WGTO Beauty Is Heading For Daytona Contest

Alice Faye Torman, 18-year-old receptionist and traffic clerk for Radio Station WGTO, is Haines City's official entry in the Miss Southland Beauty Contest at Daytona Beach today.

She left her home at nearby Loughman Saturday, for the "working girls' beauty contest".

Alice is 5 feet 4 inches tall, weighs 113 pounds, and measures 33-22 1/2-22. She is a native of Florida and was born near Loughman, where she lives, in eastern Polk County. She was chosen recently from among five entries in a local selection as Haines City's entry for the Miss Southland competition.

This is the first time she has entered a beauty contest — and her current job with WGTO is also her first. She was graduated from the Haines City High School in June 1955. She was a majorita for three years — and her classmates voted her as the girl with the best figure.

Veteran's Corner

The Korean GI Bill reached its fourth anniversary this week after having given approximately 50,000 Florida Korean veterans an opportunity to train for virtually every type of career and occupation found in this State. Approximately 3,000 Florida veterans are expected to make use of their Korean GI training benefits before the program expires in 1965, according to V. S. Parker, manager of the Pass-a-Grille Regional Office.

On the national scale 1,500,000 veterans have been training under the program and another 1,000,000 are expected to make use of the benefit before the cut-off deadline.

Parker pointed out that the veterans already trained or in training have set their sights high. Paralleling the national trend, about 40 per cent of Florida Korean GI trainees aimed for high-level professional, semi-professional and technological occupations. Yet in the entire nation, only one-tenth of the total male labor force is at work in these fields, Parker explained. More than half of all Korean GI Bill trainees attended colleges and universities. And of these 10 per cent enrolled for graduate studies while the rest trained in schools below the college level, on-the-job and on-the-farm.

In addition to reviewing past achievements of the four-year-old Korean GI Bill, Parker took a forward look and predicted that the training program was nearing its peak and probably will reach a plateau during the 1956-57 school year. This number should remain at about the same level for another year, then decline slowly.

Since 1950 there has been a 41.7 percent drop in the number of college students preparing for physical education careers.

Her principal recreations are swimming and reading detective stories. She occasionally rides horseback at the ranch of a friend near Lake Wales.

Credit Services Expanded

Recent changes in the laws governing the Farmers Home Administration will enable the agency to serve the credit needs of a larger number of farm families. William T. Shaddick, State Director, said today.

The new law provides broader authority to assist family-type farmers with loans to improve and operate their farms. It also authorizes, as a part of the rural development program, loans for operating and developing farms where the farmer has part-time employment off the farm. Included in the broader authority are loans for refinancing existing debts, and an increase in the maximum amount that can be advanced for operating loans.

All of the present loan services of the Farmers Home Administration which include loans for the operation, development and purchase of family-type farms, farm housing, soil and water conservation, and loans to meet emergency credit needs will continue to be available.

Shaddick said the new policies were explained by Washington officials of the agency at a meeting held in Atlanta, Ga., recently.

County employes of the agency will be brought up to date at meetings to be held Sept. 11-12, Marianna; Sept. 13-14, Gainesville; Sept. 17-18, Bartow. By Sept. 18 all county offices will be ready to process applications under the new regulations.

The loans to refinance existing debts will be available until June 30, 1959 to owners of farm no larger than family-size. These loans will help farmers who have adequate real estate security and who are otherwise in a sound position but who are unable to meet their present credit obligations and need credit on more favorable terms and conditions than is currently available from other lenders.

When debts are refinanced by the Farmers Home Administration the payments will be scheduled according to the ability of the borrower to repay. In the past, the agency has only refinanced existing when the refinancing was incidental to the making of a real estate loan for purchase or improvement of family-type farms. Nation-wide the agency will be able to advance on an insured basis up to $50,000,000 a year for this purpose.

Insured loans are made by the Farmers Home Administration from funds provided by private lenders. The loans will bear 3 1/2 percent interest plus a 1 percent insurance charge.

Initial operating loans under the new law may be in amounts up to $10,000 to one borrower with a limit of $20,000 on the amount any one borrower can owe for this type of credit. In the past the limit on the initial loan was $7,000 with a $10,000 limit on the total amount of debt that could be incurred. No more than 10 percent of the annual appropriation for operating loans can be used to make loans which cause a borrower's indebtedness to exceed $10,000.

The operating loans are used for the purchase of equipment, livestock, fertilizer, seed and other farm and home operating expenses needed to carry out efficient operations on family-type farms. These loans are repayable over periods up to seven years. The interest rate remains at five percent. For the fiscal year 1957, $165,000,000, plus a contingency fund of $15,000,000 to be used if necessary, has been appropriated for operating loans.

The increase in the maximum limits of these loans will enable the agency to serve farmers and ranchers in areas where heavy investments in machinery, livestock and farm operating expenses are necessary.

Under the former law no new credit could be extended to borrowers who have been continuously indebted for seven years. The new law increases from seven to ten years the period during which additional credit can be extended in hardship cases when the inability of the borrower to repay his indebtedness within seven years is due to causes beyond his control.

Loans will also be available for operating and developing less than family-type farms, if the applicants are established, bona fide farmers who have historically resided on farms and depended on farm income for their livelihood, and who are conducting substantial farming operations and spending a major portion of their time farming. Such operators must have dependable sources of outside income. The primary objective of these loans is to help farmers who live in areas designated for the Rural Development Program, who are unable to obtain enough land resources to develop full-time farms.

The interest rates and terms on these loans for operating and developing less than family-type farms will vary depending upon the purpose for which the loan is obtained. Loans for operating expenses will be repayable over periods up to seven years at five percent interest. Loans for real estate development will bear charge of 4 1/2 percent and will be repayable over periods up to 40 years.

Committee Seeks To Form Quality Control Program

LAKELAND—R. V. Phillips of Haines City, says it's a tough job to figure out a quality control program for fresh Florida citrus because too much rain or not enough can affect the fruit.

A committee of Florida Citrus Commission and Florida Citrus mutual members is tackling the problem to determine how oranges can put on better eye appeal for the housewife.

Among other things the committee set out to study at its initial session Tuesday were outside coloring of oranges, grades and sizes. All these should be uniform, stressed members of the committee.

Herschell Sorrells of Arcadia, chairman of the Florida Citrus Commission, said Florida should seek to hold a constant level on fresh fruit shipments.

He cited figures to show that in the 1955-56 season only 24.5 per cent of the orange crop was sold in fresh form; but in the 1951-52 season it was 36 per cent. California, he related, is maintaining a fairly constant level on the portion of its orange crop going into fresh fruit markets.

Dog Owners Are Enrolling Pooches In 'Canine Shield'

By RENE J. CAPPON
KANSAS CITY (U)—Dog owners by the hundreds are enrolling their pooches in "Canine Shield," a hot new item in the insurance business and the first medical care plan on a national scope devoted exclusively to nonhumans.

The project was launched only five months ago by two veteran Kansas City insurance men, Richard R. Nelson and Gordon R. Reabe.

Today, the founding fathers reported, "Canine Shield" boasts some 3,000 agents and "several hundred active policies." In Reabe's words, "the influx is just beginning. The response has been fantastic, and not only in this country. We've had inquiries from as far away as New Zealand."

There being no actuarial tables on hounds, Reabe and Nelson— who owns a boxer and a poodle— had to start somewhat in the dark. But the policies as originally formulated are working well, they said.

These provide medical care and hospital insurance for dogs between six months and 10 years of age, providing payments of up to $75 per hospitalization for an annual premium of about $15.

The interest churned up by their unique venture keeps Nelson and Reabe hopping. Mail pours in. An Ohio landscaping company wondered if Canine Shield would insure them against marauding dogs. Answer—no. Among applications for agencies came the 10-page letter of a Wilmington, Del., man who thought that, as a veterinarian, he would be peculiarly qualified to deal with pet lovers.

Naturally enough, Messrs. Reabe and Nelson are learning much about the maladies of dogdom. "They seem to be susceptible to much of the same disorders as their bosses," Reabe said. "We've paid off on canine strep throats and tonsillitis and, recently, leukemia."

"We've had one dog recently with eye cataracts, and the vet is working on contact lenses for him to remove a vision impairment."

Smaller breeds pose tougher health problems and accidents, covered in the policies, are a large factor.

Canine Shield's first case involved a supposedly sheltered hound kept in a fenced-in yard. The pooch was attacked by a swarm of bees, and the treatment cost $35.

Comparatively rare, fortunately for canine self-respect, was the case of a deceptively wicked-looking bulldog named Frisky, Reabe reported. The bulldog was hospitalized with "innumerable scratches and infections" suffered at the claws of a victorious tomcat.

Extending the medical insurance program to felines, by the way, is already being planned.

"Ever since we started the dog insurance," Reabe said, "the cat lovers have up in psalm. They've been up in arms."

Dial Equipment Is Being Installed In New Building

Installation of the most modern type of dial equipment in the recently completed telephone central office building at Ninth St. and Laurel Ave. began today. Two Western Electric Co. supervisors arrived during the past week to make necessary preparatory arrangements for the arrival of men and equipment and other supervisory personnel will follow.

This significant "point of progress" in conversion of the local telephone system to dial was revealed today by Gordon Rothermel, Sanford-Deland group manager for Southern Bell. He stated that the Western Electric installation force will increase from 12 to 40 men as the project progresses.

In addition to providing dial service for present subscribers, the new equipment will make it possible to serve present customers and many new customers with the type of service they wish. Present exchange cable facilities will be supplemented by the installation of additional outside cables to all parts of Sanford.

Installation of the intricate mechanism for dial phones—especially designed and engineered for use in Sanford—is a major operation requiring a large number of technicians of especially trained technicians before the system is finally completed for local use.

15 Killed In State During Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Fifteen persons who were alive at the start of this Labor Day weekend failed to survive until the next one.

Highway accidents killed 10, one drowned and three died in other violent accidents.

