the MX—namely, that by building up our defense establishment with the MX and other advanced weapons the Soviets will be brought more willingly to the bargaining table and won't make so much trouble.

The notion that we can scare the Russians into manageability by threatening them with heavy weapons is an old idea. It hasn't worked.

Leo Szilard, the physicist, met with James Byrnes in May 1945 and reported:

"Mr. Byrnes' view (was) that our possessing and demonstrating the (atomic) bomb would make Russia more manageable in Europe."

When Harry Truman told Joseph Stalin at Potsdam later that summer that the United States had a new bomb it would soon drop on the Japanese, a secret weapon of terrible power, Uncle Joe simply smiled and nodded.

And the Soviet Union proceeded to follow a hard line throughout the post-war years, in which the United States alone possessed nuclear capability. Those were the years in which the Iron Curtain descended and Eastern Europe was placed under the permanent occupation of the Red Army.

History suggests that the Kremlin is not greatly impressed by any arms buildup in the West, that the Soviets have a kind of "bunker mentality," believing themselves always to be the underdogs on the world scene, and that they will pursue their own interests regardless, as they see those interests, so long as they can be fairly sure they can get away with it. That is what they are doing now in Afghanistan and Poland.

On the other hand, if they ever believe they have achieved military superiority, watch out.

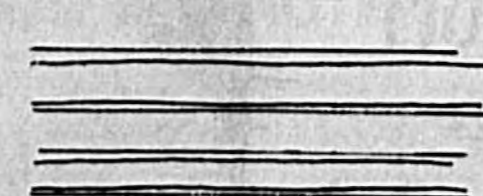

We must maintain our defense establishment in a high state of readiness. We must spend whatever is necessary to raise and equip the fighting forces we need.

But we must not build any high-tech weapons system simply for diplomatic or propaganda effect. The bluff doesn't work in this poker game. The Russians are stolid and are not easily impressed, even by weapons of proven military potential. How much less, then, would they be impressed by a new weapon in a basing mode which is questioned by a majority on a panel of our own highest military authorities?

Employment: Who Has The Answers?

November's unemployment rate, at 10.8 percent is the highest since 1940, when 14.6 percent of the nation's working people were without jobs.

Geographically, unemployment rose in eight of the 10 largest industrial states. When broken down by industry, the figures reinforce the bleak picture of the paralysis of U.S. manufacturing: 270,000 auto workers and 137,000 steel workers are out of work. Textile industry employment fell to 736,000 in October, down from 814,000 at the same time last year. Some 120,000 Teamsters, mostly truckers are idle.

The social impact of the jobless figures is heartrending: for the first time since the Thirties, there are more adult men unemployed—10.1 percent—than women, whose jobless rate is 9.1 percent. The tragic unemployment level among blacks, at 20.2 percent was unchanged, and the nation's share of idle teenagers stayed at about 21 percent.

One looks, then, for proffered solutions, and finds Lane Kirkland, president of the AFL-CIO counseling the unemployed to riot: "I guess perhaps we have to go out and organize some turmoil in the streets, if that's what it takes to convince people."

So the first impulse of the head of the nation's premier labor organization is to advise the unemployed to get themselves arrested.

Elsewhere, negotiations between the United Steelworkers and the steel industry broke down, as the union rejected a leaner contract. The Steelworkers, who now earn an average of $23.40 per hour in wages and benefits, refused to accept less than a 17 percent increase over three years. The possibility of the first nationwide steel strike since 1959 looms next August. Thus users of U.S.-made steel have informed the eight major American steel companies, that they may seek foreign supplies. The bottom line for the steel industry: labor costs plus labor militance equals imports equals unemployment.

Chrysler Corporation eked out a "tentative framework" for a contract with the United Auto Workers in the U.S. and Canada, who are demanding immediate wage increases. Ten thousand Canadian Chrysler employees walked off the job last month, despite five consecutive quarters of negative economic growth in Canada.

Jobless Teamsters read of their union's president, Roy Lee Williams testifying in his trial on federal bribery and conspiracy charges in Chicago. Mr. Williams and three other Teamster officials, and one Chicago hoodlum, were convicted of illegally selling Nevada Senator Howard Cannon Teamster property in exchange for favorable treatment of a trucking bill in the Senate Commerce Committee.

What is the government doing? While the rate of sales of government securities suggests a federal deficit of $170 billion this year, Congressional liberals want to spend $5.4 billion more to create 657,000 temporary ditch-digging jobs.

What, then, do we now know about unemployment? Only that solutions won't come from the liberals, or from the labor unions.

Taxpayers Almost Fund Terrorist Camp

WASHINGTON — The taxpayers came close to funding a terrorist-training camp in Virginia five years ago. They were spared the expense only because the ex-CIA agent who planned the stunt wasn't getting along with his wife.

This is just one of the startling revelations that turned up during an exhaustive closed-door investigation of renegade ex-CIA agent Edwin Wilson by the House Intelligence Committee. Wilson has just been convicted of illegally supplying weapons to agents of Libyan dictator Muammar Qaddafi.

Investigators for the House committee interviewed more than 100 witnesses. All of them were assured anonymity and warned not to speak to the press.

The committee's staff director, Thomas Latimer, seemed especially determined to keep my associate Dale Van Atta from finding out what the witnesses were telling the committee. Van Atta has been investigating the Wilson episode for more than two years.

To one witness, Latimer said: "I'll tell you our experience with (Van Atta), and I have never talked with (him), but people in the press will call up and they will lie to you and

The same issues dominate government news over and over again as the years pass.

Back in the 1960s, then-Altamonte Springs Mayor Lawrence Swofford came up with the idea of pumping treated sewage effluent to orange groves as a liquid fertilizer.

It sounded like a good idea to him as a method of putting the very potent water to good use while conserving that water by keeping it at home, rather than by shipping it to the sea via a waterway.

While he was working on finding a way to get federal money for the pipelines and finding agricultural interests willing to buy the fluid, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency stepped in and said "no."

There were some at the time who thought using the water would spread viruses into the food chain, especially since there is a hospital in Altamonte and it is connected to that city's sewer system.

More recently, a suggestion was heard that effluent from sewer plants could be pumped to the medians of state and federal highways to keep those medians lush and that the resulting hay could be harvested and sold. No one, however, could think of a way to pay for the extensive pipeline that would be necessary.

Now, Altamonte Springs has come up with the same idea of using its treated effluent for some conservation purpose and the costs are to be borne by the city's citizens and perhaps developers. And it's being touted as something new.

Swofford, who watched over Altamonte Springs like it was his own child, while he was in office, has since moved away from Seminole County to his farm in North Carolina.

If he knew about the new Altamonte plan, he'd probably chuckle just a little.

How the past comes back to haunt.

Some years ago as the city of Altamonte Springs was approving plans for its public safety complex, paid for with a federal grant, then-City Commissioner Sandra Glenn, fought a losing battle over the roof. She insisted that the type of roof that was designed would be eaten by birds and would leak.

Her colleagues laughed at the idea that a woman would know anything about roofs worth paying attention to.

The city has since found that the two-story structure, which was supposedly designed to accommodate the addition of several floors, may have been improperly designed architecturally. And would you believe that the roof leaks?

The U.S. Supreme Court this past week struck down a Massachusetts law which gave churches the power to directly veto the sales of alcoholic beverages in their neighborhoods, saying this entangled government and religion.

There is a law in many of the Seminole cities that forbids the sales of alcoholic beverages within 150 feet or so of a church of school, but the local laws do not involve the churches at all. The governing body makes the decision on whether the sales will be allowed. In some instances church members forcefully bring the law to the governing bodies' attention, but the laws themselves were created by the lawmakers, are enforced or not by them, and can be dissolved by them.

No Free Market For Gas

LINCOLN, Neb. (NEA). — The utility company providing natural gas in this city has become so sensitive about its escalating rates that it recently purchased large newspaper advertisements to justify its price.

"It's time you know where your dollars go when you pay your gas bill," says the large headline atop the ad.

On the left side of the page is a photo of three quarters accompanied by the explanation that "75 cents goes to pay for the natural gas bought from Northern Natural Gas Co.," an interstate pipeline company.

On the right side of the page is a photo of a single quarter along with the explanation that only 25 cents of the ratepayer's dollar is used for construction and maintenance of a 7,963-mile-long local distribution system, salaries and benefits for 1,900 employees and a host of other items.

The ad was prepared by Minnegasco, a Minneapolis-based utility with approximately 600,000 customers — about half in that city's metropolitan area and half elsewhere in Minnesota and in South Dakota, Iowa and Nebraska.

"We think that what's happening to gas prices these days is more than the marketplace can bear," says Betty Gibson, a Minnegasco spokeswoman who notes that her firm's pipeline supplier has imposed three price increases in four months.

A Sept. 27 increase of 8.5 percent was promptly passed along to Minnegasco's customers, as was an Oct. 27 increase of 6 percent. Another increase, of 3 to 4 percent, is scheduled for Dec. 27. "Of course, that's going to be passed along to our customers too," says Ms. Gibson.

That pattern is being repeated all across the country, with residential, commercial and industrial natural gas customers facing rate increases of 20 to 60 percent this winter compared with the substantial bills they paid last winter.

The cost of gas for residential users last winter averaged $4.92 per thousand cubic feet (Mcf) but the Department of Energy predicts that the price this winter will average $5.87 per Mcf and by the end of 1983 it will rise again to $6.50 per Mcf — representing a 600 percent increase over a decade and a double during a four-year period.

"A rate (increase) of this magnitude is difficult for rate-payers to absorb at any time," says Rep. Philip R. Sharp, D-Ind., who notes that the current increases coincide with "the worst economic circumstances since the Great Depression."

Those increases also are being registered at a time when natural gas supplies are abundant and consumption of the fuel is slowly but steadily declining — circumstances which should, in theory, produce a reduction in price.

That is not occurring for several reasons: Inflation has forced up the overall cost of natural gas production, transmission and distribution, while the Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978 authorizes the phased elimination of federal price controls on all newly discovered natural gas.

JEFFREY HART

On Capital Punishment

The recent execution of Charles Brooks by lethal injection in Huntsville, Texas, inevitably gives rise to a number of reflections and a desire to sort them out.

I have never been an enthusiast about capital punishment, but I believe there are two factors now producing a great deal of momentum in its favor.

First, there are some crimes that are so heinous that ultimate retribution seems called for. For example, Charles Brooks and a companion were convicted of murdering the father of a family in the course of stealing a car to pay for narcotics addiction. There was no doubt about motivation: it was a premeditated murder for money. Nor is Brooks exonerated in any way by the fact that his companion is still alive, after having his conviction reversed through a legal technicality.

There is also a very widespread conviction on the part of the American public that our legal system shows very little concern for the victims of crime and is tilted heavily in favor of the perpetrators.

On the day after Brooks' execution, for example, five young men were sentenced in a Long Island, N.Y., courtroom. In a criminal orgy, the five had beaten, robbed, and raped their way around central Long Island, torturing and terrorizing some 10 citizens. The outraged judge gave them as a group over a 1,000 years in prison, but New York State law limits the actual sentence in non-fatal crimes. They will probably be out in 15 years. Understandably, a strong movement is underway on Long Island to change that law.

A couple of years ago, in the famous "Yale murder," a young Yale graduate named Richard Herrin used a claw hammer to crush the skull of an undergraduate, Bonnie Garland, while she slept at home in her own bed. Herrin's motive? Bonnie wanted to end their relationship. Herrin will be out in less than 10 years.

The Brooks execution had some unusual features, not least of which was the group of students from nearby Houston State University who showed up wearing jackets and ties to cheer the prison officials who were executing the murderer. I don't think that this was a grotesque caper. The students told reporters that they were there "because it was right." They seem to be part of a general wave of revulsion against escalating crime in the flaccidity of our criminal justice system.

Then there was the method of execution, the use of a lethal injection, Brooks being the first person to undergo it — and, by the way, the first black of the six men to be executed since Gary Gilmore faced a Utah firing squad in 1977. The procedure seems to have worked well. First the prisoner received a powerful sedative which renders him unconscious, and then a lethal dose of potassium chloride.

