$1,000 Envelope Stolen

You've heard those stories about the old lady who hid all her money in a jar in the back of a trunk to come home one day to find it had been dug up by workmen laying a sewer. Or, the eccentric gent who hid his cash in a shoe box and accidentally tossed it in the trash while spring cleaning. Something quite similar happened yesterday to James L. Neff, 45, of 10840 N.W. Ave. Orlando. According to a Sanford police report, Neff, owner of the Ark Bar, 1018 State St., Sanford, usually keeps a plain envelope stuffed with $100 bills hidden at the bar when he makes his mortgage payments.

It started out as a simple domestic squabble, but ended up with a 52-year-old Orlando man in the Seminole County Jail charged with aggravated assault and battery on his sister and a police officer.

A sheriff's report said that deputies answered a domestic call about 10:40 a.m. Tuesday at 584 Queens Memorial Circle, Casselberry, and found Joseph H. Boyce, 5681 Kalmia Dr., Orlando holding a shotgun on his sister, Thelma Goldman. Deputies wrestled the gun away from Boyce, the report said, but before they could handcuff him, he pulled a .38 caliber pistol out of his back pocket and pointed it at the officers. They disarmed him and jailed him under $5,000 bond.

total amount with the remaining two thirds being paid within two years. Carlton said since the school will not be running full capacity until 1983, the school system should not pay for all of the service. Sanford Streaks To Fourth Straight 55-52

Tribe's 'Grab Bag' Bench Bangs Howell

It was grab bag night at Seminole High last evening. Both the Tribe's Bill Payne and Lake Howell's Greg Robinson reached deep in their bench in an effort to salvage a Five Star Conference basketball game.

Payne, though, came out the more fortunate as he plucked Forward Willie James and squatty guard Marvin Butler, who helped the Fighting Seminoles edge the Silver Hawks 55-52.

"Willie James was the difference," raved Payne about his off-the-bench-special. "He hadn't been playing a lot lately, but he came through for us."

The victory was the fourth in a row — and five of the last six — for the Tribe. It raised the season mark to 6-8 and 2-3 in the Five Star. Howell, meanwhile, dropped to 4-8 and 1-3. "We just didn't play worth a darn," said Howell's Robinson, about the foul-marred affair which saw four players exit via infractions.

Hawks led 25-21 at intermission. Layton paced Howell with 10 first half points, while Steve Grace headed the Tribe with six.

The Silver Hawks attempted to blow open the game in quarter three by running to a 31-22 edge. The last three came on a dazzling drive by Brightman, who was fouled and converted the three point play.

Midway through the third quarter, however, Seminole sharpshooter Mike Gaudreau suddenly turned into former Seminole a year removed — Glen Stambaugh.

Gaudreau ripped the Hawk zone for eight points and single-handedly brought the Tribe back from the brink of adversity. "Gaudreau's a great shooter when he has time to shoot," confirmed Payne.

During the streak, Howell turned the ball over five times without getting a shot. Still, the Seminoles were four down, but Payne reached deep and inserted James. Willie hit a baseline jumper between two power moves by the "Big Bird" and Seminole was winging.

Bill Payne rallies his troops before final minute of action in the Tribe's 55-52 victory Tuesday night. The win was the fourth in a row for Seminole.

"Everything just went our way," said Smith. "Out shots fell early and Vernon Law had some great passes." Forward Torie Hendricks and Vincent Edwards paced the JV attack with 13 points apiece. Calvin "Ki Ki" Bryant dropped in 12 markers as Seminole improved to 3-5 on the year.

Oakland's Davis No Rozelle Lover

NEW YORK (UPI) — What's all the big mystery over what'll happen if Oakland wins the Super Bowl game and Pete Rozelle has to present the championship trophy to Al Davis? Nothing says they have to like each other.

You can bet they won't. You can also bet that Pete Rozelle, who doesn't get shaken up too easily, will be right there ready to hand the prize to Al Davis, who isn't exactly one to sidestep delicate situations either.

He could have one of the Raiders' captains, Gene Upshaw, Ted Hendricks or Todd Christensen, accept the trophy for him, providing Oakland wins, of course. And if Davis does do something like that, Charlie Finley, for one, is sure to get a kick out of it.

Seven years ago, after his A's beat the Dodgers in the 1974 World Series, Finley had as warm a relationship with Bowie Kuhn as Davis now has with Rozelle.

Before the final game, Finley called Sal Bando, his team captain, and Reggie Jackson, his right fielder, into his office and told them if the A's won, he didn't want any part of accepting the championship trophy from Kuhn.

"He asked Reggie and me to do it," Bando remembers. "If we win this thing tonight, I want you two guys to accept the trophy," he told us.

Lemon's 'Pop' Sours Seabreeze As Greyhounds Grab 11th Win

Lyman Coach Tom Lawrence exhorts his Greyhounds to 58-51 victory over Seabreeze. Lyman is now 11-2 for the year.

By BENTON WOOD Herald Staff Writer LONGWOOD — Tuesday evening's Five Star conference clash here between Lyman and Seabreeze could be best described at David pitted against Goliath.

Lyman's full court press eventually took its toll on the visitors from Daytona Beach, forcing seven turnovers in the final eight minutes.

The Greyhounds turned the ball over only eight times to 16 for Seabreeze. The Sandcrabs are a paltry 3-8 for the year and 0-4 in conference. Lyman is "King of the mountain" in the Five Star at 4-0.

"We beat a heck of a ball club," Coach Tom Lawrence gloated. "They just haven't had any breaks. They'll win a lot of games down the stretch."

Mountainman Fields paced the "Crabs" to a 16-8 first quarter edge until Kelvin Hillman scored three straight layup turnaround jump shots over Seabreeze cutting the margin to 24-20 at intermission.

