He says inflation is world public enemy No. 1, a threat to peace and order as well as the pocketbook. These are clues to the man's political beliefs drawn from his recent public statements. Most of them were made as

Richard M. Nixon's spokesman, but they are no different from the philosophy he expressed in 25 years in the House of Representatives. Ford favors optimism and compromise. He became minority leader in the House, where give-and-take is a way of life. Here is a sampler of his statements since he was picked to be vice president last October:

On foreign policy: "President Nixon has innovated and carried forward a bold and courageous foreign policy that history will credit in due perspective.' (June 4) World trade: "One great responsibility is the need to seek a more open and equitable world trading system. Another is to assure a fair chance in the world's markets.... City Editor Sanford city commissioners have set Nov. 5 for a citywide vote on a proposed $4.5 million drainage bond issue. Seminole county commissioners are being formally requested to add the issue to the general election ballot on voting machines in all 13 precincts inside the city. City Clerk Henry Tamm reported Thursday that county Supervisor of Elections Mrs. Camilla Bruce will close voter registration books at 5 p.m. Sept. 21 for the election. Tamm said the bond issue question

There are some things one hesitates to comment on immediately. It is usually a good idea when you run across a particularly distressing piece of news to sit on it a day or so. Anger doesn't lend itself to a calm, dispassionate discussion of the issue.

Well, we've had an item on our desk for almost a terrible state of the American economy. Nor do we agreement among economists that inflation will continue to be a fact of life until government spending is brought under control.

Everyone immediately raises his eyes skyward and shouts halleluiah.

We don't. We just happen to believe that there is more waste and fat in the defense budget than those wide-eyed liberals into welfare and human rights could possibly spend, let alone waste. How can any right-thinking American make such a shocking statement? Well, it's easy. For instance: Litton Industries is asking the United States Navy for an extra $400 million to finish the last of five big helicopter carriers now 44 months-three years and eight months!-behind schedule. That's $400 million EXTRA for completion of a contract already almost four years

The same firm is also asking an additional $35 million to complete the last of 30 destroyers already 18 months behind schedule.

House Panel Did Follow Constitution

For the better part of a week, via the miracle of electronics, millions of Americans were witnesses to a living civics textbook as the House Committee on the Judiciary painstakingly but inexorably advanced to keep its appointed rendezvous with history. This was the Constitution of the United States in operation, made vividly alive as never before.

There in all its majesty, and its imperfections too, was the American democratic system at work. Thirty-eight men and women - many of whom had been only names, if that, to most people - ordinary men and women elected by the citizens of their several states, held in their hands the fate of a president and, perhaps, the fate of a nation.

Their opening speeches gave the lie to charges by White House spokesmen that the Judiciary Committee was some kind of "kangaroo court. as well as to the criticism routinely made by press and public, usually deservedly so, that politicians can never bring themselves to face agonizing decisions. Time and again during the committee's sometimes droning yet always fascinating and often moving final deliberations, members expressed their awareness that what they were about to do would probably be the most important thing they would ever do in their lives. The sheer weight of evidence accumulated over seven long months of hearings and investigations, evidence that was reviewed and reviewed and reviewed again for the benefit of the watching public, left no doubt what that thing There is so much that is requested of these would be.

Petitions Checked

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) - Officials of the American Party are predicting confidently that they have submitted more than enough signatures to get on the November

However, the validity of their claims will not be know for certain until Sept. 10, the deadline for county supervisors to certify the signatures and forward them to the state Elections Division. Don Mather, party executive director, says petitions with more than 120,000 signatures went to the county offices by the Tuesday deadline. Secretary of State Dorothy Glisson says her office has received about 6,000 petition signatures from the party but that a check with a few large counties found another 90,000 had been filed recently.

The party needs 104,624 valid signatures, three per cent of the vote total in the 1972 elections. The American Party, an outgrowth of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace's 1968 presidential campaign, is seeking to place Dr. John Grady of Belle Glade on the ballot as a U.S. Senate candidate and J.P. Revels of Green Cove Springs on as a gubernatorial candidate.

DEAR POLLY — Bicycle sales seem to be zooming. I suggest asing baking soda straight from the kitchen to clean and keep bikes sparkling. With the many new products on the market for this we tend to forget our inexpensive old standby - baking soda. It can be used dry on a particularly dirty and greasy area without harming the finish. — BETTY H.

MURRAY OLDERMAN

Is Hank Acron Student Of Hitting Or Natural?

The NFL's competition committee - the four moguls responsible for the sweeping changes in rules — were far from unanimous on the revisions, even splitting down the middle on some, but felt the only way they could get them past the disapproving coaches was to present them in a single package. Q. There is no television broadcast of any of the world champion's games. I have called their office and they say they have no knowledge of any televised A's games. Seems rather odd for the champion A's. Could you enlighten us on this situation? - Steve Corrigan, Alameda, Calif. You get an idea how beloved the A's are in their own domain when an independent TV station which carried their games refused to renew the contract this year and Charlie Finley has been unable to find other buyers. Even their radio comes out of a station in San Jose which can't be picked up in some parts of Oakhand. Whole thing is a symptom of the cheapest operation in *sports, and I still expect Charlie O. and his mule to duck out at

Q. Is Henry Aaron a real student of hitting, like Ted Williams was, or is he just doing what comes naturally? - Carl Youmans, Savannah, Ga.

