85th Year, No. 136 - Sanford, Florida

BRIEFS Miss SHS named

SANFORD - Deldre M. Michels, daughter of Nell and Shella Michels, was named Miss Seminole High School on Saturday evening.

Michels, 16, was sponsored by the school's Scholastic Team in the contest.

While maintaining a 3.9 grade point average, the junior has remained active in school and community activities.

"She's a charming, delightful kid," Verna Jackson, assistant principal at SHS said. "She works hard and has a lot of talent."

Among Michels' activities are involvement in the Pizazz dance group, the school Scholastic Team, the National Honor Society and Mu Alpha Theta. She is currently the editor of the school newspaper and is enrolled in A.P. chemistry and history.

She is active in All Souls Catholic Church, where she serves as a lector and does other volunteer work through the church.

Michels will serve as a spokeswoman for the school at various community functions throughout the school year.

Chamber breakfast set

HEATHROW - The Greater Lake Mary/Heathrow Chamber of Commerce will hold its monthly breakfast meeting this Wednesday morning. The event is scheduled to begin at 7:45 a.m., at the Heathrow Country Club. In addition to all chamber members, prospective members and other area business leaders are invited to attend the gathering.

For further information, phone the chamber office at 333-4748.

Rapping racial strife

NEW YORK - Picture this: a Hasidic Jewish scholar rapping with a black Baptist minister to the tune of "Hava Nagilal"

"Hava Nagilal Yol Oy vey!" bearded David Lazerson sings, his skullcap bobbing to the beat as they rehearse in his living room.

"Oy? Yol Hit it!" the Rev. Paul Chandler snaps back as they hip hop cross-armed on a Persian rug.

Two 16-year-old break dancers, one Jewish and one black, take center stage. They somersault over each other, their legs jackknifing on the carpet.

SANFORD - A second teen has been arrested for the November 1992 murder of a translent in Sanford.

A 15-year-old boy was arrested at about 4:30 p.m. on Saturday at his Midway home.

According to Lt. Mike Rotundo, public information officer for the Sanford Police Department, the teen is being held on first degree murder charges.

Rotundo said that investigation into the case indicates that the murder occured during a failed robbery attempt.

On November 7, around midnight, police said, the two boys who have been arrested and another who has not been taken into custody, were Marsh's body was found along the side of the road about half and hour later with a shotgun wound to the chest.

Marsh, 20, had only been in Sanford a short while and, according to police, had not yet established a permanent residence.

Five tickets claim jackpot

TALLAHASSEE - Five lucky tickets that matched the six numbers drawn in the latest Florida Lotto game can be used to claim equal shares to a rollover-fattened Jackpot estimated at $12 million.

The six numbers picked late Saturday are 5-6-12-17-18-24.

The winning tickets were purchased in Fort Lauderdale, Jacksonville, Opa-locka, Orlando and West palm Beach.

In addition to the five big winners, 611 tickets have five of the six numbers and are worth $1 608.50 each, 28,882 have four and are worth $56 each, while 402,633 matched three of the six and are worth $4 each.

This week's Lotto jackpot is estimated at $8 million. Such estimates are based on projected ticket sales, estimated long-term investment rates and funds from any rollovers for a jackpot paid to one winner over 20 years.

Charlie Brewer has started his new business in Sanford.

SANFORD - Charlie Hill Brewer isn't really homeless, he lives in the back of a pick-up truck that has been converted into a sort of mobile home.

"I have a three-burner stove in there." the 81-year-old, semi-retired sign painter said of his home. "I have a big of double bed and an air conditioner."

Brewer said he doesn't need much more, but he's looking for work.

A pair of bright red signs with cheery white lettering hang on either side of the truck.

"This homeless sign painter looking for work." they read.

Brewer said he decided to start a new career in a new place at 81. He took on several jobs on his way to Sanford from Gastonia, NC from people who saw the signs.

"People like to help other people," he said.

Brewer once worked as a special field investigator for the United States Department of Justice and he still likes to direct those who have been oppressed in some way by the government or by law enforcement persons to the justice department for assistance.

Congress threw millions to Steinbrenner

WASHINGTON - Baseball team owner George Steinbrenner failed in the first round of a contract dispute with the government. But his second try was a sweet success -a $58 million ballout for his family shipbuilding business provided quietly by Congress.

Having already made $16,500 in political contributions to key congressmen since 1987. Steinbrenner enlisted two lobbyists with connections to the Appropriations subcommittees that control Pentagon spending.

The imposing owner of professional baseball's New York Yankees even made a few personal calls on Congress along the Last October, without a single public hearing and without even consulting the government officials who steadfastly refused to pay the claims, Congress quietly added the money to the Defense Department's 1993 budget.

The final amount ordered paid to Steinbrenner's Tampa shipyard was even more than he originally sought in negotiations and a lawsuit he filed against the Navy and U.S. Maritime Administration.

Lots riding on State of the State The governor's speech writers crafted this year's address after interviewing Chiles for hours about where he intends to take the state. He then edited the early drafts.

This, arguably, is Chiles' last chance to get some movement from lawmakers on the tax reform package he has made the cornerstone of his administration. Elections are front-and-center in 1994 and politics will dominate the legislative agenda as well.

"He's really going to appeal to them (legislators) to join with him, not in an atmosphere of confrontation, but a spirit of cooperation," added Sachs.

House Speaker Bolley Johnson of Milton, a onetime Chiles aide, also downplays the importance of this year's State of the State.

"Where in the past I think a lot of people might have expected him to inspire and somehow initiate some action on the part of the Legislature. It think that's now an ongoing matter," said Johnson.

Grand theft charged

Anthony Beernard Jamison, 22, 1107 W. 8th St., Sanford, and Johnny Leon Thompson, 19, 1121 W. 7th St., Sanford, were charged with grand theft auto by Seminole County sheriff's officers on Saturday.

I Contraction of the second

Deputies said the car in which they were driving was stopped because the tag light was out. They said that neither had any positive identification.