The third period was a shooting display between Lyman's Antoine "Pop" Lemon and Williams, who Sanderbach assistant Edgar Scott calls "The Franchise."

Bennett Tabs Chargers

SUWANEE, Ga. (UPI) — Now that his favored Falcons are no longer in the running, who does Leeman Bennett think will win the Super Bowl?

"San Diego," says the Atlanta coach. Why? "San Diego's passing game is very strong," says Bennett. "They've got good overall talent, especially in their defensive front. Yes, I'd have to say San Diego is the favorite."

Lucille Ball Enjoys First Grandchild

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Lucie Arac sat in a comfortable chair at home as she breast fed her son, Simon, 12-days old, and laughed at her mother's reaction to her first grandchild.

Grandmother, of course, is Lucille Ball who is a nervous Nellie around young Simon. "I think Mom's half afraid that he's breakable," Lucie said. "She came by again yesterday and said, 'You know, you have a beautiful baby.' And there were great big tears in her eyes."

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Floridians Turn Up Heat, But Power Supply Adequate

Floridians are turning up heaters to fight the cold snap, but power company officials say even with demand up as much as 14 percent over last year there's little chance of supply disruptions.

Florida Power & Light Co., Florida Power Corp., Tampa Electric Co. and Gulf Power Corp. — and Tuesday there's plenty of power to spare in Florida.

Florida Power & Light Co., spokesman for the St. Petersburg-based Florida Power Corp., said demand usage is about 9 to 10 percent higher this year than it was last winter.

Similarly, the state's largest utility, Florida Power & Light, which serves some 2.2 million customers is experiencing increases, but a spokesman said there hasn't been a threat to FPL's huge generating capacity.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Newly elected Public Service Commission Chairman Joe Cresse says he wants to speed up the regulatory process and streamline commission policy.

Cresse, one of two self-described "dumb country boys" on the PSC, was unanimously chosen chairman Tuesday succeeding Robert Mann, who resigned to return to his teaching post at the University of Florida Law School.

Cresse, 52, a native of Frostproof, Fla., was nominated for the chairmanship by Commissioner Gerald Gantner, the other four-ton-drinking "country boys" on the five-member panel.

Cresse, a commission member for two years, worked his way up over 25 years from a low-ranking state office to become former Gov. Reubin Askew's budget director and chief troubleshooter.

Hawkins To Lead New Panel

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Paula Hawkins has been named chairman of a newly created subcommittee to investigate the negative impact of federal regulations on labor, education and human resources.

The newly elected Florida Republican senator said through aide Ken Mingleford that it was created for her because of her reputation during six years on the Florida Public Service Commission for exploring ways to save money for utility customers.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Senate leaders are working on a plan to generate another $200 million annually for transportation work without raising the gasoline tax.

Gov. Bob Graham, however, continues to meet with legislative leaders about the prospects of a special session next month to raise the eight-cent-a-gallon gasoline levy.

Sen. Pat Thomas, chairman of the appropriations subcommittee that handles the Department of Transportation's budget, outlined Tuesday a plan to raise an extra $200 million a year for road and mass transit work by using license tax revenues and some of the $600 million surplus expected to have accumulated by this summer.

Graham probably will consider the plan even though he seems determined to replenish the road-building account with funds from a gas tax hike, said Thomas, D-Quincy.

Refugee Gun Law Urged

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — A member of the state Cabinet, believes Miami might be on the way to becoming "the cesspool of crime in this hemisphere" and wants guns taken out of the hands of newly arrived refugees.

Agriculture Commissioner Doyle Conner also proposed Tuesday that the state consider creating a permanent "strike force" of specially trained officers to send into crime-ridden areas to combat street violence.

Addressing a state task force studying Miami's recent crime wave, Conner said he wasn't certain if his gun-related proposal would be constitutionally possible but believes the issue should be addressed.

Schools Hike Prices For Special Lunches

Two thousand Seminole County students participating in the reduced-price lunch program will pay 10 cents more for their meals beginning Jan. 19.

The reduced-price lunches, which were 10 cents, will cost 20 cents. Last year the U.S. Department of Agriculture reimbursed the school system for the entire 10 cents. Under the Omnibus Reconciliation Appropriations Bill recently passed by Congress, only 10 of the 20 cents will be reimbursed, said D.F. Kirkpatrick, assistant director of food service.

The shortfall will be offset by the 10-cent hike in paid school lunches approved by the school board earlier this year, said Kirkpatrick.

But the school lunch program will lose $10,000 because of the hike, which also calls for a reduction in the amount of federal reimbursement for all student lunches.

Food service may have to go before the school board to get more money to cover the loss, Kirkpatrick said.

For a child to be eligible for a reduced-price lunch, the annual income level for a family of four cannot exceed $15,990, and for a family of five, $18,600.

Currently, lunches cost 75 cents for elementary students, 85 cents for middle school and high school students and $1.30 for adults.

One of the most unique children's theater groups in the world will soon be performing its "Aladdin." The group is Vagabond Marionettes. It will be performing at First Presbyterian Church, Friday at 7 p.m. There will be a small fee.

The program is being sponsored by the pre-school center. Information for tickets is available at the church office.

In 1977, Vagabond Marionettes received world puppetry's highest honor in the UNIMA-U.S. award for excellence. This is considered puppetry's "Oscar." The group has also been honored by being featured on national public television in "Mister Rogers Neighborhood."

Vagabond Marionettes was established in 1966 and since then has entertained hundreds of thousands of children. Since its inception, it has performed in every type of theater facility available, from school cafeteria to civic auditoriums.

Rolf's Owner Slapped With $100 County Fine

Richard C. Russell just thought he was following a court order. County Judge Alan Dickey didn't see it that way and fined Russell $100 for violating a county code.

