GERMAN INDUSTRIAL HEADS WILL BE COURT MARTIALED IF THEY CONTINUE FIGHT

AGAINST FRENCH OCCUPATION IN THE RHINELAND SECTIONS

CLAMP DOWN

DUSSELDORF, Mch. 1.—By a decree issued by General Degoutte yesterday Hugo Stinnes and other mine owners and directors are liable to a trial by court martial, with possible imprisonment and fine, if they refuse to pay taxes on the coal production or if they oppose the French and Belgian efforts to wrestle from the shipment of fuel on account of reparations.

These measures drawn by French authorities and based on existing German legislation are designed to bring the owners themselves to terms. In view of the fact that the French and Belgians control the Ruhr main line railroads they are now fairly well prepared to run a limited number of daily trains to their respective countries. General Degoutte's order becomes effective immediately, provides also against eventualities in the economic struggle and also calls for the seizure of coal at the pit head in cases where the Germans refuse to pay the taxes and gives the Franco-Belgian officials authority to refuse export licenses to any owners failing to comply with their demands.

The system of tax collections or assessments on coal is virtually the same as that of the German government, to which owners are supposed to pay an annual tax of 40 per cent of all coal taken from the mines. Since the occupation began the German owners have flatly refused to pay the tax. The French mining officials have records of the output of all mines and owners will be taxed on a tonnage basis, according to production. Should they refuse to comply with the demands the owners may be arrested, tried, imprisoned and also subjected to heavy fines in France.

ESSEN, Mch. 1.—All the German police of Bochum and Herne, arrested yesterday by the occupation authorities have been transferred away from their home towns.

The French yesterday also occupied police headquarters in Recklinghausen and arrested 20 officials. It is announced that the German police force will be dissolved.

The French raided a sitting of the directorate of the Balke machine works at Bochum and arrested 16 of the officials, including the general manager. The workers immediately struck, demanding the release of those arrested. At Düsseldorf the French seized all the tobacco, cigarette and supplies of two large cigarette factories when the directorates refused to pay the excise duties to the occupying forces instead of the German government. The duty demanded from one of these firms amounted to 350,000,000 marks. Both plants were closed.

SHIPPING BILL IS DEAD AFTER LINGERING ILLNESS CAUSED FROM FILIBUSTERITIS

Born One Year Ago, Fostered by Godfather Harding, it Was Too Good for This World

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 1.—The administration shipping bill died yesterday just a year to the day after it was born.

On February 28, 1922, President Harding, appearing at a joint session of congress, urged enactment of legislation designed to build up an American Merchant Marine through government aid, and identical bills embodying the views of the administration were introduced in the senate and house. Yesterday the bill then introduced after having passed the house in the meantime, met its death in the senate through adoption of a motion to lay it aside.

The end of the legislation, which the president has advocated with all the powers at his command, leaves the administration where it was a year ago in dealing with the three billion dollar investment in war built ships. The task of liquidating this investment already has been made the subject of study and the plans under consideration are to be announced soon after congress adjourns Sunday.

The death of the shipping bill came quietly and without the bitter discussion which marked its hectic career. Under agreement previously reached the senate promptly at 1 o'clock yesterday voted on the motion of Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the acting Democratic leader, to send the bill measure back to committee. Administration leaders, including Senator Jones, Washington, who has been in charge of the legislation in the senate, had indicated their opposition to this course, and the motion was voted down 48 to 36.

The final blow then was dealt the bill, which was given up as lost last Friday by its supporters after a four-day filibuster. Senator Ladd, Republican, North Dakota, moved that it be laid aside in favor of the filled-milk bill, and the motion was carried 63 to 7 with the Republican leaders voting with the majority. The action meant the death of the shipping measure inasmuch as Senator Jones had told the senate he would make no further efforts to call the bill up before adjournment.

The action also was taken to mean the end of such legislation for years to come for President Harding has let it be known that the administration plans no attempt to obtain consideration for the bill at the next regular session of congress.