But the extent to which physicians can be involved in this procedure is a matter of dispute. Several state medical associations have ruled that participation in an execution represents a violation of the Hippocratic Oath, and the American Medical Association agrees. The prison doctor in Huntsville examined Charles Brooks' veins, pronounced the execution feasible, and then non-physician medics carried out the actual procedure. This raises the possibility — perhaps remote — of a botched job. And it is certainly conceivable that a prisoner will turn up who lacks a suitable vein.

There was some macabre humor in Huntsville, too. The 172 prisoners on Death Row there refer to the lethal injection as "the ultimate high."

Grim as all this is, I reluctantly support capital punishment on the ethical grounds of justice and on the prudential grounds that society simply must act against this escalating wave of violent crime

— perhaps as much as $20 million. But he was sure he could get at least part of it from Uncle Sam. One witness told the committee that Wilson "had his own people over there at LEAA."

Wilson met with his chief LEAA contact in mid-June 1977, according to a committee witness who participated in the session. The witness said Wilson asked for a grant of at least $850,000, and the LEAA official "assured both of us that he would walk it through; he would make sure that it goes through."

This witness said the negotiations reached a "very advanced stage" and that he "never did find out why it fell through."

The scheme collapsed when Wilson and his wife had a falling-out and he decided to drop his plan to locate the training camp at his home in Virginia, knowledgeable sources told my associates Van Atta and Indy Badhwar.

When an active-duty CIA agent was able to recruit Green Berets in Fayetteville, N.C., to fly to Libya to do the training there, Wilson opened his school in Tripoli. His wife stayed home on the farm.

Footnote: Through his attorney, Wilson denied having attempted to set up a terrorist-training camp.

Sanford Opens Tournament Trail With Jones

By SAM COOK
Herald Sports Editor

It may be the holiday season, but the next 10 days for coach Chris Marlette's Seminole cagers won't be any picnic. But they should be fun.

The steadily-improving Seminoles undertake one of the toughest tournament ventures devised beginning tonight when they play Jones in the First Burger King-Metro Basketball Tournament at Valencia Community College. Tipoff is 6 p.m.

The "Whopper Shoot Out" committee has put together an excellent field. All of the Metro schools will face off with eight of the best schools in Central Florida.

"It should be a great tournament," said Marlette about the 16-team extravaganza. "If we can get by that first game we'll be in good shape."

Next Monday, Seminole takes part in the glamorous Kingdom of the Sun Holiday Classic in Ocala where the Tribe will play St. Johns of Washington, D.C. in the first round. The D.C. area produces some of the finest basketball teams and players in the country. The Kingdom of the Sun is billed as Florida's largest and the South's most prestigious basketball tournament by its founder Ocala Vanguard coach Jim Haley.

Getting by the Burger King-Metro's first game, nevertheless, may take some doing.

Last Friday, Jones annihilated Colonial, 68-35, as Tony Wright, a 6-4 leaper, scored 12 points and collected 12 rebounds. Seminole slipped past winless Colonial, 49-48, although the Grenadiers had to scramble to make a close game of it in the last quarter.

Prep Basketball

Seminole has improved immensely since then, beating a good Mainland club (57-49) at Daytona Beach and creaming Lyman (68-40) at home.

Still, have the "Noles improved enough to play with Jones?"

"We have to rebound. That's the key," Marlette has pointed out numerous times after wins and losses. And he's right. Seminole was outrebounded in its first three games and lost two of them (Boone and Evans). The next two games, Willie Mitchell, William Wynn and Calvin "Kiki" Bryant dominated inside the paint and the Tribe was terrific.

Mitchell is the key. The 6-2 junior has the knack of hanging in the land of giants (he's only 6-2) and holding his own. Against Mainland, he grabbed 18 boards. And how many guys 6-2 ever get 18 rebounds?

Wynn had a spectacular beginning with 25 points in the season opener against Boone. Since then, however, his scoring has been down.

Like most players, the 6-1 junior is a better player against a man-to-man which is a tough defense to teach and play—thus you don't see too much of it.

Bryant, an all-conference performer last year, is really coming on after a slow start where he, too, had trouble getting the ball. Zones don't bother this 6-1 senior, however, he eats them up with a range which projects to 25 feet.

While Mitchell, Wynn and Bryant are all important to the Tribe's reversal of late, the young man that really makes it go is 5-7 senior Vernon Law.

Like all good point guards, he orchestrates the music on the floor. He's the conductor. He has to know when to speed up the tempo and when to slow down.

Sophomore James Rouse has moved into the fifth starting spot. The 6-2 wingman has established himself as Seminole's best defensive player. Against Mainland, he held high-scoring Will Anderson to just 11 points. He was even better against Lyman, limiting 20-point-per-game scorer Alexis Cleveland to just four baskets.

The bench has been impressive too. Guards Steve Grey, Bruce Franklin and Scott Clayton have spelled Law and Rouse effectively on occasion. Juniors Tracy Holloman and Tom Stiffey have performed well for the big people. Torie Hendricks, who was reinstated after he and Marlette patched up their differences, is a quality player with size (6-4) and a gifted shooting touch.

All of this is well and good but one can notice a marked difference when comparing Seminole's Five Star record and its Metro adventures.

Marlette has used one of the state's best basketball conferences to toughen up his maturing squad and he feels it's paid off.

After battling Boone, Evans and Colonial, the Five Star has been a piece of cake. Victories over Mainland, Lyman and hapless Lake Howell left Seminole with a 3-0 Five Star mark and a 4-2 overall effort.

Now if the "Noles can just do something with those Orlando schools...

BOONE (4-2)
Coach Wayne Rickman returns three starters from last year's squad led by 6-2 leaper Lennie Grace who took apart Seminole down the stretch earlier this year in a three point Boone victory.

COLONIAL (0-3)
New head coach Jack Doss is still searching for his first win with a team which was depleted by graduation. Mike Wheeler is a pretty good 6-2 forward and Anthony Gonzalez is a classy point guard, but that's all that remains from a 19-12 team.

EDGEWATER (4-3)
Coach Rudy Tapia won 19 games last year, but he'll have to scramble to do it this year. Only Rod Dyer, a 6-2 senior, and Darrell Houston, a 6-0 junior, return. Both had singlefigure scoring averages last year.

EVANS (3-1)
Coach Dick Hulet's Trojans were 20-7 last year and should be better this season. They marauded Seminole a few weeks ago and have just one loss this year. Tony Flaker, a 6-3 all conference choice last year, is Evans' best all-around player. He is a tremendous scorer and jumper. Cleve Williams, a 6-3 senior, is an excellent pure shooter from 20 feet and in. Daryl Wesley, a 6-8 senior, is off and on, but when he's on he's tough.

JONES (3-1)
Jones had the best sophomores in the Metro last year and two seniors return for coach Len Carmichael.

Ron Streater, a 6-1 senior, averaged 13.2 points a year ago and was a second team, all conference selection. Tony Wright, a 6-4 senior, was also second team and averaged 12.6 per game.

Jones was 15-13 last year and may win 20 in '83.

OAK RIDGE (5-3)
Coach Jeff Asher returns four starters from last year's 14-16 team which figures to challenge for the Metro title.

championship team last year and he returns three starters.

Drayven Beahum, a 6-4 senior, returns with his 12.4 scoring average while Tom Miller, a 6-4 senior, and Maurice Bullard, a 6-2 senior, each brings back eight points a game. John Miller, a 6-4 junior, adds rebounding muscle.

WEST ORANGE (4-4)
Coach Earl Stokes doesn't return any starters, but David Skowron, a 6-1 senior, and Anthony Hamilton, a 6-1 senior, has good scorers for a team which is figured to finish in the middle of the Metro pack.

APOPKA (2-5)
First year head coach Ron Smith returns just two players from last year's 4-18 team which sent three players to junior colleges. Brian Pitts, a 6-1 senior, and James Jones, a 6-2 junior, are the Blue Darters top guns.

BISHOP MOORE (3-3)
Coach Gregg Robinson went 21-7 last year but had to knock heads with Jones and Kissimmee Osceola in the district last year. Top returning starters include versatile 6-2 guard Chris Saunders and 6-7 big man Darrell McDaniel. Jimmy Kuhl, a brother of the Evans' Kuhl's of a few years ago, is an exciting sophomore.

DELAND (6-3)
Coach John Zeoli begins his second season with three returning starters led by 6-3 senior Chase Brown. Brown was a second team all conference selection last year and averaged 13.9 points with unlimited range. Derek Watson, a 5-10 senior, also returns.

TAMPA CATHOLIC (4-1)
Coach Gordon Gibbons returns two starters from last year's 30-2 team which won the district but was upset in the regional.

Three underclassmen make Tampa Catholic a favorite along with Evans and Oak Ridge for the title. Willie Neves, a 6-2 junior, returns with his 11 ppg. Gerald White, a 6-4 sophomore, was the MVP of the state 15 and under AAU team. Curt Fiser, a 6-5 junior, came over from Tampa Chamberlain.

Auburn Ground Attack Grinds Up Boston Col.

ORLANDO (UPI) — The quarterback wants to work on his poise, his consistency and his intelligence. All three are advisable assets in big time football and many think Doug Flutie already has more than his share.

"Flutie is more than good, he is simply unreal," said Auburn free safety Mark Dorminey.

"He's a genius," said Auburn coach Pat Dye.

The compliments came with rapid-fire regularly after Boston College's Tangerine Bowl loss Saturday night to Auburn, a 33-26 decision in which BC coach Jack Bicknell feels his team acquitted itself well against the 15th-ranked Tigers. And Bicknell thinks Flutie is not alone in any of the necessary traits that single out winners.

"The one thing I can say about this game is that everyone who was supposed to perform did perform," the coach said. "And that's a good sign because there was so much buildup."

Flutie may have been overshadowed in the game by his less-publicized counterpart at Auburn, but he still managed to pass for 299 yards and throw for two TDs. And the day after, Flutie's thoughts turned to next year and how he can possibly improve on his banner year.

"I'd like to come back a little more poised. I know I did well in some pressure situations during the season, but I'd like to be more consistent and cut down on interceptions. I'd like to be smarter, too," he said.

"We're going to get after it again next year, try to keep the standard up," he continued. "We face a big challenge next year, probably a tougher schedule than this year. But that's the reason we came to BC."

Flutie had the lion's share of publicity and, as Bicknell warned him before the game, "don't try to do it all yourself. You have other guys out there too." The problem was Flutie never got much of chance. The Eagles' defense was pushed all over the field trying to stop Auburn's wishbone.

"We couldn't make the big, third-down play, we couldn't force them to punt," said linebacker Steve DeOssie. "We just couldn't stop them."