The "misunderstanding" was at the center of a three-hour, non-jury trial Monday in which Russell was accused of taking his four-year-old German Shepherd Rolf from the Seminole County Animal Control Shelter in September without authorization.

In addition to the $100 fine, Russell was also ordered to pay $150 in court costs. Russell's wife Joann was acquitted of a charge of violating a county code.

The case began in July after the county animal control board deemed Rolf a vicious animal for attacking other animals and humans without provocation. On August 13, the board recommended the dog be executed.

A month later, Dickey gave Rolf a second chance and ordered he be sent to K-9 of Orlando for obedience training.

Russell testified Monday that he thought he was responsible for taking Rolf to Orlando and picked him up from the pound for that purpose.

The county claimed the dog was taken surreptitiously, Dickey agreed, but criticized the county and the animal control board for not implementing his order sooner.

Rolf is currently undergoing training at K-9 and is scheduled back at the animal pound later this week. Dickey will then make a final decision as to the dog's fate. No date has been set for that ruling. — BRITT SMITH

Casselberry Approves Playground Equipment

The Casselberry City Council this week approved a bid of $3,000 for playground equipment at Lake Hodge.

The wooden equipment currently used at the lake has rotted beyond repair, said Recreation Director Jim Booker.

"Therefore, we propose to replace it with galvanized structural steel equipment," Booker said.

The council awarded the bid to Miracle Recreation Equipment Co. The money will be used to buy a swing set for $405, physical fitness climber for $1,709, two sets saws for $299, wood mulch for $155 and concrete for $180.

The council also approved a low bid of $1,850 by Bill Stripp Construction, Casselberry, for walls and a low bid of $1,775 by Doster's Flooring Inc., Casselberry, for floors at the recreation building on Secret Lake.

BOYS LEARN HOW TO KILL These Salvador boys may look young enough to be waging imaginary wars with toy rifles. # Koreans Quiet About Politics

SEOUL, South Korea (UPI) — The young businessman politely shook his head and said, "It isn't safe to talk about politics."

Even on this train I don't risk talking about the government," he said in flawless English without a trace of emotion. "You don't know who may be listening."

Like a city jolted to its foundations by an earthquake and then crumpled by severe aftershocks, South Korea continues to be shaken by political reverberations following the October 1979 assassination of President Park Chung-hee.

Foreign journalists based here often remark that there are only two stories in South Korea: politics and the economy.

Former army general Chun Doo-hwan pulled on his iron gloves of absolute rule in a rise to the presidency that began one year ago, and the political story has grabbed the headlines.

To anchor his presence in the presidential mansion, known as the Blue House because of its bright blue tile roof, Chun has orchestrated the arrest, trial and death conviction of his No. 1 opponent, Kim Dae-jung, dissolved all political parties and banned most of the remaining opposition leaders from politics.

He has permitted the formation of new parties, but it's a question what kind of opposition they actually will present.

Called the "Land of the Morning Calm," South Korea was proclaimed a republic along democratic principles by its founding fathers in 1948.

Much of the discontent with the present government has been expressed by college and university students. They have staged demonstrations on most of the country's major campuses.

Often, they have erupted in bloody clashes with police and soldiers.

Students now are scared, a journalist explained. They have been beaten too hard. "No longer do any student sources call to tell when a demonstration will be held," he said. "They fear informers."

Despite the political turmoil, life in Seoul goes on normally. Or so it seems.

The Fifth Avenue-type Lotte shopping complex is jammed with evening shoppers admiring the numerous Western consumer items. But Seoul isn't cheap.

Seoul is a city of warning signs. A typical one posted at the entrance to a skyline drive that snakes through the hills ringing the city, declares: "Warning, this is a military area. All civilian vehicles and pedestrians prohibited."

Running is permitted around the Blue House — or it isn't. This correspondent was making an early morning run along the road that circles the mansion when motioned to stop by a Korean military policeman. "Jogging," he said, grinning widely. "OK."

Just 20 yards down the street another policeman darted out of his guard post, arms waving madly, shouting, "No jog, no jog."

"The communists are a threat and we must be prepared to fight," one Seoul resident told me in a resolute voice.

Cuba's Secret Agents Watch For Dissidents

HAVANA (UPI) — It takes a while to realize why Havana at night is different from other cities in Latin America and the West.

There are no neon signs, no flashing advertisements for toothpaste and nightclubs. The only neon signs, atop two government buildings, read "Patria o Muerte, Venceremos" (Nation or Death. We will overcome).

Old-time residents say Havana once glittered at night but after the 1959 communist revolution the government began taking down signs of capitalism. One of the first to go was an old Dutch Boy ad that showed a can of paint and the slogan "Painting is the art of making a difference."

Cuba does have a night life, much reduced from pre-revolutionary days. There are plenty of government-run restaurants and beer joints with relatively moderate prices — when they haven't run out of what's on the menu.

Most of the movies are Cuban, Soviet or East European, but sometimes an American film slips in. There were long lines for "Capricorn One" — about a U.S. plot to fake a landing on Mars — at a theater right outside the hotel where communist delegates met for the recent Second Communist Party Congress.

Business really picks up at the middle and end of each month when the meager rations allotted each person at controlled prices start running out: 5 pounds of rice, 16 ounces of chick peas, 4 ounces of coffee, 1 pound of butter and two cigars every 15 days, among other things.

It is prohibitively expensive to buy more than one pound of rice or black market — up to $1 a pound for rice and $4 for half a pound of coffee.

Cubans say it's cheaper to eat out.

One of the worst shortages is in housing. Yet rows of mansions stand empty in the once-gleaming Miramar neighborhood.

Some communist top guns appropriated mansions soon after the 1959 revolution but Castro decided this did not make communism look good. Those who had them were allowed to keep them, those mansions unclaimed.

They also help drum up crowds for Castro's famous speeches.

