TWO BUDAPEST BOUND FLIERS POSTPONE HOP

Weather Delays Visitors Who Had Hoped To Depart On Trip Across Ocean Today

TALLAHASSEE, July 13.—(AP)—Prospects of bad weather prompted Alexander Magyar and George Kadros, Hungarian fliers, to postpone their takeoff for Budapest today. The fliers, who arrived from New York yesterday, said they would spend the day loading their plane with gasoline and leave as soon as the weather cleared.

The fliers had been in the air seven hours and 39 minutes since they took off from Roosevelt Field, N. Y.

They said they encountered considerable fog on the trip. They plan to refuel and check their craft and hop off early today for Budapest if weather conditions are favorable.

Although they got away from Tallahassee today, they will not be in Budapest until Friday.

Puleston Renders Report At Rotary Club Meet Today

A report of the activities of the Rotary Club-sponsored Florida Educational Loan Corporation rendered by Rotarian Sam Puleston featured the luncheon meeting of the Sanford Rotary Club at the Valdes Hotel today.

Rotarian Puleston, who had charge of the program, briefly outlined the aims, purposes, and accomplishments of the association which has, since its beginning nine years ago, aided in the education of many Florida youths.

The report indicated that to date 223 boys have received loans with which to continue their college education at the University of Florida. Of this number 79 are still in college, 55 have graduated, and paid back their loans in full, and 49 have graduated and are making regular payments. Small interest charges pay the entire expense of handling the fund.

Rotarian Puleston revealed that during the existence of the organization $25,000 has been paid in by Rotary clubs, and Rotarians, which, together with the $11,000 paid back by students as borrowers, brings the fund to $36,000.

An attendance of approximately 30 per cent was present in the Puleston report and on several minor items of a business nature. President H. G. Gray presided over the meeting.

See Violation Of Contract In Suit Instituted Against City By Bond Committee

What was termed "a suit brought against us in violation of our agreement with them", was called to the attention of the Sanford City Commissioners at their meeting in the City Hall last night when Cit. Clerk F. S. Lamson notified them that he had been served with a summons to appear in a Tampa court in August to answer a $600,000 suit brought by the Bondholders Protective Committee.

Before he told the Commissioners that a suit had been instituted, Mr. Lamson read a letter from the law firm of L'Eagle and Shands, Jacksonville, which represents the Bondholders' Protective Committee. The letter, dated July 6, stated that "in order to continue the arrangement made in February, we should have additional judgments covering interest items in bonds, so that your appropriation can again be made merely to cover interest items in such judgment. We therefore propose that we now take additional judgments on matured interest coupons which the Committee holds. We think the procedure is in line with our agreement. We will bring suit sometime during the month."

This information was received with surprise by the three Commissioners present, all of whom expressed themselves as believing that it was a violation of the agreement laid down in February.

Commissioner W. A. Leffler was the first to speak, saying, "Why? (Continued on Page Four)"

FOULOUS LANDS COVETED TITLE AFTER 37 YEARS

Is Promoted To Head Of Air Corps In Recognition Of Merit

WASHINGTON, July 14.—(AP)—The longest flying career in the Army will reach a climax next December when Brig. Gen. Benjamin D. Foulois becomes chief of the Air Corps.

The War Department yesterday announced his promotion effective December 20 to succeed Maj. Gen. James E. Fechet.

One of the pioneers in the development of aviation through association with the Wright brothers, Foulois is almost the father of the Army Air Service.

He flew the first airplane and the first dirigible balloon purchased for the Army and in 1910 when the appropriation for the Air Service was only $150 he contributed $300 from his own pocket to make up the deficit.

At that time he was serving on the Mexican border and virtually took a correspondence course in aviation from the Wright brothers. When something went wrong he would write to the Wrights and they would advise him by mail what changes to make in the plane or the operation of it.

