Republicans Clear Out Of Kansas City With Better Spirit Than They Had While Ago

Kansas Solon Known As Farmer's Friend In The Middle West

KANSAS CITY, June 16.—(INS)—The Republicans cleared out of Kansas City today a good deal happier and confident than they thought they could be several days ago when angry and embittered farmers were storming at the doors of their national convention.

The nomination of Senator Charles Curtis of Kansas, as vice president, the party leaders believe, will do much to allay the bitterness of the radical exponents of farm relief, and the respectful salutation of Frank O. Lowden that the Republican platform "failed to meet fully and squarely" the needs of the great grain belt.

Curtis has for years marched under the banner of "farmer-friend." Kansas lays claim to being the very heart of the great agricultural region that stretches from the Ohio-Indiana line to the Rockies, Curtis voted for the McHenry-Haugen Bill. It is true that in the question of the veto he voted to sustain the President but he explained it by saying he rendered it his duty to do so because of his position as Republican member of the Senate.

Of the bitterness of the farmers, the farm organizations, that were represented in Kansas City here can do no doubt.

When battalions of them, paid or otherwise, tried to storm the doors of a Republican National Convention it indicates that the function, if not actually serious, at least may become so. And the Lowden statement that he did not want to be the nominee on such a platform as the Republicans adopted here was calculated to be only persuasive to the fire.

This was the situation which the Republican leaders believe the nomination of Charles Curtis—and time—will do much to ameliorate. The talk of "hot" and the talk of a third party which was everywhere prevalent a few days ago, and which even crept into the argument which the agriculturalist's spokesman used before the convention itself in the platform fight, had virtually all died out today.

Big Ben Cantwell Goes To Boston In Deal Between Braves And The Giants

Friends and admirers of Ben Cantwell, former pitching star of the Sanford and Jacksonville baseball teams, will be interested to learn that he has been traded by the New York Giants to the Boston Braves in a deal that was announced last night.

Cantwell goes to the Braves along with two other pitchers and a catcher in exchange for Genevick, one of the mainstays of the Boston hurling corps. "Big Ben" as he was familiarly known to fans all over the Florida State League and Southeastern circuit, has been with the Giants since last year when he joined them in mid-season.

Cantwell is a University of Tennessee product. He was a mainstay of the Sanford team in 1926 when the Celery Feds topped both halves of the schedule. He went to the Jacksonville Tars by waiver and in 1927 established himself as one of the outstanding minor league hurlers in the country. He made such an impression with his league scouts that several teams

Duel Is Fatal To Both Father, Son

THAYER, Mo., June 16.—(INS)—An inquest was to be held here today into a duel between a father and son which resulted fatally to both. James Perkins, 47, and his son, Frank Perkins, 24, decided to "fight it out" following an argument which started as the two were returning from a dance Friday morning according to a statement the son made before he died. The elder Perkins died near the scene of the duel and the son died after he had been taken to hospital. It was just a personal matter, "was the only statement the son would make, "and we decided to fight it out."

Nebraska's Senator Uncorks Ripping Attack Against Republican Dictators Whose Influence Named Secretary

Shouts Defiance To Administration

States Direct Ship Has Been Delivered To The Farmers Of Country Thru Selection

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(INS)—The troubles of the New Hoover-Curtis-Borah Republican setup started today bright and early. As Secretary Hoover was reading literally thousands of congratulatory telegrams from all over the world, Senator Norris (R) of Nebraska, a leader of the farm bloc, uncorked a ripping attack against the Republican dictators.

Norris boomed defiance with a bitter arraignment of the administration. "Nobody from President Coolidge down was exempted from Norris' caustic criticism, and few crimes and misdemeanors were left uncharged to the Republican forces. He assailed the Kansas City platform and a nominee and said "it will be a disappointment to every progressive citizen of the country."

"A direct slap is administered to the farmers of the country," Norris said. "Their plea is cast aside with the usual promise of a glittering generality. The platform is silent on the domination of our politics, our social activities, our schools and our churches by the secret, disgraceful methods of the water power trust, now being discussed before the Federal Trade Commission.

"It is silent on the disgraceful and unparliamentary disclosures made by the investigation of the naval oil leases. Not a word is said in condemnation of the stealing of public property valued at many millions by Delaney, Sinclair, and G. W. Smith. It is silent on the nomination given to Mr. Hays, the former chairman of the Republican National Committee for a no-account part of the lost in behalf of that committee.

"That is not surprising because the same men who controlled the convention have fought, from the very beginning, every step to uncover any of those disgraceful and treasonable frauds."

Norris assailed Senator Foss (R) of Ohio, nominated keynoteer and said that he deflected former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty on the floor of the Senate. He said Senator Moses (R) of New Hampshire, opposed investigations of the crimes "that have been committed by these so-called manufacturers." Even Mrs. Mahel Walker Whitebrandt, the assistant Attorney General, was re-

Home Town Of Hoover Has Biggest Celebration Since Old Livery Stable Burned

WEST BRANCH, Iowa, June 16.—(INS)—West Branch yawned today and went reluctantly back to work after a two day's carnival in celebration of the nomination of Herbert Hoover, the man who put West Branch on the map by being born there. The natives have been whooping it up day and night since Thursday evening when the radio brought the big news from Kansas City.

"The demonstration reached its climax last night when 4,000 persons congregated from all parts of Eastern Iowa, joined the 800 inhabitants of West Branch in all-night jamboree in honor of "our own Herb." Many old timers who haven't "hit the hay" later than 9 o'clock since the night of the big livery stable fire, paraded the streets until dawn. Blazing torches lighted the way and a half dozen bands furnished lively music.

Hoover has been away from this little Quaker village for more than 40 years, but there are many of the old timers who still recall him and feel themselves privileged to call him "Herb."

Mrs. Mollie Carran, Hoover's former school teacher, entertained the crowds with delightful anecdotes of Herbie's youth. She displayed an autographed photo he sent her in 1923 and a letter in which he had thanked her for her training as a teacher, saying she had placed him on the right road at the start.

Regarding the story told by Newt Butler, "the only Democrat in town" how he once loked Herbie when they were boys, Mrs. Carran said: Herbie never looked for trouble. But he could and would fight if picked on. If Newt Butler really fought Herbie, as he says he did, I'm not so sure Newt won."

NEW YORK TO BE G.O.P. CHIEFTAINS DIFFICULT STATE TO CONFER WITH FOR REPUBLICANS

Delegation Rushed Homeward To Begin Laborious Task Of Stopping Smith Whose Power Is Strong In Own State

KANSAS CITY, June 16.—(INS)—The New York delegation was speeding home today from the Republican National Convention with virtually this one thought in mind: "Can Hoover carry New York if Al Smith is nominated by the Democrats?"

