Careless With The Truth

Not long ago a famous movie actress whose name had been linked by rumor with a popular Hollywood star, arrived in New York for a vacation. Mat at the station by inquiring reporters, she denied that she was engaged to the young man, or that she ever intended to marry him. A few days later their wedding took place at the Little Church Around the Corner.

A few weeks ago the word leaked out in Washington that a prominent government official was about to resign. Reporters were immediately sent to him to get some authoritative information on the subject. "There is absolutely nothing to it," the important official said. "I have no intention of resigning." A few days later his formal resignation was officially announced.

We might go on like this with similar illustrations until our editorial page is exhausted, but it hardly seems to us to be necessary. Everyone knows that such careless disregard for the truth is almost commonplace. It is a characteristic of the great and near-great which is not confined to politicians but embraces leaders in the business, professional and social world entirely too numerous to mention. We do not mean that they are all liars, but entirely too many of them are careless with the truth for the good of the country.

It seems to us that it is infinitely worse when an outstanding man in business or politics issues a statement which is later shown to be false than it is for the man in the street to make an untrue statement. The big lawyer, the big banker, the big statesman, are all setting an example which they should want other people to follow. If they obviously are dishonest in their ordinary day by day statements—even though they may break no law—how can they expect the rank and file to respect them, or to be honest themselves?

We recognize that there are times in the lives of everyone when they wish to keep a secret. There are times when we intend to do something that we would not want the public to know until after it is done. But this hardly seems to us to be an excuse for lying about it. If a man intends to resign from public office but is not yet ready for people to know about it, why couldn't he just tell the reporters that he would prefer not to discuss it, or that he does not care to be quoted on that?

When an actress, socialite, or other prominent person decides to get married, she may figure that it is none of the public's business, but this, in our opinion, does not justify her in deliberately telling an untruth about it. For her own sake, for the sake of the reputation which she bears in the eyes of the public, it seems to us that if she gives out any statement at all, she must give one that accords with the truth. It would be better simply to answer "that is none of your business."

A Modern "Mystery House"

Hidden beneath canvas covering, workmen are toiling night and day at Westwood Hills, a Los Angeles suburb, to complete what has become known as "The Mystery House of California," according to the Woman's Home Companion which says that the circus tent covering it now will be taken down Mar. 14, and thereafter it is expected more than 100,000 people will visit this most modern of "sunshine homes," sponsored by this national magazine.

Three shifts of workmen, bound to secrecy, are working now beneath the tent, arc lights furnishing illumination at night. Few details of the plans, designed by H. Roy Kelly, prize-winning Los Angeles architect, have so far leaked out. The builders, the Janus Corporation, are also keeping silent until the opening day ceremonies.

All that is known at present is that Mr. Kelly's plans are entirely "untraditional" and more "modern" than anything before attempted. An abundance of glass will be used instead of wall space in what is described as "a rambling one-story structure." Light steel is employed throughout, with little if any architectural wood trim or detail. The total cost is set at $16,500.

The house will be rushed to completion in 45 days, instead of the 125 days usually required for a home of similar size and cost. The mystery which has surrounded the whole operation is due in large part to the mammoth circus tent which completely conceals what is going on. As soon as the foundation was laid, the tent poles were set in and the canvas hid all working operations. The huge tent covers almost half an acre of ground. Much of the landscaping is also being done under canvas. The house is located on Sunset Boulevard, 17 miles from the center of Los Angeles.

When Mar. 14 dawns, the house, completely furnished with the most up-to-date electrical devices and modern furniture, will be opened to the public. Until then, the name of "Mystery House of California" remains to intrigue motorists, passersby and all future home-builders.