The filled-milk bill, which prohibits the shipment in interstate commerce of evaporated milk or condensed milk when made from skimmed milk and such oils substitute for the withdrawn butter fat as cotton seed and coconut oil, was debated intermittently through the remainder of the day. Agreement was reached for a vote late today on the measure which has passed the house.

GREATEST ACHIEVEMENT SINCE SIGNING ARMISTICE IS DEBT FUNDING ACT

Ambassador Harvey Steps on the Gas at Big Dinner Last Night in London

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, March 1.—The Pilgrims gave a dinner last evening in honor of Stanley Baldwin, chancellor of the exchequer, who headed the British fund-raising mission to Washington. Lord Desborough acted as chairman and the principal speakers were the American ambassador, George Harvey, and Mr. Baldwin.

The Prince of Wales surprised the Pilgrims by dropping in unexpectedly. He is a member of the organization and he explained he did not want to make a speech or be toasted, but came simply to hear the speeches and to have dinner.

This was the first public dinner the Prince has attended since his Indian tour. He is getting plenty of American atmosphere, which apparently he likes as tonight he will be the guest of honor and principal speaker at the American University Union dinner.

In speaking of the agreement reached regarding the funding of the British war debt to the United States, Ambassador Harvey said: "We meet to celebrate a great achievement. I do not think I exaggerate when I pronounce it the first conclusive settlement of a really vital world problem since the armistice. It involves far more than the greatest financial transaction reported in history; it bears with it enhancement of mutual respect and, I firmly believe, the everlasting friendship of the two great nations to which the entire world looks for the preservation of solvency and stability which are essential to the prosperity and happiness of all mankind.

3 ALLEGED KLANSMEN NOMINATED

EAST ST. LOUIS, Mch. 1.—Interest in the local political situation yesterday turned to the municipal election to be held in April following the primary Tuesday in which three candidates alleged to have been supported by the Ku Klux Klan were nominated as city commissioners and two other supposed Klan candidates were defeated.

The Rev. Wm. R. Evans, Ralph Cook and August M. Eggmann, are the three victorious candidates who are said to have been endorsed by the Klan. They polled three of the four largest votes for commissioner. The defeated candidates, who were declared to have been included in the alleged "slate" of five put out by the Klan were M. L. Harris, for mayor, and S. E. Porter for commissioner.

Widespread interest was focused on the result of the primary during which three men were arrested on charges of distributing anonymous political circulars, which urged the defeat of 18 candidates said to be Catholics or said to have been supported by Catholic organizations. The St. Louis Post Dispatch printed an article stating that the alleged Klan slate had pledged itself, if elected, to appoint Protestants and Klansmen to public office here.

All members of the "slate" with the exception of the Rev. Evans, denied that they had solicited the Klan endorsement.

The mayor and four commissioners will be chosen in the April election.

BRITISH COMMENT ON SHIP BILL, SAY INDUSTRIES WILL LANGUISH UNDER GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP

Other English Papers Say Dreams of America Shattered by Britain

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, March 1.—Commenting on the death of the American ship subsidy bill today's newspapers find the moral is "Futility of any government attempting to create an industry artificially or to nationalize an industry." "Experiment failed as all state ventures in shipping either have failed or are failing," the Telegraph says. "The Chronicle has the headline 'America's Dreams of Ocean Supremacy Are Shattered by Britain.'"

Probe of Reserve Board's Policy of Deflation Urged

WASHINGTON, Mch. 1.—A resolution requesting President Harding to order an investigation of charges that the federal reserve board, at a secret meeting in Washington, May 16, 1922, decided upon a drastic deflation policy and proceeded to put it in operation without public knowledge, was introduced in the senate yesterday by Senator Gooding, Republican, Idaho. It was referred to the banking committee.

