

Drought Bites Deeper, Loss Runs Millions

United Press International
A long and bitter drought—worst of the century in some parts of the country—bit deeper into the East today, sucking streams dry and feeding brittle fields with fire.
Weeks of withering heat sent damage estimates soaring in to the millions of dollars.
Schools closed in Ohio. Farmers filed for emergency loans. Springs dried up in Vermont, for the first time in 70 years.

From Kansas wheatfields to New England forests, the story was the same: No rain, Indian summer on the war-path.

Another spell of unseasonable heat scared the East Sunday Boston, Mass. — 85 degrees—an all-time record. Washington, D. C.—83 degrees—hottest ever for the date.

State police said the family was on its way to Alamo, Tex., from the Idaho potato harvest. They planned to visit relatives at Alamo.

The truck driver told officers he saw the car approaching him across a narrow bridge in the wrong lane. He locked his brakes, hoping to avoid the collision, skidded 30 feet and hit.

'Information Cover-Up' By U. S. Agencies Hit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The American Newspaper Publishers Association (ANPA) charged today that some federal agencies try to "cover up their own maladministration" by refusing to disclose information about their activities.

Ginny Relieves Dry East, Puts To Sea Again

NEW YORK (UPI)—Unpredictable Hurricane Ginny lashed the Northeast coast with gales today then suddenly veered out into the Atlantic.

The hurricane, which had picked up strength and speed early in the morning, pounded sections of the southern New England coast with winds of up to 60 miles an hour and 12-foot tides.

The seventh tropical storm of the season sent ships scurrying for cover from Cape Hatteras, N. C., to Maine.

However, the center started heading away from the mainland about 7 a. m. and the U. S. Weather Bureau said a hurricane watch had been withdrawn in the threatened areas of Long Island, Connecticut and Massachusetts.

The storm brought heavy rain to New England, posing a flood threat but also helping relieve a drought which had become serious in some sections.

At 8 a. m., the center of the hurricane, with winds of up to 95 miles per hour, was located about 180 miles east of Nantucket Island, near the Massachusetts coast. The island was raked by 60-mile winds.

Chinese Red Talks Peace

MOSCOW (UPI) — A Chinese Communist, in a marked departure from the usual Peking line, told 6,000 applauding Russians and others today the Chinese favor peaceful coexistence and continued friendship with the Soviet Union.

Chao Kuo-chiang, secretary of the All China Federation of Trade Unions, spoke of mutual solidarity in a speech to the 13th Soviet trade union congress.

His brief address, in moderate tones, followed a week-end appeal by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev for an end to the bitter propaganda exchanges that have poisoned party and governmental relations between Peking and Moscow during the past year.

Chao, leader of the Chinese observers among 80 foreign groups attending the convention, was all sweetness today except in his reference to "aggressive American imperialism" as the alleged cause of all the world's troubles.

Mayors Elect Miami's High

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — Miami Mayor Robert King High was unanimously elected chairman of the mayor's council on fair apportionment Monday night, to replace former Tampa mayor Julian Lane.

St. Petersburg Mayor Herman Goldner was named vice chairman of the council. Formed to press for more equal representation of populous areas in the state Legislature.

Atlas Goes Berserk, Stages Spectacular In Space

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — Ocean-spanning rockets have been flying for seven years, but they still occasionally run afoul of accidents — some of them bordering on the unforgettable.

An advanced model Atlas missile that started off on a rather "routine" flight suddenly went haywire at the edge of space Monday night, and ruined a multi-million-dollar test for a new nose available only to "persons properly and directly concerned."

Blast Wrecks Dade's Demo Headquarters

MIAMI (UPI) — A tremendous explosion demolished the headquarters of the Dade County Democratic Executive Committee like a house of cards late last night and a fire marshal said there was no doubt it was an intentional bombing.

Police estimates of the explosives used ranged up to 100 sticks of dynamite, apparently planted in the basement of the huge warehouse-type steel and concrete building.

Two walls were crumbled by the blast which blew the roof off and littered the area with bits of concrete and glass.

Deputy State Fire Marshal A. M. Willis made a preliminary check of the scene today and reported the explosion was obviously deliberate.

Willis said he was unsure of the explosive used but it definitely was not caused by gas. "A gas explosion tends to push a building apart," he said. "This just tore the building to shreds. The force was up and down."

Except for the Democratic committee offices in the front, the building apparently was vacant.

Home To U. S. Controversial Trials Open

PRETORIA, South Africa (UPI) — Eleven men—Africans, whites, and an Indian—today faced sabotage charges that carry a possible death penalty in a trial condemned by the United Nations.

They include two former leading officials of the banned African National Congress (ANC) and the son of a former member of parliament.

They are charged with organizing or committing 222 acts of sabotage, including bomb attacks and raids on jails and police stations, in the two years before their capture last summer.

The state accuses the group of trying to prepare for guerrilla warfare within South Africa and armed invasion from without to overthrow the government of Premier Hendrik Verwoerd.

The United Nations urged earlier this month that South Africa stop the trial and free the prisoners. It was apparent from speeches supporting the UN action that most delegates regarded the 11 men as political prisoners and not saboteurs.

Accidental Justice

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI)—Police officer A. L. Lambdin, running after a motorist who had fled from his car when stopped for a traffic violation, tripped on the street Monday and fell with a jolt that discharged his pistol.