The original Hoover leaders in the New York delegation, such as Ogden L. Mills, under secretary of the Treasury; Richard Lawrence, G. O. P. leader of the Bronx; and William H. Hill of Binghamton, who served as Hoover's up-state manager during the pre-convention activities, were in a happy frame of mind. They insisted that despite Governor Smith's popularity in the state, the Commerce Secretary would come through with flying colors on election night.

There is another side to the picture, however, the leaders of the "draft Coolidge" movement in delegation publicly are cheering for Hoover, but privately they are declaring a real fight lies ahead of them in Smith's own state.

Convinced that New York is likely to be a pivotal state in the election this fall, the Hoover forces already are making tentative plans for one of the most intensive campaigns ever waged in the Empire State. Some of the party's best orators will campaign in every city of any size in the state in an effort to win the state for the national ticket.

Because Mills was one of the first leaders in New York to come out for Hoover months ago, and because he stood by his guns even at the price of being denied the honor of representing New York on the Resolution Committee, it is generally believed he will be awarded the post of Secretary of the Treasury in the event of Hoover's election.

President Surveys Quarters And Then Tries Fishing Luck

SUPERIOR, Wis., June 16.—(INS)—A smiling sun at Cedar Island Lodge versus a steady rain in Superior gave President Coolidge a valid excuse today to defer his initial visit to the temporary executive offices and devote himself to a Saturday of fishing.

He was up early completing yesterday's cursory survey of the elaborate Bruce River camp, and when word was phoned in that Superior was apparently in for a day of solid rain, the fishing decision was quickly made. The fact that the city and Cedar Island Lodge are separated by the divide could be counted on to keep the rain away from his end of the summer establishment.

Col. E. W. Starling, assistant chief of the White House Secret Service, who has been in the north woods for the past two weeks acclimating himself and making arrangements for the presidential advent, accompanied Mr. Coolidge on the fishing expedition.

Mrs. Coolidge meanwhile continues to rest. Although she is steadily improving Colonel James F. Cougal, the White House physician deemed it best that she submit to a few more days of complete relaxation. Miss Mildred Beet, navy nurse, is on hand to minister to her wants.

ICE FLOES GRIP RELIEF BOATS BRINGING HELP

Progress Of 2 Steamers With Aid For Stranded Crew Of Dirigible Italed Is Checked By Masses Of Floating Ice

Arrival Of Italian Aviator Who Will Scout Arctic Region Is Anxiously Awaited

LONDON, June 16.—(INS)—The steamer Braganza, which is attempting to bring aid to General Umberto Nobile and his stranded crew radioed that it was ice bound near Brandy Bay, Spitzbergen, a Central News dispatch from King's Bay state today.

The Braganza's operator stated that the relief steamer Hobby was also hemmed in by the ice floes between Whalen Bay and Lammun Bay. Day teams which have been expected to meet the Italian aviator.

A wireless message from Nobile received at King's Bay, stated that his party was now drifting slowly westward, the dispatch added. It is now believed that Nobile is nearing Charles the Twelfth Land.

The arrival of Major Maddelena, the Italian aviator, flying the Savoia 55, is being anxiously awaited at King's Bay. This plane has a wide cruising range and as the approximate position of the Italian crew is well known, it is believed he will have no trouble in locating them.

He will attempt to land at the spot and take aboard the injured members of the crew and as many others as possible. If he finds it impossible to make a landing he will, at least, be able to drop medicines and other supplies.

The powerful Russian ice breaker Malgoin is now steaming directly towards Payne Island. When it arrives there, the airplane aboard the ship will attempt to locate the stranded crew. Another market landing or drop supplies.

There is still no confirmation of the report that the Swedish Professor Mahgren and the Italian navy commander Zappi and Major Nobile, who left the others of the Italian crew to look across the ice for aid have been rescued by a dog-team sent out by the Hobby.

The Russian ice breaker Krassin is now also steaming northward to the aid of the Italian crew.

PARIS, June 16.—(INS)—Commander Guilbaud, a French aviator, hopped off at Caudex, enroute for the Arctic to join the International relief expedition searching for Gen. Nobile and his fellow explorers.

Commander Guilbaud was accompanied by Lieut. De Caverville, radio operator Vallette and mechanic Brazier. He expects to pick up Capt. Roald Amundsen, noted Norwegian polar explorer at Bergen to aid in directing the relief work.

If a stretch of open water can be found near the ice field where the Nobile party took refuge, Guilbaud will try to pick up the refugees and carry them back to King's Bay. Guilbaud is flying a hydroplane of the Latham type, powered with two 600 horse power motors.

New York Assures Hefflin Protection For Public Meeting

ALBANY, N. Y., June 16.—(INS)—Senator Tom Hefflin of Alabama, today had assurance that he would speak at Hursville, near here, next Sunday without fear of interruption or interference. In fact he will have police protection.

The following order to Major John A. Warner, superintendent of state police, was issued by Governor Al Smith, whom Hefflin has attacked verbally numerous times: "Announcement has been made that Senator Hefflin of Alabama is to speak in Albany County. It is our duty to take every reasonable measure to assure him his constitutional right to free speech. I therefore direct you to see to it that he and his meetings are fully protected and that all who desire to hear him shall be enabled to do so without interference.

STOCKS CONTINUE DOWNWARD PATH IN SHORT SESSION

Selling Pressure On The Industrial Market Lenders Is Resumed Following Dull Movement At Friday Close

NEW YORK, June 16.—(INS)—Selling pressure on the industrial market leaders was promptly resumed in the short session of the stock market today and prices continued the downward movement which was in progress at Friday's close. This "secondary reaction" following Tuesday's drastic decline was not unexpected, and its effect will be to place a more reasonable and sensible relation between corporate earnings and stock prices.

The week-end business reported plenty of indications to the orderly conduct of business this week, including politics, the weather, the money markets and the approach of the summer dull season. Bradstreet's reported purely commercial dealings restricted to narrow limits for this season of the year, with commodity prices not holding as well as last year.

Radio, General Motors and other market favorites were pushed downward without interruption in the first hour as the result of persistent selling pressure. In the brokerage houses it was said that the fresh decline in prices had forced out considerable liquidation of weakly-margined accounts, confidence as well as resources of many of the new crop of stock traders having been impaired by the land-slide this week.