The traffic toll may rise higher. Some deaths may be reported later and some of those injured will probably die.

Safety experts predicted that 12 would be killed in Florida traffic. Lives were snuffed out in every part of the state one at the time as families took advantage of the 78-hour weekend to go on trips and outings.

A car travelling at high speed last night left the road and killed Richard Lee eGorge, 19, and Eugene W. Phillips, Lake City Negroes.

Augustine Ruiz, 35, became Miami's third fatality of the weekend last night when his car was rammed by two other vehicles. He was catapulted through an open door and killed almost instantly.

Burnhart Ott, 66, of Lakeland, died yesterday of injuries suffered the day before when his station wagon plunged through the wooden rail of a bridge near Arcadia. His wife, Mrs. Winifred Ott, 48, was critically injured.

A 54-year-old Fort Lauderdale man, Levi Johnson, tumbled into a river and drowned yesterday.

A car driven by Comdr. Frank J. Gatta, 36, of Cecil Field near Jacksonville, was killed when his auto struck a utility pole yesterday.

Missing Girl Not Missing

DELAND—A 10-year-old girl missing from an Ocala bus station wasn't missing at all. Her mother had her all the time.

The disappearance was reported Sunday. All anyone seemed to know was that the girl arrived by bus from Gainesville about 2:30 and a driver told Charlie Mosley, ticket agent, to put her on a bus for Deland.

An hour or so later she couldn't be found.

Yesterday Mrs. Tony J. Visconti of Deland said she had picked up her daughter, Carmen, at the Ocala bus station about 8 p. m. She said "I thought Carmen might get confused by having to transfer so I checked on a bus schedule and drove to Ocala for her."

She said she didn't think it was necessary to notify bus authorities but "I guess I should have."

Carmen had been visiting a sister, Mrs. James V. Doyle Jr., in Jasper.

2 Offices To Get New Equipment

The Board of Seminole County Commissioners will advertise for competitive bids on office mechanical equipment to modernize both the Tax Collector's office and the office of the Seminole County Tax Assessor.

John Galloway, Seminole County Tax Collector, appeared before the Board of Seminole County Commissioners this morning to appeal for the equipment to put the county on an equal footing with other offices in the State.

Galloway pointed out that the County Tax Roll has increased 113.44 percent from $431,899.78 in 1943 to $922,024.76 in 1955, or an increase of $490,125.98. The Intangible Personal Property Tax roll has increased 238.43 per cent, he said, from $5,259.04, in 1943, to $20,933.31 in 1955. The Intangible Class "C" tax has increased 566.4 per cent, he said, from $3,917.69 in 1945, to $25,900.59 in 1955. The number of tax receipts Galloway pointed out, have increased from 9,000 in 1944 to 12,000 in 1955, or a percentage of increase to 33 per cent. The number of occupational licenses have increased from 765 in 1945 to 1,350 in 1955, said Galloway. Also in the increase were beverage license which came up from 127 in 1945 to 158 in 1955, and the number of automobile license tags sold in 1945 from 5,225 to 15,324 in 1955, or a percentage increase of 194.

E. A. Donnelly, representing the Addressograph Co. and Charles Walker representing the Burroughs Adding Machine Co. outlined to the commissioners the use of the machines and pointed out that the overall cost of the equipment would run less than $7,000.

The Board of Commissioners approved the request for bids on the basis of the Tax Collector's office and the Tax Assessor's office sharing the cost equally from excess fees.

Operators for the machines will also be paid on a 50-50 basis by both offices, said John Galloway.

"With the continued growth of Seminole County, we can give better service and reduce the work load in our offices by using the modern equipment," Galloway told the commissioners.

Dusty Boots Assn. Holds Rodeo, Other Events Yesterday

The Dusty Boots Riding Association staged several Labor Day events yesterday which were led off by a parade through Sanford of more than 100 horses. Participating in the parade with the local Dusty Boots group were members of the Lake County Rough Riders and the Orange County Roping Club.

Following the parade, a fish fry was held at the Sanford Farmers Auction Market at noon which was open to the public and under the direction of Gus Schmah. Assisting Schmah were J. Q. "Slim" Galloway and Sam Cochran.

At 2 p. m. the main event of the day got underway with the rodeo being judged by J. Q. "Slim" Galloway and S. H. Ernest who helped keep about 125 horses "on the go."

Clyde Richter did an "excellent" job as arena master, it was reported.

In the first event, bronc riding, Wade Barrows took first place followed by Donnie Barks and Sonny Sizelove. Dickie Hunt took first place.

Dickie Hunt took first place in the Barrel Bending event; Bob Copeland first in the Cover Seat; Clyde Richardson and James Foster took the Relay race; Cecil Lee and Charles Sizelove in the Pickup; while Ronald Velno took first place and Bob Copeland second in Calf Roping.

Pretty 22-Year-Old Plunges From Plane To Death Monday

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP)—A pretty, June college graduate plunged 1,000 feet from a rented plane yesterday, leaving a fragment of her sweater grasped in the pilot's hand.

Seminole County deputy sheriffs said they would resume a search for the body of Flora Lisabeth Anderson, 22, as soon as the fog lifts sufficiently. It is presumed the University of California graduate fell to death near Rincon Beach.

The pilot, Stanley Gordon, 28, of nearby Belvedere, an insurance underwriter, was questioned extensively and released. Acting Dist. Atty. Roger Garey said "it would definitely appear to be a suicide."

Gordon and Miss Anderson, daughter of Joseph A. Anderson, a San Francisco building contractor, were having only their second date.

They had appeared hand in hand, gay and smiling at San Francisco Bay Airport here yesterday and rented a small yellow aircraft from A. W. Lyman.

An hour later Gordon flew in alone, obviously distraught and trembling. He still clutched a fragment of cashmere sweater. "It's a terrible day, a terrible day," he cried. "Call the police."

Lake Howell Road Will Be Repaired For Drag Racing

Drag races will be held on Lake Howell Road from State Road 436 to Concord Ave., according to a decision by the Board of Seminole County Commissioners at this morning's session.

The Seminole Timing Association, organized for the purpose of bringing back the drag racing, will sponsor the races.

The section of Lake Howell Road will be paved and put into shape for holding the races.

Seminole County Attorney, Mack N. Cleveland Jr., suggested to the Board of Commissioners that racing be allowed with one car at a time racing against a clock because of the danger involved on a 20-foot road.

"Even though there is some question as to responsibility, with proper releases from parents of those taking part in the drag races and single car racing, it would be satisfactory," Attorney Cleveland said.

"I can foresee what might happen if we tried it any other way," the County Attorney said.

The Board of Seminole County Commissioners approved the closing of the road to traffic from 10 to 3 p. m. on Sunday afternoons when the road is put into condition for the racing. No date was set by the board for the completion of the road improvements.

Reception Planned

The members of Holy Cross Episcopal Church are giving a reception for the Rev. H. Lytleton Zimmerman and his family at the Zimmarman House on Thursday, Sept. 6, between the hours of 9 and 10 p. m.

The purpose of the event is to give their friends an opportunity to see them before their departure.

The Rev. Zimmerman has accepted a parish at Pompano Beach.

Kefauver To Make Talk In Sarasota

SARASOTA—Sen. Estes Kefauver, the Democratic nominee for vice president, will kick off a series of three appearances with a talk here Sept. 14.

Kefauver's appearance is part of the hard campaigning planned by Democrats to win back the Florida vote in the November presidential election.

The Tennesseean will address a rally on the night of Sept. 14 here, move to Orlando for another the next afternoon and finish up his series that night in St. Petersburg.

Sen. George Smathers D-Fla., who announced the itinerary, said the appearances marked the first step of the party's "intensive effort" in Florida. He pointed out that all three cities are Republican strongholds.

M. Clark Lodged In Jail

Sheriff J. L. Hobby, assisted by Deputy Sheriffs Morgan McClelland and James Singletary, confiscated a cache of morphine and narcotics stolen from a Sanford drug store about the middle of August.

Sheriff Hobby pointed out that he had received no formal notice of the breaking and entering at McReynolds Drug Store on August 16, but read an account of the incident in the local newspaper.

Following substantial leads and a series of events, Sheriff Hobby and his deputies took Melton Clark, 33-year-old employee of A. Duda and Sons of Slavia, into custody yesterday morning and lodged him in the Seminole County jail.

The Sheriff said that Clark has admitted to the breaking and entering. "He was just about to give himself an injection when we arrested him," Hobby said this morning.

Raceway Head Asks Referendum Election

A formal request, asking for a referendum election in November, simultaneously with the General Election, was made this morning before the Seminole County Board of Commissioners by William H. Kemp, president of Seminole Park Raceway.

Pointing out that the Raceway is already receiving national publicity, Kemp produced a copy of "The Horseman" and "The Harness Horse" two widely circulated magazines in which articles appeared about the development of the track.

In one article Kemp told the magazine that "the stockholders and directors of the newly formed Seminole Raceway are set to back their big plans with dollars in an all-out effort to develop Central Florida as the mecca of the harness horse racing fraternity."

The track was originally constructed in 1925 by a group of harness horse sportsmen headed by the late W. N. Reynolds. Associated with Reynolds were Joe Tinker, the late William H. Strang, Ben White and Sam Shivers.

Kemp submitted the original permit issued his organization for pari-mutuel betting by the Florida State Racing Commission, a letter requesting the referendum, and a certified check for $1,000 which will pay for their share of the November election.

"If we are granted the privilege of a referendum," Kemp told the Board of Commissioners, "it will give us something to build around and furnish one of the finest tracks in the southeastern states."

O. P. Herndon, Clerk of Circuit Court, told the Board of Commissioners that the referendum will require "separate ballots, separate items on the voting machines, and separate absentee ballots." However, Herndon pointed out that even though it will be a referendum held simultaneously with the general election it will be a separate election.

Loch Arbor Homes Are Ransacked By Youngsters

Three Seminole County homes in the Loch Arbor section were ransacked by a group of youngsters during the past two or three weeks.