Cuban officials, by the way, don't talk about the divorce wave that is washing over the island.

"It I could handle and charge for divorces for these young kids who get married and then want to break up after a few months, I would be rich," one Cuban lawyer told a friend. He quickly stopped talking when he spotted a foreign reporter in the same elevator.

Cubans are reluctant to speak around strangers for fear of the massive security apparatus, put on the streets by Castro's old guerrilla comrade, Interior Minister Ramiro Valdes Menendez. Many of his secret agents are easily spotted because they favor rolled-up blue jeans and black Ladas, the Russian version of the Fiat 124 sedan.

Besides these professional enforcers of socialism, the state can count on a grass-roots security organ dubbed "Committees for the Defense of the Revolution."

In a speech before the Communist Party Congress, Castro boasted more than 30,000 people work for such committees, helping security forces keep tabs on the activities and thoughts of their 10 million fellow citizens.

The committees are organized at block level with a chairman and several volunteers. Though they carry out such innocuous tasks as recycling drives, no one denies their main function is to sniff out the counter-revolutionaries on the block. "Vigilance" is the key word in Cuba these days.

They also help drum up crowds for Castro's famous speeches.

Armed Off-Duty Police Imperil Selves, Others?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There are an estimated 300,000 armed, off-duty policemen in the United States at any given time, and a new study suggests they are a danger to themselves and the public.

From 1972 to 1978, the study said, more than "one in 10 of the officers killed by felons nationwide" were off duty.

"Off-duty guns are also important in police killings of citizens," the report said. "Several studies have found from 12 to 17 percent of homicides by police to occur while the officers were off duty."

The study is one of a series of reports on police, the public and violence in a recent issue of the Annals of the American Academy of Political and Social Science.

The study, "Always Prepared: Police Off-Duty Guns," was written by James J. Fyfe, a former New York police officer now an associate professor at American University in Washington, D.C.

Despite the statistics, Fyfe said "the 24-hour cop is everywhere," and "American police almost everywhere are expected to be armed and ready for action."

He cited estimates there are about 300,000 armed, off-duty police officers in the country at any given time.

Another study in the collection found, based on figures from New York City, that less than 2 percent of all police officers killed in the line of duty die in domestic disputes.

"Contrary to popular opinion, police are not often killed during domestic disturbances, nor are they the seemingly senseless victims of madmen or lunatics," said the study.

"Rather, New York police are more likely to be killed by rational robbers fleeing the scene of a crime, who routinely use potentially lethal weapons as tools of the trade."

A Public Foundation study said the use of police car patrols "is the most widespread and expensive" preventive tactic used by police — apparently makes little difference in the frequency of violence in residential areas.

Small Stroke Behind Reader's Problems?

DEAR DR. LAMB— Since last summer I've had trouble getting my words out. Some days it's not bad but today I couldn't say anything I wanted to. Is there a medicine for this? Sometimes if I wait a minute I can get the word. I am alone a lot and don't have anyone to talk to. Could that be the cause or have I had a stroke of some sort? I'm 68 years old. I lost my balance easily. I fell last summer and hurt my arm and shoulder. That got better and now I'm slipping and falling in the kitchen. I was shaken up and my husband had to help me get up both times.

Bananas Make Ideal Addition To Foods For Stir-Fry List

For years, many Americans thought Chinese food meant only chop suey and chow mein. But today, the true delights of Oriental cuisines can be easily sampled as more and more authentic Szechuan and Hunan restaurants are springing up in cities throughout the country. And few Americans can resist the appeal of this spicy, innovative type of cooking.

One outstanding principle behind Chinese cooking is stretching. Small quantities of leftovers or expensive meats are turned into several servings through stir-fry techniques — quickly sauteing the meat, along with a variety of colorful vegetables.

Although not customarily thought to be used in Chinese dishes, bananas do make an ideal addition to the stir-fry. And earliest written records about bananas actually appeared in ancient Chinese manuscripts. In today's menus they make an ideal contribution since they're economically priced year-round, and their subtly sweet, mellow flavor provides a soothing contrast to the more pronounced seasonings. Fortunately, because of the growing interest in China and Chinese cooking, department stores are featuring Oriental merchandise, foods and kitchen equipment. So it should be quite easy to locate what you need to prepare these marvelously aromatic dishes at home.

SWEET AND SOUR TURKEY — Szechuan Style is a fitting end to your holiday bird that you may have frozen for future use. A dish that's special enough for guests, it's also so quickly prepared it makes for fine family dining, as well. Szechuan cooking is characterized by the use of scallions and ginger, plus a touch of the sour. Our recipe relies on delectable bananas to provide a contrasting sweetness — so extra sugar is not needed.

The Hunan province is regarded as producing the hottest food in China. However, we have toned down the seasonings in Hot and Spicy Pork — Hunan Style to produce a superbly flavored dish that will appeal to the American palate. Here's a stir-fry that's fun to cook and great to eat — so get out your chopsticks and enjoy a meal that will evoke the exotic tastes of a Chinese banquet.

Bananas are one of the most versatile of fruits and can be used at almost every degree of ripeness. But the slightly firm, green-tipped bananas called for in these recipes are the most practical for stir-fries since they contribute just the right amount of mellow flavor to the dishes, while holding firm texture for attractive serving. SWEET AND SOUR TURKEY — Szechuan Style

Crown Ham Dish With Potatoes

Looking for a quick and different supper dish? Try this hearty ham casserole, crowned with creamy, mashed sweet potatoes. You can use either ham or turkey — or leftovers. Simply dice the meat and add it to a rich, creamy sauce made with evaporated milk. Pour it into a casserole dish and surround with tablespoons of seasoned sweet potatoes. Heat about 20 minutes. You might start the meal with a bowl of soup, and then bring on the casserole and a crisp green salad. If you feel ambitious, you might also add some freshly baked bread.

