

GOVERNMENT TO TAKE OVER MUSCLE SHOALS

IE PLAN GOES THROUGH

House Military Committee Declines to Comment on Offer

MUNICIPAL CONTROL

But Government Must Keep Hands Out of Private Business

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 11.—Members of the House Military committee, which has been investigating offers for the government's war projects at Muscle Shoals, Ala., declined to comment on the announcement in the senate yesterday by Chairman Norris, of the Senate agricultural committee, that he was drafting a bill to create a government owned corporation to develop and operate the power and nitrate plants.

Some of the members, however, professed to see in the Nebraska senator's announcement several features which they said might not be in harmony with the administration's policy of keeping the government out of private business. Senator Norris, in making the announcement, explained it was not his intention to favor government operation as against private operation of the plants, but that he considered his proposal worth the senate's study.

Another development was the decision of Senate leaders, made public by Senator Norris, not to make their trip to Muscle Shoals until after a vote on the four power treaty. The prevailing opinion was that the visit would be delayed about ten days or two weeks on that account.

Chairman Kahn, of the House committee, also declared he would not go to Alabama to inspect Muscle Shoals. He said the trip would not be of any assistance in visualizing the various proposals the committee has been studying, nor did he conceive how it would help in adjusting the legal complications the committee has revealed in contracts executed by the war department with the Alabama Power Company and the Air Nitrates Corporation, giving those concerns optional rights on the Warrior power station and nitrate plant number 2 in the event they were ever sold by the government.

The committee confined its efforts to an examination of Colonel John W. Jones, of the ordnance bureau, war department, who defended the contract executed with the power company, contending it was a reasonable and just contract, otherwise he would not have approved it.

He will complete his statement today.

Senator Norris' announcement came after Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, had spoken on the offer for purchase and lease of the Shoals properties made by Henry Ford and had charged that Chairman Kahn's statement advocating the creation of a commission to take charge of Muscle Shoals development by lease or sale, was a move to delay development of the project.

The Nebraska senator said later he had not put his scheme into writing and the details were not ready for publication.

PRESIDENT IS AT DAYTONA BAD WEATHER

WILL MAKE CHANGE IN PLANS TO CONFORM WITH RAIN

(By The Associated Press) DAYTONA, March 11.—President Harding was greeted with the first inclement weather of his vacation trip this morning and officials of the Seabreeze Golf Club were without advices early today as to the president's plans. He had expected to come ashore from the houseboat and play on the Seabreeze course. Clearing weather yesterday afternoon and moonlight enabled the party to change earlier plans to spend the night in Matanzas Inlet and to proceed into the East coast canal and thence into the Halifax river.

President Harding played golf at Ormond today.

Fleischmann Loses Permits for Sales Industrial Alcohol

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Appeal of the Fleischmann Co., Inc., of New York, from orders of Prohibition Commissioner Haynes, cancelling its permits for the distilling of alcohol in connection with the manufacture of yeast at its Peekskill, N. Y., and Langdon, District of Columbia, plants was sustained last night by Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair. At the same time Mr. Blair upheld orders by Mr. Haynes revoking permits for the sale of alcohol by the company's agencies at Philadelphia, Scranton, Pa., Yonkers, Brooklyn, Jersey City, Bridgeport, Cambridge and Cincinnati.

While Mr. Blair absolved the Fleischmann Company from knowledge of diversion of alcohol to illegal purposes by its agencies, he declared the agency method of distribution was in violation of treasury regulations, "but was adopted in good faith and according to the uncontradicted testimony of witnesses with the full knowledge and consent of certain members of the prohibition unit who have since resigned or been transferred from that unit."

"ON THE VALUE" THEATER PLAN PAYS

(By The Associated Press) BEND, Ore., March 11.—That the pay-as-you-leave plan adopted here Monday by two motion picture theaters is resulting in bigger houses, at least as large revenue as formerly, was the declaration yesterday of J. B. Sparks, manager of the theaters. Many pay at the old rate, a few pay less and practically none walk out without dropping some change in the box left at the door. It is optional with each patron how much he shall pay, or whether he pays at all.