SANFORD TWENTY YEARS AGO

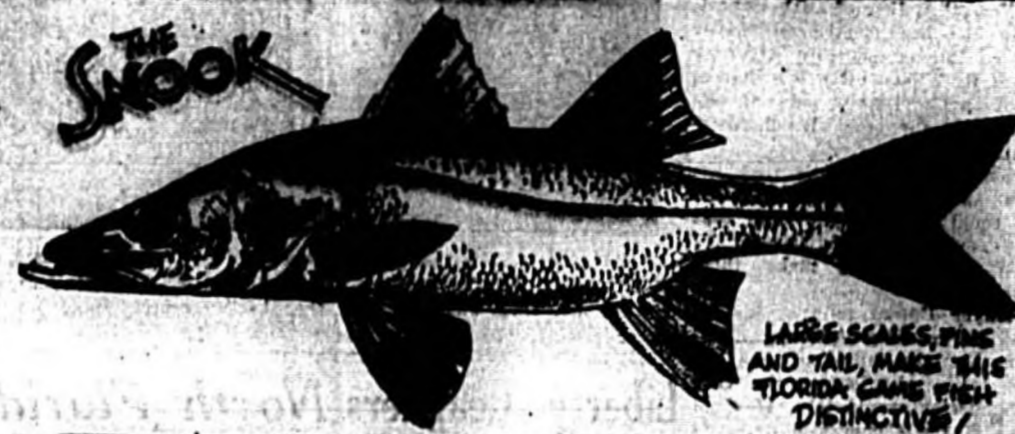

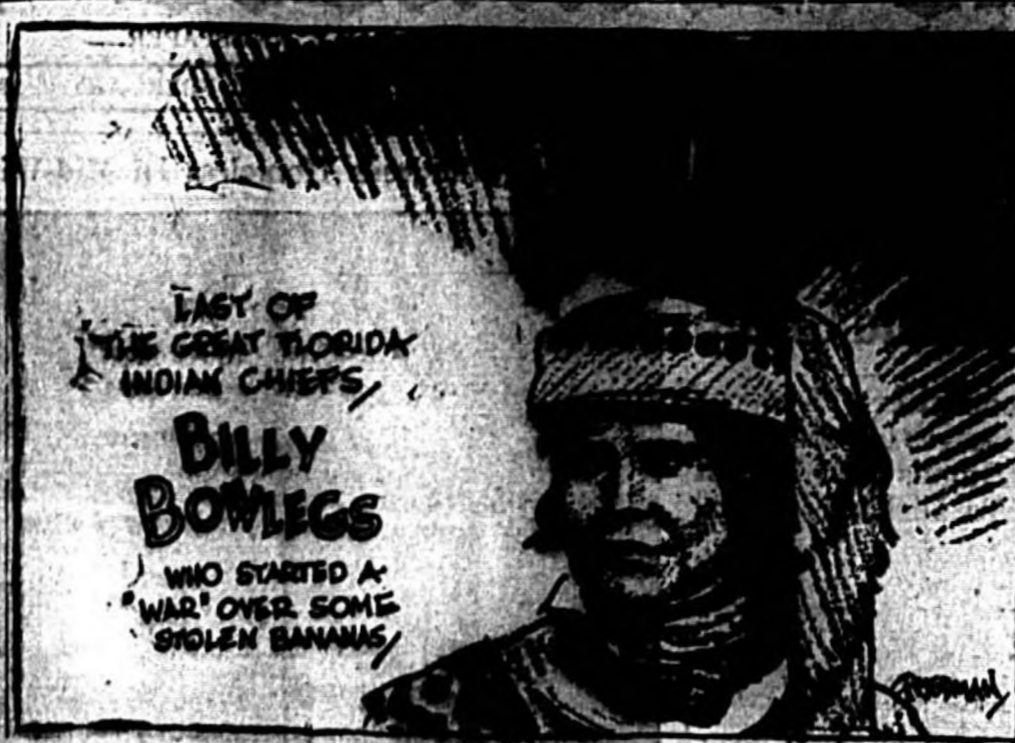

Mrs. Hugh Maxey and little son, who have been visiting the former's sister, Mrs. Earl Doney, left Saturday for their home in Fort Meade.

The many friends of Col. A. M. Thrasher are glad to see him home again and to know that he will spend the winter in Sanford. Col. Thrasher has been abroad for the past four years owing home about two years ago and going back to Switzerland at the beginning of the war in Europe. His family has left Switzerland now and they are home in Miami Circle in the "peninsula" of Florida.

Mrs. and Mr. A. F. Wilson and daughter, Mrs. Mary Wilson, who have been visiting Mrs. and Mr. C. Jones, left here Saturday for their home in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. and Mr. J. J. Manning and Mrs. Manning, who have been visiting Mrs. and Mr. C. Jones, left here Saturday for their home in Washington, D. C.

BILLY BOWLEGS
 WHO STARTED A 'WAR' OVER SOME STOLEN BANANAS

THE SNOOK
 LARGE SCALES, FINE AND TAIL, MAKE THIS FLORIDA GAME FISH DISTINCTIVE

A Florida war date actually started over some stolen bananas! Unable to obtain permission for the ravaging of his banana garden in the Big Cypress by government surveyors in 1885, BILLY BOWLEGS, one of Florida's famous Seminole chiefs, and his braves fired upon Lieut. Hartuff and his party, wounding the officer and several of his men. This episode really started the last Indian War in Florida, which ended in 1857 with the removal of Bowlegs and about 150 Indians to the West. This terminated the Florida career of the last great Seminole chief, who had exercised supreme control over his subjects for many years. About forty warriors and their families were left in Florida, from which the present Seminoles descended.