Deputies searched the vehicle and found a business card for a local construction company. Dispatch contacted the number and was told that the vehicle belonged to the company, but they didn't know the two men in the truck.

The owner of the company came to the site and confirmed that, they said.

The two were taken to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility and held on $1,000 bond each.

Grand theft auto

Alan Quincey Armstrong, 27, 122 Bethune Cir., Saford was charge with grand theft auto and driving on a suspended license by Lake Mary Police on Friday.

Police said that the vehicle Armstrong was driving was stopped at a safety check point.

While the officer was writing Armstrong a ticket for having a driver's license which did not display his current address, he was told by dispatch that the car was stolen, the arrest report said.

Armstrong was taken to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility and held on $1,000 bond.

Trespassing charged

Andrew Joseph Cambridge, 19, 516 Holbrook Cir., Lake Mary, was charged with trespassing by Seminole County sheriff's deputies on Saturday.

Deputies said that he climbed over the fence at a Fern Park towing service and was driving a vehicle around the compound.

He told deputies, they said, that he wanted to retrieve his friend's car that had been towed earlier.

He was taken to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility and held on $100 bond.

Drug charges filed

Nicholas Michael-Dino Vespucci, 18, 985 Wild Flower Way, Longwood, was charged with possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana and with possession of drug paraphernalia by Seminole County sheriff's deputies on Friday.

Deputies said that they were observing an area known for drug activity. They said they saw Vespucci lighting up a smoking device and that they smelled burning marijuana.

He was taken to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility and held on $500 bond.

Return to restaurant leads to charges

Ramnoorat Dowlatram, 29, 247 Sandalwood Dr., Longwood, was charged with trespassing by Longwood Polce on Saturday.

Police said that he had been issued a trespass warning at the Dunkin Donuts on State Road 434 on Nov. 4, 1992, but that he had returned to the restaurant. They found him standing at the counter there.

He was taken to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility and held on $100 bond.

Two girls killed, mother shot; teens charged

By The Associated Press

EUSTIS, Fla. - A widowed mother was hospitalized under guard after a pair of teen-agers allegedly abducted her and her two daughters, killed the children and raped and shot her. Richard Henyard, 18, and a 14-year-old boy whose name was withheld because of his age were charged late Sunday with murder in the deaths of the 7-year-old and 3-year-old sisters, police said.

The 35-year-old mother was in serious but stable condition, under 24-hour guard, late Sunday at Orlando Regional Medical Center with two bullet wounds in her head.

"We have the only living witness to a crime, and we're going to make sure she remains a living witness," said Mike Brick, the special agent in charge of the Orlando FDLE regional office.

The family had been shopping for food to take to a Sunday church service when the youths approached them about 10 p.m. Saturday, forcing them into the family car at gunpoint, accord-ing to police and family friends.

They drove to a wooded area and allegedly began shooting.

"We believe the two children were killed instantly at the scene," said police spokesman Lt. Carmine Aurigemma.

The mother told police she then was shot twice in the head and raped. After the attackers drove off, the woman said she walked nearly a mile to a home for help.

At first, Lawrence Thomas was alraid to open his door, he told The Orlando Sentinel. There had been trouble in the neighborhood before, and it was about 4:15 a.m. Thomas said he thought burglars might be trying to trick him.

He heard the weak, shaky voice of a woman pleading for help. He told her to hold on while he called the police, then returned to the door.

Outside the woman shivered in the morning cold, holding one arm against her chest, he said.

"Blood was all over her face and all down her arm," Thomas said, adding he wondered "Why would someone do this?"

Police arrived almost immediately after he opened the door, Thomas said. The woman was conscious and talking to police as they covered her with a blanket and lifted her into an ambulance.

Investigators discovered the girls' bodies early Sunday.

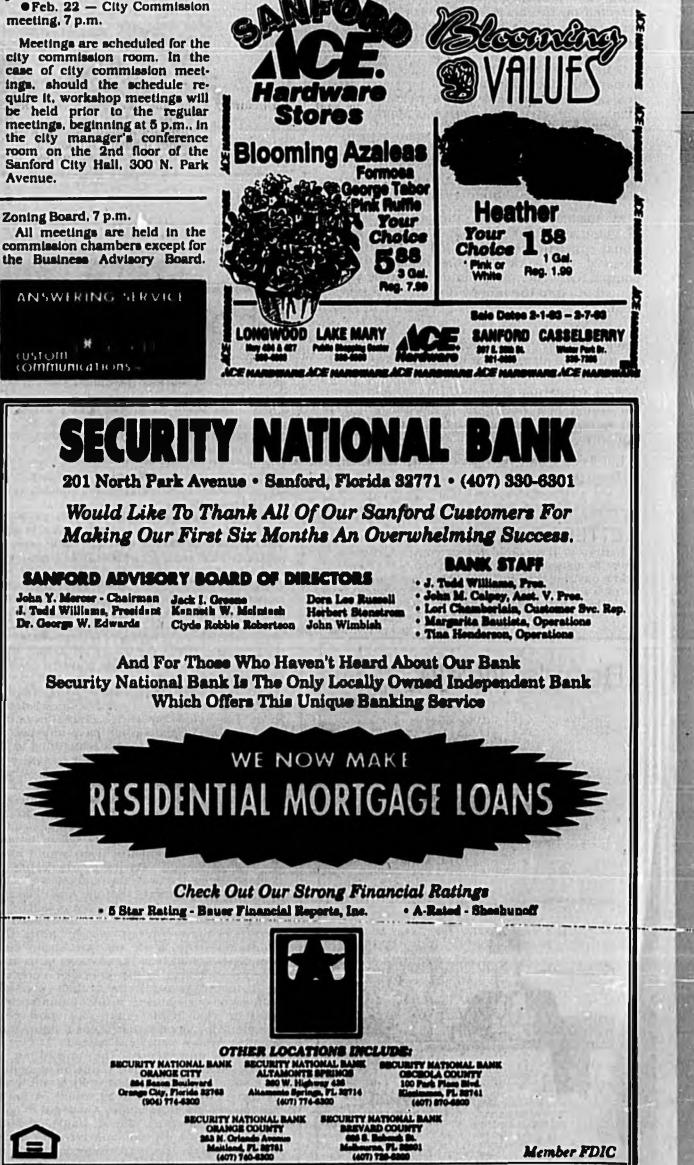

Community help and the woman's description of her attackers led to the suspects, who apparently picked their victims at random, Aurigemma said. He released few other details.