The bullet wounded the fleeing man in the heel and he was captured a short time later.

Extremes Hit

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, in a sharp attack on both the Kennedy administration and ultra-Conservatives, said Monday that voters in the 1964 presidential elections should not "be compelled to choose between extremes."

He said that what it came down to is that the decision is left to the individual agency "which becomes both judge and jury" on what should or should not be disclosed.

Burglars Take Sanford Firm's Safe, $1,400

Thieves broke into a Sanford supply firm sometime during the night Monday and escaped with a small safe containing $1,400, police said.

Police Chief Roy Williams said burglars entered Home Builders Supply Co., 801 West Seminole Boulevard, ransacked the office and carried away the small safe. The empty container was found in a field adjacent to the firm Tuesday morning, the chief said.

Police officers Don Brumley, John Rumbley and Larry Hamerick investigated both incidents.

Cancer Kills Girl Treated With Krebiozen

ROCKFORD, Ill. (UPI) — Diane Lindstrom, 18, who sprang a leg amputation to stave her life on the controversial drug krebiozen, died Monday night of bone cancer.

Miss Lindstrom lost her year-long battle against a malignant tumor of the right thigh at Rockford Memorial Hospital. She had been in the hospital about six weeks.

Last March, the pretty high school coed faced a terrifying decision—either have her leg amputated or face the risk of dying before she reached her 23rd birthday.

Two days before the scheduled amputation, Diane called it off. She said she would rather die than have her leg amputated.

Haitians Go On Hunger Strike

MIAMI (UPI) — Twenty-two Haitian refugees have gone on a hunger strike to protest their detention by federal authorities. The group has refused food since Saturday.

The Haitians, along with two infants, arrived here in a small boat six weeks ago and sought asylum, but they have been detained while federal officers investigate their right to asylum.

Backs Burns

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — Tampa Mayor Nick Nuccio said Monday he would support Jacksonville Mayor Hayden Burns in the 1964 race for governor.

Three Oviedo Camp Escapees Captured

Three striking Negro convicts who escaped from the state prison camp at Oviedo Monday morning were back in custody today and face additional charges of escape.

Camp attaches identified the convicts as Johnny R. King Jr., Edgar Thomas, Howard County, and Thomas L. Brimfield, Dade County, all transferred to Oviedo from Rockford Prison.

Camp officers said the convicts had been confined to punitive segregation for refusing to work. They had been taken to the bathroom to bathe and shave and were being returned to their barracks when they ran. All wore pajamas and were barefooted.

King was captured within 10 minutes near the road camp. Brimfield surrendered a half hour later. Thomas was captured this morning near Eatonville, a Negro community near Maitland.

The three convicts were to be brought to Seminole County jail this afternoon to face charges of escape before County Judge Vernon Mize.

Strong Rights Bill Rejected

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy today won his battle to block a civil rights bill he felt was too strong to pass Congress. The House Judiciary Committee rejected the measure by a vote of 19-15.

After the long-delayed showdown vote, the committee turned to consideration of a less sweeping civil rights bill which, like the strong bill it replaces, would touch on nearly every area of racial tension, including voting, use of public accommodations, desegregation of schools and job discrimination.

The vote on the strong bill was the first order of committee business when it met behind closed doors. Members who left the room after the balloting disclosed the vote.

Bits and pieces of the errant rocket tumbled into the Atlantic Ocean off Florida's east coast, well short of its planned target area near Ascension Island, off the west coast of Africa.

The Air Force was at a loss to explain what happened. The mishap cost scientists and technicians the nose cone and the packages of measuring devices, all of which they had intended to recover.

Report Given On Atlanta Meeting

A "population explosion" development of the two counties "but only if we can offer a good planning program."

This planning program, he emphasized, must picture needed roads, land use, recreation, housing and allied building for the next 20 years. "We must be in a position to tell the federal people," he said, "what roads will be needed 20 years from now, how big they should be, how many people will use them, where these people are coming from and where they are going to . . . and these roads must fit in with overall federal road plans."

Avery reported that HIFA envisioned Greater Orlando growing into Southern Seminole County to a much greater extent than at present, due to space-age expansion in that city and at Cape Canaveral.

He emphasized this by pointing out at present there are plans for building a main highway between Orlando and Cape Canaveral. The Federal Bureau of Roads, he said, favors a new belt highway bypassing Orlando and Sanford by extending north from the new Orlando-Cape through-way into Seminole County, passing south of Sanford, crossing Interstate 4 and bending southwest to connect with Sunshine Parkway.

However, Avery stressed the point that these federal agencies require that a comprehensive overall long-range plan be drawn up before they will co-operate with matching funds.

Graham Takes Poke At Big Government

HOUSTON (UPI) — Evangelist Billy Graham, who says he has no political ambitions, Monday took a swipe at the bigness of government.

Graham, on a three day speaking tour before Houston religious and civic groups, said "our people look to the government instead of to God."

He said "it will destroy the moral fiber of our nation when our people look to the government for everything to fill our needs."

Graham was emphatic when he said he has no political ambitions because "I am not qualified and besides, nobody would vote for me."

University Site Announcement Due In December

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Board of Control said today that it won't announce a site for a new state university in east-central Florida until its December meeting in Boca Raton.

A spokesman for the board said a site selection team has completed inspecting 23 sites in Brevard, Orange, Volusia, Seminole, Indian River and Lake counties.

