THE PARCELS POST

Will Cause Express Companies To Lower Their Rates

A reader of the Evening Record asks us to once more give some detailed information concerning the new Parcels Post Law which will become effective on the first of January next. There has been no legislation of more far-reaching importance enacted in recent years inasmuch as the Parcels Post plan effects the interests of practically every citizen of the United States. For years a howl has gone up about the excessive charges of the express companies and it was urged that should the Parcels Post system be adopted it would provide a most effective remedy and at the same time promote trade. Experience alone can demonstrate the value of these arguments. But the new law means that in less than three months people can send through the mails, if contained as prescribed, and otherwise complying with the law as to mailable matter, packages not exceeding 11 pounds in weight. The limit now is four pounds.

The charges of Uncle Sam will vary not only with the weight, but with distance to be carried. To meet the latter provision, zones are established about the mailing points and the rate charged as the destination is located as to these zones. Within the limits of a free delivery city the rates are quite low and at a glance it would seem likely that the parcels post charges will be taken advantage of by people within such cities for delivery within its limits and in the zone immediately adjacent, more than for the longer distances.

After January 1st, for instance, a downtown merchant will be able to send a pound package to a purchaser's home in the most distant parts of the city for 6 cents, and parcels weighing more, with slightly increased charges up to the limit of 11 pounds. Within the city the charge will be one additional cent for each additional pound up to the maximum limit, so that the heaviest parcel—11 pounds—may be delivered in any part of the city with fair promptness and absolute certainty for 15 cents.

Out side the city a zone of 50 miles with the city as the center, is established, and for delivery to any point in it the charge will be 5 cents a pound package, with an additional charge of 3 cents for each additional pound.

The next zone will be outside this 50-mile belt and within a radius of 150 miles. In that zone the charge will be 6 cents for the first pound, with an additional charge of four cents for each additional pound in the parcel. That will mean that while a pound parcel may be sent after January 1st for 6 cents, a two-pound parcel will cost 10 cents, a three-pound parcel 14 cents, etc., up to the maximum weight, which will cost 46 cents.

The next zone is that outside the 150-mile belt and within a radius of 300 miles from the mailing point in which the mailing charge is to be 7 cents for one-pound parcels, with an addition of 5 cents for each additional pound in the weight. The maximum charge in that charge would be 57 cents.

Then come the zones with a 600-mile radius and a charge of 8 cents for the first pound and an additional charge of 6 cents for the additional pounds; the 1,000-mile zone, with a rate of 9 cents and 7 cents per pound additional; the 1,400-mile radius with charges of 10 cents and 9 cents; the 1,800-mile zone, with charges of 11 and 10 cents, and finally all territory outside that one with flat charges of 12 cents a pound.

It is apparent that the new postal provisions will cut in on the business of the express companies, principally on the smaller weight parcels. The express companies have a minimum rate now that makes expressing expensive, and the parcels post will give relief from this, but on the larger or rather heavier packages it will still be cheaper to send them by express.

For instance, the express companies' charge for an 11-pound package for a certain distance is now only 45 cents, while to send such a package by the parcels post will cost the sender 46 cents.

Similarly it will be cheaper to send a limit parcel, 11 pounds, for a short distance, by express after Jan. 1st, than by parcels post, for the express companies will carry it for 30 cents, while Uncle Sam will charge 35 cents. But on the lighter parcels the express companies will have to cut their rates or lose the business.—St. Augustine Record.

The offices of the Florida Vegetable Growers' Association opened yesterday for business, C. L. Smith having returned from his vacation spent in New Jersey. President Hughes is expected to arrive in the city in a few days and the Association will soon assume the former air of activity.

Early Truck and a Good Market

It goes without saying that early truck sent north finds a good market. There is only one way to fertilize for early truck, and that is to use a fertilizer that is rich in plant food, and, more than that, rich in available plant food. An early crop must have food when it wants it. If it is not supplied the crop will fail.

supply quickly available plant food in the best forms not only to start off the crop quickly and keep it growing vigorously but to back it up through the season and to ripen and harden off the product. It is this sort of combination that has brought success to many Florida truckers in the past thirty years and for this reason they swear by:

SOME IMPRESSIONS AND EXPERIENCES OF A TRIP TO OLD ENGLAND

Of course no one could think of a visit to London without a visit to the famous Abbey and to the building which has housed for so long a time the "Mother of Parliaments." And since they are within a few steps of each other they are usually visited at the same time.

It is a great disappointment at first to find that the Abbey of which we have heard so much and which occupies such a prominent place in our thoughts, is a very grimy and black and apparently neglected building. Here we always expect to see any building of importance in the best possible condition and kept scrupulously white and clean. Though we all have seen many pictures of the Abbey we have failed to notice from them that the building is such a dark and black one. So we are at first disappointed when we see from the distance that it is not as beautiful as we expected. That, however, is not the fault of those who take care of the building, for it is built of a kind of sand stone that is really disintegrated by the attacks of the climate and forms on its surface a coat of a dark colored deposit, the continuous removal of which would soon destroy the building. Evidently England affords no better material for practically all the public buildings are covered with this same black coating.

But one must soon forget the first impression of disappointment when one stops to think that here before him stands the greatest "City of the Dead" the world can show. No other country can boast a burying place where so many famous people have found a last resting place as can England. Not alone does one see the tombs of great statesmen. One can find within these walls an array of poets, authors, explorers, warriors, inventors and public benefactors, such as all the rest of the world together could not match. The writer is sure that no Englishman ever entered this majestic hall with more of reverence for the illustrious dead that here repose, than he did.

But the Abbey can boast more of fame than that it contains multitudes of famous bones. It has a claim upon one of the highest places in the ranks of architecture. And then again, were it bereft of these two claims upon recognition as one of the world's greatest buildings it would still be worthy of the pilgrim's coming thither for the reason that this old pile has looked down upon the constantly changing scene at its feet for nine centuries. It is no wonder that the Westminster Abbey is the object of greatest interest to the thoughtful tourist, since it bears the triple crown of noble architecture, venerable age and hallowed memories, and through each aisle and chapel of this national museum flows the stream of English history, none the less real because invisible.

