

30 Days To Better Grades Notebook Prerequisite To Study

By The Reading Laboratory
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Association

Before we start talking about the best ways to handle textbooks and tests, there's just one more item we have to cover—the materials you need for effective study.

The notebook is the most important piece of equipment you need as a student. This might sound a little elementary, but too many students get into course difficulty because they don't keep the right kind of notebooks, or don't keep them in the right way — or don't keep notebooks at all.

Get yourself a notebook for each course, preferably the same with the colored wire binding; they lie flat for easy reading and writing and the pages are easily removable.

Always keep the notebook clean. When you take notes in class, take them quickly but take them as neatly as possible—unless you plan to re-copy them. There's no more pliable sight than the student who has taken ultra-complete class notes only to find that when it comes time to study he can't read them.

If you're a doodler (and who isn't), get into the habit of carrying a doodle book with you. Just get an extra notebook, bring it to class, and if the work that day is such that you don't have to take notes, then doodle in your doodle book. Again, this might sound elementary, but

Lee A. Conoley Dies In Georgia

Lee A. Conoley, 68, former Sanford resident, died Monday in a Valdosta, Ga., hospital following a short illness.

A retired farmer and World War II veteran, Mr. Conoley was a charter member of the First Christian Church of Sanford. During his residence here he was interested in real estate and citrus.

Among survivors are Mrs. Emmet McCall of Sanford, his sister, and John C. Fox and Lt. Cdr. R. G. Fox, nephews, also of Sanford.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Wednesday from the McGowan Funeral Home in Valdosta.

JFK Tax Bill Shelved Until Mid-September

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy's tax program, cut by an additional $130 million, was put on the shelf today until the second week in September.

In a surprise setback for the administration Monday, the House Ways & Means Committee voted unanimously to junk a complex section of the big tax measure imposing additional taxes on heirs of big estates.

The action sliced an estimated $130 million in revenue from the bill and cut still further the revenue-raising "reforms" sought by the President to balance liberal rate reduction for individual taxpayers and businesses.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, (D-Ark.), at the same time announced that no further meetings on the bill would be held until Sept. 10.

This put off final committee action on the priority tax issue until a week after the Labor Day holiday. House floor debate is expected a week after that, on Sept. 18 and 19.

By scuttling the estate provision, tentatively approved earlier, the tax-writing group hiked the total tax relief it has approved so far to a whopping $11.1 billion—$500 million more than Kennedy originally asked for.

Treasury officials sitting in on the closed-door session were disappointed in the move, but it was considered a mild reversal for the administration, not a fatal blow. The bill, as it stands, still carries net revenue increases brought about through revision in the federal tax code of about $560 million.

Trapped Miners Kept Talking

SHEPPTON, Pa. (UPI) — From the time communications were established until the moment of liberation, Henry Throne and David Fellin kept up an exchange of good-natured banter with their rescuers on the surface.

Even in the last agonizing moments when the two men were being hauled up the 300-foot-long, 18-inch-wide channel to safety from their two-week long entombment, they shouted encouragement, instructions and wisecracks to the rescue crew.

As Throne began the ascent this he shouted, "What a ride this is. I feel like a banana."

"I'm gonna lose my gun-brood. I don't want to hit Davey," (Fellin).

The surface warned Fellin to get out of the way.

Throne: "Keep her going. Keep her going. I'm coming up. All right fellows. Go ahead I'm coming up."

Surface: "Just like the chutes at Coney Island."

Throne: "Yeah. How far am I up?"

Surface: "Oh, away up." A short time later Throne was out. He did a sort of little jig before he was flown by helicopter to a nearby hospital for examination.

Then it was Fellin's turn to make the perilous ascent.

Surface: "We used Henry for a test run; now it's your turn."

Fellin: "Lots of room. Beautiful. This couldn't be no better."

"I'm coming. Okay boys, lots of room up here. This is the life. I'll betcha when when you're coming down in a parachute a couple of hundred feet it's a hard job. Nice. Beautiful. Couldn't be no better. Beautiful ride. Nice down here."

Surface: "Was it like a tunnel of love down there?"