Referring to the incident as "a great conspiracy" Senator Gooding read a detailed description, published in a recent issue of the Manufacturers' Record of Baltimore. The article alleged to have been based on stenographic notes, quoted Governor Harding of the reserve board as urging complete secrecy regarding the meeting, though suggesting to the bankers that they might inform their directors of the decision reached. Mr. Gooding called attention to the "tremendous power" such advance information will give to any one interested in the stock market.

FINLAND WANTS TO PAY UNCLE SAM

HAS DEBT OF OVER EIGHT MILLIONS AND CAN SETTLE

WASHINGTON, Mch. 1.—Secretary Mellon, chairman of the American debt funding commission, said he did not have any knowledge of the Finnish plans, but assumed that Dr. Astrom would outline his government's program for presentation to the American commission. The loans to Finland were made after the armistice was signed in the nature of credits to aid reconstruction and rehabilitation.

February seemed a short month—at least we are short. What a great state this old Florida is in every respect and how we are growing everywhere.

And just to think of 300,000 tourists in the state at this time and more of them coming down all the time.

Jacksonville will have a "Fool's Day" in April the same to take place on the day after the First. Since all the fools are not dead by any means, the affair promises some rare sport.

Another plane has been lost on the east coast that was due from Bimini. There seems to be something in the salt air that diverts the airplanes and ships off their course and they are lost.

The greatest trouble with the whiskey selling of today is that it ramifies all through our public life. The bootleggers tried to frame a Presbyterian minister at St. Petersburg the other day because he was getting too active against the selling of liquor.

Another case of cruelty in the convict camps comes to light in which a young lad from Dakota, arrested for stealing a ride on a train was sentenced to the convict camp, was ill and could not work, and it is alleged was flogged to death. We cannot be too careful about the convict camps. They give the state a bad name.

The Shipping Bill was chloroformed in the senate yesterday. Maybe it was all right. Maybe this bill was not what it should be. Maybe our senators and representatives who voted against it knew what they were doing. But we intend to watch their smoke. Unless they can substitute a bill that will cover the shipping bill and a real merchant marine for the United States they can look for political retirement in the future and this goes for the Florida delegation as well.

Already rumors of the "presidential paddock" ponies who will start in the next race are coming to light. Friends of President Harding are now talking about making him accept a second term that they will ask him to run. Of course as to whether he will get the nomination or not is another matter. And no matter who the Republicans put up he has an awful wallop coming to him. The people of the United States are not forgetting that the Republicans promised a reduction of taxes and instead the people have more taxes than ever while the trusts pay nothing and continue to fatten at the expense of the people.

PROGRESS IN STATESMANSHIP

From Catts to Murphee is a long jump. It would be a leap toward progress. Yet such an athletic political stunt is in prospect for the people of Florida.

President Albert R. Murphee, of Florida University, might or might not make a good governor. But he has the ability and certainly the training that would enable him to be a tip-top executive officer for the state of Florida.

Mr. Murphee is a man of liberal education. His work at the head of the University at Gainesville has kept him in constant touch with the subjects that vitally affect the growth and development of the state. The position he has occupied was one that called for decided executive ability. The high standing to which the university has been brought under his management is proof sufficient of his executive ability.

Florida has reached that degree of development where men of ability, integrity and of capacity must be called into service in the making and executing of her laws. Mr. Murphee measures up to these requirements. He would be a good successor to the present governor who has given the state a splendid administration. And this is said with no notion of speaking disparagingly of any other candidacy.—Reporter-Star.

WHY LEAVE HOME?

Is it because the country has given great men to the cities that the boys of the farm drift cityward?

The country papers of Georgia all accentuate the fact—that there is no back to the farm movement.

It is all a dream! But it would be the greatest thing for the whole country if that dream could come true.

That "the farms feed the cities" is the proverbial saying, but people never seem to realize its complete significance.

"Eager-hearted as a boy, When first he leaves His father's field."

