

Seminole Youths Learn Trade That Pays

By Julian Stenstrom

Should you live in the Southern part of Seminole County and take your lawn mower and repair shop this summer, don't be surprised — or even shocked — if you see a junior high school youngster "sweating" over a broken down machine on the work bench.

The chances are the youth is experienced and knows his business. Not too long ago a South Seminole Junior High industrial arts teacher, Phillip D. Fletcher, told his students to scout around and if they could find some old, discarded power mowers he'd teach them how to repair them.

"Those boys brought in mowers," said Fletcher, "that I was sure could never be repaired. But to my surprise, they went to work on them and before even I realized it they had some of them running again... and smoothly too."

Daniel To Head Scout Patrol At Fair

By Jane Casselberry

Scoutmaster W. T. Daniel Jr., of Casselberry Boy Scout Troop 341 has been chosen to go as tour leader with a group of 10 handpicked scouts and explorers from the central Florida area to the New York World's Fair. They will represent the Central Florida Council as a Service Patrol at the Boy Scout Pavilion, giving demonstrations of scouting skills, escorting dignitaries, working in the information booth, and performing other duties.

The troop's Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Dan Casselberry is one of the scouts participating in the patrol.

Others who met with Daniel and Scout Executive John C. Dither in Orlando to make plans were Stephen Allen, Mattland; Phil Elmore, Indian River City; Robert Willson, Orlando; Barry Wright, Orlando; Robert Smith, Leesburg; George Garmany, Orlando; Bill Martinson, Orlando; Corky Parker, Kissimmee and Jon May, Orlando.

The group will leave by bus on Sunday, June 7, for a week at the fair. When they are not on duty they will be staying at Fort Totten in Queens, Daniel has designed and carved each one a Seminole Indian neckerchief slide to distinguish them as Florida scouts.

SSJH Schedules Orientation For New Students

By Jane Casselberry

Sixth grade students from South Seminole, English Estates, Altamonte Springs, Bear Lake and Longwood Elementary schools who will be entering the seventh grade of South Seminole Junior High School at Casselberry this fall, and their parents, are invited to attend an orientation program at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, May 28, in the cafeteria.

This is the first time such a program has been held at the Junior High School. Those attending will be briefed on regulations, fees, and the school layout as well as receiving the opportunity to meet the seventh grade teachers, Mrs. Louise Gilpen, guidance counselor, advises.

Refreshments will be served following the briefings.

That started something, Fletcher continued. The boys began bringing them in, one after another. "Usually," Fletcher said, "two boys would work on a mower. When they got it into first class condition they'd take it out and sell it. We provided very little in the way of tools, and that was all. The boys got their hands on some discarded engines and stripped them for parts."

Fletcher was probably the most surprised of all. "Some boys have built an electronic capacitor checker which enables the youngsters to test ignition systems on the mowers."

The one problem Fletcher stressed, is that "we need mower parts." But that problem opened a door to something we did not anticipate.

"When I went looking for parts, naturally I went to the mower shops. When I told them what we were doing the owners of these shops asked if they could hire some of the boys to work for them during the peak of the mower repair season. So, they're now arranging to employ quite a few youngsters when school is over."

About the future? "There'll be a full course next year," says Fletcher.

And don't worry if one of these talented young men works on your mower. So far, says Fletcher, the boys have repaired every mower they've brought in—and there have been about 60 of them.

REPAIRING WORN out lawn mowers is "old stuff" to these "experienced" South Seminole Junior High School industrial arts students. Phillip D. Tax Take On Smokes, Drinks Hits New High Tax collections from the sale of cigarettes and alcoholic beverages exceeded $102 million, surpassing all records in Florida's history and with still two months to go in fiscal year 1963-64.

According to the state beverage director, Richard B. Keating, collections for April alone reached $10,500,838.39, for an increase of 42.52 per cent over the same period last year. This brings collections from July, 1963, to April, 1964, to $102,072,929.99.

The director said his agents also destroyed 19 moonshine stills during April, poured out 18,317 gallons of fermenting mash and 1,075 gallons of moonshine ready for market.

Twenty automobiles were seized, 59 arrests made for moonshine activity and 179 arrests for other beverage law violations.

Keating conducted 112 administrative hearings during the month on licenses charged with various beverage law violations.

The beverage agent's report shows 605 gallons of mash were found in Seminole County during April.

The auditors' report from the beverage department show cigarette sales brought the largest tax contribution with $1,912,487.36; followed by beer with $2,458,816.12; liquor, $2,295,467.52; and wine, $807,202.43. Other miscellaneous collections made up the balance of the $10.5 million taken in during the month.

Canal Center Line Ordered Set

Absentee Vote Heavy

Indications are that Seminole County voters will surprise the political experts in Tuesday's second or run-off primary. The experts have been predicting a light and apathetic vote . . . but Registrar Camilla Bruce today reported a total of 355 absentee ballots have been cast.

Local political observers have felt there is little interest in the Tuesday election, primarily because of the colorless three county-wide campaigns and three district campaigns for justice of the peace and constable.

Too, local electors seemed to have lost interest in the Democratic governor's campaign, between Mayor Hayden Burns of Jacksonville and Mayor Robert King High of Miami.

But Mrs. Bruce's report of the heavy absentee vote—compared to the 369 in the first primary on May 5—indicates Seminole voters are interested and again may turn out in what may be a record number on Tuesday.

Waterway Cost Estimated At $11 Million

By Harry Johnson
Authorization to establish the center line for the St. Johns-Indian River Canal was given today by the canal district directors meeting in DeLand.

The district officials instructed its engineer, Norman Bryan, a resident engineer with the Jacksonville firm of Reynolds, Smith and Hills, to proceed at once.

The project involves aligning 23 miles of waterway from Lake Monroe east to the Indian River, linking Sanford with Titusville.

John Krider, chairman of the district's board of directors, said that the cost of project is now being estimated at $11 million. The canal would contain two locks, each 56 feet by 250 feet. One of the locks would be located north of Lake Harney and the other just west of proposed Interstate 95.

Participating in the district's meeting were Senator Randolph Hodges of Tallahassee, chairman of the State Conservation Commission, and the chairman of the Florida Canal Authority, W. A. McCreary.

Later today the district's directors met with the DeLand Chamber of Commerce to brief that body on the canal district's plans for a four-lane highway north of the canal and a two-lane service road to the south.

Krider reiterated the purpose of the canal would be to develop the commercial, recreational and residential potential of the east Central Florida area.

Mother Denies Two Children Were Strangled

CROSSVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—A young mother testified Thursday that she lied when she told officers her two children were strangled by Sam Earl (Big John) Ammons, recently placed on the FBI's 10-most-wanted list.

At times sobbing uncontrollably, Mrs. Alma Faye Reed Matthews, 21-year-old wife of an Alabama plasterer, reversed her charges that Ammons had strangled her son and daughter. She said they died of natural causes and were placed in a 8-foot-deep septic tank near her by Ammons at her request.

Mrs. Matthews, who is expecting a child in October, testified at a preliminary hearing at which she, Ammons, and Ammons' shapely, 23-old-brunette wife were bound over to the Cumberland County grand jury in connection with the deaths of John Anthony Reed, 2, and Rose Marie Reed, 4.

U. S. Prepares For Hotter War

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Top U. S. officials worked today to shape plans for stepping up military pressure on Communist forces in Southeast Asia if diplomatic maneuvers fail to ease the Laos crisis within the next few days.

Movements of units of the powerful U. S. 7th Fleet into waters closer to the turbulent region and dispatch of American troops to Thailand, just across the Mekong River from Laos, were said to be the next logical steps if the Red offensive in Laos continues.

President Johnson was expected to review the recommendations of U. S. planners by the weekend and come to some specific decision.

U. S. jet reconnaissance flights over Communist positions in Laos, which began Thursday, were described as the first stage in additional help to be given neutralist Premier Souvanna Phouma's embattled government if necessary.

Capt. Ware To Leave SNAS Post On June 29

Captain Robert M. Ware, USN will be relieved as commanding officer of the Sanford Naval Air Station, by Capt. Chandler W. Swanson, USN, June 29.

Capt. Ware, who has been commanding officer of the Sanford air base since November 1961, will be retiring from the Navy after more than 30 years of service.

Capt. Swanson is currently at the U. S. Naval War College in Newport, R. I. He will be the 11th commanding officer of the station since the base was built during World War II.

A change-of-command ceremony will be held at 2 p. m. June 29 at the station. A reception will follow the event.

Capt. Ware, born March 8, 1915, in Hagerman, N. M., was graduated from the Naval Academy in 1937.

His first tour of duty was aboard the USS Lexington, a naval aviator in 1941 after completing flight training at Pensacola and served aboard the USS Wasp until she was sunk in 1942.

Following the sinking of the Wasp, he went to the Naval Air Station, Daytona Beach, as an instructor and then to the USS Hornet as a squadron commanding officer.

Immediately after the war Capt. Ware served as a flag secretary and two years later went aboard the USS Mindoro.

He was assigned to the Naval War College in 1949 for three years and was then ordered to the USS Coral Sea.

Capt. Ware served a tour of duty in the office of the Chief of Naval Operations in Washington, D. C., from 1953 to 1955, and from there he went to be the aviation training officer of the Fleet Training Group Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

After Cuba he became the commanding officer of the Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Saultfield Field, Fla. Prior to coming to Sanford, he served as commanding officer of the USS Suribachi and the USS Bennington.

Capt. Ware, who is married to the former Miss Myrtle Plicht of Seattle, Wash., has been awarded the following decorations: the Navy Cross with Star, the Silver Star, the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal, and the Purple Heart.

CG Captures Gulf Shrimper

ST. PETERSBURG (UPI)—A Coast Guard cutter intercepted a shrimp boat today and took into custody its lone crewman on suspicion of murdering the boat's missing captain.

The Coast Guard said it had no details of the capture about 200 miles southwest of here in the Gulf of Mexico.

A spokesman said earlier the Negro crewman, Henry Weaver, was armed with a rifle and was believed to be wounded and delirious.

The cutter took the shrimp boat in tow for Tampa.

An FBI agent was aboard the cutter Point Swift when it intercepted the shrimp boat Golden Net out of Tampa. The agent carried a warrant charging the occupant of the shrimp boat with murder.

Weaver radioed the Tampa owners of the 72-foot Golden Net Thursday that "I have a hole in my head and my arm is cut."

"He was reported to be rather incoherent when he radioed for help," the Coast Guard said.

Two shrimp boats — the Captain Bill and Arlene B. — heard the call and kept the Florida-bound Golden Net under surveillance until a Coast Guard cutter could intercept the ship.

Court Cuddling Curdles Judge

ATRIQUERQUE, N. M. (UPI)—Municipal court Judge Harry D. Robins put the damper on some courtroom cuddling Thursday.

Robins caught William Mossman, 22, of Albuquerque, kissing a girl just a few feet from where he was sitting on the bench.

"Quit making love in the in the courtroom," Robins said. "This isn't what this court is for."

Mossman later was fined $10 by Robins on a charge of operating an unsafe vehicle.

Burns Charges NAACP Threatened Negroes

ST. PETERSBURG (UPI)—Jacksonville Mayor Hayden Burns charged today the NAACP has threatened "many respectable and educated Negro citizens" if they support his candidacy for governor.

Burns, stumping hard in preparation for Tuesday's Democratic runoff primary, also again labeled opponent Robert King High of Miami as "the NAACP candidate" in the runoff.

Burns told the breakfast meeting supporters that the "NAACP has created an atmosphere of dread and fear in the Negro community."

He said that many Negro citizens "have come to us and said 'we are afraid—we cannot make an endorsement because of fear of what will happen to us or our families.'"

He charged that vote for High—who has announced his full support of the civil rights bill—would be a "betrayal" of Florida Sens. Spessard Holland and George Smathers who are fighting the bill in Congress.

The Jacksonville Mayor attacked the rights bill saying the public accommodations section is "the least objectionable section of the bill—objectionable as the section is."