Fellin: "That's what I was thinking down there. Now, I can see light." Moments later Fellin was free and was whisked away to the hospital.

It is estimated the sea contains enough salt to cover the U. S. under a crystal layer a mile deep.

Severed Arm, Sewed Back, May Be Saved

MIAMI (UPI) — A Miami butcher waited in "good spirits" today while doctors kept a close watch on his arm—severed by a meat slicer and sewed back on in a delicate five-hour operation.

A physician for Alfred Bennett, 49, said "there is some circulation in the arm now," but added he could not tell definitely whether or not the arm will be saved.

Bennett's arm was cut off at the elbow, except for a thread of flesh, by a large meat-slicing blade on it at a frozen meat packing firm here Saturday.

Fellow workers wrapped the arm in a blanket, strapped it to Bennett's side, and rushed him to North Side Hospital where he was given a blood transfusion for shock.

Then a vascular surgeon and an orthopedic specialist began stitching together the severed nerves, muscles and blood vessels.

"At this point it does not look like a hopeless case," a doctor said Monday, "and yet I can't say definitely the arm will be saved. It's just a question of time."

Bennett's special nurse at the hospital said he was in "real good spirits."

Lake Mary Road Improvement Is Delayed By Crop

County commissioners agreed Tuesday to delay straightening a curve in the Lake Mary Road until the Florida Fruit Company can get the fruit off trees now on the road right-of-way.

Engineering reports recently brought to light the fact that about a dozen citrus trees are on the county right-of-way and between two dangerous curves on the old Lake Mary Road.

The county had requested that it be allowed to wait until after the harvest of the fruit to move the trees. Commissioners studied the matter and came up with the decision to allow these trees with fruit on them to remain until harvest, and those without fruit are to be removed immediately.

A construction company was given permission to grade the Lake Mary Road, using the fill to build up adjacent land areas for future building.

Three deeds were presented to the county, one in the Westwood area for an access road to a cemetery; one in the Sealand area and one in the Orlando area for a drainage easement.

Public hearings on several zoning requests were set for Sept. 24.

The commission agreed to make adjustments in the Health Department budget to balance the outlay and income in order to realize the greatest amount of matching funds from the state. This means the commissioners must find over $700 more in the budget to make up the missing balance.

30 Days Make Your Acquaintance With Text

By The Reading Laboratory
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Association

You've got a bright, shiny, new textbook. What should you do with it? You should make a summary of it. That's right. The very first thing you do with any textbook (except math or foreign language texts) is to summarize it. Summarizing is really easy; let's see how it works.

Your history text is a good starter. First of all read the table of contents. But read it thoughtfully. Try to see why the book is organized as it is. See what the major divisions of the book are. Spot the relationships between the different units. Look into the body of your book; there will probably be an introduction to the beginning of each major unit that will summarize the period under consideration, and there may be another summary appended to the end of each unit.

The American history as an example. From the table of contents and the unit heading, you'll get a breakdown which is something like this: "pre-Revolution; Revolution; problems of settling states into a union; War of 1812; westward expansion; the rise of industrialism and the working class; the rise of the frontier and the pioneer; sectionalism—the conflict between the industrial North and East, the West, the agricultural South — the coming of the Civil War; the Civil War; Reconstruction; rising international muscles and the Spanish-American War; involvement with Europe and World War I; isolation; the Great Depression and the New Deal; World War II; nuclear power and the problems of free world leadership."

This is simply, isn't it? Your summary should be more complete, of course. You can include the most important persons and dates involved as well. At the same time, it's often productive to consider the development of a country as though it were a person. In the summary of U. S. history above what periods would you classify as childhood, adolescence and maturity? Why? Where were the growing pains? Which periods represented a step toward maturity?

However you go about summarizing your text you'll end up with a broad point of view. If you're studying the rise of sectionalism for example, you'll be able to take into account the forces that were working even a colonial times to divide the country. Your approach to each text will be slightly different. In biology you'll be looking for the hierarchy of life, for the classifications; in some courses, like sociology or psychology, you'll be more interested in concepts; in physics it will be mostly a question of finding the logic behind the book's organization.

