COLUMN DEVOTED TO PEOPLE

In This Department will be Found the Views, Opinions and Comments of Practical Writers

The Bar Rooms must be closed in Florida. This is the wish and will of a large majority of her people. Let the Legislature close them now. If it does not, the State will probably vote state wide prohibition into her constitution next year. That the liquor traffic can be controlled and restricted by law, I mean by legislative enactment, none will deny. Then close the bar rooms and let all intoxicants be sold in packages and in no case allow the package opened or contents drunk on premises or even near them. Personally I believe this to be the wisest, sanest, and safest way to handle the drink traffic. It affords a middle ground between the horrors of the bar room on one hand and State wide prohibition on the other.

Mr. Editor I have neither time nor inclination to enter this discussion now but believing the bar room to be the cause of the vast majority of drunkenness with all its hellish results, I have for long years wanted them closed and in my county I've helped to close them by local prohibition. I think the legislature has the power to close bar rooms and drinking places in the interest of public safety and good morals, without trampling on the rights of individuals beyond what is for the public good. Cities close them at certain hours and they are often closed by order of the mayor of any town or city in cases of emergency Representative Pattishal's bill proposes to close them from 6 p. m. to 6 a. m. This is good that far.

I think this legislature can and should close them and restrict sales of all intoxicants to sealed packages to be taken from premises before seal is broken.

Respectfully,
J. N. WHITNER

To the Property Owners of Sanford and Territory Proposed to be Annexed to Sanford:

The following letter from Representative J. H. King, addressed to Mr. C. R. Walker of this city, together with a copy of the bill introduced in both houses of the Florida Legislature to extend the territorial limits of the City of Sanford, is submitted for your careful consideration. If you believe that the real estate owners, whose property is within the limits prescribed by this bill, should have the privilege of voting on this question, in like manner as upon the issue of bonds, you should take advantage of this opportunity to inform your representatives in the legislature your views, so that they may act with a greater degree of intelligence in the matter.

House of Representatives,
State of Florida,
Tallahassee, Fla., Apr. 3, '09.

Mr. G. R. Walker, Sanford, Fla.

My Dear Sir—Replying to your favor of the 24th inst., beg to advise that this bill is not one of mine, but was sent to me to be introduced, which I did. I am enclosing you a copy of same, and will be glad to have you publish it, and let me know what the people think of the matter; of course, you understand I want to do as the majority likes, but supposed that this was with the sanction of the majority. Will be glad to hear from you with full details, and will be governed accordingly.

Yours very truly,
J. H. KING.

An Act to amend Section 1, Article 2, of Chapter 4312, relating to the territorial boundaries of the City of Sanford, as established in Orange county.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

That Section 1, Article 2, of Chapter 4312 of the Laws of Florida, 1893, approved May 24th, 1893, be and the same is hereby amended, such amendment to begin after "viz" on the third line of said section 1, and the section then to read as follows:

Section 1. That a municipality to be called the City of Sanford is hereby established in Orange county, the territorial boundaries of which shall be as follows, viz: Beginning at a point twenty chains north of a point where the projection of the west boundary line of Melonville avenue would intersect the water of Lake Monroe at low water mark. Thence south from said point to a point where the west boundary line of Melonville avenue intersects Union avenue; thence southerly along the west boundary line of Melonville avenue to the north boundary line of Celery avenue; thence west on the north boundary line of Celery avenue to the west side of Sanford avenue; thence south on the west boundary line of Sanford avenue to the south boundary line of Fourteenth street; thence west on the south boundary line of said Fourteenth street and an extension of said street to a point where extension of said Fourteenth street will intersect with an extension of the west boundary line of Pecan avenue; thence north to the west line of Pecan avenue and north along said west line of Pecan avenue to the south boundary line of Seventh street; thence west on the south boundary line of Seventh street to the west line of Jessamine avenue; thence north along west line of Jessamine avenue to an extension thereof to a point in Lake Monroe twenty chains north of low water mark to the said lake; thence easterly following the boundary of said lake twenty chains distant from low water mark to the point of beginning.

In the event the city limits are extended, do you not believe it would subserve our best interests to extend the lines to a point beyond the east boundary line of Melonville avenue and the south boundary line of Celery avenue and of Fourteenth street, thus protecting those roadways? Our past experience on the question of good roads has been that the county roads in this section have not been kept in proper condition and repair, and those roads, therefore should be brought into the city so that we will not, in later years, be confronted with another such proposition as that of paving Tenth street, now contemplated.

Your representatives in the legislature will appreciate hearing from you on this subject.

IN SANFORD—Life is Worth Living

Number 39 SANFORD, FLORIDA, FRIDAY, MAY 14, 1909 First Year

IN HEALTH AND WEALTH

Sanford Is Sought By Capitalist And Invald

PROMINENT MEN LOCATING HERE

Celery Delta Seems To Be The Mecca Of Seekers For Health And Wealth

Ponce De Leon seeking for the fountain of youth and the "abled" treasures of the Incas, landed on the shores of Florida, and while the land of his dreams was never unfolded to his vision; his fondest dreams have been realized centuries after his death. Neither the fountain, the youth or the treasure trove of nuggets have been exposed to view, but the seeker of health has long found in Florida the realization of his hopes, and the seeker for wealth has in the past few years fully realized the golden dreams of promise. De Leon's hopes were not realized literally, and neither are the hopes of the inter-day fortune hunters who expect to come to Florida without capital and carry away a carload of simoleons in a few months without labor. But to the man of means who wishes to invest, and the man of limited capital who is willing to work, the state of Florida, and Sanford in particular, offers more inducements than any other section of the United States.

In the past few years the foundation of several small fortunes have been laid in the celery delta, and so rapid has been the development that many northern capitalists have been attracted to Sanford, and upon looking over the situation have invested at once in the proposition that looks good to every visitor.

Among those who have invested in the celery delta for profit, and who have also been attracted here on account of our salubrious climate, is Harry Ward of Decatur, Ind., who recently purchased over 4,000 acres of fine land south of Lake Jessup and has decided to make Sanford his home. The following from the Decatur Daily Democrat explains Mr. Ward's reasons for locating here, after traveling over the United States and several foreign countries:

"Harry R. Ward has at last found a place on the wide map of this country where he can live without the torment of asthma. From which he has been a sufferer for the last eleven years. He has traveled much in the hope of finding relief, having tried the climate in every part of this country, and even took a trip to Europe, but without avail. Last year he landed in southern Florida, and the salt air and delightful climate of that region brought with it entire relief from the greatest torment and affliction that can trouble mankind. He was there the greater part of last winter, and has now decided that he will move there and stay. He will locate in Sanford, Florida, a growing city of five thousand population. It is in the heart of the orange growing industry; but which for the past several years has retrograded, owing to the frosts having killed the orange trees, and ultimately the cultivation of this fruit. Recently the soil there was found to be especially adapted to the cultivation and raising of celery, lettuce, beans, cauliflower, strawberries, potatoes and corn, and at this time northern people are flocking there and buying up the land and engaging in the raising of vegetables. He purchased 4,268 acres, six miles from Sanford, and will begin the cultivation of a part of this purchase. The country is level, and Sanford is located one hundred miles from the Gulf of Mexico and thirty-five miles from the Atlantic ocean. It is also situated on the St. Johns river, and has river navigation to Jacksonville, which is located at a distance of one hundred and twenty-five miles. The country is booming and northern people are flocking there in numbers and soon that part of Florida will be a garden spot of the United States. Mr. Ward will retain his holdings in the Ward Fence company, and will keep in touch with the business of this great and growing institution. His family will join him at Sanford within the next few months, where they will likely live until the asthma leaves him free to go elsewhere.

