Who wouldn't want to ride on Gatorail?

RUSS WHITE

We're riding on the train. Let's call it Gatorail. This is the name someone suggested for the Metropolitan Orlando light rail system. Imagine from thousands of name-that-train entries, Gatorail prevailing. OK. Yahoo Express would be considered as would the Hot Line. And a group of University of Central Florida students are saying the system should be known as the Knight Rider.

Some newspaper people like the idea of the Byliner.

All entries with the word "Magic" should be thrown out. No Disney characters either. Stick to your monorails, Mickey. Enough is enough.

The Sunbelt Limited has a ring to it. There would be a sun parlor car for those who like it hot. Sunbelt Sunshine girls will serve the passengers.

Naming the great Florida light rail system may be as much fun as building the thing. The secret is staying on the right track.

The folks in the San Francisco Bay Area came up with a swift name for their light rail enterprise. They called it BART: Bay Area Rapid Transit. Dallas named its service DART. This is not to suggest any Florida Area Rapid Transit follow BART and DART.

The Portland, Ore., light rail is known as MAX. Critics say the Central Florida System will be known as TAX.

Most people want the trains to come, however.

Dhane Chesson of Winter Springs believes the Metropolitan Orlando line should be called TRAX which would blend in with the LYNX bus service. Ms. Chesson's proposal is a good one. It is difficult to believe anyone will come up with much better.

Won't it be nice if the area's light rail system is as splendid as the San Francisco cable cars that climb half way to the stars. Our system could travel directly to the launch pad at Cape Canaveral. Perhaps it would be called the Moon-Lighter or Seminole Shuttle. The Cape station would be called Third Rock From the Sun.

The area's initial light rail tracks may be open by 2001. They will extend from the Central Florida Parkway to Florida's Turnpike. By 2003 they will extend from the Turnpike to Livingston Street in downtown Orlando. The Seminole Express won't come on line for at least five more years from this.

Until this Rail-revolution, let the name calling continue.

Class sizes drop in schools

By Maria Orem
HERALD STAFF WRITER

SANFORD - The Seminole County Public School district is reporting a significant drop in class sizes this year. Superintendent Paul Hagerty called the accomplishment, "the story of the century."

"This is the brightest spot we've had in class size in the past seven or eight years," Hagerty said.

As of Aug. 29, of the county's 50 schools reporting, nine elementary schools exceed 32 students or .8 percent of the total; 11 middle school classes exceed 35 with less than 1 percent; 30 high school classes exceed 35, which is .017 percent of all academic classes.

In elementary schools, the average class size is 23 students. Almost 2/3 of the school classrooms have 24 or less students attending, compared to 26 recorded in the past few years. Midway Elementary has the lowest student to teacher ratio, averaging 18.2 students per classroom. Sterling Park Elementary has the highest average at 25.9.

In middle and high schools, the numbers have dropped from 30 to about 24 students in English and math classes. Class numbers vary depending on the subject.

For English, Milwee Middle ranked the lowest average class size at 19.8 percent; South Seminole Middle was the highest at 26.9 percent. In high schools, Seminole High had the lowest class size average at 26.7 percent; Lake Brantley was the highest at 28.5 percent.

Math classes sizes averaged 21.9 percent at Sanford Middle; 27.6 percent at South Seminole. In the high schools, Lyman High was 25.4 percent; Oviedo High reported 29.7 percent.

David Scott and the Celery City Cruisers have wheels and know how to cruise them. They'll be at Friday Fest.

A jet flies over Sanford Tuesday into clear skies and milder weather, a brief respite from some of the stifling humidity and heat that have been hanging over the Central Florida area the past few weeks.

Police station tops Lake Mary agenda

By Shari Brodie
HERALD FEATURE EDITOR

LAKE MARY - It would appear from the agenda for Thursday's City Commission meeting that all of the action will come in the 5 p.m. work session.

Scheduled for review in the usual 1-1/2 hour-period prior to the regular city commission meeting, are four items for discussion. They include alternatives for the exterior elevation of the new police station, safety and enforcement alternatives for Big Lake Mary, a benefit-sharing initiative proposed by Lake Mary resident and activist Doug Forner, and a request from Sanford for support of proposed domestic air service at the Orlando Sanford Airport.

"I don't think any of (the items) will take very long," said City Manager John Litton.

The work sessions allow the mayor and city commissioners a chance to review certain issues in-depth. Litton said, should the discussion on the items run longer than the time allotted, any remaining issues will be rescheduled.

The police station is first on the list. Architect T. Gray Frazier will present the mayor and commissioners with renderings, with choices in architectural treatment. Senior Planner Susan Deines said the building will have aspects that will fit well with the downtown ambience and may emulate some features of City Hall, including columns and arches. Deines said the architect is requesting that the commission provide a decision on the final elevations and architectural treatments, so that the renderings can be completed for cost estimation.

Chief Richard Beary said he expects the project to be underway the first part of next year and take 14 to 16 months to complete.

Chief Beary and Sgt. Linda Belfiore have been working on safety and enforcement alternatives on city lakes, especially Big Lake Mary, where citizens have filed a petition which cites a tremendous increase in the number of ski boats and personal water craft utilizing the lake.

At the work session, Beary will give a brief synopsis of the a program of periodic inspection of the lake. This could include the utilization and maintenance of a water craft by police personnel, at a cost of $5,000 annually.

Forner, a former candidate for a city commission seat and a member of the city's Local Planning Agency has proposed a program in which proceeds from the Economic Incentive Program be used to benefit the citizens in a variety of ways. Litton said Forner will speak at the work session and "put his concept on the table."

This party's for you

An invitation to Friday Fest

By Russ White
HERALD STAFF WRITER

SANFORD - Sometimes it is a small step that leads to the realization of a big triumph. This is how Linda Kuhn is thinking as she prepares for a 3-hour block party for Sanford on Friday.

From 5 to 8 p.m., First Street will be closed from Park Avenue to Sanford Avenue to accommodate several hundred folks expected to attend Friday Fest, an event sponsored by Sanford Main Street, Inc.

