Deltona Residents Over Budget Hospital, Commission Feuding

By FANNETTE EDWARDS
Herald Correspondent
DELTONA — Residents of Deltona recently listened to John B. Mattingly of Deland, visiting professor of school law and president of the Florida Association of College and University Attorneys, spoke to the Deltona Civic Association on procedures and advantages of incorporation.

Over Budget
The answer to that old question "what happens when they throw a war and nobody comes" was supplied Monday by the Seminole County Commission and its would-be adversary, the Seminole Memorial Hospital board of trustees.

Also boosted, by $10 to $60 for the first hour, was the operating room fee. The rooms will cost $25, a $3 hike, for each half hour after the first hour.

Seminole Delaying Land Planning Act

and gas, plumbing and electrical codes.
"The outstanding characteristic of this act is the fact that the county commission did this secretly and included a control element of local governments without consultation," Knowles said. "It is in conflict with many other provisions of the municipalities in that this function is the responsibility of the locally elected officials."

Industry, Contractors Warned

contractors for complaining about a $5 reinspection fee imposed on rejected work by the county.

Only the county has the power to levy taxes, and it should have the authority over the budgets, Kimbrough said.
The same argument in reverse was used by Schirard, who said "any good business practice couples responsibility with authority," and called the county proposal a "common sense farce."

City Is Protesting County Land Plan

Planning Act is prejudicial against the smaller municipalities who cannot afford to fulfill the requirements of the plan.

LOVELY VALUES FOR YOU & YOUR HOME!

When voting to delay the proposal today, County commissioners cited "confusion" among professional planners and city officials as the county's intent in proposing the land planning act.

The recreation board's request for an intra-budgetary transfer of funds to make money available for the lighting of the Summeret ball field was approved.

The bid on the lighting has been awarded to Clark Electric, who quoted $10,000 on the whole lighting package, and $7,600 if they provide the electrical fixtures but not the poles.

Syria At Core Egypt-Israel Accord Stirs Mideast

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Egypt's troop disengagement accord with Israel seems likely to churn new uneasiness in the Arab East, posing a possibility of new political turmoil and instability.

As usual, Syria is at the core of the matter. Its regimes have shown great talent for demonstrating the fragility of Arab alliances, and an old Middle East hand can detect developing new Arab rifts and even rifts within rifts.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's diplomacy has produced what the Syrian regime of President Hafez Assad warned Egypt to avoid. If there was to be disengagement, Damascus held, it should be simultaneous on both Syrian and Egyptian fronts. Was Egypt now thinking of Egypt first and foremost?

At the least, it would seem the Egyptians have trod upon sensitive Syrian corns and perhaps angered Iraq as well. Egypt may have looked upon the initial Suez pullback as a step to wider accords, but Syria has been saying the two Arab allies planned the war together and thus were obliged to plan any disengagement together.

Syria insisted on the letter of the 1967 U.N. resolution on Israeli withdrawal from conquered territory, plus what Damascus calls "guarantee of the national rights of the Palestine people."

President Anwar Sadat of Egypt also linked prospects of settlement to ultimate Israeli withdrawal to 1967 lines, but he sounded less hard-line, amenable to achieving his goal by relatively slow stages.

The tenor of the growls coming from East of Suez suggests that the Arab camp, with its diverse philosophies and interests, remains unable to bury old mutual suspicions and hostilities, regardless of recent blips since the cease-fire.

Syria has sounded bitter since the October war, with his forces on the east side of the Suez Canal and his bargaining position strengthened. Syria, however, lost yet more land as Israeli troops drove within nearly 20 miles of Damascus.

Syria boycotted the first stages of the Geneva conference and seems unlikely to reconsider unless there is some assurance that Israeli forces will pull back from her territory as well as from Egypt's.

Because of the way the October war turned out, Syria squabbled with her allies in Iraq. Now, however, the Baghdad regime seems to be importing Damascus to accept a military alliance that might lead first to unity of the two and then—an old dream—of the whole Fertile Crescent.

Can Teachers 'Teach' Watergate?

By KENNETH J. RABEN
Copley News Service

Teaching about the political scandals called Watergate provides an opportunity either for partisan mischief-making or thorough analysis of what happened and why.

Public education is becoming one of the most politicized fields in the United States and the education lobby is powerful and wealthy. By its own admission, its financial influence and other election campaign support is effective from city halls to state and national capitols.

About half of the nation's 2.2 million classroom teachers are members of the strongly anti-administration National Education Association. Another 400,000 public school employees, nearly all in classrooms, belong to the American Federation of Teachers, joined with its parent AFT-CIO in a massive media campaign to impeach the President.

It stretches the imagination to believe that teachers whose money, time and effort are involved in these enterprises can present fairly both sides of Watergate in the nation's classrooms, or, as the NEA and AFT claim, that teachers can leave their personal beliefs at the classroom door.

