Commission Expected To Decide On New Buses

By ED PRICKETT Herald Staff Writer. The Seminole County Commission is expected to decide Tuesday whether four new buses will run next year in Sanford and South Seminole County.

Castro Branded 'Outlaw'

Presidential Hopefuls Eye Florida Race

MIAMI (AP)—President Ford headed into Florida Saturday for a second swing through the state to beef up his presidential campaign less than two weeks before his March 9 show-up against Ronald Reagan.

Reagan's campaign managers had claimed he will swamp Ford in Florida, but have backed off from saying the former California governor will win 2 to 1. Ford's aides contend that a Ford win will effectively oust Reagan from the race for the Republican presidential nomination.

On the Democratic side, Alabama Gov. George Wallace, considered the front runner among 12 candidates on the primary ballot, was to go to the Swamp Cabbage Festival in LaBelle and then a Speckled Perch Festival in nearby Okechoke.

His chief opponent, former Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter, had appearances set in Miami and Hollywood while Pennsylvania Gov. Milton Shapp stumped Friday in Palm Beach.

NATION IN BRIEF

High Court Gives Congress 20 Days to Change Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court says Congress can take 20 more days to change the makeup of the Federal Election Commission, ending the threat of an immediate cutoff of federal funds for presidential candidates.

The FEC had been scheduled to hold its final meeting Sunday to dispense some $1.5 million to presidential candidates only hours before a court deadline that would have stripped the panel of its powers.

But the Supreme Court decided on Friday to give Congress 20 more days to pass legislation that would renew the FEC's power and make it constitutionally acceptable to the court.

The court ruled last month that the commission was not properly constituted because the President and not Congress should have sole power to appoint its members.

The court told Congress it would have to restructure the FEC or put the panel out of business.

Lindbergh Estate Claimed

HONOLULU (AP) — A factory worker from Maine says he is the son of Charles A. Lindbergh kidnapped 44 years ago and can prove it in court.

His story is true, it means Bruno Hauptmann, electrocuted in 1936 after one of the most celebrated trials of the century, was executed for a murder that may not have been committed.

Laywers for Kenneth W. Kerwin filed a petition in Circuit Court this week in Maui Island, where Lindbergh died in 1974 and where his estate is in probate. The brief petition asks that Kerwin be declared one of the aviator's heirs.

IRS Changes Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service, seeking to rein in "overzealous" tax collectors, says it will be quicker to listen and slower to act in dealing with citizens whose taxes are overdue.

An IRS official said Friday the IRS is modifying its attitudes and procedures. For instance, agents are now being told "taxpayers are not to be prejudged as evaders" since special circumstances may have caused their tax delinquency.

When the IRS feels it is forced to act, a special "management review" by the IRS will be required before it sues a personal residence and before it imposes levies against a worker's salary.

Chicago Warms Up

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

For the first time on record, Chicago's temperature on a day in February rose above 70 degrees.

The National Weather Service said the temperature Friday hit 75 degrees at 1:20 p.m. at Midway Airport. The previous record high for a Feb. 27 in the Windy City was 52 degrees set in 1896.

The coldest was a 69 degree reading on Feb. 15, 1864.

"To be residents here, the people have to be able to take care of themselves in total and everyone here is potentially liable to become helpless. While they are here somehow or other we try to provide for them when they become ill. But, sometimes we just cannot.

"There is a great number whose income is hardly adequate for support and many get outside assistance from their families. We have a close and intimate knowledge of the financial affairs of all our people," the administrator said, admitting some of the tenants are having a rough time financially.

For those having a particularly tough time, he said, a subsidy fund to help out with rent has been set up and is gradually increasing, Connelly said.

In the meantime, those tenants who have been having a tough time financially can expect things to get tighter. Rents on apartments at the Towers were raised in November and another increase will be leveled as soon as the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development approves.

"It seems like the people were hit in the stomach in November and as they are recovering we are giving them an uppercut to the jaw," Connelly said.

"But no one has told me yet how to manage without more money. No one has yet told me what to use for money to pay bills except money and we have no place to get money, r' kept from me," he said.

Psychiatrist Relates Tale Of Abuse

Patty Spent 'Blank Year' In Training

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Patricia Hearst, who refused to testify about a year in her underground journey, spent at least part of it in Sacramento engaging in "struggle sessions" with terrorists she feared, a psychiatrist says.

Miss Hearst, whose bank robbery trial here enters its sixth week Monday, told Dr. Robert J. Lifton she was often verbally criticized and physically assaulted when her enthusiasm for regular military drills slackened off, Lifton testified Friday.

It was the first time in her trial that the jurors were offered sketchy details of the "blank" year and the fact she was in California's capital city, 80 miles east of here.

Lifton was the last of three psychiatrists called by defense attorney F. Lee Bailey to buttress the defendant's story that she was an unwilling participant in the 1974 bank robbery. The prosecution has contended Miss Hearst was a convert to terrorism.

Lifton agreed with Drs. L.J. West and Martin Orin, who testified earlier that Miss Hearst was suffering from a "traumatic neurosis" triggered by her kidnapping and her terror of the SLA and the FBI.

Bailey, meanwhile, told U.S. Dist. Judge Oliver J. Carter that he was nearing the end of his presentation and the defense likely will rest Monday.

The prosecution has repeatedly attempted to interrupt details of the "blank" year into the trial and had been rebuffed at every turn, most dramatically by Miss Hearst herself, who invoked the Fifth Amendment 42 times last week without answer questions relating to that period.

Lifton, a Yale University expert on coercive persuasion, said Symbionese Liberation Army members William and Emily Harris drilled Miss Hearst regularly on military tactics and physical conditioning, accompanying the drills with taunts and abuse.

He said Miss Hearst told him during 17 hours of interviews earlier this year that she was "frequently criticized by the HARRISes. They were pretty rude to her, hitting her in the eye and so on, during these struggle sessions."

Under cross-examination by Asst. U.S. Atty. David Bancroft, the psychiatrist said the only persons she ever mentioned knowing during that year were the HARRISes and Wendy Yoshimura, a Japanese-American artist who was living with Miss Hearst when she was arrested Sept. 18, 1974.