After the coffee, Burns headed inland for a coffee at Avon Park and a luncheon at Wauchula.

Longwood OK On Sunday Beer Sales Asked

By Donna Estes
Sal DeLucian, owner of Longwood Plaza, appeared before a special session of the Longwood City Council Thursday evening to urge that the city permit Sunday sales of beer.

DeLucian stated that business in the shopping center, and at other groceries in the community, is diminishing due to the fact that customers can go to neighboring communities to purchase beer on Sunday.

Council Chairman R. C. Carlson reaffirmed the city's position and stated that although the city desired to cooperate with local business people, residents of the city had voted against the issue last December.

In other business, Mrs. Bobbie Joe Hunt requested the key to the old city hall building in order that broken windows may be repaired. She reminded council that the building will revert back to her ownership since it is no longer being used as a city hall.

Carlson assured Mrs. Hunt that the city will vacate the premises at the earliest possible moment.

Taken under advisement was a petition to pave Oak Street from Wildmore to Overstreet; Overstreet Avenue from Oak to Grant and Grant Street from Overstreet to Wikimere.

No More Silk Wallpaper In General's Bath

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An Irlked House Appropriations Committee today outlawed silk wallpaper for general's bathrooms, put the brakes on expansion of officers' clubs, and said if the Navy wants new bowling alleys it cannot look to the taxpayers to build them.

The committee, burning at a recent Army outlay of $94,500 to remodel a major general's suite, chopped new military construction requests and sternly lectured the services on overdesign, waste and excessive cost in some of their buildings.

Approving an economy-style $1.6 billion construction fund for the new fiscal year, the committee in a formal report cited as a horrible example of what ought not to be done exactly what it said was done when the Army Mobility Command set up a headquarters at Warren, Mich.

Adlai's Peace Plan Studied

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—Diplomats here discussed possible ways today of putting into effect U. S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson's suggestions for a UN peace-keeping role in Southeast Asia.

Washington's willingness to have the United Nations participate in affairs of the strife-ridden area encompassing Laos, Viet Nam and Cambodia was regarded here as the most significant development in Stevenson's policy review before the Security Council Thursday.

The council was in recess until Monday morning. Its debate on Cambodia's charge of aggression by South Viet Nam and the United States has mushroomed into a full-scale discussion of the whole Southeast Asian situation.

Stevenson avoided direct accusations against Russia in his speech, but in blunt talk to the Kremlin's Communist colleagues he said: "The United States cannot stand by while Southeast Asia is overrun by armed aggressors. As long as the people of that area are determined to preserve their own independence and ask for our help in preserving it, we will extend it."

Bite Fatal To Snake Collector

MIAMI (UPI)—Snake collector Shubert Lee died Thursday night from the bite of a deadly cobra after a two-day battle by doctors to save him.

So staggering was the venom of the reptile that Lee, 28, never regained consciousness and was completely paralyzed.

Police said Lee may have committed suicide by thrusting his hand into a sack containing the cobra. No one saw Lee bitten. His fiancée, Florence Guttierrez, 32, said she found Lee Wednesday night groaning on the floor of his cottage.

She said Lee had been dependent over money.

Rev. Grover Sewell 'You Are Important'

A fine orchestra was rehearsing for a concert to be held in the near future and, needless to say, the event was very important. The large array of master musicians gave the conductor great confidence and a feeling of well-being as they prepared for the season of music.

One man, the piccolo player, was not so happy. He looked around to see the fine number of men and the fine and large instruments. He knew that the violin section would have an important part to play. The brass section would be recognized for their contribution, but what about the piccolo? The player of this smallest of instruments was discouraged as he considered the minor part that fell his lot. He even decided that it was not important that he play, so he ceased to make any effort but merely sat holding the piccolo as if he were playing with no music being made at all.

There was at least one man who was immediately aware of the fact that something was wrong in this vast congregation of music makers. He raised his hand silencing the players and the note of irritation was very evident as he asked, "Where is the piccolo?"

Every job that is in the will of God is important, and even though this may not be recognized always by the Church Accepts Sponsorship Of Scouts

The incoming and outgoing members of the Board of Stewards of the Casseberry Community Methodist Church enjoyed a covered dish supper with their families Tuesday night in Weaver Hall.

Following the supper the new members sat in on the business meeting. The board voted to take over the sponsorship of Boy Scout Troop 341 of Casseberry which has been meeting at the church for some time. The troop now has approximately 45 members and W. T. Daniel Jr. is the scoutmaster. A sum of $100 was earmarked in the budget for insurance for the troop bus and other expenses.

The Brotherhood of the Prairie Lake Baptist Church will hold a covered dish supper at 6:30 p. m. Monday at the church to be followed by a program at 7:30 p. m. All men of the church are invited to participate.

Ebenezer Now Named 'Christ Methodist'

Last Sunday, May 17, was a history-making day in the life of the 74 year old Ebenezer Methodist Church for upon this date, after weeks of study, prayer and a final approving vote of the congregation at conference, the name of the church was officially changed to "Christ Methodist Church."

A full report of steps leading up to this name change and its selection, as released by Rev. Ray Gregory, pastor, states:

"Several weeks ago the Official Board voted to bring before the congregation the matter of changing the name of the church. May 17 was selected as the day for a church conference at which all members at least 18 years of age would have a vote. Three ballots were taken at the conference. The first ballot was taken on a resolution to change the name. This passed by a two-thirds majority. The second ballot consisted of 12 names from the suggestion box. Members had been contributing names for three weeks. The two top names from this ballot were placed on the third ballot resulting in the new name which was selected by two-thirds of the voting members present.

"After the evening service a special session of the quarterly conference was conducted world it is true. The Psalmist knew that it was true and expressed this thought to a degree when he said, "I had rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God than dwell in the tents of wickedness."

The important thing is that every Christian realizes that he is important and that when he falls to do his part that the great symphony of God's plan has a weak spot in it. Certainly one of the reasons that our world has such a lack of harmony of human relations is that mankind simply refuses to follow the Conductor and realize that his role is important.

The great task of evangelism is one that Christians have said is the heart of the Church, and yet almost 2,000 years have passed since Jesus Christ walked the earth in the flesh and the world has not been won for Him. Billy Graham has said that if the world is won for Christ that individual Christians will have to come to the realization that they must win people themselves. Many of us are a part of a local Church of a thousands members or more.

If we have a net gain of a hundred members in a year we feel rather good, but actually what a tragic thing it is that ten members are required to win one person in a period of a year! It would be so easy to dedicate ourselves to the task as individuals and win several people each year. Do you see what would happen? If our city has ten thousand Christians and each in a year we would have to begin looking for new territory because all would be won.

When we think of the number of people who attend worship regularly it is also thought provoking. Why is it that people have taken vows of loyalty yet find it unnecessary to live up to them? Perhaps it is because they feel like the piccolo player. The answer that we often receive is that we should give people a place of leadership so they will not feel unimportant. How true this is as far as it is possible, but all important places are not merely which glitter with prestige.

Actually there are not enough places for all to be leaders. Some must be Chiefs and some Indians, yet there is no unimportant place in the work of God's Kingdom. It would be a great day indeed if we would all dedicate ourselves afresh to do the very best that we can in the place that we find ourselves. If all Christians would do so, the world would be filled with harmony and peace and blast of guns would be heard no more.

Grace MYF Groups Have Elections

The Methodist Youth Fellowship of Grace Methodist Church held the annual election of officers last Sunday evening. The group enjoyed the singing of several songs preceding the election. Following the songfest, Frank Murray, outgoing president of the Senior High MYF, spoke of the duties and obligations of each office-holder.

The Senior High MYF members elected were: President, Joel Fehd; Vice - President, Frank Murray; Secretary, Sherry Hite; Treasurer, Laraine Klaz. These officers will serve for one year.

Those elected in the Junior High MYF were: President, Lynn Fehd; Vice President, Mary Lou Klaz; Secretary, Karen Williams; Treasurer, Blair Kitzer. The Junior High officers serve for six months. During the business meeting, the Junior High group voted to contribute $10 (earned at last year's bazaar) to the Sanctuary Air - Conditioning Fund.

Following the elections, a social was held. Refreshments were served by the counselors, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Benink and Mrs. F. J. Murray. The minister, Rev. John H. Hires Jr., led the group singing a hymn and the meeting closed with the MYF Benediction.

Nazarenes To Install Officers

Installation of officers and teachers of the Lake Mary Church of the Nazarene will be conducted Sunday at the 11 a. m. worship hour.

Captains of the "Fill a Pew Month" campaign report that Bill and JoAnn Loudermilk filled their pew during the first week and that Bill and Juanita Price had their pew filled to capacity last week. Captains are urged to continue the campaign this week and on Sunday, May 31, the church will strive to have at least 96 in attendance.

A work day has been called for Saturday, beginning at 9 a. m., to paint the new Sunday School annex which is nearing completion.

Services Set In Memory Of Rev. Austin

Morning worship services this week at Christ Methodist Church will mark Ministry Sunday and Austin Memorial Sunday.

The late Rev. J. W. Austin served the church (formerly Ebenezer Methodist) for a total of 17 years between 1906 and 1922. Each year on the Sunday nearest his birth date, May 25, the congregation pays tribute at memorial services in his honor.

Rev. Ray Gregory, pastor, has chosen as his sermon topic "God Calls, We Answer."

Installation Set

The West Lake Brantley Civic Association will install new officers at a meeting to be held on the beach property Sunday at 8:30 p. m.

Bykota Class Has Project For Church

The Bykota Class of the Bear Lake Methodist Church reported good response to the special bulletin carrying the names of some 70 mothers whose names were placed by a $1 contribution from their sons or daughters. The money thus given will be applied on purchase price of a piano for the new church when it is completed.

Last Monday night was Ladies Night at the church with members of the Men's Club as hosts. A potluck dinner was enjoyed after which Rev. Stuart McRee spoke for the group.

The Florida Annual Conference will be held June 3-7 in the new Branscomb Auditorium on the campus of Florida Southern College. Delegate from the Bear Lake Church will be Leo Salmi with Mrs. Florence Winfield as the alternate delegate.

Prairie Lake Plan VBS

Vacation Bible School is planned at the Prairie Lake Baptist Church in Fern Park for June 8-14. Mrs. Marie Painter will serve as superintendent. Registration day will be held on Saturday, June 6, for ages three through 16 years. The Bible School commencement exercises will be held Sunday evening, June 14.

Churchwomen To Hold Fund Raising Event

Plans were set for a fund raising card party at the May meeting of the Episcopal Churchwomen of Longwood's Christ Episcopal Church held recently at the Parish House on Church Street.

The card party is scheduled for next Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the Parish House with Mrs. Tom Hinson serving as chairman with assistance by Mrs. Robert Hamilton and Mrs. William Kennan. Refreshments will be served and a door prize and other prizes will be awarded.

Other fund raising projects were discussed to take place at various times throughout the year.

Mrs. Peggy Kuhn, president, conducted the meeting and announced that she had appointed Mrs. Dix Stewart to be scrapbook chairman and Mrs. Raymond Ball as parliamentarian.

Mrs. Eugene Taylor, delegate to the Diocesan Convention held in Daytona Beach recently, reported that Rev. and Mrs. Charles W. Stewart Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ball also had attended the convention as representatives of Christ Church. She related information of interest acquired at the convention that might assist the Longwood Churchwomen.

Following the business meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Hill Pittman, Mrs. Charles Morrison and Mrs. Ralph Stevens. The next regular meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, June 9.

Methodist Men Set Installation

The Men's Club of the First Methodist Church of Sanford will install officers and observe ladies night at a meeting to be held next Thursday night at the church.

New officers of the club are Robert Goettinger, president; John Darby, vice president; Blake Sawyer, secretary, and Gerald Myers, treasurer.