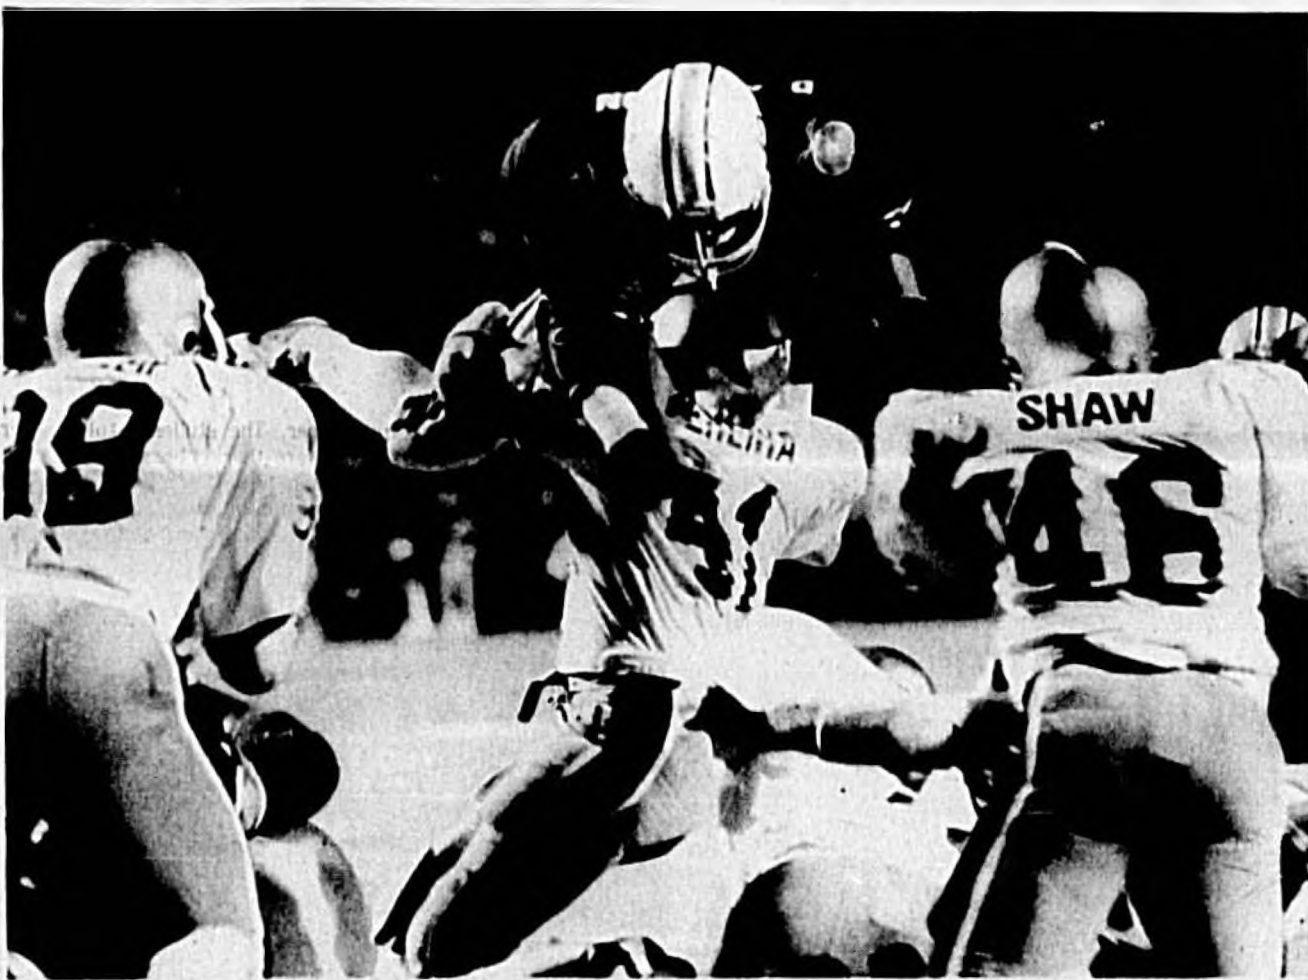

All of which was somewhat surprising in that Dye, in one of his many moments of hyperbole, compared the BC defense to that of Georgia's. After the game, it was thought Dye must have been referring to Georgia Tech, Georgia Southern or even Georgia Frontiere.

"Yeah, he gressed up pretty good, didn't he?" Bicknell said of the hype.

But the pre-game hoopla is all part of the bowl scene, something which BC hadn't experienced since World War II. The game will go down as a defeat for the team, but hardly one for the program.

"We might have been discouraged out there, but then you'd think, hey, we're here. We could have been home watching this one on television," said defensive back Vic Crawford.

"You can tell kids all about winning, you can talk to them all you want to, but if you never drive it through, that's all it is, just talk," Bicknell said. "Once you get success, you get better. But you have to taste it before you can take off."

Auburn's Bo Jackson tries to go up and over (left to right) Steve DeOssie, Davie Periera and Paul Shaw in Tangerine Bowl action Saturday night. Jackson came up short on this attempt, but he scored on two other occasions as the War Eagles whipped Boston College, 33-26.

Buffalo 'Leaks' Save Bucs

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — Usually there is a key play that can be fingered as the turning point in a game, but that would be hard to do in Tampa Bay's 24-23 win over the Buffalo Bills Sunday because there were several pivotal plays.

One of the most glaring was the missed extra point attempt by Buffalo's Efrén Herrera, which kept the game from ending up in a tie at the end of regulation play and sending it into overtime.

Equally important was the smashing hit put on Bills' running back Roosevelt Leaks at the Tampa 17 by defensive end Lee Roy Selmon. That came with just 36 seconds to go and Buffalo trailing by only one point and well within field goal range.

Leaks, who earlier had scored two touchdowns, fumbled and Cedric Brown recovered for Tampa, preserving the victory and the Buccaneers' playoff hopes.

Or, the key play may have been a quick-snap quarterback sneak by Tampa's Doug Williams on a third-and-seven play at the Bills' 10 after Buffalo had gone ahead 16-10 in the third period.

The surprise play kept Tampa's drive going and three plays later Williams hit Gordon Jones for a 3-yard touchdown pass and the Bucs had the lead for good.

"I think the silent sneak play was the key to the game," said Tampa offensive tackle Ray Snell. "It turned things around. It was like they gave us a play. Doug called 'silent sneak' and he just nudges (center) Steve Wilson. The rest of the line spreads out as far as possible to spread the defensive tackles. Doug would have scored if he hadn't tripped, as it froze the defensive tackles."

Much of the credit has to go to rookie running back Melvin Carver, who made his first start in the NFL. He caught a 2-yard touchdown pass from Williams and ran 13 yards for another score as he carried 20 times for 89 yards. The touchdown pass was his lone reception.

"I feel extremely happy about my play," Carver said. "It's been awhile since I've been running the ball that much. It feels great."

He had carried the ball only 15 times this season prior to Sunday's game.

"You have to give Tampa Bay credit," said Buffalo Coach Chuck Knox. "They made the play when they had to make it. I thought we would come down and use our field goal kicker. I thought we had a good shot at winning the game."

"We made a lot of mistakes from the missed extra point on," Knox said.

Herrera missed the extra point after Leaks' first touchdown, an 8-yard run in the first period. Leaks added a 3-yard touchdown run in the third period.

"It's hard to say you don't win on one play or another," Herrera said of his missed kick. "I don't think anyone on the team will blame me, but in my heart, I blame myself. I missed by about a foot, but it doesn't make any difference, when you miss, you miss."

Herrera later kicked a 49-yard field goal and quarterback Joe Ferguson scored on a 10-yard run with just over four minutes to play to cut Tampa's lead to one point.

Bill Capece rounded out Tampa's scoring with a 27-yard field goal in the second period.

The victory improved Tampa's record in the NFC to 3-4, while Buffalo dropped to 4-3 in the AFC.

Tampa moved the ball almost at will against the Bills, who came into the game as the NFL's top defensive team. The Bucs rushed for 138 yards, passed for 204, and scored three touchdowns against a Bills' defense that had allowed only four touchdowns in six games before going against Tampa.

"We made some yards rushing on a team they said we couldn't rush against," said Tampa Coach John McKay.

"We just made up our minds to run the ball," Snell said. "We had an aggressive game plan because they are an aggressive defensive team. We had to forget adversity and just get off the ball. Running on them was just a matter of attitude."

"We new we had to get a turnover on the last drive," Brown said of the hit on Cribbs. "We ran a double safety blitz. Lee Roy Selmon put a helluva lick on him. I cringed when Lee Roy hit the guy so hard."

"The fumble hurt us, no doubt about it," Ferguson said. "Selmon put his helmet right on the football. Anyone would fumble in that situation."

"They are a good-hitting team with active linebackers," Cribbs said.

The Buccaneers will be at home next Sunday against the Detroit Lions.

Elsewhere, Dallas topped New Orleans 21-7, Atlanta downed San Francisco 17-7, Tampa Bay nipped Buffalo 24-23, Baltimore tied Green Bay 20-20, Philadelphia crushed Houston 35-14, Minnesota beat Detroit 34-31, Kansas City clobbered Denver 37-16, New England stung Seattle 16-0, Cleveland shaded Pittsburgh 10-9, and St. Louis beat Chicago 10-7.

On Saturday, the Los Angeles Raiders beat the Los Angeles Rams 37-31 and Miami edged the New York Jets 20-19.

Cincinnati is at San Diego tonight.

5 County Teams Vie In Outlook

Oviedo Outlook Tournament Pairings

Tuesday's games:
4 p.m. Lake Howell vs. Lake Mary
5:30 p.m. Lyman vs. Lake Gibson
7 p.m. Oviedo vs. Zephyrhills
8:30 p.m. Lake Brantley vs. Vero Beach

By CHRIS FISTER
Herald Sports Writer

Five Seminole County basketball teams will be on hand Tuesday night as the Oviedo Outlook Christmas Tournament tips off at Seminole Community College.

Five different teams, five different styles of play. The host team, Oviedo's Lions, depend heavily on 6-4 senior Ron Murphy, Seminole County's finest prep player. Murphy scored 36 of the Lions' 61 points in its overtime victory against Wymore Tech Friday night.

Behind Murphy, the Lions, 4-3, have gotten strong performances from John Kewley, Darren Reichle, Bill McCartney and Gene Angel. If Murphy is on, and he usually is, Oviedo should be one of the favorites in the tourney.

The Lions will face Zephyrhills Tuesday night at 7.

A team that could be surprising is Lake Mary. The Rams, 4-1, have been a balanced ball club in its four wins but didn't get much from its big men Friday night in a 70-56 loss to New Smyrna Beach.

Lake Mary has a couple of pure shooters in Darryl Merthle and Fed Miller while Donald Grayson, Bobby Counts, Neal Wellon and Jeff Reynolds are tough underneath.

Guards Reginald Medlock and Billy Dunn, who recently joined the team after transferring from Tennessee, are capable of putting up some points too.

The Rams will face Lake Howell in the opening game Tuesday at 4 p.m. The winner advances to play the winner of the Oviedo-Zephyrhills game.

Lake Howell will be the "darkhawks" of the tourney as coach Greg Robinson's squad is looking for win number one. The Patrons will go up against Vero Beach Wednesday night at 8:30 with the winner advancing to play the winner of the Lyman-Lake Gibson game.

SCC Hosts Kaskaskia

When a team outshoots its opponent, 53-33 percent from the floor, the outcome of the game usually favors the hot-shooting team. But no matter how hot the team shoots, turnovers and injuries can ruin it.

Seminole Community College's Raiders, with Rudy Kulper (ankle), Kevin Jerry Smith (back) and Jimmy Payton (knee) all nursing injuries, committed 28 turnovers and dropped a 63-57 decision to Edison Junior College Saturday at Fort Myers.

"We didn't get any clutch performances, no leadership," SCC Coach Bill Payne said as his Raiders fell to 8-5.

"Whenever we needed a basket, we came down and made a mistake."

SCC came out blazing and built a 31-24 lead by halftime but the Raiders turned the ball over 13 times in the second half, enabling Edison to outscore SCC, 39-26 and claim the victory.

Keith Whitney led SCC with 18 points, Luis Phelps added 11 while Delvin

Silver Hawks, 0-5 and losers of 28 straight games, are led by guards Efreem Brooks and Spike Gordon. Brooks poured in a season-high 24 points against Lake Mary.

The Silver Hawks also look to 6-2 senior John Hamrick and have strength inside with 6-3 Fred McNeil and 6-3 Jeff Woods.

Lyman's Greyhounds will be using the Oviedo Outlook to straighten out a few kinks that have caused coach Tom Lawrence's troops to get off to a mediocre 2-3 start.

"We're looking forward to playing in this tournament," Lawrence said. "We will work Monday on straightening out a few things and hope to be ready."

Guards Alexis Cleveland and Rod Hillman and center Tom Felter have been the mainstays for the 'Hounds thus far in '82 and they will be in the starting lineup. The other two starting slots have not been determined yet.

