SOME RANDOM NOTES ON HOW TO LOSE A $300,000 FACILITY OR MAYBE FRITO LAY WAS RIGHT... PART 2... In the 40's a four lot piece of property was just a "dump" ... County handed it to the city ... City built three baseball diamonds on it ... County hung on reverter clause ... prep school wants property bringing in 200-250 youngsters ... County now says "we want 50 percent on everything you make on it." ... End of deal ... End of school ... end of progress?

Only three flags flying along First St. Saturday (Armed Forces Day).

Bob Brown (Zoning Director) hospitalized ... Get well, Bob.

Once in a while or two a newspaper gets itself involved in a human interest story. Such is the case with The Herald and a 17-year-old youth who had served two years at Marianna as an "incorrigible" and had been held ... repeat: had been held ... in jail for nearly three months on an auto theft charge. The young man's court-appointed attorney asked The Herald to tell the boy's plight. We did. Now, The Herald is happy to report this young man has been given a second chance. Without any knowledge whatsoever of The Herald's publicity in this matter, Circuit Judge Vance Carlton released this young man last Friday into the custody of a Seminole County family with strict and dire warnings that "it is your last chance." The youth promised his attorney, The Herald, his sponsor and the judge. He is now on his own. We feel good about it ... and sincerely trust and hope this young man makes good. The Herald promises to keep in touch and will let you ... our readers ... know if he makes good.

In the few days that I was out of town the West First Street Improvement movement took another stride forward ... have you noticed that the eye-sore across the street from First Federal, just west of Bill Hemphill's, is gone? ... And there now is an attention-arresting asphalt parking space that Hemphill will use to display cars ... The project has been working for over a year ... Was a four party deal in which it was hard to get united thinking ... Congratulations, Bill!

But The Palms hotel still stands ... and is occupied ... And is condemned!!!

Truly the "Gateway to Downtown Sanford" this W. First Street should present an inviting appearance ... And little by little it is developing just that ... Needs cooperation of property owners and tenants ... Like in the Hemphill arrangement ... Then EVERYBODY benefits.

Let me see now, wasn't that Red Bug Road that is "falling apart" the one that was so hastily slapped down just before B. C. Dodd's services as County Commissioner expired?

Speaking of roads in our county, do you suppose there is any hope of straightening out and widening the "Old Orlando Road" from Ginder-ville to U. S. 17-92 at Five Points? ... Many, many accidents have occurred on this "snake trail" that is used a great deal by travelers going to and from the Naval Air Station ... And the Hunt plant ... Yeah, I know ... "Low traffic count doesn't justify it." ... But isn't it surprising how the traffic count goes up when a road becomes "pleasant driving"?

Out Del Mar way the story is that Flo Harris has a "hot prospect with a big pay roll" in tow ... Would make a splendid addition to our industrial picture ...

Final paving of 25th St. starts today.

Military Prep Academy Deal At Stalemate

Foundation Scores Official Indecision

Negotiations were at a stalemate today in the proposal to establish a military preparatory academy in Sanford and appeared to be a "dead issue."

While City and County Commission members were at an impasse, Chamber of Commerce officials, who commenced the negotiations, were "left out in the cold."

Chamber officials had promoted agreements from the MacFadden Foundation and the San Francisco Giants but City and County Commissions have not reached an agreement.

MacFadden Foundation, which supports the Castle Heights Military Academy, Lebanon, Tenn., had agreed to pay $375,000 for the Giants' farm dormitory property on Mellonville Avenue and the city recreation park at Mellonville and Celery. The Giants agreed to accept $275,000 for its property and, in turn, completely renovate and air condition its Mayfair Inn. This information was obtained by the Chamber of Commerce.

City Commissioners, in an informal meeting May 11, when they were apprised of these agreements, discussed for two hours the matter of price for the recreation area. It was a 1-3-1 discussion: One commissioner agreed to settle for $35,000 net, three wanted $100,000 and the fifth wanted $125,000. They agreed two Commissioners should go to New York to negotiate with the MacFadden interests.

But City Attorney William Hutchison apprised the Commissioners the city does not hold clear title to the 18-plus acres of the recreation area. Five-ninths of the site was turned over by the county to the city in 1910 as a recreation area, with a clause the property should revert to the county should it ever be used for other than recreation purposes. The county obtained this part of the 18-plus acres for $151 in a tax foreclosure Jan. 26, 1945.

It was learned today that the County Commission made an offer to the City Commission. The two groups separated. The City Commission returned with a counter-offer, that County Commission give a quit claim deed without a share of the sale proceeds. The County countered with a lower offer. This was rejected by the City. As one County Commissioner expressed it this morning, "We had the door slammed in our faces."

Further evidence that the school issue is "dead" was a telegram received by John Kridler, Manager of Seminole Chamber of Commerce from J. P. Wieggers, MacFadden Foundation chairman, reading: "Regret latest delay by Sanford officials. As we have lost valuable time for September school opening, under circumstances I cannot continue to recommend Sanford school site to our board due to your governmental indecision. Thanks for all your help."

However, Chamber officials are continuing in their efforts to salvage the deal. The Chamber executive committee named a board of arbitration to work with the City and County Commissions, this decision to be "final and accepted by members of the individual boards."

One arbitration board member — all requested their names be withheld pending a decision — expressed himself this morning: "I will serve on this arbitration committee ONLY and if the City and County Commission members agree beforehand to accept our decision as binding and final."

Gen. J. C. Hutchison, County Commission chairman, this morning said that he preferred one more effort at negotiations with the City Commission before the arbitration committee steps in. Mayor Tom McDonald said that "I have nothing to say."

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The People Lose The 'Spoils' Fight

Sanford and Seminole County today stand to lose a $300,000 installation and thousands annually in taxes because two governing boards are bickering over the "spoils."

We're, of course, talking about the chance for this city to get a $300,000 military prep school with an enrollment of from 200-250 youngsters.

Why all this bickering? The county says "Gimme" and what's in it for me," while the city says, "It's all mine!"

In 1949 the county decided the city a 10-acre parcel of land between 8th St. and Celery Ave. on the east side of Mellonville. They emphasized that the land be used for recreation purposes. At that time the county taxes varied around $151 for all the property.

When the city took it over it was a dump. Under the direction of the City Commission and City Manager W. E. Knowles the land was fixed up, rejuvenated with over $300,000 in capital improvements made including three practice fields.

