Cardinals .001 Percentage Point Out Of 4th St. Petersburg Ends "Whiz Kids" 14-Game Winning Streak, 11-1

Paul Smith Stops Leesburg, 6-4; Cards Play Lakers Here Tonight

By KENT CHETLAIN

Those unpredictable Sanford Cardinals draw within .001 percentage point of fourth place by handing the Lakers a 6-4 loss in last night's game. The Cardinals were absorbing a 3-2 defeat at the hands of the sixth standing Senators in Orlando before 2,470 fans on Merchants Night.

Paul Smith, erratic pitching right-hander from Melbourne, Fla., was last night's hero for the Cardinals. The lanky, 31-year-old Smith pitched six innings and hurled a pair of hits to match Leonard's output.

As a result of last night's game, the five Sanford regulars batting over 300 strengthened their batting marks. The list now reads: Leonard, .374; Dunn, .345; Westbrook, .312; and Silverthorne and Datty, .307.

Tonight, the Cardinals will return home to the Memorial Stadium to finish their two-game series with the Lakers. It will be the first night in Sanford since the Cardinals have won 14 of their last 21 contests for a terrific 14-game winning streak. Sanford is still in fifth place, separates the two clubs (Jax Beach) from the league leading but a small number of games. Last night Sanford scored two runs in each of the last three frames to overcome an early 4-0 lead. Hill Samuel's blast in two runs and Ben Henderson knocked in another while a pair of Laker errors permitted Sanford to counter two more runs in the ninth. VCKC Beasts Of 2 Top Greyhounds

DAYTONA BEACH—(Special) Two widely heralded greyhounds have recently joined the active ranks at the Vero Beach Kennel Club to make competition even keener among "hot box" stars, they are however and Paris Report, two familiar names to racing fans all over the country.

C. H. Lovely's However has the more impressive reputation. The red brindle mixa bred in here with a bang last summer, picking an eight victories in 13 starts as a pup.

However capped a brilliant visit in Miami by winning the All-Florida championship at Biscayne. The 37-point copied a victory from man and Gay Gitter picked up eight triumphs in 10 starts all told.

The popular speedster who can run all distances recently showed off in the 25,000 gram Derby, posting a second and two straight victories in elimination heats before taking fourth in the final.

Paris Report, owned by E. L. Beckner, was the standout at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club last winter. The little brindle lady by Transportation out of Flirtly Susan compiled a victory string of seven consecutive wins and ran out of the money only three times in 10 tries.

On top of that Paris Report took the Central Florida Derby, setting a new track record for the three-eighths distance.

Whether Paris Report and However can consistently trim such racing dogs as Society Blue, Speed Leader and Marching Mike who have already exhibited their ability here remains to be seen. It should prove very interesting to follow the battle for top honors.

Ball Scorer Quits; Claims Coercion

FORT WALTON BEACH—Arthur E. Cobb resigned today as official scorer of the Fort Walton Beach baseball team of the Class B Alabama-Florida League after accusing the owners of attempting to "coerce" him into scoring plays in favor of the home club.

He said he had notified league President C. G. Hodges of Dothan, Ala., he was giving up the job because of a dispute with the team owner and George Koisterman, the owners.

Cobb said it was "untrue" that reports were made to pressure Cobb in his scoring decisions, but he felt the Playground News, of which Cobb is editor, had failed to support the team with publicity. Cobb replied the newspaper had helped raise $2,500 in funds to get the baseball franchise for Fort Walton Beach and had carried on a campaign to boost attendance.

Cobb said he had received a letter from the Playground News, which said they would not support the team this season.

The Sports Register

By KENT CHETLAIN

Heads hung low yesterday as the news spread about Sanford's Junior Legion loss to St. Petersburg, 12-1, in the opening clash of state area tourney being held at Clearwater. The first reaction was, "What happened?" The second reaction was, "Well the kids weren't as good as all thought they were."

Still another post game comment was, "This was the first time Sanford faced any real stiff competition." All of these remarks were typical... Phones rang at the Herald all noon with anxious mothers on the edge and of the line earnestly seeking news about the game and outcome... Most of the mothers had now playing on the Legion team.

Briefly, here is how we analyze Sanford's loss... St. Pete is the team to beat at Clearwater, and not because they bumped Sanford either... St. Petersburg won the heavily populated Tampa Bay District 7 meet over some of the best teams in the state... Sanford had a 14-game winning streak going and were as yet unbeaten in Legion competition.

If you figure the law-of-averages, you would have bet on St. Pete. Sanford's manager Al McMillan may have used Jimmy Kridler to start this important one instead of his ace Jimmy "No-Hill" Hawkins figuring that by saving Hawkins for the second game, Sanford could win the No. 2 game and Hawkins would be ready for the fourth day final game on the two-pitcher rotation system.

We readily admit St. Pete has a terrific team to play in the "Whiz Kids" so soundly and they may prove to be the state champs this year. Not having seen the game, we can not attempt to pick out the playing flaws in the Sanford attack... We do know one thing, if Sanford loses out in Clearwater today or in the finals, they played their best under the able guidance of sagacious Al McMillan. They gave it their all and if they lose it was because the other team was better.

Paul Perold Huck Pardue J. C. Dunn Jim Hawkins

However, let's not write Sanford's obituary now. They still are in the running, or at least were this morning when they played the loser of yesterday's Avon Park Vero Beach clash... By winning this 1st game, Sanford will advance to play the loser of the winner's bracket. Another victory here would put Sanford in the finals for the Area Title and the right to play in the state finals at Lakeland with the three other Area winners throughout the state... Let's hope for the best.

We received a nice post card from Paul Perold, who is spending a month's vacation in his native St. Louis watching as many big league games as possible both Cardinal and Browns. Paul writes: "Dear Sanford, Having a wonderful time enjoying the hot weather. Your boys don't know what home runs are. I've seen three in one inning and six in one game. I see by the papers (Herald) that the Cardinals are having a tough time. Yours, Paul."

Incidentally, Paul's postcard contained a picture of Sportman's Park in St. Louis packed to the gills. It is now known as Busch Stadium, after the new owners—Busch Brewing Co.

Cocoa Stops Hats To Take Over 2nd In F-S-L Race

By The Associated Press

The Cocoa Indians moved into second place last night when they handed the Florida State League's leading Deland Red Hats a 6-2 defeat. The Indians drove in five runs in the fifth inning to give that pitcher Jack Cade his first victory.

The Red Hats retaliated in the ninth by spalling a shutout in Indian hurler Virgil Frazier. The Indians hit fifth inning shutout off with singles by Ed Vadinsky and Gene Callahan followed by a walk for Frazier and another single by "Canciero" Lopez, which drove in two runs. The Red Hats purposely walked Bama Rowell but Lucky Thurman and Luke Miller followed him with single pieces-driving in the other three runs.

Leesburg May Sell Laker Franchise

LEESBURG (Special)—An offer to purchase the Leesburg franchise in the Florida State League has been made in Owens Park and Wendell Hulsebo and it was indicated here last night that the franchise will be sold unless there is a decided increase in support by Friday night.

If the deal is consummated, the final game of the '53 season under Leesburg ownership will be played at Orlando Friday night.

Attendance at Laker games, which was fairly good during the first half of the season, slumped badly after Chico Fundora was suspended for 30 days and the team slipped into the cellar early in the second half race.

Sanford's Surging "Whiz Kids" were stopped dead in their tracks during the opening game of the American Legion Junior Baseball Tournament here yesterday as they lost their first game of the season to powerful St. Petersburg's Post 14, 12-1.

Sanford's surging "Whiz Kids" were stopped dead in their tracks during the opening game of the American Legion Junior Baseball Tournament here yesterday as they lost their first game of the season to powerful St. Petersburg's Post 14, 12-1.

Having their 14-game winning streak abruptly snapped, Sanford has a second chance to come back as they took the field against Vero Beach's Post 30 this morning at 10:00 o'clock. The clash pits the two losers of the tournament, so far, together in the losers' bracket. The team losing this game will be the first to be eliminated from the state championship play.

Manager Al McMillan hadn't released his pitching choice yet this morning, however, he was inclined to favor his youthful no-hit artist Jimmy Hawkins. The 15-year-old Hawkins boasts a 6-0 record this year and only last week he pitched his brilliant 1.00 no-hitter from Orlando in the District 6 tournament at Orlando.

With Hawkins goes Sanford's hot hope to hang on. McMillan was working last night on his weak hitting. After yesterday's game with St. Pete, McMillan stated that his charges will have to get some runs in order to win. Sanford made only one run on last four base knocks yesterday.

A loss in today's game with Vero Beach will drop Sanford's Campbell-Losing Post No. 53 out while a victory would set them up for games Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

St. Pete, meanwhile, moved up on its win over Sanford yesterday to play Avon Park's Post 69 in this afternoon's battle at 3:00 o'clock. Avon Park won the right to pitch St. Pete in the winner's bracket by pounding out a 7-1 victory over Vero Beach Post 30 yesterday afternoon.

