New Seminole County Jail

Recently completed at an approximate cost of $50,000, the new county jail is one of the most modern buildings of its type in the south. Containing many new features in jail construction, the building is also "bomb proof."

PLAYGROUNDS OF CITY ENJOYED BY MANY CHILDREN

Supervisor Plans Interesting
Winter Program Which Will Include Events For Adults As Well As Children

By MARY H. CLARK,
Supervisor of City Playgrounds.

It is the wish of every citizen of Sanford to have a recreational side to their lives. Just as it is to have a business. And so, Sanford playgrounds have been available to the people for such a purpose.

In the past, we have catered to the children only but in the winter there will be many interesting events for adults and children.

The City Commissioners have not voted on the budget for the coming year and just as soon as they do, the playgrounds will or will not have an appropriation for funds for the next fiscal year which begins Oct. 1.

Schools Are Factories For Building Citizenship, Says Head Of Seminole System

By T. W. LAWTON,
Head of Public Instruction for Seminole County.

Every community boasts one or more large industries, factories for building citizenship. And these factories mean more to the city and its citizens than all other industries combined.

The board of public instruction for Seminole County is composed of Fred T. Williams, chairman, and Chas. F. Harrison and I. J. Hartley, members. These men are servants of the people in the true sense. They are never too busy with personal affairs to give generously of their time to matters to the schools of the county.

The school system of Seminole County is composed of six special tax school districts, each district being under the direct supervision of a board of trustees of three members. Most important of the duties of these trustees is the recommendation of teachers of transportation for conveying children from distant points to the schools, and supervision of buildings, grounds and equipment, and planning for enlargements and improvements. All contracts for building and repairing are let by the county board on recommendation of the local board of trustees of each district.

ATTENDANCE AT SCHOOLS SHOWS GOOD INCREASE

Nearly Three Thousand Pupils
Enrolled in Schools Last
Term; Rolls Show Increase
Of Over 1,000 in 4 Years

Sanford school attendance figures reveal a remarkable increase in the past five years.

There were 1,735 pupils enrolled in the city schools in 1922, divided as follows: 1,181 white, and 554 negro pupils. There were 2,607 pupils in 1924, divide as follows: 1,978 white and 629 negro pupils. This is a gain of almost 1,000 in five years.

The figures for other years are:
1923—1,332 white and 626 negro.
1924—1,489 white and 602 negro.
1925—1,604 white and 642 negro.

The school system throughout the county has shown a corresponding growth. At the present time there are 20 frame schools, 8 brick schools, and one concrete building being used by the department of education.

There are two more buildings under construction in Sanford and they will be ready for occupancy within the next few weeks.

BANKS FLOURISH AS SANFORD GOES INTO CITY CLASS

Figures Of 1st National And Seminole County Banks
Indicate An Increase Of Nearly
300 Per Cent in 5 Years

A remarkable increase in the bank deposits of the past five years is shown in the annual statements of the First National Bank and the Seminole County Bank for this period.

The deposits of the First National Bank have jumped from $1,193,858 in 1922 to $3,262,603 at the end of June 1926.

The figures for the Seminole County Bank show a proportionate gain. In 1922 the deposits of the bank showed a total of $840,000 and the statement of 1926 gives $2,510,000 as the total deposits.

The steadiness of the increases is shown in the totals of the intervening years. In 1923 the deposits were $965,000, in 1924, $1,131,000, and in 1925 they were $1,620,000.

Building For First Months This Year Is Nearing The Million And Half Mark

Total For Year May Be 2 Millions

Building construction authorized in Sanford the last six years has steadily increased, the records of the City Hall reveal, with the exception of one year.

Permits issued up to Aug. 1 of this year total in construction value approximately $500,000 more than for the corresponding period of 1925.

The year 1925 is the banner year in construction work in this city but 1926 will outstrip the 1925 record, the figures reveal.

Permits authorized for 1926 to Aug. 1 by months follow:

January	$41,000
February	45,000
March	50,000
April	55,000
May	60,000
June	65,000
July	70,000
August	75,000
September	80,000
October	85,000
November	90,000
December	95,000

Construction work for the months of 1925 was authorized as follows:

January	$75,000
February	80,000
March	85,000
April	90,000
May	95,000
June	100,000
July	105,000

Monastery Recalls Memory Of Dante, Great Italian Poet

CHICAGO, Aug. 27. (AP)—Dante Avenue, a modest little residence street, suddenly is becoming one of the most widely known places in Chicago.

