Germans Cheer As U. S. Troops Enter City Of Leipzig

By DON WHITEHEAD and HAL BOYLE
 LEIPZIG, Germany, April 18.—Hours away last night a group of the U. S. First Army pushed through the streets while thousands of German civilians, apparently unmindful of the battle, poured from basements and air raid shelters to watch.

Some Germans laughed and waved in genuine display of relief that the Americans had arrived. They gave little heed to the rattle of machinegun fire and the crashing of shells at the Elster river, which runs through the city's center, where tired, muddy American doughboys battled the Germans after advancing the black by block through the city.

American forces moving against the heart of Leipzig and attacking from the south and west were putting the squeeze on an estimated 40,000 Germans inside the industrial and art center, fifth city of the Nazi Reich.

Troops of the 69th infantry division battled at the south, the 10th infantry division at the west, the 10th armored division advanced from the south and west.

Eerie March
 Doughboys moved through the city last night on the sixth day of the siege. Entrance into the war-wrecked city of 1,000,000 came after an eerie march through the rain. Brilliant lightning coupled with flaming artillery burst to guide the long dark columns to their objective.

Enemy rifles made brief stabs of flame along the route but their small strongpoints were quickly knocked out. Nazi artillery shells fell as the Americans plodded along, covered by their own artillery, the explosions of which were lost in the noise of thundering cannon.

7th Army Expands Danube To 10 Miles Bridgeheads Over British Hit Bremen

 HANNOVER, The Canadian First Army, supported by the First Canadian Army, today pushed north along the Danube and drove on the part of Flanders and Westphalia.

On the Danube front the U. S. Fifth Army, spearheading 45 miles beyond Bologna, reached near the Po River and battled within 210 miles of the French and American forces hitting southward in Germany.

A swift lunge across the Po plain littered with the wreckage of many of troops into Leipzig and his men were the first to reach the city moving on last night against light resistance.

We were surprised in and shot into Callahan said as he waited for a nearby evacuated Nazis to be taken to attack.

Civilians in Leipzig reported that some 1,500 picked German troops left the city two days ago for the mountains.

While the tip hammer they fell in the south, the world awaited the electrifying news that the Allies on the east and west had met in the heart of Germany.

A bold dispatch from the U. S. First Army Front, where patrols pushing across the Mulde River east of Leipzig ran into resistance, said the Russians in that area were 25 miles from the American lines.

(BBC, heard by NBC, put the distance at less than 10 miles on the basis of reports from its field correspondents.)

As on the U. S. Ninth Army Front before Berlin, the Americans could hear Red Army commanders' voice instructions via field radio.

An American pilot had from reconnaissance in an artillery spotter 15 miles east of the First Army lines said he saw German villages, abazars from Red Army artillery, and Russian columns were spotted.

Correspondents on the Ninth Army Front were hurriedly assembled and told that news of the junction would come in the form of a "United Nations" announcement, probably simultaneously from Washington, London and Moscow—one more indication that the historic hour was near.

For the first time it was disclosed that Allied Air Forces had a definite bomb line stretching in a direct line from the front of the Russian Army to the front of the American Army.

Hitler's great rebuff in the Alps of Bavaria and Austria was in the direct rear as three Allied Armies pounded on south.

 1. Florida is one of the nation's leading cattle states, making for an on-the-spot supply of hides.
 2. Mangrove, palmetto and scrub oak of Florida are excellent sources of tanning materials. Other sources are becoming scarce and even non-existent in many parts of the country.
 3. Good water needed in tanning leather is readily available.
 4. The sun is an active agent in tanning and Florida sun-tanning the year around is far cheaper and better than methods requiring fuel.
 5. Florida possesses an adequate supply of American born labor.
 6. Florida is well situated with respect to mid-western shoe manufacturers as well as to the Latin American markets.
 7. Florida also produces large quantities of shark and reptile skins, suitable for tanning.

Our investigations indicate that the profit possibilities in leather tanning and processing in Florida merit your careful and immediate investigation.