Restaurants and shops will stay open, a disc jockey will play music from the 1950s, and a fleet of neat old cars will line the way. A Fifties car collectors group known as the Celery City Cruisers are eager to show their wheels. Vendors will have $1 hot dogs and 50 cent sodas.

"Our whole idea is to get everyone to be downtown and have a good time," said Kuhn, a longtime resident who became Main Street's program manager this year.

Main Street is a non-profit community organization dedicated to revitalizing downtown Sanford and to improving the quality of life.

"We're hoping to go one step at a time," she said. "We wish a thousand people would come to Friday Fest but we know it will be more like a couple hundred."

"What we're counting on is that those who come have a great time and want to come back for the next party. We've got one for Halloween (October 31)."

Kuhn, the daughter of a retired Navy Chief, fondly recalls Sanford in the Fifties, when most of the shops were open late on Fridays and the residents came downtown to have a meal, shop and have a good time. It can be that way again, she says, but it will take time.

After 21 years as a victims/witness coordinator in the State Attorney's Office,

First Street in Sanford offers a slice of America yesterday, today and tomorrow.

Kuhn resigned and began the Main Street chores which she hoped would be far less stressful.

"I needed some laughter, some good times," she said. Improving the economic base of downtown Sanford will keep this energetic woman more than busy. Enhancing the public image of the town is crucial.

"We've got to prove it's safe and it's fun," she said. "There are other towns that would love to have what we have - the waterfront and the historic buildings."

Kuhn has been distributing a folder with information about being a Main Street downtown sponsor. Patrons are those who donate $4,000 a year. An associate would donate $500. A booster $25.

"We have most $25 boosters," Kuhn said. "Again, it's a start."

Sanford Main Street is part of the National Main Street Center that was established by the National Trust for Historic Preservation in 1980. Everyone - merchants and residents - should benefit from the program as it improves the quality of daily lives. She said Main Street supports the waterfront

Beware of credit card scam

SEMINOLE - The Seminole County Sheriff's Office has issued a crime alert bulletin warning residents to be aware of a credit card scam targeting senior citizens in Volusia County.

Senior citizens are contacted by phone and informed of the unauthorized use of their credit card. The caller explains that as a result their card needs to be reactivated and asks for the credit card number and expiration date.

The scam continues when the caller explains that insurance can be purchased to protect the card owner from loss or illegal use of their card. A supervisor calls back five minutes later to confirm the information and supposedly check on the telephone manner of the first caller. Officials believe the second call may be to delay the victim from canceling their credit card. The victim is also informed at this time that the insurance will cost more than the original price.

According to the bulletin, there have not been any reported incidents in Seminole County, but officials caution residents to be aware. Credit card companies do not call to verify credit card numbers. The companies already have that information on file. If contacted in this manner residents should contact local law enforcement agency immediately.

In Brief

Services guide

SANFORD - Customers of the Sanford Utilities Department will be mailed the latest information on the city's utilities services this week.

The award-winning Sanford Services Guide addresses business hours, telephone numbers, service rates and policies of the Utilities and Public Works Departments. The useful guide is also distributed to new customers and upon request.

Additional copies and information will be available through customer service at City Hall or customers may call 330-5630.

Craft festival canceled

SANFORD - The Fall Craft Festival of the First United Methodist Church scheduled for Oct. 6 has been canceled.

According to Jean Norris, chairman, the festival was canceled because not enough vendors responded.

Computer consumer seminar

CASSELBERRY - Just in time for the upcoming holiday season members of the Central Florida Computer Society will present a free program on "How to Buy a Computer." The program will be presented Oct. 14 from 7 until 9 p.m. at the Jean Rhein Central Branch Library, 215 N.Ox-Please see Briefs, Page 2A

Holocaust center membership meeting

MAITLAND - The Holocaust Memorial Resource and Education Center of Central Florida invites the entire community to attend the annual membership meeting on Oct. 20 at 8 p.m.

Greetings from Vice President Dr. Stan Sujka will be followed by election of directors to the board and a brief meeting. The agenda will include a comprehensive education report and a financial report. A reception will follow the opening of the exhibit "French Children of the Holocaust: A Memorial Exhibit", introduced with a brief orientation statement.

The memorial exhibit shows the fate of Jewish children in France through brief text and photos of 250 of the 11,400 children under the age of 18 deported to Auschwitz. Introductory panels cover the children in Germany, and the installation of anti-Jewish government in France; the exhibit includes reproductions of deportation lists illustrating the many countries of the origin of the children caught in France. The exhibit is based on the 1,904 page book "French Children of the Holocaust: A Memorial by Serge Klarsfeld" (New York University Press, 1996), available at the Holocaust Memorial Center Library.

The Holocaust Center is located at 851 N. Maitland Ave., Maitland. For more information call 628-0555.

Computer art exhibit

ORLANDO - [re] Meditation: The Digital in Contemporary American Printmaking features works from artist who use the latest digital technology to create computer art. The exhibit, at the University of Central Florida Art Gallery, will run Oct. 15 to Nov. 4. The public is invited to an opening reception Oct. 15 from 5 until 7 p.m.

This exhibition, which served as the United States entry for the 22nd International Biennial of Graphic Art, Ljubljana, Slovenia, was organized by the University of South Florida Contemporary Art Museum. Artists in the exhibition use recent innovations in digital technologies which allow images to be created with the computer and directly outputted onto traditional surfaces such as archival paper and canvas.

A total of 15 artists will be represented. This includes a series of prints by Alfredo Jaar entitled "A Hundred Times Nguyen", documenting the living conditions of Vietnamese "Boat People" seeking asylum in Hong Kong. Works by Pac White, digitally manipulated abstract compositions that combine text and human figure, are also in the show.

One of the best known artists in the show is Robert Rauschenberg. Rauschenberg, who has a studio in Captiva, Fla., is well known for his ground breaking combinations in print-making technique.

The gallery, on the UCF Orlando campus, is open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. For more information call (407) 823-2767.

Craft show

WINTER SPRINGS - The Winter Springs VFW Auxiliary #5405 is sponsoring a craft show on Saturday, Oct. 17. Tables are available.

For more information call Marilyn Mayo at (407) 339-8384 or (407) 265-0213.

