The Board of Public Instruction will meet tomorrow morning at 9:00 o'clock to organize for the coming four years and to elect a chairman, said Capt. T. W. Lawton this morning.

Judge Steinstrom took his oath before Governor Caldwell on Dec. 3. Henry White explained the advantages of the club's new plan of paying dues by the month, instead of at each meeting. King Lion Hamilton Bissell announced plans to increase membership, and commended C. N. Collins and W. O. Livingston for promotion of Lion's junior diamond-ball program during the past year.

Palestine War

A Jewish spokesman said Saturday that if the Egyptians attacked Tel Aviv again, either by sea or air, the Jews would attack the Egyptian capital.

An Egyptian war ministry communiqué issued last night in Cairo said Egyptian planes carried out long-range reconnaissance raids over Jewish positions yesterday. He said all planes returned to their bases. The communiqué said Israeli planes raided Palestine Arab refugee camps and dropped bombs, causing casualties.

The Egyptian communiqué also reported a continued "exchange of fire" along Egyptian and Israeli positions in the Negev Desert where renewed fighting had been reported for several weeks.

Israeli authorities in Tel Aviv said there were indications that Egypt had increased air raids against the Jewish civilian population in the 24 hours following the warning of retaliation against Caesarea.

The two raids last night kept residents of Jewish Jerusalem in air raid shelters about 25 minutes during each alert. Israeli authorities in the holy city declined to reveal any official information on the raids.

The bombing was the third suffered by Jerusalem since the start of the current Arab-Jewish war. It was the first time bombs were dropped in one of the city's residential quarters.

Jerusalem dispatchers did not mention the specific Jewish quarter hit, indicating that Israeli military censorship might have prohibited naming the area attacked.

Planes raided the holy city some months ago, hitting the outskirts of Jerusalem. In a second air raid last summer bombs fell on barren ground between a Jewish quarter and an Arab village.

Meanwhile in Tel Aviv a foreign office spokesman told the British government appears to be maneuvering its "bulky-bosom" of Israel toward actual war.

"When the Security Council meets again," the spokesman declared, "it must regard Britain as now completely out of court as an impartial member of the U. N. Interested in peace at all times in the Middle East, she is becoming an active ally of the Arab states."

He referred gravely to reports from the British press and foreign office which had said showed Britain now is bringing "heavy pressure on the United States to help save the Egyptians from the results of the folly of their own aggression."

Rayburn Says Truman Bills To Be Okayed

House Speaker Predicts Alternate Proposals To Repeal Taft-Hartley

WASHINGTON. Jan. 4.—(AP)—House Speaker Sam Rayburn said today he expects all of President Truman's legislative proposals to be received "with considerable favor."

No priority list for legislation has been set up, however, Rayburn told reporters.

At his first news conference since he was chosen to head the House in the 81st Congress, Rayburn said there has been no high-level discussion of the future of the House-American Activities committee.

He declined to predict what President Truman will ask in his annual state of the union message to Congress tomorrow. Pending receipt of that message, Rayburn shied away from expressing his personal views on expected legislation.

However, in response to a question, he said he did not think Congress would repeal the Taft-Hartley Law without enacting something in its place.

"I shouldn't think he explained, "that the Congress would pass a bill repealing all labor legislation and enact nothing in its stead."

There has been discussion on Capitol Hill of alternate proposals to repeal the Taft-Hartley Law and restore the old Wagner Labor Relations Law intact, and simply to repeat the Taft-Hartley Act and enact nothing to replace it.

"I think he (the President) won this election; not me," Rayburn said when pressed for his views on what Congress should do.

Rayburn said he has not discussed with anyone proposals to change the makeup of the House-American Activities committee and specifically to maneuver Rep. John E. Rankin (D-Miss.) out of his permanent committee post.

Decisions on committee assignments, he explained, must be made by Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee, although (continued on Page Three)

McMahon Says Administration To Stagger Terms Of A-Energy Group

WASHINGTON. Jan. 4. (AP)—Senator McMahon (D-Conn.) said after a talk with President Truman today that the administration will seek to restore the system of staggered terms for members of the Atomic Energy Commission.

McMahon, who is expected to become chairman of the Senate House committee on atomic energy again, said President Truman favors returning to the provisions of the original Atomic Energy Act.