Now the city has a chance to bring a military school in the area to utilize the property. The County Commission concurs but wants 50 per cent of the purchase of the city land, plus 50 per cent of the city buildings and capital improvements.

The city won't allow this. We will lose this school ... thanks to all this delay, petty bickering and such. Why can't the city and county work with the school and settle their problems afterwards like they did with the Hunt Co. problem.

Will our county and city commissioners bicker again when maybe the Board of Control says that two universities will be located in Seminole County.

When do we put the "Gimme" politics in the background and start thinking of Seminole County.

Jailed

GADSDEN, Ala. (UPI)—Six Negro and five white "freedom walkers" who attempted to resume a civil rights march started by a postman who was slain were jailed Sunday after walking only about 15 yards.

Halt Traffic

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — United Nations troops have occupied a Congolese-Angolan border town in an attempt to halt clandestine border traffic, a UN spokesman said Sunday.

First Time

TOKYO (UPI) — Astronaut Gordon Cooper's use of "pep pills" during his 22-orbit flight marked the first time an American spaceman has taken medicine while in orbit, Col. John Glenn said today.

Trek Delayed

KATMANDU, Nepal (UPI) — Storms have delayed an American mountain-climbing team working its way up the unexplored west ridge of Mt. Everest, scattered its equipment and caused a depletion of precious oxygen supplies.

In Trouble

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The present cotton program has failed and must be abandoned, Sen. Herman E. Tamm (D-Ga.) said today in a statement prepared for the Senate Agriculture Committee.

Bloodless Win

MIAMI (UPI)—Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., called Saturday for a "bloodless victory" over Communism in the Western hemisphere and said the U. S. should crack down on "war-mongering" Cuban exiles.

Confident

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (UPI) — President Francois Duvalier, increasingly confident of his ability to stay in power, appeared today to have taken a more conciliatory approach to his opposition within Haiti.

Hauled In Jail

DURHAM, N. C. (UPI) — More than 400 Negroes and about 15 whites were hauled to jail in buses and squad cars Sunday, bringing to nearly 1,500 the number of demonstrators arrested in North Carolina during the past few days.

Steals Auto

Police today were searching for a hitchhiker who, at knife-point, stole an automobile early Sunday. Richard Hanna, 2202 Coronado Court, reported he gave a man a ride on Highway 17-92, that the hitchhiker threatened him with a knife, put him out of the car and drove off. The car later was recovered parked in the carport of a vacant house at 108 Wilkins Drive.

Compromise Nearing On Appropriations

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—A compromise committee of legislators agreed to recommend a $884 million appropriations bill to the House today but support for the proposal was not unanimous.

The measure would cut proposed teacher pay raises $50 in each category and would delay placing the 75-25 plan for public school support into effect for one year in the coming biennium.

Rep. William O'Neill of Marion served notice he was opposed to portions of the measure and would attempt to remove them from the bill when it went to the House floor during an afternoon session.

The committee worked through the weekend, finally arriving at a figure of $876 million by this morning. But economy forces insisted on further cuts. A month of informal wrangling in small groups resulted in the compromise proposal.

Under the bill, school teachers would get the following raises on continuing contract, raises: teachers on annual contract, $350 a year; teaching contract with 10 years experience, $550 annually.

The split in the committee, and an indication that some other members voted for the proposal only to get it out of committee, was an indication it might run into tough sliding on the floor.

The recommendation by the committee had no official standing as a committee report. But it was designed as an indication of what the several opposing factions in the House were willing to settle on.

It was a considerable reduction under the $1,031,000,000 bill the House was debating when it recessed Friday for the weekend. The committee's recommendation contained $815 million for operation of state agencies and $68 million for construction. It would require in the neighborhood of $130 million in new tax revenue.

Court Overrides Sit-In Charges

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court ruled today that the New York Stock Exchange regulates itself to a great extent under the Securities & Exchange Act.

The question at issue in today's case was whether members acting in concert are subject to the Sherman anti-trust law as well.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The exact number of militiamen killed during the battle was not known.

The sources said the raiding party was made up of men from Alpha 66, the Segundo Frente del Escambray, Movimiento Revolucionario del Pueblo and the Frente anti-Comunista del Liberation.

The raid was staged from a "secret base" in the Caribbean, according to the exile sources.

Cuba Exiles Attack Castro Camp-Escape

MIAMI (UPI)—Troops from four anti-Castro groups attacked an encampment of Castro militiamen and escaped in two boats, exile sources here reported this weekend.

The sources said the raiders struck a military post at Parara Beach, about 10 miles from Havana, and killed several demonstrators during the 25-minute battle.

Mishap Claims Apopka Man

Harry Leo Ohl, 63, of Apopka, injured in an automobile-truck collision May 10, died at 6:43 p.m. Sunday at Orange Memorial Hospital, Orlando. He was the 15th traffic fatality in Seminole County this year.

Ohl's automobile collided head-on with a truck driven by Perry P. Turlington, 54, Maitland, on West Highway 436 near Forest City, according to Trooper Bill Stringfield. Florida Sanitarium attaches today reported Turlington in "satisfactory" condition. He suffered fractures of both legs.

Born in Smithville, Ill., Ohl moved to Apopka two years ago after retirement as a locomotive engineer. He was a member of Ivanhoe Lodge of Masons, Chicago.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Mary Ohl; Mrs. Nancy Ertsgaard, Orlando; two grandchildren; his mother, Mrs. Anne Napier, Franklin Park, Ill., and a sister, Mrs. Nautila Sturna, Elmwood Park, Ill.

The body will be sent Tuesday by Garden Chapel Home, in Chicago for funeral and burial services.

'Fees' Bill Clears Session

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A bill requiring all judges rather than juries to set attorneys fees in condemnation suits for public highways cleared the legislature today.

The House gave 75-21 approval to the senate-passed bill after a lengthy debate over whether it would raise or lower lawyer's fees.

Reps. Louis De La Parte of Hillsborough and Osee Fagan of Alachua argued it would tend to lower attorney's fees, which in such cases are paid by the State Road Department. They said juries have no knowledge of the time spent by attorneys and just have to take their word for it.

Court Rules On Brokers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today overruled the convictions of Negro sit-in demonstrators in several Southern states on grounds they were arrested under unconstitutional local segregation laws.