Kennedy Was Assassinated 6 Months Ago Today On Friday

Tragic Event And Aftermath Are Recounted

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six months have passed since President Kennedy's assassination in Dallas. They have been months filled with investigation, a murder trial, heartbreak. The end is not in sight. This is an accounting of the first half-year of the events that followed the world-shaking crime.

By PRESTON MCGRAW United Press International DALLAS — The nightmare happened six months ago today. Charles Brehm saw it from 15 feet away. It was 12:31 p.m. CST 1:31 p.m. EST last Nov. 22. The sun was hot as President Kennedy led a triumphant motorcade through cheering Dallas crowds.

"He was waving and the first shot hit him and that awful look crossed his face," Brehm said.

Kennedy, shot through the shoulder and throat, slumped toward his wife. Gov. John Connally of Texas, riding in the seat ahead of Kennedy in the White House car, turned and a second shot rang out. Connally collapsed, shot through the body. A third shot cracked sharply and a bullet struck the President in the back of his drooping head.

The President was pronounced dead as of 1 p.m. CST in emergency operating room No. 1 of Parkland Memorial Hospital.

Eighteen minutes later and even before Kennedy's death was announced, a citizen called in from a police squad car in the Oak Cliff section of Dallas.

The citizen reported that the policeman who drove the car had been shot to death. The policeman was J. D. Tippit, a patrolman.

Fifty-seven minutes after Tippit's death was reported, four policemen surrounded a young man with thinning hair in the Texas Theater nearby.

The young man leaped from his seat, shouting, "This is it," and pulled a sub-compact revolver. He tried to shoot McDonald, but the pistol misfired and McDonald and the other policemen subdued the man.

He was Lee Harvey Oswald, 24, a Marxist who had vainly tried to become a citizen of Russia and had come home with a Russian wife and a baby daughter.

Police Homicide Capt. Will Fritz quickly traced to Oswald the cabine that killed the President and the pistol that killed Tippit. Oswald denied both crimes, but Fritz charged him with two murders.

Police Chief Jesse Curry ordered Oswald transferred from city jail to county jail, eight blocks away, Nov. 24. At 11:21 a.m. CST, 12:21 EST as Oswald was led through the basement of city hall toward a waiting car, Jack Ruby, 33, a nightclub operator, leaped out of the crowd.

As millions watched on television, Ruby jammed a sub-compact, .38 revolver into Oswald's side and fired. Oswald's mouth flew open in agony and he slumped. Forty-six minutes later, Oswald died.

A presidential commission, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, is expected to release this year an official account of the assassination written after one of the most intensive and thorough investigations in history.

It is not expected to vary substantially from what already is public knowledge.

End Cuts

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI) — Two checker players were recovering today from stab wounds in an El Paso hospital. Police said Walter Snitely, 50, and Baxter Johnson, 53, made their game-ending moves with knives.

1,035,000 Votes Seen By Adams

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Secretary of State Tom Adams predicted today 1,035,000 voters will cast ballots in the May 26 primary election.

Adams said he expected a "considerable decline" in voter turnout because there was only one race, the gubernatorial campaign, which would draw voter interest.

The only other statewide contests in either the Democratic or Republican camps are for state committeemen and women and delegates to the national party conventions.

A record 1,266,700 voters cast ballots in the May 6 primary. At the time, Adams predicted 1,250,000 would vote.

Adams said he expects 950,000 voters to be cast in the Democratic part of the primary and another 85,000 in the Republican races. Combined, he said, these figures represent 46 per cent of the more than 2.2 million registered voters in Florida.

SYNTHETIC RACING STRIP GOSHEN, N. Y. (UPI) — The Hall of Fame of the Trotter has been presented with a miniature model of harness racing's first synthetic racing strip—the tartan track from the Meadows in Washington, Pa. The model was accompanied by an actual clunk of the track and is reputed to be the racing surface of the future.

DeBary Holds 'Lights On' Ceremony

By Mrs. Adam Muller

Many DeBary residents turned out Tuesday evening for the "Lights On" ceremonies when new street lights were turned on for the first time along Highway 17-92 from DeBary Manor to Plantation Road.

Guest of honor for the ceremonies, held at DeBary Plaza, was Volusia County Commissioner Harris Saxon from New Smyrna Beach who gave the signal for the lights to be turned on after invocation was given by Rev. August C. Summers.

James Spaulding, representing the Business and Professional Division of the DeBary Chamber of Commerce, was master of ceremonies.

Among other dignitaries introduced were J. F. Rosel, Florida Power and Light Company; James Sims, Chamber of Commerce; Chester Reavick, Civic Association; Eugene Davis, BP Division of the Chamber; Judge Albert D. Williams, Constable Oscar D. Papineau; Newell Hawkins, First National Bank; Mrs. Charles Ulrich, AARP Chapter and Women's Club; Joseph Brenner, Post Office; Commander Peter Koppelman, American Legion Post 259; Commander William Bries, WW 1 Barracks 1197; Gustav King, VFW Post 8093 and Richard Fawley, DeLand Federal Savings and Loan, DeBary Branch.

Sanford JCs Cop Top Awards At Cocoa Annual Convention

The Sanford-Seminole Jaycees won two first place awards, one second and two thirds at the annual convention held last weekend at Cocoa Beach.

Glenn McCall made this report at Thursday's luncheon meeting in the Civic Center.

He said the local club received first place awards for its Christmas and religious activities involving the Christmas parade, Christmas lighting contest, balloon sales and shopping tour; also for its publication of the Jaycees Journal.

Second place honors were given the club for its inter-club relations and extension which included 100 per cent visitation, extension of the South Seminole Jaycees, and participation at caucuses, conferences and conventions.

Two third place awards were given its agricultural and conservation work for the outstanding young farmer and for community health and safety which included seat belts sales, rabies clinic and polio immunization.

Jaycees also were told that Willie Hunt of the Hunt Lincoln-Mercury firm in Sanford was given a state award for his donation of a Comet station wagon the past two years for local Jaycees use.

Hunt and Scott Burns will be given certificates as honorary Jaycees members at the club's annual installation ceremony slated for the Civic Center June 13.

President Jim Smith reported the second in a series of two oral polio vaccine clinics will be held June 7 and he urged a complete assist from each Jaycee.

Thursday's program was given by Phillip Skates, who showed a movie on the planning and actual construction of the Distinct Early Warning Line (DEW Line) which is located north of the Arctic Circle and protects the North America continent from a surprise enemy attack. The film showed the cooperative work between Western Electric Company officials and American and Canadian personnel, both civilian and military.

Women Present Check To Nativity Church

By Donna Estes

A check for $1,000, representing work of the Church of Nativity Catholic Women's Club during the past year, was presented to Rev. James S. Honnen, pastor, by Mrs. Gene Shannon, president, at the last club meeting of the current season held Monday evening.

Father Honnen, on accepting the check to be used for the material welfare of the parish, thanked the women for their generosity and commended them on their devotion to the church.

The program for the evening consisted of a questions and answers discussion with Father Honnen answering questions ranging over a wide area of interest.

Following the program the business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Shannon with 31 members and two guests, Mrs. Theresa Ruba and Mrs. Catherine Westbrook, in attendance.

Mrs. Jennie Fox, ways and means chairman, presented her recommendations for fund raising projects to be held beginning in the fall. Events proposed and approved were three day rummage sales to be held simultaneously at the Super Valu Food Store on S.W. 43d and at a location in Sanford in late September or early October; a Fall Festival to take place on the church grounds, Nov. 7; a New Year's Eve Dance and a Dessert Card Party and Fashion Show in February.

The members voted to make rosaries for the foreign missions throughout the summer, and to repair various religious articles for the foreign missions.

Mrs. Jerry Quilling, deanery representative for the club, reported the events that took place at the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women Convention held in Sarasota recently. Members who attended the convention, other than Mrs. Quilling, were Mrs. John Kennedy, vice president, representing Mrs. Shannon; Mrs. George Sommer and Mrs. Fox.

Nine constitution changes were proposed by Mrs. Clifford Dulles, organization and development chairman, and were unanimously adopted.

Mrs. Thomas Ryan, refreshment chairman, reported that the club had served a light breakfast to the 49 First Communicants on May 3. Assisting Mrs. Ryan were Mrs. Shannon, Mrs. Sommer and Mrs. Arthur Grove.

Mrs. Sommer, spiritual development chairman, urged the women to recite the Rosary daily during the month of May and to build a May shrine in honor of the Virgin Mary in their home. She recommended attendance at the weekly Novena Service at the church and the use of religious cards.

Mrs. Shannon announced club events scheduled for June to be: June 7, monthly bake sale; June 8, board meeting; June 15, monthly Communion Sunday, and June 19, USO contribution day.

Following the business meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Ryan, Mrs. Peter Denica and Mrs. Dale Fleming. Business meetings will be resumed September 14.

Brownie Troop 595 Has Fly-Up Party

By Doris Dean
North Orlando Brownie Troop 595 held a fly-up ceremony and end of the year party recently at the Civic Building in the Recreation Area.

Those receiving Brownie wings and advancing to Junior Girl Scouting were Debra Herrie, Frances Deskins, Diane Duquette, Janet Lucore, Debbie Matuzek, Lynda Maxwell, Dianne Stewart and Michelle Williams.

Following the ceremony, the girls enjoyed refreshments of home baked cake and punch.

Leader of the troop is Mrs. Raymond Lucore of 418 David Street.

English Estates Registration Open Now

By Jane Caselberry
Principal Morris Ruby of the English Estates Elementary School reminds all parents of children in the Prairie Lake, Lakewood Shores, Tanglewood or English Estates areas who are now attending grades one through five in another school but plan to transfer to English Estates, that they are to register the children as soon as possible and no later than June 5.

The school office is open from 8:30 a.m. until 3 p.m., Monday through Friday, and it is not necessary to bring the child.

Preschool children planning to enter first grade this fall should register if they have not already done so. This is important so that plans may be made for securing ample teachers and supplies for next year.

Sanford Church Receives Honors At Convention

Nazarenes throughout the State of Florida met for their 50th annual assembly in Orlando, May 18 and 19. The event was preceded by conventions of the Sunday School, Foreign Missionary Society, and Young People's Society which were held Saturday.

Elected by the local church as delegates to the assembly were Herman Barrett, Mayme Bickes and Ross Shepherd.

Rev. Paul Bickes, pastor, reports the Sanford church received awards which included College Honor Roll, Evangelistic Honor Roll, support to World Evangelism and promoting denominational periodicals. It also was among the churches to receive the highest honor possible, the "Church of the Year" award. The assembly was climaxed by the ordination of five young men for the ministry.

Business School Sets Schedule

Classes in typewriting and bookkeeping will be offered throughout the summer months at the Seminole County Business School, Ninth St. and Palmetto Ave.

The course, which is free, is available Monday through Thursday from 7 to 9 p.m. each week and is open to recent graduates and high school students 16 years of age and over.

The course will be personal typewriting and does not carry credit. Adults may enroll in either of the courses. Typing will be taught by Miss Mary George and the bookkeeping by Miss Susan Castrilanni.

Information is available from E. S. Douglas, director of vocational and adult education by calling 322-4165.

St. Ann's Guild Has Meeting

By Mrs. Adam Muller
The May meeting of the St. Ann's Guild of DeBarry was held in the Parish Hall of St. Ann's Catholic Church.

Mrs. John J. Strang reported that 107 members of the parish attended the recent Communion Breakfast and Mrs. William Joyce announced that Miss Gilda Mucha of Stetson University will be the new organist.

A crystal bowl with matching candlesticks was on display. This lovely gift was donated by Mrs. Fred C. Heusch for use at social functions of the Guild. The president, Mrs. Howard A. Yerkes, read the program of coming events for the year. Mrs. John Reardon and Mrs. Robert Morrison volunteered to assist in recruiting donors for the local Blood Bank drawing.

Rev. Gerard C. Devlin gave the closing prayer. Refreshments were served by Mrs. A. Gulsart and members of the committee. The floral centerpiece on the tea table was provided by Mrs. John T. Hewitt.

