SIXTH WEEK LEGISLATURE ROLLED ROUND TODAY WITH NO ISSUES SETTLED

CONVICT REFORM, REAPPORTIONMENT, PRIMARY LAWS, ETC., STILE IN AIR BOTH HOUSES BUSY

On Passage of Bills on Convict Lease System But Disagree on the Terms

(By The Associated Press) TALLAHASSEE, May 7.—The sixth week of the legislature rolled around today with none of the major issues settled. There were these questions still outstanding: Convict reforms, including abolition of the lease system and the lash; reapportionment, primary laws, tick eradication, taxation, appropriations to run the state government and increased revenues for roadbuilding. The two former were in sight on the calendar; the others were still remote.

Both houses have passed bills to abolish the convict lease system but disagreed on the terms of the two measures and the whole works is now with a senate committee of five which grew out of the efforts of a minority in the senate to pass a bill to ban corporal punishment in the treatment of prisoners. The initiative in doing away with the lease system was taken by the senate and when its handiwork got to the house that body substituted for it a measure that it had been perfecting. It came back to the senate with a provision to ban flogging of county prisoners. The measure came back to the upper body just as it was in throes of its debate over the proposal to ban the whip altogether, even as relating to state prisoners. When the opponents of the whip were outvoted they turned the lease measure over to the committee that is trying to work a general bill covering the supervision of convicts. In the general melee there lies the possibility of neither of the two proposed convict reform bills being passed. The senate has no objection to the house version of how to kill the lease system but is wary of doing away with the whip. Whether those senators against banning the strap will yield to the extent of banning its application to county convicts is problematical. On their attitude in this respect will turn the fate of the lease bill, at least that part of it inhibiting whipping of county prisoners. In view of the avowed intention of some members of the house to insist that the lease bill be passed with the strap banned insofar as county convicts are concerned it is within the realm of possibility that the whole thing will be held long from passage if not permitted to die on the calendar of unfinished business.

Nothing has come from the committee of five, comprised of Senators Johnson, Stokes, Phillips, Hodges and Lindsey to indicate they are approaching an accord. Senator Lindsey is avowed in his belief that the whip is necessary in the handling of some convicts; certainly it would be a bad idea to unreasonably ban its use. The whip if properly applied, he contends, is not brutal. Convicts may be treated brutally in many other ways; in any way, he holds and therein lies the root of the whole problem—"real supervision and not pretentive supervision; frequent and accurate reports of their condition and treatment and not infrequent and inaccurate reports." To this end Mr. Lindsey has drawn up a broad plan governing the supervision and handling of convicts. It would seek to insure accurate and frequent reports on the physical condition of prisoners and their welfare in general. It would call for inspections of prison camps twice monthly.

There is no need to tell the convict guard that he can't use the whip and leave the matter there," Mr. Lindsey asserts. "The type of convict guard that would abuse the use

U. S. CITIZENS ARE CAPTURED BY BANDITS

IN CHINA AND WILL IMPAIR THE CORDIAL RELATIONS IN AMERICA

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, May 7.—The situation apparently regarded as seriously menacing the good relations between the United States and Peking government described today by American Minister Schurman in first official report to reach the state department regarding the capture of American citizens by bandits near Shantung border. Schurman is understood already to have made informal representations on own responsibility and is expected he will be instructed by this government to pursue most vigorous course to secure release of prisoners unharmed.

POOL ABLE TO RETURN HOME.

MIAMI, May 7.—O. P. Pool, 63, found lying Friday night, unconscious in a Miami street, was able to return to his home today, apparently not seriously injured. His head, face and shoulder were bruised. Mud on the side of the man's clothing led police to believe he had been knocked down by an automobile. When he was picked up he appeared to have suffered a lapse of memory, thinking he was in his old home town of Meriden, Mass.

SENATE COMMITTEE ON CONVICT LEASE PREPARE REPORT

TALLAHASSEE, May 7.—A senate committee of five which has had the proposition of working out a broad measure dealing with the supervision of convicts in this state, planned to hold a meeting today, with a view to making its report when the upper body reassembled from its week-end recess. A majority of the committee, it is understood, are favorable to a plan that would restrain whipping of misdemeanor prisoners under 25 years old. The committee, which grew out of an unsuccessful effort of some of the senators to pass a measure abolishing the whip entirely, has about decided on a system of supervision that would call for three physicians at the state prison farm and a thorough and frequent examination of all state prisoners. Convict wardens and guards would be placed under bond, and increased salaries would be provided with a view to uplifting personnel. Two members of the committee—Senators Stokes and Hodges—have insisted for an outright restriction against the whip. The other members, however, Senators Johnson, Lindsey and Phillips, hold that the whip is essential to discipline under the conditions in which prisoners work in this state. The compromise plan, understood to be almost in shape for presentation to the senate, would seek to regulate whipping and would hold the warden responsible for abuses. Out of the stand of Senators Stokes and Hodges has grown the disposition to exempt misdemeanor prisoners under twenty-five years old from the strap. The committee also has with it a measure passed by both houses abolishing the convict lease system, and which has a provision incorporated by the senate, that would prohibit the whipping of misdemeanor prisoners regardless of age. It is understood that this provision be changed to conform to the twenty-five-year-old limit.