'No Problem' - Cooper

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — Astronaut L. Gordon Cooper undergoes further medical tests and additional debriefing today before leaving for Washington Tuesday where he will receive the Distinguished Service Medal for his historic 28.5 orbit flight around earth.

The slightly built Air Force major was relaxed and smiling during Sunday's tumultuous tribute to his 275,000 mile space voyage.

Wednesday, Cooper will be honored with a ticker-tape parade in New York. Plans called for him to ride in a convertible, up lower Broadway through the financial district to city hall where he will be given a reception.

Sunday, Cooper described his breathtaking flight—probably the last manned space voyage by the United States for 12 months—as firm proof man can sleep, eat and live for long periods in space.

He told of seeing vivid geographic details, sleeping soundly, eating on schedule although he was not too hungry and performing numerous experiments assigned to him.

Cooper described his blazing "fireball" re-entry under manual control, an emergency step that was necessary after the automatic system failed in the 20th orbit and caused anxious concern around the world.

"There was really no problem," he said.

There had been speculation that still another one-man space flight in the Project Mercury series might be held later this year but a top official of the federal space agency said it seemed "quite unlikely."

The statement by Dr. Robert C. Seamans, associate director of NASA, apparently meant the next U. S. manned space flight will not come until October, 1964, at the earliest.

Seamans said a definite decision on whether there would be another Mercury flight, "must be made within the next week or so." He described the Cooper flight as "apparently . . . most successful" and that "it seems quite unlikely there will be another Mercury mission."

If there are not more Mercury flights, next comes Project Gemini—a program to put up two-man teams of astronauts into orbit for periods of up to two weeks.

The first manned Gemini flight is due sometime during the last three months of 1964.

"Although we still have a long way to go in the exploration of space," Seamans said, "I doubt that we can find an astronaut who can improve on the performance of Gordon Cooper."

Cooper was asked what he thought the flight proved about man's role in space.

"I think we proved man is a pretty good backup system to all these automatic systems," he replied.

C. P. BENNETT (right), of the Sanford Fire Department, will be installed as president of the Florida State Firemen's Association June 29 at a state meeting at Pine Hills. Pictured here being congratulated by Chief Mack Cleveland Sr., Bennett will serve as state president from July 1 to June 30, 1964. Cleveland was state president in 1956-57.

North Orlando Girl Scouts Receive Awards

By Mona Greenwood

Twelve members of North Orlando Girl Scout Troop 253 received badges and year pins at a Court of Awards program held during the final meeting of the season which took place at the home of Mrs. Richard Stodden, leader, with Mrs. W. G. Harris, co-leader assisting.

A total of 60 badges was presented to the girls who plan a field trip this summer which will be financed by the balance left in the treasury.

Scouts taking part in the awards program were Gail Athlon, Georgia and Marilyn Barber, Karen and Katherine Barker, Myrtle Harris, Esta Leonard, Shirley Peterson, Jackie Sitter, Bonnie Stodden, Pam Greene and Peggy George.

Following the meeting the girls and their guests enjoyed a social and refreshment period.

27 Dead In State's Worst Road Mishap

BELLE GLADE (UPI) — Ernest D. Howell is 12 years old, likes to go barefoot, and sometimes gets too noisy when romping with his brothers and sisters.

Today Ernest has to make a decision. Will he live with his Aunt Lucy in Sarasota or his Aunt Lorraine in North Carolina?

The decision was forced on him Saturday when he climbed into "Poor Boy Slim's" labor bus and started home after picking beans all day under the hot sun.

The swaying motion of the jam-packed bus soon put him to sleep.

The older workers in the bus, content with a day's labor and looking forward to a Saturday night in town, started singing and swapping jokes.

Then Ernest was awakened by the squeal of brakes, the crunch of bumpers grinding together and the shrieking of locked wheels.

"Next thing I knowed, the bus was in the canal and there was screamin' stompin' and pushin'."

"I got out the window," said Ernest, one of the 15 people who managed to climb out of the 1946 bus before it sank to the bottom of the mossy canal which parallels Brown's Farm road west of here.

Several hours later he walked into the National Guard armory in central Florida and identified his mother, two sisters and brother from among the 27 bodies laid out on plastic sheets.

A spokesman for the Florida highway patrol headquarters called it "the worst single traffic accident in the history of Florida."

Vegetable Market

In New York Friday, cabbage prices were slightly lower, ranging from 2.25-2.75 per crate, mostly 2.25-2.50. Savoy type sold for 2.50-3.00 and red brought 3.50. Bean prices were a bit lower, with most offerings large and just fair quality. Bushel hampers and crates of harvester type were mostly 2.50-3.50 with a few good quality 5.00. Light offerings of wax beans sold for 3.00-4.00. Chinese cabbage was about steady at 4.00 per crate for unwrapped heads and 5.00 for wrapped. Celery prices were about unchanged ranging generally 3.00-3.50, mostly around 3.00-3.25 per crate for a dozen size and larger. Cartons of 10 film wrapped celery hearts were 2.50. The corn market was a little lower, crates of 4 1/2 to 5 dozen ears of fancy yellow varieties selling from 2.00-2.50, mostly 2.25-2.50.

Cucumbers were slightly weaker ranging from 2.00-2.50, mostly 2.50-2.75, with a few sales higher. Small size cucumbers were 1.75-2.50, per bushel. Escarole and endive were steady in price for the limited offerings of good quality and condition stock was priced very low to avoid weekend holdovers. The best endive sold at 2.75-3.00 per crate with a few sales at 2.25, and good escarole brought 2.50-2.75, mostly 2.50. Romaine lettuce prices were slightly lower with the quality of practically all offerings only fair, crates of romaine sold for 1.50-2.00. Parsley sold higher with crates of 5 dozen bunches of curly type at 2.00 and plain type 4.50-5.00. Bushel baskets of California wonder type peppers were 3.50-4.00, mostly 3.50-3.75 for extra large size, about unchanged in price from Thursday and radishes were slightly lower at 1.25-1.50, mostly 1.25 per basket of 30 6-oz. film bags.

2,000 Involved In Panty Raid

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI) — Radcliffe College girls staged a reverse panty raid on Harvard Sunday night and touched off a noisy demonstration involving 2,000 students.