- SWEET POTATTO HAM CASSEROLE
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
  - 3 tablespoons flour
  - Dash of pepper
  - 1 cup water
  - 1 tall can (1 2/3 cup) evaporated milk divided usage
  - 2 cups (1 pound) diced cooked ham or turkey
  - 2 cans (21 oz. each) sweet potatoes, drained and mashed (about 3 cups mashed)
  - 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- Melt butter in saucepan. Blend in flour and pepper. Stir in water until smooth. Boil for 1 minute stirring constantly. Stir in 1 cup evaporated milk and ham. Pour into greased 2-quart round casserole. Beat together potatoes, 2/3 cup evaporated milk and salt. Drop by tablespoons over creamed ham. Ham and yams go into casserole.

2 green-tipped bananas cut in 1/2-inch pieces
In small bowl combine broth, catsup, vinegar, soy sauce, sesame seeds, carrots and pepper; set aside. In a wok or large skillet, heat oil until it is smoking hot; add scallions, ginger and garlic. Stir-fry quickly just until aroma is noticeable; add the broth mixture. Bring to a boil; reduce heat and simmer 1 minute. Dissolve cornstarch in water; add to wok. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture boils and thickens. Add turkey, bean sprouts, water chestnuts and bananas; mix well. Cook until heated through. Serve with steamed rice. Yield: 4 servings.

Sweet and Sour Turkey — Szechuan Style makes use of the versatile Chinese stir-fry to stretch that leftover turkey stored away in the freezer. Authentic seasonings and mellow bananas contribute to this dish's wonderful flavor and aroma.

Sandwiches Designed For Super Supper

The nicest thing about a super sandwich supper is that you can custom design and build your own feast. Crusty rolls, whole grain breads, lettuce, sliced cucumbers, green peppers and tomatoes, process cheese food, luncheon meat, or fish and poultry salads all mix or match for hearty eating.

And happily, that kind of easy to prepare meal-in-hand adds up to good nutrition, too. Drawing from the basic food groups — bread and cereal, vegetables and fruits, meat and meat alternates and dairy — a hearty sandwich can be practically a complete meal in itself. These three big Hero sandwich ideas from the home economists in the Kraft Kitchens pull together a variety of ingredients.

If you're serving a group of people, arrange a selection of sandwich making fare on a platter and let your guests choose their favorites. Easy-to-fix accompaniments such as fresh fruit and vegetable chunks or potato chips and pretzels are great sandwich "sides". Pitchers of soft drinks or beer complete the picture, and make refill serving easier for the host.

Cuisine Contest Underway

The most distinguishing quality of Japanese cuisine is its reverence for the natural beauty and natural flavor of food. The Japanese do not mix several foods together in the same dish as the Chinese do, nor do they like to add rich sauces to their food as some of the French do; they prefer to serve foods separately and simply, in order to relish each type of food individually.

The Tempura featured here is an example of a classic Japanese dish. Fresh vegetables and shrimp are coated in a batter which is so light it is translucent after it is cooked. The vegetables and shrimp are then deep fried in peanut oil, which is light enough to enhance the natural flavors of food. Peanut oil is recommended by culinary experts who say it is closest to oils used in the orient. Its light flavor makes it ideal for preparing delicate Japanese dishes.

Furthermore, it is completely natural and unrefined with nothing artificial added. The Tempura featured here is an example of recipes which may be entered in Planters Oil's "Great Cuisines of the World" Recipe Contest. Original recipes which use Planters 100 percent Pure Peanut Oil may be entered in one of six categories — French, Greek, Indonesian, Italian, Oriental and Spanish. For contest rules, look in your favorite store or write to: Planters Oil Contest Rules, Drawer "A," Madison Square Station, New York, N.Y., 10010.

Finalists' recipes will be considered for use in future Planters Oil recipe books. Everyone entering the contest will receive a free copy of Planters Oil's new booklet, "Frying Coast to Coast," which contains more than 50 inspiring recipe ideas for sauteing, stir-frying, pan-frying and deep-frying regional and international favorites. It also contains helpful cooking advice for perfect meals and a 50 cent coupon toward the purchase of Planters 100 percent Pure Peanut Oil. The Tempura pictured here is one of several international favorites featured in the "Frying Coast to Coast" booklet.

Fast-Cooking Mix Puts Stew Back On The Menu

Peasants' Fare A Favorite In Many Gourmet Circles

For generations, in all countries, stews were economical; they were flavorful meals for very little money. Although often considered peasants' fare, stews are high on the list as favorites of major chefs for their own dinners after long, hard hours preparing gourmet delicacies for their patrons.

Stews are a frugal way to stretch the budget and make better use of less expensive meat cuts today as in great-grandmothers' and grandmothers' day.

It took long hours of slow-cooking to make the meat fork-tender; the stews' flavor increased as the ingredients blended harmoniously. Time is of the essence now, but 1980s cooks can still have stews from around the world, yet cook them in only 30 minutes to one hour. The secret is the use of a stew mix that eliminates pre-browning and contains basic stew seasonings plus tenderizing the meat.

Try this for a Hungarian stew, an Irish stew or an Indian curry stew.

In a 4-quart saucepan, evenly sprinkle stew mix over meat. Pierce meat with a fork. Let stand two minutes. Add remaining ingredients; mix well. Cover and simmer, stirring occasionally, 1 hour or until lamb is tender. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4-6 servings.

INDIAN CURRIED STEW

1 package 1 hour stew mix
1 chicken, (about 2½-3 pounds), cut up and skin removed
¼ cup raisins
2 cloves garlic, minced
1 large onion, finely chopped
1 medium apple, peeled and finely chopped
2-3 tablespoons curry powder
¼ teaspoon ground thyme

In large skillet, evenly sprinkle stew mix on chicken; pierce deeply with a fork and let stand 2 minutes. Add remaining ingredients, mix well and bring to a boil. Cover and simmer, stirring occasionally 30-40 minutes or until chicken is tender. Serve over rice; sprinkle with coconut. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 servings.