President Asks Increase In National Debt Limit

Congress Makes Plans To Tackle Important Issue

People Corner—The answer to yesterday's little brain teaser was 45 minutes. The chauffeur left home at the usual time, got back there 30 minutes earlier than usual. Therefore, the spot where he was picked up by his employer was 15 minutes homebound from the station (15 minutes going and 15 minutes returning). Ordinarily the chauffeur got to the station at 5 p.m. So this afternoon he was met by his employer at 3:45 p.m. The boss had been waiting since 3:30 p.m. or 45 minutes before the chauffeur got to the station. Last Of Seven New City Pumps In Operation

The last of seven new pumps at the City water plant, located south of Sanford along Highway 17-92, was expected to be installed today, according to E. H. Johnson, city superintendent of water, which will give the source an overall capacity of 1,170 gallons per minute. The pumps, powered by five three-horsepower and two 10-horsepower motors, replace two worn out units, he explained, and takes away the danger of any of the well-used pumps of breaking down. Number four and number six wells were out of order for six weeks last year. The installation of the equipment has been facilitated by the Farm and Home Machinery Co. Inc., Orlan do, he said. They won a contract in competitive bidding with a figure of $12,000. The company has been represented here by Thomas E. Vander company vice president and an engineer.

Allied, Red Armies Sent To Neutral Zones

Demilitarized Belt Was Site Of Battle Only 3 Days Ago

UNITED NATIONS AND COMMUNIST forces in Korea are pulling back from the new military demarcation line (established after a half-mile wide agreed upon at Panmunjom). The armistice line permits the Reds to keep almost all the ground they won in their recent offensive in the Pungdo Ridge-Sungri Ridge area. The Allies must vacate their break Ridge and several other bitterly contested hills in central Korea.

ST. LOUIS, Friday.—Allied and Communist armies were cleared today from the 20-mile demilitarized belt across Korea where the two sides to the conflict had been in battle. The U. S. 8th Army and all United Nations troops were out of the demilitarized zone by 11:00 a. m. Thursday. The zone is a 20-mile wide strip of land between the 38th parallel and the 39th parallel. It was the site of a major battle between the two sides in the past few days.

President's Talk Hit Right Note

President Eisenhower's brief address to American people, after word had been received of the formal signing of a truce in Korea, struck just the right note. It was not a speech heavy with world politics. It was, instead, a warm and hopeful message from one American to his fellow Americans, a message which shared their happiness as well as their vague uneasiness at the knowledge that the end of the fighting in Korea

A Word From Mrs. Casey

The story of Casey Jones, the brave engineer who refused to jump from the cab of his engine although a wreck was certain, has been told and retold in song and story. "The Ballad of Casey Jones" has become a part of American folklore. Recently some 3,000 gathered on the spot where Casey was found "with his hand on the throttle," to dedicate a marker to his memory.

The speakers eulogized his courage and devotion to duty. They recalled the stories told of him fifty years ago when the accident occurred. The occasion proved to be a field day for the orators.

It remained for the eighty-year-old widow of Casey Jones to say the last word. She told one speaker to "sit down dearie, everybody's done said all they can." When the speeches continued she struck one of the orators across the seat of his trousers with a bouquet she had been presented. "Sit down," she said. "It's suppertime."

Anyone who has spent an afternoon listening to orators can sympathize with her. It was suppertime and she wanted to be on time. Her famous husband was noted for his punctuality and it appears that in the fifty years that have passed since he died she has continued to respect his desire to "be on time."

How nice it would be if all speakers would sit down once "everybody's done said all they can."

International Peace Bridge

Twenty-six years ago, on August 7, 1927, the International Peace Bridge at Buffalo was dedicated. It linked Canada and the United States in another bond of friendship and the occasion commemorated more than one hundred years of peace between the two great North American neighbors. Vice President Charles Dawes and the Prince of Wales, who was to become King Edward VIII of England, participated in the dedication ceremonies.

In the 26 years that have followed the dedication of the International Peace Bridge the ties between Canada and the United States have grown even stronger. In World War II and in Korea, fighting men from Canada and the United States fought side by side.

In both countries there is a growing realization that the well-being and prosperity of one depends upon the well-being and prosperity of the other. The harmonious relationship that exists between our country and Canada, the peaceful joint administration of the great border that separates them, represents a real triumph in international understanding.

HAL BOYLE

U. S. Enters Magic Carpet Age

NEW YORK (AP) — We are just entering the real magic carpet age.

Before the year 2,000 some American mother, noticing her daughter furiously packing her suitcase on a Saturday morning, will ask: "Where are you going, Mary?"

"To Cairo. They're having a houseboat-on-the-Nile party there tonight, Mary will reply. "Now don't worry, Mother. I'll be home tomorrow afternoon."

Weekend tourists trips to the moon probably won't be popular until a few years after that.

Each idea still sounds a bit fantastic to us. But how the generation of 1900 would have hoisted if someone had said that in 1953 airplanes would fly the Atlantic Ocean in less than five hours, as two jetliners did this week in a record-time journey at above 600 miles an hour.

Why, in 1910 only tools like those two dreamy but impractical Wright brothers even thought a heavier-than-air machine could ever fly. The average man knew it was completely impossible.

Sanford, Florida, Columbus, Ga. and other cities in the South and West are now packed with thousands of Western Hemisphere people who have built speedy machinery that makes death a neighbor of every other man on earth, but no machine has does not mean a return to real peace.

It is right that we should rejoice at the knowledge that no more young men will be asked to lay down their lives in Korea. But we must not allow our relief at the end of the war to lull us into a false sense of well-being or complacency. The danger of future trouble from the Communists is very real and will increase if we relax our efforts or grow careless.

A truce came in Korea because it was no longer profitable for the Communists to fight there. Our strength had grown to the point where they could no longer hope to win. In Europe our strength grows every month. So long as that continues to be the case the possibility of Russian aggression is not so great. But if we allow ourselves to be fooled, if we do not continue to build our might, the Reds will surely take advantage of our foolishness.

If we have learned anything from our past mistakes we will maintain our strength and increase it as long as increasing it proves necessary. Perhaps the time will come when the Communists will realize the futility and immorality of warfare as a method of settling differences between nations. But that time is not yet at hand. Until it is we owe it to the brave men who sacrificed so much in Korea to keep ourselves vigilant and prepared.

A Difference In Justice

The contrasts between justice in totalitarian states as opposed to justice in a democracy were emphasized recently in news stories from two parts of the world. In East Germany the Reds were faced with a strike in an optical plant. They met the strike with violence, ordered that unless the strike was stopped every tenth worker was to be taken out and shot.

In far-off Kenya, in British Africa, the Kenya Supreme Court recently set aside the sentence of seven Mau Mau terrorists, among them that of Jomo Kenyatta, believed to be the director of Mau Mau activities. The court ruling was based on a legal technicality, the fact that the judge who presided over the trial of the native terrorists had no jurisdiction in the area where the trial took place. The men will be tried again and either found guilty again or allowed to go free.

Britain is hard pressed with native problems in Kenya but despite the necessity for protecting human life and property, full British justice is extended to those believed responsible for murder, pillage and revolt. Expediency is never allowed to excuse injustice.

It is simpler for an authoritarian state to meet certain problems, because it does not need to worry about the rights of individuals. But it is this very disregard for individuals that make the totalitarian system inflexible and likely to break when internal pressure grows great enough.

Steel Output To Slow

NEW YORK (AP) — Steel mills will continue for about three months more to operate at the present weak-neck rate, but after that the industry should return to more normal conditions.

By "normal" steelmasters mean a slight slackening in demand, now looked for before the end of the year, would permit them to close down ancient furnaces with over-high operating costs and to cool off other furnaces for the usual periods of maintenance and repair which have been passed over during the years of extra high demand for steel.

Orders for steel already on the books will keep most companies operating near capacity for some time. The several important leaders of the industry think that the peak of demand has now been reached and that new orders soon will be at a slightly lower rate.

The Korean truce, they say, will be less responsible for this slackening than will the fact that orders of steel for the making of civilian products are not being ordered as fast as they were actually consuming in steel inventories.

Benjamin F. Fairless, chairman of United States Steel Corp., calls this inventory building "a substantial segment of the strength in steel demand in the past year" and believes that consumer inventories "are now approaching balance."

Some steel users are going to profit cost-wise as the steel industry gets back to normal. This is because some of them—like the auto makers—have been paying above-list prices for steel. They have been buying steel where they could find it and having mills convert it to their particular specifications—paying the high conversion rate to they could get the steel they needed for their auto output.

The Iron Age, steel trade weekly, reports today that Chrysler is handling some of its repetitive conversion contracts and expects to get all the steel it needs after September through its regular mill sources at list prices. The weekly says that Ford and General Motors expect to wind up their buying of premium priced steel in October or November.