The Republican-dominated 80th Congress rewrote the act last year to extend the terms of all five members of the commission to five years. McMahon told reporters Republicans sponsored the change in the theory that their party would win the 1948 election and give a GOP President the chance (Continued on Page Two)

Jerusalem Gets Third Air Raid Alarm In 2 Days

Egypt Accepts U.N. Cease Fire Order For Negev Desert

JERUSALEM. Jan. 4.—(AP)—A single, unidentified aircraft approached Jerusalem dawn today, causing an air raid alarm. No incidents were reported, however.

It was the city's third alert in 36 hours, but only in the first one, Sunday night, were bombs dropped. Newspapers here reported today that investigation of the Sunday raid showed that 14 British-made 250 and 500 pound bombs were dropped. They said that a building housed a small synagogue which was slightly damaged.

Earlier it was reported that at least five persons were injured in the first Sunday raid when three bombs were dropped on a densely populated Jewish quarter by unidentified warplanes.

And in Cairo Egypt accepted the Security Council's Negro cease fire order of Dec. 29 and asked imposition of sanctions against Israel. She charged that Zionists "systematically obstruct the country's decisions."

Foreign Minister Dosso Sacko, Abdes Pasha expressed the Egyptian position in a note to Lake Success, made public here today.

The note said Egypt accepted the cease fire order in line with (Continued on Page Three)

3 Women, Baby Are Hurt In Crash At Oak, Eighteenth

Three women and a baby were injured in an automobile collision shortly after 10 o'clock this morning at the intersection of Eighteenth Street and Oak Avenue. Both automobiles were wrecked.

The injured were Mrs. Emma Van Zandt, Robinson of Lorain, Ohio, Mrs. Charlotte Ackerman of Dayton Beach, and Mrs. Ernest Southward and baby of 606 West Twelfth Street. All were taken to Fernand-Loughton Memorial Hospital in the Erickson Ambulance.

The impact of the collision sent both Ford automobiles over the curb on the south east corner of the intersection. Mrs. Southward, at the time, was driving east on Eighteenth Street in a 1948 model and Mrs. Robinson was going south on Oak Avenue in a 1938 automobile. The Southwest car was damaged in the front grille and fenders and the windshield cracked.

The right side of the Robinson car was caved in, but the safety glass in the closed windows did not shatter.

Patrolman J. H. Patterson was the first on the scene to render assistance and Chief Roy G. Williams arrived shortly afterward. Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Ackerman had to be lifted from the car and admitted into the ambulance. Mrs. Southward appeared to have only slight injuries. The baby was bruised, according to Dr. Leonard Munson, attending physician.

Russian Engineers Reported To Have Beat All '48 Plans

LONDON. Jan. 4. (AP)—Russia's minister of heavy engineering and today his engineers beat all their targets last year and are ready now to face "any technical task, no matter how complicated."

The minister, Nikolai Kazakov, made his claims in a special article for Tass, the Soviet news agency, distributed here.

He did not mention one of the most complicated of all heavy engineering problems—that of building plants to make atomic bombs, which several Soviet leaders have hinted Russia has or will have soon.

The minister reported Soviet engineers finished their 1948 tasks, including re-equipping of the huge Dnieper Dam power stations, 20 days ahead of schedule.

"This year the production of the heavy engineering industry will be stepped up as follows," he wrote. "Metallurgical equipment, 25 per cent, excavators, 40 per cent, steam turbines, more than double to compare with 1948."

Anglo-Polish Trade Pact To Be Signed

LONDON. Jan. 4. (AP)—A five-year Anglo-Polish trade pact set up to the biggest East-West commercial deal since the war and probably will be signed soon, a British official said today.

A board of trade spokesman said the two countries would exchange approximately $200,000,000 worth of goods in the next five years under the projected pact.

A board of trade negotiator returned to Warsaw yesterday to conclude discussions which began three months ago. The spokesman said Poland and Britain were "agreed on all major details" of the proposed pact.

WASHINGTON. Jan. 4. (AP)—Washington is not new to Rep. Dixie Gilmer (D-Ola.), the new House member from Tulsa, but it had he grown a lot since he was here last in an "official" position.

Gilmer recalled today that he was a House page at the nation's Capital in 1912 and 1913. He then was a boy about 18 years old.