In any event, the student who has overviewed his text before he starts a course is the one who knows where he is at every moment in the course, who is never overwhelmed by the imagined meaningfulness of his courses, is the one who enjoys his courses and is the one who gets the most out of his course.

NEXT: Survey and summary.

SHS Coaches Working Hard On Offense

By Ronnie Broadway
As Seminole High School's opening football encounter draws nearer Head Coach Jim Clark is concentrating on offense.

Since last Friday's short scrimmage the coaching staff has been trying to improve offense. The coaches are more pleased now that their defense is taking shape and looking much better.

A brief scrimmage was held at the end of Monday's practice and the timing and ball handling have improved since Friday. Longer practice sessions are in order so that the team can be in shape for the season opener on Sept. 30 with Titusville.

Three quarterbacks have been looking good in practice. Senior Billy Higgins, shifted from end position, has been making a good showing, and Ronnie Hinson, last year's quarterback, will be returning to that spot also. Sophomore Al Boniface has been doing a good job filling in for the older boys.

A trio of left halfbacks in Danny Hill, Chuck Scott and letterman Earl Black has been progressing right along. Buddy Lawson, returning right halfback, has been doing an outstanding job running from his position. Eddie Kosky, Billy Brown and Billy Kuykendall have also been doing a good job at this spot.

The biggest man in the backfield is 195 pound fullback Lee Sparmann who has turned in some good showings. Lloyd Freeman ran from this position last year and is back with the squad. After a year's absence from football Buddy Burton may get a crack at the fullback spot.

On the forward wall Frank Noel, Barry Barks, Mike Fordham, Mike Clary and John Ray are all battling for a starting berth at end position. Noel has been looking good on defense as well but is now working mostly on offense.

Tackles David Noel, Mike Glad, Dale Alexander, Jim Touhy, and Tommy Cason will present a problem in the selection of two starters. All of these boys have been looking good in practice sessions. A similar problem is posed at the guard positions with Steve Clark, Joe Fairies, Joe Purdy, Brad Pruden, David Solloher, and Steve Harris, all working for the jobs. Center position also will be hotly contested by Steve Ballint, David Howe, Mike Gray, and Dan McCall. Due to working problems McCall has been unable to report to practice yet but he will be in.

Mays, Spahn Two Of Baseball's All-Time Stars

By United Press International

It's going to take a big eraser to obliterate the names of Willie Mays and Warren Spahn from baseball history. Together they present a composite picture of a perfect ballplayer. Individually, they are leaving an indelible heritage that will proclaim their fame for future generations.

Mays, one of the most exciting players ever to participate in the national pastime, reached a personal milestone Tuesday night when he hit the 400th home run of his major league career. Only four other men have reached that figure in National League history, and Mays is the first right-handed batter to do it.

The blow touched off a three-run third-inning rally for San Francisco and helped the Giants beat St. Louis, 7-2, and move into a second-place tie with the Cardinals.

Whereas Mays has the power, speed and versatility of the composite player, Spahn provides the necessary pitching ability. The 42-year-old southpaw, who learned how to win at an early age and still retains the habit, pitched scoreless ball over the final seven innings Tuesday night to provide the Milwaukee Braves with a 3-2 triumph over the Houston Colts.

It was Spahn's 17th victory of the season against five losses, and left him in excellent position to challenge Christy Mathewson's league record of 13 20-game seasons.

The league-leading Los Angeles Dodgers scored three runs for the first time in seven games to down the Cincinnati Reds, 3-2, and take a 6½ game lead over the Giants and Cards. In other games, the Pittsburgh Pirates edged the New York Mets, 2-1 and Chicago downed Philadelphia, 4-3, in the only day contest.

'Hopalong' Cassidy Among Grid's Idle

United Press International
Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy, the highest paid rookie in the National Football League seven years ago, today was just one of nearly two dozen veteran players looking for jobs.

The red-haired He is a n Trophy winner of 1935, whom Woody Hayes, his coach at Ohio State, once called "the greatest football player I've ever seen," apparently lost his job with the Philadelphia Eagles to rookie back Ron Goodwin of Baylor.

