ONE KILLED AS TRAGEDY ENDS OCEAN FLIGHT

Polish Airman Dies When Ship Crashes On Small Isle; Companion Badly Hurt

HORTA, Azores July 15—(INS)—A little mound of sunbaked earth, a withered wreath resting against a flat topped rock and a Polish flag, upon the isolated island of Graciosa, at the tip of the Azores, stood today as the monument to Maj. Ludwick Idzikowski, Polish airman killed Saturday night attempting a non-stop flight from Porto to New York.

Idzikowski's flying companion, Maj. Kazimierz Kubala, lie in a local cemetery in the hospital, suffering from injuries received when the fuel tank of the plane exploded.

There is a heap of wreckage on the rocky shore—the remains of the Amit biplane. Marshal Sklanski—which had started off, skillfully from Le Bourget flying field, near Paris, Saturday at dawn in what was to have been a merry morn Atlantic air with the French plane. Question mark.

Latest details from Graciosa this afternoon told the complete story of this latest air tragedy. It was dusk on Saturday evening when residents of Graciosa saw a white plane approaching from the sea.

There were two men in the plane, one of whom leaped over the side and made his way to the deck. He was evidently trying to find if there was a landing place. The people of Graciosa stood by the side of the plane, watching skyward, thrilled by this strange and sudden sky visitor.

As the plane skinned over cultivated ground near the village of Santa Cruz, the people realized did not know the airman knew no longer, but an expert could have detected mechanical trouble by the disjointed pounding of the motor.

Finally the nose of the Marshal Sklanski dipped and the plane dropped specially to land. So rapid was its progress the momentum carried it swiftly over a sharp declivity.

The plane turned over as it crashed and a human figure fell from the cockpit. There was a crack of fire and an explosion and the immobile portions of the machine were soon consumed by fire.

Idzikowski, piloting the plane, was strapped to his seat. Otherwise he might have been thrown clear of the burning plane and possibly escaped with injuries, assistance of the men. They found Kubala unconscious. Under the debris they discovered the mutilated remains of Idzikowski. He had been killed almost instantly, it was believed.

Spectators who had been watching the downward swoop of the plane, rushed forward when they heard the explosion. Some of them slightly injured by flying fragments of the gasoline tank. Kubala's body, which was partially buried in the sand, had his body bent, limbs were badly broken. Kubala unconscious was rushed to the nearest hospital. After an examination a doctor said his injuries were serious but he hoped for recovery.

It was decided to bury Idzikowski at once at the spot where he was killed. So far as known the Polish authorities will allow his body to remain there.

Week-End Mishaps Throughout South Claim Fifteen Lives

By International News
Fifteen persons were dead and a score or more injured in the southeastern states today as the result of accidents occurring over the week-end.

Atlanta had two casualties, one from a falling chimney striking a child and another from an automobile smash-up. Birmingham also had two, one from an airplane crash and the other from an automobile accident.

Two children were drowned while playing in shallow water near Ft. Petersburg, Fla., and an electrician was killed when hit by an airplane making a take-off at Erwin, Tenn.

A woman was killed in a molten explosion near Flores, Ala., and a man died when a railway locomotive struck him at Marion, Ga.

Automobile accidents also cost five lives at Jesup, Ga., Augusta, Ga., and Jackson, Tenn. An automobile accident at Elizabethtown, Tenn., claimed another victim.

Paris Grief-Stricken Over Fate Of Major Idzikowski; Costes Lauds Rival Airmen

PARIS, July 15—(INS)—The city was plunged into grief today as the catastrophe which befell Majors Idzikowski and Kubala, Polish entrants in the trans-Atlantic air race starting under such auspicious circumstances from Le Bourget air field Saturday.

Capt. Dieudonne Costes and Maurice Bellonte, French airmen who took off a short time after their Polish rivals and who also failed in an attempt to span the ocean from the west, were deeply affected by the tragedy. Both remained in virtual seclusion today, refusing any plausible excuse for their 20 hour flight which took them almost to the Azores and back to France again.

Costes and Bellonte returned to Paris after landing at Villeneuve aerodrome, just outside of Paris, disheartened over their failure, but convinced that no mortal nor plane could ride out the headwinds of hurricane force which drove them back over their route after they had left a thousand miles of ocean behind them.

"We have done nothing. We want no praise," said Costes when he returned to Paris. "Our thoughts are with that gallant fellow who lies in the Azores, victim of the same relentless wind which nearly drove us to a similar fate."

"It is a pity, that guiding his plane against such terrific obstacles to a seemingly safe haven that this accident should have occurred," Maj. Idzikowski was a great airmen and a fine gentleman. I find it difficult to believe that he is gone." I shall never forget the smile I saw Saturday night on the face he had planned so long."

Capt. Costes' first question when he learned of the crash was whether the Poles still had been in the air Saturday night.