"I will say that not one of the 20 or so investigators got the feeling of any remorse from these (suspects)," Aurigemma said.

Henyard and the 14-year-old were each charged with two counts of murder, one count of sexual battery, two counts of kidnapping a child, one count of false imprisonment and auto theft.

Henyard was still being questioned late Sunday by police before being taken to the Lake County Jail, while the 14-yearold was turned over to juvenile authorities.

ARE ACE HARDWARE ACE HARDWARE

Valerie Martha Harris, 21, 700 Sun Crest Loop, Apt. 308, Longwood, was charged with domestic violence by Seminole County sheriff's officers on Friday.

Deputies said that Harris and her live-in boyfriend had been involved in a verbal argument when she became "combative"" and began to hit him.

Deputies report that she told them that he did not hit her in return.

She was taken to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility and held on $100 bond.

DUI charged

• Eugene Kim Schumann, 39, who told sheriff's deputies that he could not remember his Sanford address, was charged with DUI and driving at an unlawful speed on Friday night.

Deputies said he was going 55 in a 45 mile per hour zone. They reported that he was driving erratically. When he was stopped, deputies noticed that his eyes were bloodshot and there was a strong odor of alcohol on his breath. He failed a roadside sobriety test.

He was taken to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility and held on $500 bond.

Columbus Carswell, 919 Elm Ave., Sanford, was charged with DUI by Sanford Police on Friday.

Police stad he was involved in a two vehicle accident and they noted that he was having trouble with his balance and had bloodshot eyes and slurred speech.

They said he failed a roadside sobriety test.

He was taken to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility and held on $500 bond.

Man charged with drug possession

Jonathan Jermaine Martin, 20, 1002 W. 10th St., Sanford, was charged with possession of cocaine and possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana by Sanford Police on Friday.

Police, patroling a known drug area, saw Martin standing on the corner of 9th and Pecan.

When he saw them, they reported, he approached a car. When agents approached the car they found four packages of purported crack cocaine and marijuana outside the car.

Martin was arrested and taken to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility where he was held on $3,000 bond.

Crack cocaine purchased

Lloyd Marion Skipper, 24, 1333 Elliott St., Sanford, was charged with purchasing crack cocaine and with possession of drug parahernalia by Sanford Police on Friday.

Police said they saw him purchase a quantity of crack cocaine from an unknown person for $10. Police said they found the purported drugs in his pocket with a pipe stem. The substance tested positive for cocaine.

He was taken to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility and held on $5,000 bond.

Drugs stashed in tree

Anthony Thomas Duval, 19, 107 Scott St., Sanford, was charged with possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana and possession of marijuana with intent to distribute by Sanford Police on Friday.

Police said they saw Duval recieve a packet from a woman who droke up in a car. They said he put the packet in a nearby. tree and walked off.

Police made contact with him and they found the bag which contained the substance. It tested positive for cocaine.

He was taken to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility and heid on $3,000 bond.

Woman says she was pushed

Larry L. Haynes, 41, 3728 Washington St., Sanford, was charged with battery by Seminole County Sheriff's Deputies on Friday.

Deputies responded to a call about domestic violence at the home and found Haynes loading clothes into a car. They said he smelled of alcohol.

Officers found his wife with several cuts and she told them she had been pushed, hit with a fist and kicked during an argument.

He was taken to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility and held on $500 bond.

LONGWOOD - A number of matters that have been discussed for several months may finalig the passed by the thong. wood City Commission Monday.

On the agenda for the commission meeting is a collective bargaining agreement with the local International Union of Operating Engineers and the first reading of the amended personnel policies and procedures.

Prior to the meeting, the commission will meet in an executive session to discuss the labor negotiations with the union. The commission has met in executive session before to hammer out details in the agreement.

EDITORIALS Sanford should welcome Teen Challenge

Florida Residents must pay 7% sales tax in addition in rotan abr

The old Cardinal Industries office complex on South Sanford Avenue no longer deals with modular homes. It is now used to make better citizens.

Teen Challenge has taken over the 30,000 square feet of buildings on the property. Renovation is underway, and more and more of the operation is being moved from Orlando to the new location.

If Teen Challenge is to have success in its new facilities, it needs support by the people of Sanford.

Often, someone new moving into a neighborhood is considered a stranger. He may be ignored by others until the newcomer proves to be important or a valuable asset to he community

Teen Challenge has already proven its value in locations across the nation as well as in 26 other countries. It has helped drug and alcohol abusers. It has helped in educational improvements. It works with people regardess of their sex or race.

When the sale and rezoning of the property were first proposed, there were some who objected on the basis of having a residential type facility in an area which had formerly been used for industry.

Others however, including City Commis-sioner A.A. McClanahan, had projected that 196 OJ. (DC berty was beller than i at all. The change in land use was approved."

Perhaps the use of the industrial area by a non-industrial operation was not what some would prefer. It did take the property off the tax rolls. But no one has proposed a better use of the land and buildings for a long time.

At the present time, the facility is undergoing a $75,000 renovation project. Addi-tional construction is planned in the future. Most of the work is being done by local companies. Teen Challenge is making a contribution to the money flow in the Sanford area.

A problem however, is that very few people have indicated any interest in this new venture. It's almost as if ignoring it will make it go away.

Teen Challenge should not be treated as an unwanted new neighbor. It should be given an appropriate welcome to Sanford and given support.

Let Teen Challenge get on with its work of helping people.