Wright Aero lost about 10 points in the first half-hour, and Radio declined 6 1/2 to 160, while General Motors receded 2 points to 175 1/2 and United States Steel broke through 138 to the lowest price on the current movement. The copper and specialties were unable to withstand the selling wave without moderate recessions in prices, in many cases reaching the low levels of the week.

Storms Delay Hope Of 2 Ocean Flyers

ST. JOHNS N. F., June 15.—(INS)—Storms over the Atlantic held out small hope that Miss Amelia Earhart and Miss Mahel Bell would be able to start on their respective flights to Europe today.

Miss Earhart and her companions, Wilmer Stultz and Lou Gordon, have not yet decided whether they will attempt to fly to the Azores or to Ireland. They will test the trimotored monoplane Friendship today with sufficient fuel aboard to take them safely to Ireland. If the plane will rise under the heavy burden they probably will fly there.

Miss Bell and her crew, Captains Oliver L. Boutiller and Arthur Argles, paid a visit to this place yesterday and received a great welcome. They announced they will start their flight in the Columbia as soon as the weather permitted.

McNary Declares He Found Hoover Anxious To Relieve Farm Distress

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(INS)—Following a conference with Herbert Hoover, Republican presidential nominee, today Senator McNary (R) of Oregon, co-author of the McNary-Hauger Farm Relief Bill, declared that he had found Hoover sympathetic and anxious to relieve the distress of the farm population.

"The agricultural plank in the Republican platform commits the party to the enactment of legislation that will place agriculture on a basis of economic equality with the industry," McNary said. "I have ample confidence that the party must keep this pledge and will."

McNary, pointing out that the time is not far distant when the country will consume its entire

Recurrence Of Disastrous Inundation Of Year Ago Feared As Waters Continue Rise

POPULAR BLUFF, Mo., June 16.—(INS)—Recurrence of the disastrous floods of 1927 along the Mississippi River tributaries was feared today as two levees on the St. Francis River in Missouri and a second on the White River in Arkansas gave away.

Many Families Without Homes

National Guardsmen And Civilians Strive To Prevent Breaks

Water seeping through a stretch of the levee along the St. Francis River north of Kennett, Mo., caused a break in the levee today that sent water pouring through a 150 foot stretch and is believed will inundate 25,000 acres of farm land and make 1000 families homeless.

Raging waters from the White River poured over approximately 600,000 acres of land in the White River Valley. Approximately 700 families were reported homeless, and four villages in the path of the constantly spreading waters were deserted.

As in the case of the St. Francis River break, there were 300 men working on the levee when it went out. These men hastily threw aside their tools, and some were reported to have narrowly escaped with their lives.

Five companies of Missouri National Guardsmen are working desperately and professional men south of Kennett are making frantic effort to prevent a break near Campbell or south of Kennett. It is believed the number of workers will be doubled by tonight.

The Missouri River break is being watched more carefully than in the Arkansas River Valley, as there the rivers are not expected to reach another night crest. This was the second rise of the St. Francis River, and a third is expected to reach this section about Tuesday.

Mayor E. Tankey of Kennett stated 150 families were in immediate need of attention in his city, and Red Cross headquarters have been established there. A refuge camp soon will be in operation.

The break of the St. Francis River levee followed another break in the levee of the White River near Newport, Ark., where more than 100 families were made homeless by the swollen waters.

It was hoped the levee in the White River would relieve the pressure against other levees without the disastrous floods of 1927. The Newport levees were being built (Continued on page three.)

CELERY FEDS WIN FIRST OF SERIES FROM SHERIFFS

Locals Collect 15 Hits For 13 Runs Off Two Hurriers; Barron, Keith And Cassels Do Mound Work For Feds

Collecting a total of 15 hits for 13 runs, the Celery Feds had little difficulty in annexing the first game yesterday with the West Palm Beach Sheriffs. The final count was 15 to 7. Bonner and Jones did the hurling for Palm Beach while Barron, Keith and Cassels were in the box for the locals.

Palm Beach scored two in the third to draw first blood, added another in the fifth and went on a rampage in the seventh to collect four tallies. This was the Sheriff's final effort and the locals proceeded with the job of plastering the visitors with numerous hits and runs.

Three hits, two walks and an error netted five markers in the fourth frame and Cecil Beck added another tally in the sixth. In the seventh Sanford added five more to its total. Friebe singled and Hewell fanned. Barnes and Wade walked to fill the bases. Wallace singled, bringing in Friebe and Barnes. Beck singled and Wade tallied. Wallace countered on Johnny Parks' one-time blow to left and Beck came in with the last run on an infield out.

In the eighth, Friebe and Hewell hit safely. Barnes and Wade each hit sacrifices. Wallace hit a bounder to Ceresi, who misjudged it and the final two markers were averted across the platter.

Yesterday's contest was preceded by a short field day program which consisted of baseball exercises, fungo hitting, base running and throwing. Johnny Parks, red catcher, won the fungo hitting contest and Friebe, who was awarded a prize for scoring the first run in the game. Jackson and Eddie Wade divided two handsome prizes given by local concerns for the fastest baserunning. Mason, second baseman of the visiting club won the prize for the longest throw from center field toward the plate. Parks also won the prize for the most accurate throw to second base.

Numerous Major League Deals Rumored As Trade Season Closes Tonight

By Davis J. Walsh International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, June 15.—(INS)—After due inquiry, I am able to-day to confirm without reservation stories in circulation here concerning professional incompatibility between Glenn Wright, star shortstop, and the Pittsburgh Club. These stories are absolutely right—up to a certain point. A year ago the player was called up on the oil cloth and informed that he must be a very good boy in the future or he would hear no more about the adventure of Topsy and Uncle Robert. Terrified by the threat, the young man was reduced to groveling subsalsion forthwith.

His subsequent behavior has been exemplary, they say, which made inexpedient for Donie Bush, manager of the hall club, to admit that such a situation ever had arisen in the first place. Now it is necessary for Bush to admit that Wright was not to be traded to the Chicago Cubs by midnight, as allegations would have had it. Joe McCarthy is not giving away infielders these days and I don't blame him a bit, either. Nobody will take the kind he has.

The Wright business came to a head today largely because trades will be tabon by midnight, when the major league deadline for the season becomes effective. The fact has led to all kinds of undercover activities including the placing of Virgil Barnes on the counter by the Giants and the prospect of trades developing between the Pirates and the Phillies and the Cardinals and Braves.

Dash says he naturally is satisfied with any club that can have upwards of 15 players out of action at one time or another, and still remain within striking distance of the pace. And now that most of the boys are beginning to seep timidly out from under their pillows and cold compresses, he thinks the club can't miss—and won't.