NEA and AFT spokesmen say that teachers have as much right to political activity as anyone and that they should state their views in the classroom freely if asked and

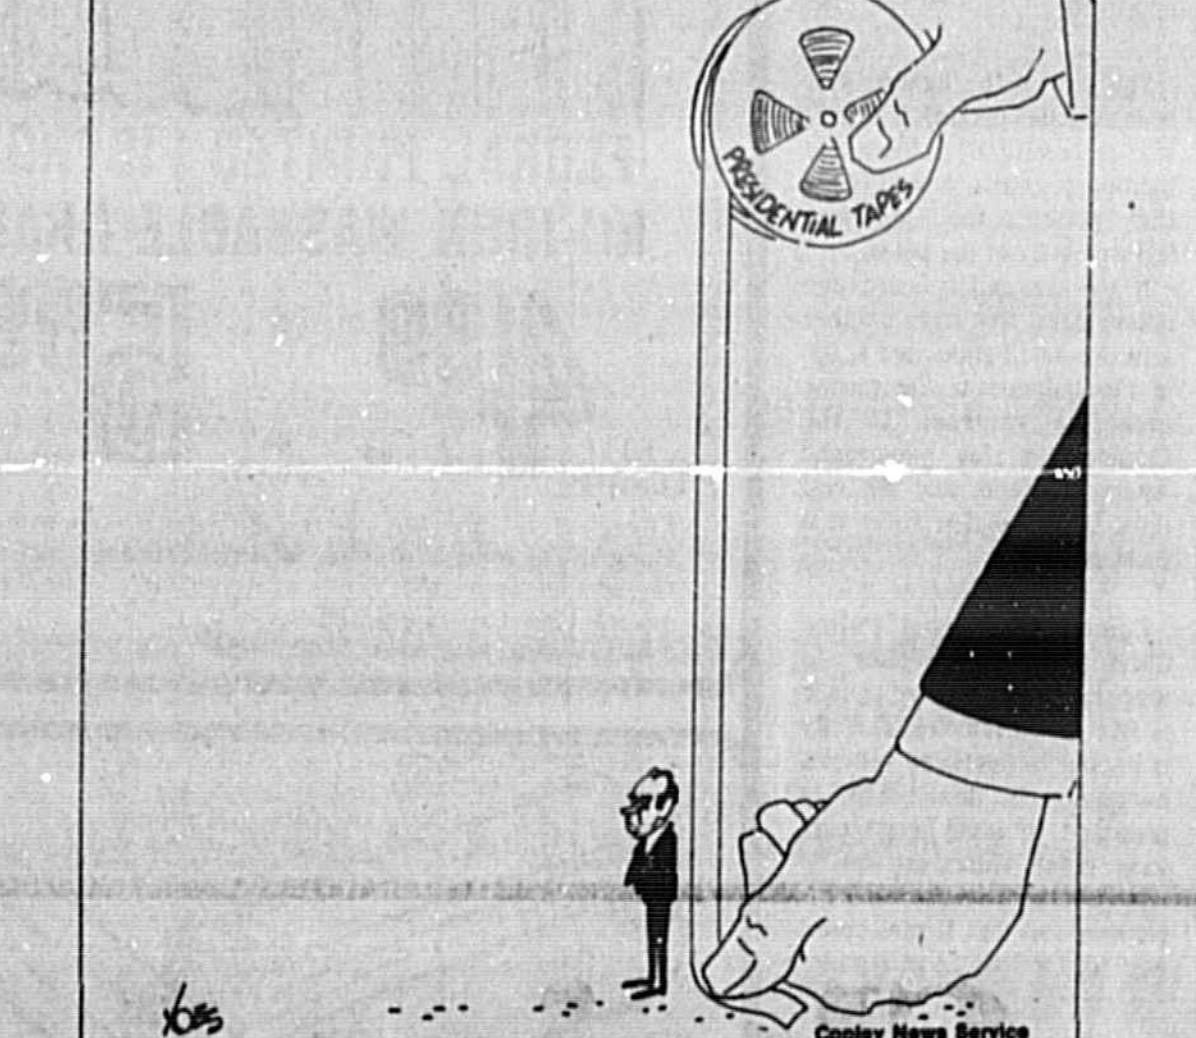

All this can cause nervousness elsewhere. If there is any prospect, however distant, of a Syria-Iraq merger, it will frighten oil rulers who, up to now, have displayed devotion to all-Arab unity by buying their oil as a weapon.

Both Iraq and Syria have been run by radical, far-left leaders. Iraq has had territorial designs on oil-rich Kuwait. The sheiks of the Arabian peninsula and King Faisal of Saudi Arabia would hardly welcome a union of two radical-minded, well-armed states on the northern tier of the Arab East, nor would Egypt be enthusiastic about it, either.

One of the National School Public Relations Association applied titled monthly newsletters, "It Starts in the Classroom," recently reviewed, "How to teach about Watergate" and "Should you express your opinion?" by presenting comments from teachers and others. Of the dozen asked, eight said opinion should be given, three said no and one might be classed as maybe.

An instructor in the Riteour School District, Overland, Mo., said, "Yes, I tell my students what I think caused Watergate, etc.—after everybody else has had a chance to express his opinion. If I preface my statements with, 'I'm speaking as a person and I'm not trying to influence anybody. From my reading and thinking, this is the way I feel about it.' In this way, I hope to get some discussion going."

No 'Major' Depression Economists Examine Crystal Ball

By CLIFF SMITH
Copley News Service

Through the rest of this century, the United States will have no major depression, no Socialist revolution, no black or female president.

Many Americans will work only four days a week, a guaranteed income will be enacted, white-collar unions will grow and multiply, wage and price controls will prevail.

Conglomerate mergers, tax loopholes and large oil and auto companies will survive. Fiscal policy will remain in favor and at least modest economic growth will continue over the long term.

For the world in general, there will be no major war but the nuclear arms threat will continue and become more complex. There will be no world government. Starvation will not be eliminated.

These are the views of a majority of U.S. economists polled in an effort to predict the future.

The survey, completed in November, was conducted in the form of a so-called "delphi," a system developed by the oracles of ancient Greece.

Dr. Robert L. Decker, assistant chairman of economics at the University of California at Berkeley, sent three different questionnaires to 300 noted economists chosen from the faculties of all major universities in the country.