New, Stronger Laws For U.S. Withdrawal Of Security Asked China Marines

Forrestal's Proposal Would Outlaw Publication Or Use Of Restricted Materials

WASHINGTON. Jan. 4. (AP)—Secretary of Defense James Forrestal today asked Congress to put new and stronger force into laws protecting the nation's secret codes and intelligence activities.

Forrestal said existing legislation is "far too limited in application to afford needed protection to certain highly secret government activities."

This statement was made in a letter to House Speaker Rayburn accompanying a proposed bill to tighten security measures.

The bill would set fines up to $10,000 and imprisonment up to ten years, or both, for violations.

Forrestal's proposal not only would outlaw publication, communication or use of restricted materials and codes, but also the disclosure of any information regarding preparation of codes, or the construction, repair and maintenance of machines used in transmission.

In his letter Forrestal said the proposed bill would not go into effect until free dissemination of (Continued on Page Three)

NEW YORK. Jan. 4. (AP)—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has called again for changes in some congressional rules.

The group's annual meeting yesterday urged the Senate to ban what the NAACP called "anti-democratic filibusters" and the house to remove "poll-tax committees" from capital of important committees.

A resolution, adopted shortly after the new Congress opened, said "abolition of archaic procedural rules" is a "first obligation" toward enactment of civil rights measures.

A campaign to gain public support for congressional rules changes has been given top priority by the NAACP's BBBC program.

Executive secretary Walter White and in his annual message that the association will continue the proposed regional plan for segregated education, as backed by some southern political leaders.

French Catholics Rap Hungary Arrests

PARIS. Jan. 4. (AP)—Leading French Catholic officials protested today against Hungary's arrest of Cardinal Mindszenty.

The protest, delivered to the Hungarian minister, Count Michael Karolyi, termed the arrest "a defiance to the spiritual mission of the Catholic Church."

"We don't want to believe that the Hungarian authorities will persist in their attitude, but rather that they will free, with no delay, the spiritual head of the Hungarian Church," said the protest.

It was signed by Emmanuel Suhard, Archbishop of Paris, and other leaders.

According to Dan and Brad-still costs more than you can make

To Rex Safer, Tallahassee cor-veteran senator.

Whittaker Chambers admits having stolen 52 separate batches of but under the Communist code such stealing is no doubt morally justifiable if done for a worthy

Florida motorists are burning up the highways despite the shortage of good new cars and the high cost of living. Gasoline taxes produced some $44,000,000 for the state during 1948, a record high, and four million dollars more than the previous year. Over 25 million dollars of that went into new highway construction and maintenance.

The City of Orlando adopts a budget for 1949 amounting to $62,309.85 about three times as much as Sanford's though Orlando ford is still paying the price of its folly during the 1920s. About half its total budget goes to pay inter-at that time.

An article in the American

He proposes a legislative enactment providing a jail sentence for any man who runs off and leaves his wife and children without any

Roger Babson predicts a business let down for 1949, not necessarily a depression, but a failure to reach the peaks of business volume recorded in 1947 and 1948. Profits may decline as sales decline and unemployment may increase. But if prices drop proportionately with the decline in sales, a little recession may be all to the good. Business is like a balloon which if blown up too long, and too full, will explode.

Senator Kefauver proposes to introduce a constitutional amendment abolishing the Electoral College method of electing our Presidents. He would elect them by direct popular vote. This, he says, would enable the people to express themselves clearly in their views on who should be their President. May be he is right, but we are not sure it will result in better government.
After such an amendment the people of a few large cities like New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit and San Francisco could elect the President, while all the rest of the country was 100 percent against him. And never let later some politician try to make it advantageous for the people to elect such a President merely by offering everyone who voted for him $200 a month

Atom-Burning Ships

It is exciting news that the use of atomic energy to power ships is now within the range of experiment. This does not mean that the scientists know how to do it, but does indicate that scientists believe an experiment in practical use of the dividing atom will be worth while. Some think a ship's boiler using atomic energy can be designed in two years, others that perhaps it can be done in six years.

The Navy wants such a boiler for warships. Success would change the whole concept of naval strategy. The factor which now limits the capacity of any warship to range the seas and to fight is the amount of fuel which can be carried. With an atomic power plant, a submarine or a battleship could carry enough fuel for years of sailing, and the limiting factors would then be food, ammunition and other supplies, which can be replaced at sea more readily than fuel.