Russian Spearheads Drive Past Berlin To Elbe River; Patton's Third Army Reaches Danube Encircling Munich

Allied Headquarters Says German Army As Fighting Force Ceases To Exist

(By Associated Press) The American Third Army reached the Danube River, and moved within 82 miles of Berchtesgaden while two other armies, assaulting Hitler's final Alpine redoubt crashed forward in a great maneuver to encircle Munich. The "American Seventh" and the French First armies are exploiting their Danube bridgeheads in drives to the Swiss and Austrian borders with the German army. An Associated Press correspondent reported from Gen. Jacob L. Devers' Sixth Army group headquarters. The vaguely defined redoubt in the south has perhaps been invaded already by Devers' troops which outflanked Lake Constance, its western limit. All three armies are rolling with unchecked power through the foothills of the Alps. In the northern sector the British stormed Bremen by brilliant attacks. The Canadian First Army sealed off the last pocket in north at Heligoland at the Spruce on the coast. All the North Sea estuary of Holland to the mouth of the Ems has been cut off. ### Delegates Meet In San Francisco For World Parley

President Truman To Open Conference By Radio Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25, 1945. Spokesmen for big and little nations solemnly proclaimed today that the world security conference opening today "must not and will not fail." A big three squabble over Poland supplied a single spotlight. Delegates arrived throughout the day. This morning the roster of representatives of 46 nations, pledged to produce a plan for peace, was almost complete. Late this afternoon Secretary of State Stettinius will call them to order in San Francisco's magnificent opera house, open the conference formally, and introduce President Truman, speaking by radio from Washington. To Be Decided The three vote issue will have to be decided by the conference. Russia's technical position is that White Russia and the Ukraine are autonomous in their foreign relations. One reason why United States is making only one rather than two votes is because it is that this country has no autonomous territories for which to ask them. A second reason is that the United States government does not consider that the British actually control a bloc of votes through their empire system, arguing that often the commonwealth vote against the United Kingdom. But perhaps the chief reason why the late President Roosevelt decided definitely not to ask that the United States should not do so and be bogged by getting an example to persuade the Russians.

Berlin Is Near Isolation As Last Escape Railway Cut; Half Berlin Held

(By Associated Press) Soviet troops have reached the Elbe River on a 22-mile front northwest of Dresden and all but completed the encirclement of Berlin, slicing the last escape railway to the west, the German High Command said today. A broadcast German communiqué said the Russians had taken the city between Hesse, 25 miles northwest of Dresden, and Torgau, 20 miles farther northwest. Half of Berlin is held by Soviet troops, beating down German barricades of stone and iron, and pushing back German tanks and fighting Nazis who popped out of subways behind the Russian lines. Berlin was described as a wasteland of smoke, rubble, and twisted steel. The last White Russian Army unit, the 100th, southwest of West Berlin, was ordered to withdraw. The city is now in the hands of the Soviets.

City Commission Opposes Bill To Unify Charters

City commissioners at their meeting Monday evening, went on record as opposing the proposed House Bill No. 167, which would provide for uniform charters and a uniform system of municipal government under state supervision. It was reported by H. N. Sayre, city clerk. The Sanford Elks Association requested permission to co-sponsor with the American Legion a fair at the corner of Coleridge and Melville Avenue during the latter part of the month and early May. Proceeds of the fair would be devoted to the City Fund for the First Army Home for Crippled Children at Umatilla, and proceeds derived by Campbell-Losing Post 53 would go toward a perpetual honor roll for veterans of the present war, according to Joel S. Field, exalted ruler of the Elks and Legionnaire who made the request.

Improvements In Kiwanians Pledge Business Area $5,225 In Bonds At Auction Today

A civic improvement campaign is under way in downtown Sanford which is already causing favorable comment among citizens. It started a while back with the painting of the east side of the Sanford Atlantic National Bank Building, and now the Touchton Building is getting a new coat of white. The Salvation Army building was recently painted, as was the Montezuma Hotel. Holy Cross Episcopal Church gleams with a new coat while the front of Strickland Morrison Motors at the Archel Building was painted not long ago. On Sanford Avenue, G. W. Clark is erecting a two story cement block and brick building, primarily for the sake of a residence, as he, Mrs. Clark and his son have been living in a three room trailer in the rear of his shop repair shop for the past 10 years. The lower part of the building will be devoted to a general merchandise store and a luncheon which will be operated by Mrs. Clark. Mr. and Mrs. Clark came to Sanford from Martinsville, W. ### Recent Rains Are Great Benefit To Seminole Crops