To attempt to take in all of interest at one visit to the Abbey is evidently impossible. So the writer paid a visit of only a few hours' duration to the famous spot the first time, and again later when the impressions of the first view had taken firm hold went again to become still more intimately acquainted with the many things of interest here.

The Abbey is visible for a long distance, no matter from which side one approaches it. One at once remembers the numerous pictures one has seen of it. Its form is that of a Latin cross, and though its greatest length is about five hundred feet, which is not so great as some others of the world's cathedrals, yet its dignified and graceful Gothic architecture make it an impressive sight and one that remains long in the memory of the traveller. The north transept was the first entered, and in this portion among the many memorials to those that sleep beneath the pavement are those of Pitt, Fox, Palmerston, Peel, Disraeli, and Gladstone. Indeed so many statesmen rest here that it has come to be known as the statesmen's aisle.

Turning into the west aisle of the north transept there is one especially interesting monument, that to Jonas Hanway, the man who first had the courage to use an umbrella in England. Another one is that to Warren Hastings. Next one turns into the north aisle of the choir, where rest the bones of many of England's most famous musicians. Here too may be seen the monument to the famous Sir Isaac Newton. Nearby may be seen the monuments of "Rare Ben Johnson," William Pitt, Wordsworth, Charles Kingsley, Matthew Arnold, David Livingstone, Clyde and Outram of Indian Mutiny fame.

Walking along the south aisle of the nave we see above the door leading to the Deanery a small oak gallery erected in the sixteenth century and other monuments to the memory of such famous persons as Buckland, the geologist, General Wade, the famous road maker, Godolphin, whose royal master said was "never in the way and never out of the way," and Major Andre hanged as a spy during the American War of Independence.

But most interesting of all is the south transept, more commonly known as the Pets' Corner. The transept is famous throughout the English speaking world, for here are memorials to all the great English poets, bards and writers from Chaucer to Tennyson and Ruskin. Only a few are actually buried here, but this is the spot chosen for such commemoration as art can give. The tomb of Chaucer, which dates from 1400, from which the corner "derives the origin of its peculiar glory," stands beneath a magnificent stained glass window, representing scenes from the immortal "Pilgrimage." Close to this are memorials to Browning, Tennyson, Longfellow, Milton, Spencer, Shakespeare, Dickens, Thackeray, Macaulay and a few others of almost as great renown.

Of still greater historic interest is that portion of the Abbey known as the South Ambulatory. From the entrance of this part, parties are conducted by the vergers around the chapels and Royal Tombs every fifteen minutes, provided one will pay the sum of sixpence. It is well worth the price for the very first tomb is the traditional one of King Sebert, the Saxon founder of the Abbey, who died in the early years of the seventh century. In the several royal chapels that follow one may see not only the tombs of the larger number of England's kings and queens, but their arms and devices and banners. Here are buried a large and notable company of heroic warriors and knights and princes of the royal blood too numerous to mention.

In one of these chapels stands the famous Coronation Chair, which contains the Stone of Scone, the traditional stone upon which the head of Jacob rested at Bethel. Though it can be proven that it is only a block of Scotch sandstone, yet all the monarchs of England since the time of Edward the First have been crowned upon it and it is therefore worthy of more than a passing glance.

Outside the Abbey are the cloisters consisting of four walks, and dating from the fifteenth century, though some parts are even older. Here are tombs of many abbots, with nearly obliterated inscriptions.

Many other parts of the Abbey are exceedingly interesting but space forbids a description of the whole. No one can realize the peculiar impression that comes over one when he steps over the threshold and stands under the lofty ceiling that shelters so much of interest that has beneath it the bones of so many of the world's greatest children, where have been crowned the long line of England's rulers, and where countless thousands of the world's travellers have come to pay homage to their memory. Here one may step immediately from the busy streets of central London into the hushed atmosphere of this great Abbey, where one unconsciously lowers his voice out of reverence for the spirit that pervades the place. Here one may in the middle of the day find a quiet resting place and may contemplate the greatness of those that have been honored by a great nation in being buried here. I think that no matter how great a contempt one may have for the spirit and achievements of the past a few moments spent in the quiet Abbey lit by the light of lofty stained glass windows, and in the presence of so many memorials to those that for a time have held the attention of the world will cause them to change a little at least.

May Get Life

Sidna Allen and Wesley Edwards, alleged principal conspirators in the Hillsville, Va., courtroom tragedy, may accept life terms sentenced to the penitentiary as a compromise and in lieu of standing trial, according to a special dispatch to the Sentinel from Bristol.

It is reported that negotiations for such a compromise are now pending. The cases are set for trial at Wytheville, Va., Oct. 28. It is definitely stated that Miss Iroler, Edwards' sweetheart, will receive none of the rewards for the capture of the two men. Detectives followed her from Mt. Airy, N. C., to Des Moines, Iowa, where Allen and Edwards were recently captured. The girl's father, who is said to have assisted the detectives, is reported to have received $500 of the reward a few days ago.

FARMER GETS LESS, BUT—

He Has to Pay More for What He Doesn't Raise.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has just announced that notwithstanding the increased cost of living among the people as a whole there was a greater decline in the prices paid to farmers from Aug. 1 to Sept. 1 this year than there was last year.

The average farm prices of the important crops (corn, wheat, oats, barley, rye, flaxseed, potatoes, tobacco, cotton and hay, which represent about three-fourths of the value of all the country's crops) declined 7 per cent during the month, while in that time last year they declined in price only 4.4 per cent, and during the last four years the decline in price averaged 2.8 per cent. The average of farm prices on Sept. 1 was 2.8 per cent lower than on that date last year.

Prices paid to farmers on Sept. 1 this year, with comparison of prices paid on the same date last year, follow:

Articles.	1912.	1911.
Corn	$0.776	$0.659
Wheat	.858	.848
Oats	.350	.404
Barley	.535	.770
Rye	.708	.769
Buckwheat	.768	.740
Flaxseed	1.628	2.038
Potatoes	.650	1.137
Hay	12.140	14.610
Cotton	.113	.118
Butter	.242	.231
Chickens	.118	.111
Eggs	.191	.174

But the prices on tariff nurtured articles of manufacture which the farmer has to buy continue to soar.

TRUTH ABOUT THE TRUST

"Expected Economies from Combination" Do Not Materialize.