Deputy Sheriff Morgan McClelland and Constable J. Q. "Slim" Galloway took five youngsters into custody and are holding three of them in the Seminole County Jail on orders from Juvenile Judge Ernest Housholder.

Deputy Sheriff McClelland said that the group of boys, all in the 10 to 12 year old class broke into the homes of John Williams, Richard Hornman and Orville Touchton during the time when the families were away on their vacations.

The homes were completely ransacked said the Deputy Sheriff, with liquids smeared over the walls of the homes and bathrooms.

The youngsters even slept in the beds of one home, it was reported.

Taken from the homes were 10 silver dollars, three books of government savings stamps which were cashed in Orlando, a piggy bank containing $15 or $20, 10 golf clubs, golf balls, and steel tapes.

"We have been working on this case since last Friday," said Deputy Sheriff McClelland and finished up last night.

The juveniles will be brought before Judge Ernest Housholder for hearings in Juvenile Court.

Firemen Free Youngster's Arm From Fire Plug

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—Three-year-old Sherman Wayne Dotson learned yesterday to keep away from fire plugs—but he gave admiring adults a lesson in courage at the same time.

For an hour, the curly-haired blond youngster bit back the tears as firemen tried to free his arm from an outmoded, abandoned fire plug.

Sherman's arm was caught as the lad reached into the plug to retrieve some rocks and bottle caps he had been throwing into a small, 4-inch opening.

As the firemen labored, Sherman proudly displayed a faint, forced smile. Only when the arm was finally freed did his smile disappear—he heard someone say he was to be taken to a hospital.

But the smile returned when he made the trip in a police patrol car, as everyone in the block waved at him and told him what a brave boy he was.

The hospital examination showed only bruises and scratches. And when Sherman returned home, a quart of strawberry ice cream was waiting on the kitchen table for him.

Sherman polished off the dessert and went to bed—he was tired.

38 DEEP IN CANADA
OTTAWA (AP)—Labor Day weekend accidents took the lives of at least 29 persons in Canada.

The accidental death toll for the same holiday weekend last year was 21.

WACs Begin 15th Year

HEIDELBERG, Germany, (AP)—Women are serving alongside men at the Army's defense and occupation bases in Europe, extending a career beachhead won in World War II.

The Women's Army Corps WAC now starting its 15th year, has one-tenth of its peace-time strength in the European Theater of Operations.

Capt. Roberta McWilliams of Flint, Mich., petite, blue-eyed commander of an international detachment of American French and Dutch women assigned to Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers in Europe: SHAPE says now that the drive to "replace a soldier for active duty" is gone, the women keep enlisting in the WAC.

They join for security, educational benefits travel and adventure. Many are finding romance, too, in an environment where men sometimes outnumber women 1,000 to one.

WACs are doing every kind of job from photography to intelligence at dozens of bases in Germany, France and Italy.

A big field for the women here is hospital work, much of it concentrated on the care of dependents of GIs.

About once a month, the Army flies WACs on assignment Europe some 2,500 miles in a push military transport plane from McGuire AFB, N. J., to Rhein-Main Airport, Frankfurt, for a tour of duty abroad.

These tours are for two years but 50 per cent of the women stay on for another year.

Almost every WAC you meet has the travel bug. They are as tourists as any tourist, using weekend and 30-day annual leaves to get about Europe.

A great number of WAC officers and enlisted women in the top three grades have their own cars which the Army ships overseas free.

In addition, they can get quartermaster gas at about 15 cents a gallon in areas where gas sells at 30 to 35 cents a gallon on the open market.

WAC pay ranges from $2,040 to $11,300 a year, plus all the benefits and 30-year retirement programs the Army gets.

The corps now accepts enlistments from women 18 to 35. They can try a stint for two years and then get out if they don't like it.

The streamlined, peacetime WAC has been more carefully screened and selected than during the hectic recruiting of World War II.

Capt. McWilliams commented that "The overall WAC unsuitability discharge rate is lower than the overall rate of women expelled from U.S. college campuses for the same thing."

The work day runs about 1 a.m. to 5 p. m., usually with a 4:30 a. m. reveille and a midnight check. The time between is their own. Uniforms are worn only on duty hours.

In fact, the Army requests WACs to wear civilian clothes when on trips or while off duty in mess hall duties.

Some 300 WACs work and are billeted here at the Army's European headquarters in big, four-story stone casernes, once occupied by Nazi storm troops. Paying a dollar or two toward civilian help gets them out of KP and mess hall duties.

Noncommissioned officers have their own rooms and WACs of lower grades are billeted two in a room in big windowed quarters.

The WACs stress leisure time athletics with intercommand tournaments, many of them held at picturesque Garmisch not far from Munich in the Bavarian Alps. Garmisch is a popular rest and leave center with rock bottom prices.

Scotland Yard Is Pushing Search For N. Ponomareva

LONDON (AP)—Scotland Yard pushed a dogged search for Nina Ponomareva yesterday but some of the British press voiced a plaintive hope that the police never catch her.

Immigration officials at all sea and air terminals were ordered to be on the lookout for the fugitive Soviet discus thrower who is accused of shoplifting five hats and jumping bail.

The Soviet Embassy, which denounced the whole thing as a "dirty provocation," said Nina was still in hiding in Britain but declined to tell where.

Meanwhile, the boss of the store where the allegedly light-fingered Nina was arrested said he personally was willing to drop the shoplifting charge but would have to consult his board of directors.

Soil Conservation News

By BEN WIGGINS
Soil Conservation, USDA

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Supervisors of the Seminole Soil Conservation District was held last week in the local work unit office located on the fourth floor of the Atlantic National Bank Building. The meeting was called to order by chairman Bonner Carter and the minutes of the previous meeting were read by secretary Bill West.

After the regular business of the meeting was completed, supervisor Ralph Hammond gave a summary of the highlights of the annual supervisors' convention that was held in Orlando on Aug. 21, 22 and 23. Mrs. Hammond served as a hostess for the occasion and assisted Mrs. Gary Snow of Orlando in providing a wonderful program of entertainment for the auxiliary or wives of the supervisors from all sections of Florida.

Gary Snow, Chairman of the Orange Board of Supervisors, arranged the program for the supervisors and all events of the convention went off on schedule. Nolan J. Fuqua, president of the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts from Duncan, Okla., gave an interesting talk on the functions and operations of soil conservation districts. He stated that the best way to successfully conserve the soil, water and other natural resources in this country is through local districts that are organized and run by local people.

Albert Lunday, Farm Forester who recently replaced Joe Smith, talked a few minutes about the forestry industry and operations in Central Florida. Lunday's services are available to any land owner in Orange, Lake and Seminole counties. If you have a problem such as planting of trees, thinning, improvement cuttings, controlled burning, or any other woodland management problem you should contact Lunday at 1127 W. Central in Orlando.

Supervisors present for the meeting were chairman, Bonner Carter, Ralph Hammond, C. A. Wales and W. W. Lutz. Bill West, vocational agriculture instructor at Seminole High School and secretary to the Board and the writer were also present.

Hunger Marchers Fired On By Police

DACCA, East Pakistan, UP — Police fired twice today on hunger marchers demonstrating in the streets of Dacca. Unofficial reports said 5 were killed and 20 wounded.

The capital of East Pakistan was jammed with men, women and children who had crowded in from nearby villages to plead for rice.

Authorities said the situation was under control, but indicated troops would be moved in if new demonstrations flare.

The demonstrators formed up and marched through the streets carrying banners saying: "Give us food." The province has been plagued by food shortages since severe floods a year ago.

Prisoners To Wear Plastic Bracelets For Identification

LOS ANGELES (UP)—County jail prisoners are going to be identified with plastic bracelets.

A transparent piece of tubular plastic, a half inch wide, 10 inches long and as strong as steel, will be fastened around each prisoner's wrist with a metal grommet. The bracelet will contain his name and booking number.

Sheriff Eugene W. Biscailu, announcing the plan Monday said the jail releases or books 700 prisoners daily. The jail's usual population exceeds 3,000. He said identification has become a big problem, and the new system will save many man hours.

One of the courts recently served a bench warrant on the sheriff's office because deputies had been unable to locate prisoners in time to present them in court when their cases were called.

Vision Problems Should Be Watched

Parents and teachers were urged by the Central Florida Optometric Association today to watch for symptoms of vision problems among children returning to school in September.

"Inadequate vision is a far more common cause of school failure and emotional disturbance than is generally recognized," said Dr. H. P. Winton, president.

Among symptoms of vision problems to look for, according to Dr. Winton, are:

- Avoiding work requiring good vision at the reading distance.
- Losing place while reading.
- Holding work closer than normal.
- Excessive head movements while reading.
- Poor sitting posture and position while reading.

Any child in the bottom third of his school class and any child not performing up to his capacity should have a thorough vision examination, Dr. Winton said. He said that uncorrected vision problems are contributing causes in 50 per cent of all cases of reading failure, according to a University of Chicago study.

Sheep Herder Is Attacked By Bear

STEAMBOAT SPRINGS, Colo. — A Colorado sheep herder was attacked yesterday by a wounded 1,000-pound black bear and killed several sheep in their flock.

Armed with rifles, they rode horseback to the trap yesterday morning and saw the bear trapped by one paw.

The men dismounted, and Roybol fired one shot. The bullet struck the bear in the head, emerging at the back of the neck. Maddened, the animal ripped loose from the steel trap and charged before either could fire a second shot.

Roybol was flattened by the bear's bloody charge. His companion, waiting for a clear shot, finally killed the beast.

Now Time For Candidates To Show Influence Upon Schools Of South

It is the inherent right of every citizen of the United States, under its democratic freedoms, to think as he pleases, to choose his own company, and to voice his opinion of government.

Two incidents of grave concern to citizens all over the United States have occurred within the past week.

These incidents give the two presidential candidates an opportunity to prove to the people of the South, and of every state in the nation, that their individual thinking on civil rights platforms and legislation is right—or it gives them, equally, an opportunity to prove to themselves that their platforms are wrong.