Foulois was detailed to the Signal Corps in 1908 and immediately began specializing in aviation work. He was assigned to take a course in flying from the Wright brothers in 1909 and during that year participated as an observer with Orville Wright in the first cross-country flight in America. They flew 10 miles averaging 42 miles an hour at an altitude of 300 feet, establishing three world records.

Foulois served in the army during the Spanish-American War as a non-commissioned officer at the age of 19. Then enlisted in the regular army at the close of the war and served in the Philippines. He was commissioned second lieutenant of infantry in 1901 and served in Cuba.

During the World War he was a brigadier general in the Signal Corps and was chief of the Air Service of the American Expeditionary Forces from November 1918 to June 1919. (Continued on Page Five)

Navy To Advertise For Bids On Latest Model Destroyers

WASHINGTON, July 14.—(AP)—For the first time since the war the navy will advertise Wednesday for bids on a group of new destroyers.

Specifications virtually completed today for 11 new vessels, the first of this class the navy has undertaken since 1918, call for a bigger, more rugged ship with heavier armament and a higher sustained sea speed than the present destroyer.

The new craft will be of 1500 tons displacement, the limit under the London treaty, compared to 1200 tons for the present destroyers which were designed in 1916.

Estimates will be invited from private companies and from all shipbuilding navy yards except those at Philadelphia, Portsmouth, N. H., and Norfolk, Va., which already have heavy construction programs underway.

The yards which will be asked to make estimates on one destroyer each are at Boston, New York, Charleston, S. C., Mare Island, Calif., and Puget Sound, Wash.

Construction of one of the 11 has already been awarded to the New York navy yard.

Estimated cost of the new destroyers is $4,700,000 each as compared with the $2,000,000 average cost of those constructed at the time of the World War.

Year Jail Sentence Of Albert Fall Is Increased By 1 Day

WASHINGTON, July 14.—(AP)—Albert Fall's jail sentence of a year was changed today to a year and a day to enable him to serve time in a western prison.

The Attorney-General will designate the prison where the former Secretary of the Interior will serve a sentence for accepting a $100,000 bribe in connection with naval oil leases. The clerk of the District of Columbia Supreme Court will then send the warrant of commitment to a United States marshal in New Mexico or Texas, and Fall will be taken to prison.

Justice Bailey suggested last week that a motion be made to enable Fall to serve his sentence in a climate more suitable to his health than that of Washington. Under the new sentence, Fall will become eligible to parole in four months.

EFFORTS TO PUSH LAKE FRONT ROAD REVEALED TODAY

Trade Body Unable To Draw Definite Date From Bob Bentley

Efforts of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce to secure from Robert W. Bentley, chairman of the State Road Department, some definite date as to when 121 residents may expect work to be started on the promised lake front boulevard and bridge, have met with evasive answers, according to letters which have passed between Mr. Bentley and the local trade body during the past few weeks.

Harry M. Papworth, president of the county-wide trade body, said today that the letters have not only steered wide of the mark, but also have been misleading.

The Senate postponed the afternoon session and adjourned until tomorrow. The finance tax committee scheduled a meeting for tomorrow morning to consider the House approved bill for a tax on cigarettes.

At today's meeting a committee reported unfavorably a bill proposing the creation of a state tax commission to supervise assessment of property taxation. A similar tax bill pending to abolish or consolidate with other offices the state hotel commission, shell fish commission, game and fresh water fish commission and the forestry commission. It was originally killed by a vote. The tax adjustment board bill was revived today when the Senate decided to reconsider its action.

Unless the influence of the administration proves stronger than the protests of the folks back home, the "5 and 10 cent" cigarette tax bill will be defeated in the Senate.

This was the prediction made here last night by foes of the bill on the eve of a public hearing scheduled before the Senate finance and taxation committee.

President Whitaker and his colleagues, who will open their fight before the committee, believe they will be able to kill the bill. Whitaker's confidence was the result of his interviews with fellow senators over the weekend.

