House Committee Approves Hike In Taxes On Liquor

Beer, Wine Are Also Hit As $250 Million Revenues Expected

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee today tentatively approved a $250,000,000 increase in federal taxes on liquor, beer and wine.

The rate on whiskey and other hard liquor would rise from $9 to $10.50 per hundred proof gallon.

Beer, now taxed at $8 a barrel, would pay $9.

The increase on wine would vary from a two-cent-a-gallon hike on light wine to a 25-cent increase on those containing more than 22 percent alcohol.

Champagne and other naturally fermented sparkling wines would be taxed at 17 cents a half pint instead of the present 15 cents.

In each case, the rate increase was less than the Administration had proposed. The Treasury had recommended raising the tax on hard liquor to $12 a gallon and on beer to $12 a barrel.

UNPRECEDENTED NEWSPAPER COVERAGE GIVEN MacARTHUR-MARSHALL HEARING

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
The great debate on foreign policy reached a new peak during the past week with the MacArthur-Marshall testimony on the Korean war. And to report this historic event the nation's press has reached new heights in coverage.

Nothing in the history of U. S. journalism surpasses the thoroughness and detail of reporting that has gone into coverage of the hearing before the Joint Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees.

The Associated Press, only wire service to do so, has transmitted the full transcript of the testimony—totaling 236,000 words during the first seven days.

Some newspapers have carried the transcript in full, despite a scarcity of expensive newsprint and other heavy costs. Many other published a large part of it.

The volume of this wordage is unprecedented—running in to many pages not just columns—day after day.

Besides the added operating costs, some papers carrying generous excerpts of the full testimony threw out many thousands of dollars of advertising to make room.

Reader reaction to the newspapers' public service was noticeable immediately.

Circulation figures jumped for most papers during the three days of General Douglas MacArthur's testimony. Some falling off in sales were noted in General George C. Marshall took the stand.

Policy In Far East Dictated By Desire To Retain Allies, Marshall Tells Committee

Dawson Disclaims Chinese Mass For Any Influence On Second Offensive RFC Loan Agency As Allies Dig In

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—Senator Fulbright (D-Ark) told White House aide Donald S. Dawson today his denials of using political influence on government loans are "a little beyond my belief."

Fulbright and the President's patronage adviser debated at length the propriety of Dawson's conduct. Dawson insisted firmly "I did nothing improper" and Fulbright contended that he did, though possibly not consciously.

Their clash came at a hearing before a Senate Banking Subcommittee which contends Dawson was a member of a clique which influenced affairs of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC), huge government lending agency.

"I can over-emphasize my indignation," Dawson said. "You are a very modest man," Fulbright retorted with heavy sarcasm. He insisted that in Dawson's RFC directors whom the subcommittee contends were sympathetic to Dawson, "you had the power of life and death in the economic sense."

At one point, Fulbright remarked that Dawson, as the President's patronage adviser, would seem to many people and to the public to have "a power over us unequalled" over government officials.

Fulbright contended that former RFC directors William E. Willitt and Walter L. Duntan, who were reappointed to their jobs by President Truman against the substantial opposition, must have "felt the power" of Dawson's influence.

The subcommittee, which is headed by Fulbright, had named both former directors as men whom Dawson would control.

"I have not asked that anything be done improperly, and it has not been testified that I have," Dawson told Fulbright sharply. He charged the Senator to get more specific.

Fulbright said he could do it. He mentioned Dawson's known connections.

RUSSIAN PLANE

DAYTON, O., May 11.—(AP)—A Russian-built reconnaissance plane, captured at Kimpo airfield near Seoul, Korea, soon will be tested at Wright-Patterson Air Base.

The plane is a remodeled version of the Stormovik, a Russian fighter plane used in World War II. It carries two cannons and two machine guns in front, and a .50 millimeter cannon at the rear of the fuselage.

Heavily armored, the reconnaissance plane was dubbed "the flying tank." It recently was tested at the Cornell Aeronautical Laboratories in Buffalo, N. Y.

Danger Of Conflict With Soviet Union Is Greater In Far East Than In Europe, Senate Investigating Group Informed

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—President Truman told General Douglas MacArthur last Jan. 13 that Korea war policy must be designed to keep the support of Allies whom "we would desperately need" in case of war with Russia.

This was contained in a message sent by the President as a follow up to a set of 16 possible courses of action the Joint Chiefs of Staff had dispatched to MacArthur the previous day.

The text of the President's message, in paraphrased form, was read by Secretary of Defense Marshall to Senate committees inquiring into MacArthur's dismissal as Far Eastern commander.

At the outset, the President said his telegram "was not to be taken in any sense as a directive." He added that "its purpose is to give you something of what is in our minds regarding the political factors."

At one place the presidential message read: "Our courses of action at this time should be such as to consolidate the great majority of the United Nations. This majority is not merely part of the organization but is also the nations whom we would desperately need to count on as allies in the event the Soviet Union moves against us."