The youth-conscious Minne-

Senators Cancel Two Games
WASHINGTON (UPI) — At the request of the police department, the Washington Senators baseball club called off games it was scheduled to play with the Minnesota Twins Tuesday night and tonight.

Police Chief Robert V. Murray said the large detail of police normally assigned to D. C. Stadium for baseball games would be needed to handle the march on Washington.

The canceled games will be rescheduled as a double-header Thursday, originally an off-day for both teams.

sota Vikings paled the most number of veterans from their ranks—six, including six-year-pro tackle Frank Youso, to meet the NFL's final pre-season limit of 43. The Vikings in turn picked up two second-year defensive tackles, Bill Wilson and George Hultz, from the St. Louis Cardinals for a future draft pick.

Two injured Baltimore Colts' veterans, defensive tackle Bill Ventura and defensive back Bob Boyd, were placed on the injury waiver list and flanker Bake Turner, a two-year pro, was cut.

In addition to Cassidy, the Eagles asked for waivers on linebacker John Nocera and defensive tackle Joe Lewis, both members of last year's squad.

Business Briefs

Atlantic Coast Line Railroad has ordered 14 of the newest and most powerful single engine diesel locomotives ever built by any of the manufacturers in this country. It was announced today by W. Thomas Rice, ACL president. The 14 units, representing an investment of $3 million and totaling 36,000 horsepower will be manufactured by Electro-Motive Division of General Motors, Alco Products, Inc., and General Electric Company. They will be delivered during the last quarter of this year.

All of the locomotives are designed for high speed freight service.

The four Alco locomotives will have 2,750 horsepower each, with large six-wheel trucks for greater adhesion and six traction motors per locomotive.

Four of the locomotives will be General Electric's U-25-C series, having 2,500 horsepower and six-wheel trucks with six traction motors.

Six of the locomotives will be Electro-Motive's new GP-35 class, producing 2,500 horsepower each. Coast Line will be one of the nation's first railroads to receive this new class locomotive.

The ACL chief executive said, "The acquisition of these new locomotives will enable Coast Line to keep its motive power at the high standards necessary to furnish fast, dependable transportation service to the shipping public."

A few months ago, the project, "Operation Alphabet," was initiated in our area. The purpose of this project was and still is to help adults learn to read and write. A number of persons agreed to give their time as volunteer helpers in this great project. The committee which was designated to identify the non-readers and those having difficulty in writing did a thorough job.

However, the response was very poor because these people gave all kinds of excuses to keep from taking advantage of this service. I can't conceive of anyone not wanting to improve himself in this complex society. Complacency does not meet the challenge of change. Those persons who cannot read or write should get into this program when it begins in the very near future.

If you know of anyone who cannot read or write, please try to persuade them to take advantage of this service. The exact beginning date will be given in the near future.

One of the largest projects of the Navy Officers Wives Clubs will begin Sept. 9.

It is the home decorating course, a series of 20 programs designed for the Navy wife interested in furnishing her home in a tasteful, economical way.

It is especially keyed to the Navy wife who must make frequent moves and is not likely to invest in wall-to-wall carpeting or other major remodeling projects.

All Navy wives, both enlisted and officers, are invited to participate in the series, called "You and Your Home." The seminars will be held each Monday afternoon for 20 weeks in the NAS ballroom. Reservations for the series can be made up to and including the first meeting for a nominal fee.

To make reservations, all officers and enlisted wives should call the following for their respective squadron:

VAH-1, Mrs. D. Klett, FA 2-4876; VAH-3, Mrs. Fred Stipp, FA 2-3612; VAH-5, Mrs. Dan Beard, 323-0520; VAH-7, Mrs. R. L. Wright, 323-0998; VAH-9, Mrs. John Moynihan, FA 2-6405; VAH-11, Mrs. Kermit Jamison, 322-6394; Staff, Mrs. E. L. Ebbert, FA 2-3027; Station, Mrs. Rolf Noll, 322-4888.