CAR PLUNGED INTO RIVER THROUGH OPEN DRAW AT ST. AUGUSTINE EARLY TODAY

Two Men in a Closed Car Were Drowned—Bodies Not Recovered Up to Noon Today

ST. AUGUSTINE, March 11.—(By the Associated Press).—The bodies of Godfrey Foster, local cigar manufacturer, and Joseph Ortugas, local merchant, are believed to be in the small closed car which plunged into thirty feet of water when it went through the open draw of the bridge between Anastasia Island and St. Augustine. Foster and Ortugas left the beach resort shortly after midnight for St. Augustine and the draw was left open to let a small boat pass through. The bridgetender said the first he knew of the accident was when he heard a splash and saw the car sink. Attempts to raise the car were fruitless. They had the machine almost to the surface with grappling hooks one time but coupe top tore off and the car sunk again. A diver arrived from Jacksonville at 11 o'clock. Foster and Ortugas are believed to have been alone as only they were in the car when it left the beach.

SANFORD MORTGAGE LOAN COMPANY TO BE ORGANIZED IN SANFORD IMMEDIATELY

Sanford Men Organize Company That Will Build a City WAS GREATLY NEEDED HERE

Will Have Capital $250,000 and Loan Money on Real Estate

One of the greatest movements for the improvement and upbuilding of Sanford is the contemplated organization of the Sanford Mortgage Loan Company that will be ready for business in about three weeks. It will be organized immediately with a capital of $250,000 which will be ample to take care of the immediate needs of those people wanting to build homes and to improve the homes they are now occupying.

The plans for the organization have been maturing for several weeks and the organizers are now ready to announce something definite and that as soon as their charter is obtained they will be ready to loan money and buildings will start in Sanford in a few months.

The best thought in connection with the organization of the new Loan & Mortgage Co., is that it is officered and organized with Sanford men who have faith in their own city to the extent that they are willing to take on an extra burden and make it possible for the people who want to build to obtain the money.

The following men will be the officers and directors of the Mortgage Loan Company: S. O. Chase, B. E. Squires, Alfred Foster, L. I. Frazier, H. R. Stevens, L. A. Bramley, Sheridan Jewett, Walter Hand, B. F. Whitner, A. R. Key, H. P. Smith, Edward Higgins and George W. Knight.

DELAND CASE COMPLICATED BY LETTERS

WRITTEN BY SLAIN MAN TO HIS SISTER IN STATE OF KANSAS

(By The Associated Press) DELAND, arch 11.—Copies of letters from Shields mailed to his sister in Kansas were received today by the authorities. One letter was written February 19, last year and mentioned the name of a white man he suspected in the event anything happened, the authorities said. His name is being withheld in an effort to locate the man. Mrs. Shields and the negro were again examined yesterday. The woman charged the negro with the killing and the negro denied it. The negro said he had something to tell but would only tell it to his own attorneys when the proper time came.

King Admits He Is Furey, Noted in Crime Circles

Tennessee Planter Dropped Wad in December, 1920.

ORLANDO, March 11.—One of the four alleged confidence men arrested here Thursday has admitted, according to the police, that he is Harry E. Furey, under indictment at Memphis, for alleged swindling of a man named Edward Carter in that city on December 27, 1920.

Chief of Police Vestal received a message from Chief Burney, of Memphis, yesterday afternoon reciting that Furey was wanted there on two charges, one in connection with the swindling of Carter, who claims to have lost $28,000 on fake market transactions and for alleged fraudulent use of the mails.

County Solicitor Murphy has fled charges against the four men, who are accused of attempting to swindle W. L. Sweeton, of Camden, N. J., a winter visitor here. No further evidence against three of the men has been discovered. Bertillon measurements were taken yesterday and forwarded to Memphis, and other cities.

Chief of Police Vestal and two post-office inspectors left last night for Jacksonville in connection with the case.

When the four alleged confidence men, were finger-printed and photographed yesterday, the likeness of the one who gave his name as John King, of Toledo, O., was immediately recognized by Postoffice Inspector Lafol, officially in Orlando, as that of Harry Furey, a notorious confidence man, wanted by the Memphis authorities.