Bayh Says He Acts Like A Republican

BOSTON (AP) — Jimmy Carter has defended himself against attacks from the Democratic presidential nomination, chiding his critics and declaring he won't reply to them in kind.

Sen. Birch Bayh of Indiana was among the most vocal of Carter's critics Friday, accusing the former Georgia governor of talking and acting like a Republican on jobs, the union shop and other issues.

Both were in Massachusetts in the race for votes in next Tuesday's primary election.

President Ford, meanwhile, prepared to take his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination to Florida Saturday for a second swing through the state in advance of the March 9 primary there.

Ford's wife, Betty, has been hectoring through Florida on her own and planned to join the President in Miami for a naturalization ceremony.

Former California Gov. Ronald Reagan, Ford's challenger, was in Tampa and San City, Fla. Friday and lined up campaign appearances in Polk County and Jacksonville Saturday.

The Florida election is the second major primary test between Ford and Reagan. The President finished with 31 per cent of the vote in New Hampshire's primary election last Tuesday to 49 per cent for the challenger.

Democrats in Oklahoma were to meet in county caucuses Saturday to continue the selection of national convention delegates. Carter held a slight edge after earlier precinct meetings.

In South Carolina, the selection process was scheduled to begin Saturday with precinct-level caucuses. The meetings were viewed as a key confrontation in the South, before the Florida primary, between Carter and Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace.

Carter was due in Miami Saturday while Wallace, considered a front-runner in Florida, continued a campaign drive in LaBelle and nearby Okechoke.

Several of the other Democrats remained in Massachusetts.

Bayh finished third there, behind Carter and Arizona Rep. Morris Udall. After the New Hampshire primary, Udall said after the votes were in that he hoped to emerge from Massachusetts as "the clear leader of the progressive forces."

That group clearly includes Bayh.

Carter, in a four-hour swing through Massachusetts Friday, called the recent attacks on him "distortions of the truth."

He said he has nothing against his opponents and refused to be categorized as liberal or conservative. The public, he said, is "sick and tired of constant squabbling among those who profess to lead the country.... So I don't intend to respond in any personal way against those who might have had things to say about me."

Bayh, at a news conference, said a survey by the citizen lobby on the Common Cause showed Carter held no position on 14 of 26 issues covering various aspects of the economy.

"Jimmy Carter has certainly had to answer questions on those subjects during his campaign, but obviously those answers were sufficiently vague to keep him off the record with Common Cause. Perhaps that is the way he wants it," Bayh said.

Carter wasn't Bayh's only target. The Indiana senator also attacked Washington Sen. Henry M. Jackson, who is making his primary debut in Massachusetts, arguing Jackson has "demagogued" the issue of forced busing of school children for racial integration.

Also in Sanford, Willie May Lucas, 504 East Fifth Street, told police Friday that her home was entered some time between Thursday night and Friday morning.

The woman reportedly told police a brown paper bag containing $200 in cash, and a chrome-plated .22 caliber revolver were taken while she was away from her home Thursday night.

Lucas said she was "disturbed" by the break-in.

Guide Provides Advice For Would-Be Candidates

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new "how-to" guide for women considering running for public office offers tips for potential candidates, including a suggestion that young children not be too visible during the campaign.

"They may bring to voters' minds strong feelings that the candidate belongs at home," the pamphlet states.

Sponsored by the National Federation of Republican Women, the 71-page guide is a collection of practical advice for would-be female candidates. Except for promoting several prominent GOP women and a few final pages pushing the Republican party, the book's suggestions apparently could be used by women of any political persuasion.

Written by Sally Goodyear Siddon, a freelance writer from Alexandria, Va., the guide states that women often have more trouble running for office than men.

The reason?

Women often feel they have to be more successful than men, more responsible, more dedicated and more moral, the guide suggests.

The author reports the most common complaint of women running for office is the difficulty of raising money. She poses some questions to be answered before a woman declares her candidacy, such as "Who can you expect to contribute?" and "Who is the most effective fundraiser you know?"

In a chapter on the husband and the family, the guide suggests the potential candidate make sure she has her family's support. "It could be deadly for a candidate to tell people how supportive her husband is — only to find him telling people that her campaign is upsetting his whole life."

The potential candidate should undertake some kind of self-analysis, the guide suggests. Consider whether you are able to meet people easily; whether you are a good public speaker; whether your appearance is all it should be; whether your health is good; whether your personal finances are in order; whether your background bears scrutiny."

Mrs. Siddon, who federation officers say has not run for public office, also offers advice on getting legal counsel, volunteers, public relations and, finally, votes.

"Don't get carried away with trying to educate voters," she writes. "Concentrate on winning their support.... Concentrate on giving an impression of confidence, even if you are scared to death."

Taxi Driver Hurt By Rifle Blasts

By AUDIE MURPHY Herald Staff Writer

Sanford Police detectives Saturday were investigating a shooting incident involving a taxi driver who was shot and injured by two men with rifles.

Ken Goshora, 27, 1406 Titon Drive, Casselberry, told police he answered a call at 10:17 p.m. Friday for a taxi at 505 William Clark Court. But when he arrived at the address, Goshora reported, he was informed that the call had not come from that residence.

Thinking it had been a prank call, Goshora reportedly drove away from the area, but stopped his vehicle when he heard a whistle.

Goshora reportedly waited for a man who had whistled at him, thinking the man wanted to hire a taxi.

At this point, according to police reports, Goshora said he was approached by two black males, about 18 or 19 years old, who ordered him to get out of his vehicle.

According to the reports, Goshora at first thought the taxi showed signs of being hit by more than one bullet.

In other reports, two Sanford men were arrested Friday on robbery charges.

Jim Henry Oliver, 19, Box 304, Byrd Avenue, and Bennie Brown Jr., 20, Rt. 2, Box 2125, 22nd Street, were jailed in lieu of $10,000 bond each.