Today's cooks can whip up a tantalizing stew in from 30 minutes to an hour with a stew mix that eliminates pre-browning and contains basic stew seasonings plus tenderizing the meat.

HUNGARIAN STEW

1 package 1 hour stew mix
1½ pounds stew beef, cut into 1-inch cubes
6 medium potatoes, peeled and quartered
¾ cup beef broth
two-thirds cup water
1 medium onion, sliced
¼ cup tomato paste
2 tablespoons paprika
¼ teaspoon caraway seed
Pepper, to taste
1 cup sour cream

In a 4-quart saucepan, evenly sprinkle stew mix over meat. Pierce meat with a fork; let stand 2 minutes. Add potatoes, broth, water, onion, tomato paste, paprika, caraway seed and pepper. Simmer, covered, 1 hour. Stir occasionally. Add sour cream. Heat through; do not boil. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4-6 servings.

Upside Down Almond Tamale Pie is as nutritious as it is deliciously different.

Meatless Entree High In Protein

Meatless entrees are appearing more regularly these days at the family supper table for reasons of economy and nutrition. By including alternative sources of protein such as eggs, cheese, grains and nuts in place of expensive meats, an entree like Upside Down Almond Tamale Pie can be wholesome, economical and delicious.

This dinner specialty gets its high marks in protein from a combination of almonds, eggs and Monterey Jack cheese. The tender cornmeal crust is enhanced with the unique flavor and distinctive crunchiness of toasted chopped almonds.

This is the nut that comes in more convenient forms than any other—diced, sliced, altered or whole—and makes generous contributions of nutrients like vitamin E, riboflavin, phosphorus, copper and magnesium.

No wonder almonds are such a reliable and versatile ingredient to add to so many menu categories from soups to breads, and salads to desserts.

The inside filling of this upside-down pie is no less rewarding in flavor and goodness. The filling is a distinctive array of onions, corn, bell peppers, ripe olives and cheese. Served with the zesty tomato sauce, this nourishing almond entree is guaranteed to become a traditional family dinner favorite.

UPSIDE DOWN ALMOND TAMALE PIE

1 can (10½ ounces) condensed chicken broth
¾ cup yellow cornmeal
1-3 cup water Mexican Filling (recipe follows)
½ cup chopped almonds
1 large egg, beaten
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
¼ teaspoon salt

Sauce (recipe follows)

In top of double boiler, combine broth, cornmeal and water. Cook over direct heat, stirring, until mixture thickens. Set over boiling water, cover, and cook 20 minutes. Meanwhile, prepare Mexican Filling. Grease a 9-inch cake pan and sprinkle with 3 tablespoons of the almonds to coat. When cornmeal mixture is cooked, stir a little into the egg. Beat egg mixture into remaining cornmeal mixture. Add remaining almonds, cheese, butter, and salt. Mix well. Pat all but ¼ cup of the mixture into pan to line bottom and sides. Pour in Mexican Filling. Fold cornmeal mixture over edge of filling, then pat remaining cornmeal over center of pan to cover filling. Bake in 350 degree oven 40 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes, then invert onto serving plate. Serve with hot sauce. Makes 6 servings.

Money-Saving Dishes Can Be Most Welcome In January

Frittata Is The Thing For Leftovers

Tasty Mediterranean Stuffed Peppers with raisins and cinnamon makes tempting use of leftover rice.

Certain foods disappear quickly off a party buffet server, and why not? Baked ham, stuffed chicken breasts or roast beef are included on everybody's list of delicious foods. Even though all your accompanying goodies are almost as popular, you're often left with lots of rice or potatoes.

All food should be used in these days of high prices, and leftover starches can form the base of fine family dinners a few days after the party is just a memory.

Rice can be used as a base for stir-fry dishes which may use up other leftovers too, or for creamy rice pudding, or to stuff peppers. Stuffed peppers needn't be ordinary, but can be made in a new and tempting way by adding raisins and sausage meat.

Roast or whole baked potatoes can be very simply sliced or chunked and fried in a little oil. But to make a nutritious, quick and whole supper dish with them, a frittata is the thing. Frittata is the Italian answer to quiche, but because there is no crust and one can add larger pieces of food, the frittata seems more substantial.

EASY BEEF FRITTATA

3 tablespoons vegetable oil
2 medium potatoes, cooked, pared and sliced (1½ cups)
1-3 cup chopped onion
1 garlic, crushed
6 eggs
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon dried leaf thyme, crushed
¼ teaspoon dried marjoram
1 jar (2½ ounces) dried chopped beef

Heat oil in a skillet over medium heat. Add potato slices, onion and garlic. Add onion, and garlic, cook 3 minutes. In a medium bowl, beat together eggs, parsley, salt, thyme and marjoram. Hiss beef with water to remove excess salt; drain. Add beef to egg mixture; pour over potatoes in skillet. Cover. Cook over low heat until bottom of frittata is lightly browned. Wrap handle of skillet in aluminum foil and place skillet under broiler until top of frittata is set and lightly brown. Turn out onto serving plate. YIELD: 4 servings.