"If they spent that night in the air, what a terrible night it must have been," he said. "I did not believe the same plane could stand the beating that wind gave us."

Costes and Bellonte landed at Villeneuve at 10:30 A. M. yesterday, 1,100 A. M. in New York, after being in the air 20 hours.

TROLLEY SERVICE RESUMED TODAY TURNED OVER TO IN NEW ORLEANS NEW COMMISSION

Federal Marshals Are On First Car Which Is Greeted By Crowds

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 15.—(INS)—The first street car seen on the streets of New Orleans in 14 days left the Canal Street car barn this morning and made its way through avenues lined with crowds almost as large as during Mardi Gras celebration.

The trolley, heavily guarded by United States deputy marshals armed with machine guns and tear gas bombs, completed the tumultuous ride without a hitch.

In addition to the deputies on the car, three hundred special police lined the route of the trolley, and in all consciousness seats were tucked copies of the federal court injunction restraining striking carmen from interfering with the operation of cars and from acts of violence upon property of the New Orleans Public Service Inc.

Other than the non-union operators and guards, the first car on the streets was empty, no passengers being aboard it.

The guards made an exhibit of their arms and were in readiness for any hostility. Other cars were expected to be dispatched from the car barns over the city during the day.

The crowds watching the operation of the first trolley were increasing hourly but, so far as orders have been reported, Police authorities continued to recruit additional men and suitable cordons of officers were posted to patrol the routes of the trolleys, at least for today.

Carload Of Poultry Will Relieve Local Market Conditions

In an effort to relieve what is described as a congested condition in the poultry market, Alex H. Johnson, head of the Vocational Agricultural Department of the High School, today outlined a plan which was recently adopted by the Lake County Poultry Association.

The scheme calls for a carload shipment of hens and layers to northern markets. The car will be chartered at Orlando and will be side-tracked in several other cities until the shipment is completed. Local poultry dealers will take their chickens to Orlando as was announced.

The plan for disposing of the birds was outlined in a letter sent out by Mr. Lissie as follows:

"An approximate consignment of 100,000 to 15 to 20 rotable each buyers of live poultry and hens received for each grade, the latter to be sold to the highest bidder. The individual buying his poultry to the car which is spotted at convenient points along the line, and is paid cash when he delivers his birds to the car."

Local dealers are advised to have their stock delivered to Mr. Johnson on Tuesday morning to ascertain that the chickens to be placed in the car which is to be sent to market from Orlando Tuesday afternoon.

Two children were drowned while playing in shallow water near Ft. Petersburg, Fla., and an electrician was killed when hit by an airplane making a take-off at Erwin, Tenn.

A woman was killed in a molten explosion near Flores, Ala., and a man died when a railway locomotive struck him at Marion, Ga.

Automobile accidents also cost five lives at Jesup, Ga., Augusta, Ga., and Jackson, Tenn. An automobile accident at Elizabethtown, Tenn., claimed another victim.

U. S. MAY SIDE WITH RUSSIANS IN CHINESE ROW

Washington Thinks Railroad's Seizure Is Not Justifiable; Japan Is Watched

WASHINGTON, July 15—(INS)—

The strange anomaly of the American government lending moral support to the Soviet Russia in its present Chinese crisis, appears among the possibilities of the substitution of the Chinese Eastern Railroad.

On the contrary, comment among the state officials is that China will have difficulty in persuading the world, most of which is opposing Russia, that the situation was justified.

The United States is waiting developments, and, while professing to be optimistic over the peaceful outcome, officials privately fear the worst.

The greatest danger, according to well informed opinion here is from Japan, and if that nation uses the naming of Russian troops on the Manchurian border as an excuse to send her own troops there, strongly for the sake of the Chinese Eastern Railroad.

The only hope for action by the Japanese which would be acceptable to the United States would be to go in as an avowed ally of China at the latter's behest, but it was explained.

Feeling here is that if war between the Soviet and Nationalist China does occur as a result of the existing Chinese conflict with Russia, the outcome to the revolution of the republic is a foregone conclusion, and the world would welcome the opportunity to smash revolution in Asia, and to all.

Japan might take ten courses of action for the protection of her interests without the formality of declaring herself China's ally, she might formally declare war on Russia if China were attacked.

At the same time, Grandy supporting proposals to subordinate the American selling price of a foreign article for the foreign values as a basis of tariff rates.

GREENVILLE, Tenn., July 15—

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., July 15—(INS)—Two youths, believed by authority to be Ambrose Mosby, 18, and H. G. Kreis, 18, both of Louisville, Ky., were dead here today and officers were investigating the mystery surrounding what they believed to be a double murder.

Mosby was found dead lying on the side of the highway near Moehring, Tenn., and Kreis, in a dying condition was found a few feet away. The latter was brought to a local hospital where he later succumbed. Partial identification was made by cards found on the two men.