Results of the final questionnaire, to which 65 of the 300 responded, were reported at the annual meeting of the American Economic Association held recently in New York City.

The final questionnaire consisted of 100 flat statements about possible developments over the next quarter-century. Respondents were asked to agree or disagree with each statement. Anonymity was maintained throughout the survey.

At least 90 per cent of the respondents agreed with the following predictions:

—The number of nations possessing nuclear weapons and long-range delivery systems will grow (from two) to six before the end of the century.

—There will be no black or female president of the United States before the end of the century.

—State and local governments will represent a rising share of public expenditures and resource utilizations.

—Quality changes will be taken into account in constructing price indexes.

—Ninety per cent or more disagreed with these statements:

—There will be a Socialist revolution in the United States.—Internal conflict along racial lines will develop in the United States to a degree comparable to the present state of conflict in Northern Ireland.

Jack Anderson Impeachment Probe Flops

Copyright, 1974, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.

WASHINGTON—Although each new Watergate twist tightens the vise on President Nixon, the inquiry into his impeachment is floundering.

The doors have been shut tight on the House Judiciary Committee's investigation. Only staff members are permitted to enter the offices and no papers may be removed. Attorneys and investigators have been given strict orders not to discuss their work with the press.

What the staff is really hiding behind the guarded doors, however, is their own inaction and lack of direction. Here are the facts which we have been able to dig out:

—House Judiciary Chairman Peter Rodino, D-N.J., has assured House Republican leader John Rhodes privately that the impeachment inquiry should be concluded in April. Those close to the investigation don't see how they possibly can meet the deadline.

NO INTERVIEWS

—At this writing, not a single witness against the President has been interviewed directly by the committee's investigators. Instead, they have spent their time studying the work of other investigators.

—The White House has not been approached, even informally, to provide any information which might help to speed the inquiry. Staff members haven't even been allowed to request personnel numbers or telephone numbers from the White House.

—Although documents related to the President's personal finances were available to committee sleuths from other sources, the information was not accepted because the committee "was not ready for them yet."

—Although chief counsel John Doar has a staff of about 40 under his command, more than half have been assigned merely to answer the routine impeachment mail that has been flooding into the committee's office.

NO COORDINATION

—Some of the investigators, because of administrative problems, spend much of their time reading newspapers and novels. Although they are supposed to coordinate their work, some staff members actually haven't met each other. At 5 p.m., there is a rush for the exits.

—Instead of turning up evidence that would justify impeachment, the committee is concentrating its efforts on researching what offenses might constitute grounds for impeachment.

—In an interview with us, Doar placed great stress on setting up a secure and elaborate filing system. The problem at the moment is that nothing of significance has been collected for those well-organized file drawers.

—Staff members have been warned in strong terms that they will be summarily fired if they are caught talking with reporters. This injunction has worked fairly well, since the committee hasn't turned up anything newsworthy and most aides are reluctant to admit the probe's shortcomings.

HISTORY, NOT HEADLINE

Chairman Rodino told us he is more interested in making history than headlines. The removal of a sitting President, Rodino said, can be justified only by the most careful and thorough investigation.

The evidence is now being assembled by the staff which will carefully piece it together, he said. Then they will start searching for the missing jigsaw pieces. This will require access, he suggested, to White House tapes and documents.

He wants to have his case ready, he said, before he asks the House for subpoena power. The committee's constitutional experts say the White House cannot claim executive privilege as an excuse for withholding evidence from an impeachment inquiry. Any refusal by the White House to honor a subpoena would, itself, be grounds for impeachment, they believe.

Our committee sources have told us the staff hasn't completed enough background work to issue subpoenas or to begin its proceedings. But Chairman Rodino assured us he is more committed to a thorough investigation than an April deadline.

Persona Non Grata: Robert Chenoweth returned home last March after spending five years in North Vietnamese prisons. He tried to go back to South Vietnam a few days ago. The Saigon government, for which he had risked his life, wouldn't let him into the country.

He was one of the eight ex-POWs accused by Air Force Col. Theodore Guy of "collaborating" with the enemy. The Pentagon, however, refused to press charges.

Chenoweth wanted to go back to Saigon, he told us to compare "the differences between South Vietnamese prisons and North Vietnamese prisons." He had spoken to former "political prisoners," he said, and "there's no doubt in my mind that the South Vietnamese prisoners had it much worse than I did."

When Chenoweth stopped at the Vietnamese consulate in San Francisco to pick up his visa, it was stamped "void." He had been picked from among presently mentioned names by the South Vietnamese to describe anyone who opposes the Thieu regime.

A South Vietnamese spokesman told us: "We are willing to consider his application," but added "we would have to take into consideration his activities."

Gunter Questions Simon

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Rep. Bill Gunter, D-Fla., has asked federal energy czar William Simon for the exact date and time 140,000 barrels of oil will be returned to Florida Power & Light Co.

Gunter's office said Monday he had sent the telegram to Simon asking if the federal office planned a replacement allocation to the Florida firm, aide Mike Pettit said Monday.

Simon ordered that the fuel oil be diverted from FP&L to Boston Edison.

Simon's order said neither Exxon Corp., the supplier, nor Boston Edison had any obligation to replace the oil or reimburse FP&L for additional costs incurred in obtaining a new supply.

FPL, Union Reopen Talks

MIAMI (AP) — Representatives for the Florida Power & Light Co. and its striking electrical workers union have resumed negotiations with the help of federal mediators.