Earlier, Marshall told the senators the risk of war with Russia in the Far East is "more acute by far" than the hazard of Soviet intervention in Western Europe.

This estimate of the comparative risks was given in response to a question from Senator Hickenlooper (R-Ia).

Hickenlooper had suggested the United States was risking a clash with Russia by sending troops to a Western European defense force. He wanted to know why "in similar calculated risk" was refused in the Far East—meaning why not adopt the MacArthur program of stepping up the war against China.

Since Marshall first referred earlier in the hearings to the President's Jan. 13 message, some members of the Senate committees had pressed to get the text.

They contended the communication was a major instance in relation to the question of how much information was given to MacArthur as to the thinking and decisions of Washington policy-makers.

Because the message had been sent in code, its text could not be released until it had been paraphrased—a procedure against which no potential enemy to break the U. S. codes.

The President told MacArthur that "in the worst case, it would be important that if we must withdraw from Korea, it is clear to the world that that course is forced upon us by military necessity and that we shall not accept the result politically or militarily until the aggression has been repelled."

Then Mr. Truman said: "In reaching a final decision about Korea, I shall have to give constant thought to the main threat from the Soviet Union and to the need for a coordinated effort of our armed forces to meet this danger."

In concluding his message, Mr. Truman told MacArthur: "The entire nation is grateful for your splendid leadership in the difficult struggle in Korea and for the superb performance of your forces under the most difficult circumstances."

Mr. Truman's communication to MacArthur also said: "Further, pending the buildup of our national strength we must act with great prudence in so far as extending the area of hostilities is concerned."

"Steps which might in themselves lend some assistance in the campaign in Korea would not be beneficial if they thereby involved Japan or Western Europe in large-scale hostilities."

The President said also that "in the present world situation your forces must be preserved as an effective instrument for the defense of Japan and elsewhere."

Marshall told the senators that Mr. Truman's message was sent to MacArthur "to give the political factors involved in the tentative proposals advanced throughout the day by the Joint Chiefs of Staff for meeting various contingencies in the Korean campaign."

"The directives" from the Joint Chiefs, Marshall said, contained no political aspects "and therefore it was thought desirable that the President should send a message to General MacArthur with the political factors and overall directives of the government."

Mr. Truman advised MacArthur that "successive resistance" in Korea would serve these purposes.

"A. To demonstrate that aggression will not be accepted by us or by the United Nations, and to provide a rallying point around which the spirit and energies of the free world can be mobilized to meet the worldwide threat which the Soviet Union now poses.

IN HIS THIRD DAY of testimony before Senate investigators, Defense Secretary George C. Bulletin Prepared
To Describe Civil Defense Measures

GAINESVILLE, May 11—(Special)—What the ordinary citizen should do in case of enemy attack here at home is explained in a new bulletin prepared at the University of Florida.

In a continuation of its Civic Information Series, the University's Public Administration Clearing Service is now sending Florida residents its bulletin, "Civil Defense for Florida, 1951."

Two members of the Clearing Service, W. F. Larsen, director, and Robert Fuquay, research assistant, have summarized the steps those on the home front need to take now in preparation, and the action they need to take in event of attack.

The six suggestions are: Try to get shielded; drop flat on the ground or floor; bury your face in your arms; don't rush outside right after a bombing; don't take chances with food or water in open containers; and don't start rumor. Why these rules are good advice is explained in the pocket-sized pamphlet.

Technical information and charts used in the bulletin are from publications of the Civil Defense Office of the National Security Resources Board.

Other information prepared by Larsen and Fuquay tells how civil defense operates, explains away some of the myths that have grown around atomic warfare, provides household safety rules, and tells just what every citizen can do to prepare for attack.

According to the authors, the individual is the basis of Civil Defense.

"Acting singly, he can do a great deal for his own protection and, in fact, must do so. But as a member of society he can protect himself his home, his community, and his nation much more by assuming an active role in Civil Defense," the authors state.

Counseling Tests
Are Given Seniors
At Seminole High

The Sanford office of the Florida State Employment Service has just completed the administration of the General Aptitude Test Battery and Counseling Test Battery at Seminole High School, who are interested in finding jobs immediately after graduation this June, according to Ralph Prescott, Manager of the Sanford office of the Florida State Employment Service.

The General Aptitude Test Battery provides information on the young person's ability to learn approximately 2,000 different occupations and this information is very helpful to the Employment Service in advising young people on their vocational plans. The young people make their own decisions as to choice of job, but the information provided by the Counselor and by the tests enables them to make a much more intelligent choice.

Principal Herman Morris and his staff assisted by providing necessary space and equipment, securing initial information from graduating students, and by enrolling the students from regular classes while the testing and counseling program was being carried out.

The graduating students interested in jobs as soon as school is out are registered with the Sanford office of the Florida State Employment Service.