Only a moderate decline, if any, in steel demand here this year is expected by the weekly.

State Dog Track Attorney Hits Law Validity

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—An attorney for Florida dog track challenged the validity of the new state dog racing revenue law today objected to making their federal income tax returns.

Robert A. Anderson, representing the Volusia County Kennel Club and the Brevard County Kennel Club, told Leon County Circuit Judge John M. Taylor the law introduced in the Legislature last month would be an improper invasion of privilege.

A state commission attorney, Robert Anderson, requested the judge to issue an injunction to prevent the new law which raises state dog racing taxes from being enforced in the daily racing betting tracks, in so doing as to prevent them from operating as a reasonable profit.

JAMES MARLOW

Red China Test Ahead

WASHINGTON (AP) — Only time will show whether Secretary of State Dulles was right when he expressed confidence this week that Red China could be kept out of the United Nations.

The test won't come before late fall, at the earliest, Britain, which had favored U. N. membership for Red China, said yesterday the question can't be considered before the Korean peace conference opens. That will be late October.

Newsmen asked Dulles whether the United States, as a last resort, would use its veto power in the U. N. to bar the Chinese Communists. For some reason of his own, he stopped just short of saying positively yes.

But he said he felt this country's influence, plus the support of enough friendly nations which felt the United States did about as well as it could, would be enough to keep Red China out.

Only 17 of the 60 U. N. members so far have recognized the Communists as the legitimate government of China. Among the 17 is Britain. It's possible, if the peace talks go all right, that enough other nations will swing over to give the Communists U. N. membership.

The only place in the U. N. where this country could use its veto power is in the Security Council. There's a chance it might not be able to use it even there.

The Council has 11 members, 5 of them permanent: the United States, Britain, France, Russia and China (the Nationalist government of Chiang Kai-shek).

The other six seats rotate among the remaining 55 members of the U. N. At present the six seats are occupied by Chile, Colombia, Denmark, Greece, Lebanon and Pakistan.

Approval of any issue requires a vote of at least 7 of the 11 members. The Council handles two kinds of problems: substantive and procedural. The Council decides when a matter is substantive and when it is procedural.

The distinction could be of the utmost importance in the case of Red China. In the past, in all cases where a country was seeking membership in the U. N., the Council considered it a substantive matter.

That was how Russia was able to keep them out with a veto. For instance, it vetoed the admission of Teylon and Portugal three times in 1945.

The reason: any one of the five permanent members has a right to kill any substantive matter with a veto, even though all other members approved it. But when the Council decides a matter is procedural and not substantive the veto can't be used. Approval can be given with any seven votes.

This is where the importance of the distinction between substantive and procedural matters arises. Unlike those countries whose applications for membership Russia vetoed, China as a country is not asking membership. It has been a member from the beginning.

The question on China is whether the Nationalist government or the Chinese Communist government should be recognized as the legitimate government of China and allowed to hold the U. N. seat.

Suppose the Council chairman decided that, because China already is a member, the question of which Chinese government should be seated is a procedural matter. (The 11 Council members rotate the chairmanship monthly.)

Suppose further the 11 members voted on his ruling. There is no veto on a chairman's ruling. The United States could be outvoted.

Herlong Reports

By SYD HERLONG

A Member of Congress got up on the floor some time ago and said in effect: "Whenever an issue comes up in this House, one side is right and the other side is wrong, you will always find me lined up on the side of the right. I want it were that way the overwhelming majority of the Members of Congress want to do right; the wrong side of a bill comes in (figuratively) every issue coming up were an every issue then we would know what was right. It issues of government—the like, of voting records the other night. We have about 3 more "must" bills up for consideration this session. When we finish them and the conference reports, then we will adjourn. I hope it will be soon because I haven't seen my friends since June 5 and am really getting homesick."

Miss Ollie Whittle Attends Workshop

Miss Ollie Reese Whittle of Bainbridge, Ga. Seminoles High School Visual Teacher is among a select group of 100 professional musicians attending the Fred Waring Choral Workshop at Delaware Water Gap, Pa. this week.

The six-day, highly concentrated course in choral techniques is taught by the same instructors who train the famous Waring Pennsylvanians and is headed by Fred Waring himself.

A special feature in this year's instruction is the class in television orientation by Bob Banz, director of the Waring television show for General Electric.

A TV camera and equipment are in action in the Music Hall, and the course is designed to give a working knowledge of television techniques to music directors.

Demonstrations of choral conducting, microphone and tape recording sessions, lectures on choral arranging, enunciation, program building, and other practical information of help to the choral conductor are also being given by this professionally experienced staff of Waring singers, pianists, conductors, and arrangers.

This is the Waring Workshop's seventh season and its first in its new permanent home at Delaware Water Gap, Pa. Students are living in the newly completed Etna Davis Dormitory, in the east wing of the Waring Enterprises Building.

Eisenhower's Victory Appears To Have Upset 'Caretaker' System

By DON WHITEHEAD
(Second of Three Stories)
WASHINGTON (AP)—Dwight Eisenhower's victory last November appears to have upset the old Republican "caretaker" system which did much to block the development of a two-party system in the South.

In past years, a small and feeble party in Southern states, contenting themselves with keeping a skeleton organization in being while doing little if anything about building up a grass roots organization. They were the party caretakers between national conventions, and in many cases collaborated with the Democrats.

An Associated Press survey in Southern and border states indicates a surge of Republican activity already has threatened the old system in several states.

It has reached the point where some lifelong Democrats are calling themselves Republicans without shame. The word "Republican" no longer means political suicide in some Democratic strongholds.

There is as yet no indication the Eisenhower admirers who bolted the Democratic ranks last November can be counted in the Republican column in another election. But Republicans are hopeful. They are claiming they will capture several congressional seats in the South next year and edge their way into offices at local levels.

However, the Democratic tradition cracked by Eisenhower hasn't been shattered, the survey shows. A long pull is ahead before there is a real two-party system in all the Southland.

South Carolina came close to giving Eisenhower a majority of votes last November. Gov. James Byrnes gave his support to a "South Carolinians for Eisenhower" movement. The losing margin was less than 10,000 votes out of 340,000.

To gain any real strength, the Republicans in South Carolina will have to recruit rebellious Democrats who voted for Eisenhower. Reports from South Carolina indicate no such trend is apparent.

However, the Republicans in South Carolina—even while fighting for party control among themselves—appear to be moving toward a reorganization aimed at winning new members and supporters from Democratic ranks. And the Eisenhower Democrats are keeping their organization intact.

Should this "independent" group join forces with the Republicans, then the coalition would become a potent factor in the state's politics.

Louisiana was another state where Eisenhower missed narrowly. Adlai E. Stevenson's winning margin was only slightly more than 5,000 votes out of 851,500.

There in the Delta country, as in many parts of the South, the Republicans are hampered by lack of local machinery. Republican leader John Minor Wisdom has begun efforts to establish organizations at parish level in the past. Now Orleans has the only local GOP organization in the state.

Gov. Hubert H. Humphrey, a lifelong Democrat who supported Eisenhower, said he will remain a Democrat.

But there are straws in the political wind. The mayor and three councilmen in the little northeast farm town of Oak Grove—all Democrats—recently switched to Republican registration. They said they wanted to encourage a two-party system.

A leading Democrat remarked: "People aren't excited about it. Here in brief is the Republican picture in other Southern states:

Alabama
Republicans are planning a vigorous campaign for federal, state and county offices in the 1954 elections. The heavy Eisenhower vote last year gave the GOP the right to hold primaries in all congressional districts and in 85 of the 97 counties. State laws provide primaries for any party polling 20 per cent of the total vote in the preceding general election. The Republican vote was better than 30 per cent.

Arkansas
Tom Abernethy, Democratic party worker for years, is an avowed candidate for Republican nomination for the Senate seat now held by Democratic Sen. John J. Sparkman.

Arkansas gave Eisenhower the largest vote ever received in the state by a Republican presidential candidate but reports are "Arkansas still is a long way from a two-party state."

There is no indication the Democrats for Eisenhower are switching party allegiance. The GOP State Committee has held three meetings since November, but these dealt mainly with patronage matters and intraparty squabbles.

Georgia
Republicans plan to concentrate next year on local, county and district offices, with attention also on congressional races.

GOP National Committeeman W. H. Tucker of Dawsonville said his party "will begin a real effort to build a two party system not later than the next elections."

He was not too optimistic about victories at the state level. "I think we'll build strength on the local level and grow up to that," he added.

Mississippi
AP Correspondent Keith Fuller writes: "The hard kernel of Democrats and Republicans that joined forces to guide President Eisenhower's campaign in Mississippi say their precinct, county and state organizations are still intact and growing. As it now functions, this coalition represents the Republican administration in Mississippi and the Republican party for all purposes is not functioning under its own name."