William J. Usery, chief of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, reopened discussions Monday between the utility and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

The longest strike in the company's history began Nov. 1 when the 4,500-member union walked off the job. Last month, after negotiations broke down, the union defeated a company offer by a 2-1 margin.

Bargain Rules Drafted

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The Florida Supreme Court's Commission on Collective Bargaining hopes to have a rough draft of several rules ready for its next hearing Feb. 18, says chairman Ben Patterson.

Patterson, who is also Gov. Reubin Askew's liaison with organized labor, said the next hearing by the public employee rights commission probably would focus on establishment of a neutral enforcement agency.

"There may be problems with funding," Patterson said Monday during a break in the commission's first hearing.

The seven-member commission was appointed by the court to draw up guidelines for implementing the provision in the 1968 constitution that allows collective bargaining for public employees.

Police Search Fruitless

TITUSVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Police say a search of a wildlife preserve where the body of a young woman was found last weekend has proved fruitless. It was the fifth corpse discovered in the area since Thanksgiving.

Authorities used trail bikes and a jeep Monday to search for clues and more bodies in an area about six miles north of an orange grove where the other four were discovered, police said.

A spokesman for the Brevard County sheriff's department said late Monday that the latest victim was still unidentified and the results of an autopsy to determine the cause of death were unavailable.

State Economist Says Revenue Increase Is 'Illusion'

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — An official estimate of a 10 per cent increase in state revenue next fiscal year is really a "money illusion," says state economist Jay Yellon.

Population growth of 5 per cent and inflation anticipated 7-8 per cent during the 1974-75 fiscal year will more than eat up the increase, said Yellon, a member of the informal revenue estimating conference which made the projection Monday.

The conference estimated that state general revenue in fiscal year 1974 will total $2.11 billion, including a $173.4 million surplus, and next year will total $2.33 billion.

The forecast projects a definite slowdown in the economy this year and in 1975 because of the energy crisis, expecting the slowest rate of growth since 1971.

Of the anticipated surplus, $117.7 million already is in the bank from tax collections in the first six months of the fiscal year, July 1-Dec. 30. This was 20 percent in 1972-73 when Florida enjoyed an economic boom, Yellon said.

Part of the expected surplus this year is catching up with population growth and inflation which has been growing faster than state forecasts, Yellon said.

U.S. Is Obligated To Lease Forest

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — A federal official says the government faces a dilemma in deciding whether to grant leases to strip mine phosphate in the Ocala National Forest.

"We're caught on the horns of a dilemma as to whether to give them the leases they're legally entitled to," said Brad Hainsworth, deputy assistant U.S. Interior Secretary. "If we stop it, we're going to have to give them damages for leases due."

Hainsworth commented Monday on the government's position at the conclusion of three days of hearings on the mining proposal.

Although nearly all of the testimony was against mining, including remarks by Sen. Lawton Chiles, D-Fla., and Gov. Reubin Askew, Hainsworth said the government is obligated under federal mining law to issue the leases.

However, Charles Lee, Florida Audubon Society representative, said a 1969 environmental protection law gives U.S. Interior secretary Rogers B. Morton authority to deny the leases.

He said the federal agency should "propose suitable legislation to cancel lease obligations and provide suitable compensation to those who may be entitled to preference lease rights."

As a talent scout history seems a flop

By Bruce Blossat

To ask any major politician in either party today about 1974 presidential possibilities is not to stir even faint enthusiasm.

It is fairly common, as late as the opening of a presidential year, to hear survivors of the field say, on one or both sides, that "no one" can be nominated. But there is an added dimension of dismay this time. Something more than the pall of Watergate is involved. A sense exists that the prospective choices are too limited, both in number and in the range of their promise.

On the Republican side, a field dominated today by old faces — Nelson Rockefeller, Ronald Reagan and the bland Vice President Gerald Ford — causes few flutters.

Among Democrats, Sen. Edward Kennedy arouses much deep affection but also touches off deep fears (not the least being that he won't run). Sen. Henry Jackson, a 1972 bidder, is already trying hard to position himself, but remembrance of his earlier pallid field performance is strong in many quarters. Other names pop up, but bring no light to the eyes.

Of one such prospect, whom I shall leave anonymous here, a promised supporter said: "My young son has more drive and will to achieve his goal than that man has."

Williamson In Hospital Longwood Stalls On Voting

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD—City councilmen after five straight deadlocked 2-2 votes including one on confirmation of a new police chief, walked out of city hall Monday night along with a standing-room-only audience without formally adjourning the four-hour long council meeting.

Council Chairman E. E. Williamson, who held the tie-breaking vote, was hospitalized Monday for tests and the conclusion of a series of treatments he has been taking over the past several months.

Matthew W. Matlock, chief of police of Thornton, Colo., and now a Winter Park resident, waited through the meeting for the appointment promised him by Mayor Eugene Jaques.

Councilmen B. I. Helms and B. H. Ferrell voted for confirmation while Councilmen June Lormann and Don Schreiner voted against.

Earlier, motions to table action on repealing the mayor's salary and expanded powers until a feasibility study on city management is completed and until a work session is held, stated as were efforts by Helms and Ferrell to place both ordinances on first reading.

Schreiner's attempt to carry over both items to next week's meeting when Williamson is expected to be present failed. Jaques opposed the move, insisting to work session, insisting it would be a "means of humiliating the mayor of the city."

Two men who created a disturbance with loud talking and laughing near the council desk were removed by a police officer on Schreiner's order.

Jaques branded "lies" Schreiner's report last week that one man was denied the opportunity to apply for the chief post three weeks ago. Schreiner also said the city would have to determine the time necessary to have Thornton certified by the state. He added interviewing all applicants and taking time to confirm an appointment would be merely a safeguard.