It is estimated that 600,000 persons have recently thronged there in less than a week. The reason for all this is a Chicago monastery that in a striking manner recalls the great poet Dante himself.

Dante's own answer given to friends questioning him as to what he sought when, in exile, he visited Santa Croce monastery in the Riviera is also given as the key to the presence at times of endless crowds in Dante Avenue, Chicago.

The white cloaked friars of the Carmelite monastery in Dante Avenue, Chicago, have no other explanation for the silent crowds that come to Dante Avenue—"moved either by the religion of the place or by some other feeling."

Hunts For Liar's Home But Finds That Of An Apostle

DAMASCUS, Aug. 28. (AP)—Every American who comes to Damascus is told: "Don't fail to visit the house of Ananias."

Although after three weeks in Syria, visiting Beirut and other large cities, and listening to some of the tales that are being related by the various sects and parties, one begins to feel that Ananias was greatly overrated and was in living in these days, in these parts, he could not hold down a berth in Class D of the Liar's League, one feels that he cannot leave Damascus without calling on the patron of prevaricators.

He occupied a fine house, as houses in Damascus go, and must have been a prosperous old gentleman.

"Did he have any other profession besides that of a liar?" a guide was asked.

"Lawyer, he was not a lawyer, there were no lawyers in those days," the guide who learned his English in England, replied reprovingly.

Postoffice Business Has An Increase Of One Hundred Per Cent

An increase of approximately 100 percent is the record of the Sanford postoffice in the past five years in postal receipts alone.

The increase in receipts is shown by the following figures representing the yearly postal receipts:
1923.....$37,969
1924.....44,169
1925.....48,482

Tavares Bank Open After Being Closed For Thirty-Nine Days

TAVARES, Fla., Aug. 26.—The Bank of Tavares has opened after having been closed for 39 days. The bank was first to re-open in Lake county those banks that were forced to close their doors on account of the failure of their principal agent institution.

According to announcement the cashier, deposits were made from the opening hour until past the noon hour, and total $160,000. Single deposits were $20,000, he stated.

Celebrating the opening of the bank, a motorcade was formed through the streets of the town. Umattila and M. Dora, Esq., in the parade was decorated with banners, bearing some commendation.

Tampan Held In Jail Under $5,000 Bond On Five Federal Charges

TAMPA, Aug. 27. (AP)—Incriminating evidence was said to have been obtained yesterday by federal agents here against Ramon Alvarez, in jail for lack of $15,000 bond on five federal and two county charges.

The evidence was contained in five letters taken from Alvarez, federal authorities said today.

Jack Dempsey Trains For Fight With Gene Tunney Like He Did For Others

NEY YORK, N. Y., Aug. 27.—(AP)—A fight is a fight with Jack Dempsey—he trains for them all alike.

If you know how the world's heavy-weight champion got into shape for his title winning bout with Jess Willard at Toledo, Georges Carpentier at Jersey City, Tommy Gibbons at Shelby, Montana, Luis Firpo at New York, then you know just how he is going to train for his contest with Gene Tunney at the Sesqui-Centennial Stadium Sept. 23.

"I couldn't train any different for Tunney than I did for all the rest," Dempsey said.

Enjoy Workouts

This business of training, usually drudgery with the average boxer, seems to be a genuine pleasure for the world's heavy-weight champion. He goes into his training sessions with the enthusiasm of a boy, apparently enjoying every second of it, but finding the greatest pleasure in the soothing massage at the hands of Jerry the Greek, who kneads the champion's muscles at the finish of every workout.

Dempsey never drags through his workouts half heartedly, but goes at top speed with every ounce of his energy, even to skipping the rope.

On his hikes along the road surrounding the lake region of his

They'll Try A Back Yard Flight

These two U. S. marine corps aviators are about to hop off on a regular "back yard flight" from a naval air station at Pensacola, Fla., to the Diego, Cal. They will start with only two gallons of gas in their tank, and when it is gone will land in the hushiest meadow of back yard, working out the means to replenish their supply. What's more, they will follow the stream throughout their journey. They are Maj. Ross Powell (left) and Lieut. William J. Wallace.

camp, Dempsey steps along with a fast jerky pace, walking briskly for perhaps half a mile then breaking into a dog trot. He usually covers five or six miles every morning, taking Jerry or some other camp attendant along for company.

