HOOVER, NAVY LEAGUE FIRE AT EACH OTHER

President Seeks Public Vindication And
Apology For Charge
Made Against Him

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—(A.P.)—With public vindication and an apology as prizes, both President Hoover and officials of the Navy League fired tentative shots yesterday in preparation for their engagement over the administration's naval policy.

The White House, seconded by Secretary Stimson, scored first, from the executive mansion, a statement attributed "a tissue of falsehoods" to the League. The secretary of state added there had been "flagrant misstatements."

The Navy League countered in silence. Declining to amplify the statement in which its president, William Howard Gardner, accused Mr. Hoover of an "abysmal ignorance" on naval needs, the League issued a call to its executive committee to meet the counter-charges.

Throughout the capital yesterday there was much talk of the unexpected way in which the President Thursday night challenged the League's claims that he was trying to "starve" the Navy. In contrast to its comparison with the fleets of England and Japan.

Although the Navy League has had many a tilt with government leaders over naval policy, no case similar to the present could be re-

First Car-Load Of Produce By Boat Is Sent To New York

The first car-load of vegetables ever shipped from Sanford over the all-water route to New York City and the northern markets left here Thursday afternoon on the fast St. Johns River freighter "City of Sanford." It is scheduled to arrive in New York City Monday morning.

A solid car-load of egg-plant, cut from Chase and Co. farms in the vicinity of Wagoner, and packed under the "Sunland" label, constituted the shipment which was loaded into the freighter under the direction of W. Caution Hutchison, market manager of Chase and Co., and Otto Caldwell, Sanford agent of the St. Johns River Line.

The vegetables arrived in Jacksonville Friday morning after a 15 hour run down the river, were transferred to a Clyde Line boat equipped with a refrigeration system, and are scheduled to arrive in New York early Monday morning.

The "City of Sanford" has been well filled with cargo of every variety since its first trip some days ago. It arrived here Thursday afternoon loading to capacity, and with its all-steel upper deck lined with Ford automobiles consigned to central Florida dealers. It enters Sanford three times each week, and since its first visit, has been inspected by hundreds of central Florida residents.

Largest Planting Of Amaryllis Is Planned

The largest planting of amaryllis in the world is planned by P. W. Bender, Sanford horticulturist and former secretary of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce, who today announced the purchase of 20 acres of land on Geneva Avenue, about two miles from Sanford, from the Sanford Realty and Mortgage Co.

The new property is being cleared and will soon be ready for sowing, and when the bulbs are blooming, will be one of the outstanding beauty spots in this section. Mr. Bender expects to open it in connection with his long-established nursery near the Sanford Cemetery.

ADMIRAL BANK BOURBON

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 31.—(A.P.)—Two men who attempted robbing a bank at Birmingham, Ala., last Tuesday, were arrested here yesterday after police found $2,000 in their room. They said they were W. A. Gambill and J. E. Johnson, recently convicted

Japan And Russia
Moving In Harmony

TOYKO, Oct. 31.—(A.P.)—Japan and Russia are seeing eye to eye for the time being at least regarding the situation in Northern Manchuria. This was made clear today in reports received from conversations in Moscow between Ambassador Hirota and L. M. Karakhan, acting foreign affairs commissar of the Soviet government. Reports indicated that Russia is not sending any troops to guard the Chinese Eastern Railroad, and Japan is not dispatching any soldiers to the same region unless there are unexpected developments.

U.S. ADVANCES 2 'IF'S' IN ITS NOTE ON ARMS HOLIDAY

Sets Forth Reservations In Accepting League's Invitation

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—(A.P.)—Two "if's" conditioned America's acceptance of the League of Nations invitation to join in a one-year arms holiday.

The United States is ready and willing to take this step, provided that other principal military and naval powers do so, so that the truce shall not spoil the construction already begun or under contract.

These reservations were set forth in the note of acceptance dispatched Thursday night to the League.

State Department officials were highly confident they would meet the approval of the other nations as the points had already been under discussion, with agreement indicated.

The note of the note was made public yesterday as President Hoover prepared to defend the record of an incompetent naval policy brought by the Navy League through its president, William F. Gardner. Among other things, the League had contended the holiday

Oldest Surviving
General Of Civil War Has Birthday

TEWKSBURY, Mass., Oct. 31.—Phantom troops marched in review on Prospect Hill today as Adelbert Ames, last surviving general of the Civil War, celebrated his 85th birthday. The oldest living graduate of West Point, General Ames looked lame today upon a life crammed full of action and memory rich in anecdotes.

He told of famous men and famous battles which shaped the country's destiny, recalled days at West Point with Robert E. Lee, as instructor, the first battle of Bull Run where he stopped a southern bullet with his thigh and won the Congressional Medal of Honor.