However, they say he is trying to get pitcher Hub Prunett, Babe Ruth's favorite, and Fred Leach, the outfielder, from the Phillies in exchange for outfielder Brickell and Joe Dawson, pitcher. Dawson cost the Pirates $25,000, making him owe the club about $24,783.15. Housby's flair for his former

Miami Star Hands Orlando Five Hits And Wins Shut out

Orlando, June 15.—Preserving a team of new facts, Miami took the first of the series from Orlando at Tinker Field yesterday afternoon, 3 to 0, under the personal supervision of "Lefty" Wetsell. Aside from hurling an airtight game, "Lefty" had a perfect day at bat getting four singles in as many trips to the plate and scoring what proved to be the winning run in a great ninth inning rally.

For eight fast innings, Wetsell and "Red" Sweeney waged as pretty a pitcher's duel as has been seen on the local lot this season, but in the ninth the Hustlers rallied and pushed over fence cracked and pushed over three runs for a shutout victory.

Islanders Trounce St. Petersburg By Score Of 15 to 5

DAYTONA BEACH, June 15.—(Special)—The Islanders secured 23 hits off the combined offerings of Cassares and Hawkins, who was pitching his second day in succession yesterday and copped the opening game of the series, 15 to 5. The Islanders opened up on Cassares in the first inning which combined with his only wildpaw sent him to the showers. Hawkins went the nine inning route but his arm was weak. Score:

Cardinals Cop 4th Straight To Draw Nearer The Redlegs

NEW YORK, June 15.—(INS)—Only three points behind Cincinnati, the St. Louis Cardinals today are poised on the National League runaway for a non-stop flight into first place. The significant feature of the Red Birds' four straight victories over Boston is that their pitching ace Alexander and Haines, are again in top-notch shape. Haines beat the Braves yesterday, 3 to 2.

Chief Hainley's third homer in two days won the game. Rogers Hornsby was banished for protesting a decision and the fans showered the offending umpire with pop bottles.

The left field stands at Braves Field are being set back and so-called homers hit into that territory are now held to two-baggers. A crazy bounce which stretched Adams' single into a triple gave the Pirates a 4 to 3 win over the Giants in the clovench.

The Cubs finished strong and plastered Brooklyn, 7 to 3. The Bruins are now close on the heels of the Giants.

Aided by Lazzeri's homer with two on base, Herb Pennock of the Yankees chalked up the tenth victory, beating the Browns 4 to 3. The Athletics nosed out Cleveland, 9 to 8. Cochrane and Joe Sewell each got four hits.

Boston's Red Sox are headed for the cellar. They lost to the tail-end White Sox, 6 to 4. The Senators tamed the slipping Tigers, 8 to 3. Cincinnati and the Phillies did not play.

Here is a bit of information that we are sure will give you a pretty good idea of why Quality Bakers of America. We 90 wholesale bakers, are substituting the membership in this organization, get together on a sound plan at start. It is a sound plan cause it deals with the human element, and that means it is practical and workable. We all know that if we are as rivals or competitors would not get along at all, any more than two families living under the same roof and in the same quarters get along without having frequent jars.

Therefore, we began on a friendly basis and with a understanding, because we are strictly co-operative and mutually helpful.

So we get along peacefully and harmoniously. After all, is not this the way to get along anyway, whether in business or in our social contacts?

What is the use in wasting time in trying to be friends with people who don't want to be friendly with you? Don't quarrel with them, just let them alone. May your example will help eventually.

We are the only member Quality Bakers of America in this territory, and we are very glad about it. It is honor that we prize. It is to us upon invitation all our reputation had been to the acid test.

We were selected, not necessarily because we were thought to occupy a high place in this section than other good bakers, but our qualifications were all summed up in one very important conclusion, namely, we were found to have HONEST INTENT to co-operate fully and sincerely with others in order to become a Better Baking Institution, so that in ways we could give the public the very best Quality Products and regular high-class and efficient service—economical and intelligent.

Quality Bakers of America insist that every member must consider first—and always thereafter—giving the public the best possible service and never to vary Quality Production.

We regard our membership in Quality Bakers of America as having brought us to better and higher conception of our responsibility to the people of this section—that we have not always tried to do our best by you. Now, through the friendly kind of co-operation with other members, we just know that we are able to give you a better service than we could if we tried to give it by alone.

Our membership has proved to you readers, as it has to us.

You get Quality Products from us every day—not just one day and indifferent the next, but good all the time. This is an advantage to you and to us. You can depend on us and we can depend on you.

Is not this the basis for confidence, understanding, and steady building of good will? What would any business amount to anyway, if it did not gain and hold the goodwill and confidence of the people it serves every day?

SATURDAY, JUNE 16.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

A WISE SON—A wise son maketh a glad father; but a foolish son is the heaviness of his mother.—Prov. 10:1.

PRAYER—O Lord, hear my voice, and my supplication and grant me Thy wisdom.

"Knyase" is a new name for Kansas City, coined by headline writers.

The Tampa Tribune makes a public request of Doyle Carlton not to run for the senate in 1932. Gov. Carlton will doubtless be too busy with the affairs of his new office to even consider such a thing.

"We have just learned that Doyle Carlton has seven brothers. This explains everything. How could Fona Hathaway hope to make headway against such a fraternity," writes Jonny T. G. in the Jacksonville Journal. Ask Fona how many brothers he has?

Did you read the Republican platform? For instance, the plank about indebtedness, "Continued reduction as rapidly as the law permits." Certainly no self-respecting government would attempt to reduce debts any faster than the law permits.

We are glad to know that our newspaper friend, Howard Sharp of the "Everglades News" defeated Sidney J. Catts, Jr. for the legislature. Mr. Sharp is a pleasing convincing speaker, a prolific writer and looks like Clarence Budington Kelland in the face.—Leesburg Commercial. Ditto.

It must have been a kind of a kick in the teeth for T. J. Appleyard, who announced his candidacy for Governor, then withdrew, and ran for delegate to the Democratic convention to get defeated. By the way, Appleyard was a delegate in 1924. At that time he disregarded his constituents' instructions to vote for McAdoo and jumped to Ralston.

We are already beginning to receive campaign propaganda from the Republican candidate for governor. It's too bad. Howey is almost a good enough man to be a Democrat, but he'll never be elected governor on a Republican platform, or whatever it is Republicans in Florida run on.

In Miami, the editor of T. N. T. (The Naked Truth) was arrested on election day for publishing last minute defamatory charges. It appears that editors of purely political organs frequently do not know the law.—Sanford Herald. If he published the truth, he needn't worry about the law.—Palm Beach Independent. Chances are, he didn't; it was a Catts' paper.

