Americans Shoot Down 7 Airships Over Philippines

Defenders Are Said Battling In Increasingly Heavy Odds In Ground Fights

Japs Land Near Tip Of Australia

Aussie War Cabinet Decides To Call More Men To Duty

(By Associated Press) American forces in the Philippines shot down seven Japanese planes in the past 24 hours, the United States War Department said today, but added they are battling increasingly heavy odds on the ground.

The Japanese forced new landings today in the neighborhood of Zamboanga, the chief port on the southwest coast of Celebes, and communications were interrupted between Java and the port of Bandjermasin, on the south Borneo coast.

The Japanese also landed new forces at Gasmata on the south coast of New Britain near the northern tip of the Australian mainland.

The Australian War Cabinet has decided to call for additional men for the time being in the militia. All signs indicated the Japs were about to make a dash for the island of New Guinea.

It is believed the Japanese command in the Philippines has been ordered to make a dash for the island of New Guinea.

Home front apparently has launched a two-day drive, one down into the lower reaches of the Philippines, the other from the opposite shore aimed at Corregidor, fortress astride the entrance to Manila Bay.

It appeared to be a nut-cracker operation designed to crush the defenders and cut off all avenues of retreat, including a withdrawal to Corregidor where Gen. MacArthur would make his supreme stand.

Meanwhile, Japanese batteries on the opposite shore have been raining away at Corregidor and its protective forts, attempting to cut them up or knock them out.

So long as Corregidor stands, the concept of the main island of Luzon can never be complete. Nor can the Japs make use of Manila Bay as a base for operations in other Far Eastern areas.

As long as Gen. MacArthur holds out, the Japanese cannot free tens of thousands of troops for fighting elsewhere.

How long he can stand without reinforcements has been the subject of much speculation. While the Japs have poured streams of reserves into the fighting, Gen. MacArthur has been reported to carry on with his original forces, which are being cut down gradually.

Sanford's Air Raid Siren Will Be Tested Tomorrow At Noon

Sanford's new air raid siren will blow tomorrow around noon, but it "won't mean a thing to the public this time," H. James Galt, assistant chairman of the Civil Protection Division, stated after the City Commission, at the regular monthly meeting last night at the City Hall, decided the siren should be tested.

The siren, which will be hung under the water tower, will be sounded between 12:00 P.M. and 1:00 P.M. in order to determine how far the sound will carry. "We may sound it three times or 20," Mr. Galt said, "in order to test it, but the public should not be concerned."

Fred Wilson, City attorney, was instructed by the Commission to go ahead with the purchase of properties on which City taxes were not paid for 1937 or prior years. These suits were started last year but have not been completed. Approximately one-third of the properties included in the suits, have been foreclosed on by the city, it was stated.

The commissioners authorized Fire Chief Mack Cleveland and one fireman to attend the State Fireman's Association meeting in Jacksonville, Feb. 14. A special conference is scheduled for that date in Jacksonville to discuss fire defense problems. The Commission also authorized S. M. Rogers, Seminole County sanitary engineer, to assist G. L. Duncan, City sanitary inspector, in the inspection of all food handling establishments in the city.

British Forces Are Active In Tobruk Sector

Russians Claim New Gains; Germans Continue Retreat

(By Associated Press) British patrols were active over a wide area some 60 miles west of Tobruk in Libya today, but elsewhere the fighting was at a standstill.

Meanwhile Russian gains were claimed, including the recapture of seven populated Russian centers. The Germans continued to retreat.

To the south, Soviet commanders announced massive blows against the Nazi besiegers of the big Crimean naval base of Sevastopol. In the battle for that vital port alone, Soviet commanders declared the Germans have lost upwards of 40,000 men killed and wounded.

In the north the Russians announced that in the past few days the Red army surge had liberated more than 20 villages, annihilated two battalions of German infantry, wiped out a big headquarters and captured important enemy staff documents.

In this area the Germans were falling back rapidly, fighting stubborn rear-guard actions. The heaviest fighting raged in the Kalinin sector, where large German forces were trapped in the recent Soviet drive above and below the city.

Additional gains were registered on the central front, where the interrupted drive toward Smolensk blasted the Germans from 18 more localities between that Nazi-held strong point and Moscow.

Russian sappers paved the way for the Donets basin advance, clearing five lanes through one mine field two miles long and extracting 20,000 anti-tank mines at another point on the snow-crooked steppe.