Lyman will play Lake Gibson Wednesday at 5:30. The 'Hounds beat Lake Gibson in last year's Outlook tourney but, as Lawrence says, "One year can make a lot of difference."

Another team that could be surprising is the Lake Brantley Patriots. Coach Bob Peterson's squad got off to a fast start by winning its first three games, since then though, the Patriots have lost five straight, although a couple of those could just as easily have ended in Brantley's favor.

Paul Hoffman, 6-3 senior, has turned in an impressive start to the '82-83 season and will be a valuable asset if the Patriots are to challenge for the title.

Lake Brantley also depends on guards Mike Garrigues and Mike Evans along with Dennis Groseloco, Eric Trombo, Mark Shorey and Baron Ewing.

The Patriots will go up against Vero Beach Wednesday night at 8:30 with the winner advancing to play the winner of the Lyman-Lake Gibson game.

J.C. Basketball

Everett and Bernard Merthle chipped in 10 apiece. James Ashley led Edison with a game-high 19 points and Tommy Bowens netted 16.

SCC hosts Kaskaskia, Ill., tonight at 7:30 in its last game before the Christmas break.

Fouled out—Sutton. Technical—none.

Likens Edges Syvertson For 107-Pound Title

Smith Leads Lyman To Third

By SAM COOK
Herald Sports Editor

One year has made a big difference in the Lake Mary wrestling program. So has Jack Likens.

Likens, a feisty 107-pound junior, edged Bishop Moore's James Syvertson, 3-2, Saturday in a classic battle between saavy veterans to help the Rams to a sixth place finish in the Lyman Christmas Wrestling Tournament at Longwood.

"Last year we couldn't win a junior varsity tournament," said coach Frank Schwartz. "Now, we finish sixth in one of the top tournaments in the state. We've shown we can compete with the big boys."

And Likens, despite his 107 pounds, is one of the best of the big boys. Seeded second going into the tournament, the blond-haired grappler zipped through the preliminaries and then knocked off Oviedo's Shawn Knapp, 8-2, in the semifinals Saturday morning.

Likens, who was a two-time district champ for Lake Brantley the past two years although he's lived in the Lake Mary school district, has given the 5-1 Rams leadership throughout the year.

Saturday night, he was at his best. Likens opened the scoring with an arm-drag takedown one minute into the match for a 2-0 lead. It held up until the final 30 seconds when Syvertson escaped for a 2-1 match.

Likens started the second period on top and Syvertson escaped to pull even at 2-2. "There were excellent counters throughout the match," said Schwartz.

Syvertson, who is a master at riding his opponent, assumed control most of the third period until with just 10 seconds to go, Likens stood up and turned under to escape with the 3-2 victory.

"It looked like it was going into overtime," said Schwartz. "But Jack put a good move on him and got away just in time."

Prep Wrestling

Along with Likens, Lake Mary had three others make the final four. Unlimited Hobert Rawls placed second when he was pinned in 1:40 by Colonial's Tom Blanchard.

Rawls, a 6-9, 320-pound behemoth, had Blanchard, a 295-pounder, on his back early in the match, but was one foot out of bounds.

we finish sixth in one of the top tournaments in the state. We've shown we can compete with the big boys!

— Frank Schwartz

"With two guys that big, the first one on his back is usually done," said Schwartz. Ivan Carbia (100) broke loose in the last two periods to claim a 10-5 victory over Colonial's David Layman to take the consolation champion. Carbia held just a 5-4 edge, but added a takedown and a near fall to break away. Bob Olson (140) took a fourth place finish when he lost to Ernie Vega of Edgewater, 15-6. Vega whipped Olson in a dual meet last week too.

others by James Richardson (167) and James Taylor (222), propelled the Eagles to the team title with 141.5 points. Bishop Moore was second with 105 points while Lyman was an impressive third with 100 points. Oviedo (72.5) was eighth, Lake Brantley (64.5) 10th, Lake Howell (52) 13th and Seminole (25) 14th.

Senior Dirk Smith paced the Lyman showing with a pin of John Howerton in 2:33 at 187 pounds. Senior Mike Hill picked up a second-place finish when he lost to Taylor, 13-4.

Jay Hunziker (128) claimed a consolation championship while Joey Lockwood (121), Robert "Tootle" Quisenberry and Shane Harwell (167) all took fourth-place honors.

Lake Brantley's tough 147-pounder Bill Brucato decision top-seed Carlton Small from Evans, 7-3, for a third Seminole County title. Teammate Jamie Offenberger (114) was pinned to veteran Todd Saunders of Martin County in 1:25, but finished second.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Debose's 37 Points Lead Colts Over Jets

Bryan Debose pounded in 37 points and Charles Ruffing added 23 as McRobert's Tires Colts upended the Jets, 66-53 in Sanford Recreation Department Intermediate basketball action.

Both teams were playing a man short and the combination of Debose and Ruffing was too much for the Jets to handle. Kerry Hunter kept the Jets close in the first half with 18 points, he wound up with 37 points too. Travis Brown added 12 points for the Jets.

In other action, the Pamar Rams rallied to a 17-9 halftime advantage and went on to rout the Flagship Bank Eagles, 44-20.

Darell Wooden poured in 17 points, Steward Gordon added 12 and Roosevelt Wasing added 11 for the Rams. Ray Curry led the Eagles with 10 points and Albert Armstrong chipped in eight.

The Sanford Girls Sports Association still has many openings for its junior (ages 9-12) and intermediate (ages 13-15) basketball leagues.

Players will be assigned a team when they register. To register, one must bring verification of age to one of the following registration offices; the Recreation Department at City Hall, Sanford Civic Center Youth Wing or Westside Recreation Center. The cost is $5 ($10 non-resident fee) which includes shirts for each player to keep.

League play begins January 8th with all games played at Lakeview Middle School.

Gators Dump FSU, 84-63

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Florida Gators traveled into enemy territory Sunday with a losing record and were expected to take a beating from the 3-2 Florida State Seminoles.

But it worked out the other way around as the Gators' Vernon Delancy pumped in 29 points and Ronnie Williams added 19 Sunday to thump the Seminoles 84-63.

The Gators shot 65 percent and jumped out to a 12-point lead in the first half they never relinquished.

The hot shooting Gators hit 31 of 48 field goal attempts from the floor. The host Seminoles managed only 44 percent.

The Seminoles, now 3-3, were led by Tony William who scored 19, but he fouled out late in the second half.

Florida, now 3-4, also received double figures from Eugene McDowell, who had 16.

The Seminoles are still playing without their leading scorer, Mitchell Wiggins, who is out with mononucleosis.

Grether Sets Putt-Putt Mark

Sanford's Dave Grether shot a 31 under par, his best performance of the year and a new low for a three-round tournament, to win Wednesday's Putt-Putt Tournament at the Fern Park Putt-Putt Course. Grether had a three-round total of 77 on the par 108 course.

1. Dave Grether 37-37-25—77 (-31)
2. Gary English 28-28-28—84 (-24)
3. Joe Joyner 31-29-24—84 (-24)
4. Mike Pfeiffer 30-30-29—89 (-19)
5. Jim Haynes 31-32-28—91 (-17)

MVP Peggy Glass Leads Rams To Tourney Title

By CHRIS FISTER
Herald Sports Writer

A popular sports cliché is, "the boxscore doesn't tell the whole story," and that is true in many cases, for instance the Lake Mary-Westminster game in Fort Lauderdale Saturday for the Westminster Tournament title.

The Lady Rams' boxscore tells you that 6-2 center Laura Glass led the Rams with 17 points and sharpshooting guard Kim Averill added 10. What it doesn't tell you is that Peggy Glass pulled down 13 rebounds, Averill came up with seven steals, Lisa Gregory (who didn't score) handed out four assists and the contribution that Andrea Fenning made.

Lake Mary, who went up by nine at the half, saw its lead cut to two points, 22-20, with two minutes remaining in the third quarter. The Rams went to a full-court press and twice it was Fenning who coaxed Westminster's ballhandler to stop her dribble, and she hit two baskets off Westminster turnovers to give the Rams some breathing room and eventually leading to a 46-37 victory.

"When we went to the press Fenning did an excellent job stopping Westminster's dribble," Lake Mary coach Bill Moore said. "She (Fenning) hit a couple baskets and eventually, we went up by 17 in the fourth quarter."

Lake Mary's record now stands at 7-2 with three consecutive victories. Peggy

Glass was named Most Valuable Player at the Westminster tourney. In two games she scored 27 points and grabbed 25 rebounds. Laura Glass and Averill were named to the All-Tournament team.

The Lady Rams advanced to the finals against host Westminster by virtue of a 63-50 victory over Pope John Paul on Friday.

Lake Mary now takes the holidays off and will open in '83 against Lyman on Jan. 4th.

Porter Nets Wire-To-Wire Victory

Auto Racing

NEW SMYRNA BEACH — After dropping out with "under the hood ailments" two weeks in a row, while leading the race each time, late model pilot LeRoy Porter finally finished a feature at New Smyrna Speedway and he won it in wire to wire fashion. Porter was at the wheel of the Lewis Green Camaro which will run exclusively on Hoosier tires from now on.

Mike Howell drove the Southern Standard Builders Camaro to victory in the thunder car finale and Mike's car owner indicated that the team will be competing in the coming World Series of Asphalt Stock Car Racing.

Current street stock division's rookie of the year Rick Clouser took the lead on lap four and went on to win the main in his Sarno-Wickham Fina Oldsmobile, besting Tim Green, the Pratt's Radiators Camaro of Johnny Grainger, Benny Gibson and Doug Howard.

Four-cylinder victor was W. G. Watts, who also took the fast heat. Once again, top eliminator Dale Clouser dominated the spectator races. But stronger, better handling machines are making him work much harder for his money and he might not be on top much longer.

During the late-model finale, violent crashes sidelined Stan Rutland, Bearman Townsend, Buzzy Berry, Floyd Miner and, for the second week in a row, Smoky Yunick Jr. who had just finished rebuilding his race car from the firewall up.

Runner-up Mike Riley, who drove the TGR Racing Stables machine of Buck Holder, was followed by Billy Gatz, young Jim Brinkley Jr., Robert Knapp and Dan Eyanson. Heat winners were Lee Faulk and Gast.

In four cylinder action, Watts took the lead on lap two and went on to win, with much improved Paul Brasfield coming out on top of a tough three-way dogfight for second spot over Bob Clark and local auto repair shop owner Al Gray, Mike Shuman was fifth. Second heat winner was Mike Stroyeck.

This coming Saturday night, December 25th, End of the Month Championship events have been scheduled.

The super late-models will go for 50 laps, with the thunder cars, street stocks and four-cylinders also competing in extra-distance-extra-cash events on the, brightly-lit, high-banked, asphalt oval.

GIFTS OF LOVE

What can we give the teachers for Christmas? This question may have been asked by some 76 students attending the Sanford Pre-School Center at the First Presbyterian Church, their mothers and grandmothers. Under the direction of Connie Hill, an idea was born. Students in the three-day classes and kindergarten classes made drawings on squares of fabrics and mothers and grandmothers took the squares, pieced them together and came up with six quilts and one pillow. Teachers were presented the quilts Friday, Dec. 17, at the annual Christmas Party. Top photo shows, from left, Ryan Hall, 5, Betsy Cragg, Sherrill Thomas, Linda Brewer, Pat Hartwig and Joshua Stein, 4. Thrilled with their beautiful handmade quilts are kindergarten teachers and aides, lower photo, from left, Connie Hill, Eileen King, Anita Graves, Vicki Meriwether and Denise Stein, parent.

SP School Principal Bid Farewell

Sterling Park Elementary students had a real surprise in store for their principal, Marion T. Giannini, who will be leaving her job as principal on Dec. 20 to take a new job as Director of Elementary Education in Seminole County. As she was escorted into the assembly, the advanced recorder ensemble played "Hail to the Chief," and as if that wasn't enough the chorus sang one of her favorite songs, "Goose Peas."