Jazzathon

ORLANDO - A Jazzathon presented by Jazzercise will be held Oct. 31 from 9 a.m. until noon in the University of Central Florida Arena to benefit Heart of Florida United Way.

A minimum pledge of $25 is required, but an extensive prize structure encourages high participation. Prizes will include vacation and entertainment packages. This event is sponsored by Florida Power, University of Central Florida, 9 Family Connection and SHE 100.3 FM.

For more information call (407) 897-6677, ext. 218.

Vintage view

Construction of the marina in Lake Monroe is shown in this circa 1967 photograph. The bandshell is already gone, but some of the other older structures can still be seen. Along Park Avenue from the lakelike front are the Municipal Zoo and city hall with the city Jail behind it. The courthouse is across from the Masonic building and the Valdez Hotel is at the corner of Commercial Street. The Chase and Company building is still being used for offices at Second Street and Oak Avenue and you can probably recognize many other structures that used to be so familiar in our downtown area. The Sanford Herald building on French Avenue had not yet been built if it was still located on West First Street.

Big Cypress fox squirrel to be added to threatened list

Special to the Herald

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service has determined the Big Cypress fox squirrel of Florida may warrant listing as threatened under the Endangered Species Act and is soliciting additional scientific information and public comment on the status of the species.

The squirrel is a member of the southernmost subspecies of the fox squirrel and is found in portions of Hendry, Collier, Lee, Monroe and northwestern Dade counties in southwestern Florida. It is a smaller relative of the largest tree squirrels in North America. The average length of the Big Cypress fox squirrel's head and body is 11-12 inches, and the buff or tan-colored rodent sports a large bushy tail.

Sidney B. Maddock of the Biodiversity Legal Foundation of Buxton, N.C., petitioned the service to list the species as threatened. Threatened is defined as likely to become an endangered species within the foreseeable future throughout all or a significant portion of its range.

"While this squirrel may never have been a common species, it now appears to be rare throughout its range, and some historic populations have disappeared altogether," said the service's Southeast Regional Director Sam D. Hamilton.

Reasons for the squirrel's continuing population decline are loss and fragmentation of its habitat due to land development and suppression of natural fires that thin out heavy underbrush that is unfavorable habitat for the squirrel. Other factors include shooting and highway deaths.

The service will review the status of this species and publish a decision on whether or not listing is warranted within nine months of the 90-day finding. For additional information on this matter, contact Dr. Michael M. Bentzen, field supervisor of the Service's Jacksonville, Florida Field Office. His phone number is:

(904) 232-2580.

Comments on the status of the Big Cypress fox squirrel may be submitted to the same office, 6620 Southpoint Drive South, Suite 310, Jacksonville, Florida, until Dec. 8.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service is the principal Federal agency responsible for conserving, protecting, and enhancing fish and wildlife and their habitats for the continuing benefit of the American people. The Service manages the 93-million-acre National Wildlife Refuge System comprising more than 500 national wildlife refuges, thousands of small wetlands, and other special management areas. It also operates 66 national fish hatcheries and 78 ecological services field stations. The agency enforces Federal wildlife laws, administers the Endangered Species Act, manages migratory bird populations, restores nationally significant fisheries, conserves and restores wildlife habitat such as wetlands, and helps foreign governments with their conservation efforts. It also oversees the Federal Aid program that distributes hundreds of millions of dollars in excise taxes on fishing and hunting equipment to state wildlife agencies.

Litton said the recent news of a proposed military training complex at the Orlando Sanford Airport could put consideration of the last work session item in a different light. Sanford Mayor Larry Dale has asked for community consensus on the need for regular domestic air service at the airport. Dale's letter states domestic service is needed to "serve the growing residential population base in the immediate area, Seminole, northern Orange, southwest Volusia and eastern Lake counties."

Litton said airport noise continues to be a concern for Lake Mary citizens and impact of the military training complex approved Tuesday by the House of Representatives may further aggravate that situation.

Dale has requested input by Lake Mary, for a report he hopes to present at the next Seminole Vision Mayor and Manager's Roundtable, Nov. 19. The regular commission meeting is scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. The regular agenda includes an update on Rinehart Road construction and the second hearing on the annexation of property on Emma Oaks Trail.

Kuhn said that as Sanford builds itself a positive image this will reflect in more confidence in its future.

She is counting on Friday Fest to whet some appetites and create enthusiasm for the town she has called up since she was 12 years old. "This is a good town," Kuhn said. "We want everyone to know that. It's a very special town."

Farewell to Miss Libby

From Staff Reports

SANFORD - The sign outside The Barn on French Avenue says it all: "In Memory of Miss Libby."

Mary Elizabeth Hellekson, who owned The Barn for the past 10 years, died Sunday of cancer. She was 67.

Michael Hellekson said his mom, "always had a wink and a smile" and loved country music. She bought the historic building on French in 1988 and turned it into a county-music hall. Garth Brooks, Clint Black and Dwight Yoakam sang there. Brooks mentions The Barn in his song "The Old Stuff."

Hundreds came to The Barn each weekend to dance on the large wooden floor. The Barn had line dancing before it became cool - Miss Libby being a step ahead.

Hellekson was born in Marshall, Va., and graduated from Georgetown University with a business degree.

Survivors include her sons - Michael and Robert Hellekson, daughter, Sheila H. King and six grandchildren.

Arrangements are being handled by Baldwin-Fairchild, Oaklawn Park Cemetery and Funeral Home, Lake Mary.

Boxing is a competition, not a sport

SANFORD - With the recent escapades of Mike Tyson, something that I have been holding inside needs to be said.

Boxing is not a sport. Two men enter a ring and try to pound the sense out of each other.

What is sportsmanlike about that? And don't start with that I don't understand because I am a female stuff.

I love most sports. I understand sports better than most men and spend my weekends parked in front of the television watching nothing but sports.

I am a sports writer. But boxing is not a sport. A sport is something people play in the hopes of winning a competition. In that light, boxing could be considered a sport.

However, that's where the similarities end. I enjoy watching a good fight as much as the next guy I like nothing more than to see big, slow George Foreman plug around a ring, chasing some other man who is scared to death of having his face make contact with Foreman's fist.

I take boxing, however, for what it is. Let's put it in perspective.

