FIRST Y. M. C. A. CONVENTION TO BE ON TUESDAY

Reports For First Year Of Organization's Work Will Be Submitted And Officers For Year Will Be Elected

Member Of National Council Will Speak

Delegations From All Sections Of Seminole County To Attend Session

The first Seminole County Y. M. C. A. convention is to be held at the Hotel Forrest Lake Thursday evening and reports of the first year's work of the organization are to be made, board of directors and officers elected and plans for the first year to be discussed.

The banquet session, which is to start at 6:30 o'clock, is to be addressed by A. E. Roberts, of New York, who is a member of the National Y. Council and in charge of town and county work throughout the United States. He is expected to deliver a message of great importance to the Y. M. C. A. workers of Seminole County.

Delegations from every town and community in the county are to be present and individual community reports are to be read before the assembly. The group work of local leaders is expected to occupy a greater portion of the time set aside for the business of the meeting.

The public is welcome to attend the banquet and meeting, according to Y. officials, who have asked that those who intend to come telephone their reservations to the office of the Y. M. C. A. in the First National Bank Building.

Other matters of interest are to come before the Legion, one of which has to do with the selection of delegates to the state convention at Tattnall Springs, which is to begin next Monday. Four delegates and four alternates are to represent the local post at the meeting and a determined effort is to be made to bring the 1929 convention to Sanford.

The game next Monday is being advertised throughout the central part of the state and on the east coast. Advertising and publicity in charge of A. J. Holt, who today is touring the east coast cities within 80 miles from Sanford.

T. W. Lawton, superintendent of public instruction, is to close all schools Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock and all school children who came to see the game are to be the guests of the Legion. Both white and black children are to be admitted free. The game is to start at 3:30 o'clock.

Major Forrest Lake is expected to issue a proclamation calling on all business houses in the city to close promptly at 2 o'clock in order to allow all employees to see the game. One of the largest crowds in the history of baseball in Sanford is expected to be present.

Ty Cobb, Eddie Collins and Zack Wheat are to be in the lineup. Conie Mack, manager of the Athletics, guaranteed the Legion that each of the three stars would appear in the game.

Cobb and Collins, both of whom were managers of American League clubs last season, are playing under the same banner for the first time in their long careers. Wheat, also a veteran, will add color to the game through his presence in the Athletic lineup.

Marie Jackson, held in jail on a disorderly conduct charge, sticks to her story, told at the time of the trial of Connie Dahney for the murder of Miss Vickery. Dahney was sentenced to life imprisonment.

A plan as now outlined would consist of one day each month being designated as "Thrift Day" and participating merchants would offer exceptional bargains in merchandise and combined, they would prides free with purchases.

Merchants, parades and other entertainment features would be throughout the day, according to present plans. Advertising material would be distributed throughout Florida and many shoppers in other counties would be attracted to the city, proponents of the plan said.

The present laws pertaining to the casting of ballots by those who are forced to leave the state on business or go away for pleasure just before an election practically deprives such persons from voting, Governor Martin said.

State officials called before the federal courts in other states or to the United States capital at Washington on state's business during an election is bound to cause trouble because of their disqualification as a voter upon leaving the state, it is said, and it is for this reason that a revision of the antiquated absent-voters laws will be asked.

MARTIN WILL ASK FOR CHANGES IN ELECTION LAWS

State Executive Will Seek Statute That Will Allow Citizens To Cast Ballots If Absent On Election Day

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Mar. 21—(INS)—Stressing the fact that a man or woman voter of Florida is obliged of the franchise if absent from the state on election day and that there is practically no absent voter's ballot in this state, Governor John W. Martin will ask the state legislature to amend the antiquated election laws.

Governor Martin will ask the 122nd session of the state legislature to pass a statute permitting absent voters to cast their ballots in a sealed envelope to be held in the custody of county officials until election day, when the envelope can be deposited in the proper voting and opened and counted with the others.

MUGGSY THINKS GIANTS STRONGER THAN LAST YEAR

General Resentment Reigns In Camp Over Failure Of Roush To Sign Contract;
Outfield Seems Weaker

By DAVID J. WALSH

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Mar. 19.—Who is the dumbest guy on Giants' ball club?

This is neither an important nor personal question because the Giants themselves are playing this year of all time from a fan's point of view. They really would like to know. According to members of the rival teams with whom the writer talked, the many Giants have nominated other players with the outfit for this doubtful distinction that is fast becoming apparent that most of them are very dumb or all of them very mistaken.

This condition, plus a general irritation against Ed Roush for his failure to join the club when a $20,000 contract would seem to indicate that the troubling condition is developing in the Giants' camp. However, manager John McGraw has another story to tell.

"It's not the best club that ever was organized," he said. "It has just little weaknesses here and there, which I don't care to elaborate upon. All I want to say is that I have a smarter, faster club than last year, with more punch and sounder defense, and I think it is good enough to win."

