DEAD

I saw him living and breathing and moving about us and yet I know he is dead to the beauty of summer and blind to the mignonette.

He was deaf to the cardinal singing up high on the tip of a tree, Faintly he saw the tinkle of mossy water all he could hear or could see.

He ate and he drank at his dinner table and he was counting the cost;
His mignonette sat at the table with a dollar he'd lost;
And though there was laughter about him he never once lifted his head;

Not beauty nor pity could rouse him to things such as that as he was dead.

I saw him living and breathing
and moving about among men yet all that he knew was his leggers, his red ink and black and his pen;
He saw not the stars in the heavens; he cared not when roses were red;

The world spread great splendor about him, but he saw them
no more than the dead.

The passage of a bill by Congress to limit the length of freight trains to 70 cars in the interest of safety does not appear to be backed by very much wisdom. Shorter trains mean more more chances for accidents and greater operating costs.

The National Safety Council has

Wisconsin, West Virginia, Flori-opportunity of providing better

The Sea Scouts

Additional scouting activities in Sanford have begun with the organization of the new Sea Scout Troop, under the sponsorship of the Sanford Lions Club. Organizations which give backing to such inspired boys groups are doing a great work for the future of the nation.

If more boys had been encouraged in Sea Scouting many years ago, the possibility of sea tragedies such as the Morro Castle disaster would be lessened to a great extent.

Although the Sea Scouts are a branch of the Boy Scouts of America, much of their training is entirely different. In addition to knot tying and first aid, the boys make a "Sea Promise":
"On my honor, I will do my best to learn swimming and always 'Be Prepared' to render aid to those in need in connection with water accidents. To make it my business to know the location of the life saving devices on my boat I board; and to mentally outline my responsibilities in maintaining order for myself and others in case of emergency."

To be vigilant and cautious, always guarding against water accidents. To co-operate with the responsible authorities for the observance of all regulations for the conduct and safety of boats and ever seek to preserve the motto of the sea—"Women and children first."

Sea Scouts get their training first-hand and from actual experience. Most troops own some kind of water craft even if it is no more than a rowboat, and the U. S. Coast Guard has always been willing to co-operate by giving discarded cutters for the use of the boys.

The need for sea knowledge among the men of tomorrow is rapidly increasing with the new advancements in and popularity of water craft, and from all indications, the Sea Scouts will supply it.

As Europe Sees The U. S.

We all know that Americans by and large have some very queer misconceptions about what Europeans are like. That the Englishman has no sense of humor and that he is, to put it mildly, a sissy; that the Frenchman is a dandy with a silk handkerchief tucked in his coat sleeve; that Germans are block-heads; and that Italians are all swarthy "wops" who can't stand the sight of blood.

It is interesting to note what the general consensus of European opinion is about America and Americans. A writer in Esquire as reported by the Digest sets forth a few of the things Europeans believe about the United States:

"That no American ever ate anything that did not come out of a tin can.

"That most Americans live on the hundredth floor of a skyscraper.

"That Americans love work above everything else. That they would much rather work than loaf, read, fish or swim. That if they have no work to do they become unhappy and restless.

"That American automobiles are so cheap that it doesn't pay to have them repaired. One throws them away, as one throws an old newspaper. The cost of a general overhaul is usually higher than the price of a new car.

"That, when they arrive in Venice, Americans really believe the town is flooded.

"That American men keep their hats on when entering a house and always put their feet on a desk.

"That when there is a stock exchange crash thousands of people jump from the top of skyscrapers.

"That Americans can drink anything.

"That some Americans are very civilized and cultured, but they live in Europe.

"That Americans get drunk because they have no art.

"That an American wedding is always accompanied by the Wedding March from Lohengrin.

"That street battles between cops and gangsters are so common that, after a while, you are not even disturbed in your sleep by fusillade and machine gun reports. Cops invariably chase gangsters' cars at top speed, pumping bullets into passerby. Occasionally one sees a bullet-riddled corpse thrown out of a swiftly passing car.

"That Americans always win at every sport.

"That the Americans love the English because they are cousins."