The arrests reportedly were in connection with a series of robberies in the Midway area during the past few months, and authorities reportedly are requesting any persons who think they might have witnessed any of the robberies to contact the Seminole County Sheriff's office.

Judge: No Deals Made For My Son

JACKSONVILLE (AP) — Asst. State Atty. Hank Cox said there was no deal involved when charges of marijuana possession were dropped against a judge's son.

The charge against Mark Santora, 22, was dropped Friday after he pleaded no contest to one drunken driving charge and one charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

"We will do that anytime we get pleas on two DWIs," Cox said.

County Judge Dawson A. McQuail gave Santora a suspended 10-day jail term and fined him $200.

Santora's driver's license was suspended for five years because it was his third conviction of driving while intoxicated.

Families Living On Mines May Double Chance Of Cancer

WINTER HAVEN (AP) — New conclusions about potential radiation hazards shows that families living as little as three years on reclaimed phosphate strip mines may be doubling their chances of contracting lung cancer, officials say.

Polk County Health Director Dr. William S. Hill voiced "cautious concern" Friday following the disclosure by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

A spokesman for Dr. John P. Neill, Hillsborough County Health Director, said the new information has forced Neill to keep a county-wide moratorium on building on reclaimed mines.

Don Gutrie, chief of the Polk County Health Department's Radiological Health Division, said the new EPA finding was based on a reappraisal of radiation levels in 125 Polk County homes, including 23 homes on reclaimed land or land with natural phosphate outcroppings.

Cancer Epidemic Claimed

MIAMI (AP) — Per-capita lung-cancer deaths in Florida, more than doubling in a decade, have reached nearly epidemic proportions in the already cancer-prone state and no one really knows why, says a leading cancer researcher.

"We don't know why lung cancer is the most serious cancer problem in Florida any more than we know why the cancer rate, per 100,000, is greater than it is in any other state," says Dr. Oleg Selawsky, deputy director of the state's Comprehensive Cancer Center in Miami.

He said Florida registered 2,017 lung-cancer deaths in 1965. This year, he said, 5,500 will suffer from lung cancer, one of 100 forms of the disease, and 4,900 of them will die from it.

Article Probe To Begin

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Secretary of State Bruce Snodgrass says he will start an independent investigation of allegations that an aide wrote an anti-Semitic article.

Snodgrass announced the investigation Friday, but said he was still convinced that Asst. Secretary of State David MacNamara was falsely accused of writing the article.

An earlier report by Arthur Teitelbaum, Anti-Defamation League official, for an investigation was shrugged off by Snodgrass.

The article, which was published in an education organization's newsletter, referred to Atty. Gen. Robert Shubin as a "non-Aryan."

Salary Hikes Proposed

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Gov. Reubin Askew is proposing $8.1 million in salary and benefits boosts for 29,000 state employees.

He said the proposed raises would average $720 a year, and each employee would receive at least a $50 raise in annual salary.

"It is important for all of us to realize that the experienced employees of government are our most important asset, and it is these dedicated employees who make it possible for necessary services to be delivered effectively," Askew said.

Murder Plot Charged

TAMPA (AP) — Three men charged with the October slaying of Tampa detective Richard Cloud also planned to murder former U.S. prosecutor Bernard Dempsey and two other men, the Tampa Tribune said Saturday.

Investigators theorized that Cloud was slain after being betrayed by a trusted friend who also was being paid by an area cocaine dealer, the Tribune quoted police sources as saying.

Charged with first-degree murder are: Anthony Antonio, 29, of Tampa; Benjamin Gullford and Elias Marlow Haskey, of Miami.

School To Sell Moments

MIAMI (AP) — What would you pay for a Jimmy Carter handkerchief adorned with a peanut? How about an autographed picture of Ronald Reagan?

A Miami private school hopes that many persons will pay top dollar for such mementos from their favorite political candidates entered in next month's Florida primary.

"We're getting something from President Ford right on down," Fred Exum, who is coordinating the auction for a parent-teachers' group of the Atlantic Christian School, said Friday. "We've got a gold pin from the President and we're expecting a pair of cuff links from him."

Doctors End Walkout

CHIPLEY (AP) — Washington County's only hospital was back in operation Saturday following the end of a week-long walkout by five doctors unhappy over political pressure.

The hospital began accepting Friday and some of its 150 employees who had been laid off were called back to work, a spokesman said.

Florida Refineries Proposed

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Gov. Reubin Askew says Florida "is going to have to accept some of its share for refining capacity of petroleum.

He said Friday he is confident that the state can have job-producing oil refineries "without any adverse environmental problems."

The 54 polling places in the county approved by the board of county commissioners for the March 9 election include:

Drug Agents Cleared

ORLANDO (AP) — An Orange County grand jury has cleared three agents of the Central Florida Task Force of charges of using brutality on a suspected drug addict.

The U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration agents Frank Torres, W.J. Hinkey and Everett Martin were cleared Friday by the grand jury of allegations that they handcuffed and beat a suspected drug dealer in an undercover drug-buy attempt.

Attorney Claimed Error Committed

Ben Harden Murder Re-Trial Scheduled

By BOB LLOYD Herald Staff Writer

The re-trial of a Sanford man accused of murdering his ex-wife is scheduled this week in circuit court before Circuit Judge J. H. Hensman Jr.

Ben Harden Jr., 46, is charged with first degree murder in the shotgun slaying Nov. 12, 1975, of 47-year-old Laura Mae Harden near their home at 1808 Mulberry Ave., Sanford.

A jury found Harden guilty of second-degree murder on Jan. 9, but defense attorney Newman Brock successfully moved for a new trial on the grounds the defense was prejudiced because Judge Hensman allowed jurors to go to the slaying scene but didn't accompany them.

Other trials on the 17-case docket include:

—Michael J. Ray, 20, of Orlando, accused of robbing two men on Jan. 11, 1975.

—Rodney Lewis Woods, 18, Castle Brewer Court, Sanford, charged with burglary and grand larceny in connection with a Jan. 5 break at Gregory Lumber Co., Sanford.

—James Stage, 20, of Sanford, charged with grand larceny of a pickup truck at Sanford.