"The other contend... Well, you must figure the Cardinals, Pittsburgh and Red Sox for one thing, and the Cubs will be dangerous. In fact, they may turn out to be the team we have to beat. Anyway I'd say that the club that wins the pennant will have to beat us."

McGraw declined to comment in any way on Roush's absence from the camp but his intimates made no secret of the fact that John has taken great umbrage over the manner as had indeed the team in general. Though they had been offered $20,000 for the season as compared with the $19,000 he wanted from the Red Sox, yet he has ignored both offers and the man who made it.

Of course, like a true clerk who hasn't what you want, the ball club isn't like that, doesn't have "something just as good" with which to forget the absent star. The something in this case is Marvin Oatis, the seventeen-year-old catcher of last year who is the skipper's boy, and is certifiable this year. He may not get in the lineup every day by the first of June, Roush or no Roush.

The Giants have plenty of outfielders in camp but not all of them are good. In fact, the writer would venture to say that it is an open question whether the club is as strong as it was last year.

It has been weakened, beyond all doubt, at first base where Terry will appear instead of the departed Kelly. It has been weakened at second base with the uncertain Frisch replaced by Rogers Hornsby, who looks slower to me, although he is hitting well and obviously is saving himself. However, the loss of Gash Young in right field would hurt any club and the Giants are no exception. Further than that a job with three untried catchers making up the entire staff of receivers is not exactly any man's certainty.

Except for Burleigh Grimes, the aging utility giant, the pitcher will be the same as last year, tent Greenfield, always a slow starter, will be pitching good baseball by the first of June; Hugh McQuillan, always a rapid starter, is being prevailed upon to do nothing at this stage and he likes it. Fred Fitzsimmons started well but stopped when he hurt his hand by carelessly leaving it under the rocker of a chair; Virgil Barnes was a good pitcher, young and still, but late; Bentley is lackluster without his convulsions but nobody has noticed the difference, and Dutch Harry, the southpaw, who was tried and found guilty before, is up again from Indianapolis and this time he will play.

The rising young men include Bill Cliftson, the Raleigh, N. C., specimen, who returns from Toledo reconditioned; Fay Thomas, University of Southern California, who has also touts to stay, and Alfonso Almendro, eighteen-year-old Mexican left-hander, who will go away and come back. Howard Holland, University of Virginia product, also is around but nobody knows how long.

The three untried catchers include Al Devore, the lad who dove into Lake Michigan, fully clothed, to win $10, while a member of the Yankees; Jack Schumming, up from Wheeling, with an injured hand, another behemoth according to McGraw; and Sam Higginson, says, he will not meet the figure the pitcher asks.

RAILROAD BOARD PAYS TRIBUTE TO ROBERT L. EATON

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Mar. 19.—
ONS—The State Railroad Commission has just passed a resolution to be entered permanent record in the annals of the commission, commending the memory of State Railroad Commissioner Robert L. Eaton of Monticello who died on Feb. 27.

"The Railroad Commissioners of Florida deeply deplore the death of Hon. Robert L. Eaton," the resolution says.

Mr. Eaton was prominent throughout the state, beloved by everyone who knew him and a personal friend of the Commissioners for many years before assuming the duties of his office on Jan. 1, 1927. Through intimate contact with him in his office, his associates and their employees had the opportunity of valuing his personality.

Mr. Eaton endeavored to be right at all times he possessed an attractive personality, and was kindly natured, whole-souled and charitable. He was endowed with executive ability and good judgement, guided at all times by a desire to be fair to his fellow man.

Indianapolis Yanni gans Defeat The Regulars In Full Game This Morning

The regular crew of the Indians took a lacing this morning at the hands of the Yannigans in the first full practice tilt of the training season. The final score was 3-2 and the Indians displayed was on a much superior brand than that which has been shown out at Municipal Field since the Indians began to practice.

George Lassiter, purchased from the White Sox at the close of the 1926 season, and Jack Wisner, who came down from the class of Dawn' McGraw, were the hurlers who suffered defeat. Fred Schupp and Lefty Koupat did the mounding for the victorious youngsters.

Leverette breezed along in great shape. In fact, each of the four kept down base hits during their brief terms upon the hill. The former Sox pitcher seems destined to continue his present pace. Schupp, a big league veteran, proved that he is yet a young baseball pitcher. Wisner, knocking at the door of the big time again, and Koupat, who was on the payroll of the Pirates educated in the schools of Columbia county, and graduated from the old Florida State Agricultural College, taking an A. B. degree in 1891.

"He moved to Monticello and managed the Girardeau plantation for many years and was known as the largest producer of watermelon seed in the world. He served as state labor inspector for a number of years, resigned from that office upon his selection as Railroad Commissioner.

The resolution says.