Sanford is in gala attire today in honor of the Spanish War Veterans and the Ladies' Auxiliary. Sanford sent out her full quota of men in the Spanish war just as Sanford sent her full quota to fight for the Southland in the war of '61. Encampment Branch Local Odd Fellows Odd Fellowship circles are elated over the prospects of the institution of an encampment branch of the order. Next Wednesday afternoon and night the Grand Encampment officers and staff will be here for the purpose of instituting Oseola Encampment No. 9, and installing officers.

This is an organization of which Seminole county may well be proud. Founded strictly upon the Bible and its teachings, it seeks to lead men to recognize and obey the "Golden Rule" which commands us to do unto others as we would have them do unto us. Oseola Encampment will be a power for good in this community, in the upholding of human character, and teaching men to live better lives, and be better citizens thereby.

To those who are interested in the order, we would ask for your moral support, and encouragement, in this undertaking, which means so much to Odd Fellows.

We predict that Sanford will be greatly enriched and blessed by this splendid addition to its fraternal societies, which will launch out with a membership of between forty and fifty members.

PRINCIPAL WITNESS IN CONVICT CASE DIED YESTERDAY MYSTERIOUSLY AND IS THE SUBJECT OF MUCH DISCUSSION

In Tallahassee Where the Investigation of Tabert Case Continues

(By The Associated Press) TALLAHASSEE, May 7.—The sudden death of Jerry Poppell, former jailer of Tallahassee and principal informer against two county officials in the legislative investigation of the death of Martin Tabert continued to be the subject of much discussion and sensational reports. For the present at least no official investigation is in sight. Dr. R. F. Goddard, of Quincy, who attended Poppell, stated he formally diagnosed the cause of his death as apoplexy.

TALLAHASSEE, May 7.—Jerry Poppell, principal witness against two Leon county officials in the investigation of the death of Martin Tabert, of Munich, North Dakota, alleged to have died in a private convict camp in Florida, as the result of brutal treatment, died at Quincy Saturday night, it was learned here yesterday on the arrival of Mrs. Poppell with his body. Poppell's death was declared to have been due to apoplexy Dr. R. F. Goddard, of Quincy, one of the attending physicians told the Associated Press last night over the telephone. Mrs. Poppell, however, said that shortly before he died he muttered that he was poisoned and she called attention to the fact that he carried with him a bottle of moonshine whiskey of which he drank freely. He had the liquor for several days. Poppell was enroute to Pensacola to testify before a federal grand jury in connection with a peonage case developed during the investigation of Tabert's death. Circumstances surrounding Tabert's death were the subject of an exhaustive legislative investigation. As a result of the inquiry Sheriff J. R. Jones was ordered removed from office by the senate, while Governor Hardee has recommended similar action be taken against County Judge B. F. Willis. Mrs. Poppell said her husband was stricken suddenly just outside of Quincy Friday night at a place where they intended to camp for the night. Suddenly he fell from the running board of the automobile and exclaimed, "I'm dying," according to Mrs. Poppell. His features swelled, she said, his mouth curling to one side as if paralyzed. He was taken to a hospital and throughout Saturday vomited green substances. Mrs. Poppell said. He was unconscious most of the time, according to the widow, but in one lucid interval muttered that he was poisoned. Poppell was jailer here for more than twenty years, but was discharged some time ago by Sheriff Jones. Poppell admitted before the legislative committee that he was an excessive drinker and in the drunken orgies that he described he drew in Sheriff Jones and Judge Willis. He declared that the two officials had conspired to profit in the wholesale arrest and sentence of vagrants to the Putnam Lumber Company, of Clara, for which the sheriff admitted he received $20 a head. Tabert died while under lease to the lumber company. Poppell has been suffering from a brain ailment and several months ago a public subscription was taken for him in order to give him treatment.

The six-story First National Bank building is rapidly nearing completion. This will be one of the finest structures of its kind in this section of the state. The bank fixtures, when installed will represent an outlay of $25,000.

There are a large number of important building projects contemplated. Local architects' offices are busy on plans for new construction. There will be a great many new residences constructed in Sanford which should relieve the acute housing shortage that has been prevalent here during the past several years.

The magnificent four-story Brumley-Puleston building is finished and rapidly being tenanted. The corner store is occupied by Bonmullat & Anderson, and the one adjoining on First street by McKinnon-Markwood Company. The offices on the second floor have been taken by Drs. Puleston, Tolar, Stevens and McCaslin.

The City Commissioners awarded the Hutton Engineering Company of Savannah the second portion of the street paving program covering 40,000 square yards of new work. This concern is now at work on the first contract awarded some time ago. When all the work is completed, Sanford will have approximately 12 additional miles of newly paved streets. The City Commissioners also advertised bids for the construction of the yacht basin. It is hoped to have this completed by the beginning of the winter season.

The Sanford Shoe and Clothing Company have moved from the Speer building to the Meich building. The store space in the latter building is now fully occupied. The building leased by T. W. Woolworth Company is being thoroughly renovated and when completed will be a modern two-story building. The new construction in Sanford has caused a great many changes since the first of the year, but despite the large amount of new construction the demand for location in the business section has been so great that there are but few offices vacant.

A meeting was held by a number of prominent growers Friday evening for the purpose of organizing an association to improve the marketing and distribution of celery and other products grown in this section. This subject has been agitated for some time and was recently brought to the Chamber of Commerce for action. The committee of growers have been successful in interesting a large number of others in the organization and are confident that a sufficient number can be brought into the organization, making it represent 75 per cent of the acreage. They are planning to have the organization perfected in time to handle next season's shipments.

