GASOLINE TAX LAW WILL PROBABLY STAND AFTER MANY BATTLES

REHEARING PETITION DENIED BY THE SUPREME COURT YESTERDAY FIFTEEN DAYS

Are Left to Gunn in Which He Can Amend His Complaint

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 12.—With denial by the Supreme court yesterday of rehearing of the gasoline tax case sought by S. J. Gunn, who attacks the constitutionality of the law, the Leon circuit court in which Gunn brought action expected to issue a mandate validating the decision. Gunn has fifteen days from the time of its receipt by lower court to amend his complaint and if this is not done the bill will be thrown out and tax act, as far as the present litigation is concerned, will remain in the statutes.

Should he file an amended bill he is confronted with the supreme court's opinion that the question of whether the bill was legally signed by the presiding officers of the senate and house can be decided only by the legislative journals. The journals show the bill recorded as a law. Mr. Gunn claims that the act was not signed by the officials concerned until after the adjournment of the legislature.

The tax act when it comes free of the litigation and begins to operate smoothly is expected to yield approximately $750,000 annually to be used in road building and maintenance in this state. That portion of the revenue used on federal aid projects will receive a like amount from the federal funds.

TO MAKE TEST CASE IN "DRY" SHIP RULING

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Officials of the Cunard Line announced last night that they had launched steps to bring a test case in the supreme court of the United States of Attorney General Daugherty's decision that ships flying a foreign flag could not bring liquor for passengers within the three mile limit.

The line sent its attorneys, Lord, Day & Lord, of New York, to Washington yesterday to confer with the attorney general and to arrange for petitioning for an injunction to restrain the government from putting the liquor ban into effect.

The attitude of the American Steamship Owners' Association, however, as expressed by an official statement yesterday, after the meeting of directors, is that it will peacefully abide by the Daugherty ruling if the prohibitionists will, as a reward, lend their support to the ship subsidy bill now before congress. After enumerating the disadvantages which private American vessels, running dry, will suffer in competition with foreign ships, the association said:

"There is but one way in which this disadvantage can be met and that is by national aid along the lines now provided for in the national shipping bill.

"The association believes that the friends of prohibition appreciate the situation and will be among the strongest advocates of giving to American ships every assistance that is necessary to maintain and uphold the merchant marine."

The association's stand was against any concerted effort to retain liquor on passenger ships by recourse to legal action, saying it felt "the situation is one which should be left to the individual companies."

Incidentally, all officials of foreign owned lines, announced it would be their policy "to live up to the law, no matter what the cost," and to await the outcome of the Cunard Line's test of the validity of Mr. Daugherty's ruling.

P. A. S. Franklin, president of the International Merchant Marine, said it would be the policy of his line, although he believed "it is our legal right to carry wine and liquors as stores to be consumed during the voyage."

BEAUTIFYING THE HOME

BY PROF. COOPER OF THE SANFORD HIGH SCHOOL AT THE BETTER HOMES DEMONSTRATION WEDNESDAY

At the Better Homes demonstration yesterday Prof. Cooper, agricultural instructor at the Sanford High School gave an instructive talk on "Beautifying The Homes." There were 200 present yesterday among them being many members of the D. A. R. and kindred organizations. The talk of Prof. Cooper follows:

"A bare and ugly homestead is not good business, for beautifying grounds increases the value of the home and makes it more desirable to a purchaser. The common or heterogeneous way of planting is unprofitable. We should use permanent plants and of that section of the country. You will realize that salability is often influenced by the first impression. Buying a place with improvements already made has an advantage and a disadvantage. The plantings may mistakes are not all bad after all for mistakes are not all bad after all for they may help to teach him useful lessons.

In planning and planting our home grounds we should keep away from straight lines as much as possible, and follow the curves of nature. The natural style of landscape gardening endeavors to present its pictures in farms typical of the natural landscape and this is made vital by the landscape spirit. In small parks, undergrowth should not be cut away and a few large flower beds are preferable to a number of small ones. Beautifying of the home and grounds is rapidly pushing to the front and becoming one of our most important arts. Lawn planting for small places is a simple, harmonious arrangement of plants. Individual beauties and not broad mass effect must be emphasized. Disposition of shrubbery one of the most important points in planting a lot. Curves and walks should be easy and flowing. Position of house should be on one side so as to mass in a single lawn as much as possible. Fence should be screened and very little if any architectural adornment should be allowed. Pleasing vines should be preserved, and special care taken to avoid uniform horizon lines. Never plant a large dark ever-green with a lot of brilliant deciduous trees. Beware of using large growing trees on small places.

Hardy borders can be used to a good effect in varied positions and should be planted so they will be attractive all the season. Perennial borders should not be planted against a hedge. Well prepared seed beds should be used and plants set out in early spring. Summer cultivation is very important. Shrubs or ever-greens make a good background for borders. We should always keep in mind what our plants will develop into. Simplicity should be stressed for this is the keynote of all great art.

Wild gardens can be made very attractive. Trillium, grape hyacinth, hepatica, Japanese wind flower are all good. Hedges. Cherry, cape jasmine, Chinese hibiscus, Caroline Laurel Cherry, Cattley Guava, Oleander, Grape Myrtle. Annuals. In the north annuals are seeded in latter part of April, producing flowers in July. In Florida if flowers are desired in January the Nasturtium, sweet peas are planted in Sept. Annual phlox, galliardia, verbanas, animal carnation and calendulas are seeded 1st of October. (Winter better for animals in Florida than summer. Example of plants, carnation, Illinois Florida Iris, Umbrella plant, century plant, croton, Nasturtium, veriana, violet, periwinkle, sanitary plant, Zimfa. Vines: Blue Bells of Scotland.