Recent rains have greatly benefited the outstanding crops of vegetables in Seminole County. "Hottest item at the Sanford State Farmers' Market is green beans," say produce men. Not only is the quality good, but there is big demand coupled with plentiful supply and high prices. Another popular item is corn, locally grown and sold in bins, from $1.25 to $1.50. There were also plenty of yellow and white sweet corn, and some of the white varieties being loaded on the huge rail produce trucks which in 30 hours will reach such places as Norfolk, Va. Much land cleared from timber in the move at $100 to $250 a acre is being planted with a variety of crops. There were many of green peppers on display yesterday. Most of these came from the Plant City area, but a lot of the local brand are now coming in. Locally grown sweet corn still is a staple item in the diet, but more is expected soon. (Continued on Page Eight)

Bites suggested were the Young People's Club on East First Street, now unused, or at the shuffleboard courts in Fort Mallon Park. Berlin Is Near Isolation As Last Escape Railway Cut; Half Berlin Held

 said the First Ukrainian Army reached Habelsburg, a suburb between Potsdam and Berlin. Other troops of the First Ukrainian were streaking northward from a point southwest of the capital toward a juncture with the First White Russian Army. At last reports Red Army troops were within a mile of the heart of Berlin. Complete isolation of the capital is near.

LONDON, Wednesday, Apr. 25.—Two powerful Russian armies joined forces inside Berlin yesterday and seized fully half the area of the burning city which the Germans said now was "practically surrounded" and entirely cut off from outside aid.

A Moscow communique announced the junction of the First Ukrainian and First White Russian Armies in a single phase of coordinated drives which captured the Schlesischer (Silesian) railway station and all the districts north and east of it, within a mile of the center of the city at Unter den Linden.

The First White Russian force of Marshal G. K. Zhukov simultaneously executed a great wheeling movement north and northwest which severed one of two railways leading from Berlin to the north west German pocket and came within two and one-half miles of the other, Moscow disclosed.

Corridor Small
 The Russian account showed the city still lacking some 10 miles of being surrounded. The German-controlled Scandinavian Telegraph Bureau said, however, that there was only a three-mile corridor left on the northwest and that it could not be used because it was blanketed by Soviet heavy artillery fire. No more reinforcements can be sent in, said this report which came via Oslo and Stockholm.

Even by Russian official account, total isolation of Berlin was near, the Moscow communique announcing that Marshal Ivan S. Konev's First Ukrainian had spread up from the south to a point four miles due east of Potsdam.

Junction of the two Russian armies inside Berlin's limits completed the encirclement of a tremendous area 60 miles long and 30 miles broad, stretching clear back east and southeast to the Oder and Neisse Rivers, trapping untold numbers of Germans. Closing in quickly on the far end of that pocket, other White Russian units took the stubborn fortress of Forst-Neuberg on the west bank of the Oder and Guben quered, an Allied communique said.

Says Headquarters German Army As Fighting Force Ceases To Exist

A supreme headquarters statement said: "The German Army has ceased to exist as an integrated fighting force."

PARIS, Wednesday, April 25.—Whirling down on Hitler's Bavarian mountain retreat, three mighty Allied armies curved the tips of a giant pincers within 25 miles of Austria's borders last night.

In the far north, the British opened the final assault on Germany's second port of Bremen, and along the Elbe River Valley the Russians drew ever closer to their historic union with the waiting Americans.

Berlin flared in its final agonies and Nazi propagandists said Hitler himself was within the crumbling capital, directing military operations. Other European sources, however, expressed on the east bank of the Neisse just south of the confluence of the two streams.

Grossenhain Taken
 Far south of Berlin the Russians announced capture of Grossenhain 20 miles northwest of Dresden.

It was in that area that Soviet and American forces were approaching an historic junction on a broad front.

The French press agency said without confirmation that a union already had been reached at Eilenburg, nine miles northeast of Leipzig, but dispatches from the U. S. First Army front said no link-up had yet been made.

The expected simultaneous announcement of the junction from Washington, Moscow and London had not been made, but field dispatches from both sides of the front left little doubt that Adolf Hitler's Reich was being quickly and irrevocably cut in two.

German radio accounts persisted in reporting that Hitler himself still was in Berlin, personally directing its ramshackle defense, even to the disposition of various troop units, but the best Allied sources held to the belief that he had immured himself in his Berchtesgaden retreat in the South.

Half Across Austria
 The Russians were driving toward Berchtesgaden, too. The German High Command said that Red Army troops had sliced halfway across Austria to Eilenburg, 90 miles east of Hitler's home, and the Americans were closing in fast from the north west.