The Art Club, under the direction of Mrs. Lisa Von Komecce, presented Ms. G with a hand drawn eagle, representing the Sterling Park Eagles.

Michael Townsley, assistant principal, will be taking over as the new principal of Sterling Park. No new assistant principal has been named as of yet.

The Winter Springs Elementary held its annual Christmas parade through the pods on Dec. 17. The fifth grade pod presented a skit entitled, "Christmas at the O K Corral," which was led by Janice Papp.

On Dec. 15 Tim McKenna brought his ham radio equipment to Red Bug Elementary where he put in a call to Santa Claus at the North Pole. Santa answered several questions for the children, such as how does his reindeer fly and how does he get into houses on Christmas Eve. He also told the children a half hour story about how Rudolph got his red nose. The children could hear Mrs. Claus in the background scolding Rudolph. It seems Rudolph was being mischievous.

Tim is the husband of Red Bug's secretary, Barbara. On Dec. 16 the children were entertained by the Steven Puppets with a show entitled "Beauty and the Beast."

What would the Christmas Holidays be without parties? Red Bug's children were treated first to a movie, Rudolph, and then each pod had a holiday party.

Speaking of the McKennas, Barbara says they will stay home for Christmas and all four of their children will be home with them. Daughter Karen, is a senior at FSU and she too will be home the holidays with the other children. The McKennas plan on lots of goodies and a great old-fashioned family Christmas.

Happy birthday to Jeff Stewart who turned 18 on Dec. 14, and to Kitty Sunday who has a birthday on Dec. 22.

A get well wish goes out to Regina La Clair who is recovering from surgery. Regina's husband, Don, manages the Cumberland Farms store in Winter Springs, and Regina often helps him out in the store.

Another "get well wish" goes out to Max Gatrell who also has had surgery for the second time in six weeks. Get well Max.

Tuskawilla Middle School's seventh grade team four took a field trip to Sea World on Dec. 17.

Approximately 150 students went on the trip.

Ana Copeland graduated from SCC with an AS in secretarial science. Congratulations, Ana. Me too. I finally made it through SCC after three years.

We have several wedding anniversaries in December. Bill and Leona Timbrook, Dec. 9; Tom and Molly Nichol, Dec. 10, 46 years; John and Doris Richard, Dec. 14, 47 years; Roland and Jessie Liebman, Dec. 15, 45 years; Harry and Harriet Immel, Dec. 17, 55 years; Max and Corrine Levy, Dec. 7; Ed and Jeanne Winsor, Dec. 28; Earl and Eileen Kinsey, Dec. 27; John and Margaret Phillips, Dec. 27, 46 years; Mike and Didge Hughes, Dec. 22, 41 years; Elmer and Virginia Goble, Dec. 24; Les and Jan Uhler, Dec. 30, 40 years; and Steve and Alice Razzo, Dec. 31, 43 years.

Happy birthday to Richard Reed, Dec. 20; Erma Sherman, Dec. 21; Helen Burnett Dec. 22; Sara Kastelic, Dec. 22; Ruth Mittleman, Dec. 23 and Herbert Whittington Dec. 26.

I'd like to take this time to wish all my readers a very Merry Christmas and Happy Hanukkah. May all your wishes come true, and may Santa fill your stocking with good health, good luck, and most of all, good friends.

This flash just came from the Winter Springs Fire Department: Chief Charles Holzman says if there are enough volunteers and manpower available and you keep your ears and eyes tuned in your may see and hear Santa Claus and Christmas Carols coming from a fire truck as it passes past your house on either Wednesday, Thursday or Friday.

If they happen by, go out and wish them a Merry Christmas.

Help Can Be Found For Transsexuals

DEAR ABBY: I would like to express my thanks for all the kind words and support you have given to transsexuals over the years. (A transsexual is a person genetically of one sex with a psychological urge to belong to the opposite sex — an urge sometimes so overwhelming that it leads to a sex-change operation.) While addressing a national convention of electrologists recently, I was frequently asked, "Where should we refer our transsexual clients?"

In the past, Abby, you have recommended the Janus Information Facility as an information and counseling source for transvestites and transsexuals.

It might be helpful to provide your readers with other sources, since thousands are seeking help.

General Information Service: Janus Information Facility, 1952 Union, San Francisco, Calif. 94123.

Treatment Programs: Gender Dysphoria Program of Orange County, Inc. (a non-profit corporation), 31815 Camino Capistrano, Suite L, San Juan Capistrano, Calif. 92675.

Gender Dysphoria Program, 2126 1/2 The Strand, Galveston, Texas 77550. CONFIDE Personal

Dear Abby

Counseling Services, Inc., Box 56, Tappan, N.Y. 10983. Individuals requesting information should include a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Again, Abby, thanks for your help and understanding over the years.

CHRISTINE JORGENSEN
DEAR CHRISTINE JORGENSEN: Because the whole subject of transsexuals has been so universally misunderstood and those who need help don't know where to get it, I am printing your letter.

Read on for a letter that will make your day:

DEAR ABBY: This is truly a story with a happy ending, which I hope you will print for others who might be suffering as much as I was. After years of anguish and worry, wondering what was causing my son's unhappiness, nine months ago, at age 32, he confided to me that he was a transsexual and had made his decision that he must finally live the truth and become what he was mentally and psychologically intended to be — a female.

At first I suffered guilt, shame, confusion, fear, and I even went into mourning for the son I had lost. But then, the love for my child transcended these feelings, and above all, I realized that he needed my love, and support more than ever. He had already sought the necessary psychological counseling and hormonal therapy, and four months ago he successfully underwent the sex-change surgery.

I now have a happy daughter, at peace with herself, and it fills me with joy to hear her laughter — something I have never heard before.

HAPPY MOTHER IN CALIFORNIA

Florida Grapefruit Gives Sparkle To Elegant Holiday Table

What is more spectacular on a holiday table than a frill-topped, gala Crown Roast of Pork?

The return to elegance we're enjoying in 1982 heralds the return of the Crown Roast of Pork, a much more affordable cut of meat than a similar lamb roast but with such a regal air that it will grace many a festive table in the days ahead.

This succulent, showy switch from the usual holiday turkey can be stuffed with a hearty vegetable such as a nut-flavored brown rice, and treated to the light and bright flavor of Florida grapefruit used in various ways.

A Crown Roast of Pork is easily dealt with: just roast it in the oven, with the bone ends wrapped in foil to keep them from burning.

The brown rice picks up a delectable flavor from onions, mushrooms, chicken broth, herbs and — surprise — fresh grapefruit juice. The refreshing taste of the fresh juice and the peeled, plump sections of a thin-skinned but heavy Florida grapefruit add piquant flavor to the pecan-nutted rice. Besides, what more delicious way to get that all-important vitamin C into your meal?

The brown rice is first prepared separately and then stuffed into the roast for another hour's cooking. Green watercress, pale yellow grapefruit sections and rosy crab apples are used to garnish your roast and holiday platter with tempting color.

Chutney is an imaginative choice to serve with a Crown Roast, but your collection of chutney recipes might not include so spirited a one as Ocala Fruited Chutney, a tasty medley of fruits and spices brightened by the tartness of fresh grapefruit.

A Crown Roast of Pork just by itself is a thing of beauty. Super-glamorize it by "going grapefruit" with flavor and color and you make it a four-star holiday event.

FESTIVE

CROWN ROAST

- 5 pound crown roast of pork
- 1 clove garlic
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 1 large onion, chopped (1 cup)
- 1/2 pound fresh mushrooms, sliced
- 1 cup brown rice or bulgur
- 1 can (13 3/4 ounces) chicken broth (1 3/4 cups)
- 1/2 cup Florida grapefruit juice
- 1/2 teaspoon dried leaf thyme
- 1/4 teaspoon dried rosemary
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 3 Florida grapefruit, peeled and sectioned
- 1/2 cup chopped pecans
- 1/2 cup chopped fresh parsley

Watercress
Crab apples
Rub inside and outside of roast with garlic; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Place on rack in shallow roasting pan, with rib ends up. Place crushed aluminum foil in center cavity to help keep crown shape; cover rib ends with aluminum foil. Insert meat thermometer into meaty part of crown. Roast in a 325 degree F. oven 1 1/2 hours. Meanwhile, melt butter in large saucepan; saute onion, mushrooms and rice until vegetables are crisp-tender and rice is done. Add broth, grapefruit juice, thyme, rosemary and pepper. Bring to a boil. Cover. Reduce heat. Simmer 15 to 20 minutes, stirring occasionally, until all liquid is absorbed. Stir in grapefruit sections, pecans and parsley. Remove pork from oven. Remove foil from cavity. Spoon rice stuffing in center of crown. Cover with foil. Return to oven. Roast 1 hour longer or until meat thermometer registers 185 degrees F. To serve, place roast on platter. Remove all foil. Garnish with watercress, additional grapefruit sections and crab apples. Yield: 8 to 8 servings.

OCALA FRUITY CHUTNEY

- 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1/4 cup cider vinegar
- 2 Florida grapefruit, peeled and cut into chunks
- 1 apple, cored, peeled and chopped
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 1/2 cup golden raisins
- 1/2 cup chopped, dried apricots

- 2 tablespoons chopped, candied ginger
- 1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon hot pepper sauce
- In medium saucepan combine sugar and vinegar. Stir over low heat until sugar dissolves. Add grapefruit, apple, onion, raisins, apricots, ginger, cinnamon, salt and pepper sauce. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat. Simmer 1 hour, until thickened, stirring occasionally. Serve hot or cold. Yield: 2 cups.

LUSCIOUS GRAPEFRUIT—PINEAPPLE PIE

- 1 can (8 ounces) crushed pineapple
- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
- 2 1/2 cups Florida grapefruit sections, divided
- 1 can (14 ounces) sweetened condensed milk
- 2 egg whites
- 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar

- 1 cup toasted coconut divided
- 1 9-inch baked pie shell
- Drain pineapple; reserve
- See TABLE, Page 3B

Appetizer For Special Party

Pear slices wrapped with prosciutto or thinly sliced cooked ham make excellent dippers for a party. Make a zesty dip of sour cream, horseradish and dry mustard for this combination.

Also, prosciutto pears makes a good appetizer for a special lunch or dinner. Arrange on a salad platter on lettuce leaves.

PROSCIUTTO PEARS WITH HORSE RADISH DIP

- 3 fresh Western Bartlett pears
- lemon juice
- 1/2 pound very thinly sliced prosciutto or cooked ham
- 1/2 cup dairy sour cream
- 1 tablespoon prepared cream-style horseradish

1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
dash salt

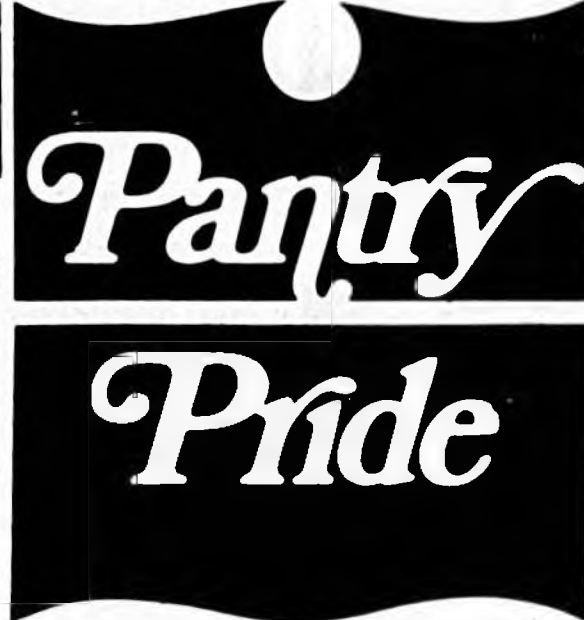

Core and slice pears; cut each slice in half crosswise. Dip slices in lemon juice. Cut prosciutto or ham into long strips about 1 1/2 inches wide. Wrap strips around pear slices; secure with wooden picks. Combine remaining ingredients. Serve as a dip with pears. Makes about 4 dozen appetizers.

liquid. Add enough water, if necessary, to measure 1/4 cup. In a small saucepan, combine pineapple liquid and gelatine. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until gelatine is dissolved. Cut 2 cups of grapefruit sections into small pieces. In medium bowl combine grapefruit pieces, crushed pineapple and condensed milk; mix well. Stir in gelatine mixture. In small bowl of electric mixer combine egg whites and cream of tartar. Beat until still peaks form. Fold egg whites into grapefruit mixture. Sprinkle 1/2 cup toasted coconut in bottom of pie shell. Spoon grapefruit mixture over coconut. Chill until firm. To serve, garnish pie with remaining 1/2 cup grapefruit sections and remaining 1/2 cup toasted coconut. Yield: One 9-inch pie.