The area west of Ain El Gassal, about 100 miles from the R.A.F. was always a disputed dominance of the skies even when the German and Italian advance was at its greatest, maintained its steady attacks on the R.A.F. forces, blasting in at their drawn-out communication lines all the way back to Tripoli.

Alexandria was raided last night for the first time in five months.

Striking bows at submarine bases from which the Germans have been attempting to break the British fleet's blockade of the Libyan coast, the R.A.F. made a long-range attack on Salamis, near Athens, Greece, blasting the naval dockyard, munitions factories and submarine wharves, and also started fires at Manti submarine base.

Gambling In Florida May Be Legalized

MIAMI, Feb. 10. (AP)—A county grand jury in its final report Monday recommended legalized gambling for the South Florida resort area.

Other grand jurors have made similar suggestions, but none had the background, as did this one, of an arena tightly closed against illegal gambling by order of the Governor.

"We believe," said the jurors, "that the Legislature should enact suitable laws whereby gambling, or at least certain forms of gambling, could be legalized and controlled, thereby eliminating the possibility of corruption and thus keeping gambling out of the controlling hands of cliques and racketeers."

Dutch Pay For Lease-Lend Goods

BATAVIA, Feb. 10. (AP)—The United States lease-lend arrangement is being used by the Netherlands East Indies to facilitate delivery of material, but the Dutch government intends to continue paying cash for defense materials from America.

The People's Council, in a statement Monday, said the dollar position of the Netherlands East Indies is such that paying cash is feasible and other arrangements would not be made unless the exchange position changed in the future.

Report Declares Vanguard Of American Navy Force Arrives At Pacific Island

Nippon Reserves Drive On City

Invaders May Be In Malaya Capital, British Source Says

BOSTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—The arrival at Wellington, New Zealand, of the vanguard of the United States Naval force was reported to the Christian Science Monitor by its correspondent, Joseph C. Harsch, who described also the landing of American reinforcements at "way stations" along the route from Pearl Harbor.

LONDON, Feb. 10. (AP)—The situation at Singapore is so grave it is possible the Japanese have infiltrated into the city itself and attacked the radio station there, informed British sources said today.

It was reported here the Singapore radio went off the air at 12:31 o'clock London time (7:30 A.M. E. W. T.). Military commentators added there was "no comfort at all" in the situation that the British are falling back under "very severe pressure."

The possibility that the British garrison had been left without air support was also in a commentator's mind to answer the question as to whether the R.A.F. still is operating in conjunction with the army.

The Japanese poured heavy new reinforcements across the Johore Strait today as the British acknowledged a new withdrawal before the greatly superior invasion forces hammering at the very gates of Singapore.

Tokyo dispatches claimed the Japanese are within five miles of the heart of the city. The British acknowledged the fighting is only 10 miles away.

Japanese communiqués, broadcast by Vichy, said all British airbases on Singapore Island are in Japanese hands, and Reuters reported the Singapore radio is silent.

London quarters described the situation as "very bad." A Berlin broadcast said the Japanese already are demanding the surrender of the besieged fortress.

The enemy had landed from specially equipped boats on the southwest coast of the island between 11 o'clock at night and 10 A.M. He was favored by almost total darkness; the half-moon did not rise until 1:00 A.M.

Using the same infiltration tactics with which he had taken the whole of the Malay peninsula in the weeks preceding this last showdown for Singapore, the invader had strewn his forces in the area from the mouth of the Kranji estuary along the northern shore down to Pasir Laba along the west coast.

War Agencies Set Up Separate Directorates

Bundles for Britain and Bundles for America, formerly Bundles for Bluejackets, have set up separate directorates nationally and are both functioning in different fields but toward the same ultimate goal, Mrs. I. D. Martin, local chairman of Bundles for Britain, disclosed today, stating that the board of Bundles for Britain is now headed by Mrs. Robert Worth Bingham, wife of the late ambassador to England.

The program of this organization will continue to be to furnish relief to the armed forces and civilian war sufferers of Great Britain, Mrs. Martin continued.

Bundles for Bluejackets headed by Mrs. Wales Lathan, former chairman of Bundles for Britain, was organized immediately upon declaration of war and its members make earmarks for the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard or Air Corps.

These two organizations work on equal footing with all other patriotic and war relief agencies, Mrs. Martin concluded.