"We have even got converts from the faction supporting the bill," Whitaker said. "Several senators have come over to our side because they have studied the bill as passed by the House and realize it would not only produce less revenue than its proponents claim but that the revenue would be far outweighed by the tremendous hardship imposed on the merchants and the consumer."

The bill was received by the Senate yesterday morning in a House-Senate conference.

Senate Passes Bill To Renew Tax Adjustment Commission

TALLAHASSEE, July 14.—(AP)—While the Senate capped a listless session with the passage of a bill to recreate delinquent tax adjustment boards, the House also engaged in a mild session of considering proposed increases in occupational license rates.

A motion to strike the enacting clause from the occupational license bill was introduced by C. C. A. motion to indefinitely postpone it was defeated by the same vote.

A flood of amendments immediately poured on the measure and these were being considered at the noon adjournment.

Germany Seeks To Thwart Impending Financial Disaster

ACTION TAKEN BY WORLD BANK TO ASSIST GERMANY

BASEL, Switzerland, July 14.—(AP)—Directors of the World Bank for International Settlements late last night agreed unanimously to renew the World bank's participation in the rediscout credit of $100,000,000 accorded to the Reichsbank June 25.

The decision was made as a part of an effort by the World bank directorate to save Germany from financial disaster.

The directors sounded an optimistic note by expressing their belief that Germany's economic and budgetary conditions is fundamentally sound, despite the crash brought about by heavy withdrawal of short term capital from the country.

The directors further responded to the appeal of Dr. Hans Luther, president of the German Reichsbank, by declaring that the World bank is ready to collaborate fully with the various governments to obtain financial assistance for Germany on their respective markets.

In well informed circles it was believed these proffers of assistance are less than the German government hoped for but that they would be sufficient, if fully developed, to enable Germany to restore her fiscal system and to remain her feet financially.

The rediscout credit referred to was advanced to Germany on June 25 in sums of $25,000,000 each by the Federal Reserve bank of the United States, the Bank of France, the Bank of England, and the World Bank.

Renewal was authorized, beginning July 16, for a maximum of three months.

A communique issued at the close of the meeting at 11:30 P. M. said:

"The board of directors took note of the showing made to it by Dr. Luther, president of the Reichsbank, regarding the situation in Germany and the satisfactory character of its economic and budgetary position in spite of the crisis provoked by the withdrawal of short term capital invested in Germany."

General Moratorium Is Placed Upon All Banking Operations Throughout Nation

(By The Associated Press)

The German government moved today to stem the tide of financial disaster by placing in effect what amounts to a general moratorium on banking operations in accordance with a decree by President Von Hindenburg. All banks throughout the Reich with the exception of the Reichsbank were closed nominally until Thursday but actually as long as officials deem it advisable to restore confidence.

Both banks and postoffice payments of transfers either in German or to foreign countries. Stock operations were ordered to suspend for the remainder of the week.

The World Bank is willing to renew the hundred million credit due Thursday and it is understood that the Bank of France and the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, which participated in the credit, also will grant an extension on their part of the total. The Bank of England has not yet replied.

The reaction outside of Germany to the collapse of the Darmstadter und Nationalbank caused a temporary closing of all banks in Hungary, a suspension of the Magyar Bank at Vienna, a subsidiary of the Darmstadter at Jassy, Rumania. The Czech Bank closed with a million deficit.

The necessity for the president's decree, it was said, arose not from the situation in Berlin where real bank runs did not develop, although the withdrawals were heavy and the banks paid only a percentage of deposits, but out of what was said to be a much more serious outlook in the Rhineland, where runs developed quickly and authorities without waiting for the president to act announced that municipal savings banks would be closed Tuesday and Wednesday.

These drastic measures occupied the government while it was anxiously awaiting word from the Bank for International Settlements at Basel, upon the decision of which it was considered that Germany's financial future depends in large measure.