No better opportunity could be provided for the two candidates to go personally to the scene of these incidents, one in Tennessee and the other in Texas, to prove to the youngsters attending school, to the teachers employed to instruct in the schools, to the parents of the children attending school, and to the citizens as a whole, that they have the answers.

This is no time to send emissaries or representatives to the areas affected by legislation handed down by the lawmakers and jurists of the nation. Lives are at stake when National Guardsmen stand by with rifles and bayonets to go into action when ordered.

Other lives are at stake as citizens bear arms to carry out their own convictions which have been engraved into their habits and customs over the many years behind them.

This is no time to attempt to sell a group of people through force. Negro students affected, in one state, have openly stated that their preference would be to return to their own schools unless forced by the NAACP to attend schools that they did not choose.

We are going through an era of great stress when leaders of our nation must come to the front and take personal action in programs that will separate friend from friend, neighbor from neighbor, and destroy the society of states which has been handed

Business New Year Under Way

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK—The new year for most businesses gets under way this week. And rarely have businessmen a good September with more confidence—or, at least, with higher hopes.

Labor Day is widely looked upon as the turning point in the business year, the end of the summer doldrums and the start of the big production and sales period for many lines of goods.

September may well show whether the Federal Reserve Board is right in its suspicion that a new boom is in the making, especially in the capital goods industries, or whether balky consumers will dash the hopes of the everything-is-going-to-be-bigger-and-better boys.

The Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, in its September survey out today, says: "Consumer willingness to buy has withstood the advance of prices and also apparently the unsettling effects of the nationwide steel strike."

Many items in the stores will better higher price tags next month and the real test of consumer acceptance may come after the present rush of back to school buying is over. Merchants seem confident, however, that consumer spending will be sustained, especially in the soft goods lines, and that sales of durables will pick up in time for a big Christmas season.

September will see the auto dealers in their last big flurry to get rid of the 1956 models as the auto makers change over for production of the 1957s. The new cars probably will carry higher price tags.

The steel industry expects to go through the month at a near capacity rate and to have made up most of the tonnage lost during the strike and to be back on a current basis again by the end of the year. With steel scrap prices now at a record high, the mills will be turning out expensive steel next month.

Farmers should be feeling better this September. This year's harvest will be bringing in more money for most of them.

The government will be putting more money into the economy. Spending in the fiscal year that started July 1 will be at least four billion dollars more than was first estimated in January. Much of the increase will go to farmers under various payment plans.

With the expected revival in auto production, the economy's chief remaining weakness will be the home building industry. The effects of the tight money market may show up more pointedly here in September and the month may see the pressure increasing on Washington to ease the strain.

But the consumer remains the real question mark. If he takes the higher prices in stride, it should be a prosperous fall.

Organized Labor Marches Uphill

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst WASHINGTON—Organized labor marches today, but the march is uphill. Unless he hits a kind of plateau, or leveling-off point. Getting new members is a lot tougher than it used to be.

Unions in this country have at the most about 17 million members. In 1946, at the end of the war, they had about 18 million. So the two million increase in 11 years, when the total number of working people also increased is something less than sensational.

There are now about 67 million people working, not all of them eligible for union membership.

For example: self-employed and other groups are not eligible.

But the 17 million workers now in unions are only about 33 percent of all those others out of the 67 million who are eligible or might be organized.

Why the organizing slowdown? Unions give some explanation.

Most of the big industries—which have the heaviest concentration of workers—have been organized; some workers will never join a union anyway; some feel no need for a union because times are prosperous; and the Taft-Hartley Act passed in 1947 has hurt organizing.

There are perhaps other reasons that unions have lost their early momentum and perhaps are relying on organizing methods 20 years out of date.

The great growth of unionism in this country occurred between 1935 and 1946. In 1935 there were perhaps 700,000 organized workers; by 1946, the start of World War I, two million; about four million by 1952.

By 1934—in the midst of the depression and as a result of shut-down plants and employers' resistance—union membership was around 34 million.

Then in 1935 Congress passed the Wagner Act, protecting workers' rights to organize and compelling employers to bargain with unions. This was the biggest incentive to organizing in the 20th century.

In the next year, 1936, John L. Lewis set up the Committee for Industrial Organization CIO and it was then that organizing made its most tremendous leaps and undderstandably:

The highly conservative American Federation of Labor AFL had been largely content to do craft-organizing. That is only among skilled workers in a plant, such as carpenters.

The CIO set out to organize all workers in a plant, skilled and unskilled. For example: the automobile and steel workers.

Organized labor totaling only 34 million in 1934 had reached about 18 million by 1946.

The Southern states, where industry is going, is the greatest unorganized area in the country. There perhaps no more than 10 or 15 per cent of all those eligible for membership are in the unions.

The most highly organized state in the nation—in relation to the number of those who are eligible and could be union members—is Washington.

Toupee Owners Beware Of Moths

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK—Many a man is bothered by butterflies in his stomach, but if you wear a toupee you have to worry more about moths.

"Moths love to eat animal fur or human wigs and hairpieces," said Don Ott, the nation's largest professional moth rancher.

"But so far as I know they never eat a man bald. They're not adapted to attacking living organisms."

Ott, known as "the moth detective," raised about half a million clothes moths and carpet beetles a year in the research laboratory of Geigy Chemical Corp. at Yverdone, N.J. It manufactures a chemical used to mothproof about 80 million garments a year, including the woolen underwear worn by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Moths and carpet beetles cause an estimated billion-dollar-a-year damage to fabrics and furniture in America, but Ott says that we're lucky.

"Of the 200,000 kinds of insects in the world, the United States has some 20,000 identified varieties," he observed, "but only 13 are important fabric pests—six moths and seven beetles."

"The worst are the webbing clothes moth and the black carpet moth. If undisturbed, a lady clothes moth could raise a million progeny in a year and they'd eat 20 pounds of wool."

Ott, a tall, slender, 35-year-old entomologist from the University of Iowa, is full of odd lore about his insect herds, such as:

"It costs $2.50 to reweave the average moth-damaged cloth.

"Moths eat more on rainy days because they like a high humidity.

"Insects, like people, have a greater longevity, if they don't get too much. A moth will live only three months under ideal food conditions, but up to a year if food is scarce.

"Birds are plagued in their nests by moths and beetles just as people are in their homes.

"Crickets like wool, too. One cricket can ruin a suit of clothes overnight."

"Clothes moths and carpet beetles originally were scavengers, feeding on the hair, feathers, fur and horns of dead animals.

"As a matter of fact, I raise my moths in fishmeal, and my beetles in dogfood," said Ott.

Adult moths are harmless. They do their feeding in the larval, or wormlike, stage.

"If you sweat a grown moth, the chances are that it is male," said Ott. "The females are usually too heavy with eggs to fly much."

Under microscope examination Ott can usually tell exactly whether the hole in a fabric was caused by an insect, a cigarette burn or a simple tear.

"A moth or beetle leaves identifying teeth or mandible marks at the end of the fibers."

Ott says mothballs never really kill moth larvae, and that naphthalene flakes or cedar closets offer protection for only a few months at most. DDT is effective, he said, but must be renewed as it is removed during washing or dry cleaning.

"Moths won't attack man-made fibers such as nylon or dacron," he added, "but if they get on a blended fabric of wool and a synthetic fiber, they'll make a larger hole because they have to eat over a larger area to get their food."

The smaller your wardrobe the less likely you are to have a moth problem.

"If a man or woman had only one suit and wore it every day," said Ott, "he'd never have to worry about moths."

But just try to tell that to your wife the next time she wastes money for a new wool dress!

International Mars Committee Again Studying Planet

TALLAHASSEE

The worldwide body of scientists known as the International Mars Committee is once more making a round the clock study of the red planet.

Look to the Southeastern skies these summer evenings. Even with the unaided eye, it's easy to tell that Mars, red and brilliant, is making one of its intriguing close approaches to the earth.

By early September, Mars will be only 35,400,000 miles away, its nearest approach in 16 years.

The committee is using every possible moment of the so-called "favorable opposition" to add to man's knowledge of its intriguing neighbor in space. From the United States; France, South Africa, Egypt, Java, Japan, India, Australia, New Zealand and Argentina telescopes manned by committee members are trained on the planet.

Dr. Seymour L. Hess of the Florida State University meteorology faculty, a member of the committee and an expert on planetary atmospheres, reported it's hoped the observation will bring further light to bear on the question of whether vegetation exists on the planet.

Terry Cloth Used For Many Purposes Other Than Towels

Terry cloth is no longer used to make towels exclusively, and nothing else. It can now be found in such items as automobile seat covers, shorts, chaise lounge covers, curtains, pot holders, couch covers and aprons. When the modern trend turned toward casual living, terry cloth came into its own. It is used in all forms of wearing apparel where the accent is on comfort as well as style—men's, women's and children's shorts, jackets, and shirts. It can also be used in many styles and combinations of styles where no other fabric would serve as well, for example beach-ropes, and women's and children's playuits. Terry cloth has been named by some "the closest thing to a miracle fiber yet discovered by man" and today's moderns are finding that true every day.

New Book Gives Names Of Over 200 S. Florida Trees

The University of Florida Press has recently released a new book entitled "Common Exotic Trees of South Florida". This book lists about 200 of the commonest exotic trees to be found in the parks, nurseries, gardens and streets of South Florida. Exotic trees have been collected from all continents having tropical or subtropical climates, and planted and made to grow from Vero Beach south to Key West. This volume, compiled by Miss Mary F. Barrett, who has written numerous scholarly and popular articles, also gives identifying marks, or forms, of each tree and explains a minimum of botanic terms with pictures. The field study for this book required a period of five years of making notes and collecting specimens, all of which have been verified by authorities at nationally known scientific centers, including the Herbarium of the New York Botanical Garden, the Arnold Arboretum of Harvard University, The United States National Museum, Washington, D. C.; The Florida State Experiment Station at Gainesville; and the Bailey Hortorium of Cornell University. Miss Barrett, who is a resident of Bloomfield, N. J., received her higher education at Smith College and Columbia University, after which she served as instructor in Botany at Wesley College during the period 1906 to 1908. She then became a member of the faculty of Montclair State Normal School, where she taught botany and zoology for some twenty years.