Dinner-Dance Plans Reported At Republican Club Meeting

By Jane Caselberry
Plans were announced for the gala dinner dance to be held June 12 at the Capri Restaurant in Sanford at Tuesday night's meeting of the Seminole County Young Republican Club by Mrs. E. Pope Bassett, chairman of the affair.

U. S. Congressman Edward Gurney from Winter Park will be the principal speaker and Republican candidates for county offices will be introduced.

A social hour will start at 7 p.m. with dinner at 7:30 p.m. The band will play for dancing until 1 a.m. There will be a choice of steak or lobster on the dinner menu. Reservations must be made in advance. Tickets are available from Mrs. Bassett or other club members.

The program Tuesday night was presented by Jim Saunders of Winter Park who showed the film, "Katangas," which proved to be a shocking revelation of mis-handling of affairs in the Congo by UN troops. The film offered pictorial proof of allegations accusing the troops of killing innocent civilians and bombing hospitals and ambulances.

The club accepted with regret the resignation of the president, Bob Fox, and a nominating committee was set up to report at the June meeting. The new mimeograph machine, recently purchased from donations, was on display at the meeting.

Methodist Retreat Set Saturday

The third annual retreat for men of the Methodist Church DeLand District will be held Saturday at the YMCA Camp Winona at DeLeon Springs. Theme for the day-long event will be "In Him We Believe . . . In Him We Live."

Leading the retreat will be Dr. Joe Tolle, DeLand District superintendent who will be assisted by John Sproull of Palatka, Ted Williams of Sanford, W. H. McDonald of Daytona Beach, Ray Mercer and Dr. A. Reynolds of Junell and Roy Forsythe of Ormond Beach.

Guest speakers for the day will be Miss Elizabeth Howell of DeLand, Paul Bullington of Daytona Beach, Rev. Hugh Foster of Ormond Beach, Judge C. Vernon Mize Jr. of Sanford, Art Switzer of Ormond Beach, Forsythe, Rev. McCoy Gibbs and Dr. Tolle.

The day will start with registration at 9:30 a.m. and concluding services will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Academy Concert
Juniors and Seniors of Forest Lake Academy will present a choir and choral concert at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Academy Auditorium. No admission will be charged and all are welcome.

WEEK END TOUR of HOMES ... in the Sanford - Seminole Area

Fri. May 22, '64—Page 5

The Sanford Herald

Gracious Living Offered

Driving out Country Club Road west from Sanford not too far distant one will come to Idyllwilde of Loch Arbor. This is Florida and its "gracious living" as promoted in outstanding publications and news media throughout the United States and, in fact, overseas, too.

Shoemaker Construction Company now has two distinctive homes fully complete at Idyllwilde, ready for inspection.

The charm of Bermuda type architecture is combined with the latest American innovations in comfort and convenience to make the perfect home for a space loving family.

One home has exterior native rock with two-story panel enclosing the staircase. It has three bedrooms, a study, a two-story living room, GE Medallion kitchen and 2 1/2 baths. Too, there is central heating and air conditioning, ceramic tile on sills and in baths, with all color co-ordinated to make a delightful place to live.

The second new home has a front entry porch and foyer of marble, a sunken living room, large family room, and patios off the living and dining rooms. The kitchen is fully GE equipped, including dishwasher, with a laundry room off the kitchen. There are three roomy bedrooms, two tiled baths. All-year climate control is made easy by central duct heating and air conditioning. There is a carport, large utility room, and the landscaped lot includes stately pines. There are, of course, sidewalks, paved streets, sewer and water systems.

Shoemaker Construction, which specializes in custom building, offers FHA, FHA-in-service, VA and conventional financing.

Another firm specializing in custom building, is the Leroy C. Robb Construction Company. If they haven't got what you want, they'll build it to suit your tastes.

Robb Construction is so pleased with the response they have received on their model home at 1202 Forest Drive that they are commencing construction of another model.

This new one will have the same outstanding features as the first plus an enclosed patio and a hip roof.

The Forest Drive model, "The Floridian," is just off 24th Street. It is open for inspection 1-6 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays and through the week by appointment.

Of brick construction, it contains 2,200 square feet and has three bedrooms and two baths. It is completely air conditioned.

Robb Construction plans to continue building model homes, with dozens of outstanding features. From these models prospective home builders can convey to Robb Construction those features they desire for a custom-built residence on their own lot.

Court Martial For Defector

STUTTGART, Germany (UPI)—The U. S. Army today announced it will court martial the only American officer who ever defected to the Communists in Europe and came back.

Capt. Alfred Svenson, 31, of Scranton, Pa., who defected last year and was returned by the Russians earlier this month, will be tried on desertion and larceny charges, a Seventh Army spokesman said.

Conviction could bring eight years in prison, a dishonorable discharge and loss of all pay and benefits. The East Germans expelled Svenson for "not being worthy of Communist asylum."

The Army spokesman said no date has been set for the court martial.

No Challenge, Says Elliot

MIAMI (UPI)—Elliott Roosevelt said Thursday he had not received any challenge to debate on his qualifications for the Democratic national committee post he is seeking.

But the 54-year-old son of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt, said he would "be delighted to do so."

Roosevelt made the statement in response to a press release from Democratic national committee candidate James "Jimmy" James saying James had challenged Roosevelt to an open debate.

Two Distinctive Homes Now Fully Complete—in

IDYLLWILDE

OF LOCH ARBOR

The charm of Bermuda type architecture is combined with the latest American innovations in comfort and convenience to make this the perfect home for a space loving family. The exterior native rock two story panel enclosing the staircase is an unusual and striking feature. Three bedrooms and a study upstairs, the two story living room, compact G.E. Medallion kitchen and two and one-half baths, all add up to a lot of home. Central heating and air conditioning, ceramic tile on sills and in baths, color coordinated wall papers and mural, to make this IDYLLWILDE home outstanding, both practically and aesthetically.

This charming new home has a front entry porch and foyer of marble—a fascinating sunken living room—a large family room—and patios off both the living and dining rooms. The kitchen is completely equipped by General Electric, and includes dishwasher, with laundry room off the kitchen. This dream home has three roomy bedrooms, two tastefully designed tile baths. All year climate control is made easy by central duct heating and air conditioning. Other features for gracious Florida living include carport, large utility room, beautifully landscaped lot enhanced by stately pines, sidewalks, paved streets, sewer and water systems.

Thinking Out Loud

By Julian Stenstrom

Pink lemons.
About the time spring football practice got under way at Seminole High, assistant coach Jim McCoy began promising the youngsters pink lemonade.

When he didn't come up with it day after day he "confessed" that he couldn't find any pink lemons. But SHS cheerleaders did.

While the kids were butting heads Wednesday afternoon the squad of eight cheerleaders barged into the locker rooms, decorated the place with "pink" lemons and set up tables with several big punch bowls loaded with the liquid. Signs and slogans were posted all over the place.

When the boys finished the workout they were surprised to find the long awaited refreshments waiting. Each got a pink napkin which was good for a pink cup of pink lemonade served by cheerleaders costumed in pink outfits.

And let us say, girls, the boys and the coaches really had a ball. (Is it now old fashion to put it that way?)

Attendance at the South Seminole senior league and Little League tilt at the newly lighted field in Casselberry is holding up well.

A lot of credit is certainly due to League President Bill Livingston and his capable associate C. L. Cooper for the undetermined amount of hours they put into making this project a reality. Cooper is the loop's veep.

During the early part of this year Livingston and his associates went from one town council meeting to the next among the county's southern municipalities trying to get their idea off the ground.

Frankly, we didn't believe they could do it. But they did, and if ever medals are awarded for persistence these two Seminole sportsmen deserve the first prizes.

Of course, it would take two columns in this newspaper to mention the names of everyone who had a part in the achievement. And you can be sure that Livingston and Cooper would be the first to say what they accomplished couldn't have been done without the help of all these people.

One person in particular is certainly worthy of a tip of everyone's hat. That's Art Lego of Casselberry, Art, a member of Casselberry's town council, is also manager of the Casselberry club in the senior circuit. Art helped Livingston and Cooper carry the ball in this particular effort in a most effective way. He emceed the dedication rites last Saturday night. Now, he's back trying to get his ball club rolling again.

Tomorrow afternoon Manager Frank Thomas and his aide, J. B. Kuykendall, will conduct the first tryouts for the American Legion baseball club to represent Seminole County this summer. The two retired Navy men—both of whom now earn a living with the Post Office in Sanford—are anticipating what could be the best season in years for the local club.

There's no doubt but that they'll have the finest hurling corps to wear local uniforms in many a year. The staff will include Donnie Smith of Lyman, Jim Courier of Oviedo plus Rick Sires and Ed Fitzerald of Sanford. Somebody's going to be in for trouble this summer—that is if this four some can get any kind of support affixed. And that doesn't seem to be a problem right now.

Seminoles Prep For Spring Football Clash Wednesday

Tribe Will Use Pro Formation Plays This Fall

By Julian Stenstrom
The Sanford Seminole football squad has been divided into two equally powerful units for next Wednesday afternoon's spring football tilt between the Reds and the Whites, according to Head Football Coach Jim Pigot.

"We've divided the squad into two teams as equally as we know how," said Pigot. "Not only did we take ability into consideration but we also considered grade."

The chief Seminole mentor declared that the entire squad was working hard and that he and his associates have been more than pleased at the ability of the youngsters and the progress they have made since contact work began about the middle of last week.

Jim McCoy, line coach, has been named coach of the Whites and Dick Williams, backfield mentor, has been placed in charge of the Reds.

The two teams will clash in the spring football game at 4 p. m. Wednesday at the Seminole High Athletic Field.

Getting down to the plans for the fall gridiron slate, Pigot announced that he had instituted a pro formation from which about 20 different plays could be utilized, "It's more of a pro formation set up," Jim explained, "and it'll spread the defense because we'll be putting out pass receivers and they'll have to cover them. Meanwhile, with the defense spread we'll be able to get more effectiveness from our plays up the middle."

Williams and McCoy agreed with Pigot that the competition has been keen, that there is considerable depth, and that this fall's eleven should be well balanced.

About the only noticeable weakness right now is in the punting game but Pigot admitted that this phase of the game is improving daily. As for extra points, Pigot isn't worried since he will have Mike Fordham, Billy Kuyken, and Bernie Barber to handle these chores. Punters Buddy Burton, Frank Whigham, and Steryl Weber are coming along in the punting department and chances are that the weakness will be erased before the start of the season.

Sanford Gopher To Compete In Pee Wee Meet

ORLANDO—Patricia Bradford, 15-year-old Sanford golfer, will compete in the 18th National Pee Wee Golf Championships at Rio Plant Country Club in Orlando June 23-24, tournament director W. F. "Bill" Cairns announced yesterday.

The meet tournament features competition in five separate age divisions for boys and girls ranging from 3 to 16-years-old.

Miss Bradford will compete in the Pee Wee 13-15 bracket. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emery C. Bradford, 2534 Palmetto Avenue.

Mays Powers Giants Back Into National Loop Lead

By United Press International
Billy Williams and Willie Mays commiserated today over the futility of it all.

Willie broke out of an 0-for-10 hitting slump with two home runs Thursday, drove in three runs and scored three times to put the San Francisco Giants back on top of the National League race.

Nevertheless, Willie lost his batting leadership, which he had held all season.

Williams grabbed the batting lead from Willie by clubbing a double and two singles and driving in a run against the St. Louis Cardinals Thursday night to boost his batting average to .402. Mays is hitting .397.

However, Williams' slugging went for naught as his Chicago Cubs teammates bowled to the Cards, 10-3.

Just about every time manager Gil Hodges' left knee acts up, Bonnie Daniels pitches a brilliant game.

Gil's knee rarely hurt him last season and Daniels didn't.

Lloyd Moran Is Named President Of DeBary Loop

The election of Lloyd Moran as president highlighted the annual banquet of the DeBary Spare Ribbers Bowling Club recently held in Winter Park.

