Mrs. George Speer, was the charming hostess to the members of the Book Circle Tuesday afternoon. A rather unique guessing contest furnished much fun and amusement. Chili Con Carne Boat Ride

The jolly Chili Con Carne boys gave a moonlight boat ride Tuesday evening and dance at Enterprise, complimentary to the ladies of their acquaintance, and although the "Man in the Moon" hid his bashful countenance behind the dense vapors of a heavy fog the gay crowd report a fine time, albeit they were lost by the fog and were brought into port by Capt. Pagenhart in the wee sma' hours, tired but happy and ready for the next trip.

Luncheon for Visitor

Miss Laura Fish entertained at a pretty little luncheon Wednesday, in honor of Miss Aileen Minnick, the attractive guest of Mrs. Geo. Bishop. Covers were laid for six and a delicious five course luncheon was served. The table was daintily appointed and adorned with fresh, fragrant roses. Roses were everywhere, the favors too being a rose, while the place cards were lovely little canoes filled with autumn leaves.

St. Agnes Guild

The young ladies of St. Agnes Guild and a few friends were delightfully entertained by Miss Lucille Aspinwall Monday afternoon. The girls enjoy their Guild meetings very much and the occasion was particularly pleasant. A tempting refreshment course was served, consisting of lettuce salad, Welsh rarebit, hot tea and crackers.

St. Andrews Chicken Pillau

The boys of the St. Andrews Brotherhood were hosts to the St. Agnes Guild girls last night at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Robson on Sanford Heights at a very delightful porch dance and chicken pillau. The boys proved themselves quite equal to the occasion, for the "pillau" with all the accessories was delicious and the dance one of the most enjoyable ever. The hosts and their guests met at the rectory and walked out to Dr. Robson's home, a gay and happy crowd of young people on pleasure bent, chaperoned by Mrs. Peck, Mrs. T. J. Miller and Mrs. Robinson. Enjoying the charming hospitality of the boys were Rev. and Mrs. Peck, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Betts, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Lane, Mrs. Rob. Every Week Bridge

Mrs. G. F. Smith was the charming hostess yesterday afternoon to the members of the Every Week Bridge Club, only the members being present. Duplicate auction was played, the prizes being won by Mrs. Lake and Mrs. C. O. McLaughlin. They were pretty little silver deposit lemon plates. A delicious salad course was served in the dining room.

The table was very lovely with its luncheon set of Madera islet embroidery, centered by a vase of pink roses, surrounded by pink shaded candles. Mrs. Smith's guests were Mesdames T. A. Neal, Margaret Barnes, W. D. Holden, C. M. Voree, Forrest Lake, C. O. McLaughlin and S. E. Barrett.

Junior Civic League

The last meeting of the Junior Civic League for this year will be held Monday afternoon at half past three o'clock at the Woman's Club rooms on Oak avenue. This will be a meeting for Busy Bees and Junior Citizens together and a full attendance is desired. The children of the public school at large are cordially invited to attend this meeting and enjoy the interesting talk that will be given by Mrs. J. N. Whitner. She will tell all about the original mosquito country and of what she saw on the inside of an Indian mound. Mrs. Whitner's last talk to the children on the early history of Sanford was received with enthusiastic interest by the children of the League, so this opportunity is given to all of the public school children of Sanford, if they will but come. An interesting program including the flag ceremony and pledge will be rendered by the children.

Special attention is called to the mistake in the date of the Congressional bazaar which occurred in last issue. It will be held tomorrow Saturday afternoon and evening in the Hynes building on First street, between Oak and Park avenues. Among the many pretty things on sale will be a nice line of Japanese goods, especially worthy of mention, the place cards that have come direct from Japan.

On Saturday afternoon and evening of the 12th the ladies of the Episcopal church will hold their annual Christmas bazaar. There will be a beautiful assortment of fancy work and dainty articles on the booths of this bazaar, and the usual good things will be found on the menu for supper. Home made candies will be on sale and the Junior girls will have an attractive booth. (Additional People and Events Page 9)

ELKS MEMORIAL MOST IMPRESSIVE

LODGE OF SORROW WAS A BEAUTIFUL CEREMONY ON SUNDAY

The Lodge of Sorrow held by Sanford Lodge No. 1241 B. P. O. E. last Sunday afternoon in the Imperial Theatre was one of the most beautiful and impressive ceremonies that has ever been granted to a Sanford audience to witness.

The stage was tastefully decorated in the purple and white of the Elks, the entire top of the stage being enclosed by alternate stripes of the purple and white being brought in a rosette. The effect made the stage seem like a room made especially for the services and the front of the stage was a bower of ferns, palms and potted plants. In the very center of the front stage the large natural elk head of the order rested. The electrical effects were very fine, the one especially impressive being the names of the absent brothers in letters on separate glass boxes and as the secretary called the names they were flashed upon the glass and remained lighted during the ceremonies.

Promptly at 3:30 the lodge with about one hundred members present filed into the church, followed by the officers and took their seats. Upon the stage were Exalted Ruler R. L. Peck, Chaplain Rev. A. S. Peck, Hon. Forrest Lake, Hon. Geo. DeCottes and Hon. R. M. Wallace.

After the sign of sorrow had been given by the lodge and all had been seated the Rollins College rendered "Still, Still with Thee," which with their other selections and the solo by Prof. H. T. Pope demonstrated that music is not neglected at Rollins College and the quartette showed the careful training of Prof. Pope. This music was one of the features of the exercises and was greatly enjoyed.

The ritualistic work participated in by the officers as they were called up by Exalted Ruler R. L. Peck and the roll call of the absent brothers by Secretary A. S. Peck were most impressive and aided by the electrical effects assisted in this beautiful custom of the Elks lodge. The absent brothers are W. D. Holden, B. F. Higgins, W. M. Wadley, R. H. Mars, J. C. Higgins, W. H. Underwood and George H. Fernald.

Thematopsis recited by Miss Gladys Morris was a rare treat and with perfect composure this young lady gave this beautiful poem that never grows old among the Elks and gave it exceedingly well.

Mrs. George Hoy, a favorite among Sanford soloists rendered two soprano solos, "The Singing in God's Acre" and "Resignation" with her usual excellent voice and delighted her many admirers and the audience in general.

The oration of Hon. R. M. Wallace was a masterpiece in phraseology and for thirty minutes he gave the history of the country and compared past and future generations in their relations to fraternal brotherhood, paying high tribute to the great men of this country.