At Mrs. Munson's Recital
J. B. Luckie, baritone, pupil of Prof. Walter Drennan of Rollins College, will render several solos at the piano recital of Mrs. Fannie Munson, Monday evening, May 17. Mr. Drennan will accompany Mr. Luckie.
The program is published as it will be rendered.

R. J. HOLLY IS THE LUCKY MAN

"32" The Lucky Number That Won The Lot Offered Free

Several months ago the Holden Real Estate Company started a special sale of lots lying between Park and Sanford avenues and Tenth and Thirteenth streets. They offered fifty lots on installment payments, without interest. They pushed the sale for the matter of two weeks and sold most of the lots. They became too busy with other and larger matters to finish this sale and decided to close the sale last week, which they did.

Before the sale was commenced, numbers on folded slips, numbering from one to fifty were placed in a hat from which G. S. Derry, cashier of the Peoples Bank of Sanford, withdrew one slip and placed it in a sealed envelop. This envelop was deposited with him in the Peoples Bank. It was stated in the advertisement of this sale that the holder of this number would get this lot free; all payments which had been made would be refunded and a warranty deed given upon closure of the sale.

In the presence of witnesses, Mr. Derry opened this envelop yesterday, the number it contained being "32." R. J. Holly of The Herald was found to have bought that number and so gets the free lot.

Elegant Display of Meats

The Sanford Grocery Co., having changed the meat department to the front of the store is making a strong bid for the trade and under the management of W. W. Stripling the grocery is assuming larger proportions and a better appearance every day. Mr. Briggs, the genial man who presides over the meat department believes in getting the best of everything in this line and this week has two window displays that are the best ever seen in the state of Florida. Read the advertisement in this week's issue and then see the new store and Briggs himself. He has thirty varieties of meat for you delectation.

The city limits of Sanford will be extended and our city will have plenty of room to grow and expand into the great city of the future. Rome was not built in a day and the city limits of Sanford cannot be extended as far as some would wish at this time. The recent territory gained, however, will give the city an added impetus and no one will object to the limitations.

There will be preaching by the pastor in the People's Congregational Church, at 11 a. m. Sunday. Subject: "Fishing too near the shore." At 7:30 p. m., "Learning the things of God." Sunday school at 10 o'clock a. m. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening.

MOTHERS' DAY WAS OBSERVED

Sanford People Paid Tribute To The Mothers Last Sunday

Mothers' Day was fittingly observed in Sanford last Sunday special services being held at the different churches.

The mere mention of Mother's Day expresses a wealth of beautiful sentiment and many wore white carnations and other flowers in loving remembrance of mother, many being worn in honor of those living and those who had crossed into the great beyond.

Sunday was the first time that Florida has celebrated the occasion although several other states have observed the custom and adopted the beautiful suggestion. Governor Gilchrist is largely responsible for this observance by the state having issued a proclamation to that effect several weeks ago. The Governor's devotion to his aged mother is another tribute to the manhood of our executive.

Rev. Kirkland of the Congregational church had special services, the subject of his discourse being "The Old Arm Chair, Mother in Home, Mother in Church and Mother in Heaven."

Rev. Household of the Methodist church also observed the day and took for his subject "Our Mothers."

Gully of Manslaughter

After being out for twelve hours the jury in the case of the State vs. Wm. Bexley and Truby Osteen of Gainesville, two prominent young men of High Springs, charged with the murder of W. H. Moreland, brought in a verdict of manslaughter.

Moreland was a traveling man from Atlanta, and was shot down on the street at High Springs early one night. Several days were consumed in the hearing. Bexley is the son of Judge Bexley of High Springs. The case will be appealed to the supreme court. Some sensational evidence was brought out in the hearing, and the name of a prominent young woman of High Springs was brought into the case. There was a brilliant array of counsel on both sides.

That Voting Contest

Miss Christie Caruthers of Tampa won the first prize in the Tampa Times voting contest—$1,000 in gold; Miss Felice Mahoney, 2d, building lot; Miss Minnie DeShong, 3d, piano. Misses Mary Bryan, Adine Fuchs, Tampa, Lee Weatherford, Fort Myers, Lillian Towles, Bartow, Eunice Dees, Mayo, Clara McMullen, Largo, each a scholarship in business college. Misses Edna Hollingsworth, Brownville, Maud Whittle, Mulberry, Wanda Coombs, Apobka, Sadie Gordon, Largo, Mary Cotten, Hazel Foster, Tampa, each diamond ring. Ida Green, Arcadia, May Platt, Jessamine, Maude Alexander, Brooksville, Pearl White, West Tampa, Hilda Thompson, Virginia Cooper, Tampa, each a gold watch.

Circuit Court Postponed

The regular session of circuit court that was to have been held this week has been postponed until the second Tuesday in June.

SANFORD REAL ESTATE

City Property Is Fast Becoming Very Active

THREE BRICK BUSINESS BLOCKS

Will Be Erected During The Summer Months Also Numbers Of Fine Residences

The history of cities reveals the fact that a rich farming section will cause a steady growth in the city so surrounded. Several inland cities of the United States have grown to large proportions solely from the farming country around them. Atlanta and Indianapolis are two instances and there are many others.

For the past few years the celery delta has been the Mecca for people from all sections of the United States, and while they were investing money in farming land city property seemed to move very slowly but in the last twelve months the growth of the farming section has added an impetus to city property and business and residence sections have experienced a decided boom. With the paving of the principal streets, street railway and electric lights the eyes of the investor have been turned toward Sanford and in the next few months several fine business blocks will be erected.

On Sanford avenue and Second street a fine two story concrete building will be erected.

One of the best tracts of city property, lying between the Peoples Bank and the Clark building on First street will soon be occupied by a fine two story brick building built by the Peoples Bank. The structure will be 80x80 feet, with three good store rooms on the ground floor and eleven large rooms for offices on the second floor. The contract has been made and work will start at once. The Eagles Building & Loan Association will erect a fine three story building shortly to consist of two or three rooms, offices and a nice lodge room. An opera house may be added to the building.

Rumor is also current that the valuable lot at the corner of Park avenue and Commercial street owned by F. L. Woodruff will soon be taken up by store rooms on the lower floor and rooms ensuite on the second floor.

There are several other real estate deals about to be consummated and will result in one or two new buildings on First street and adjoining streets.