Choices on economic reform

The president's men have announced he will unveil an economic reform and recovery package in his State of the Union speech two weeks from now. That's too soon in one sense, since a month or so longer would allow for more detailed consideration, and about 20 years too late in another since Washington's wrong steps over that period are at least partially responsible for the nation's economic difficulties today. Whatever the president offers, it needs to be as internally consistent as it is purposefu

The grim reality is that there is no easy solution to the nation's economic puzzle and good reason to doubt that one will present itself any time soon, a fact that Bill Clinton will undoubtedly reassert when he speaks to Congress on Feb. 17. There are also well Congress on Feb. 17. There are also well understood political reasons for moving quickly. During the campaign, the president promised to present and guide to passage within 100 days a program to restore vitality to the economy and to cut the deficit in half. The public's belief in that promise played a central role in his election.

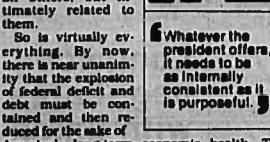

The trick will be to avoid pandering to political pressures even while acknowledging them. The complexities are such that even the most rational of plans could have unexpected consequences. Trying to give something to all the competing interests who are pulling and tugging on the new administration would inevitably produce a program that is a contradictory, inefficient and ineffective mess. For example, the automobile industry, in the name of job preservation and economic health, has let it be known it wants heavy import duties slapped on imports. That would raise the cost of foreign vehicles by thousands of dollars. Given the way the market works, it would all but guarantee that the American Big Three would raise their own prices as well. That would be an economic depressant of massive scope. What would help the thousends, who work for American auto companies would hurt the millions of us who buy cars each year. Higher prices for a product most Americana feel is vital to their economic and psychic well-being would automatically translate into harder times for most consumers. An economy that needs a jump start might get a kick in the head instead. No less importantly, the imposition of significant tariffs or other economic penaities on foreign imports would severely strain world markets. Japan and Europe would be under heavy pressure to retaliate. American export-ers, who have been almost single-handedly responsible for such economic recovery as the United States has experienced, could be slapped with crippling import duties. An international trading system painstakingly constructed over decades and already threatened by the strains of intense competition could quickly unravel.

Detroit's spokesmen argue just the opposite, of course. They say that Japanese and European carmakers have not been playing by the rules and that it's time to restore a "level playing field." Whether they are right or wrong, the debate is not a digression from the subject of President Clinton's economic proposals. The choices that his Commerce Departnent makes on import duties will inlimately affect the economy and therefore his budgetary package. It is not a decision sepa-rate and apart from all others, but intimately related to America's long-term economic health. That requires structural changes in the tax code and in expenditures. At the same time, the economic recovery is an uncertain thing. If the debt and deficit medicine is too bitter, the patient could have a relapse. Rather than "growing the economy," Washington could nd up burying it.

Specifically, a broad-based energy tax simiar to one advanced by Treasury Secretary Moyd Bentsen the other day is a worthwhile idea in theory and could be in practice. It would raise revenue and curb energy contion, both of which are worthwhile goals. Combined with a hike in the tax rate on high-income individuals, it might redress the tructural imbalance created by the Reagan tax and budget policies of 1961. But there is no way to deal with the immediate budget problems without a growing economy. Higher taxes are a wash at best if imposed on a stagnant economy. At worst, they can push it into contraction and pro-longed decline. The proposed solution becomes part of the problem.

statute defines it as meaning "any act of physical intimidation, physical violence ... or the threat of physical force or violence ... because of the ethnicity, race, national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, disability or political or religious beliefs of that person or group." I would assume that physical force against anyone would be punished.

So precisely worded is this section, however. that a threat of violence cannot lead to disciplinary action unless the person who is threatened "reasonably fears that the violence will be committed because of the speech, and that the person threatening violence had the apparent ability to carry out the threat." This is an echo of the Supreme Court's 1969 Branden-burg v. Ohio decision that draws the line between speech and action.

Another restriction is that student free speech is subject to "reasonable time, place and manner regulations." A student, for instance, cannot with impunity denounce a ruling by the principal in the middle of a French class. Unless perhaps he does it in French. Bill Leonard's proposed bill ran into some hurdles at first. The ACLU affiliates in California. which increasingly "balance" free speech against other priorities, were initially hesitant, but they came around.

JACK ANDERSON Powell has more than gay issue to worry about WASHINGTON - Joint Chiefs of Staff Chairman Colin Powell feels like a general fighting a five-front war. With the military and morale already stretched rubber-band thin, the coming debate over the Pentagon budget may make the gays in the military asue seem like a picnic by comparison. To be sure, Powell is not a happy warrior.

According to a ____ Pentagon source close to the five-star general, Powell is increasingly agitated over the failure of the Clinton administration to stock the Pentagon with a new team: over the injection of gays in the military, although the process of enfranchising women in the mili- The coming tary remains incomplete; and, most especially, over the fact that while conflicts rage in Somalia. Bosnia and Iraq, and with a watershed budget document due soon, raising the gay issue was ill-timed and clumsy at best. For Powell, the mother of all battles will be budgetary. The Defense Department budget already exceeds $250 billion, and boasts a workforce of nearly 3 million uniformed and civilian employees. Defense analysis believe the Bush administration's $1.4 trillion defense spending plan for the fiscal years 1993-1997 contains lots of funny bookkeeping, such as a failure to recognize more than $35 billion in potential weapons cost increases. Also, much of the $53 billion in management savings predicted in the Bush budget are looking doubtful.'

1 debate over the Pentagon budget may make the gays in the military issue seem like a picnic by comparison.

Between politics and purse. Powell and Clinton are likely to find themselves alternately as allies and adversaries. Some of the looming battles include:

- Aspin vs. Dellums. How will new Secretary of Defense Les Aspin get along with the new Chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, Rep. Ron Dellums, D-Calif.? Will Dellums be the first peacenik chairman of the committee, exposing Clinton on his left flank?