BREEZEWAY PARFAITS
3 egg yolks
one-third cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 cup milk, scalded
1 teaspoon almond extract
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
2 Florida grapefruit, peeled and sectioned
1 package (10 ounces) frozen strawberries in syrup, thawed
In small bowl beat egg yolks and sugar until thick and lemony colored. Add cornstarch. Gradually stir in milk. Transfer mixture to small saucepan. Cook over medium heat until mixture boils; boil 1 minute, stirring gently with a wire whisk. Remove from heat. Stir in almond extract. Chill. Fold in whipped cream. In container of electric blender process strawberries until smooth. Alternately spoon pudding mixture, grapefruit sections and strawberry puree into 4 parfait or dessert dishes. Garnish with additional grapefruit section, if desired. Yield: 4 servings.

STEAMED HOLIDAY PUDDING
2 cups unsifted all-purpose flour
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon ground mace
1/2 cup diced pitted dates
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1 egg, beaten
3/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted
3 Florida grapefruit, peeled and sectioned
In large bowl sift together flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt and mace. Toss dates and nuts with a few tablespoons of the flour mixture; set aside. Dice enough grapefruit sections to measure 1 cup. In medium bowl combine egg, sugar, butter and diced grapefruit sections; mix well. Stir grapefruit mixture into flour mixture just until blended. Fold in dates and nuts. Spoon batter into an 8-cup steamed pudding mold which has been heavily buttered and sprinkled with sugar. Cover tightly with lid. Place the mold on a rack in a large kettle or saucepot. Add boiling water to half the height of the mold. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat, cover, simmer 2 hours. Remove from kettle; remove lid; let stand 1 minutes. Unmold onto serving platter. Serve with remaining grapefruit sections and Spirited Hard Sauce. Yield: 10 to 12 servings.

SPIRITED HARD SAUCE
3/4 cup butter or margarine
2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
1/4 cup Florida grapefruit juice
1 teaspoon imitation brandy extract
In small bowl of electric mixer cream butter and sugar. Add grapefruit juice and brandy extract; beat until light and creamy. Yield: About 2 cups.

Reader Seeks Help For Chronic Colitis

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — Several months ago I had diarrhea and a little blood with other discomforts. The doctor did a procto and I had colon X-rays. He said I had chronic ulcerative colitis and put me on Azulfidine and I am still on it.

My right side hurts but my worst problem is this terrible feeling in my rectum. I feel like I have to have a bowel movement all the time. I am careful about what I eat and I drink no coffee or tea. I do not have diarrhea anymore but I am a nervous person and really worry about this so much that I don't sleep well. What can I do to get rid of this terrible feeling? Are there other medications that are more helpful?

DEAR READER — Considering the problems that can occur with ulcerative colitis, I think you are doing rather well. Azulfidine is one of the best medicines available for the treatment of ulcerative colitis. It has been known to enable a person to have a remission (no diarrhea) for years.

Some doctors think that if you stop it that you may have a recurrence of problems because they have observed this happen with cases that have been in remission for years.

There are other medicines that can be used if the circumstances warrant it. Even steroid hormones are used but if you are doing well, perhaps you should stay with your present program.

A large number of patients with diarrhea from ulcerative colitis also have an intolerance to milk and milk products. They fail to produce enough lactase enzyme and cannot digest the double sugar, lactose, found in milk. In these patients milk and milk products may cause a recurrence of the symptoms of ulcerative colitis. If you avoid milk, though, you must have some supplemental calcium.

There are many other causes of diarrhea besides ulcerative colitis. I'm sending you The Health Letter 13-8, What You Need To Know About Diarrhea. Others can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

If you continue to do well you would be classed as having a mild case of ulcerative colitis and should not have any serious complications. Reassurance and time may enable you to feel less anxious about your problem.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Is there any way to medically suppress the male sex drive? I am an active healthy 38-year-old husband of a slim, attractive mother of three. She is 35.

For me, one to three times a week seems sufficient but once a month or less is for her. As you can see, this is a source of friction for us. Life would be somewhat more productive for me, and less frustrating, without the frequent attack of desire.

DEAR READER — Your desire for sex is about average. If things are as you describe your wife is on the low end of the curve. You don't need something to decrease your normal sex drive. Medicines such as female hormones would cause other problems you wouldn't like.

BUT, you need to find out why your wife is not more interested. Perhaps it is something you are doing or not doing either in the bedroom or outside it. You may need some work on your basic relationship. Seeing a professional counselor might be helpful.

HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL

For Tuesday December 21, 1982

YOUR BIRTHDAY

Dec. 21, 1982
You are likely to do more traveling for fun purposes this coming year than you have for quite a while. Your trips are apt to be of short duration, but they will include pleasant adventures.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your mate's way of handling family funds today could be better than yours, so if practical suggestions are offered don't turn a deaf ear to them. New predictions for the year following your birthday are now ready. Send $1 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date. Send an additional $2 for the NEW Astro-Graph Matchmaker wheel and booklet. Reveals romantic combinations and compatibilities for all signs.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Stick to procedures today which, you know from experience, will produce desirable results. It's not a good day to experiment with untested methods.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Well-intentioned friends could offer you business advice today which might not serve your best interests. Take their counsel with a grain of salt.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Timing is very important today regarding something you hope to accomplish. If you jump in prematurely, it could set you back rather than move you ahead.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Your career hunches are likely to be on target today, but your insights in other areas could be off the mark. Be careful.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Business and pleasure may not make a good mix today, so think twice before involving your social contacts in your commercial interests.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Persons you have helped will be helpful to you today, but if you seek the aid of individuals who you have rejected, they're apt to turn you down.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Treat everyone with consideration today. Don't step out of character and behave haughtily to one in a subversive position.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) As long as you stay within familiar realms today, your results will be rewarding. However, if you experiment in new fields it may be a different story.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) This isn't a good day to make snap decisions about important family matters. Take lots of time to weigh the alternatives before rendering a judgment.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Unless you are extremely watchful and prudent in money matters today, you are likely to spend for things which you could easily do without.

WIN AT BRIDGE

where you would want to use four no-trump as a no-trump raise.

Jim: "If you want to put Gerber in your own bidding kit, just use it in immediate response to opening no-trump bids. Later on you and your favorite partners may want to add other cases of four clubs as an artificial request for aces."

Oswald: "In using Gerber you should definitely play that the response of four diamonds shows either zero or four aces, four hearts shows one, four spades two and four no-trump shows three. Then if you wish you can follow with five clubs to ask for kings."

Jim: "Without Gerber North might well decide to raise his partner's no-trump right to six. The odds favor finding three aces as part of South's high cards. With Gerber at his disposal North bids four clubs and South rebids four spades to show exactly two aces."

Oswald: "North checks to make sure he has heard correctly and proceeds to bid four no-trump for the final contract. The 4-0 spade break would hold a spade declarer to four, but 11 tricks come in easily in no-trump."

Spread An Elegant Table The Easy Way

Long hours over the hot stove and painstaking time at the chopping board was the price yesterday's hostess paid to appease appetites, warm hearts and gladden eyes. Today the beauty and quality of fine food and warming drinks can be achieved quickly and easily. Even the elegance of a pate can be food processed or blenderized, shaped and garnished in a matter of minutes. Add a make-ahead brown, gold and white cheese log and you have a treat fit for the most discriminating palates.

Let the light of a fireplace or candles play twinkling games on sparkling glassware. Lace both the pate and the cheese with the universal spirit, California brandy. Use toasted Oregon hazelnuts (filberts) to impart a flavorful crunchiness and serve with steaming mugs of coffee enhanced with brandy and spices or lemon.

Don't worry about labels as you shop for ingredients. Just make sure the brandy is not an import which tends to be heavier in body and more traditionally made for sipping straight than for mixing. Use fragrantly flavored, full-bodied Brazilian fresh-ground coffee if you are near a store that grinds coffee. If not, blended coffee from your supermarket will do — nearly all blends contain the classical Brazilian bean and go deliciously with the light flavor of California brandy.

Oregon hazelnuts impart a unique haute cuisine flavor and texture to the pate and cheese log. So why not serve them, toasted and salted, to complete the unusual party snack tray?

It is helpful to have the right glassware — whether for a steaming beverage cup, dessert drink or nut bowl. — to add sparkle and warmth to a winter evening.

BRANDIED OREGON HAZELNUT PATE

1 pound braunschweiger
1 cup ground hazelnuts (filberts)
2 hard cooked eggs
¼ cup minced parsley
¼ cup California brandy
¼ cup butter or margarine
3 green onions, chopped

Place all ingredients in food processor or blender (This may require two batches, depending on your blender.) Puree until smooth. Pack into tureen or crock and refrigerate until serving time. Makes 2-½ cups of pate.

CHEERY CHEESE LOG

1 pound sharp cheddar cheese, shredded
3 tablespoon soft butter or margarine
½ teaspoon curry powder
1 8-ounce package of cream cheese, softened
¼ cup California brandy
¾ cup ground hazelnuts
1 tablespoon finely chopped green onions

Combine cheddar cheese, butter and curry powder, beating until smooth. In a separate bowl, blend cream cheese with brandy, ¼ cup of the hazelnuts and the green onions. Form the cheddar cheese mixture into an eight-inch by two-inch rectangle and spread the cream cheese mix over it. Roll up the long way. Then roll the log over the remaining chopped hazelnuts and refrigerate. Remove the cheese log about 30 minutes before serving time so it can soften.

Hazelnuts should be roasted before serving or using in recipes. If you buy them pre-shelled in a package, they are most likely to have a rich, deep brown color and robust taste indicating they have already been roasted. But if you shell your own or buy a package labeled "raw" hazelnuts or filberts, you can roast them in a 275-degree oven in a shallow pan for 20 to 30 minutes. (until their skins crack) or cook them 3 to 4 minutes on full power in a microwave. One pound of unshelled hazelnuts yields about 1-½ cups of nut meats. Roast hazelnuts for full flavor.

BRANDY BLAZER

3 ounces California brandy
1 tablespoon honey
Hot coffee to fill
Lemon peel

Combine brandy and honey in a pre-heated, heavy stemmed goblet. Pour in hot coffee and stir until the honey is dissolved. Twist the lemon peel over the blazer and use it for garnish. The brandy blazer should be steaming hot and sipped slowly. It is shown here in a 12-ounce Libbey Chivalry Viva Grande glass. Serves 1.

BRANDY VELVET

1-½ ounces California brandy
2 ounces strong cold coffee
1-½ ounces chocolate syrup
2 No. 8 size scoops of coffee ice cream
Shaved chocolate for topping

Combine brandy, coffee and chocolate syrup. Whirl in blender (or beat with an electric or rotary beater) with one scoop of ice cream just until blended. Pour into a glass and top with the second scoop of ice cream sprinkled with chocolate. Drink is shown here in a 12-ounce Libbey Chivalry Tulip Goblet. Serves 1.

SIERRA TODDY

4 ounces hot coffee
1 rounded teaspoon brown sugar
dash of powdered cinnamon
2 ounces California brandy
1 stick of cinnamon
1 thin lemon slice
cloves for garnish

Combine coffee, sugar, powdered cinnamon and brandy in a heavy glass. Stir and add cinnamon stick and lemon slice stuck with two or three cloves. Shown here in a Libbey 9-½ ounce Glass Pot which matches the large size nut bowl in background. Serves 1.