A research team is now busy working on population trends in the area and examining brochures of the various sites.

NEW A & P Supermarket follows the Early American design.

New A & P Opens Wednesday

One of the most modern food establishments in this area will open in Sanford Wednesday when the A&P Tea Company opens its new Early American design super market in the beautiful, new Pleasant Shopping Center. Company officials have announced that the latest edition to the nation's oldest and largest food chain is one of the finest super markets in the country.

A. D. Barratt, vice president in charge of the firm's operations in Florida, portions of Georgia, and South Carolina, has extended an invitation to all residents of Sanford and surrounding area to visit this new store during the grand Opening Week. Ample parking space is available at the new store. The clean lines of the facade of red brick and white trim are coordinated with a graceful roof which is dominated by an elegant couple with a weather vane all reminiscent on 18th Century Virginia architecture.

Barratt commented, "We are certainly proud to dedicate to the Sanford residents a new super market to serve the people of this county; and we are doubly happy that the new store could be the company's latest approved design - this handsome 'Early American' style."

While the exterior of the building hints at history, once having entered the store, the visitor steps right back into the 20th Century with its fluorescent lighting, its tile, chrome, and porcelain. The structure is completely air-conditioned for the year 'round comfort of shoppers. There are six check-out stands to speed the flow of traffic through the store. For the customers' convenience, there is a "magic carpet" door, which opens and closes automatically.

The complexity of the super market operation is hardly noticeable to the average observer - the arrangement of the store being orderly and easy to follow. The store provides a complete self-service meat department. Meats are pre-cut and pre-packaged and are plainly marked with the name of the item, price per pound, actual weight and total price. The housewife can quickly choose what she wants from the many sizes and cuts in the open-face refrigerated cases.

If, however, she wants a special cut or odd quantity of any merchandise, store personnel will be readily available to take the order and transmit it to the cutting room for prompt personalized service.

There will be thousands of items of name brand merchandise available, including the famous Ann Page, Jane Parker and other A&P label goods.

Frozen foods will receive a large share of attention, with a large case offering all the popular brands and varieties.

All types of ice cream, sherbets, and frozen confections will be available. There is a complete bakery department devoted to fresh baked goods, including white and variety breads, cakes, pies, rolls and donuts.

Nearly every conceivable type of food will be available on the hundreds of feet of general shelving throughout the store. As an additional service for customers, A&P will also handle lines of health and beauty aids, housewares, and other non-food merchandise.

Glen Houseknecht will be manager of this new store. Houseknecht has been with A&P for 10 years.

Ed Korgan will supervise the self-service meat department.

Selected to perform the duties of assistant manager is Walter Seymour.

A&P's produce department, a highlight of the business, will be headed by Tony Young.

Anne Cook will manage the coffee-dairy department.

The old A&P store located at 200 Magnolia Avenue which has been in operation at this same location for 21 years, will close Wednesday.

This new Sanford A&P is a member of the family of more than 4,300 stores in the United States and Canada.

An A&P spokesman indicated that the 'Tea Company' as it is known in trade circles, was founded in New York City in 1859 by George Huntington Hartford, whose first stride in the development of the chain was to take tea out of the luxury class by buying it direct from China. In so doing, it is claimed that this eliminated the profits of many middle men, thereby enabling him to sell the commodity much cheaper than ever before.

Encouraged by success in that venture, Hartford expanded his interest to other lines of food. Today an A&P store may have upwards of 5,000 different items in its stock.

Two other Hartfords have played prominent roles in the progress of the organization. George L. Hartford, oldest son of the founder, was responsible for the company's decision to put out its own baking powder and sell it at a fraction of the going price.

In 1888 a second son, John, joined his brother and father in the business to help head the firm in its formative years. John introduced cash and carry shopping, stripping away all unnecessary services such as home delivery and charge accounts. This way, he reasoned, huge savings could be achieved on overhead, and prices would be reduced to the point where the customers would willingly forego the "extras."

A&P's vast operations are today divided into seven separate divisions. The stores in this area are part of the Southern division, with headquarters in Jacksonville. The company is credited with originating the super market and self-service method of grocery shopping.

Idea, Shipload Of Tea Start Of Present A&P

The A&P story is the saga of a young man who rode a single shipload of tea into one of the country's largest retail chain operations.

In the year of A&P's founding, 1859, there were more significant historical events, but perhaps none more dramatic than the birth of that great food store chain.

A&P began with a man, an idea and a shipload of tea. The man, George H. Hartford, then 26, wanted to sell good tea, then the favorite national beverage, to New Yorkers at about one-third of the retail price. So he bought an entire clipper shipload and sold it directly to the public at a very low price.

His success in selling the first shipload at dockside enabled him to open his first store at 21 Vasey Street in New York City. The opening of that little store was a significant commercial development for it actually set the standard for establishment of many other great chains—food, drug, variety stores and general merchandise.

Unique merchandising and promotional techniques and cost-cutting philosophy have been the hallmarks of A&P's growth and development from the outset. And it all began at the little Vasey Street store. The store, decorated and arranged on the oriental motif, attracted throngs of customers who were entertained as they shopped by a brass band which played on Saturday nights.

Imaginative advertisements in national publications and organization of "tea clubs" in cities up and down the Atlantic Coast helped spur the early growth of A&P. By 1869,

10 years after it opened its doors, the original Vasey Street store had been outgrown and supplanted by a larger location next door, coffee had been added to the line (to be known later as Eight O'Clock) and by the beginning of the 1870's, A&P stores were springing up in major cities along the eastern seaboard.