If such a boiler can be made for a warship, would there be any practical reason to prevent making one for a merchant ship? The effect on shipping would be almost as revolutionary as on naval operations, for merchant ships are limited by fuel requirements as to the cargoes they can take on and the itineraries they can sail.

The invention of an atomic boiler could be as significant to the issues of war and peace as the atomic bomb. The demand for its use in the commerce of the seas would be a tremendous pressure for the making of a peace secure enough to permit civilian use of the atom.

Change Of Thought

Dr. Juan A. Bramuglia, who directed the Security Council mediation proceedings in the still unsettled Berlin dispute, in an interview with United States News and World Report stated that he had observed a change of opinion among the people of Europe during his stay in Paris.

Distrust, lack of confidence and a belligerent spirit formerly characterized the attitude of the mass of Europeans, according to the mediator. He calls the Security Council "the hope of all European peoples", and gives that body the credit for a change of spirit which embodies a hope for permanent peace. The fact that the Russian blockade of Berlin did not result in an immediate outbreak of hostilities has given grounds for that hope, says Dr. Bramuglia. In speaking of the disputes between Russia and the Western world, the mediator said:

"The people think that all these problems have solutions; that it is necessary to search for and to find the solutions, basically, through mutual respect, understanding, and co-operation."

Dr. Bramuglia believes, however, that it may take some centuries to evolve a working world government.

The fact that the people of Europe believe in the efficacy of mediation and of a search for reasonable solutions to the present inflammable problems with which they are beset is bound to influence their representatives favorably. Their vital decisions will not be made without taking into account the hopes of the people.

Hog On Ice

"As independent as a hog on ice." This old expression struck Dr. Charles E. Funk as curious.

This old expression struck Dr. Charles E. Funk as curious. A hog is utterly helpless on ice, as its feet give it no grip. He could not find exactly where the phrase came from. Finally after much research he discovered, and embodied the fact in his new book, "A Hog on Ice, and Other Curious Expressions", that it is Irish or Scottish, and does not mean what it seems to mean. A hog in this expression is not a full-grown pig, but a block used in the old ice sport of curling. It is shoved along by the sticks of the players, and sometimes freezes to the ice. So that is that.

While Dr. Funk explains this and other familiar terms whose origin is unknown to most, he omits one that has intrigued a number of persons: "As tight as Dick's hat-band".

Who was Dick, and what was the matter with his hatband?

to change the commission membership.

McMahon said he also suggested to Mr. Truman the names of three men to fill a commission vacancy created by the resignation of William W. Waymack. He would not name the three.

"I want to make the atomic energy program as non-partisan as any other part of our foreign relations program because it is so deeply related to foreign policy," the Senator said. "There is no place in it for party politics."

He promised more open hearings by the congressional committee. He said this would give the public "more information on military and peace-time uses of atomic energy without telling anybody how to make a bomb."

The President talked earlier in the day with Senator Kilgore (D-U-Va) Rep. Mansfield, (D-Mont) and Rep. Morris (D-Oklahoma) in three separate engagements. All described their visit as "social calls on the Chief Executive."

Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 4—(UPI) Look out, citizens, movie stars are coming your way.

The new year will find more and more Hollywood personalities going out to meet the public. It's a factor that will help improve the film industry's public relations, but there's an important commercial matter, too. One film figure told him it will add $300,000 to $400,000 to a picture's gross if the star will help call attention to it with a national tour.

A recent event proved how important this is. Samuel Goldwyn fired Teresa Wright when she refused to make a new Year appearance with his latest film.

Gregory Peck is not in the Academy running for the first time in three years. He didn't have a picture released in 1948. "It's probably just as well," he said. "I'm not ready to be an Oliver yet!"

Robert Young still plans to do "The World and Little Willie" for his own company, Cavalier. The film was called off when Eagle-Lion studios shut down for a spell.

The picture will also star June Lockhart, the poor gal who was rushed back from her honeymoon triumph—to remain idle for a year.

She still hasn't been given a picture.

Jane Haver appears to have made up her mind to marry Dr. John Duzik. She's from Rock Island, Ill., and he hails from Rock Springs, Wyo. So their friends are testing that the two rock will get married and raise lots of pebbles.

Jane has to play the piano in "Oh You Beautiful Doll," but she's no newcomer to the ivories. She claims to have played with the Cincinnati Symphony at seven, after winning a newspaper contest.