Jaques said morale in the police department is decreasing because no one is in charge. Chief Wesley Dowell's resignation is effective Jan. 31, but he is now on vacation.

Mrs. Lormann, asked by the audience if she had looked through the file, said the mayor brought her a file last Friday containing only Matlock's and Deputy Sheriff Tom Hennigan's applications. She said she did not know there was an additional file of applications.

SCOPA members authorized Ryan to negotiate with Lakefront Development Inc. for the tank farm project. "If we find it we'll have to take it from something else," he said.

A lease with International Oil, Orlando, to operate the tank farm has yet to be signed by SCOPA. SCOPA Atty. Gen. Hulschison did not attend the Monday meeting with a report on the lease as the meeting agenda indicated he would.

Trial Set For Union Officials Red, white, and blue separates at special prices.

The trial of two union officials charged with third degree arson and conspiracy to commit a felony in connection with the blaze that wiped out the 25-truck fleet of Air-Flow Designs was set for Monday Feb. 25 in Sanford.

William K. Beck, 55, of Orlando and David J. Evans, 26, of Altamonte Springs were not present at their arraignment before Circuit Court Judge A. J. Hoesemann Jr., but both men entered a written plea of not guilty.

On Jan. 4, three Orlando men pleaded no contest to charges of arson connected with the Sept. 19 truck fire at Air-Flow Designs.

The men, Kilce Mullins, 34, Benjamin Haines Jr., 39, and Arthur Brandon, 17, were placed in protective custody at their request that cited "some fear of the union." They and their families remain in protective custody.

The trial of Beck and Evans centers on charges by the state attorney the pair conspired to burn the Air-Flow fleet of trucks.

National News Briefs State Of Union Address

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon will deliver his State of the Union address before a joint session of Congress and a nationwide broadcast audience at 9:30 p.m. EDT Jan. 30.

The White House and congressional leaders announced the scheduling Monday. Nixon originally arranged to give the address at 12:30 p.m. EDT Jan. 29, then changed it to 8:30 p.m. EDT that day at the suggestion of Senate Minority Leader Hugh Scott, R-Pa.

It later turned out, however, that an evening address Jan. 29 would conflict with a National Press Club dinner honoring returning members of Congress.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., chairman of the Senate permanent investigations subcommittee, on Monday asked representatives of the seven leading oil firms how shortages would affect their own figures show fuel inventories running more than 5 per cent above last year's levels.

Members of the panel of oil executives pointed out that shortages also occurred last year and attributed this year's increased levels to warmer than normal weather and public conservation efforts.

Harry Bridges, president of Shell, predicted "acute shortages in the next few months in all products."

Citing the record profits reported by many oil companies last year, Sen. James B. Allen, D-Ala., said "It would seem actually that the oil companies never had it so good."

Z.D. Bonner, president of Gulf Oil, responded that the "matter of profits is greatly misunderstood," arguing that his company needed a rate of return of 12 to 15 per cent in order to have adequate incentive to explore for new sources of oil.

Figures presented to a House subcommittee last week showed that profits of the top five oil companies were 48.6 per cent higher in the first nine months of 1973 than the same period in 1972.

Budget Director Roy L. Ash said the administration should review the oil depletion allowance and consider reducing or abolishing it. "You have years when you are up and years when you're down," Roy A. Baze, senior vice president for Exxon said.

The question of oil industry profits is said to be the chief roadblock in the way of passage of the emergency energy bill that would give President Nixon authority to order gasoline rationing and enforce energy conservation measures that are now voluntary.

The Senate resumed debate on the bill Monday, but Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., indicated he intended to resume the filibuster that prevented passage of the measure before Congress adjourned last month.

Delayed By Profits Furor Senate Braces For Energy Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate leaders say they are likely to move by Wednesday to force a vote on emergency energy legislation stalled by a controversy over excess profits earned by the oil industry.

A vote could come as early as today, Senate leaders said. Word of plans to head off an anticipated filibuster by Republicans and senators from oil-producing states came as Senate investigators quizzed oil company executives on whether the energy crisis is real or contrived.

Abortion Controversy Still Raging States Probe Fuel Crisis Status

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Brotherhood of Railway and Airline Clerks announced Monday a tentative Feb. 1 strike deadline against Amtrak, and then returned to the bargaining table.

The tentative strike deadline was announced by BRAC President Thomas Fitzgibbon.

Negotiations to replace the current contract have been underway since June. Fitzgibbon said Amtrak broke off the talks Wednesday and the union then began its strike vote.

However, Amtrak has moved to forestall a strike by invoking provisions of the National Railway Labor Act, which provides for long-term mediation before a union is free to strike.

Press Contacts Sought WASHINGTON (AP)—White House staff members have been asked to report any contacts they have with members of the news media, a presidential spokesman confirmed Monday.

Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren said there was no intent to intimidate people or curb contacts with the press.

The intent, he said, was to be informed about "concerns expressed by the press" of things that are on the public's mind.

Warren said he did not know if President Nixon was aware of the request. He said the reports are to be made to the press office headed by Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler, who is also an assistant to the President.

Congress Considers Health WASHINGTON (AP)—Public works and health were the subjects of congressional action Monday as the second session of the 93rd Congress got underway.

The Senate also began considering energy legislation, but no votes are expected until later in the week.

A bill authorizing $53.2 million to deal with health statistics and to overhaul federal programs for health statistics and to aid medical libraries was approved by the House.

Loyalty Challenge Dismissed WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court has dismissed a challenge to Florida's loyalty oath for prospective voters.