BRITISH ELECTION HELD BEFORE THE NEW YEAR IS FREELY PREDICTED

BETTER HOMES IS THE SLOGAN FOR THIS WEEK

CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED IN SANFORD HAS BEEN GREAT SUCCESS

The campaign for better homes in America launched by the Delinator, in co-operation with the national and state officials which has been underway for some time past will have a tangible result in the better homes week which will be observed October 9-14 inclusive throughout the nation. The idea met with the hearty approval and co-operation of Herbert Hoover secretary of commerce, and he and other national officials, including Calvin Coolidge, vice-president of the United States, have extended every co-operation, and the governors of practically every state in the union have delivered proclamations, and made appointments of men and women in all sections to further the movement locally.

In Sanford, as in other cities a model house, attractive architecturally—and well arranged is being furnished by firms of the city, and daily receptions will be held there—this being one of the features of the better homes week.

The ideal embodied in the movement is clearly outlined in the current issue of the Delinator, the statements from Vice-president Coolidge and Mr. Hoover being given for the interest of those who are participating in the better homes movement.

STEAMSHIP IS BURNING OFF LOS ANGELES

CITY OF HONOLULU COMES TO GRIEF ON FIRST VOYAGE

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 12.—With some three hundred passengers on board, the Los Angeles Steamship Company's new steamer, City of Honolulu reported by wireless today after two days off shore from this port on return from its first voyage between Los Angeles and Honolulu. The vessel is a shipping board steamer of 17,500 tons. Left September 23 with more than three hundred passengers, mostly tourists, and believed a large number of these were returning. Life boats are being let down by the City of Honolulu at 8:40 this morning according to radio received here.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—Fire on the City of Honolulu was beyond control at 10:10 a. m. and the ship was being abandoned by the captain, chief engineer, first officer and radio operator, the last four persons aboard the vessel, a radio dispatch said. Shortly before the steamer wirelessed she was lowering her boats and she put out the S. O. S. call another time. The passengers began entering life boats at 9:00 o'clock the Matson Navigation Company announced their steamer Enterprise, bound from Honolulu to San Francisco was rushing to assistance of burning liner and should reach her between noon and one o'clock. Radio calls to steamer from 9 to 9:50 o'clock not answered and believed all aboard had taken to boats. The City of Honolulu is converted German liner Frederick der Grosse. During the war she was known as Huron. She is six hundred feet long.

NOTWITHSTANDING POSITIVE ASSERTION THEY ARE IMPOSSIBLE BEFORE XMAS

Lloyd George's Friends Continue to Insist That He Will Not Resign

LONDON, Oct. 12.—Odds of nearly two to one against an election before New Year is being accepted in London insurance market notwithstanding the positive assertions in the press and political circles that the appeal to the country before Christmas is inevitable. Lloyd George's friends continue to insist that he will not resign while others assert he is determined to ask country for vote of confidence at the polls.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—Prime Minister Lloyd George has announced his intention of replying publicly at Manchester Saturday to criticism recently aimed at the government's near eastern policy. The sudden announcement has taken the press by surprise and brought general interest in the domestic and political situation to a point, following rumors of an early breakup of the present coalition.

The present outlook in the Near East may have opened up some inner sources of information enabling the political writers to speak with greater authority than heretofore; at any rate yesterday's newspapers have the appearance of those usually accompanying the last days of a moribund government and the early dissolution of parliament.

Necessarily a general election is commonly discussed as a matter of more or less certainty. The opinion of the majority of the political experts, however, is that Mr. Lloyd George has no intention of resigning and that he will put up a big fight on behalf of the coalition in which he will have the support of Austen Chamberlain in the latter's forthcoming speech at Birmingham. At the same time there are some who confidently refer to the dissolution of parliament and a general election in a manner implying knowledge that the premier has already decided upon this course. Speculation is very busy over the probable result of an appeal to the country. An important result of the crisis, according to two or three of the papers, is that Sir Robert Horne, chancellor of the exchequer has postponed his trip to the United States and that the debt funding mission will not be undertaken by another, being held up until Sir Robert feels able to go.

SOME BARS IN PATH OF PROSPERITY

BANKER NAMES OBSTACLES YET TO BE OVERCOME

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—A picture of America, recovering from the "rude buffets and deep wounds of 1917 to 1921," and "with characteristic courage binding up her bruises, and slowly moving forward to new goals" was drawn yesterday by Thomas A. Lamont, associate of J. P. Morgan, in an address before 10,000 delegates at the convention of the American Bankers' association.

"But we have not yet cause for unbounded confidence," he cautioned the bankers. "We must not forget that before the race is won we still have some high hurdles to jump." The bars in the path to full prosperity he enumerated:

"1.—Low prices prevailing for farm products; 2.—Labor strikes; 3.—The soldiers' bonus; 4.—The new tariff act and the foreign situation with respect to reparations, allied loans and international trade."

Discussing reparations and the inter-allied debt Mr. Lamont raised two questions: "Do our former allies really owe us all the debt? And are we doing our full share to bear the tragic questions that are weighing upon the world?"

"One thing is certain," he declared, "if someone on April 4, 1917, had been able to give us our choice as to whether we should give five billion dollars or lives of several hundred thousands of our sons, there would have been no hesitation as to our choice."

"Fate, however, determined that choice. It determined that Great Britain and France should give up the lives during that first year and that we should furnish, not our blood but our money, taking, however, in place of it the promise to pay of our allies."