Police broke up the disturbance and arrested eight Harvard men on charges of disturbing the peace and alleged property damage. They were to be arraigned to day. There were no injuries and no major damage.

The uprising, blamed on spring fever and pre-exam pressure, started when 150 Radcliffe girls marched a mile to Harvard Yard and shouted to men in Winthrop House, a male dormitory, to throw them underwear.

Contest Winners Feted At Awards Dinner

An awards dinner in celebration of the winning of the President's contest of the Avon Products, Inc. held in Leesburg, Sunday, was attended by the 30 winning representatives of Seminole County.

The area Avon salespeople outdid all other representatives in the states of Georgia and Florida.

Presiding at the Dixie style dinner was J. A. Boyle, sales manager of the Avon Company. Principal speaker was E. M. Russell, general manager of the Atlanta Branch who recounted the county's growth from the time when sales reached one million dollars a year in 1922 until the present time, when sales last year totaled $210 million.

"LET'S TALK DRY CLEANING"

By - WOODROW CASH

In the United States, there are more than 30,000 drycleaners. Between 20% of these cleaners are members of the ultra specialized National Institute of Drycleaning. Drycleaners travel from as far as India, Africa, and Australia to study at the Institute in Silver Spring, Md. In 1948, the late M. L. Raborn, owner of the Downtown Cleaners, was enrolled in the same class that I attended. There we learned drycleaning was more than just a business, it is a scientific art. We went through rigid courses to aid us in analytical cleaning and caring for clothes and fabrics. A spot on your clothes is analyzed to determine the nature of the stain. We then proceed with the correct type of cleaning agent eliminating any guesswork to remove that spot before the entire garment is cleaned. Individual and personal care is our trademark. Today the only NID graduate cleaner is at the Downtown Cleaners, your Sanitone dealer, where cleaning is a scientific and personalized service. Call us, or drop in today, for any special problems in dry cleaning.

TV News Photographer Guest Of Casselberry Lions Club

By Jane Casselberry
The Lions Club of Casselberry received a glimpse into the varied and exciting life of a television news photographer last Thursday night when Charlie Greco of the WDBO-TV news department spoke before the group.
He showed film clips and described some of his more interesting experiences in connection with the job. Some of these news events were the auto-train wreck in Pinescastle, the Navy jet crash in Oviedo, a shooting and robbery in Winter Park, a raid on an abortion ring in Orlando and a simulated ground rescue in New Smyrna by the C. A. P.
He flew with the Blue Angels on their visit to Sanford recently and told of a tense moment when one of the team had a flat tire on landing.
Greco showed movies made while flying with Capt. Weaver of the Florida Highway Patrol explaining how traffic violators are apprehended from the air.
He also told of an interesting visit to the Norad radar installation in Colorado which included seven stories of electronic equipment kept at a 61 degree temperature.
He revealed high speed developing methods and photography techniques which enable them to show news film of events many times while they are still happening.
Raymond Morris, secretary of the local club has been selected Deputy District Governor of 35-0. Delegates to the State Lions Convention held in Clearwater May 2, 3, and 4 reported on the activities there.
The club will sponsor a rummage sale on Friday, May 24, from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. at the Super Value Store parking lot on SR 434.

Business Briefs

An 8.3 percent sales increase has been registered by Winn-Dixie Stores, Inc. which operates a number of supermarkets in this area.
Sales for the four-week period ended May 4 were $65,312,608 compared with $60,363,653 for the corresponding time last year, an increase of $5,008,955.
A sales rise also was recorded for the 11-week period ended May 4 when the volume amounted to $704,953,221 compared with $654,928,872 for the similar period last year, an increase of $50,026,351 or 7.64 percent.
For the 52-week period ended May 4 sales were $27,274,413 compared with $26,840,790, an increase of $432,433, 620 or 6.81 percent.
Winn-Dixie now has 608 retail stores throughout the South compared with 561 a year ago.

SHS Spring Concert Set Tuesday

The colorful and tuneful annual Spring Concert of the Seminole High School Glee Club will be heard Tuesday at the school auditorium at 8 p.m.
The concert promises to be both eye-pleasing and ear-pleasing when the youthful singlers assemble in pastel gowns and formal dress on the stage of the auditorium and fill the air with a pot-pourri of classical, popular and spiritual songs.
Miss Patty Glenn Johnson, well-known soprano who has been a mainstay of school musical presentations throughout her school life will be singing her last school solo. She has chosen for the occasion "Spirit Flower" by Campbell-Tipton.
Four other seniors will also be heard for the last time. They include Miss Lynn McCord who will sing "If I Loved You" by Rodgers; Henry Lavender, who will render "Some Enchanted Evening" also by Rodgers;

Oscar Perez who will sing "Granada" and Gene Bullard will be heard with the theme song from the motion picture "Exodus."
The Triple Trio, whose many appearances around the area at luncheons, parties and entertainments have made them familiar to the public, will present "High on a Hilltop" and "Snow White Fantasy."
A solo number to be sung by Miss Nylene Albers will be

"Green Leaves of Summer," theme song from the movie "The Alamo."
Miss Donna Beard will sing "Break O' Day" by Sander-son; Miss Faye Dunaway will sing "Getting to Know You," and Howard Elliott will be heard with "The Hills of Home."
The vocal group called the Melodears will present two numbers, "Let There Be Song" and "My Heart is a Silent Violin."

Dreams Die Hard

The high school athlete who dreams of piling six steaks on the training table as one of his rewards is being asked to say bye-bye to a beautiful dream.

Philip L. White, Sc.D., secretary of the Council on Foods and Nutrition of the American Medical Association, is the spoiler.

"Using your muscles and pushing your weight around increases caloric requirements. NIT protein requirements," says the doctor, adding that athletes' demand for meat in quantity is more psychological than physiological.

Science notwithstanding, athletes do not live by calories alone. So the good doctor is not likely to keep them from keeping steaks coming to the table. And the delightful, mouth-watering, steak-based myth is likely to continue to sizzle in a savory manner for a long time to come.

Might Not Listen

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona is the authentic hero of U. S. conservatives, including many Democrats as well as Republicans. Yet some of his most dedicated followers do not listen closely to some of his most important advice.

Not too long ago the senator said at a Republican gathering that party faithful of whatever persuasion, must not adopt too rigid attitudes.