FIRST DAY OF SCHOOL

When the San Francisco Conference ends, the delegates will have experienced their "first day of school" for the study of the complex problems of world peace, and for the development of a curriculum for a permanent school.

Everyone everywhere should clearly understand that this Conference is the most important international meeting in history.

We can be thankful that our nation is represented by wise and experienced statesmen with a sincere desire for peace, and we are sure the other nations have the same type of representation.

The Conference will furnish the leadership and the plan, but peace depends upon the peoples of the United Nations upon their will to peace, upon their sacrifice for peace, upon their works of peace.

The difficulties are enormous, some of the problems cannot be solved immediately, and compromises will be made by all nations in order to arrive at conclusions that will be fair to all countries.

The Conference cannot create an enduring peace. But it will lay the foundations for a plan for peace to be put into effect as soon as possible, and which we and future generations of the world must maintain.

Let us be sparing in our criticism and generous with our encouragement and constructive suggestions.

And above all let us pray that the thinking people of the world will take advantage of the opportunity afforded by the "first day of school" and build continuously toward an enduring peace.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

BUT IF WE WANT FRUIT WE MUST PLANT AND CULTIVATE AND PRUNE AND BE WATCHFUL: The fig tree replenish her green figs, and the vines are in blossom, they give forth their fragrance.—Song of Songs 2:12.

MY SON

(A reminder to the Delegates at San Francisco)

Were he to die beneath a foe-man's hand,
Loving life so, in some bleak
alien land,
Help me, dear God, that I may understand.

Up hill or down, wherever I may
In peaceful ways, or under skies blood red,
I shall be bitter — if my son lies dead.

For, years ago, across this self-same sea,
While comrades died that free men
might stay free,
I waged a war — that this war should not be.

Fred S. Wertenbach
Ex-sergeant, Company G,
11th Infantry, 28th Division

Ruth Bryer Owen Rhode, former Florida representative, is among prominent women attending the San Francisco conference.

When Hitler is captured, if he is, we do not believe it will be the Russians who will capture him. Hitler may be crazy but he is not dumb.

President Truman is getting a good start by inviting the support of Congressional leaders, without which any President is pretty sure to be in hot water most of the time.

Raymond Moley wonders what Henry Wallace is going to do with some 15 billion dollars worth of surplus government goods when the war is over. Why not plow under every third row?

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. is another film star who has done right well in this war. He was in before Pearl Harbor, has risen to the rank of lieutenant commander, and was recently awarded the Distinguished Service Cross by the British government.

As the end approaches for Hitler and his gang, his crimes increase in their wantonness and their ferociousness. War at best can't be expected to be humane and civilians as well as soldiers are bound to get hurt in all conceivable ways, but there can be no excuse whatever for herding prisoners of war into buildings which are then set on fire while guards stand around outside shooting the victims as they try to escape. Some of the things that have taken place in Nazi concentration camps could scarcely be conceived in any but a deplorable mind.

Although a statewide sales tax with rebates to municipalities would be one way of raising the money which the cities will need for expanding operations after the war, there is no reason why any city should bank entirely on such state aid, for it may not be forthcoming. There is no reason why a city can't levy on its own account all the taxes it needs to carry on necessary public improvements. It can't, of course, get it out of real estate, now that home-owners are exempted by constitutional law, but it can levy taxes on such utilities as water, gas and electricity, or in a dozen other ways.

We hope that the Russian attitude with regard to Poland will somehow be understood in this country. Fighting a gigantic war clear across another country; on the road to Berlin, Russia could hardly be expected to want anything but a friendly government in the provisional capital, at least. Even when peace is restored, Russia would want to be assured that the government in Poland would not in any wise be hostile toward her, possibly eventually aligning itself with some new warlike German party. Strange, but some of those in this country who condemn Russia's attitude, insist that the United States should hang on to the island bases in the Pacific which were seized from Japan in this way, though that would be quite in conflict with the Atlantic Charter.

The Need For Character

We are hearing a good deal these days about the value of education—and we would be the last to deny its importance. The Legislature is appropriating this year several million dollars more for schools. The Army and Navy have spent millions of dollars during this war teaching men to read and write, as well as to understand some of the higher forms of mathematics, astronomy, physics and chemistry. The GI bill of rights includes a provision, which will cost the American public many millions of dollars, to send returning soldiers to college.