Sandwiched between two orations came a beautiful tenor solo by Prof. Pope, the meat that gave a better appetite to the bread of thought, the eulogies of the absent brothers by Hon. Geo. DeCottes following. Sanford always expects something good from her young orator and his audience is never disappointed for his beautiful tributes last Sunday, to the absent brothers have never been equalled at home or abroad. Mr. DeCottes won new laurels while placing the wreaths upon the headstones of memories of the departed and his eulogistic oration was a gem of a master mind. With the entire assemblage singing "Blest be the Tie that Binds" followed by the benediction the Elks filed out, followed by the audience, all of them with the feeling that they had a deeper insight into the sacred benevolence of the Elks, the lodge that never forgives a brother, living or dead and another memorial day of the B. P. O. E. passed into history.

EAST COAST CANAL CAUSING COMMENT

SEVERAL MEETINGS WILL BE HELD BY VARIOUS PARTISANS

Sanford and Palatka and other cities along the St. Johns river, as well as the inland cities in this section must be up and doing in the matter of having the government adopt the St. Johns river as the upper end of the interoceanic canal. The cities of the East Coast are bending all their efforts to have the government take over the East Coast canal because they have discovered that individual ownership is unable to pay the enormous expense attached to keeping the upper end of the East Coast canal open to navigation. The St. Johns river is the legitimate upper end of the canal and has been decided upon by the engineers and will undoubtedly be chosen by the government for a number of good and sufficient reasons, chief among them being the great saving in dollars. The following from the New Orleans News shows that the folks over there favor the East Coast proposition because they think it will benefit their cities and are not looking at the proposition from an economic standpoint.

At the Stuart convention of the East Coast Canal Association there were numerous heated arguments over whether the East Coast canal, if taken over by the government, shall follow the same course as the present canal, straight along the coast, or that it follow the St. Johns river and come to the Gulf of Mexico at Palatka. Representatives from Sanford and other towns along the St. Johns river insisted that this route be adopted. Delegates from Daytona, New Smyrna and St. Augustine were emphatic in their advocacy of the present route.

The government's engineers it is understood, favor the St. Johns route because it would take about two million dollars less money to deepen it to ten or twelve feet. It has been suggested that if the several counties through which the present route runs would put up half the money for the extra cost, the government would yield to the wishes of the people and give the other million. Should an agreement of this nature be reached the eight counties affected would have to raise $125,000 each; but it is stated that the saving in freight rates would more than reimburse them.

The St. Johns route is about 75 miles longer than the other, and it is estimated that twenty-five per cent more time would be required for boats to make the trip this way from Miami to Jacksonville.

SEMINOLE FAIR MAKES PROGRESS

COMMITTEES ARE HARD AT WORK ON ARRANGEMENTS

Seminole County Fair will be the next great attraction for the people of this part of Florida and promises to eclipse everything ever before attempted here. The first fair in the baby county will start as a street fair, the booths being on the street and the agricultural and industrial displays being in vacant buildings near the center of the city if possible or temporary buildings or tents. The executive committee met last Friday and outlined the campaign of interesting every man, woman and child in the county in the fair. Henry Marks, the veteran in the attraction line will be here in a few days to take charge of this part of the fair and as a nucleus will bring two aeroplanes. His factories are at work on the special fireworks and the feature part of the fair will be a big drawing card. The Seminole County Fair will be held on Feb. 3, 4, 5, 6, and the displays of fruits and vegetables, fancy work, school exhibits, etc., will then be taken to the Sub-Tropical Fair at Orlando, where Seminole expects to carry off the prize.

Arrival of the Stork

Mr. and Mrs. Douglass Ellerbe are rejoicing in the arrival of a fine boy at their home on French avenue. The Orlando Sentinel has the following regarding the momentous occasion: The Stork Special visited Sanford yesterday afternoon and left a bright baby boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Douglass R. Ellerbe. Mrs. Ellerbe was formerly Miss Glenn Cheney, daughter of Judge and Mrs. J. M. Cheney of Orlando. She was born and raised in this city and has a host of friends who will extend happiest congratulations. The infant son has happy grandparents and two happy uncles. The little boy was properly named John Cheney Ellerbe, in honor of his grandfather.

SPECIAL CHRISTMAS EDITION OF HERALD

Merchants and consumers for space in our special Christmas edition, for the merchants of Sanford recognize the value of these Christmas editions. This is not a fly by night outside soliciting affair but simply a Christmas edition of the Sanford Herald compiled especially for the merchants of Seminole county to enable them to demonstrate that they have the holiday stocks and are anxious to serve the public. Hon. Geo. DeCottes and Hon. R. M. Wallace are the only solicitors for the edition and not one cent of the money will go out of Sanford, as we do not stand for foreign advertisers taking money out of the city. The Herald has advocated trading at home and we stand by this axiom and our greatest asset in soliciting advertising is that we get results for the advertisers and the money spent at the Sanford Herald is money spent at home. The Christmas edition will be enclosed in a highly embellished cover and will be well printed and filled with good reading matter descriptive of the county and city and the holiday season. It will be issued on December 15th in ample time for the merchants to achieve results. Get your copy in early and take plenty of space. The prices are reasonable.

RED CROSS CHRISTMAS SEALS

Attention is called to the Red Cross Christmas seals that are now on sale at the drug store of R. C. Bowers, who has kindly offered the use of his store as headquarters for their sale and distribution. The seals are put on sale by the health committee of the Welfare Department, Woman's Club, in the interest of the tuberculosis campaign that is being waged throughout our broad land. As it is now the custom to stamp Christmas letters and packages with Christmas stamps and seals of all kinds, we urge upon the people of Sanford a general use of the Red Cross seals, for they represent the cause of humanity and each seal sold is a nail driven in behalf of

ANOTHER BRIDGE ON THE ST. JOHNS

GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS AND CITIZENS COUNTY MET YESTERDAY

The government boat, J. J. Meyler with Major Ladue and crew aboard was here yesterday on the way to Lake Harney, where they held a meeting with the people of the Geneva section, regarding the new bridge across the St. Johns river connecting the Orlando-Indian river route. A party of Sanford business men representing the Sanford Commercial Club were present at the meeting to confer with the government officials regarding the St. Johns river improvements and the possibilities of the St. Johns river as the upper end of the Inland Waterways through Florida. This great river, already opened to navigation as far as Lake Harney has already been greatly improved and is found to be recognized as the feasible route for the inland canal via Salt Creek at Titusville.

The party going over from Sanford were Mr. E. T. Woodruff and son, Charles, C. R. Walker, A. P. Connelly and W. M. Haynes, all representing the Sanford Commercial Club. The meeting was held in the parking house on the Lake Harney dock and was attended by representatives from Geneva, Orlando, Titusville and Sanford. Major Ladue presided at the meeting and little opposition was found to the project. It is thought that the bridge as proposed will meet with the requirements of the War Department although Major Ladue has not as yet made his report.

