PETITION CRITICAL LOS ALAMOS, N. M.

LOS ALAMOS, N. M. — A petition from more than 200 Los Alamos atomic scientists strongly criticizes government handling of the case of Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer.

And, the scientists warned, the action taken against Oppenheimer may make it tough in the future for government laboratories with trained workers.

Girl Who Wrote To Martians Receives Avalanche Of Mail

The 9-year-old "Little Girl Who Wrote the Martians" is receiving a stream of letters offering advice, prayer, thanks and hope from all over the country.

"Linda Sue recently wrote her simple letter addressed to Mars. It said:

"What business I am writing about is to stop the earth people from fighting. All they have is war, war, war and I'm getting tired of it, in here."

The Martians never came. But grateful people answered for them. "Bless your heart and more power in you!" wrote a Santa Monica, Calif. woman. "Keep up your courage and believe in your ideals. Surely it is a thrill to know that a child has the vision of what is right."

A young boy from Mobile, Ala., who doesn't want Linda Sue's schoolmates to laugh at her, wrote: "I am the Martian you wrote in and I would like to also write to the earth too. I'm afraid I can't come to your city but I can write to you."

The lad asked Linda Sue to draw a map showing where he should land his space ship. On the bottom of the letter was a

Cohn Testifies Adams Used Schine As Threat

McCarthy Aide Says He Thought Army Counsel 'Nasty' In Matter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Roy M. Cohn testified today Army Counsel John G. Adams coupled talk of sending Paul G. David Schine overseas with efforts to halt the McCarthy subcommittee investigations of Ft. Monmouth, N. J., and the Army loyalty board.

Cohn, under questioning by Army counsel Joseph N. Welch in the 30th day of the Army-McCarthy hearings, said Adams left an impression that "what happened to Schine depended on what Adams thought."

Cohn insisted he didn't care whether or not Schine went overseas, but said he thought Adams had been "nasty" about it.

Adams testified that Cohn flew into a rage and threatened to "screw" the Army, when told Schine probably would be sent overseas as most draftees were. He quoted Cohn as saying also that Robert T. Stevens would be through as Secretary of the Army. Cohn has denied making such statements.

The Senate investigations subcommittee got back to the meat of the controversy between Sen. McCarthy and Army officials after a renewal of the continuing clash between McCarthy and Sen. Sam Rayburn (D-Mo.).

At the outset of the 30th day of hearings, Sam Rayburn offered to testify as a witness in this case if McCarthy will let a special senate committee investigate the Wilson subcommittee's financial dealings.

There was a hot exchange in which McCarthy said he was willing but declined to sign a formal agreement proffered by Sam Rayburn.

Members of the subcommittee were still talking a quick wind up of the hearings, but McCarthy told reporters he probably will ask for a two-week recess when Cohn leaves this week end for National Guard training at Camp Kilmer, N. J.

"That is my present plan," McCarthy said. "I'll want him here. Roy knows more about this case than any body else. We won't ask for any deferment of Roy (from training) at all."

Body Studying Two Proposals

The County board of commissioners are today investigating the proposed establishment of a boat landing in Lake Monroe and at Johnson's park at joining State Road 46.

Mrs. R. E. Mitchell and Chandler Vail of the Sanford Boat and Club together with Forrest Breckenridge, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, have informed the commission that Francis P. Whitehead of the State road board, has expressed his willingness to spend approximately $1000 for the building of a boat landing in the lake.

The landing, if built will be located just south of the Highway 17-92 bridge over the St. Johns River, according to Breckenridge.

The two men and one woman requested that the county help make the area attractive, and added that more than 400 boats are expected to take part in the Seminole Indian Cruise to be held July 15.

Forster Lansing, president of the Seminole Sportsman's Association, proposed that the commission allocate money in turn a five-acre tract of dedicated land bordering the Wekiva River into a public park.

Stanford Physicist Will Head Center

PAISO ALTO, CALIF. — Nobel prize winning physicist Felix Bloch has been granted a leave from the Stanford faculty to become head of the new European Nuclear Research Center.

Prof. Bloch will assume the new post in Geneva, Switzerland, where the center is being created for non-military research by 12 nations.

A letter of praise arrived from the 52nd call letters for the 12th annual Science Fiction Convention, to be held soon in California.

"We can't promise you that there will be any martians present," the letter said.

However, it made Linda Sue an honorary member for the convention and invited her to attend.

The letters keep coming. In the hope Linda Sue won't give up her dream and will go ahead with her plans to see the Martians "in my own spaceship," Linda Sue's mother, Mrs. Arthur Russell, said.

"Linda Sue and I will try to answer as many letters as we can. We feel very thankful for them."

An editor in a New Bedford, Mass., newspaper, enclosed by a grand mother (an old one), seemed to sum up the thoughts of most of those writing Linda Sue.