- Procurement. Despite the end of the Cold War, the Defense Department has proposed spending about $100 billion a year on the development and procurement of weapons and related items through the end of the decade. Yet the new mission for the military often seems disconnected from the stickershock machinery being clamored for.

- Base closings. For the members of Congress whose districts include bases to be shut, this is about as popular as cutting Social Security benefits. Clinton has promised $60 billion in cuts from the Bush administration's five-year defense budget. and many officials believe more bases will have to be closed. FORTUNES OF FAILURE - The "golden parachute" is alive and well for at least one former Bush administration official. Last year we reported on the expensive habits of William N. Rudman, cousin of former New Hampahire Sen. Warren Rudman and the head of the Defense Technology Security Agency. While the orgency was facing a major funding shortfall. Rudman was charging the taxpayers for trips to Paris that included an $1,800 tab for a car and driver to take him around the city. A few months later, Rudman invited some French guests over for an estimated $500 to $1,000 feast at the posh Ritz-Carlton Hotel in Washington.

But while Rudman ran into some trouble with the Defense Department's Inspector General for his free-spending ways, his triends in the Pentagon were waiting with open arms. After Rudman left DTSA in November, top Pentagon brass created a new job for him in his hometown of Boston.

Lake Mary

IN BRIEF

Women's club plans clothing drive

Marjorie Dale of the Lake Mary Women's Club is requesting help from the Central Florida Federation of Women's Clubs in District 7 and the community to help in collecting used clothing for the Miami hurricane victims.

Items needed are: clothing for men, women, boys, girls and infants to 3-years-old.

Each group of items should be packed in a seperate box and marked "Hurricane Relief" and the name of the items contained in them.

Items may be sent or delivered to the Old Fire Station, 195 N. First St., north of Lake Mary Boulevard and east of Country Club Road.

Before delivering items, please be sure to call 333-8250 so that someone can meet you to accept the donation between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Donations will be accepted through Feb. 10.

The club appreciates your generosity for this very worthwhile endeavor.

'Friends and Lovers' dance planned

This year the Heathrow Women's Club will be presenting its annual fund-raising event, "Friends and Lovers," a Valentine's dinner/dance and silent auction, on Friday, Feb. 12, at the Country Club at Heathrow to benefit its selected charity: BETA (Birth, Education, Training and Acceptance)

BETA is a privately funded agency organized in 1976. Its principal goal is to address the critical need of the ever-increasing population of high-risk, pregnant and parenting women and their children.

BETA provides various services to pregnant and parenting young women and their children - including a school, free day care, positive parenting classes, a home visit program and residency.

They are requesting a donation that will be used for the silent auction. Your donation will be published in their monthly newsletter, which is distributed to 650 familes.

Please contact Gerri McEwan, chairperson at 333-3790 or Nena Shidemantie at 333-0068.

Students celebrate Arbor Day new president, Joe Rosier, addressed the menfiltership

On Jan. 14, Lake Mary Elementary School celebrated Arbor Day.

Mr. Peoples, a fourth grade teacher at the school, and Assistant Principal Joanne Beckner held the ceremony on the south side of Lake Mary Elementary by planting two red maple trees.

'Six trees were also planted in front of the school in preparation of Arbor Day," according to Mr. Peoples.

They also had an Arbor Dav Contest in grades kindergarten through fifth grade. Winners were selected from each of the 20 classes.

Winners were selected in the following categories: poems. essays, posters. Entries were entitled "What Arbor Day Means to Me." It was decided to let all kindergarteners be winners.

Joanne Beckner presented the winners in each category and class, an award of participation and a Danny Dolphin award.

The trees were donated to Lake Mary Elementary by the U.S. Forestry Department of the State of Florida.

As Mr. Peoples planted a tree, Mrs. Beckner read the following dedication. "We dedicate these trees to beauty, usefulness and comfort. May our lives grow in beauty, usefulness and comfort to others even as these trees expand and grow. Let us protect and care for them so they may be enjoyed by all people."

Seniors meeting a success

The Lake Waty Seniors had a wonderful program on Tuesday. Jan. 26, at the Old City Hall on Country Club Road in Lake Mary.

Margaret Wesley, vice president, opened the meeting by introducing new faces and explaining what the sentors do. For example, Mrs. Wesley said "the sewing seniors knit hats for premature babies and for nursing homes, they knit lap robes and bags to hang on the walkers.

"Woodworking people make birdhouses, plaques, etc., she satd.

"We also cooperate with other organizations when they come and ask if the seniors can do this or that, as far as I know we always say yes and then we find out how to do it.

The speaker of the day was Pamela S. Sanders, public relations person for Hospice.

LAKE MARY - Michele Pierce netted two goals Saturday afternoon as Lake Mary blanked Deltona 5-0 in a high school girls' soccer match at Lake Mary's Don T. Reynolds Stadium.

Also scoring goals for the Rams (12-6-6) were Angle Olson, Amie Bradley, and Allison Neri.

Goalkeeper Angie Snow had to make just one save to post the shutout, her second in a row and fourth of the season.

Lake Mary outshot Deltona 30-1 and had a 5-0 advantage in corner kicks, foreing the Deltonagoalkeeper to make 14 saves.

Both teams will play again Monday night in the first round of the 4A-District 3 tournament at Lake Brantley High School. Lake Mary, seeded No. 3, will play sixth-seeded DeLand at 8 p.m. while Deltona, seeded No. 7, faces No. 2-seed Lake Brantley at 6 p.m.

'Hounds after three-peat

Despite his team's 18-1 record and No. 1 ranking in the Florida Athletic Coaches' Association's Class 4A state poll, Lyman coach Gary Barnett Isn't concerned about his team being mentally unprepared to play this week.

"One thing that will keep us from being overconfident is that chances are we won't have Cheryl (Roberts, Lyman's starting goalkeeper)," explained Barnett, "Also, Shirley Campos and Michelle Knight, two girls who have played quite a bit for us, both have had the flu.