The SNOOK, well known Florida game fish, has "saw" on its gills! These "saws" give fishermen plenty of trouble as they will sever the strongest of lines unless fish leaders are used in casting. This denizen of South Florida waters is capable of putting up a stiff battle and will get the best of light tackle to boot.

Dinosaurs Of 150 Million Years Ago Saw Rosy Light, Astronomers Declare

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Feb. 6.—(AP)—When dinosaurs roamed the earth 150,000,000 years ago, light may have been a little different from today.

It moved more slowly, was redder in color. And if there were Methuselahs so ancient, it is conceivable their longevity could be partly accounted for by the supposition that time, as well as light, was different then.

The evidence for this difference in light 150,000,000 years ago comes from the world's largest telescope on Mt. Wilson, California. This 100-inch instrument shows all the more distant objects in the heavens as slightly reddened.

They are from 100,000,000 to 150,000,000 light years away. That is, the light arriving from them today shows how they looked a hundred million or more years ago.

The commonest explanation for the color has been that the universe is expanding like a bubble. Because these distant objects are moving away from earth, at speeds up to 15,000 miles a second, their light appears redder than it is.

There have been other interpretations to account for the redness. But the comparatively new idea, that the light itself was really different in color, is put forward by P. I. Wold, of Union college.

It is as reasonable as any of the explanations. For many years a few scientists have claimed that the speed of light changes from decade to decade. There has not been enough time yet to verify or disprove this definitely. The latest measurements made at Mt. Wilson showed an unexplained fluctuation of range

Sometimes Old Stuff, Miss Aunt Fake Money Seized In New York

BERLIN, Feb. 6.—(AP)—A German ethnological expedition in Turkey has reported discovered hoarding substances to be 5,000 years old.

They believe they found what is probably the oldest known hoarding substance in the world. The hoarding substance was found in a cave in the mountains of Turkey. NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—(AP)—A secret informant in Gostawich village, federal authorities seized nine men and $1,197 of faked Federal Reserve bank notes they said were made from planes used by Robert Miller, alias "Cotton" Victor, Lasig, notorious counterfeit now in prison.

As police and treasury agents moved in on the basement beneath a barber shop, James Del Grasso drew a .38 calibre revolver. Deputies wrestled it away before he could shoot.

Treasury agents said the banknotes were made from the planes found in a suitcase left in a Times Square subway station six months ago.

Mineral production in Quebec province registered a notable increase during the past year, particularly in gold, silver, asbestos and copper.

Miss Margaret Berner Weds R. Daniels

In a ceremony marked by simplicity, Miss Margaret Louise Berner, daughter of Mrs. Catherine Berner and the late S. A. Berner of this city, became the bride of Raymond E. Daniels of Mount Dora, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Daniels of Mount Dora this morning at 9:00 o'clock at All Souls' Catholic Church. The Rev. J. J. Kallaghan performed the ceremony and said a Nuptial Mass in the presence of a gathering of relatives and intimate friends of the couple.

The sanctuary of the small church was banked with potted plants and palms brightened with tall baskets of gladioli and ferns. The candle lighted altar bore vases of pastel colored garden flowers, and a similar arrangement of flowers graced the side altar.

Immediately before the arrival of the wedding party Miss Madeline Mallet sang, "Because", by Guy D'Hardelot and during the offertory rendered "Ave Maria", by A. H. Rosewig. Miss Mallet also played Lohengrin's prelude and Mendelssohn's recessional.

Only attendant of the bride was her niece, Miss Mary Louise Wathen, who wore a yellow tulle frock fashioned with a long full skirt and short puffed sleeves. Her hat was a small turban with a yellow tulle veil and she carried a bouquet of pink briarcliff roses, white sweet peas, and gypsophylla.

The bride, who entered the church with her brother, Les Berner, best man, chose as her bridal dress an independence-blue gown made with a long fitted skirt and long sleeves. The bodice was trimmed with blue net inserts and her hat, of a matching shade of blue, had a small brim. Her flowers were a large bouquet of Tallman roses, delphinium, and orange blossoms.

Personals

Friends of Miss Catherine White will regret to learn that she continues to be ill at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. St. Clair White, West First Street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Lingo and daughter, Beverly Ann, of Hendersonville, N. C. are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Guthrie. Mrs. Lingo was the former Miss Carmen Guthrie.

ensemble trimmed in white was worn by the bride's mother, Mrs. S. A. Berner, Mrs. J. M. Daniels selected a black lace gown, fashioned along simple lines, and worn over a lavender slip.