The High School Orchestra is learning some special pieces for the Senior play. Have you heard them yet? 30-3

GARDEN WEEK

Garden Week was observed generally throughout Sanford. Merchants dressed their store windows appropriately, individuals worked and planted in home gardens, interesting articles concerning the culture and artistic use of flowers, shrubs, and trees were published daily in the Herald; prizes were offered to pupils in the schools for best essays, bird houses etc., and Wednesday, April 25th was observed as Arbor Day with appropriate programs carried out in the primary schools and in the Grammar School. The teachers gave hearty co-operation and the pupils manifested a lively interest in the activities of the day, the Parent-Teachers' Association began the planting and beautifying of all the school grounds and continued this work throughout the week. The interesting program presented by the Grammar School follows:

Garden Week achieved inestimable good—the interest awakened in the hearts of the school boys and girls on Arbor Day alone being worth the campaign made by the Woman's Club.

The last regular meeting of the Woman's Club for this season was held in the lobby of the Welaka apartments, Wednesday, May 2, at 3:30 p. m., the president, Mrs. R. E. Tolar, presiding. The regular business was transacted and the various committees made reports. A committee was appointed to appear before the city commissioners to ask that Sanford be made a bird sanctuary. The report of the building committee was most interesting.

The Woman's Club wishes to take this opportunity to express its appreciation and sincere thanks to all those who have so generously helped with money donations or gifts for the new club house.

$1,050.00 have been contributed to the building fund, the Miller's Bridge Club has given the fountain, which will be placed in front of the club house, and John Gillon, of the Gillon & Fry Electric Co., has donated a beautiful center fixture and four bracket lights for the sun parlor. A complete list of donors and donations will be published in this column in the near future.

The Home Economics Department of the Sanford High School gave a delightful "at home" Wednesday, May 2nd from 5 to 6 p. m. to the members of the school board, the faculty of the Sanford schools and the welfare department of the Woman's Club. This reception was one of unusual charm and interest and great credit is due Miss Mary Zachary, the teacher, and her class of forty-seven girls.

The Domestic Science room was made beautiful with a profusion of lovely spring flowers and ferns. Miss Zachary and members of the class received the guests, and the class' refreshment committee served delicious chicken salad, cake and punch.

The Educational Committee of the Welfare Department, were largely responsible for the equipment of the home economics department of the H. S. and found great pleasure in beholding the fruit of their labor.

The Music Department will present the last program of the season, Wednesday, May 9th, at 4 p. m. Through the kindness of Mrs. Fannie Stehr-bridge Munson, honorary chairman of this department, the meeting will be held in her studio, 603 Myrtle avenue. A program of variety and charm has been arranged in compliment to the young musicians of the town and a cordial invitation is extended to them, their relatives, friends and to all club members. A large part of the program will be rendered by Junior students, and a feature will be the group of numbers given by boy musicians. The entire program will include vocal and piano solos and duets, musical readings, violin, flute, saxophone and cornet numbers, and the club chorus will sing, "Glad Festal

FOR CONSTIPATION

Black-Draught Recommended by an Arkansas Farmer Who Has Used It, When Needed, for 25 Years.

Hatfield, Ark.—Mr. G. W. Parsons, a well-known farmer on Route 1, this place, says: "I keep Black-Draught in my home all the time. It is the best all-around medicine I have ever found for the liver and for constipation. We began using it 25 or more years ago and have used it whenever needed since. I have never found any other medicine as good for constipation, and that was what I suffered with till I began using Black-Draught. Black-Draught corrected this condition, and now we use it for the liver and for indigestion—a light and sluggish feeling after meals, for bad taste in the mouth and sour stomach."

"My wife uses it for headache and biliousness. It sets on our shell and we don't let it get out. It has been a great help to us. I believe a great deal of sickness is caused by hurried eating and constipation, and Black-Draught, it takes right, will correct this condition." WELCOME TO SPANISH WAR VETERANS.

Sanford is honored today to welcome the veterans of the Spanish American War. Like the veterans of the Civil War and other wars in this country the ranks of the Spanish War Veterans are thinning each year...

War is war and war is always "hell" regardless of war's duration or of where the soldiers may be stationed. We owe much to the men of the Spanish American War for it was during that war the north and south was firmly united...

And in '98 as in all the wars that have been fought by Americans that spirit of real Americanism blossomed forth and swept the country with a tidal wave of patriotism...

We have not forgotten them and their good deeds. We welcome them here today none the less warmly because they fought so many years ago...

Plenty of fresh vegetables in the markets now and the Sanford section is rolling in all kinds of good things to eat in the vegetable-line.

If we lived in New Smyrna we would stop talking about whether New Smyrna or St. Augustine is the oldest city in the United States...

Here's a question for Bob Holly to answer. Is it more uncomfortable to have a hangman's noose fitted about your neck...

It is "only a hop" now from ocean to ocean says one paper in speaking of the monoplane flight.

And now Dempsey gets $300,000 to fight Gibbons, win or lose. And yet we are compelled to teach our children that education pays.

And now that Sanford will be able to get all the money needed for building homes you will see some tall scrambling and dirt throwing this summer.

Sanford is in gala attire this week to welcome the veterans of the Spanish-American war who will be our guests for several days.

When handits hold up people in the heart of New York any day in the year and take the pay rolls from them there is little sense in the New York papers throwing off on the "hick" policemen of the "hick towns."

Today, what do we find? St. Petersburg has begun to talk in millions, and not only talk, but act!

What is the result? Simply that when men and millions begin to act, other men with other millions arrive on the scene and join them.