By 1890 there were 93 A&P stores scattered from Boston to Milwaukee. Not only was the company recognized as the most efficient coffee and tea business in the world, but it had been established as a symbol of the new chain store concept.

Two other Hartfords have played prominent roles in the progress of the organization. George L. Hartford, oldest son of the founder, was responsible for the company's decision to put out its own baking powder and sell it at a fraction of the going price.

In 1888 a second son, John, joined his brother and father in the business to help head the firm in its formative years. John introduced cash and carry shopping, stripping away all unnecessary services such as home delivery and charge accounts. This way, he reasoned, huge savings could be achieved on overhead, and prices would be reduced to the point where the customers would willingly forego the "extras."

A&P's vast operations are today divided into seven separate divisions. The stores in this area are part of the Southern division, with headquarters in Jacksonville. The company is credited with originating the super market and self-service method of grocery shopping.

DeBary Women Plan Service

By Mrs. Adam Muller
The Women of the DeBary Community Methodist Church and of the Orange City Methodist Church will observe World Community Day at services this Friday at the Orange City Church.

This service is for all denominations and at this time bags which have been made to send abroad will be collected. Those in the DeBary area needing transportation are asked to contact Mrs. Charles Crussy, 57 Carnation Lane.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Regarding the debate on whether boys or girls were preferable: you never spoke truer words, Abby, when you said, "Wait for your sunset years and see who gives you more attention." I am the mother of married sons and daughters. My daughters call me every day and always find time to drop by to see Dad and me. Our sons have grown apart from us. It makes no difference how loving a son is, once he is married (except in rare cases) you might as well kiss him goodbye. Nine times out of ten his wife takes him over to her side of the family.

ONE WHO KNOWS

DEAR ONE: Are the parents of your daughters' husbands complaining about the attention you get? Things even out. Besides, don't generalize. All married sons are not "lost." And more often than not, Mom and Dad retain the devotion they've earned.

DEAR ABBY: No problems, but I want to tell you how much my husband and I enjoy your column. By the way, we raise basset hounds and one of the best females we ever owned was named Abigail. She has whelped many a champion.

ANNETTE

DEAR ANNETTE: I've whelped a couple myself. But could your dog write?

DEAR ABBY: Some time ago you published a letter from a truck driver's wife. It seems her husband came home from a run with a long scratch on his thigh. He told his wife it must have been caused by a sharp feather in the motel mattress. Wifey was suspicious.

ORLANDO

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

I investigated. I found they do put steel springs in mattresses these days, and one sharp coil had come loose and worked its way through to me!

Sincerely, VICTIM

DEAR ABBY: The controversy about the Little League manager brought to mind this amusing story: A Little League pitcher had walked the first eight men at bat. The manager sent in a new pitcher. Out of the crowd stormed the lad's mother. "What do you mean taking him out of the game?" she yelled. "He had a nohitter going!"

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

I think it was the late R. F. Foster who soliloquized, "To duck or not to duck, that is the question. For whether 'tis better to win a trick at once or wait for more that may not come I cannot say."

WEST does not have any attractive lead of his own so he opens the nine of hearts in hope that his partner will have a heart suit.

At this point West has a chance to duck. This isn't really a duck, but merely the usually normal play of second hand low. If West plays second hand low South will have no further trouble making his contract. If East takes his king of spades the entry for the heart suit will have been used up. If East doesn't take his king South abandons the spade suit and makes his contract with three clubs, three diamonds, two hearts and a spade.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

A real estate writer lightly suggests that instead of encouraging elder couples to move into small houses, or efficiency apartments when they should be encouraged to move onto farms so their grandchildren would have a real place to visit, instead of staying in a nearby motel when they come to visit.

Each day holds something new and different on a farm - sweet corn coming up, or tomatoes ripening, or wrens building a nest under the eaves, or a new calf standing on wobbly legs, or baby chicks hatching. It's always something.

But either can be a boring place for a couple to sit out their later years.

Snobbery is not a very attractive attitude of mind. But, unhappily, it is not the exclusive possession of any narrow economic or social stratum. It turns up everywhere.

The American workingman is often described as the salt of the earth, the living embodiment of the democratic ideal. But some of his fellows can be every bit as snobbish as the most highly placed executive traveling in "exclusive" social circles.

Some of these workers would never consider for a moment trying to understand the man on the higher economic rung. They have him all figured out, all decked out in clear black and white. Their badge of honor is that they do NOT talk to him any more than necessary.

Strangely, this kind of snobbery often sadly distorts religious feelings. Differences there will always be, but they lose their value if not steadily underscored by the idea of universal brotherhood.

Nor is the great racial struggle free of this kind of thing.

Negroes want not only better treatment but also better understanding and good will from the white population. Many of them realize that this is a two-way street. But large numbers do not.

While asking much, they too often give little. They want full understanding of their problems, but think seldom of white men's problems.

Warped to its worst aspect, this inverse snobbery is expressed in the reckless comment of an Adam Clayton Powell: "We've got the white man on the run!"

What multiracial society can long prosper in which one group has another "on the run" and wants it that way?

Obviously, too, there is snobbery among nationality groups. Pride of nation is natural. But those who live on this soil as full-fledged citizens are Americans — not Poles or Italians or Germans.