The large building recently started by W. H. Underwood for the Sanford Carriage Works on Oak avenue is almost completed and the Sanford Machine & Foundry Works opposite are this week laying the brick for the two story garage and automobile factory.

In the residence section the work of construction goes merrily on and each week sees several fine new residences in the course of construction or being finished up.

The enlarging of the city limits and the brick paving for the residence section will do much toward making Sanford residence property very valuable. The forty lots recently put on sale by the Holden Real Estate Co., although some distance from the business portion of the city found a ready sale at $200 each and were disposed of in four weeks time. The signs of the times point to a Greater Sanford and the building boom is a good forerunner.

DIDN'T BELIEVE IN BANKS

In Consequence of Which All His Savings Were Burned Up

Mention was made last week of the burning of Mr. H. Edensfield's home north of town, but at that time we had not learned the extent of the loss. His residence and furniture was worth in the vicinity of $3000 and he carried no insurance at all. We also hear it reported that seven or eight hundred dollars in money, besides many valuable papers, were destroyed in the fire. This emphasizes the fact that banks are made to keep money in and if a person fails to put it where it will be safe from fire and burglars he is pretty sure to lose it before long. Mr. Edensfield has the sympathy of everyone in his loss, and all are glad that he is much better able to stand it than the average citizen.—Perry Herald.

The Sanford ball team will now take the stage and hold it until the end of the season.

Building Sanford's Street Railway

The above photo was taken while the workmen were busy laying the rails for Sanford's new street railway. The line will extend for five miles east to Cameron City and five miles west to Monroe, thus giving Sanford a belt line. A fine amusement park will be constructed along the line of the new railway.

CURBSTONE GLEANINGS

A Budget of Opinion "Just Between You and Me"

EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

"A Chief Is Among Ye Taking Notes, and Faith, He'll Prent 'Em"—So Says Saunterer.

A newspaper is not altogether published to tell the people what they would like to know, but has to give such of its space to telling them what they ought to know.—Greely.

Special Correspondence to The Herald.

I have long and often thought that the good women of our land overplay the foreign missionary fad. In fact, I so think almost every day, when poor fellows, and most of them seeming deserving, come into THE HERALD office, tell of their inability to secure any kind of labor and ask for a dime to buy a cup of coffee and some bread and butter. Those disheartened people are not professional tramps. Circumstances have been sorely against them. They are sick at heart. Many of them are printers, thrown out of employment, by reason of the introduction of type-setting machines. What is true of typographers is true of other artisans. And it is folly to tell such men: "Go out into the country and obtain work from farmers. They are short in help." Of what use, pray, would such men be in the field? But I am digressing.

Here is an item I find in one of the state papers:

"The ladies of the church last Thursday sent a 'missionary box' to Corea. The box is well filled with clothes, dry goods, and other necessities, and besides contains a good collection of dolls and toys. The ladies are certainly deserving of much praise for their kindness."

Why send "clothes, dry goods and other necessities" to far off Corea, when we have hundreds of deserving poor and sick right here in Florida suffering for "clothes, dry goods and other necessities?" It is poor charity that does not begin at home!

I have never heard that the Coreans were in need of "missionary boxes"—"well filled with clothes, dry goods and other necessities" or "a good collection of dolls and toys." But I do know we have in our country many deserving people who are sorely in need of dry goods and other necessities, and it would be proper for the charitables in this section to have their benevolence exemplified at home—and not in lands like Corea.

¶ If my friends on the city council do not wish to have me driven to strong drink or to Chatahochee they will pass an ordinance prohibiting phonographs from being played on the business streets. There is one to the right, one to the left, and one in front of me, all playing at one time, and the only way I can describe the condition is to repeat Sherman's definition of war, substituting "phonographs" for war. I enjoy good music as much as anyone, but when it comes to dango fruit stands winding up phonographs all day long and turning them loose at your very ear, it makes you feel like seeking a nice lonesome place in a far country, or else consigning the owners of these instruments of torture to a place far away, where it is not so lonesome. I enjoy the good old summer time, with the doors and windows open, but if these discordant squawking continue, I shall be compelled to shut the doors and windows and install electric fans for air.

¶ Last week I talked to the boys about mother, and this week I would speak to the girls. Last Sunday being dedicated to mother all over the land has started the trend of thought, and no doubt many of us are thinking more about mother than we ever did before. It is the daughters upon whom mother depends more and more as the years roll by.

I want to speak to the girls about mother. Perhaps you notice a care-worn look upon her face. Of course it has not been brought there by any act of yours, still it is your duty to chase it away. I want you to get up tomorrow morning and get breakfast. When your mother comes and begins to express her surprise, go right up to her and kiss her on the mouth. You can't imagine how it will brighten her dear face.

Besides, you do owe her a kiss or two. Away back, when you were a little girl, she kissed you when no one else was tempted by your fever tainted breath and swollen face. You were not so attractive then as you are now. Through years of childish sunshine and shadow she was always ready to cure by the magic of a mother's kiss, the little, dirty, chubby hands, whenever they were injured in those first skirmishes with the rough old world. And then the midnight kisses with which she routed so many bad dreams, as she leaned above your restless pillow, have all been on interest these long years.

Of course, she is not so pretty and kissable as you are, and if you had done your share of the work during the past ten years, the contrast would not be so marked. Her face has more wrinkles than yours, and yet, if you are sick, that face would appear far more beautiful than an angel's as it hovered over you, watching every opportunity to minister to your comfort, and every one of those wrinkles would seem to be bright wavelets of sunshine chasing each other over the dear face.

She will leave you one of these days. These burdens, if not lifted from her shoulders, will break her down. The rough, hard hands, which have done so many necessary things for you, will be crossed upon her lifeless breast. Those neglected lips, which gave you your first baby kiss, will be forever closed, and those tired eyes will have opened in eternity, and then you will appreciate your mother, but it will be too late.

¶ The following problem was sent to me by a lady by wireless telephone:

If it takes 24 yards of pongee silk to make an elephant a nightdress, how long will it take a man working for $2.00 a day and keeping a family of five to buy an 80 acre farm in the North at $100 per acre?

¶ I understand that Sanford will soon have electric lights, and if this is true I hope the city council will not allow the clause about moonlight in the franchise, at least it should not apply in a manner that would deprive our citizens of well-lighted streets the greater part of the night simply because the moon happens to shine an hour or so each night. We probably have some such clause in the gas contract at present, for the other night only about half of the gas lights were on, and when a sudden storm came up I had to wade through about three large lakes getting home, said lakes being some of the crossings that the city failed to lay. Our city certainly needs more light and plenty of it, and it should be made plain by our city council that the franchise must grant enough lights for the residence as well as the business portion.

¶ I am a great admirer of beauty, especially in a woman; and the prettiest pictures are, to my mind, not in the galleries but on the public streets. I recall one now that can be seen nearly every sunny afternoon on the street. A young girl, only 16 years of age, "sweet sixteen" it is often called, although sourness can be a feature of that early age, even. But in this case, it is really and truly "sweet sixteen," with all that the name implies. She is beautiful of face and figure, a demi-blonde with great masses of light hair and the clearest and brightest and sweetest eyes that ever danced in a happy girl's head. Her mouth is red and true and tender, her cheeks are soft and like rose leaves. But her chief charm lies in her wonderful eyes.