Reporting to the "dictatorship clause" of the constitution, the Reich issued an emergency decree (Continued on Page Three)"

Three Suspects In Bomb Case Quizzed By Alabama Police

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 14.—(AP)—Three men were held for questioning by police last night in connection with the bombing of the Pure Milk Company last Friday night, which officers said they believe was the work of "big town racketeers" in their first attempt to collect tribute from various lines of business here.

Two of the men under arrest who officers said gave their names as Myron Phillips and Reed Warren, were arrested at Argo, near here. In their possession officers said they found a small coupe bearing an Illinois license plate.

The third man, Eldridge McCord, former city fireman, was taken into custody Saturday night. He was said to have been identified as the driver of an automobile, mounted with machine guns, which stopped for repairs at a garage a few minutes after the bombing.

The investigation took a new turn yesterday when an underling reported he had been warned by a telephone message to increase his charge for transporting sick patients from their homes to hospitals.

Two hours after the walk plant was bombed, causing the death of two persons and injury of twenty others, a barber shop in Central Park, a suburb, was bombed. Another barber shop was threatened Saturday.

The middle which wrecked the milk plant was "brought from a small crane occupied by two men (Continued on Page Three)"

ATLANTA, July 14.—(AP)—Representative Charles G. Edwards, 53, Savannah, of the first Georgia district, dropped dead here yesterday afternoon in the office of Congressman Robert Ramspeck, of the fifth Georgia district. Cerebral hemorrhage was given as the cause of death.

Mrs. Beard Hostess At Swimming Party

Mrs. R. L. Beard entertained with a swimming party on Friday afternoon at Evansdale Park in honor of Miss Mary Calhoun who celebrated her fourteenth birthday anniversary. Swimming was enjoyed by the guests until a late hour when watermelons were served.

The hostess was assisted in entertaining the guests by Mrs. Roy J. King. Those present were: The Misses Mary Calhoun, Mary Forrester, Nell Knight, Louise Packard, Ruby and Bernice Edmondson, Ethel Gates, Helen Harvey, Blanche and Eva Cunningham, Virginia Lawton, Margaret and Jessie Wilma Kersey, Virginia Calhoun and Laurie Beard, Albert and Arthur King, Mrs. Roy J. King and Mrs. R. L. Beard.

Several miles of roads having been surveyed, he reiterated that he hoped to secure Federal Aid for the lake front boulevard, but, in event he failed, the Department would build the road and bridge out of state funds. For the second time, however, he failed to answer Mr. Papworth's request that he set a definite date.

While correspondence with Mr. Bentley relative to the boulevard has not been gratifying according to Mr. Papworth and Earl W. Brown, president of the road improvement group, much satisfaction was expressed by Mr. Papworth over a cordial letter he had received from the Orlando Chamber of Commerce in which that body pledged its support and that of the entire community in any movement to urgently request that the important link be completed at the earliest possible date.

That Clarence M. Gay, secretary of the Orlando Chamber of Commerce is mindful of the condition of the bridge and the need for a new one, is indicated in a paragraph of his letter to Mr. Papworth, pledging support.

Mr. Gay said: "To my mind the condition of the bridge over the St. Johns River, and the condition of the road leading from the bridge to Sanford over numerous railroad tracks is deplorable, and should by all means command the immediate attention of the State Road Department. I have traveled all over this state and I do not know of a road or bridge anywhere in the state that is more unsafe to the traveling public."

Mr. Papworth wrote E. D. Lambright, editor of the Tampa Tribune, in an effort to enlist the aid of that paper and Tampa residents in urging the completion of the road and bridge at an early date.

In his letter to Mr. Lambright, Mr. Papworth gave as reasons for this county's not being able to endorse the request that an end be put to all road-building, the following points: Sanford is located on State Road Number Three which probably receives more travel throughout the year than any other road in the state; 40 years ago the City of Sanford had more than a million dollars taking over guarantees of the $20,000,000 Darmstadt and National bank, which has suspended demands for foreign currencies.