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By PRESTON GROVER
This is the first of two articles in which Preston Grover investigates the activities of the Resettlement Administration in obtaining low, fixed medical fees for its clients.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—The Resettlement Administration has carried the idea of low cost medicine as effectively into the country districts of the West and South that it has become a subject of deep study and much concern among physicians and surgeons.

Consider these prices with current charges in your neighborhood and you will see what is involved:
Major Operations (appendicitis, etc.) $50 Minor Operations (sprains, etc.) $20
Hospitalization—$1.00 a day
Office calls—$1 to $25

It must be emphasized that these are right next door to "charity" prices, for the patients affected are for the most part clients of the Resettlement Administration and can pay only what they may borrow from the government or accumulate under government supervised efforts.

The Resettlement Administration has been confronted with the medical problem almost from its creation in 1935. Its clients are largely farmers without credit resources even for planting and harvesting crops, much less to pay for medical services.

The problem became acute in the Lakotas during the 1936 drought.
In that summer the Resettlement Administration really set itself up in the medical field.

This situation developed, as described by Dr. R. C. Williams, Resettlement medical director:
Of 95,000 farmers in North Dakota, 45,000 became Resettlement clients. A comparable condition existed in South Dakota.
The farmers were not alone among those affected. The doctors felt the money shortage also, especially those with rural practices—and that included almost all.

Thus when the Resettlement Administration moved in with a proposal to lend the stricken farmers enough to plant crops and to pay limited medical fees, the country doctors were willing to co-operate. The plan they worked out has been adopted with modifications and variations in several other states.

Families with the trifling income the drought left them sat down with a Resettlement writer and computed what income would be available. Sometimes it represented only $200 to $400 cash.
Well, the doctor could expect 10 percent of that. So the patient then went to the doctor and the checks laid out on the table.
The doctor explained what medical services he needed—such as vaccinations and whether a baby would be coming along.

Thus the doctor knew what to expect. He is asked to supply medical services to a family of perhaps five for a year at $25, more or less. It is small, but it has its advantages. The doctor knows he will be paid, and the farmer knows he won't run into a staggering bill.

The result was that farmers who might otherwise have had to join the roving caravans that left the Lakotas during the drought were able to stay on the job.

Of course these family medical fees do not cover operations or obstetrical services. That comes extra, and the farmer must expect to borrow or receive a grant from Resettlement for emergency cases.

How the idea spread from that seed will be handled in another article tomorrow.

The Earl of Essex, a favorite at the court of Queen Elizabeth, was beheaded at the age of 34.

Why Firestone STANDARD TIRES are EXTRA SAFE

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST BLOWOUTS—eight extra pounds of rubber are added to every 100 pounds of cord by the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process. By this process every fiber in every cord in every ply is saturated with liquid rubber. This counteracts dangerous internal friction and heat that ordinarily cause blowouts.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST PUNCTURES—because under the tread are two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST SKIDDING—because the tread is scientifically designed.

YOU GET LONGER NON-SKID
MILEAGE because of the extra tough, long-wearing tread.

Firestone Standard Tires give you all these extra value features because they are first-quality tires built with high-grade materials and patented construction features. You SAVE MONEY because you buy this high quality and extra value at such low prices.

Before leaving on your vacation trip,
join the Firestone SAVE A LIFE Campaign by equipping your car with a set of new Firestone Standard Tires

Missionaries Are Fearful Lest All Efforts Are Lost

(Continued from page one) the coast be deemed necessary. A survey of mission and educational enterprises in Northern Hopah—where the Japanese already are in complete control—disclosed almost universal gloom among their American administrators.

Missions involved include the Methodist, Presbyterian, Seventh-Day Adventist, American board mission and Catholic.

Among the schools are the Peiping Union Medical college, a Rockefeller foundation undertaking; Yenching university and the Catholic university.

Besides, there are dozens of "all-er" institutions, 21 hospitals, 703 churches and at least 180 missionaries and teachers supported by United States funds.

An investment of at least $19,000,000, much of it from United States church collection plates, and millions of dollars for annual expenses are represented in Hopah province.

American officials of Yenching university expressed fear that its doors will remain closed because of Japanese opposition except, possibly, the science college. Catholic university executives were more hopeful.

The future of the Peiping Union Medical college was viewed pessimistically. Some Americans recalled that the Mukden Medical college, a missionary institution, had suffered deterioration after the Japanese seized control of Manchuria. They charged the Japanese had driven out competent doctors and others.