HEAR, TYRANTS

(From Voices)
 O little tyrant with thy bright
 Thrown upon earthen, thy puny fist
 Upholds no scepter but a spear;
 In vain with weight thou dost
 Not dare lay down.
 Tyrants are not immortal, thou wilt find,
 And with them falls their retinue
 of fools.
 Their bloated henchmen and their crooked tools.
 And all the maggots of a tyrant's mind.
 With terrible insolence thy frenzied will Dost use its frantic power upon the world.
 As if thou wert immortal; the times await
 The awful deluge that thy word shall bring.
 Before the sun emerges into day
 The night has dark and dreadful words to say.

No Sabotage Involved

Although Admiral Andrews insists that no sabotage was involved in the burning of the $60,000,000 luxury liner Normandie, a thorough investigation should be made, not only by the naval authorities in charge and the Federal Bureau of Investigation, but also by a Congressional committee. It takes a heap of faith to believe that under the circumstances this fire could have been started accidentally.

The Normandie was one of the most modern liners afloat and as near fire-proof as it was possible to make it. It was also equipped with all modern fire-fighting devices and, being tied up at her pier, had the benefit of the most efficient fire-fighting force in the world. There were also some three thousand workmen on board at the time the fire started who were engaged in remodeling the ship.

Sparks from the acetylene torch of a workman were said to have started the fire when they ignited some bags of kapok. As this workman obviously was present at the time the fire started, he could have given an immediate alarm, as well as contributing some efforts of his own toward putting the fire out. And if three thousand workmen with all modern fire-fighting equipment available couldn't put out a small fire in a fireproof ship before it had gutted the entire superstructure, it strikes us there ought to be an investigation.

A newspaperman recently joined the CIO Maritime Union merely through the payment of an "exorbitant fee." He knew nothing whatever about the duties of a workman in the Maritime Union. They knew nothing whatever about him. He might have been a German Gestapo agent, a Russian communist, or a Banahse warrior for all they knew. He paid his fee and no questions were asked.

Was the workman whose acetylene torch started the fire on the Normandie a German agent? Among the three thousand CIO workmen on the Normandie at the time, were there 20 or 50 German agents? And does Admiral Andrews say that no sabotage was involved because he can thus more effectively conduct an investigation? Or is he afraid of the CIO?

We don't know. We were just wondering. But there were three hundred workmen injured in the fire. It looks as if they should have some rights.

Typewriter Wizardry

At the present time American inventive and scientific genius is being turned to the arts of war. It is too bad that the further development of miraculous contrivances for the comfort, convenience and entertainment of humanity will have to await the annihilation of Hitlerism. This was brought rather forcibly to our attention the other day when we learned that the manufacture of typewriters had been suspended for the duration.

Speaking of typewriters, did you know that the ordinary typewriter usually found in local offices is not the only kind affected by the ban? There are all kinds of special typewriters made for specialists alone who perform a wide variety of amazing tasks on their intricate little machines. There is for instance the "phonetic" typewriter which types words according to their sounds.
 "Special typewriters for various occupations run from musical to medical keyboards," says the New York Times.
 "Today's composers can type their musical scores; doctors, optometrists and druggists can typewrite complicated formulas. Among the other special machines are Braille keyboards for the blind, mathematical keyboards ranging in size according to the number of symbols added to the regular keyboard, a ninety-two character engineering key-board and railroad keyboards, complete with tariff signs.
 "Most special typewriters have the standard keyboard to which additional characters are added. However, there is one type of machine, called the "scientific typewriter," whose letters are completely deranged to correlate frequently used letters with the most convenient keyboard positions. Invented in order to increase typing speed and eliminate waste motion, it is not widely used because "scientific" typists cannot operate the more commonly used keyboards.

Among the most widely used "special" typewriters are the foreign language machines, ranging from Greek, Scandinavian and Hebrew—where the typewriter operates in reverse direction — to obscure Chinese, Philippine and South African dialects. Duo-types, which contain enough characters to write in two languages, have been produced in Latin-Greek, French-English and Greek-English, while some machines can even produce French-German-English and French-Spanish-English combinations.

All this suggests the scope and development of that earliest typewriter registered in the British Patent Office by Henry Mill, an engineer, in 1714. It was never manufactured. The first American typewriter was patented in 1829 by William Austin Burt of Detroit. France granted a typewriter patent in 1833.