Liberal From An Unliberal State

Frank Church Eyes 'Reform' Candidacy

Sen. Church: "scourge of intelligence agencies, inquisitor of corrupt corporations"

WASHINGTON — Circumstances, in addition to his own well-developed sense of justice, have made Sen. Frank Church (D-Idaho) famous as an authority on dirty tricks in foreign parts. His major work in this field, the final report of the Senate select committee "to study government operations with respect to intelligence activities," has to be completed by March 15, and once that is done he will feel free to announce himself as a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Already fund-raising letters have gone out from an office in Washington not far from the capital where the telephone is answered with: "Good morning, Mr. Church at president's." Whether a reputation as the scourge of immorality in under-coverage intelligence operations, and the inquisitor of corrupt practices by American corporations abroad, is the best thing to recommend a man to an electorate searching for its next president in a matter on which doubt is widespread, the fall-out had news that was felt from Holland to Japan recently from Sen. Church's offices did not come from Sen. Church the chairman of the Senate select committee on intelligence, it came from Sen. Church the chairman of the subcommittee on multinational corporations of the Senate foreign relations committee. The Lockheed Aircraft Corporation long since admitted having scattered many millions of dollars round the world in sweeteners and secret commissions to important foreigners to help the sales of its military and civil aircraft, against disclosing all the details, and particularly the recipients' names, believing that to tell all might be bad for its future business.

By a mishap that is having unfortunate consequences for eminent men in several countries, some papers that revealed the obvious details were wrapped up in a bundle going from the company's auditors to Sen. Church's subcommittee. The fat was in the fire. In the hearings two weeks ago Carl Kotchian, the Lockheed president, was spared having to name the names in public, but he did have to tell the staff, and he had to make public much of the information. He had to make public much of the information. He had to make public much of the information. He had to make public much of the information.

He stays in the Senate, Church can almost count on being the next chairman of the foreign relations committee, assuming that Sen. John Sparkman vacates the seat on his 79th birthday at the end of 1978. Under Sparkman the committee is rather quiescent; Church would make more of it. He is, however, more ambitious than that and most likely will take a shot, or more probably two shots, at the presidency. At age 51 he has 19 years in the Senate behind him, an unusual thing; but then he was a boy wonder who won an American Legion scholarship to university at 16 as a reward for his oratorical skill. The same talent, eked out with a useful political connection by marriage in 1946, brought him into the Senate at 32. Representing Idaho as a liberal Democrat, which by and large Church is, is not an easy thing. Coming from there he has to oppose gun control, a favorite liberal cause, and does so flatly. He supported President Ford's handling of the Mayaguez incident. Step by step he made a reputation as a liberal with the carefully-drawn amendments that limited the presidential war power in Indochina between 1970 and 1975; first the Cooper-Church amendment, then the Case-Church one, the name Church cropping up regularly and not by accident. He made a stir in 1971 by coming out flatly against the entire foreign aid program — which might be the action of a liberal or, again, might not. Now he has an additional reputation, that of a stern monitor of the great corporations, a position that goes down well enough in Idaho and

Wallace: A Country Boy Who Says He Did All Right

THE HERALD SERVICES

Asked once how he would write his own obituary, the Governor of Alabama replied, "Oh, I don't know, I guess I'd say something like, 'For a poor little old country boy, George Wallace did all right.'"

GEORGE C. WALLACE

Heroism Brings Threats

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In the days of the Hardy Boys, heretofore brought esteem. For 10-year-old Leon President, it has meant death threats and beatings.

Leon got a Los Angeles Police Commission citation and a pair of real handcuffs for helping capture a juvenile bandit suspect last fall with a pair of tuffs.

But his mother, Kathy President, said Friday she is sending her son to live with his father in another city for his own protection.

"It's mostly the teenage gangs," she said. "It's not too good. The best thing is to send him somewhere until things cool off."

Mrs. President said Leon has been beaten and threatened with death by the gangs in Hollywood. He is now escorted to and from school by her 19-year-old stepson, she said.

"He's not afraid of them," she said. "He just wishes they'd leave him alone. A lot of pressure's been on him and it will be good for him to get away."

His influence began in 1947, when he became a state senator advocating states rights, segregation and anti-communism. As a circuit court judge from 1955 to 1959 he referred to blacks before his bench as "niggers." In 1963, one year into his first term as governor, he became a national symbol of "local option" by physically blocking the admission of black students to the University of Alabama.

Today Wallace says he is a conservative populist who is "for the little people, regardless of their color." He claims both blacks and whites have profited from his decade in the Alabama state-house, pointing principally to a state property tax that is one fourth the national average. Critics argue that Wallace is lazy and unimaginative as governor, but he counters by citing the 83 per cent of the vote he won in 1974.

Missions of people outside Alabama apparently agree. As a third party presidential candidate in 1968 he won 10 million votes, carrying four states.

As he said in Jackson, Miss., recently, "the criminals and thugs and federal judges are running this country." Some say he also believes he can't really win the presidency this year or any year, and merely campaigns to win wider respectability.

In any event, the 12-year-old Wallace for President phenomenon may be nearing its end. George Wallace says this is his last race for the White House, unless, he adds coyly, "I run for re-election in 1980."

Tournament Time

JuCo XVI is scheduled Thursday, Friday and Saturday in DeLand, with Florida's best junior college talent converging to contend a national tournament berth. Thursday's pairings send Edison against Florida College and Brevard against West Palm Beach in the afternoon session with Chipola meeting Seminole and Gulf Coast taking on Lake City at night. Bring your cushion. It's going to be an outstanding tournament.

By JIM HAYNES
Herald Sports Editor

DELAND — All's quiet here on the Stetson University campus, but things will start popping Thursday when eight teams invade the Edmonds Activities Center for a three-day, much-contested state junior college basketball tournament.

Some 200 college scouts and coaches will also set up camp here, seeking a portion of the talent which has gained national acclaim over the years.