CALLANDAR, Ont., Aug. 6.—(AP)—Emilie Dionne, middle weight of the quintuplets, sat on the veranda of DePor nursery yesterday recovering from one of the few illnesses among the famous children.

In a few days she will be ready to go on parade again. Her temperature was normal and her sore throat was improving steadily. She has been kept apart from her four sisters since Sunday.

Advance In Price Of Motor Cars In Store For Public

(Continued from page one) the industry attempted to advance prices because of increasing production costs, a sharp curtailment of buying resulted and the lower prices had to be restored. Current demand is much heavier and "sooner," according to merchandising executives, than it was at that time.

The Olds Motor Works announced yesterday that operation will be suspended after today in preparation for new model production. The Fisher Body plant which supplies Oldsmobile bodies also will close. Officials said about 80 percent of their plant will close for two weeks and the remainder for a month.

Selassie Is Forced To Cancel Memoirs

LONDON, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Former Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia has been "compelled" to cancel plans for publication of his memoirs, his publisher disclosed yesterday, adding that the emperor's decision was based on counsel of his "political advisers."

The one-time ruler has found refuge in England, but well informed persons pointed out that recently Britain and Italy, which drove Haile Selassie from his throne, have exchanged overtures of friendship.

Aviation Trophy To Be Awarded By President Friday

Highest Award In American Aviation To Go To Pan-American

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—President Roosevelt tomorrow will present the famous Collier Trophy, highest award in American aviation, to Pan American Airways in recognition of their "establishment of the trans-Pacific air line and the successful execution of extended overwater navigation in the regular operation thereof." The ceremonies will take place at the White House at noon.

The trophy, donated twenty-six years ago by the late Robert Collier, publisher of Collier's and himself a pioneer aviator, is awarded annually for "the greatest achievement in aviation in America, the value of which has been thoroughly demonstrated in use or in practice during the preceding year."

Juan T. Trippe, president of Pan American, will receive the trophy from President Roosevelt in the presence of a group of former winners and other aviation leaders, including Senator William G. McAdoo of California, chairman of the awards committee of the National Aeronautics Association, which each year picks the winner. Later in the day the occasion will be marked by a special broadcast over an NBC-Rad network, during which Senator McAdoo, Mr. Trippe and William L. Cheney, editor of Collier's will speak.

In announcing the award for the current year, Collier's refers to the story of Pan American and Mr. Trippe as one "in which science, diplomacy, imagination and romance co-operate to tie the world together."

Since the trophy was first presented in 1911, it has recorded a veritable history of the progress of aviation science. Glen H. Curtis received it in 1911 and 1912; Orville Wright in 1913; Elmer A. Sperry in 1914; W. Starling Burgess in 1915, and Sperry again in 1916. It was not awarded from 1917 to 1920 because of the war. Since then, the following names have been engraved on it:

Grover C. Loening, the United States Airmail Service, the United States Army Air Service, S. Albert Reed, Major E. L. Hoffman, Charles L. Lawrence, the Aeronautics, Harold F. Pitcairn, parent of Commerce, the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, Harold F. Pitcairn, the Packard Motor Car Company, Glenn L. Martin, the Hamilton Standard Propeller Company, Captain Albert F. Hegenberger, and Donald W. Douglas.

Milestones in aviation history represented in these awards include such advances as the automatic stabilizer, gyroscopic control, the drift indicator, the metal propeller, the practical parachute, the radial air-cooled engine, the high-speed weight-carrying plane, the controllable

Hope Abandoned For Plane Crash Victims

CRISTOBAL, Canal Zone, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Hope was abandoned yesterday of finding alive any of the 14 persons aboard a Pan American-Grace airliner which plunged into the sea off Panama.

H. H. Harris, vice president of the airline, attributed the accident to an "act of God" and expressed belief all the crew and passengers were dead.

Harris conferred with army air corps and naval officers and also inspected fragments of wreckage recovered from the sea around where the plane hit. Military and naval personnel continued efforts to recover bodies of the victims, who apparently were carried to the sea bottom, about 1000 feet down, in the amphibian's cabin. Fragments were strewn widely by the impact.