E. O. Spencer, Jackson financier and chairman of the state Eisenhower advisory committee heads the coalition. He says Mississippi patronage is being handled by the Republican National Committee in Washington.

"This group plans an active part in the 1954 congressional race, although Spencer says the candidates probably will run as Democrats who endorse the Eisenhower administration."

Fuller says: "Apparently the plan is to attempt to develop a two-party system in Mississippi gradually without using the Republican label at first."

North Carolina
Republican leaders are not optimistic about any immediate development of a two-party system to challenge the Democrats on all levels. But they hope at least to hold onto the ground gained last year when they elected a congressman from the 10 District, Rep. Charles R. Jonas of Lincolnton.

Here, again, is the old problem of developing an organization at the local level that can win support. Efforts are being made in this direction but only time will tell how effective they will be.

Hopper Academy and Grooms Recreation groups had their Arts and Craft display at Hopper Academy School yesterday.

Many friends, visitors, patrons and well-wishers came to see this activity. Mr. Tenge from the County Superintendent's Office was very pleased with this display.

Pupils were instructed to make useful objects from discarded materials, such as, waste baskets.

Loan were used to make flowers, ornaments were made from kites; aprons, pillow cases, vanity sets were made out of food sacks; dolls out of clothes pins; jelly glasses were designed and painted; ash trays, pins and ear rings were made from shellfish; jewelry boxes were made from cigar boxes and designed with matches.

Many other useful objects were made from materials which were not discarded — rags, table mats, dolls, scarfs, pot holders, flower vases, etc.

The children also made many other things and designed with paintings.

The children, visitors, friends and well-wishers were highly pleased with this activity. The pupils enjoyed preparing this project.

Soviets Grant Concessions To Austria

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—The Soviets today made their greatest concession yet to occupied Austria. They agreed to pay their own occupation costs—a step the United States took six years ago.

Announcement of the change—beginning Aug. 1—was delivered to Austrian officials by A. M. Timoshenko, counselor of the Soviet Embassy in Vienna.

Previously the Austrian government has paid the costs of Russia's 44,000 troops in Austria. Unless similar concessions are forthcoming from France and Britain, these occupying forces still will be paid for by the Austrians.

The latest Russian concession coincided with a Soviet note to Austria asking the government of the occupied country to drop its support of the Western-proposed "short draft" independence treaty. An Austrian switch, said the Soviets, would permit the resumption of negotiation on the detailed "long draft" independence treaty. An Austrian switch, said the Soviets.

Teen Age Dance

The Recreation Program sponsored their first Teen Age Dance last evening at Castle Brewer Court from 8:00 to 11:00 p. m.

Everyone had an enjoyable evening.

Teen Aers are looking forward to the next dance on Aug. 5.

