

Voting Rights Act Working Wonders In South??

By TOM GREENE
ATLANTA (UPI)—Five years ago today President Lyndon B. Johnson signed into law the Voting Rights Act of 1965. Described by his attorney general, Ramsey Clark, as a "bold experiment in democracy," the experiment has produced dramatic results.

The number of blacks registered to vote in the six southern states fully covered by the act has nearly doubled. Five years ago 72 Negroes held elective positions in the South. The figure today is 94.

White politicians who defied segregation in the 1950s and 1960s are now being elected to office. Many who failed to change with the times learned that the Negro electorate, while usually not big enough to elect black candidates, often produced victories for more moderate whites.

Charles Evers, the black man elected a year ago as mayor of Fayette, Miss., termed the act "the greatest deterrent to racial discrimination we have ever had."

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mauldin of Selma, Ala., the first persons to register under the act, are convinced black people are better off now than five years ago.

"People have got more rights, more privileges, than they have ever had," said Mauldin. "They look more like citizens now."

There now are 10,000 black voters in the Selma area, and Mauldin figures this is why the once dusty streets in Selma's Negro neighborhoods are being paved. "If it keeps up, we're going to have all these streets blacktopped."

George Andrews, 49, a conservative Democrat who has represented a south Alabama district in Congress since 1942, doesn't share the Mauldins' liking for the act.

"This has been the most punitive, vindictive piece of legislation ever passed in this country," Andrews said. "I've actually seen people voting who couldn't read. We have to permit more voters to vote, and that diminishes the intelligence of the electorate."

The Voting Rights Act was applied to states in which less than 50 per cent of the voting age population registered to vote. It specifically covered Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina, Virginia, portions of North Carolina and Alaska (the only southern state).

The law suspended state literacy tests for prospective voters, empowered the Justice Department to send federal registrars to foot dragging counties and extended civil and criminal protection to persons seeking to register.

The most significant registration tool was the suspension of literacy tests. Illiterate Negroes had no difficulty passing the tests in many sections of the

Reported Dead; Is 'Dead Drunk'

Seminole County Deputy Jay Leman was called to an Oakland Shores home early today after the sheriff's office received a call from a woman who reported a nude man had slipped into the house and ran away with a purse and a clock when spotted by the woman's daughter.

Deputy Leman said he was called to the Louis Tataro home after what appeared to be a nude man, had awakened from a youth's room and a purse containing a small amount of money and personal belongings from a daughter's room.

Leman stated the daughter was jared awake around 5 a.m. today after hearing a door noise and seeing a nude man running out the front door.

Leman said he investigated and discovered the missing alarm clock and girl's purse.

Sanford police and an ambulance were requested by an employee of the Royal Castle early today after a 33-year-old Sanford man was discovered lying on the drive-in restaurant parking lot.

The employee, who identified herself only as Wilma, said she was told by someone outside that the man was dead.

Sgt. John Noel and Lt. Charles Fagan drove on the scene just as an ambulance was arriving and arrested a man identified as Frank Grooms, 2616 Mowhawk Drive, on a drunkenness charge.

Sgt. Noel reported Grooms was intoxicated and had passed out in the parking area next to his car.

We promised not to have any "instant replays," but . . . on the President's statement of the other night.

Two thoughts pop up immediately. First, if the had's elected to duplicate Spiro and castigate the press and the manner in which it was covering the Manson trial - who knows, but that perhaps his statement would have been modified.

Secondly, we didn't agree with Mr. Nixon about Cambodia (and still consider it a mistake), but the only fault of his comment on this situation is that it proved he's simply human.

However, in view of the fact that this was "filmed" . . . why in the world didn't his advisors do something about it before it was shown on national TV?

And now to have people like Rep. Charles E. Wiggins, R-Calif., take off on the press . . . "the press would irresponsibly carry his words to the courtroom and possibly prejudice the accused thereby" . . . only leads us to believe that it's Mr. Wiggins who is irresponsible.

The Atlanta Constitution put it another way: "The President still doesn't seem to grasp the role of the press in a free society. He wants the press to tell him what he wants to hear. But a free press insists on trying to tell it like it is. Even when a president blunders."

Monroe Harbour Sues City

A suit complaint for declaratory judgment was filed today in Circuit Court by Monroe Harbours, Inc., plaintiff, against the City of Sanford, defendant, in the controversy over who is responsible under a lease agreement to replace 102 floating docks at the Sanford Marina.

Filed by L. Pharr Abner and Mack N. Cleveland Jr., attorneys for the plaintiff, the complaint is the latest incident to develop from the confrontation between Monroe Harbours, Inc., lessee, and the city, owner of the Lake Monroe marina docks.

The suit charges the city with breaching the terms and conditions of a March 31, 1967 lease and a Dec. 31, 1968 modification of lease as well as a marina operating franchise agreement . . . "in that it failed and refused to replace 102 damaged or sunken units of concrete flotation equipment as required under the said agreements."

Continuing, the suit alleges, "that unless the courts grant declaratory relief, it is the plaintiff's (Monroe Harbours, Inc.) duty to replace 102 floating docks at the Sanford Marina."

The action stated if the court found that the lessee had the responsibility and liability to replace the equipment, the plaintiff stands ready and able to do so in order not to be in default under said agreements.

"The plaintiff prays that the court will find the defendant has responsibility for replacing the equipment and is not entitled to exercise Article 16 of the lease," the suit continued.

Finally, the complaint asked that the court issue an injunction against the city, savants, agents and employees in temporarily and permanently prohibit the enforcement of default provisions of the lease against the plaintiff or pursuing any other legal remedy to which it might otherwise avail itself.

William C. Hutchison, attorney for Sanford, is expected to file an answer to the complaint after a city commission meeting scheduled for Monday night.

The commission is expected to decide at that time what position it wants to take in the litigation and is expected to direct Hutchison accordingly.

Pulling Out

Marine Operator Quits Sinking Monroe Harbour

By BILL SCOTT

An Orlando based marine operator Thursday pulled his last sailboat moored at Sanford's marina out of the water and loaded it on a trailer for relocation to Orange County's Lake Fairview.

With the boat in tow, Joe T. Barrett, operator of Barrett's Marina, 4565 N. Orange Blossom Trail, passed just long enough to call on The Herald's editorial room and give his views on the sunken and damaged marina docks, now in the throes of anticipated litigation involving Monroe Harbours Inc., lessee and City of Sanford, owner of the marina boating facilities.

The two adversaries are squaring-off for a court battle to determine who has responsibility under the lease to restore the 102 sunken or damaged floating docks.

Being unfamiliar with the contract involving lessee and lessor, Barrett wouldn't comment on the legal complications, but he did voice opinions concerning the cause of the docks sinking.

"I spent $150 in buying damn line to meet my sailboats, but the heavy wave action in the west marina," Barrett said.

The waves caused by the lack of a breakwater caused line to wear out quickly, Barrett explained.