(Louis D. Brandeis in Collier's.)
Leaders of the new (Third Term) party argue that industrial monopolies should be legalized, lest we lose the efficiency of large scale production and distribution. No argument could be more misleading.

It may be safely asserted that in America there is no line of business in which all or most concerns or plants must be concentrated in order to attain the size of greatest efficiency. For while a business may be too small to be efficient, efficiency does not grow indefinitely with increasing size. What the most efficient size is can be learned definitely only by experience. The unit of greatest efficiency is reached when the disadvantages of size counterbalance the advantages. The unit of greatest efficiency is exceeded when the disadvantages of size outweigh the advantages. The history of American trusts makes this clear. That history shows:

First—No conspicuous American trust owes its existence to the desire for increased efficiency. Expected economies from combination figure largely in promoters' prospectuses, but they have never been a compelling motive in the formation of any trust. On the contrary, the purpose of combining has often been to curb efficiency or even to preserve inefficiency, thus frustrating the natural law of the survival of the fittest.

Second—No conspicuously profitable trust owes its profits largely to superior efficiency. Some trusts have been very efficient, as have some independent concerns, but conspicuous profits have been secured mainly through control of the market—through the power of monopoly to fix prices—through this exercise of the taxing power.

Third—No conspicuous trust has been efficient enough to maintain long as against the independents its proportion of the business of the country without continuing to buy up, from time to time, its successful competitors.

There is plenty of peace about the Taft candidacy, but nobody claims "it passeth understanding."

Woodrow Wilson says to the long-suffering farmer who buys in a trust-controlled, highly protected market and sells his wares in a free market: "Walk into your own house and take possession."

How many of those who are struggling with the "High Cost of Living" believe there is to be any relief if the Republican party, which brought it about, remains in power?

What's a Moosette? A Third Term peekaboo!

Gov. Wilson said to the newspaper men, at the New York Press Club banquet: "Suppose you had a House of Representatives mixed like the present Senate. I think we could all go fishing for the next two years." But he's at the helm and there won't be any mixing. Democrats—that's all.

More Eggs Is What You Want

AND YOU WANT THEM MOST WHEN THE PRICE IS THE HIGHEST

It is Easy to Keep Your Hens Laying the Year Round

WORMS, BUGS AND INSECTS form the essential chemical elements that eggs are composed of. The hen gets some of this animal life during the summer time, and consequently she is a better egg producer during that season. With the coming of cold weather and the destruction of insect life, the egg supply falls off, and you have noticed in the severest weather the hen quits laying entirely. THERE IS JUST ONE REASON FOR THIS. She is not getting the materials essential for the formation of the egg. It has been scientifically demonstrated that FRESH GREEN BONE, properly ground, with adhering pieces of meat and gristle, contains in almost the exact proportions, the very food elements needed in place of worms and bugs the hen cannot find in winter, and in many places cannot get to in the summer. If she got worms and bugs all the time; the egg would not fall off any time. If you feed the FRESH GROUND BONE, which is just as good, she will be kept in prime conditions and continue to lay as long as she is getting this food. Every poultry raiser that knows his business feeds ground bone, and gets big returns from his investment. They also say that young chickens that are fed fresh ground bone thrive better and mature quicker. Just try this out and see how soon the pennies you spend for ground bone are turned into DOLLARS.

- For President: WOODROW WILSON, of New Jersey. For Vice-President: THOMAS R. MARSHALL of Indiana. Presidential Electors: JEFFERSON B. BROWNE, J. FRED DeBERRY, CHARLES E. JONES, W. CHIPLEY JONES, LELAND J. HENDERSON, H. C. SPARKMAN, Congressman, State-at-Large, CLAUDE L'ENGLE, Congressman Second District, FRANK CLARK, Governor, PARK TRAMMELL, Secretary of State, H. C. SHEATS, State Chemist, R. E. ROSE, Adjutant General, J. C. R. FOSTER.

Donegan of Kissimmee is receiving mention and in this respect The Herald will lend a willing hand any time that the Honorable Arthur makes the race. In that time he will have served his full time as state senator and his mind will be stored with facts political, he will have a greater grasp on affairs in general, his mind already well trained for matters of state and the affairs of business will be most finely drawn and ready to cope with the larger range of matters and he would make the state a most excellent chief executive.

Keep your eye on Hon. A. E. Donegan of Osceola and Orange counties and the state of Florida, for he will loom largely in the public eye in the next four years.

TO THE SANFORD HOTEL CO.

The Herald doffs its chapeau to the Sanford Hotel Co. Whatever of harshness we may have said about you, gentlemen, in the past is forgotten and we beg your pardon now. Your magnanimous offer to deed the valuable piece of property to the individual or corporation who would construct a hotel thereon, without one cent of money for the property, demonstrates that your hearts are certainly in the right place and you have the best interests of Sanford at heart. This paper congratulates you, gentlemen, on your generous offer and congratulates the city of Sanford on the new tourist hotel that is bound to be built as soon as this offer is circulated.

PRaise FOR FLORIDA EDITORS

To the editors of the papers of Florida is due a marked measure of the prosperity and progress which that great state is enjoying.

It is but a statement of a fact to say that in no state of the nation do the papers give more attention and space to those things that tend to the upbuilding and the development of all resources than do those of Florida. There is a notable feature of the press of Florida. The casual reader of the average paper of Florida may be inclined to think that a building or industrial boom is on or is probable in the town in which the paper is published, and he has good opportunity of gaining information, as to the resources, offerings of the town and adjacent sections. As a matter of fact the Florida papers have adopted the excellent policy of giving space and attention to these things and advertising of the kind is of considerable value.

Naturally the Florida editors are enthusiastic about the growth and upbuilding of their state naturally because there have been few states of the Union to progress so rapidly and substantially as Florida is doing right now. In the development of their state, the Florida editors have a great subject, and they are doing more than discharging their full measure of duty to it. No state has more loyal editors than has Florida. Columbus, Ga., Index.

SUNDAY CLOSING

County Senator DeGibbs is being congratulated from the local stand for taking upon the Sunday closing law. And Sheriff Kirkwood deserves no less our commendation for the prompt and generous manner in which he met the issue.

We are in a pretty fair way to judge of the trend of public sentiment in this city on any issue of that sort and we believe that while many well-meaning persons favor closing the confectionery and cigar stores on Sundays, the vast majority favor their remaining open.