Today St. Petersburg is assured. Today St. Petersburg is a safe investment. Today St. Petersburg is a reality, and that reality is dreaming new dreams with an almost certainty of realization.

The job is not finished. No, it's only begun, but it is begun with men and millions behind it to such an extent that nothing short of a great calamity can stem the tide of success.

MONEY AND MEN.

Only a few short years ago the Times published a series of editorials urging St. Petersburg to a larger view of things.

Then it was said that if St. Petersburg were to assume her rightful place among the cities of Florida and among the resort cities of the world, it was necessary for her citizenry to think in larger terms.

Then it was said that men of large means were not attracted to cities where there was a citizenry which was afraid of attempting projects involving millions.

Then it was said that men who want to play in a "dollar limit" game are not attracted by "penny ante."

That series of editorials developed more than passing interest. From some it brought the usual charge of "Visionary." From others it brought the comment of "let's not go too fast, let's walk before we run."

St. Petersburg has begun to talk in millions, and not only talk, but act!

What is the result? Simply that when men and millions begin to act, other men with other millions arrive on the scene and join them.

eventually handle practically all the express business of the country.

In a hearing on the parcel post expansion problem before the House Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads a few years ago, an attorney for the American Railway Express Company rather impudently asked a member of the committee who was advocating the acceptance of larger parcels by the Post Office...

And why not? If it is good to carry a small parcel what is bad about carrying a big one. If there be profit in a small business why ignore the profit in the bigger business?

These dreams are what the American Railway Express Company has called "Socialism." Conservatives today are defending the practices which thirty and forty years ago they were condemning as "socialistic" theories.

About 61 per cent of all the mail business handled by the United States government today is parcel post business. And you get a cheaper and a better and a surer service than you do from any express company.

When the parcel post proposition was fast gaining favor with congressmen and before the parcel post had become a law, when the old express companies were busily lobbying against its creation...

This was found enough but on top of this they found that the railroads were charging the government seven times what they were charging the express companies for the same haul measured by weight and ten times what they were charging them measured by cubic space...

Well, here the parcel post is. It is a better carrier and a cheaper carrier than the express companies ever were or ever will be.

All of this is just as simple as the A B C elementary economics. The little news story, lodged in obscure places in the newspapers the other day, was full of prophecy.

It was a nation building and a nation serving prophecy and that congressman was right who declared that the parcel post will yet accept anything that can get into a box car door or lie on a flat car floor.

HOUSE APPEARS TO FAVOR RETURN OF SECOND PRIMARY

TALLAHASSEE, May 4—A measure providing for submission to the electorate of a proposed constitutional amendment that would do away with the second choice vote provisions of the Bryan primary laws, and substitute therefor, the double primary system, passed from second to third reading in the house yesterday with only one material amendment. The measure was introduced by Representative Williams of Leon, who would have made it unlawful for candidates to spend money in connection with the run off primary. This measure was stricken out at the instance of Representative Merchant.

Representative Van Roy made an effort to have consideration of the measure indefinitely postponed but this was voted down by a two to one majority. Otherwise, there was little discussion of the measure in its main features and there was no way of safely gauging the favor of the lower body towards the proposition. The measure would provide for the second primary within three weeks after the first in cases where no candidate received a majority.

Poisoning the Worms That Attack Celery Will Be Taken Up

Washington, D. C., April 25, 1923. Mr. R. F. Whitner, Jr., County Agent, Sanford, Fla.

Dear Sir:

I have your letter of April 21, with regard to the difficulties experienced in the growing of celery in Florida.

The Bureau now has in press a bulletin covering the treatment of celery in California for the celery leaf-tyer causing measures applicable to control. The difficulty is to apply the poison treatment, usually arsenate of lead, at such time to poison the young caterpillars when they first emerge from the egg and feed on the dry foliage. This publication will be issued in the near future and will probably be available in time for the coming celery crop, although hardly of value in connection with the present one. Thorough high-pressure spraying, usually powdered arsenate of lead at the rate of three pounds per acre, i. e., one and one-half pounds to fifty gallons of water, one hundred gallons of the spray being applied to each acre of celery, will control the worms.

The matter of the use of war gases has been widely suggested by a large number of the entomologically uninformed ever since the termination of the war, at which time a large quantity of unused materials of this nature remained on hand with the War Department. All of these gases and many others have been tested by the Department of Agriculture with reference to their application to insect pests. They were, without exception, however, found to be more highly toxic to the plant itself than to the insect attacking it, aside from any danger which might result in their careless distribution on a valuable field. The injury by the gas itself would be infinitely greater than that which the insect is capable of accomplishing. I regret to advise, therefore, that the use of any of the war gases can not at the present time be recommended.

Yours truly,
L. O. HOWARD,
Chief of Bureau.

May 2, 1923.

Mr. Ben F. Whitner, Jr.,
County Agriculture Agent,
Sanford, Florida.

My Dear Mr. Whitner:

After going thoroughly over the field in the Sanford area and surveying carefully the outbreak there of the Celery Leaf-tyer and also having tried various remedies for the control of those pest, I believe that the most effective thing that can be used for the rest of this season is made as follows:

Bran—25 pounds.
Paris Green—1 pound.
Nitro-Benzine—Sufficient to moisten.

The worms in a great many instances have penetrated so deep into the celery bunches and are so well protected by webs that the ordinary spraying with arsenate of lead will not reach them. I would like to suggest remedies for another season.