The "great men," as we call them, all return to the country—not often as the prodigal sons of it, but as the dreamers of their first sweet home.

There dwell, undimmed through all the years, the memories of their mother's; and there the fathers who toiled and struggled for their lives and kept the old home for the returning ones.

Now that the well-watered farm is no longer the obscure, rail-fenced thing that it was of yore, now that it has music, and light, and pictures and quick transit by automobile and all things are lovely, why should the boys leave home?—Atlanta Constitution.

OUR WINTER FAHRS

The press of the state is calling attention to the large number of beggars, agents and fakirs on the streets of our cities and towns. Leaving out of consideration the poor, fallen street begger, we want to say a word about the higher class of fakirs who are visiting Florida this season and who have been seeking our genial winter climate every winter since we have known the state. They make up their expenses while here and a little bonus to take back with them when they get home. They are vendors of cheap goods and novelties, they are agents of humbug stock concerns, they are fake doctors and specialists, they are so-called lecturers and — alas! — sometimes preachers. The trouble is that Florida people fall for them. A so-called lecturer comes along, gets his picture in the local paper and gets himself advertised as a "noted orator." He gathers the shekels. A specialist drops into town, rents an office and gets out his case all literature. We fall for him. He gathers the shekels and leaves without paying his office rent. A preacher pays us a visit, fills the local pulpit, represents some great "cause" and gathers in the coin that our own devoted and underpaid ministers stand so much in need of. All this kind of "winter" visitors steer around us in the good old summer time. They don't want to get these shekels by the sweat of the brow. Our own good doctors and ministers and merchants are tight here with us all the time.—Gainesville Sun.

FABLE OF A REPUTATION

For years and years, Alex Nasty-bow studied under the best Fiddlers in his native land, which same country is famed for its golden Eagles. Being an Assiduous Student, and being of an Artistic Nature, Alec's progress along the Halls of the Muse Pan was Rapid. He played in all the best orchestras in this fair land of ours. His name was featured on several Programs, and yet he couldn't seem to Connect with the magic Sesame that brought home the Kale in Jarpe Juicy Portions. Applause came in Salvos, but Kopecs, came in small denominations, and Alex began to wonder How Come, for you know even an Artist must Eat once every so often to keep the Fires burning.

Passing a billboard on the main Drag one day Alex lamped in large letters the notice that Signor Staccato de Non Troppe was going to inflict some foreign Art upon those who cared to buy tickets, and Alec lined up at the box office even as the other Suckers.

The Signor, clad in a Long Hair

Cut, and Baggy Pants, took the center of the Spotlight after the Over-ture. With many Flourishes and much Shooting of cuffs, and throwing back of Unkempt Locks, Signor Whaled the Jumping G Strings out of the Music Box. For he was Temperamental, and of Great Musical Ability.

After the show Alex Wended his way homeward and Thought the whole thing over. Here was a Bird who couldn't play a Lick better than Alex himself, yet he came over the Pond and Trading on a Funny Make-up, and a Hard Name to pronounce, Raked in the Scads something Scandalous.

Then BANG! came the big Idea. Gathering up what Belongings he had our Hero drew what little cash he had managed to scrape together, and took ship for a Foreign port.

For a Coupla years or so, we lose sight of Alex, and then, Oh boy and then, he comes back to the land of his birth. But would we recognize him? Nix. Not in a month of Sundays. Long Hair, Baggy Pants, and Ev'rythin', and what a name; Court Ad Lib-de Tacet—leader of the world famous Russian Ponies. Admission two Bucks and UP, mostly UP. And his fellow countrymen hailed him even as they had hailed the other Artful Artists who have worked the same Gag.