The effect of this decree, explained as a measure to protect the hundreds of thousands of small depositors, was to declare a virtual moratorium for the bank until July 31.

Faced with an alarming series of runs on banks in different parts of the nation, Chancellor Brüning issued an appeal to the German people to keep their heads and hold to their confidence in their fatherland.

So great was the call for funds by depositors that in some banks it was necessary to limit the amount each person might withdraw.

Two private banking houses in Berlin, both of which operated in partnership with the Darmstadt and National bank, closed their doors. These were Schwarz, Goldschmidt & Co. and Gebrüder Hammerstein.

In Frankfurt-on-Main the private house of Otto Hirsch & Co., also closely affiliated with the Danat, or Darmstadt bank, was suspended.

The cabinet, which has been in almost continuous session for more than two days called a halt last night.

In government circles the opinion prevailed that there was no occasion for further measures until two things were known—the results of the efforts of Dr. Hans Luther, Reichsbank president, to obtain credits at the Bank for International Settlements meeting in Basel, and the effect on the masses of the government's decree taking over the Danat.

Many persons in political circles felt last night that Germany was merely enjoying the quiet before the storm.

The Danat crash came so late during the night of Sunday-Monday and was so unexpected that the significance of it dawned slowly on the public.

Only a few Monday morning newspapers are published in Berlin and most of them had gone to press when announcement of the bank's suspension was made. Hence, many Germans went to work and passed unsuspectingly by the closed main office and the similarly closed 63 branches.

Pessimists did not conceal their fears last night that the runs soon may be more serious. Optimists, on the other hand, declared the government's assurances would exercise a quieting effect and

The bill also contained provisions which came as a surprise, as well as all other bills of State Road Number Improvement Committee.

"Surprise" information is given, quoting from Mr. Papworth's letter to Mr. Papworth: "The Road Department has been working to get Federal Aid on a reliable and essential project (the lake front boulevard). It took some years ago, before the present bill came into existence, that a survey was made by a Federal Aid road study board crossing the lake front through Sanford, and it was not until the year 1927 that the Bureau of Public Roads was able to get the bill as then proposed to be followed."

Mr. Papworth concluded his letter with the statement that in his opinion the bill was a "surprise" because it was not expected that the Federal Aid would be secured for the lake front boulevard. He stated that the bill was a "surprise" because it was not expected that the Federal Aid would be secured for the lake front boulevard.

The national socialists (nazis) followed with a demand that the Reichstag council of elders (or steering committee) be convened as a preliminary to the calling of a general Reichstag session.

The nazis accused the French of preventing the inauguration of the Hoover plan and charged the French and English with attempting to rob Germany of the last vestiges of her sovereignty. They also demanded that the Reichstag vote the proposed visit to Paris of Chancellor Brüning and Foreign Minister Curtius.

Alfred Hugenberg's nationalists convened, and it was expected they will support the nazis' demand for convocation of the Reichstag.

On the other hand, the press of the middle and socialist parties berated the radicals for having contributed to the present situation by undermining Germany's credit abroad.

PARTICIPANTS IN BATHING BEAUTY CONTEST AT CLEARWATER

Twenty two of Florida's fairest. These pretty misses vied for the title of Miss Florida in a recent bathing beauty contest at Clearwater Beach. The title was won by Miss Lena Mae Ray of Dunedin, fourth from the right. The girls were each winners of contests in the cities which they represented. They are, left to right, Miss Gaineville, Mary Knowles; Miss Ocala, Eileen Perry; Miss Ft. Lauderdale, Leone Kyle; Miss Lakeland, Versal Kirkpatrick; Miss St. Augustine, Lois Solana; Miss Tarpon Springs, Reta Wade; Miss Plant City, Lucile Abbott; Miss Largo, Audrey Ulmer; Miss Arcadia, Natalie Bishop; Miss Palatka, Lillian Meigs; Miss St. Petersburg, Florence Louise McKenna; Miss DeLand, Martha Poole; Miss Jacksonville, Lydia Hodges; Miss Bradenton, Helen Cooper; Miss Sanford, Dorothy Haynes; Miss Tampa, Violet Bedford; Miss Sarasota, Lillian Register; Miss Orlando, Eloise Lanier; Miss Dunedin, Lena Mae Ray; Miss Clearwater, Alma Adams; Miss Palm Harbor, Betty Mao Rice; Miss Pinellas Park, Mary Pine.