Immediately after the ceremony Mrs. Berner entertained with a wedding breakfast at her home on East Eleventh Street. The large dining room table was overlaid with a handmade lace cloth and centered with a tiered wedding cake.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Daniels, the bridegroom and bride, the Rev. J. J. Kallaghan, Mrs. Catherine Berner, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred M. Daniels, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wathen, Mrs. A. E. Mallet, the Misses Mary Wathen, maid of honor, Madeline Mallet, Mary a Betty Wathen, Rita and Marjorie Daniels, and Lee W. Berner, best man, and Arthur Daniels.

Following breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Daniels left for a short honeymoon. On their return they will live at 731 Liberty Street in Mount Dora. Mrs. Daniels traveled in a grey silk ensemble trimmed in green and worn with a green felt hat.

The bride is a graduate of Sanford High School and for the past several years has been connected with the American Fruit Growers, Inc. first in Sanford and later in Orlando.

Mr. Daniels was born at Northampton, Mass. where he received his education and spent the greater part of his life. He moved to Mount Dora about 12 years ago and is engaged in business as a building contractor.

'Animated Magazine' Is Given At Club

Before a large gathering of club members and friends, the Fifth Annual Edition of the "Animated Magazine," sponsored by the Woman's Club of Sanford, was given Wednesday afternoon at the club house on Oak Avenue following the monthly business luncheon of the club.

The magazine, divided into seven sections, had Mrs. John G. Leonard and Judge James G. Sharon as the main speakers, and boasted contributions from every department of the club. It was dedicated to Mrs. Walter L. Cooper, president of the club, by Mrs. Moughton, Judge Sharon's talk, "America's Asset; Good Citizenship," was well received by the audience as was Mrs. Leonard's address, "Government in Education," which was a comprehensive account of government aid in the field of education. Judge Sharon served as a representative of the Civic Department and Mrs. Leonard as a representative of the educational committee of that department.

Opening number was a living picture showing Mrs. H. J. Lehman seated on the stage reading as Mrs. W. E. Kirchhoff, Jr. gave a recitation, "Compensation," by Emerson with Mrs. Arthur Branan as piano accompanist. This was contributed by the Literature Department.

The Editor's Page, arranged by the Social Department, was presented by Mrs. J. B. Cogburn, and Mrs. S. D. Higleyman who repeated short verses describing various members of the club.

Two solos, "The Sunshine of Your Smile" and "The Lilac Tree" rendered by Mrs. J. L. Ingley with accompaniment by Mrs. Branan made up the Music Department's section in the magazine.

"Who's Who" in the Sanford Woman's Club was well described by Mrs. Ralph Austin Smith who read a group of poems about prominent club members written by her mother, Mrs. W. W. Meeds.

The publication was brought to a close when Miss Margaret Langley appeared on the stage and announced she was the "Last Page." About 60 persons were present.

Mrs. Walter L. Cooper presided over the short business session when Mrs. Ralph Austin Smith announced that the club will be hostess to a club institute for Section Seven of the Florida Federation on Feb. 27. Many vases and bowls of callendulas were used to adorn the club rooms. The small luncheon tables were centered with crystal baskets of blue flowers and ferns.

Among those attending the luncheon were: Mrs. O. M. Harrison, Mrs. W. M. Harrison of Cairo, Ill., Mrs. J. H. Steele of Manassas, Va., Mrs. Leonard, Mrs. H. J. Lehman, Mrs. J. O. Huff, Mrs. L. E. Spencer, Mrs. K. W. Fite, Mrs. Mary Hommer, Mrs. W. S. Jordan, of Jacksonville, Mrs. J. A. Young, Mrs. J. E. Baker, Mrs. S. D. Higleyman, Mrs. John G. Leonard, Mrs. Ralph Austin Smith, Mrs. Walter L. Cooper, Mrs. V. E. Douglas, Mrs. Arthur Branan, Mrs. J. B. Cogburn, Mrs. J. T. Newby, Mrs. J. C. Bills, Mrs. Henry Wight, Mrs. F. E. Stein, Mrs. B. C. Moore, Mrs. J. C. Bennett, Mrs. W. E. Film Is Based On Amateur Radio Acts

"Millions in the Air," the farcical romance which Paramount has turned out as a gentle joke at prevailing radio amateur programs, opens Friday at the Milne Theater and by virtue of its variety, has everything that is needed to make first-class entertainment.

From the first to the final going this picture moves awfully. So many things happen that it is useless for a reviewer to attempt to tell it all. The amateur-hour theme makes it possible for the producers to introduce about a dozen different acts, all suitably fused into the main story, which concerns the romance of a young saxophone player and the daughter of the radio program's sponsor.