The Supreme Court ruled 6-3 Monday that an appeal of a Florida Supreme Court decision raised no substantial federal question and did not come under its jurisdiction.

Lawyers for the American Civil Liberties Union Foundation had challenged the oath as an unconstitutional infringement on the right to vote.

Suspect Dinners Traced CHICAGO (AP)—All Kraft macaroni and cheese dinners suspected of being tainted with food poisoning have been traced to eight states, the manufacturer and the Food and Drug Administration say.

The FDA said Monday all the suspected boxes of food are stamped with the identification 9-30-74 C, and are believed on shelves in Arizona, California, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, North Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Two Convenient Locations Mixon Parts Well Priced

Why do so many people patronize Mixon's Auto Parts? The answer, and it has been the same for years, is quality name brand products and guaranteed service, both at reasonable prices.

But now there's another reason—convenience. Mixon's Auto Parts has expanded, and now they have two locations to serve you, one in downtown Sanford and another on U.S. 17-92, several miles to the south.

Mixon's main store is a familiar sight at the corner of Third Street and Magnolia Avenue, and there you'll find not only one of the widest varieties of parts and tools, but also an expertly staffed machine shop.

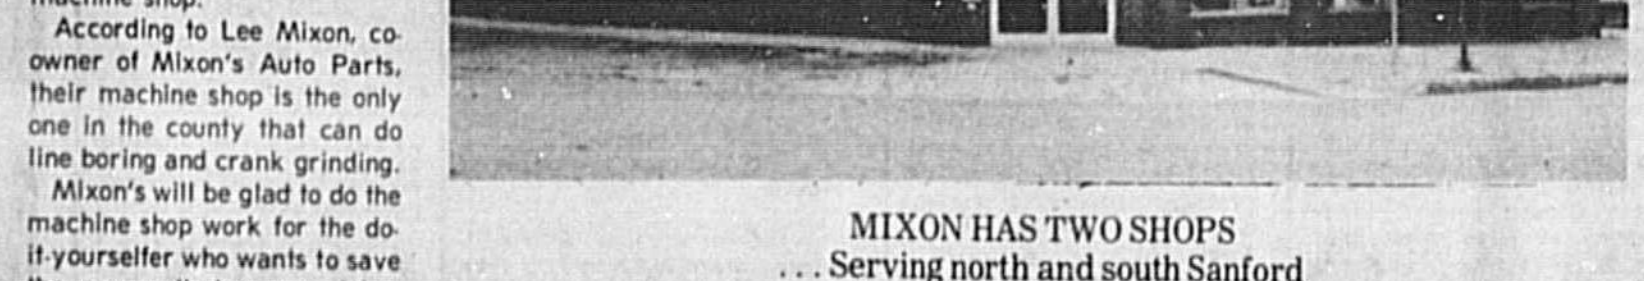

According to Lee Mixon, co-owner of Mixon's Auto Parts, their machine shop is the only one in the county that can do line boring and crank grinding. Mixon will be glad to do the machine shop work for the do-it-yourselfer who wants to save the money that garage labor would cost.

Mixon's does not offer garage-type repair service, but will be glad to accept the parts you want them to work on, after they've been removed from the car.

There is no machine shop at the south store, but you can drop off your parts there and the people at Mixon's will see they get to the machine shop promptly, saving you several miles of driving if you live south of Sanford.

At the south store you'll find the same McQuay-Norris engine parts, Walker mufflers and pipes, Perfect Circle rings, Moog chape parts and Monroe shocks that the main location offers, as well as a long list of other parts and tools.

And if it's automotive paint you need, the south store now carries a complete line. Stop by and see for yourself—they've got just about every color in the rainbow.

Seminole Independent Nautilus Gym offers the most modern exercise equipment, specializing in weight control and general health building for men, women and teens who realize that health is the most precious thing you can have.

In addition to the gym equipment, you may want to use the jogging track which is available to all members. Why not phone today for an appointment for a trial and full information? No cost or obligation. Phone 323-5246.

As well as the benefit of having a healthy body in a good state of fitness, everyone desires a well-built, well-proportioned body. With the correct exercises everyone can build and trim into a shape of which they can be proud.

As we all know, we spend too much time sitting today—in cars, offices, in front of the television set. And strangely enough, all this sitting makes us tired. Our muscles lose their tone, and it becomes a great effort whenever we have to exert ourselves. Correct exercise can change us from weary sluggards to energetic and vigorous people, filled with a zest for living.

Change your lifestyle for the better—call the Nautilus Gym today—Adv.

Israel-Egypt Agreement May Open Suez Canal

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — The disengagement agreement separating Israel and Egyptian forces on the Suez front should lead to the reopening of the Suez Canal, Premier Golda Meir told the Knesset today.

It should also end Egyptian naval blockades of Israeli shipping, Mrs. Meir said. Israel's new cease-fire line in the Sinai desert "does not constitute a permanent border for time of peace," and the government is prepared to negotiate the return of more territory for a permanent settlement to the Middle East crisis, Mrs. Meir said in a major policy statement to the Israeli parliament in Jerusalem.

Official statements from Cairo show that the government of Egypt intends to start clearing the canal and fitting it for shipping, and to work for the population and rebuilding of the abandoned towns and the restoration of normal civilian life in the canal area, she said. The disengagement agreement negotiated by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger also means an Egyptian commitment "to refrain from blockade and obstruction of shipping to Israel and from Israel through the Bab al Mandab Strait," at the southern end of the Red Sea, she said.

The Israeli state radio reported earlier that Israel will begin withdrawing its troops along the canal on Friday. It said those on the west bank around the City of Suez will be the first to move.