We have also heard a good deal in recent years about the importance of physical training in the development of our young people. High schools and colleges have gone in for athletics on a truly gigantic scale. Public parks and playgrounds take care of the needs of children outside of school hours. Physical training teachers and athletic directors see to it that the body of the child is properly developed. Physical fitness programs have been an integral part of the training in every Army and Navy camp.

All this is to the good, but what are we doing about character? People don't just naturally grow up to be decent, honorable, law-abiding citizens. They have to be trained and developed just as their bodies and minds have to be trained and developed. But so far as we know there is no public institution devoted exclusively to the inculcation of high ideals and principles among the youth of our land.

Of course, this is one of the primary jobs of the church and the church is doing a grand job wherever it can. Blessed is the child who is brought up under the influence of the church. But the trouble is, there are so many children who never see the inside of a church. There are so many people who don't care whether their children go to church or not. And there are so many people who are so weak willed that, though they may want their children to go to church, they do not know how to get them to go.

And of course, character development cannot proceed far without the active participation of the home. In fact the primary responsibility for bringing children up with a proper respect for law, ethics, morals and religion, rests upon the mother and father. Nothing that the church, the schools, the Boy Scouts and similar organizations can do will amount to much if the boy returns home to find their ideals ridiculed or violated in the home.

What are you doing to develop character in your child? Have you read the Bible? Remember the passage in there about "Honor your father and mother"? That might help you out some. If he knew about it. Have you encouraged him to read good books that are not devoted entirely to murder, rape and robbery, but lay some stress on the finer things of life? Have you talked to him about the evils of cheating and dishonesty, about the value of courtesy and respect for authority, about generosity, sympathy, consideration?

We have seen in this war what progress man has made in scientific discoveries since bows and arrows were introduced at Agincourt. The tank, the submarine, the airplane, the robot bomb have all convinced us that man has learned to master the secrets which for centuries baffled human understanding.

But we have come to fear that without a corresponding increase in character, necessary to turn this knowledge to the benefits of mankind, the ultimate destruction of the earth, and all that's on it cannot be far distant.

Afraid Of Kindness

A story almost as terrible as those of the German prison camps, where allied soldiers were starved and mistreated, has come from men of the U.S. Ninetieth Division pushing their way into Czechoslovakia. They found a brave and gallant people so broken by six years of oppression that, as one soldier said, "It's a terrible thing to see how these Czechs are afraid to be seen talking to us in front of cause they had crossed the border gleefully, their jackets Kraut prisoners."

It was all the more saddening to the Americans beladen with candy and cigars, happy to be in "fraternizing country" once more. They all felt, as a Brooklyn rifleman expressed it, that "it'll be good to be nice again." And then they couldn't be. They couldn't even get rid of the candy, unless they left it before closed doors.

They understood what the trouble was, that the Czechs were apparently afraid of German or Sudeten reprisals, but it grieved them. And it made them more enraged than ever at the Nazis, whose "culture" could so destroy the spirit of a country so peace-loving, yet so sturdy and independent as that of the Czechs.

Truly there can be no real peace on earth until the Nazis are gone.

Anti-friction bearings are now used in the most advanced artificial limbs for greater dexterity and mobility. Nostradamus, noted astrologer also wrote a book entitled, "How Women May Make Themselves Beautiful in Face and Form."

BOOST FOR BRETON WOODS

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR

President Truman's support of the Bretton Woods proposals for an International Bank and Monetary Fund does more than carry on the Roosevelt policy on post-war financial co-operation among the United Nations. It adds a strong "middle-of-the-road" voice to those in favor of multilateral action to extend credit facilities to needy countries and to stabilize currencies.

To keep the lines of the controversy clear, we should point out that it is the stabilizing features of the plan, Bretton Woods proposes, not the Bank, which are under fire. They are under fire from critics who contend the monetary plan is unworkable, that the United States contribution to the Fund will be lost, and that a bilateral agreement between the United States and Britain is what is needed now to put us on the road to currency stability.

There are, however, quite as many, if not more, pitfalls in the bilateral approach to currency stabilization as in the system proposed at Bretton Woods.

Moreover, bilateral measures could hardly contribute to needed expansion of world trade as effectively as an all-round agreement among the United Nations to keep their currencies in an orderly relationship. The critics of Bretton Woods have given scant attention to the safeguards set up to protect American interests in the Fund, and its distinctive tendency to exaggerate the dangers.