The entrepreneur advised he was keeping 20 foot sailboats at the dock facilities, but was removing his last craft because of the wavy marina situation and the looming court fight before repairs.

"There's just no way to expand or grow under the present situation," Barrett advised.

He said his insurance company had refused to insure his craft here since learning of the dock problems and added two persons who had purchased boats from him had the sides of their craft torn out by the water action.

"I recommended the city build a seawall three nine years ago, when I started my business at the marina," he advised.

Barrett disagreed with what the commission over what caused the docks to sink and stated it was not improper maintenance since the east docks were still intact.

The mariner said he would relocate his sailboat sales election year and she referred to the size of Seminole County.

Mrs. Bruce told The Herald that a vast amount of registrants were Republican their parties, with the trend being from Democrat to Republican.

According to the county voter supervisor, most of new registrants are also registrants were Republican Party over the Democratic Party.

Mrs. Bruce reminded all those persons who have not registered that both of her offices, one located at the Seminole County Courthouse, and the other at the Seminole Plaza shopping center, will be open tomorrow.

Sheriff Polk To Appeal Budget To Tallahassee

Seminole County Sheriff John Polk informed the county commission by letter yesterday his intention to file a petition with the State Administration Board for a review of the sheriff's department budget request.

The action by Sheriff Polk came after a commission budget review approved $54,275 of $42,494 requested by the sheriff in his annual fund request.

Polk stated that $12,729 was cut from his needs to give citizens adequate law enforcement.

He said out of 15 additional law enforcers, the commission saw fit to give him 11, including all support items such as uniforms, cars, etc. The sheriff sought three sergeants and got three; he needed seven additional road deputies and received five; out of a requested two juvenile officers, the commission gave him one and two investigators were approved out of the three needed.

Referring to the cuts, Polk said $4,978 was justified in that he offered to use a cadet program of college students for clerk and road operating duties, instead of hiring other workers at a higher cost. The college employees will be part of a federally subsidized work-study program.

"They cut a recorder for radio-telephone at $6,372 cost, which I feel is a necessity in today's law enforcement operations," the sheriff added, this was a one-time expense outlay. Also not approved was reduced minimal salary in increases for present personnel.

Polk added an additional $4,900 was deleted from the retirement program, which is contingent on salaries, he continued.

Some $7,600 was sliced from the sheriff's automobile account, and there were other support items also cut, he concluded.

Polk's attorney, Douglas Stenstrom is expected to file the petition for appealing the budget with the county commission and Circuit Court sometime Monday and it will become a public record at that time.

Normally, the commission is given five days to reply to the appeal and within 30 days, he stated it was not improper maintenance since the east docks were still intact.

The mariner said he would relocate his sailboat sales

County Reviews Sewage Planning

By MARION BETHEA

County Commissioners met yesterday afternoon with Bert O'Neill, representing the engineering firm of A.E. O'Neill associate and George Huffman, acting director of the tri-county Planning Council relative to sewage problems within the county.

The planning council was requested to develop plans relative to water and sewage in this area, so that generalities could be broken down for county review for concepts in treatment plants.

O'Neill told the commission that considerable savings could be realized by having one central plant in the Sanford area and one in the Orange-South Seminole area. He detailed specific facilities plan of long range which is designed to serve a one million population.

Commissioner Greg Drummond said that land spreading is chosen based upon soil capabilities and is the most efficient plan to save rivers and streams. Huffman distributed maps showing the 1980 recommended sewer facilities plan which is designed to serve a one million population.

Three Parables

By RICHARD MARSHALL

"THREE WAYS TO GET LOST"
There are three parables in Luke 15, all illustrating the concern of Christ for the lost. They emphasize His teaching. "The Son of Man is come to seek and to save that which is lost."
However, today let's look at another aspect of these parables. How did these things, the sheep, the coin, and the son, come to be lost?

In the first case, the sheep was lost through lack of foresight. This sheep didn't get down and decide to get lost. He just simply followed the inclination of the moment, the urge that led him to the next tender tuft of grass.

The coin was lost because of lack of will. It had no mind of its own. It was subject only to natural law. Having weight, it fell, being round it rolled, being lifeless, it lay where it stopped, and it was lost.

Doubtless there are many factors to be sighted in why the young man, the prodigal of Jesus story, was lost, but probably all of them could be summed up as lack of proper evaluation. He was impatient, and although the younger son of the family, he asked for his inheritance early, was granted it, gathered it all together, and left for a far country. Luke 15:13 says, "and there he wasted his substance in riotous living." Thus his improper evaluation of real worth is seen. He wasted the valuable to claim the tawdry.

What Was Jesus Like?

By LOUIS CASSELS
UPI Religion Writer

What was Jesus really like? What is the distinctive character of the way of life He commended to men by precept and example?
Thousands of books have been written in answer to those questions. Most are pretty bad. A few are fairly good. A very, very few are magnificent.

In the latter category is a small, inexpensive paperback published recently by MacMillan. It is entitled, "The Founder of Christianity." The author is Prof. F. H. Dodd of Cambridge University, who directed the translation of the New English Bible, and who is regarded by many as the world's foremost New Testament scholar.

Authentic Portrait Of Jesus
In this little book, Dodd has used his enormous erudition, the way it should be used, to make deep things clear and easy to understand.

Lesser scholars have argued for years over which parts of the Gospels may be regarded as actual sayings of Jesus and which parts may be interpretations or interpolations by the early church. Dodd cuts straight through this mass of quibbling to answer the one question of urgent importance to the confused layman who is wondering whether the New Testament presents an authentic picture of a real person and His teachings.

His answer is an unqualified yes.

Easy-Reading Narrative
The distinctive "style" of Jesus, reflected in His recorded teachings, is "crisp, pungent, often allusive, even cryptic, laden with irony and paradox," he says. It betrays "a mind whose processes were swift and direct, hitting the nail on the head without waste of words."

Jesus suggests that the key to all Jesus' teaching is found in the Lord's Prayer, where He instructed His disciples to address God as "Father." The Aramaic word Jesus used was "Abba" and it was "the intimate mode of address from child to father in the Jewish family"—comparable to "Dad" or "Pop" in a contemporary family. The petitions of the Lord's Prayer are consistent with the form of address: They are "the special children to a father, simple, direct and confident."

There is much, much more in this easy-reading 167 page book, including a notably new approach to the miracle stories of the Gospels which have caused so much confusion and controversy. Those who are attracted to Jesus but know relatively little about Him will find in this slim volume a priceless opportunity to get acquainted with Him as He really was. Their tentative admiration will not be diminished.

Atheist

NORWICH, England (AP)—The Rev. Roy Flindall, rector of St. George's, Norwich, has appointed an atheist as part-time vergar of his church. Michael Harvard, a 30-year-old Royal Air Force corporal, wears a cassock in church, leads choral processions and looks the part. "I don't see anything hypocritical in my attitude," he says. "I made it quite plain before I accepted the post that I was a non-believer. In a world of atomic bombs I cannot accept God."