Approximately 4,800 Florida high school seniors, or almost 25 percent of all public high school seniors in the state, have been administered the General Aptitude Test Battery and provided counseling service by the Florida State Employment Service during the present school year to aid in choosing their vocations.

 "At the Madras Conference in 1938, the Chinese representatives said: 'To the extent that the Christian movement wins the home, to that extent will China be Christian. If the homes are not won, it is unlikely that China will ever be won for Christ.' The same may be said of America. The most powerful influences are not always those that are most apparent. We are aware of the influence of the Church, but have never yet adequately evaluated the social influences of the home. Communities are collections of homes, and nations are larger groups of communities. The decisions reached at council tables in the future are being determined today around our dining tables."

Kettles' Cocoa Indians Batter Sanford Giants In 14 To 11 Tilt

COCOA, May 11.—(AP)—Goose Kettles Cocoa Indians outlasted the Sanford Giants 14 to 11 last night although a determined late inning rally by the Giants threw a scare into the Indians who watched an eleven run lead evaporate.

Getting 13 hits apiece, the Indians and Giants hit almost at will as seven errors added to the carnage.

Joe Perise, with three hits in five trips including a home run, and Fred Petty with three for five were the offensive stars for the Giants.

BALTIMORE, May 11.—(AP)—Jockey Robert J. Martin, "bad boy of the saddle" who was set down 26 times in six years, today began his longest suspension, of all-time years for betting against his own mount.

The Maryland Racing Commission ruled him off the turf after a hearing yesterday. A track detective testified he heard Martin place the wager by telephone in a Baltimore Hotel last April 10, when he was riding at Laurel.

The race was won by In Faith. Loomis said Martin telephoned the race to the Baltimore Hotel. Loomis said Martin telephoned the race to the Baltimore Hotel.

Crackers To Meet Little Rock Travs In Crucial Series

A train carload of unhappy persons has arrived in Little Rock and in the next three days they will find out if they're as good as they once looked, or as bad as they once looked.

They are Atlanta baseball players—some-time leaders of the Southern Association and winners of nine games in a row, but now a faded, second place team, hurtling from four defeats without a letup.

The four-game series with Little Rock, beginning tonight and ending with a doubleheader Sunday, most likely will settle for a while which team belongs in first place.

Presently Little Rock is No. 1. The Texas Bantam got off to a ragged start in yesterday's opening round with a tie for fourth place, but he was moving fast at the end.

Jim Ferrar of San Francisco started the second round with a scintillating 64 to lead for the first 18 holes of the 72-hole tourney.

Most of the other 29 pros experienced trouble with the Green-brier greens at the outset except Sam Snead, who is pro here.

G's 10-5; Islets 3-8. GAINESVILLE, May 11.—(AP) Rocco Colavito's three-run homer in the ninth gave Daytona Beach an 8-5 victory over the Gainesville G-Men in the night cap of a twin bill here last night, raising the Islanders a split in the games.

The G's won the opener, 10-5, on a nine-run uprising in the sixth frame with Harvill Jakes sparking the flurry.

Senators 10 Azaleas 3. ORLANDO, May 10.—(AP)—The league leading Senators collected 15 hits off three Palatka pitchers last night to chalk up a 10-3 win in a game that was held up twice because of light showers.

GATORS BOAST 13-7 RECORD AS SEASON ENTERS FINAL WEEK. GAINESVILLE, May 11.—(Special)—Boasting a seasonal record to date of 13 wins and 7 losses, Florida's baseball Gators turn to the final four games of the year with pitcher-outfielder Fred Montsodeca leading the hit parade with a rousing .444 batting average.

The top pitching record of 3 wins and 1 loss is held by sophomore Dick Brown. The Gators have seven hitters who have come through the first 20 games with a batting average of above the .300 mark.

Dod Kushing tops the runs batted in department with a valuable 23-run mark in that department, while Hal Long has crossed the plate more than anyone to score 29 runs.

The Gators end their Southeastern Conference play in a two-game series against Auburn at Auburn Friday and Saturday. The Gators end their season with a two-game series against Rollins at Gainesville May 18 and 19.

Americans Trail In Walker Cup As Stranahan Slumps

BIRKDALE, England, May 11.—(AP)—America's top Walker Cup pair, Frank Stranahan of Toledo and Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., went to lunch three down to Ronnie White and Joe Carr of Britain in their 36-hole Walker Cup foursome match today.

One down at the turn, the two Americans continued to play poorly as they took alternate shots at a single ball and wound up the 18 holes with a 36-40-76, two strokes over par for the rugged Birkdale course.

Their opponents shot a steady 36-36, clipping two strokes from par on the back nine. Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City and Jim McAlle of Philadelphia rallied on the back nine to reach the halfway mark all square with their British rivals, Cecil Ewing and John Langley. The Americans were one down at the turn after going out in a messy 41.