Gifts were presented to Elsworth Ogden, top man in the circuit, second-high man Ed Connolly, plus Ed Parsons, Roy Haslam and Moran, who finished third, fourth and fifth, respectively. Harry Rupp, Walter Black and Morris Shawley gained honorable mention for improved bowling.

During the meeting past president Archie Long presided and welcomed members and three guests, Mrs. H. P. Newton, Mrs. Adam Muller and Mrs. David Runkle.

In addition to Moran being named president, Parsons was elected first vice president; Charles Stark, second vice president, and Orville Jones, secretary-treasurer.

Three ladies winning awards were Mrs. Paul Wood, Mrs. Herbert Richards and Mrs. Orville Jones.

Longwood Grabs Second Spot In Softball Loop

Longwood clinched second place, behind loop leading Kingswood in the Men's Softball League Thursday night when the South Seminole outfit downed Wilson-Maier 4 to 1.

Otto Thomas permitted only seven scattered hits and Roy Lisk pounded out three hits in four trips.

In the same circuit McRaney handed Robb's their fourth loss in a row, winning 7 to 6, with Frank Williams getting credit for the mound victory. Watson and Stewart homered for the Painters and Jim Jernigan banged out three hits in a losing cause for Robbs.

The loop's first half closes Tuesday night and the second half gets under way Wednesday.

Buddy Stumpf hurled Rotary to a 3 to 1 win over the Elks, first half champs in the Junior Boys League. All Rotary's runs came in the fourth when Stumpf, Tommy Bryan, Rick Fordham and Kelly Ogden all hit safely.

In an afternoon affair, Alan Cooper set CPO down on four hits as Kiwanis got into the win column again with a 9 to 3 verdict. Wally Jernigan and Steve Gordio paced the Kiwanis with two hits apiece.

Richard Frank turned in the Little League's third shutout of the year, limiting Standard Oil to only one hit as Chase copped a 12 to 0 decision in the Little National. The other two whitewash jobs were turned in by Skipper Senkariak. Ric Smith was the big stick with three doubles to his credit. The win for Chase over Standard Oil was the seventh in a row.

The Navy continued its winning ways in the Little American with a 14 to 4 triumph over Florida State's Bankers. It was Navy's ninth win in a row. Fredie Turman hit his third homer of the season for Navy and Ray Milwood and Frank Dunn both for their first round trippers. Joe Pauline hit his second homer for the Bankers.

Pair Of Hot Wagons To Race At Osceola

More than 100 cars, including perhaps the two hottest Plymouths in the South, will compete for $500 in prize money and trophies Saturday night as the Seminole Timing Association stages its second of three racing cars scheduled this month at the Osceola Airport, near Geneva.

The gates will open for early classifiers at 6 p. m. with time trials set for 7:30. Eliminations will roll at 9:30.

The program will serve as a warm-up for next weekend's big two-day meet where $1,500 will be up for grabs by an expected 200 entrants from all over the Southeast.

Tomorrow's race will feature the first Sanford running of Sonny Hayes' amazing 1964 aluminum Plymouth. Hayes, new owner of Brass Motors in Sanford, journeyed to Georgia last weekend to top California Winter National champion Phil Bonner, driver of a 1964 Ford Fairlane. This was the first time the Georgian had finished second-best to Plymouth competition.

Hayes won all three elimination heats.

He will be opposed tomorrow by another widely-known Plymouth entry in Dick Oglesby's "Great Southern Goal" from Lakeland. The "Goal," also a '64 aluminum body car, won the Daytona Winter Nationals and has been a heavy winner on the local strip.

The Seminole Timing Association has modified the Osceola strip to create a return lane on the north (spectator's) side of the strip, thus allowing spectators a closer view of the cars as they complete their runs.

The 5-7 split was picked up by Jo Watson, the 5-10 by Shirley Martin and Barbara Rohrer, the 3-10 by Charlotte Bassett and Isabel Goshorn, the 5-8-10 by Barbara Rohrer and Jane Spolski and Charlotte Bassett topped the 3-6.

Pat Siplej recorded the high game for the day, a 189.

As of Tuesday the Bed Posts led the loop with a won and loss record of 10 and 2, the Rockets had an 8 and 4, Loungers 6 and 4, Sectionals 7 and 5, Recliners 5 and 7, Commodore and Easy Chairs 4 and 8, and the Settees (well in the cellar with a 2 and 10 record).

BILL'S SIGN O'DONNELL
BUFFALO (UPI) — Joe O'Donnell, captain of the University of Michigan's football squad last season, Thursday signed with the Buffalo Bills in the American Football League this fall.

SHS Field Will Be Named For Buddy Lawson

The Buddy Lawson Memorial Fund Committee has announced that during Wednesday afternoon's Spring football game at the Seminole High School Athletic Field the field would be dedicated to the memory of Buddy Lawson and a plaque would be installed during halftime ceremonies.

Lawson, an outstanding Seminole athlete, was fatally injured several weeks ago in an auto accident.

The committee also revealed that donations are still being received and that the amount collected would determine what other action would be taken to perpetuate the memory of the youngster.

Bill Lovelace, chairman of the committee, said this morning that the group hoped to be able to place a fence around the athletic field and install lights so that the arena could be utilized for track events and other open air school activities at night.

"This is not an effort on our part," he said to promote a stadium at the school.

Lovelace said that the school would install temporary bleachers at the school for the spring football tilt and the dedication exercises.

Shortly after noon today students at Seminole High contributed to the Lawson Memorial Fund.

Alabama-Florida Football Films Will Be Shown

Films of the 1963 Alabama-Florida football game and provisional officers will be elected at the Seminole County University of Florida Alumni Club's organizational dinner meeting Thursday (May 28) in Sanford.

Assistant Coach Gene Elenson will be the featured speaker at the meeting, slated to begin at 7:00 p. m. at the Capri Restaurant.

The Gators upset the Crimson Tide 10-4, and pictures will be shown after the meeting's regular program.

Reservations for the steak dinner and meeting can be made by phoning Judge C. Vernon Mize Jr., 322-2115, before noon Wednesday. Wives and dates are invited.

According to Mize, chairman of the affair, the officers elected at this meeting will serve the Alumni Club until its official charter is received later this year.

ROMY SCHNEIDER is the war-wearied entertainer who attracts the attentions of George Hamilton, right, and Michael Callan in Carl Foreman's "The Victors," showing Sunday through Tuesday at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre in Panavision.

War Story Is Told

First showing in Sanford of two features, "The Victors" and "Dark Purpose," is scheduled for Sunday through Tuesday at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre.

"The Victors" stars Vincent Edwards and "Dark Purpose," in color, stars Shirley Jones.

Two color movies are slated for Wednesday and Thursday — "Taras Bulba," with Yul Brynner and Tony Curtis, and "Who's Been Sleeping in My Bed" with Lana Turner.

Triple feature for Friday and Saturday, May 29-30, will be three color movies, "The Incredible Mr. Limpet," starring Don Knotts; "Who's Been Sleeping in My Bed" with Carol Burnett, and "A Gathering of Eagles," starring Rock Hudson.

Carl Foreman's "The Victors," a motion picture certain to be received and talked about by enthusiastic audiences around the world as his own fantastically successful "The Guns of Navarone," opens Sunday at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre. Hollywood and advance critical acclaim for "The Victors" points up the fact that the two pictures, while they both deal with war themes, are vastly different, but both are magnificent entertainment.

Foreman's way with a film: "The Guns of Navarone," "The Key," "Home of the Brave," "Champion," "High Noon."

find meaning in their own lives and in the lives of others, are told in "The Victors" with passion, and compassion. It is explosive screen entertainment.

Of "The Victors," Foreman himself once said, "The soldiers in the film wear American uniforms, but they represent all men, regardless of uniform. The human race is endowed with a great deal of heroism, self-sacrifice and nobility."

Filmmaker advises that there never has been, and probably never will be, another motion picture experience quite like "The Victors." This is certainly credible, considering Foreman's way with a film: "The Guns of Navarone," "The Key," "Home of the Brave," "Champion," "High Noon."

We'll have one quiet weekend—this one—before the rush of Memorial Day, graduations and June weddings begin, so it's a good time to relax and enjoy it. Just take it easy, forget about cooking and sit back in the cool air-conditioned comfort of one of these places . . .

The whole family will be happy at the prospect of eating out and choosing just the things each of them likes. What better place for a treat like that than the Trade Winds Cafeteria in the Seminole Plaza. If you want to go on Thursday night which is family night, everyone gets a free dessert. Steak night is tomorrow—just a dollar for a three-quarter pound T-bone.

Elvis, Beauties Featured At Ritz

If imitation be the sincerest form of flattery, Elvis Presley can consider himself the most flattered man in show business.

Ever since the six-foot Mississippi and his guitar emerged first on the recording and then the screen horizon, he has been imitated in night club acts, radio and television, on the stage and in motion pictures, the epitome being his hilarious impersonation (and no one was more amused by it than Presley) by Jesse Pearson on the Broadway stage in the tremendously successful "Bye Bye Birdie," a take-off which Pearson repeated in the film version of the musical.

And now Elvis impersonates himself!

This tour de force takes place in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's new song-filled comedy, "Kissin' Cousins," a rowdy, raucous, down-to-earth hillbilly affair in which Presley plays a dual role, one as a blonde, the other with his natural dark hair.

It runs Sunday through Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre.

As the blonde, he is seen as Jedie Tatum, son of a hillbilly, tootin' hillbilly family who owns a mountain in Tennessee.

TWO BIKINI-CLAD beauties and Elvis in the middle! That's the happy situation of Presley's new song, dance and girl-filled Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer comedy, "Kissin' Cousins." Yvonne Craig (left) and Pam Austin are two of the lovelies in the routine-toutin' entertainment in which Presley plays a dual role as a hillbilly mountain man and an Air Force officer. Runs Sunday through Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre.

make a deal with Pappy and Ma Tatum (Arthur O'Connell and Glenda Farrell) to build an ICBM missile base on top of their mountain.

In this endeavor you will think you are seeing double when Elvis, the hillbilly, fights Elvis, the lieutenant; or when one Elvis sings and dances alongside the other; or when one Elvis makes love to Pam Austin and the other to Cynthia Pepper in the same scene!

It should make the millions of Presley fans around the world awfully happy since they're getting two Presleys for the price of one.

Atmosphere is the word at Freddie's, so if your idea of relaxing includes plush carpets, good food, delicious wines and a sophisticated air, Freddie's is a must on your list. Take your choice from either the famed steaks or seafood and top the evening by listening to Carol Pettijohn in the Lamplighter Lounge.

It's a ways off yet — the Capri is planning a big Roaring 20's party for June 10 — but you'd better start getting those costumes together. There will be prizes for the best costume — Charleston too, so get out those old records and do a little practicing. Joy had a similar party a year or so ago which was a fabulous success. Meanwhile, for your weekend entertainment, the Jack Rossman trio is still providing some of the best music and fun around. Reminder . . . all those good dates for group parties, brunches, luncheons, banquets or other celebrations.

Any time is a good time, but an ideal time to stop at Jean's Spaghetti House in Orange City is on your way back from the beach. The appetite you worked up during the day will be wonderfully satisfied this weekend with the special—meat or cheese ravioli . . . the meal for $1.65 includes salad, bread and butter and coffee or tea.

For a handy place to relax a bit on your way home may be, stop at George's Tavern on French Ave. You'll be treated to the friendly company of the people working there in addition to the clean cool lounge. Or, you might just pick up a package while you're passing by.

A particularly fine place to go, especially during the lunch hour or right after work, is the Caribe Lounge. Eat some of the good food

Buffet Dinner Honors Seniors

Mrs. R. L. Harvey was hostess to a buffet dinner at her home on E. Second Street honoring Miss Ann Mahan and Miss Diana Clause, members of the '64 graduating class of Seminole High School.