Wendy Barrie, the talented British actress, and John Howard, a new and refreshing screen personality, have the romantic leads in "Millions in the Air." George Barbier, unquestionably one of the finest character actors on stage or screen, is the soap-selling sponsor. And, there is no end of comedy in the picture, contributed mainly by Willie Howard, Da'Chaseq and Benny Baker.

Chattanooga Will Train In Sanford Without Payment Of Any Guarantee By City

Chattanooga Lockouts (Southern Association) Baseball Club will train in Sanford next month without the payment by the City or the local baseball commission of any guarantee. A guarantee of $500 with a division of receipts had been contemplated, but some opposition to that plan was voiced at a meeting of the members of the commission with Joe Engel, president of the Chattanooga Club, and Mr. Engel agreed to come without a guarantee.

Some members of the commission favored a guarantee and a share of receipts, believing that a profit could be made for the local group, but the Chattanooga baseball men finally said the club would not want them to get into a bitter discussion and would rather "make out of the picture" and take the club to some other city. The declaration settled discussion, and it was agreed to accept Mr. Engel's plan, who has also to Sanford for the training season without guarantee. $500. Chattanooga will get all the receipts and Sanford will put the field in shape.

A contract, signed by H. M. Payworth on behalf of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and by Mr. Engel on behalf of the Chattanooga Baseball Club, reads as follows:

Agreement entered into this sixth day of February, Nineteen Hundred and Thirty-Six, by and between the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and the Chattanooga Baseball Club, party of the second part.

It is understood and agreed by the parties hereto that the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce hereby grants to the Chattanooga Baseball Club the use of the playing field in shape, arrange a suitable club house, furnish hot water and lockers, repairs to fence and the roof of the grandstand satisfactory to the approval of John H. Castel and be ready for training purposes by Mar. 7, 1936.

It is further understood and agreed by the parties hereto that Joe W. Engel, president of the Chattanooga Baseball Club agrees to do his Spring training in Sanford, Florida, at his own expense, with no guarantee other than stipulated in the first paragraph.

It is further agreed by a motion at the meeting held at the Chamber of Commerce, this date that all the Service Clubs of Sanford pledge their cooperation with Mr. Engel and lend him any assistance possible to help advertise such and every game.

Baseball commission present at today's meeting with the Chattanooga baseball manager were: Arthur Brannan, Maxwell Brown, M. L. Barlow, E. D. Krobhoff, E. J. Wagner, P. N. Whitehouse, James Moughton, Calvin Griffith, R. A. Williams, E. Chapman, John H. Castel, J. L. Marone, Clark Griffith, H. M. Payworth, A. W. Epps, W. C. Hill, Buddy Lake, Rex Packard, S. J. Rive and H. P. Bagwell.

The committee went on record as expressing its unanimous thanks to Mr. Engel for his generous proposition and pledged its wholehearted co-operation to him.

Fletcher Asks Senate To Drop Canal Inquiry

Project Is Unsound From An Economic Viewpoint, Says Secretary Ickes

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Senator Fletcher (D., Fla.) asked today the Senate to drop its inquiry into the proposed Panama Canal project.

Senator Fletcher said the project was economically unsound and that the government should not spend money on it.

He said the project would cost billions of dollars and that the benefits would not be realized for many years.

Fletcher said he had no objection to the project if it were approved by the people.

He said he would support the project if it were approved by the people.

Banks Of Orlando Enters Race For Seat In Congress

Announcement Is Made Of Candidacy By Representative

ORLANDO, Feb. 6.—"Jimmy" Banks, Jr., representative from Orange county in the Legislature, today formally announced his candidacy for congress from the new Fifth Florida Congressional district, on a new plank platform, pledging his best efforts to:

1. Aid every effort to raise the culture and educational interests in Congress and before potent federal departments.
2. Oppose burdening individual taxpayers with multiple taxation and secure greater coordination of federal and local taxing and law-making bodies.
3. Promote sound relief for financially distressed municipalities.
4. Promote waterways as state assets.
5. Keep essential minimum unemployment relief on a basis of permanent public benefit projects.
6. Advance legitimate progressive interests of working people.

Further economically sound annuities for the aged and child welfare. 8. Oppose war and support of war and support measures increasing international trade and good will. 9. Be sympathetic to national party leadership, but reserving independence of action especially on subjects important to Florida and the Fifth district.

"That summarizes my stand on problems we now face," Mr. Banks pointed out here. "However," he added, "an anxious attempt to realize that simple, tangible problems and changing conditions will face every Congress, so that not only the complex platform but the record, reputation and character of the candidate also must be known to determine the sort of representative that may be expected in Washington."