POSSIBILITIES OF CANNING FRUITS

For years the Herald has advocated the people putting up the culled oranges and grapefruit in Florida into jellies and jams and all sorts of canned goods. For years the state has been going along throwing away the culls and losing a source of great revenue that could have been saved to the growers. Not only this saving but the canning of fruits and vegetables always gives the growers a better price even for the field-run and the idea of packing fruits and vegetables is good for any community. Now the people have discovered a great market in grapefruit juice and orange juice and this season they are canning grapefruit bracts and opening up some fine markets for it even as far as California. It all goes to show what a great opportunity there is in the exporting of all the resources of this state from the pine tree to the orange tree and then some.

Read what the St. Augustine Record says about the canning of grapefruit bracts:

"An industry still in its infancy in Florida, yet destined to be one of the big things in state development, is the canning of Florida fruits, especially the grapefruit. In several cities, throughout the southern section of the state, the great citrus-growing part of Florida, canning factories have been opened during the past year, and one of the most successful is that located at Stuart, in St. Lucie county. Recently sixty thousand pounds of canned grapefruit, comprising the second consignment to leave the St. Lucie Packing Company since operations were commenced, were sent to a great wholesale house in Denver, Colo., and this concern will distribute the Florida product throughout the mountain states. This is the largest single shipment ever made from that territory, and it is valued at approximately $7,000. The concern at St. Lucie has received large orders from Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland, Tacoma and with the completion of the shipment, the St. Lucie Messenger says that Florida grapefruit will have a place on the tables of every state on the Pacific coast."

"For many years, Florida has been the source of millions of boxes of fresh citrus fruits, playing its part in the education of the public to the healthfulness and palatability of grapefruit and oranges. In addition to those millions of boxes which are shipped out of the state, there are vast quantities of fruit which the dealers will not handle, because they are off-size, and do not present the uniform appearance desired in fruit placed on the market. Also there is often fruit on which there is a delay in shipping, and although all right for immediate use, it could not reach the market in any shape to offer for sale. The canning factories offer a solution of the problem of conservation, and there is no reason why in a short time to come Florida grapefruit should not be as widely known among canned products as is the Hawaiian pineapple."

FROM OTHER SANCTUMS

REDUCE PRICE OF TAGS; AND INCREASE GASOLINE TAX

With a uniform charge for a license tag of two dollars irrespective of the size or capacity, and a tax of two cents per gallon on all gasoline sold, there would be an absolutely just distribution of the cost of the creation and upkeep of all roads and highways in the state.

The present method of taxation for automobile tags is unwise, and comes far from answering the call of justice. For one car the cost of a tag is fifteen dollars, and that car may run over one hundred miles of road each week. On another car the license tag will cost eight dollars—yet the latter may run one hundred miles a day, wearing out the roads far more than the higher-priced car.

If there should be a bill introduced in the coming legislature to abolish the plan of licenses now in operation and create a new measure upon fairer lines the income to the counties would be larger by far than at present, and the state could secure a pro rata of the income.

Make a uniform charge for every license tag of two dollars. This would pay for the tag, for the registration fee, for all work connected with the proposition and then leave at least one dollar net profit in the hands of the Tallahassee officers. This sum might lie in fund and accumulate, or it might be turned in at stated intervals to the state road department, provided that there shall be such a body after legislative adjournment.

Force every retailer of gasoline to collect two cents upon every gallon of gasoline sold. It might not be necessary to make the dealer collect it, but so arrange that the dealer must send to the state officials at the end of each month two cents for every gallon of gasoline dispensed. From this sum the state will retain one-half cent, and the balance will be returned to the county from which the sum was received and be placed in the road fund of each individual county.

By adopting such a law, or one bearing the essentials here enumerated, there could be nothing unfair or unbiased. Even though one car might "take more miles to a gallon" than some other the difference would be too small to figure; but the man who uses the roads would pay for the use. The county with the largest number of cars would get the largest returns; the man who used the roads would pay the highest rental. It is unjust now that the driver who uses the roads almost every hour in the day should pay a more license than the man who takes his car out once a week for a run; and under the proposed plan the man who used five gallons of gasoline during the week would pay his ten cents, while the man who consumed ten gallons a day would pay twenty cents towards the roads he was wearing out, regardless of where these highways lay, and fifteen cents would be returned to the county to help the road question.