"No other policy could have been followed at that time, I grant you, but now that the war is behind us, and we can take a long look back, it is wise for us, is it just, is it generous to make so much of this matter."

"I shan't attempt to argue the point of lower prices," continued the financier, "but I never knew a country to go broke because of its abundant crop. So even though our farmers suffer disappointment, I think the low price hurdle the easiest one to jump."

"Labor strikes rise as one of the most serious obstructions to prosperity," Mr. Lamont declared, "even though the worst seems to be over."

He asked his audience to remember that even in this country there are traces of arrogance against the employers as there are manifest signs of arrogance against labor.

President Harding's veto of the bonus bill with its threat to tax billions more out of the American people and distribute it in such a way so that probably no one would receive full benefits temporarily leaped that hurdle and temporarily created a feeling of relief, Mr. Lamont said.

Of the tariff he said: "We shall be fortunate indeed if we do not find that in practice it protects a number of industries that do not need protection and cuts off from our farmers and manufacturers a lot of foreign markets that are ready to buy our commodities."

"If there is any one motto which American producers and legislators should learn by heart, it is that oft repeated one of the British merchant who over a century ago declared: 'He who will not buy neither shall he sell.'"

"Even with the sick man of Europe, the Turk, suddenly alive and kicking the Greeks all around the lot; with Russia, Germany and Austria what they are, and with Ireland in a ferment, it is dangerous," declared Mr. Lamont, "to say that Europe has gone all to pot. Invisible forces are saving Europe," he said, adding that "politically Europe may be in the doldrums or worse, but economically I for one, believe she is on the mend."

Reparations, said Mr. Lamont, has now reached a stage in the public opinion of both America and Europe, secondary to inter-allied indebtedness because, he declared, it is generally recognized that Germany "cannot or will not ever pay anything like the reparations total fixed in the Versailles treaty. Now let us as practical men, determine, what, if any, of these debts (allied debts to America) are in any event uncollectible and so should be written off, in order to quit fooling ourselves," he suggested to the bankers.

"Let us decide what others of these debtors are good in part, but must be given ample time to pay; emphatically, let us figure whether the payment of these debts—which inevitably must mean a great increase in our import and a heavy decrease in our export—is going to prove an asset or a liability for American business men."

"Finally," he concluded, "do not forget that, as the nations of Europe face great dangers, America too is facing a crisis, though of a different order. We have gained great power; with the power goes responsibility. Have we discharged it? For the period of the world war, my answer is yes, a thousand fold yes. For the period since the armistice, can any one of us search his heart and answer 'yes?' We have, it is true, offered criticisms to the nations of Europe. We have shouted advice to them. We have been timid of petty entanglements. Now we have, it would seem, come to the parting of the ways. Shall we meet the responsibility that has come without power, or shall we fail? Shall you and I give our minds, our understanding and our sympathy to these problems or shall we stand aside and allow our national stock of gold to disappear? Shall we allow to pass the golden opportunity of councils with our mother country and Europe, or shall we keep silent?"

BANKERS FAVOR HELPING EUROPE TO PAY DEBT

REPRESENTATION OF 23,000 BANKS MIGHT CANCEL SOME OF DEBT

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—An overwhelming sentiment favoring America's abandonment of her policy of isolation from European affairs and the substitution of a policy which might even involve partial cancellation of the Allied war debt, yesterday swept through the convention of the American Bankers' Association.

The subject was broached by Thos. W. Lamont, associate of J. P. Morgan, whose plea in behalf of American "unselfishness" turned the convention into an uproar as the 10,000 delegates, representing 23,000 banks in the United States, voiced their approval. The movement gained momentum when Mr. Lamont's plea was echoed by Thomas B. McAdams, president of the bankers' national organization, Myron T. Herrick, United States ambassador to France, and other nationally known figures. Financial leaders who asserted that until recently the question of debt cancellation had brought only protests from small and large bankers throughout the country, expressed great surprise at the changed attitude evidenced yesterday. A year ago, they pointed out, a proposal similar to that cautiously advanced by Mr. Lamont was turned down by the association.

Formal action on the question of European debts to this government or the formulation of a definite program of new loans and trade contracts is not expected of this convention, however. Leaders declare they are satisfied with the evidence that bankers of the country are amenable to America's more active participation in foreign financial stabilization and will depend upon the early development of public opinion which will justify the administration in making overtures to the foreign nations concerning the possibility of a basis for readjusted settlement.

The subject will be resumed today when Right Honorable Reginald McKenna, of England, will address the bankers on "Reparations and International Debts." Having defined its attitude on foreign affairs the convention last night prepared to tackle an issue which, according to the leaders, promises to dominate remaining sessions. This is the question of "branch banks," forcibly brought into the convention by bodies of "independents" representing four mid-Western state bankers' associations, who have brought to a head their opposition to the further increase of such institutions, on the ground that they tend to centralize capital and economic powers.

Andrew J. Frame, of Waukesha, Wis., appears in the convention as the champion of the anti-branch bank element, which last night is conceded to have gained considerable strength since the convention opened.

The "pro" element was headed by Wulfo Newcomer, an Eastern banker. The importance of the issue yesterday caused President McAdams to upset the schedule of the convention so that a resolution adopted by the anti-branch men may be put to a vote today.

JURY CHARGES AGENTS STOLE GOV'T LIQUOR

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 3.—Charges that "certain representatives of the department of justice converted to their own use stocks of liquors seized here in the enforcement of prohibition laws," were made in a special report filed yesterday by the District of Columbia grand jury.