Pair Of Alleged Pickpockets Sent To Orlando Jail

pickpockets had been picked at a local theater Tuesday night. They remembered that Brick and Hebb were close to them when they discovered their losses. Thereafter the police decided to take the men into custody on suspicion and questioning, but they arrived in time to capture the pair. They had paid their bill and checked on their luggage packed, the car cranked up and they were ready to go when halted by Ch. Williams and Lieutenant Shaffer.

The chief said that both men first tried to appear as insulted when accosted by the officers, but when Lieutenant Shaffer told them to "come along" and their finger prints taken, Brick confessed that he had been fingerprinted before, in Orlando, Miami and in Washington, D. C. He gave his occupation as that of a "educated card player and giving tips at the race track." He denied ever being arrested before, but said he had "followed the news" all his life.

The Orlando police department informed local police that it has Brick's record up to 1931. He has been arrested before on suspicion of being a confidence man and pickpocket.

J. H. Currington reported to the police that his pocket was picked of $29 and G. L. Beddoe reported he was robbed of $7 at a local theater Tuesday evening. They identified the men as a confederate when they bought their tickets or as they left the theater. The theft of $25 was reported about two weeks ago by a man who attended the theater on a crowded "bank night."

said, the league "would perpetuate the sorry business of the Mellons and the Morgans in reducing 95 percent of the people to the status of serfs."

Although never mentioning Smith by name, Farley spoke of the "wily-heralded dinner" staged by the league in Washington two Saturdays ago, at which Smith was the principal speaker. At it, the former New York governor declared President Roosevelt had thrown most of the 1932 Democratic platform "in the wastebasket," and lodged a charge of socialism.

Farley asserted that critics ignored the fact that the Roosevelt Administration had "revived out many of the most important planks of that platform." In addition, he asserted the "league would do much to advance socialism and communism."

"The Liberty League," said Farley, "is the organization of those bourgeois who learn nothing and forget nothing. It would rule America. It would squeeze the worker dry in his old age and cast him like an orange rind into the refuse pile." And it would continue the infamous policy of using the armaments of government to create a plutocracy that would perpetuate the servile business of the Mellons and the Morgans in reducing 95 percent of the people to the status of serfs at the mercy of the ex-

Colder Again Tonight, Says Weather Man

Lower Temperatures Are Looked For In Central And South Sections Of State

Winter Renews Attack In North

Flood Conditions In 6 Southern States At Dangerous Stage

(By The Associated Press) Central and South Florida were warned of colder weather tonight, but government forecasters said fruit and truck crops would not be injured by frost this week. North Florida was promised warmer weather tomorrow.

Winter renewed its onslaught on the nation in general today, with heavy snows in the Pacific Northwest, threats of a new flood menace in the South, and continuation of sub-zero temperatures in corn belt states. The most dangerous flood conditions were reported in south-west Alabama, but rivers in Georgia, Mississippi, Tennessee and the Carolinas neared overflow stages.

Coal shortages remained acute in many states, with schools remaining closed, Michigan hard hit by blizzard conditions yesterday, reported storms as abating. However, many rural sections were isolated today with temperatures generally below zero. Many railroads in northwestern states continued snowbound.

Fort Seward, Yukon Territory, recorded the coldest temperature on the continent with 68 below zero.

The Coosa river at Rome, Ga., reached a crest of 33.3 feet and surged into the main stream of the town. Facilities were closing down as the flood spread and more than 100 families evacuated. At West Point, Ga., the Chattahoochee was out of its banks but no immediate danger was anticipated there.

Rain and snow over North Carolina accentuated flood danger. The southeastern coast area was under a snow blanket.

Efforts of Coast Guard vessels to crash through ice barriers in the James River near Richmond, Va., were abandoned Thursday night. Two cutters were ordered back to their bases after hours of crashing into an ice jam served only to dent their prows. The jam threatened to wreck stranded freighters, flood the river front and break down bridges.

The Mississippi River was completely frozen near from Cairo to South St. Louis last night—the most severe freeze since 1918. It was expected the ice field would reach St. Louis downtown riverfront in the near future if bitter temperatures continue.

10-Day Vacation Of WPA Workers Begins Saturday

One Crew Will Work Monday To Make Up For Rainy Weather

The 10-day "vacation" of regular workers employed by Sanford streets is to begin at the close of the present work period this afternoon, under orders from the Works Progress Administration. It is hoped that during the 10-day period growers and shippers will be able to clean the crop quickly they desire, but if there is still a shortage of labor after the 10 days the City Commission, according to members of that body, will request a request that WPA common labor be carried at least 50 percent.