Prosperity Hits Turpentine Belt As Bumper Crops Are In Prospect

By JOE BRADWELL
Managing Editor, The Valdosta Times
VALDOSTA, Ga., May 11—(AP)—That whistling amid the pines these days is not generated entirely by the southern breeze. Turpentiners are a-whistling, too. A measure of prosperity has returned to their industry.

Last year, they'll tell you, the least of their worries was income tax. They figure to do better this crop season.

Turpentiners—just in case you didn't know—are the folks who collect oleoresin from pine trees and distill it into turpentine and rosin. Oleoresin is called gum, or crude gum. It's the sticky, gummy stuff that flows from the chipped "face" of the pine into metal cups.

Turpentiners are called gum naval stores operators. Why naval stores? Because in colonial days the British Navy used the gum from the nine trees of Virginia and the Carolinas to call its wooden ships. Pitch for the seams and tar for the rigging were called naval stores.

With the return of warm weather a new naval stores producing season is underway. The stockpile of rosin, huge a year ago, has dwindled. Gum turpentine stocks have all but vanished. Demand for these products of the forest has reached a new high. Prices are up.

Therefore the whistling amid the pines of Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi and South Carolina. It is in these states that America's gum naval stores are produced.

Turpentine and rosin are vital to the manufacture of many war goods as well as numerous articles for civilian use. Rosin is a basic raw material for hundreds of industrial products, including paper, paint and rubber. Turpentine is used as a thinner for paints and in chemicals and pharmaceuticals, has become a household item sold across the nation's counters in handy containers.

The historic Savannah, Ga., naval stores exchange which, for more than a century has recorded prices on which the world's trading in turpentine and rosin has been based, last July quoted gum turpentine at 36 cents a gallon. After the government price freeze early this year the market figure held to 22 cents until Tuesday when it settled to 25 1/2. Rosin quoted at Savannah last

Student Head Says Stetson Took No Part In Race Vote

DELAND May 11—(AP)—Stetson University had no part in a resolution urging an end to racial segregation in Florida colleges, Stetson student President Fred Hope said today.

Student executive councils of the University of Florida and Florida State University have said the resolution does not reflect the view of their student bodies. The University of Florida withdrew from the Student Government Association.

Student executive councils of the University of Florida and Florida State University have said the resolution does not reflect the view of their student bodies. The University of Florida withdrew from the Student Government Association.

He said a delegate would have the power to vote for such a resolution only with approval of the student body of his school. Hope said he had received many telephone calls and letters from alumni and others attacking the non-segregation resolution.

Student executive councils of the University of Florida and Florida State University have said the resolution does not reflect the view of their student bodies. The University of Florida withdrew from the Student Government Association.

The notice of labor has risen, says the American turpentine association represents an estimated 90 per cent of gum production by the approximately 8,000 turpentine growers in this country. Costs of turpentine leases on timber tracts have reached a new high. These and other factors, says the association, have jumped the overall cost by 35 per cent over 1950.

Biggest problem for the industry at this time, says Judge Hartley Langdale of Valdosta, president of the association, is price regulation. Government controls caught turpentine and rosin prices at different levels. Example One dealer may sell turpentine at $1 while another's ceiling is 85 cents. The producers, through the Association, are urging the government to apply a "general" ceiling on prices, and are insisting that such a ceiling should not be lower than 125 per cent of parity. They must receive approximately $40 per barrel of gum, they maintain, to assure from distillers of "wood" turpentine and rosin from old stumps and the pulp. This branch of the naval stores industry accounts for half the annual U. S. production of 33 million gallons of turpentine and one billion pounds of rosin.

Suicide Declines But Killings Rise In Florida In '50

JACKSONVILLE, May 11—(Special) Suicide appears to be growing less popular in Florida as a means of solving personal problems, but other methods of violent death took a substantial return in 1950, final official resident death figures released by the State Board of Health Bureau of Vital Statistics showed today.

Records show that while 351 persons resorted to self-destruction in 1949, only 315 persons met death this way in 1950.

On the other side of the picture, motor vehicle accidents killed 851 Floridians in 1950, as contrasted with 662 persons killed that way in 1949, a gain of 29 per cent.

Homicides climbed top, from 323 in 1949 to 367 in 1950, a gain of 12 per cent. Accidents other than those caused by motor vehicles registered a five per cent gain from 1065 in 1949 to 1067 in 1950.

These fatalities help to run than adoption of MacArthur's Korean program.

"The principal difference that I see in the matter is that we have an issue there (Far East) that is very critical to the Soviet Union in that they now are in complete accord with the Chinese Communist government so far as we know, and they have a treaty of accord.

"That is being imperiled, I would assume, and my associates have assumed, by what is happening to the Communist forces in Korea.

"Therefore, the situation as to the possible actions of the Soviet government is a more acute one by far than that in Western Europe because if they lose a close community of interests and cooperative arrangement with China at this time, that would be a very great loss to them of something they now possess.

