Inasmuch as the receivers do most of the fixing it probably doesn't make much difference whether it's done and live stock. in the auction markets or on the blackboards of the produce exchange. .

Wheat growers and cotton planters often complain that the speculators give them the worst of it. Sometimes that is true but by and large the prices quoted are about what the producers would get if there were no speculators. The grower doesn't have to sell if he doesn't want to-and can afford to wait. With speculators cushioning the trading the price changes are narrower though over a crop season they probably swing between high and low about as they would if there were no exchange to mark up the bids and asks of the moment."

Salaries Of Almon Every Employee Is Raised 10 Percent; Millage Put At 3

Based on the collection of approximately 63 percent of a 30 mill levy on an assesse real and personal property valuation of approximately $6,850,000, the 1934-35 budget of operating expenses as officially adopted at a City Commission meeting is night calls for estimated and penditures and receipts of nearly $13,000 more than was estimated last year.

The Commissioners also official ly set the 1934-35 miliage at # the past few years.

Expenditures for the new year have been increased approximately is percent over those of the year just ended because the Commissloners have raised the salary of practically every employee to proximately 10 percent.

The Commissioners also antidpate several expenditures almed $84,420.00 $97,375.00 at improving properties that have long since needed attention. Quoting Mayor W. A. Leffe, "The Commissioners, resissing that there has been a considerable increase in linving costs, have raised salaries accordingly. At Ale same time, they recognize many months of faithful and efficient service from every amployee, service that is appreciated, not only by the Commissioners, but by the taxpayers se well, as reflected in the many expressions of an