The tournament gets underway at 1:30 p.m. with Edison of Fort Myers (19-4) meeting Florida College of Tampa (21-4). The 3:30 game pairs Brevard of Cocoa (14-9) against West Palm (14-10). At 7 p.m. top-ranked Chipola (21-5) meets Seminole (23-6). And at 9 p.m. Gulf Coast of Panama City (19-8) takes on Lake City (21-6).

Sterling: 'We Have A Chance'

Seminole Community College coach Joe Sterling has had three promotions of winning state junior college basketball tournaments.

"I felt it the year we won it (1969), two years later when we lost to Gulf Coast in the semifinals, and I feel it this year. We do have a chance."

En route to Seminole's outstanding 23-6 season has emerged some tantalizing team play by the Raiders.

Sterling won't be pulling any big surprises in the tournament. No sudden starters off the bench, trick plays or changes on defense.

And that means the starting lineup will include Vernon Johnson and Bob Jacobs on the inside, Chip Noe at wing, and Randy Faber and Reggie McDonald at guards. Jim McIntyre was expected to be the No. 1 substitute at guard, but he is nursing a sprained ankle, so that job might rest with John Zell.

Top inside reserve is Terry Jameson.

"There's no secret, we just try and go out and play good defense and let the balance take care of the offense," said Sterling.

Noe is the most productive Raider in scoring with a 13-plus average. He's scored 326 points in 23 games.

Seminole has four other players in double-figure range — McDonald with 37, Faber with 37, Jameson with 32 and Jacobs with 27. Those are averages of 12.3, 11.3, 10.4 and 10.5, respectively.

Rebounding, Seminole also has balance. Jacobs gets 6.7 per game, Johnson 6.9, Jameson 6.0, and McDonald 5.4.

Teamwise, Seminole is averaging 61.6 points per game and holding foes to 69.3. Seminole has an outstanding team field goal percentage — 46.7.

True Love: 217 Wins, 64 Losses

It was love at first sight for Seminole Community College and basketball.

Since that first game on a crisp, cool 1966 November evening in Leesburg, winning has been traditional as backing early morning traffic on Highway 17-92 in Sanford.

Ten years hence, Seminole's overall record is 217-64, all under coach Joe Sterling.

Seminole won that first game, 74-51, and regulars John Thomas, Fred Milton, Earl Sikes, Charles Brown and Steve Groover helped the Raiders finish a 15-4 season.

The team didn't play enough division games to qualify for the state tournament.

The next five years was another matter.

In the 1968 tournament at Cocoa, Seminole went 26-4, including a 26-0 loss to Brevard in the opening round. In that game, it was 86-86 with less than a minute to play and Seminole's Rover Wynn had a short jump that blocked by 7-foot Pembroke Burrows to turn it around.

The Raiders learned their lesson well in the 1969-70 season, because they went all the way with a 25-3 record, including three straight state tournament victories. St. Petersburg was the first victim at Fort Pierce, 75-59.

In the semis the Raiders checked dangerous Luther Adams and won, 85-82, over Edison.

The finale was in overtime against Brevard, 89-85. In the closing seconds of regulation, Van Gister missed a jumper, Vernell Elly rebounded and hit Wynn on a long pass. Wynn's layup was tipped away from an incredible play by Harold Fox, but Wynn was fouled and had a chance to settle it with no time remaining. He missed both shots.

JuCo Basketball Swaps Black Hat For White

They used to call it "outlaw basketball." Now, everyone wants to be an "outlaw." Or have one. Seems the black hat has been traded in for a white one.

The reservoir of basketball talent which wiggles back and forth under the guise of Florida Junior College Basketball Conference is such that virtually every college basketball power in the country will be in DeLand this week.

UCLA, Indiana and North Carolina scouts will be there. Doing a lot of looking. Each wants to sign one or two players, but if they don't, it is because someone beat them to it.

That's the way it has been for the last 15 years. Going back to the early days of JuCo ball in the Sunshine State, when Austin (Red) Robbins left Clermont and went to Chipola, college talent scouts have been drooling over the abundance of talent. Robbins went to Tennessee and then the ABA.

Haynes' Hunches
By JIM HAYNES

Vernell Elly from Seminole, Kent Glover from Polk, John Napier of Miami-Dade North... the list seems endless.

This year's favorite — Chipola — has the distinction of winning the first state tournament back in 1961. Saint Leo, which competed with two-year schools back then, was Central Florida's kingpin in the early sixties.

Then came Miami-Dade, Brevard and Seminole in the latter stages of that first decade. Gulf Coast, under coach Jack Jackson, won back-to-back titles in 1971 and 1972. It was Chipola's turn for a third state crown in '74 and Indian River took the title last March at DeLand.

And this tournament presents some interesting aspects. Like how far will Seminole's disciplined offense take it Thursday against Chipola. Coaches probably say defense is the key. Those high-scoring shootouts isn't Seminole coach Joe Sterling's cup of tea. He starts squirming on the bench when the other team scores more than two buckets in a row.

The scouting report on Chipola is that four sophomores (average height) and one freshman (6-8 Devon Dent) are going to be tough to beat. Even for a balanced, defense-conscious team like Seminole.

The tempo will likely be the main factor. Getting it and keeping it.

Other questions which have to be answered include: Is Brevard playing possum with that 14-9 record? If Edison is that good? Can Lake City win the big one? Who's going to stop Gulf Coast's Charles Slappey one-on-one? Which team has a double-team combo to stop Lake City's Ron Anthony?

As an observer at the last six state tournaments and nine of the last 11, this writer can attest to the quality of JuCo basketball as a spectator sport. It's incredible.

The non-believer might suggest that if a player was so good, why isn't he at Florida State or one of the prime four-year schools?

Simple. Grades, personal preference and a good selling job by JuCo coaches. They have something to sell. So often the high school graduate isn't certain what level of basketball he will be able to play — university or college division. Two years later, with some good schooling and experience behind him, he is much better prepared to pick between the Gators and Florida Southern.

Also, before they start pre-game warmups, here's a prediction: Chipola won't win. Not because it isn't capable. Merely because it is favored, and tradition has it that favorites just don't win this thing.

Who will win? Flip a coin. It's an eight-hour race.