The vegetables arrived in Jacksonville Friday morning after a 15 hour run down the river, were transferred to a Clyde Line boat equipped with a refrigeration system, and are scheduled to arrive in New York early Monday morning.

MISSING AIDE OF WALKER TO RETURN HOME

However, He Denies He Has Ever Been Employee Or Assistant To Gotham Head

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 31.—(A.P.)—Russell T. Sherwood, wanted to testify in the legislative investigation in New York City, said last night that he was returning immediately to the United States but will not go directly to New York.

He denied he is or ever has been an employee or agent of Mayor Walker, and continued:

"Nor have I been his agent. I have never been and never will be an employee or agent of the city of New York. I have not been connected with any political organization there."

"I don't know what this fuss is all about. I know of no one man who is better qualified to discuss his own affairs than Mayor Walker himself."

"No one, particularly not Mayor Walker, sent me to Mexico or kept me here. I am on my honeymoon and that was my sole purpose."

Sherwood said he would ignore the supreme court order, issued in New York City yesterday, calling on him to show why he should not be held in contempt of the investigating committee for failing to appear to testify. A subpoena calling on him to present himself before the New York investigators yesterday was served on him here last week by two process servers who came from New York by airplane.

ATLANTA GRAND RUTH JUDD GOES
JURY URGES END HOME TO STAND
OF DRY STATUTE TRIAL FOR LIFE

Declares Stemming Confessed Slayer Of Flow And Sale Of Liquor Impossible

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 31.—(A.P.)—A grand jury composed of business men yesterday said stemming the flow and sale of liquor in Atlanta was impossible and recommended repeal of the federal prohibition law.

"At least 80 per cent of the cases brought before this grand jury had their inception in the illegal sale of surplus liquor," read the formal presentation which the body made to Judge John D. Humphries in Fulton county (Atlanta) Superior Court. "Sweresting before us was in the view that it was necessary to let the law flow into Atlanta and rule it by itself."

The jury suggested that the Eighteenth Amendment be repealed "for the interest of commerce" and that steps be taken to put into effect "more stringent laws" which will prohibit definitely and strictly the sale of distilled spirits.

It was found, however, that many people in small towns live after dark and, in fact, in some cases take a light fire in breaking the prohibition laws.

The trouble does not seem to be much in the drinking of liquor as in the illicit sale bringing in revenue to criminals, thus giving opportunities to take place in for cover, and in which conspiracies other than new methods will still be able to transport illegal liquor.

"Cases having their inception in the illicit sale of liquor seem to cover all kinds of crime from petty larceny to murder."

The jurors held that in their belief the cause of temperance would be served by repeal of the prohibition laws, as "under the present prohibition laws we feel that a great deal of the results of educational work toward temperance have been lost long since the passage of the Eighteenth Amendment to the constitution."

The crowd remained orderly after a brief recess in an effort to see the guilty slayer.

Women with children in their arms, and three female sympathizers with bouquets in their hands, were held behind the guard ropes as Mrs. Judd stepped to the stand. McFadden and Mrs. Jordan grasped her by the arms, one on either side, and sprang for the door.

Mrs. Judd kept pace between them, scarcely looking right or left, as she was rushed through the courthouse rear entrance, through the sheriff's office, and into an elevator, which was waiting.

Two minutes later, six floors above, she had been entered safely into the jail by Sheriff McFadden.

CONCERN COMES HERE

The meeting was under the chairmanship of H. W. Loving, of New York City, container representative of the American Railway Co., said to be one of the most authoritative experts on that subject in America. He left Sanford last night and will visit various sections of the state seeking information as to what type containers are used by shippers and drawers. He will attend the meeting of the committee here next week.

Appointed on the standing committee were: W. H. Henderson, Wilmington, N.C., of the Atlantic Coast Line; W. H. Griffin, Norfolk, Va.; the Pensacola Air Line and Key Green, St. Augustine, representing the East Coast railroads, representing the railroads, and Elmer Ballinger, leader of the trio who had put on quite a bit. The eastbound took refuge on the island when their small boat was wrecked. They were suffering from mild snake bite when they were taken aboard the naval vessel but looked fit when they arrived here. Despite the abundance of food on the island they all ate sumptuously of civilized rations aboard ship.

VALDOSTA, Oct. 31.—(A.P.)—Forest fires raged through wild timber and brushy areas of parched South Georgia today as hundreds joined forces to fight them on widely scattered fronts.

Thousands of acres from the sea coast far inland are already burned over and the wind-fanned flames threatened new territory today. Firemen said a general fire might have to come before the fires are completely checked.

