By PETER SCHAAAL

The season's most sensational upset was recorded at Municipal Park yesterday afternoon when Edie Taylor's fighting Sanford Coleryfeds scored a double victory over the Leesburg Islanders on a rain swept field. The scores were 8 to 1 and 3 to 1.

History was written as far as the Feds were concerned for it was the second time in the five year old history of the Central Florida Baseball League that a Sanford club has won a double bill. Sid Riva's Feds beat Kissimmee twice last season.

Jake Bunch and Emil Yde, former National League stars, were the victims of the Feds' scyppy attack in which hits were combined with errors and head-scratching play to produce victories over the Islanders' best pitchers.

Bill Loper and Doc Harden turned the trick for the Feds, the former holding the Islanders to four hits in the first game, the latter limiting them to six hits in the night cap, four of which came in one inning.

As a result of their double victory, stock in the Fed outfit rose tremendously. Islanders' defeat at the hands of the Feds' scyppy attack reduced the Fed's margin over the Islanders to eight games and the two teams met in a double bill here Sat. at 7:30.

If the Feds can win both games, they will be only six games out of first place with 14 games to play—seven with Cocoa, four with DeLand and five with Leesburg.

Although the Feds only won one of the eight runs they made in the first game, and one of three runs they made in the second game, the manner in which they went about winning was a revelation when compared with other games this year.

Quattle was the keynote of the games, with Marquis leading the way of scoring by leading down on legging the ball just the right time and leading off on encouragement to others.

No less a personage than Yde, down once again, pitched the pitching ace last night in the new Fed outfit when after 11 innings, the game had not yet started.

real ball club out there now. Meadows viewed the game from the stands, having been forced out of action by an infected foot which followed his having been hit on the instep by a line drive some days ago. He may be out of action for at least two weeks more.

The two clubs felt each other out for the first three innings of the first game, with Bunch having a slight edge in that he cut the first nine men to face him down in order.

Harden got a scratch hit opening the second, stole second and went to third on an infield out before Loper saw Willie Marquis make a great catch in center field to retire the side.

Loper walked Bunch, as second up in the third, but Albert and Bonner were put up to end the frame and the Islanders were tied in order in the fourth.

Williamson's double put Bunch soon on first as the Fed batter opened and Marquis' error sent Robinson to third. Taylor's hitting was brought into play from there on out as Loper singled to score Robinson. Scyppy's single sent Loper to the 4th, Marquis' double brought them to the 5th before Overstreet's final out.

The Feds saw the Islanders' lead out in order again in the fifth, but they continued to walk and talk to the pitcher until the run.

When the sixth came, the fifth inning was over and the Fed's lead was 5-1.

When the seventh came, the Fed's lead was 8-1. The Islanders' lead was 5-1. The Fed's lead was 8-1.

When the eighth came, the Fed's lead was 8-1. The Islanders' lead was 5-1. The Fed's lead was 8-1.

When the ninth came, the Fed's lead was 8-1. The Islanders' lead was 5-1. The Fed's lead was 8-1.

Garden of Eden

Eye brought Adam out of Eden, but what a pleasant place she has made the earth live in since! We're thinking particularly of her modern incarnation—the twentieth-century Eve who is so skilled in the new art of living... She knows how to make a home delightful, how to cook, how to bring up a family, and how to entertain. All these things she does well, and with such ease and poise that her husband marvels.

Her method is no secret. She will tell you herself that she reads the advertisements. From them she learns how to brighten her living-room with sunfast draperies, and how to buy good, wholesome foods for her family. Advertisements of a magnificent piano prompted her to give her children a musical education. Her guests enjoy her taste in ginger ales. And, she has time to think of herself and to choose fine toilettries that accent her charm.

Read the advertisements in this newspaper, regularly! Their guidance will help to make you, another Eve, and your home a new Eden!

WALKING WITH GOD.—The steps of a good man are ordered by the Lord, and he delighteth in his way.