"In the meantime, the rest of the inhabitants of this wretched earth may be assured that peace, with or without help from outer space, is far from unobtainable as long as there exist the faith and hope of a rising generation typified by Linda Sue."

NATO Commander Warns Russians Against Attacking

LONDON (AP) — NATO supreme commander in Europe, Gen. Alfred M. Gunder, warned Russia last night that the West will meet a Soviet attack with "heavy weapons in our arsenal" including atomic bombs.

"We are not thinking of using the use of atomic bombs in the support of our ground troops. We also utilize the use of atomic bombs on targets in enemy territory," Gunder told a 10-day anniversary dinner at which Prime Minister Churchill also spoke and the Duke of Edinburgh presided.

If war with Russia should come this year, the NATO commander said, "the Soviet Union should be defeated."

"I do not want to say we would use atomic bombs in a third world war. There would be no winner in that war," he said.

But at present, he said, the West have no answer to the Soviet big American B-47 jet bomber "a plane which can fly as fast and so high that there is no defense against it in 1954."

Gunder said that the B-47 which recently flew the Atlantic coast in 20 minutes.

He said that if the Russians would permit their defense effort, it would impede European peace and if differently split the Atlantic would lead to "general arm and disarmament."

Kiwianians Make Plans For Trip

Final plans were made at today's regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Sanford Kiwanis Club for the organization's boat trip to Blue Springs located on the St. Johns River.

Scheduled to leave at 3 p.m. next Wednesday, the group will return by the light of the moon, which will be full that night. The two boats to be used for the trip will leave from the Brumley Boat House at the foot of Celery Ave., according to Ed Lane, chairman.

Those members who cannot join the boaters because of business reasons may register at the Sanford Western Union office. "If this is done no makeup meeting will be necessary," Lane commented.

Douglas Stenstrom, president, A. C. Wilson and Robert Strickland, vice-president, reported on the 30th annual International Kiwanis convention, which they attended recently as delegates of the Sanford group. The convales was held in Miami.

Mrs. Roosevelt Plans Russia Trip

WASHINGTON—The State Department confirmed yesterday that Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt has reported plans to visit Russia within the next few weeks.

Department officials said Mrs. Roosevelt has a diplomatic-type passport. Such documents are issued to former presidents and their wives as a courtesy.

It was understood Mrs. Roosevelt would visit Moscow in July by way of Finland on assignment by Look Magazine. It was reported Look has commissioned her to write a series of stories about conditions inside the Soviet Union.

The assignment was first disclosed by a spokesman for the magazine. State Department officials said Mrs. Roosevelt notified them of her plans within the last few weeks. They said this notification was in line with U. S. government requirements that passports be especially validated for any travel in Russia or the Iron Curtain countries. In addition visas are required from the countries to be visited.

Returned Veteran Has Assumed King-Sized Project With City

A. K. Shoemaker, recently returned from duty with the Armed Forces in Korea, has tackled a king-sized job upon his return to civilian life.

He is in the process of contacting hundreds of local residents in areas slated for improvement of water and sewerage facilities to get permission to pile dirt on their properties from excavations. Permits are in mimeographed form and each must be signed.

It's been rather a slow, tedious process.

Keen Churchill

Professionals never like it when amateurs dabble in their fields. This comes out in the newest volume of the British official history of the recent war. Dealing with the naval operations in the Norwegian campaign of 1940, it makes it clear that the navy did not admire all the activities of Winston Churchill, then First Lord of the Admiralty. He took an active part in directing British operations in Norwegian waters, and did not hesitate to change his mind. This led Vice Admiral W. J. Whitworth to protest that he had now been given three different objectives.

Churchill was never one to sit by idly when he thought that he had better ideas than those doing an assignment. Holding the First Lordship of the Admiralty in World War I, he constantly overruled his professional advisers. As premier, he was continually doing the same thing.

In his justification it may be said that in the majority of cases his intervention was helpful in the Norwegian campaign it may not have been.

Looking to the future, the observer would be safe in predicting that Churchill will never change his spots, and will be active in offering suggestions and orders in future crises as he has been in the past.

War Writers Return To Normandy

VOUILLY, France (AP)—Everyone returning to Normandy this week—10 years after the allied landings began—has something particular he wants to see here.

With some soldiers it's a bridge they helped build, or a ravine that sheltered them under heavy fire, or a family that was kind to them when they were homeless.

But to many of 42 war correspondents down here by Pan American World Airways the thing they looked forward to seeing most was Grandma.

She is Mme. Alexandrine Hamel, 78-year-old widow and family matriarch of the Vouilly Chateau, which dates back to the 11th Century. During the first few critical weeks of the Normandy campaign, Mme. Hamel's Chateau served as press headquarters of the American First Army.