A Chicago grand jury renamed one hundred and one persons in a sweeping indictment against a rum ring which was reputed to be making five million dollars annually. Most of those indicted will doubtless be released. A few will have to pay a small fine which will be charged in the books of the company as a license for doing business. The profit will still be five million dollars annually. And do you believe they will like to see the prohibition amendment repealed.—Sanford Herald. Son, your argument is bum. The fellows who are making money making and selling liquor illegally would make more making and selling it legally, and would also be rid of the heavy tribute they now have to pay to crooks—judges, lawyers, sheriffs, policemen, prohibition enforcement agents and private parties so situated as to demand toll. There is not near so much liquor sold as there was before prohibition, and it costs so much that only fools buy it, and it is so bad in quality that only fools drink it. And while there are lots of fools in the United States, the majority of our men and women are sober and sane. The open saloon killed itself by its own wickedness, and the bootlegging business is worse than the open saloon. The people of America will be disgusted at bootlegging and its attendant evils after while, and when they do they will relieve themselves by vomiting all over the damnable traffic.—Palm Beach Independent.

When Help Is At Hand

Since we are, by means of radio, able to communicate with General Noble and his crew of arctic explorers adrift somewhere on the trackless ice floes north of Spitzbergen, their plight is made to seem less serious, and somehow it is difficult to find in people much sympathy for them although every day the possibility of their safe return to civilization becomes less and less.

Other adventurous men have made their way into the mysteries of the northland and when they failed to return at the appointed time, relief expeditions have been despatched, but more than likely the explorers were soon given up for lost and a feeling of sympathy spread over the whole country as appropriate ceremonies were performed in their behalf, even though at the very time the men may have been struggling over the barren snows, just as Noble and his men are now struggling.

Because we have established communication with General Noble, we are inclined to feel that he has been saved. When as a matter of fact, it is extremely problematical whether he will ever be rescued at all. As time goes on, his ice-raft drifts farther and farther southward, and a warm sun incessantly breaking through the mists and fogs continually melts the ice and brings closer and closer the time when there will be nothing left on which he can stand.

Daily comes the sound of his radio telling of the rapidly diminishing provisions, the almost unbearable conditions of trying to live in such slushy surroundings, and the sufferings of the men injured in the wreck of the "Italia". It reminds one of the "soundings" which came from the insides of the sunken hull of the S-4, where a few men left alive after the crash with the Paulding, for hours waited for help from the rescuers above, and tapped out meager information as to their condition and their hopes.

Vaguely it reminds us of Floyd Collins who lying for days far down in his damp dark grave in a Kentucky cave, spurred his rescuers on to even greater efforts, by tapping on a pipe which they had sunk in an effort to pass him food. It helped to know that he was alive, but it did him little good for when he was found, like the men on the S-4, he had been dead for hours.

We hope that these daily messages from General Noble will be an encouragement to those who are trying to help him and that they will redouble their efforts, but we also hope that they will arrive before a tragedy has been enacted as is so often the case when help is so near and yet so far.

The Man And The Mule

Poultry Progress is responsible for this story which to our mind contains some pretty good philosophy. We reproduce it here because we know many of our readers have been in the same boat and have thought the same thoughts, even though they may not have expressed them. Over a hill a man trailed behind a mule drawing a Dixie plow. Together they formed a sort of radio. Rope lines connected the two and the clod-hopper was the broadcast station.

"Bill you are a mule, the son of a jackass, and I'm a man made in the image of God. Yet here we work hitched together year in and year out. I often wonder if you work for me or I for you. Sometimes I think this is a partnership between a mule and a fool. For surely I work the hardest of the two. Plowing here we cover the same distance, but you do it on four legs and I on two. So, mathematically speaking, I do twice as much work per leg as you do."

"Soon we'll be preparing for a corn crop. When the crop is harvested, I give one-third to the landlord for being kind enough to let me use this corner of God's universe. The other third goes to you, and what is left is my share. But while you consume all your third with the exception of a few cobs, I divide my third between seven children, six hens, two ducks and a banker. Bill, you are getting the best of me; it ain't fair for just a mule, the son of a jackass, to rob a man, the lord of creation, of his substance. And come to think about it you only help to cultivate the ground. After that, I cut, shock and husk it, while you look over the pasture fence and ha, ha, at me."

"All fall and part of the winter, the whole family, from granny down to the baby, picked cotton to help raise money to buy a new set of harness, and pay interest on the mortgage on you. And by the way, what do you care about that mortgage? It doesn't worry you any. Not a darn bit. You leave that to me, you ungrateful onery cuss. About the only time where I'm your better is on election day, for I can vote and you can't. But if I ever get any more out of politics than you do I can't see where it is."

RUTH BRYAN OWEN TAMPA TRIBUNE

It was well known to the close personal friends of the late William Jennings Bryan that he cherished the ambition to end his days as a United States Senator from Florida. He began his public career as a Representative in Congress from Nebraska, the home of his youthful choice. His desire was to close his career as a representative of his later home state in the upper house of Congress. Death, which outpaced ambition, prevented this culmination of a distinguished life. We know it would be gratifying to the "Commoner" if he could receive the intelligence that a daughter of his house and home had been chosen to occupy one of Florida's seats in Congress. If our faith is well-founded, he knows.

Ruth Bryan Owen failed in her first candidacy by a margin so narrow that it served notice upon all concerned that she would try again. This time, she succeeded brilliantly. We have the highest respect for W. J. Sears, the earnest and honest Floridian who had to be the victim of Mrs. Owen's mounting popularity, of the glamour, if we may so term it, which attended her political venture and caused voters in the Fourth District to feel that there would be something of romance, of poetic justice, in sending her to Congress. A great many, also, considered the added prominence and advertising which Florida would enjoy by having this daughter of the great Bryan as a member of its delegation. Joe Sears, therefore, suffered both from the sentimental and the material aspects of Mrs. Owen's candidacy.

We know little of Mrs. Owen's capabilities, or her qualifications for the office she has won. We haven't the slightest doubt, however, that she will be influential in her work for Florida in Washington—or that she will be able to work in harmony with the other members of the Florida delegation in Congress, because they are each and all gentlemen of the highest type, who will consider it an honor and a privilege to be associated in public service with a good and true woman.