MEDITERRANEAN STUFFED PEPPERS

1 large, green pepper
1 pound ground chuck
1½ cup dark seedless raisins
Wash peppers; cut slice off tops; remove seeds. Drop peppers in a large pot of boiling, salted water 3 minutes; remove and drain. In a large skillet cook the beef and sausage just until pink color disappears; transfer to a large mixing bowl. Add onion to skillet; saute 3 minutes; add to mixing bowl. Add tomatoes and garlic to skillet; simmer 10 minutes. Meanwhile, add rice, walnuts, basil, oregano, salt and cinnamon to meat mixture. Add ½ cup of the tomatoes; mix well. Stir in raisins. Spoon mixture into green peppers. Stand peppers upright in an oven-proof casserole. Spoon remaining tomato sauce over peppers. Cover. Bake in a 350 degrees F. oven 35-40 minutes or until peppers are tender. YIELD: 4 servings.

Note: Peppers may be stuffed and refrigerated. Store in an 8½ x 8½ plastic container with a square seal.

¼ cup water
2 teaspoon pepper sauce
1 package Shake 'n Bake
Salt

Pare potatoes and cut into strips (as for french fries). Soak in cold water. If desired, use a crinkle cutter to make strips. Mix water and pepper sauce in pie plate. Drain potato strips, a few at a time, and pat pepper sauce mixture in pie plate. Swish around to moisten on all sides. Put about 8 moistened potato strips at a time into plastic bag with Shake 'n Bake. Shake to coat well. Remove and place in rows on foil-lined baking sheet. Repeat with remaining potatoes. Bake in 325-degree oven 1 hour. Sprinkle with salt and serve immediately. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 to 6 servings.

STUFFED ZUCCHINI

12 small whole or 6 large zucchini (3 pounds)
¼ pound ground beef or lamb
¼ cup regular cooking rice (uncooked)
1 can (15 ounces) tomato sauce, divided
¾ teaspoon onion powder
¾ teaspoon salt, divided
¼ teaspoon basil leaves, crushed
¼ teaspoon oregano leaves crushed
1-16oz teaspoon ground black pepper
1 can (15 ounces) whole tomatoes, broken up
¼ teaspoon garlic powder

Cut ends from zucchini. Cut large zucchini in half crosswise. Using an apple corer, scoop out pulp leaving ¼-inch thick shell.

In a medium bowl, combine beef, rice, ¼-cup of the tomato sauce, onion powder, ¼ teaspoon of the salt, basil, oregano and black pepper.

Stuff into zucchini shells until ¾ full to allow for rice to expand; set aside. In a large skillet, combine tomatoes, garlic powder and remaining ¼ teaspoon salt and tomato sauce; bring to a boil. Add reserved zucchini, spooning some of the sauce over zucchini. Reduce heat and simmer, covered, until zucchini and rice are tender, about 45 minutes, stirring occasionally. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 portions.

Chemical Firm Denies Looking At 'Track' Property

By DONNA ESTES
 Herald Staff Writer

A City Chemicals Co. Inc. official denied today that his firm is negotiating with Longwood entrepreneur Marc Robinson for the purchase of property in Lake Mary as a site for a waste chemical reclamation plant.

"We have not been approached," said Bill Howard, vice president of City Chemicals, an Orlando-based firm. City Chemicals is currently operating a temporary waste chemical storage facility in Sanford on a two-acre tract off Airport Boulevard and Jewett Lane.

The firm's Sanford operation has been under fire from city officials and nearby property owners, as well as from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and State Department of Environmental Regulation.

Television reports Wednesday and today said Robinson, who has abandoned plans to build a horse track on a 100-acre site in Lake Mary at Lake Emma Road and Interstate 4, is now discussing sale of the site to City Chemicals.

Howard denied the report. He said although City Chemicals plans to construct a new waste chemical reclamation plant, a site has not been chosen for the facility. "We are looking at several locations," he said, declining to say where the sites are located.

Meanwhile, Robinson, a principal in Mid-State Development Corp. and Harness Racing Inc. both of Longwood, is reported to have set his sights on a new location in Polk County for his proposed quarter horse track.

Reports are that the new 221-acre site is near the intersection of State Road 33 and Interstate 4 near the Lakeland Auto Auction. The land is owned by the Polk City Land Corp.

Although Polk County Land Corp. is listed as owner of property in that general area, the Polk County Property Appraiser's office in Lakeland said no telephone number is listed for the firm.

Neither Robinson nor Frank Sabotka, another principal in the Longwood firms, were available for comment today.

Plans to build a $17 million horse track in Lake Mary were abandoned after residents voted against the location of a horse track in Lake Mary by more than a 2-to-1 margin.

A lawsuit was filed against Mid-State Development last week by Jerome Bornstein, trustee for the original owners of the property, seeking foreclosure of the mortgage on the Lake Emma Road tract.

Vaccine Unavailable

State Flu Cases Take Steep Jump

By DIANE PETRYK
 Herald Staff Writer

While flu-like illnesses appear to be up significantly statewide, health officials report flu vaccine is virtually unavailable.

Seminole County Health Department Director Dr. Jorge De Ju said this morning the unavailability of flu vaccine would probably increase the mortality rate from flu among certain high-risk groups. Persons at greater risk from flu include those over 60 and those with chronic illnesses that may have lowered their bodies' natural defenses to disease.

These include persons with cardiac problems and those with asthma, emphysema and other respiratory ailments.

De Ju advised persons in the high-risk group avoid exposure by staying away from persons who have had flu-like illness and visit a doctor for proper treatment if they develop and cold or fever symptoms. He also advised the group to insure they obtain the proper nutrients and avoid exposure to cold.

De Ju said the Seminole County Health Department has been trying to obtain flu vaccine since November but has been unsuccessful.

"Apparently the manufacturer stopped making it," he said. "All counties are running out. It isn't available from the federal government. There's no vaccine available in the country anywhere."

De Ju surmised that some of the lack may be due to a widespread immunization program that took place earlier.

"We immunized significantly more persons in Seminole County this year than last year," he said. This may help offset the expected increase in flu deaths due to lack of vaccine, he said, but that will only be known when officials compare statistics from this year's flu season with last year's.