On communication with J. B. Burney, chief of police, of Memphis, Chief Vestal was advised that Furey was wanted by them on an indictment charging the larceny of $28,000 from Edward Carter, a cotton planter of the nearby country, the familiar stock market game being worked. Chief Burney advised that he had applied for requisition papers to be issued by the governor of Tennessee, for Furey.

Rewards totaling $1,000 have been offered for his apprehension. At the same time, Chief Vestal was advised by H. E. Murray United States attorney, Memphis, that Furey was also wanted on a federal indictment charging use of the mails to defraud.

When confronted with the accusation, King admitted that he was the H. E. Furey wanted on these charges.

20,616 POUNDS MILK IN A YEAR

(By The Associated Press) STORRS, Conn., March 11.—A new record for milk production from a Jersey cow was attested yesterday by the Connecticut agricultural college. Fauvic's Star owned by A. V. Barnes, of New Canaan, produced 20,616 pounds of milk in a year against the previous record of 19,895 made by Passport, owned in New York. The sire of Fauvic's Star was Fauvic's Prince, first prize mature bull at the National Dairy Show in 1920. Eighteen daughters of this bull averaged over 550 pounds of butter fat as two-year-olds.

Big Uproar Over Attempt to Deceive the Public

OVER PACT ARMS CONFERENCE

Hughes Denies the Plan Says One; Attack on Underwood Plan

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 11.—Secretary Hughes has written a letter to Senator Underwood relative to the four power Pacific treaty the state department announced today.

In the letter Hughes took occasion to characterize intimations that the American delegates were induced to accept some plan cunningly contrived by the others opposed to American interests as "very poor and erroneous conception of work in connection with the conference." Hughes added amenities of international intercourse precluded revealing confidential and informal suggestions and conversations incident to negotiations but assured the senate that a full disclosure of everything said or done would reveal nothing derogatory to part taken by American delegates.

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 11.—Pressing their attack on the manner in which the four-power Pacific treaty was negotiated, the treaty's opponents declared on the senate floor yesterday that the American delegation to the arms conference not only concealed knowledge of the negotiations from the public but was responsible for the dissemination of misleading reports concerning them.

At the time when announcement of the treaty's conclusion was "imminent" Secretary Hughes, it was asserted by Senator Robinson, Democrat of Arkansas, told newspaper correspondents that he had no knowledge of any such project. As a result, the Arkansas senator declared, the press not only was inaccurately informed but correspondents assigned to the conference suffered professionally because they placed reliance on what Mr. Hughes told them.

That the secretary of state had made such denials was characterized by Senator Lodge, Republican, Massachusetts, another member of the American delegation as "inconceivable." Mr. Lodge declared that the project for a Pacific accord had been discussed by him with Mr. Hughes before the conference began.

Senator Robinson's charge was made during a brief flurry of debate just before the treaty was laid aside for the day to give right of way to a judiciary bill. At first the administration leaders had opposed interruption of the treaty discussion to take up the bill, but so many senators asked for more time to prepare their speeches that a truce was agreed to. Senator Lodge announced, however, that today he would insist that the senate reach a vote on the first of the proposed reservations.

The Democratic leader, Senator Underwood, of Alabama, also a member of the arms delegation is to make a prepared address for the treaty as soon as today's session begins. Several of the irreconcilables opposing the treaty have been waiting to hear Mr. Underwood's speech before preparing their own. The first reply to the minority leader is expected to be made Monday by Senator Johnson, Republican, California.

Just enough rain to do good to the growing crops.

We have certainly been fortunate this season in the weather-line.

The Sanford growers have everything their own way if they will just be careful and ship only the best of their stuff. They have the situation in their hands. Will they use it or act foolish?

Sanford is going after bonds for additional hard-surfaced streets and more sewers. Those celery-feds must want to add to the prosperity of their busy little city.—Reporter-Star.

Busy is all right but not little, old top, not little.