It's run by men like Don King, one of the most despicable men on the planet.

"Only in America" could someone like King have the opportunity to promote boxers without having any concern whatsoever for their well being. He is a loud mouth who makes a farce of the sporting world and boxing promoters as a whole.

Then there are the boxers. Mike Tyson has made a mockery of the boxing world. He was accused of being mentally unstable and abusive to women long before his conviction of rape.

Then, he works his way back into the ring and what does he do? He tears a part of Evander Holyfield's ear off with his teeth and has his boxing privileges (it's a privilege to step into the ring and either beat up another human being or be beaten up by one?) revoked for a year.

Then a couple of months ago when he tries to get his boxing license reinstated in New Jersey, Tyson blows up at the panel that is trying to decide whether he has a temper problem or not and pulls his request.

Today, Tyson (who is now trying to get his license restored by Nevada, the state that pulled his license) was supposed to turn in a psychological analysis proving that he is stable and he "forgot" to do it.

In addition to the promoters and boxers, pay-per-view has to get its slimy hands in on the pot.

You can't even watch a fight anymore without paying upwards of $50 and then sitting through five fights on the undercard that no one cares about in order to get to the main event.

Once there, the fight usually culminated in a first round knock out, some horrible wrong doing by one of the contestants (this is boxing, shouldn't everything be legal?) which causes a riot to break out or a stop of the fight because one of the combatants is in the corner crying and refuses to defend himself.

Cock and pit bull fighting is illegal, but someone somewhere thinks it's all right for two men to get into a ring and maul each other.

With the exception of hockey, which is basically boxing on skates (more on that at a later time), no other sport allows the players to fight.

Could you imagine two tennis players duking it out at the net with their fists instead of racquet? Or a bench clearing brawl in the middle of a football game allowed to continue until one team is left standing and declared the winner?

Players are ejected from baseball, basketball and every other sport for fighting. Kids are suspended from school and bars are emptied when two people come to fist-a-cuffs.

I understand that boxing is big money, again thanks to people like Don King and institutions like pay-per-view television.

All I ask is that you call it what it is. A

Someone had to win

Oviedo outlasts Seminole in girls volleyball action

By Jeff Berliniche
ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD - It was the match nobody wanted.

In the end, the visiting Oviedo girls' volleyball team outlasted Seminole, 15-5, 16-18, 15-2, but neither team looked impressive as the teams traded mistakes throughout the Seminole Athletic Conference match Tuesday night at Bill Fleming Memorial Gymnasium.

Seminole coach Beth Corso was frustrated by her team's effort. The 'Noles had a five-game winning streak until a loss last week to Winter Springs, but were still playing surprisingly well until they forgot how to serve last night as the record fell to 7-7.

The 'Noles made 17 service errors, including six of their first 12 attempts in the third game.

Making it even more frustrating was that Seminole battled back from scores of 13-4 and 14-8 to pull out the second game, holding off seven Oviedo serves on match point.

"To work so hard and not finish it is frustrating," Corso said after the match. "I've never seen such horrible serving and I have no idea where it came from."

Oviedo coach Anna Hollis wasn't too pleased either. Her Lions improved to 7-4 on the regular season, but she didn't like letting Seminole off the hook in the second game.

In fact, she didn't even remember what she said to her team after Seminole pulled out the 18-16 victory.

"I just let them talk to themselves," Hollis said. "We're on the up and up but we didn't play anywhere near our ability."

Hollis said she thinks she knows the problem.

"We need to finish," she said. "We had the momentum and we gave it back. We need a killer instinct."

The Lions had it in the first game. Lindsey Conibes had a big night and Brooke Asby and Nicole Broome were also solid.

In the second game, Oviedo raced out and it looked like everybody would be going home early until Seminole started to capitalize on Oviedo mistakes.

Behind Kim Nelson's serve, Seminole wiped out a 13-4 deficit and made it 13-9.

Jennifer Lane served an ace to give Oviedo match point, but Seminole came back.

Down 14-13, Amanda Cook served a winner to tie it. Oviedo came back with an ace from Conibes, but Seminole gave up its power game and scored on a pair of tips to give itself game point.

Cook then slammed home a win.

Please see Page 2B

Nicole Broome had a solid night, especially in the opening game, to help the Oviedo girls knock off Seminole in three games, 15-5, 16-18 and 15-2, in Seminole Athletic Conference volleyball action Tuesday at Bill Fleming Memorial Gymnasium.

Seminole freshman gridgers throttle Lake Mary

By Kellie Werner
HERALD STAFF WRITER

SANFORD - In its defeat of Lake Mary Tuesday night, the Seminole High School freshman team had trouble not scoring.

The Rams (1-3) traveled to Thomas E. Whigham Stadium for a match-up with the now 4-1 'Noles and were handed a pretty tough defeat, losing 48-6.

The Lake Mary freshman team lacks big play makers in many roster positions and Seminole took advantage of the Rams' troubles quickly.

Fullback Jeff Johnson had only six carries which resulted in three touchdowns, from five-, 15-, and 40-yards, before he was pulled from the game to allow his back-up some playing time.

Quarterback Andre Raines (yes, there are more talented members from this family) also scored on a five-yard keeper.

At the half, the score was 28-0 and Seminole coach Scott Casko was looking for ways to lighten up on the Rams' defense.

"I substituted early and at every position," Casko said. "I dressed out 40 players tonight and each of them got to play in some capacity."

"I even played some of the kids out of position so that they could get some new exposure. We also went for two point conversions after every touchdown and only made three of them so we weren't putting PATs on the board."

Things got worse for the Rams in the second half.

Seminole's back-up quarterback, Tim Hunter, scored on a 25-yard keeper and then fullback Reno Williams went 70-yards to find the end zone.

The defense was also playing well for the Tribe. The unit held Lake Mary to 10 yards in total offense and was led by Joshua Gathers, who caused a Rams fumble and then ran it in for a 30-yard touchdown.

Finally, the Rams were able to put together a little offense and managed to find the end zone late in the game.

Both teams will next line up with Oviedo. The Lions will travel to Lake Mary next Tuesday to take on the Rams at Don T. Reynolds Stadium starting at 7 p.m.