I keep reading how Henry keeps a mental log of opposing pitchers, and there has to be some thought behind the more than 3,500 hits he has collected. But I also remember that when Henry was a kid playing with Jacksonville 21 years ago, a writer noticed that he was hitting with the label on his bat facing down, which was supposed to be a no-no, and when he was asked about t, Henry just shrugged, "It's all wood, ain't it?"

Q. I once read that Mickey Mantle of New York Yankee fame drove a golf ball 398 yards with a No. 3 wood. Is there any way you can confirm Mantle's distant drive for me? - Bill Land, Denver, Colo. Yes, straight from Mickey's desk at the Metropolitan Bank of Dallas, where he's a special consultant, the Mick confirms that three years ago, on the 14th hole at Preston Trails, Byron Nelson's course, he almost drove the green with a 3-wood on the par-4, 400-year-plus hole. A fellow named Murphy Martin stepped it off to peg the distance at 398 yards. "There was," admits Mickey, "a trailing wind." Mickey, who's also a viceout to play golf almost every day.

Q. Can you tell me who Ingemar Johansson from Sweden fought in this country and was it for any title? - F.L.S., Elizabeth, N.J. Have 15 years already passed since Ingo came in with his bevy of beauties and the "toonder and lightning" in his right fist flatten Floyd Patterson for the heavyweight championship of the world? That was in New York's extinct Polo Grounds June 26, 1959. A year later, Ingemar himself was decked for the count by Floyd and lost again in '61 in Miami to Patterson - those were his only fights in this country, and he fled to a tax haven in Switzerland.

Q. I am interested in finding out where I can get information on basketball schools. My boy is 16 and very interested in basketball. Would appreciate any information. - Joyce Shepherd, San Martin, Calif.

In northern California, two prominent basketball camps are conducted in early August by Bob Feerick, the general manager of the Golden State Warriors (at Squaw Valley), and Warrior star Rich Barry. Information can be secured by writing the Warriors. Coach Bill Sharman of the Lakers leads one of a bevy of camps in southern California. And many pro and college coaches are associated with camps in all sections of the United States, generally advertised in newspapers and sports magazines.

Q. What constitutes an error in major league baseball? Is it necessary for a player to touch the ball? - P.J. O'Brien, Pitt-

Not as elementary as it sounds, dear Watson. There are 13 paragraphs outlining errors under Section 10.13 of the rule books, which defines an error as a "misplay (fumble, muff or wild throw) which prolongs the time at bat of a batter or which prolongs the life of a runner, or which permits a runner to advance one or more bases." You don't have to touch the ball to get an error if, in the opinion of the scorer, you "could have handled the ball with ordinary effort" (i.e., muffed pop fly).

Traditional rip-offs such as the Kentucky Derby and the Indy 500 are only perpetuated by an unwarranted concentration RBI and 13 home runs. nine hits. of media attention. Especially the Derby.

Got a tough question about sports and the people who play them? All you got to do is ask Aurray Olderman. Write him at The Evening Herald. The most interesting questions will be answered in this column. Olderman regrets that he cannot write personal answers to all questions.

Ranger Business Man

NEW YORK (AP) - The New York Rangers of the National Hockey League announced today the appointment of John Halligan as business manager of the team. Halligan will continue as the club's public relations director, a post he has held since the 1963-64 season.

Stars In Pro-Am

CONCORD, Mass. (AP) - Bob Hope, Boston Celtics basketball star John Havlicek and Derek Sanderson of hockey's New York Rangers are among the celebrities scheduled to tee off in today's "Hope for the Blind" Pro-Am Golf Tournament at Nashawtuc Country Club. The Pro-Am will be followed Saturday by the National Blind Golfers Tournament. Twentyseven blind golfers are scheduled to compete for the firstplace trophy. Blind golfers follow all USGA rules except they may ground their clubs in hazards.

ABA Pacers Play

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - The Indiana Pacers of the American Basketball Association will play their first game in the new 18,000-seat Market Square Arena Sept. 28 against the Milwaukee Bucks. The Pacers also confirmed Thursday the signing of Jerry Oliver, a former Indiana University assistant, as an assistant to Coach Bobby Leonard. Oliver was the high school coach of Pacers star George McGinnis at Indianapolis Washington. But team officials denied the signing was intended to lure McGinnis into ending a contract dispute.

Hall Of Fame Golfers

NEW YORK (AP - Arnold Palmer, the all-time great of golf from Wake Forest University, and Johnny Miller of Brigham Young University, who became the first college AllAmerican to win the U.S. Open, will be the first inductees into the new College Golf Hall of Fame. Palmer and Miller were named to the Hall of Fame by a voting committee of college golf coaches and golf writers and will be inducted next Tuesday.