Lt. Cdr. and Mrs. Roy McLain are the parents of a baby boy named Robert Poulson, born Aug. 22. Lt. Cdr. McLain came from Norfolk to take his wife and new son home.

Lt. and Mrs. C. L. Fitzpatrick and children, Cindy, David, Lisa and Karen are back in Sanford after a three week vacation with friends and relatives in Kansas City, Mo. and Crystal Springs, Miss.

Choose your partner and make your reservations for the all-officers wives bridge benefit to be held Sept. 12. The benefit will be for local Navy Relief projects, and will be held at the NAS ballroom from 12:30 till 3:30.

Reservations should be made by Sept. 9 with the following squadron representatives: VAH-1, Mrs. Michael Durant, 322-0382; VAH-3, Mrs. Rena Farmer, 322-1798; VAH-5, Mrs. Dan Beard, 323-0520; VAH-7, Mrs. R. ## Refuse Collection

City's Garbage, Trash Provides Top Profits

(Ed. note: City Manager W. E. Kowles has submitted the following report on refuse collection to the City Commission. The Herald believes it will prove interesting to its readers and is published in full.)

Prior to 1953, the City of Sanford refuse system used 19 men, two packers and four open-type trucks. The garbage was collected on a separate pickup and hauled to the incinerator while all trash was hauled in open trucks to a dump where it was burned. The results were costly, inefficient and unsanitary.

In June of 1953, the City of Sanford purchased a tractor mounted with a bull clam and converted to a sanitary landfill on city property along the lake front. This resulted in abandoning the incinerator and the unsightly open dump plus reducing the personnel needed to 10.

Through the years, the city's refuse system has been refined by experience into an efficient operation. It still operates with 16 men although the population has nearly doubled to the present figure of 20,500. From this population, the city collects both garbage and trash in one combined pickup twice each week with the commercial accounts being collected at night, six times each week.

The city's equipment has been changed to speed and increase the capacity of handling the refuse. There are now a total of five 20-cubic-yard packers in operation with no open trucks, except in cases of emergency or breakdowns which are very few. These packers average 5 1/2 tons of refuse per load. Each truck is manned by a driver with two laborers, all three of which are supplied uniformly by the city. The uniforms are dark green with "City of Sanford" clearly marked across

Peking Likened To Genghis Khan

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union accused Communist China Monday of advocating racist policies aimed at dividing the world on the basis of color.

An article in the official Communist party newspaper Pravda said the Peking regime's approach on racial questions is "rather in accord with the spirit of the time" of the 13th-century Mongol despot Genghis Khan.

The article, written by commentator K. Nepomnyashch of the official Novosti news agency, was the latest Soviet attack on Peking in the deepening Sino-Soviet quarrel over ideological and political differences. The Soviet press has been full of such attacks in recent years. The Communist Chinese have expressed support for the Negro cause in the United States and have sought to identify the American Negro's struggle for equal rights with the international Communist movement.

Larger Stands Ready For SHS Football Fans

Football fans who attend the Semholle High School games at Memorial Stadium this season will find a much enlarged seating section—and the "home team" stands will be on the east rather than on the west side of the field. This was made known at a meeting of the executive committee of the Semholle Boosters club held at Semholle High School Tuesday night. Dr. O. L. Barkis, president, presided.

The group was astonished to hear from Fred Ganas, athletic director, who made the announcement about the acquisition of "about 3,000 more seats" that the "foot-ball team will play on a baseball diamond."

Pres. Barkis appointed some committee chairman, Mrs. D. H. MacGillis, who with her husband, was a source of much of last year's drive, has taken on the assignment of JV programs. Mrs. Mike Cagle, commended for her handling of the concessions last year, agreed to supervise the club's "eats and drinks" department this year.

Mrs. R. S. Elam and Mrs. Maryed Meeks will head the membership drive. Present at the meeting with Dr. Barkis were Principal A. J. Bracken, Fred Ganas, athletic director, Anne Samuel, Edie Swartz, Maryed Meeks, Martha Vihlen, W. E. Vihlen, Jim Grant, Edna MacGillis, D. H. MacGillis, R. S. Elam, Mrs. R. S. Elam, Mike Cagle, Jackie Cagle, and George Touhy.