"Here is a situation where the Chinese can be brought to feel, by continued highly destructive losses, that the Soviets have let them down. Therefore, the situation is more dangerous."

HOLLYWOOD

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 11—(UP)—What makes a man give up a successful life in television for a career in religion?

Hollywood wondered that this week when Mal Boyd announced he planned to enter a seminary the September with the goal of becoming a Protestant Episcopal Minister. He was leaving behind a position as television partner of Mary Pickford and Buddy Rogers. Only 27, he had risen fast in the new industry and had become one of its spokesmen.

"How did you reach your decision?" I asked him.

"It's difficult for me to describe without sounding 'holier than thou,'" he replied. "But actually, I was a deep spiritual revolution. Sometimes a person hits rock bottom emotionally, and that's what happened to me. I thought I had achieved the things I had always worked hard for. I had security, I had position and I had excellent money. Then I asked myself, 'I realized that you go from here?' 'Where did that goal was no longer in making money or in what money could buy. The goal I had set out for was no longer a goal."

Boyd, who has spent much time traveling between Hollywood and New York, said he came to his decision on a business trip to Arizona, he recalled. "I was traveling about 80 miles an hour when suddenly I said to myself, 'slow down! Where are you going, anyway?'"

"When I got to Arizona, I devoted my time to reading the Bible. It was the first time I had had time to do that in years, and I read it for three and four hours at a time. Every truth was revealed to me. I called Dean Robert Paul of St. John's Cathedral in Denver and went up to see him. I had known him since I was in school in Denver, and I discussed with him the possibility of becoming a minister."

Boyd said his decision came partly from disillusionment with the entertainment fields he had been associated with.

"I realized that the commercial media was manstrung," he said. "The movies are largely limited to an appeal to an adolescent audience. I felt the tragedy of television was that it had to be low level. It has been taken over by the profit motive. I also felt myself being affected by the compromises of the life in New York and Hollywood. You don't mean to sell out, but you sell out before you can realize, you can find yourself basically changed."

judged close friendship with E. Merl Young, whom the subcommittee has named as a key figure in the alleged influence ring.

"Mr. Young did not impress the committee as a man of great intellectual powers," Fulbright said. He asked how, without Dawson's support, Young could have wound up on the payrolls of two RFC borrowers at the same time.

Young, husband of a former White House stenographer, has testified he drew an $18,000-a-year salary from the Lustron Corporation of Columbus, O., while also getting $10,000 a year from the F. L. Jacobs Company of Detroit. Both firms owed money to the RFC.

The senator harked back to

Members of the County School Board met yesterday morning and re-appointed teachers in all county schools in accordance with the recommendation of the school board. Some new appointments were announced, said Superintendent W. Lawton. The bid of P. M. Campbell for a boiler room building for a central heating plant for the Ovidio High School was accepted at $5,620. Two bids were rejected.

Five bids were made on boiler and heating equipment, and the Air Conditioning and Heating Co., Orlando, got the contract with the low bid at $7,785.

other profitable ventures of various members of the alleged clique and Young's share in them. He said Dawson that there is no other explanation of Mr. Young's influence "than the friendship of the two men."

Of the reappointment of Willett and Dunham to the RFC board, in 1950, Fulbright said: "The committee could not help but ascribe that to you."

Dawson said that on one occasion he had submitted to Mr. Truman the names of an entirely new set of appointees for the RFC after the Senate had refused to confirm Dunham, Willett, W. Elmer Harber, Walter Cowgill and C. Edward Rowe.

He said the President rejected the alternative set, and renamed the men who didn't get the jobs. "It is not the policy of our office to disclose the names of unsuccessful candidates," he said.

It was Dawson's first challenge of the group's power to require him to answer a question. Fulbright let the question stand unanswered on the grounds it was a confidential matter between the President and his personal staff.

Boyd said his decision came partly from disillusionment with the entertainment fields he had been associated with.

House Rejects Budget Bill • Compromise

Liberal, Conservative Elements Combine To Kill Measure; Libel Change Asked

TALLAHASSEE, May 14.—(AP)—The Florida House today rejected 48-41 a compromise General Appropriations bill that would have set spending for agency and institution operations and new buildings in the next two years at $268,500,000.

A coalition of the most liberal and least liberal members teamed to reject the measure prepared over the week-end in a conference of leaders of both sides.

Defeat of the compromise plan put the House back to considering item-by-item the Appropriations Committee bill that started out at a figure of $244,000,000 but was expanded to $254,000,000 by last Friday. Operating money for the universities and the whole state construction program still are to come.

Opponents of the compromise plan said it would accomplish no good, would mean starting over on debate that has gone on a week, and would force a special session of the Legislature to provide money to finance the increased allotments.

Supporters argued acceptance of the $268,500,000 figure would permit balancing the General Fund budget without increasing taxes. They said the trend of increasing the original bill continued the total would run far beyond their figure and be sure to call for new taxes.