It was a trying, dangerous and anxious time for everybody. A number of correspondents got hurt, a few got killed, and they all got scared. But nothing could shake the calm of Grandma Hamel, a white-haired, apple-cheeked woman, merry-faced but showing always an air of inner strength.

The correspondents slept and ate in tents in a nearby cow pasture. They wrote their stories, however, and fought the Army censors in two rooms within the chateau.

Every night Mme. Hamel stood smiling in the background as her son, Dumilly, who had been a prisoner of the Germans three years, laid the work tables with glasses of milk and plates of cookies for the dusty correspondents. Ernie Pyle became a favorite customer.

When the war moved deeper into France and the press headquarters had to be moved on, Mme. Hamel (she had about it. We had come to love the wonderful old chateau, and she had come to feel toward us, she said, as if we were her own grandsons.

And so, as a group of us talked about going back to visit the chateau this week, it was with a mixture of love and fear. For what if Mme. Hamel were gone, and new faces came to the door? Our trek back would have a lonesome ending.

No need to worry. Grandmas like Mme. Hamel are all but deathless in Normandy. They have the lasting qualities of the old stone homes they dwell in.

As we drove into the courtyard, she ran out and hugged us. I got a big kiss and so did Byrman of the Philadelphia Inquirer and bearded Jack Thompson of the Chicago Tribune.

Mme. Hamel showed us she still had the sign up—"Copy Room"—on the chamber in which we had written about the war so many years ago. But that and a canteen floating in the chateau moat were the only visible remnants of the war.

After toasting the past in some very Meem Hamel's fine young calvados—in the old days we used to call it the "breakfast of champions"—she told us the years had been kind to her, except for a bit of arthritis in her wrists.

At each place, Shoemaker has had to explain each permit before it is signed. The general public can help in this big undertaking by acquainting itself with the provision of the permits in order that they need not be explained to all whom Shoemaker makes his calls, then saving time and effort. The Herald is cooperating in this project by printing detailed information concerning these permits.

County Agent's Column

Way Down South In Sanford, Florida

By C. R. DAWSON, BSA, MSA.
COLD DAY IN JUNE — The Dealer Sales Developer published by the Florida Power and Light Company reports 1005 oil house heaters sold in Bada County in June.

WDBO-TV — The long awaited Orlando television station has put a test pattern on the air. This is a temporary signal for the benefit of the installation engineers, who are as yet using only the driver stage of the transmitter with a power of 23 kilowatts, which is about one fifth the operating power to come when the installation is complete, and the regular programing starts. This date is down the road some where—anyway, base ball fans are hereby informed that the games will be on every Saturday afternoon.

WHAT'S IN A NAME — Question always coming up, "Whats this Nabam?" "What this Zineb?" Well, it's all very simple — Nabam is disodium ethylene bisdithiocarbamate and is sold under trade names, Parsate Liquid, Dithane D-14 and Zineb is zinc ethylene bisdithiocarbamate and is sold under the trade names Parsate, Dithane Z-78.

ORANGES — Still hear the question "Why don't we have a concentrate plant built at Sanford?" Well it's a good question, and maybe you have a good answer. It takes millions of dollars to set up facilities for canning and concentrating citrus juices, and to keep these facilities operating. One concentrator paid 9 million dollars for fruit last year.

BUNNY FOOD — California produced 62 percent of the United States lettuce crop last year. Great Lakes variety is the favorite now. It took 7 years to meet the expanding demand for the seed.

TIMELY — Making hay while the sun shines is a time-tested saying, but in Florida it may be better to make allage—whether or not the sun is shining.

Too Late To Classify

By RUSSELL KAY
There are no national holidays in the United States? Does that statement startle you? It did me. But it is a fact. The states have jurisdiction over the designation of holidays. That's why they conflict in different states, are observed in some and not in others.

This holiday problem has been a headache to industry, labor and school authorities for a long time. When holidays occur in the middle of the week it is a matter of record that absenteeism in industry and in our schools is high. Many who do show up for work or for classes are not in shape to work or study; they have hangers-on, headaches, are amburmed or otherwise incapacitated.

In view of this fact the National Association of Travel Organizations has started a movement to relieve the situation by providing for more long weekend holidays and the idea is catching on. If more holidays could be switched to Monday it would provide three-day vacation periods instead of one-day in the case of such observances as the Fourth of July, Thanksgiving, Armistice Day, Memorial Day or Washington's Birthday.

There really is no necessity for attempting to observe specific dates for historical occasions, because the dates celebrated are of ten obscure or questionable. We celebrate July 4, but history reveals that John Hancock actually signed the Declaration of Independence on July 2. Wouldn't it make more sense and be just as patriotic to designate the first Monday in July as Independence Day and make it uniform in all states? It would insure a three day vacation period giving more time for rest and recreation.