Since the main outlines of the plan originated with Treasury experts, the American people are listening for favorable opinion about the Fund from other than Treasury sources. Lately such opinion has been offered by the Committee for Economic Development, which represents some of the biggest names in American business and finance, and by the Governors of the Federal Reserve System. More recently, Dean Acheson, Assistant Secretary of State, has added his support to the Bretton Woods plan. And now President Truman adds a similarly trusted voice to the discussion.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By RUSSELL KAY

"Don't be too hasty in condemning governmental boards and bureaus," writes Dr. Brown Landone of Winter Park, "some of them function with amazing benefit to the State and the taxpayer."

"You won't believe it," he continues, "but I can point to one agency that in three years operation has brought the taxpayer a return of 76.688 percent on their investment."

This bureau, at a cost of $22,541 a year for three years, brought to the State of Florida actual cash investments and values of more than $51,860,000.

The agency Mr. Landone refers to is the Florida Economic Advancement Council, which was set up as a liaison office in Washington to work with both governmental agencies and private industry in an effort to influence and encourage agricultural, industrial and civic development in Florida. The agency which operates in conjunction with the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, is directed by W. D. (Bill) Outman.

Landone, who has long been a student of government, bases his argument in favor of this agency on an analysis of its official report of operations, just published. He lists the following accomplishments: It secured a dehydrating plant for mullet; research plant for recovery of fish by-products for vitamins, salvage of new stumps for pulp by use of ammonium nitrate as an explosive; and for these alone secured $150,000 from the Federal government.

It induced the Johns-Mannville Company to switch its ramie operations from Haiti to Florida. This resulted in a sale of State lands totalling $60,000 and led to the sale of a plant site for this corporation which promises to net the State $30,000 a year. Anything that yields an income of $30,000 a year, he points out, can be conservatively estimated to be worth $900,000 on a basis of 4 percent.

In addition, there is a secured commitment for a processing plant at the State Prison Farm to cost approximately $250,000. Other commitments call for the development and planting of ramie totalling another $750,000. The Federal government has already allotted $321,000 in cash to rush the project and the Navy has contracted to take all the ramie fibre produced.

"And since handled," he continues, "the Council secured the McCloskey Shipbuilding Plant for Tampa, a $50,000,000 development, that but for the work of the FEAC would have gone to another Gulf port."

"Thus we find that in three projects alone, during the three years of its operation, the FEAC secured for Florida a total of $5,180,000 in investment values. The total cost to the taxpayers for the operation of the Council during this period was only $67,923.79.

1 percent of this cost is $676.24. By dividing $51,860,000 by $676.24, we find that the values obtained are 76.688 percent of the expenditures. And this does not include scores of other values gained for our State by the same Council. Do you know of any other business that has ever yielded anything like this in three years?"

No, Mr. Landone, I don't and

Delegates Meet In San Francisco For World Parley

Despite all the cross currents, there was an air of buoyant confidence among the delegates that San Francisco will not let down an anxious world, that "give and take" policies will prevail.

"All of us know," Attlee told a horde of reporters, "that we cannot hope to get exactly what we want. We are here for purposes of discussion and to get the best we can. You can rely on the British delegation to do its utmost to make this conference a success."

Britain, he said, tortured for years by bombs and rockets, is determined to gain security and will take the best solution it can get.

Has No Fear
 Spunk, chief of the Belgian delegation, said he had no fear that his powers would take advantage of smaller nations in the world organization. In fact, he insisted the position of lesser countries would be strengthened.

The big powers have made proposals for maintaining peace and security and it is now, he said, for the small powers to discuss them and contribute to their success.

Contributing also to the expression of harmony was Czech Foreign Minister Masaryk. Arriving by plane, he pushed aside questions about the conference with a smiling statement that "little people should be seen and heard."

And from Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada came an assertion that to take a definite stand on conference questions at the outset "might prejudice not only our own interests but the interests of the conference as a whole."

This evidence piled up that the Big Three—America, Britain and Russia—are in a position to run the conference about as they please, but that they probably will show deference to interests of all nations. Also that concessions and compromises will be made instead of sticking rigidly to the basic peace plan embodied in the Dumbarton Oaks formula.

HENRY WILLIAM STEIGEL EMIGRATED TO AMERICA IN 1780 AND SETTLED IN PHILADELPHIA. BY 1784 HE BECAME A PROSPEROUS IRONMASTER AND WAS MAKING A GREAT FACILITY OF IRON CASTINGS AND STOVES.