After the meeting the ladies invited the guests to partake of a dinner such as the Geneva people alone know how to prepare and serve and while many present declared that they had little or nothing to say at the meeting it was noted that every one did his part when seated at the table. The meeting as a whole was a grand success and the road from Titusville to Sanford will soon be under construction.

WORK ON BULKHEAD RAPIDLY PROGRESSING

The bulkhead of the lake front going forward in rapid progress and will soon be finished as far as the concrete bulkhead is to be made. The work of filling in will then commence and the contractors expect to finish this work in record time. All the latest improved machinery has been installed. On account of the nature of the sand at the lake front the work was retarded by assisting the manufacture of special cutterheads and other machines for digging up the hard pan, but the dredge is all ready for this work and about January 10th will begin operations. The Clyde Lane has signified their willingness to meet the great improvements halfway and will build new buildings and docks in keeping with the progressive city of Sanford and in the next twelve months the lake front at Sanford will present a most handsome appearance. The Elks have recently purchased two lots on the lake front and will erect a handsome home in the summer and several other parties have bought residence sites and express themselves as being anxious to reside on the improved lake front. This work of reclaiming the lake front will make a new Sanford.

Child Fatally Burned

While playing before an open fire that was burning the trash in the yard last Friday Leonora Weth, aged five years had her clothing catch fire and before the flames could be extinguished the child had suffered burns that proved fatal. The accident occurred at the home of her parents on Oak avenue. The funeral was held from the late residence of the child last Saturday, interment being made in the Catholic cemetery.

Commercial Club and smoker next Friday night at the City Hall. The only meeting in December and many matters of importance will come before the meeting.

SEPARATE HOMES FOR T.-B. PATIENTS

FLORIDA HOSPITAL FOR THE INSANE WILL BE DIVIDED

Tallahassee, Dec. 8.—The Board of Commissioners of State Institutions, which consists of Governor Park Trammell and the six Cabinet officers have this week made the arrangements for the erection of the Florida Hospital for the Insane of a building specially adapted for housing and treating patients of the Hospital who are afflicted with tuberculosis. The Board has ordered the erection of such building without delay and when completed it will be used exclusively for white tubercular patients of both sexes at the Hospital.

For a year or two past the members of the Board have been considering ways and means of having a separate building for the use of patients having tuberculosis, the building to be specially arranged for furnishing the most improved modern methods of treating this class of unfortunate. The Board was forced to proceed slowly because of the necessity of keeping within the appropriation made by the legislature for the maintenance of the Hospital. In the meantime, however, a great deal of information was secured as to the best type of building to be erected and as to the methods of construction and use of the buildings employed in other states where the treatment of tubercular patients is carried on along advanced scientific lines.

Much of the information secured has shown the Board it can have erected a thoroughly modern tuberculosis building with a very considerable saving in the cost and the Board has quite recently found that the management of the Hospital has been conducted with such prudence in expenditures that sufficient money will be available in the immediate future for the erection of this special building for consumptives. Having such a special building at the institution will not only prove a great blessing to those patients suffering from tuberculosis and add greatly to their comfort and chances of recovering but the more thorough segregation which it will make possible will also prove a very great protection to all the other patients at the Hospital as well as to the officers and attendants there employed.

Not A Fair Game

The manager of the Sanford High School's foot ball team arranged a game with the manager of the Orlando school team for Friday, Dec. 4th, the conditions being that only bona fide school boys were to be used, but when the Sanford boys arrived on the field it was found that outside men had been put in on the Orlando team. One man was the manager of a theatre in Orlando and another a Rollins College player.

The principal of the Sanford school asked the principal of the Orlando team to certify to the eligibility of his boys, but he did not know them all, as some were supposed to be in the Grammar School. After the game, however, the referee of the game informed the principal of the Sanford schools that there were two men on the Orlando team who did not go to the Orlando schools. For this reason the Sanford boys do not feel disposed to count this as a defeat. One touch down was made by a Rollins College boy before he was out of the game.

KITTY'S ARRIVAL PROVED SUCCESS

KAPPA FRAT, OF STETSON, ENTERTAINS LARGE AUDIENCE

The arrival of Kitty, awaited with some delay and much anticipation exceeded all expectations and proved to be a decided hit. Kitty upon arrival proved to be a most humorous farce abounding in funny complications. Sanford people are always willing to assist Stetson or DeLand in any enterprise and the large crowd present at the Imperial on Friday night attested to this friendly interest and the performance witnessed a good performance.

There were no special stars in the play for each and every one played their part well.

Ike Tribble, as Sam the porter, furnished many a smile with his antics and speeches. Carl Farris, as Ting the bell boy and erstwhile landlord of the hotel, upheld his position with the dignity and bearing that it demanded. William Winkler, the hypocrite uncle, was ably portrayed by Stanley Wallbank, while her niece Jane, Miss Inez Barron, contributed her share of the many complexities that arose throughout the play. Gordon Haynes played a dual role, as the suitor, which he did to perfection, but shone as the false "Kitty" and the mash of Benjamin Moore, the rightful suitor to Jane's hand. Uncle Dan Blocker played the part of Benjamin Moore to the liking of every one except Uncle William and the correct Kitty, Miss Marie Russell Stephens. Of course everything smoothed itself out in the last act when all of the ladies in the cast were married off, Jane to Bobbie, Aunt Jane to Benjamin Moore and Kitty to Uncle William. Miss Helen Bates, who has the regular part of Aunt Jane was taken ill at the last moment and her part was taken by Mr. Skinner, who made an admirable old maid. The Sanford people were especially interested in D. J. Blocker, as he formerly resided here as pastor of the Baptist Church and came up to their expectations as Benjamin Moore.

The play is given under the auspices of the Phi Kappa Fraternity of Stetson University and will be presented at many points in Florida during the month. We bespeak for them a large audience and a satisfactory audience wherever they play, for Kitty is all to the good and well worth double the price of admission.

Funeral of M. C. Savage

The funeral of Mr. Martin C. Savage, whose death occurred in Jacksonville took place Friday afternoon from Miller's chapel at three o'clock, interment in Lakeview cemetery. Mr. Savage, who was a member of Solomon Lodge, F. A. M. at Jacksonville, one of the oldest in the state was laid to rest by Sanford Lodge 62 with all the honors and ceremonial rites of the order. A large number of the friends were present to assist in the beautiful and impressive ceremony which took place at the grave and to pay their last tribute of respect and love to their departed brother. An unusually large gathering of friends also attended the funeral. The grave was covered with the many floral tributes, testifying to the esteem and affection in which the deceased was held. A beautiful floral emblem, the square and compass was sent by Solomon Lodge. The Order of Railway Conductors, of which Mr. Savage was a charter member, only twenty of whom were living at the time of his death, sent a handsome floral pillow. An exquisite casket bouquet of American Beauty roses was the gift of his fellow co-workers in the S. A. L., where he was affiliated with the clerical force, and the Ladies' Auxiliary of the O. R. C.'s sent a lovely token of sympathy in pink carnations. There were many other floral offerings sent by personal friends and members of the family.