City Tomorrow Observes Its 99th Birthday

Program In Woman's Club In Afternoon, Dinner In Evening At Hotel Mayfair

Tomorrow is the 99th anniversary of the founding of the City of Sanford, and the important event is to be properly celebrated. An interesting program has been arranged by the Daughters of the American Revolution for presentation in the Woman's Club building at 3 o'clock, and another program will be presented by the Florida Historical Society in the Hotel Mayfair at 7 o'clock.

The general public is invited to enjoy the anniversary exercises in the Woman's Club building and to view a display there during the afternoon of articles in use 99 years ago. An interesting program has been prepared, including short talks on English and Swedish settlers by H. M. Papworth and Karl Nordgren, a paper on early churches and the first library by Mrs. Mary Leffler Strong, and an address by Prof. A. J. Hanna on "The Significance of Founder's Day."

Advance reservations indicate that a number of persons will attend the dinner party at the Mayfair in the evening. State Senator A. M. Taylor of St. Augustine, a director of the State Historical Society, will be the toastmaster, and addresses will be delivered by Joshua Coffin Chase, president of the Society; Irving Bacheller, famous author and a member of the Sanford family; Sydney O. Chase who is the present owner of "Belair," General Sanford's former home; and T. A. Mellon of Pittsburgh, Pa., a relative of Captain Charles Mellon after whom was named the town of Mellonville which grew into the City of Sanford.

Captain Mellon was killed in battle on the shores of Lake Monroe on Feb. 8, 1837, 99 years ago tomorrow, and that date has been selected as Sanford's birthday as until then the army camp had no name. It was named Fort Mellon in honor of the slain leader of the company.

General Henry S. Sanford, diplomat, statesman and explorer, on May 11, 1870, bought the land on which the City of Sanford now stands, imported 100 Swedes and started the town, and the name of Mellonville was changed to Sanford.

President Himself Signs "Thank You" Letter To Sanford

Signed by President Roosevelt himself, and not by a secretary, a letter of thanks to the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce for the "God bless you telegram" that President H. M. Papworth of the trade body sent on the President's birthday, was received yesterday by the Chamber of Commerce. The President's letter, addressed to "My Dear Friends" and signed "Very sincerely yours, Franklin D. Roosevelt," reads:

"Thank you very much for that particularly pleasing birthday message you sent me. It is indeed appreciated and I am more than grateful to all of you for your good wishes."

The Chamber of Commerce telegraphed to President Roosevelt wishing him "many happy returns of the day" from the people of Seminole County "for all the good you have done our farmers, growers and working men, and may God bless you."

Shortening Of Racing Season May Be Sought

Miami Business Men Said To Be Ready To Attack Betting Law Of The State

MIAMI, Feb. 7.—(AP)—The Daily News says it learned today that an influential association of Miami business houses will attack the Florida pari-mutuel wagering law unless the racing season here is shortened. A suit to test the law will be filed unless the State Racing Commission grants a forty-day racing season.

The Miami News says it learned today that an influential association of Miami business houses will attack the Florida pari-mutuel wagering law unless the racing season here is shortened. A suit to test the law will be filed unless the State Racing Commission grants a forty-day racing season.

There are two horse racing tracks in the Miami metropolitan area, Tropical Park at Coral Gables and the Hialeah track, and there are three dog tracks, one at Coral Gables, one at Miami Beach and one north of Miami.

The Tropical Park track opened the horse racing season with a 15-day program, and is to have 45 more days of racing after the Hialeah track, now operating, closes its 90-day season.

There was considerable opposition a year ago here against the length of the racing season, business men contending that the track hurt business and that they take in more out of town. Nothing came of the objections, however.

Paris Manuel At Longwood
The pari-mutuel method of betting, patented by State law, is allowed at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club's dog track at Longwood. This is the sixth week of a 90-day season at the track.

Large Photograph Of Celery Exhibit In Store Window

A large photograph of the "celery progress" exhibit placed by the Seminole Chapter of the Future Farmers of America in the Future State Fair was placed in a Room 114 and Anderson store window by County Agent C. R. Dawson today.

It was sent the county agent by Alex H. Johnson, instructor in agriculture in Seminole High, who is in charge of the exhibit.

According to the picture, the exhibit starts with a fowing stream, well at the left end of the 30-foot long booth, next is a celery field, then celery about three weeks old, and then up through eight stages of growth to the papering period. A crate of celery donated by Chase & Company is at the extreme right end of the booth.

The photograph also shows three bunches of celery fields and one of the Zachary Veneer Company's crate mill. These are on the back wall of the big booth.