He encouraged in them a willingness to compromise. Though without doubt some of his adherents would not believe it even if they heard a recording of the senator, he even suggested it is necessary to be a "bit rubbery" at times.

It may be that before the presidential campaign of 1964 is over Goldwater will find it necessary to make that point many more times—in possibly more severe language.

For there is in this country, and presently many of them are in his camp, a growing body of people who simply do not care to yield a single inch from their settled views of foreign and domestic affairs.

When they are speaking of men it is "Goldwater or else." But in politics all men cannot be winners. And if a democratic form of government is to be truly effective, a defeated minority must always accept with grace the majority's choice.

One should not have to say again, either, that compromise is of the essence of governing. Men are bound by their differing natures to hold different views of their problems. If policies and programs are ever to be formulated and put into operation the great differences must somehow be composed. To say "I will not yield" is to say "I will not permit government to function."

Dictators impose first themselves and then their policies upon an unwilling populace. Free men can exist in proper relationship to one another only if they respect viewpoints other than their own—and make the necessary departures from rigid positions so that something can be done.

Goldwater clearly understands this. He may not have an easy time persuading his more stiff-backed supporters to take this important cue from him.

Plenty Of Spending

By United Press International

President Kennedy is setting an eye-popping record this month of which Democrats won't do any bragging because this is not a record to shake the maker's pride.

Today or tomorrow or next day, perhaps, Kennedy will set up a spending record that should stand for some time.

Soon, anyway, the Kennedy administration can report it has spent more than $100 billion in the first 10 months of the current '63 fiscal year. The latest published spending figure for the fiscal year was as of March 31. Expenditures as of that date were $99.4 billion. Receipts were $80 billion.

These figures are published once a month. To be published in late May are the treasury receipts and expenditures for the period ended April 30. Considering the level of spending as of last March 31, it is obvious that government spending in this fiscal year already has exceeded $100 billion. The official figures will not show it until publication of the next monthly account.

The numbers representing government spending and tax collection are incomprehensible for all but the mathematically inclined. Kennedy's 10-month spending achievement may be brought somewhat into focus, however, by comparing it to government expenditures during the first 150 years of the United States was in business, 1789-1959. In those 150 years, government spending totalled $182 billion.

The U. S. taxpayer is a grocer of solid gold. His provision of tax revenue for the politicians to spend is prodigious. But it rarely is enough. The higher the tax revenue,

DARLING, I AM GETTING OLDER

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

CASE P-428: Harry R., aged 36, is graduating from college soon.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I'm looking for a job. So I have been reading the 'Help Wanted' ads in the newspaper.

"In several cases I have found that the ad requested a letter of application.

"But no names was listed. All that was given was a P. O. Box Number."

"So how should a fellow work up a good letter? And how do you address the letter when no name is listed?"

"I've taken plenty of English courses in high school and college, but these practical points weren't taught as students."

Employers usually want to see a letter of application from men and women who are seeking responsible jobs.

So it is smart to learn how to compose one.

Whenever possible, try to find out the specific name of the employer or Personnel Director so you can address your letter to him by name.

But in case of a box number, start out with "Dear Sir."

Beware, however, that you don't forget the main purpose of your letter of application.

It is not intended to get you the job but to win an interview!

For only after the personal interview are you likely to be hired.

Therefore, don't fill your letter with rambling material or gush in your first paragraph with inane flattery, as is this typical opening:

"All my life I have always wanted to work for your firm. So if you would only give me a job, I would be wildly happy. I'm willing to start at any kind of salary, etc., etc."

That kind of letter is regarded as from an immature person, lacking in business judgment.

It intimates that you have never worked before and are a silly, inexperienced person who may have been a "kept" student all your life, amply subsidized by papa's weekly allowance check.

Instead, start out with an opening sentence like this:

"Since I'm looking for a position that offers ample opportunity for advancement, I'd like to cite the following qualifications:"

That opener doesn't reveal whether you are already employed or a novice just out of high school or college.

Therefore, it offers you a much better chance of being called in for a personal interview, which is the goal of such a letter, anyway.

After such an opening sentence, then list several major headings, such as Business Experience, Educational Training, Personal Data, and References.

Run each of those four headings in a deeply indented manner, with a brief paragraph of pertinent material under each one.

And be sure to typewrite your letter or have a friend do it for you so it will have an "executive" look instead of appearing amateurish.

Don't go into exhaustive detail, either, about your "Business Experience," but list two or three of your major jobs.

Peter Edson Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA)— The $1,000-a-plate Republican dinner honoring Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater for his past services as GOP Senate Campaign Committee Chairman did just that. They gave him a silver coffee urn—but otherwise the affair was a political dud.

Nobody's presidential candidacy balloons rocketed off the launching pads even an inch. There was so much party unity and peaceful coexistence displayed that the proceedings were a bit dull.

Nobody could have cared less that the honeymooning Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York and his bride weren't there.

Gov. George Romney of Michigan confessed that "unexpected developments" had run into "after his Chamber of Commerce speech in Washington the week before—the launching of a presidential boom for him, which he repudiated—had almost caused him to cancel plans to attend the dinner.

Goldwater didn't even mention the 1964 presidential race.

So the party was an exclusive social affair, a financial success—and that's all.

Wit and humor from the big list of speakers who paid their tributes to Goldwater evoked polite laughter and applause but did not rock the rafters or send the Republicans out into the night looking for Democrats to draw and quarter. Maybe that's why the GOP doesn't win more elections.

Sen. Thurston Morton of Kentucky was toastmaster in his role as chairman of the Senate Campaign Committee. He got off a few good cracks in introducing about half—'it seemed—of the 800 guests present. Like:

"Uncle Billy Young (Sen. Milton E. Young of North Dakota) hasn't been up this late in years." And—

"I regret that I have to present a flaming liberal to this audience—the ranking Republican of the House Rules Committee—Clarence Brown of Ohio." Or—

"I've been trying to keep these speeches short, but I don't know what we can do to cut down on the next speaker, because he's my leader—Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois."

Dirksen related that in August 1952 he was told of an Arizona businessman who ought to be in politics. He went out to Phoenix, visited the Goldwaters and "that night under a starry sky, I persuaded Barry Goldwater to run for the Senate. I take some credit for being the midwife who brought him into political life."