Mr. Savage will be greatly missed from the circle of friends where he was so well beloved for his sterling manly attributes and genial nature that made him always a popular favorite. A devoted husband, a faithful father and loyal friend, his death came as a great shock to his family, to whom the sympathy of the community is extended in this their hour of grief.

HALLUCINATION OF GROWER

A MEMBER OF COMMITTEE CONTENDS THAT HON. FORREST LAKE WAS RIGHT

FROM ARCADIA NEWS

For some time we have been noticing the many pleas made by the Grower to friends of the citrus industry in Florida to do all they can to prevent Forrest Lake from becoming speaker of the next house of representatives, alleging in each instance that he is not a friend to the growers of citrus fruits, and that he will demoralize the industry should he be elected to the position of presiding officer of the house. We have wondered time and again why the Grower is so very persistent in this matter, and now we have the information about the Grower's editorial columns that it has undoubtedly been laboring under an hallucination. We quote the Grower's article under the caption, "Grower Should Have a Square Deal":—"We do not believe that Forrest Lake of Sanford is the right man to select for the speakership of the next house. Forrest Lake is not a friend of the citrus fruit growers of the state, and also approved by the Exchange, however, it was not satisfactory to the majority of the committee, and three members of the committee who were known to be in favor of a green fruit law were selected to draw and present a substitute bill. Forrest Lake was not a member of this committee, and had absolutely no influence in shaping its deliberations. The new bill was prepared fixing the scale of the maturity of citrus fruits different to the original Rose-Worley bill, but the substituted bill bore no provision for a color test. This substitute bill was submitted to the committee, and the committee could not agree upon it, and hence it was decided by the committee that this bill be reported to the house without recommendation. This action Mr. Lake did not object to, although he was active against the passage of the bill. The writer of this article was the only member of the state. He was the most bitter fighter against an adequate immature fruit law at the last session. He was on the committee having this bill in charge, and thus his influence was powerful.

HON. FORREST LAKE

"When the bill was finally forced out of committee it was so emasculated as to be utterly worthless for the purpose for which the growers of the state intended it. The Florida State Horticultural Society, the Florida Citrus Exchange, and a state mass meeting of the citrus fruit growers endorsed the bill as presented.

"Forrest Lake and his colleagues succeeded in rendering it worthless by the insertion of clauses changing the ratio, and by that clause containing the color test.

"The result of Forrest Lake's work is seen this year in the utter demoralization of the early citrus fruit markets. Green, unripe fruit that should have been held on the trees were sent forward and were sacrificed; not wanted. The growers of the state should write to their representatives asking them to support some other man than Forrest Lake. They should have a fair man in the chair, and not a special representative of the commission men."

The Grower man is entirely in error as to the course of the bill he refers to, and it may be that this misinformation has been the cause for the bitter course of this paper against the candidacy of Mr. Lake for speaker. Mr. Lake's candidacy for speaker of the house is no fight of this paper, but we believe in fair play, and desire to correct the Grower in its error, to the end that Mr. Lake may be put before the people of Florida and its members of the legislature in the true light.

Mr. Lake was a member of the committee on citrus fruits, but he was only one member of that committee, and it may be said in this connection that out of the eleven men on this committee there were only three members who were opposed to the passage of the bill in its original form. The Rose-Worley bill, which was first presented to the committee, was the bill approved by the Horticultural Society the committee who protected against the committee sending the bill to the house without recommending it. When the committee submitted went to the house for final action by that body it was placed on the calendar in its regular place. It was soon discovered by the friends of the bill that because of the fact that the calendar was badly congested, the bill could not be gotten up during the remaining part of the session without waiving the rule, which the forces favoring the bill were not strong enough to do, and hence a new bill was prepared and introduced and placed on the "special calendar." Mr. Lake had nothing to do with this matter, and evidently could not muss up a bill that was totally in the hands of the opposition.

When the bill was before the house for consideration many amendments were offered but all of the amendments that were offered and adopted came from the friends of the bill. Hon. John Taylor, of Pinellas county, one of the members who served on the sub-committee to prepare the bill was the gentleman who offered the color test amendment. Mr. Lake supported the color test, and so did the writer, and so did those who were in favor of the bill in its original form. Mr. Lake was not in a position to exercise great influence in defeating the measure, and there was absolutely nothing in the records or of fact to show that Mr. Lake was unfair in his dealing in opposition to the passage of this measure.

There is a little bit more history connected with the way the friends of the green fruit bill secured the passage of the same by the house of representatives. Most too long a story to be put into this article, but if the Grower desires more light on this subject we can easily sight the only real rotten thing that took place at the last session, and it was an act in which Forrest Lake had no part whatever. If elected speaker of the house it is our opinion that Forrest Lake will give the Exchange and the growers of Florida a square deal. Is an absolutely square deal by all that is desired?

PATENT MEDICINES

Doze and death! What's the combination that goes with the use of patent medicines. No reputable physician would direct the use of a prescription of which he didn't know the exact contents and their exact proportions. Each ingredient has its precise duty to perform in the realm of the patent, and the prescription is prepared to meet conditions revealed by the professional diagnosis.

Yet, the layman, ignorant of the demands of his own physical condition, unskilled even in the rudiments of a scientific diagnosis, unconsciously exercising a sublime faith in an all-wise Providence to overrule any mistake of his own weak human judgment, deliberately doses himself with some concoction that may be a poison or an elixir—he knows no difference, and he is willing to take the chance, with slow death as the option.

The market is flooded with bottles, beautifully labeled and brilliantly attractive. If one may trust the label and the wrapper, the particular concoction will work a sure and guaranteed cure for every physical trouble, from corns to consumption. Usually there is an exhaustive outline of symptoms of various diseases, which the gullible reader may select from the largest assortment he may select any one or more and proceed to a "home treatment" entirely independent of the doctors. He is reminded, however, that several bottles of the medicine may be required to work a "complete cure."

And so the work of self destruction and death goes on at a frightfully increasing rate.

Now, what are the facts? In the majority of cases the so-called patent medicines are made up of ingredients that cost from three to ten cents for a bottle that retails for a dollar. Some profit! And in a majority of cases almost universally the most active constituent agent is hashish, opium or alcohol, all of them narcotics, all of them stupefying or gerverting brain activity and weakening will power and all of them creating the desire for more, always more.