Egyptian and Israeli military planners met for three hours outside Suez Monday, mapping details of the pullback which within 40 days is to put Israeli forces about 20 miles east of the canal. Egyptian forces east of the waterway will be reduced, and United Nations troops will be stationed between the two armies as a buffer force.

Meanwhile, two Arab oil producers, Kuwait and Qatar, threw cold water on speculation in the United States and elsewhere that the Arab restrictions on oil production might be relaxed because of Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's work in negotiating the Egyptian-Israeli disengagement agreement. Foreign Minister Sabah Ahmed of Kuwait said such speculation was premature because "Israel has failed to declare its intentions to withdraw from all Arab territories and the United States has not committed itself to pressure Israel to give up Arab territories." Qatar's finance and oil minister, Sheikh Abdel Aziz Ben

Khalifa Al Thani, told the Cairo newspaper Al Akhbar, "Arab petroleum will continue to flow to countries that support our case, but those countries which prefer to support and consolidate our enemy by all means should bear the consequences."

World News Briefs

Chinese Motives Disclaimed

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — The South Vietnamese government said today that the Chinese task force that drove Vietnamese forces from the Paracel Islands last weekend may be preparing to head for the Spratly chain farther south. American sources, however, said they had no indication that the Chinese warships and troops were moving south, and observers in Taiwan also doubted such a move would be made. The Spratly archipelago is 270 miles from the South Vietnamese coast in the South China Sea and about the same distance from the Philippines and Malaysian Borneo. It is claimed by South Vietnam, Communist China, Nationalist China, the Philippines, Malaysia and Singapore. Informed sources said South Vietnam recently established an outpost in the group, which like the Paracels consists of uninhabited coral reefs and atolls and also like the Paracels could have oil beneath the ocean floor around it.

Khadafy Visits Neighbors

TRIPOLI, Libya (AP) — Foreigners in the Libyan capital and Libyan officials are still buzzing about unannounced, friendly calls President Muammar Khadafy paid New Year's Eve night to two American families living near him in a Tripoli suburb. "Unbelievable," said an official of the information ministry. "I never heard of him paying a call on foreigners." One American diplomat thinks the episode resulted from a "conscious decision" by the young Libyan leader to ease up in his hostility toward Europeans and Americans. The speculation is that because of the strained relations that have developed between Khadafy and Egyptian President Anwar Sadat, Libya may lose the Egyptian experts that are so important to its development, and the militancy anti-Communist Khadafy has nowhere to turn but Western Europe and the United States.

Hijacker Lands In Cuba

BARRANQUILLA, Colombia (AP) — A hijacked Colombian airliner with 18 persons aboard was believed to have landed early today in Havana.

Commanded by an armed young Ecuadorian, the four-engine Vickers Viscount transport was in the Cuban capital about 1 a.m. EDT after a 1,000-mile flight across the Caribbean. Havana Radio made no announcement of the plane's arrival, but since there was no word that it had crashed or was missing, it was assumed it got there.

Officials of Aeroposta, a democratic Colombian airline, said 42 other passengers and a crew of four were aboard the plane Monday when Jorge Raimundo Papa Canon took it over on a flight between Pasto and Popayan, both in southwest Colombia.

U.K. Cabinet Split Over Coal Crisis

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Edward Heath's cabinet is reported split over his refusal to give in to the coal miners' pay demands and end the cut in coal production which the government blames for Britain's electric power crisis. Political correspondents of London newspapers said Heath's ministers are also divided over whether he should call a general election next month.

The election would test whether the three-day work week he ordered for the country Jan. 1 has swung the majority of the voters to his Conservatives or to the miners' backers in the Labor party. Some ministers were reported adamant that the government not give in to the miners' demands for pay raises above the ceilings set by Heath's anti-inflation program. Others believe the most important thing is to end the miners' ban on overtime and Sunday work and get deliveries of coal to the nation's power stations back to normal.

Heath stood firm against the miners' demands Monday in another meeting with leaders of the 10-million-member Trades Union Congress. In the return for government agreement to more money for the miners, the giant labor organization had offered not to use their settlement as a basis for wage demands from other unions. But the talks ended in deadlock again.

Labor party leader Harold Wilson demanded that Heath explain why he rejected the TUC offer. The Conservative floor leader of the House of Commons replied that he ex-

Nixon Asks Halt To Oil Tax Breaks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon asked Congress today to reduce the tax breaks available to U.S. oil companies operating overseas and to ease the demands of present clean air laws.

The President sent Congress a new energy message urging passage of the emergency legislation previously proposed and adding some new proposals.

Nixon's new measure would, if adopted: —Eliminate the 22 per cent depletion allowance granted U.S. companies producing oil abroad.

—Reduce the amount of foreign income tax which U.S. oil companies can credit directly against their taxes in the United States.

—Extend for two more years the emission standards now applying to 1975 automobiles.

—Remove the present requirement for a 90 per cent reduction in nitrogen oxide emissions in 1975 cars.

—Extend the legal deadline for meeting clean air standards in metropolitan areas which otherwise would need "unreasonable transportation controls."

—Permit temporary relaxation of clean air deadlines and requirements for power plants and other sources which cannot get an adequate supply of clean energy.

—Speed the licensing and construction of atomic power plants by encouraging standardized plant designs, establishing an inventory of approved locations for future power plants and separating the questions of site approval from reactor licensing.

Meanwhile, at the Capitol, the Senate's investigating subcommittee chaired by Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., continued into a third day its hearings on the energy crisis.

Executives of seven leading oil firms were witnesses.