This Sunday closing law is a far more or less, all over the state. As the Times-Union pointed out some days ago, in most towns a man can purchase a gallon of gasoline, or hire a rig for a pleasure trip, but he is forbidden an innocent saucer of ice cream.

This sort of thing does not engender a respect for the law. On the contrary, it makes of it an instrument to be dodged and tampered with. Law is based upon common sense, and fortunately admits of interpretation by reasonable men. And it would be a very difficult matter indeed to get a jury of reasonable men to convict a Sunday ice cream seller. The average man is too big, and is daily confronted with issues which he recognizes to be much graver than this, that he has very little patience for such minor quibbles as this.

The law cannot be rigidly enforced in view of this perfectly obvious fact, and a law that cannot be enforced to its utmost limit, is a poor law and should be erased from the statutes. Reporter-Star.

LOCAL PRICES

It is to be hoped that the merchant and business men of the city will take into consideration the value of reasonable prices for commodities as an attraction to the winter visitors. There is so much talk these days about the high cost of living, that a town that becomes advertised as a "high town" is in no good way to win favor as a place of residence. We recently had called to our attention...

tion the fact that a certain citizen of the city saved in the neighborhood of seventy dollars by ordering three articles of home equipment, in placing his order in Virginia. The freight from that Virginia city to Orlando was a dollar and five cents for each article, making an aggregate of three dollars and fifteen cents in favor of the Virginia market. But he was charged seventy dollars difference here.

Now we believe in supporting the home merchant. That is the very fundamental principle of a town's prosperity. Keep the money at home, keep the business at home, keep the prosperity at home. But the buyer is justified in insisting upon being dealt with fairly by the home merchants. Otherwise he becomes a foreign buyer, and the local business disintegrates.

It is Orlando's cue as we see it to cater not so much to the transient tourists as to the permanent winter residents, to that class of people who purchase homes, and dwell with us for a number of months, returning each year. Such people help to pay the city's taxes, support local business, and assist to build up the city in a permanent way.

Let no handicap be placed on the city's appeal to this class of visitors. On the other hand, every inducement should be held out to them to settle here. Reporter-Star.

In Circuit Court, Seventh Judicial Circuit, Orange County, Florida. E. Doyle vs. Emma E. Doyle.

RICH LAND VS. POOR LAND

Eroneous Impression Created Among Norther Investors
Editor Sanford Herald:

Will you permit me the use of a little space in your columns in order that I may if possible correct a wrong impression that seems to have gained considerable import throughout the whole country. Some dozen or more years ago, the celery, lettuce and general vegetable industry, which has proved so eminently successful, was originated in Sanford, after the disastrous freeze which almost ruined the orange industry in Florida. We have heard of no other place that has done nearly so well as we have. It will be remembered that only a few years ago we have records of some of our growers harvesting from one to two thousand dollars per acre on our sub-irrigated lands, even as late as the season of last year, even greater sums were realized, on many acres of our best sub-irrigated farms. On these records which belong distinctly to us, I find that hundreds of other land schemes have originated all over the state, by advertising that these lands will produce just as much as ours and are so very much cheaper. I wish to take exception to this eroneous practice of advertising that is being circulated all over the whole country. I want to add right here that there is not another place in the whole state of Florida that has as good transportation facilities as Sanford, where the soil and climate permit of such vast production. I want to correct the eroneous impression that has gone abroad generally that our lands are too high. These eroneous impressions are working against us much more than you might suppose, as I have several communications from various prospectors who almost invariably say that our lands are too high, that they can buy land elsewhere that are just as good for a good deal less money. I have found on further investigation that they have been furnished with literature from various concerns making just the identical claims that we do, on identically what we have done. This as you know, is unjust to us and unjust to our homeseekers, who are coming to our state in greater numbers than ever before. What surprises me more than anything else, however, is that we people of Sanford, sit supinely by and allow this thing to go on and have allowed it to go on for a number of years. It is time for Sanford to wake up and throw off these eroneous claims and come into our own. I want to say in conclusion that we have all kinds of lands here. We have lands that will produce as much per acre as any lands I ever saw or ever expect to see, which is a veritable gold mine in themselves, and we also have cheaper lands, which will not produce so much. Now, the idea I want to convey is this, that we have good lands and cheap lands and if this is what some people want we have some lands here just as poor as those of our competitors, but we are not making any claim for them that we cannot fully justify. I would ask that wherever claims are made on such large production per acre the reader will take the trouble to ascertain where these crops were grown and I will wager you something very fine that it will be founded on some crop grown right here in Sanford.

I want to again register my strongest kick against this injustice, that we have the prices on our lands too high. We want it understood that we have the very best lands to be found in Florida, but if it's cheap lands that some people think just as good, we have as much of that as they want also. I believe in every tub standing on its own bottom. We are willing to stand on ours.

Yours truly,
K. R. MURRELL.

"Cardui Cured Me"

For nearly ten years, at different times, Mrs. Mary Jinks of Treadway, Tenn., suffered with womanly troubles. She says: "At last, I took down and thought I would die. I could not sleep. I couldn't eat. I had pains all over. The doctors gave me up. I read that Cardui had helped so many, and I began to take it, and it cured me. Cardui saved my life! Now, I can do anything."

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

If you are weak, tired, worn-out, or suffer from any of the pains peculiar to weak women, such as headache, backache, dragging-down feelings, pains in arm, side, hip or limbs, and other symptoms of womanly trouble, you should try Cardui, the woman's tonic. Prepared from perfectly harmless, vegetable ingredients, Cardui is the best remedy for you to use, as it can do you nothing but good. It contains no dangerous drugs. It has no bad after-effects. Ask your druggist. He sells and recommends Cardui.

in Orlando.

Mrs. Claude Raulerson very pleasantly entertained the M. M. S. Society at her home, Zulu, last Thursday afternoon. At the close of the business meeting, Mrs. Raulerson invited her guests into the dining room where a dainty buffet luncheon was served. Mrs. George Peters and Mrs. Aubrey Moran assisted the hostess in serving. The ladies were honored by the presence of two gentlemen at this meeting, Mr. C. A. Raulerson and Mr. Evan Pattishall. After the luncheon Mr. Pattishall entertained the company with some fine piano selections.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Baker, who are spending part of their time at Lake Harney, entertained their friends with a fish fry when they visit them at that place.