Everglades Park Section May Get U. S. Protection

CCC Camps May Be Established To Begin Conservation Work

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 5.—Florida's fascinating Everglades, as embraced in the area proposed for the Everglades National Park, may now soon come under the protection of the Federal Government for conservation and fire control, according to Ernest P. Coe, director of the Everglades National Park Association, who has recently returned from Washington, D. C.

"Now that the bill introduced by Congressman Mark Wilcox has passed the House and been referred to the Senate, it may be substituted for a bill previously introduced by Senators C. O. Andrews and Claude C. Pepper," Mr. Coe reported, who have promised their active support.

"Once the Bill has the President's signature," Mr. Coe pointed out it will clear the way for appropriation for the Everglades National Park project of $1,000,000 and $100,000 which has been approved by the President's Committee on National Resources.

"It is probable" the Park executive stated "that CCC camps will be established for active conservation of our native wild life and for protection as has been done in the instance of other national park projects prior to their formal acceptance by the Department of the Interior through act of the State legislature on State owned lands and the Interior."

"It now remains for the State of Florida to complete acquisition of the lands required by the Department of the Interior for inclusion within the area embraced by the boundaries of the proposed national park."

Nearly half the lands included in the 2000 square mile area, which lies in Dade, Monroe and Collier counties, is now available proclamation of the President on Federal lands.

Those now available also include Royal Palm State Park, established and maintained through the activities of the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs and the 97,000 acre Seminole reservation in Monroe County, which has been replaced by a new grant of 100,800 acres in Broward pitch propeller, the blind flying system and the current big commercial transport planes. "But in no modern times," says Colliers, "has the demonstration within the meaning of the trophy's conception been more conclusive. In no other year has the opinion of the industry been unanimous, as now, that a different selection would have been inane. The scheduling of the Pacific Ocean, widest of seas, by Juan Trippe and his Pan American co-workers was not only a milestone in air travel; it was perhaps the most spectacular, most challenging day in transportation history."

Legislature Of Georgia Probing Penal Conditions

Recent Deaths, 12 Escapes Stir Action To Find Out Cause

PEARSON, Ga., Aug. 6.—(AP)—Problems of the Georgia penal system mounted yesterday with a legislative investigation of the assault, who was shot in an escape attempt death of two convicts and a dozen fresh escapes on the record.

Sheriff M. L. Davis announced the filing of murder warrants against Warden R. L. Killian and Guard Luther Ward of the Atkinson County chain gang in two cases which State Senator Lee Parson and State Representative E. L. Almond arrived here to study.

The camp officers were accused in the death of Ernest Locklear, 18-year-old Atlanta burglar, in a solitary confinement cell July 10 and Frank Kelly, 42, negro serving three to five years for delinquent conduct, who was shot in an escape attempt June 30.

Major interest centered in the Locklear inquiry.

"They're sweet boys," Almond said of the solitary confinement cells, condemning their use.

A Pearson coroner's jury, however, had cited testimony Locklear mangled at work and "same to his death from misadventure and misfortune caused by his own conduct."

Camp Physician H. P. Smith said the cause might have been "one of many things, namely hyterical convulsions, acute dilation of the heart, epilepsy, suicidal strangulation or by exertion trying to get out of solitary confinement."

The warden said Locklear had spent about 10 hours in the locked wooden structure, set apart from the quarters of working convicts, when he was found dead.

Sheriff Davis said the camp officers posted bonds of $5,000.

Elsewhere, the transient service problem claimed attention.

Seven negroes sawed their way out of the Bibb County stockade in the Central Georgia stockade

One surrendered later. Three men walked away from a Brunswick work camp. A fourth wrangled out through a hole in a wall of the Brunswick jail.

Still another was Randolph DeLisle, 42, who went over a wall of the state prison at Milledgeville Tuesday night.

He was serving a 10-year term for the previous abduction of John K. Milby, Atlanta banker, four years ago.