Snobbery is a barricade. We have no business trying to erect such barricades in a society whose hallmark is its fluidity.

Snobbery does not become democratic when practiced by a man with a grievance, real or alleged. It is just as undemocratic when exhibited by a man in overalls, a Negro, a Catholic as it is when shown by a corporation president, a white man or a Protestant.

Newshens Tough On Nhu

WASHINGTON — One almost pitted Madame Nhu at her Washington debut before the Women's National Press Club. Those who have watched verbal buckshot shot into a host of guests on "Meet the Press" will understand why.

At the women's press luncheon, the Dragon Lady of South Viet Nam faced a battalion of May Craigs, loaded for dragon. The questions the lady correspondents aimed at the Asian first lady were the toughest she had encountered in this country. Their reception of her was impeccably polite but openly sceptical.

Even the sharpest-eyed reporters present could find no fault with the ivory-skinned beauty of the siren of Saigon, who was elegant in her shimmering blue-silk sheath worn over slim white satin trousers and lighted up by lustrous pearls — ears, neck and finger. But the ladies of the press were unimpressed by the vagaries of her criticisms of the United States and by her evasion of any question that would have required an answer reflecting adversely on the stewardship of the Diem family in Viet Nam, and made her know it. By coincidence, Mrs. Nhu came to Washington on a week in which there was much talk about the status of American women. This is not one of Washington's favorite topics for discussion, but President Kennedy had just received a report from the commission he appointed 2½ years ago to study the subject. The President greeted the commission in his White House rose garden and accepted an 86-page report saying in essence that the status of American women is on a steady rise but has not reached a point where the female of the species is free from discrimination in finding employment or of equal force with men in politics. The status of women is a sore subject in the Washington Press Corps, where accredited women correspondents are barred from the all-male National Press Club even when foreign dignitaries are the newsworthy guests. Mrs. Nhu saw an opening and took it. Women in Viet Nam have greater freedom than women in the United States, she sweepingly boasted. What's the proof, the Women's Press Club audience demanded. In South Viet Nam, she answered, women have the right to freeze their husbands' bank accounts if they conclude they are not receiving enough money at home . . . proof positive.

This remark and others preceding it in her current world tour may throw some light on Mrs. Nhu's lack of status in Washington on this visit. Aside from the more serious question of basic policy differences with the nominal leaders of Mrs. Nhu's country, it is simple to see why she would be a least-favored guest in the Kennedy White House. True to his Irish instinct, John F. Kennedy, it seems clear, prefers that women be seen rather than heard. There is no sign that he is yearning for women to become the "real power" in American politics than Mrs. Nhu grandly proclaims they have become in the politics of South Viet Nam. She is, she boasts, the "up to now unchallenged leader" of an army of 200,000 women who now can outnumber Vietnamese men at the polls. "Nobody can be elected without agreement of those women," she told the girls at Radcliffe last week.

PARKING PROBLEM EASED

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Diane's terror at entering the elevator in a downtown office building was pathetic. She could hardly speak. And if I had not held her arm, she probably would have run away. But notice the process by which you can re-train your emotions. And read for the crucial booklet below.

CASE Q-186: Diane G., aged 18, is the coed who had a phobia of closed spaces.

We finally dated its onset during the 9th grade when she almost suffocated "bring a cave-in" of a deep snowdrift. "That's when your terror of closed spaces first began," I informed Diane.

"But intelligent people should never remain slaves to the past. You are obviously not going to undergo that identical happening again."

"So stop being a slave to a single event in your past." Diane was so eager to be rid of her claustrophobia that tears actually came to her eyes.

"But, Dr. Crane," she pleaded, "just how can I become free from this dread of closed windows in my bedroom or an elevator in an office building?"

Well, this re-training process first involves recognizing just how and when your abnormal terror started.

That dates its onset and shows the victim how foolish it is to remain forever a slave to a distant incident of the past.

The second important step is to go through the proper motions of destroying the dread.

Face the very thing that terrifies you and repeat the process until you replace the old fear with elation or some other emotion.

So I told Diane I'd help her and we'd start by facing her dread of office elevators. Diane turned pale when we stood in front of the elevator. Her eyes dilated with horror.

"Oh, Dr. Crane, I just can't do it!" she wailed as the elevator door opened.

"Yes, you can," I smilingly reassured her. "Remember, I'll be standing beside you. So let's step inside and you push the button for the 2nd floor."

"As soon as we reached the second floor, and the door opened, she leaped out, shaking like a leaf."

"Well, you've done it," I praised her.

"You have conquered that mean old fear once, and each time you conquer it again, it will grow weaker."

I walked up and down the corridor with Diane till she got her breath. Meanwhile I teased her and joked and reassured her.

the door automatically closed.

"Now count your pulse, out loud," I ordered Diane, as I took out my watch to keep time.

She trembled so much she could hardly hold her fingers on her radial artery, but I showed her where to feel her pulse and kept smiling reassurance.

The elevator started upward and she missed a couple of counts for she caught her breath momentarily and couldn't speak.

But when I prodded her, she finally continued with the count.

"As soon as we reached the second floor, and the door opened, she leaped out, shaking like a leaf."

"Well, you've done it," I praised her.

"You have conquered that mean old fear once, and each time you conquer it again, it will grow weaker."