The Fighting Seminoles and Oviedo will have to wait for three weeks, however, due to an off week and the fall break, before meeting on Tuesday, October 20th at John Courier Field at 7 p.m.

Lions frosh top Hawks

From Staff Reports

OVIEDO - Steve Asby led the way as Oviedo got over .500 with a 28-12 victory over Lake Howell in freshman football action at John Courier Field Tuesday night.

Jason Scott got the Lions on the board first by returning a punt 68-yards for a touchdown in the first quarter.

Oviedo increased its lead to 21-0 at halftime as Asby kicked a 28-yard field goal. Matt Ford scored on a 16-yard run and Dustin Zeigler returned a fumble 67-yards for a touchdown.

The hosts scored their final touchdown in the third quarter on a one-yard run by Asby, who also added the extra point.

The Silver Hawks scored both of their touchdowns in the fourth quarter.

Oviedo (3-2) will be at Lake Mary and Lake Howell will host Winter Springs next Tuesday at 7 p.m.

PBS-Hackers are back

WINTER SPRINGS - Juanita Johnson pitched two amazing games as the PBS-Hackers returned from a two-year layoff with a pair of victories in the City of Winter Springs Women's Monday Night Fall Slow Pitch Softball League at Central Winds Park.

Celeste turning second chance into stardom

By Jeff Berliniche
ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

ALAMONTE SPRINGS - Lake Brantley running back Arnold Celeste leads the county in rushing and is the key to the Patriots' 4-0 start.

But none of that would be possible if not for a second chance and the 1997 football season.

When the Patriots took the field for the season opener last year, Celeste sat in the stands fighting back tears as his former teammates lost without him.

"It was very emotional," Celeste said. "I went to the first game and went to the locker room after the game but I wasn't part of the team."

Celeste played sparingly for Lake Brantley as a sophomore before a mistake led to his being expelled from school.

He doesn't like to talk about it. His coach George Clayton admits Celeste made a mistake, but instead of playing for the Patriots and sharing time with Ryan Pagan last year, Celeste was out of football for the first time since he was a child.

He entered the Excel program and did his best to

Record setting day in baseball playoffs

By Dean Smith
HERALD SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD - Tim Raines and Jason Varitek had the best seats in the house Tuesday.

Raines was on the bench as the New York Yankees, who set an American League record of 114 wins in the regular season, got a combined five-hit shutout from David Wells and Mariano Rivera and the Yankees scored two second inning runs to edge the Texas Rangers 2-0 at Yankee Stadium.

Varitek, a Lake Brantley graduate who is a back-u catcher, saw his Boston Red Sox break a 13-game losing streak in the playoffs with an 11-3 pummeling of the Cleveland Indians at Jacobs Field.

Mo Vaughn, who lost the American League batting title by two points, 339-to-337, to the Yankee's Bernie Williams, broke out of an 0-for-14 showing in the post-season games were stopped in the fifth inning. Rosanne Fry led PBS in the first game, going 3 for 3 with two runs scored. Other hitters were, with two hits, Anna Hollis (double, two runs), Tami Chesser (double, two RBI), Jackie Janowiak (two runs, RBI), Terri Mann (two runs) and Becky Mangino, and with one hit, Jaudon Marlette (double, run, RBI), Phyllis Baynes (two runs, RBI), Johnson (four RBI) and Connie Thomas (RBI). Doing the damage in the Iron Horse win were Baynes (four hits, three runs), Marlette (home run, two triples, two runs, six RBI), Janowiak (three hits, three RBI), Mann (three hits, two runs), Theresa Walburger (two hits, three runs), Stacy Burvell (two hits) and Fry (four runs scored). The Hackers take on GDDC next Monday at 6:30 p.m. at Central Winds Park.

Recreation Volleyball

SANFORD - The results from the City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department Fall Recreational Volleyball League for Monday, September 28th, at the Sanford Middle School Dan Pelham Gymnasium were:
A League: Kathy's Baby Shop, Yknots and Beer :30 (all 3-1), CES (1-3) and Just For Fun (0-4).
B League: the Unknowns, the Saints and Rob's Team (all 3-1), Sanford Church of God (1-3) and Westview Baptist Church (0-4).
The standings after two weeks are:
A League: Kathy's Baby Shop (7-1), Yknots (6-

2), Beer :30 (4-1), CES (2-4) and Just For Fun (1-7).
B League: Rob's Team (7-1), the Saints (6-2), Sanford Church of God and the Unknowns (both 3-5) and Westview Baptist Church (1-7).

Sanders, Lions pound Buc

PONTIAC, Michigan - Barry Sanders ran for 131 yards on 27 carries and rookie quarterback Charlie Batch accounted for 154 yards of total offense as the Detroit Lions clobbered the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, 27-6.
The Buc (1-3) were held to an NFL season-low 133 yards of offense by the Lions (1-3) defense.

by hitting a pair of home runs and a double in five trips to the plate and driving in seven runs for the Red Sox.
Vaughn, who tied the record held by Seattle's Edgar Martinez for most RBI in a game, and Nomar Garciaparra drove in all 11 of Boston's runs. John Valentin scored four runs for the winners.
Pedro Martinez, who signed with the Red Sox in the off-season, scattered six hits, while striking out eight and walking none over seven innings to get a victory in his first ever post-season appearance.
In the National League playoffs on Tuesday, Kevin Brown outpitched Randy Johnson as the San Diego Padres edged the Houston Astros, 2-1, in the Astrodome.
Brown, who was traded to the Padres by the Marlins in the off-season, struck out a divisional playoff record of 16 and gave up only two hits over eight innings.
The 16 strike outs were the second-most in a post-season game ever, behind the 17 k's recorded by the St. Louis Cardinals' Bob Gibson in the 1968 World Series against the Detroit Tigers.
Trevor Hoffman gave up an unearned run in the ninth inning to get the save.
Johnson, who went 10-1 after being acquired by the Astros from Seattle and had given up only one run in the dome, gave up a run in the sixth inning on a double by Tony Wynn and a later sacrifice fly by Jim Leyritz.
The other run came on a home run by Greg Vaughn in the eighth inning. Johnson left after eight, scattering nine hits and striking out nine.