H. Gordon Selfridge, British department store owner, is a native of Elgin, Va.

Wright Turns In One Hit Performance

Lookouts Collect Eleven Hits Off Hubbel In 3 To 2 Win Over Leesburg Outfit

"Bitches" Clary Leads Hitters With Four Safeties In Four Trips To Plate

The Sanford Lookouts took revenge on the Leesburg Gondoliers last night, turning them 3 to 2 at the Sanford Municipal Athletic Field. Owen Wright held the Gondoliers to one hit and would have been credited with a shutout had it not been for a costly error in the fourth inning. Wright in his last four games has allowed but 14 hits. While Wright was pitching great ball, the Lookouts were garnering eleven hits off Hubbel, pitching for the Leesburg team.

"Bitches" Clary had a perfect day at bat getting four hits in four trips to the plate. Phillips, catcher for Sanford, collected a double and a single and "Sweeds" Brian hammered out two hits.

In the third inning, Sanford scored the first run of the game. Bob Prichard got to second when "Rabbit" Bonner threw wild to first base. Wright filed out to the pitcher on an attempted bunt. Clary collected his second hit of the evening, a single to left, scoring Prichard. Langston grounded out to end the inning.

The Leesburg Club came right back to take the lead in the first half of the fourth when they scored two runs. Bonner, first up, hit a ball over second. Langston came in last to take it but dropped it. A hard catch to make.

Arnold then dumped a ball to right of the plate to sacrifice Brian to second. Phillips snapped him up to throw to second but stumbled as he threw and the ball went far out into center field. Bonner scored from first but Arnold was thrown out at the plate, the ball being relayed to Stokck who threw him to get the runner. D. Davis then walked. Rambert filed out but Clemons got Leesburg's only hit of the game then, a long double to the left scoring D. Davis from first. W. Davis filed out to end the inning.

The Lookouts tied the game up half of the fifth. With two out, Clary collected his third hit. He stole second and scored when Langston singled to the right. Ruggiero forced Langston to second, ending the inning.

In the eighth, the locals pushed over the winning run. Martin, first up, singled to right. Phillips hit to short who threw to second to get Martin but Martin was safe. Lake sacrificed both runners a base. Kaseo got a hit scoring Martin and sending Phillips to third. Prichard grounded out and Wright struck out, ending the inning.

The Orlando Gulls come to Sanford tonight to play the Lookouts at the Sanford Municipal Athletic Field at 8:15.

GARNER LIKES SENATORS. Vice President Garner apparently is a loyal supporter of senators, whether they're the ones on Capitol Hill or those in ball suits. Here he's watching a Washington-Chicago game with Sen. Clyde Herring of Iowa.

HARVEST SCENE. It's a long, back-breaking stretch from the tiny shoots of the seed bed to the cured, marketable "hands" of tobacco leaves. Here, J. D. McLelland, Valdosta, Ga., grower, is doing some post-harvest shopping after trading his "long brown" for some "long green."

USING HORSE SENSE. John H. Whitney, like others of his family, finds racing serious business. He was concentrating at Saratoga.

ROLLING THEIR OWN HOOPS. It's a cheap way to a dizzy spree if you're not used to it, but His Majesty's jack-in-the-box didn't get upset. This was part of a spectacular acro-exercise wheel demonstration at the Chatham naval observance in England. Merrily they rolled along, as shown, in hair-raising hoop maneuvers.