Let the games begin and the answers shall unfold.

Black Awareness Week Focuses On Black Contributions To America's Successes, Failures, Faith, Love, Laughter And Hope

A week of activities exploring the past, present and future of America's blacks is being held at the Sanford Civic Center.

Black Awareness Week, part of Seminole County's observance of America's Bicentennial, is designed to acquaint citizens with the contributions of blacks.

Through six programs, prominent Seminole County blacks will trace the dangers, failures, promises, faith, love, laughter and hope of the last 200 years. Others will offer hopes for the next 200 years.

Black Awareness Week, which is sponsored locally by the Black Program Committee of the Seminole County Bicentennial Committee, has been observed since 1976 in the week which includes both Feb. 12 and 14 — the birthdays of both Abraham Lincoln and Frederick Douglass.

Speakers scheduled for the 7:30 p.m. Saturday program include Tom Wilson, executive director of the Sanford Housing Authority; the Rev. A.A. Fields, the oldest living member of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in Florida; Sanford Mayor Lee P. Moore; Stanley T. Mueller, director of special projects for the county school system; and County Bicentennial Committee Chairman Jack Horner.

Sunday's program, set for 3:30 p.m., includes Dr. George H. Starke of Sanford and Dr. J.C. Ringling.

Monday night at 7:30 p.m., the speakers will include Prof.

Edward L. Blackbear, principal of Crooms Academy, the Rev. G.L. Sims of New Mount Calvary Baptist Church will read the scripture and offer the invocation. Grace Bower will give a salute to senior citizens.

The Tuesday program, also starting at 7:30 p.m., will feature skits by pre-schoolers from Head Start, Marthe's Kindergarten, Rescue Day Care Center, the Hay Diddle Diddle Child Care Center and the Rest Haven Kindergarten.

The Wednesday program, in memory of deceased presidents, servicemen and civil rights leaders, will feature Steve Wright, a Seminole Community College English teacher. His talks will cover 1940 to the present, touching on topics, "The Black Man in War and Peace," "Issues and Outcome," "Deep Challenge of Democracy" and "Change Since 1963."

The final program Thursday night will feature Horace Or, president of Seminole Economic Employment Development Corporation, will speak on "A Fluid Front Since 1960," and "Revolution, 1963 to 1976."

Music will be provided by Lonnie Slappy, a famous musician who played with many name bands before retiring to Sanford, and the Seminole Community College Chorus, directed by Dr. Bert Prinefield. Soloists are Evelyn Clark and Millard Strickland.

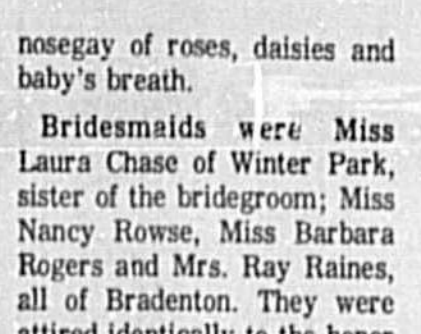

Miss Susan Jane Krienke became the bride of Randall Chase, Jr. in a double ring ceremony performed by Rev. Peter Fleming of Lakeland at the Church of the Redeemer, Sarasota, at 8 p.m. Jan. 23. The Rt. Rev. David Rose, Bishop of Southern Virginia, celebrated Eucharist.

Organist was Ann Byak, and a choir of students from Manatee Junior College and members of the Church of the Redeemer choir rendered nuptial music.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Krienke of Homestead. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Randall Chase of Sanford and the late Mr. Chase.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of candlelight gown de sole with reembodyered Alencon lace appliques on bodice and sleeves. Her chapel length veil of illusion was applied with reembodyered Alencon lace and she carried a nosegay of red roses, daisies and baby's breath.

Mrs. C. R. Boiczky of Plainville, Conn. served as matron of honor in a cranberry velvet skirt and blouse of candlelight satin. She carried a Bridesmaids were Miss Laura Chase of Winter Park, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Nancy Howe, Miss Barbara Rogers and Mrs. Ray Raines, all of Bradenton. They were attired identically to the honor attendant.

Joshua Coffin Chase served his brother as best man. Ushers were B. C. Booth and John Wagner. Groomsmen were Rev. David Moore and Thomas Beason of Sarasota; Ronald Del Bene of St. Petersburg; and Joseph Trammel of Sanford, cousin of the bridegroom.

Miss Susan Trammel of Sanford, cousin of the bridegroom, and Miss Michele Johnson of Bradenton served as junior bridesmaids.

Following a reception in the Parish Hall, the couple left on a wedding trip to Williamsburg, Va.

They will make their home in Bradenton. The bride is a professor of nursing at Manatee Junior College; the bridegroom is chaplain at the college.

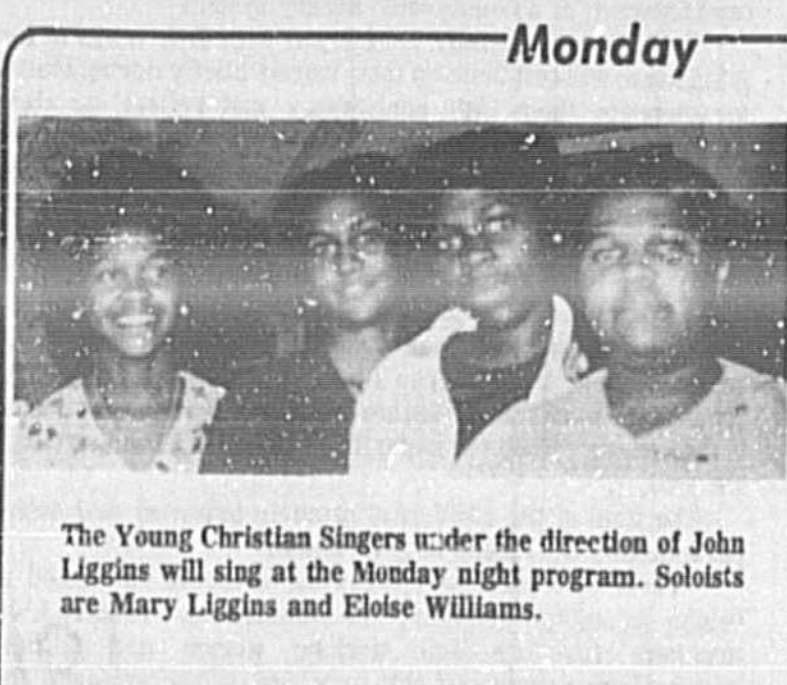

Saturday

Tom Wilson, executive director of the Sanford Housing Authority, will serve as master of ceremonies for the opening night of Black Awareness Week.