The rector says, "Michael is the ideal man for the job. There is a cultural division between the secular world and the church which I hope this appointment will bridge."

Character Training

CONSETT, England (AP)—Police cadets are getting character-training at the Roman Catholic Priesthood monastery of Minsteres near here. In groups of four and of any denomination they briefly share the lives of the priests and novices while learning something of the underlying principles of discipline and service. "We are not imposing strict monastic rules for the cadets," said Father Co. Devin, the superior. "The idea is to give them plenty of healthy work and let them see what kind of work we do."

Alarm Bell On Cape Cod Heard In Seminole

So the insidious, evil and dangerous web of drug use has enmeshed two young members of the Kennedy clan. That it took place on Cape Cod, that it involved other youngsters, that it has now been faced openly and candidly by leaders of the clan are all factors which should get close public attention.

Here in Central Florida, the dunes and beaches of Nantuxet Sound and Massachusetts Bay are far away, yet what brought Robert F. Kennedy, Jr., and Sargent Shriver III into the possession of marijuana, with which they are charged, is as near as our East Coast beaches and our city parks.

Our sympathy goes to the parents, Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy, brave and devoted widow of the assassinated Senator from Massachusetts, and to Sargent Shriver, former Ambassador to France and Peace Corps director.

Both have responded with dignity and gravity to the situation in which their sons are now involved.

Rumberger Speaks

Kind words will get you everywhere, Judge Rumberger.

Especially kind words about the freedom of the press.

Especially when voiced at a time when more politicians are on the hunt than on the defense of the Fourth Estate.

Especially when they come from such a skilled spokesman as Judge Rumberger, who doffed his judicial robes to seek election as state attorney general.

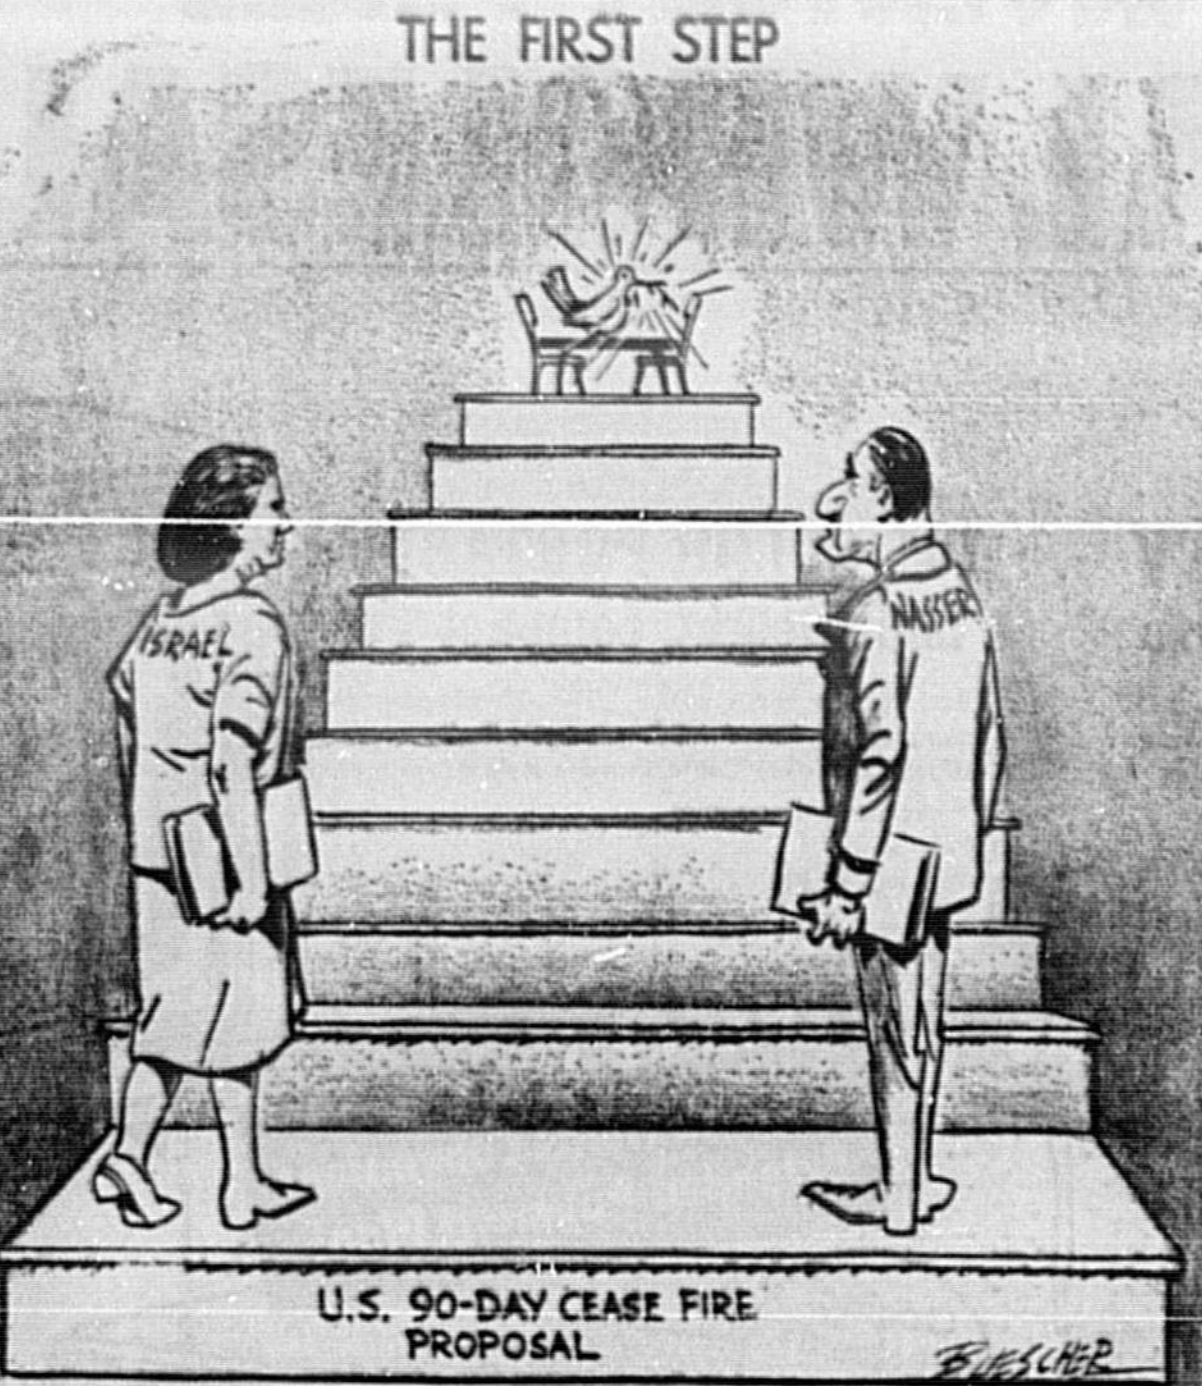

For example, "It is no coincidence that whenever a tyrant seeks to destroy the liberties of a free people, one of his earliest targets is whatever press freedom exists in the land."