Dodd Of Golden Rod Seeks To Represent District On Board

B. C. Dodd of Golden Rod, near Ovelo, as announced as a candidate for the Seminole County Board of Commissioners from the Fifth District. He said that the Golden Rod section has never been represented on the board and he believes that it is "about time" that some consideration was given that part of the County. If elected, Mr. Dodd said he would endeavor to treat all persons "fair and square."

Mr. Dodd came to the state 26 years ago at the age of 3 years. He has conducted a dairy ranch at Golden Rod for the last 12 years. It is his first time in politics.

Border Patrol Is To Be Continued, Governor States

LAKELAND, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Governor Shulz said here today that Florida's border patrol has been extended for another year and that it will be continued unless the state legislature votes to discontinue it.

The Governor added that the border force has contributed to better enforcement of law in Florida.

"Our people have been relieved of a lot of hoboes, racketeers and filling station hold-up men," he declared.

"You may be sure that as long as I'm governor we'll continue to guard Florida's borders."

States Oppose L. A. Blockade
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7.—California's "transient" blockade, unique move of Los Angeles city police to patrol state borders and shoot away invading vagrants, was weighed with growing concern today by Oregon, Nevada and Arizona.

The campaign to "save California from the hobo," launched by Police Chief Jim Davis of Los Angeles, reportedly was throwing a backwash of transients into bordering states which threatened to create general confusion.

Governors of all three states threatened to act if the California law had created a congestion of unattached hoboes in their domains, and one—Governor Kirtland of Nevada—lodged an official protest with California authorities.

Governor Merram received a telegram from the Nevada governor saying:

"For the protection of Nevada and her border counties, I would appreciate your acting in preventing..." (Continued on Page Four)

Future Farmers Will Visit Fair In Tampa

Sanford and Ovelo Future Farmers to the number of about 25 are leaving at 4:45 tomorrow morning in a big school bus for Tampa where they will spend the day at the State Fair. Alex R. F.D.R. Expects Farm Bill To Weather Storm

Five Hundred Million Needed To Finance Program For Year, President Asserts

No Word As To New Tax Levies

More Is Being Spent For Materials And Less For Workers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Seemingly confident his new farm program will survive debate raging in Congress, President Roosevelt reiterated today that $500,000,000 will have to be raised to finance it for one year.

The President kept details of his plans for tax legislation to himself, leaving without final answer the question whether new levies will be proposed to meet bonus payment expense. The belief persisted among congressional leaders, however, that the Administration will seek to meet bonus without additional taxes if possible.

A hint that the government is finding it necessary to spend more for labor and less for materials to make the $4,000,000,000 work relief fund go around was given by the President at his press conference. He said some of the $4,000,000,000 would be transferred to the WPA from other agencies.

Chairman Doughton, (D. N. C.) of the House Ways and Means committee said a tax bill probably confined to raising between $150,000,000 and $300,000,000 for the new farm program would be ready the first of next week.

He expressed hope on the basis of today's parity that new taxes would not be necessary to pay the bonus.

Heads of the public works works progress and rural resettlement administration discussed their financial needs but no announcement was made of possible savings. They will meet with the President again.

Postoffice Politics Will Cost Votes By Million, Says Norris

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Senator George W. Norris, (R., Neb.) charged Wednesday that "politics" in the postoffice department would cost President Roosevelt "millions of votes" in his re-election campaign.

The veteran progressive senator pledged his continued support to Mr. Roosevelt and did not mention National Democratic Chairman James A. Farley by name, but bitterly assailed "the way the postoffice department has been run."

Ft. Myers 40-And-8 Engine Is Hauling Ford Given Legion

The Ft. Myers 40-and-8 Legion engine will arrive in Sanford tomorrow with the new Ford car given the Florida Department of the Legion on a trailer. The engine will be at Strickland Motors, Palmto Avenue and Commercial Street, and Legionnaires and their friends are invited to have a ride on it, and to be one of the largest Legion locomotives in the state.

The new Ford will be given to some member of the American Legion at the state convention in Sarasota in April. Members who paid their dues prior to Jan. 15 will have two votes and those who have paid since that date will have one vote.

Funeral Saturday For Mrs. Luella Alderman

Mrs. Luella Brannan Alderman died Wednesday night in her home near Longwood. Funeral services will be conducted in the Baptist Church at Longwood at 9 o'clock Saturday morning and interment will be in the Longwood Cemetery.

Mrs. Alderman is survived by her husband, Hubbard H. Alderman; one daughter, Miss Alice; and three brothers, L. W. and J. R. Brannan of Mobile, Ala., and S. C. Brannan of Josephine, Ala. She was born in Mississippi on May 6, 1886, and had lived in Seminole County for 12 years.