They express so many swift and changing emotions, sometimes bubbling over with mirth, then thoughtful and retrospective; at times soulful with prophetic sadness, but most of the time clear and untroubled, full of the serene happiness. God bless her! May her life always be a happy one, her skies unvexed by clouds, her pathway lined with flowers, and no specter of grief ever make its appearance upon the fair horizon of her now happy life.

¶ The following from the Sanford correspondent to the Times-Union is to the point:

"Two more serious runaways occurred last week. All these were caused by engines crossing First street with steam escaping and blowers on. The city council appointed a committee to regulate this nuisance but no action has been taken as yet. It has been recommended to place gates at the crossings of First, Second and Third streets and to stop all bells ringing and whistling in the city limits. Also that engines should not be allowed to stand in the business district waiting for trains."

These gates should certainly be placed in position and the unnecessary noises made by the engines day and night be abated. The railroad at the present time occupies the most desirable part of the city and the constant menace especially to children at the street crossings should be abolished by the placing of gates at these streets. Every other city has them and Sanford should be no exception to the rule.

IN THE SOCIAL WORLD

Items of Interest Concerning Society People.

POINTS PURELY PERSONAL

How Celery City Vanity Fair While Away the Golden Hours—Social Gossip.

Miss Rena Brown, who has been the charming guest of Miss Frank for several days, has returned to her home in Palatka. Miss Brown was the recipient of many social favors while in the city, and a dance was given in her honor last Friday night in the city hall. A jolly crowd of Sanford's young buds attended and thoroughly enjoyed the occasion.

The days of chivalry are departed from us forever. Every day brings additional and conclusive evidence that they have disappeared in the mists of vanished ages, nevermore to return. Knight errantry has long since joined the great procession which, with ceaseless measured tread, goes steadily onward, swept along on the stream that disappears in the boundless ocean of oblivion. Too true it is that those times when the gallant youth mounted his blooded steed, and, clad in coat of mail and armed with lance and shield, went forth to do battle in the cause of distressed damsels and unprotected widows, to right the wrongs of oppressed humanity in general, have left this prosaic old world, so true, in fact, that we are constrained to doubt if they ever really existed at all. Modern times seem to have brought forth most abundantly of the selfish in human nature, the common, prosaic side of life has been cultivated at the expense of sentiment and feeling. Matter-of-fact statements, curt, brief sentences, have superseded the story told in song and clothed in fancy's fairest fashions. The utilitarian idea seems to be uppermost in the average mind. Business, business, nothing but business, the burden of every man's hours, sleeping and waking. Instead of the young man mounting his steed and going forth in the name of his lady love to do battle for the oppressed female of today, the aforesaid female rigs herself out with her brother's collar and tie, a "rainy-day" dress or a pair of trousers cut a la Constantinople, and a few other things, mounts a bicycle, and in the name of the continental congress and the bill of rights, goes forth to prove that woman is neither a vassal nor a serf. And, of course, inspired by such a noble impulse, she must inevitably succeed. It is purely a matter of business, that mania for business which has drifted and worked its way into and along every avenue of life until it has permeated the very atmosphere of the social circle, and the whole people, with one accord talk "shop" and with a remarkable singleness of purpose join in the pursuit of the "nimble sixpence."

Time was when man was considered the bread winner, woman the home maker. What first broke into the usual order of things and upset all precedents and examples, is not clearly understood, even by the parties most deeply, directly and vitally interested. Perhaps man became derelict in the discharge of his duty as a bread winner, perhaps the quantity of that staple article furnished by him was not sufficient, or it might be that she wanted Minnesota flour and he persisted in patronizing the old mill down along the creek. Or again, it may have been that the woman grew to be more fond of neighborhood gossip than of family cares, or took more interest in the way the heathen, including her neighbors, of course, were training their children than in the welfare of her own little olive branches; or possibly, and more probably she concluded that the arrangement of the Creator whereby she became a helpmeet to the man who was made ruler over all other creatures, an arrangement by which she became junior partner in the venture, became irksome, to her and she desired to become at least chief manager, bookkeeper and treasurer of the firm. Or it may have been by mutual agreement, but at all events in the old arrangement of protector and helpmeet the state of interdependence proved unsatisfactory and a domestic emancipation has issued, and the end is not yet.

Married at Geneva

On last Tuesday, Miss Ruth Huddleston, one of Geneva's fairest daughters, was wedded to E. G. Baxter, formerly a well-known attorney of Gainesville, but now private secretary of U. S. Senator D. U. Flecher.

Miss Huddleston is the daughter of J. H. Huddleston, a prominent citizen of the Geneva section, and well known in Orange county. Immediately after the ceremony, the bridal party came to this city, where the happy couple took the train for Washington, D. C., where they will make their future home.

The Slimmer family pew in the Newlight church has been re-cushioned and a new gold band china spittoon has been installed.

Punk Jones and Skinny Jane Slocum were in Macaroni Delta yesterday and called on Miss Pinky Slimmer, the correspondent of The Herald.

Miss Pinky Slimmer of Macaroni Delta, has been invited to recite "Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight" at the peppermint tea social to be given by the Colloquial Dames tomorrow night.

Mart Buster's new hired girl waiter insists on waiting on the table bare-footed since warm weather set in, on account of bunions and perspiring feet. Such a thing wouldn't be tolerated in a Sanford boarding house, and Mart says she'll have to wear shoes or quit the job. Mart wont stand any fooling.

Barbary Clodfelter and Mose Stuckey took a rubber-tired buggy ride to Ward's addition yesterday. They returned in the evening.

Grandma Titus, who has been a widow for nearly forty years, rode to town on her sorrel mare yesterday. She rode a straddle and brought along several bushels of cowpeas.

An Jacksonville soap drummer and a Tampa cigar drummer enlivened our town with their presence last Monday. They partook of dinner at Mrs. Buster's boarding house, and called on several of our society young ladies in the evening.

The Editor Gets the Lemon

We often wonder if the world at large will ever learn that a newspaper is strictly a business proposition. That its space is its income and without advertising there would be very few newspapers. It costs about fifty dollars a week to run this office, and that amount, together with a small profit, must come solely from the advertising, job printing and subscriptions. In subscriptions there is very little, if any profit, and we must depend on our advertising space and job patronage for our income.

And yet— A merchant walks into the office, picks up half a dozen copies of the paper, and says "Thank you." If the editor walked into his store and picked up a pair of shoes he would get in jail. The merchant gets his papers and—

The editor gets a lemon.

A farmer loses his dog and steps in to ask the editor to note the fact, and when he is politely informed that it will cost seventy-five cents, he is visibly pained and surprised. He fumbles in his pocket, mumbles something about having no change, "Will hand it to you later," and departs. The farmer gets his sausage meat and—

The editor gets a lemon.