The divisional playoffs continue today with the Chicago Cubs and Atlanta Braves opening their best-of-five series at Turner Field. If the weather cooperates.
Remnants of Hurricane Georges is spread over Georgia, Alabama, the Carolinas and North Florida and heavy rains may put a damper on the series.
If the game is played it can be seen on ESPN starting at 4 p.m. with the Braves' John Smoltz pitching against the Cubs Mark Clark.
In other games today, Game Two of the Indians-Red Sox series will feature a pair of Florida-born pitcher's facing off (ESPN, 1 p.m.) at Jacobs Field. Dwight Gooden from Tampa will start for Cleveland and Melbourne's Tim Wakefield will be the hurler for Boston.
Game Two of the Yankees-Rangers series will be on WESH Channel 2 at 8 p.m. from Yankee Stadium with New York starting Andy Pettitte and Texas sending Rick Helling to the mound.

That's when Seminole's serve fell apart. Four of its first five serves crashed into the net and Oviedo took advantage, racing out to a 9-0 lead and coasting from there. The Lions capped it off with two straight blocks by Broome.
The win was the second in two night's for the Lions, who knocked off a hot Lake Brantley team in three games, 11-15, 16-14 and 15-5, on Monday.
Next up for Oviedo is a home game against winless Lake Howell on Thursday at 7 p.m., while the Noles host Oak Ridge in a Class 5A-District 5 match tonight at Bill Fleming Memorial Gymnasium at 6 p.m.
IN OTHER GIRLS MATCHES:
CASSELBERRY - Lake Brantley continued its hot play of late, keeping Lake Howell winless in impressive fashion, 15-1 and 15-1, in a Class 6A-District 3 and Seminole Athletic Conference match at Lake Howell High School.
The Patriots (4-10) will host Seminole and the Silver Hawks (0-8) will be at Oviedo on Thursday at 7 p.m.
GOLDENROD - Trinity Prep (13-3) crushed winless Wymore (0-6), 15-0 and 15-1.

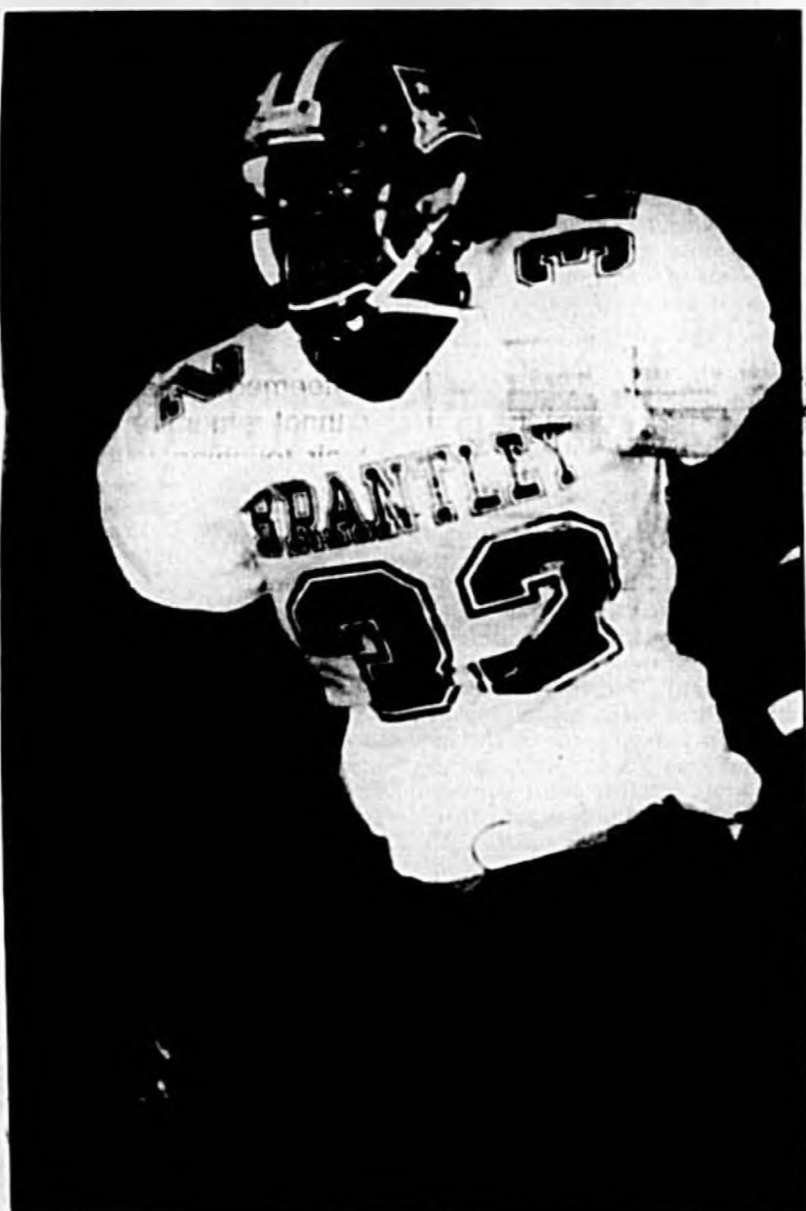

Michelle Cardel helped Seminole force a third game against Oviedo Tuesday night, including setting up the winning slam in the second game, but the Lions came back for the victory in the Seminole Athletic Conference match.