EVERY INCH A SOLDIER

NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE

It is deeply satisfying to note that General MacArthur, the first important American military figure to emerge from this war, is so completely the soldier. There have been generals in this country's military history who could not write the part in every respect but one—they could not fight. There have been others who were not deficient in this primary requisite but who made their reputations by the way they handled the military. The General MacArthur, however, is a soldier and a writer. A soldier who was especially in the latter days when he was in the Pacific. He was a soldier who was especially in the latter days when he was in the Pacific. He was a soldier who was especially in the latter days when he was in the Pacific.

Large Crowd Attends Methodist Service

A good crowd was reported in attendance last evening at the revival services now in progress at the First Methodist Church. Because of the illness of Dr. S. W. Walker, the visiting minister, Moody Cunningham, gave the message. Mr. Cunningham is in Sanford to lead the singing, but the audience found that he can preach as well as sing and play several different musical instruments.

His subject was "Religious Parasites" or "Members the Church Would Be Better Off Without," using as his scripture, Luke 22: 21, "The Hand That Betrayeth Me is With Me At The Table."

Mr. Cunningham said the church's greatest hindrance is not the sin outside the church, but the members in the church. He listed the kind of members the church would be better off without as follows: "Rule or Ruin." Under this heading the pastor, Uncle Dick (dialect) Uncle Spect (spectator) Aunt Aggie (agitator) Aunt Emma (imitator) 2. "Chin on the shoulder kind." What they lack in common sense is made up in sensitiveness. 3. "Moribus Sabotus Kind," always sick on Sunday than any other day in the week. 4. "Selfish Type." Me first, myself second. "I'll take what's left. 5. "Fault-finding Members."

GAINESVILLE, Feb. 10. — (Special) — More than 400 water color sketches of Florida wild flowers—the work of a decade and a half—have been given to the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station by Mrs. Minna Fernald, well-known winter park artist.
 Dr. Wilmer Newell, experiment station director, expressed appreciation to Mrs. Fernald today and promised the accurate color and character portrayal of the plants represented in the collection. Other sketches are a very valuable contribution to the permanent station herbarium.

JUICY SUM

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—(AP) —The Commerce Department estimated Monday that Americans received a record income of $89,425,000,000 last year.
 This total, which included wages, dividends, profits and other types, was about $13,700,000 more than in 1940 and about $7,000,000,000 more than in 1929.

White Russia is thought to have been so named because the former traditional costume of its people consisted of white smocks, bast fiber shoes with white leggings, and white home-spun coats.
 Approximately 70 percent of the country's output of rayon yarn in 1941 is estimated to have been made in the south.

Making a Soldier of Sugar

AS we have sent men abroad to fight for America—as we have sent money—as we have dated steel, with other commodities, into fighting-service or enlisted wheat and other fighting foods—so we must make a soldier of sugar.

Nutrition for the nations at war is as vital to the outcome as the powder that feeds the gun. A great nutrient in time of peace—in war a veritable sinew—sugar is now called upon to play a heroic part, to supply the peoples of our Allies—whose strength is ours.

To wrap up sugar in the American flag, so to speak, and put it into the fight becomes a duty of loyalty. It will be borne cheerfully by every industry, every dealer, and every individual it falls upon. Upon certain industries it falls heavily—and especially on the workers who derive their living from them. Yet the American civilian is in this war with the soldier. America is the greatest and smallest, American capital from Wall Street to the remotest country bank, is with the Government every step of the way. The U. S. means U. S. All of us, are in the fight with everything we have, with everything we cherish.

It is a privilege to contribute to the war effort in every direction that opportunity may disclose, in manufacture as well as beyond the scope of our immediate interests; and in this effort generally we bespeak the co-operation of dealers and consumers everywhere.

THE COCA-COLA COMPANY
ATLANTA, GA.

WORLD WAR I 1917

The United States Government restricted the use of sugar in World War I. The response of The Coca-Cola Company was expressed in the newspaper advertisement reproduced at the left.

Again, Sugar enlists for Victory

WORLD WAR II 1942

History repeats itself in World War II. Sugar has been called to war again. Our government has restricted the use of sugar for all. Naturally, that includes Coca-Cola.

You'll continue to find Coca-Cola around the corner from anywhere, though we regret that you won't be able to enjoy the pause that refreshes as often as you might like. Our volume has been reduced. But this we pledge: the character of Coca-Cola will be unimpaired. The American people can continue to trust its quality. As in 1917, we count upon the patience of dealers everywhere. Conserving sugar is another step toward Victory. Whatever any of us may have, or may not have, Victory we must have above all else!