I walked up and down the corridor with Diane till she got her breath. Meanwhile I teased her and joked and reassured her.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Gimmicks are already being discovered in the plans for a meeting between President Kennedy and French President Charles de Gaulle some time next year.

This meeting was agreed upon in principle during the recent Washington talks with French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville. But no definite date was set, and the meeting place was not designated.

It is De Gaulle's turn to come to Washington. This would make it a return of Kennedy's visit to Paris in June 1961. But the possibility of their meeting next on French Gaudalupe or Martinique in the West Indies leaked out of the Couve de Murville talks.

This is regarded as a move on De Gaulle's part to assume the same status as British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, who met with Kennedy at both Bermuda and Nassau.

It is this kind of quibbling over protocol that makes negotiating with De Gaulle so frustrating.

In the past year he has rejected all American proposals for strengthening North Atlantic Alliance defenses. He has rejected U.S. Polaris missiles for French defense. He has rejected British membership in the Common Market. He has refused to ratify the nuclear test ban treaty.

While De Gaulle himself once proposed to sign a non-aggression pact with Russia, he now opposes current U. S. Russian talks on further East-West limited agreements.

In fact, since De Gaulle's rejection of NATO nuclear defense plans and his signing of an alliance with Germany last January, it has not been possible to get agreement with France on one single point in political, economic or military fields.

At the conclusion of the Couve de Murville talks with Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk, the consensus was that France does not want agreement with the U. S.

De Gaulle's recent intervention in Southeast Asian affairs was especially resented by American officials. Here he gratuitously offered his services as intermediary in any dispute between North and South Viet Nam and to do whatever he could to reunify the Communist and free areas.

French business and banking interests are still dominant throughout what was formerly French Indo-China, and De Gaulle has been credited with thinking that perhaps his influence might bring peace to the troubled area.

It is noteworthy, however, that President De Gaulle offered only his advice on this problem. He offered neither French economic nor military aid to help re-establish stability.

Another sore point with American negotiators is that De Gaulle has been of no help in liberalizing trade restrictions in Europe as a whole or between Europe and the rest of the free world.

He has opposed the lowering of tariffs between the Common Market "inner six" countries and the "outer seven" countries in the European Free Trade Area.

On the positive side, it is conceded by American diplomats that President De Gaulle has given the French government a political stability that it sadly lacked. In the years before he became premier in 1959, France had one weak government after another, and it was difficult to get any co-operation out of France then, too.

De Gaulle has given France a new constitution. He has checked inflation and stabilized the franc. He ended the war in Algeria and gave it independence.

But as one European statesman sums up De Gaulle's case, "He is not living in the present. He is living in the history of France as it was 30 years ago, before World War I, and of France as he would like to see it 30 years hence."

To The Editor

Editor, Herald:

Garfield Walker, former Sanfordite Dallas Loop and I have just returned from a two-week tour to Monterrey, Matamoros and Mexico City, Mexico.

Seven hundred thirty miles from the border to Mexico City is a new wide highway through beautiful mountains and a high speed may be made all the way. Perfect weather the entire trip.

We stayed in a modern motel in Mexico City and went on four tours which included the 4,000-year-old pyramids and ancient city now being uncovered, oldest cathedral and a tour of four top night-clubs.

The colorful dancing and music interested me very much and I played a tune in two marimba bands on the streets and had fun (was a drummer for 16 years).

People are very friendly and all of us felt that we spread good will from the United States. My transistor radio attracted children very much as it was a novelty to them. It was a thrill to ride in a car in the heavy traffic without car lights on. No law to make you, some do, some don't. Our guide driving said as long as he can see you, he figures you see him. They look out for each other, very few accidents.

The round trip was 8,104 miles. Mexico is really going out for the American tourist: good roads and new modern motels going up all along. Rates a little less than U. S. mostly. American type of food is plentiful, but enjoyed their dishes at times.

Door prizes of shampoo and set, given by local beauty salons, were won by Mrs. Siglin and Mrs. J. J. Hay.

Attending the luncheon were Mrs. C. E. Morton, Mrs. J. H. O'Donnell, Mrs. J. B. Beckham, Mrs. C. A. Cisowski, Mrs. I. J. Jarrell, Mrs. J. Stankiewicz, Jr., Mrs. R. T. King, Mrs. C. B. Reeves, Mrs. R. E. Simas, Mrs. R. R. Pope, Mrs. Grace Keck.

Nearly a hundred friends said their goodbyes to Mrs. Lyle Sette at a farewell tea in her honor recently.

Officers wives of VAH-5 were hostesses for the tea which was held at the home of Mrs. Neil Pruden.

A centerpiece of pink and white mums decorated the table where coffee and tea were poured from a silver service. The culinary art of the "Five Wives" was demonstrated with a wide assortment of tea sandwiches, cookies, tiny tarts and crab filled cream puffs.

Assisting with the pouring were Mrs. James Mayo, Mrs. George Kimmons, Mrs. Stanley Stanal, Mrs. Robert Ware, Mrs. Tyler Harnage, Mrs. Hugh O'Hara, Mrs. Kenneth Coshorn, Mrs. Richard Wells, Mrs. James Shipman, Mrs. Herbert Moreland, Mrs. J. A. deFianahl, Mrs. Bart Bartholomew and Mrs. Wallace Russell.

One of the most successful parties of the year was held at the Acey Deucey club Friday night for all first and second class personnel and their guests.