"As a result, we're still struggling to get players into positions. There's no chance of us having all three back and there's a possibility we may not have any of them back. That has has kept the girls working really hard, trying to overcome that adversity."

Also, Barnett and the Greyhounds know that there's a chance they'll have to beat two state-ranked teams just to get out of the district. Lake Brantley is third in the FACA state poll.

Lake Howell is fifth, and Lake Mary is 10th.

Whoever does win the district title will probably have to face yet another state ranked team in the regionals (eighth-ranked Winter Park is the favorite in the 4A-District 4 race) and sectionals (when seventh-ranked Orange Park will probably be (he opponent).

As difficult as it may be to believe, the Greyhounds have been working on overcoming a slight dip in their collective confidence level brought about by their overtime lost to Daytona Beach-Seabreeze (ranked No. 1 in Class 3A) in the finals of the Burger King Classic.

"The loss had an effect of the girls," Barnett said. "There was a little doubt in their minds. They wondered about themselves and realized that they had to work to stay on top.

"They also had to re-develop that confidence in themselves. Over the last week, with good games againt Lake Mary, Lake Brantley, Lake Howell. and Lincoln, that confidence has been regained. especially playing against very good teams without key players. It's brought the team closer together."

Now all they have to do is do it one more time.

Raiders throw away M-FC game

By DEAN SMITH Herald Sports Writer

SANFORD - There are two things that really get a basketball coach upset: giving up second shots and turnovers.

After Saturday night's game. Seminole Community College head men's basketball coach Bernard Merthie was furious.

The Raiders turned the ball over 35 times and gave up 28 offensive rebounds, including 20 in the first half, as Florida Community College at Jacksonville tripped SCC 108-93 in a Mid-Florida Conference contest at the Health and Physical Education Center. See SCC, Page 2B

Cowboys rip Bills in a hurry

By DAVE GOLDBERG AP Football Writer

PASADENA, Calif. - Three seasons ago, the Dallas Cowboys were the worst team in NFL history. Now they're Super Bowl champions and they did it with four of the quickest touchdowns ever.

That left the Buttalo Bills as the first team to lose three straight Super Bowls and the NFC's supremacy intact - nine straight NFL titles, seven in overwhelming fashion, this time 52-17.

With MVP Troy Aikman throwing for four touchdowns and Charles Haley and Ken Norton leading a defense that forced a record nine turnovers, the Cowboys scored two touchdowns 15 seconds apart in the first period and two more 18 seconds apart in the second.

Norton said of a unit that had no Pro Bowlers to six for Dallas' offense. "Everybody knows who we are."

Along with Aikman, the defense was the factor that made Buffalo the first team to lose three straight Super Bowls after becoming just the second team to make it three straight times.

"You always wonder why, why us?" said Buffalo quarterback Jun Kelly, who was knocked out of the game with 6:52 remaining in the first half when he resprained his right knee. "We turned the ball overnine times and you can't heat a college team doing that."

Two of Aikman's TD passes went to Michael Irvin and one each to day Novacek and Alvin Harper as the NFC East won the Super Bowl for the third straight year, a record. The three winners were different --Dallas, Washington and the New York Giants - but the victim each. time was the Bills.

There was another first - Junuay Johnson became the first coach ever to win both a national college title and a Super Bowl. The NFL title came just three years after he began his pro-coaching career with a 1-15 record.

February is playoff month for winter sports

It's tournament time. February is one of the three months of the year - November and May - when Florida high schools decide their athletic state championships. Call it a sports sweeps month, if you will. Action cranks up tonight with the soccer tournament at Lake Brantley is when Seminole County schools began to collect state titles like so many baseball cards. Oviedo's boys basketball team and the Lyman girls' soccer squad won championships a year ago this month. Three Seminole County wrestlers won

In girls' soccer, pretty good. In didn't come from Seminole County, it'd be an upset. The last four Class 4A state champs have come from Seminole County - Lake Mary (1989), Lake Brantley (1990), and Lyman (1991 and 1992).

Going into the district tournament, all three and Lake Howell are ranked in the Florida Athletic Coaches Association's state poll: Lyman is No. 1, Lake Brantley is No. 3, Lake Howell is No. 5, and Lake Mary is No. 10.

It'll take a stretch run of superhuman proportions for a Seminole County school to cop a state title in boys' basketball this year. In fact, the only team that doesn't have a losing record is Oviedo (10-10).

On the other hand, the county should be well represented in boys' soccer, wrestling, and girls' basketball.

Last year, Lyman upset Lake Mary in the finals of the 4A-District 9 boys' soccer tournament and advanced to the Class 4A state semifinals. Currently, the Greyhounds are 16-1-3 and ranked second in the FACA state poll while Lake Mary, 15-4-1, is ranked fifth inthe state.

Lyman's wrestling team just completed a week where it won the Seminole Athletic Conference tournament championship and beat Lake Mary and University in dual meets. If Dallas Simpson and LaDaryl Fenney can return to the lineup for the district tournament (Feb. 12), the Greyhounds could be a force at the state meet.

This has been the most competitive girls' basketball seasons in recent memory. Only the Lake Howell Silver Hawks (21-3) pare getting votes in the Florida Sports Writers' Association state poll, but Lake Howell, Lake Mary, and Lyman all have shown the ability to play with and beat some of the state's more highly regarded teams.

It should be an interesting month.

CLARIFICATION

There seems to have been some confusion over the intent of my column last week. Several individuals contacted me, asking what I had against the Seminole PONY Baseball League and why I was championing the cause of the Lake Mary Little League.

Last week's column was not intended to - and did not support one league over the other. Rather, it was meant to question a community that would go through the long range task of developing anathletic complex but didn't bother to lay the groundwork to have leagues ready to use the fields when complete.