Certain of the so-called proprietary medicines are not to be classed with patent medicines. They are frequently the prescriptions of eminent physicians who authorize their preparation on a commercial scale by reputable pharmacists whose responsibility guarantees that the printed formula has been carefully followed and the formula are usually printed on the label.

But the use even of proprietary medicines is dangerous excepting on the prescription of the doctor, and then only as he prescribes. Because a teaspoonful in water every three hours will be beneficial gives no reason to suspect that a tablespoonful once an hour will hasten relief.

Florida has had a recent complete illustration of the harmfulness and the use of these narcotics. The business manager of one of the important newspapers of the state, was killed by a man who, it was alleged in his defense, had been dosing himself with an alleged "headache powder." It contained a considerable percentage of hashish and he had been made insane, had lost control of all will power and of the ability to control his own actions. The result was the unnecessary, cruel death of an able man in the prime of a useful life.

There is but one safe way—never swallow or administer a medicine, patent, proprietary or any other kind, excepting at the direction of a reputable physician. And don't take the responsibility of dosing yourself with a prescription he ordered a year ago. Your case may have changed since then. It may not fit now. Be sane if you would stay sane.

Early Days at Enterprise

About this time, 1887, Enterprise, Florida was in the heyday of its glory. The old "Brock House" caught all the celebrities that came to Florida. It not only entertained Presidents, but foreign potentates were occasionally its guests. One night the steamboat came in one of its regular runs bearing eighty-five passengers destined for the Brock House. When they arrived they discovered that every available room was occupied and many were sleeping on cots in the dining room and parlor. The Captain of the boat, so C. F. Street tells the reporter, sent word to Jacksonville that he would hold his boat at Enterprise till morning to accommodate the eighty-five who expected to find lodging at the Brock House.

In those good old days Enterprise was the county seat of Volusia and it is of interest to the public to know that the original Volusia court house still stands. The Rev. W. A. Bowen, a Methodist preacher owns it and has converted it into a residence. It was about 30 feet square and amply large for the needs of the county at that time.

Mr. Sauls, a pioneer Volusia county citizen, who died some years ago in his 85th year, used to relate that in the early days of the county they barely had citizens enough for the county officers and for the jury, and that in case of jury trial if one juror man were disqualified for any cause it was necessary to go to an adjoining county to select the jury.

When Volusia outgrew her little 30x30 court house and felt the need of a larger one they put up quite a pretentious affair. It is now used as a graded school building. Daytona Journal.

Had Fine Luck

"That was a Good Shot," remarked Jack Davison on the camp hunt last week as he picked up two turkeys killed at one shot and his expression was used on the hunt every time the boys came together, for he it known that Jack, who was looked upon as an amateur has two turkeys and one deer to his credit.

The party was composed of D. L. Thrasher, J. D. Davison, Arthur Yowell, Robt. Thrasher, Walter Hall, Rev. Clarence Ferran of DeLand and Harry Ferran of Eustis and they spent the week at Taylor Creek, where under the guidance of Bud Frazier they were enabled to break the record in the game line.

Four deer, four turkeys and plenty of quail and squirrels were killed on the hunt and the party had the

To the Growers of Sanford and Vicinity:

Gentlemen: Our New Mineral Fertilizer is the best of its kind. It is a complete food for plants of all kinds and with its use you can get the best results with the soil. The best results will be taken up and used by the plants. Your fruit will be of a better color and far better flavor if grown on our material. We have shipped quite large amounts of our plant food to many of the best growers in the State of Florida in the past three years and we have yet to hear of a dissatisfied customer. We have received many testimonials from some of the most reliable people in your State telling of the wonderful results it has produced. We like to ship on a trial order and at you judge for yourself whether or not our material is all that we claim it to be. Yours truly,

NEW MINERAL FERTILIZER COMPANY

(Copy) White City, Florida, Nov. 2, 1914.
New Mineral Fertilizer Co., Boston, Mass.:
Gentlemen:— I have used considerable of your Mineral Fertilizer and I'm thoroughly satisfied with the results both on pineapples and citrus trees. I had some trees that had shown Die Back and I had decided to dig them up and destroy them but was induced to use New Mineral and now they look as good as any in the grove and are bearing nicely. I have also used it on vegetables with excellent results and when it is considered that the price is at least one-third less than other fertilizers I consider that the growers of this section would find it a great saving and the land would be in better shape after its use.
(Signed) A. N. ROOFNAGLE.

(Copy) Goulds, Florida, July 23, 1914.
To Whom it May Concern: I am mightily interested in fertilizers. I own 100 acres near Goulds which I am engaged in setting to fruit trees. When my attention was called to New Mineral Fertilizer I began to visit those who were using it, and to learn from them their experience with it, with the result that I am now using nothing else for my trees and am satisfied that I shall continue to use nothing else.
Mr. Schuyler, an esteemed friend of mine, first called my attention to his experiments with this fertilizer. I saw his grove before he took charge of it and know it was in a most deplorable condition. Mr. Schuyler tells me that he has used New Mineral Fertilizer exclusively on other parts of it. The trees treated with New Mineral Fertilizer are undoubtedly in better condition now than the ones treated with other fertilizers in the same quantities. I had the pleasure recently of eating a grapefruit, matured by Mr. Schuyler exclusively with New Mineral Fertilizer—an October bloom. It was juicy and the flavor was fine.
I next visited Mr. Weathers of Coconut Grove, who last winter raised a crop of tomatoes on marl glade with one application of New Mineral Fertilizer. He now uses this fertilizer and no other for both his vegetables and fruit crops. I have talked with Mr. Sanders, an unusually conscientious grocer of Coconut Grove, who bought and retailed Mr. Weathers' tomatoes. Mr. Sanders told me

In view of the above observations and others I am thoroughly convinced that New Mineral Fertilizer is not a "fake." When we adds to these experiments the further statement of facts that there is not enough natural fertility in Dade county soil to produce anything else except pine trees, palmettoes and saw grass, one can readily see that no amount of extra good care could possibly produce the above results. Vegetables will not even produce foliage, to say nothing of fruit, except where velvet beans or similar crops have been raised. Fruit trees turn as yellow as Kansas sunflowers in six months after one ceases to fertilize them, and a poor fertilizer will show its effects in the leaves in two or three months.
Respectfully submitted,
(Signed) HARLEY R. CORE.

I hereby certify that on this day personally appeared before me—Harley R. Core, authorized to administer oaths—Harley R. Core to me well known to be the person whose nature is given to the above letter, and who solemnly affirmed that he believed the foregoing to be a statement of facts by competent and truthful men.
WITNESS my hand and official seal at Goulds, County of Dade, State of Florida, this 31st day of July, A. D. 1913.