AEC Security Being Considered

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's hard to cause astonishment with new misgivings about Communist infiltration of the government. This city has become a breeding ground for doubt and suspicion.

But it happens. It happened twice within a few days and in both cases, one real and one imaginary, the misgivings involved the Atomic Energy Commission, which directs the nation's whole atomic program.

Early last week a special board of inquiry, headed by Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, one of the world's great theoretical physicists, was loyal, highly discreet, a great keeper of secrets but...

The board decided 21 Oppenheimer no longer should be entrusted with secret information by the AEC. Oppenheimer directed this country's development of the A-bomb during the war and has been a consultant to the AEC ever since. The full five-man AEC has decided to review the board's ruling.

A few days later Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-N.Y.) raised a neighboring question about the AEC, whose members are picked by the President himself.

This was it, suppose someday one or more of the five commissioners should turn out to be a security risk and not entitled to all the atomic information given the other commissioners.

Cole is chairman of the Senate House Committee on Atomic Energy, which acts as watchdog on the AEC.

The committee is considering an administration bill to make some changes in the basic Atomic Energy Act passed in 1946. All five members of the AEC have testified.

One of them, Thomas E. Murray, said he would like the law, if it is amended, to say clearly that all members of the commission shall have equal authority and responsibility and full access to all information.

Murray, together with Henry D. Smyth and Eugene M. Zuckert, has been appointed to the commission by former President Truman. President Eisenhower has appointed the other two, Adm. Lewis L. Strauss and Joseph Campbell.

The three Truman appointees voiced fear that some of the language in the bill—saying the chairman, in this case Strauss, should be the "principal officer"—would make Strauss a czar and cut the other members out of some vital decisions.

Murray expressed opposition to this idea and complained that Strauss had taken a number of actions without consulting the other members.

At this point Cole stepped in to say he was willing for the law to say all the members of the commission should have equal responsibility and authority, as Murray suggested. But he added:

"I am not quite so willing to accept the latter part of it (Murray's suggestion that all five members have equal access to information)."

Why shouldn't all five commissioners, if they're going to run the atomic energy program, have full knowledge of what's being planned and done?

Cole said because it would "render helpless a commission which at some time in the future by majority vote might determine that one or two of the five commissioners should not have certain information."

At this point Rep. Carl Albert (D-Calif.) said he was "astounded." He asked Cole if he meant to suggest that certain members of the AEC might be considered loyal and discreet but a security risk.

Calcium Helps Treat Deadly Spider's Bite

By HERMAN N. BUNDESIN, M.D.
BLACK widow spider bites have been reported in all states of the union except Vermont. It is not just a phenomenon of the southern or western states. The black widow spider bite may cause serious illness in the victim.

Female the Victim
The female is the only one that inflicts its bite on humans. It can be recognized by the characteristic hourglass red spot on its abdomen.

The venom of the black widow spider is 15 times as potent as that of the rattlesnake. The original bite or sting is only felt for a few seconds or minutes. Usually a person will not even remember being bitten unless questioned about it. From two minutes to two hours later, there is a return of pain over and around the site of the bite.

The Agony Begins
Then the person feels excruciating, agonizing, cramping pain of the abdomen. The pain is almost as that of a ruptured ulcer or a kidney stone. Many times this disease is mistaken for appendicitis. In severe cases, the person may have convulsions, paralysis, shock, severe nausea and vomiting, as well as a bluish color to the skin and shortness of breath.

Calcium is of great help in treating this disease. This is an antivenom available. This antivenom has proven to be life saving in many instances.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED
Q: Can the color of paint or varnish cause an attack of asthma?

Sanford Navy Team Captures 14-5 Win From Local Giants

Don Jones and Bill Garreau each hit one home run to help the Sanford Navy Indians defeat the local Sanford Giants 14-5 last night at the end of the fifth inning. The Indians had defeated the Giants. They did it earlier by a score of 17-3. Ed Johnson was the big gun for the Giants. He rapped an inside left field home run. The game started at a rapid pace and before the top of the third inning, the Navy team lead by a 4-1 score. The score became 9-1 at the end of the fifth inning. Then the Indians rallied for five more runs, while the Giants scored one more and the game ended 14-5 with Navy winning.

The Giants pitcher gave up two doubles and a home run to account for the Navy's first three runs. It was Don Jones who hit the first four batters of the day over the left field fence. The Giants came fighting back in the bottom of the first and scored one run on a double and a walk.

The Navy nine hit three more hits in the top of the second to score three more runs and in the bottom of the second to score three more runs and in the bottom of the third to score three more runs and in the bottom of the fourth to score three more runs and in the bottom of the fifth to score three more runs and in the bottom of the sixth to score three more runs and in the bottom of the seventh to score three more runs and in the bottom of the eighth to score three more runs and in the bottom of the ninth to score three more runs.