GROWERS AND TRANSPORTATION MEN
NAME COMMITTEE TO STUDY AFFAIRS

Concluding an amicable meeting between important representatives of the three leading railroads of the South and the largest shippers of fruits and vegetables in Florida, held at the Valdosta Hotel yesterday, a committee was appointed which is to make a thorough study of the need for a modern standard loading schedule, and uniform containers for produce, and report at a meeting here late next week.

The primary purpose of the meeting was said to be that of appointing a permanent contact committee composed of members from each group, the shippers and the carriers. This committee is to iron out many of the minor difficulties and confusions which may arise over matters concerning both sides, and is to report its findings at the end of either group.

Daly's leading roles, published in 1918, and declared absolute by the shippers, was the subject for a greater portion of the round-table discussions, while the need for standard containers for every type of produce brought about by the recent change in the market, were also considered.

High School Drops Tough 7 To 0 Game With Jacksonville

Kanner, Hester Star In Game Which Should Have Gone To Feds;
Fumbles Are Costly

By Arnold Finefrock

A hard-fighting Seminole High eleven from Sanford that lived up to all advance notices limited Andrew Jackson's High Tigers to a scant 7 to 0 victory yesterday afternoon at Fairfield Stadium. The triumph enabled Coach Mike House's pupils to end a two-game losing streak.

Outplayed decisively throughout the first 22 minutes of the first half, the Tigers scored a touchdown in two lightning-like thrusts that threw confirmation into the ranks of the Sanford followers and brought joy to Jackson partisans who had seen their team raised completely off its feet up until that point.

The alertness and speed of Red Williams, Tiger halfback, paved the way for the rout.

Williams intercepted a Sanford pass on his own 23 yard line and raced down the south side of the field to the visitors' 27 yard stripe. For a while it seemed as if Williams was going to get away but he cut inside his interference and was brought down on the 40 yard line. Subsequently, Solomon fumbled a pass 12 yards to Lester Crenshaw in the flat zone and the lanky Tiger halfback stepped off the remaining distance to the goal line.

Early in the first period Crenshaw recovered a Jackson fumble on the Tigers' 20 yard marker and Lyles promptly picked up six yards over each guard but the Jackson forwards, aroused to a fighting pitch, stopped two more plays without gain and a pass on fourth down was incomplete over the goal.

Another Tiger fumble before the ball could be kicked out of danger was recovered by Sanford and Jackson's goal again was in danger. The Fed, squeezed out a first down on the 9 yard line but again they were unequal to the task of shooting back the grim. Battling Tiger linemen, losing a 13 yards from the final white marker.

But the Tigers had to repulse the enemy still a third time, another Jackson fumble giving the Fed their chance. Lyles completed a toss to Hester for a net gain of 21 yards and a first down nine yards from touchdown territory. But Sanford fumbled away their opportunity.

They came back shortly after on Lyles' 11 yard flip to Courier and Hester's plunge to the 4 yard line but Jackson's defense held on to the ball. From then on it was Jackson's ball game.

Just as the Sanford team held the upper hand throughout the first half, so did Jackson take command in the final chapter. Sanford never had the ball in her possession beyond the Tigers' 40 yard line in the last two quarters.

Both teams were hard hit by injuries to their two stars in the second half.

Jackson held the Bulldogs to a score tomorrow has been shot full of holes by any number of Georgia fans. Oh Yeah still clings to his belief that the Bulldog will once more know the ignominy of being tamed by the underdog, will steal back to his den sorrowfully nursing the wounds inflicted on his spirit. Charlie Bachman, the man whom I predict will one day be head coach at old Notre Dame, will not stand by and see his team suffer defeat. He will not fall the people of Florida. Just as Georgia has been saving something for this one game, although not as much as Florida, just so has Bachman. You'll see this something tomorrow afternoon. Yes sir, Oh Yeah stands by the ship until she sinks! Give 'em hell, Gators!

Sam Butz, probably Florida's most outstanding sports-writer has this to say about Coach McNease and his team, in his daily column "Life, And, and Butz": "Coach Leonard McNease of Sanford, has a good football team in all but one respect. The backs can't hold that ball when they get in the scoring zone. The Sanford club put on a greater exhibition of fumblings in the first half against Jackson yesterday than did Florida against Auburn in the final quarter last Saturday. And that's going some... Sanford had Jackson on the defensive all during the opening half and bored deep into Tiger territory time and again, only to lose the ball on fumbles. THE VISITORS SHOULD HAVE SCORED SEVERAL TOUCHDOWNS, but finally saw Jackson take the lead on a pass interception and a long toss... Sanford showed one of the best prep centers we have seen in a long time in Murray Kanner. This elongated boy was all over the field, making neat tackles and spinning plenty of holes for his backs. FLORIDA WILL MAKE A SERIOUS MISTAKE IN LETTING KANNER SLIP OUT OF THE STATE, and it's rumored that he already has been approached by North Carolina, N. C. State, and a few others." How's that for fine resolution?