Office in Herald Building Telephone No. 148

The Christmas edition of the Sanford Herald is the place to reach the buyers of Seminole county. Issued on December 15th.

The business men are waking up to the fact that the fake foreign advertising does not pay and they are systematically turning down the fakers this season.

Sanford will play host to the South Florida newspaper men and also the executive committee of the State Press Association on January 8th.

The Herald takes pleasure in noting that the A. C. L. is making efforts to put on more train crews for the busy season and that from this time on there will be more men to handle the large amount of vegetable that are to be shipped from this point for the next three months.

The Herald does not favor bringing Belgians or any other people to Florida at this time. The expense would not justify the results.

Announcement has been made that within a very short time the Clyde Steamship Company will build modern and convenient docks at Sanford, displacing those now in use.

We have the assurance of the Atlantic Coast Line officials that they are doing and will continue to do all in their power to give the growers and the public in general the best service possible.

FORREST LAKE'S OPPONENT: "We do not believe that Forrest Lake of Sanford is the right man to select for the speakership of the next house. Forrest Lake is not a friend of the citrus fruit growers of the state."

TIMES ARE CHANGING: The conduct of a newspaper is both a business and a profession and this dual entity is rapidly becoming recognized.

ity of the editor within the past couple of decades. There was a time when the country editor was looked upon somewhat in the light of a tolerated nuisance.

Now all this is changed. The country editor of today is usually a gentleman, a capable business man, and with high ideals as applied to his vocation.

There may be a few of the "old guard" left, but they are passing, and the members of the Florida press are almost universally recognized as among the most honorable, most conscientious, and most substantial men of those who are building this great state.

MAIL ORDER DECEPTIVES: About the most unreasonable thing on top of earth at this season of the year is the Christmas Catalogue.

Christian Endeavor Sunshine Interlachen, Fla., Dec. 2, 1914. Dear Florida Worker in C. E. It is almost time for Santa Claus to come.

probably will not. Forrest Lake did oppose the present green fruit law; the editor of the Palatka News, who was a member of the house that passed the law, favored it.

Forrest Lake opposed this law for the reason that he believed it would prove the same flat failure that it has since proven to be.

Mr. Lake did oppose the present green fruit law; so now does every one who has the interests of the Florida citrus industry at heart.

Our societies have given little for this, our special home missionary cause, this year. But there is one month yet.

known to druggists and medical men as oil of chenopodium, or wormseed oil. It has been in use for years as a vermifuge for children.

The information is important in view of the fact that the supply of thymol comes mainly, if not entirely, from Germany, and the drug is growing scarcer because of the European war.

For some years the medicinal world seemed to go to sleep on the question of vermifuges and vermicides. Then, a few years ago, Dr. Stiles discovered that hookworm was paralyzing the energies of millions of people.

Has Good Record

The following from the National Tribune is about R. H. Robie who is now a resident of Seminole county: "R. H. Robie, 217 E. 1st St., Jacksonville, Fla., recalls by refering to his many many incidents, fifty years ago. He belonged to Co. E, 110th N. H., and fifty years ago, July 30, his brigade, the Second Division, South Corps, sacrificed 500 men at the Crater. Fifty years ago, Sept. 30, his regiment engaged in the fight at Poplar Grove Church. On the evening of Sept. 30, 1864, there is a notation that Corporal John G. Kumbal and Corporal Royce H. Robie were all that was left of the company, not a private of the original members being present for duty. Jan. 1st, 1865, the company had present for duty nine privates and three corporals, including Comrade Robie, out of an original number of 96 men."

Comrade Robie

Comrade Robie has been in the railway service since April 19, 186, or 48 years. He has been a locomotive engineer for 42 years, and has in a long time for two different companies. He has been engaged in the locomotive service for 42 years, and has been for forty years a member of the order.

Good Roads Save Money

The following from Kansas is a case of reproduction: "H. Johnson, Decatur, Kan., has found 1,000 miles of his road to be a highway at a cost of 2,000,000 mile, without actually costing the people of Kansas one cent." "That statement was made by P. J. Albright, one of Winfield's leading business men yesterday. It sounds rather strong, but Mr. Albright can produce the figures to demonstrate it."

But at the present time there is invested in automobiles and motor vehicles fifty million dollars in Kansas. To run and operate these means an expenditure for gasoline and tires, and wear and tear on cars of not less than $60,000 per day. "It is estimated that the daily expenditure per mile for the operation of motor vehicles is $4 per day per mile. That is what it costs on our present dirt roads. Good roads will cut that cost to $2 per day per mile. That has been demonstrated time and again. In other words, there will be saved by having good roads, $700 per mile, which is seven per cent on $10,000."

You can figure it yourself.

The saving we could make having good roads would make it possible to have an investment that would build 15,000 miles of paved highway in this state without the loss of a single dollar.

RAILROADS LOST ON EXTRA TRAINS

COMMISSIONERS GIVES EXPLANATION OF TRAINS' ELIMINATION

A number of letters have been received from along the line of different railways in Florida, complaining to the Commissioners of reduced passenger train service, and we have noticed also, a number of criticisms in the papers with reference to these reductions in service on some lines. We therefore deem it advisable to make a statement of existing conditions which have made it necessary for the Commissioners to authorize a reduction in the service in certain instances.

According to the records before the Commissioners, there has been a constant decrease in passenger earnings on all of the important railways of Florida, EXCEPTING ONE (The Florida East Coast Railway Company) since the outbreak of the European war. The losses in freight revenue have been even greater than that of passenger revenue. The result of these figures is such that the Railroad Commissioners found themselves compelled, as a matter of right and justice, to say nothing of the legal phase of the question, to authorize the curtailment of expenses, wherever it could be accomplished without seriously affecting the public to be served.

The losses in revenue from freight and passenger business, it must be admitted, is due to present conditions, which must have affected a great many of the people of this and other states, which conditions have prevented the carrying of the normal amount of tonnage in freight, and has caused a decrease in the number of people who travel. And it is certainly not just and reasonable for the public to ask or demand that a MAXIMUM AMOUNT of service be performed, for a minimum amount of business to be cared for, which is exactly the condition of affairs we are confronted with today, in not only Florida, but in practically every state in the United States. There are instances where the figures show passenger train mile earnings of only 11 to 21 cents per train mile during the period referred to, when the cost per train mile of the service is several times that amount.

The Commissioners have been constantly urging the railways of the state to give the greatest amount of service, and as is a well known fact, the rates have constantly been stricken, and facilities largely increased, but today the Commissioners are confronted with one of two things, viz:

1st. In order to maintain the maximum amount of service which has heretofore been rendered under normal conditions to authorize higher rates.