remain as much a part of the team as possible. He watched the Patriots struggle early and recover near the end of the season, but, by then, playoff hopes were shot.
The year without football may have been the best thing that ever happened, Celeste said.
"I just felt like God sent me in a certain path," Celeste said. "I didn't have the grades at the time, now I have them. I learned to work harder in school and on the field."
Celeste has come a long way in a year. He has a 3.5 grade point average this year and is hoping for a chance to play at the University of Central Florida next year. He will take his SAT Oct. 10 and the ACT the following week.
Celeste said none of it would be possible without the support of Clayton who kept in touch with Celeste all through the 1997 season.
"He always kept in touch with me," Celeste said. "Coach did everything he could to help me out."
The hard work paid off both on and off the field. Celeste leads the county and is among the Central Florida leaders with over 550 yards in rushing. He also has nine touchdowns heading into Friday's home game against Seminole.
Clayton hasn't been the only key to Celeste's success. His offensive line has dominated.
Danny Criswell, Aaron Shealy, Chris Oriandini, Jess Lipsey and Aaron Perlstein have created huge holes for Celeste on the offensive line and the Patriots' running quarterback Regan Russell and tailback Lanter Bush have given Lake Brantley an arsenal of weapons. It's no longer the Ryan and Brian show that ran the offense last year.
"I don't consider myself the man around here," Celeste said. "It's a total team effort. I make sure to thank the offensive line for everything I get."
Celeste ran for 177 yards in a win over Lyman Monday on a wet field. He looked a bit like his favorite NFL star Terrell Davis of the Denver Broncos. As the games went by last year, Celeste said he always dreamed of his senior year, going back to Lake Brantley. For a time, he said he considered going to a private school but was committed to repaying Clayton for his support.

"I worked out every day," Celeste said. "I decided to stay at Lake Brantley and come back stronger and better. I had to earn the respect when I came back but the coaches gave me a chance."
It worked out great all around. Lake Brantley didn't stand out as a county favorite at the start of the season, but with wins over Deland and Lyman so far in districts, the Patriots are in the driver's seat.

"We can go to states," Celeste said. "If we can just keep it all together, we can go to the finals."
Celeste has already gone a long way. When he puts his mind to it, he's tough to stop. Just ask opposing defenses. And the coaches who gave him a second chance.

starting at 7 p.m.
ALTAMONTE SPRINGS - Lake Brantley withstood a challenge from Lake Howell to win in three games, 15-7, 14-16 and 15-6.
"Jon Cheek was the best all-around player tonight," said Patriots head coach Jerrit Kelly. "His outside hitting, serving and setting was outstanding."
"Sean O'Toole had a strong serving and middle hitting match and Tom O'Brien also had some good hits."
Next up for Lake Brantley (5-3) will either be a tournament at Winter Springs or at a Apopka on Saturday.
The Silver Hawks (2-5) will be at Oviedo tonight at 7 p.m.
LONGWOOD - Lake Mary kept its undefeated record intact with a 15-6 and 15-10 Seminole Athletic Conference victory over Lyman at the Carlton Henley Sports Complex.
The Greyhounds (2-10) will be at Bishop Moore tonight at 7 p.m.

Last Friday, at Hiwassee Christian (9-7 overall), 3-1 in conference action), the hosts won in straight games, 15-8 and 15-4, but were taken to three games on Monday, 15-9, 10-15 and 15-11.
Tatum had 22 kills, eight service points and six digs, while Mathis had 22 assists and 15 service points.

Radcliff's passion for culinary simplicity and quality ingredients is well-established. His signature barbecue can only be found at Wildhorse Saloon, the hottest country entertainment destination in the United States.

Radcliff's cooking palette includes the finest ingredients and provisions, such as hand-cut, certified Angus steaks, fresh seafood, vegetables and seasoning like the Wildhorse Saloon's signature barbecue sauce. Radcliff believes and follows a philosophy that the cooking technique is an integral element to the overall dish as the ingredients. His passion for bold American barbecue is perfectly complemented by his favor for smoking, grilling and slow basting preparations.

Both the smoked tomato grits and Cajun andouille meatloaf are specialties of Wildhorse Saloon menu. Guests can request the dishes in advance, if they are not featured on the daily list. The recipes, redesigned by Radcliff for smaller quantities, are as follows:

Smoked Tomato Grits

1 large ripe red tomato
1 ounce butter or margarine
1/2 large Spanish onion, peeled, diced
1 quart chicken or vegetable stock
2 cup grits (not instant)
2 cloves garlic, minced
Large pinch coarse or regular salt
Pinch of pepper
1/4 cup heavy cream

On a grill, slow smoke the tomato until very soft. Carefully peel skin over a bowl and discard seeds, reserving pulp and any tomato drippings. Mesh tomato. Melt butter in a pot, and sauté diced onion until translucent. Add stock, garlic, smoked tomato with its liquid, salt and pepper. Bring to boil, sprinkle in grits, stirring, reduce to simmer, and simmer until thick and grits are cooked, stirring regularly. Add cream, stir in well, simmering until thickened. Serve hot. Serves 2-4.

Notes: A generous 1/2 cup of your favorite cheese, grated, can be stirred into this recipe at the final stage. Grilled chicken breast, grilled port chop or grilled fish are delicious served atop a bed of these grits.

Cajun Andouille Meatloaf

1 loaf white bread
1 green bell pepper
1 large onion, diced
1/2 tbsap. powdered garlic
1/4 tbsap. crushed red pepper
1/4 tbsap. dried oregano
1 bay leaf, crushed
1/2 tbsap. paprika
6 ounces Heinz ketchup
3/4 tbsap. dark Worcestershire sauce
1 tbsap. coarse salt or to taste
1/2 tbsap. black pepper
2-1/2 pounds ground meat
5 eggs
1-1/4 pounds Cajun andouille sausage, sliced
3/4 pound smoke pork or ham, cubed

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. Lay white bread out on cookie sheets or rack in oven to harden, or leave out, but in room temperature 24 hours to become stale. Buzz in food processor or blender to make fine crumbs.

Put diced bell pepper and onion into large bowl and mix together well. In another bowl, combine garlic, red pepper, thyme, oregano, bay leaf, paprika, ketchup, Worcestershire saure, salt and pepper. Mix well.

Add ground beef and bread crumbs to onions and peppers in bowl, pour spice and ketchup mix over and, with well-washed hands, mix together well, adding eggs 1 at a time, until all are well incorporated. Add sliced andouille sausage and ham, mix well again. Shape into 2 or 3 loaves.

Bake at 320 degrees F for 15 minutes to brown top well, then cover loaves loosely with foil and continue cooking until internal temperature at its thickest point reaches 140 degrees F on a meat thermometer, approximately 1-1/2 to 2 hours.

Allow meatloaf to cook before serving. Additional loaves may be frozen, sliced or unsliced for future use.