Reds Pitcher 'Lumped'

CINCINNATI (AP) - While the Cincinnati Reds and Los Angeles Dodgers were exchanging punches in a flare-

up Wednesday night, veteran reliever Clay Carroll was taking his lumps out in the bullpen. Carroll was wounded before he could join the fracas. "I got punched by the tulipen gate," grinned Carroll,

Reaction: World

By The Associated Press The dominant reaction around the world in the hours after Richard M. Nixon closed the curtain on his presidency was admiration for the American democracy and relief that uncertainty in Washington was over. In some troubled corners of the globe, leaders voiced apprehension for the fate of policies Nixon had championed. But most were confident that Henry A. Kissinger, to continue as secretary of state in the Gerald R. Ford administration, would assure the continuity of Nixon's foreign initiatives. Many governments - including Britain, West Germany, Mexico and Brazil - ducked official comment on what they termed "internal matters of the United States." In Saigon, President Nguyen Van Thieu ordered a military alert throughout South Vietnam in fear the Communist command would take advantage of Nixon's resignation to launch a general offensive. In Egypt - which more than any other Arab state put its trust in the Nixon administration to end the Middle East crisis, and where last spring Nixon was greeted as a national hero - the press carried stories about Nixon under black banners, a usual sign of mourning.

Israeli leaders refused comment, but government insiders said Premier Yitzhak Rabin is confident that Kissinger will continue his effective foreign policy. Officials of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization privately expressed relief and confidence that Ford would inject the coherence and decisiveness they said was lacking under a beleaguered Nixon.

Millions of Europeans stayed up into the small hours of the morning to watch Nixon's address, relayed by satellite to 13 European countries. Evening programming was thick with Nixon retrospectives and analyses of his "As friends of the American people, we are glad this nightmare is over," said Norway's Premier Trygve The Dutch government viewed the resignation as an affirmation of democracy as a form of government. "What is important is the democratic process which led to this resignation — a process which upheld the equality of each citizen before the law," a government statement

There was no word from Peking, but the Japanese news agency Kyodo said Chinese leaders were hoping the resignation would not affect ChinaU.S. relations.

Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) - Relieved by Richard Nixon's resignation, Democratic and Republican congressional leaders say they look forward to an era of national reconciliation under President Geraid R. Ford. Noting Ford's long service in the House, leaders of the Democratic-controlled Congress predicted better relations with the White House in the post-Watergate period after the often rancorous Nixon years. Republicans and some Democrats said one early result would be an improvement in GOP political prospects in this November's congressional elections.

Although most members of both parties praised the tone and content of Nixon's resignation speech as conciliatory, some cricitized him for failure to go beyond a brief statement that "some of my judgments were wrong." Sen. Edward W. Brooke, RMass., said he would drop his move for congressional support of immunity from prosecution unless Nixon makes a "full confession" of his involvement in Watergate and related scandals.

Special Watergate Prosecutor Leon Jaworski declared "no agreement or understanding" with Nixon had been sought or offered. Rep. Paul N. "Pete" McCloskey, R-Calif., who unsuccessfully challenged Nixon's 1972 renomination, predicted the outgoing President would soon be indicted. For the most part, however, the reaction to Thursday night's climax to the long Watergate drama reflected the waves of relief that swept Capitol Hill earlier in the day when it became evident Nixon had decided to step down. "The agony is over," said assistant Senate GOP Leader Robert P. Griffin of Michigan. "The long, dark night is over," said Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho. "The country has been on the verge of a nervous breakdown long enough," declared Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, adding that Nixon's decision "now opens the way to a healing and mending process under President Ford."

Nation

As he waited in his carpeted den for the speech to begin. Tom Kennedy, a 57-year-old high school English teacher and lifelong Republican, allowed himself the luxury of wishing out loud:

"Wouldn't it be something if after all that happened today, he came on and said, 'I'm going to stay." Moments later Kennedy, of Winter Park, Fla., heard the words he knew would come, and he whispered, half to himself, "it's done. It's over. It's finished." The tears came to Joyce Yeagar's eyes as Nixon concluded his address with his one-sentence prayer: "May God's grace be with you in all the days ahead." Mrs. Yeagar, 44, sat in the panelled family room of her home in southwest Chicago. With her were her husband Philip, 46, and one of their three children, 10-year-old

"The speech said it all," she said. "The man did the best he could do. He made mistakes, as all of us do, as other presidents have. These were brought to the forefront. Others weren't." Jerry McNeely, a 35-year-old computer executive.

watched in silence from a chair in his twostory home in the Houston suburb of West University Place. His wife Virginia, 28, sat on the floor with their 10-month-old son. "This gives me a pretty bad taste for politics in general," said McNeely, who left the Democratic party two years ago to work for Nixon. "But I still think he's been a hell of a good president.'

In Cape Elizabeth, Maine, furniture salesman Walter Juskiewicz sat rigidly on his living room couch. He neither moved nor spoke during Nixon's 17-minute ad-"I was tremendously moved by the speech," he said

After it was over. "But I was disappointed because I don't think he answered the average American's question about Watergate. The people who voted for him still don't