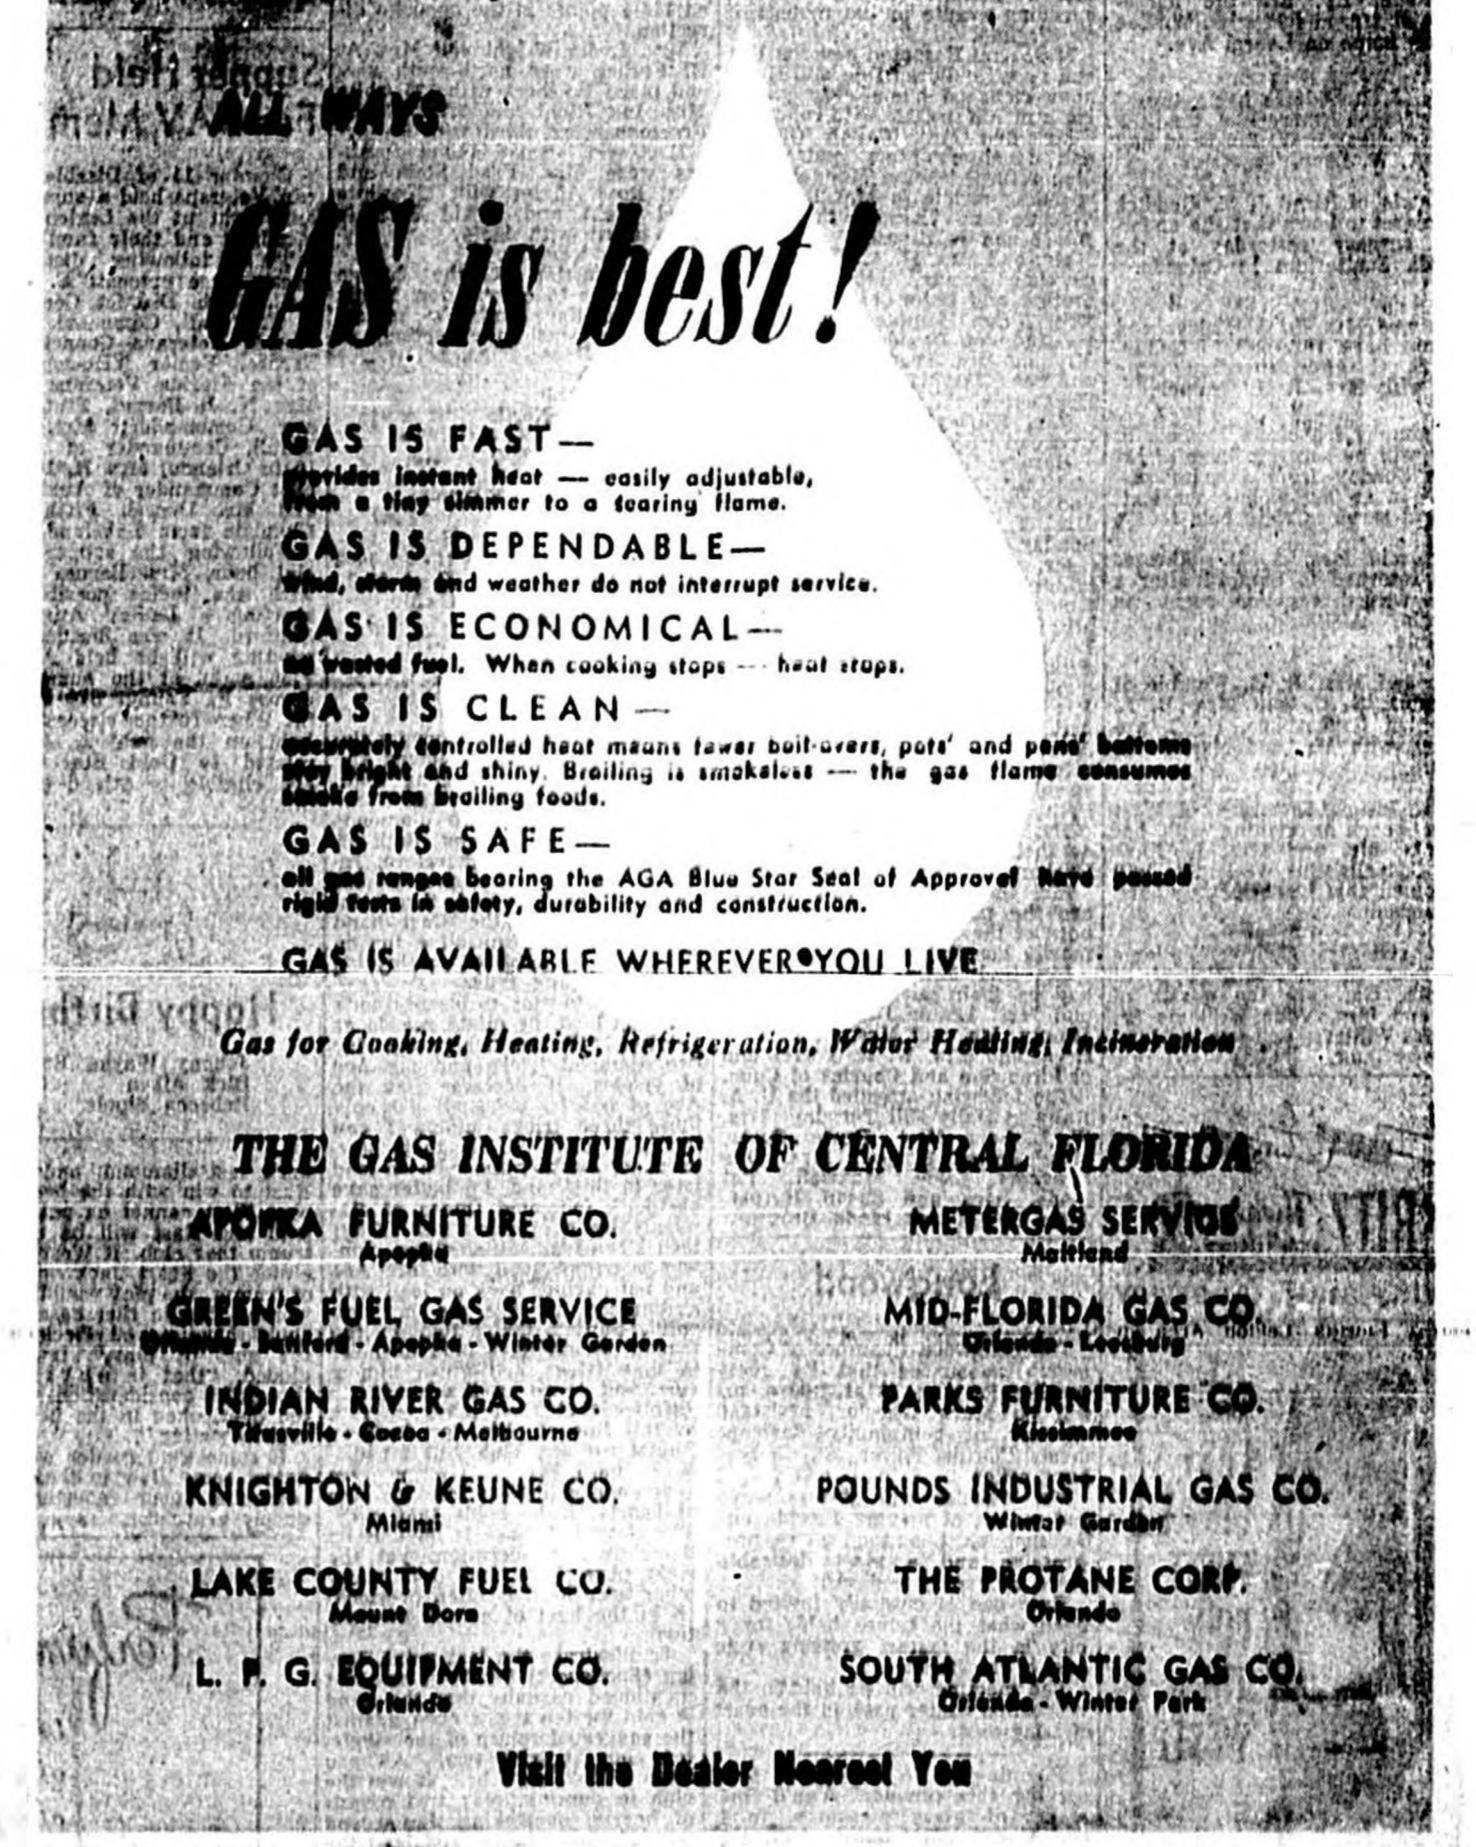

Termites can live on wood because bacteria living in their intestines digest it.

GAS is best!

GAS IS FAST —
Provides instant heat — easily adjustable, from a tiny simmer to a searing flame.

GAS IS DEPENDABLE —
Wind, storm and weather do not interrupt service.

GAS IS ECONOMICAL —
No wasted fuel. When cooking stops — heat stops.

GAS IS CLEAN —
Constantly controlled heat means fewer built-up soot, pots and pans, bottoms stay bright and shiny. Broiling is smokeless — the gas flame consumes smoke from broiling foods.

GAS IS SAFE —
All gas ranges bearing the AGA Blue Star Seal of Approval have passed rigid tests in safety, durability and construction.

"Whiz Kids" Play St. Pete Again This Afternoon

Sanford Stuns Vero Beach, 8-1, On Jim Hawkins' Four-Hitter

CLEARWATER (Special)—After losing its first Legion game of the year to St. Petersburg Tuesday, 12-1, Sanford's Junior Legion "Whiz Kids" came roaring back yesterday to overwhelm Vero Beach, 8-1, in the American Junior Legion Area Tournament, to gain a semi-finalist berth with St. Petersburg.

The "Whiz Kids" backed up Jimmy Hawkins' nifty four-hit pitching with a solid eight-hit attack. Hawkins fanned only one batter, but his control was so good that he didn't issue a pass and had the Indian River boys hitting the ball on the ground and popping up all morning.

The victory eliminated Vero Beach from the tourney, since they have lost twice in the double-elimination meet, having dropped the opener to Avon Park on Tuesday, 7-1.

Sanford battles St. Petersburg this afternoon at 3:00 o'clock. If Sanford loses, they will be out of the tournament, or if St. Pete is defeated, they will be dropped from further touring.

Manager Al McMullan will pitch Junior Meets in today's game against St. Petersburg. McMullan could have used either Jimmy Kridler or southpaw Ed "Free Wee" McCall, but both were treated rather roughly in St. Pete's 12-1 win over the Seminole Counties in the opener last Tuesday.

Big Bubba Bisbee was the "howling howler" in Sanford's victory yesterday. The left-handed first sucker smashed across three Sanford runs and thrilled the crowd with a booming homer over the rightfield fence with one man on base.

Catcher Johnny Jones bashed out a double and single in three trips to back up Bisbee's hitting onslaught for the "Whiz Kids".

Today's important door-clash will pit St. Pete's Sonny Stull against Junior Meets, who normally plays third base for Sanford. Stull set the Campbell-Loring boys down in effortless style last Tuesday on a five-hit one-run stilt.

Pro Vs. Duffer

It's difficult to understand why average golfers have trouble in sand traps. Since the invention of the wedge, more commonly known as the sand blaster, the game is much simpler.

The wedge is the easiest club in the bag to use.

There are several ways to play out of a trap. The explosion shot is the best way out.

The proper way is to use an open stance and play the ball off the inside of the left heel. Keep the club face as open as possible so that you can get height which is important in coming out of traps.

Above all, the shot should be made with a long backswing and a complete follow through. There is no stopping on this shot.

You must hit behind the ball. How far back depends on the texture of the sand. If it's dry hit about two inches in back of the ball. If the sand is wet or heavy you must hit closer to the ball to get an easy follow through.

The wedge is not a force shot. It must be a slow action with loose arms and wrists. Keep your elbow relaxed and let the club face do the work.

Jimmy Jones

The winner plays Avon Park Friday afternoon for the title. Since Avon Park is undefeated, they must be whipped twice by either St. Pete or Vero Beach. Avon Park needs only to win Friday to earn the right to represent the Central Florida Legion Area in the state finale at Wauchula, Aug. 30.

In order for Sanford to gain the state finale in Wauchula they must beat St. Pete this afternoon, whip Avon Park tomorrow and again on Saturday.

The state tourney opens in Wauchula next Monday. The winner of the state will then go to the Southeastern state regional at a site to be designated later.

Avon Park Defeats St. Pete

CLEARWATER (Special)—With Kenny Wayne (Name) Elder striking his second victory in as many days, Avon Park's Post 69 defeated St. Petersburg Post 14, 6 to 1, to become the only undefeated team in the Central Area Junior American Legion baseball tournament here today.

Elder, who many spectators called a "junior" Curt Simmons, was effective when it counted today as he set the St. Petersburg batsmen down with four scattered singles. He struck out seven, giving him a two-day total of 17 strikeouts in the tournament.

Earlier in the day, Sanford Post 55 eliminated Vero Beach Post 39 from the tournament, 8 to 1, behind Jim Hawkins' steady four-hit pitching and the heavy hitting of First Baseman Bubba Bisbee.

Sanford and St. Petersburg will meet there Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the losers' bracket finale of the double-elimination meet. Both teams have lost once in the tourney. Sanford dropped to St. Petersburg Tuesday while Post 14's loss to Avon Park yesterday was its first.

Winner of the Sanford - St. Petersburg game will play Avon Park tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Should Avon Park lose that one, it will be necessary to play a second game Saturday afternoon. The meet's champion will represent the Central Area in the state tournament at Wauchula Aug. 30.

Singles by Glen Harper and Jim Waldron, combined with an error and a base on balls, gave Avon Park a 2-0 lead in the first inning of its encounter with St. Petersburg.

Post 14 came back with a single tally in the bottom of the first on

John O'Hearn's single, a walk and an error.

Then the roof fell in on St. Petersburg and pitcher Gordon MacKenzie as the Polk County nine made four runs on five Post 14 errors, a walk and three infield outs. MacKenzie gave way to Eddie Koslow, who set the Avon Park team down without a hit for the last six frames.

Avon Park Coach Guy Garrett, asked about using Elder on the mound for the second day in a row, said "He's all we've got. We'll probably use him Friday, too."

If there was any strain on Elder with so little rest, he failed to show it. He exhibited near-perfect control, issuing only two free passes. His assortment of curves and fast balls had the Pinellas club's batters eating out of his hand.

$30,000 Tam Golf Tourney Opens

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (AP)—A money-hungry horde of 224 golfers limbered up in par-mashing practice and qualifying rounds, lined off over toughened-up Tam O'Shanter today in the start of the $30,000 All American championship.

Three separate tournaments in total will be played in the women's tourney, 34 in the men's amateur and 100 in the men's professional.

The second section of the Tam O'Shanter tournament will begin a week hence. It is tabbed the "World Championship of Golf" with a $30,000 purse distribution.