Teen doesn't want to change her name for mom

DEAR ABBY: I am a 13-year-old girl with a big problem. My parents have been divorced for 12 years, and my mother and her family have pretty much raised me. Not long ago, my mom told me she thought I should change my last name so that our whole family has the same one. Abby, why didn't she think of this when I was 2? I'm used to my other last name.

The other reason this is hard is that just a few months ago, I visited my dad's side of the family. I learned many things from and about them, and now I feel closer to them. I don't want to hurt their feelings.

ings. What should I do?
NO NEW NAME IN OREGON

DEAR NO NEW NAME: It is difficult to understand why your mother has waited so long to suggest a name change. Of course you are used to your last name. Perhaps there is a legal reason your mother has proposed this. If not, ask her to consider a compromise and let you hyphenate the two names. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: I'm writing about the letter from the diner who entered a Chinese restaurant 15 minutes before the posted closing time and was rushed through dinner.

Abby, in some restaurants the posted closing time means that is the time the kitchen closes; in others, the kitchen closes 15 to 30 minutes before the restaurant closes. I paid my way through beauty school by working in restaurants, and every one of them meant something different by the sign on the door. I now run a hair salon, and our hours are 8:30 a.m. to 5:15 p.m. That means we take our first appointment at 8:30 a.m. and the last at 5:15 (but an appointment that late must be a simple, quick procedure such as a comb-out). I understand that clients want to

Don't stand for medical run-around

DEAR DR. GOTT: After a sonogram of my pelvis, the radiologist reported "a retro-uterine structure that is part of the recto-sigmoid." When I asked what that meant, my gynecologist advised me to talk to my internist. When I asked my internist, he said: "It is nothing I am concerned about at this time." When I asked the radiologist, he said: "Talk to your doctor." Do I have the right to a straight answer?

DR. GOTT PETER GOTT, M.D.

Because tonic water contains small quantities of quinine, it sometimes lessens such cramps. And it's an easy, safe and cheap way to solve the problem.

Patients who don't respond to this strategy may find relief by using prescription quinine tablets at bedtime.

You can write to Dr. Gott at P.O. Box 2017, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156 drinking tonic water will lessen leg cramps at night?

DEAR READER: For unknown reasons, some patients with nocturnal leg cramps may be helped by quinine.

DEAR READER: One reason to have a primary care doctor is so that he or she will make some sense out of what specialists are talking about. Each family physician (GP or general internist) should act as an advocate for the people under his or her care. Patients need a coordinator, an explainer, someone to "run the show" — in short, a doctor with whom they can sit down, be comfortable and obtain straight answers.

You are getting the medical run-around. Neither of your doctors is inclined to take charge and answer your valid questions. You are the victim of a high-tech conspiracy of silence.

Judging from the report, I'd say that you appear to have some kind of swelling behind your uterus, in the part of the bowel that connects to the rectum. I don't know what this is. But I do know that you need answers — and you're entitled to them.

You have two choices: Make an appointment with your internist to review the situation, or find another doctor who is willing to be more forthright. (Useful Hint: Your internist may become more concerned about you if he realizes that you are considering finding another primary care physician.)

To give you related information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Choosing a Physician." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2017, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: How can I use the Internet to check on questionable medical therapy?

DEAR READER: Try this Web site: http://www.quackwatch.com. WIN AT BRIDGE

While they are still asleep

By Phillip Alder

Helen Rowland, an American journalist, made a valid point when she claimed, "Before marriage, a man will lie awake thinking about something you said; after marriage, he'll fall asleep before you finish saying it." At the bridge table, an expert will usually take some time before playing from the dummy at trick one. If he plays immediately, there is a distinct possibility that he requires a misdefense to get home. The quicker he can get to the critical trick, the more likely an opponent will still be sound asleep. To counter this, if you are a defender, refuse to be rushed. Stop and ask for a timeout. Assuming you have paused, what would you do here? Against three no-trump, your partner leads the spade six: seven, 10, king. Declarer plays a heart to dummy's jack, then calls for a low club. What is your plan?

East must be on his toes. First, he should apply the Rule of Eleven. Deducing the value of the card his partner led — the six — from 11 tells him that there are five spades higher than the six in the dummy, his hand and declarer's hand combined. And he has seen all five: dummy's 8-7, his J-10, and declarer's king. So, West's spade suit is ready to run. Also, because South denied a four-card major in answer to Stayman, West must have started with five or six spades. So, by winning with the club ace and returning the spade jack, the contract is sure to be defeated.

Note that if East ducks the first round of clubs, declarer runs for home with one spade, four hearts, three diamonds and one club.

HOROSCOPE

Your Birthday

Thursday, Oct. 1, 1998

In the year ahead, you could be quite fortunate in putting your ideas and creations to work for you. The steps you take might be small, but they will be significant and meaningful in the long run. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) All work and no play can make Johnny a very dull boy. Play and work in equal measure lends itself to a well-balanced life. Give a little time to some recreation today. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2.75 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1758, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Today if you seek an answer to a critical question, seek an indirect route. Once you get this person off on a tangent, their need to hide things will be forgotten.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) The need for companionship will be very intense today. In order to fulfill it, seek those with common interests and goals. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Generally speaking, good ideas may come rather easily to you today. Your best ones will have a direct relationship to your career and earning capacity. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) A person you recently met with whom you had a good rapport may get in touch with you today. It's worth establishing the contact, for something of mutual benefit could result.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Hold something of significance back in your business dealings today. Keeping the ace will make you feel more secure in case it's needed.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) People are drawn to you because you have ways of making them feel important and smart. This asset will be functioning at full force today.

Taurus (April 20-May 20) If you want to strengthen your bond with the boss or a good client, do all you can by providing extra service. What you do today will be acknowledged.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Delegating authority will be a critical factor with those you're involved with today. You're the likely choice because of your ability to organize and get things done.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Your abilities to detect, examine, and inspect could provide you with essential information today. Link together the clues and put to a good use. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Your skills as a salesperson will be honed to a fine edge today. Make your presentation brief and emphatic. Don't say too much, but inject some humor when you speak.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) One of your best natural assets today is your ability to budget in a sensible manner. Use this gift to put your accounts in order. © 1998 by NEA, Inc.