We have been reminded by the Palatka News that we made a mistake the other day when we said the Florida Post was the only Republican paper in Florida. We left out the Jacksonville Times Union. O, well, we said, the only real Republican paper.

No wonder Mayor Pulver of St. Petersburg said the bathing girls could do as they pleased on the beach. Just saw a picture of the mayor surrounded by sand, ocean and girls. If they flock around the mayors that way what more could the poor man do?

A canal from Kissimmee through Orlando to Sanford sounds good but a fast, speedy, electric line sounds better.—Orlando Sentinel.

We intend to have both of them, old dear, and then Sanford and Orlando will have the world by the well, say by the nose.

There is much to talk about in Sanford with the bond issue for improvements coming along and all the many new companies being formed and the new business houses coming here and new buildings contemplated. That magnificent work on the lake front will make Sanford great.

Along with all the rest of their troubles in California they are having ghosts and all sort of mysterious things. A shower of rocks has been falling on a certain house every night and other funny goings on are remarked in the papers. They had better leave that funny state. Anyhow it is not funny any longer since Fatty Arbuckle took the count.

That Frank Whitman, of the Florida Grower worries us nearly to death. Here we are in this stuffy little two by four office tied to the desk and he persists in putting out those wonderful pictures of big mouthed bass and those stories of the fish just jumping into the boats and those shady dolls and sparkling streams until he has us hanging on the ropes and only a few minutes ride from Chattahoochee. Have a heart, Frank!

The Florida State Press can congratulate two of the members over the arrival of babies in the family in the past two weeks. They are Major Quimby Melton, of the Jacksonville Metropolitan, and Clayton Codrington, of the DeLand Daily News. We older folks can realize their great joy and hopes and aspirations over the youngsters that have come to gladden their hearts and lighten their pocket books. We have four million dollars worth of children, ourself, but we would not care to invest in any more at the present price of grits and gravy.

The Mortgage Loan Company that will be organized here at once with a capital of $250,000, will do more for Sanford than anything that has been started here in many years. Sanford needs millions for building purposes and only for the reason that Sanford could not obtain this money has there been a scarcity of buildings of all kinds. If Sanford had money to build there would be 200 homes started this summer and many business blocks. It is also a matter of satisfaction to the Herald that a home company will furnish the money and take the profits. We have contended all along that Sanford money should finance these projects.

COURTESY IN BUSINESS

Much has been said and written on the subject of courtesy. It seems to be a good slogan to hang up in an office or store as a sort of reminder; but most of us fail to profit by the reminder.

That courtesy in business is a valuable asset admits of no dispute. The Western Union Telegraph Company is one of the greatest exponents of courtesy and one of the most practical examples of its value that we know of. We find a good deal of fault with the Western Union rates, and perhaps this criticism is well founded. But when it comes to service, this powerful corporation has everything else beaten to a frazzle.

When you go into a city office of the Western Union Company, it is a rare thing not to find the tables nicely dusted; plenty of clean blanks and pencils well sharpened for your use. Those at the instruments do not sit and chew gum and visit while you wait. They are alert to their duties and are invariably polite and prompt in attending to your wants. "Thank you" in a pleasant manner always follows the transaction. Clerks and operators who do not observe the rules of courtesy would not long remain in the service of a city office. They might be ever so efficient, if they were lacking in this one essential they would not long remain in a city office that has frequent visits from the public; they would soon be retired or assigned to a dingy relay or reporting office that comes little in contact with the public.

This courtesy idea hath profited the Western Union much. It has served other institutions well. The merchandising house or the bank or railroad office that has employees that observe this popular rule are popular with the public and are usually prosperous because they have utilized their best asset in a proper manner.

Much of the unpopularity of street car companies and railroad companies generally, is due to a disposition on the part of many employees, especially conductors and agents to be short and grouchy with the patrons. There are, of course, many pleasant, courteous conductors and agents in the service and these are, as a rule, so popular that they are known to the public by their first name. In the language of the street, "Courtesy is their middle name." It is not always easy to be courteous, but courtesy is so largely a matter of habit that once the habit is acquired it will be harder to be impolite than polite.