And, "I am fearful all too many of them are ferreting out causes they can champion."

Publishers and editors are more acutely aware now, since the age of Agnew dawned, that the freedom of the press (printed or electronic) must be more alert, more precise, more understandable.

It is this aspect of the Rumberger talk which is important. We believe that the people's right to know must never be abridged.

It is the right and duty of all to keep communication channels open and free flowing.

What Price Tag For Prestige?

BY ROY McGEHEE
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Is it any more acceptable for a U.S. senator or representative to profit from the prestige of his office than it is for him to sell or trade his vote or his influence?

That is the essential question raised by a UPI investigation that revealed more than a score of influential members of Congress were accepting luxury automobiles from major manufacturers at specially low lease rates.

Several Democratic committee chairmen and ranking Republican members are driving Lincoln Continentals and Chrysler Imperials, furnished by the manufacturers, at lease costs of $750 to $900 a year.

It would cost the ordinary driver four or five times that much to rent or lease a similar car.

Both Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler-Leasneg Corp. said they gave the cut rate lease prices to the lawmakers for all prestige value of having them drive their automobiles.

Perhaps at a particular time, it may well be that the man in the street would notice if a Lincoln Continental or a Chrysler Imperial. And it might follow that he would conclude that if the honorable member of Congress drove such-and-such a limousine that he himself might buy a lease model for himself from the same manufacturer.

Almost to a man, the congressmen accepting the largesse of the automakers also accepted the automakers' rationale for extending the deal.

Foreign Policy - '70 Elections

By LEON BENNETT
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (NEA)—Domestic issues, economic and social, will dominate the U.S. congressional election campaign this fall.

But Americans will also be asked to assess the foreign policy decisions of the Nixon administration that might affect the future of the United States and the free world.

What, then, are America's urgent priorities and how should they be determined?

This is one of the vital questions discussed in a new book, "Foreign Policy Priorities: 1970-71," prepared by the editors of the Foreign Policy Association.

As Samuel P. Hayes, the FPA's president, said in the introduction to the book, public opinion is "a significant force in a democracy" and "essential to the health of the nation."

The better-informed the voter is, the wider the range of intelligent alternatives may be available to him.

legislation governing safety, pollution and other matters affecting the auto industry. He leaves a Continental for $750 a year. Says Hayes, "It's ridiculous to think the influence of a U.S. senator could be bought for the price of a car lease."

But if the lawmakers are scrupulous about not selling their influence at least some apparently are somewhat less scrupulous about trading the prestige of their office.

With President Nixon's performance as a friend, the cause of law and order would appear to be in no pressing need of enemies for the time being.

Aspart from whatever effect it ultimately may have on the Los Angeles trial directly, the President's comment on the Manson case is certain to be around as a public topic for some time.

Editorialists will see to that. And delivered in the context of a critique of the press, it — or the flap raised — is not going to improve his relations with the media.

The Friendly Season

By: Fred Van Pelt

(Ed Note — While our 'Friendly Season' — Fred Van Pelt recuperates from a recent operation, the Herald news staff will try its damndest to be friendlier-er-er.)

Take away the outdoor sign of County Commissioner Candidate Richard Wirz, plus Al Davis on the scene for practically all civic and public meetings, and further remove the interest of the state and national political centers and you'd have a difficult time realizing that there was also a local center.

Where are the issues? What made these candidates take the plunge into politics? All of the citizens are awaiting that charging "white knight" who has almost all of the answers to almost all of our problems . . . and if he has arrived, then it must have been via the back door (without knocking or being announced).

It is true that we have printed (or will, except for the few on hand awaiting the type-setter) all of those formal announcements from each of the candidates. But, these have had hours of time during which they were written, re-written and then submitted for publication.

Only when "Mr. Politician" is challenged by you the electorate on specifics and his or her answers are weighed will we be able to learn more of the character and candor of the individual.

It's interesting . . . when Jack Eckerd visited this newspaper, he made a rather profound statement to the effect that his financial report, listing all of his assets would be published. And if elected, put into an irrevocable trust fund.

That statement by Sanford City Commissioner Gordon Meyer to the Jaycees that he would be "running for the city mayor's post in two and one-half years" caused some of the city's 24-hour-a-day politicos to wince when the revelation reached their ears.

It seems Meyer upset a "power block" by making the avowal this early, and these "selectmen" have already tentatively selected someone other than Meyer for the job.

Meyer, in announcing his plans, proposes to put the "establishment" on notice that he means to rock the boat and also plants the seeds of change in the minds of voters, where he hopes they will germinate to fruition.

The conscientious commissioner, by his actions, has caused much public good will to flow his way in the seven months of commission duty, but he has also alienated certain politicians by being independent of their influence.

By CHARLEY WELLS — Candidate
Florida House of Representatives, District 45
The budget announced by the Seminole County School Board last week showed an increase of 2.1 mills over the budget for the present year.

The objective of the plan is to equalize the property tax burden on property owners throughout Florida by giving proportionately more state aid to schools in property-poor counties. Recently compiled tax records show that the per-pupil per-mile tax yield varies substantially from county to county because of the variance in total property values in the different counties.

To remedy the unfairness of this disparity in property values, the property tax equalization plan gives proportionately more state money to Seminole County than it gives to the property-rich counties. Because this sensible and fair plan was enacted, Seminole County will receive some additional state money for the next school year. This is true despite the fact that my opponent voted against the plan.

My pledge to the people of Seminole County is that, if elected, I will be dedicated to easing the burden of property owners, and aiding our schools through creative and effective programs such as the property tax equalization plan. I will always be sensitive to the taxpayer's burden and knowledgeable about the needs of the schools. I firmly believe that people of Seminole County have a right to expect no less.

Politicians Snipe At Governor Kirk

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Democratic candidates for governor Thursday offered differing views on how they would deal with crime in Florida as they were nominated and elected to the seat won by Claude Kirk with his promise to war on crime.

Dade County Metro Mayor Chuck Hall said Kirk's administration too often seems "more concerned with interference with local law enforcement officials than with assistance to them."

The Defense Department, the former Florida governor said at Palm Beach, "is taking a crisis approach to the solution of the nerve gas problem. It's up to the President that the dissemination of the nerve gas should be halted."

Another Democratic Senate hopeful, Lawton Chiles said his walking campaign on Florida's southeast coast showed that people are "deeply disturbed" over the Army's plan.

Chiles said, "Every year or so we have a similar crisis. I don't see why we have to have a crisis government when proper planning would solve the problem. People shouldn't be scared this way."