Before 40,000 frenzied fans who jammed every nook and cranny of Shibe Park in Philadelphia, the world's champion Athletics demonstrated some of the stuff which has kept them in the front ranks for so many years. Coming from behind for instance, in the first game of a double-bill with the trying-hard Senators, they whipped and lashed that old ball about with such force that seven runs came over, enough to give them a 12 to 7 victory. . . . In the second game, they put up a grand fight, but the Senators came through with a 6 to 4 win when they got to Rube Walberg in the sixth inning.

That first game was one of those things, Grove started, but was relieved by Karnaber. Even though he wasn't able to make the grade, Lefty received credit for the win, his 18th of the year, by the way. How runs, five of them, gave the Reds all but two of their seven runs, and because of those knucks, the Reds won their game. Blanton, Cochrane, Fox, Blanton and Williams were the lucky four-base knockers. Williams, batting for Lefty, got one with the checka. . . . Home runs decided the second game against the Reds. The score was 10 to 3 and 3 in the sixth, when all of a sudden Harris and Kibler hit homers, each with one, and four runs came over, enough to give them the game. When they split, no damage was done either way, except that the Mackmen again proved their superiority over the Hoosiers.

These were the only games scheduled in the American, while only two games were scheduled in the National. One of those, a 1 to 0 affair won by the Phillies over the Pirates, was as good a game as has been played this year. J. Elliott, after being unmercifully pounded by the Giants a couple of days ago, came back and held the Pirates to five hits. His pitching performance was matched by Rube Krummer, who also let out five hits. Hurst's double, scoring Kibler, in the ninth, sent in the only winning marker.

The Cards made it two out of three from the Cubs when they whipped three pitchers to the tune of a 12 to 5 defeat. The Cards made 10 hits off Malone, Woodland and Wernicke, with Watkins and High leading the way. A score can be made in any rally, and it is the way that the Cubs were driven back to the dugout from under that lead, while Grimes hurled long in great style with such a lead.

Klein, the only one of the Big Six hitters to get into action yesterday, failed to get more than one hit, so his average took a small drop.

Here's how they stand: ALBANY—E. A. R. & A. Morgan, Indiana 55 222 47 35 200. BOSTON—Yankees 60 248 70 36 245. CHICAGO—Braves 58 237 54 100 249. CINCINNATI—Phillies 61 223 77 112 200. CLEVELAND—Phillies 71 223 78 111 200. DALLAS—Reds 58 250 37 84 203.

gins today in the National League. On it depends the hopes of the Brooklyn Robins as title-holders. That team goes into a four-game series with the Cardinals in the Missouri city today. While there is a six-game difference between the two teams, a clean sweep, or even three out of four, would certainly scramble things in the National. At the same time that the Cards and Robins are battling, the Giants and Cubs are stacking up in an equally as important series. Boy, by Saturday night, the National loop is going to tell a story which will be worth listening to. Keep your eye on that race.

PECKHAM'S FIGHT WITH STEWART IS GAINING INTEREST

Tough Battle Expected When Pair Mix It In Return Match Here

Interest in the return match between Stanley "Kid" Peckham, the University of Florida star leather-pusher, and Eddie Stewart, the Miami Flash, scheduled for tomorrow night at the ball park, is growing hourly, according to matchmaker Bill Melton, Orlando. Melton, in town this morning, claims that half the sport fans of Orlando will be in the stands when the opening bell rings, and that there will be enough action among the fans to provide amusement for many. Peckham, who won a 10-round decision over Stewart here two weeks ago, is ready and willing to take anything the Stewart boy has. He withstood a few hard knocks last time they fought, and had little trouble with anything except Stewart's peculiar way of boxing. The Lake Mary battler has been working out daily under the eagle eye of his father, whose experience in fight rings has been wide and valuable. Peckham will enter the arena tomorrow night weighing a healthy 132 pounds, while Stewart will bring two more pounds with him.