For the record, Seminole PONY Baseball has a laudable history of service to the youth of Seminole County and could serve as a blueprint of a successful youth sports league. That they could maintain such a program and line facility without the physical support of city services is awe inspiring

By PAUL ALEXANDER Associated Press Writer MELBOURNE, Australia -

What better way to cap a victory than a refreshing swim? Well, if it's the murky Yarra River, there are plenty of better alternatives. But none is closer to the National Tennis Center, so there was Sanford born Jim Courier taking a quick dip again. just like he did when he won the Australian Open last year.

"Don't drink the water. Jim!" a bystander warned as the American top seed celebrated his 6-2, 6-1, 2-8, 7-5 victory over Sweden's Stefan Edberg in sauna-like conditions Sunday for his fourth Grand Slam title.

Not to worry. Courier, still wearing his tennis gear - shoes and all - and coach Brad Stine barely had time to get wet before making their way to shore.

"At least this year, I knew it was the 18th-dirtiest river in the world," Courier said.

Courier. a 22-year-old fitness freak from Dade City who figured his chances for victory increased with the length of the match, said before leaving his hotel Sunday morning: "The hotter the better." With the air temperature at 104 degrees and the court surface brolling at 153, he got his wish. Some fans used umbrellas to fend off the brutal sun. Others doffed shirts or stripped to swimsuits to work on their tans. Thirty people collapsed from heat exhaustion, and hundreds moved to the stadium's indoor concourse to watch the end of the match on television. "At one stage, I felt like death." the 29-year-old Edberg said. "It's quite impossible to play your best tennis in that heat. Sometimes you wonder when you're two sets down what you're doing out there."

Courier added: "I was wondering what I was doing out there two sets up. You can't even breathe, it's so hot. You're looking for any shade between

"We told the guys before the game that we needed to take care of the ball on offense and limit them to one shot," said Merthic. "And we didn't do either. We played well in some spots and actually played them close most of the game. But we're not going to start winning until we stop making the dumb mistakes."

The Stars remained tied for the conference lead with Daytona Beach and Central Florida at 7-1 and improved to 17-6 overall.

SCC fell to 6-17 overall and 1-7 in the M-FC. The Raiders will play their second to last home game of the season Wednesday night when they host St. John's River Community College from Palatka at 7:30 p.m.

The Raiders jumped out to an early 9-4 lead and was able to avoid its usual five minute letdown at the end of the half and only trailed 47.43 at the intermission.

Phillip Williams led the way for the Raiders with 12 points. while Lake Mary's Jason Hamelin and Sanford's Jeff Hall added eight points each.

Larry Person had a big first half for FCC-J. tossing in 14 points and grabbing all 10 of his rebounds. Pedro Carter added nine points and Tony Dingle seven points and seven rebounds.

The Stars went on a run to build a 14 points lead to start the second half, but SCC refused to fold and cut the lead to eight, 81.73, with 9:00 left in the game.

FCC- then went to the long ball to put the game away, hitting three 3-pointers and a layup to take a 19-point lead, 92-73, with 7:10 remaining. The Raiders were never able to get closer than 12 points the rest of the way as the Stars used the clock to their advantage. Person finished with 20 points

Sexual assault prevention seminar set

The Seminole Community College Debure Programs De-partment, as part of its continuing crime prevention and personal safety program, will present a three-hour sexual assault prevention seminar for women followed by an optional six hours of self-defense training.

Research statistics have shown that at least one in every two women will become a victim of violent assault or rape at some time in her life. FBI studies have estimated that only about one out of every 10 rapes are ever reported to law enforcement agencies.

This program provides an educational forum through which women are taught methods for discouraging attack, ways to protect themselves if confronted, and encouraged to report any attack. The seminar will cover motivations, methods and personal traits of rapists, how victims are selected, confrontation approaches, response options available to assault victims, and planning methods to prevent becoming a potential victim.

The nine hour program will begin at 7 p.m., Thursdays, Feb. 11. Early registration is encouraged. For further details, call 323-1450 or 843-7001, ext. 664.

It's spring garden time Start planning and preparing for garden now

It may seem hard to believe with the cold weather that we have been experiencing lately, but it's once again time for vegetable gardening! Our last frost date should be inid February, though we cannot be absolutely certain of the last frost, planting time is still but a few weeks away. Now is the time to begin planning and preparing to plant your vegetable garden.

Preparation is the most crucial step in preparing to plant a vegetable garden. Most of our landscapes contain sandy soils with poor water and nutrient retention. Sandy soils should be amended with organic materials like peat moss or compost to help it retain water and nutrients. Amending the planting, so now is the best time to get started.

It's a good idea to get your soil tested, especially if you are breaking new ground. Even if you have gardened in the same location for years a soil test is still a good idea, especially if the pH has needed adjusting in the past or if you have had problems in the planting site.

To obtain your sample for testing, take several samples 4-6 inches deep from the area that you plan to use as a garden. The the garden - not just from one spot. Mix the easier. A small plot can be prepared with a areas of the garden together, you can be prepare the soil, dig down six to eight inches sure that your sample represents the and turn each shovelful completely over.

growing conditions of the entire plot.

Soil analysis performed at the Agriculture Center can test for either pH or soluble salts soil should be done a few weeks before or both. Ph measures how acid or alkaline a soil is while the soluble salt reading gives a measure of fertilizer present in the soil. The fee is $1.50 for each test.

Soil testing is done on Monday and Thursday mornings by Seminole County master gardeners. Soil may be brought in for testing anytime Monday through Friday from 8 a.m until 5 p.m. A master gardener will call with the results and let you know if the pH needs to be raised or lowered and make fertilizer recommendations.

If you are preparing a large garden, you samples should be taken from all areas of may need to rent a rototiller to make the job samples together and bring a pint of the shovel, rake and a hoe. Preparing the soil mixture to the Agriculture Center for properly can be a chore, but it is very analysis. By mixing samples from different important to the success of your garden. To After the soll is turned, break up any large clumps.

A well worked soil will be loose and make planting and gardening a lot easier - your initial hard work will pay off in the long run. This is a good time to add organic soll amendments like peat moss, leaf mulch or compost. Layer organic materials over the top and mix thoroughly into garden soil. Finally, level the area with a rake.