Municipal Pool Scene Of Party For Rainbow Girls

The back-to-school party for the Rainbow Girls Thursday night started with a "splash" when they dove into Municipal Pool and ended with a "rousing" cheer for "good ole" Seminole High School, with cheerleaders Miss Peggy Lundquist, Miss Nan Cushing, Miss Jaf Fibry and Miss Shirley Morgan on hand to see that the cheering was "done up proper". Miss Nan Cushing served as lifeguard, but fortunately did not have to prove her prowess, as the girls played safely, though exuberantly. Their favorite sport for the evening, in addition to just plain old swimming of course, was a game called "variante", "War", "Chickens" or "rooster". There were also a few who "showed off" their diving ability.

After the girls had their fill of swimming, they proceeded on to the Raymond Lundquist home, where everything was in readiness for them. There were lanterns and candles lighting the scene and Mr. Lundquist served as chef for the occasion. A few malicious tongues have whispered that the hot dogs were burned a trifle, but reliable sources report that they were a "just right" brown. With the onions in which the girls indulged themselves because there were no dates, they were judged "perfect". After eating their "hot dogs" along with some cole slaw, potato salad and soft drinks, the group indulged in dancing, singing, games and a good old fashioned "gab fest". Those present were Miss Peggy Lundquist, Miss Nan Cushing, Miss Jaf Fibry, Miss Shirley Morgan, Miss Linda Anderson, Miss Marilyn McDaniel, Miss Linda Sue Koke, Miss Georgia Ann Jones, Miss Marchetta Campbell, Miss June Jennings, Miss Nellie Pickens, Miss Sherlene Shepard, Miss Penny Marian, Miss Mary Grace Hobby, Miss Nancy Cash, Miss Amoret Spier and Miss Spier's guest, Miss Pat Powell. Chaperones for the event were Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Shepard, Mrs. Marjorie Shepard, who brought her small daughter Joyce, Mrs. Virginia Burney, Mrs. Virginia Anderson, Mrs. Lennie Moye, with her grandson, Allen Cooper, Mrs. Kathleen Reynolds, with her children Pete and Pam, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lundquist.

Fall Is Good Time To Clean Carpets

Now that the children are back in school, but before it gets too cold, is a good time to give some time and thought to cleaning your carpets or rugs. You can tell if they need it by parting the pile and taking a close look. If a dirt line shows deeper than the half-way mark, it is time to do some cleaning before the soil works down to the base of the fibers. You may choose to have the carpet cleaned professionally or do it yourself. If you decide to do your own cleaning, be sure to follow directions on the commercial rug-cleaning preparation you choose. The secret of success in cleaning rugs and carpets is fast drying and here is where the blower attachment on your vacuum cleaner can be a valuable aid. After you have your carpet looking clean and bright as new, keep it that way by following these basic rules. A thorough vacuuming once a week, a touch-up in between with sweeper or vacuum, and periodic cleaning. A bit of carpet at all entrances saves you time spent in cleaning because it keeps a great deal of the dirt from being tracked all over the house.

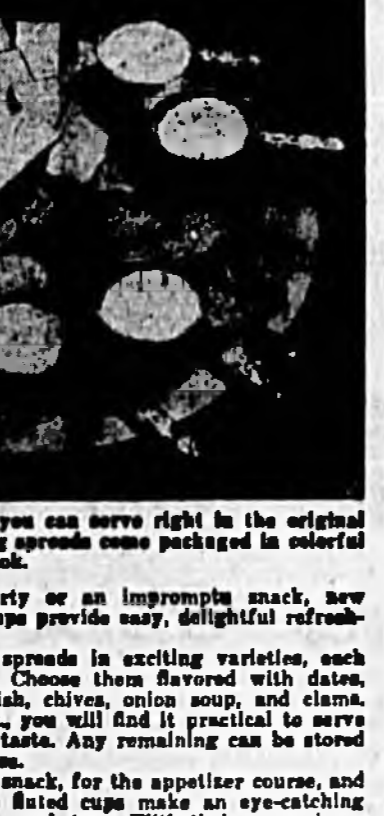

Between you 'n me

Well, here it is almost the end of another summer. Labor Day always seems to mark the unofficial end of summer activities, although, in reality, Fall doesn't start until Sept. 21. But with the start of school, immediately after Labor Day, comes also, the starting up again of all the clubs and organizations that have been idle all summer. And soon all you ladies will be blossoming out in your new fall wardrobes, going to meetings, football games, etc. I hope you all have a nice supply of those wonderful dark cottons that are so popular now. They are so practical and so logical, especially for us Florida gals, that I don't know why someone didn't introduce them a long time ago.

Happy Birthday

Miss Betty Bryan Gives Luncheon For Bridesmaids

Miss Betty Bryan gave a luncheon Friday at 12:00 in her home 600 Park Ave. for her maid of honor and bridesmaids. She was assisted by Mrs. J. W. Brown and Mrs. Clarence L. Wynn. The luncheon table was beautifully decorated with a white linen cloth, centered with Miss Bryan's now-famous ribbon bouquet. On either end of the table were low crystal candle holders containing pink tapers which were entwined with lilies-of-the-valley tied with narrow white ribbon. The attendants' places were marked with gifts, with the papers and ribbons in the colors of their dresses—blue for the maid of honor, and pink for the bridesmaids. The gifts were single strands of pearls to be worn with their gowns, for the wedding. The mantle of the Assarello home was set off with a lovely bouquet of pink rosebuds, and in the archway between the living room and dining room was a table containing an outstanding arrangement of pink rosebuds and pastel candles.

Attending the luncheon were Maid of Honor, Miss Marilyn Calhoun; Bride's small daughter, Carolyn Hirt, and Miss Yvonne Cullen; Mrs. C. H. Varner, grandmother of the bride; Mrs. J. N. Assarello, mother of the bride; and Mrs. Edwidge Hirt, mother of the groom.

Another organization that has big things planned is the Gammars. This is a group which originated when nine girls got together and chose a motto for themselves then from the motto took the name of Gammars. For the past two years they have saved their money and each summer have rented a cottage at the beach for a week. Well, next year, as a graduation present to themselves—they are all seniors—they are going to save just a little harder and take a trip to Nassau. Some "doubting Thomases" have said they can't do it, but they sound pretty determined to me.

SENSATION OF THE CENTURY

-at an easy-to-take price

So you really ought to try a '56 Century . . . Especially now, while your present car is at its peak worth . . . Especially now, at today's Buick prices (who knows when they'll ever be as low again!) . . . And especially now, with Buick so solidly in the Top 8 of America's best sellers—and that kind of sales volume permitting us to make you an even finer trade-in allowance. Drop in on us this week—today would be even better!—and see what a buy you can make right now on the best Buick yet.

It's Bonanza Time at Buick Dealers!
FIRST TIME you take the measure of a '56 Buick Century, you'll know what the sports-car folks mean when they say the Century is a great performer.
The getaway is right away—the road feel superb—the handling a joy. For this is Buick's most spirited and spectacular car.
It has the highest power-per-pound ratio in all Buick history.
It rides on a chassis compact to the last ounce and inch.
It takes to movement like a prima ballerina—nimble to the 6th degree.
And when you press the pedal you get the response of Buick's mightiest V8 engine and the silk-smooth wizardry of an advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo® that lets you switch the pitch for emergency acceleration that's the most satisfying safety measure in the land today.
As we said, the name is Century. And, as you'll discover, the price is a cinch. For the Century is just a cut above Buick's lowest-price SPECIAL Series—and that's just a cut above the well-known smaller cars.

The GOLDEN WITCHES

By ZOLA ROSS

CHAPTER THIRTY-FOUR
MICHAEL DARK, in the three days since he had walked down the gangplank of the transport, had found no ease for his restlessness. The Lindens had him to dinner on the second night. Ryerson then showed him the table with photographs and books about Spanish wars.

Only when Charlotte said good-bye to him at the door did he remember a spark of his old love for her. Ryerson and Barclay had returned to the library, for now Barclay was openly Ryerson's backer in the hotel deals.

"Michael! Charlotte's hands clenched his. 'Michael, I've missed you!'"

He wondered if she too was thinking of the last real meeting between them. He felt a reminiscence of a kiss on his cheek. "It's good being back, Charlotte."

He closed the door, away from the Lindens, Michael smiled. Charlotte was a child, a lovely, endearing child. The old urge need for her had left him, yet he knew that he felt for her something different from anything he might feel for another woman. Memories of her very weaknesses endeared her to him.

He thought of Meg. Were memories leading her too? What kind of a man was this husband of hers?

He found opportunity to ask another woman the next day when she Smith met him on the street. She invited him to her house. It was a very quiet house on a quiet street, and Michael suspected that she was rather lonely. Because she owned and operated saloons, good women would shun her. She was not, he decided, a woman who would be friendly with the ordinary Vanderbilt madams or their kind.

She left him in her heavily lacquered parlor and returned with brandy in a glass and a carved tray. She put one glass at Michael's elbow, took the tray and sat opposite him.

She lifted his glass to her. "The brandy was never like this, Inez."

"Neither," she said dryly, "was I."

He looked at her and saw that Inez was lusty, earthy, and her facts and didn't try to fit them into what she wanted to believe.

"Inez," he said abruptly, "what is the name of your husband?"

"Kemp Beaumont?"

"The name of your husband?"

"Kemp Beaumont?"

"The name of your husband?"

Her dark brows arched in thought. "Maybe he went back to Alaska, Michael. Some do. She going to divorce him, Michael?"

"I don't know."