2d. To preserve a reasonable amount of service and reasonable rates by allowing a curtailment in service, which will help the railroad companies recoup some of the losses which they are sustaining.

We note some criticisms are that the Commissioners have allowed a reduction in train service, without giving the public an opportunity to be heard. All we have to say, with reference to that, is that if all the conditions had been normal, it would not have resulted in changing a single figure before us or brought the carriers a cent more revenue. The fact that a community may petition in protest to the Commissioners does not in any way affect the revenue which the railroad is actually getting from business. In answer to other criticisms, that the Commissioners have acted without due regard to the public, we regret to say that there seems to be a misconception on the part of some of what is intended by a regulative law, regulating public service corporations, and instead of the Commissioners acting with discretion, that they must do whatever the public may shall be done. In this connection we wish to say that the law was intended to place discretion with the commissioners, it was for the purpose of protecting the people against the railways, as well as for a protection to the railways against any unreasonable public demands, and it will be the purpose of this Commission, so long as we remain in office, to discharge every public duty in this manner. Lastly, as near as we can arrive at it is our purpose.

Several communities, which are complaining of a stoppage of passenger service still have more trains running today to areas than they had several years ago, when conditions were average and normal. Florida is no exception in the present state of affairs. We were among the last of all the southern states to authorize any reduction in service, and miles of railroad and population considered, we have not yet authorized the same reduction in passenger service as has been authorized in other states of the south. We might add also that this condition is not peculiar to the south alone, but there has been a cutting down of train service all over the United States, because of conditions apparently due to the existence of the war in Europe, which has upset normal business conditions and prevented the movement and interchange of commodities. Our photographic plates are nearly all shut down, our naval stores cannot be sold and exported to any extent, and the lumber business is practically at a standstill. These three commodities together with the inbound merchandise shipments used in their production constitutes an enormous tonnage of the railroads. We feel under the circumstances that if we can maintain the present status until there is change for the better, we will indeed be fortunate.

We believe that the public will agree that they have no right to demand a service of the railways which they are not supporting, and neither this nor any other Commission can successfully maintain that a service must be rendered, which results in large losses. If we were to take the other position, then the public would have to pay for it by an increase in rates, because the railway companies under the laws of this country have a right to a reasonable return upon the property devoted to public use.

It is with regret that we find it necessary to make this statement. We feel Florida is in better shape generally than any other southern state, and we make this explanation in the hope that it will appeal to the fair mindedness of the people of this state, believing they are fair, when once they know the facts.

In conclusion we wish to add that we have an understanding with the officers of all the railways whom we have allowed to reduce their train service, that the same will be resumed just as soon as the traffic will warrant it and without contest.

R. Hudson Burr,
Newton A. Blitch,
Royal C. Dunn,
Railroad Commissioners.

PARTY FROCKS.
Old Fashioned Designs Are Carried Out in Lingerie Materials.

CHILD'S VOILE FROCK

Lingerie gowns in adaptations of the styles made famous by the pictures of Kate Greenway are popular for little girls' party wear. They may be plain, embroidered or trimmed with lace, but a handsome rash is an invariable accompaniment.

Pictured here is a charming frock of hand embroidered voile. The high waist line and puffed sleeves are quaint and attractive.

A charming garment for the small girl is a little white muslin made by hand and hand embroidered. It is cut in princess style, perfectly straight from neck to hem except that a looped band of ribbon is run through wide loops of the material and tied in a bow in front.

Hand embroidered with scallops and dots is the neck, the ends of the short cut in one sleeve and the bottom of the little garment.

BEAR QUEERLY BUILT

EXPERT TELLS ABOUT STRUCTURE OF THE ANIMAL

Nature Evidently Had Distinct Idea in Mind When It Produced Bruin in Such a Radical Form.

"I was long curious to know," said a Pike county, Pennsylvania, bear expert, "why it was that the bear has that peculiarly clumsy and apparently painful gait, but I never found any one who could give me a satisfactory explanation of it, so I went out and killed a bear to find out for myself. The reason was a very simple one."

"I found, in the first place, that the bear has no clavicles in the shoulder to keep the shoulder bones steadily apart as is usual in animals, and consequently when the bear moves his forelegs the shoulder blades work or slide loosely on the sides.

The unique position of the hind ankle joints as to the formation of the hind feet is what enables the bear to rise to his feet with such facility, and to maintain a secure position standing erect, while he uses his forepaws in grasping or striking with his well known readiness and effectiveness.

Class Reunion Hero.

The man who won the long-distance cup at the Yale 1914 class reunion this year, which a number of Hartford alumni attended, traveled all the way from Java, says the Hartford Courant.

"What was that heaven to earth record?" said one of the fellows who had not been back to a reunion for many years.

"Don't you know that?" said the others. "That was when W— broke off his honeymoon trip in order to come back to the reunion."

EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A CHIEF IS AMONG YE TAKING NOTES AND FAITH. "HE'LL PRENT 'EM"---SO SAYS SAUNTERER.

The World Beautiful It doesn't cost money as many suppose. To have a good time on the earth; The best of its pleasures are free unto those who know how to value their worth.

The sweetest music the birds to us sing. The loveliest of flowers grow wild; The finest of drinks gushes out of the spring-- All free to man, woman and child.

Such pictures as Nature supplies, Forever, all over to sinner and saint, Who use to advantage their eyes. Kind words and glad looks, smiles cheery and brave. Coat nothing--no nothing at all; And yet all the wealth Mon to Cristo could save Can make no such pleasures befall.

To bask in the sunshine, to breathe the pure air, Honest toil, the enjoyment of health, Sweet slumber refreshing--these pleasures we share, Without our portion of wealth. Communion with friends, tried, true and strong, To love and be loved for love's sake; In fact, all that makes life happy and long is free to whoever will take -- Exchange.

One cannot go far nor talk to many people without hearing the remark that the seasons are so brief, that it will be but a short time before winter, or to the years come and go so fast as we grow older. But it is a pleasant thing to hear; it is not a dreary tale by any manner of means.

There is no more distressing thing in life than to have the days or months drag wearily and lengthily--or to appear to drag lengthily. It is the change, the variety, the motion that is enchanting. So when one refers to the flight of time it is evident that with him or her the years are not burdensome nor time an encumbrance upon the hands. Of course the seasons are going by rapidly, and the years flying around as months did in our youth. But there are the same number of heart beats, or nearly the same number, and the mental processes are as active as when the years were slower in their passage.