Now in passing, it seems as though all my hoping that the world would stay away from that singular spot where the Gators see all their fumbles last Saturday went for naught. Sam says he made more fumbles than did General Doggett.

On the field that Oh Yeah has chosen, the Gators and period. Shortly before Captain Hester had to leave the game, Capt. Mitchell Scherer, the guiding hand and directing spirit of the Jackson eleven, was knocked unconscious and was carried from the field. He didn't come to until intermission between the halves. Neither Hester or Scherer was able to return to the field.

Hester Bright Star

It was Hester's able work in the Sanford backfield which had kept the Tigers on the defensive while he was in the fray. Had he not been hurt there when the Feds had a first down on Jackson's 4 yard line a score would have been almost inevitable. A twisting 24-yard run contributed by this youngster in the first period was one of the highlights of the contest.

Jackson felt Scherer's loss just as much if not more than Sanford did Hester's absence. It was his great work in keeping up the bulldozed Tiger line that kept Sanford from scoring in the first half. Time and again a Seminole halfback broke through only to be brought down by Scherer before he could get into the open field.

Selmon do players, particularly high school boys, fulfill glowing advance reports but if ever one did it was this chap Murray Kanner, Sanford's 190-lb. end and center. This tall Jewish youngster emerged Jackson's play frequently in their very incisive time and again he leaped into the Tiger backfield to haul in carrier before he could get started. A bright college career stretches out before him. Only one has marred his play yesterday and that was brought on by his eagerness and anxiety to break up enemy formations. He was offside several times, and those five yards penalties were costly.

Riser, Sanford's left tackle, also played a smashing defensive game, as also did the two midges guards, Biggers and Coleman. In the back line Lyles, Entzminger and Courier also formed an ideal combination with Hester.

Jackson was put to a trying strain yesterday. The boys had just come through two grueling contests with Miami and St. Petersburg and it was only naturally that there would be a letdown. It was almost inevitable. The Fed's Tigers were minus the services of Charlie Johnson, one of the few veteran holdovers from the 1930 eleven. Johnson strained a ligament in his back yesterday. Johnson's loss, added to that of Seab, Farris, Dick Cornwell and Tom Joseph, all regulars, put the Red and White under a severe handicap.

Fred Fisher, held out of the starting lineup, was a significant factor in breaking up numerous plays in those numerous goal line stands of the Tigers. But probably the outstanding man Jackson had out there yesterday was Bill Skipper, a boy who is playing his first year of high school football. He gave a magnificent performance at guard.

Statistics of the game kept by Ray Klepper, reveal that Sanford made 10 first down to eight for Jackson and gained 155 yards from scrimmage as compared to 125 for Jackson. The Tigers attempted nine passes, completed two for 33 yards, and had two intercepted. Sanford took to the air lines 12 times, completed four for 75 yards and had none intercepted.

Jackson fumbled five times and three were recovered by Sanford. The visitors bobbed a like number of times and had three recovered by the Tigers. Jackson was pottedized 10 yards and Sanford 20.

Jackson returned punts 25 yards and Sanford 50. The Tigers returned three kick-offs 75 yards. Jackson kicked off all three times, averaging 45 yards on each. Crenshaw averaged 44 yards on six punts, an unusually high average for a high school kicker, while Lyles of Sanford averaged 35 yards on a similar number of attempts.

Between the halves, members of the Jackson Pepperette's Club, an organization of girl students, went through a series of intricate maneuver drills on the field. They were led by their instructor, Bill Dow. Sanford was well represented at the game and their cheer leaders furnished a colorful note to the fray along with Jackson's.

LIGHT WORKOUT HELD BY GATORS BOYS WIN FROM FOR GEORGIA TILT

Florida Crew Is Badly Crippled For Tough Homecoming Game

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 30.—A

light workout behind closed doors in which the Florida offense was stressed was the training menu for the Gators yesterday as they went through the next-to-final drill before the Georgia battle.

The crippled Gator crew, very much the underdogs in the homecoming fray, can signals throughout the afternoon as Coach Charley Bachman gave the finishing touches to the Florida attack. The first team did not deviate from the offensive program but the second eleven went through defensive shadow scrimmages against the seniors, who were equipped with jerseys.

W. Kinlaw started the game for Company D, and while he only allowed three hits during the two innings he was in the box, he walked four. This together with errors behind him netted five runs for the Herald. Jesse Cook went into the box at the beginning of the third inning and held the Herald to four hits, good for four runs, two runs being made off his delivery in the third inning and two in the sixth.

McCorquodale, who recently moved from Tampa to Sanford, was on the mound for the Herald boys and held Company D at his mercy during the entire game, yielding up eight hits, striking out five and giving only two free passes to first base.