The usual amusements, music, games and even acrobatic stunts were in order. Mr. H. H. Pattishall excelling in the latter. Each one present was required to do something in the way of entertaining. The young folks sang their repertoire of rag time songs. Mrs. Pattishall sang a solo. Mr. and Mrs. Burley sang Longfellow's Rainy Day, Mrs. C. D. Peters sang a Russian song, Evan Pattishall gave a piano selection, Miss Irene Peters recited a modern version of Maud Muller and Miss Blanche Pattishall gave Higher Culture in Dixie, in which her excellent negro dialect was given full play. # MEAN WILSON TO SWEEP COUNTRY

Democratic Gains in Vermont and Maine Impressive.

OTHER PARTIES' PLIGHT

Third Termers to Poll Their Entire Strength From the Rapidly Thinning Republican Ranks.

That the result of the state elections in Vermont and Maine mean a tremendous Democratic victory in November, is freely admitted by all except the bitterest partisans. Political experts have done some analyzing, and some claim to have reached novel conclusions. But these facts stand out:

On Monday, September 9, 1912, the Republican and Third Term parties combined elected William T. Haines governor of Maine, over Frederick W. Plaisted, the present Democratic incumbent, by 2,023 plurality. In 1908, a presidential year, a Republican was elected governor by 7,653 plurality. In 1904, the plurality was 26,800, and in 1900 it was 24,132. In other words, in 13 years the Democrats have cut down the Republican plurality in state elections by 31,109.

In this period the Democratic vote has increased from 39,000 to 68,000 whereas the Republican vote has decreased from 74,000 to 71,000. The Democratic vote of this year exceeds that of September, 1908, by 1,000, but the Republican vote is about 2,000 less than that party cast four years ago.