The first is George Kell, whom Chicago recently obtained from the Boston Red Sox. The veteran pinched a two-run homer in last night's game to cap a five-run seventh inning for the Sox. It was Kell who hit a single in the first inning to start a two-run rally.

Second reason is left-handed pitcher Bill Pierce, who rejoined the club last night. Pierce had two teeth removed in Chicago and underwent diathermy treatments for a sore arm. He said his arm now feels better than at any other time this season.

The first major league to hit three home runs in one game was Adrian C. (Pop) Anson of the Chicago Cubs in 1884.

White Sox Jump Into American League Lead

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Chicago White Sox were perched atop the American League standings today, but Manager Paul Richards was unperturbed by it all. "We expected to get there," he said, "and we expect to stay there."

The Chicagoans' 11th-place lead in the American League is a result of a 9-3 win over the Washington Senators 5-2 last night. It was the first time the Sox had been on top since May 15.

There's nothing unusual, either, about the Sox's current six-game winning streak, Richards said. "They're just playing the way they can play." The team's present chances, he said, "are exactly what I thought before—they're good."

He cites a couple of good reasons: "The first is George Kell, whom Chicago recently obtained from the Boston Red Sox. The veteran pinched a two-run homer in last night's game to cap a five-run seventh inning for the Sox. It was Kell who hit a single in the first inning to start a two-run rally.

Cardinals Meet Longwood Tonight In Local Stadium

Sports Roundup

NEW YORK (AP)—The utter nonsense involved in attempting to judge a prize fight accurately, providing that the principals are fairly evenly matched, was never better illustrated than in the widely televised number between Joey Maxim, the former 175-pound champion, and Floyd Patterson, the Olympic Games phenom, in Brooklyn the other night.

A few more like that and the home expert, who has been conscientiously learning to score jobs and hooks, will be fully justified in throwing away his lead pencil. If the men who make their living at it can't come within a country mile of agreeing on a winner, what chance has an outsider of attaining any degree of skill at the same parlor game? It's frustrating.

At the end of eight rounds of spirited milling before a small captive audience and untold millions of television fans, the three ring officials agreed unanimously that Maxim, the somewhat blubbery veteran, had scored a clear-cut victory over the 19-year-old Negro, who had won his first 13 bouts at a professional.

One of the judges, Arthur Susskind, who fought as young Otto and is considered to be one of the soundest officials in these parts, voted the Maxim ticket 7-1. The other judge, Joe Eppy, made it 5-3. Referee Ruby Goldstein, who was the closest of anybody to the verdict, slipped Joey past the promising kid 4-3-1.

There was considerable boing at the verdict, but the commentator on the radio said soothly that the sounds you heard came from Patterson's friends and neighbors. He implied that any disagreement with the verdict was not to be taken too seriously.

Clustered around the ringside, however, were 11 boxing writers representing New York City newspapers at the wire services. For possibly the first time in history, the 11 were found to be in complete agreement, and aggressively so. They agreed that Patterson had whipped Maxim, by margins ranging up to 6-2.

Sanford Cardinal will meet the Longwood Blue Caps tonight in Memorial Stadium at 8:30 p. m. The contest will be a Central Florida League game and will be the third time that these two teams have met.

Sanford is currently in third place in the CFL with a 5-4 record. Longwood is right behind the Cardinals with a 5-5 record. Sanford defeated Longwood 8-5 and then found themselves on the wrong end of a 7-2 decision the next time they met.

Before losing a close 4-1 contest to the Pinecastle Airmen, Sanford had been riding a four game winning streak. Longwood might be considered as the choke-up team of the league. They have come close to winning ball games and then have blown up in the late innings.

"Big" Bill Crabtree will be in there swinging the bat marked with extra base hits. Also aiding Bill will be the powerful hitting of Fulton Baxley and Ret "Habe" Hires.

Gene Pennington will be swinging for the singles and doubles, while Pete Schirard will worry the opponents with his funny tactics. Longwood will be relying on their ace pitcher, Ted Brooklyn to cool off the hot Cardinals. Also manager Jim Payne will be swinging for fences for Longwood. Payne is the only person in the Central Florida League that has hit a home run in Memorial Stadium in league competition.

A huge crowd of local people and Longwood customers are expected at the ball game. Longwood always brings along their cheering section, while Sanford should have quite a nice crowd for the game.

Manager Buddy Lake is thinking about starting Charley Thomas on the mound for the Cardinals. So far Thomas has compiled a nifty 3-2 record this year. Also Lake is considering himself and George Kenis splitting up the nine inning game. Lake would pitch five and Kenis four.

If Longwood can overcome the Cardinals in two games they will be in third place. The Cardinals,

Strikes By Transit Workers, Truckers Bring Crippling Blows To City's Economy

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Two clouded labor disputes involving less than 7,000 employees are striking bitter blows to the economy of this industrial metropolis—the largest city in the nation.

