Tex Rickard Will Insist That Dempsey Fight Only One Battle For This Year

By Dan Walsh
International News Service
Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Jack Dempsey may talk two great fights this year but he will fight only one of them, if Tex Rickard has anything to do with it, which may be characterized as a distinct possibility.

This was one of the impressions the writer gained in an interview with Tex Rickard today. Another was that John had been reciting a piece that was not in the original script when he informed the International News Service in Los Angeles yesterday that he wanted a warm-up bout en route to the third episode of the Tunney serial, now intended for a June release.

Rickard simulated astonishment when told that Dempsey had declared in favor of warming up for something that never has been actually scheduled since the seventh round at Chicago, the apparently is not being done, at least not since the other evening when Sharkey and Henney warmed up the situation to such effect that both went into cold storage until further notice.

Two prospective eliminators were thoroughly eliminated on that occasion and, while Rickard carelessly neglected to say as much, there is no intention of permitting the same thing to happen in Dempsey's case. Our John, quite apparently, was talking of a gum arabic yesterday and my guess is that Rickard will tell him so as soon as he gets him on the telephone. The Dempsey-Tunney fight is the only big shot Rickard has now and it must be protected, like a gambling concession, or brook trout in the closed season.

It constitutes one fight for Mr. Tunney, Rickard must have two, if Mr. Tunney's word of mouth is to be relied upon. It may be assumed, therefore, that everybody would be very much Mr. Tunney in particular, if Rickard bobbed up with exactly no fight when the time comes. This can happen very well if Mr. John goes around calling signals that are not in the code.

For one thing, he could be given in his warm-up thing and add to the confusion with a badly timed, provided it was his own. For another, he might be terrible and the same effect would be achieved, for a third either himself or his opponent of necessity must be eliminated and where would the second Tunney fight be then? Quite so, Henry, you said in the earlier.

Suppose the opponent was, then would you go with Tunney and probably would have. They could produce Dempsey for a 12-round fight against a man who had beaten the man who had beaten him. By some logic applies three ways that is, to any situation that might arise in connection with the three men in the ring. It means that, if we are to have two championship fights this year, we must have two contenders, and the only way to make certain that we won't is to match the pair of them.

1273 PRISONERS SENT TO STATE PEN DURING 1927

Total More Than For Three Previous Years Combined, Clerk's Report Indicates; Seven Prisoners Executed

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Jan. 18.—(INS)—During the year 1927, 1273 persons were convicted and received by the Florida state prison board for incarceration in the state penitentiary and at prison camps, according to a report from Judge Tom Andrews, chief prison clerk of the board. This number is greater than the three former years combined.

Seven prisoners were electrocuted and the sentences of three committed to life imprisonment. The growth of crime in Florida is startlingly brought out when the conviction record of the last year is compared with that of 1925, when only 534 prisoners were received by the prison department.

The year 1915 saw 639 men and women "sent up," which was the record at that time, and in 1921, the 600 mark was again threatened when 595 prisoners were at the disposal of the state prison board. Then in 1926 the largest increase ever in preceding years was recorded, with the conviction record of 1927 a sure indication to see enlargement by 279 persons during 1927.

Of the 1273 number, 305 were white men and ten were white women while 738 were blacks. There were 740 negro men and 42 negro women involved. The largest number of confinements in 26 years of Florida's criminal history was on charges of breaking and entering, and burglary, with 2269 cases on record, followed by a grand larceny of which 3151 cases were recorded.

Never in the history of the state has a woman paid the supreme penalty, according to records.

Mrs. Marler, Hostess

Delighted in every way was the hostess, Mrs. Marler, Tuesday evening at her home in the R. Court Apartments. Fox.

Additional Society

Missionary Society Met Monday At Home Of Mrs. Shinholser

The regular social service meeting of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Church was held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. O. Shinholser on Oak Avenue. The service was held at 8 o'clock and was a most interesting one. Mrs. W. P. Bahrman explained to the members that this is Jubilee Year in the Missionary Society and asked all members to forget the things that are behind and press forward to these new goals: "First, higher standards for personal living; second, an appreciation of the sacrificial service of our organization along improved lines until it shall be established in every church, and every unenlightened woman shall become enlightened, and interested in the evangelization of the world; third, re-education of our task, remembering that this is a wholly different world from that in which we began our work fifty years ago."

The following program was given: Hymn, sung by assembly. Announcement of Topic, with explanation of Jubilee Year. Mrs. W. P. Bahrman. Scripture lesson, Mark, 1:20 with remarks on lesson by the leader.