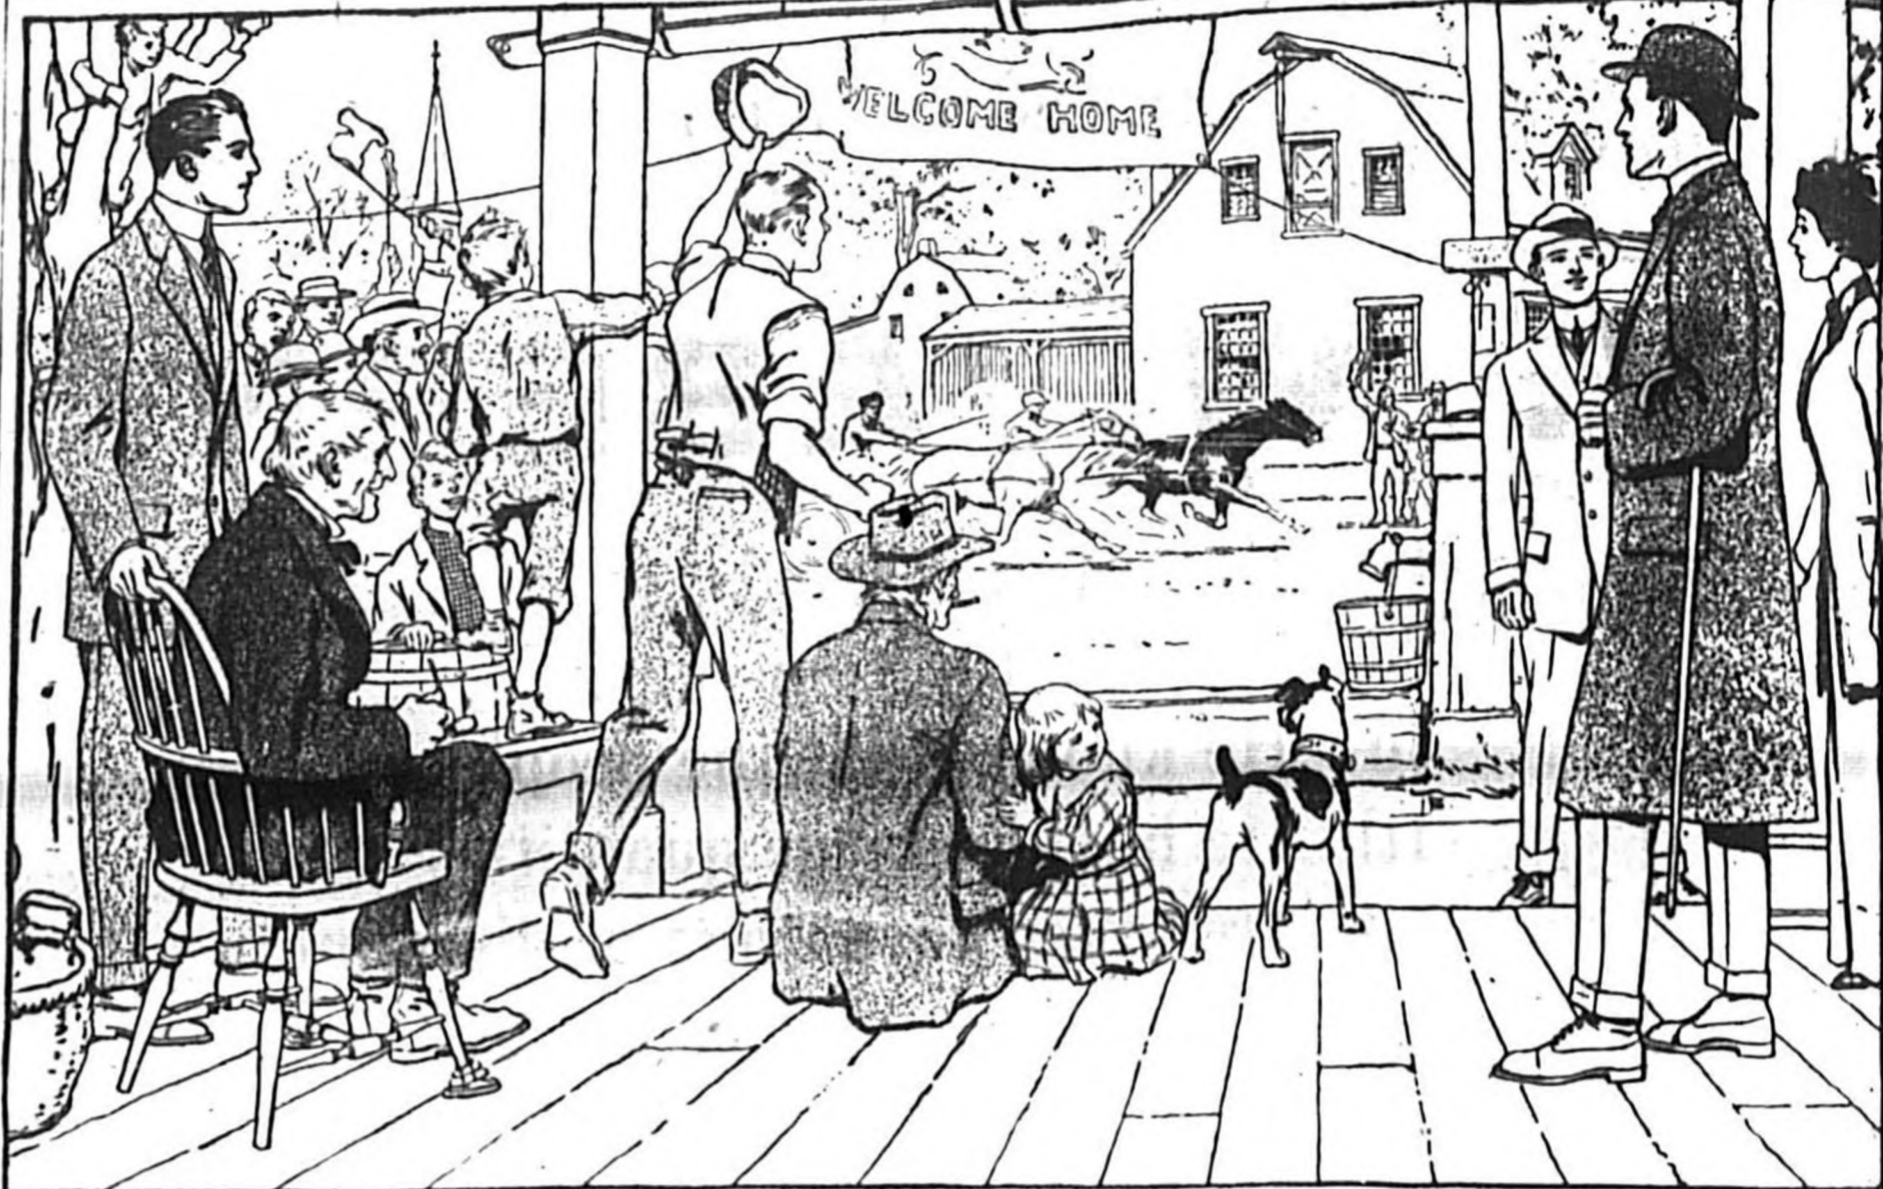

The split in the Republican ranks, following the election of William T. Haines, is pronounced. If the division in Maine in November is as it was in the recent Vermont election, six-tenths of the Republican vote will go for Taft, three-tenths for Roosevelt, and one-tenth for the Democrats. It is significant that the latter party has to date suffered no losses, as compared with the vote in previous years, from the Third Term movement. On the contrary it has gained. The result in Maine may be expected to be something like this: Wilson, 74,000, Taft, 42,800, Roosevelt, 21,300.

The returns from the recent Vermont election show, in round figures, that the joint Republican and third party vote was eight per cent short of the Republican vote four years ago, while the Democratic vote in that state shows a gain of twenty five per cent over that of 1908. It is of special interest to speculate what will happen next November throughout the nation if the Republican and Democratic vote for the national tickets happen to be affected as the gubernatorial vote this month in Vermont has been affected. The New York Evening Post has done some interesting figuring along this line and as a net result it is shown that, under the contingencies mentioned, President Taft would carry only two states in November, Rhode Island and Vermont, all the others going for Gov. Wilson. The conclusions reached by the Post follow:

To compute this result we should have to deduct 8 per cent from the vote cast for Taft four years ago and apportion the remaining vote in the ratio of 62 to 38 between Taft and Roosevelt, and we should have to add 25 per cent to Bryan's vote in 1908, and give the demittion total to Woodrow Wilson. In other words, give Taft 57 per cent and Roosevelt 35 per cent, of Taft's vote four years ago, and give Wilson 125 per cent of Bryan's vote four years ago.

The result in round numbers would be as follows, so far as regards Taft and Wilson.

The Bull Moose ran things with a big stick at Washington for seven and a half years and didn't by act or word smite the bosses he now rails against or promote the causes he now "embodies." Being "a practical man," he asks a third, etc., term.

Wonder if Emerson was gazing upon a Moose calf when, several decades ago, he wrote: "I am the owner of the sphere. Of the seven stars and the solar year."

President Taft congratulates the Republicans of Maine on what Chairman Hillis describes as "an old-fashioned victory." Another such and Vermont and Rhode Island would go Democratic in November.

The card-stacking at Armageddon goes merrily on. Eight Taft electors in Missouri announce that if elected they will vote for the Third Term candidate.

Those who know and feel for Chairman Hillis say he really isn't to blame for the Republican presidential candidate's announcement that he "is out of politics."

A Western Third Termer regrets that Roosevelt will not have time before election day to say half he means. He'll have plenty of time following it.

The Maddocks-Field Players

It will no doubt be pleasant news to many theatre goers of this city to learn that this popular company of players will return for a three nights engagement at the Imperial Theatre. The Georgia Railroad Commissioners have issued an order effective October 25, with regard to the movement of fruits and vegetables by express, that will be of considerable benefit to the shippers and receivers of those commodities in this state. Under the rule now in force, the rate on a shipment moving over two or more lines of railroads by express is made by adding the local rates of the two or more lines and deducting ten per cent. Under the new rule, the rate on a shipment moving over two lines and deducting of road will be the sum of the locals on each line, less twenty per cent, and on a shipment over three line of road or more, the rate will be the sum of the locals of each line, less thirty per cent.

The structure cost about sixteen thousand dollars and is artistic in design and modern and complete in every detail. The enrollment of pupils on the opening day was the largest that Tarpon Springs has ever known.