The report asserted that the liquor was removed from the warehouse used by the departments for storage purposes and was used by the officials involved for their private consumption, for distribution to personal friends, and as gifts to favored institutions. There was no charge that any of the liquor was disposed of for financial gain.

Illegal withdrawals covered in the report were declared to have occurred between July 20 and September 11, 1920. The jury did not name the individuals who were involved but declared that their conduct "cannot be too severely condemned."

At the department of justice officials indicated that no action was in prospect since the offenses complained of were by "former action" of the department. William J. Burns, chief of the department's bureau of investigation, confirmed that large stocks of liquor held in the custody of the department had "disappeared" between the dates mentioned in the grand jury report.

The first intimation of such a situation, Mr. Burns said, came to him when counsel for a defendant in a liquor case which had lapsed under the statute of limitations, filed claim for return of the several cases of whiskey involved. Mr. Burns said he ordered that the property be returned at once and then learned that it was no longer in the warehouse. An inquiry was instituted and the result voluntarily submitted to the grand jury, according to Mr. Burns.

Officials of the department estimated that "several hundred cases of assorted liquors were removed illegally from the department's evidence cache. The valuation was placed at upwards of $100,000 by D. T. Wright, counsel for Frank Bunch, one of the interested owners. Mr. Wright recently filed suit against Frank Burke, former chief of the department of justice's bureau of investigation, P. J. Ahern and Henry P. Alden, employees of the department, charging that they had unlawfully removed his client's liquor from custody and converted it to their own use. The suit is now pending in a local court, according to Mr. Wright.

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 9.—Heavy rains have caused suspension of farming operations over most of the state, the wet weather retarded ripening of citrus fruits and damage to truck crops of South Florida heavy, according to the federal bureau of crop estimates in a review of conditions for the week ended Saturday.

SCORE TWO MORE FOR FLORIDA.

Promoters of Florida trucking enterprises seem to have overlooked two good bets in their statements of the state's advantages.

One is that very few weeds grow here during the trucking season. Nature appears to have reserved her fall and winter and spring bounty for the things that rejoice the palate and pocketbook of man. Instead of the late spring and summer weed crop being a competitor with vegetables for plant food, as farther north, weed time is fallow time in Florida gardens. Any truck grower who has struggled with the pests that crowd their betters at Nature's feeding thru would not need to have this point elaborated. Just the plain statement of the fact would be argument enough for him.

Another pointer the Tribune offers to Florida land-selling ads is that nearly all work is done during the season when it is most pleasant to be out of doors. While Florida sunshine never causes death or prostration, it is going strongest when the farmer can sit in the shade and take life easy; while his brother up north is broiling in the hay and grain fields.

Of course "there are others" which have been duly exploited as reasons for farming in Florida; but these two absentees deserve a prominent place in the state's "Come hither" literature. —Tampa Tribune.

ENGLAND WILL OBEY THE NEW U.S. DRY RULE

SAYS UNITED STATES HAS PERFECT RIGHT TO TAKE ANY ACTION

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Prohibition of liquors on vessels within the American waters will give rise to no international complications according to a view expressed by the British foreign office officials. Governmental view, they said, is that matter is one in which the United States has a perfect right to take any action it sees fit.

The mystery of the killing of the New Jersey preacher and his choir leader has not been solved as yet. The boy, Clifford Hayes, who was supposed to have shot them by mistake, will come clean after his sweetheart gets through testifying in his defense. It looks like the mystery will never be solved.

ALL SPECIAL U. S. OFFICERS DISCHARGED

WERE EMPLOYED AS GUARDS DURING RECENT RAILWAY STRIKE

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 9.—All special federal officers in Florida employed for guard duty during the railroad shopmen's strike were discharged today. Sheriff of Duval county still has special deputies on duty at local shops of railroads which have not reached an agreement with the strikers.

CHOPPING DOWN THE SIGNS

All over the country an effort is being made to clear the roadways of billboards. Highway associations have been particularly active in getting action by county commissioners in the outlawing of signboards.

County commissioners, as a rule, have shown commendable enterprise in meeting the demand for the reformation of these boards that disfigure the landscape from one end of the county to the other. But the action of the county commissioners has been nullified to a large extent by property owners who permit billboards to be erected on their property abutting the highways. Well-directed warfare, however, is getting property owners to see the poor wisdom of such boards on their hands and many of them are refusing to become parties to the disfigurement of the country. Pressure too, has been brought to bear on advertisers who have been thus stubbornly defying the will of the people, and they, too, are easing off on the billboard stunt. In many counties of California billboards were driven out of sight of the highways by civic organizations agreeing to buy no articles they saw advertised on billboards.

In approaching a certain Florida city one is confronted by this streamer announcement across the highway: "Welcome to Our City." For a mile approaching that welcome sign, other and more brazen faced signs offer the tourist everything from pills to pastry flour. From every fence-post and tree they intrude their message like a bunch of poisy boys peddling popcorn along a train at a railroad station.

Summed up, these billboards say about this: "You are welcome to our city, but we want you to loosen up your purse-strings." "If it's a restaurant you're looking for, go to Ketchum and Skinum's." "For tire troubles, go to Stickum and Gasoline alley." "Play safe—buy a box of Sureshot liver pills." "For an after-dinner train at a railroad station."

Now this is about the array of stuff that leads the visitor up to the welcome sign of the average Florida city. Aren't you proud of them?

Down on the east coast, tire companies have made every railroad crossing unsafe by erecting great billboards right in the angle of the roads so that they obstruct the view of the railroad.—Reporter Star.