Life is a mysterious thing. Each life is complete within itself. The few brief days of the tiny insect are quite as much to it as the three score years and ten to us--and no more. The thousands of years of the giant sequoia of California amount to no more than does the span of human existence. And if our lives should have been planned to extend over but a single year, we should have been as happy--and as useful--as we are now. It doesn't seem to make any difference about time in fact. The time we know is only a moment, any way, the present only amounts to anything--and the present is an eternity. There will be no tomorrow so far as we are concerned; it is today with us always. Probably the greatest enemy to happiness was the invention of marking time, the dividing of years into seasons, and the seasons into days or months, and the days into hours, and the hours into minutes. How much more glorious would it be if we had no record founded upon the revolutions of the sun--if we cared nothing about when we were born nor when we are to die--to live today with never a thought of yesterday or tomorrow. We should accomplish as much--and have no regrets. We should travel as far--with no reminders that we might have traveled farther. We should begin the tasks as readily and finish them as completely. Verily was the old fellow correct when he said that "time was made for slaves." He might also have told the truth by saying that time also makes slaves of most of us and cowards of all of us.

Another woman took her life in Chicago the other day. The given melancholy of existence now and then asserts its powerful grip upon our souls and then--one swift flash and all is over. We are wont to pass an inconsiderate opinion upon the rash act of self destruction without knowing or trying to know the unutterable burdens which have weighed upon the stricken victims.

A brave word now and then is the light of life, can see for the moment no light for their journey. Like a lost mariner on a limitless expanse of troubled sea, rudderless, with tattered sails and leveled masts, he scans in vain the black horizon for a gleam of hope, but finds it not. And while we may think that the leaver is the better way, what do we know of the grinding conflict and the crushing burden that bears so grievously upon the wavering soul?

Over on the other side, beyond the confines of this world of ours there may be some solace for the hearts whose griefs have been too hard to bear. It is not in the mind of man, nor has he the spiritual gift to know what compensation is prepared for him whose sorrows over-bire his strength. Judge not for you know not what you judge.

I have all the faith and devotion in the world for the ladies and there are times when I think my wife is almost human in her intelligence (especially in smelling my breath) but just now at Christmas time they lose my respect for their economical record. There is hardly anything that a woman won't buy at Christmas time and it seems that the older we get the more childish the gifts that are lavished upon father. We expect to get at least sixteen pairs of carpet slippers so-called because you wear them before walking on the carpet, a few dozen boxes of Cremo cigars, a dozen shaving mugs, thirteen cheap razors and a box of handkerchiefs made small so the entire family can use them. Father is supposed to put up the money for the entire family to purchase him Christmas gifts and on that great day of days he goes into retirement to count up the losses. He is also expected to go into ecstasies over each batch of so-called Xmas gifts. I hope they get up another car of stuff for the poor and needy in the big cities and if Europe for it will give me a chance to work off some of my surplus.

I inadvertently or absent-mindedly referred to Sanford last week as being without a place where the boys could indulge in something besides pool and penny ante, when the fact of the matter is that the Episcopal parsonage has furnished the parish house for the boys to play in and I want to thank him for it. Now let the boys get off the streets and go over there for an evening's enjoyment and recreation and athletics. Meantime what I said about the men of Sanford providing a place for the boys upon a larger scale, goes and I stand back of it. People have come to me lately with the statement that the parents were to blame for the boys on the streets, to which I reply that the parents cannot expect to keep the young men housed up all the time. They are going out at times and they should go out in the evening for pleasant recreation.

The Duke's Question. The delicate operation of separating the French Siamese twins, which has just been successfully performed, recalls Lord Houghton's story of a duke of St. Albans who went to inspect the original Siamese twins. The tale is retold in the London Express. The duke looked at the two boys, and then turned to their showman. "Are they brothers?" he asked. "The showman's reply has not been preserved."

A Demonstration. "I distinctly saw you with the policeman's arms around you." "Oh, yes, mum; wasn't it nice of him? He was showin' me how to hold a burglar if I found one in the house."--Life.

German Officer's Letter Pictures Hand-to-Hand Fighting. Pays High Compliment to French and English Troops--Declares That Losses on Both Sides Have Been Enormous.

London--General French's latest report of the battle of the Aisne given out here quotes this missive found on a German officer of the Seventh Reserve corps: "Corny, South of Laon, Sept. 17, 1914.--My Dear Parents: Our corps has the task of holding the heights south of Corny in all circumstances till the Fourteenth corps on our left flank can grip the enemy's flank. On our right are other corps. We are fighting with the English guards, Highlanders and Zouaves. The losses on both sides have been enormous. For the most part this is due to the too brilliant French artillery. The English are marvelously trained in making use of ground. One never sees them, and one is constantly under fire. The French aim perfectly wonderful feats. We cannot get rid of them. As soon as an airman has flown over us, ten minutes later we get their shrapnel fire in our position. We have little artillery in our corps, without it we cannot get forward. Three days ago our division took possession of these heights and dug itself in. Two days ago, early in the morning, we were attacked by immensely superior English forces. Our brigade and two battalions were turned out of our positions. The fellows took five guns from us. It was a tremendous hand to hand fight. How I escaped myself I am not clear. I then had to bring up support on foot. My horse was wounded and the others were too far in the rear. Then came up the guard jagor battalion, Fourth jagor, Sixth regiment, reserve regiment Thirteen, and landwehr regiments Thirteen and Sixteen, and with the help of the artillery we drove the fellows out of the position again. Our machine guns did excellent work; the English fell in heaps. In our battalion three iron crosses have been given--one to one to Captain -- and one to Surgeon -- (names probably deleted). Let us hope that we shall be the lucky ones the next time. "During the first two days of the battle I had only one piece of bread and no water. I spent the night in the rain without my greatcoat. The rest of my kit was on the horses, which have been left miles behind with the baggage, and which cannot come up into the battle because as soon as you put your nose up from behind cover the bullets whistle. "War is terrible. We are all hoping that a decisive battle will end the war, as our troops already have got around Paris. If we beat the English the French resistance will soon be broken. Russia will be very quickly dealt with; of this there is no doubt. "We have received splendid help from the Austrian heavy artillery at Maubeuge. They bombarded Fort Cerfontaine in such a way that there was not ten meters of parapet which did not show enormous craters made by the shells. The armored turrets were found upside down. "Yesterday evening, about six, in the valley in which our reserves stood, there was a terrible cannonade so that we saw nothing of the sky but a cloud of smoke. We had few casualties."

Dexterous Dentist. "It was a dreadful moment," said the dentist. "I was bathing quietly, when the great cavernous jaws of the shark opened before me." "What did you do?" asked one of the ladies. "I took my forceps out of the pocket of my bathing-suit and pulled his teeth before he had a chance to seize me. It was the quickest and neatest bit of work I ever did."