Hymn, sung by assembly. Outline of achievements of our 50 years of service. Mrs. W. S. Thornton. Jubilee Hymn, sung by assembly. Prayers by Dr. W. P. Bahrman. Vocal solo by Mrs. Claude Horndon. Serenade prayers. Reading by Mrs. Iva D. Martin. After the program a social hour was enjoyed, during which delicious refreshments of home made cake and coffee were served by the hostesses, Mrs. John Speed, Mrs. Frank Adams, Mrs. Walter Hall, Mrs. A. W. Dailey and Mrs. H. A. McCauley.

MRS. MARLER, HOSTESS

Delighted in every way was the hostess, Mrs. Marler, Tuesday evening at her home in the R. Court Apartments. Supper was served at 7:30 o'clock after which a business meeting was held when the Young Ladies' Missionary Circle was organized with 15 members.

Lake Monroe

"Know Florida Week" was duly observed at the Lake Monroe school the past week. A good drawing of the mockingbirds, Florida's state bird by Margaret Priester, and the Florida Flag, by Dorothy Oglesby and Rosa L. Norwood were placed on the sign-boards early in the week. Other beautiful scenes from Florida in the print were also in the front hall.

Chapel opened each morning with the usual exercises, followed by the state song, "Florida, My Florida." After a short talk upon the history of Florida each day by Prof. Boland, the principal, the following boys and girls of the Junior High gave the very interesting program during the week. Ponce de Leon and Narvez—Margaret Priester. De Sota and Menendez—Rosa L. Norwood.

Wild Animals—Claude Hawkins. Inland Birds—Mrs. J. W. Swagerly. Geography of Florida—Ruth Kaeserman. Beatrice Carson, Vernon Warren. Trees, Flowers; Birds—Gwendolen Newsome, Reba Naugher, Antuette Jimenez, Lottie Dunn. Mrs. Priston Allen, of Sevierville, Tenn. is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Newton Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Vaughn, Mr. and Mrs. R. Poehel and Mrs. Ira Randall visited Orlando, Winter Park, and other places the past week. Friends of Mrs. L. B. Mann are glad she is recovering nicely from an operation Wednesday. Mrs. Mattie Brown, of Lake City is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. S. Spinks. Mr. and Mrs. Patten and daughter, Dorothy June, visited Orlando, Friday afternoon.

K. J. Kates is at his home at Monroe after an extended visit to Kentucky and points in the West. Mr. Crosshaw is able to be out after a severe case of La Grippe. The Lake Mary basket ball team defeated Lake Monroe Friday afternoon, the scores standing 21 to 8 in the boys' match, and 2 to 0 in the girls. After the game refreshments were served at the lunch room consisting of lemonade and home baked cakes.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Carr of Louisville will arrive this week to visit relatives here. S. H. Buchanan was in St. Augustine Sunday. Little Carl Raybon is at school after recovering from a broken arm. Mr. Vasmus of St. Augustine, is here in charge of enlarging the Chuluota. Ce's home recently purchased by Mr. A. R. Hunter and to build to brooder and incubator houses for the chicken farm to be installed by Mr. Hunter. This will be one of the show places in this end of the county when completed. Mrs. F. O. Brooks has recovered from her illness and is ready to return to work Monday morning. He and his son E. R. Brock, have moved into their little camp home near Horseshoe Lake. The Parent Teacher Association gave a Kitchen Shower at the Grand house Friday night to equip the kitchen with necessary dishes, crockery and cooking utensils. A picnic play was given by the P. T. A. to buy what they needed arranging a fire in the school house and selling it to those attending who in turn presented it to the P. T. A. It was well carried out and in a few minutes the store was packed out and the receiving table filled. There were several bouquets and other amusements and the Association noted a net gain from the shower. Delicious bands and piano music entertained the guests and refreshments were served at a late hour. Many of the members who attended became a number of visitors. Two thousand copies which frequent the steps of St. Paul's Cathedral and other buildings of London will be trapped and killed in an exterminator with an order of the city officials.

Divorced Bride Of 18 Is Sentenced To Return To School

CLEVELAND, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Divorced on condition that she return to school is the "fate" of Mrs. Maxine Mitchell Borosky—and she likes it. Mrs. Borosky is now 18, the age when most girls weary of text-books. But, Mrs. Borosky, was only 13 when she eloped with Walter Borosky, 34, in Illinois, when she was in the seventh grade and now she is sorry. She was granted a divorce in Common Pleas Court here recently by Judge Walther on condition that she attend night school for at least a year. "I wish I could look back on a peaceful five years of school instead of on my five years of marriage," Mrs. Borosky told the court.