Republican candidate George Balmer wired President Nixon asking him to have the nerve gas destroyed by nuclear means "rather than allow the chance of a catastrophe."

Meanwhile, Rep. William C. Cramer announced Thursday at his St. Petersburg headquarters that Lewis B. "Bud" Maytag of Miami, president of National Airlines, has agreed to serve as state finance chairman for Cramer's U.S. campaign for the GOP Senate nomination.

A GOP personality, G. Harold Carswell, took the opportunity at a news conference in Jacksonville to joke about his letter-writing campaign's booboo.

"We don't give up on anybody," Carswell declared. "We want to save as many as we can."

Letters soliciting funds for the former judge went by mistake to James Bertron, campaign manager for Cramer, and to a Democratic candidate, Farris Bryant.

Hastings also urged President Nixon to personally attend the strategic arms limitation talks "to show that America means business about peace."

Democrat Joe L. Davies also jumped on Bryant at a speech at Daytona Beach for his statement that a trade of American lives for Oriental lives was a poor trade because there are so many more Orientals.

Hand-Wringing Finished

By RICH OPPEL
Associated Press Writer
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Some pretty big businesses are taking a new look at a 1970 law restricting the use of "free offers" in advertising because the law may have more teeth than anybody imagined.

That includes Robert J. Bishop, director of the State Division of Consumer Services, whose agency prepared the bill which passed the legislature as Senate Bill 1000.

"I can't deny that our office is responsible for the law," he said in an interview. "Even though we may have caused some fear, our hearts are in the right place."

The business community's hand-wringing is over whether the law has rendered the word "free" obsolete—unless you can give the item away with absolutely no strings attached, which few businesses can afford—Florida advertising.

Even Bishop is scratching his sparsely fringed head over that. He has sought an attorney general's opinion.

He said his intent, in any case, was to prohibit the "deceptive misuse" of the word "free"—where the consumer is led to believe he has to buy nothing, sign nothing and do nothing for the gift.

tragic mistake cannot result. Another of those periodic street-corner polls recently revealed that the citizens in the street overwhelmingly reject the basic concepts of the Bill of Rights. The majority reaction to the constitutional guarantee, as paraphrased, was that they were undesirable, unnecessary, possibly even dangerous to subvert.
The only thing really surprising about this is that it should be found surprising. The majority has no great interest in or need for the rights in question. The majority conforms, which is why it is the majority. It is the minority, the rare individuals, who want and exercise the right to be different. Freedom can, in fact, be defined as the majority's guarantee of the minority's right to be different.
At another point in his law-and-order comments, President Nixon mentioned a recent view of a Western movie and ascribed continuing popularity of Westerns to public desire to "see the good guys out ahead; the bad guys lose."
Undoubtedly true. Movie-makers, of course, are well aware of this public taste and tailor their scripts to satisfy it.

Seminole Stops Lauderdale; Takes On Tampa '9' Tonight

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Sports Writer

From high-scoring action averaging 10 runs per game, the play settles down into the strong pitching battle in the Southeastern Regional Colt League baseball tournament. In three games played yesterday at Cooper Field, they all ended 1-0.

In the finals of the loser's bracket competition, Ft. Lauderdale was knocked out by Seminole County. Earlier in the day, Ft. Lauderdale had eliminated Gadsden, Alabama, and Seminole had fallen from the winner's bracket with a loss at the hands of Tampa South Palomino.

Ft. Lauderdale scored their run in the bottom of the first inning against Gadsden. The lead off batter popped out in left territory and then John Myer singled. He attempted to steal second but was called for the second out of the inning. Robert Alvarez drew a two-out walk and went to second on a throwing error by the pitcher. Steve Wyatt singled to right to score him. Lee Von Stein was the winning pitcher as he hurled a two-hitter and fanned five. Tom Hindack was the loser, and was relieved in the fifth by Roger Smith. They combined to allow eight hits, all scattered.

Seminole County's all-stars also went behind 1-0 in the first frame, never to see the lead. Jeff Vardo reached on a fielder's choice with one out. Vardo attempted to go all the way from first when the first baseman threw the ball away, but left factor Dan Radovic came in to throw the runner out at the plate. Lou Garcia, who had singled to start the play where the runner was out at the plate, ended up at second. Ed Arsenault slammed a double and South Palomino took the lead off batter popped out in left territory and then John Myer singled. He attempted to steal second but was called for the second out of the inning.

They combined to allow eight hits, all scattered.

It had to be the best game of the tournament. The only run came in the sixth inning. The Seminole County score came at the most unlikely time. The first two men went down swinging. Dan Radovic walked and stole second. The next batter hit the ball to the first baseman who booted the ball and then picked up and made a throwing error to allow Radovic to score.

Larry Chant was the winning hurler for Seminole County. Rick Winqvist went the distance in the loss. Chant hurled a four-hitter. Chant retired the side in order four times. He had seven strikeouts. Chant didn't walk a batter.

Winqvist fanned 11 while hurling the three-hitter. In the third and fifth innings he retired the side in order on strikeouts. Stephenson led the Seminole County attack with two hits, while Ronnie Glaze had the other. Ft. Lauderdale got their hit from Robert Alvarez, Bob Rudock, and Ron Hodges.

In the game with Tampa South Palomino, Seminole was led by Dan Radovic with a pair of hits. Larry Brown, Darryl Payne, Ronnie Glaze, Chris Daum and Mark Thompson also had hits for Seminole.

The Tampa hits came off the bats of Lou Garcia, Ed Arsenault, Tim Norris and John Carnes.

Action resumes tonight in the finals with Seminole taking on Tampa at 8:30 p.m. If Seminole wins, a second game will be necessary.

Pro football's opening round of exhibitions is on Saturday and the games will be minus a couple of star quarterbacks named Joe.

Broadway Joe Namath of the New York Jets and Tommy Joe of the Dallas Cowboys are staging mistrials for more money.

Other Green Power holdouts in the star category include running back Jim Nance of the Boston Patriots and wide receiver Paul Warfield of the Miami Dolphins.

Only one day game is scheduled Saturday. The Vikings will clash at Canton, Ohio, with the New Orleans Saints in the afternoon.

Jacobs Bogeys Away Golf Lead; Archer Moves To First In Classic

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Golf Writer

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Tommy Jacobs was cool, calm and collected after a horrendous triple bogey eight knocked him out of a shot at a course record and a commanding lead in the first round of the $150,000 American Golf Classic.

"It was just one of those things," the 35-year-old veteran said Thursday after he had lost four shots on two holes and plummeted back into a tie for second place behind leader George Archer.

Jacobs, a slim, soft-spoken veteran in a lengthy slump who last won in 1965, finished with a two-under par 68 on the tough 7,180-yard Firestone Country Club course.

He trailed Archer by one stroke and was tied for second with 41-year-old Paul Harney.