Responding later, Goldwater observed, "I guess I didn't realize what happened on that penthouse roof. I guess I'd better get a hot line to Margaret Sanger."

Expressing regret that President Eisenhower could not attend the memorable dinner, Goldwater confessed, "I rode into office on Ike's coat-tails."

The senator also read a tele-

Phil Newsom Says . . .

Restrictions Plague Red

Moscow dispatches are suggesting that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, never an absolute dictator in the manner of Josef Stalin, is finding himself more and more hemmed in by restrictions.

They also are suggesting the full extent of the agonizing reappraisal to which the Soviets have been subjecting themselves ever since their retreat in last October's Cuban crisis.

Western diplomats attribute the present standstill in Soviet foreign policy both to Khrushchev's critics at home and to his quarrel with the Red Chinese, which the Cuban crisis brought to a head.

At home, his most notable failure has been agriculture.

Abroad, the Red Chinese are challenging his leadership with demands for a tough line against the West, particularly the United States.

There is now a general belief that the Sino-Soviet quarrel has reached such proportions that it has taken over No. 1 priority, and that there can be no serious consideration of other problems until it is solved one way or the other.

In Peking this week it was announced a Chinese delegation would go to Moscow to discuss these differences at meetings beginning July 5.

In the Chinese party will be Teng Hsiao-Ping, top party secretary, and Peking Mayor Peng Chen.

It will not, however, include Mao Tse-Tung, the one man who can make the final decision.

In Moscow there is no belief that the conference will settle the deep ideological differences between the two but it is felt the meeting would be held if only to prove Moscow's good intent.

Meanwhile, there will be no flirtation with the West to further muddy the issue.

To this is attributed in large measure the reason for the Soviet Union present do-nothing attitude in the 17-nation disarmament talks at Geneva.

In his most recent message to President Kennedy, Khrushchev is reported to have reiterated his position that the Soviet Union would permit no more than two to three on-site inspections annually to guard against secret violations of a nuclear test ban treaty.

He thus rejected a proposal by Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan that new efforts be made to reach agreement, possibly at high level.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We've been married 16 years. For the past 15 years we have had a camping vacation every summer. I've camped while pregnant, and with children of all ages. We have four children now. The youngest is 2 and the oldest is 15. Our children would like to go to Disneyland. I don't care where we go as long as I don't have to sleep in a tent and go without a real bath for two weeks. What can I do? My husband claims this is the only way we can afford to go. He's now planning to buy another tent, which will cost $110, plus other camping equipment. We already have enough to outfit the Boy Scouts of America. He earns over $12,000 a year.

SERVED MY CAMPING TIME
DEAR SERVED: Compromise. Camp near a nice, modern motel and YOU check in while your husband enjoys the wide open spaces. (Are you sure that before you married him, you never told him you'd live in a tent?)

DEAR ABBY: I had the girls over for bridge last evening. Two of them left together and the third one stayed a little longer. My husband was sitting in the den reading a newspaper. When it came time for her to go, she said she wanted to call a taxi. My husband said HE would drive her home. She said absolutely not, she wanted to take a taxi. I got to thinking, WHY wouldn't she let my husband drive her home? Should I worry?

SUSPICIOUS

DEAR SUSPICIOUS: Yes — but not about your husband. What's bugging YOU?

DEAR ABBY: My sister is over 16 years old. She received a letter from a boy she corresponds with. My mother steamed open the envelope, read the letter, and revealed it. She is proud of herself for doing it, although she didn't find what she was looking for. Sis and I know that parents have charge over their children's mail until they are 21, but do you think my mother should have read it secretly?

THE OTHER DAUGHTER

DEAR DAUGHTER: Absolutely not! Parents can preach truthfulness, honesty and integrity from now until doomsday, but their children will DO as their parents DO eventually.

DEAR ABBY: The proper clothing for 100 head of cattle is NOT Bermuda shorts, but moo moos.

A PUNNER

Get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to Abby and send a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

Good bridge players don't make every contract. Sometimes the cards lie wrong, on other occasions it just happens that they find the wrong dummy. In any case there is one principle of play that winning declarers all follow.

When the contract looks doubtful they look for any combination of cards that will allow them to make their contract. Then, if they find such a combination, they give the cards a chance.

North's raise to three spades was a minimum and South certainly bid his hand to the limit when he went all the way to six.

At first glance South saw

NORTH		WEST		EAST		SOUTH
♠K773	♠Q	♠KQ773	♠QJ10	♠K1088	♠A985	♠A985	♠A83
♥A	♥K	♥KQ773	♥QJ10	♥K1088	♥A985	♥A985	♥A83
♦A	♦K	♦KQ773	♦QJ10	♦K1088	♦A985	♦A985	♦A83
♣A	♣K	♣KQ773	♣QJ10	♣K1088	♣A985	♣A985	♣A83

to be no way to make his contract. Further study showed one possibility and South gave the cards their chance.

He won the first trick with the ace of hearts, led a trump to dummy's king, ruffed dummy's other heart, led out one more spade to draw trumps and played the ace, king and five of diamonds.

West won the trick. There had been no way for him to unblock and West was stuck for a lead. A heart would allow South a ruff and discard so he led a club.

South played the queen from dummy. When it held South discarded his other club on dummy's last diamond.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

No wonder the average homemaker leaning through a woman's magazine ponders gloomily on why she "isn't living in a home like that."

The lawns of the "perfect" homes featured in such magazines are live green velvet. The flowers are a riot of bloom. The houses themselves are models of convenience and efficiency—a far cry from the least-than-perfect condition and the too-lived-in look of the envious reader's home.

I've just read a newspaper account of all the behind-the-scenes goings-on that make such model homes attain the perfection few housewives can ever create — much less maintain.

To begin with, this particular house that is destined to make readers discontented with their own abodes, cost money few women would have to spend on a house.

Before picture-taking time, the greenest of grass was brought in by nurserymen and laid like a carpet. Flowers in full bloom were set in place. Every model room was brought to the peak of perfection by such studied imitations of family living as a chess board set up on a living room game table, stacked, clean laundry arranged neatly in gaily colored wicker basket tops in the laundry room, and so on.

All this work and planning, and hang the expense, to make women think such contrived stage settings are what their homes could and should look like, make it pretty hard on the harried homemaker.