AN ALIBI FOR THE PRESS OCALA STAR

Because of the strong showing made by Doyle E. Carlton in his race for governor and because of the lack of newspaper support accorded Former Governor Sidney J. Catts, the unthinking are likely to jump to the conclusion that the power of the press is on the wane in Florida. An analysis of the situation, however, shows to the contrary. In no election held in the state have the newspapers ever played a more important part. The general impression that "all the newspapers" were for Hathaway is based on the fact that in this particular section none of the other aspirants for the gubernatorial office had any influential organ at their command, and that many of the smaller dailies advocated the cause of Dr. Hathaway. There are in Florida four newspapers of large circulation and strong political influence—the Tampa Tribune, the Tampa Times the Miami Herald and the Miami News. Of these three were Carlton supporters, the Miami Herald being the lone exception. From the day the campaign opened until the day it ended, the Tampa Tribune, the Tampa Times and the Miami News devoted their columns to a single purpose—to breaking down the splendid reputation which Dr. Hathaway enjoyed as an educator and a road builder. Having a wide circulation, being capable edited and versed in political warfare, they caused many voters to arrive at the hasty conclusion that the road department was undermined with graft, for the voter was not inclined to stop and think that until the campaign opened these same papers had been loudest in their praise of the road department and its chairman.

The very nature of the campaign—one of destruction—was such that the three large dailies, with their huge number of readers could circulate campaign canards faster than Dr. Hathaway could refute them. The public mind was poisoned to an extent to affect the ultimate result. The Miami Herald did valiant service in presenting the true facts to the voters. But as its circulation is confined to one populous center the effect was not far-reaching.

At Jacksonville, Hathaway received the support of the Journal, which is politically unimportant. He was also accorded the courtesy of space in the Times-Union, but did not receive its endorsement. From the newspaper standpoint it was largely the smaller dailies against the larger dailies. That the race was close may be accepted as a decision in favor of neither. Catts, on the other hand, with newspaper to back him, had already been made by the press. His name was a household word. To his holdover vote of past campaigns was added the vote gained in those centers where race-track gambling was popular. The press, in combatting this influence, gave him publicity that he needed and sought.—Palm Beach News.

Florida and that neither the Tampa papers nor the Miami News attempt to cover that field but the Times-Union, like its contemporary the Journal, has no political influence. Those "Boy's Size, 6%" cartoons that A. K. Taylor used to draw for Dixie when Claude L'Engle was in politics are remembered by thousands of Florida voters. Hathaway not only had the press of the state behind him but the job presses were working overtime on his propaganda, though it was practically worthless. When the road chairman backed off from Carlton's challenge he dropped his candy and that's all there is to it.

Catts, on the other hand, with newspaper to back him, had already been made by the press. His name was a household word. To his holdover vote of past campaigns was added the vote gained in those centers where race-track gambling was popular. The press, in combatting this influence, gave him publicity that he needed and sought.—Palm Beach News. The News' alibi like other alibis that have been written and spoken proached for having testified in the Daugherty-Miller trial in New York.

NORRIS FLAYS HOOVER CHOICE TO LEAD PARTY

Former Senator Lenroot, of Wisconsin, termed a "Hoover team-roller" was taken to task for participating in the convention when, Norris said, "his pockets were lined with $20,000 fee that he received from the water power trust."

Senator Smoot (R) of Utah, chairman of the Platform Commission went to Albert Fall and advised him as to his defense, Norris charged.

"In addition to this when the psychological moment came, it was no other person than Boss Vare, the leader of the Philadelphia political machine, excluded from the Senate, who compelled the Pennsylvania delegation to go solidly for Hoover," Norris said.

Bascom Slemp, of Virginia, was characterized as "famous for his presidential appointments in the Solid South and as one of the principal cogs in the Southern political machine."

"Can any Republican who believes in honest government and wants to keep his party above suspicion and reproach look upon these controlling features of the convention without shame and disgust?" Norris asked.

"The rank and file of the great Republican Party will be humiliated, but the power trust and the machine politicians everywhere will be happy."

Norris feared that "if this program is endorsed at the polls," it will be the duty of the Senate to apologize to "power trust Insull and his man from Illinois," to seat Vare, to apologize to Sinclair and Doheny, to "give a certificate of character to ex-Secretary Fall," to condemn the United States Supreme Court for declaring that the Fall-Sinclair-Doheny deals were fraudulent and to call upon the Federal Trade Commission to cease its investigation of the power trust.

Rivers In Missouri Threaten Big Area As Levees Give Way

ously guarded by hundreds of anxious professional and business men and farmers.

Precautions also were being taken at Georgetown, Ark. where the crest of the White River is approaching. Georgetown is another levee protected town. The White River and its twin the Cache have been causing the greater portion of the damage in the Arkansas territory, but the other swollen streams have covered the unprotected lowlands.

CHINESE GUARD CITY

LONDON, June 16.—(INS)—More than 10,000 Southern (Nationalist) troops are now quartered in and around Tientsin under command of Southern Defense Commissioner Fu Tso Yi and are maintaining order, according to advices from that city this afternoon.

G. O. P. Chieftains To Confer With Hoover Monday

fore he leaves what character of campaign will be conducted—an old-fashioned stump speaking drive—a front-porch affair—a radio campaign.

It probably will be somewhat of a combination with a wide use of the radio whenever Hoover appears. Hoover was the American "radio czar" before the federal commission was established by Congress, although he has not been a frequent speaker before the microphone.

There was some speculation here as to whether Hoover would stop at the summer White House in Wisconsin on his way to the West Coast. It was thought possible that Hoover might seek counsel from the President.

PARTY'S HEADS ARE CONFIDENT AS THEY LEAVE

tion of itself will eventually offset the effect of Lowden's stinging rebuke to his party. They concede that Lowden is extremely popular from Indiana, westward to the Rockies and that his views carry weight with the farmers of that region. But they do not believe that Lowden's rebuke will lead any open revolt against the Republican party this autumn.

They say he may remain silent, that he may give no aid to the Hoover-Curtis ticket, but they do not believe it will go any further than that.

The vision of Frank O. Lowden, admittedly the only man now that "fighting bob" LaFollette is dead, becoming the symbol of a third party movement in the west is to them an impossible one. Lowden is a Republican of some 40 years' regularity. So are most of the men who fought with him in Kansas City—Senator James E. Watson of Indiana, Vice President Dawes, and Senator Curtis himself, who now has consented to stand on the platform this convention adjourns.

So were most of their friends. Hence they baffle the throat of a third party agrarian movement, this fall is an idle one.

The representatives of the anti-Hoover coalition have been doing a great deal of post-mortem since Thursday night, seeking to place "the blame" for their defeat and Hoover's nomination.