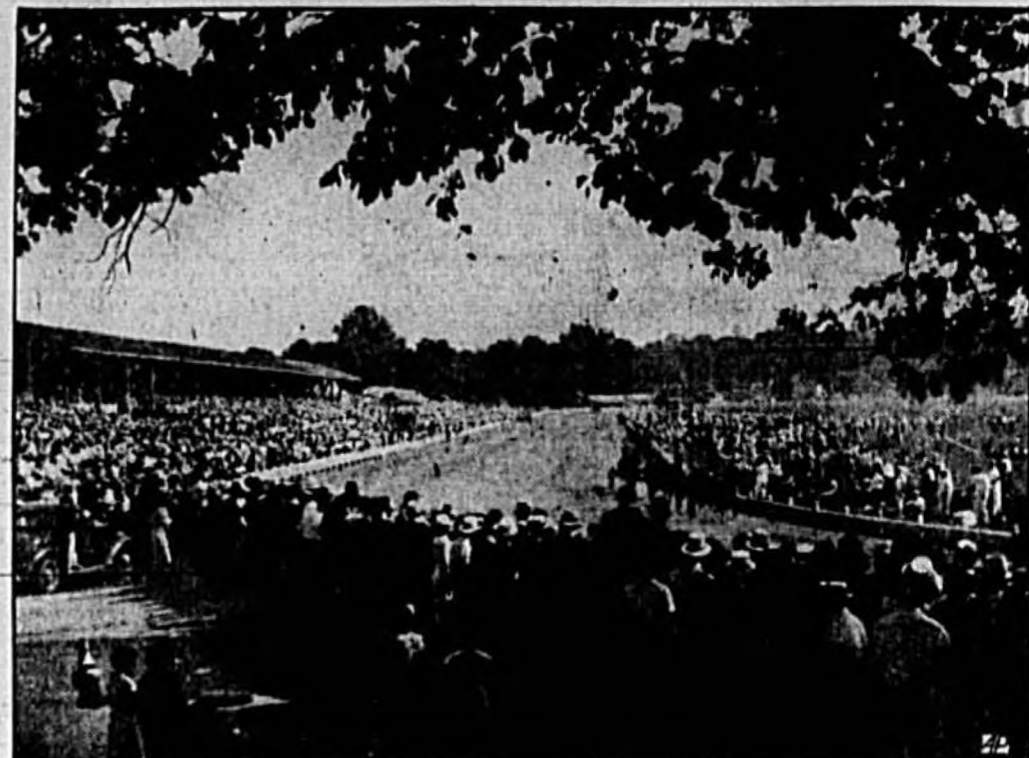

PLANTATION PALS. An interested pickaninny watches N. O. Taylor, 89 and blind for 20 years, as he gathers tobacco at Hartfield, Ga. Taylor follows his crop from the seed bed to market. He said he could tell by the "feel" when his plants are diseased and when they need to be sprayed.

NO SILVER THREADS. Walter Johnson, "The Big Train," entered big-league baseball at Washington, D. C., 30 years ago this month as the fast ball sensation of his day. Now he's a Maryland dairy farmer, and he proves to his mirror there's no gray in his crown.

THE COLONEL. Col. E. R. Bradley of Louisville, owner of some of the fastest horses on any track, is shown scanning his card at Saratoga.

DOWN THE TRACK. Here is a typical crowd at the Hambletonian race. Last year it was Rosalind who took the coveted trophy for three-year-old trotters. Between 45,000 and 50,000 are expected to be in the stands at Good Time Park for the 1937 race on August 11, during the Grand Circuit meeting at Goshen, N. Y.

THE GOLDEN WEED. In Georgia and North Florida tobacco markets the first of the 1937 "bright leaf" tobacco crop sold briskly. "Golden weed" farmers of the two states expected more than $15,000,000 for their crop. Here's an auctioneer (hand upraised) and buyers at the Metter, Ga., market.

VANDBERG STEPS OUT. Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich.), often mentioned as a possible presidential nominee, created the newest congressional stir. He proposed to place the senate on record against a recess appointment to fill the supreme court vacancy.

BEACH MAILMAN. They called it the world's only aquaplane mail delivery when John Campbell, postman, took this letter from Mayor C. W. Lockrey of Manhattan Beach, Calif., for delivery to Mayor Louis Crandall of Avalon. It was an invitation to aquaplane races.

OH, MISTER SHAW. George Bernard Shaw is shown as he received the hearty congratulations of a lady admirer on his eighty-first birthday at Malvern, Worcester, England. The playwright celebrated by watching the first performance of his new play, "The Millionaire."

APPLE ANTIC. Southern Negroes started it, just as they did the Charleston and "black bottom." Now Dixie swings to a tricky little routine they've named "The Big Apple." Here's a figure.

STRUT AND TRUCK. There's a little bit of everything in Dixie's "apple" dance. This may have been borrowed from ring-around-the-rosy, but there's also struttin', truckin', shufflin' and reelin'.

GIVING THE BOOT. It takes some high stepping and kicking to really accomplish this new swingin', stamplin', dancing rage. These "apple" dancers are Evelyn Johnson and Johnny Campbell of Columbia, S. C.

DAINTY BUT DAFFY. It may look a bit childish, but take it from the young folks below the Mason-Dixon line, the "apple" dance is a good cure for blues. This is either the start or the finish.