Other Marches On Capital

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution specifically guarantees "the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances."

Today's civil rights demonstration is but the latest in a long series of historic occasions when Americans have marched on their capital city to invoke that right.

One of the first and most famous marches was that of "Coxey's Army" in 1891. The country was in the grip of a severe depression and there were many unemployed.

"General" Jacob Coxey, a Massillon, Ohio, businessman, gathered 300 of the town's jobless workers to accompany him in a march on Washington to demand that the government undertake public works.

His ragged little "army" gathered recruits along the route to Washington and was about 500 strong when it camped on the outskirts of the capital. Coxey and a small group of marchers went to the capitol building to present their demands.

Today's marchers were charged by mounted police. Coxey was arrested and spent 20 days in jail. His pathetic "army" remained in Washington for several months, until government funds were provided to send the marchers home.

In 1913, suffragettes began organizing marches on Washington to demand votes for women.

The Great Depression of the 1930s prompted several "hunger marches" on Washington. The largest was that of the so-called "Bonus Army"—thousands of World War I veterans who converged on the city in June, 1932, while Congress was debating a soldiers' bonus bill.

The House passed the bill, but the Senate, with 12,000 veterans milling about the Capitol, overwhelmingly rejected the measure.

Congress voted money to send the bonus marchers home, but many of them continued to camp in abandoned buildings near the Capitol.

On July 28, President Herbert C. Hoover ordered the Army to drive the bonus marchers out of Washington. The Army troops were led by Gen. Douglas MacArthur, then chief of staff. His staff included a young major named Dwight D. Eisenhower.

South Viet Nam Military Bites Feeding Hand

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI) — South Vietnamese military leaders, whose forces are supported by American aid, put themselves in direct conflict with the United States today with their acceptance of full responsibility for the recent raids on Buddhist pagodas.

The military chiefs said they, and not Ngo Dinh Nhu, initiated the crackdown which resulted in the arrest of thousands of Buddhist leaders and the imposition of martial law throughout this Communist-threatened country.

The statement issued Tuesday night by the entire joint general staff headquarters of the Vietnamese army was interpreted as a slap at the U. S. State Department and was certain to cloud U. S.-Vietnamese relations still further.

The United States, which has poured millions of dollars and thousands of men into South Viet Nam to help the government's fight against Communist guerrillas, has expressed strong disapproval of strongarm tactics used in the pagoda raids.

The government claims the raids were staged to block an imminent plot to overthrow the administration. The crackdown followed widespread anti-government demonstrations by Buddhists who charge religious discrimination on the part of the regime.

Ebenezer Men To Meet

A Cabinet Meeting of the Methodist Men's Club of the Ebenezer Methodist Church will be held at 7 p.m. Thursday at the church.

Plans will be made at this time for a Reorganization Meeting and Supper in September.

Bank With Music!

Bank with music is the mode of the day! Sanford Atlantic National Bank has added "Musitime" with its monetary services.

As of Tuesday, according to Mrs. Catherine Ray, cashier, soft music pervades the bank lobby during banking hours. And there is an inter-communication system attached to the music system.

DEAR ABBY: I am a member of that long-suffering group which I call the GWMSOC—"Girls Who Married Somebody's Only Child." I have learned to endure Mamma's references to "My Baby," (now gray-haired and 44.) I let her cook the way she wants to when she visits us. I even laugh it off when she forgets and calls me by my husband's ex-wife's first name. But she still insists on asking personal questions about our finances such as, "How much are you making now? Did you get a raise? Is your car paid for yet? What else do you owe?" She doesn't help us financially, (in fact we help her) so must we answer her questions?

DEAR FRIEND: You should have invited them and not let THEM decide whether or not they could afford a gift. Go to them and tell them you are sorry.