The ruins of the old Centro Asturiano building in Tampa will be replaced in the next six months with a handsome new club house, to cost between $80,000 and $90,000. The new structure will be 180x85 feet, three stories high, with basement, and roof garden in addition. The walls will be of buff brick, terra cotta, lime stone and marble. A marble staircase will lead from the first to the second floor. The second floor will be furnished in marble wainscoting.

FLORIDA IS THE LEADER

In General Farming Statistics Florida Leads the South

It has often been claimed that Florida leads in the value of crops per acre. This has not seemed quite clear to those who have been led to believe that our soil is inferior to that of other localities, but doubt on this score should be dispelled by the following comparisons made from the figures of last year's crops.

In the matter of Irish potatoes, Florida easily led with a production of 6,042 pounds per acre against 5,650 for the state of Virginia.

The tobacco crop shows Florida land producing 879 pounds per acre and the nearest competitor is South Carolina with a production of 850 pounds.

Taking up wheat, Florida is second producing 822 pounds to the acre as compared to Maryland, which has 960 pounds to her credit. But taking the states as geographically southern states, Maryland would be eliminated and consequently Florida would be the honor state in this cereal.

Not only in the matter of soil productivity does Florida excel, but when the value per acre is taken into consideration, the state does not fall behind. Irish potatoes are shown to be valued in Florida at $98.68 per acre against $70.78 for South Carolina, which is the nearest competitor. Taking the production of the tubers as rated so many bushels to the acre, Florida figures show 100.7 bushels and is only topped by Virginia, and that only by two hundredths of a bushel per acre. When the value per acre is considered, Virginia is rated at only $65.20, against the $98.68 of Florida. This is the point that is in Florida's favor, she produces quality beside prolific crops.

Comparing the tobacco figures, Florida is again in the lead, the value per acre being $75.70 and is followed by Georgia with $46.74. Kentucky produced 98,482,301 pounds of tobacco, or 848 pounds to the acre, while Florida produced 3,505,801 pounds, 879 pounds to the acre, valued at $257.20 and there again we have quality. Kentucky is practically all under cultivation, and the surface of Florida is merely scratched as yet.

Florida has but 8,509 acres devoted to the raising of Irish potatoes, producing 806,297 bushels, Mississippi and South Carolina having practically the same acreage, yet Florida excelled them by a large margin in the matter of bushels per acre and also acre value. Georgia had over three thousand more acres than Florida, yet did not exceed the total yield here except by a very few bushels, and comparing again, Georgia's crop was worth only $57.62 per acre, as compared to $98.68 for Florida.

Wheat, as shown by the figures, was Florida's poorest showing, she having but ten acres devoted to this grain, but that same ten acres demonstrated that but one other state, and that Maryland was able to exceed the value per acre. Maryland's acre value was $16.74 while Florida's was $13.20. And summing up the matter we can feel assured that no state will excel Florida when this state has been under general cultivation as long as some of the older settled states in the geographical south. "No eggs for three weeks" is the battle cry of about 40,000 boycotters in Cleveland and northern Ohio who entered upon a campaigning of abstention, in the hope of lowering the price. Saturday strictly fresh eggs were quoted at forty-three cents a dozen. Thirty cents a dozen is the limit the boycotters have set, and they say they won't buy unless the price scales to that point. The Thirty-cent Egg Club, which for two years has wielded an effective boycott against sky prices, has 20,000 members and at least that many more sympathizers who will join in abstaining.

NEW COMMERCIAL CLUB

Held an Important Meeting Last Friday Night

NEW COMMITTEES NAMED

Matters of Great Importance to the City Will Be Taken Up at Once

The Commercial Club is getting down to business and each meeting sees a greater number of new members and more enthusiasm manifested. The meeting last Friday night was one of the best yet and President Lake handled the meeting with his customary vigor and dispatch. After the minutes were read and minor business disposed of, the election of a treasurer was taken up and after a very spirited but short campaign, Frank Miller being in the lead, was declared the winner without any more voting. In Mr. Miller the club has a very efficient officer and his election gave satisfaction to every member present.

A communication from M. M. Smith, agent the club, the new hotel and the business aspect generally was read and listened to with earnest attention, giving as it did a clear and concise description of the city and our resources and good advice upon a number of subjects looking toward a greater Sanford. The letter concluded by tendering the tract of land owned by the Sanford Hotel Co. north of Commercial street, to the man who offered to erect a suitable hotel, the same to be ready for the season of 1913. At the conclusion of the reading of the letter a rising vote of thanks was given to Mr. Smith for his generous offer of the Hotel Co. and his kind words for the welfare of Sanford.

J. N. Whitner, in spite of his protests was unanimously as second vice president of the club.

In acknowledging thanks Mr. Whitner spoke about his work in behalf of the city recently to get our Congressmen and Senators to give Sanford a sub station for a weather observatory and the club will take up the matter at once and our city will fly the signals from the High School building if possible.

Regarding the tourist hotel project the question of backbreaking the tax rates for the hotel property was taken up and discussed, and a committee was appointed by President Lake to investigate the project, consult the city engineer, get his maps and figures and find the approximate cost of the great work that will mean so much to our city in the near future.

Several members were called upon for remarks and the spirit of progress was rampant at all times, each individual member seeming to feel that a new era has dawned for our bustling city and this season will be the best in the history of Sanford.

The question of advertising was discussed at length, as the committee on advertising wanted to know the opinion of the members on the manner of advertising and the amount that should be done and at the conclusion of the discussion the president rendered that the advertising would be left entirely in the hands of the committee, and they would report at an early date to the finance committee, who are expected to furnish the sinews of war in this respect. A beautiful booklet, descriptive of Sanford as a winter resort will be issued at an early date and distributed largely through the individual efforts of the members of the club and will also be distributed at Jacksonville.

The advertising committee have several good ideas to give to the club and the enthusiastic business men of Sanford do not purpose to tighten the purse strings this winter, as they realize that a systematic advertising campaign will get results and our new tourist hotel will be a big drawing card next season.

It seems to be the consensus of opinion among the business men of Sanford that the city proper has been neglected in the past in the advertising campaigns and that now that the tourist hotel is assured and a country club, good roads and other good things for the tourist are already accomplished facts or contemplated for an early date that the question of the agricultural pursuits should be displaced by a strenuous campaign for the city proper.