Archer, the Masters champion, had a 69 on the 16th hole, he was six under par, but not made a bogey, needed only a par in to match the record 64 on one of the most demanding courses in the United States and led the field by four strokes.

The 16th is a 625-yard par 5 with a pond guarding the green. According to Jacobs, he hit two great shots and laid up just in front of the pond. "Just where I wanted to be."

Then with a wedge shot to the green, he shunted dead right on a gravel approach to a bridge. From there, he chipped over the green into deep rough, failed to get it out, finally reached the green in six and two-putted.

Tommy also bogeyed the next hole and fell back into the pack. He was philosophical about it, however, shrugged and commented: "If I don't get 'em today, I'll get 'em tomorrow."

American Conference: CLEVELAND

PROSPECTUS—shifting leagues won't change impetus of Browns. Should immediately become power of Central Division. This'll be third different league in history of Browns. Come into it with team that's shifting in talent but hard core to maintain winning record.

PASSING—When Bill Nelsen's good, very good. And when he's bad... well, ask Minnesota Vikings. Peppy Bill's got to carry load again on scarred knees even if Mike Phipps (Purdue) is being groomed to succeed him. Bill's leadership gets him over tough spots. Rating—B

RECEIVING—Browns could be kidding themselves. Homer Jones (ex-Giant) will compensate for Paul Warfield. Homer's great only when mood strikes him. Warfield was superb threat. Of course, Gary Collier was Nelsen's favorite receiver, and Mike Morton's superb specimen of tight end. Dave Jones is around for future use. Rating—B

RUNNING—Blanton Collier has always emphasized running game, and he has ideal horses in Leroy Kelly and Bo Scott. Kelly will get more mobility at end, they're trying to follow blocking. And ex-Canadian star Scott came on strong once he got acclimated. He'll be pushed by Reece Morrison, a comer. Rating—A minus

LIVE—Monte Clark finally vacated right tackle spot, but he was operating on bad legs anyhow and had given way to Joe Taffoni. Have rookie Bob McKay of Texas, too. Age of Dick Shaffrath (33), Gene Hickerson (34) make you wonder. But if you get more mobility at end, they're trying to follow blocking. And ex-Canadian star Scott came on strong once he got acclimated. He'll be pushed by Reece Morrison, a comer. Rating—A minus

DEFENSE

LINE—Easer to improve pass rush, they've peddled Jim Kwikto to Giants and pushed rangy Marv Ushup into tackle post alongside Walt Johnson. Johnson's prize specimen up front. To get more mobility at end, they're trying to follow blocking. And ex-Canadian star Scott came on strong once he got acclimated. He'll be pushed by Reece Morrison, a comer. Rating—A minus

SECONDARY—Ben Davis missed all of last year with knee injury, and he's welcome back. After all, Erich Barnes is 35. He can still scare a wide receiver with his choppy arms. For a few days, the 262-skinned linebacker was named interim coach of the Redskins.

That was the same report issued by a team spokesman Thursday night. There have been total agreement within a short time.

We had the pleasure of seeing it up at the DeLand Country Club this past weekend and it was a real treat. They have added a number of traps, lengthened most of the tees and really put some toughness into this par 11 layout. They have two of the toughest par threes in the area. One is 225 yards long and an Allice has a tough time getting near it with our drivers. The other is 197 yards, must be carried or hit at the right hand side where only feet separate you from out of bounds.

Anti-Trust Laws Threatened

CHICAGO (AP)—Congress holds the important key to the proposed merger of the two major professional basketball leagues and apparently the door to that route won't be opened for at least another year.

Walter Kennedy, commissioner of the National Basketball Association, said Tuesday there is little chance this year for legislation which would allow merger with the American Basketball Association, without anti-trust complications.

"I do not contemplate that we will be able to get legislation acted upon during this session of Congress," Kennedy said after a meeting with NBA owners. "This is an election year and there is a short term in mind to get the act passed."

Wally Smith said the week as he came inches from having one of those rare double eagles and had a tap in for a three on the par five 475 yard number 12 hole.

Field. South Palomino won this game 1-0, but Seminole came back to defeat Ft. Lauderdale by the same score and advance to tonight's finals.

GAINESVILLE, Fla.—With the opening of practice only a shade over two weeks away it is becoming more and more obvious to Florida Head Coach Doug Dickey how important athletes like Bill Dowdy are going to be to 1970 Gator hopes.

Bill Dowdy was an exceptional sophomore tight end who wound up catching 20 passes for 317 yards and two TD's, third best record in pass receiving for the Gators.

"The play of boys like Dowdy will be one of the great features in this football team," says Dickey. "We want our best 11 athletes on the field with the offensive team and when two of them are at the same position, as Dowdy and Jim Vancey were at tight end, you've got to do some switching."

"Bill did a good job for us as tackle the last two weeks of spring practice and we think he can get the job done this season. We had so many problems in the offensive line, caused by injuries and inexperience, that it is really important that people like Dowdy come through in order for us to have the kind of protection we must get."

There were five spots open and the qualifying was set for Saturday. However, the matches were postponed until Sunday and Filol and Cornejo decided to make the trip here.

Cornejo won a qualifying spot, assuring himself of $350 as a consolation prize. Filol was defeated, but he was lucky. The fifth and final berth in the

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Although this is terribly unwise, I'm married and have a child a year old. At the time I became pregnant I had four promiscuous affairs going on at the same time. I told my wife (not his real name) we had to get married because he was the one I knew would make the best provider. (None of the men knew about the others.) My wife has been a wonderful husband and father and I've grown to love him very much. Now, my problem: I've always had the feeling that he wasn't the father. This was confirmed recently when I found out he's had other women and she's had other men and she's had other children. I could never tell my husband by telling him the truth, but this guilt is destroying me. It is becoming harder and harder to live with this on my conscience. I am the luckiest woman in the world and should be the happiest, but I am miserable. What do you suggest?

You have wisely rejected the idea of "confessing all" to your husband. Such a confession would only punish him and increase your feelings of worthlessness. I suggest that you do everything within your power to build your self-esteem. Try hard to be a first class wife and mother so that you can feel deserving of your good fortune. I think you can do it. Please try, God bless. DEAR ABBY: My mother, age 37, lives alone and leads a very active social life. She has a good job with 30 days vacation each year, which she spends on trips to various places with an extremely likeable man she has known for a long time. My children are growing up, and I don't pull any punches about where the truth is. It is becoming harder and harder to live with this on my conscience. I am the luckiest woman in the world and should be the happiest, but I am miserable. What do you suggest?

MISERABLE: Professional counseling. You'll probably learn that you are "miserable" because you feel you aren't entitled to so much happiness, and deserve to be punished instead. But since "fair" has not punished you, you are determined to punish yourself by not permitting yourself to enjoy your good fortune. If you counseling is successful, you will then regret that regret is the cancer of life, and there is nothing you can do about your past.