Always In Trim

People wonder why the champion isn't fat and all out of condition after being idle from the ring for three years. The reason is because Dempsey trains instinctively all the time. Although ignorant of college training rules, Dempsey has hit upon the same system.

"I begin my training with my teeth and keep my system clear down to the tips of my toes. The stomach is the key to perfect health. My diet rules are simple and natural.

"I eat lots of fruit and vegetables. Once a day I like a well done piece of roast beef or veal. Also I relish salads with plenty of olive oil. I found olive oil to be one of the best tonics for stomachs there is.

"When a man is in condition he has a natural appetite. When he is out of condition his appetite is unnatural. Then is also you have to watch yourself.

"I have never been a heavy eater. One good meal a day and two light lunches are all I care for."

Two Nuns End Long Service In Tampa

TAMPA, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Two Catholic nuns who taught in schools here for 30 years or more, were enroute to new posts today. They also rendered invaluable service as nurses during an epidemic in 1918 among soldiers encamped here enroute to Cuba to take part in the Spanish-American war.

Sister Mary Hubert, for 31 years principal of the West Tampa school, left for Schenectady, N. Y., and sister Mary Emeline went to Montreal, Quebec.

Eight Are Sought In Flogging Case

LAKELAND, Fla., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Warrants for eight men in addition to B. B. Bradley, Lakehead man, have been sworn out by Ed Adenborg, alleging participation in the flogging administered to him last Sunday night, by a dozen unnamed men. Adenborg has been principal action against Bradley for six months, it is said, through Calhoun and Bureau, local attorneys.

It was said by officers that four of the eight men wanted were in connection with the flogging case from Deland and four from Sanford. Their names were not given out.

Glass At Capital To Finish Writing Book

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, returned to Washington to put the finishing touches on a book he has written in reply to Col. E. M. House's memoirs of the Wilson administration.

The entire summer has been spent by Senator Glass at his home in Lynchburg, Va., where he has been working upon the book. He declared today that the memoirs misrepresented Woodrow Wilson.

Officer Almost Dies From Scorpion Sting Received In Dry Raid

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Patrolman Wm. A. Lipse nearly lost his life in a liquor raid here last night. He was stung by a scorpion when he reached under a house and dragged out a roll of old carpet in which he thought liquor might have been concealed.

There was no liquor in the carpet but the scorpion was there. It was eight inches long and stung the officer on the hand. He was given first aid treatment and though little of the injury but on the way back to headquarters he collapsed. Prompt medical treatment saved his life and today he is reported to be out of danger though still weak.

Unseen Source of Long Life

The basic sources of automobile value are not always apparent to the eye.

A motor car, like a house, may LOOK a great deal more substantial than it really is.

Because of this difficulty, more and more thousands are turning to Dodge Brothers product for insurance against disappointment.

The years have proved, and each year proves anew, that Dodge Brothers are as deeply concerned with the UNSEEN goodness of their motor car, as with the seen.

The mileage it will deliver, the safety it will provide, the expense and trouble it will save the owner over a period of years, are quite as important to Dodge Brothers as the more obvious details of equipment and style.

NEWS OF THE WORLD TOLD IN PICTURES

The Typical Western Girl

This is the "typical western girl," according to Gaspare Puccio, an Italian portrait artist, who searched the west coast for her for weeks. He met all of the society buds and failed to find the type he visualized as typical of the west—and then he found this girl, Miss Natalie Fenger, salesgirl in a department store. Since he gave her fame she has been deluged with requests as a model.

An Odd Task

Margaret Wilcox, 18, is a life guard in an open air pool in Monument Valley Park, Colorado Springs. The pool is filled with melted snow from Pike's Peak and is crowded with bathers during the summer. Miss Wilcox is a regular water queen, having learned to swim when eight years old in the same pool where she now watches over others.