Preliminary vote on the matter had indicated the strength lay with advocates of the compromise bill.

Efforts to put off until after noon consideration of an amendment to substitute an entirely new set of figures for the pending General Appropriations bill failed by votes of 47-53 and 68-22.

Rep. Bryant of Marion, who led a liberal faction that would make new taxes unnecessary. He has been a leader in the group which has sought to hold spending down to available revenue.

Rep. Simpson of Jefferson, who was a representative of the more liberal spending group at the conference, said he would like to see a bill to say whether new taxes would be avoided by adoption of the new figure.

Much of the opposition to the bill was expressed by the Orlando Air Base units which will march in Sanford parade.

Orlando Air Base Units Will March In Sanford Parade

Airmen for the Orlando Air Base will join with other units in Sanford's Armed Forces Day parade Saturday morning.

Capt. Pollard, project officer at the base, informed John Pierson, chairman of the parade committee today.

Capt. Pollard promised the participation of a flight of 60 to 70 aircraft in the parade at the Sanford Air Station on First Street in Sanford Avenue. Further plans for the parade will be formed at the meeting Wednesday night at the Army.

All Civil Air Patrol cadets are requested to meet Lieut. John Anderson at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday morning in full uniform at Merle Warner's filling station in order to attend the Watermelon Festival at Leesburg.

Lieut. David Remley of the Civil Air Patrol announced today that the local group of the C.A.P., including cadets and senior members will participate in the parade. It is hoped to have 25 to 30 participating. These will form a unit prior to the parade at the Gulf Station on First Street in Sanford Avenue. Further plans for the parade will be formed at the meeting Wednesday night at the Army.

Armed Forces Day

In a statement marking the first anniversary of Armed Forces Day, the Secretary of Defense, General Marshall, expressed his satisfaction with the "splendid coordination of our land, sea, and air forces in the continuing effort to defend our freedom."

Secretary Marshall invited all citizens to make Armed Forces Day (May 10), an occasion for taking note of the services and sacrifices of the Nation's Armed Forces.

Other civilians and military officials of the base were mentioned in the statement as contributing to the success of the service to the common goals of peace and freedom.

Signs Korean Veterans' Aid Bill

AT THE WHITE HOUSE, President Truman signs into law an emergency measure, rushed through Congress in three hours, giving Korean veterans the same medical and hospital benefits as survivors of other wars. The legislation was introduced when it was revealed that David H. Arellano (inset), 31, a Marine veteran of Korea was denied treatment at a Veterans Administration Hospital at Tucson, Arizona, because he had not served in a "recognized" war. New Petitions Asking Special Bond Election For Hospital Circulated

Petitions asking the County Commission to call a special bond election for the purpose of building a hospital here have been put out again, and all freeholders are requested to sign in time so that the petitions can be given to the Commission at a special meeting tomorrow.

The corrected petitions, which were issued after the former petitions had been rejected by the County Commission for not stipulating the amount to be expended for purchase or building of the hospital, now state that the maximum amount to be expended will be $900,000.

Chamber of Commerce Manager Ed Whiffery announced this morning that 18 petitions had been issued and that 350 signatures are required. If this number is reached by tomorrow, the Emergency Hospital Committee will submit the petitions to the County Commission at its adjourned meeting at 10:00 o'clock tomorrow morning, he said.

The petitions request the County Commission to call an election at the earliest possible date after first giving 30 days notice in the newspaper in this county, since it is recognized that inadequate hospital facilities exist in the county.

Petitions are available at the Chamber of Commerce, the Florida Power and Light Co., Yowell's, Roundell and Anderson, Touchstone's, Chase and Co., MacKey's, Druggists, the City Hall, the Court House, the Sanford Clinic, the Florida State Bank and the Sanford Atlantic National Bank.

After the County Commission had voted in favor of a Sunday ban on the sale of beer and wine, and prior to its adjournment Tuesday, Fred C. Greer of the San Onofre Club, and another tavern operator, requested that their places be excluded from the 12 o'clock closing hour set by the Commission.

This matter will be taken up by the Commission tomorrow, G. P. Herndon, county clerk, said today.

Yugoslavia and Burma, named to the committee, declined to serve.

Ernest A. Gross, United States delegate, told the committee before the vote that adoption of the resolution would demonstrate U. N. N. intends to meet and resist aggression in Korea.

Sir Gladwyn Jebb of Britain, whose country fought such a resolution until it made a sudden switch in position last week, said the United Kingdom has been applying restrictions on trade with Communist China for some time. He said the resolution would be a "step forward."

There was speculation that the two events were connected, and that Britain was ready to make a strong stand, if necessary, to hold its rich oil concession in Iran.

SERVICE OFFICER
Tom E. Deen, assistant state service officer, will be at the office at 2:00 p.m. Friday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, and Wednesday morning until noon to aid veterans and dependents. Wednesday afternoon he will be at the postoffice at Altamonte Springs, Fern Park and Maitland.