Ex-Convict Is Being Held In Kidnap Case

Police Seize Driver Of Car That Carried Donald Horst From His Foster Parents

Both Sides Seek To Gain Custody

Chauffeur Declares He Was Only Doing Favor For Friends

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Fred Ewert, 35, former convict, is being held by police for questioning in the abduction of Donald Horst, two, while the child's natural and foster parents studied legal maneuvers to win custody of the boy.

Missing since Donald's real parents tore him from the arms of his foster mother last Tuesday, Ewert was taken into custody at his brother's home.

Police Sergeant Frank Janowski said Ewert first told him he had driven the automobile during the abduction "as a favor" but later said he merely had borrowed it.

Ewert declined to make a formal statement. He first said he had driven the car as a favor to Lydia Nelson and John Regan, who told authorities they snatched the child because he was theirs and they wanted him back.

It was through Ewert that Regan and Miss Nelson, a common law wife, learned that the child was with Otto and Martha Horst to whom the child was given shortly after birth. The Horsts formally adopted the boy.

City officials said they approved the action because of the fire and traffic hazards caused by the crowds collecting in the street outside the movie house on the night of the weekly bank night drawing.

The warrant authorizing seizure of the equipment charged the operators of the theater were conducting a lottery. Judge Frank A. Smith issued the order for the action.

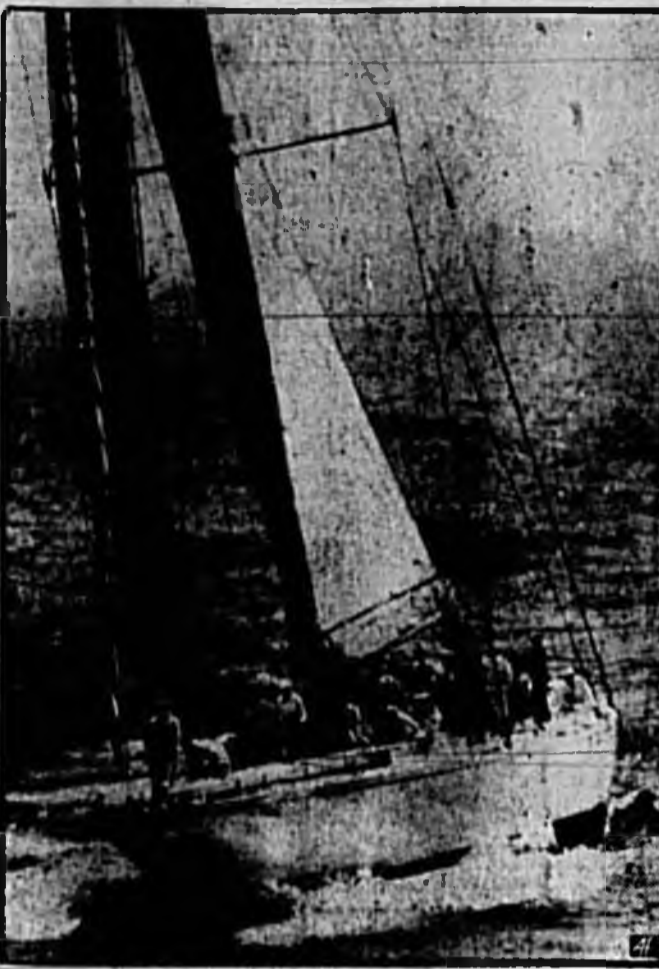

Negro Pleads Guilty To Trapping Of Quail

Trapping of quail, Judge Ware stated, is in violation of a state statute for the protection of game birds.

RANGER SETS RECORD, KEEPS CUP

This striking picture shows Harold Vanderbilt's Ranger flying before a stiff wind during her record-breaking run that defeated T. O. M. Sopwith's Endeavour II in the final race for defense of the America's Cup off Newport, R. I. The Ranger sailed the 30-mile triangular course in three hours, seven minutes and 49 seconds, the fastest ever recorded.

House Members Trade Agreement Defy Roosevelt With Russia And Over Sugar Bill U. S. Is In Effect

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—(AP)—House members defied President Roosevelt yesterday, passing sugar control legislation which he said he would veto.