DESPOUDENT FATHER KILLS WHOLE FAMILY

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 9.—Bodies of father and three children in the undertaking establishment today, Ethelyn five, Grace two, Russell six months, were drowned in bathtub at their home by their father, William Wheeler who then killed himself with a pistol. Despondency on account inability to obtain employment is believed to be the cause.

LOWER RATES FOR ELECTRICITY

New Smyrna has adopted new rates for electricity effective Sept. 25th, and so low are the rates that our sister city is using them as an advertisement of the city. The new schedule is graduated, the highest rate being 12 cents for users of less than 20 kwh. and ranging downward to seven cents for over 800 kwh.

Seven cents is also the rate-charged for cooking. There can be no doubt that low electric rates are an attraction for any city and New Smyrna is to be congratulated.—Daytona Journal.

BE SIXTEEN BEFORE YOU DRIVE IN TAMPA

TAMPA, Fla., Oct. 9.—Police Chief Williams has issued orders that all children under 16 years of age seen driving machines in Tampa are to be taken to police headquarters to be held until their parents or guardians appear and pay a fine. A city ordinance prohibits driving of machines by children under 16 year of age. Many accidents due to youthfulness of drivers in recent weeks caused the issuance of the ordinance.

An invention that bids fair to revolutionize the manufacture of sprayer pumps and all kinds of pumping machines, has been made by Mr. D. L. Strine, a prominent citizen and grove man of Winter Haven. The new system is such a vast improvement over the old methods, that a successful promotion of the pump is assured. Mr. Strine has been working on the design for over a year, and used one of the pumps for the past six months, during which time it gave perfect satisfaction and service. A patent was secured in November, 1921, and a half interest sold to the B. C. Skinner Co., of Dunedin last month. By the terms of the contract, Mr. Strine received $10,000 in cash and a fine royalty on each pump sold. A minimum yearly payment for Mr. Strine was fixed which he will receive regardless of the number of pumps sold.

FUNERAL OF MRS. A. B. CAMERON

Mrs. Archie B. Cameron beloved wife of Archie Cameron died at the old home east of the city Friday and was buried yesterday in Lakeview cemetery. The funeral services were held from the Holy Cross Church yesterday afternoon and the long concourse of friends and the many beautiful floral offerings attested to the friendship of many friends of this estimable lady who had been a resident of this section for many years. Mrs. Cameron had been an invalid for many years and was unable to leave her bed but was always bright and cheerful and those who knew her best loved her for the unselfish devotion of wife and mother and friend and neighbor. Her death bereft a husband, two daughters and one son. The sympathy of many friends is extended to them in their hour of sorrow.

ARMISTICE DAY

More than a month intervenes between now and Armistice day, Nov. 11, but it is not too soon to urge, insist and reiterate that Tampa this year should not witness a repetition of the saturnalia that disgraced the city's observance of Armistice Day last year. Still fresh in the minds of those to whom the anniversary brings fresh recollection of sacrifices made in the memory of that wild orgy of senseless noise. Still ringing in the ears of those whose service flags bear gold stars are the silly laughter and the raucous shouting of maudlin revelers, dragging behind their autos tin cans, wagon tires, every noise-making device imaginable, and driving the cars with mufflers cut out or back-firing like machine guns. These things are not seemly in the observance of such an anniversary as Armistice Day. They are not in keeping with the meaning, the significance, of the day. Moreover, they are not even commonly decent, and no person with a shred of proper feeling and elementary intelligence will take part in or consent to a repetition.

Neither is Armistice Day a fitting occasion for carnivals or sports or for the unrestrained revelry such as marks other and less solemn occasions. Circuses, all-day athletic events and the like, even when they are community affairs, have no part in the observance of the day that is the anniversary of that other day a few years ago when the world's most colossal tragedy, the grimmest calamity of human history, came to its bloody close. Perhaps some will say that such a day should be observed with every manifestation of joy, as at release of a tortured world from its torment; but to those who themselves suffered, as to those through whose homes the Reaper stalked as a result of the world war, manifestations of unrestrained gaily, the festival or carnival spirit cannot but seem something ghoulish.

Let Tampa take the lead among the cities of the South in preparing for an observance of Armistice Day this year that will be in consonance with the occasion. One does not whoop, halloo, carouse and fire pistols on the anniversary of the death of a loved one. Why should a city throw off all restraint, all common decency, in the observance of the anniversary of the day on which the slaughter of millions of the world's finest manhood came to an end? —Tampa Tribune.

ARMISTICE DAY WILL BE ORDERLY WITH NO GAMBLING

Campbell-Lossing Post American Legion wants the public to know that they stand for law and order at all times. In the celebrations of the past there has been crap shooting on the streets and the officials had the idea along with the general public that the Legion boys were wanting a wide open town on Armistice Day and allowed the crap shooting on the streets. The Legion boys want it distinctly understood that they will stand by the officers this year in enforcing the laws on Armistice Day as on other days and none of the Legion members will countenance any gambling of any kinds on the streets that day. The officers will do their duty in this respect and arrest anyone caught gambling on the streets or otherwise conducting themselves in a manner unbecoming real citizens and the officers can be assured that the American Legion will not only uphold their hands in this respect but will render them any assistance needed in upholding law and order. The Armistice Day this year will be one of the biggest days since the first Armistice Day when peace was declared but much of the noise and other objectionable features will be eliminated. It will be a celebration in keeping with the memorial aspects of a real Armistice Day celebration and Campbell-Lossing Post will lead the state in calling for a peaceful observance of one of the greatest days in American history.