Why is it that a fellow like Hopson always looks like a fellow like Hopson?

An optimist is a fellow who believes that everything is going to turn out all right.

Since the E. J. Connelley edition of the Sanford Herald is published, the Editor suggests that the best method for handling the paper would be to turn it over to the men with tasks.

While considering its centennial legislation, Congress ought to do something about the "Hinky Dinky" party.

Stylish Hats

All of us are more or less familiar with the Princess Eugenie hats, a rage which swept the country a few years ago.

Hat stylists this year, however, are turning their trade names from current events. The idea seems to be to acquaint the social leaders of the country with what is going on in the world without the necessity of having to read the papers.

One of New York's ultra-ultra department stores in a recent millinery display, stressed the features of the turban and called particular attention to the following models:

Adida Abaha turban, worn far to the side of the head $15.50.

Empress of Abyssinia, striped cuff turban, with original back, $16.50.

The Abuna richly draped 3-tone turban inspired by the worn by Abyssinia high priest, $18.50.

Halle Selassie, new shirred cuff turban with original brush, $17.50.

Queen of Sheba (ancestress of Abyssinia) twisted velvet turban with sunburst veil at back.

King Solomon (from whom all Abyssinians claim descent) formal court turban with feather on top.

The Montgomery Advertiser says it is in favor of this idea of naming hats in honor of current events.

Naturally the woman who buys the Abaha turban, for instance, will probably be curious to study the ancient Ethiopian city's history and with developments in Halle Selassie's life.

But what the Advertiser particularly recommends, however, is that a series of hats be given the names Tariff Inquiries, Peace Conference, Federal Balance, Solid South, Presidential Wage, Social Rivalry, Middle Hill, Hoover Campaign and Deal's Dilemma.

TO BE HONORED

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Aug. 24.—Honoring the newspaper publisher whose famous "Sunshine Offer" gave to St. Petersburg its nickname, "The Sunshine City," the city will observe the 25th anniversary of the offer with a program depicting the city's progress in the past quarter century.

By JOHN LOHMAN

When Mayor Low H. Brown, owner of the Evening Independent, announced in September, 1910, that he would give his newspaper away to all citizens every day for one year, he was met with a storm of criticism.

Major Brown's offer was considered by newspaper and business leaders as the greatest single contribution to the growth and development of the city.

At the time it was made, the city was a small town with a population of only 10,000 people.

Today, St. Petersburg is a city of 100,000 people, and the "Sunshine Offer" is still remembered as one of the greatest acts of generosity in the history of the city.

The "Sunshine Offer" was a bold and daring move, and it paid off in the long run.

Ritchie Or Smith To Head 3rd Party Ticket, Says Block

Publisher Believes Roosevelt Weaker Today Than Ever

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 24.—A third party ticket, headed by either former Governor Ritchie of Maryland or Alfred E. Smith of New York, and backed by so-called Jeffersonian Democrats, will oppose President Franklin D. Roosevelt's bid for re-election in 1936, Paul Block, Eastern newspaper publisher, predicted on his arrival here yesterday.

Unquestionably, the prospects which oppose the principles of Jefferson will rear sharply from Roosevelt in the next election, Block said. "They will support the Constitution and the Supreme Court. The broken promises littering the trail of the Administration have become anathema to them."

The third ticket may be headed by former Governor Ritchie of Maryland, perhaps by former Governor Smith of New York, Block said. "I cannot, of course, forecast that, but I am sure of this, the recent elections in Rhode Island show Roosevelt is weaker now than at any time since his election."

"The people of the United States will not stand for a late President Roosevelt's bid to keep to deplore the Supreme Court of its power by passing it or by obtaining legislation making it impossible for the court to overrule Congress."

Lumber Dealers Hit Housing Officials

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Lamenting the Federal Housing Administration's plan to build a million units of low-cost housing, the National Lumber Dealers' Association, said Thursday that proper financing was essential to construction work.