Jackson became angry at one point when Exxon vice president Roy A. Baze was unable to provide some figures on his firm's fourth quarter earnings.

Longwood Chief Race Numbers 10

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — Mayor Eugene Jaques, through the city personnel department today, released the names of 10 applicants for the police chief's position.

Jaques Monday night also accused Councilman Don Wesley Dowell on Jan. 31, Dowell took advantage of accrued vacation time to leave the city during his two-weeks notice period.

Two weeks ago, Lt. John Govoruk accepted the Winter Springs police chief's job. Jaques said that Dowell to the Herald last week only three men had applied for the $10,000 a year position, and he has sent resumes and applications from just two men to the city council.

He said today 10 men are seeking the job. He told city councilmen Monday night resumes and application of the other applicants were available in personnel files.

Today, Jaques said it has been "common practice" to send only "recommended" resumes to the council.

Major Oil Firm Says Profits Increase Almost 60 Per Cent

NEW YORK (AP) — Exxon Corp., the nation's largest oil company, estimated today that its profits in the final three months of 1973 were almost 60 per cent higher than the same period of 1972.

Profits for the final quarter of 1973 were $784 million compared to earnings of $493 million in the same period in 1972, a spokesman said.

The international refiner said its profits for all of 1973 also showed an increase of almost 60 per cent at $2.44 billion, or $10.69 per share of common stock.

J.K. Jamieson, Exxon chairman, said the company earned about 1.9 cents for each gallon of gasoline and natural gas it sold in 1973, about a half cent more than in the previous year.

Jamieson said Exxon's earnings from petroleum and natural gas operations in the United States rose 18 per cent from $715 million in 1972 to $853 million last year, on a sales increase of 14.1 per cent.

"This means that while prices rose, particularly in the latter part of the year, these increased prices reflected higher raw material and product costs in supplying the additional sales volume," Jamieson said.

Exxon is the second major oil company to report how it fared financially in the fourth quarter of 1973, when the Arab oil embargo was begun and retail prices of petroleum and natural gas fuels climbed sharply.

On Tuesday, Cities Service Co., 14th largest in the industry, said its fourth quarter earnings were nearly 50 per cent higher than its profits in the comparable period of 1972.

Cities Service Co., the nation's 14th largest oil firm, said Tuesday the preliminary figures showed profits of $42.1 million, or $5.21 a share, against $29.1 million, or $3.84 a share, in 1972.

But Robert V. Sellers, Cities Service chairman, said the company's return on shareholders' equity, or investment, was 9.2 per cent, less than the average return for the company over the previous 10 years.

He said the earnings figures were "encouraging" but the rate of return was "not satisfactory" considering the company's record high capital expansion needs.

Sellers said Cities Service needs an estimated $1.3 billion over the next three years for exploration and development of new energy supplies. This is a 38 per cent jump over the previous three years, he said.

"We hope to have the key support and help of these other clubs, the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce Ladies Civic and Community Affairs Committee and the Sanford garden clubs," Mrs. Gielow said.

Help of all citizens, local civic clubs and organizations is being sought on the two-year project which will be entered in national competition sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs and the Sears Roebuck Foundation.

Mrs. Walter Gielow, chairman of the Woman's Club public affairs department, met Monday with Mrs. Frank Kish, Mrs. Robert Karns and Mrs. John Crabtree to formulate plans seeking participation in the Community Improvement Project.

citizens of the community."

Citizens are being asked to suggest beautification and community improvement needs.

As the Community Improvement Project takes shape it is hoped that citizens will mobilize for a block-to-block citywide beautification and improvement effort.

By entering the local project in national competition the Woman's Clubs hope to win money to be used to improve community improvement projects. Projects are judged on the district level, then statewide by the State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Winning projects in Florida are judged with projects from other states in Sears Roebuck's five administrative territories.

A panel of national judges selects five winners for prizes ranging from $2,000 to $10,000 and awards are made at the General Federation of Women's Clubs' national convention.

Car Kicking Jails Man

An out-of-county man was arrested Tuesday night at Big Daddy's Lounge in Fern Park when he began kicking in the tail lights of his car after being asked to leave. Sheriff's Deputy H. D. Kirby said today.

Kirby said the manager asked Stephen W. Larkin, 25, of West Palm Beach, to leave. "I drove around the parking lot and when I came back I saw Larkin kicking like mad at the rear end of his car. I arrested him for disorderly conduct, but when we got to the county jail I found he had narcotic paraphernalia on him and two white pills that are being processed right now," Kirby said.

Larkin is in jail in lieu of bonds totaling $5,100, but no charges have been filed for the pills, Kirby said.

As for the trailer permits, Jaques said he does not issue permits.

Williamson pointed to city charter, section 12 — the mayor's powers — "he (mayor) shall sign all deeds, contracts, bonds or other instruments of writing to which he is authorized by law to sign."

One of the latest contracts Jaques signed was one for $10,000 with Harris Construction Co. for renovations on the old medical building, he said. The building was being remodeled into a city hall annex to provide additional office space for city departments and sleeping quarters, lounge, showers and kitchen for firemen.

Jaques declined comment on the charge a land developer has tapped into city water lines without a permit and on payment of auto parts bills for a vehicle the city does not own.

Weather

Yesterday's high 83 low this morning 55. A chance of fog again tonight. Mostly sunny with mild Thursday. Afternoon highs in the upper 80s and low 90s.

Low tonight in the low 60s. Showers and thunderstorms spilled over a broad stretch of the nation's midlands from Texas to Michigan today, turning to snow in the upper regions.