While the main bout will attract the attention of most of the fans, the semi-final, between K. O. Rockey, crafty Sanford negro battler, and Bearcat Lancaster, the Orlando scrapper, will deserve a large share of comment. Rockey fought a well-planned fight here two weeks ago, and should have earned at least a draw, according to ring-side fans. The decision, after eight rounds of fast and furious milling, went to Lancaster. Tomorrow night Rockey expects to bring victory his way, although he will enter the ring with a badly swollen left eye, suffered in his last fight.

Kid Allen, the scrappy Sanford battler who won a technical knockout over Young Stokes, Orlando here two weeks ago, will head the main preliminary together with Young Thompson, Miami bantam. Allen proved to the crowd that he could take plenty of punishment and still look good as a fighter, and his appearance in the ring is expected to meet plenty of approval from the fans.

That Sanford fight fans will be treated to some real battles within a few weeks is revealed in Melton's statement that he hoped to match the winner of the Peckham-Stewart go with Ray Schneider, Jacksonville, one of the most popular fighters in the state. A bout between Benny O'Dell, 195 pound New York scrapper, and Joe Mow, Sanford's only heavyweight scrapper, is also being talked about, as is a scrap between Willie McEler, the colored heavyweight champion of the south, and Bob Lawson, giant Alabama negro, who is said to have knocked Jack Dempsey out some years ago.

you know, we had a very definite understanding that they would not bring any more suits against us while the agreement was in force. That means during the entire year, and here it is less than a year and a suit entered against us." In answer to the letter and the service of summons, Commissioner Leffer, in accord with Commissioners Byrd and Speer, moved that a letter be written to Mr. Shands stating that the City Commissioners were of the opinion that the agreement and contrary to an understanding reached at the time of the agreement, one of the terms of which was, according to the Commissioners, that no suits of any kind would be brought against the Commissioners during the life of the agreement.

The Commissioners also learned that officials of the Sanford Gas Co. intended to complete the purchase of the plant during the next few weeks. This news was learned shortly after the Commissioners authorized the issuance of a check for $306.40 to cover the City's share of a tax certificate issued in 1925 against the gas company property.

A letter from Robert Holly, Jr., publisher of the Seminole County Sentinel, was read to the Commissioners. It was a protest against the recent awarding of the printing of the 1930 delinquent tax list to the Sanford Herald. Mr. Holly claimed that the Commissioners violated a law because the said they did not seek bids from all the papers published in Sanford.

Mr. Holly appeared before the Commissioners following the reading of the letter and asked that they "retrace their steps, because they had not acted fairly in the matter." Turning from the group as he left the platform, he said "You can think this thing over and let me know about it later", to which Commissioner Leffer replied, "There won't be any thinking over because the contract has already been let". No further action was taken.

Mr. Lamson informed the Commissioners that both newspapers had been notified some weeks ago that bids for the publication of the lists were open. The Sanford Herald was the only paper to enter a bid. At a meeting two weeks ago the Commissioners decided that a lack of funds prevented their publishing the list, and it was decided to post it. The next day, officials of the Seminole County Protective Committee announced that they would pay $1500 toward the cost of publishing, and that same night, at an adjourned meeting of the Commissioners, the contract was awarded to the Herald.