Both the All-American and "World" competition is for 12 holes of medal play.

Highlighting the All American is the comeback attempt of Babe Zaharias after her cancer operation last April.

Doctors told me I could play but I get tired to quit," said the incomparable 38-year-old Babe who won Tam's "World" women's crown four successive years through 1931.

Leesburg May Sell FSL Franchise To Melbourne Sometime Soon

LEESBURG (Special)—Hope for Leesburg remaining in the Florida State League appeared very slim late yesterday as Owens, Paul and Wendell Husebo indicated that they will sell the franchise to a representative from another city in the next few days.

The Lakes owners did not identify the city which would replace Leesburg during the final month of the season.

However, one close source to the Husebos told the Herald that negotiations were now underway with Melbourne. The East Coast City has been bidding to join the FSL since last winter after spending $75,000 building a new stadium for the New York Giant farm team two years ago.

Wendell Husebo, in explaining the financial plight of the club which may force him and his brother to dispose of the fran-

The recreation program, formerly held at Crown Academy, has been changed to Castle Brewer Playground, it was announced today by T. K. Evans, supervisor. All children between 6 to 13 years of age must register.

There will be plenty of fun for all. The hours are 8:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. on Wednesdays and on Every Wednesday night there will be a dance at the community center. Come out and meet your friends at the Teen Age Ball, Evans urged.

Darlington Track Will Not Install Lights For Labor Day Car Races

DARLINGTON (Special)—The Darlington Raceway board of directors have decided against installing lights on the mile and a half track of this year's "Southern 500" race on Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 7, it was announced by Robert E. Colvin, president of the Raceway.

This means that the 1953 edition of the "Southern 500" will be run as originally scheduled. Race time will be at 11 a. m.

Raceway officials were considering the installation of lights on the track in time for the 600-mile speed classic but several obstacles blocked fulfillment of the proposal at least this year.

Colvin said that the inability to secure an electric power line and the shortage of time before the race prompted the board of directors to delay action on staging the world's largest stock car event of the year.

Another reason the directors voted against the possibility of the race this year was the fact that thousands of tickets have already been sold and people have made plans to attend the race as was first scheduled.

Public sentiment expressed in a flood of letters to the Raceway office favored the proposed switch of the "Southern 500" under the lights. The main objection noted was that many spectators from distant states had to get back to their work the following morning.

"We are still seriously considering the installation of lights on the track, but we will have to wait until next year before it becomes a reality," Colvin pointed out.

Ticket sales are already above those at the same time last year which indicates a sellout before race day. Plenty of good seats are still available and advance ticket orders are being accepted at the Raceway office. General admission tickets will not go on sale until the day of the race.

Chief At Air Station Knows Thrills Of Mountain Driving

By STANLEY BAKER, Ph. D.
How would you feel if you were driving a 41 foot bus 65 MPH down a 10 mile grade in the mountains when the tire blew out? Add to this the fact that on one side of the road there was a 50 foot drop down to a river and besides this your wife and four children are riding in the bus with you.

Chief Robert Harvey, who is now chief-in-charge of the Hobby Shop at the Naval Auxiliary Air Station, admits that he was just about the shakiest man alive when this happened to him last year in the Cascade Mountains in the state of Washington.

By now you are probably wondering just what a Navy chief was doing driving a bus there in the first place. It all came about while Chief Harvey was stationed at the Naval Air Station, Whidbey Island, Washington and got his transfer orders to Sanford, Hawaii previously made two trips across country by car with two children he knew that it would be even worse with a 1000 lb. load on the bus. "I had the receipt for the new 1952 tag in my pocket during the entire trip though," said the chief.

It would have plenty of room and it would make the trip more comfortable. A bus 41 feet long and eight feet wide, the maximum width allowed, was decided on and then the seats were taken out. "Then," the chief says, "we moved our furniture in and started enjoying ourselves."

The only major trouble encountered on the 1500 mile trip to Sanford was the tire blowout which also caused all the food to come tumbling out of the refrigerator when Harvey steered the bus into an embankment in preference to the long drop into the river.

Some minor trouble was experienced, however, when he found the bus was too long for a curve on a road in the West Virginia mountains and he had to back up twice and try again before he finally got the bus around the curve.

The trip, which took 23 days, with a two week stopover in Ohio for a visit with relatives, was made with a 1952 license plate on the bus. "I had the receipt for the new 1952 tag in my pocket during the entire trip though," said the chief.

After the family arrived in Sanford they continued to live in the bus and in March of this year Chief Harvey started building a two bedroom house at 27th St. and Myrtle Ave. by himself. This house building wouldn't be done except for one thing: this is the first building project unless you count a garage he once built.

This house is nearly completed now and he expects to have his family fully moved in by the last of the year. In the meantime they are living in both the bus and the house. As he completes a room in the house the family moves into it.

"Why pass somebody else to make mistakes, when I can do that myself and a lot cheaper too. Besides, that is what moulding and baseboard is for: to cover up mistakes," said the chief in commenting on his own building project.

Chief Harvey commended up both his bus driving and house building adventures in one statement when he said: "anybody can lead a dull life but my family isn't like that—we like to do things different."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF
TWO LADY GOSSIP COLUMNISTS who detest each other met at a Hollywood fashion show. One whispered to a friend (it could be heard throughout the salon): "I wish he'd whip up a new number for my friend over there. I'd rather like to see her in something flowing—a river, for example."

The conservative head of a famed old factory bought, with considerable misgivings, a brand new labor-saving machine at a New York trade show, but shortly after it was installed it went awry. "I knew it," grumbled the owner and phoned for somebody to come and fix the machine at once—or else.

The next day he was on long distance again, thundering, "What's the idea of sending me a young squirt? I demand a more experienced mechanic." "Better stick to the fellow we sent," he was advised. "He invented the machine."

Public Health Service Announces National GG Research Survey

By FRANK CAREY, AP Science Reporter
WASHINGTON—The Public Health Service announced today the launching of "a nationwide cooperative research effort to evaluate the use of gamma globulin against poliomyelitis."

But a health service official said in an interview the studies are expected to show only to what extent gamma globulin can reduce the severity of paralysis in persons who have been inoculated with the material but still come down with polio.

The official, Dr. David Price, assistant surgeon general, said it was not expected that the studies would demonstrate any evidence one way or the other as to whether use of gamma globulin has been effective in reducing the number of polio cases which might otherwise have occurred.

Gamma globulin, the blood derivative which the health service said "was shown in tests last year to have some temporary effects in modifying or preventing the paralysis of polio."

It has been put into rather extensive use for the first time this year.

Army Testing Egg Preserving Storage Method

WASHINGTON—The Army and the Agriculture Department are having a packing company test a process for preserving whole eggs in the shell longer than with present methods.

An Army spokesman said today a new system now being tried out involves dipping the eggs for about 15 minutes in mineral oil which has been heated to 132 degrees Fahrenheit.

With this method, the departments hope eggs may be kept fresh from 10 to 12 months instead of the present 6 months. The present storage method also involves dipping the eggs in oil, but until now the oil has been unheated.

In either method, the eggs must be kept under refrigeration after treatment.

The study is being made by the Washington, Minn., branch of Swift & Co. About 50,000 eggs are being processed in the experiment.

Florida Senators Among Top Three Duty Democrats

WASHINGTON—Florida's Senators Spessard Holland and George Smathers were among the top three Democrats in their attention to duty during the first session of the 87th Congress.

This was reported by Congressional Quarterly, the news bureau devoted exclusively to reporting on Congress, in its summary of activities for the first six months of 1963. Records were compiled as Congress moved toward adjournment.

Smathers and Holland were recorded in action 98 per cent of the time. Only one other Democratic Senator (Ivey, of North Carolina) had a higher batting average, along with four Republicans.

The Florida Senator's 98 per cent "batting average" gave them a second place in the entire nation for hard-working Senators. Only Maine senators appeared on a more roll call. Southern state senators have the highest regional average—87 per cent.

Congressional Quarterly reported that voting participation scores in the 87th Congress are five per cent above those for the 86th Congress.

The Smathers-Holland record was far above the senate average of 83, and still further above the Democratic average of 82. Republican scores were 77 per cent.

The record does not take into account the "pairs" arranged by senators during the session to accommodate an absent colleague. When "pairing" is arranged, a senator on the floor explains his absence to his colleagues and that their opposing votes cancel each other.

Bigamist Has Quick Answer

DETROIT—Clarence E. Gray, 29, was arraigned on a charge of bigamy before a justice of the peace in suburban West Bloomfield Township yesterday.

Yes, he said, he had married his second wife without divorcing his first. But he pleaded innocent. "I don't need a divorce," he said indignantly. "Look, it says right here on the marriage license, 'Void after two years.'"