Greer Garson's new film, "The Foray," has the new look in movie production. Even with a big cast, it will be filmed in 18 days, come Louis B. Mayer or high water. In other times, it would have taken at least 90. Interestingly, the picture will get a new title: Producer Leon Gordon fears Galaworthy lovers will feel cheated when they see only a sequence of the whole saga.

Sports In 1948 To Be Remembered As Year Of Incredible Events

NEW YORK, Jan. 4, (AP)—Sports in 1948 will be remembered as a year of almost incredible events.

It was a year of singular contrasts. Army's football team, untested and unbeaten and ranked among the top eleven in the collegiate world, was held to a tie by Navy, a team that hadn't won a game in more than a year.

Burton Dillard, world's greatest high hurdler, failed to qualify for the Olympic games in his specialty. Whereupon he won the Olympic 100-meter event.

In July, Leo Dauber packed his belongings at Brooklyn's Ebbets Field and moved to New York's Polo Grounds, not as an anonymous invader, but as new manager of the Giants. On the same day, Burt Shotton was called back to pilot the Dodgers, and Herb Chapman was replaced by Dusty Cooch at Philadelphia.

Before the baseball season had ended, four other big league managers had lost their jobs. Buck Harris, New York Yankees; Ted Lyons, Chicago White Sox; Steve O'Neill, Detroit; and Johnny Neum, Cincinnati.

August found four clubs tied for first place in the American League's unprecedeted pennant race. The last day of the season ended with Cleveland and the Boston Red Sox deadlocked for the No. 1 spot, necessitating a play-off.

Not all events were history-making, however, some merely served to hand the fans a good laugh. Take the oddities in London last August.

It started at the weigh-in in the boxing eliminations, when Arnold Pares, an Argentine bantam-weight, was found to be over the limit. Desperately, he cut off chunks of his hair, scrubbed his bare feet and brushed off the scales. This proved of no avail. He was still one ounce overweight.

Later it was learned that the officials had confused Pares' name with that of his teammate, Pascual Perez, a flyweight. In the meantime, the scales had been found to be faulty which made Pares' weight actually within the limit. Pares got beaten, anyway.

Then there was that high school football game in Houston, Tex., between Central and Yates. The official pace off a 15-yard penalty against Yates behind the goal, signalled a safety for Central, gave it two points and the game 15-13.

Other oddities listed by news papermen in the Associated Press' annual poll were:

Citation's "walkover" in the Pimlico special at Baltimore, where the great race horse picked up $10,000 without opposition.

The Sharpsburg, Ind., basketball team's 43-41 victory, although it finished the game with only two players left on the court. The others had been ejected for too many fouls.

The dog which tackled a ball carrier in a San Francisco football game.

The fan who eluded Joe DiMaggio around the New York Yankee outfield for the player's signature. He eluded several cops and umpires, finally sliding headlong into second base.

The earthquake that struck California after the USC-Notre Dame football game which ended in an astonishing 14-14 tie.

The South American boxer who jumped into the swimming pool at Wembley, Eng., after winning the Olympic title. And his followers, fully clad, who jumped in after him.

The Denver tailor, who gave away more than 400 suits of clothing to lucky forecasters who picked all the grid winners one Saturday afternoon.

Bob Feller, who pitched a two-hitter for Cleveland in the World Series opener against the Boston Braves, and emerged the loser.

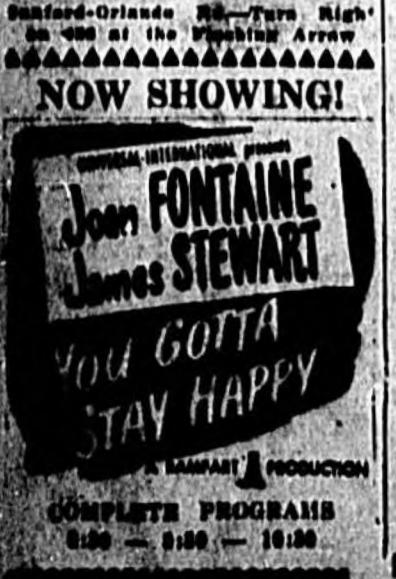

Ricky Graziano journeying all the way to Oakland, Calif., for a bout against Fred Apostoli, but flying back to Brooklyn on the eve of the fight because "I couldn't stand the questions hurled at me."