Assisting Mrs. Harvey as co-hostess was Mrs. A. B. Hanson.

The honorees and guests assembled in the spacious recreation room of the Harvey home to be served, and retreated to the softly lit patio to enjoy a leisure dinner.

The beautiful serving table was centered with red and white carnations and a graduates cap. The napkins were rolled and tied with red ribbons in replica of diplomas. A delicious dinner was served, featuring ham, turkey, casseroles, salads, relishes, punch and a red cake with white frosting.

Following the dinner, the guests enjoyed a delightful evening of dancing in the recreation room.

Each of the honorees received silver bracelets and charms from the hostesses.

Roy Green was awarded a box of candy as the door prize.

Couples enjoying the evening were Ann Mahan and Tommy Hinson, Diana Clause and Don Harvey, Judy Lavender and David Golloher, Mary Scott and Roy Green, Myra Meeks and J. B. Phillips, Honey Childs and Jack Cash, Linda Albert and Kenny Tyre, Carole Thomas and Billy Higgins and Janet Johnson and Mike Corgan.

Also present were Ann's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mahan; Diana's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clause; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Clause Jr. and R. L. Harvey.

MRS. R. L. HARVEY was hostess recently to a joint graduation buffet dinner honoring two members of the '64 graduating class of Seminole High School. Guests of honor and hostesses were Diana Clause, honoree; Mrs. Harvey, hostess; Ann Mahan, honoree and Mrs. A. B. Hanson, co-hostess.

Four Graduating Seniors Honored At Beach Party

Four members of the 1964 graduating class of Seminole High School were honored of a "Weekend-at-the-Beach Party" this past weekend at "The Happy Shack," New Smyrna Beach cottage of Cdr. and Mrs. Thomas Conder.

The young ladies enjoying the bright Florida sunshine and cool ocean breezes were the Misses Judy Lavender, Sharon Stanul, Susan Brown and Maria Rowland.

Hostess and chaperone for the weekend was Mrs. Thomas Conder, assisted by Mrs. Curtis Lavender and Miss Carol Conder, who will also graduate this year.

The Dorcas Class Has Meeting With Mrs. Thompson

Mrs. T. C. Thompson entertained the Dorcas Class of the First Baptist Church at her home on Palm Terrace Monday evening, May 18.

Mrs. Ray Williams, president, presided at the short business meeting.

The group enjoyed a Bible quiz, and an interesting devotional entitled, "What is Religion?" by Mrs. Robert McDaniel.

During the social hour, the hostess served refreshments, and presented each guest with a ceramic vase made by her husband.

Others attending were Mrs. Tom Mayo, Mrs. Carl McWhorter, Mrs. Carl Meyer, Mrs. Sidney Richard, Mrs. J. D. David, Mrs. George Scott, Mrs. Tom Fulton, Mrs. W. J. Brooks, Mrs. Leo Watson, Mrs. Charles Robinson, Mrs. John O'Donnell, Mrs. William Malicowski, Mrs. Homer Parker and Mrs. John Walker.

The Anna Miller Circle Meeting Held At Lodge

The Anna Miller Circle of the BPO Elks Lodge, 1241, Sanford, held its regular meeting Tuesday night, May 19, at the Elks Lodge.

A new member, Mrs. Esther Lansing, was welcomed into the circle.

Those attending the meeting were Mrs. Charles Stafford, Warren Haynes, Christine Blankenship, Hulon Hale, Esther Lansing, Harry Adair, James Wehry, J. R. Hoochman Sr., J. R. Hoochman Jr., Clyde Ellison, Laymon Goodman, E. E. Thompson, Clayton Smith, Frank Wight and John C. Brown.

Refreshments were served after the meeting.

Lake Mary Pixie Pupils Enjoy Annual Picnic

Mrs. M. R. Dekle was hostess to the Pixie Kindergarten of Lake Mary at its annual picnic and swimming party.

A delicious picnic lunch of hot dogs, baked beans, potato chips, cookies and cakes were served on the patio after the guests enjoyed swimming in the Dekle pool.

Attending the picnic were Billy Joe Paxton, Julie Hasser, Elaine Holmes, Ricky Belt, Tom Durham, Rosemarie Sabee, Kim Sheaffer, Marie Sheaffer, Jean Hall, Steve DeFaul, Mark DeFaul and their teacher, Mrs. R. W. Lippincott.

Garden Circles

JACARANDA GARDEN CIRCLE

Jacaranda Garden Circle held its last meeting of the year on May 8, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Auburn Rector. Forty-three members and their guests enjoyed a covered dish supper. Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. W. B. Brinson, Mrs. T. R. Butts, Mrs. R. E. Peurifoy, and Mrs. L. B. Steele.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. George Beckhorn and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Nulph. Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wing of Sanford were also guests. Other guests attending were husbands of the club members.

A highlight of the evening was the exchange of plants by the members. Each member rooted her favorite plant and gave it to the member whose name she drew.

After the business session Mrs. Rector presented the club gavel to Mrs. C. M. Flowers, president-elect. Mrs. Flowers outlined briefly next year's work and the circle adjourned to meet again next October.

A new pocket-sized precision exposure meter for the camera fan has a built-in viewfinder. The unit comes with a soft leather case and neck strap.

After dinner a short business meeting was held with Mrs. Rector as presiding officer. Mrs. Rector gave a report of the General Garden Club executive board meeting.

Mrs. A. C. McReynolds, horticulture chairman, talked about the care and planting of hibiscus, confederate jasmine, the bottle bush, palm trees, gladiolus, camellias and annuals.

A Fine Silver Drainer

DEAR POLLY—My silverware drainer is the best ever. I use a plastic pitcher (cost less than 50 cents) with a handle. Holes were poked in the bottom of the pitcher with the heated end of an ice pick. Put silverware in the pitcher as you wash, then scald and drain it under the hot water faucet without getting burned.—GERRY

DEAR POLLY—I have always washed the window screens with a brush in a small tub. The other day I decided to fill my wheelbarrow with hot water and some cleanser. This made the job so much easier as I could lay each screen in the wheelbarrow and use a car brush with a handle. Next I rinsed them off with the hose. The wheelbarrow had been placed near the hose to save steps.—MRS. H. H.

DEAR POLLY—When diapers get so thin that you have to use two on baby each time he is changed, sew them together. I take two diapers and sew them together all around the outside and down the middle. This also cuts my folding time in half and when they come out of the dryer they are not nearly as wrinkled as a single diaper. They last longer, too.

I save one or two tops from empty spray cans that have held starch, furniture polish and so on. When I happen to get a new can that does not spray properly, I just take off the spray top and put on one I have saved. Please keep up the good work. Your column is most helpful.—MRS. V. E.

DEAR POLLY—A science teacher friend noticed a jumbled pile of newspapers on a shelf. I told him we eventually bundle them up for the Boy Scouts' paper pickup. He found two big books and a length of heavy twine which he cut in two pieces. Removing the papers from the shelf, he set the twine in the wall above the shelf, fastened a piece of the string to each book and let them hang over the shelf. He then made a neat pile of papers, placed them on the twine where overlapped the shelf and let the pile rest on it. Now when the stack is big enough all we have to do is draw the twine tight and tie around the papers. Repeat to start a new accumulation.—ED.

GIRLS—Those of you who have had to struggle with tying up stacks of old papers and magazines know what a real help this would be. Thanks to another of our helpful gentlemen readers.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—I don't have too many bright ideas but my daughter, 11, insisted this was good enough to send you. Of course, I feel sure she plans on getting the Polly Dollar if my hint is used. The last time I washed my glass fiber curtains I dreaded taking them down to put the hooks in as they always wrinkled when I did this. I took the hooks out to the line and slipped them into the curtains while they were still hanging. I took them down one at a time and hung them at the windows.—MRS. E. L.

GIRLS—This could be used for any drip dry curtains.—POLLY

Share your favorite home-making ideas . . . send to Polly in care of The Sanford Herald. You'll receive a bright, new silver dollar if Polly uses your idea in Polly's Pointers.

The Clothes Pole

Femmes, Here And There

By Helen Hennessy
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Women's Editor

The doughboys of World War I brought home the image of "Mademoiselle de France" as a gay, gaudy chick, typical of a chorus. She's not.

Many American women think the beautifully groomed mannequin in the Dior creation is the typical Paris woman. They're wrong, too.

Parisienne, except for the very rich, dress plainly, wear simple hairstyles, wear those homely truths we told me by a Frenchman who should know.

"The average French woman isn't as well-dressed or as well-groomed as the American woman," says Michael Grunelius, manager of the Paris branch of an employment service (Manpower, Inc.).

"Ready-to-wear clothing is very expensive in Paris. Career girls can't afford a lot of cosmetics and weekly visits to the beauty salon."

The American girl who has envied the supposed chic of her French counterpart will be surprised by this observation from Grunelius: "A Frenchman walking into the average American office for the first time thinks he has wandered into a studio of starlets."

But just when I was mentally patting every American woman on the back, Michael lowered the boom.

Clothes notwithstanding, it seems, he thinks the French women know how to get along with men far better than we do. They are relaxed, he claims, and we are defensive.

As we were finishing our chat and our lunch a smartly dressed woman in a mink coat passed our table.

"Take that mink," said the handsome Frenchman.

"When an American woman wants a mink coat, she tells her husband she must have one right now. The poor guy's life isn't worth a dime until she gets her coat. And he resents it."

"The French girl would say, 'Darling, how I'd love to have a mink coat—not right away, but some day when you can afford it.' Then her husband works his fingers to the bone to get her the coat and he loves giving it to her."

And so, my friends, vive la difference!

Q: "I have a weight problem, but I'm tired of wearing neutral shades and dark colors in order to avoid looking heavier than I actually am. I bought a bright green dress, but my husband says I look like a ship sailing across the room in it. What patterns and colors will not emphasize my figure problem?" — Mrs. Joan T.

Dear Mrs. Joan T.—Small prints and vertical stripes even in bright colors shouldn't make you look heavier. You should avoid bold colors, large prints and plaids, but you'll find you can get away with plaids if you choose over-bushy styles that have the same color skirts. Be sure you steer clear of two-color costumes.

Please send your fashion problems to Helen Hennessy in care of this paper. While she cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

ner's insurance program. You will find it more advantageous for your husband to add to his straight life policy now and increase the amount as his income rises. A widow or divorcee should consider this, too.

If your husband increases the amount of his insurance, he can borrow from this when the time comes to meet college expenses. Meanwhile, the increased coverage provides greater family benefits.

Constant reviewing of such a policy will bring it more in line with buying power as the economy changes.

The tragedy is not to plan financing for some college or vocational training for a child.

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

You can always trust Terence Reese to come up with a real blockbuster type of hand for any duplicate competition.

He doesn't claim that this hand was ever played and undoubtedly it was just made up. There will be probably almost as many bidding sequences as there will be people playing it, but Reese points out that if South gets to six spades he can make it by a double unblocking coup.

The bidding in the box shows one way to get to six spades. West opens the king of hearts and East will almost surely signal with the seven of clubs.

South will ruff the heart opening and decide to lead a diamond at trick two. West will play the king and South should come to the conclusion that the king was a bona fide singleton. Anyway he will cash dummy's ace of spades and ruff a second heart to get back to his own hand. He will have to play the rest of his trumps in order to exhaust East and he will be faced with the problem of getting back to his hand to play diamonds.

This will prove impossible unless he has made Reese's double unblock.

When West falls to follow to the third trump, South should discard dummy's king of clubs. Then he should throw the ace on the last trump.

Finally, he cashes dummy's high diamonds and leads the deuce of clubs. East will take his queen and then be forced to give the rest of the tricks to South.

DEAR ABBY: How do you tell city relatives that you aren't living on a farm just to keep their kids for the whole summer? These relatives don't ASK if they can send their children, they TELL you they are coming. I think two weeks is plenty, but we get them the day after school lets out, and they stay until the day before school starts again.