Nimitz' Daughter

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Miss Mary Meason Nimitz, 31, daughter of Fleet Admiral and Mrs. Chester W. Nimitz (ret.), will enter the Dominican convent at San Rafael Saturday with the intention of becoming a Catholic nun.

Her family is Protestant.

Go, Go, Go

PHILADELPHIA—A truck traveling through Philadelphia today had these home-age nesting instructions printed on the tail gate:

Small Group Blocked Two Party System

Senator George Smathers, apparent winner in an eleventh-hour Senate floor fight to have the trip-leasing privileges for Florida truckers of fresh fruits and vegetables, expressed confidence today that the Interstate Commerce Commission now will not outlaw such practices.

Smathers classed as a "raid upon the stability of the citrus and vegetable industries (which already have problems enough)" an ICC order, scheduled to go into effect Sept. 1, which would bar fruit and vegetable truckers from leasing their trucks for the return trip to Florida.

"This order would double the shipping cost for Florida farmers and not only increase the price of fruits and vegetables in northern consumers but actually make the cost of these products prohibitive to many," Smathers asserted.

If present practices are interrupted, the haulers of fruits and vegetables from southern production to markets in the north will be able to carry a pay load one way, and will be required to return south empty.

The measure to set aside the ICC (IR 3203) passed the House several weeks ago but the House bill and similar senate legislation (S. 925) has been pending in a subcommittee of the Interstate and Foreign Commerce committee. Facing adjournment of Congress with the measure still bottled up in committee, Smathers brought it to the floor unexpectedly and offered it as an amendment to the family relief bill, which would authorize the President to ship surplus food products to relieve hunger abroad.

After a heated debate between Smathers on one side and Senators Ed Johnson (D-Cal.) and John Bricker (R-Ohio), it became apparent that there was considerable sentiment in the senate in favor of the trip-leasing bill.

The Smathers amendment had the effect of bringing the issue to the floor and forcing an expression designed to force postponement of the ICC of the effectiveness of his Sept. 1 order.

Senator Aiken (R-Vt.) chairman of the committee on agriculture, finally took the floor to propose that his committee meet to consider a quick resolution asking ICC to withhold the order until the Senate can dispose of the measure next year.

Smathers, stating that Majority Leader Knowland "has indicated he will give kindly consideration to this legislation," then withdrew his amendment.

Suit Filed For Pregnant Animal

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—A $1,200 damage suit was filed in municipal court for injuries suffered by a pregnant chinchilla in a three-auto accident last August.

Charging the other two drivers with negligence, Mrs. Alice Johnson said a chinchilla she was driving to her boarding wash near Santa Cruz suffered lacerations and severe shock, lost the sight of one eye, gave premature birth to four young which later died, stopped producing milk and has not borne another litter.

Promise Is Kept

DENVER—When concert pianist Jascha Heifetz makes a promise, he keeps it.

Soprano promised Denver Symphony Orchestra conductor Saul Caston he would play with the orchestra "any time."

Caston asked him to play tomorrow night.

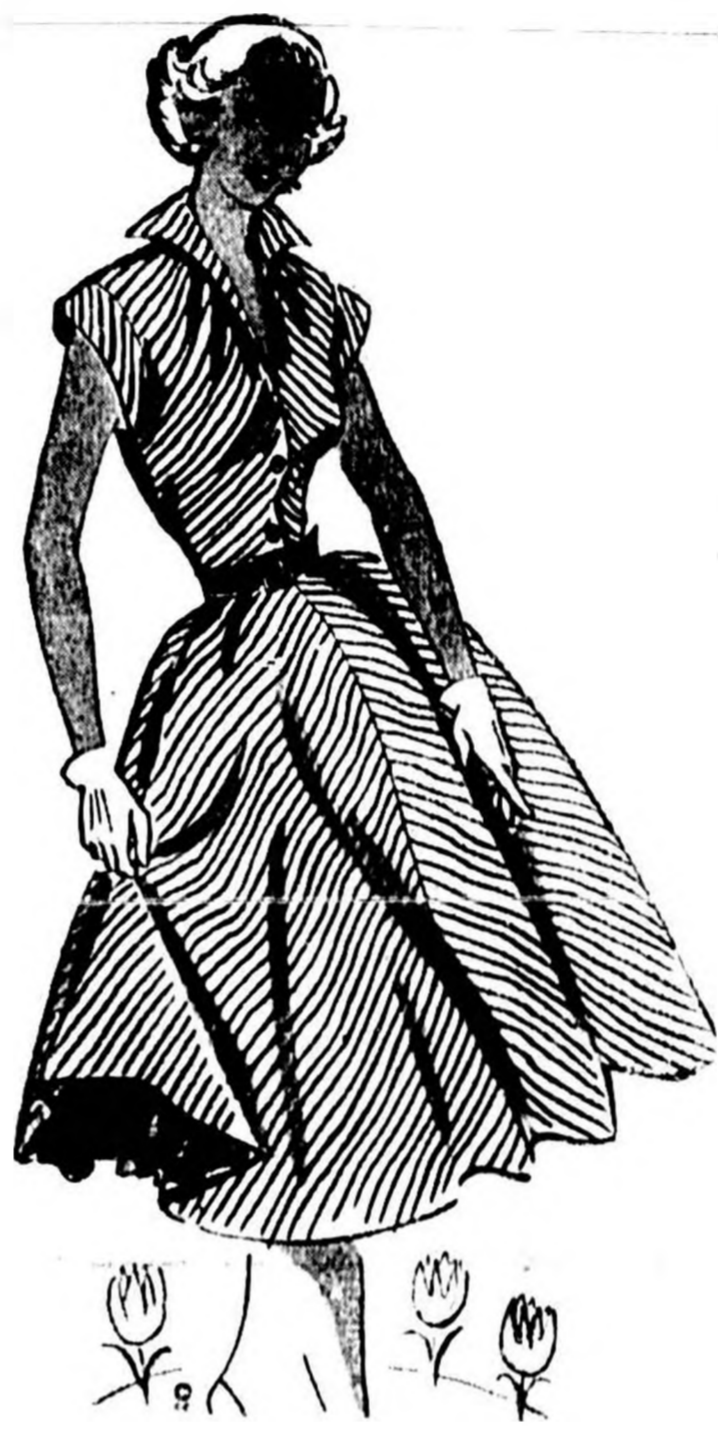

Soprano flew 3,100 miles from his home in San Juan, P. R., to fill the engagement.

"Mr. Caston asked me," he said simply, "so I come."

U. S. Nears Major Output Of Hydrogen Bomb Materials

Nation Working Toward Super Atomic Sub

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States announced today it was now producing "first major production" of materials for hydrogen bombs, and said that in the first half of 1953 development of atomic weapons has "substantially advanced."

It said more fissionable material, the stuff which produces the explosive power of a bomb, was produced than in any previous half year.

The government announced also that it is working toward development of a super speed atomic powered submarine even before tests have been run on a ship now nearing completion and rated potentially faster than ordinary submarines.

The Atomic Energy Commission, which runs the atomic program, said in its semi-annual report to Congress that last spring's weapons tests in Nevada disclosed such valuable information that it will not be necessary to hold full scale tests there this fall as originally planned.

Those tests, the commission said, indicated "several very profitable avenues to new and improved weapons" which would afford "the opportunity of substantially greater atomic weapons capability for the United States."

It said the last of the 11 shots in the spring series, a detonation rated by observers as the most powerful yet set off in this country, had "substantiated the necessity of a full scale test series originally planned in Nevada for the fall of 1953."

While further reference to the power of the 11th shot, the commission said it "emphasized the value of the continental test site which it permitted the shot to be scheduled, fired and data returned to the laboratory all within the space of one month, thus enhancing the speed of weapon development activities."

"Research continued to be directed at improvement of current weapon models and the development of new models to meet the requirements of the armed forces," the AEC report added.

The AEC also told Congress that new facilities have entered the production stream. These include a new plant at Fernald, Ohio, for processing uranium ore; portions of new plants at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Paducah, Ky., for separating bomb-useful uranium from uranium as it occurs in nature; and supporting facilities for the plant at Savannah, Ga., where materials for either A-bombs or H-bombs will be made.

Regarding the latter plant, the AEC said that "some of the supporting facilities at Savannah are already in operation, providing materials for start-up of the first major production units at that site."

The AEC indicated that it had dropped previous plans to develop an atomic engine for use in a large surface vessel—such as an aircraft carrier—but the commission said the design that had been under consideration "also has promise for central station power" for industrial use.

Feature Writer Found It Equally Hard Getting In And Out Of Russia

By EDDY GILMORE

PARIS (AP)—Getting into Russia can sometimes be more difficult than getting out.

Russia was far from my thoughts that June morning in bomb-blasted Chelsea, London, where I was living in 1941. The telephone, Eddie the book began that English double ring, and it was the Russian voice of an emigre Russian girl that told me of the German invasion of the Soviet Union.