Costumes, akits and prizes combined to make the evening fun filled for the nearly 175 persons attending.

The club was decorated in a traditional Halloween theme by the hostesses and planning committees who were Mrs. Bonnie Jenkins, Mrs. Elva Sutter, Mrs. Vi Rowberry and Mrs. Pat Sumner.

Winners of the costume competition were Mrs. Conda Goodman for best girl, Darrell Fitzgerald for best man, and Mr. and Mrs. Walt Ringo for best couple.

Judges for the contest were Mack McClub, Skip Miller and E. H. Leray.

Another winner was Mrs. Bonnie Rider who won a ballroom game.

The Ringos also performed a dance to the tune of "Monster Mash," and at midnight Mr. and Mrs. Gene Sutter did "The Bride of Dracula."

Big Jim and the Psychos played the music for dancing throughout the evening.

The Acey Deucey wives expressed their thanks to the men of the Acey Deucey club for their help and co-operation in making the dance a success.

Officers and wives and guests of VAH-5 will meet in the Jade Room of the Orlando Air Force Base Officers club for a homecoming dinner-dance Saturday evening.

The party will be the first official function of the group since the squadron returned from seven months aboard the USS Saratoga Thursday and Friday.

Social hour will begin at 7 p.m. with dinner and dancing beginning at 9:30.

United Nations Day was observed by the staff officers wives and their guests at a brunch at the Capri Restaurant.

The theme was carried out in a centerpiece which featured the colors of various flags. It was won by Mrs. Wade Markley.

Hostesses for the brunch were Mrs. George Kimmons, Mrs. Darrell Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Donald Ethell.

Among the guests were Mrs. Hugh O'Hara, Mrs. Dan Batten, Mrs. Nell Johnson, Mrs. Keen Ivy, Mrs. Wallace Russell and Mrs. Mary Peterson.

Staff wives attending included Mrs. James Mayo, Mrs. Orville McGuire, Mrs. Raymond Milburn, Mrs. Herbert Moreland, Mrs. Cliff Nelson, Mrs. Sam Day, Mrs. Fred Burton and Mrs. Edgar Miller.

Much practical and inspiring information has been given to Navy wives by the various speakers participating in the home decorating course, according to Mrs. Kermit Jamison, chairman of the committee which organized the course.

The series of meetings by authorities in the field of interior design have been well attended by the wives. Meetings are at 1 p.m. Mondays in the NAS ballroom and are open to any Navy wives or any retired service wives.

Monday's session will cover accessories in the home and will be concluded by Mrs. Jamison. She has worked in interior design in New York and Canton, Ohio, where she was the consultant for the leading department store there.

The talk will focus on accessories as the crowning touch and as usual will be keyed to the needs of Navy people. It will also include the proper placement and ways to use the accessories to best advantage.

Culminating several weeks of farewell activities for Cdr. and Mrs. Lyle Sette was a dinner Friday evening at the ballroom in the Mayfair Hotel.

The Settes are leaving this week for a period of indoctrination after which Cdr. Sette will take up his new duties aboard the USS Intrepid.

After the dinner, Cdr. Paul Werner, to whom Cdr. Sette had turned over the command of VAH-5 earlier in the day, made some gift presentations.

The first was an engraved silver punch bowl which matched the silver tray given earlier to Mrs. Sette by the officer's wives.

Cdr. Werner also gave the guests of honor pictures of the A31 Skywarrior and the A5A Vigilante, the two planes the squadron had flown during the last year.

Injecting a humorous note, Lt. Cdr. Cliff Thompson gave Cdr. Sette a make-it-yourself model of the USS Intrepid.

A "This is Your Life" album, with pictures of Cdr. Sette from infancy to the present was given by Lt. (jg) Cameron Paulk.

Cdr. Werner was also the recipient of a gift given to him by his former commanding officer. It was the sheriff's badge of office.

The "Savage Players," a local drama group, performed a satirical skit on a working day in Cdr. Sette's office. Members of the group were Lt. Cdr. Cliff Thompson, Lt. Bob Watson, Lt. (jg) Bryan Cronin, Ens. Bernard Kelley and Ens. Jordan Danforth.

Rounding out the evening's entertainment was Ens. Danforth who played the guitar while he and Ens. Kelley sang a song to Cdr. Sette called "Untitled."

The dinner was attended by 120 Navy and civilian squadron members and guests.

DR. K. M. WING

Space Doctor Opens Practice in Sanford

Dr. Kenneth M. Wing, a general surgeon who distinguished himself as a member of Uncle Sam's astronaut medical team, has set up practice in Sanford.

Area Methodists Set Service

The Casselberry Community Methodist Church W.S.C.S. will sponsor a Call to Prayer and Self-Denial Service Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the church.

we took this big V8 and put it in the '64 Chevy II...

WOW!

A pretty potent mixture. The car's the same size. Just as trim and easy to handle as ever. But now you can have a full-grown V8 in it. A Turbo-Fire 283* that turns out 195 hp. It's the kind of machine that doesn't take much coaxing to set in motion. (Especially when you consider it has over 60% more power than the Chevy II that won North America's toughest rally last spring—the Shell "4,000.") And we've also added a choice of a 4-speed Synchro-Mesh transmission* with a floor-mounted shift. But in case your tastes run somewhat milder, we should point out you have a pick of three other engines as well. The standard 4 (on 100 Series sedans), the standard 6 and a new 155-hp 6*.