Jacoby On Bridge

Jacoby and Son

"To duck or not to duck, that is the question," inquired Hamlet. The melancholy Dane had arrived at a very normal three no-trump contract. West had opened the jack of clubs and played the queen East, had placed the sitting on his partner's jack. Hamlet was whispering to Horatio, who was kibitzing. "Poor Yorick, I know him well. He would not play the queen from three. I must duck. He played low and Yorick shifted to the queen of hearts. Once more the sittings and arrows of outrageous fortune were besetting Hamlet. He had another problem about ducking. Could Yorick have just four hearts? In that case, Hamlet would have no way to make have led back a club. Yorick just had to hold a diamond honor. In that case, it was up to Hamlet to duck the heart also and hope for a 5-2 bid in that suit also. Yorick continued hearts. Hamlet won in dummy and went over diamonds. It did not matter which opponent was the first diamond trick or what they did from then on. There was no way for the defense to collect any further club or heart tricks and Hamlet had made game with three spades and two tricks each in the other suits. Hamlet was playing for a local duplicate at Castle Elsinore for a world's championship.

Worry Clinic

By Dr. Crane

CASE N-366: Tim B., aged 15, took a make-up class during the summer. "For I had flunked one of my courses," he apologized. Dr. Crane, I seem to be dumb. For I can read the chapter that is assigned, and still not pass the teacher's True-False exam she gives us on that same chapter. The school psychologist, however, says my IQ is OK. "So why can't I do as well as my pals? They may make an 'A' while I am lucky to get a 'C', though I spend more hours in study." "Beware, for it isn't the time you spend that makes you an 'A' student. No, it's the proper study habits and psychological "tricks." For example, Tim told me he had often read the entire chapter three or even four times; yet might get a "D" on his way.

Others boys get a "B" or an "A" on one reading! Yet their IQ was no higher than Tim's. So here are the shortcuts for most efficient study habits: (1) Quickly thumb through the pages of the entire assigned chapter, casually noting the chapter's general coverage. This should take only five minutes. (2) Then start to read the chapter, with a colored pencil poised to underline anything that seems of a "meaty," or factually item. Always list the page where you have underlined with a colored pencil the factual statement used in your own True-False exam. Then you can consult it quickly in a later review. (3) After you have made up your mind as to what you should underline, then take your own quiz before bedtime. (4) Next morning, do the same as you did last night, but cover such an exam over an entire chapter in a few minutes. (5) Then see how many of your True-False items overlapped with those the teacher included in her quiz. Maybe you phrased your statements differently, but check to see if you dealt with the same "meaty" item. Soon you will find that you can out-guess your teacher's exam maybe 20 times out of 25! For when you take the teacher's viewpoint, you certainly can't make your own exam, you soon start recognizing "meaty" items quickly.

We The Women:

Have you caught yourself in the middle of the night? You've found yourself waking from a recurring bad dream. You've noticed how your conversation is too liberally sprinkled with "shut up" and "Oh, I said it." Then you know it's time you found some time for yourself. It's so easy to become enmeshed in the everydayness of things. Some women get bogged down in picking peaches and wiping noses. They somehow never find time to merely sit and enjoy the familiar enchantment of their garden. Or, perhaps, eating a sunworn peach out of hand. Wiping a toddler's nose usually becomes such a perfunctory action that one fails to notice the new freckles scattered there. This is the traditional vacation period and yet most women find themselves working harder than ever. That's because they haven't learned that even a toddler can help pack a suitcase and every teenager can cook a meal. Now's the time to do something new to do. Learn some words. Buy a bikini. Climb a tree. Try your hand at clothing even if you don't pass in eighth-grade art class. Leave a rug. Cut your hair. Or let it grow. Buy a car. Let it sit for a while. Buy a two-door bubblebath. Sign up for gourmet cooking classes. Unplug the television set and get a real book. Sit and think awhile. Look up at the sky. The sky today is always different than yesterday. Your sky is different than the one you saw while you were on vacation in Wyoming. Put in a long-distance call to a friend. You can give up despair for a week to pay for it. Go to the library and get the books you want to read. Then read them. Stop grunting about the state of the world, come out and get into it. Perhaps we all really deserve some golden hours. But our solution is a problem. Write them unless we create our own.

Griffin Changing Show Format To Los Angeles

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mary Griffin was being grounded for CBS-TV in the late night talk show competition but it suddenly hit him in the early hours of a recent morning that he and Johnny Carson of NBC-TV and Dick Cavett of ABC-TV were the prisoners rather than the masters of a shotguns format long overdue for overhauling. Griffin had just flown back from a weekend trip to London where he talked lion and Chambers into the job in his office on West 4th Street, over his own restaurant and a few doors from the Cart Theatre. CBS purchased for $2 million so

WASHINGTON (NEA) — It all began with Martha Washington's Friday night reception, which was quite dull. According to one source, the plump First Lady, one of a few minutes of social talk. George—who was the grantee of conversation—stood nearby and appeared rather bored.

Tea and plum cake were served about 9 p.m. Martha would raise her voice and say to the guests, "This ended the evening in time, and I must precede you." This ended the evening.

She, the first lady, was in a room in the White House. Mr. Nixon appeared to be carrying on a great conversation with a young man who was identified as a Washington resident.

"Washington social life is so dull that if Calvin Coolidge returned he could easily become the Playboy of the Poconos," said Claire Crawford, social columnist for the Washington Daily News.

"The Nixon administration is pretty darn dreary and dull," said Sandra McWhorter of The Washington Post.

"If you were wrapping the last of the white House social scene," you would use tins and brocades and velvet in cardinal reds and royal purples for the Kennedy's.

"The Johnsons were cotton—prima, of course—in hot pink and bacon red and Lady Bird yellow.

"The Nixons would be covered with synthetics—drip dry and no wrinkles—in colors of light pinks and dark grey."

All of this negative evidence makes interesting the fact that President Nixon entertained and hosted LBJ's one-year-old son, John, in the White House in 1969. It also is noteworthy, perhaps, that Mr. Nixon's entertainment budget is reportedly $100,000 in the rest this year.

Obviously, the Nixon's disesteemed reputation as social hostess is not due to the Nixon's. The Nixons are said to lack what is known as upper crust citizenry as a savoir faire.

As Miss Crawford reports:

"In the Great Hall where President Johnson used to give most of the lady guests a tour of the floor, President Nixon steps forward and says something like, 'Pat and I are going upstairs. I have respect to show.' The lady then asks before Dick has a briefcase open."

France's Example

By DON OAKLEY
NEA Editor

Those who advocate a schedule of financial rewards and penalties for parents of dependent children, and who are opposed to the present system of financial aid, should look to France for an example.

France, which has long had a system of financial aid for dependent children, has recently introduced a new system of financial aid for dependent children. The new system is based on the principle of "family allowances" and is designed to provide financial aid to parents of dependent children in a more equitable and efficient manner.