With authoritative figures at hand regarding the consumption of gasoline in the city and county it is a safe estimate to say that two thousand gallons a day are retailed. If this estimate, which is considered very conservative, is correct, a measure such as herein specified would return to Putnam county, during the year more than ten thousand dollars to use in keeping up the roads, look after shoulders and handle many of the little details that are so often needed to keep the highways in proper shape.

Who will be the member of the legislature to take up this suggestion?—Palatka News.

Attack Systems of Taxation to Finance Schools

(By The Associated Press)
 CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 28.—Tax systems were attacked yesterday by several speakers during the general sessions of the department of superintendence of the National Association of school superintendents in a convention in discussions in the progress including school filed problems with a three speech symposium on budget making and spending.
 Dr. George D. Strayer said:
 "If opportunity and burden are to be equalized, the state must levy a tax upon property or incomes of all the people, or in some other manner secure revenues by a system of taxation which bears equal weight upon all."
 Dr. Robert M. Haig declared that the state of Ohio has a tax system "which flatly presents to every citizen the option of being an intelligent bar or an economic fool. The percentage of economic fools runs very low, however. Moreover, most of our states are in no position to sympathize with Ohio. The conditions in many of them are worse."

Immigration Bar Must Be Raised, Owsley Declares

CLEVELAND, Feb. 27.—Delegates to the department of superintendence National Education Association annual convention, held several meetings yesterday in which speakers advocated putting a stop to immigration; favored President Harding's reorganization bill which would create a new department in the government to be known as the department of education and welfare; started a fight for higher salaries for school superintendents.
 The suggestion that immigration be stopped came from Alvin M. Owsley, national commander of the American Legion who at the same time offered his organization to the educators as an instrument to be used in the building of patriotism.
 John J. Tigert, United States commissioner of education, assigned by President Harding to represent the reorganization, outlined a plan of reorganization that would place a secretary of education and welfare in the president's cabinet.
 The fight for higher salaries for school superintendents by Dr. N. L. Englehardt, of the Teachers' College, Columbia university, New York city.

Pleading for higher salaries for superintendents of schools he declared that other professions receive much higher salaries and do not demand as much study and ability. He pointed out that living costs have risen 100 per cent since 1913 but that school superintendents' salaries have risen only 41 per cent.
 Mr. Owsley told the delegates that the Legion believes the advancement of American education is the greatest patriotic service its members can render.

HARDING SIGNS
 (By The Associated Press)
 WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—President Harding yesterday signed the British debt funding bill.
 Immediately afterward treasury officials began to wind up details of the agreement with Great Britain and to put them into form for carrying out the effect of the funding plan agreed upon.
 A. Rowe Dutton, the British treasury representative, was advised of the white house action and made an appointment to see Under Secretary Gilbert of the treasury, who is drafting the formal indenture embodying the agreement.
 Later in the week the American debt funding commission will ratify the indenture and Sir Auckland Geddes, the British ambassador will sign it for his government.

Dave Shade Winner In Bout With Ward

BOSTON, March 1.—Dave Shade of Portland, Ore., won the judge's decision over George Ward, of Elizabeth, N. J., here Tuesday night in one of the prettiest boxing exhibitions of the season. These welterweights, both hoping to get a crack at Champion Mickey Walker, went at top speed throughout the 10 rounds to the delight of about 5,000 fight enthusiasts who thronged the Arena A. C.

Shade's aggressiveness, however, combined with his ability to elude Ward's always dangerous left, won the bout for him. The decision did not meet the approval of a large portion of the crowd who thought Ward deserved at least a draw.

Shade tipped the beam at 152 lbs. while Ward weighed in at 146 lbs.