1. Clean up as nearly as possible all of this year's crop.

2. Trap moths as soon as they make appearance.

3. Spray celery thoroughly with arsenate of lead while the young worms are on the leaves.

4. Use high power spraying developing not less than 150 pounds pressure and preferably 200 pounds.

From observation it seems that the most important part of spraying is to apply with high pressure while the worms are young and on the leaves as they are later protected by webs and lower portions of the stalks.

Yours very truly,
ED. L. AYERS,
Entomologist-Plant Pathologist,
Gainesville, Florida.

SCALES CHAMPIONING STATE'S FISH AGAIN

TALLAHASSEE, May 5.—Senator J. H. Scales of the twelfth district, continues to champion the state's fish. He introduced a bill into the senate Wednesday making it unlawful to catch fresh water fish by any method except the old-fashioned hook and line, or the rod and reel. This exempts mud-fish, sucker fish, gars and eels, which he would allow to be removed from fresh water streams or lakes by any method whatsoever.

The senator would also have it unlawful to buy or to offer any fresh water fish except those above mentioned, for sale. No express company or railroad company could legally transport fresh water fish.

Explosives, giga, grains, firearms, could not, under this law, be used for fish, nor could limes, or other poisons, be used in the streams and lakes. Special provision is made that this section of the act should not interfere with any public work, or with the recovery of bodies, by explosives, where needed.

Scales' Bill further makes it unlawful for any person to place in any water of the state, any crap or specie of carp fish.

"Clean and Dry" Is Fowl Health Slogan

Care, Sunlight, Fresh Air, With Roomy Quarters May Prevent Roup

By SETH W. SHOEMAKER,
Director, The School of Agriculture,
International Correspondence Schools, Ceranton, Pa.

The most common ailments of fowls are cold, canker, catarrh and roup, developing during the fall and winter months. The poultryman who gets the best results out of his flock will be the one who takes time by the forelock and adopts preventive measures.

All of these troubles are likely to come from exposure to damp or cold at seasons of the year when the temperature rises and falls quickly. Although fowls are just as likely to take a cold in July or August as in mid-winter, in cold weather they do not seem to recover as quickly and the results are liable to be more serious. They are especially likely to take cold on damp, rainy days, when they go to roost with wet plumage.

Canker and roup often are merely stages of the same disease. Canker and catarrh, which are infections of the mucous membrane, are mild forms of diphtheria, in which may occur patches on the inside of the throat and on the tongue or at the opening of the windpipe. These conditions follow one another quickly unless prompt attention is given to the first symptoms of cold. While the earlier forms of the disease do not seem to be contagious, roup is very contagious.

Disease may be prevented if the fowls are provided with plenty of room and fresh air without draft, dry, clean scratching litter and an abundance of sunlight. The careful poultryman will go over the flock each day and remove all birds that show symptoms of disease.

Among remedies perhaps the most satisfactory is permanganate of potash in the drinking water. Just a pinch is necessary.

It will give the water a pinkish tinge. This is general treatment for any flock in case an individual seems to be getting sick.

Any fowl that shows signs of trouble, such as discharge at the nostrils and watering of the eyes, should be removed from the flock and have head, throat, face and nostrils bathed in warm water containing some antiseptic solution and should be kept in perfectly clean surroundings. Permanganate of potash in a fairly strong solution is now indicated.

Some poultrymen use Epsom salts as a preventive remedy. This may be given in the drinking water or in a slightly moistened mash at the rate of 10 to 12 ounces to each 100 fowls. Before the salts are administered the fowl should be kept away from all feeds and drinking water for about 12 hours.

Other poultrymen use copper sulphate or blue vitrol at the rate of one ounce to each 10 gallons of water to prevent the spreading of the disease. If this disinfectant is used, however, great care must be taken not to get the solution too strong or the birds may be injured.

All things considered, the permanganate of potash is the most satisfactory. A handy way to administer it is to make a saturated solution and then use this to make up the drinking water. Place eight ounces of the permanganate of potash crystals in a pint bottle of water to make the stock solution. One teaspoonful of this saturated solution will be sufficient to add to one gallon of drinking water.

A warm mash containing a little ginger and red pepper may also be given to fowls that have colds or roup.

Fowls badly affected with roup should be promptly killed and their bodies either burned or buried. After this the premises should be cleaned and disinfected with creosote or some similar material.

How many chances of fire in your home?

You don't know. But there are a great many chances—too many, with which to gamble. Why not let the insurance company take the risk? Insurance costs but a very little and if fire comes, your policy may mean your salvation. There is no better protection than the sound indemnity of dependable fire insurance.

Let this agency tell you about it: You will be under no obligation. Better insure in the Hartford Fire Insurance Company.

Don't take offense, you car owners when we say that no cost can equal the construction and other details of the Oakland Roadster. The Oakland roadster was made by auto mechanics and builders after years of deliberation and study of the essentials requisite for 100 per cent perfect car. Its graceful body outline emphasizes its beauty. But in addition to beauty the Oakland possesses that major point viz: easy riding control and comfort plus minimum gas consumption. SENATE COMMITTEE TO PROBE "CLARA INCIDENT" NAMED

TALLAHASSEE, May 5.—A committee of three was named by the senate today to inquire into the "authenticity" of news reports of the reports of the recent trip to Clara, Fla., of a subcommittee of the joint legislative investigating the death of Martin Tabert. Senators Johnson, Lyon and Phillips will comprise the committee, it was stated.