And, of course, whatever one you decide on, you're getting a car with the pure and simple integrity of a Chevy II. (Upkeep has been even further reduced this year by such refinements as larger self-adjusting brakes.) It's a simple matter to spot one of these '64's by styling touches like the new grille design and trim accents. But we'd like to suggest a more memorable way. Drop down to your dealer's and drive one.

Ginderville Directory Gets Good Response

Hundreds of requests for an area directory to be published by the Ginderville Volunteer Fire Department have been received since plans were announced for the project. James Michael, president of the organization, announced today.

It is estimated that approximately 1,000 families will be listed in the alphabetical directory, including the full names of all adults, their addresses and phone numbers. Firemen have received praise and endorsement from leading business firms, city and county officials and others in their endeavor to bring to the public a directory that will aid police and fire departments in response to emergency calls and will assist in the delivery of mail and merchandise as well as helping residents become better acquainted with their neighbors and business firms in the area.

Census enumerators are finding that residents of the communities of Sunland Estates, Ginderville and nearby areas spend more than $4 million annually over the counters of business firms in the Sanford area, a sum which is of great help in upholding economy of the county. One business firm located in Ginderville is at present carrying a payroll of more than 300 employees.

Vince Plugs Holes

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI) — "Indispensable? Nonsense. No man is indispensable to this team."

The man speaking was Coach Vince Lombardi of the Green Bay Packers. The occasion was shortly after his team had the New York Giants 57-0 for the 1961 National Football League championship.

This season, after another title was added in 1962, Lombardi's getting a chance to show what he meant.

Starting last spring and continuing right through to last week a series of incidents happened that has robbed the Packers of five starters from the championship team. But Green Bay has kept on winning and the reserves who filled in are directly responsible in many cases for the trend.

Lionel Aldridge is the replacement for Bill Quinlan; Elijah Pitts for Tom Moore; John Roach for Bart Starr, and Marv Fleming for Ron Kramer.

Tourney Set

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI) — The 1964 Girls' Junior golf championship will be played at the Leavenworth Country Club, Leavenworth, Kan., Aug. 10-14, the United States Golf Association announced.

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Texas Longhorns today became the first college team ever chosen unanimously by football coaches as No. 1 in the nation, despite one of the most top-heavy seasons on record.

No less than 10 different teams have occupied the first five places in the ratings by the UPI board of coaches this fall and only Texas has managed to appear for more than two weeks in the same position.

Thanks to the almost unprecedented wave of upsets the list of major unbeaten-untied teams has shrunk to four with the season just past the halfway mark. An NCAA executive said he could not remember a season with more upsets than the current one. The Longhorns, No. 1 for the third straight week were named first by all of the 85 famous coaches on the UPI rating board, the only unanimous choice in the 14-year history of the rankings.

Illinois, unbeaten but tied, replaced Wisconsin in second place and Mississippi, also tied but unbeaten, dined out of the standings by losses. They were ninth-ranked Northwestern, and Notre Dame, Mississippi State, Oregon, Iowa and Iowa State, all listed in the top 10. Ohio State returned to 11th, Louisiana State and Pitt tied for 12th, Nebraska was No. 14 and Michigan State finished 16th.

Baylor, Missouri, Arkansas and North Carolina State ranked 16, 17, 18, 19 and Duke and Purdue tied for 20th.

Four games involving the ranking 20, the most in one weekend this season, are scheduled this Saturday. They involve Illinois hosting Purdue, Mississippi at LSU, Wisconsin at Michigan State and Syracuse at Pittsburgh.

Two other top five teams are scheduled for tough road engagements. Texas is at Southern Methodist, which upset Navy and the Middies travel to Notre Dame.

The jury has summoned James H. (Jack) Pollock, long a center of state and city political battles, a Baltimore fight game figure and former member of the Maryland State Athletic Commission; New York heavyweight Wayne Bethea, who knocked Knox out in the ninth round at the Coliseum here on Oct. 14 and Bethea's manager, Bobby Glasen.

Pollock, according to state's attorney William J. O'Donnell, asked to testify in the case. A probe was launched by the grand jury after an autopsy showed Knox weighed only 153 pounds two days after the fatal fight in which he was officially listed as weighing 178 pounds. Bethea was carded at 205 pounds. Knox lapsed into a coma several hours after his defeat and died after a 31-hour coma.

BALTIMORE (UPI) — One of Maryland's most controversial politicians, a dead boxer's last opponent and the opponent's manager are due here today before a grand jury probing the death of Baltimore heavyweight Ernie Knox.

Griffing To Wed

VICKSBURG, Miss. (UPI) — Glyn Griffing, former University of Mississippi star who is quarterback Y. A. Tittle's understudy with the New York football Giants, will marry Nikki Roth of Cleveland, Ohio, on Dec. 20. The site of the wedding will be Oxford, Miss., where the University of Mississippi is located.

LAUREL, Md. (UPI) — Nycros, a French horse who won the Prix du Conseil Municipal on Longchamp on Oct. 20, will be entered in the Washington, D. C. International at Laurel on Nov. 11, it was announced today by Track President John D. Schapiro.

LAUREL, Md. (UPI) — For the sixth consecutive year, Russia will be represented by two of its finest Thoroughbreds in the 1963 running of the Washington, D. C. International at Laurel race course, Nov. 11.