She Leads The Dance Hall Girls

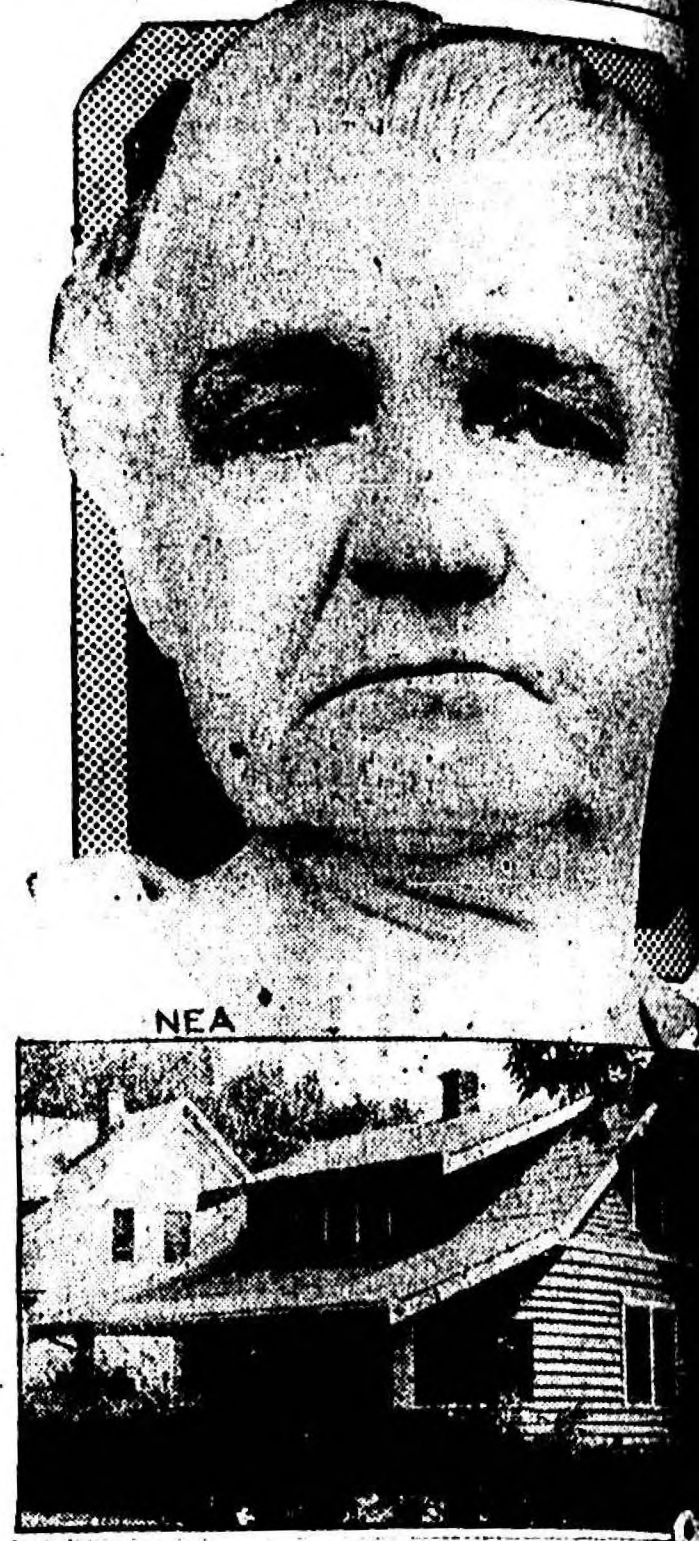

Dance hall girls of Seattle, Wash., are in a row against Mayor Burton Linder's edict forbidding them to introduce themselves to men on the dance floors. They have organized a union, which is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor and is headed by Miss Bob Le Roy, shown above.

Husky

Clarence Frederick of Toledo, O., is not yet 19 months old, but he weighs 30 pounds and is growing all the time. "Good food and plenty of sleep did it," his mother says proudly. Clarence compares in size with his playmates of four and five years.

What Mother Love Will Do

The five sons of Mrs. Fred Compton, 68, of Falls City, Mo., under arrest charged with killing a man during a holiday. Their father, a cripple, cannot work; Mrs. Compton has been keeping the family. Two years ago she had to defend all her boys against a charge of burglarizing a warehouse. And now she is going to mortgage her home, too, to provide funds for their defense in the approaching trial.

Teddy Rides In Real Style

Teddy, husky bull terrier owned by C. R. Myer, of Beaumont, Texas, wouldn't think of riding on his master's running board without his goggles properly adjusted and his pipe drawing right. Furthermore, he insists on having his own private windshield set up for him.