Prominent Democrat Berates Herb Hoover

HOUSTON, Texas, June 16.—(INS)—Jesse H. Jones, Houston publisher and capitalist, and prominent Democrat, berates Hoover if the Democrats could have elected the Republican nominee to the presidency at Kansas City they would have chosen Herbert Hoover "as the man most easily to defeat."

"Mr. Hoover is the heir apparent to the last two administrations, Jones said today, "and in addition to his own extreme popularity with the farmers for reason of his unfair treatment of them during the World War, he will be saddled with all the baggage of the Harding and Coolidge administrations, having had a very prominent part in both of them."

"If the Democrats could have dictated the Republican nomination, I have no doubt but that Mr. Hoover would have been selected as the man most easily to defeat."

F L O R I D A

—a BILLION DOLLAR STATE

WHEN Florida was a vast frontier wilderness with a few scattered towns and a bare half dozen tourist hotels, the enormous wealth that lay hidden in its waters and sunshine and beneath its soil was little dreamed. As the tourist travel increased, immigration from other states set in—as towns sprang up and grew to cities, steam and steel broke open the treasures of the plains and the flow of population began.

Florida's real prosperity began in 1875 when it was discovered that the gold vainly sought by the splendid greedy Spaniards might be gathered from orange trees. A little later the economic value of Florida's phosphate deposits began to be appreciated. Lumber was a major product and the development of other resources and products was rapid. Today Florida's manufactured products are valued at $250,000,000 a year. Its forests and fields and streams yield annually $200,000,000 worth of products. Its annual tourist revenue amounts to more than $200,000,000 and the state's gross income is in excess of three-quarters of a billion dollars a year!

And yet we have positive proof of the fact that there is still room for greater production in Florida. Each year we send away for more than $125,000,000 worth of food products alone for our own consumption—products that can be produced economically in Florida! Florida is still in its infancy as a producing state. Each year the amount of land under cultivation in the state increases. Each year more producers are at work. New crops are added to the list of those grown here. New resources are brought to light and utilized. New industries locate here—production increases—and Florida rapidly approaches the stage of its development when it may be unquestionably termed a billion dollar state!

One of a Series of Advertisements on
THE FUTURE OF FLORIDA to be published by
THIS NEWSPAPER
in co-operation with twenty-five Florida newspapers and Believers in Jacksonville.

FLORIDA'S FUTURE

As a producing state Florida is one of the youngest of the nation, yet it is already one of the country's most important. Its development is barely in its infancy. History proves that its real achievements have invariably far outstripped even the most optimistic expectations. Even today, knowing as well as we do its advantages, we cannot adequately judge its possibilities. No other section can compete with Florida in natural advantages and in proximity to markets. Many of Florida's products cannot be produced elsewhere. How much is yet hidden beneath the soil and water and sunshine of Florida nobody knows. But even with those resources and advantages that we already know its future is as bright and its possibilities are as broad as its people care to make them.

The incomparable diversity of Florida's agricultural and industrial resources and the fertile productivity of its fields and streams and forests all appear to represent no less than a plot of Nature that Florida must eventually dominate its sister states. Every essential element for a great, independent, agricultural and industrial Empire is here. As these resources and advantages are more fully utilized, as new wealth is uncovered in resources yet unknown, an increasing amount of freight for the older sections of the country will move northward from Florida . . . Still greater prosperity will come to the Sunshine State.

CARDS DISLodge CINCINNATI FROM LOOP LEADERSHIP

Phillies Defeat Reds White St. Louis Wins From The Robins; Giants Best Bucs And Yankees Are Defeated

NEW YORK, June 16.—(INS)—The St. Louis Cardinals, who have dislodged the not so natty Cincinnati Reds from the top of the National League ladder after a long chase, face stronger opposition today from the third place New York Giants.

In a characteristic last-minute trade a few hours before the 25th player limit went into effect last night, Manager John McGraw obtained the veteran pitcher he needed to round out his mound staff. He swapped catcher Al Spahr and three twirlers—the veteran Virgil Barnes and two rookies, Ben Cantwell and Bill Clark—to the Boston Braves in exchange for Joe Genesch.

The Cards eased into first place when Sunny Jim Bottomley's homer with two on base in the fourteenth struck them to a 5 to 3 win over Brooklyn. Mitchell and Simpson pitched fine ball for the Cards, as did McWeeny and Clark for the Robins.

The tall-end Phillies took an 8 to 7 slugfest from the Reds. Don Hurst walloped his fourth homer in five games.

Vic Aldridge, former Pirate, made a home run and two singles in addition to pitching the Giants to 9 to 1 victory over the Bucs.

The Braves certainly can use those pitchers they are getting from the Giants. The Beaneaters dropped their seventh straight game when the Cubs snatched them, out 5 to 3. Hack Wilson swatted his twelfth homer.

Detroit is in the throes of a five game losing streak. The Tigers lost out to Washington in the tenth 5 to 4.

With Lefty Grove on the mound, the Athletics swamped Cleveland 12 to 5 and gained a full game on the Yankees.

Brannon and Kress, the Tulsa twins, personally conducted the sprightly St. Louis Browns to a 5 to 4 win over the Yanks. Each got a home run and Alvin Crowder managed to turn back the champions even though the Browns were outbatted by 10 hits to five. Babe Ruth's twenty-fourth homer of the season was wasted.

Danny MacFayden, bespectacled Red Sox twirler, held the White Sox hitless for seven innings and trimmed them 3 to 1. The Sox managed to get four hits in the last two innings.

Sectional Olympic Trials Are Scheduled For Today; Paddock To Be Put To Test

By DAVIS J. WALSH
INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, June 16.—(INS)—The question of just how much of a spurge your favorite uncle, with the striped pants, high hat, chain whiskers and the name of Samuel, may be prepared to make in the Olympic games at Amsterdam this summer will be presented for a show down in three major sectors of the country this afternoon.

New York will muster the flower of eastern competition at the Yankee Stadium; Denver will call forth the best of the Rocky Mountain district and Los Angeles, over the happy hunting ground for talent on the spiked hoof, will send to the post one of the finest groups of sprinters, jumpers hurdlers and what would you ever assembled on one field.

The occasion in question will be sectional Olympic trials preliminary to the final and ultimate qualifications for team places in Boston early in July. Winners and second men in the eastern intercollegiate and the national collegiate A. A. Games already have staked their claims to a fling at the Boston finale. So have the qualifiers in the Pacific trials at San Francisco, the Pacific northwest at Portland, Ore., the Southwestern section at Atlanta, Ga., and the Eastern section at Philadelphia, Pa. But with the East, the Rockies and the Southern Pacific sections still to show their cards and the Allegheny Mountains, the mid-western and the central districts reserving their trials for later in the month, it may be conceded that the backbone of the embryonic team has yet to prove its strength or weakness.