If weeds and grass are present or if your organic amendment was only partially decomposed you may need to wait a few weeks for these materials to decompose before you can plant.

If this is your first time gardening in an area, then chances are you will need some help choosing vegetable varieties that are suited for spring planting in central Florida. A poster-sized guide can be ordered from the University of Florida ($1.25). Order forms are available at the Agriculture Center. The "Vegetable Gardening guide" gives growing instructions as well as tried and true varieties for our area; the guide is in poster form so that it can be placed in the garden shed or wherever you do your garden planning. I hope that most of you solarized your gardens over the summer to help control nematodes, if not, plan to do so this summer - it's our only defense for now. If you need information about solarization or vergetable gardening call or drop by the Agriculture Center. The master gardeners and I are waiting to help you with your gardening needs.

DEAR ABBY: What a treat you gave our Marines here at Camp Kinser on the island of Okinawa! We placed the Operation Dear Abby mail under the tree on Christmas Eve, and it was the most popular part of the room. The Marines even abandoned the free anack table to get to those letters!

It was so sweet to see them scanning the envelopes looking for a letter from their home state. Others stood in little groups reading parts of letters aloud to their buddles; some passed snapshots around. Our USO was open for following Sunday night - 83 hours straight - to give the lonely troops somewhere to be. We served a festive Christmas Eve dinner, and a great Christmas morning breakfast with tables of snacks in between. Movies were shown, games and tournamnents for prizes were held, but the highlight of Christmas was all those Dear Abby letters from your wonderful readers.

When I get close to the this tough-looking, handsome Marine - the kindest and gentlest of men. Dear Abby, please let your readers know what a wonderful gift they gave those young men who are serving on this faraway island in the East China Sea. A C A R N E S. DIRECTOR, KINSER USO D

DEAR BRENDA: just did and very well. Thank you!

DEAR ABBY: I know this letter is is too late for the holiday season, but I hope the guilty parties will see it and remember for next year - or any gift-giving occasion.

Just before Chrismtas, I had three women ask me: "What are you getting for Christmas?" One was my boss's wife and the other two were co-workers.

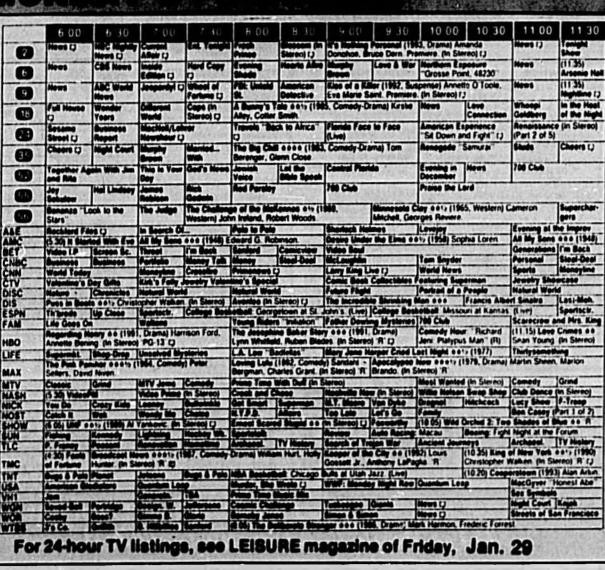

Abby, how am I supposed to know what I'm getting? To each I replied, "Well, it wouldn't be a surprise if I knew, would it?"

Abby, I find these questions to be nosy and in poor taste. How dare people ask such personal questions? Even if I knew. I wouldn't tell them.

Please print this letter for people who don't realize how rude this question is.

must oc done without consultation), the declarer must lead from the correct hand. But he may lead any card he wishes. The excessively severe penalty of making the declarer lead from the same suit has been re-scinded. (It was removed from the tournament laws in 1987; rubber bridge has. If you'll excuse the expression, finally followed suit.)

A key point is that the declarercannot have a penalty card. It can only help the defenders if he inadvertently displays one of his

When clubs broke 3-1, he was forced to win the fourth round of clubs in his hand with the 10. In desperation, South called for dummy's club seven. But both defenders pointed out that this wasn't legal. Quietly. South conceded one down.

"I'm sorry, partner," he said. "If only I had paid closer attention to the club spots, I would have been all right. I should have unblocked my eight, nine and 10 under dummy's honors. Then the seven wouldn't wither on the vine."

YOUR BIRTHDAO Feb. 2, 1993

In the year ahead you are likely to place considerable stock in new relationships you'll develop. Your faith will not be misplaced, because these associations could produce mutual benefits.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Your leadership and organizational qualities could be better than usual today. You might be outstanding in an area that brings pleasure to others. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428. Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

PISCES (Feb. 20 March 20) The more intensely involved you become in constructive endeavors today, the more your luck is likely to improve. Keep plugging away until you achieve the end results that you desire. ARIES (March 21-April 19)

Involvements you have today

with influential friends should turn out favorably, producing advantages for them as well as for yourself.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Do not be intimidated today by developments that promote competition or produce challenge. This could be your strongest area, so fire your best shots.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Self-approval is important today. If you visualize yourself as successful and effective, this is the script you will play out. If you don't, diminished rewards are likely.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Lady Luck is inclined to look favorably upon you today in ways you might not be aware of. Developments are springing up. all to your advantage.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Under most conditions you are the person who prefers to call the shots, but today you could fare better in arrangements where you play only a supportive role.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Major strides can be made today concerning two ambitious objectives you recently established. Make these the focal points for your efforts.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) An event that you've been apprehensive about could turn out to be a piece of cake for you today. The lesson to be learned is not to worry about things that may never happen.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) This is a good day to implement changes that you feel could benefit both you and people you're responsible for. Take your destiny into your own hands.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Listen to the suggestions and advice of people whose counsel you trust, but, by the same token, don't discount your own judgment. Your decision-making abilities are good today. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Your possibilities for personal gain look encouraging today. Both luck and industriousness could play equal roles in adding to your resources.