Red Sox Tot

Bill Regan, rookie second-sacker with the Boston Red Sox, has broken into big time with a vengeance. Not only has he been playing a great game afield, but his work at the bat has been one of the features of the Pohl team's play of late. Regan has been playing professionally several seasons, getting his start in the Michigan-Ontario League.

If Father Could See Him Now

General John J. Pershing has a whole flock of orderlies to boot and bring him his meals and so on. But here we have Warren (right) engaged in the lowly job of peeling potatoes, common, everyday K. P., at the Citizens Military Training Center, Minneapolis, Minn. With Pershing is a buddy, H. L. Spencer, who says he isn't figuring on the army as a career.

She Lived With a Gross of Cats

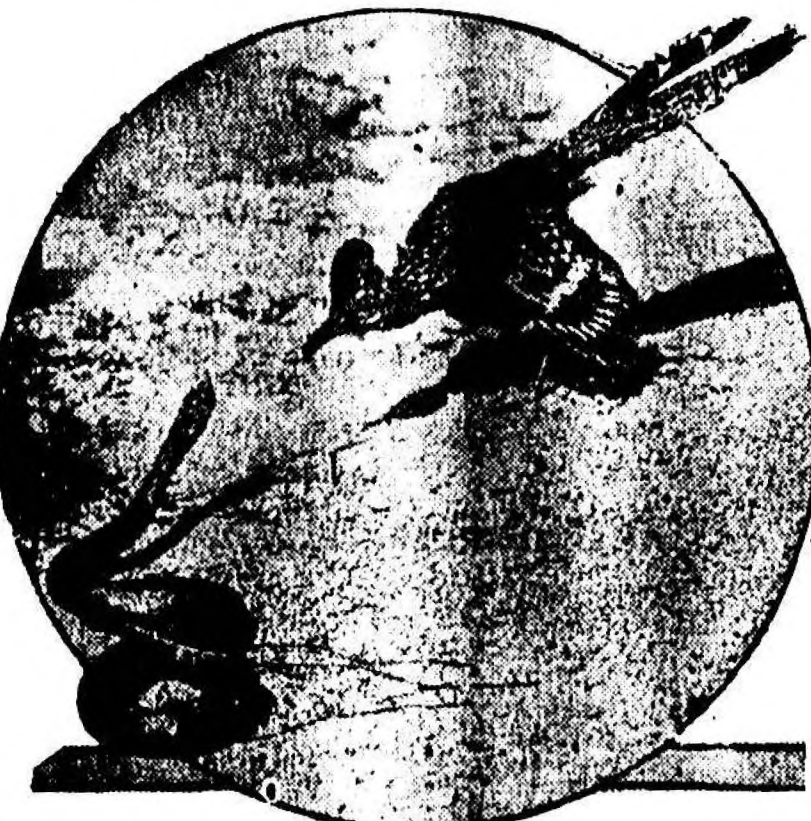

After neighbors of Maggie Zeidler, in Newport, Ky., had complained, health officers descended on her house (shown above) and found her living in one room with 144 cats. They killed 34 of the cats on the spot, sent Mrs. Zeidler (at left) to the hospital for observation, and are making arrangements to dispose of the remaining 100.

69 Badges

Ira Wall, 20, assistant scoutmaster of Troop 60, Boy Scouts, at Des Moines, Ia., is believed to be the highest ranking merit badge scout in the world. A seven-year veteran scout and an Eagle scout since 1922, he recently received his 69th merit badge. The national council offers only 72, and no other scout has earned as many as 69.

Musical

Who says elephants aren't musical? Here's Ernest Davis, tenor of the Cincinnati Zoo grand opera, giving "Lil," the elephant, her daily singing lesson.

She Doesn't Admire Men

She is held in Chicago as an accomplice of a gang of men who don't think much of men. Show 'em a little knee-slapping, she says, and they're yours. She used to lure chance crooks to dark corners where her confederates would tap them with blackjacks and rifle their pockets—at least, Chicago police charged when they arrested her.

He Took Action

This is Sam Dreyfuss, secretary of the Pittsburgh National League baseball club, who gave Babe Adams and Carson Bigbee the "goats" and suspended Max Carey captain and centerfielder, indefinitely without pay, following the uncovering of "disension" in the ranks of the Pirates. All were veterans, Adams having been with the Pirates almost continually since 1909, when he was the hero of the world series with Detroit.