IN 1782 STEIGEL FOUNDED THE TOWN OF MANHATTAN, N. Y., AND ESTABLISHED A GLASS FACTORY UNDER THE FOLLOWING YEAR. HIS VENTURE PROVED SO SUCCESSFUL, THAT HE BROUGHT SKILLED GLASS BLOWERS AND WORKERS FROM EUROPE.

British And Americans Join Russian Army In Germany; Third Army Invades Austria Sealing Off Czechoslovakia

Seventh Army Slams Shut Front Door To Adolf Hitler's Alpine Fortress

The Third Army invaded Austria today and swept to within 85 miles of the Russian lines in a great maneuver swiftly sealing off Czechoslovakia. Slamming shut the front door of Hitler's Alpine redoubt, the American Seventh Army drove to within 85 miles of Munich. General Patton's troops captured Innsbruck, a fortress city on the Danube River, moved to within 38 miles of Munich.

With the German's second port of Bremen conquered, the British flashed north towards invaded Hamburg in a manner which would lop off Schleswig-Holstein and the Danish peninsula. The Canadian First Army after days of violent combat broke the German defense line on the Kistener canal west of Bremen.

Allied troops in Italy pressed forward for a rapid cleanup of northern Italy with the U. S. Fifth Army rolling on the west of Lake Garda, capturing Piacenza, and making gains along the Ligurian coast toward Genoa. British Eighth Army units consolidated positions along the south.

Red Point Values Of Meats, Cheese Given New Boost

WASHINGTON, April 27, (AP)—OPA today accepted mutton under rationing yesterday and increased red point values for most meats, margarine and butter grades of cheese.

OPA Administrator Chester Bowles said steaks will get 8,000,000 pounds less than in May than in April. The new values will be effective from Sunday until the 15 of the next ration period on June 5.

New values for processed foods include 10-point reduction on canned snap beans, tomato ketchup, chili sauce, apricots and for the 24-ounce tin of tomato juice and tomato juice blends. Grape juice was raised 10 points a pint.

Meat Virtually All Rationed

Bowles said that most changes bring 90% of all meats, except mutton under rationing. He said that were made necessary because the coming weeks will be a period of "heavy short civilian supplies."

Newly rationed items include veal and utility grades of veal and lamb and all grades of less popular cuts of veal and lamb such as breasts, shanks, necks and ribs.

Changes in value include increases of one to two points a pound for most cuts of lamb and veal and one point for most beefsteaks and roasts and two points on beef roasts and other beef cuts.

Margarine Points Go Up

Margarine was increased from eight to 12 points a pound and group I cheese from 10 to 12 points. Bowles said butter supplies will be slightly higher in May but that estimated production for the year is lower than in 1944.

OPA did not change values for butter, hamburger, lard, shortening, and cooking and salad oils.

Hornfly Millions Killed At Wight Ranch By DDT

New Insecticide Seen As Revolutionizing Cattle Industry

By WILLARD CONNOLLY

Uncounted swarms of horn flies, small blood-thirsty insects that spend all their time making cattle nervous, tormented and irritable, met their doom at the ranch of Ralph Wight near Lake Jessup yesterday as an experiment was conducted by U. S. Department of Agriculture experts with a new solution which was sprayed on cattle and which contained in its solution the deadliest of known insecticides, DDT.

The set-up at Mr. Wight's ranch was ideal for the experiment, and was brought about through his keen interest in the most up-to-date and scientific methods of improving cattle strains.

The experiment, which drew state experts, veterinarians, dairymen and county agents to the ranch, was efficiently conducted by E. H. Hinkley and C. C. Skipper, research entomologists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture who came here from Savannah to conduct the experiment.

More than 150 cattle were herded in a dozen at a time into a cattle chute or runway at the side of which was an elevated board walk. Nearly was a spray (Continued on Page Eight)

CITY BRIEFS

Monday afternoon at from 5:00 to 5:30 o'clock will be the last time that Dr. Raymond Bass, veterinarian, will vaccinate dogs in the City garage, according to Police Chief Roy G. Williams.

A City ordinance requiring that all dogs in the city be vaccinated and be given a tag.

Thursday, Apr. 26, was Confederate Memorial Day and the Sanford Atlantic National Bank and the Florida State Bank closed in observance of the day.

Temperatures soared to unseasonable heights in Sanford Tuesday with a maximum of 92 recorded by B. F. Whitner, weather-thermometer got up to 88, temperature maximums have risen one degree every day. April 3, was hottest, however, with a maximum of 95. Average for the month is 75 degrees.