GIANTS ARE CHAMPIONS RIGHT ON

SUNDAY'S WIN ENDED SERIES AND TITLE STAYS WITH THE GIANTS

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—All the advance dope about the strong pitching staff of the Yanks and the weak staff of the Giants, and the Yanks being favored to win, was upset last week, when the Giants took four out of five, tying the fifth. The Giants were rated by even the most conservative experts to have nothing more than a fighting chance of winning one game of the World's Series from the Yanks, and yet they did not lose a game.

From every approach that could be made on paper before the first game was played, the Giants were considered a badly beaten club, but with the fine stick work of the Giants, together with the quick way in which they took advantage of all the breaks, they upset all the dopsters advance stuff and romped home with the bacon.

Sunday's game was just another hitting victory for the Giants. The Yanks, during this series, used all their best pitchers, but aside from the tie game of Shawkey's there was nothing that could stop them. Babe Ruth, if he made a record for himself at all during the series, made a record for doing nothing.

But it couldn't all be blamed on Ruth, as the entire Yank outfit were inclined to use their feet instead of their heads. But no matter who is responsible for the loss, or who gets the credit for the Giants, the result is the same, the Giants are the world's champs right on.

Circus weather, fellers. Big one coming to Jacksonville next week. Hope one comes to Sanford soon, don't you?

Southern College was established some years at Sutherland near Clearwater. ### HOOD HAS FINE APPLE ORCHARD IN OLD GEORGIA

J. D. Hood brought some fine wine-apples to the Herald office yesterday that were of most excellent appearance and fine quality. About eight years ago Mr. Hood planted out this fine orchard in the Blue Ridge section of Georgia and the editor of the Herald thought he was foolish talking about good apples in Georgia. We are forced to confess that Hood was right and we were wrong for his apples are among the best that we ever seen and if he has 3,000 bushels of them this season he should worry about paying freight bills. With such apples as these in Georgia our own state should get all the apples they need this winter with the high freight rate cut out.

"The whole story attributed to Candler is a lie," declared Legette. "It is a fabrication of scandal mongers. There is no finer woman on earth than Mrs. de Bouchel."

SEMINOLE COUNTY FEDERATION WOMEN'S CLUB BETTER HOMES WEEK—MRS. PORTER WAKEFIELD ON CAKE MAKING

Yesterday afternoon the model house was filled to overflowing when Mrs. Porter Wakefield demonstrated one of her famous cakes, and several kinds of icing. Mrs. Wakefield says: "That while cake makers are born still any one with a reasonable amount of common sense can become an expert cake maker. Mrs. Wakefield advises the ladies to use confectioners sugar rolled very fine and sifted and then rolled again and sifted before measuring and using. To obtain the best results the flour should be heated and sifted before measuring and then sifted again before placing in the cake. Butter should be mixed with the sugar with the hands for the human contains just the degree of heat necessary for the proper mixing of a cake. Mrs. Wakefield says that two people can make a cake better than one for while one is mixing the ingredients the other can be beating the eggs and that after the eggs are beaten they should be added to the cake and not allowed to set. Many other useful and instructable things in cake making were told while Mrs. Wakefield expertly mixed the cake. Then while the cake was making icings were explained. As soon as the cake was baked it served and our expert cake maker Mrs. McLaulin said that it was quite as good as Angle Food. The following were the receipts that Mrs. Wakefield demonstrated.

3 teaspoons of baking powder this should be added to the flour.

RICH FRUIT CAKE
1-2 pound of brown sugar.
2oz. of almonds.
10 oz. of flour.
1 lb. and 8 oz. of currents.
3-4 lb. of raisins.
1-2 lb. of mixed orange, lemon and citron peel.
1-3 oz. of grated nutmeg.
1 wine glass of grated nutmeg.
1 wine glass of grape juice and black coffee and juice of one lemon.

GLAZE ICING
Mix one pound of finely sifted confectioners sugar with the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs, add a piece of blue fruit coloring the size of a pea, beat this mixture with a wooden spoon for 20 to 30 minutes. It will become gradually whiter and lighter and will be ready for use when the spoon will stand upright in the middle of the bowl. This can readily be used for decorating cakes with paper cones.

ICING FOR WHITE CAKE
2 cups of sugar.
1-2 cup of boiling water.
Beaten whites of eggs.
Beating lightly all the time add 1-4 teaspoon of vanilla 1-4 teaspoon of tartaric acid.

CARAMEL ICING
2 cups of brown sugar.
1-2 cup of milk.
A piece of butter the size of an egg. Roll this until it threads and stir until cold.

CHOCOLATE ICING
2 squares of chocolate.
5 tablespoons of powdered sugar.
3 white spoons of boiling water.
Stir over a moderate fire until smooth and glossy.

COUNTRY NEEDS LAW ENFORCEMENT, NOT NEW LAWS, SAYS GEORGIAN WHO IS FIRST WOMAN CHOSEN U. S. SENATOR

ATHENS, Ga., Oct. 10.—"The woman who retains her good sense and intellect will realize that it is not new laws but enforcement that we need." This was the statement of Mrs. W. H. Felton, who has become the first woman United States Senator, as she declared at her home here yesterday that she is succeeding the late Senator Thomas E. Watson, without exciting herself over such questions as the tariff, the bonus and the fast-disappearing "flapper" style of girl. "Good laws and good law makers," she continued, "we already have. I shall not strive to win glory in statesmanship. If only I can aid in making men and women live cleaner, sweeter and more wholesome lives, I shall be well satisfied." Mrs. Felton reminds one of the old-fashioned mother portrayed on the American stage today. Her hair is as white as snow and her face wrinkled, but despite her age she is very active. She possesses a magnetic personality. Although retiring in her manner, the "grand old woman of Georgia" as she is known throughout the South, talks as fluently as she writes and does not hesitate to express her views on the important issues of the day. "I am not interested in the fast-disappearing flapper type of girl," she smiled as she removed her gold rimmed glasses, "but I am interested in the modern young woman. The light of a new day is growing in America and I believe that with its advancement we shall see a new type of citizen. A strong nation is dependent upon its women and the manner in which the women of this country grasp their opportunities.