Barefooted for 65 Years

Conrad Roethler, farmer of North Washington, Ia., has no more use for shoes than a Bolshevik has for a safety razor. In his 65 years of life he has gone barefooted, except for such ceremonial occasions as weddings and funerals.

Eight Women on Grand Jury in Mellett Murder Case

After a month of investigation by county officials and special detectives, a grand jury met in at Canton, O., to investigate the murder by underworld leaders of Don E. Mellett, publisher of the Canton Daily News, who was shot down because of his attack on vice and politics. The 15 members of the jury just as they began their deliberations.

BR, England, Aug. 27.—The ingenuity of the British ship canal, this city an ocean as inland.

"Surely no father or mother or doctor would purposely postpone proper treatment for a sick child—no one cares to feel responsible for the death of a child," the bulletin continues.

"Every now and then the state board of health is consulted about a case of diphtheria where the child has complained for several days and the parents, supposing the trouble to be ordinary sore throat, did not call the doctor until the condition became alarming. Antitoxin is always given to these patients in large doses and some times it turns the tide in favor of the child but only too frequently the poison of the diphtheria germ has done its work and the little passes away."

Diphtheria Deaths Are Attributed To Delay In The Use Of Anti-Toxin

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 27.—(AP)—Too many children die from diphtheria solely because of delay in the use of antitoxin, declares a bulletin issued by the Florida state board of health. In every such case some has been remiss in his duty, the bulletin emphasizes.

"Whenever a child has the sore throat or becomes hoarse or croupy, the patient should be examined by doctor. If there is any suspicion that the symptoms are due to diphtheria, antitoxin should be administered promptly and freely. The longer its use is delayed the greater the danger of death.

"If treatment has been delayed or the case is a severe one the antitoxin should be given directly into the veins.

"The term 'croup' and 'membranous croup' are dangerous because in many instances their application to cases of diphtheria has been the cause of a fatal delay in the administration of antitoxin, the chief and only reliable remedy.

"Antitoxin is furnished free to physicians by the state board of health for treatment of diphtheria but it is not furnished or recommended as a preventive. It should not be forgotten that toxin-antitoxin immunization is an effective preventive of diphtheria."

LONDON LETTER

By The Associated Press LONDON, Aug. 28. The Hon. Anthony Asquith, son of Lord Oxford Asquith, has been playing the part of the role of Bodice, the Amazonian Queen, in a British film. He drove the chariot in an exciting race scene in place of Miss Phyllis Nelson Terry, who otherwise played the queen. Miss Terry found that guiding a galloping horse from a swaying chariot was beyond her strength, and Anthony Asquith "understudied" in it, atired in her royal robes and a wig.

Recently young Asquith visited Hollywood with his sister, Princess Bibesco and made a study of American film production.

Princess Mary is fond of large hats and she likes them in bright colors. She recently has been wearing a wide brimmed picture hat in Danson red, simply trimmed with velvet of the same color. This hat usually is combined with gray gowns, set off by a bouquet of the same color as the hat. Princess Ingrid, the 16 year old daughter of the Swedish crown prince, also is fond of picture hats but generally wears pure hat ones and white frocks.

All the bell ringers in Chertsey were members of the bridal party at the wedding of Miss Lily Stevens and Chimeria from distant parishes had to be summoned to Chertsey to ring the wedding bells.

Miss Stevens' father, who gave the bride away, has been foreman of the Chertsey bell ringers for years. The bride and her sister, who acted as bridesmaid, both are experienced ringers. The groom and best man also are members of the local bell ringers.

Just as little Tommy Tucker of nursery fame had to sing for his supper, so guests at one of America's most prominent hostess parties have to earn the meal they eat before dancing.

After an elaborate dinner at one of the lending, the hostess started the guests by announcing there would be no music by famous artists, but that every one would have to sing, write, dance or make up rhymes in the slack time before adjourning to the ball room.

The result was surprising and interesting. Men and women big in the society picture vied in making good and outshone many of the younger set. Talent was unearthed from the most unlikely personages and the idea was a great success.

"The grand old man of Rosen" as he was called, the late Rev. J. H. Pemberton of Havering won more than 1,000 awards at flower shows.

On retiring from the church two years ago, he became a professional rose grower. His blooms were in demand all over the world. He was interested in roses from boyhood and when, after seeing a rose show at the Crystal Palace, he determined that he would some day grow better and bigger roses than those on show then. He eventually did, and became president of the National Rose Society.