Outside of Claude Bracey, sensational Texan, and a casual few others, the sprinters who have qualified for the Boston games to date do not bear the hallowed names that have served to make America great. This deficiency will be allured this afternoon both at Los Angeles and in the Yankee Stadium.

"Is Charley Paddock still the 'fastest human?' He very nearly will have to outfoot the field they are dropping him in with on the coast this afternoon. The day Charley was said to have 9-1-2 seconds for the hundred, there was some question of whether he had actually been headed at the tape by another man. The latter was and still is Charley Borah and he will be in there against Paddock again this afternoon. So will Lombardi, the 9-3-5 seconds schoolboy and Wyckoff, another precocious juvenile. It may be specifically determined this afternoon whether or not Paddock is to exercise his usual domination of the Olympic sprints this year.

"The Yankee Stadium field of sprinters will be equally meritorious in quality and considerably greater in quantity. The good ones will include Jack Scholtz, Olympic champion; Frank Himesley, who shot the 100-yard dash in 10.4 seconds; Hank Rouse, back to form again; Roland Locke, the ex-conductor whose injuries have prevented him from resuming his record breaking career of several years ago, and a coe of collegians.

Orlando Colts Cop Extra Inning Game From Miami Team

Orlando, June 16.—Orlando's Colts took a see-saw 10 inning battle from Miami out at Tinker Field yesterday afternoon by a count of 7 to 5. The old board of strategy brought about some peculiar playing but won out in the extra inning as Edmondson sent out a long double after two were out and Charlie Lehmann bunted one of Davis' slants square on the nose to drive in "Big Earl" with the inning run.

It was a thriller from start to finish, with everything in the rule book, and lots besides, going in to give the fans their money's worth. Leo Crowe, Miami pilot, stole home with the tying run with two out in the ninth. Burdine smacked a homer inside the park with one on in the second. Bess Wells got thrown out of the base and out of the park for protesting a decision and throwing down his receiving gauntlet—those are only a few of the extras thrown in for the faithful few.

Dave Shade Beats Courtney In Close Hard-Fought Scrap

NEW YORK, June 16.—One of those rare ring occurrences, a real grudge fight, wound up with a foggy decision last night at the Coney Island Stadium, when Dave Shade was declared a winner over George Courtney at the end of 10 rounds of mean milling.

This pair, ranked among the leading middleweights had never met this and, with the possibility of a little bout with Mickey Walker, looming up for the winner, plus personal dislike of each other, they came down to the wire fighting savagely.

Shade carried the final round by spearing the wildly rushing Oklahoman with a variety of cleanly delivered punches. Dave's finish evidently won him the nomination as Courtney had previously won at least five rounds. However, George had been guilty of much holding and rough, unethical mauling and wrestling.

Courtney was so incensed at the verdict that he refused to shake hands with Shade and raised his gloved hands in gestures of disgust. The men indulged in many wordy exchanges as they hampered away at each other. Courtney carried to fight to the Californian in the early rounds and although he missed many leads at the bobbing figure in front of him scored often with left hooks and uppercuts.

U. S. Tennis Players Face Difficult Job

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 16.—(INS)—With Great Britain leading by one match, the American women tennis stars today must win three of four matches to be played to retain the Wightman Cup.

After her easy victory over Mrs. Watson, Helen Wills today faces Miss Eileen Bennett, the young English player, who yesterday won a sensational victory over Mrs. Molla Mallory.

Paired with Miss Penelope Anderson, the American star also will appear in the doubles against Mrs. Watson and Betty Nuthall.

In the other single matches, Mrs. Watson plays Mrs. Mallory, and Miss Helen Jacobs of California, plays Miss Nuthall. Miss Wills is conceded an easy victory in the singles, but the other three matches are expected to be bitterly fought.

A Well Planned Luncheon Menu Adds Zest To The Observation Of Fourth Of July Festivities

They may not allow you to shoot off fire-crackers on the fourth of July, but there is one way you can celebrate Independence Day with particular enjoyment to your eye and palate, if not to your ear. A luncheon or supper, nicely chosen in every way, will be a delightful occasion for you and your friends.

The decorations need hardly worry you. It's the color that counts, and that is naturally red, white and blue, which you can carry out in ribbons or tiny silken flags or in flowers, a tiny boutonniere at each place, or graceful sprays in the center crystal vases. For your menu you may choose from the following recipes. They are calculated to please the eye and to stimulate and satisfy the taste.

- Watermelon Cocktail With Orange Jelly
- 1 level tablespoonfuls Knox Sparkling Gelatine
- 4 cup cold water
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 cups boiling water
- 1 cup orange juice
- 2 tablespoonfuls lemon juice

Arrange in cocktail glasses with round balls scooped from watermelon. A spoonful of raspberry jelly may be added to each glass, and if preferred the jelly may be colored red with vegetable coloring. Or, raspberry jelly may be used, following recipe for orange jelly and substituting raspberry juice for the orange juice.
- 1 Or for a novelty, serve a colorful Fruit Soup.

Picture At Milan Stars McLaglen Eight Pretty Girls

NEW YORK, June 16.—(INS)—Black Maria, a fast and game mare now at the top of her form, is favored to win the $17,500 Brooklyn Handicap at Aqueduct this afternoon. Ten of the East's leading handicap horses have been named for the historic race. The distance is a mile and a furlong.

Those who have seen the picture endorses it as one of the most interesting unique sea yarns yet to be put on the screen. Not alone are there adventure and romance in the picture, but comedy situations have been injected into it in such a way as to make it highly humorous and well as entertaining.

The story, based on an one by Howard Hawks, tells of the nautic adventures of a burly mate, "Spike Madden." His book records the names of eight girls of various degrees of beauty in Amsterdam, Buenos Aires, Panama, Maracalla, and other ports of call, and his amazing ventures in each port provide the plot.

In addition to affairs of the heart, "Spike" provides thrills plenty through his ability as a fighter, especially when he gets into a scrap with his buddy, Robert Armstrong, of the many scrapes he manages to get into while Spike goes wooling.

Another unusual thing about "Girl in Every Port" is that of the most popular and most beautiful of the younger motion picture actresses in Hollywood, the feminine leads—one or two for each port. Marie Casper, the little Spanish beauty who in the Fox Films contest in Spain, the girl in the Argentine, and Joyce plays the girl in Panama. Gretel Veltz the girl in Holland. Lella Hyams in Panama and Brooks in France.
