Drama In The Afternoon

Other editions of the Rollins College Animated Magazine have been blessed with imposing arrays of notables, but none, we feel, has offered a more entertaining and intellectually inspiring list of personalities than were seen and heard yesterday in what Dr. Hamilton Holt called the "lucky" thirteenth edition.

And "lucky," indeed, were those who took advantage of this annual event, for Dr. Holt had collected not just a list of celebrities, but a group of interesting persons, all of whom spoke in a manner to hold attention from first to last.

Others on the program included, Arthur Gutterman, Cecil Roberts, Josephine Deakam Bacon, John H. Finley, Senora Isabel De Palencia, Dr. Joseph Richard Sizoo, and Thomas Dreier, Stephen P. Duggan and A. Marcus Tollet, each one contributing his or her special talents to make the thirteenth edition the outstanding success it was.

This particular edition had something that none of the rest had experienced: a dramatic situation arising out of the fact that on the same program and on the same platform were the Countess Tolstoy, a Russian; and Marcus Tollet, a Finn, only two weeks departed from his native country. Here was a circumstance which offered all kinds of possibilities, and it is not unlikely that most of the 5,000 persons in the audience were keenly alive to these possibilities.

When Mr. Tollet began to speak in his quiet and dignified manner, there was an unusual stillness among the audience, and as he told in a simple manner how he had believed up to the very last that his country would not be involved in war, and how the rising crescendo of the air raid sirens told him he was wrong, and how he and his family made their way to the air raid shelters, stopping on the way to aid wounded victims, there was a sympathetic attentiveness that was significant.

The Countess Tolstoy followed him on the program noon afterward, and as she came forward our curiosity experienced one of its fullest moments as we tried to contemplate what she would say and what the reaction would be. Not to our surprise, because we wouldn't have been surprised at anything, but to our complete joy, the Countess, talking also with calmness and dignity, expressed greatest sympathy for the victims of Soviet aggression and castigated the Red regime for its ruthlessness.

As she concluded with these words: "Let us use all our prayers and will-power to restore the principles of truth, Christianity, and freedom in the world," Mr. Tollet was the first to her side. He took her hand and kissed it, and the audience was aware that it had witnessed the most dramatic incident in the long series of "Animated Magazines."

Use For Snake Poison

Many a quail hunter has received a shock when his prized pointer pup caught a whiff of a rattlesnake and either "froze" or drew back in fear.

The reason may be found in information emanating from the meeting of the International College of Surgeons at Venice, near Sarasota, which says, according to the Orlando Reporter-Star, that "the venom from snakes found in this state is extracted and found most effective in relieving pains from cancer and arthritis and stopping spasms of epilepsy."

"Dr. Eugene Maier told members of the College he has had 'most promising results' with mixtures of venoms extracted from the rare coral snake and the cotton-mouthed moccasin.

"Dr. Maier told of a cancer case in which the patient had reached the point where he could obtain relief from no drugs. But after injection of the snake venoms this patient has been free from pains for periods of 10 days at a time, the doctor said.

"A Texas man who had suffered from epilepsy for 20 years had his violent spasms stopped by use of the venoms. "Cobra venom has been used for some time as a substitute for narcotics in the relief of pain. It acts primarily on the nervous system, while venom from the moccasin acts equally on the nerve and blood system. Dr. Maier has found by combining the two he obtains the most effective results.

"Dr. Paul Butler, well known Orlando doctor, told the College he has found venom injected into the outer layers of skin beneficial to 60 percent of a series of cases including arthritis, neuritis, lumbago and shingles, a nerve infection which causes painful skin blisters."

Freight Rates On Vegetables To Be Lowered Mar. 26

(Continued from Page One) In shipping a car of celery to the Chicago market in Howard crates will be $14.00.

The cost of shipping cabbage to the Chicago market was reduced from 90 to 84 cents per hundredweight, reducing the cost of sending a carload of cabbage into this market from $24.24 to $21.46.

Accompanying the cold was snow in northern Minnesota, around Indianapolis and other more mid-western points, and in upper New York State and New England.

Much colder was the forecast for this morning in the Carolinas, Georgia, Tennessee, and Alabama, while 30 to 35 degrees were indicated for the sugar and trucking regions of Louisiana.

The final decision in the case pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission on the proposed increase in the estimated weight is expected by July 31, the expiration date of the special authority in the railroads to advertise the lower freight rates as applied to these commodities.

The lower rates, Mr. Washburn said, were obtained through the cooperation of the traffic managers of various organizations and the Growers and Shippers League with the carriers.

Vatican City Is Depicted In New March Of Time

The first informal motion pictures of a Roman Pontiff ever made are brought to the screen in the latest March of Time film, "The Vatican of Pius XII," which will be shown at the Ritz Theatre Wednesday and Thursday of this week. The film pictures the work that is now being carried on under Pope Pius XII to bring peace to a war-racked world, and presents the first complete motion picture ever filmed inside the Vatican.

With Pius XII today concentrating the full power and prestige of the Catholic Church in his crusade for peace, the March of Time shows the Vatican strengthening its important diplomatic relations with all nations of the world, belligerent and non-belligerent alike. Newest of the regularly accredited envoys to the Vatican, the film points out, is Myron C. Taylor, the first U. S. envoy to the Holy See in nearly 75 years.

The March of Time pictures ecclesiastical and civil life in the world's smallest independent state. The film shows the age-old palaces, halls and corridors of the Holy See; the Vatican library and famed Sixtine Chapel; the great Cathedral of Saint Peter; the low-voiced crypts in which nearly all of the Popes lie buried; and the extensive papal apartments.

"The Vatican of Pius XII" was filmed during the last eight months with the permission and full co-operation of Vatican officials by Jean Pareo and Marcel Reborel of March of Time's Paris office.

The dinner will be held tomorrow evening beginning at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. C. F. Proctor on Park Avenue. Members who do not attend the dinner are cordially invited to the informal reception which will follow.

When Mrs. Whitehead went into office as department president of the state of Florida, it is said that her one big dream was to equip an operating room at the Crippled Children's Hospital in St. Petersburg through the American Legion Auxiliary and the thought has been expressed by auxiliary members that there is little doubt but that before her term of office expires the dream will have been realized and a modern operating room will be presented to the hospital as a gift from the American Legion Auxiliary.

Mr. Arthur Gray of Winter Park, seventh district vice-president, will also be a guest at the dinner. Miss Gray has made frequent visits to the local auxiliary.

It has been reported that the reservations for the dinner have exceeded all expectations of the committee in charge and the dinner is hoped to be one of the highlights of the organization for the year.