"Hitler's snobism," she said in that curious, melodious voice that I was to hear so many times later in the USSR, "was drobnik drobnik, all avash lezle modda flozhdia."

This was all very hard to hear at 6 a. m., British double day light time.

"What are you doing?" I asked, "drinking vodka at this hour of the night?"

After quite a few more questions I realized Hitler had at last marched against Stalin. In no time at all the Associated Press ordered me to the Soviet Union.

I traveled to the Soviet embassy confident they would be delighted to hand me a visa to go help report the Russian war effort to the outside world. How extremely wrong I was. They never heard of me. They said the visa would take time.

It did, too, but early in October we were sailing the Arctic Ocean above the Arctic Circle in a British convoy for Archangel.

Every day German planes would come out and look at us, but we would look back and pray they would do no more than that. All they did do. We were loaded with tanks and hurricane planes. The Russian front was falling apart and military experts all over the world were predicting the Germans would occupy Moscow in weeks. The Soviet capital was being bombed, was already being evacuated.

A grim outlook and made dinner by events in Archangel. The Russian authorities there had never heard of us (five correspondents, three American, one English and one Australian, with two RAF officers). They wouldn't even let us off the boat. Then one morning I saw a smartly dressed RAF officer walking along the quay, looking up at the ship.

"Good morning," he said brightly, and those words never sounded nicer.

The officer turned out to be group captain, later air commander Ivor Blair, and later to die in Moscow. We told him our plight and he began to "deal with it," as the British say. In a few hours we were at least allowed off the ship.

We crossed the Dvina, already freezing, in a small boat and spent the day trying to find a Russian with authority to let us on to Moscow. Disillusioned, we started back across the Dvina to our ship. We used an Archangel ferry for this ride through the ice and it brought me in close contact with Russians in mass for the first time.

The pilot of the wood-burning ferry showed utter disregard for the big ice blocks. When the ferry

Long Lectures Are Banned

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Prolonged lectures to attending motorists by traffic officers were banned yesterday by the Los Angeles police commission.

It put a 10-minute limit on the writing of traffic citations.

John J. Irwin, president of the newly named commission, said it has had many complaints that motorists have been subjected to undue delay by arresting officers.

"The public should not be harassed," he said.

This deluge of calls was brought about through the first use of gamma globulin in the county at the Roger Jimmes residence, three miles west of Sanford on First St., last Saturday and Monday after one of the children, Ralph, became the first victim to be reported this year in the county.

The use of the serum Saturday exhausted the County supply and gave to the remaining child in the family. The local supply also has been reared.

However, Dr. Quillman explained, gamma globulin is sent to Florida and other states according to the number of cases they've had in the last five years. They (the states) set up the rates and regulations.

Dr. Quillman pointed out that the incidence or percentage of people infected by the disease is extremely low in Florida and in Seminole County. As of July 17,

Gamma Globulin Supply Inadequate For General Use In Seminole County

By JIM FRIEHR

Numerous telephone calls have come into the County Health Unit from anxious mothers who desire to secure polio-fighting gamma globulin shots for their children, according to Dr. Frank Quillman, County Health Officer, but they have been told the supply is too short to allow general use.

This deluge of calls was brought about through the first use of gamma globulin in the county at the Roger Jimmes residence, three miles west of Sanford on First St., last Saturday and Monday after one of the children, Ralph, became the first victim to be reported this year in the county.

Parole Arrives—Convict Has Left

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—William Willis Pollard, 22, won his parole from an 18-month sentence for drunk and reckless driving. But the parole came too late.

The papers arrived at the Johnson County Prison Camp the day after Pollard escaped.

Now the police are looking for him.

Bomb Bay Door

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Glenn L. Martin Company has announced development of a revolutionary bomb bay door designed to make it easier and safer for a bomber to get rid of its explosives.

Bombers are loaded into the door before it is hoisted into the plane. Over target, the door is flipped over a full 180 degrees, the bombs are dropped and the door flipped back again.

Results: no open bomb bay doors to cut down the plane's speed.

The door is being used in the company's new XB-51 three-jet tactical bomber.

2 Firemen Killed In Houston Crash

HOUSTON (AP)—Two firemen were killed and at least seven injured here last night when a lumber and ladder truck collided in the downtown area.

Both fire trucks were answering an alarm that proved false.

The dead were Joseph J. Rolito, 36, driver, and Fidel Casabola, 36, hoseman.

Although the cause, or dipper bird, lies unclear, it is not shy around people.

Glamorous Monte Carlo On Verge Of Getting Major Face-Lifting

By JOHN RODERICK
MONTÉ CARLO—A self-made Greek multi-millionaire with an Argentine passport is on the verge of bringing to her financial knees the world's most famous gambling city.

Onassis, 47-year-old shipowner, proposes to transform the tiny country, whose principal claim to fame is an unprofitable, white-tie gambling hell into a modern Riviera resort and tourist attraction.

Monte Carlo—scene of a thousand romantic plots and playground of royalty—has been sinking deeper and deeper into chronic financial invalidism through two wars.

World War I destroyed great fortunes and dispersed a whole generation of free-spending continental playboys. A hard-pressed French government ousted Monte Carlo's monopoly on roulette wheels—and the famed casino's profits plummeted 50 per cent. With World War II came the coup de grace. For one thing, it brought to her financial knees the world's most famous gambling city.

Onassis, 47-year-old shipowner, proposes to transform the tiny country, whose principal claim to fame is an unprofitable, white-tie gambling hell into a modern Riviera resort and tourist attraction.

Monte Carlo—scene of a thousand romantic plots and playground of royalty—has been sinking deeper and deeper into chronic financial invalidism through two wars.

World War I destroyed great fortunes and dispersed a whole generation of free-spending continental playboys. A hard-pressed French government ousted Monte Carlo's monopoly on roulette wheels—and the famed casino's months. That was when Onassis strayed into the situation.

The wealthy, handsome millionaire just wanted a convenient headquarters for his numerous yachting interests. Monaco was the ideal location, and the old sports building was perfect for his needs. But he couldn't seem to make a deal with the Societe des Bains de Mer et Cercle des Etrangers, which controls most of the important real estate of the principality, including the 75-year-old casino.

So Onassis, using dummies and associates, quietly bought a controlling interest in the company. It cost him a million dollars.

After that, he developed a friendship with Monaco's young ruler, Rainier III, who was frankly surprised about this once formal dress traditionally are permitted within the sanctum.

Dropping dress standards would symbolize the real end of a Monte Carlo era.

"We want, first of all, to destroy the legend that Monte Carlo is solely a gambling city," he says. "I propose to form a hotel company—a public utility—and to prove the broad harbor."

To attract yachts and pleasure craft, he proposes construction of a huge dock, costing several million dollars.

Onassis isn't telegraphing his rehabilitation plan, but the word is out he is interested in building an immense sand beach on the Mediterranean shore. Riviera beaches are rocky strands.

The real shocker, however, is a rumor he is considering permitting persons to enter the gambling rooms in shorts. Only persons in formal dress traditionally are permitted within the sanctum.

Dropping dress standards would symbolize the real end of a Monte Carlo era.

First Minister To Be Subpoenaed Takes Stand Today

WASHINGTON—The first minister to be subpoenaed by the House American Activities Committee, the Rev. Jack McMichael, today took the stand to testify to the committee's charges that he was a Communist.

In talking with newsmen last week, McMichael denied the accusations.

The 36-year-old Methodist clergyman faced questioning based on secret two weeks ago in New York and made public last week while questioning Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of Washington, D. C.

McMichael came armed with a vote of confidence from his United Lake, Calif. congregation of the support of the Methodist Ecumenical Social Action, an unofficial group of Methodist ministers and laymen for whom he once served as executive secretary.

The names of McMichael and Dr. Harry F. Ward, one-time teacher at Union Theological Seminary, New York, came up during the Oxnam hearing.

St. Valentine's Day Massacre Touched Off Explosion

By EARL AYKROID
CHICAGO—It was St. Valentine's day, 1929, and the city was in a state of confusion.

Police never cracked the case. But the hot lead pointed in Chicago St. Valentine's Day massacre touched off a civic explosion which ultimately jelled Al Capone and a number of his henchmen.

Chicago in those prohibition days was a wild, open city. Gambling, prostitution, and racketeering were rampant. A bloody game as the public threat for both a game and a racketeer.

At that time a few months before the stock market was to crash, control of the rich old city market had literally been held by bullets to two powerful racketeers, Al Capone and his brother, and George (Boss) Moran and his brother.

On that day of living, sentiment a few of Moran's faction were sitting around talking casually.

Present were the three brothers, Pete and Frank, and another tough, made a man who brought along a Chicago doctor, Dr. Richard Schumacher, who was licensed by a doctor and a nurse.

Police reconstructing the bloody events of the day, the bodies in the garage had been scattered for weeks from a rooming house across the street.

standers thought was a police squad that pulled up in front of the garage. Four men got out of the squad car.