DEAR ABBY: I am so lonesome I could die. I would like a nice man I could support, keep house for, and be happy to have the extra work from the niece and nephews. Advice through your column would be appreciated. Maybe they'll read it and take the hint.

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 and am quite popular with both boys and girls. About fifty kids a day tell me that they tried to get me on the phone but my line was busy for so long they gave up. It's my mother! Abby, I hate to complain, but she is the gabbier person in the whole world . . . and it is wrecking my popularity. She gets on the phone and talks for an hour to one person, and as soon as she hangs up she calls another person and ties up the phone for another hour.

DEAR ABBY: I am so lonesome I could die. I would like a nice man I could support, keep house for, and be happy to have the extra work from the niece and nephews. Advice through your column would be appreciated. Maybe they'll read it and take the hint.

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 and am quite popular with both boys and girls. About fifty kids a day tell me that they tried to get me on the phone but my line was busy

School and You

An Academic Failure At 5

By Susan Light.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR MRS. LIGHT: I have just had a conference with my kindergarten teacher and principal. The school psychologist sat in for good measure. After a lot of double-talk about "immaturity" and "lack of readiness," I gathered that they were suggesting that my son be retained in kindergarten for another year.

Now, honestly, Mrs. Light, did you ever hear of anyone flunking kindergarten? The whole idea seems preposterous to me. The final decision will be his father's and mine. Since our boy will be six this summer, the school can't legally hold him back.

What shall we do?—FLARBERGASTED

ANSWER: Take the advice of the teacher, the principal and the school psychologist. They know what they're doing.

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., 90212. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., 90212, for Abby's new booklet, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: As we are expecting a second child, we recently moved into a larger apartment to give our son, 5, a room of his own. During the day he plays in it happily but at bedtime, as soon as I turn out his light and close the door, he gets hysterical. I bought him a night light but my husband won't let me use it. He thinks that the boy is too old for it and that leaving the door open is babying him . . .

ANSWER: Please let me speak to him: Young father, your son has lost many familiar things since you moved into your new apartment—the placement of objects in his home, the home itself, the look of his street, of neighbors and tradespeople. As their certain positions around him have been part of his equilibrium, he has been shaken by the appearance of these certain things exactly as a sailor would be shaken at the sight of a sky whose stars were out of place.

Now at bedtime and the coming of darkness, he is afraid of more disappearance. Please let him have his night light and open door. He needs them to recover his certainty that you and his mother won't disappear into the darkness as so many other objects he knows have disappeared into the past.

Little children fear darkness for the same reason that their elders fear death. It erases their relationship to the world. It erases the shape of their rooms, of their toy shelves, their crib bars, of all the things to which daylight has connected them.

When we turn out their lights and close their doors, we, too, disappear into darkness—and for a small boy who is struggling to recover certainties in a home that is still strange to him, such a total disappearance of his parents can be too terrifying to bear.

Poets and novelists often use the word "darkness" as a substitute for the word "death" because they know that we all feel for darkness something of the fear we feel at the thought of the strangeness of death.

It is time this was said so that the parents of little children can consider the real meaning of what they are asking when they demand premature courage from little boys and girls dealing with darkness at night, alone, behind a closed door.

Apparently careful consideration has been given to your son's readiness—or lack of it—to make a satisfactory adjustment in first grade. He glad that the school is so interested in his welfare.

"Falling" kindergarten is not so unusual as you think. I know several children who spent two years in kindergarten. Some of them are now honor student in high school. Children don't all mature at the same time in the same way. An extra year spent in pre-school activities may be just what your son needs to get off to a flying start in first grade. Better this than dragging his feet.

Your friends may not be able to resist making some "very funny" remarks—to them. "What's the matter—doesn't he know which way the ball bounces?" Top their "witticisms" with one of your own; then change the subject.

Your biggest problem will be your son's reaction to not going on with his classmates. Sugar-coating the truth may be warranted. He may, for example, be told he is staying behind "to help the teacher." Or, spending more time in kindergarten to make up for the days he missed when he had chicken pox and measles. Ask the school psychologist to advise you on how this should be handled.

Some day when your son is a success in his chosen field, he'll enjoy telling his friends that he "flunked kindergarten!"

Please send your school problems in Susan Light in care of this paper. While she cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

One Stadium Is Enough

The "hint" at a recent City Commission meeting that a group of Seminole High School fans might make an effort to build a football stadium conveys the thought that perhaps a more concentrated effort on the part of the county school system and the commission should be made to reach a long range agreement on the continued use of Sanford's Memorial Stadium.

For several years the school's football games have been played at the stadium. So far this has worked out satisfactorily except for the big question of who should be responsible for converting the park from baseball to use for football.

Last year the park was leased to the school system which had to arrange for the removal of the clay infield and have it sodded with grass. Seminole High accepted this responsibility and pre-paid the cost, according to the number of games played, among themselves, Sanford Junior High and Crooms High. Seminole's JayVee team also played three home games.

Seminole also had the responsibility of maintenance, after-game cleanup, taking care of the turf and many other items.

This year the school is anxious to work out an agreement with the City whereby the facility can be leased by the school system and used by these schools but the city would continue to have the responsibility of maintenance and etc.

This is a reasonable request by the schools provided that a reasonable rental agreement can be reached with the City. To work toward that objective SIS Principal Andy Brucken and School Board Member Mason Wharton are conferring with City Manager Pete Knowles and Mayor Al Wilson.

This "committee" is slated to bring a recommendation to the City Commission at its Monday night meeting.

The Herald suggests that every effort be put forth by these representatives to make the necessary arrangements for this facility to be utilized by the local schools. Another stadium, in this newspaper's opinion, is entirely out of the question.

The Herald also recommends the school system and the City work out an arrangement whereby the football field might be situated in such a way as to better utilize the present grandstand. This may require moving one or two of the light standards. Even if it does it still would be less expensive than having two stadiums to maintain and more to pay for over a number of years. Interest alone would be more than rental costs.

Our school people and our city authorities should make up their minds once and for all on a program and stay with it until such a time as common sense dictates a change.

Thought For Today

I say to God, my rock; why hast thou forgotten me? Why go I mourning because of the oppression of the enemy? — Psalm 142:3.

I never once felt that I was alone. I always felt that God was there. And because of His presence, I felt in contact with all other men and women, everywhere.—Martin Niemöller.

New Key To Conflict

By Phil Newsom

A key area of potential conflict between the Soviet Union and Red China is the border which divides the U.S.S.R.'s Kazakhstan Republic and Sinkiang, the huge province which is the Wild West of China.

Clashes between frontier guards have been frequent.

Latest reports from Moscow say that Moslem tribesmen are fleeing Sinkiang into Kazakhstan at the rate of 1,200 a month.

The Chinese have accused the Russians virtually of kidnapping thousands of Turkic-speaking Uigur, Kazakh and Kirghizian tribesmen from across the Sinkiang border. On their side, the Russians have accused the Chinese of systematically persecuting minority populations.

Two reasons make the area a favorite subject of speculation among those who see the possibility of future armed conflict between the two Communist giants.

One is that a huge segment of the Kazakhstan Republic is shown on present-day Chinese maps as properly belonging to China.

The Russians got it in 1864 through the Treaty of Chungking, one of those "unjust" treaties by which the Red Chinese accuse Western powers of carving up imperialist China.

A second is that the nomadic Moslem tribesmen inhabit both sides of the border, traditionally flowing back and forth depending on pressures from either the Russians or the Chinese.

Languages are identical and related to that of Turkey. Fifteen years ago when the Red Chinese took over the China mainland, Russia easily could have seized Sinkiang Province, a vast area of more than 700,000 square miles composed of desert, towering mountains, howling winds, forests, occasional right valleys and important minerals.

Instead, the late Josef Stalin made a deal in which the Russians were to share in exploitation of Sinkiang's resources, which include both uranium and oil.

In return, the Chinese agreed to allow the Uigurs, Kazakhs and others in China to use the Russian script employed by their kinsmen just over the boundary in the Soviet Union.

But by 1951 things were changing. The Chinese halted construction of a trans-Sinkiang highway which would have given the Russians greater access to the province.

Russian consulates were closed. The tribesmen were told they would have to learn to write all over again, this time in the Latin alphabet.

Recent Chinese broadcasts have hinted that large units of the Red Chinese army have been moved into the province.

Modern farms run by army personnel were credited with boosting the province's grain output by 20 per cent in 1963 over 1962.

The broadcasts reported the reclamation of 100,000 acres of wasteland and irrigation facilities extended to another 150,000 acres. Consumer goods produced in Sinkiang also were reported on the upswing.

Sinkiang is the center of vast resettlement program. The Chinese population there is reported to have jumped from 300,000 to more than 2,000,000 since the Communists took over.

Sinkiang's future is more promising than its present. Meanwhile, the Chinese are taking out insurance.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

CASE S-471: My son Daniel is a dental surgeon.

The men's "Booster Club" of the small town near which we have our summer home has been seeking a dental surgeon for several years.

Since Daniel likes small town and country folks, he agreed to open an office.

But because he was working part time in Indianapolis, he needed some allies.

So he persuaded two other young dental surgeons to spend a couple of days apiece in the new Dental Clinic.

They were also employed part time in Indianapolis, so the arrangement was a very happy one for the men's "Booster Club" and the entire community.

For now they have three dental surgeons where for years they had none.

And it proved very interesting to me, for these modern dental surgeons are trained to make full X-rays of all patients to be sure they detect incipient cavities that are often hidden from the human eye.

For instance, if two molars are pressed tightly against each other, a cavity may develop between them which is shielded from the eye, yet it showed up at once on X-ray.

This little town in Indiana is a cultured and economically stable as most villages under 1,000 population.

But the teeth of the children are often in terrible shape. For example, these three dental surgeons showed me X-rays of teenagers who had 25 cavities!

And the children often had ignored tooth brushing so they had let permanent teeth decay until some of the teenage girls will be ready for false teeth by the time they graduate from high school!

Perhaps this plight of the town has been due to lack of a dental surgeon in its midst, with a resulting lack of pride in dental hygiene.

But with the stress of our dental societies and the constant advertising of toothpaste firms, it seems almost incredible that entire communities could overlook the dental care of their children.

"Dad," Daniel explained,

"we can personally educate all the children who now enter our new Dental Clinic.

"But we feel the real answer would be more dental education of children by their school teachers. Those teachers are the main hope for sound dental training."

Parents, please look at the teeth of your children—N-O-W!

Start counting from the middle in front. The 6th tooth on each side, both in the upper jaw and lower, is a PERMANENT tooth. There are four of these.

And they erupt about the 6th year, so parents often ignore decay therein, mistakenly believing these are "baby teeth" that will later be replaced by a second tooth.

The Number 6's symbolize the 6th tooth erupting at the 6th year!

Beware! There are no seconds for these 6-year-molars. Indeed, all the 12 jaw teeth (molars) are one-and-only teeth!

So teach your kiddies before kindergarten to use the Figure 8 as a rolling maneuver with their toothbrush.

Have them brush down from the upper gum line; then push out the cheek and come upward from the gum line below. This makes a Figure 8 motion.

Letters

To The Editor

Editor Herald:

Of the 12,000 electors voting on May 6 in Seminole County, the 7,500 not voting either for or against the water control bill are to be complimented rather than condemned as in the editorial of May 18.

It is said that to vote without knowing for whom or what you are voting could do more harm than good.

The 1930-60 experience of flooding conditions in Orange and Seminole Counties proved that legislative authority is urgently needed, but contrary to your editorial, this bill is not the legislation exactly as requested in 1961. It is practically a copy of the Orange County bill except for the approval by referendum for enactment.

The fact that only at the eleventh hour was any publicity given—and then only the legal notices of referendum to be held, a summary by James P. Avery Jr. on April 22 and an editorial on May 5, and in all cases many controversial and debatable provisions were omitted—is very significant.

The undersigned requested the editor on April 3 to inform the public of the major provisions of this act. When this was not done I listed page, section and paragraph showing a number of the provisions. This was published May 5 as a letter to the editor, read only by a few.