DEAR ABBY: The 14-year-old who wrote of her disgust at seeing sex books and magazines everywhere brought a good reply from you. (To turn her gaze to higher and better things, and to seek good books, wholesome friends and spiritual learning.) There is a lot of good around. What we seek usually determines what we experience. As parents, we should work to clean up our local stores of this immoral rubbish. How? By shopping elsewhere! We may have to walk a little further, but it is worth it. The merchant who takes a stand against the sale of such trash deserves our support. Find out who he is, and reward him with your patronage.

MRS. L. F. H.

DEAR D-I-L: Certainly not. Tell her in a nice way that there is no reason why she should have to worry about your financial obligations in addition to her own.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have enjoyed a wonderful friendship with a married couple for over 30 years. They are living on a limited budget, so when I had a big family party to celebrate our anniversary, I didn't want them to spend the money for a gift. Ever since that time they have been very cool and formal to me. I would give anything to have their friendship again as it was before. Was I wrong to exclude them from a party to which a gift should be taken? How can I let them know I am heartbroken over this?

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

Several years ago one of my fellow oldtimers pointed out a young bridge player to me and said, "There is the luckiest kid I have ever seen."

It seems that West had cashed the ace and king of hearts and shifted to the nine of clubs. The kid had won with the king, played a spade to dummy's ace and then another spade. My friend, sitting East, had won with the king (dropping his partner's queen) and cashed his jack. Then he led another club. The kid had won with the ace; led the queen of clubs, gone into a short huddle and ruffed with dummy's last trump.

This left him in dummy with nothing but six diamonds. He had led the ace of diamonds; dropped his friend's singleton king and

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

Has a wife the right to back-seat drive when her husband is behind the wheel? The Pennsylvania Supreme Court once ruled that the wife ought to be quiet and leave the driving to the driver.

But any wife could put up a good and convincing argument against that decision.

To begin with, under today's driving conditions two sets of eyes are often better than one. If the woman doing the back-seat-driving is a competent driver herself, a man should not resent having a copilot at his side.

Then, too, if a man inclines to drive too fast or to take too many chances on the road, his wife has as much, or perhaps more to lose as he does by his recklessness. It's often not the driver's seat but the one beside it that proves most dangerous in a bad accident.

Also, if a wife knows her husband will listen if she asks him to slow down on a slick pavement or stop for a coffee break now and then on a long, cross-country trip, or not try to drive more miles in one day than he should, she can relax. She can enjoy the trips she takes with him, instead of grimly keeping her mouth shut and growing more tense and jittery every mile.

Any man who resents his wife's back-seat driving ought to take a trip with his wife at the wheel, and see if he can resist the urge to give advice.

If he can sit quietly while his wife does the driving for a whole trip, then maybe he's got a right to resent her back-seat driving when he's at the wheel.

But chances are he'll find he is as big a back-seat driver as his wife is—and then some.

More Economy
in Government
Eyed By Adams

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Secretary of State Tom Adams said further economies are needed in running the state government and offered five suggestions to help.

The Secretary of State said the state government, in the past, had made a good start towards economy and efficiency in its operations, but additional steps are needed.

He suggested that a standard procedure for the purchase, maintenance and use of automobiles be developed in government. He also suggested a single system of communications for all agencies, and further implementation of purchasing laws to save money.

Adams said another area in which savings could be made was in the food service facilities at state institutions. He said various institutions house 25,000 patients or inmates and a cost differential of only two cents per person "can save or squander $350,000 each biennium."

"These are but a few areas that readily come to mind as we seek to develop greater efficiency in our state government," Adams said in his monthly office publication. "There are many more, and we must seek every proper way possible to institute true economy in our government."

Adams said in past years the Legislature has made several changes that have turned the state towards wiser use of its money. For instance, he said, the 1965 session ordered a reorganization of the sprawling Department of Agriculture which turned that agency into one that has been accepted as the model of efficiency throughout the country.

In other cost savings actions, Adams said the Legislature created the State Revenue Commission, which consolidated the tax collecting activities of 47 different boards and agencies, and consolidated the state's conservation activities under the Board of Conservation.

In addition, Adams said, the Legislature created a special committee of state officers and officials to take a continuing look at operations in the state agencies with an eye toward more economical management.