Allies Brace For Offensive As Reds Mass

Choyang Bridgehead Is Expanded Despite Enormous UN Artillery Barrage

By OLEN CLEMENTS
TOKYO, May 14.—(AP)—Chinese Red troops today expanded a threatening bridgehead across the Choyang River on the central Korean front despite the pounding of American guns.

These forces northeast of Chunchun may spearhead a second spring offensive by the 500,000-man Red army, expected in about ten days.

Elsewhere along the 100-mile front United Nations patrols probed no-man's-land with little opposition. However, two sharp clashes broke out on the western front.

An American task force ran into a Chinese ambush and pulled back after a determined battle. The second prolonged fight began when an armored American outfit ambushed a Chinese patrol.

For the first time in the war U. N. forces are getting a small but steady trickle of Chinese deserters. AP correspondent John Handberg reported from this front. The deserters, often showing up with surrender leaflets, include some officers.

The Reds appeared to be avoiding strong contact while rushing fresh troops into buildup areas on the west and central fronts.

Had weather screened their movements Monday.

AP correspondent George MacArthur reported the Chinese deepened their penetration below the Choyang River despite a thundering American artillery barrage. There was little fighting between opposing infantrymen.

The bridgehead poses a flanking threat to Chunchun, key to rail and road networks, 46 miles northeast of Seoul. Strong enemy units were massing north of the river and between Kumhwa and Hwachon above the 38th Parallel.

Allied pilots, hunting through the clouds, reported Red steadily filtering southward. One U. S. F-80 Shooting Star crashed behind Communist lines. The 5th (Continued on Page Two)

Contribution Of Mothers Is Cited By O. P. Herndon

In a tribute to the mothers of this county, O. P. Herndon, past county clerk of the Sanford Elk Lodge 1241, told members and visitors Sunday afternoon that the mothers of our land should be honored for their tremendous contributions to our success in every day life, in our great World Wars and in the present struggle.

"In all of the past conflicts, it is our mothers who have sacrificed and borne the most, and who willfully to do what patriotism demanded of them.

"We honor the mothers of Florida and our nation, and those of our mothers here today," he added. "Through the ages, the simple word mother has become a symbol of courage, honor, chastity, affection and patriotism.

Mothers of our land, you who have taught us to keep faith in God, love our home and our country. It is you that have taught us by example to bear up in times of stress and struggle."

Participating also in the program were R. P. Sharrock, exalted ruler; M. L. Larson, chaplain; and Charles Morrison, vocalist, who was accompanied by Harry Wester.

Russell Condemns Senators For Leaking Military Information

WASHINGTON, May 14.—(AP)—Senator Russell (D-Ga.) said today secret information of possible value to Russia already has "leaked" from the closed-door hearings on General Douglas MacArthur's future "leaks."

Two Republican Senators reported that the Administration has been leaking secret data to some newspapers for a long time. However, both GOP senators, Hickenlooper of Iowa and Bridges of New Hampshire, lacked Russell's plea that all senators keep their lips sealed on testimony given in the MacArthur hearing but stricken from the public record by military and State Department censors.

Russell said "it is a great understatement to say that there have been some matters published which it cannot help the country to have our enemies know."

Both Bridges and Hickenlooper said the Administration itself leaked information to the New York Times the top secret minutes of last October's Wake Island conference between President Truman and

High Court Says Top Union Chiefs Must Sign Oath

Disagreement Registered With Ruling By Labor Agency

WASHINGTON, May 14.—(AP)—The Supreme Court today decided the Taft-Hartley Act requires officers of "parent" labor federations such as the CIO and AFL to file non-Communist affidavits.

The court disagreed with a ruling by the National Labor Relations Board that the oath requirement applies only to union groups which take part in collective bargaining and are empowered to call strikes.

The high tribunal at the same time rejected an NLRB contention which it is an affidavit or consent to file a non-Communist affidavit.

Justice Jackson delivered the court's opinion. Justices Douglas and Frankfurter wrote dissenting opinions. Justice Black took no part.

The Taft-Hartley law says the board may not act on a complaint filed by a labor organization unless it is a "national or international labor organization of which it is an officer or constituent unit" and has filed non-Communist oaths.

The U. S. Circuit Court in Richmond refused to enforce a board order issued on a complaint by the CIO Textile Workers Union of America. The Circuit Court said that at the time the board acted the officers of the CIO had not signed non-Communist oaths. (Continued on Page Two)

WINNER PARK, May 14.—(AP)—Dr. Paul A. Wagner was fired as president of Rollins College here last night.

Wagner, who has been under fire since it was announced 23rd of last month that he had been elected to the post, was ousted by a vote of 11 trustees meeting in New York Apr. 27. The announcement was delayed to give Wagner, the nation's youngest college president when he was given the job two years ago, a chance to resign.