"The most romantic development in this country's history comes about because our problems today are social and economic and this is work in which women are needed. "I am thankful for the good laws that we have now, but even more important are the greater laws that society must observe if we are to have a strong citizenry. We must have more thought of the simple, sweet virtues of life."

"Men and women must be good because they want to be good. No amount of legislation can make them good," she asserted, "although the future of our nation and of our race depends largely upon it. "I see a better citizenry coming to America only through efforts to improve our living standards. The working man must have a living wage. He must not be forced too much in competition with unskilled labor from abroad. There must be every encouragement."

Senator Felton declared that the legislation this country most needs today is that gained "at the knees of the mothers of America—laws that are greater than laws."

U. S. AT BOTTOM OF WORLD-WIDE SLUMP IN SHIP BUILDING

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—A world-wide slump in ship building with the United States showing by far the greatest loss, was disclosed today in figures compiled by Lloyd's Register. With reference to this country, the Register shows that: Counting only ships on which work actually is in progress, the United States is led by England, France and Holland, with Japan and the British dominions right on the heels of this country. The United States is now building only six per cent of the world's tonnage. England is building 60 per cent and the other maritime nations 34 per cent combined.

HAYES' ARREST WAS MISTAKE SAY PEOPLE AND THEY RESENT ACTION OF DETECTIVES BY ATTACKING THEM

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 11. Frank Kirby, a Middlesex county detective, credited with having obtained a statement from Schneider through which Hayes was charged with the murders of Rev. Hall and Mrs. Mills, was attacked by a group of indignant citizens here today. Bombarded with bricks Kirby escaped unhurt by locking himself in the railroad depot. The police rescued him. The crowd protested to Kirby against the arrest of Hayes declaring they considered it a frame up to quiet indignation of citizens and sooth an aroused governor by making it appear the mystery had been cleared.

NEW BRUNSWICK, Oct. 11.—Counsel for Hayes announced today he has proof that Hayes was at home in bed at the hour when Raymond Schneider charges he killed Rev. Hall and Mrs. Mills. Citizens in the Sixth Ward where Clifford Hayes lives announced today they would hold a tag day Saturday to raise funds for his legal defense.

BOATING ONCE AGAIN WILL LIVEN BIG LAKE

There is now an immediate need of the commencement of improvement upon the partially complete bulkhead—and were that work now under way the lakefront would soon be a busy spot.

For there is to be business on Lake Tohopekaliga in the future—and the business can be made to grow into one of much importance if conditions shall be bettered as time rolls. Captain Clay Johnson has decided to bring two of his boats into the big lake, and to work up a line of shipments which will keep them both very busy. He already has two contracts which will mean more business for Kissimmee, and will serve to put more money into circulation.

Down on Lake Kissimmee there is to be at once located a sawmill—and the entire output is to be sold in Kissimmee—or will be shipped from this point. This mill has contracted to make all shipments by boat to Kissimmee and has closed the deal with Captain Johnson to do the work. This in itself, it is stated, will be a considerable business for a long time—and will be the short haul the boats will have.

Captain Johnson has also contracted to haul from Bassenger the entire citrus crop—or, practically, most of whole yield—and the groves in that vicinity are carrying a good crop. This will entail a run down the river—for arrangements have been made to have the local packinghouse handle the crop and the best and cheapest manner to get the fruit to Kissimmee is by boat.

With the fruit and lumber Captain Johnson figures that his boats will be kept busy through the entire season. He will also do some passenger work, and no doubt there will be a number anxious to spend a day or two in Kissimmee every week—if the Commissary supplies may be shipped direct to those points at a lesser rate than in any other way, and this will allow a greater volume of business to be transacted in Kissimmee.

The date when the boats will reach here from Lake Okochee, where they are in service, has not been named, but it is assured that no time will be lost after the cargoes are in a fair way to be made ready.—Kissimmee Gazette.

And feels like it will take an equinoctial gale to cool off the atmosphere.

Negro Population of the United States Centered in Georgia

In Dade County According to Census Announced by Department

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The Department of commerce announced today the center of the negro population as determined by the census is now in the extreme northwest corner of Georgia in Dade county, one and three-quarter miles north and northeast of the town of Dislingtown. The center gradually worked from Petersburg, Va., to DeKalb county, Alabama, between 1790 and 1910 when it began to move northward again. Northeastward movement last ten years, the department said was due principally to great increase in negro population of Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana and Michigan.

Entered as Second Class Mail No. 10, August 22, 1922, at the Post Office at Sanford, Florida, under Act of March 3, 1879.

You can improve your home this week.

The Better Homes demonstrations are very interesting.

And something that every lady in the land needs no matter how large or how small her home may be.

The oldest striker in the world died yesterday in Iowa. He had been on strike since 1888. The present railroad strike probably hastened his death.

The loss to the public and railroads and various trade channels in the recent coal strike was over a billion dollars. This ought to be a lesson to the operators and the coal miners and the government.

France will be unable to meet any part of her indebtedness and England wants to make some arrangements to stand Uncle Sam off some time.

A deep sympathy for an old man whose children had grown away from him was what inspired Mrs. DeBouchelle to promise to marry Ana Candler.