Much of the unpleasantness of life and many misunderstandings would be avoided by the practice of courtesy. And, by the way, courtesy is a double duty; the public is not exempt from its practice. Politeness begets politeness. A smile will often be met by a smile. So keep smiling through the world may sometimes frown. You will be happier and better for it.—Orlando Reporter-Star.

MERCHANTS ARE NOT PROFITEERS

American merchants must come out of the rut "and help mould public opinion of local and national projects," D. F. Kelly, Chicago, declared amid applause at the Interstate Merchants' Council Convention. Hesitancy of merchants to enter public activities, he said, had permitted creation of false stories of profiteering, when "the white truth is that merchants are not profiteers."

The American valuation plan was pointed to as the most glaring example of what is possible through failure of merchants to take a firm stand in public matters. He declared proponents of this plan had "based their judgment upon fallacious theories, and the plan would react to the economic disadvantage of the entire country, with the exception of a small group of New England manufacturers who would benefit through ability to fix and maintain high prices."

"When such a fallacy is put forward," he continued, "merchants who are the very backbone of the nation and who have the confidence of their fellowmen, should strike the erroneous project a weighty blow and thus perform a great public service." Ho praised the few great merchants who, at the cost of revealing their own trade secrets, had championed the cause of all merchants and who had, incidentally, exploded fundamental arguments of valuation proponents.

Speaker after speaker cited specific instances showing that the retail merchant, like the farmer, has taken tremendous losses during the period of readjustment.—Tampa Times.

HERE IT IS, SIMON, PURE AND FRESHLY TAPPED

Palatka News.

In today's issue of The Times-Union appears the clearest-cut republication endorsement by a supposedly democratic newspaper we have ever seen. Here it is. Comment? No. Let it speak, and then give it the air.

"Florida is glad to greet President Harding again." He left us a little more than a year ago to assume the duties of the highest position under the sun and now, after a year spent in the most exacting labor, he returns to enjoy a little relaxation and rest. We hope that his visit will give him all that he could desire.

"When Mr. Harding left us he was an experiment. We felt sure he would very fully meet the requirements of the position he was to assume, but prophecy is not half as substantial as history. The year has been a demonstration of his fitness for the position and now those who were doubtful a year ago, doubt no longer.

"Mr. Harding's first act, or one of his first, was to secure ratification of the wrong done by this country to Colombia. It had been under discussion for many years and while not a party matter, senators of Mr. Harding's own party had prevented confirmation of the treaty. That is now one thing out of our way and it is important in other ways than as a matter of right. Our South American neighbors have more assurance of the justice of our government and of our people than they could have received in any other way.

"The Washington conference will be one of the monuments of Mr. Harding's administration and it will rank among the greatest contributions America has ever made to the world's civilization and prosperity. Mr. Harding called the conference when he saw the time was ripe and we have no doubt that he influenced its decision greatly, though he kept himself in the background and permitted the credit to go to others. It is too early to say that the treaties agreed to will be ratified, but we believe they will be. They furnish a better basis for world peace than any agreements that have been entered into and they were formed in a spirit of justice that put personal and national selfishness aside. By putting selfishness aside every nation gained, but none gained at the expense of another. It may be said also that American influence was greater in this conference than it ever had been before.

"We do not refer to legislative matters as a part of Mr. Harding's accomplishments, for he was not elected to legislate. In the way of legislation the republican party has accomplished little during the past year, but this ought to be pleasing rather than displeasing to a democrat, for democrats cannot approve of a republican program."

OTHERS HAVE THEIR TROUBLES

Orlando is not the only city in Florida having difficult nuts to crack in matters of finance. Lakeland voted a $100,000 bond issue for the purpose, as stated by the Lakeland Telegram, of cleaning the slate of the floating indebtedness.

Strange as it may seem, there is, according to the Telegram, two sides to the question, and there are people who are for and against the bond issue. Now in Orlando, there are people who regard our proposed bond issue of more than a million as a trifling affair with but one side to it, and that is the side they happen to favor.