That Sanford may have a new and adequate aviation field, is revealed when the Commissioners listened to a plan presented by H. M. Watson, a local business man, whereby the City could purchase a 250-acre tract of land near the Herring property on the Orlando Road at a nominal sum. Both Commissioners Speer and Shands were of the opinion that the matter needed closer investigation, and both declared that they felt that an aviation field in this city would be of incalculable benefit. The matter will be discussed at the next regular meeting.

In the matter of the interest rate upon the bonds of the Sanford Atlantic National Bank, the Commissioners decided that they would not raise the pay rate (interest) on the bonds three months, provided the five balance be reduced to a total of $3000.

which is within the charter limit. Before concluding the session, the Commissioners voted to employ City Attorney Fred H. Wilson at a flat salary of $250 per month until Oct. 1, 1931. Mr. Wilson's official duties as city attorney expired July 1. The fee was accepted by Mr. Wilson, who declared that it covered all legal matters involving the City.

batch of House messages and, at the direction of Whitaker, was sent immediately to the finance and taxation committee. Chairman Wagg returned from Boston just in time to receive the bill and arrange a public hearing. Wagg has been absent since the second extra session convened. Talks with senators supplied Whitaker's contention that surprising inroads have been made into the ranks of the administration bloc. The senators, whose records during the regular and first extra sessions reveal staunch adherence to measures sponsored by the administration, now plan to vote against the cigarette tax. They emphasized yesterday that their stand against it was not an indication of forsaking the administration's entire tax program but was simply the expression of their personal convictions on the sales tax theory as a whole.

Whitaker will have able assistance in his arguments before the committee and on the floor of the Senate. Senator Gomes of Key West will be one of his lieutenants in the fight against the bill.

"I will take the floor against it," Gomez said, "because I am convinced that it is just the opening wedge for a general sales tax. If we establish a precedent with cigarettes, subsequent legislatures will be more prone to levy excise taxes on cigars, on shoes and clothing, on bacon and grits and everything sold at retail in Florida."

Others planning to assist in fighting the bill in the Senate debate are Senators Futch of Leesburg and King of Orlando. "How do I stand on the bill?"

King said. "How would I stand after hearing from the home folks? I am going to fight it and I don't care who knows it."

Whitaker is also expecting staunch support from the bloc of west Florida senators. He is counting on the votes of every senator representing districts west of the Suwanee river.

"The tobacco growers of Florida are against the bill not only because it would ruin their cigarette tobacco sales," Whitaker said. "They realize the passage of the bill at this session would be followed at the next session by the introduction of at least a cigar tax measure. They know that a combination of a cigarette tax with a cigar tax would probably put them out of business."

Gomez was outspoken in denouncing the administration for "exerting improper influence in its effort to pass the bill through the Senate."

"They are trading everything they possess," Gomez said. "I never seen such pressure exerted by official Tallahassee."

Mexican Official Says Tacit Moral Code Is Necessary

MEXICO CITY, July 14.—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Genaro Estrada yesterday said it is time for governments of the world to draw up a tacit moral code governing relations of peoples, and gradually to abandon "all their illusory treaties, which are the flower of international hypocrisy." At the same time, Estrada said, it is opportune to break away from the "worn out custom" of holding conferences and congresses "whose bare fruits are often exhibitions of rancor, disagreements and weaknesses." The foreign secretary spoke before the seminar being held under the auspices of the committee for cultural relations with Latin America. It is an error, he said, to believe that international relations are based upon mutual confidence of peoples and governments. "This is not true," he said, "... the lack of confidence is universal, in spite of what the official statements say with automatic frequency." Estrada divided international relations into two kinds, ostensible and actual. The first, he said, is interpreted by diplomatic rights and official declarations, and the second is "bound in never-ending maneuvers of governments, which become known 100 years afterward." If this latter policy could be abolished, he said, the world would be safe. The project to build a Nicaraguan canal, he asserted, would be commendable if all nations of the world were allowed to benefit from it and if its building would not involve "trampling upon" any nation's sovereignty. Such a canal, he said, could result in a feeling of amity throughout the world.