CAPISTRANO COFFEE

1-½ ounces California brandy
1 teaspoon chocolate syrup
1 teaspoon brown sugar
¼ teaspoon vanilla
dash cinnamon
4 ounces hot coffee
Sweetened Whipped Cream

Stir brandy, chocolate syrup, sugar, vanilla and cinnamon together in a glass mug. Pour in hot coffee. Top with sweetened whipped cream. Shown here in a Libbey 8-½ ounce "After Dinner" Coffee Mug. Serves 1.

SWEET CHOCOLATE WALNUT CAKE

1 package (4 oz.) sweet cooking chocolate
¾ cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup butter or margarine
1 ⅓-cup granulated sugar
4 eggs yolks
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup milk
1 cup finely chopped walnuts
4 egg whites
½ cup butter or margarine
1 cup firmly packed brown sugar

1 ⅓-cup (about) flaked coconut
1-3rd cup light cream or half and half

Melt chocolate in saucepan over very low heat, stirring constantly; then cool. Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Cream 1 cup butter. Gradually beat in granulated sugar and continue beating until light and fluffy. Add egg yolks, one at a time, beating well after each. Blend in chocolate and vanilla. Add flour mixture alternately with milk, beginning and ending with flour mixture. Fold in nuts. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; fold into batter. Pour into well-greased and floured 13x9-inch pan. Bake at 350 degrees for about 50 to 55 minutes, or until cake tester inserted into center comes out clean. Cool in pan 15 minutes. Remove from pan and finish cooling on rack.

Meanwhile, melt ½ cup butter in saucepan. Stir in brown sugar, coconut and cream. Mix well and let stand 5 minutes. Spread on cake; then place cake in preheated broiler and broil until bubbly and lightly browned.

Desserts Flavored With Exotic Caribbean Taste

When two glories of continental dessert-making — the Napoleon and the bombe — are flavored with the taste of the Caribbean, the results are masterful.

CocoRibe, the unique coconut-flavored rum liqueur, brings a tropical taste to these European classics, making them perfect finales to the holiday dessert table.

The elegant Napoleon's appeal becomes even greater with a coconut-hinted custard filling. The flakiness of the Napoleon, which in France is called Mille-Feuille — a thousand leaves — serves as a terrific counterpoint for the custard. Using a prepared frozen puff pastry makes the dessert quick and easy to prepare, even for the novice cook.

The Italian bombe family has been enriched with the invention of Bombe Angelina, a spectacular showpiece with looks that belie its ease. The key is in marinating the pound cake base in coconut rum liqueur. The marinated cake is later filled with a velvety ricotta cheese mixture enlivened with bits of chocolate and glaceed fruit. Bombe Angelina has the added advantage of advance preparation, a terrific boon for the busy holiday cook.

Both desserts are festive and delicious ways to celebrate the season and are wonderful enough to be cause for celebration on their own.

NAPOLEON

- 1 pre-rolled sheet frozen puff pastry, thawed according to package directions
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 4 egg yolks
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1 tablespoon butter, melted
- 1-3rd cup plus 1 to 2 tablespoons coconut rum liqueur
- 1/2 cup confectioners' sugar
- 1 tablespoon melted chocolate

Roll pastry sheet on a floured surface 18 x 11 inches. Cut crosswise to make 8 rectangles, about 3 x 11 inches; place on an ungreased baking sheet. Do not prick. Bake in a 350 degree F. oven 20 to 22 minutes. Cool. In top of double boiler, over direct heat, bring milk to a boil. In small mixer bowl beat egg yolks with sugar until a ribbon forms. Beat in flour. Gradually add milk to egg mixture, beating constantly. Return to top of double boiler. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until mixture is very thick and smooth. Pour butter on top and cool to room temperature. Stir in 1-3rd cup liqueur. Chill. Split each baked pastry sheet lengthwise along the seam, making 12 sheets in all. Spread about 1/4 cup custard on one sheet; cover with second sheet, cut side up. Spread with custard. Add another sheet and another layer of custard; finish with a fourth sheet, rounded side up. Repeat with remaining ingredients.

Each strip should have 4 layers of pastry and 3 layers of custard. In small bowl combine confectioners' sugar and just enough of the remaining 2 tablespoons liqueur to make mixture of spreading consistency. Spread sugar glaze on top layer of pastry. Drizzle chocolate over glaze. With serrated knife cut each strip in 3 pieces. Chill before serving.

YIELD: 9 Napoleons.

BOMBE ANGELINA

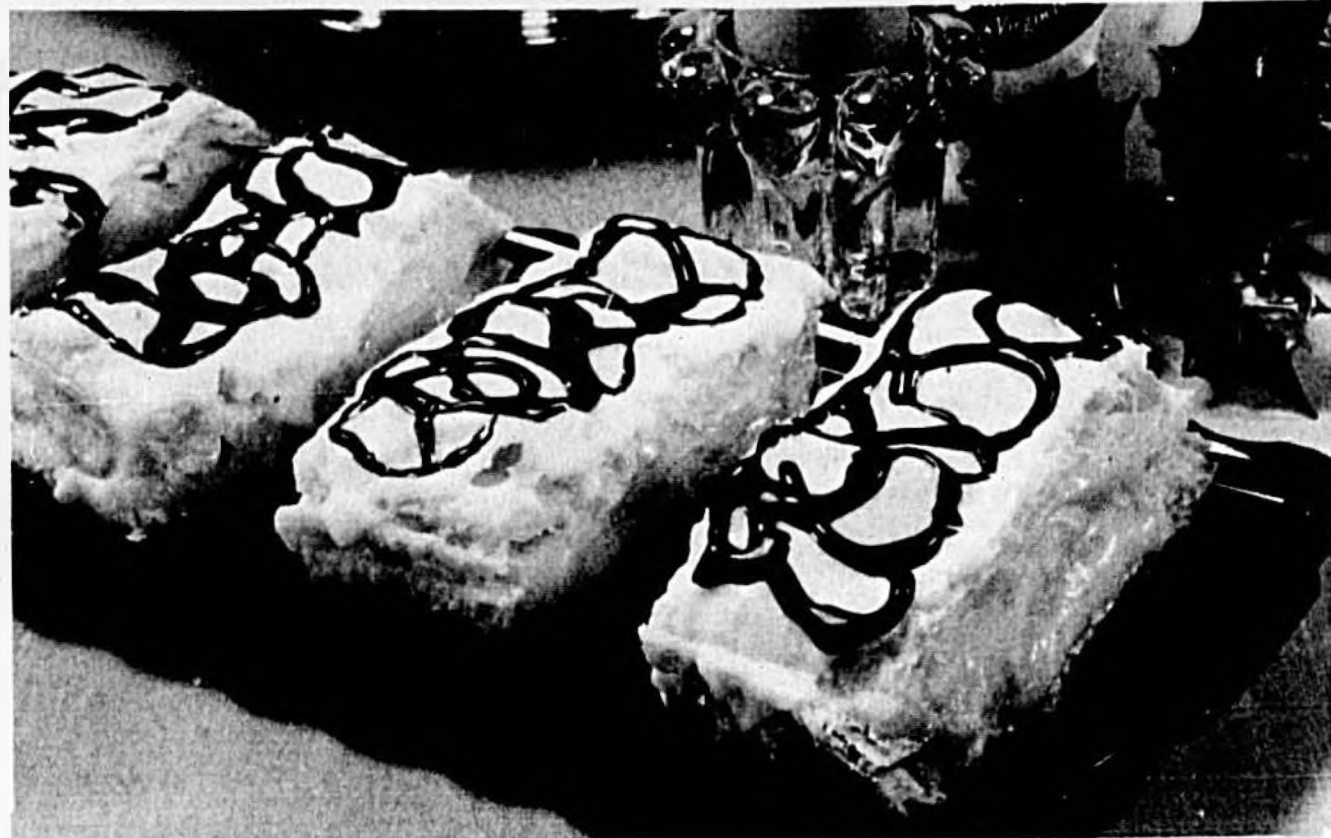

- 1/4 cup glaceed fruit
- 1/4 cup miniature chocolate morsels
- 1/2 cup plus 2 tablespoons coconut rum liqueur, divided
- 2 cups ricotta cheese
- 1/2 cup confectioners' sugar
- 1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
- 1 pound cake, cut lengthwise in 6 slices

Frosting

In medium bowl combine glaceed fruit, chocolate morsels and 1/2 cup liqueur. Let stand 1/2 hour. Stir in cheese and sugar; fold in whipped cream. Line a 1 1/2-quart mixing bowl with about 2 1/2 slices of cake, cutting the pieces to fit the shape of the bowl. Sprinkle cake with the remaining 2 tablespoons liqueur. Spoon half the cheese mixture over the cake. Cover with 1 1/2 cake slices; add remaining cheese mixture. Top with remaining cake. Place a dish with a weight on it over the cake to press all ingredients together. Chill overnight. To serve, loosen cake from bowl; invert onto serving place. Frost with Cream Frosting (below). Garnish with glaceed fruit. YIELD: 10 to 12 servings

CREAM FROSTING:

- 1/2 cup heavy cream
 - 1 tablespoon coconut rum liqueur
 - 1 tablespoon confectioners' sugar
- In small mixer bowl combine all ingredients; beat until thick.

Napoleon adds new dimension to holiday entertaining.

Serve Guests Curried Dip, Chicken Pate

Guests enjoy munchies during the cocktail hour, whether the cocktails are alcoholic or not.

You can make your own tasty chicken vegetable pate and a curried chicken dip for your next party without breaking your budget.

Serve with toast triangles or rounds and crackers.

CHICKEN VEGETABLE PATE

- 1/2 cup col water
- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
- 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed tomato soup
- 1 cup sour cream
- 1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese, softened
- 2 cans (5 ounces each) chunk chicken
- 1 cup finely chopped zucchini squash
- 1/2 cup chopped green onion
- 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- 1/2 teaspoon dried basil leaves, crushed
- 1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
- Generous dash pepper

In small saucepan over cold water, sprinkle gelatin. Cook over low heat, stirring until gelatin is dissolved. Blend in tomato soup. In large bowl, gradually blend sour cream into cream cheese, soup mixture and add remaining ingredients. Pour into 6-cup mold. Refrigerate until set. To serve, unmold onto serving platter. If desired, make wreath on top of mold using finely chopped parsley and pimiento "bows." Serve with toast cut-outs or crackers.

CURRIED CHICKEN DIP

- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 cup chopped mushrooms
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1 large clove garlic, minced
- 1/2 teaspoon curry powder
- 2 cans (5 ounces each) chunk chicken
- 2 hard-cooked eggs, quartered
- 1/4 cup chopped carrot
- 1/4 cup chopped parsley
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- 1/4 cup mayonnaise

In 2-quart saucepan in hot butter over medium heat, brown mushrooms and cook onion and garlic with curry powder until tender, stirring often. Pour into electric blender or food processor. Add chicken and egg. Blend until almost smooth.

Add carrot and parsley. Blend until almost smooth. Blend in lemon juice and mayonnaise. Spoon into decorative crock. Cover with plastic wrap and chill overnight. Serve surrounded with rye rounds or crackers. May also be served with raw vegetables. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 3 cups.

Traditions Of Many Lands Blend For The Holidays

Classic sauerbraten uses a grapefruit marinade.

Sauerbraten is a classic Austrian and German dish that relies upon a special but simple marinade to tenderize cuts of beef.

This marinade uses the tenderizing qualities of citrus such as grapefruit juice. For a decorative touch, serve with red cabbage in a grapefruit shell.

Whipped potatoes, roast potatoes or spatzle (tiny noodles) go well with sauerbraten.