Carroll's statement was contained in a letter sponsored by the association and sent to all members of Congress.

While there has been some pick-up in building, Carroll said, "It is insignificant compared with what is offered and long stagnant, ready to go forward as soon as the jam is broken and immediate contact is provided between the borrower and the mortgage."

Fletcher Only State Solon Who Held True To New Deal

All Other Florida Congressmen Voted In Protest Of One Or More Of FDR's Views

By FRANK A. KENNEDY
WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Contrasting their fall share to the national legislative program, Florida members and representatives were busy yesterday evening at the longest Congressional session since the World War.

The session has witnessed the first significant defection of the Florida members from the Roosevelt Administration. Only the delegation's dean, Senator Duncan W. Fletcher, showed a record unmarked by a single departure from the New Deal banner.

Senator Truman was the first to vote against the national adherence to the World Court protocol. Later he voted to override the presidential veto of the Panama Canal bill, but returned to the Roosevelt Administration to support a third controversial issue, the Wheeler-Rayburn utility bill, and voted to retain the famous "death clause" in that measure. Among the House members, Representatives W. J. Sears, R. A. Green and Milford Caldwell first broke clearly with the Administration upon the bonus issue, each voting to curtail President Roosevelt's veto. The trio swung back into line upon the issue that compelled Representatives J. Mark Wilson and J. Hardin Peterson first to oppose the New Deal. Wilson and Peterson voted against the utility "death clause" as Sears, Green and Caldwell voted in the affirmative.

Despite these defections, the delegation achieved a better record for consistent support of the New Deal than most of the other solidly Democratic states. Senator Fletcher's steady position and wide influence more than outweighed the relatively minor excursions of the other Florida members. Less than a dozen Senators still were in line

Croats Offer Big Problem For Europe

Fate Of 2 Dynasties, Peace Of Nations Seen Depending On Solution To Debate

ZAGREB, Yugoslavia, Aug. 26.—Question-mark Croatia, intermittently in the news through all these post-war years, is rapidly approaching the magnitude of a problem on which may depend the peace of Europe and the fate of two dynasties.

There was a Croatian problem even before the World War, when Croatia was a Hungarian province, part of the great Hapsburg empire. In 1918, when the empire crumbled, the Croats united with the Slovenes and Serbs to found a new South-Slav state, the kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes.

The Serbs, however, came into this new state as victors; the Croats and Slovenes as former subjects of the hated Hapsburg crown. Under the onslaught of Austria-Hungarian troops little Serbia had suffered much. When victory finally came their way and Belgrade became the capital of a new Slav state, the Serbs, who undoubtedly had suffered most naturally felt more entitled to leadership in the new state than their Croat and Slovene partners, who had not broken away from the empire until collapse was in sight.

On the other, the Croats and Slovenes, children of a western civilization acquired under Hapsburg rule, were inclined to feel themselves culturally superior to the Serbs, who had only recently escaped from the Turkish yoke. The Croats and Slovenes were predominantly Roman Catholic; the Serbs were Orthodox. And although they spoke the same language, the Serbs used the Cyrillic alphabet while their new fellow countrymen had been brought up in Latin and with the Roman characters.

Zagreb, the capital of Yugoslavia, became the bitter rival of Belgrade and the natural center of all opposition to the Serbs. Attempts to work out the problem of cooperation between Serb and Croat through political parties culminated in 1928 in the assassination of the Croat premier, Stjepan Radich King Alexander's attempt thereafter to abolish the Croat problem by dictatorial methods culminated in his own assassination in 1934.

Since then the trend has been toward reconciliation, but it cannot be said that the Croat problem has been solved. One extreme vital fact has been revealed: Croats are more solidly united behind their leader, Vladimir Machek, than ever before; so solidly united that if the new trend toward reconciliation should fail the Croat problem might prove fatal to Yugoslavia.