Arraignment Set In Kirkland Case

By MARION BETHEA
Orlando attorney Edward Kirkland will be arraigned in Circuit Court on Aug. 13 at 3 p.m. on morals charges arising from an alleged incident occurring on Jan. 12, 1970 at the Regency Apartments.
Kirkland faces charges upon three counts: crime against nature in the incident involving a female under 14 years of age; lewd and lascivious conduct in the same incident and lewd and lascivious conduct by committing an act in the presence of the minor female, with another female. The amended information upon the last count was filed on Aug. 6.
The case has been the object of much legal maneuvering in recent months, and no trial date has been set, although it had been previously speculated that it would be sometime this fall.
A motion to dismiss in the case was filed on May 3, 1970 as well as a motion for a continuance. On July 3 a petition for a re-hearing in a writ of certiorari was filed in the Florida Supreme Court, which was later denied.

Faircloth Here Wednesday Cabinet Members Invited To Area

By BILL SCOTT
Sanford and Seminole County officials dedicated to bringing the proposed State Police Academy to the Sanford Airport met this morning for a planning breakfast at Holiday Inn in Sanford to discuss plans to invite State Cabinet members to visit the city during the present political campaign in which all cabinet members are seeking re-election.
Mayor Lee P. Moore opened the session with a breakdown on what occurred last Tuesday at Tallahassee, when a Seminole contingent actively sought the establishment of the police training school on the airport property in a former Navy barracks, building 310.
This morning plans were made with interested citizens to invite cabinet members to Sanford to talk to the electorate and tour the airport facility at the same time.
Attorney Tom Freeman revealed that Atty. Gen. Earl Faircloth, cabinet member, now seeking the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, would be here Wednesday for a breakfast session with local supporters and would be available then for an airport tour.

Landfill Is On County's Agenda

Controversy Continues
Tomorrow's meeting of the County Commission will again see the controversy emanating from the intended use of Ocala Air Field as the county's sanitary landfill. The county's consulting engineer B. C. Conkling, representing contiguous property owners, told the board that there would be no pollution, and a hydrologist with the U.S. Geological Survey mentioned that there would be no pollution of the artesian aquifer. However, Porter said that two weeks would be needed for a final report, and although reportedly all reports have not been received by the commission, Conkling will have his report finalized.
Mrs. Margaret Cammack, Geneva real estate broker has been initiating a fund raising effort for a legal battle, and at last report, the total was slightly over $300. Another resident of the area, Thomas Tuck, has circulated a petition asking that the county's present land fill operations be expanded for the next five years and that the feasibility of a centrally located incinerator be considered. Tuck also contends that the site should be preserved for an industrial complex and airport with its proximity to the proposed Sanford-Titusville Canal. He further maintains that a lease purchase of equipment by the county for the landfill would encompass an expenditure of $158,751 as opposed to the present cost of subletting to private individuals in the amount of $78,271 in 1970.
A report will also be given tomorrow by Planning and Zoning upon the acquisition of county parks as it relates to their compatibility with the county's comprehensive land-use plan. Sites proposed are the Wekiva-St. Johns Island, Pond-Buck Lake, Sand Lake, Lake Howell, Big Tree and Lake Monroe Park. Deadline is Sept. 8 for the county to adopt a resolution on the parks to be placed on the ballot in the November elections for public referendum.
Public hearings will be held upon extension of water service area for Southern States Utilities, change in zoning from A-1 to R-1A in Highland Pines; consideration of adoption of lot sizes and set backs R-1, R-2, R-1A, R-1AA, R-1C in County Estates zoning district.
Also scheduled is a bid opening on a compact sedan for use by the county planner.

Board To Discuss Modifying Plans

A special 8:30 a.m. school board meeting has been set for Tuesday at the school administration building to discuss the modification of the board's 1970-71 school desegregation plan as it affects two South Seminole elementary schools.
Andrew Bracken, school administrative aide, said the board would be asked to consider changing the approved plan which imposed attendance zones around Jackson Heights and Oviado.
Board will have to approve the proposed change and then a request will have to be submitted to the Justice Department and U. S. District Court Judge George Young at Orlando.
Judge Young, who approved the board's mix plan a week ago, will be asked to allow the board to modify its plan to effect the changes, allowing that the black-white pupil ratio will not be adversely affected. Bracken reported all county school parents hopefully would be notified by letter sometime this week of the school their child has been assigned under the new board plan.
Envelopes are being readied today and Bracken has been hard at work getting all available information together so parents can be told as soon as possible what school their child has been assigned.

Publicity Advisory Proposes Financial Aid

The County Publicity Advisory Committee has suggested that a recommendation be made to the County Commission relative to expenditure of funds, not to exceed $100 for the 1970-71 fiscal year, for a professional type proposal to be presented to the state cabinet members on location of the State Police Academy at the Sanford Airport. Total cost of the proposal is estimated at $300, and it is recommended by the committee that the county pay one half the cost from its current publicity funds as a special project.
It is felt thatasmuch as City of Sanford officials and Sheriff John Polk are actively attempting to have the state locate the academy at a site at the Sanford Airport that a professional type proposal would be germane to the issue, and that the attempt to have this governmental facility could be an asset to the county and beneficial to the citizens of Florida as a central location and financial consideration. The proposal is being prepared through the Sanford Industrial Commission.

Marina On City's Schedule

Sanford City Commission will meet tonight and among the agenda items scheduled to be considered is a review of a request to sublease marina facilities.
At this time the city's governing body is also expected to consider what action it intends to take regarding the suit filed Friday before the courts by Monroe Harbours Inc., lessee of the marina docking facilities.
City, which owns the docks, has leased the contract to Monroe Harbours, Inc., under a lease agreement, which is now being brought before the courts to determine whether city or the lessee is bound under the lease to repair the 102 unken and damaged docks.
Monroe Harbours, Inc., contends the city is liable and has gone to court for a legal opinion backing up their contention. The lessee's action followed a letter from the commission informing that Monroe Harbours was in default of the lease by failing to properly maintain the facility.
Meanwhile, a boat firm is seeking to sublet a portion of the docking slips on larger crafts to determine whether city or the lessee is bound under the lease to repair the 102 unken and damaged docks.
Also scheduled to be considered tonight is a request of Dynamic Developers to connect a tourist housing facility being built out of the city limits to city water and sewage systems.

'Son Of A Gun'

MIAMI (AP) - Mornning after morning, precisely at 8:30, the wall of an ambulance siren split the sleepy quiet of an interstate expressway exit ramp here.
Mrs. E. L. Fleming, whose home faces the ramp, became suspicious of the regularity of the emergency calls apparently plaguing her neighborhood. She called the ambulance company.
"The ambulance company told me that a night shift ambulance driver who lived a few blocks away from me would sound his siren so his wife would know he was coming home and put the eggs on," she said.
The siren doesn't sound quite so frequently anymore.