GRAPEFRUIT SAUERBRATEN

1 5-pound boneless bottom round, chuck or rump roast
1 can (6 ounces) frozen grapefruit juice concentrate, reconstituted

1 cup dry red wine (or red wine vinegar)
Brown sugar
1 tablespoon mixed pickling spices
2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon peppercorns
2 bay leaves
1 medium onion, sliced
1/2 cup gingersnap crumbs
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup sour cream
Grapefruit sections (optional)

To Marinate: Place meat in earthenware, glass or enamelware bowl. Combine grapefruit juice, wine, 1/4 cup packed brown sugar, pickling spices, salt, peppercorns, bay leaves and onion in medium saucepan and bring to boil. Pour over meat; cool. Cover and marinate in refrigerator two days, turning twice a day.

To Cook: Remove meat from marinade; pat dry with paper towels. Brown meat on all sides in deep kettle, fat side down first. Add marinade. Cover and cook 3 to 3 1/2 hours, or until meat is tender, turning occasionally. Remove meat to heated platter; keep warm. Strain marinade; return to kettle and bring to a boil. Blend in gingersnap crumbs, 3 to 4 tablespoons brown sugar, packed, and raisins. Cook, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened. Remove from heat; blend in sour cream. Turn into heated gravy boat. Slice meat, garnish with grapefruit sections and serve with gravy. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 8 to 10 servings; 5 cups gravy.

RED CABBAGE IN GRAPEFRUIT HALVES

4 small grapefruit
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/4 cup chopped onion
2 teaspoons salt
1/4 cup packed brown sugar
2 quarts shredded red cabbage (1 large cabbage)

To prepare grapefruit, cut in half. If seeded, flick out seeds with knife tip or a fork. Cut around each section. Remove sections and retain sections and juice. Remove core and dividing membrane. Heat butter in large kettle; add onion and cook until tender. Stir in salt, brown sugar and 1/4 cup grapefruit juice saved from sectioning halves. Add cabbage; cover and simmer 30 minutes. Add grapefruit sections and heat through. Spoon cabbage into grapefruit shells to serve. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 8 servings.

ALMOND PANETTONE

1 cup whole blanched almonds
2 packages active dry yeast
1/4 cup warm water
1/2 cup boiling milk
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
3 large eggs, beaten
2 teaspoons grated lemon peel
4 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 cup golden raisins, coarsely chopped
1/4 cup citron, coarsely chopped

Chop 1/2 cup almonds. Grind remaining almonds to a fine meal in electric blender, Mouli mill or food grinder with fine blade. Soften yeast with warm water. Pour hot milk over butter, sugar and salt. Stir until butter melts; cool to lukewarm. Add eggs, lemon peel and 1 cup of flour and beat smooth. Stir in softened yeast, then ground and chopped almonds, raisins and citron. Gradually blend in remaining flour to make a moderately stiff dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board; knead smooth. Return dough to mixing bowl and brush top with oil. Cover and let rise in warm place until doubled in bulk (1 1/2 to 3 hours). Punch down and divide in half. Shape each portion into a ball and place on lightly greased baking sheet. Brush with oil and let rise until almost doubled (about 1 1/2 hours). Set baking sheet on a second sheet (to prevent heavy bottom crust). Bake below oven center at 350 degrees 50 to 55 minutes or until well browned. Cool before cutting. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 2 loaves.

...From Norway

Prepare instant mashed potatoes as directed on package for 4 servings. Cover and refrigerate until chilled, at least 2 hours.

Turn potatoes onto floured surface; sprinkle with 1 cup all-purpose flour. Knead in flour until smooth (dough will be soft).

Divide dough into 8 equal parts; shape each part into ball. Roll each ball into 9-inch circle with floured stockinet-covered rolling pin. (Sprinkle surface and rolling pin with additional flour if necessary.)

Heat ungreased griddle over medium heat until hot, or heat electric skillet or griddle to 400 degrees. Roll circle of dough around rolling pin; unroll onto griddle. Cook about 2 minutes on each side. (Bubbles will form and become brown.) Lefse should be slightly limp, not crisp. Repeat with remaining circles of dough. Spread each with margarine or butter and sprinkle with mixture of cinnamon and sugar if desired. Roll up or fold. 8 lefse.

SPANISH RICE

1/2 cup sliced fresh mushrooms
1/4 cup chopped onion
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1 large clove garlic, minced
1/4 teaspoon paprika
Generous dash cayenne pepper
2 tablespoons unsalted butter or margarine
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) ready-to-serve low sodium tomato with tomato pieces soup
1-3rd cup raw regular rice
In saucepan, brown mushrooms and cook onion and green pepper with garlic, paprika and pepper in butter, until tender. Add remaining ingredients. Cover; bring to boil. Reduce heat; cook over low heat 25 minutes or until done. Stir occasionally. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 2 cups, 4 servings.

SPICY BEEF LO MEIN

1/4 cup peanut oil
2 pounds beef sirloin, thinly sliced
2 cloves garlic, chopped
6 scallions, trimmed and cut into 1-inch pieces
1 package (10 ounces) frozen chopped broccoli or 1 can (17 ounces) cut green beans
1 package (8 ounces) fine noodles, cooked, drained and rinsed
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) beef gravy
1/4 cup soy sauce
1 cup tomato juice
2 tomatoes, cored and cut into 6 wedges each
Salt and pepper, to taste
Garnished, optional: chopped toasted almonds, Chinese noodles
Heat oil in 12-inch skillet. Add beef slices, cooking until browned. Add garlic, scallions and frozen broccoli. Sauté 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Add remaining ingredients. Stir until mixture is hot and bubbly. If desired, serve with Chinese noodles or chopped toasted almonds.
Fresh vegetables may be substituted for the frozen or canned ones. Choose 1 pound fresh broccoli flowerets or green beans. Cook in boiling salted water until crisp-tender. Drain. Then add to browned beef in skillet with all remaining ingredients. Stir until mixture is hot and bubbly. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 servings.

'Goody Gumdrops' Leads Potpourri Of Yule Recipes

The yuletide fruitcake is definitely an English tradition. But since the early settlers brought the recipe over in the 1600s, fruitcakes have taken on a distinctly American flavor. This Goody Gumdrops Fruitcake is a good and tasty example, plus it's fun to eat! Have a carton of creamy eggnog on hand to complement this holiday treat.

GOODY GUMDROPS FRUITCAKE
 2 cups cut-up gumdrops, omit licorice (about 3/4 lb.)
 1 1/2 cups coarsely chopped pecans
 1 package (15 oz.) seedless raisins
 1/2 cup all-purpose flour
 1 cup (2 sticks) butter
 2 cups sugar
 2 eggs
 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
 3 cups all-purpose flour
 1 teaspoon baking powder
 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/4 teaspoon baking soda
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon cloves
 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
 1 cup applesauce
 Line two loaf pans, 9x5x2 1/4-inch with waxed paper. In a bowl combine gumdrops, pecans and raisins with 1/2 cup flour; toss to coat.

In a large mixing bowl cream butter; gradually add sugar and beat until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs, one at a time; add vanilla. Sift together 3 cups flour, baking powder, cinnamon, soda, salt, cloves and nutmeg. Add to creamed mixture alternately with applesauce, beginning and ending with dry ingredients. Stir in gumdrop mixture. Divide evenly into pans.

Bake in a preheated 275 degree F. oven 2 1/2 to 3 hours or until done. (Place pan of hot water on bottom rack of oven while baking. Cakes will have greater volume and more moist texture.) Cool in pans. Remove paper; wrap in foil or plastic wrap. Store in cool place; chill before slicing. YIELD: 2 loaf cakes or 1 tube cake.

Note: Cake batter may be baked in one 10x4-inch tube pan. Prepare pans as above. Bake 3 to 3 1/2 hours. (PRN)

FRESH CRANBERRY CARROT PUFF

1 pound carrots, cut in 1/2-inch pieces
 1 medium onion, chopped (1/2 cup)

1-3rd cup chicken broth
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 cup fresh cranberries
 2 tablespoons sugar
 4 eggs, separated
 1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg

In medium saucepan, combine carrot pieces, onion, chicken broth and salt. Cover; cook over low heat 25 minutes or until carrots are tender. Meanwhile, chop cranberries. Place in small bowl; sprinkle with sugar; let stand 30 minutes. Beat egg yolks into carrot mixture; stir in cranberries and nutmeg. In large mixing bowl, beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold into carrot mixture. Turn into greased 1 1/2 quart baking dish. Bake in 375-degree oven 40 minutes, or until mixture puffs and is lightly browned. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 servings.

CURRIED CELERY AND FRUIT

2 tablespoons peanut or vegetable oil
 2 cups sliced celery
 1/2 cup chopped fresh red onion (1 medium)

1 small slice fresh ginger root or 1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
 1 clove garlic, minced
 1 medium-size apple, cored, diced

1 teaspoon curry powder
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup seedless red grapes, halved

Heat oil in wok or large skillet. Add celery, onions, ginger and garlic; stir-fry 3 to 4 minutes or until celery is crisp-tender. Add apple, curry powder and salt; stir-fry 2 to 3 minutes. Remove from heat; stir in grapes. Discard slice of ginger. Serve immediately. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 servings.

BRUSSELS SPROUTS

2 pints fresh brussels sprouts
 4 cups water
 3 chicken bouillon cubes
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/4 cup butter
 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice

Trim outer leaves from brussels sprouts. Place in bowl, cover with cold water and soak for 15 minutes; drain. In medium saucepan, bring 4 cups water to a boil. Add chicken bouillon cubes, salt and brussels sprouts. Return to a boil, reduce heat and cook 15-20 minutes or until sprouts are tender. Meanwhile, in small saucepan, melt butter; add lemon juice. Drain brussels sprouts, place in serving dish, pour lemon butter over to serve. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 to 6 servings.

SUGARPLUM PRUNES
 12 ounces pitted prunes (about 2 cups)
 1 cup (8 ounces) almond paste
 Whole almonds, toasted (about 40)
 1/4 cup honey
 1/2 cup finely chopped toasted nuts or crushed granola
 With small sharp knife slit prunes on one side horizontally. Open each and fill with about 1 teaspoon almond paste and 1 whole almond. Close and press together to enclose filling completely. Brush each filled prune with honey; roll in chopped nuts to coat. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 40.

Note: For a variation, substitute cream cheese for the almond paste and small pieces of candied ginger for the whole almonds.

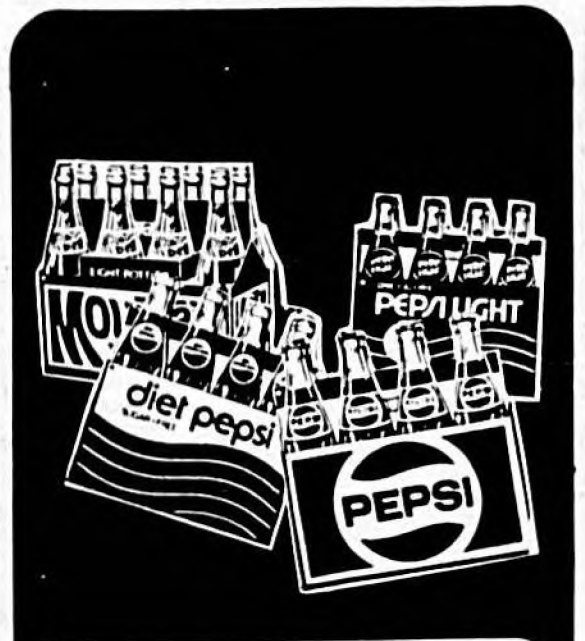

FACILED MELBA SAUCE
 1 (10 ounce) package frozen red raspberries in syrup, thawed
 1 1/3rd cups (one-half 28-ounce jar) ready-to-use mincemeat
 3 tablespoons Amaretto liqueur
 Toasted slivered almonds, optional

In medium saucepan, combine raspberries and mincemeat. Over medium heat, bring mixture to a boil, reduce heat and simmer uncovered 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat; stir in liqueur. Serve warm or cold over ice cream, pound cake or peach halves; garnish with almonds if desired. Store sauce tightly covered in refrigerator. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 2 1/2 cups.