The charity organizations and churches get up a bazaar or theatrical and kindly (?) hand the editor five dollars worth of advertising to "fill up," and then to keep all hands in a good humor divides (?) up and gets some other printer to get out the tickets and handbills, for which he receives a two dollar bill while—

The editor gets a lemon.

Somebody's cross-eyed, sparrow-toed daughter gets married. The editor starts them down life's pathway with flowery words and unmerited praise. The preacher gets a ten dollar bill and—

The editor gets a lemon.

The town drunkard, gambler or horse thief dies and the editor, with sympathetic words, recounts his virtues and earnestly strives to convince St. Peter that he is worthy to enter the heavenly gates. The doctor and undertaker divide a hundred dollar bill and—

The editor gets a lemon.

The politician wants office, and the editor praises him to the skies, using hundreds of dollars worth of space. The politician gets a fat salary and—

The editor gets a lemon.

That's the story day in and day out, year after year, in a country newspaper office. Is it any wonder the editor grows cynical and loses faith in the virtues of mankind?—Ferry Herald.

THANKS, BUT

THE HERALD would have a word with a few of its admirers.

It is as appreciative of complimentary letters and kindly congratulations on its excellence as any paper can be, but—it now and then occurs to the paper's editor that some of the effusive authors of compliments must think that they are what keep him alive. Otherwise it does seem to him that a year's subscription would be included in the letter or included in the handshake. The good words which are constantly coming from people who pay for the paper are appreciated more—a great deal more—than their money.

But the money is appreciated. Those "Let her go, Gallagher," but do-it-all-at-your-expense sort of well-wishes, do not seem to us to be in the most exquisite taste.

There are people in this county who seem to regard the author of this little editorial as a sort of bank with an unlimited capital of nerve to draw upon when any fight needs to be effectively fought. Some of these people have not hesitated to come to him repeatedly in the last year to urge that he pursue some particular fight to the finish. He is sometimes tempted to tell them that, although the bank's capital is in fair condition, their individual accounts are exhausted. Some of them come in with their honeyed words and a request, at the publisher's expense, for a few copies of the paper to be put where they will do the most good!

These kind friends are not poor people. We have in mind a rich man whose expenses are less by forty dollars per year than they would be if this paper had not made a certain fight that is now history. He has never neglected an opportunity to express appreciation; as near as can be ascertained, he borrows the paper occasionally and always enjoys it when he does. There are others.

They must have an idea that appreciation is more nutritious than beefsteak (which it isn't) or else they are ungrateful.

Several just such people have commended the editor for his articles, and have urged that he keep it up until the rank abuses are a thing of the past! This is exceedingly nice of them. Some people think that newspapers profit largely by such exposures. It's a great mistake. They gain in subscribers, but lose in that more essential business, advertising.

Sanford's grand celebration of the Fourth is meeting with the approval of the state at large, and on that day we are expecting a large concourse of Florida people to visit our city, and have a day of enjoyment. Sanford's wonderful progress and rapid development has excited the admiration of the South, and many people will avail themselves of this opportunity to visit the Celery City and see for themselves the wonderful celery delta.

Sanford will be compelled to take care of one of the largest crowds on that day that has ever congregated in this city, and in the past there has been some good celebrations here and many large crowds.

The time is growing nearer and it behooves our citizens to get busy on this question at once. It should not be left to one or to several to do all the work, but every citizen of Sanford should consider that they are delegated to see the program started and carried through, and it will be by the united efforts of everyone that the celebration can be made a success.

About the only newspaper in the state that is upholding Frank Clark in his undemocratic policy is the Lake City Index. That is no surprise to the people of Florida—Tom Appleyard owns that paper.—Kissimmee Valley Gazette.

Wrong again, Brother Harris. THE HERALD is upholding Frank Clark in his recent stand for protection on Florida fruits and vegetables, and will continue to uphold him even against Bryan himself. Clark is doing things. The other fellows are only talking about it.

The recent fight in the legislature between Alexander and Thornton originated over the question of the county building a bridge over the Halifax. No one blames the members for fighting over this bridge matter as it has been a bone of contention for some time and to the visitor to the East Coast the toll charged for passing over the present bridges seems like highway robbery.

And Sanford will spend the road tax upon Sanford roads.

Now cometh the sweet girl graduate, the fairest flower of the season.

Remember that in regard to the Fourth every man is supposed to do his duty.

Who stated that an editor was unlucky? THE HERALD editor won a fine building lot this week, and is now a bloated land-owner.

Beard was unable to get his disfranchisement bill through the House, even though he was aided by Money. Thus the state's reputation is saved once more.

Savannah wants celery on account of the advertising it affords a community. Celery helps, but if it is not backed by the enterprising citizens, even celery falls short.

When Sanford gets all of those new brick blocks that are now contemplated the city will be able to get rid of several of the old barnacles that have long ago been back numbers and should have been removed.

Col. T. J. Watkins has us beat by seven miles. In a recent interview in the Tampa Tribune, he stated that Orlando was prospering greatly under the dry regime, and just now was paving ten miles of streets with brick. That's going some, even for Col. Watkins.

There is a bill in the legislature at present requiring all sheriffs, deputies, constables and police officers to enforce all laws regarding the sale of liquors. There is no reason why Florida or any other state should pass a law requiring officers to do their duty and such a bill seems to be a reflection upon the officers of the state.

We never doubted Editor Howard's sincerity upon the road question. And of course, he does not doubt THE HERALD's sincerity. Therefore, since "everyone is sincere, say what you mean, and mean what you say." All is peace and brick streets again. Now that it is all over, and our point is gained, no one wishes to keep up the argument.

NEW NAME FOR BALL PARK

The Sanford Baseball Association have a new park and are seeking for an appropriate name. We enter the contest and suggest that it be called "Holly Park." We don't say that it is base, but Holly can sure "Bawl" for Sanford.—Gainesville Elevator.

CELERY AVENUE NEWS

Special Correspondence to The Herald:

The committee in charge of the truckers' picnic, held May 5th at shell mound, beg to state that the total expenditures was $28.50 and total collections $30.40, leaving a balance of $1.90. This will be placed in bank as a nucleus for a picnic fund, subject to will of the next picnic committee.

All the four-legged frogs in the celery delta have stopped croaking. It's time now for the two-legged frogs to also stop croaking.

Miss Ida Maltby returned to Winter Park, Monday of this week, accompanied by Miss Bertie Riley, after a pleasant visit to Miss Riley.

Mrs. T. P. Conpropt is spending a few days in DeLand this week.

Beg to report two new dwelling houses going up in the celery delta this week—one by Bob King and one by Henry Stevenson.

D. R. Brisson is making some improvements to the grounds in front of his home, the stone cottage, on Celery avenue, laying cement walks and laying out flower plats. Let this good work become epidemic. Mr. Brisson has one of the most attractive places on the avenue.

The only houses on Celery avenue not painted belong to two parties, who are too poor to paint them—one the ferry house owned by Orange county; the other two belong to a druggist; and as we all know Sanford is no place for druggists to become millionaires.