Bonding at its best, in the last analysis, is but a form of taxation—postponement of the debt and the distribution of the burden over a term of years rather than laying it heavily upon the tax payers at one time. There are honest differences on these questions, and honest men will be found on both sides. There are conscientious, conservative men in every city who deplore the tendency of cities to strain their credit and burden the taxpayers. To be sure there are those who are ultra conservative. Then there are those who are progressive plus. Between these extremes is the great massive public who will act as a neutralizing force.

Every city in Florida is wrestling with taxing and bonding problems. These are the serious problems with honest officials. The step that has been taken by Orlando in trusting the management of the Water and Light utilities should the city take them over, is a long step in the interest of economy. While it is true that these men act simply in an advisory capacity, it will be more difficult for the expert rounder to get in his work on this body of men than on the average city official. Heavy bills for expert engineers and architects will have some job getting by with their propoganda on these trustees. Nor will they consent to an elaborate overhead expense and high salaried heads of departments. The salary germ has got so under the skin of officialdom everywhere that they seem to have a weakness for employing men whose strongest recommendation is their ability to talk them into the necessity of high salaried men. This fallacy is the root of most of our extravagance in the management of city affairs.

The trustees have outlined their policy, in case the bond issue carries and every voter knows just what to expect. Voters should approach the polls with but one idea in mind, and that to be the casting of a vote that will, in their judgment be to the best interests of the city of Orlando. Selfishness and prejudice should not be allowed to sway the judgment.

There seems to be but little opposition to the bond for the extension of sewers and for the incinerator, though there are many who question the advisability of voting $340,000 when only about $100,000 will be sold for present needs. However, the bonds will lie in the banks and will draw interest except as sold. The water and light proposition is the issue on which interest centers. Inasmuch as two thirds majority is required, even the friends of municipal ownership admit that the result is in doubt. Still the forces favoring the buying of these utilities are well organized and are doing effective work.

The moderate tone maintained by the press of Florida on these bonding questions indicates clearly that the press of the state, in most part, is conservative and at the same time is for progressive program. The interest taken by the newspapers in gathering facts and figures for the instruction of the voters shows how fair the newspapers are, and how deep an interest they take in the affairs of the tax-payers. Orlando with all her vexed problems is exactly like her neighbors. Nor are these troublesome questions confined to Florida. But in the rapid development of Florida cities the call of revenues is a little louder and a little more constant.—Orlando Reporter Star.

MANATEE GROWERS ARE HAPPY OVER SEASON'S PROSPECTS

The celery crop throughout this section continues to remain in first class condition and harvesting is resulting in regular movement and shows very little evidence of blight or weakness in the plants. According to government statistics there has so far been 1181 cars of celery moved forward from the state as compared with 1895 last year at this time. These figures would indicate that movement is normal. So far 619 cars have moved from the Manatee section. The price during the past week has dropped a little and movements on the northern markets has been only moderate ranging from $2.75 to $3.25 on preferred sizes. A few extra fancy carloads have brought as high as $3.75. Buyers throughout this section are showing very little disposition to take on celery, and at the time of going to press were not offering more than $1.50 to $1.75 per crate, with the usual discount on small sizes. There continues to be an increased movement of celery to western markets on account of California shipping a very limited amount; not to exceed more than two or three carloads a day from the southern district. Cabbage continues to be a drag on the market and very little is being harvested. Most of the growers have destroyed their cabbage crop and are now planting their acreage to tomatoes. At the present time New York market is quoting only 75c to $1.00 on bushel and a half hamper, which means a loss to producers of approximately 35c per hamper over actual cost of containers and transportation charges. Reports come from Coleman and Leesburg that exclusive cabbage growers have been hit hard this season.

Peppers have reached a high level and several northern markets are getting from $4.50 to $6.00 on fancy crates. Choice stock is running approximately $2.00 less. There has been some inquiry from northern purchasers for shipments of peppers but as the supply in this locality is getting limited there has been no shipments of consequence.

Green beans are offering considerable encouragement and it is believed that if growers in this section would produce a late variety they would find it quite profitable if properly graded and packed. There is some movement of green and wax beans from the center of the state which are now bringing from $5.00 to $7.00 for bushel hampers.