JIM BARNES DEFEATS SARAZEN
MIAMI, Mich. 1.—Jim Barnes, former national open champion and Johnny Farrell, of the Quakeridge Golf club, Maamareek, N. Y., defeated Gene Sarazen, present national open champion and Jock Hutchinson, former British open title holder, on the 8th hole in their match on the Hollywood links yesterday.

TWO PROMOTERS CLAIM RIGHT TO USE FLYWEIGHT

NEW YORK, March 1.—Jimmy Wilde, flyweight champion of the world, seems to have some sort of agreement with someone to fight somebody for quite a sum of shillings, somewhere in New York, some time this summer. But it is impossible yet to distinguish between the claims of Tex Rickard and his Garden Club and Tom O'Rourke, of the Polo Grounds, both promoters claiming to have Wilde in hand.

Wilde, if he is still in his native business fettle, can make more money out of this one bout than any little fellow ever received for a scrap and more than most of the tiny fighters receive in a whole career. There is no indication, either, that Wilde has lost his fine old appreciation of the value of a three penny bit.

Just who his challenger will be, cannot be stated until tomorrow morning, when the result will be known of the bout between Pancho Villa, the Filipino, holder of the American flyweight title, and Frankie Genaro. They fight tonight in Madison Square Garden and the battle is arousing as much interest as last week's rough and tumble between Gene Tunney and Harry Greb.

Genaro has been gunned for $3,000 of his purse by the Jersey Boxing Commission which informed the New York Commission that Genaro owed that amount to Jersey promoters because of defaulting a match which they had arranged at great expense.

The New York Commission did not call for any itemized statement of expenses but simply fined Genaro that much and will life it from tonight's purse. It costs only half that much to swing a big fight in the Garden here, so apparently the Jersey promoters were intending to build a castle in which to hold their fight.

The Herald delivered six times a week for 15c.

FOR THE MOVIE FAN

That good picture is tonight.

"Kindred of the Dust" one of Peter B. Kyne's best stories.

And to make this picture the success it is, the producers use Miriam Cooper as the leading star.

Mr. and Mrs. Vivian Speer are invited to see this fine picture tonight without cost. We'll meet you there, Vivian.

"The Prisoner of Zenda," a story of Royal Romance, and of adventure as breathless and as flashing as sword plays. This is one of the real sure-thing feature bills and will be shown two nights, Friday and Saturday.

Each week Osborne tries to outdo his record for the previous week, and is bringing some fine pictures to Sanford. A peep at next week's program will convince you.

Be sure you see "Kindred of the Dust" tonight, "The Prisoner of Zenda" either tomorrow or Saturday night, and look the program over for next week and if you can't see them all, pick the kind you like, there will be pictures to suit all tastes next week.

Jack Quinn is Starting 23rd Playing Season

Boston Red Sox Slabber Oldest Player in Point of Service in Majors

HOT SPRINGS, March 1.—Old Jack Quinn, spit ball pitcher of the Boston Red Sox and former member of the Yankees, arrived in the preliminary training camp Tuesday with the announcement that this is the start of his twenty-third season as an active player. Reference libraries were not at hand but so far as any of the historians here could recollect, this makes Quinn the oldest player in point of service now toiling in the Major Leagues.

The Cleveland squad comprised of and Bedgood and shridu shridu shridu pitchers Uhle, Coveleske, Smith and Bedgood and coaches Roth and McAllister, has gone on its way. The men are bound for Lakeland, Fla., to join the main squad at regular training after workouts and baths here.

Chick Fewster, also an ex-Yank, now of the Red Sox, came into camp with Quinn.

Colonel Til Houston, boss of the Yankees, saw Wallie Shang and Mike McNally, two of his boys, start for the ball park to take their exercise and then went along himself with Babe Ruth and others to play golf. Everett Scott, the shortstop, complained of pains in his legs, but this is believed to be nothing more serious than a set of bunions where his knees knock.