Doctor Delamato and wife, recently moved to the celery delta from Chicago, have laid the foundation for a dwelling on their farm on Cameron avenue. I will report this building later as it progresses.

W. J. McBride visited his son this week at Plant City. Mr. McBride has begun the erection of a new dwelling on Beardall avenue. One peculiarity about Uncle Mac is he has very little to say, and speaks so low you can hardly hear him at times.

I would like to hear of a community where the inhabitants are more congenial, more neighborly or more prosperous as farmers, than we of the celery delta. Cosmopolitan in make up—there being representatives from North, East, West and South, from nearly every country on earth, except China, India, Turkey, and Greenland. There are doctors, lawyers, railroad men, merchants, mechanics of all trades, preachers, druggists and a few farmers.

The next time you city folks come out to the East Coast ferry to have a chicken periau please don't make so much noise, unless it's in the nature of a call, as you disturb the writer, especially when he knows there is chicken being eaten, and he not there.

The Sanford Building & Loan Association has made loans on new dwellings of nearly $10,000, and has applications for as much more. The association started in December. The business men are being urged to subscribe to its stock. No one thing can benefit Sanford more than to encourage building by its own people. Already 700 shares have been taken. Every dollar loaned is amply secured, and the investment is a safe and attractive one for business men who want to help build up their own town.

THANKS, BUT

THE HERALD would have a word with a few of its admirers.

It is as appreciative of complimentary letters and kindly congratulations on its excellence as any paper can be, but—now and then occurs to the paper's editor that some of the effusive authors of compliments must think that they are what keep him alive. Otherwise it does seem to him that a year's subscription would be included in the letter or included in the handshake. The good words which are constantly coming from people who pay for, as well as read, the paper, are appreciated more—a great deal more—than their money.

But the money is appreciated.

Those "Let her go, Gallagher," but do-it-all-at-your-expense sort of well-wishes, do not seem to us to be in the most exquisite taste.

There are people in this county who seem to regard the author of this little editorial as a sort of bank with an unlimited capital of nerve to draw upon when any fight needs to be effectively fought. Some of these people have not hesitated to come to him repeatedly in the last year to urge that he pursue some particular fight to the finish. He is sometimes tempted to tell them that, although the bank's capital is in fair condition, their individual accounts are exhausted. Some of them come in with their honeyed words and a request, at the publisher's expense, for a few copies of the paper to be put where they will do the most good.

These kind friends are not poor people. We have in mind a rich man whose expenses are less by forty dollars per year than they would be if this paper had not made a certain fight that is now history. He has never neglected an opportunity to express appreciation; as near as can be ascertained, he borrows the paper occasionally and always enjoys it when he does. There are others.

They must have an idea that appreciation is more nutritious than beefsteak (which it isn't) or else they are ungrateful.

Several just such people have commended the editor for his articles, and have urged that he keep it up until the rank abuses are a thing of the past! This is exceedingly nice of them. Some people think that newspapers profit largely by such exposures. It's a great mistake. They gain in subscribers, but lose in that more essential business, advertising.

Sanford's grand celebration of the Fourth is meeting with the approval of the state at large, and on that day we are expecting a large concourse of Florida people to visit our city, and have a day of enjoyment. Sanford's wonderful progress and rapid development has excited the admiration of the South, and many people will avail themselves of this opportunity to visit the Celery City and see for themselves the wonderful celery delta.

Sanford will be compelled to take care of one of the largest crowds on that day that has ever congregated in this city, and in the past there has been some good celebrations here and many large crowds.

The time is growing nearer and it behooves our citizens to get busy on this question at once. It should not be left to one or to several to do all the work, but every citizen of Sanford should consider that they are delegated to see the program started and carried through, and it will be by the united efforts of everyone that the celebration can be made a success.

About the only newspaper in the state that is upholding Frank Clark in his undemocratic policy is the Lake City Index. That is no surprise to the people of Florida—Tom Appleyard owns that paper.—Kissimmee Valley Gazette.

Wrong again, Brother Harris. THE HERALD is upholding Frank Clark in his recent stand for protection on Florida fruits and vegetables, and will continue to uphold him even against Bryan himself. Clark is doing things. The other fellows are only talking about it.

The recent fight in the legislature between Alexander and Thornton originated over the question of the county building a bridge over the Halifax. No one blames the members for fighting over this bridge matter as it has been a bone of contention for some time and to the visitor to the East Coast the toll charged for passing over the present bridges seems like highway robbery.

And Sanford will spend the road tax upon Sanford roads.

Now cometh the sweet girl graduate, the fairest flower of the season.

Remember that in regard to the Fourth every man is supposed to do his duty.

Who stated that an editor was unlucky? THE HERALD editor won a fine building lot this week, and is now a bloated landowner.

Beard was unable to get his disfranchisement bill through the House, even though he was aided by Money. Thus the state's reputation is saved once more.

Savannah wants celery on account of the advertising it affords a community. Celery helps, but if it is not backed by the enterprising citizens, even celery falls short.

When Sanford gets all of those new brick blocks that are now contemplated the city will be able to get rid of several of the old barnacles that have long ago been back numbers and should have been removed.

Col. T. J. Watkins has us beat by seven miles. In a recent interview in the Tampa Tribune, he stated that Orlando was prospering greatly under the dry regime, and just now was paving ten miles of streets with brick. That's going some, even for Col. Watkins.

There is a bill in the legislature at present requiring all sheriffs, deputies, constables and police officers to enforce all laws regarding the sale of liquors. There is no reason why Florida or any other state should pass a law requiring officers to do their duty and such a bill seems to be a reflection upon the officers of the state.

We never doubted Editor Howard's sincerity upon the road question. And of course, he does not doubt THE HERALD's sincerity. Therefore, since "everyone is sincere, say what you mean, and mean what you say." All is peace and brick streets again. Now that it is all over, and our point is gained, no one wishes to keep up the argument.

NEW NAME FOR BALL PARK

The Sanford Baseball Association have a new park and are seeking for an appropriate name. We enter the contest and suggest that it be called "Holly Park." We don't say that it is base, but Holly can sure "Bawl" for Sanford.—Gainesville Elevator.

CELERY AVENUE NEWS

Special Correspondence to The Herald:

The committee in charge of the truckers' picnic, held May 8th at shell mound, beg to state that the total expenditures was $28.50 and total collections $30.40, leaving a balance of $1.90. This will be placed in bank as a nucleus for a picnic fund, subject to will of the next picnic committee.

All the four-legged frogs in the celery delta have stopped croaking. It's time now for the two-legged frogs to also stop croaking.

Miss Ida Maltby returned to Winter Park, Monday of this week, accompanied by Miss Bertie Riley, after a pleasant visit to Miss Riley.

Mrs. T. P. Conpropt is spending a few days in DeLand this week.

Beg to report two new dwelling houses going up in the celery delta this week—one by Bob King and one by Henry Stevenson.