Egg plants are doing quite well. Several large markets are obtaining from $3.75 to $4.25 for fancy stock. The trade is calling for 24 to 36 sizes and these seem to be in demand more than the larger or smaller sizes.

Tomato movement from the east coast shows that good prices are being obtained on well graded 6 basket crates, while one or two of the large eastern markets are selling around $3.00 there are a number of interior points who are selling for $4.00 to $5.00 per crate on 144 sizes. From present indications it would appear that out tomato season will be a profitable one for the grower. This community will have about 15 per cent. increase in tomato acreage, and the movement will begin about April 20, which is a little earlier than usual. The east coast crop is cleaning up quite rapidly and it is believed will practically be out of the road by the time this section begins to market its tomatoes.—Manatee Journal.

H. S. NOTES

Florence Price, who was ill for some time last week, is back with us again, and we are certainly glad of that fact.

The High School boys held their first track practice for the season Thursday afternoon. A good crowd was out for practice.

"Wonders of Electricity," the lecture given by Harry T. Starnes, was greatly enjoyed by all. While the extra performance, "Liquid Air" was not given, the lecture was certainly a treat. Any electrical experiments were performed, such as blowing up of miniature battleships, etc.

The Senior History students were given scholarships to the University of Florida in civics. This course is outlined to be very interesting.

Cecil Flowers was in the hospital last week, suffering from a slightly fractured skull. He is back in school now, feeling almost as well as usual.

Say, you High School boys! If you are going to trample all over the flowers that the girls have recently planted, they might just as well "give up the job," so let's quit trampling on them. This is official orders from Miss Humphries.

The Seniors are rehearsing in earnest for their big class play, "The Hoodoo," and will "pull it off" just after Easter. Watch for the big announcement about this play.

Our annual, "The Salmagundi," will go to press soon, and will be issued about May first. Naturally, since we are getting it up, it will eclipse all others, but, really now, it's going to be one of the best-looking publications you've ever "squinted your optics on."

Fire drills have been put on lately, during the afternoons, and though we've only had three, they were conducted in a very orderly manner. In case of fire, we will know the right way to leave the building. Prof. McKay states that the building was emptied the last time in 20 seconds.

Dr. Hyman visited us in chapel on Wednesday and announced a lecture to be held at the Baptist church that night by an eminent speaker who has recently traveled through Russia and China.

Friday, at chapel, Dr. Walker invited us to attend church Friday evening, and said he would reserve the center row of seats for us. He always has a good joke for us and tells it with plenty of pep.

WEATHER AND CROP CONDITIONS

In Florida For the Week Ending March 7, 1922.

Temperature: The temperature during the week averaged much warmer than the seasonal, except west of the Appalachicola River, where it was mostly below the normal. Freezing occurred in the extreme west on the 4th and 5th, and local frost in the peninsula on the 5th.

Precipitation: There were excessive to locally damaging rains in the extreme north and the western division during the early part of the week, although mostly beneficial over the latter division, except on low lands. Drought conditions continued in the interior of the southern division some portions of which have had no rain of moment for more than six weeks. The week's total, in inches and tenths, at stations named was: De Funiak Springs, 4.8; Bonifay, 2.6; Pensacola, 2.4; Monticello, 3.2; Jacksonville, 1.8; and Gainesville, 2.0.

Condition of crops: The week was mostly favorable for farm work, except that low lands were too wet in portions of the west and north. Early corn and melons were worked and made good progress; some corn is from 6 to 8 inches high; planting of both continued during the week. Oats, tobacco, cane, citrus fruits, and peaches made good progress; some early peaches are well formed and are holding nicely. The setting of tomato plants has begun in the northern and western counties; some Irish potatoes and other tender truck were slightly damaged by frost; as a rule, however, all truck was favorably affected by the week's weather. The planting of peanuts made good progress. Ranges are in fair to good condition. Farm work is advanced for the season.