Minister Says Police Meeting Was "Wet"

Atlanta, July 15—(INS)—

A county grand jury has been asked to find out if the recent international convention of police chiefs held here was a "wet" gathering. It was convened in a session at a local church last night. Assailing the conditions he blamed for crime here, Rev. L. W. Colling told his congregation that a delegation from the Atlanta Christian Council—a pastor's organization—had waited on the grand jury and asked it to investigate reports that prohibition laws were violated at the police chief's convention.

FAIR WEATHER AHEAD!

We believe the foresightedness of the men behind the First National Bank in closing that institution before serious consequences could result, will ultimately mean the repayment to its depositors a large portion of their funds, if not all, the initial dividend of which will be in the near future.

True, it means hardship, privation, and serious financial handicaps for a few months. It means that we all will be drawn closer together, will understand each others problems better, become united in a common cause, for the common good, for the economic welfare of Sanford, because SANFORD is SOUND fundamentally and no bank closing can ruin it.

Courage, fellow citizens of Sanford and Seminole County, dwellers in the world's greatest garden spot, harvesters of golden profit from the richest known soil! Many cities have lifted their heads above disaster a thousand times greater than a bank closing—look forward to the good things that are in store, that are here for those who have the grit to overcome the obstacles that lie before every deserving victory.

SOMETHING CHIC IN BRIDAL GOWNS

Chris Stephenson Draws Sentence Of Life Imprisonment

(Continue From Page One) whether Mrs. Jenkins was to accompany her husband. The latter was said to have insisted that she go with him while Stephenson was equally persistent in the contention that the woman should main here.

Arriving at a side road the party drove a short distance when, the women testified, Stephenson told them and the other two men to walk down the road because he wanted to talk with Jenkins. They heard six shots and returned to find Stephenson standing over the bullet-riddled body of Jenkins.

The party left the body, drove to Sorrento, stopped there briefly and then came to Sanford. Later Stephenson returned to Lake county with the two women and told the sheriff his story. The following day he was ordered held with Mrs. Jenkins and Mrs. Holland. Monday the deputy was indicted for first degree murder and the women were exonerated but were detained as material witnesses. The trial was set for today.

Early last week Stephenson was examined by five physicians and reports were current that he would seek to escape the chair by entering a plea of insanity. Despite this, the deputy contended all along that he would claim self-defense, declaring that Jenkins had resisted arrest and that he had to kill the man to protect his own life.

The court opened this morning at 10 o'clock. A small group of spectators was present, most of them friends of Stephenson from Sanford. Almost immediately counsel for the deputy made known Stephenson's desire to plead guilty to second degree murder. Judge Koomey ordered a stenographer to take down the proceedings in order that a record might be available for any future action for pardon.

After Mrs. Jenkins and Mrs. Holland had testified, two negroes who discovered Jenkins' body near a lake, were summoned. They were followed by Dr. M. M. Hamann of Tavares who told of examining the body. Sheriff J. P. McClelland of Sanford told of Jenkins' bad character and testified as to the good reputation of Stephenson. Deputy Sheriff C. W. Cooper of Lake county told of finding the body after being summoned by the negroes.

Turning to Stephenson, Judge Koomey asked him if he desired to tell his story and Mr. DeCotter informed the court that his client would have nothing to say.

Judge Wallace W. Wright and State's Attorney Millard B. Smith addressed Judge Koomey, praising Stephenson's character and urging leniency for the defendant. Judge Wright said he had known Stephenson for several years, knew that he was an efficient officer and conscientious in his duties. He said the deputy had a good record here and that this was the first time he had been in trouble. Mr. Smith remarked that the last session of the grand jury here had recommended Stephenson as an officer and praised him for assistance rendered in its investigation.

Judge Koomey then launched into his scathing rebuke and finished by sentencing the man to life imprisonment. The proceedings lasted for nearly two hours and a half, closing about 12:30.

CHIC AND GRACE

Your afternoon frocks must be just as soft and graceful as they are chic. The frock shown today is a perfect example of the afternoon mode. Softness of line is achieved in this frock by the bounce which extends around the lower edge and up at the left side. It is a very full frock, the gathering Jacob's Ladder, from a low at the left side. In such a gown you may appropriately growl at the most formal afternoon functions especially if it be made of chiffon in one of the new shades of green, blue or red. The printed chiffon and silk crepe are equally suitable.

Jones Attorneys To Seek Sanity Hearing

COLUMBUS, July 14 (INS)—Dr. James H. Jones, who represented the Jewish community in the case of the Negroes held in a prison camp by the State of Florida, has filed a suit in the U.S. District Court here to seek a hearing before the U.S. Supreme Court.

Although there is an agreement among producers not to make public their film costs, several of the companies have given out estimates in supplying figures. Other figures are based on an estimate of the cost of competing companies.

Defense attorneys, who had been asked to file a complaint in the case, that they would file a formal motion for a sanity hearing tomorrow.