D. R. Brisson is making some improvements to the grounds in front of his home, the stone cottage, on Celery avenue, laying cement walks and laying out flower plats. Let this good work become epidemic. Mr. Brisson has one of the most attractive places on the avenue.

The only houses on Celery avenue not painted belong to two parties who are too poor to paint them—one the ferry house owned by Orange county; the other two belong to a druggist; and as we all know Sanford is no place for druggists to become millionaires.

Doctor Delamato and wife, recently moved to the celery delta from Chicago, have laid the foundation for a dwelling on their farm on Cameron avenue. I will report this building later as it progresses.

W. J. McBride visited his son this week at Plant City. Mr. McBride has begun the erection of a new dwelling on Beardall avenue. One peculiarity about Uncle Mac is he has very little to say, and speaks so low you can hardly hear him at times.

I would like to hear of a community where the inhabitants are more congenial, more neighborly or more prosperous as farmers, than we of the celery delta. Cosmopolitan in make up—there being representatives from North, East, West and South, from nearly every country on earth, except China, India, Turkey, and Greenland. There are doctors, lawyers, railroad men, merchants, mechanics of all trades, preachers, druggists and a few farmers.

The next time you city folks come out to the East Coast ferry to have a chicken periau please don't make so much noise, unless it's in the nature of a call, as you disturb the writer, especially when he knows there is chicken being eaten, and he not there.

Efficient Staff of Reporters Weekly Covers the Territory for The Herald

We invite correspondence on live topics from all sections of the County, also news items of interest. Every item will insure prompt publication. All communications intended for current issue must be in hand not later than Tuesday p. m. 1-20.

OVIDO OCCURRENCES

Special correspondent to The Herald.
The most absorbing thing of interest during the past week has been the revival services going on in the Methodist church. The services have chiefly been under the leadership of Rev. W. H. McLeod of Ft. Myers, who exhorts with much fervor and power. His discourse Sunday morning, with its touches of pathos, and enthusiasm for the salvation of souls was enough to appeal to the hearts of even the most hardened, and was listened to attentively by a large congregation. In the afternoon Rev. S. B. Rogers filled the pulpit, treating his subject in his usual masterly manner. As an evangelist Ovido has been visited by few superior to Mr. McLeod, and this far his work has met with encouraging results.

Mr. J. H. King is on a flying visit home from Tallahassee where he has been absorbed in legislative duties. Ovido is proud of the distinction of furnishing one of the county's representatives.

Mrs. W. H. Luther is in the Church Home and Hospital at Orlando, under treatment of Dr. Person. Her case at one time assumed a critical phase, but later news report a vast improvement in her condition with much encouragement of her recovery.

The Ovido basket ball team has not yet attained to the proficiency to give public exhibitions of their skill, but their success thus far in practice promises some rare treats in that line.

In order not to conflict with the revival going on, the Ovido Magazine Club decided not to hold its regular meeting last Friday.

Base ball has been inaugurated for the summer, and one afternoon each week business is suspended while the population turns out en masse to witness a game.

WEKIWA SPRINGS

Saturday was a great day for picnics here, on the slopes of Wekiwa's fountains. There were five parties here—two from Orlando, one from Lockhart, one from Winter Park and one from Sanford.

The party who came from Sanford were guests of Miss Pinkney Houston and her brother, Vance Houston. They came in an auto, and were Misses Blanche Biggers, Blanche Bothamly, and Messrs. Wm. Hill, Wm. Woodruff and Stanley Walker.

GENEVA GLEANINGS.

Special Correspondence to The Herald.
The entertainment at the city hall on last Friday night was a pronounced success, so much so that several requests have been received to repeat the play "His Uncle Jolin." The Ladies' Society is very much indebted to all who so kindly assisted in the entertainment.

The picnic at Lake Harney on last Saturday was largely attended, several visitors from neighboring cities being present. We had an abundance of lemonade, fish dinner and rain.

Geneva seems to have had on her holiday attire the past week. In addition to the entertainment and picnic, a "tacky party" was given by Mrs. Pattishall to the departing teachers—Misses Clark and Allen. Comical and old-fashioned were the costumes. The refreshments consisted of potato custards, syrup cakes and orange ade. The evening was highly enjoyed by all.

John Huddleston, who is attending the state university, and brother-in-law, Mr. Yerkes of Jacksonville, arrived on Sunday last to attend the Huddleston-Baxter marriage.

Mrs. Howard has as her guest Miss Hanson, a charming young lady of Pine Castle.

Mr. and Mrs. Quigg, formerly of Geneva, but now residing in Orlando, drove over Saturday and attended the picnic.

Miss Booth of Osteen is the guest of Miss Nevada Grant.

Harold Pattishall returned home Friday from Nashville, Tenn., where he has been attending a dental college.

The many friends of Miss Laura Barber will be sorry to know of her continued illness. She has been sick for several weeks with grippe.

C. A. Raulerson leaves this week to join his wife in Defiance, Ohio, where she is detained on account of the illness of her father, Dr. J. J. Burns.

Many in Geneva sympathize with Rev. Calloway of Orlando, in the death of his sister, which occurred in Americus, Ga., last week.

On Tuesday, the 11th, Miss Ruth Huddleston and Mr. Ashton G. Baxter will be married at the beautiful home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Huddleston, on Buck Lake. On account of the semi-invalid condition of a member of the family, the marriage will be a very quiet one. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Saunders of the Methodist church. Immediately after the ceremony a dainty luncheon will be served, and the bridal party will go by carriages to Sanford, where they will take the train for Washington, D. C., where they will reside, as Mr. Baxter is private secretary to Congressman Fletcher, uncle of the bride. Miss Huddleston will be married in a handsome traveling suit of blue serge so becoming to her type of beauty. Geneva certainly loses one of her fairest daughters in losing Miss Huddleston. Kind and ever-thoughtful of others, to the aged and sick she was always especially attentive, and everybody, old and young, will miss her. Mr. Baxter is a young man of fine qualities, and is to be congratulated on winning such a bride.

STATE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

Will Hold Annual Meeting at Daytona This Year

The twenty-second annual meeting of the Florida State Horticultural society will convene at Daytona on May 18, 19, 20, 21. The meetings of the society have been growing in importance and interest from year to year, and the twenty-second meeting promises to be no exception to this rule.

The railroads have granted to the members a rate of one fare plus twenty-five cents for the round trip, and the hotels are making a rate of from $1 to $2. The people of Daytona are preparing to entertain the members with a steamer ride on the famous Halifax river, and also to give them automobile rides through the beautiful avenues surrounding the city.

Besides the attractions that the Daytona people can give, the members can enjoy all pleasures that a beautiful beach can furnish where both fishing and bathing can be enjoyed between the meetings.

Any person interested in Florida can become a member by remitting $1 to the secretary, which will entitle them to a certificate of membership and a copy of the proceedings when published. Send $1 to E. O. Painter, secretary, Jacksonville and be sure to send at least three days before the first day of the meeting.