He thought of Jason. Jason had waited for him in his office the next morning after Kemp turned up, poured out a flood of abuse for him—and left for San Francisco that noon. Michael didn't blame him. No matter what happened, there would be waiting involved. Jason was no good at that.

Inez leaned forward as if to brush away the disturbing thoughts of Michael Beaumont. "I guess Ryerson may give Ten Eyck a run for his money. Did you hear that the snow and ice trains are due to start next month?"

"So they've popped up again," Michael said with little interest.

"And half the Middle West with them, I'd say," Inez chuckled. "It's good for business. Half those states are dry, if you can believe it, Michael. Makes 'em feel real devilish to walk right into a bar and order a drink."

Michael joined in her laughter. He felt better than he had since he returned. Inez encouraged optimism. Kemp and Meg would probably make out all right.

Nathan Grumby dropped into the hat shop at four that afternoon, his stolid appraisal putting to flight the last of the gossip-hungry women. When they suttered off, Nathan took Jenny into his arms. She leaned against him, smiling a little. "Nathan, it's been—dreadful."

"I suppose it has. Get your coat, Jenny. I'll walk home with you."

"It's only four o'clock. Do you suppose Meg will have finished talking to—to him?"

"I shouldn't think what she probably has to say to him would take long." Nathan's tone was dry. Kemp Beaumont was lucky if he had the law or more likely some man he'd obtained wasn't on his trail this minute.

He helped her into her coat, smiling down at her. "Didn't Meg say anything to you about her husband?"

"No. She doesn't, you know. She keeps things to herself."

Jason and Meg were alike in that. Nathan wondered what scheme Jason was forging in San Francisco. It would be a solid one, calculated to make short work of Kemp Beaumont and his presence, Nathan was sure of that.

They were halfway home when Nathan put another question. "If Meg weren't mixed up in this, what would you think of Beaumont?"

"He's pleasant—but—but I wouldn't trust him."

"No."

"Yet I can't feel he'd really—do anything. I think Meg could always..." She hesitated, obviously seeking words.

"Handle him? You're probably right."

The Cox house loomed silent and ghostlike through the early November dusk.

Jenny moved ahead of Nathan into the hall and stopped short. "What's that? Sounds as if Jesse's in the house and has been—hurt."

Nathan listened and wariness, mixed with odd fear, touched him. Of course it was nothing—the cat as Jenny guessed. Yet there had been a queer human sound to that whimpering that bothered him. Holding Jenny's arm, he hurried down the hall and looked into the parlor.

Jenny cried out and swayed against him. He put his arm about her and held her tightly. He stared with horror and amazement at the tableau before him.

Kemp Beaumont lay flat on his back but his head was turned sideways so that the right side of his face looked almost natural. The flesh of the left side of his face was blown away so much that Nathan did not think he would have recognized him from that vantage point. Blood was all about him.

Meg was kneeling on the floor at Kemp's feet. Her hands and clothes were bloodstained. She looked up at them with unocused eyes, put her hands over her face and shivered convulsively. From time to time the thin whimper they had heard from the hall came from her half-open mouth.

"Meg!" Jenny left Nathan's sheltering arm and rushed forward, knelt beside Meg and put her arms about her. Meg whimpered again, then her eyes rolled up and she fell against Jenny in a faint.

Nathan, his throat constricted, went to them, lifted Meg into his arms and carried her into the dining room. The telephone shrilled into the silence, and Jenny at Nathan's gesture moved to answer it. He was proud of the way she forced her voice under control.

"Home, Mattie. Kemp Beaumont's dead."

She didn't say he'd been murdered. But remembering Kemp's face, Nathan knew that no one could delay it long.

SRD Statistician Will Participate In Olympic Tryouts

Jack Miles, Florida's lone prospect for top Olympic honors in gymnastics, will take a leave of absence from his job as a State Road Department statistician to participate in the final Olympic tryouts in Los Angeles in October.

The former Florida State University gymnastic star has been practicing diligently all summer at the Florida State University women's gym through the courtesy of its director, Dr. Katherine Montgomery.

Miles, who says his gymnastics with Road Department statistics since last May have hardly prepared him for such strenuous competition, has been practicing nightly without any coaching. He says he is in excellent condition and feels as though he has a good chance of making the seven-man team that will be chosen to represent the United States in the Olympic games this fall in Melbourne, Australia.

There will be nine competitors in the final trials at Los Angeles but only seven will be chosen.

Each contestant will compete on the following: horizontal bars, parallel bars, rings, side horse, long horse, and calisthenics. Each will perform a routine set up by the Olympic gymnastic committee, and one he chooses.

A native of Philadelphia, Miles came to Florida in 1951 where he entered Florida State University and joined the gymnastic team. In 1951 and 1955 he made the All-American gymnastic team. In 1955 he was selected as the All Around Gymnastic Champion for the National AAU.

Also, in 1955, Miles made the Pan-American Olympic team of the United States and participated in competition in Mexico City. While he was a member of the Florida State University gymnastic team, Florida State University won five national championships.

In individual competition, he has competed against the Swedish Olympic team in Tallahassee, and the Cuban Olympic team in Havana.

If he places on the American team, Miles will be eligible to try out for the world championships to be held in Moscow in the fall of 1956. The U. S. is expected to send a three man gymnastic team to that event.

The young gymnast says he is looking forward eagerly to winning an Olympic berth and going to Melbourne—but he nods his head dolefully as he reminds you that he'll miss that Road Department paycheck (he has a wife and two children) for two months while he attempts to bring a small measure of athletic glory to America.

Braves, Cincinnati Divide Twin-Bill

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Who if anybody, benefits from a split double-header between contenders in a race such as now is hotting in the National League?

Fred Haney, manager of the league leading Milwaukee Braves, declares they did by dividing yesterday's Labor Day twin-bill with Cincinnati.

But, voluble Birdie Tebbets, skipper of the Redlegs presents a case to support his contention that his club gained by it.

The Braves fumbled their way to 3-3 victory in the first game but Cincinnati took the nightcap, 7-5, to remain in a dead heat for second place with Brooklyn, 3 1/2 games behind.

"All a split means is that now we have two less games to play and we haven't lost any ground to either of the second place clubs," Haney said yesterday. "We're still 3 1/2 games ahead."

"They gotta do better than split with us," maintained Tebbets, who majored in psychology in college. "We'll still be snapping at their heels if we split this four-game series."

"I don't give a hoot what we do here," he added. "I got the kind of club that can go on a 10-game winning streak after we leave here.

"Believe me, this is a big series for Milwaukee. They can't afford to split even with us. If they don't do anything to us now, we're liable to go on a real long streak."

Crackers Staying On Top In Southern Pennant Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Atlanta Crackers had the 1956 Southern Assn. pennant virtually locked up today after riding a six-game winning streak into a 6 1/2 game league lead.

With only eight games remaining on the pace setters' schedule, the magic number for the Atlanta club is two. Any combination of two Cracker victories or Birmingham losses will wrap up the flag for Clyde King's veteran outfit.

They took two big strides toward the bunting last night, sweeping a doubleheader from Chattanooga 8-3 and 6-4 while Birmingham and Memphis, deadlocked for second place, were splitting Labor Day doubleheaders with Nashville and New Orleans. Birmingham took the opener from New Orleans 2-1, but the Pels humbled the Chickasaws 15-3 in the nightcap.

NOW UNDERGOING runway tests in Burbank, Calif., this strange-looking craft is a U. S. Navy WV-3 radar entry Constellation. It is used to test advanced ideas in flying radar stations, the outposts to guard against surprise attack. Measuring more than 30 feet across, the discoid radome is one phase of development of a possible follow-up model for the Navy's series of airborne early warning planes now in quantity production, and in operation over the oceans. DROWNING SAID ACCIDENTAL

Darren McGavin Jerry Lewis' New Co-Star

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Meet Jerry Lewis' new co-star—a chunky red-haired Irishman named Darren McGavin.

He will play the lead with Jerry in "The Delicate Delinquent," performing in the role which Dean Martin refused and which led to their split as a team.

McGavin is quite a switch from the dark-haired, Italian Martin. McGavin is an intense, accomplished actor; Martin is easy-going almost lethargic. About the only similarity between them: They both sing.

"But I won't be singing in the picture," McGavin said.

Right now McGavin is playing with another comic, fellow named Bob Hope. The actor portrays Charley Hand, the former managing editor who masterminds the political career of New York's Mayor Jimmy Walker, played by Hope in "Su Jams."

Don't get the idea this McGavin is a funny fellow, just because he cavorts with comics. He had made his mark as a dramatic actor.

Matter of fact, he's an alumnus of the Actor's Studio, along with such notables as Marlon Brando, James Dean, Rod Steiger, Julie Harris, Paul Newman, Shelley Winters and that student of the Russian classics, Marilyn Monroe.

Second matter of fact: He's probably best known as the nasty mean, lowdown dope pusher in "The Man with the Golden Arm."

When someone suggested McGavin to Jerry Lewis as his co-star, the comedian replied: "That nasty character? I hated him!"

But Jerry was persuaded to talk to the actor, and they hit it off from the start.

What are chances for a permanent teaming?

"That's up to Jerry," said McGavin, "as for myself, I never plan ahead."

WHITE ROCK, B.C. (AP)—RCMP Announced a summer-long crackdown on teen-aged drinking parties in the White Rock area just south of Vancouver, following the arrests of 22 juveniles, including four girls under 17 years of age, on charges of drinking in a public place.

Veteran's Corner

Here are authoritative answers from the Veterans Administration to four questions of interest to former servicemen and their families:

Q. I am a veteran with a total and permanent nonservice-connected disability. I waited several months before applying for disability pension payments. Is it possible for the payments to be back-dated to the date I incurred my disability?

A. Under VA's regulations, the effective date that payments may begin is the date VA received the claim or the date the disability arose—whichever is later. In your case, the date of VA's receipt of the claim would be later.

Q. Premiums on my World War II GI term insurance policy are under waiver because I've been totally disabled for more than six months. May I convert my term policy to a permanent plan, even though I am totally disabled?