The constitutional right to vote carries an obligation to be informed in order to take a participating interest in government at all levels. Also, there is an obligation of the press to give timely and full information to the public.

Vernon W. Dunn said that the time chosen to print Commissioner Avery's summation was proper because it was when a majority of the voters would give their attention. We also considered Commissioner Avery's summation adequate since he, as a commission member, would know more about it. Our editorial of May 4, not May 5 as you indicate, was timed to be a last minute appeal to the voters to adopt the measure. We condemned no one for not voting. Also, because the bill was almost identical to that adopted in Orange County did not make it a bad one. The Herald still contends the bill was acceptable and should have been adopted.

Political Notebook

SAN FRANCISCO — (NEA) — Here in California, most particularly in the fast-growing southern counties, the professional politician is learning what marksmen long have known—it's hard to hit a moving target.

In this instance the shifting target is the mobile voter. One survey has shown that in the San Diego area, where the changing fortunes of aircraft and space industries seriously affect jobholding, some 60 per cent of the voting population has changed residence in a given five-year period.

For some California areas, a year-old registration list may be badly dated. As many as one-fourth of the voters may not be living at the listed addresses.

The massive metropolitan Los Angeles population cluster is, of course, a continuous mixing bowl of in-migrants, out-migrants and address-changers.

Though the California situation may be unmatched in the United States, population mobility is an increasing problem for politicians to cope with in all the sizable urban clusters today.

First off, the endless round of "moving days" temporarily robs millions of voters of their franchise, since they often cannot meet length-of-residence requirements for voting in zones new to them.

Second, it makes the matter of registering voters an increasing headache. The Democrats seem generally to be better at it than the Republicans, but even they tend to come down most heavily with hastily mounted election-year crash programs.

The Democratic organization of the late William Green in Philadelphia is perhaps the most efficient registration mechanism in the country. More than any other, it appears to make a serious effort at the costly continuous recheck of voter rolls needed to keep them updated.

Some politicians mutter that the once-fabled machine of Mayor Richard Daley in Chicago has gone slack in this vital department and could do with major overhaul. But so probably could most party organizations across the land.

In zones of high mobility, the professional politician may not only be in the dark as to who is living in what house. Except for some educated guesses, based on neighborhood economic and general cultural levels, he also may know nothing of his constituents' past allegiances or what issues concern these people.

Political leaders, staring at the incredible sprawl of Los Angeles, shake their heads in puzzlement at how to make a dent. They have no faith that candidates' personal appearances on the street or in the rally hall make a lasting imprint. They put the big chips on television as the only hope.

One astute campaign manager sees still a further drawback in today's human mobility. The people who move, he says, are, for the most part, persons who are out to better themselves. They have energy, ability, ambition. From their ranks come some of the nation's best volunteer political workers.

Too many of these people this are in a kind of no man's land. There considerable political talents—and interest—are wasted, just as their valuable votes may be wasted in the process of transferring residence.

Mobility, then, is costing high in the political world, whatever its benefits elsewhere. The old anchors of stability—and the political assurance that went with them—are gone in many places.

Nit more than a handful of professional politicians seem today even to be thinking about how to keep in stride with a voting citizenry that flows mercurially across the face of the nation.

The ball game in the 1960s is nearly brand new. It demands new rules and a brisk new approach.

STATELY MANSIONS

Recognize this building? Whether you live in Yuma or Butte — or Concord or Dallas you know that this is the dome of the Capitol in Washington. And what is more, you would be able to identify the Eiffel Tower or the Taj Mahal without a second glance. All of us are attracted to and enticed by faraway places. And yet we tend to ignore and take for granted things and places of interest and beauty at our very "back door."

Our lives, too, have lofty domes and towers that we may be unaware of. We develop our physical bodies, our personalities, our talents, and we think we've done everything necessary for happy living. Yet it is a fact that unless the higher, spiritual life of man is developed also, lasting happiness is impossible. And when we live entirely on the materialistic level, we are only half alive.

Open your eyes and look to the Light. Discover your full potential by joining and supporting the church of your choice.

news... BRIEFS

10 Killed
MIAMI (UPI) — Two double-fatality wrecks Sunday night pushed Florida's weekend toll to at least 10, according to the Highway Patrol.

500 Deaths Seen
CHICAGO (UPI) — Nearly 500 Americans might be killed on the nation's streets and highways during the Memorial Day weekend, the National Safety Council said today.

GIs Coming Home
HEIDELBERG, Germany (UPI) — The U.S. army announced today it is withdrawing the 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment from its bases along the Iron Curtain and sending it back to the United States.

Koreans Protest
SEOUL, Korea (UPI) — About 6,000 students demonstrated in four South Korean cities today, demanding immediate economic reforms, the elimination of corruption and the immediate release of students arrested in earlier demonstrations.

Dies In Flames
OCALA (UPI) — A 42-year-old John Dixon Thomas, was found dead today after a suspicious fire swept through his home, police said, apparently starting at several spots in the home at the same time.

Host Kidnap
PARIS (UPI) — Police throughout France were looking today for the alleged mastermind of the kidnap gang that seized the wife of French aircraft manufacturer Marcel Dassault Saturday and held her 36 hours.

Goldwater Charge
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The bitter California primary campaign of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and Sen. Barry Goldwater moved into the final week today with Goldwater charging he was the target of a "gang up" by supporters of his rivals for the Republican presidential nomination.

House Ransacked
CITY police are investigating the ransacking of a home occupied by Robert C. Christman at 114 W. 20th Street. The owner said an electric typewriter was taken and other items scattered about the house. The entry was made over the weekend, police said.

Time Has Run Out, Prince Edward Told

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court ruled today that Prince Edward County, Va., must reopen its public schools, which have been closed since 1959 to avoid integrated classes.

Justice Hugo L. Black announced the court's opinion, which affirmed a 1961 order by federal district Judge Oren R. Lewis.

Today's opinion sends the case back to the lower federal court for necessary further action.

"The time for more 'deliberate speed' has run out," Black said, "and that phrase can no longer justify denying these Prince Edward County school children their constitutional rights to an education equal to that afforded by the public schools in other parts of Virginia."

Following the closing of the public schools, white children were afforded private schooling in the county.

Black said that the closing of the Prince Edward schools and the raising of contributions to support private segregated white schools denied the Negro students and their parents "the equal protection of the laws" guaranteed in the Constitution.

Lewis in his lower court order, barred the county from paying county tuition grants or giving tax exemptions and from processing applications for state tuition grants to long as the county's public schools remained closed.

"We have no doubt of the power of the court to give this relief to enforce the discontinuance of the county's racially discriminatory practices," his opinion said.

Lewis in his lower court order, barred the county from paying county tuition grants or giving tax exemptions and from processing applications for state tuition grants to long as the county's public schools remained closed.

"We have no doubt of the power of the court to give this relief to enforce the discontinuance of the county's racially discriminatory practices," his opinion said.

Absentee Vote Could Decide Seminole Races

A heavy absentee vote in Seminole County may hold the key to victory or defeat for local candidates up for election Tuesday.

Mrs. Camille Bruce, Seminole vote registrar, said a total of 355 ballots have been cast by absentees. This is expected to spark a heavier than normal turnout of voters when the polls open at 7 a.m. They close at 7 p.m.

The same polling places will be used as in the May 6 primary with one exception. Voters in Precinct 12, the Forest City area, will have a new polling place. The previous polling place has been sold and county commissioners have chosen another site about 100 feet away from the original place.

It is located between the Forest City Restaurant and the Forest City Unit Shop on Highway 436.

Republicans will also cast their ballots this time, choosing a man and woman for the GOP national committee and to choose between an unpledged slate and a slate of delegates to the GOP national convention pledged to Sen. Barry Goldwater for the Republican presidential nomination.

Democrats also will choose a state man and woman for their national committee, plus voting on a slate of delegates to the Democratic national convention pledged to President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Seminole Democrats will also choose between gubernatorial candidates Miami Robert King High and Jacksonville Mayor Hayden Burns. The winner will be opposed by Charles R. Holley, St. Petersburg Republican, in the Nov. 3 general election.

County Democrats will choose between Marjorie Shepard and Troy Ray for county tax collector, between incumbent J. C. Hutchison and Edward Yarbrough for District 1 county commissioner, and between incumbent John Fitzpatrick and Harry Cushing for District 5 county commissioner.

Democrats will also choose between incumbent Linton Cox and Al Davis for peace justice in the Sixth District, between incumbent R. E. Carroll and Charlie Thomas for Fourth District constable, and between incumbent Grady Hall and Charles Fagan for Sixth District constable.

A Winter Park minister, identified by police as the Rev. Isaac James Douglas, was charged with driving with improper brakes Sunday afternoon following a two-car crash on 25th Street and Sanford Avenue.

Police said the Rev. Mr. Douglas applied his brakes to halt behind another stopped car and his vehicle collided with the rear of one operated by P. E. Satterfield.

Radio Stolen
Theft of a transistor radio from his car parked at the Church of Christ lot, 15th Street and Park Avenue, was reported to police Sunday night by Richard Hargrave.

Light Agenda City Facing

City commissioners face a relatively light agenda when they convene tonight at City Hall.

According to the city manager's office, the agenda consists of:

Jack Sharpe to present the maintenance contracts on the Mellonville Avenue elevated water tank; a request of John W. Appleby for a permit to sell plants from a vehicle on city streets; request of the Mucas for a time note on the payment for utilities; consideration of time payment on water installation at the St. Johns Village subdivision.

Also, discussion of a federal claim for a 1964 planning advance; recommendation from the Zoning and Planning Commission for rezoning from R-2 to R-5 on an area in Block 7, Tiers 16-20 and Block 8, Tiers 14-20; request of Mrs. Onal Matthews for consideration whereby her house is partially on a street right-of-way at 1801 W. Second Street.

Also, consideration of salary reclassification of two men in the refuse division; resolution to the County Commission requesting a joint project on the South-West Road.

Reds In Pursuit

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — A powerful Communist l'athet Lao force pursued retreating Neutralist troops today routing them from their last outpost on the Plain of Jars.

New records are being set every day . . . and we had one last Thursday morning. Often readers call and ask if we can get a photo of some event. Many of the calls give us as little notice as an hour or two. But Thursday one fellow called and requested a photo. "What time," we asked. "We start at 8:10 a.m."

There's nothing like a little advance notice. It was then five minutes to eight. We got the photo, but we had to do it later.

Some wag pulled a trick on the dog pound Sunday night and gave the "imprisoned" pooches a moment or two of freedom. The person cut a big hole in the fence around the shelter and the dogs had a field day for a short while. Most of them are back in confinement now that the hole has been patched.

Grim Scene: Early this morning a convoy of Army vehicles heading north out of Sanford on Highway 17-92.

The County Commission will not meet Tuesday, Election Day, but will convene at 9 a.m. Thursday instead.

Awards Presented To SHS Band Members

Several Seminole High School band members received awards Friday night at the annual banquet held at the amphitheater for the annual concert.

Each segment of the concert won warm applause from the audience as the program ranged over a wide assortment of musical selections. Winners of band letters were listed as follows:

Captain, Topper Avenel; first lieutenant, Ed Hubbard; second lieutenant, Sylvia Williams; third lieutenant, Peggy Bower; drum major, Ed Hubbard; first sergeant, Sharon Drum; second sergeant, Sharon Drum; third sergeant, Sharon Drum.

High Sends Wire To Mrs. Roberts

MIAMI (UPI) — Robert King High began his last day of gubernatorial runoff campaigning today after expressing sorrow about a raceway accident Sunday which critically injured a Florida driver.

High and his wife Faith sent a telegram to Mrs. Lynn Roberts, expressing their concern over the condition of her husband, Fireball, injured in a flaming three-car wreck at the Charlotte, N. C. world 600 race. Roberts is a Daytona Beach resident.