"Why is it," she wonders, as she looks longingly at the magazine homes, "that my home can't look like one of these?" And that night she says, "Jim, we've got to do something about the living room." And Jim says, "Why? It looks fine to me."

Right at that point the homemaker ought to forget the pretty magazine pictures and realize that she may not live in a model house—but, by George, she has created a HOME.

Something for the men: Ruth Millett's "Happier Wives (hints for husbands)." Just send 25 cents to Ruth Millett Reader Service c/o The Sanford Herald, P. O. Box 4808, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 10, N. Y.

Welcome Wagon To Meet With New President

Mrs. A. L. Probst, newly elected president of the Welcome Wagon Club of Sanford, will entertain the members at her home, 418 Saturna Drive, Ravenna Park. The meeting will be held on May 21.
 All women who have arrived in the Sanford, Lake Mary vicinity within the past year are invited. Dress will be informal and those attending are asked to bring a salad and a decorated hat. Bells and coffee will be furnished.
 Those wishing to play bridge, canasta or pinochle are asked to be there promptly at 10 a.m. and those who only wish to come to the "Salad Scramble" are asked to be there by noon. Hat judging will follow the luncheon. All members are urged to attend to make this a successful meeting.
 Reservations MUST be made by calling 322-9039 or 323-0326. Transportation will be provided for those who need it.

Travel Program Presented

Members of the Sanford Garden Club met in the Civic Center for the final meeting of year and instead of the usual mid-day luncheon a pot luck supper was served with husbands and friends as guests.
 The newest gardening group the Men's Garden Club, were welcomed and will be a great asset in future activities. Mrs. D. K. Dorman, president, pointed with pride to the club's accomplishments during the past two years.

 Mrs. Charles Cole, of Geneva, was the only one of the three living charter members present. Mrs. Volle Williams, program chairman, presented Mrs. Henry Simpson, retiring president of the Rose Circle, who showed very interesting colored slides.

 The Simpsons are world travelers and from their vast collection of beautiful scenes she showed pictures of countries from Greenland to Africa, Australia, India and Wai-kiki. Pictures of the Taj Mahal, taken at three different times of the day, were exquisite and Mrs. Simpson explained that as one enters, a money offering is expected and in return the donor is given a special gift.

Murray Nance Jr. Weds Miss Sauers

Of interest to friends and relatives in this area is the announcement of the marriage of Martha Sauers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Sauers Jr., of Peoria, Ill., to Murray E. Nance Jr., son of Mrs. Mary Tolar Nance, of this city.
 The couple was united in marriage in a simple ceremony on Feb. 15 at 5:30 p.m. at the Calvary Episcopal Church, Columbia, Mo., with the Rev. William K. Tibbett officiating.
 The bride is a graduate of Peoria High School in Peoria, Ill., attended Bradley University and is a senior at the Methodist Hospital of Central Illinois School of Nursing.
 The bridegroom graduated from Peoria High School with the class of 1957 and, in his senior year, was awarded the Seminole Chiefs' Club trophy for most valuable man on the track team. After completing his freshman year at the University of Florida, Gainesville, he enlisted in the Marine Corps. He received his recruit training at Parris Island, S. C., and later was assigned to the First Force Reconnaissance Company of the First Marine Division, Camp Pendleton, Calif.
 The couple will make their home in Gainesville while Mr. Nance resumes his studies at the University of Florida.

Square Dance Class To Start This Wednesday

The Starlight Promenaders and the Sanford Recreation Department are sponsoring a summer square dance class starting this Wednesday at 7 p.m. at the Civic Center.
 Joe Curtis, of Orlando, caller for the Promenaders, will conduct the class. Anyone interested in joining the class is invited to come, observe and try it out for the first three weeks. No registrations will be taken after the third week.
 Those not interested in joining are invited to come anytime as visitors are always welcome. There is no admission charge for spectators. Classes will be from 7 to 8:30 p.m. and the regular weekly dance continues from 8:30 to 11 p.m.

DeBary BPW Plans Visit To Ocala School

By Mrs. Adam Muller
 The DeBary Business and Professional Women's Club met at the office of Dr. George Frison in DeBary recently with Bert Lederhaus presiding.
 Alberta Warner, chairman of the School for Girls at Ocala, contacted the school for permission to keep the same girl as last year for the Club's project at the school. Several members will make the trip to visit the school during BPW Week.
 Past president, Mrs. Adam Muller, was presented with the past president's scroll pin. The June meeting will be a splash party and covered dish supper at the home of Mrs. M. Accardi on Hibiscus Road.

Lake Monroe Jottings . . .

Mrs. E. L. Johnson. A nice Monday to her. There were some disappointed children Tuesday morning. They were so sure they were going to get to see the rocket go up. But they did, I hope, see it Wednesday . . . Its amazing how the science age has really taken over. Even the girls talk about it too. . . . Edwin and Marian Kennedy have as their guests Marian's sister, Bobbie, and her husband, Vernon Moody and children, Victor and Paula. They are residents of Altamonte. C. Marian says they plan to stay a week with them at their home on Jewett Lane. . . . Mary Small showed me some pictures of son Claude Jr.'s new bride. She is very nice looking. At the request of the County Commission the press is barred from a joint meeting with the School Board Wednesday evening at the First Federal conference room. We hear "personality clashes" will be aired and possibly resolved. Other purpose of the meeting is to discuss an access road for the new English Estates School.

These off-the-record meetings by public officers are becoming more frequent in recent days. It was "preferred" a reporter leave the City - County Commission meeting last Friday although the press was permitted to sit in another session Monday. Even then, there was an "off-the-record" statement by one City Commissioner.

There's a very interesting piece of tape in Pete Knowles' office that's going to shock a lot of people when it is made public after the negotiations for that prep school are wrapped up. I'm still reeling from it.

A CONVERSATION WITH JIM AVERY
Reporter: I heard you walked out of that meeting yesterday.

Avery: They went below the price. No reason for me to be a party to an agreement I didn't vote for.

Reporter: Do you think the city took advantage of the county taxpayers?

Avery: It was a lot lower figure than I would have gone for.

Reporter: You didn't answer my question.

Avery: Well, eh, let me put it this way, the county presented a reasonable figure. If that $13,000 is correct we have been more than lenient and charitable.

A CONVERSATION WITH JIM CRAPPS
Reporter: Well, what did you think of that meeting yesterday?