A four-week old transit strike is keeping thousands of shoppers away from Pittsburgh's business district as well as harassing an estimated 200,000 commuters.

A second and much older strike of 12 AFL unions against the city's five biggest department stores has all truck deliveries and puts picket lines in front of the stores.

Adding to the complicated labor picture are current contract talks between the basic steel industry and the big CIO United Steelworkers. Pittsburgh is the heart of the nation's steel business.

Current labor trouble dates back to Nov. 27 that's when the AFL General Teamsters Union walked off the job at five department stores.

Within a few weeks—as Christmas shopping reached a peak—11 other AFL-affiliated unions pulled members off the job at the department stores—leaving 1,000.

On May 9 the trolley and bus stopped running.

The 2,700 bus and trolley operators demanded that Pittsburgh Railways Co. up their $1.98 an hour pay by 30 cents. The company refused on grounds it could not afford a 10 percent raise.

Despite hundreds of additional autos rolling into the city each day now, traffic moves smoothly—a little slower maybe, but smoothly.

An atmosphere of friendliness prevails along the highways leading to town. Motorists stop to pick up stranded commuters until their autos are filled.

The trolley company estimated the dispute is costing striking workers $250,000 a week in lost pay and the firm is spending $11,000 a day for maintenance without taking a cent.

Speakers for the five struck department stores admit business is off but decline to release figures.

A. H. Burchfield, president of the Chamber of Commerce, estimated the department stores' business was off about twice as much as in other big cities before the transit stop. He added:

"Since the transportation strike, it has gotten much worse. Strikes hurt everybody. The worker, the company and the city."

Several restaurants have quit serving evening meals. Managers say people who used to stay in the city after work now hurry home while rides are available.

One television station discontinued live programs and said unfavorable business conditions played a major part in the decision.

Crucial to the department stores' dispute seems to center around the General Teamsters demands to decide when delivery trucks need helpers and when stores shall use parcel post for deliveries.

The old contract, with such a clause, expired in November and management has refused to discuss the issue as part of any new contract. Pay and other monetary demands also are involved, but the union and management have never got around to discussing them.

There have been several incidents of minor violence—big store windows smashed, some officials' homes sprayed with paint and a

Florida Power & Light Plans Much Expansion

Official Says Plant Potential, Capital Set-Up May Be More Than Doubled
NEW YORK — The Florida Power & Light Co. expects to more than double its plant capability and its capital structure in the next eight years. This was revealed by J. C. Grew Smith, chairman of the board, in an address before the New York Society of Security Analysts labeled "Florida's 'Grew Some' Story."

Plant capacity at the end of 1953, Smith said, was 602,000 KW. and capitalization was $189 million. By 1961 the company expects plant capability to approximate 1,500,000 KW with capitalization of about $435 million.

Investigators Probe Mystery Man's Actions In Scheme

BARTOW, Fla. — Investigators went to work today digging into the actions of a mystery man in the Florida version of Murder, Inc.
This man, a Pensacola resident, was a go-between in what County Solicitor Clifton Kelly has described as a plot to murder three wealthy persons for profit.
In rapid fire order since Monday there have been these developments:

1. Sheriff Pat Gordon staged a fake abduction of one of the intended victims, Mrs. Byron Rotech of Lake Wales, 51-year-old blonde widow, to make the principals think their orders had been carried out.

2. Gordon arrested Emmett Donnelly, well-known Lake Wales attorney, and Willard Durkin, Orlando building contractor, on (Continued On Page Six)

Growers-Shippers Meet In Orlando

The 31st annual banquet of the Growers & Shippers League of Florida was held yesterday at the Orange Court Hotel with members of the Florida Citrus Commission, Florida Citrus Processors Association, Citrus Processors Association, and many growers and shipping organizations throughout the state.
Gordon C. Stedman, secretary-manager, heads the Orlando office. Other officers of the league are R. D. Robinson, Orlando, treasurer; R. V. Phillips, Haines City, Phil C. Peters, Winter Garden, and Gen. J. C. Hutchison, Sanford, vice-presidents; Gordon C. Stedman, secretary-manager, and Mrs. Jane B. Hunter, Orlando, assistant secretary-assistant treasurer.
Names of newly elected officers are not yet available.

Jap Captain Says Russians Beat Him

TOKYO (AP)—A Japanese fishing boat captain released by the Russians yesterday said he had been beaten with a leather whip by Russian soldiers in the state of Kyushu.
Kyushu news agency said two small fishing boats returned to Rausu in Hokkaido, Japan's northernmost main island. They were seized by the Soviets May 27. Twelve crewmen were aboard released boats. They reported they had been held on one of the Russian-held Kuril Islands, north of Hokkaido.
They said at least 10 Japanese fishing boats and crews still were held in the area.