Don Webster of Tulsa of the U. S. Hockey League is staying as a defense man, after staying for nine teams since he turned pro in 1942.

Jim Foley, fullback and quarter back on the Syracuse football team, is a brother of John Foley, who called the plays for the Orange last fall.

NCAA Sits Down At Conference Table To Ponder Many Problems

By ELBERTON WAITE

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 4, (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association sits down at the conference table today to ponder its multiple headache: are there too many bowl games? Will television cut collegiate gate receipts? And what about the "platoon system" of football substitutions?

These are only a few of the problems. The NCAA not only makes the rules for college sports, nowadays it also sets up codes of behavior for its 300 odd member schools.

A special NCAA committee has been studying the football how situation and is due to report before NCAA sessions are adjourned next weekend. Officially, no one is talking yet—about how games. Unofficially, one coach said, "Leave my name out and just say something will have to be done, sooner or later."

About 40 bowl games were played between the end of the gridiron season and Jan. 1, (prospect) for next year: colossal.

Coach Ted Faurot of Missouri said the two schools played in the 1946 Orange Bowl when Tech won, 21 to 7.

Missouri And Tech Eye Football Tilts

ATLANTA, Jan. 4 — (AP)—Georgia Tech and Missouri who have met on the gridiron only once, are considering a home-and-home series.

Coach Don Faurot of Missouri stopped off in Atlanta and talked with Tech Coach Hobdy Dodd. Faurot was on his way home from Jacksonville, where his team lost to Clemson in the Gator Bowl Saturday.

The Missouri mentor said he felt a home-and-home series would be popular with both schools. Dodd said the offer was attractive, but he didn't know whether Missouri could be worked into the Tech schedule. Negotiations will continue by letter, the Tech coach added.

The only time the two schools played was in the 1946 Orange Bowl when Tech won, 21 to 7.

EUFAULA, Ala., Jan. 4, (AP)—Four more braces of birds dogs were ready to enter the field today in the Amateur Derby of the annual Chattahoochee Valley Field Trial Association events.

Seven braces ran yesterday. Among those making the best showings were Dixie Fandy, owned

Domestic Airmail Rate Is Advanced

The domestic airmail rate was advanced on Jan. 1 from five to six cents an ounce, Postmaster Joel Field announced today. Rates on first class letter mail are unchanged. Airmail post cards may be sent for four cents.

Present airmail stamps may be used by adding a one cent stamp to letters. Information on increases in parcel post rates, insurance and money order fees and other rate changes may be obtained from postal clerks, said Mr. Field.

A new U. S. postage stamp honors the Brahmin, a popular breed of chicken about a century ago and the ancestor of many common types today.

Seminole Farmers Given Opportunity To Aid Conservation

All farmers of Seminole county have an opportunity to cooperate in the 1949 Agricultural Conservation Program, says C. R. Dawson, County Agent. The program will be used to meet the most urgently needed soil and water conservation without favor to any class or group of farmers.

The farmers who cooperate in the program will be required to match the assistance provided under ACP with labor, money and experience. This program is a means of cooperation between the Government—representing all of the people in the country—and the farmer. Through the ACP, the Government helps to share the cost of approved and needed soil and water conservation practices.

According to Mr. Dawson, the program, based on conservation practices approved by each state's foremost technicians as well as practical farmers, is proving the most effective and economical way for the Nation to obtain vitally needed conservation.

Mr. Dawson said that the program is for all farmers—and all farmers are urged to take advantage of this nation-wide effort to conserve the soil. The first step is to contact a farmer committee man or visit the county office for information on conservation practices being stressed in the local area.

ECA Will End In '52 Despite Europe Pleas

Bissell Implies Longer Term Aid May Be Available To Individual Countries

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—(AP)—A top Marshall Plan official said today that the general European Recovery Program "will end on schedule" in 1952 despite the plea of Western Europe that it cannot stand alone on its economic feet by that time.

Richard M. Bissell, deputy assistant administrator of the Economic Cooperation Administration, made the forecast at a news conference.

He implied that longer-term US aid may be made available to individual countries, depending on their needs, but declared:

"It is still very definitely my view that the European Recovery Program will end on schedule."

"There is no evidence" in a report from 10 European Marshall Plan recipients that the program should be continued after June 30, 1952, Bissell said.