The Rev. A.A. Fields, who joined the NAACP in 1910 and is now the oldest living member in Florida, will give the invocation and read a Scripture selection.

Ms. Faye Williams, telephone operator, musician and mother of two boys.

Stanley T. Mueller, director of special projects for Seminole County schools, will speak on "From Africa To The New World" and "The Revolutionary War Negro."

Monday

The Young Christian Singers under the direction of John Liggins will sing at the Monday night program. Soloists are Mary Liggins and Elsie Williams.

Edward L. Blackbear, principal of Crooms School and federal and civic leader, will speak on "Decades of Disappointment," "Turn of the Century Upswing" and "From Normalcy to New Deal" Monday night.

Ms. Alberta J. Wallace, beautician, religious leader and community worker, chairs the Black Bicentennial Committee and Black Awareness Week.

Sunday

The Bicentennial Concert Chorus of 26 voices under the direction of Earl E. Minott, registrar at Seminole High School and minister of music at St. Paul Baptist Church will sing during the Sunday and Wednesday programs.

Tuesday

Sanford attorney James T. Golden (right) will give the golden at Tuesday night's program. The Rev. Amos Jones, executive director of Seminole Community Action, will be master of ceremonies.

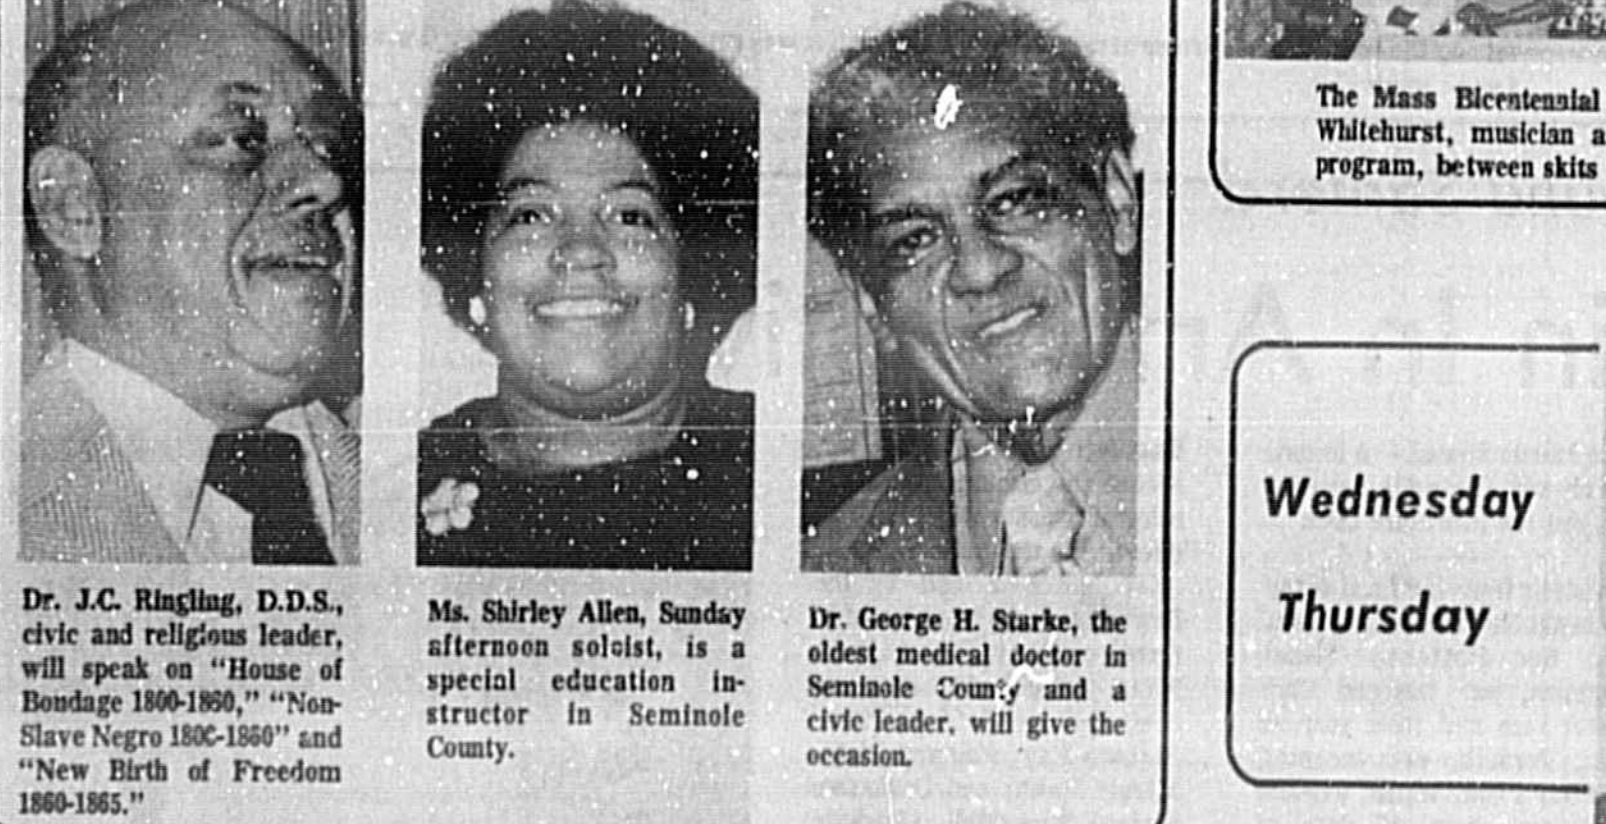

Wednesday

Dr. J.C. Ringling, D.D.S., civic and religious leader, will speak on "Home of Bourgeois 1800-1850" and "New Birth of Freedom 1860-1865."