Police were today notified that the cafeteria at Seminole High School had been broken into during the night and that $50.75 in cash was missing.

Bauhinia Seeds Can Now Be Obtained

Sanford residents desirous of obtaining Bauhinia seeds for planting in their own gardens were reminded today by Mrs. H. H. McCallin, president of the Garden Club, that the seeds are available at the Garden Center at First Street and Almetto Avenue. She also urged all those ready having trees and seeds for distribution to bring them to the Garden Center, keeping the white ones separate from the lavender seeds.

This beautification program will be expanded in the near future, she pointed out, to include Ficus, Jacaranda, and other trees from which are not quite ready for distribution.

Poppy Day Sales In Sanford Net $425

Poppy Day sales conducted Saturday in Sanford and throughout Seminole County by members of the American Legion Auxiliary, with Mrs. Ben Loran as chairman, proved very successful with the result that $425 was received for rehabilitation work among veterans of World War I and World War II. It was reported by Mrs. O. L. Irwin, Auxiliary commander.

Property, buildings, improvements and fixtures of Seminole Driving Park Inc. which for many years has maintained a track for horse training and racing in the county, will be sold at public auction at the front door of the Seminole County Court House on June 4, in accordance with a Decree of Foreclosure and Sale entered by Judge M. ### Governor Caldwell Accuses Lobby Of Fighting Tax Bill

Says Opponents Are Trying To Force Levy Of Sales Tax

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 27, (AP)—Gov. Caldwell fought back today against forces threatening to upset his $14,000,000 revenue-raising program, declaring that the "most efficient lobby" he had ever seen was leading Florida toward a general sales tax.

With his four-cent cigarette tax still in a precarious position in the Senate and other phases of his program facing strong opposition, the governor held a closed meeting with the House finance and taxation committee later for a discussion of the state's financial condition.

In a straight-from-the-shoulder talk, Caldwell told the Florida Taxpayers' association that there was no alternative to increased taxation of increased state services were to be financed.

He said he agreed with the association's demand for the sales tax but asserted "we are getting a little closer to it than we realize."

These various interests, he said, have no right to be in the legislature and others are not to be considered. He declared their strategy is to delay consideration of his tax bills until the closing days of the session and then try to a sales tax.

Caldwell Hits Waste

"No Scotsman here is any tighter with money than I am," said Caldwell, "but we should spend what we need to accomplish what we have to do without waste."

"I have no patience with the idea Florida is a pauper state and not capable of caring for its needs."

Save, reduce taxes, economize, abolish, consolidate, all of that is grand stuff, but it can be consolidated but just try to consolidate by an act of the legislature (Continued on Page Six)

Dr. Garner Proposes Memorial Hospital

Dr. Wade H. Garner, Sanford physician, recommends a new and modern hospital as the best and most fitting monument that could be erected in honor of the memory of the late President Roosevelt.

Dr. Garner's interest in a Roosevelt memorial was stimulated by an editorial in the Wednesday Herald of this week, telling of the receipt by Mayor Edward Loggins of a letter from Marchmont Mrs. Hugh Carlisle (SNR) urging the community to erect a memorial to the late President Roosevelt.

"I cannot conceive of a more fitting monument as a memorial to a new, modern hospital for Sanford."

"Without presenting any argument either way, I will say that a modern, larger hospital should be one of the chief objects of our community. There is nothing that is needed more. There is nothing that will put Sanford forward more. A hospital is the one project above all we should fight for this above all other improvements," Dr. Garner stated.

Elks - Legion Fair Is Postponed One Week

At the request of the Seminole County Farm Labor Committee, a group appointed by Governor Millard Caldwell, it was decided to postpone from Apr. 30 to May 25 the fair sponsored by the Sanford Elks Lodge and Campbell-Lessing Post of the American Legion, according to an announcement today by Joel S. Field, Elks exalted ruler, and Ned Smith, exalted ruler of the fair.

The postponement was made in order to co-operate with growers in not interfering with the labor supply in harvesting of crops, as it was felt that a fair might attract farm workers at a time when there is a shortage of labor, Mr. Field said.

The fair will be held May 29 at the corner of Mellonville and Celery Avenue and a large carnival company will furnish amusements. Proceeds derived by the fair will be devoted to the fund for the Harry Anna Home for crippled children at Umavilla, and by the Legion for a permanent memorial for veterans of World War II from Seminole County.