Crapps: It was all right but they could have gone for $10,000.

An official of the Castle Heights prep school was down yesterday looking over that domitory property.

Poor John Alexander... All day John heard about prep schools and at night at the Campus Monday some refugee from Chelsea or, was it Munich asked him if he wanted to hear some prep school music on the jukebox by John Phillip Sousa.

The word is that the feasibility study from First Research of Miami for a university here has been completed and the county Commission will get a "look-see" within the next few days.

RANDOM THOUGHTS AT A NORTH ORLANDO COUNTY MEETING... Someone should buy Woody Anderson a gavel... He'll break his fist pounding that desk... and how about some chairs around the village office...

The North Orlando Council read a resolution (minutes) from the city of Sanford last night. It seems the Sanford City fathers here complained about your favorite newspaper slanting the news, etc. etc. and had some copies circulated throughout the county at council meetings and to various organizations...

What you all don't know and what the commission failed to mention in their epic was that two of the commissioners Jim Crapps and Al Wilson demanded their names be taken off the letter when they found out it was being circulated.

George Touhy will be the guest speaker at the annual All Sports banquet for Seminole High athletes at 7 p.m. May 29 at the school cafeteria. Sixteen trophies will be presented. Letters will be presented at the Awards Day program later on.

Sanford Military Academy Nears Reality

'Ready To Come,' School Man Says

Way Paved For School

Way was paved late Monday afternoon for the City of Sanford to finalize negotiations with the MacFadden Foundation to establish the "Sanford Military Academy" on Mellonville Avenue at Celery by September.

The Foundation previously agreed to pay $375,000 for the San Francisco Giants' farm property, including dormitories, and for the city recreation area. The Giants had agreed to accept $275,000 for its property.

It was learned 12.25 acres valued at $40,000, of the city's recreation area of 18-plus acres had been donated by the county with a clause it would revert to the county if used for other than recreation purposes.

City and County Commission members were far afield in their negotiations for the county to donate this 12.25 acres, the county demanding as much as $20,000 and a right-of-way and the city offering nothing. This wanted right-of-way is on the west side of the Mayfair golf course along a dirt road.

In the third meeting between the two groups the city informed the county Monday afternoon that the city-owned land of the golf course is leased to the San Francisco Giants for 99 years, with 80 years to run.

The two groups made off- and on-again sessions in a three-hour session Monday afternoon, with the city raising its ante to $3,000 and then $3,000 but no right-of-way.

The county finally offered to accept $13,000 for its equity, payable as deferred payments are received from the MacFadden Foundation. The city went into special session and accepted on May 29.

Gen. J. C. Hutchison, county chairman, assured the city that he and Commissioners John Alexander and John Fitzpatrick will hold their agreement and so vote in the county's next meeting, either Wednesday evening or on May 29.

Mayor Tom McDonald and City Commissioner J. H. Crapps are slated to leave tonight or Wednesday for New York City to finalize negotiations with the MacFadden Foundation.

While all commissioners, city and county, are agreed "it is good business" to bring the proposed military school to Sanford, two members opposed the transaction finally negotiated by the City and County Commissions late Monday afternoon.

County Commissioner James P. Avery Jr. and City Commissioner Joe Baker opposed the deal between the county and city for the county to give the city $15,000 for a quit claim deed for the county's share of the proposed site at Mellonville and Celery Avenues.

Avery, expressing himself that the county should receive $20,000, agreed to drop to $17,500 "but that is my final figure" and walked out of the meeting.

In the discussion before the city's vote to accept the county's offer of $15,000, Baker stated he believes the county should donate the property "for free," that the city should pay nothing.

Avery, who previously started to walk out of the meeting but was stopped by a question from Mayor Tom McDonald, charged the city with "being greedy" and with "trying to put a No. 9 foot in a No. 6 shoe." He added the "school will benefit Sanford and will rub off on the entire county." He later added he would drop his acceptance figure from $20,000 to $17,500 but would be "no party to an agreement lower than that."

Baker, in voicing his opposition to paying any cash to the county for its equity, agreed that the "city is in an all-out war against the Quebec Liberation Front."

Wiegars stated that "we have a soft spot for Florida because it was one of Mr. (Bernard) MacFadden's favorite states. We feel we can provide a worthwhile educational facility."

The local academy, to be named "Sanford Military Academy," will be in charge of Col. Harry J. Furman, a descendant of the founders of Furman University and now associated with the MacFadden Foundation's Castle Heights Military Academy at Lebanon, Tenn. Colonel Furman was in Sanford Monday interviewing retired Navy officers interested in being instructors in the school, although it will be a military academy and not naval.

Wiegars, who said he will come to Sanford in the second week of June, added that the Sanford Military Academy will be associated with the Castle Heights Military Academy only in that both are units of the MacFadden Foundation.

Village Sets Insurance Bids To Aid Police

The North Orlando Fire Department, consisting of eight men, were left out in the cold Monday night at a special meeting of the village council.

The Council decided to hold a special meeting Friday night at 7:30 to award bids on insurance for the village police department and tabled action on insurance coverage for its volunteer fire fighters.

At the same time, the council tabled action on improvements to its lone fire vehicle and agreed to look into the possibility of a reciprocal agreement with the Castleberry Fire Department.

Mayor W. W. Anderson estimated it would take from $500 to $600 to improve the fire truck "and there's just not enough money in the budget for that expenditure."

The council authorized insurance company officials from Hanna-Closon and Al Davis to draw up specifications for insurance coverage for the police department including death and hospital benefits.

Senate Nixes Spending Bill

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The way was paved today for a conference committee to reconcile a $100 million difference in House and Senate general appropriations bills.

The Senate refused today without discussion to accept the $965 million spending bill passed by the House Monday and asked for a joint committee to work out differences. The Senate passed bill totals $1,125,000,000.

Major differences are in spending for teacher pay raises, school operations and new construction. The Senate bill is more generous in every area.

Volunteers Save Mobile Home

The Lake Mary Volunteer Fire Dept. was credited with saving the brand new mobile home of a young Navy couple from total destruction this morning at the Seven Oaks Trailer Park when fire broke out due to a short in the electrical circuits of the home at about 8:30 a.m.

Damage was estimated to be about 25 percent by Fire Chief Ralph Abell who reported the loss.

Abell could only identify the couple's name as being Caudenhead.