Ms. Shirley Allen, Sunday afternoon soloist, is a special education instructor in Seminole County.

Dr. George H. Starke, the oldest medical doctor in Seminole County and a civic leader, will give the occasion.

Thursday

The Mass Bicentennial Chorus of 31 voices under the direction of Ms. Mary Whitehurst, musician and classroom instructor, will sing during the Tuesday program, between skits by groups of preschool youngsters.

Wednesday

Steve Wright, instructor of English at Seminole Community College and a community youth leader, will speak Wednesday night.

Lonnie Slappy, famous musician who has played with many name bands and now makes his home in Sanford, will be guest pianist Thursday night.

Peterson, White Engagement Told

Mr. and Mrs. Auguste Bartholdi Peterson Jr., of Loch Lowe, Sanford, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sarah deSaussure, to Daniel Bowman White, the son of Mrs. William Garner White Jr., of Chester, S.C., and the late Mr. White.

A native of Jacksonville, Miss Peterson is a graduate of Seminole High School and Converse College in Spartanburg, S.C. She made her formal debut at the Assembly Ball in Columbia, S.C. She is the granddaughter of Auguste Bartholdi Peterson Sr., of Hidden Lake, Sanford, and the late Mrs. C. Starling Peterson and Mrs. James Rose Parker of Georgetown, S.C., and the late Mr. Parker. She is currently employed as a corporate job analyst at the J.M. Huber Co., in Atlanta.

Her fiancé is a native of Charlotte, N.C. He graduated from Chester High School and Davidson College and is in the May graduating class of the University of South Carolina Law School where he is a member of the South Carolina Law Review. He served as a first lieutenant in the U.S. Army Adjutant General's Corp. in Saigon. After graduation, he will be associated with the Rainey, McKay Law firm of Greenville, S.C.

Plans are being made for a May 29 wedding at the Church of St. John in the Wilderness in Flat Rock, N.C.

Armistead, Bridier To Wed

Nena Diane Armistead and Tad Christopher Bridier will be married March 6 at 11 a.m. with Rev. Robert Soka officiating in the double ring ceremony held at Christ United Methodist Church, Neptune Beach.

The bride is the daughter of E. A. Armistead of Sanford and Mrs. Betty Lewis of Atlantic Beach. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willford L. Bridier of Jacksonville.

The couple will make their home in Pensacola, where the bridegroom is in the U. S. Air Force.

Erickson, Youngers Wedding Set

Kimberly Sue Erickson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Erickson of 1605 W. 25th St., Sanford, and Charles Donald Youngers, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Youngers of Sanford, will be married March 16 at 7:30 p.m. at All Souls Catholic Church, Sanford. All friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Men, Women Propose Leap Year Or Not, Marriage Is Popular

NEW YORK (AP) — Will women exercise their traditional right to propose to men in this Leap Year?

No matter who does the asking, marriage is still a going proposition, contrary to some opinion. Last year some two million marriages took place, though many of these were remarriages — about three in a recent year.

Whether it's the man or woman who pops the question, married women's lifespans are longer than unwed women's, according to government statistics.

Women who marry are also often more affluent if they have a career, and if they don't make it on their own their husbands often do. A University of Michigan study found that marriage practically triples chances of career success for men.

Besides living longer and in comparative affluence, married women often also have better protection for the future, says the Institute of Life Insurance. The average size of an "ordinary" (most commonly purchased) life insurance policy bought in 1974 by a married person was $21,390, nearly twice as much as that purchased by a single person.

And according to a University of Michigan study, married people in the 45-and-over age group were five times more content in their jobs than the unmarried workers.

If all that isn't enough, marriage may keep a man out of jail. According to sociologist Jesse Bernard, males who remain single are more apt to get involved in criminal activities.

SCOUTS DO IT THE OLD WAY

The Boy Scouts of Western District recently held a Camporee in the Florida Panhandle. The camporee is a week-long event where Scouts from all over the region gather to participate in various activities, including blacksmithing, milking cows, dipping candles, and splitting logs. The event is designed to teach Scouts old-time survival skills and to foster a sense of community and teamwork.

David Hansen and Bruce Halbrook, leaders of the Central Florida Troop 41, demonstrated the art of blacksmithing to a group of Scouts at the camporee. The Scouts were fascinated by the process of heating and shaping iron, and many were able to create their own simple tools and objects.

"SECOND TIME TONIGHT I'VE HAD THIS SILLY DREAM!"

"HMM... I'D SAY YOUR BLOOD PRESSURE WAS EXCELLENT FOR A MAN WHO FOUGHT THREE ADMINISTRATIONS TOOTH AND NAIL!"

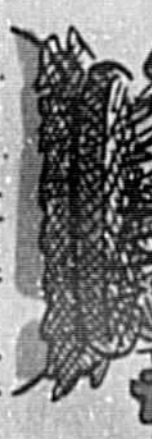

"WE SHOULD'N'T RUSH INTO MARRIAGE, DEXTER! EVERY INSTINCT TELLS ME TO WAIT UNTIL P.M. DAY!"

Hints From Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

I have discovered a new use for the lovely potato bag. I received a dozen beautiful carnations as a birthday gift. I got out a nice vase and put the flowers in it for the children to see. I didn't have any, or so I snipped off a circle of a mesh potato bag about 1 1/2 inches longer than the top of the vase. I put it in the water and the that makes a blister on your heel, softened soap, and rub it inside of the shoe. By the time the soap has worn out of the shoe, the shoe will be broken in enough so that there will be no more blisters. Mrs. A. Field

HELP FOR HOMEMAKERS

DEAR HELOISE:

Bring a simple knot in each corner, you want to fit tightly. I have done this for years and it works like a charm. Mrs. Susan McNeal