Fifth Air Force Collects $4,600 To Assist 'Child Piano Prodigy'

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Tony H. (Tony) Han and a couple of friends plan to leave here today on a trip that will end with the young Korean in New York's famed Juilliard School of Music.
Tony, his friends say, is a child piano prodigy, and the 5th Air Force has put up some $4,600 to prove it.
Cuthshaw told Tony's story while Anderson modestly excluded himself from any part in the drama.
Cuthshaw said he was really the general who started the ball rolling.
It happened this way, Cuthshaw said: Tony and his family lived in North Korea before the war began there. In 1948, the Russians confiscated all the family's furniture, including the piano.
The family moved to Seoul and later, when the fighting started, to Pusan. Tony's father, a musician, taught the boy to play the piano.
Last October, the manager of the 5th Air Force Theater in Seoul heard the boy playing the piano. He put him on the program.
Anderson heard the performance and was so impressed that he sent the 1st on a tour of Air Force installations.

HAROLD JACKSON, 52, launches an abusive harangue shortly after he had been sentenced to a closed session made by Gov. Robert Kenyon of Louisiana.
"We believe in putting things out on the table and letting everybody hear," Gov. John said. He said that in the future meetings of the Florida pardon board would be open.
Gov. Kenyon's motion was adopted, however, with only the votes of the Florida delegation noted in opposition by newsmen.
Gov. Thomas B. Stanley of Virginia was elected chairman of the conference on motion of Gov. James Byrnes of South Carolina.
The program included a lecture by Walter Lawrence, executive assistant to Gov. Stanley, remain in the session and advise the press later on actions taken.
John said today "complete segregation" will be "maintained in our public schools" as long as he is the chief executive of Florida.
John said "we believe in social progress" and "that we do not believe that progress can be obtained through coercive judicial means."
In a prepared statement distributed to newsmen as the conference opened, John said:
"Although the racial issue seems to be the most in the limelight, and is, of course, of paramount importance, we must also consider the impact of the recent Supreme Court decision upon the sovereignty of the various states of the United States, and the constitutional obligations of various states, some of which are even older than the United States Constitution, are a thing of the past, it provisions" (Continued On Page Four)

Dulles Turns Down British, French Arguments On War

SEATTLE, Wash. — Secretary of State Dean Acheson today rejected British and French arguments that the United Nations should not act in Indochina while peace negotiations with the Communists are under way.
He appeared in effect for speedy action by the U.N. Security Council to send a peace observation commission to Southeast Asia, asserting that "knowledge has never yet been an impediment to honest negotiations."
Dulles did not mention Britain and France by name but U.S. diplomats in Washington said the nations have been the principal source of arguments which Dulles said have "little validity."
In a speech prepared for the international Rotary convention here, Dulles discussed major topics of American foreign policy with emphasis on these points:
1. Today there is perhaps "too much difference between the minds of the non-Communist world." Dulles deplored the lack of unity but said it is probably inevitable in the development of common policies among free nations. He particularly referred to differences about action to save Indochina from Communist rule.
2. He renewed his warning to Western Europe generally and Italy and France particularly that "there may have to be a basic shift in United States policy" (Continued On Page Six)

Three Local FFA Members To Go To Convention

Three Sanford members of the Future Farmers of America and County Director W. B. West, together with more than 500 representatives of other FFA clubs, will attend the 26th annual FFA state convention at Daytona Beach, June 14-18.
State School Superintendent Thomas D. Bailey said representatives from 14 FFA chapters are expected. There are 8,816 members in 144 FFA chapters in 60 Florida counties.
During the convention, the school-boy-farmers will compete in various contests for cash prizes totaling $4,192, eight cost-free trips to the National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Mo., in October and six scholarships to the University of Florida.
New officers will be elected at the meet and 108 Future Farmers will receive State Farmer Degrees, highest FFA award. Seventeen prominent citizens from Florida and other Southern states will receive honorary membership in the FFA for their contribution toward the development of agriculture and the FFA.
Six school girls, representing FFA Chapters, will compete for the title of FFA Sweetheart and $150 in prizes.
Members to attend from Seminole County are A. J. Clements, Harry Lee and Betty Thompson, according to Director West.

Senatorial Vacancy Cause Of Speculation In Sanford

In an effort to check rumors today abounding over Sanford, a local who will and will not run for the State senator's seat left vacant by the recent death of Senator Lloyd F. Boyle, a Sanford Herald staff writer yesterday checked with the names most prominently mentioned.
A prominent name mentioned in conversations over the past week is that of Seminole County's 32-year-old County Judge, Douglas Stenstrom.
In an interview held at his office in the Court House yesterday, Stenstrom stated: "I do not believe that this is the time to make an announcement, but I will have a press release as soon as the governor declares a vacancy in the Senate."
The judge is well known for his work with the County's children over the past six years and is a member of several civic organizations.
Another prominent person is Mark Cleveland Jr., State representative and new County Attorney.
Early this morning, Cleveland stated that in view of the fact that all indications point to another man running he would refrain from qualifying in order not to spill the vote and keep the senatorial seat in the county.
Sheriff E. E. Brady, whose name is continually mentioned by the county's elderly residents, this morning stated: "When the governor officially announces a vacancy in Tallahassee, I'll have an immediate statement."
Brady is a long time resident of Seminole County and has served two terms in the State legislature. He is 76 years old and was born in Georgia.