In recognition of the generous support by Americans generally of the Cathedral restoration fund, the dean and chapter of the Lincoln Cathedral will present to President Coolidge the photograph of a copy of Magna charta, which is in the cathedral library.

Miss Winnifred Andrews of Chelsea, laid her bridal bouquet of sweet peas on the coffin of Henry Freeman, whose funeral was held in the village church at Burgess Hill at the very hour he and Miss Andrews were to have been married. The clergyman who was to have read the marriage service read the burial service of the young man.

There are too many books and too many graves in the world, says Professor J. F. Thorpe, F. R. S., organic chemistry expert.

"Civilization appears to be confronted with two over-growing problems—the increase in its cemeteries and in its libraries," the professor declared in his presidential address to the chemistry section of the British association at Oxford. The former, no doubt, will be solved by cremation. Is it too much to hope that a judicious exercise of this method also may apply to our libraries? Prof. Thorpe asked in the course of his address.

"When it is remembered," he added, "that there are some 25,000 scientific periodicals published

PARIS LETTER

PARIS, Aug. 28. (AP) Coming after the benighted and bespattered M. de Monzie and the equally benighted and adorned M. Caillaux, France's new finance minister and premier, Raymond Poincare, is an extremely simple dresser.

Practicing his own preaching of public and private economy, M. Poincare is wearing the same old soft gray hat he wore when he left the premiership more than two years ago. Also he is working in an old gray sack suit that shows considerable need of pressing. He is repairing less frequently to the barber for his hair and beard trims than when he occupied the more decorative post of president of the republic.

When M. Poincare was foreign minister, the social duties attached to that office forced him to be more or less stylishly turned out for gala occasions. Even then, however, he never deserted the old fashioned frock coat for the more elegant cutaway or the plain black waist coat in favor of his evening clothes. It had to be an exceedingly important affair to make him discard his derby or soft hat in favor of a "topper."

German tourists, turning the tables on the French who poured into the Rhineland when the mark was at a low rate, are now thanks to their restored currency, thronging into the Savoy region, particularly in the higher resorts of the French Alps. So great is this invasion that at Chamonix, the natives complain there is almost as much German as French spoken.

The German tourists are reported to be good spenders and to have a particular penchant for champagne.

The local population, in spite of the money the foreigners bring in, is beginning to be a bit restive because of what they regard as the complacency and over-obsequiousness of certain restaurant and hotel proprietors and waiters.

A circular to school teachers issued by M. Herriot as minister of public instruction, suggests ways in which they should recommend economy in the national interests. No sacrifice is insignificant, the minister says, if made by everybody. The suggestions are:

Fruit and vegetables should be paired as little as possible, and ashes carefully sifted.

Everybody should avoid wasting a single crumb of bread.

Coffee should be taken weaker than formerly and less sugar used.

Preserved milk should be avoided as being an imported article.

Less gas should be burned and the electric light turned off when not actually required.

Great care should be taken of clothes and nobody should be afraid of being seen wearing shabby clothes.

Bits of paper should be saved and sold instead of being thrown away.

Automobiles should be used only when omnibuses or subways are not available.

What struck Captain Girier most of his record non-stop straight line flight (Paris-Omsk over 9,327 miles in 90 hours) was the welcome the Russians gave him. Neither he nor his companion, Lieutenant Dordilly, speak Russian, and the landing was "Franzouki" (French).

At once those who were nearest hurried through the town and quickly rounded up its six inhabitants able to speak French.

The aviators brought back some caviar from Moscow, probably the freshest caviar ever eaten in Paris, as it was newly made and traveled 1,925 miles in 14 hours, 35 minutes. "Yes," said the captain, "the caviar was dear. So was living in general. We had to pay no less than 300 francs each for a bedroom in Moscow, where the simplest attache of the embassy has to pay 15,000 francs a month rent."

"A trans-Atlantic flight is perfectly possible and with existing planes. It is no longer anything but a question of fuel carrying and of getting off the ground at the start. This, in fact, is the delicate point in these long distance flights."

throughout the world, the mind stands appalled at the prospects which will confront civilization even in so short a time as 100 years.

LOCAL CHURCHES SHOW BIG GAIN IN MEMBERSHIP

Sunday School Attendance Is Also On Increase; Christian Church Is New Addition to Religious Circles

The First Christian Church was organized one year ago, and has had a slow but steady growth. The present membership is 70, and the Sunday School attendance averages 50 persons.