He referred to a long-range plan for European recovery released yesterday in Paris by the Organization for European Economic Cooperation. The report declared that the countries receiving American foreign aid under ECA still will need as much as $360,000,000 in assistance after the plan, as now constituted, comes to an end.

The ECA executive emphasized that his statement "does not imply that the European recovery program will last four years." He said the year-to-year operation of the Marshall Plan is a decision that Congress must take.

To finance recovery next year, Bissell said ECA will ask Congress for about $434,000,000 "with certain adjustments yet to be made."

The figure mentioned by Bissell for the coming year was the same as recommended by the nation's OEEC in its program submitted to U. S. aid officials. That report outlined the progress which had been made in framing a "master plan" for Western Europe's economic recovery.

Bissell said OEEC has made it

Barkley Active As Congress Opens

SINCE HE WILL CONTINUE to serve as Senate majority leader until he becomes "second in command" on January 20, Vice President Alben Barkley of Kentucky, left, is very much among the present on the Senate floor at the opening of the 81st Congress in Washington. Here he chats with Sen. Arthur Vandenberg, Michigan, right, and Sen. Robert Kerr, new Democratic member from Oklahoma. Sen. Vandenberg was replaced as Senate president pro tempore by Sen. Kenneth McKellar, of Tennessee.

Warren Backed In Creation Of Buying Agency

State Cabinet Okays Strict Rules Governing State Carts

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 5, AP—Governor Warren today called for a state bank making "blood letting" of state funds opposed extension of legalized gambling and promised "I will do my duty" if local law enforcement officers fail to stop illegal gambling. He said he was giving a "good deal of thought" to possible new revenue sources and was going to suggest some—though he didn't think they'd be used—during an afternoon session on financing after control.

Other Kiwanis officers installed were Martin Stinecipher, incoming second term as president; P. P. Campbell, treasurer; Oscar Hanson, financial secretary and Joe Field and Ralph A. Smith as vice presidents.

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 5, AP—With apparent backing from the cabinet, Governor Warren today moved towards creation of a central purchasing agency for the state.

Cabinet members directed Paul D'Alemberte, purchasing agent for state institutions, to cooperate with the Governor in preparing an overall purchasing plan. Comptroller C. M. Gay recommended that an entire cabinet meeting be devoted to discussion of the project.

Secretary of State R. A. Gray commented an impression that the cabinet would ban central purchasing appeared to be widespread but reported he had canvassed the members and discovered no opposition.

Citizens at the headquarters of American Military Government here said they would fight to have the ban lifted at the club's next membership meeting.

The ban was endorsed by 100 to 110 at a meeting last night. A minority of 100 civilians and 400 officers belonging to the club attended.

Some officers said junior troop commanders in Berlin needed a place where they could stay without the company of their men.

Officers, Germans Ban Enlisted Men From Berlin Club

BERLIN, Jan. 6, AP—Americans in Berlin heatedly argued today whether Harnack's, a club for officers and civilians, should admit U.S. enlisted men as guests.

"One officer was accused of using the term enlisted 'barbarians'" in defending a change last month in the club's constitution barring enlisted men.

Chinese Reds Pledge Fight To War's End

Commies Term Chiang Kai Shek's Peace Overtures Nationalist "Delaying Act"

By ROY ESSEYAN
SHANGHAI, Jan. 5—(AP)—The New Communist newspaper news agency today termed Chiang Kai Shek's peace overtures to Nationalist "delaying action" and said the Red should fight on "to the last."

The Red sheet was pulled up in today's Chinese newspaper. Six weeks ago, other sources reported hearing the broadside, the first mention by the Tenth radio of China's peace offer of a few days ago.

No Communist official or organization was quoted by the Red news agency, which presumably made the statement on its own.

However, competent sources here and elsewhere made the broadcast to mean that both sides may be entering into a favorite Chinese pastime, bargaining.

Many view Chiang's original terms in his recent statement to be the "exceptional" but price the Communists they say are returning according to the best Chinese custom. Tradition holds that, having no money, they are in position to do better. If they have to pay higher dues, they have been granted higher dues. The Chinese have been granted higher dues, they have been granted higher dues.

The peace clamor has spread rapidly over the whole country with Nationalist planes dropping leaflets on Communist troops in North China asking them to stop fighting and talk peace.