Get the Genuine

When you wish to buy The Sanford Herald, a Stetson hat, Sanford celery, a Butterick pattern, a package of Quaker oats or a can of Royal baking powder, would you feel satisfied if your dealer should send you some other brand for the same money, claiming that it was "just as good"? When you put down your nickel for a bottle of coca-cola, will you expect coca-cola or some other "just as good" imitation? No real good article has ever been put on the market, that there were not imitations made after it, and the more imitations there are, the better is the guarantee for the wholesomeness of the original, and also there was never an imitation made to equal the original.

There have been on the market more than two hundred cola drinks, and whatever their name may be, they are nothing but imitations of coca-cola, trying to profit from the tremendous favor coca-cola has with the public, on account of its superior qualities.

Talk about cocaine in coco-cola, the state chemist of nearly every state and the department of agriculture have all pronounced it pure, with not a trace of cocaine, and only about one-third as much caffeine to the bottle as a cup of strong coffee contains.

Dr. Abbot, state chemist of Texas last year, said that out of eight cola drinks examined by him, coca-cola was the only one without cocaine or artificial sweetening.

Therefore, if you want what you pay for, when you call for a bottle of coca-cola, be sure and inspect the crown or bottle for the well-known trade-mark, and do not allow him to palm off something on you which he can probably buy for less money. Get the genuine.

All the stores were closed Thursday afternoon, with but two or three exceptions. —CITIZEN.

On The Fourth Celebration

To the Editor of The Herald: Allow me to refer to your last week's able article on a Fourth of July celebration and ask the citizens committee mentioned by you.

It is all well and good to lay plans and boost same through your worthy paper, but to do a thing worthy of this city in the celebrating line it takes work, active, pushing work. And this work must be done with the large trumpet, in the open, with much noise and advertising. The citizens committee you speak about, must be doing their work with whispers behind closed doors, since with all the careful search I have made, I have not been able to discover its whereabouts as yet. I have no doubt that the merchants of this town are willing to support a good celebration by liberal contributions and by lining up their wagons, as decorated floats in a show parade, and I know that you have a social organization in your city of two hundred, that represent the best element and that are at all times willing to jump to the front and do all in their power to help in anything which is of benefit to your city at large. A celebration like this will advertise your town. Just think of a parade with "Lucky Sanford" signs on every man, horse and wagon participating—it will spread the name of Sanford anew again all over the state.

Why does not somebody wake up now and take this matter in hand right away? Where is the city administration that is working for all and every good of this city? Where are the large property holders and Sanford boosters? I know the Eagles are "it" just now, but do not think they can do it all. They are young still and have work of their own to perform, but from what I can understand they will do anything in their power to help in any enterprise by which this our own Sanford can profit in any way.

Let the public spirit assert itself and some good man set the ball rolling. Time is short and much work to be done if you will do this city credit.

Mrs. J. M. Troublefield brought a beet to The Herald office this week that seems to beat the record thus far. It is one of the ordinary red beets that usually grow as large as an ordinary potato, but this one has attained larger proportions and weighs seven and one-half pounds. It is now on exhibition in The Herald window.

All citizens interested in a Fourth of July celebration in Sanford are requested to meet in the city hall next Monday night at 8 o'clock. An organization will be perfected at this meeting, committees created and all necessary measures adopted to make the proposed celebration a great success, and one that will redound to the credit of the Celery City. Let every Sanford-loving citizen be present Monday night, May 24th.

New Opera House

It is rumored that T. N. Gummert, who is interested in several opera houses in Pennsylvania, will build an opera house in Sanford next fall. Mr. Gummert is an active and energetic business man of his section, and when he undertakes to push a proposition seldom relinquishes his idea. He promises some first-class attractions, among them being the "Kansas Cyclone, or Who Cut Peffer's Whiskers?"

CELERY AVENUE NEWS

Special correspondent to The Herald.

The writer has been informed by Postmaster Haskins that Rural Route No. 3, going out Celery avenue, would in all probability be established within the next few weeks, and that for it to be established it would be necessary for at least seventy-five per cent of the 130 subscribers to purchase mail boxes, approved by the Postmaster General and so stamped on the box. These boxes can be had of Harry J. Wilson, hardware dealer, at $1.50, with name painted thereon, and must be placed at a point where mail carrier can get mail out and place mail therein without getting out of his wagon. The most convenient height to place the box is on top of a post four and a half feet high.

We know of several parties going away to spend a few weeks and some a few months summer vacation in next few weeks. Verily, the celery delta will be devastated of life. Will report these departures as they take place. May they return poorer but wiser.

All those living back a distance from the route of the carrier on Rural Route No. 3, soon to be established, which will traverse the celery delta, will be expected to place a mail box alongside the route at the most convenient place opposite their residences.

At a recent meeting of the city council of Cameron City the question of cows running at large was taken up. Mr. Large feared little for himself, but feared that Mrs. Large and the smaller Larges might be run over, and then the beautiful wild celery growing in the streets was liable to be eaten down, and again W. C. Riley was severely tossed by a mad cow looking him in the west end of his pants. She stood the old gent on his head. Everybody laughed but mother, and she mended pants all day.

SANFORD LAND IN DEMAND

Several Important Deals in Celery Land This Week

Land in the celery delta is moving every day, and there is no cessation in the buying of the rich lands that are being opened up in several sections. Quite a number of sales were recorded this week, the particulars of which could not be learned, as in several instances the deals were on a large scale, and the parties interested did not wish to divulge the news at present.

Dr. R. L. Taylor of Pittsburg and John Duster of Torantum, Pa., are here this week enjoying life, and incidentally purchasing celery land. They have closed a deal with the Holden Real Estate Co. for fifty acres of celery land in Spring Hammock. This land will be cleared at once, and next fall put in cultivation. It will be remembered that Mr. Duster was here in February, and represents a party of Tarentum capitalists.

The Holden Real Estate Co. also sold the Stenstrom place west of the city consisting of about seventy acres of land some of which has been cleared. The consideration was $14,000, and the purchasers were parties from New York. They will bring down several families in the early fall and put all the land in cultivation.

K. R. Murrell sold the Lieby place west of the city to Mr. Davids. There are quite a number of northern capitalists in the city looking up the celery proposition, and they will purchase several large tracts before leaving.

Brick Paving Progressing

First street has now been paved from Sanford avenue to the railroad crossing on the south side and from the railroad to Palmetto avenue on the north side of the street-car tracks. First street will soon be finished, and then Park avenue and Commercial street to the depot will be paved, giving our city a fine appearance from the railroad. After this street is finished the other streets will be paved, and the three miles of brick streets will be finished about October first.

Fine Window Display

Garner & Roberts have a fine window display this week in the tea and coffee line. The window is artistically decorated in Chinese style, and contains the famous brands of tea and coffee that are carried in stock. The window was arranged by Nathan Garner, and for the small space in which the display is confined is a good advertisement for the store.

It is deemed expedient to borrow this large sum for carrying on the Key West Extension work, building branch lines, consolidating, leasing or purchasing other railways or railway property, and for the purpose of improving equipping, providing betterments, operating and maintaining the same, and for paying present indebtedness.