According to Seminole County Health Department epidemiology investigator Bernice Duncan, a spot check of five doctors and Seminole Memorial Hospital emergency room records showed about 500 current cases of illness with flu-like symptoms.

Although she emphasized blood tests are necessary to confirm a case of flu, she said the number of cases appears significant because it came from such a small number of doctors.

Statewide, an eight-county sample showed there were 896 emergency room visits for flu-like illnesses in the week ending Dec. 19, De Ju said.

Out of 10,961 emergency room visits in those counties that week, the flu-like cases comprised 8.2 percent of all visits.

The percentage is significantly more than in previous periods, he said.

De Ju said no cases in the sample were confirmed by blood tests, but typically, cases are not so tested.

Seminole County school officials report no increase in absenteeism. Rates are about normal at county schools among both students and teachers with one exception, according to assistant superintendent Dan Dagg. A greater than normal percentage of English Estates Elementary School teachers reported in sick.

Six of the school's 30 teachers were absent this morning reported assistant principal Faye Gaines.

"That may be seven before the day is out," a teacher not feeling well added.

Dagg said normal teacher absentee rates are about half the 20 percent rate at English Estates.

If the flu is coming to the schools, "it's not here yet," he said.

But even if there's a full-blown epidemic, Dagg said the schools will cope.

"We've always been able to cover with substitutes," he said.

Seminole County officials are not experiencing any reported high rate of absenteeism due to illness, according to Senior Personnel Analyst Laura Viehmyer.

"But most of us have coughs and sore throats," she said.

appear to be the principal contributors to excess mortality, but pointed out "these data are not complete as yet and must be looked at in light of morbidity (the number of flu cases) and laboratory data."

Officials trying to gauge the severity of the outbreak said they were still studying information collected by the CDC's extensive influenza surveillance network, which includes state health departments, hospitals and "sentinel physicians."

Brennan, who said reporting of flu cases had been delayed by the holiday, noted that in addition to increased deaths, some states that had been reporting only sporadic flu activity were now having regional outbreaks.

People 65 or older were advised to get flu vaccinations, Brennan said. He described the vaccine "Amanadine" as being 70-80 percent effective against three types of influenza — B-Singapore, A-Brazil and A-Bangkok.

A-Bangkok, the virus that is causing most of the recent illness, the CDC said, is a comparatively new virus against which most people have no natural immunity. Therefore, it is capable of spreading and causing extensive illness.

Diplomat Rushes To Hostage Talks

ALGIERS, Algeria (UPI) — Deputy Secretary of State Warren Christopher met with Algerian Foreign Minister Mohammed Benyahia today for what appeared to be the Carter administration's dramatic final attempt to negotiate release of the 52 hostages held by Iran before the end of its term.

With only a dossier in his hand and arriving without luggage, Christopher hurried to the Algerian Foreign Ministry immediately upon landing in Algiers for the previously unscheduled visit.

Christopher's arrival sparked hopes in diplomatic quarters that the talks had reached a decisive, ultimate phase. Algeria was reported to be doing its best to bring the two parties together before the Carter administration bows out Jan. 20. But in Washington, officials warned that while differences were narrowing, no imminent breakthrough appeared in sight.

So hasty was Christopher's trip aboard a special Boeing 707 jetliner that Benyahia did not have time to summon to Algeria the three top Algerian negotiators handling the talks. An additional reflection of the speed with which Christopher was moving was the fact he was expected to leave for Washington late tonight.

"The American diplomats came without luggage this time," a diplomatic source said. "We expect their stay to last only a few hours."

Sources said the Americans apparently would give the Algerians the final figure Washington was prepared to put into a deal with Algeria — as demanded by Tehran — to win the hostages' freedom, and fly back home. The Algerians will then immediately forward the offer to Tehran, sources said. Reflecting the urgency with which Washington pressed forward the issue was the fact Benyahia had been due to fly by this morning to Tunis. He put off his trip by a few hours, a further indication Christopher's trip here would be a matter of a few hours only.

Before departing for Algiers, Christopher warned "time is running out."

An Algerian Embassy official in Tehran who spoke with UPI today by telephone from London, said, "we will have good news soon, but be patient."

But President-elect Ronald Reagan said he wouldn't "want to write a blank check" on a deal that was worked out but couldn't be carried out for lack of time by the Carter administration.

Washington's unexpected move to send Christopher to Algiers came Wednesday after the Iranian official in charge of the hostage negotiations, Behzad Nabavi, said Algeria has proposed a way of ending the 432-day impasse.

Mustafa Belhocine, the minister consul at the Algerian Embassy in Tehran, today said a delegation of Algerian officials still was in Tehran and "discussions are going on."

Asked if his remark about "good news" coming soon meant the hostage issue would be resolved before President Carter leaves office Jan. 20, Belhocine said, "How can I answer that? But I can say that things are going well."

Reagan Plans Cuts Across The Board

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President-elect Ronald Reagan said today he will tackle the nation's budgetary problems by making across-the-board cuts in federal spending.

Reagan was questioned by reporters outside the government residence, Blair House, as he headed for the State Department for his first meeting with his full Cabinet.

"We're going to start whittling it all," said Reagan when asked how he would handle the reported $60 billion budget deficit this year.

He was asked if he has specific areas in mind.

"Across-the-board," replied Reagan.

"SNOWBIRDS" REMEMBER

Morris Parrow and Evelyn Thomas are "snowbirds" from Waterloo, N.Y., who, for the past four years, have wintered in Sanford aboard their houseboat. Should the warm sunny days become too monotonous, Parrow erected a reminder on his boat made from snow boots, a snow shovel, brush and ice scraper to help him recall the frigid weather back home. The "snowbirds" visiting the area no doubt received more than they bargained for overnight as the low temperature dipped to 35 degrees. For more weather details, see Page 2A.