INGERSOLL COMPANY MAY BE SOLD SOON

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, March 10.—Subject to the approval of the court, the property and assets of Robert H. Ingersoll & Brothers, which recently went into bankruptcy, will be sold to the Waterbury Clock Company for $1,500,000 cash.

Announcement to this effect was made yesterday by Edward H. Childs trustee in bankruptcy. Under the terms of the offer the Waterbury Company agrees to waive all its claims against the Ingersoll Company and to pay additional cash considerations, bringing the purchase price to a total in excess of $1,750,000.

Consummation of the negotiations by which the Waterbury Clock Company is to acquire control of the Ingersoll organization will involve the entire assets of the latter company, including all property, stocks, bonds, patents, trade marks and good will. The good will of Robert Ingersoll & Brothers is represented by the reputation of the company based upon 29 years of business. In that time the Ingersoll organization sold between 48,000,000 and 50,000,000 watches, of which 8,000,000 were sold in the last three years.

THREE MURDER CASES BEFORE MIAMI JURY

(By The Associated Press) MIAMI, Fla., March 10.—Three murder cases were before the Dade county grand jury yesterday, one indictment being returned which charged Edgar C. Frady, Chicago automobile man, with murder in the first degree for the death of his wife, whom he is alleged to have shot February 26 in a local hotel.

Frady is now in the county jail recovering from an attempt to kill himself by slashing his throat following the shooting of his wife. He was removed to the jail Monday night when the sheriff said he had been warned a plot was on foot to kidnap him from the hospital and spirit him to Cuba or South America on a private yacht.

Witnesses were heard in the murder of Patrick Brady, whose butchered body was found in the Miami river three weeks ago. Carl Thompson charged with the murder, and two suspects held as accessories, Angus McIntyre and James Grant, are now in the jail.

Investigation also was to begin in the murder of Jack Tigertail, Seminole Indian chief, who, it is alleged was shot to death by a white trader early Wednesday.

Amateur transmitting stations would be given exclusive use of wave lengths from 150 to 20 meters share, with technical and training schools wave lengths from two hundred to two hundred and seventy five meters.

URGED TO STOP STRIKE.

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 10.—Coal miners and coal mine operators were urged yesterday by Secretary of Labor Davis in the interest of common sense to get together and save the country from the costly results of a strike.

The labor secretary in a formal statement said with the approval of the president efforts would be centered in direct communication with representatives of the coal operators of the central field with a view to a joint meeting of the operator and miner prior to March 31 when the present working agreement expires.

DINNER PARTY

One of the most delightful social events of yesterday was the dinner party given last evening by Miss Sara Muriel, at the home of Mrs. R. E. Tolar on Magnolia ave. The guests included a number of friends from Rollins College.

The College colors, blue and gold, were carried out most artistically both in the decorations and details of this pretty party. The table was centered with a gold basket filled with blue larkspur, and gold colored snapdragons, placed on a reflector, around which were feathery sprays of asparagus ferns and blue birds. Placed at intervals around the table were tiny blue birds. The place cards were blue penants the names written in gold, and were tied with gold colored ribbon. On the reverse side on the cards were conundrums which were read during the dinner. Covers were laid for sixteen and a delicious six course dinner was served.

After dinner questionnaires afforded much merriment among the guests. The prize for the funniest answer was won by Mrs. Raymond Green.

Covers were laid for Misses Agnes Dumas, Marion Phillips and Geraldine Muriel, of Sanford, Misses Helen Hanna and Trillia Wessler of Winter Park, Miss Georginna Hill of Maitland, Miss Harriet Mansfield of Mt. Dora. Messrs Raymond Phillips, Sanford, Raymond Green and Fred Hanna and Warren Ingram of Winter Park, Stanley Fosgate of Orlando, Harold and Brock Hill of Maitland.

After several interesting games of bridge scores were counted and the prize for top score, a Venetian glass powder jar, was awarded Mrs. E. F. Housholder.

At the conclusion of the card game the hostess served delicious refreshments consisting of a salad course and coffee followed by an ice course. Corsages of sweet peas tied with lavender tulle were given the guests as favors.