Croat Apparition, who would tear Croatia away from Serb and wreck the Yugoslav state, are not encouraged by Dr. Machek. On the contrary, he has plainly stated that the Croats were autonomy within the borders of the present state; that they are loyal to the monarchistic state form and to the Karaageorgievic dynasty.

But Dr. Machek and the 3,000,000 Croats so solidly behind him are insistent in their demands for real liberty, real autonomy. The new premier of Yugoslavia, Milan Stoyadinovich, leading a government frankly designed to liquidate the dictatorship and lay the foundation for legal co-operation between all elements in the state, has already been criticized for being too conciliatory toward the Croats.

Re-Circuiting Act Again Is Attacked As To Its Validity

Supreme Court Will Hear Arguments In Similar Case Sept. 4

TALLAHASSEE, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Constitutionality of the 1930 judicial re-circuiting act was attacked again in Supreme Court today in a case directed against circuit Judge Jefferson R. Fleming of Key West.

Proceedings were brought by Thomas S. Newsome and other stockholders in the Newsome Security Company in an attempt to prohibit Judge Newsome from hearing a litigation suit originally heard by Circuit Judge H. P. Atkinson of Miami, now on vacation.

The grounds used for testing validity of the new law reducing the number of circuits and judges were similar to those raised in a previous suit.

Argument in the first case will be heard by the Supreme Court on Sept. 4.

Veterans Gather At Lake Mary Meet Despite Hard Rain

Despite Hard Rain

Not even the heavy rains of yesterday served to dampen the enthusiasm of the more than 70 members and friends of Central Council of Veterans of Foreign Wars who gathered at Lake Mary yesterday afternoon as guests of Seminoles Post No. 2252 at Sanford.

After a picnic luncheon was served, W. A. Braunough of Gainesville, head of the Council, called the business session to order.

During this session, the Council accepted, with regrets, Mr. Braunough's resignation, mandating since the Gainesville Post now is in the Northeastern Council.

Commander Harry Kent of Sanford Post was unanimously elected to fill the chair, and he assumed his office immediately.

The feature address of the afternoon was delivered by Commander Charles S. Gray of St. Petersburg, assistant to Captain M. Hagan, Department of Labor representative in the Veterans' Placement Bureau.

Short talks also were made by Mrs. W. J. Druggers of Deland, state president of the women's organization; Commander Purvis, Bureau and Glover of Orlando; W. J. Druggers of Deland; and George D. Woods of Ocala, senior vice-commander of the State Department of Florida.

It was announced that the next meeting of the Central Council will be held at St. Cloud on the fourth Sunday in October.

Commander Kent also announced that Seminoles Post will meet at 8:00 o'clock to-night at the Legion Hut. He requested all members to attend as several important matters are slated for discussion.

Natives Quit Addis Ababa By Hundreds

Order Forbidding Sale Of Thalers, Other Currency Results In Moratorium

ADDIS ABABA, Aug. 26.—(AP)—The native population today started evacuating the capital in accordance with Emperor Haile Selassie's verbal order, not writing the prescribed notes they might be declared.

Without panic, thousands of men, women and children, believing war may come at any moment, departed for villages in the interior.

The Ethiopian government warned the United States and other nations that inventory of the property which the business owners ordered their nationals to prepare will not be recognized by Ethiopia.

Investment companies were hit by possible indemnification by Italy or Ethiopia in the event of damage by war.

Addis Ababa—the Italian Eritrean began the removal of the archives from the Ethiopian capital today. The action is regarded as a clear indication of Italian official occupation. Already most Italians who are residents of the city have left.

The warning was issued as the Ethiopian dollar fell sharply and the Emperor and Empress began a month of prayer and abstinence from meat.

The fall of the dollar came when the Emperor's American adviser, Everett W. Cullinan, recommended that the government forbid the exportation of foreign money from Ethiopia.