Despite pleas of administration leaders, the chamber refused, by a vote of 92 to 135, to strike from the measure and administration-proposed provision restricting refined sugar imports from Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

The bill now goes to the senate, where advocates said they will insist that it be passed in its present form.

Designed to replace the expiring Jones-Costigan act, the measure would set up a new quota system for division of the domestic sugar market among various producing areas.

There was no roll call in the house to show the exact strength of the bill's supporters, who are mostly from mid-western and western sugar-producing states and from seaboard refining states. The bill passed on a standing vote announced as 165 to 55, with many members not voting.

Consequently, the question whether advocates could muster the two-thirds majority necessary to pass the measure over a presidential veto remained unanswered.

Majority leader Rayburn of Texas and Chairman Jones, Democrat, Texas, of the agriculture committee pleaded with the house to accept the administration's views if it wants sugar legislation this session.

They asserted the refined imports restrictions would discriminate against the island possessions.

The bill would levy an excise tax of half a cent a pound on refined sugar to finance benefit payments to growers complying with production control, child labor and wage and hour regulations prescribed by the agriculture department.

The house rejected amendments of Florida representatives for a Florida quota of at least 100,000 short tons annually. The bill would allow that state approximately 70,000 annually.

Both Sides In Spanish War Make Claims

Each Reports Uprisings In Territory Of Opposition As Fighting Continues

By The Associated Press
Each side in the Spanish conflict reported uprisings in the enemy's territory. While fighting continued on the Teruel front, an insurgent salient is heading toward Madrid to the Valencia highway.

Insurgent officers said anarchists and moderates, welded by the popular front, had broken again in the government ranks. Government sources reported a group of insurgents turned against Generalissimo Franco in Toledo and were fighting from the ancient Bishop's Palace against the city's conquerors.

Aerial bombing of British, French and Italian vessels in the Mediterranean threatened complications.

Great Britain protested to insurgent authorities and Spanish Government sources charged the attack was made by insurgent planes seeking ships carrying an "important" cargo.

The captain of the Italian steamer died of wounds at Algiers.

Dispute Over Job Service In State Halts Payments

TALLAHASSEE, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The comptroller's office halted payment of unemployment compensation checks because of a dispute over its compensation agency, the Florida Employment Service.

Comptroller Harry J. Chance said "We are holding up all employment service money on the government's orders. Both are provided for in law. If the federal government does not want its money spent for an employment insurance work while the employment service is in dispute, we won't pay those bills."

Chance said he had telegraphed Washington officials for directions. The bills cover the July payroll of approximately $300,000 for 39,000 men and a $100,000 expense voucher.

WPA Project In Local Territory Finished In July

Workers Begin Cleanup Of Ditches On Highway To Oviedo

During the month of July several local WPA projects were completed and a new project was started. It was learned at the local WPA office today.

The project on West First Street which consisted of leveling shoulders of the road and cleaning out the ditches along the road was completed early in the month and has been added to the list of projects to be done by the workers on a similar project on approximately four miles of the Oviedo Road.

The project which called for the painting of the road on the State Road here was also completed and work on the repaving of the main road at the Municipal Ball Park is also progressing as rapidly as possible.

A local number of southern contractors employed in the area project which has been under way for some time and consists of removing the old concrete of both elevated terraces and the replacing of larger concrete which is necessary for the efficient operation of the city's sewerage, although the project has not been completed, great progress has been made, it was indicated.

During the month these sewerage improvement projects were finished work which was their only source of income to 177 persons in Seminole county.

Dulles Company Is Given Ensignia For Its Service Record

A gold ensignia accompanied by a congratulatory letter from the president of the American Insurance Company was presented to the H. C. Dulles Agency yesterday in recognition of "faithful service" for over a quarter of a century.

Stating that "great credit is due you and your associates in your business that has endured and prospered for seventy years," Paul H. Summers, president of the company, added, "More important than all, is the bond of friendship which has held us together, and we hope it will grow even stronger in the years to come. Few agencies have been in existence for so long a period, and your past record should be a heritage symbolic of future achievements."

The presentation was made by a home office representative of the company who spoke highly of the Dulles Agency's ability to handle the company's interests.

The local agency has represented the American Insurance Company since July 4, 1912, and only four other agencies in the state have achieved such a distinction.