A. You may convert your term policy to any permanent plan other than an endowment. Also, you will not be required to take a physical examination.

Q. I want to take a course under the Korean GI Bill that's commonly considered recreational in nature. In my case, I need it in connection with the business I plan to enter. Will I be allowed to take it?

A. Yes—if you submit justification to VA that the course will be of bona fide use in your present or contemplated business or occupation, and VA approves the case in advance. The only courses absolutely prohibited by law are bartending, dancing or personality development.

Q. My son is eligible for schooling under the new educational program for children of deceased war veterans. His college begins early in September. Will he be able to receive payments from his first day in school?

A. The law specifies that monthly payments may not begin before October 1, 1956. Veterans living in Central Florida who wish further information about their GI Benefits should write the VA office at 42 E. Central Ave., Orlando.

SPECIAL MEETING TODAY

Points expected to be discussed include effectiveness of the present inspection program, internal quality requirements, possible changes in U. S. grade standards, and the possibility of setting up standards for export fruit.

ALL OUR CUSTOMERS

WHOSE FAMILY CAR IS INSURED WITH US, ENJOY THESE BENEFITS

Here's how our FAMILY AUTOMOBILE POLICY affords broader coverage than present standard basic automobile policies—

Bodily Injury And Property Damage Liability

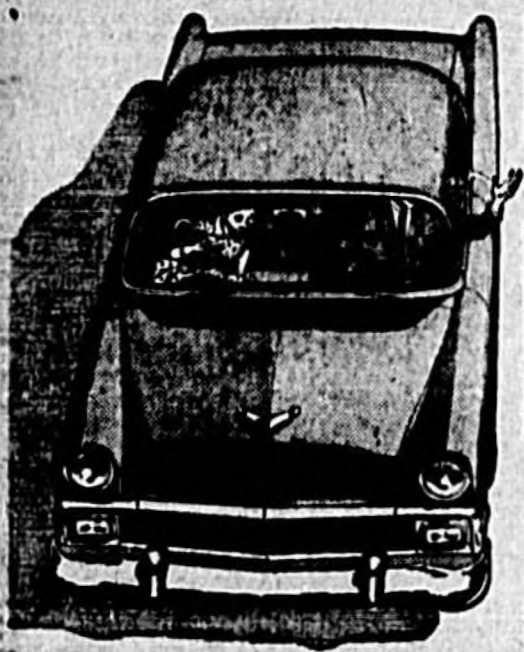

1. The named insured and the spouse, resident in the same household, are afforded coverage for non-owned automobiles furnished for their regular use.
2. All relatives of the named insured or spouse who are resident in the same household are included as insureds with respect to private passenger automobiles not owned by or not regularly furnished for the use of the relatives.
3. Coverage is correspondingly broadened for persons or organizations legally responsible for the use of cars not owned or hired by them which are furnished for the regular use of the named insured and spouse and to the same extent for private passenger cars and trailers not regularly furnished for the use of relatives of the named insured or spouse who are residents of the same household.
4. Every resident of the same household as the named insured is included as an insured with respect to an owned automobile even without permission from the named insured or spouse.
5. There is no exclusion as to liability assumed under any contract or agreement.
6. Coverage is automatically afforded for all private passenger automobiles, "utility" cars and trailers owned by the named insured or spouse during the policy period.
7. Bodily injury and property damage liability coverages are on an "occurrence" basis rather than an "accident" basis.

Expenses For Medical Services

8. Any person is covered who sustains bodily injury arising out of the operation or occupancy of non-owned automobiles which are furnished for regular use to the named insured or spouse.
9. All occupants of a non-owned private passenger automobile or trailer other than the named insured and spouse and relatives resident in the same household, are covered when bodily injury to them results from a relative's operation or occupancy of such a vehicle when it is not furnished for regular use to the relative.

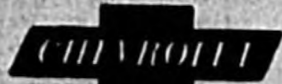

Physical Damage

10. Comprehensive coverage, which insures the automobile against fire, lightning, theft, wind, flood, etc. is broadened in five ways. First, it provides insurance when the policyholder uses another private passenger automobile not owned by him. Second, it pays for damage to tires due to malicious mischief and vandalism. Third, it pays the cost of returning a recovered stolen automobile to the owner or to the address shown in the policy. Fourth, it provides $100 fire and lightning insurance on robes, wearing apparel and other personal effects. Fifth, it provides for liberalized transportation expenses in an amount of $150 when the automobile is stolen.
11. It is no longer necessary to report the existence of a bailment lease, conditional sale, purchase agreement, mortgage or other encumbrance.
12. The time allotted the policyholder for filing proof of loss has been extended from 60 to 91 days.
13. The borrower of an insured automobile is protected against legal action by the owner's insurance company for damage that occurs while the automobile is in the borrower's possession.
14. The family automobile policy provides for the settlement of any loss on a borrowed automobile either with the insured or the owner of a borrowed car.
15. The policy affords coverage on a borrowed utility type trailer up to a limit of $500.
16. The insurance provided when the policyholder uses another private passenger automobile not owned by him has been broadened for all coverages, including towing and labor costs; to provide insurance when the borrower permits another to use the vehicle; to protect the borrower for the amount of the difference when his insurance has a smaller deductible than the owner's policy; and to cover a private passenger automobile borrowed from an automobile sales agency, service station or parking lot operator.
17. The assignment provision of the policy has been amended so that in the event of the death of the named insured and provision has been added to cover his legal representative as named insured while acting in the scope of his duties and to cover any person having proper temporary custody of an owned automobile until the appointment and qualification of such legal representative.

Negro Ministers Against Boycott Canal Committee, Nasser Proceeding Cautiously In Talks

"No, we don't uphold the boycott in Tallahassee," a Sanford Negro minister of the A. M. E. Church for 28 years said in a letter submitted to The Sanford Herald for publication.

The Rev. J. T. Owens related in his letter that "by conversation and communication," he found that the ministers of Florida "opposed the boycott and their members felt it was a bad move on the Bishop's part."

The Negro ministers who are now doing evangelistic work, wrote "He just wasn't thinking of the mud hole he is trying to dig that will smear every A. M. E. minister in every town and village in Florida. If those preachers had stayed in their pulpits their good name wouldn't be on every headline."

The Rev. Owens' letter followed a meeting in Jacksonville of the A. M. E. Church where Bishop D. Ward Nichols "spoke of 150,000 members."

He related in his letter that "Go thou and preach the Kingdom of God. That's the preacher's job. He is not a lawyer."

"A good leader will not lead his people into sorrow and shame, but to greener pastures, and we have lots of ministers of that type in Florida," the Rev. Owens wrote.

"We deeply regret the conditions that so affect our people in Tallahassee, led hastily on by dreamers," he said.

The Rev. Owens pointed out in his letter that he had knowledge of approximately every minister in Florida.

"One thought would have corrected that condition," he said, "if the ministers who are now writing of the Tallahassee boycott were Negroes are refusing to ride buses operated throughout the city."

"The A. M. E. Church will never forget the warm hospitality given us in Miami at the General Conference in May," he said.

The Rev. Thomas concludes his letter, "Therefore, we the people with whom I have talked, do not give our endorsement such an act. Our church has a good name and we are going to keep it that way, with God being our helper."

Foreign Ministers Christian Pinou of France, Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium and Lester B. Pearson of Canada also were on hand for the one-day NATO meeting. Representative NATO headquarters representatives were attending for the other countries.

The council was not expected to give formal backing to the London plan or to the British-French military buildup set off by the canal crisis. The council can act only by unanimous decision. Unanimity seemed unlikely because one member, Greece, turned down an invitation to the London conference.

Ministerial Assn. Welcomes 2 New Members At Meet

The first fall meeting of the Seminole County Ministerial Association was held yesterday at the First Baptist Church.

Two ministers were elected to membership of the Ministerial Association: Rev. Fred Bowery, Free Methodist Church and Rev. George Ross of the Church of God.

Meeting dates were changed when it was adopted that the association meet on the first Wednesday of each month at the Education Building.

An invitation was extended to members of the Ministerial Association to attend the reception given in honor of Rev. H. Lyttelton Zimmerman on Thursday evening, Sept. 6 between 8 and 10 p.m. at the Parish House of the Holy Cross Episcopal Church.

A committee of three, including Rev. A. G. Melms, Rev. W. P. Brooks Jr., and Rev. Perry L. Stone was appointed to look into the race relations in Sanford and Seminole County.

Lester L. Marx, Hebrew evangelist, presented the program and offered his services in appearing at churches and schools in behalf of his program to educate youth in the dangers of narcotics.

Post Office Opens 1st Rural Substation Today

The first rural substation to serve customers out of the Sanford Post Office was announced today by Postmaster Joel Field.

The substation to be known as Sipes Rural Station was opened in the Midway Grocery on Sipes Ave. It is a contract rural station, said Postmaster Field, and will be operated by Cecil Carlson, owner and operator of the grocery store.

Mail will be delivered daily to the substation by Rural Route Carrier Harold P. Payton.

All services of the Post Office will be available at Sipes Rural Station, said Postmaster Joel Field, with the exception of Postal Savings. Residents of the Midway area, heretofore served by rural boxes, may use the facilities of the new station and eliminate many of the inconveniences of the open boxes.

The new substation was opened with 41 lock boxes and all of them were rented on the first day and a waiting list has already been established. It is planned, Postmaster Field said this morning, to have at least 200 post office boxes available for use in the area.

Al Stine Gets Big Boost In Column

Al Stine, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Stine of Sanford, received quite a boost in a recent edition of the Charleston Daily Mail, a daily publication in Charleston, W. Va.

Sol Paulsbury, in his column "Of All Things" had this to say about Al Stine:

"In the spring of 1939 Al Stine proudly exhibited his Charleston High School diploma, but there was one course that he pursued that has his the greatest for him. 'His studies were in the class of Miss Agnes Burton, drawing such stock high school subjects as the bees and flowers.'