The church trustees have been presented with a lot in San Lants, and it is proposed to erect a church of Spanish architecture. It will be built in three units, and it is planned to start the first unit in the near future. The congregation meets in the Sanford High School auditorium now.

The First Presbyterian Church has had a gain of approximately 20 per cent in church membership and an increase of 20 per cent in Sunday School attendance, a comparison of the present figures with those of one year ago reveals, it was said.

The membership is 550 as compared with 450 one year ago, and the Sunday School attendance is 225 as against 150 last summer.

During the past year over 225 new members have been taken into the congregation of the First Baptist Church of the city according to a report from Rev. F. D. King, pastor of the church.

At the present time the total membership of the Sunday School is 880. Compared to the membership of 1922 when there were only 460 members the report shows an increase of approximately 100 per cent.

The membership of the church a year ago was 1,001 and today it is 1,150. Members being transferred to other churches and moving from the city account for the discrepancy between these two figures and the 225 new members added during the year, according to Dr. King.

During the past four years contributions to the church missions and other outside work have almost trebled.

The First Methodist church membership has increased more than 100 in the last year, according to the church records. The present membership is 935 as compared with 812 one year ago. The Rev. W. P. Buhman is the pastor. The Sunday School enrollment is 620 at present.

The Holy Cross Episcopal Church has 260 parishioners, an increase over the number of communicants of the church one year ago. The Rev. Mortimer Glover is pastor of the church.

Construction has started on a two-story rectory, which will be used by the church pastor and his family. It will be of stucco design, and will cost approximately $14,000.

The church school attendance is 115.

Ragusa Becomes Known As Monte Carlo Of Dalmatia, Drawing Throng Of Visitors

RAGUSA, Dalmatia, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Ragusa has come to be known as the "Monte Carlo of Dalmatia."

A great gambling resort has been opened in this "Slavonic Athens," as the native Ragusans call it, which attracts throngs of visitors or lay officials. The increases are revealed by the figures given on the following churches:

Several new hotels have been built, and the old Ragusan metropolis, where King Richard, Coeur de Lion, is said to have taken refuge in a storm while returning from Palestine, has been beautified in other respects so as to attract visitors.

Ragusa is situated on one of the finest land-locked harbors in Europe, and has a mild climate throughout the year.

Embowered in hanging gardens and garlanded with all kinds of tropical flowers, it is one of the prettiest spots on the Adriatic Sea. Its picturesque old walls, dating from the days of the Venetians, are still intact, and many exquisite gems of architecture remain as memorials of the days when Ragusa was a proud republic. The Old World atmosphere, the quaint, narrow streets, paved with huge square slabs, and the flocks of fluttering pigeons, remind one of an ancient Italian city.

Like ancient Rome, Ragusa began life as an asylum. It was at first a rock of refuge for the survivors of the wrecks of Roman

Decisions

ORLANDO, Fla., Aug. 27.—The people of Florida are much time worrying about what the north thinks about the state. O. Meredith, associate member of the Florida Association of Estate Planners, declared today upon his return from a trading business trip through the north.

Asserting that the citizens of the north are generally in the present state of mind, Meredith gave as his opinion that a better mental attitude in this state was highly desirable.

"If there are any business marks being made about Florida, they originated with people who granted blader boys," Meredith said. "The judgment of a man of business and speculative ventures, he said, is thinking persons project a bright future for Florida and are convinced of its soundness."

"Real estate conditions in Florida compare favorably with conditions in northern states. Certainly there is more building of homes, apartments and other buildings than in any other section of the same population. In one large northern city, 1,500 homes and office buildings were reported vacant.

"In no other section that I visited is there the same amount of road, street, public utility lines and railroad construction that is going on in Florida.

"I found that articles by Robert Babson, C. W. Barron and B. C. Forbes pertaining to the economic conditions of Florida had been broadly read throughout the north and that these statisticians and economists had had favorable impressions for the state upon the thinking people of other states."

SHERIFF OFFERS REWARD

LAKELAND, Fla., Aug. 27.—(AP)—Carl O'Neal, sheriff of Hunter county in a telegram to the Lakeland police department today offered a reward of $100 for the recapture of three white men who broke out of the jail at Bushnell last night. The men are two Bradford brothers and a man named King. No details were given in the telegram.