The committee grows out of resolution offered by Senator J. H. Scales of Taylor county, in which Clara is located, asking for such an inquiry. The news accounts of alleged discourtesy to the subcommittee and intimidation of its negro witness, Arthur Johnson, have been representative of the resolution said to be "grossly exaggerated and in many particulars utterly untrue."

Senator Johnson who was taken to be chairman of the committee by virtue of the fact that his name was given first, had not been formally notified of his appointment, and in the absence of such was unable to say what procedure the inquiry would take or what its scope would be.

MEXICO HAS MONEY TO PAY.

NEW YORK, May 7. The Mexican government has on deposit in New York banks, sufficient funds to cover interest payments due April 2 and has been ready and willing for some weeks to make the normal payment under the Mexican debt agreement. Manuel A. Hernandez of the Mexican government's New York agency stated in an address prepared for delivery tonight by radio from the Westinghouse broadcasting station in Newark, N. J.

Building is Increasing and Lumber is Scarce, Wholesale Trade Brisk

Building is increasing by leaps and bounds under the stimulus of weather favorable to outdoor work, and retail dealers are enjoying a brisk demand for lumber, says the American Lumberman, Chicago. Wholesale trade consequently is increasing, but it is notable that a great deal of caution is exercised by the retailers and that they are not likely to stock up to any extent except to buy only as they find it necessary. And this favors the manufacturers, whose facilities are taxed to meet current demand and would break down if the retail trade were to start a general stocking-up movement. The outlook for spring and early summer building is excellent and records appear in a fair way of being broken in some sections. Investment houses specializing in building and financing report that a tremendous amount of capital is being advanced for construction projects, indicating, they say, not only that the need for new housing is immense but also that prospective builders are not being frightened by present costs of building. They hold the opinion that if anything limits construction activities this year it will be shortage of labor.

The lumber market meanwhile is very strong and recent soft spots are disappearing. Southern pine mills are booking orders well in excess of production without having had an opportunity to clean up old order file or add materially to their low and badly broken stocks. Recent demand has absorbed most of the transit cuts on the market and buyers are encountering much trouble in placing their business because of the scarcity of material.

The I. W. W. strike, declared on the west coast last week threatens to curtail Douglas fir output, and this has had a decidedly strengthening influence on the already strong market. Production has not yet been reduced by this factor, but woods operation have been severely hit. As there is no big surplus on the coast, this is sure to find early reflection in mill activity. Production, shipments and bookings meanwhile remain considerably in excess of normal. Stocks are being steadily reduced by the forward-breaking shipments, which, together with the fact that 134 representative mills have had orders totaling 500,000,000 feet, makes any early weakening of the market improbable.

The other softwoods occupy identical going positions. The hardwood market is strengthening, as demand is slowly lifting itself out of the recent depression.

Mrs. DeBouchelle Will Leave Soon

Since early in the year Mrs. Onezima DeBouchelle, of New Orleans, has been in Orlando. She is now a guest at the Angebilt Hotel.

Asked yesterday if she would consent to an interview she declined, saying that she was in "retirement." She will possibly say something, or at least give you an interview on the eve of her departure from Orlando," she said yesterday to the Sentinel. "When will that be?" she was asked. She replied that she expected to leave about Wednesday or Thursday.

"I think you have a beautiful little city," she said. "I don't know when I have been so taken with a place. I am delighted with Orlando and my visit here." She stated that she had found rest here and that her health had been greatly benefited.

The reporter intimated that he would like to have an interview over her suit against Asa Candler, of Atlanta, but the charming New Orleans simply replied that she was in "retirement" and "had nothing to say."

Mrs. DeBouchelle came to Orlando several months ago and for several weeks, stopped at Dr. Howell's Sanitarium, later going to the Florida Sanitarium at Formosa. For the past two weeks she has been at the Angebilt.—Orlando Sentinel.

WEEKLY CITRUS REVIEW.

ORLANDA, Fla., May 7.—The weekly citrus review by F. L. Skelly, as issued from the office of American Fruit Growers, Inc., states:

The weekly shipment of Florida citrus was approximately the same as the week before, while California showed an increase of about 150 cars, which is largely due to the opening of their Valencia groves. Navels will be practically exhausted after this week, however, considerable stocks remain in the hands of the dealers. California valencias are still reported to be somewhat sour and of questionable quality indicating that this comparative mills have had orders totaling 500,000,000 feet, makes any early weakening of the market improbable.

The other softwoods occupy identical going positions. The hardwood market is strengthening, as demand is slowly lifting itself out of the recent depression.

petition will not seriously affect Florida's for the present.

Oranges: Erratic fluctuations, with a net decline of 50 to 75 cents, featured the week's auction markets, however, this is not to be taken seriously as the lighter movement toward the end of the week will no doubt cause a responsive demand on next week's opening.

Grapefruit: Auction prices remained practically steady, one well-known brand reaching new high levels for the season, while ordinary grades continued to meet an indifferent reception. F. o. b. inquiry remains strong with somewhat higher prices ruling.

The remaining supplies, both of valencias and grapefruit, which are confined chiefly to the ridge section, will practically all be shipped by the larger marketing agencies which should insure a judicious distribution and the careful grade and pack so necessary to hold the interest of the trade to the end of the season.

The Herald delivered six times a week for 15c.

"THE GIRL FROM UPPER SEVEN"

On Wednesday and Thursday, May 9th and 10th, the Senior class of the High School will present the annual play, "The Girl From Upper Seven." This is one of the best plays ever selected for a high school cast. The play contains a mystery which is not solved till the last act. The wigs and costumes for this play have been rented from regular costumers. The comedy part is well taken by Byron Stephens as the Englishman, Victor McLaulin is the villain of the play, who pursues the beautiful heroine.