Fogg Thinks Beacham's Plan Will Build the Road

The statement made by Mr. R. Beacham of Orlando in your issue of 8th inst. in regard to the proposed traction railroad from Sanford through Altamonte Springs, Winter Park and on to the headwaters of the Kissimmee river, reads all right and it seems as though Mr. J. J. Brophy's love letter was going to bring results. So mote it be. When such a live wire as Mr. Beacham puts his shoulder to the big wheel the small wheels are sure to turn. He certainly has diagnosed the enterprise in a business like manner, and being a financial expert, and also being a progressive in every sense of the word, his scheme cannot fail to produce the long looked for results.

It is a trite saying that opportunity knocks at every man's door in a life time and it has surely knocked at Orlando's portals with a vigorous thump, and it has awakened Mr. Beacham, who is responding to the call. It now remains to be seen whether it touched the other live wires in the city beautiful. I believe it did and that they will respond to the call for this is a good thing which we can all see and take the advantage of it as they have done in building the City Beautiful and prosperity will be doubly assured. There should be no delay in financing and starting the ball rolling for it will gain strength rapidly, and the first car can roll between Sanford and Orlando in ninety days from the beginning of the work, and it will be a dividend paying investment at once, and to make it more interesting it will be a home industry, and the immense profits accruing from it will remain in the state, in fact, the country through which the road is operated. Much can be gotten in favor of the enterprise, and a word to the wise should be sufficient. N. H. FOGG, Altamonte Springs, Oct. 11, 1912.

The Maddocks-Field Players

Arrangements have been made with the above company of players to play a three nights engagement at the Imperial beginning Thursday, Oct. 17th and every one can be assured of a first class entertainment at popular prices.

This company, it will be remembered have played this city on two other occasions, each time scoring a big hit with the people and playing to large crowds. The cast remains the same, including Norman R. Field, Mary Daniel, Frank L. Maddocks and Happy Jack Kearney. The repertoire of plays has been changed entirely, as well as the specialties and the management promises a rare treat to the patrons in the way of good clean amusement and high class productions.

Among the plays they are presenting this time are, "A True Kentuckian," "The Lawyer Detective" and "Montana." The prices will be 25, 35 and 50 cents.

Book Circle Meets

Mrs. A. P. Connelly was the charming hostess of the Book Circle Thursday afternoon. The guests were entertained with a very cleverly arranged book contest. The largest number of correct answers was given by Mrs. F. L. Miller, who won the unique prize of a box of candy arranged as an attractive book with the suggestive title, "A Great Temptation." Mrs. Miller very kindly shared her candy with her competitors. After the conclusion of the contest delicious sherbet and cake were served. The members of the circle present were: Mrs. J. W. Dickens, Mrs. May Dickens, Mrs. D. L. Thrasher, Mrs. Samuel Pullerton, Mrs. Robert Newman, Mrs. M. H. Bowler, Mrs. B. W. Herndon, Mrs. D. A. Caldwell, Mrs. H. A. Ward, Mrs. N. J. Perkins, Mrs. F. J. Gonzales, Mrs. F. L. Miller were special guests invited by Mrs. Connelly to enjoy the afternoon with the circle.

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt was shot and slightly wounded last night as he was leaving the Gilpatrick hotel in Milwaukee for the auditorium to make a speech. The wound was superficial and the Colonel went on to the hall and began his speech after he had seen his assailant arrested and taken to the police station. Henry F. Coehms seized the man and held him until the police came up. A mob surged around the prisoner, who apparently is mentally upset on the subject of Roosevelt's running for another term as President. The man, who is of small stature, admitted firing the shot and said that "any man looking for a third term ought to be shot."

In notes found in the man's pockets at the police station, were statements that the assailant had been visited in a dream by the spirit of William McKinley, who had said, indicating Colonel Roosevelt, "This is my murderer, avenge my death." Colonel Roosevelt's life was probably saved by a manuscript of the speech he delivered tonight. The bullet struck the manuscript which retarded its force as it passed through the flesh. His assailant was prevented from firing a second shot by Albert H. Martin, one of Colonel Roosevelt's two secretaries. The Colonel had just stepped into an automobile when the would be assassin slipped through the crowd in the street and fired. Martin, who was standing in the car with the Colonel, leaped out to the man's shoulders and bore him to the ground. Captain A. O. Girard of Milwaukee, who was on the front seat, jumped almost at the same time and in an instant the man was overpowered and disarmed. A wild cry of "lynch him" went up. Colonel Roosevelt spoke to the crowd and told them to spare the man, who was then taken into the hotel and held there until he was removed to the police station. In spite of the entreaties of police men, Colonel Roosevelt insisted upon declaring his address. "I will make this speech for the one or the other," he said.

Guards and prisoners fought a desperate battle Sunday at Rawlins, Wyo., inside the state penitentiary. Hundreds of penitentiary prisoners attempted to escape and guards fought desperately to restore order. Camped outside the walls was a force of citizens, heavily armed, ready to drive back the prisoners if the remaining guard were unable to hold them. Shots and occasional shots told of the desperate fight within the walls, and it was rumored that several guards and convicts were killed.

Geo. W. Perkins, chairman of the executive committee of the Progressive party, made public tonight a letter which he sent tonight to Charles D. Hilles, chairman of the Republican committee in reply to the letter Mr. Hilles read to the Clapp committee while testifying last Thursday. Mr. Perkins called attention to the fact that the charges made in Mr. Hilles letter "were made deliberately in writing and under oath" but says the sworn statement contains no proof with which to support the charges.

War in the Balkans is now only a matter of a few days. The replies of the Balkan states to the powers' note, virtually rejecting intervention, will be delivered at the various capitals tomorrow and at the same time notes practically in the shape of an ultimatum will be sent to Turkey demanding autonomy for the Macedonian provinces.

All regularly scheduled passenger trains on the Georgia railroad were opened today by the old employees. Announcement tonight is that night trains will move as though nothing had happened to stop them, and, beginning immediately after midnight, twenty-five freight trains will be moved from different points along the roads, five of them leaving Augusta and five leaving Atlanta, one right behind another.