High McKee, art director of the post, told central Florida editors, was named acting president of the college. He is the first president of Rollins whose academic background is in education.

McKee immediately announced the creation of two new posts. He named John Tostler, treasurer of the college, and Dr. Alfred J. Hanna, history professor, executive assistants to the president.

Halsted W. Caldwell, a Winter Park trustee, made the announcement at a meeting of the board of trustees. He said that his resignation from the board of trustees had been withdrawn and that he would be relieved of his responsibilities at Rollins College with "personal dignity."

The trustee said "The trustees voted to terminate Dr. Wagner's presidency because no statement had been made by him during the last month of his administration. That was that his resignation in behalf of the college have not contributed to the best interests of the institution."

McKee said "The trustees considered the problem of naming an officer to serve for an interim period as acting president until an ultimately qualified leader in American education could be selected as permanent president of the college. The trustees concentrated on seeking an educator who had long experience in teaching and who was intimately with the varied problems of the field of higher education in America."

Dr. Wagner's removal was effective immediately, Caldwell said. McKee filed with the board the formal letter of resignation from the presidency. (Effective June, 1952. He said his resignation was submitted to put a "left side" in the interim period of Rollins and McKee has intended to give up the post as soon as a qualified permanent president is selected.

"In assuming the post of acting president of the college, Paul McKee, a gray-haired, soft-spoken educator who was graduated from Rollins in 1930, indicated that he intended to serve as acting president of the college until a permanent president would return to the college as a contribution."

"In interpreting his action in assuming the leadership of Rollins College, McKee said: "My primary interest is in teaching and in engaging in certain other individual contributions in the field of education. I have no personal ambition for the presidency of Rollins because of my devotion to the college."

"Rollins' financial position traditionally has been strong and sound and is so at the present time, nevertheless, I believe the college must maintain an especially prudent control over its financial resources during this current period of national emergency, when young men of college age face military service and American institutions of higher education must cope with constantly changing problems in unstable enrollments."

"Rollins College has been the scene of a controversy initiated in March when ex-President Wagner, reputed to be the youngest college president in the country, summarily announced the dismissal of one-third of the college's faculty in a right economy move which he described to the trustees as necessary in the face of an anticipated severe drop in the college's enrollment, which he reported would be caused by the country's national mobilization program."

"John M. Tostler, Treasurer and Business Manager of Rollins, indicated to the conference the sound financial position of the college."

Secretary Of Defense Says All Military Leaders Are Behind Truman's Strategy

WASHINGTON, May 14.—(AP)—Secretary of Defense Marshall testified today he fully understood the adoption of General Douglas MacArthur's Korean war proposals would seriously affect General Dwight D. Eisenhower's European defense plans.

Winding up seven days of testimony on MacArthur's ouster, Marshall also said:

"I believe Eisenhower supports President Truman's limited Korean war program."

Administration military leaders, including General Matthew B. Ridgway in his understanding—presently solid front in support of the President's plan and in opposition to MacArthur proposals for blockade of China, bombing of Manchurian levees and use of Chinese Nationalist troops.

MacArthur testified today that it was his understanding that Ridgway, his successor in command of the Far Eastern command, had similar views to his on how the Korean war should be conducted. He said he thought other military leaders there also agreed with him.

Senator Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) asked Marshall if the adoption of the MacArthur proposals would require adjustments of Eisenhower's plans and would seriously affect those plans.

"We fear that it might," Marshall replied.

When re-examined today's session of the Joint Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committee, Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) announced that General Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, will be the witness tomorrow.

He said it was possible, however, that Marshall might be called back later for still more testimony.

In today's testimony, Marshall again told the senators that Ridgway has made "striking impressions" recently in her military garrisons in the Korean area.

He also emphasized repeatedly, as he has before, that he fears adoption of the MacArthur program might bring Russia into the Korean fighting and extend it to a world wide conflict.

Marshall contended, too, that there were serious doubts that MacArthur's program would lead to quick defeat of the Chinese Communists.

Senator Johnson, who raised the question of the effect on Eisenhower's plans of MacArthur's proposals, said:

"The Sanford Fruit Co. has been an integral part of the rapidly expanding Escogate Growers' and Concentrate Cooperatives, Forest City, Claude H. Nelson, vice-president and general manager, announced today.

This brought to 31 the number of new members joining with the Escogate interests during the past few weeks.

In making the announcement, Mr. Nelson pointed out that the entrance of Mr. Tooke and his company into the cooperative added a "substantial tonnage" to the fast growing resources of the organization.

The Sanford Fruit Co., located at the Sanford State Farmers Market, has shown rapid growth during the past few years, and Mr. Tooke has become known throughout the state as one of the most successful of the younger citrus operators. In addition to owning extensive grove property, Mr. Tooke has heavy real estate investments in Daytona Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Tooke pioneered the present home building movement on the shore of Lake Monroe in the Mayfair Section by building a beautiful $35,000 concrete block residence.