The choruses are worth the entire admission price. The Japanese chorus is in costume with special scenery. The Scotch chorus is also in costume and the girls sing a catchy little Scotch song and then dance the Highland Fling. The admission is the same as ever, 35c and 50c. Watch for the program.

"It Pays to Swim With the Current"

This is about two spark plugs. At the moment they are lying on the sales manager's desk in the establishment of a large middle-western hardware jobber.

One spark plug bears a name known wherever automobiles are used, the other a name seldom heard.

Both, says the sales manager, are good plugs. On the score of quality they run neck and neck.

"But," he adds, "we are discontinuing this line"—and he holds up the plug of unfamiliar name. "Yes, and our discount on it is larger, too."

"What's wrong with it? Not a thing. It's a good plug—mighty good plug, but—no one knows about it. It isn't advertised—the other one is. The demand is for the advertised make. And we've learned it—pays to swim with the current, not against it."

More and more jobbers in every line of business are learning every day that it pays to swim with the current of popular demand.

"Our job," said one jobber, "is to supply markets, not create them. Let the manufacturer make a market for his goods, and we will handle it."

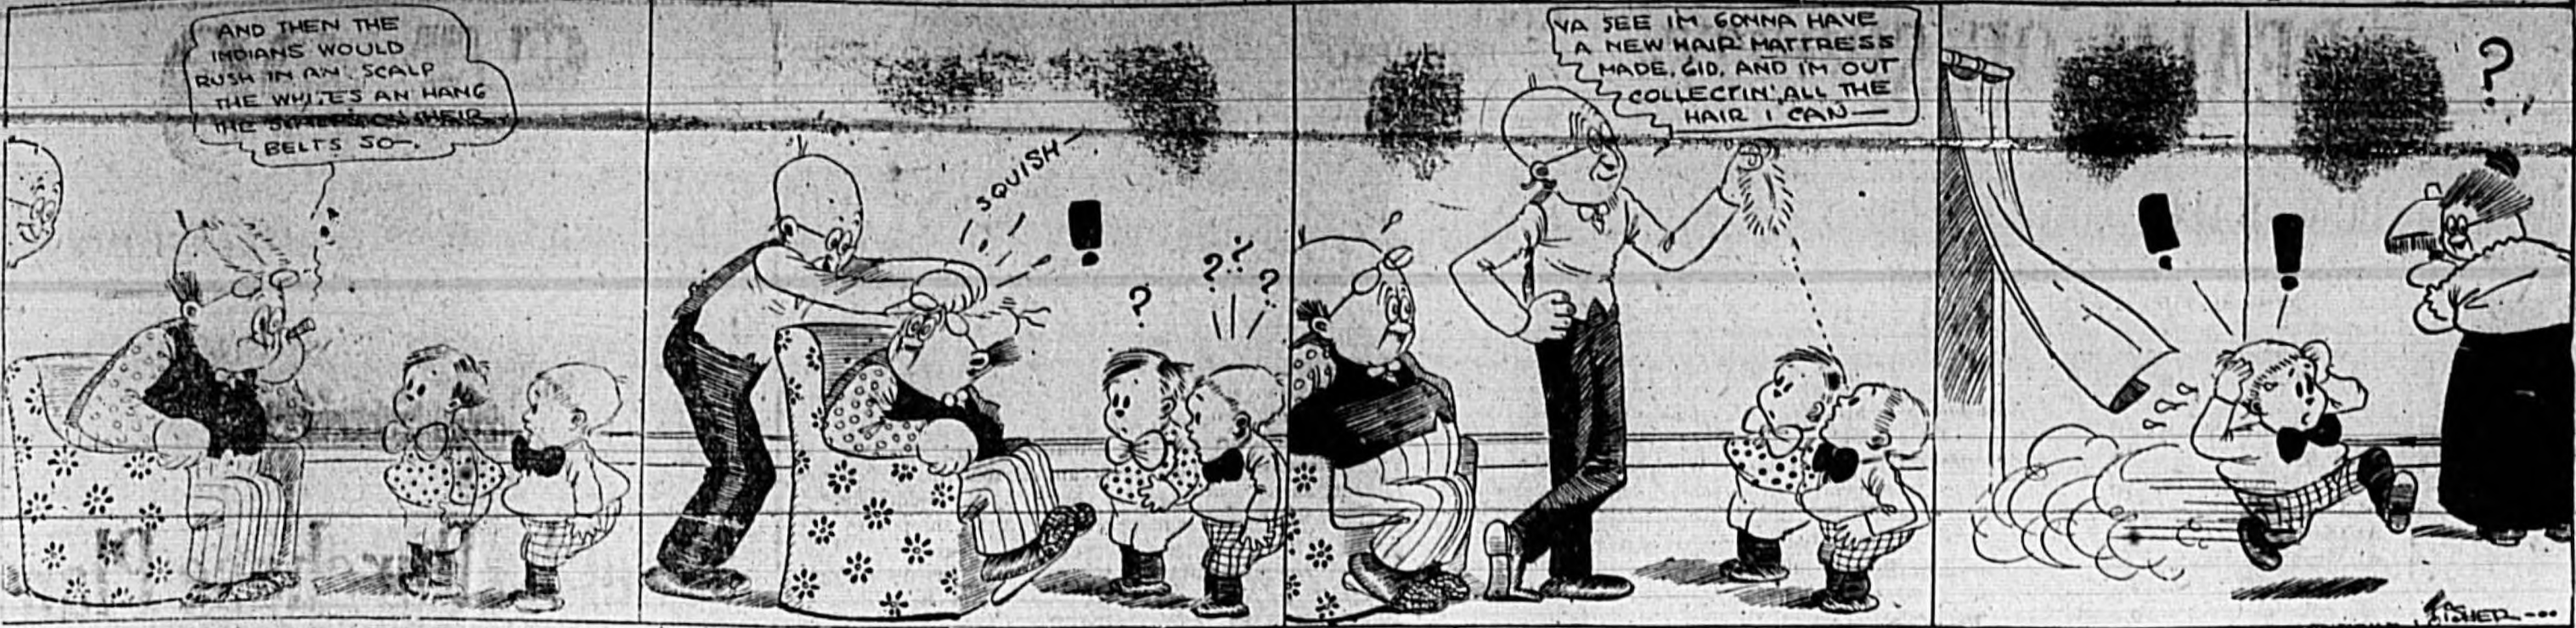

Said another—"Our salesmen carry a catalog with thousands of items in it. They haven't the time to push unadvertised goods. Their work is principally taking orders."

If you go among these wholesalers today to introduce a new product in competition with merchandise nationally advertised, unless the article is exceptional, you will be met everywhere by the injunction: "First go out and get a reputation for your goods through advertising."

The wholesaler knows by actual contact with dealers how they value speed of turnover, goods which move with a minimum of effort, goods people know about and ask for.

SIXTH WEEK LEGISLATURE ROLLED AROUND TODAY WITH NO ISSUES SETTLED
of the whip will abuse his authority in other ways. The solution is to maintain such a supervision that would eliminate the type of guard from the ranks."

On the other hand those advocates of banning the whip as in itself a relic of barbarism have not hanged one iota in their convictions but are ready to admit they are outnumbered in the upper body. These senators are willing to go the full length in the way of supervision but at the outset or at least foremost in the corrective legislation, they want a ban in big letters against the whip.

These are the conflicting views that the committee has to reconcile. The latest reports were that individually some of them were giving study to the North Carolina system of dividing convicts into three classes, the third class to be comprised of incorrigibles and they, only, subject to the lash.

The senate has done its half in the way of proffering a plan to the voters next year for reappointment, and the plan has gone over to the house. Tomorrow, that body has as a special order of business a bill that would effect reappointment at this reason to serve until the constitutional amendment took effect. The constitutional amendment plan is not expected to have so very much trouble. It went through the senate slowly but with its opposition confined to three or four members.