Governors Consider Sticking To Foreign Trade Program

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Governors and representatives of 15 states where schools are segregated voted to go into closed session today to consider the Supreme Court's ruling that the practice is violative of the United States Constitution.
Acting Governor Charley Johns of Florida objected to barring the press, and asked to be included as opposing the motion for a closed session made by Gov. Robert Kenyon of Louisiana.
"We believe in putting things out on the table and letting everybody hear," Gov. John said. He said that in the future meetings of the Florida pardon board would be open.
Gov. Kenyon's motion was adopted, however, with only the votes of the Florida delegation noted in opposition by newsmen.
Gov. Thomas B. Stanley of Virginia was elected chairman of the conference on motion of Gov. James Byrnes of South Carolina.
The program included a lecture by Walter Lawrence, executive assistant to Gov. Stanley, remain in the session and advise the press later on actions taken.
John said today "complete segregation" will be "maintained in our public schools" as long as he is the chief executive of Florida.
John said "we believe in social progress" and "that we do not believe that progress can be obtained through coercive judicial means."
In a prepared statement distributed to newsmen as the conference opened, John said:
"Although the racial issue seems to be the most in the limelight, and is, of course, of paramount importance, we must also consider the impact of the recent Supreme Court decision upon the sovereignty of the various states of the United States, and the constitutional obligations of various states, some of which are even older than the United States Constitution, are a thing of the past, it provisions" (Continued On Page Four)

Festivities Accompany Lions' Installation At Bear Lake

"And a good time was had by all." That's a quotation that describes last night's annual installation of officers of the Sanford Lions Club at Bear Lake.
The installation activities were attended by more than 40 people who seemed to enjoy themselves immensely from the chicken barbecue dinner through the dancing and up to the old-fashioned song fest, which evolved itself spontaneously.
In making his end-of-the-year report, Past President Volie Williams spoke briefly on the organization's accomplishment. The list is impressive.
The Lions began the year by sponsoring a new Lions Club for Orange City, Fla., the new group organization, which is headed by Bob Hufford, who attended last night's ceremonies with his wife, has approximately 20 members.
Another feather in the cap of Local Lions is that the group, under the leadership of Jack Morrison and Ben Wade, completed its 27th consecutive year of work with the Junior Baseball League. This is a state record.
With money derived from the sale of gum, the group bought

Eisenhower Says Sticking To Foreign Trade Program

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Eisenhower said today nothing could be further from the truth than statements that he is backing away from his foreign trade program calling for a reduction of tariffs.
Eisenhower told his news conference the fact he has now asked for a simple one-year extension of the reciprocal trade act, instead of trying to do an original request in the next year, is not a sign of wavering. He said 15 per cent of the 1954-55 program mean he is sticking to the program.
"There has been a suggestion by Democrats that the President is wavering on the trade program without a trial."
The House Ways and Means Committee today unanimously approved the one-year extension of the President's authority to make trade agreements with other nations. The House is likely to act on it tomorrow and the senate perhaps next week.
On other matters the President had this to say at his news conference:
"Communism. What he personally fears more than anything in the Free World's struggle against Communism is the possibility of a failure to look the danger squarely in its broad face. Eisenhower said emphatically the United States cannot achieve its aims by military force alone. It must be the psychological, political and intellectual basis for the intervention designed to help the Free World in the battle against the forces of Communism."
Secret information — Eisenhower said the loyalty and obedience to the provisions of the Constitution should be beyond question in the case of any man holding a Commission as a reserve officer. He said he would not give out secret information without authorization.
Indochina — The President said the French Union forces in Indochina are in possibly better defensive shape than before the fall of Dien Bien Phu but undoubtedly could be made to hold by outside military help. He said he still does not believe this country should start a war but would keep its military reserves highly mobile.
Politics — The President said he still feels the broad ground of responsibility that it is proper for him to embrace all Republican nominees for congress as he did in the 1952 campaign.
He added with a grin, however, that he imagines someone could pull something out of a hat that might be embarrassing to him.
In a round of laughter, Eisenhower asked his biographer whether the President in making that remark had anything specific in mind. He replied he had not. He said he was not sure of the possibility of getting a special session of Congress after the present session adjourns, probably sometime in August. Eisenhower said he had no (Continued On Page Six)