"George Spruce, the WCHR-TV promotion director, a CHR classmate of Al said:

"Al is a big man today in the art world in Chicago and nationwide, and it's no surprise.

"His classmates know that he was heading for the big time. His work showed it.

"Today, Al Stine is instructor at the Chicago School of Fine Arts and also is a member of the art staff of a big advertising agency.

"His Charleston pals, that is those who buy the masculine-type magazines, are getting a fine sample of Al's prowess at the drawing board.

"Al Stine, who used to draw the bees and flowers at Charleston, is represented in the current edition of Playboy, of all things."

Air Force Man Is Jailed, Charged With Hit, Run

A 19-year-old Orlando Air Force base photographic squadron man was jailed late Monday afternoon after being taken into custody 10 miles from the scene of a hit and run accident.

Robert Henry DeSantele was charged with exceeding safe speed and hit and run following an accident at the Lake Monroe Bridge shortly before 4:30 Monday afternoon. Traveling north on 17-92, DeSantele skidded into a car that had stopped because of the bridge being closed. DeSantele turned his car around and sped from the scene. He was taken into custody by Florida Highway Patrolman Carl Williams, Deputy Sheriff Andy Evans and Pat Baker.

DeSantele was driving a 1947 Chevrolet coach.

Task Of Bringing Constitution Up To Date Continues

MIAMI — The giant task of bringing the Florida Constitution up to date continued here today at a public hearing.

The Constitutional Advisory Commission is hearing suggestions in a series of hearings and then will draw up its recommendations for presentation to the Legislature.

A dozen persons yesterday discussed various basic law questions.

Former Gov. Fuller Warren, a member of the study group, said he thought any new Constitution should tighten the rules for levying taxes.

He said a two-thirds vote in each house of the Legislature should be required on the adoption of tax laws and that no taxes of any kind should be levied on groceries, medicine, house rentals or clothing worth less than $25.

The 37-member commission will hold sessions in Tampa tomorrow and Friday; Orlando Monday, Jacksonville Tuesday and Panama City Friday.

The many recommendations it hears are supposed to help form the basis for a proposed Constitution to replace the one which was adopted in 1885 and which has been amended 84 times.

20 Railway Workers Killed In Headon Collision Of Trains

SPRINGER, N. M. — Twenty railway workers perished early today when the speeding Santa Fe Chief smashed head-on into a sidetracked mail train in northern New Mexico.

Railway officials said the death toll may be higher when wrecking crews pry into the twisted and torn cars of the Chief.

At least seven were injured. Santa Fe spokesmen said as far as can be determined there were no passengers killed in the early morning tragedy.

The Chief shot into the siding where Santa Fe mail train No. 8 was waiting its turn for the main line.

The dead included the engineer of the mail train, the engineer, fireman and conductor of the Chief, and 16 waiters and lounge car attendants who were asleep in a dormitory car on the Chief.

The identified dead are L. J. Rush of Raton, N. M., engineer of the mail train; E. O. Foster of Raton, engineer of the Chief; W. H. Adams of Raton, fireman on the Chief; and W. L. Schriever of Las Vegas, conductor on the Chief.

Hospitalized at Springer in critical condition is Jim Walter of Rockford, Ill., cook on the Chief. In serious condition are Charles Kinsaid of Albuquerque, brakeman, and William P. Wright of Chicago, waiter.

In less serious condition in Springer are Mr. and Mrs. Norman Rosen of New York, Miss Jessie Schweizer of Maplewood, Mo., and Mrs. Hattie Meekfease of Maplewood.

Associated Press writer John B. Curtis said "the task even of determining the number of dead is horribly complicated because of condition of the trains."

"The cars," Curtis said, "are mangled, twisted and standing on end. Women's shoes, bedclothing and suitcases are strewn everywhere."

Ambulances, doctors and officers from most of northern New Mexico were summoned to the scene.

The accident occurred at 3:10 a. m. five miles south of here in gently rolling ranch country. The main line of the Santa Fe at this point parallels U. S. Highway 85.

Only the diesel units of the mail train went off the track, crushed and torn.

Of 13 cars in the Chief, only seven remain on the track. Others Curtis said, were "twisted and mangled and telescoped, pointing upward at grotesque angles."

A Santa Fe spokesman said the Chief ran through an open switch and into the siding where the mail train was waiting.

Bridegroom Kills Betrothed, Self As Bride Reconsiders

FOLKSTON, GA. (AP) — A bridegroom killed his bride, then himself, when she apparently changed her mind in front of the preacher last night.

Sheriff A. O. Sikes said John William Mercer, 49, a West Palm Beach, Fla., plumber, shot to death, Mrs. Lillian Der Baum, 48, of Tampa, Fla., and turned the gun on himself in the pastor's study of the First Baptist Church.

The pastor, the Rev. Clyde P. Jones, said the couple arrived at the study a minute or so before and Mercer said they wanted to be married.

But Sheriff Sikes said "The lady insisted they have a talk with the minister first."

She sat down, Sikes continued, and thereupon Mercer pulled out a .32 caliber pistol and fired twice into her head.

The Rev. Mr. Jones rushed out of the study to warn a women's Sunday School class, meeting in a nearby room, to leave fast. He then called police.

Sikes said the couple had been in Folkston—a Greensboro community—just across the Florida state line—about two hours before going to the church. "They took blood tests and obtained a marriage license," he said.

"I think she wanted to change her mind or postpone things when they went into the church," Sikes said.

He added there also was a possibility Mercer had made her accompany him at gunpoint. He said "the pistol was new—the box it came in was on the front seat of his car."

County Listed 23rd In Service Trades Receipts Report

Receipts from Florida's service trades amounted to more than $453 million in 1954, the University of Florida's Economic Leaflet reports.

In the county-by-county tabulation of these receipts, Seminole County is listed 23rd as compared to the number of service trade establishments during 1954.

According to the Economic Leaflet there were 148 establishments with receipts totaling $1,023,000. Per capita receipts were $98, with a payroll of $634,000, and 224 paid employees.

Based on figures compiled by the U. S. Census Bureau, the Leaflet reveals that Florida ranked fourth in the nation in total receipts from service and tourist counts.

Authored by Carter C. Osterblad, associate research professor, and Elias S. Jones, assistant in research, the Leaflet is published monthly by the University's Bureau of Economic and Business Research.

"Florida's increase over 1948 in total hotel, motel, and tourist court receipts of 89.4 per cent, representing a change of $77.7 million, was outranked only by Nevada's increase of 93.3 per cent," the authors reveal.

Service receipts accounted for 71 per cent of the state's total service trade receipts in 1954. They were Duval, Duval, Hillsborough, Pinellas, Broward and Palm Beach. Within this group, Duval had by far the largest receipts with $247.1 million, or about 26 per cent of the total receipts by service trade establishments in Florida.

John Krider, president of the Florida State League, said in Sanford today that "I will not be a candidate for president of the Florida State League at its directors meeting which will probably be held in October."

Krider explained that "the pressure of business will keep me from serving as president of the league for another season."

President To Open Campaign Sept. 12 With 'Pep Rally'

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
President Eisenhower will open his re-election campaign with a "pep rally" at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm Sept. 12, a day before Adlai Stevenson makes a major campaign speech at Harrisburg, Pa.

Stevenson, already well into his own fight for the presidency, scheduled an address today in Los Angeles, and a quick trip to San Francisco for another in a series of regional meetings with Democratic leaders.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty announced the President's "rally" yesterday. But got more Democratic reaction with criticism of Stevenson.

Hagerty, citing a clipping from the New York Times, said it appeared to indicate that Stevenson and the Democratic party consider American unemployment "a good news" as it relates to the Democratic campaign fight.

The story linked two Stevenson statements made at a Chicago news conference. It quoted Stevenson as saying "all the news is good," then as adding "there was serious unemployment" in some areas.

The Times issued a statement in the wake of Hagerty's comments, saying the excerpt he quoted was an "unfortunate inversion" of Stevenson's remarks. The paper said the construction "was unfair to Mr. Stevenson," and added it would print his statement in full.

Stevenson's press secretary, Clayton Fritchey, accused Hagerty of "taking two wholly unrelated comments and telescoping them." Hagerty said "I didn't telescope them," and refused comment on the Times statement.

Study Of State's Traffic Safety Needs Begins Soon

MIAMI — A state legislative committee begins a study this month of Florida's traffic safety needs.

Sen. Merrill P. Barber's committee on traffic and highway safety will use its findings as the basis for new bills to be placed before the next legislative session.

The Florida death rate is about 30 per cent higher this year than last year when about a thousand persons were killed. Exactly 800 persons have been killed to date this year compared to 856 by the corresponding time last year.

A total of 20,264 have been injured compared to 18,454 last year. Barber, who met yesterday with Duval County Safety Council members, said the major aim of his committee will be to write a uniform traffic law. Other aims are closer supervision of drivers' licensing and stricter auto inspections.

"If we can eliminate faulty drivers and faulty cars and get uniform traffic laws we are bound to stop a lot of the highway bloodshed," Barber said.

His committee will hold seven hearings beginning in Miami Sept. 24 and continuing at Fort Pierce Sept. 25, Orlando Sept. 26, Tampa Oct. 1, Jacksonville Oct. 2, Pensacola Oct. 9 and Tallahassee Oct. 11.

Underground Blast Touches Off Fire In Isolated Mine

MYTON, Utah — Black smoke poured from the shaft of the small Parlett Gilchrist Mine today following an underground blast that touched off a fire in the isolated diggings late yesterday.

But, the mine's estimated 25 employees had ended operations for the day and left for home about an hour before the blast.

There were no injuries, but mine Supt. Robert Ferron said the mine itself would be a total loss.

A gasoline mine explosion at Bonanza, Utah, further east, killed eight men in November 1953.

Gilchrist is a solid petroleum substance similar to asphalt. It is used in paints, varnishes, insectum compounds and other products.