This immediate reappointment, however, is another thing. It is up against a strong profession of belief that this session has no constitutional right to reappointment. This ground is taken on the provisions of the constitution of 1885 that the legislature should reappoint every 10 years, on in the next instance in 1925. Those in favor of immediate reappointment, however, point to the clause providing that it shall be "the continuing duty" of the legislature to reappointment.

A proposed constitutional amendment looking to a change from the second choice vote system to one of the double primary passed quietly from second to third reading in the house Friday and is now way down the list on its third reading. The very fact, however, that so little attention was paid to the measure when it came up for purposes of amending last week, argues bad in the opinion of some, for its final outcome.

Tick eradication? Ah, the last time it was heard from, Friday afternoon, the conflicting interests had gotten together in an out of chamber compromise and agreed upon a plan. This plan is expected to take the shape of a committee bill to come out today or tomorrow on the senate side of the assembly. The plan as agreed upon, it is understood, would provide for a one mill tax levy to support it, and a reorganized live stock sanitary board, to be made up of cabinet members and four representatives of the cattlemen. Thereafter it would speak of eradication in terms of dipping and pasture rotation.

The joint appropriations committee should be about ready to turn the budget loose, some time this week. It has concluded its hearings on it. A house committee reported out favorably a bill by Representative Miller providing for an increase to two cents in the gasoline tax, and levying a $10 license tax on dealers, all of it except half of the license tax to go to the state road department. It also reported without recommendation other measures that would double the present gasoline tax but would split it evenly between the road department and the counties. These members in favor of increasing the road department's revenue assert that they will insist on a three cents tax if the county advocates insist on getting one cent.

...MAGIC NAMES...
The influence of advertising is apparent in every turn of my daily life. I find I cannot disregard it. It is always with me, guiding me in my pleasures and in my duties, telling me what I should eat, wear, and use and what I should buy for my family.

I find that there is on the tip of my tongue a multitude of names the mention of which will bring from some shelf nearly everything that I can use in my daily life and in the daily life of my family.

In every instance that name means a very definite promise and assurance of something substantial and which will make me feel completely satisfied about having exchanged my money for it.

Let me say a few things which these names—these old friends of the newspaper and magazine pages—mean to me.

They mean good taste. For certainly I desire to do the thing that I believe discriminating people have judged best.

They mean convenience. It is not necessary to describe the thing I want. Even the most intimate articles may be purchased without embarrassment since the advertisers have given us handy names.

They mean assurance in shopping. There is no indecision. Even before I enter the shop I know what I want to buy.

And certainly they mean satisfaction. For the advertiser whose product is not good cannot continue to advertise. The fact that I have seen a name repeated over and over again assures me that it stands for a product of quality. In speaking that name to the clerk I know I am asking for the best.

I am a more judicious shopper because I buy advertised goods. I patronize the shop that sells them.