The east coast plans war on mosquitoes. It would be well for the whole state to do likewise. There are more mosquitoes in some parts of Florida than others but they should be stamped out everywhere.

It should be a matter of congratulations to all the people of this city that the golf links and country club are ready for the winter visitors and also ready for the home people.

PARENTS SHOULD GUARD THEIR CHILDREN

This issue of the Star-Telegram contains a statement from Professor Everett, head of the Lakeland schools, that is pertinent and should be taken seriously by every patron of the public schools.

as the teacher and unless those parents help keep their children morally, spiritually and physically clean the same condition is going to be reached in Lakeland that prevailed here three or four years ago.

GREATEST ASSET TO CITY

The greatest asset to a city is its chambers of commerce. The greatest asset to the chamber is its man power. The public spirit, energy, ability, experience and co-operation of the entire membership is essential to its success.

Always the chamber has under consideration many problems affecting the commercial interests of the city and the community.

In such an organization it is difficult to know the individual interest and qualifications for service of all its members.

The activities of the chamber of commerce are not only extended to the steadily recurrent problems which affect the business life of the members, but also concern themselves with all the larger problems of the community which sooner or later affect the life of the city.

What the city needs is service and assistance in dealing with important matters. The chamber can only render efficient service if each member will respond to that which is at once his duty and his opportunity.

A SATISFACTORY APPOINTMENT

William M. Corry of Quincy may not be well known in South Florida. He has just been named by Governor Cary A. Hardee to succeed J. D. Smith as the representative from the West Florida congressional district on the State highway board.

If we know anything about William Corry of Quincy, the state of Florida has a real man and the state road department has a real member and one that will give every part of the state a square deal.

AN HONEST APPORTIONMENT ALL WE ARE ASKING

We have great esteem for the judgment of Editor Benjamin of the Ocala Star, and for his always evident purpose to do justice—even for the "chip-on-his-shoulder" spirit of most of his writings.

In the issue of the Star of the 4th inst. we find an extended discussion of the question containing many statements which are unfair to the practically unanimous attitude of the people of south Florida.

There is no good argument against reapportionment. The proposed reapportionment is not what the Star wants. It is not fair and square to all the state, but it is better than the apportionment we now have.

The Times readily admits that "there is no good argument against reapportionment." The people of south Florida have been clamoring for reapportionment for the past quarter of a century.

The Star's contention that we should adopt the pending amendment and "as soon as possible adopt another and a better one" is the basis of our suspicion that Editor Benjamin has not read the amendment.

There has been no sensible argument advanced against reapportionment. A number of south Florida newspapers and politicians, because the amendment is not framed exactly to suit them—because it does not put their section in the saddle and make all the rest of the state walk—

Of course "no sensible argument has been advanced against reapportionment." In fact, we have seen no argument "against reapportionment,"—an honest reapportionment—in any south Florida paper.

the power swings into the hands of the people of south Florida they will boss the state as unmercifully as west Florida does now.

If Editor Benjamin has carefully read the analysis of the pending amendment prepared by Hon. Frederick Van Roy, representative from Citrus county, recently published in The Times, he must admit that there is very adroit provision for maintaining control of the senate in north and west Florida.

We earnestly urge upon Editor Benjamin a careful reading of the amendment, confident that after doing so he will line up with the newspapers and people of south Florida in demanding a square deal in the apportionment of power in the legislature.

COUNTRY CLUB OPENS THURSDAY OCTOBER 19TH

INFORMAL OPENING WILL BE BIG EVENT FOR THE MEMBERS

For weeks the question has been asked when the Country Club would be opened and the golf links made all ready for the big day.

Although not altogether unexpected the death of Mrs. Alfred W. Lee early Sunday morning came as a shock to the many friends of the family.

DEATH OF MRS. A. W. LEE, JR.

Helen Friedell was born in Hammondsport, New York in 1898 and was twenty-four years of age at the time of her death.

Mrs. Lee was active in musical circles, in church work being secretary of the St. Agnes Guild and member of the choir of Holy Cross and in social circles and her death will leave a void among the many friends who loved her for her sweet disposition and her many fine traits and accomplishments.

The funeral services of Mrs. A. W. Lee, Jr. will be held Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock at the church of The Holy Cross.

The following palbearers will meet at 3:45 at the Miller Funeral Parlors on Second st., P. E. G. Garrett, E. F. Lane, John C. Smith, H. E. Tolar, Frank P. Akers, John M. Gillon.

CHEAP RATES TO FLORIDA FAIR AT JACKSONVILLE

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 10.—All rail lines operating in Florida have announced one and one half first class one way fares for the Florida State Fair and Exposition, which will be held in Jacksonville Nov. 17 to 25.

Tickets will be sold from all points within the State of Florida, and will be good for use only on November 26, prior to midnight of which date return train must be completed.

Children of five years and under twelve, will be charged one half of the fares authorized in the tariff covering the fair excursion rates.

It is expected that these low round trip excursion rates will attract many visitors to Jacksonville during fair week, as it will give them an exceptional opportunity to visit the metropolis of the state, as well as to take in the big fall show.

POPE TELEGRAPHS GREECE AND TURKEY TO PRESERVE PEACE

ROME, Oct. 7.—Pope Plus through Cardinal Gasparri has telegraphed both Mustapha Komal Pasha and King George of Greece, asking them to do everything possible to avoid resumption of hostilities.

Landis states that the reason the American burn storming out of it will leave on a foreign vessel is because no one figured on the world series being over as soon as it was and no other arrangements could be made.