The divorce asserted she grew up too quickly on account of her early marriage. She declared it was "embarrassing to mention when her husband, twice her age introduced a 13-year-old as his wife. Mrs. Borosky does not favor companionship marriage or any other kind of marriage for that matter just now. "Companionship marriage? Mine wasn't any just now I can't hand a thing to any kind of marriage—I'm getting another kind of education from now on," the young divorcee remarked.

She and rolled the new basket ball court and erected light poles so the court could be used for night playing. The ladies painted the lunch shed causing much merriment. These improvements add much to the beauty of the grounds. Mr. J. W. Summerville of St. Augustine was a business visitor to Chuluota two days last week. Mrs. Ross who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. E. E. Tribble, left Monday for Tampa returning to Deland the latter part of the week. Granddaddy has been quick sick for the past week and unable to attend school.

Mr. Vasmus of St. Augustine, is here in charge of enlarging the Chuluota. Ce's home recently purchased by Mr. A. R. Hunter and to build to brooder and incubator houses for the chicken farm to be installed by Mr. Hunter. This will be one of the show places in this end of the county when completed. Mrs. F. O. WRIGHT COURT CALLED OF APPEAL

(Continued from page 5) Wright had dismissed the appeal against them as premature. The ruling in the G. Self was ordered. Just before court Judge Wright ordered Cobb to serve one year state prison for withholding support of his children. Cobb has entered his plea of guilty.

The grand jury yesterday, filed its indictment and was directed by G. Joyce Bell as clerk. B. Caher as clerk in law.

"We, the grand jury, fully present the case as have been brought on for investigation, and it is where the evidence was our opinion, to warrant and 'true bills' and cause why, in our opinion, evidence would be returned a true bill.

"We have made a county jail and made a specimen and found the sanitary and satisfactory. We found after inquiry that they are prepared for and have whatever is necessary. We made a visit to home and have inspected place thoroughly, including buildings, taken to see people there and all they are being well and are satisfied with the treatment. The grounds and seem to be in satisfactory shape. We have inspected the sanitary conditions and the grounds and buildings, the sanitary conditions, satisfaction that seems among the inmates.

"We wish to commend Paul Biggers, the supervisor of the sanitary conditions, the grounds and buildings, the sanitary conditions, satisfaction that seems among the inmates. We wish to commend Paul Biggers, the supervisor of the sanitary conditions, the grounds and buildings, the sanitary conditions, satisfaction that seems among the inmates. The Fruits Of Defeat

The generalship of Robert E. Lee, whose birthday this is, has been compared to that of Hannibal and Napoleon. Both, brilliant leaders of futile causes ending in complete disaster, have nevertheless been accorded high positions in the ranks of military geniuses.

We would expect his own subordinates, with possibly a few exceptions, to eulogize him. We are not surprised to find General Gordon saying of him, "Even the greatest of captains in his Italian campaigns, flashing his fame, in lightning splendor, over the world, even Bonaparte met and crushed in battle but three or four Austrian armies, while our Lee, with one army badly equipped and in time incredibly short, met and hurled back, in broken and shattered fragments, five admirably prepared and most magnificently appointed invasions."

Lee's enemies on the field of battle, while respecting him and moving with utmost caution when in his vicinity, said he was not a great general, but the opinions of more impartial critics might well be taken with greater seriousness. Lord Wolseley, an Englishman, who visited Lee's army in 1862, said of him, "He was the ablest general, and to me seemed the greatest man I had ever conversed with, and yet I have had the privilege of meeting Von Moltke and Prince Bismarck. General Lee was one of the few men who ever seriously impressed me and awed me with their natural and inherent greatness."

And then we find no lesser an authority on military history than Major General Sir Frederick Maurice saying of Lee, "I place Lee as a general above Wellington. 'Read and re-read,' said Napoleon, 'the eighty-eight campaigns of Alexander, Hannibal, Cæsar, Gustavus, Turenne, Eugene and Frederick. Take them as your models, for it is the only means of becoming a great leader, and of mastering the secrets of the art of war.' To that select band of great commanders the name of Robert E. Lee must be added. His exact precedence amongst them I will not attempt to determine, but that they have received him as a soldier worthy of their fellowship, I do not doubt."

Whatever may be the ultimate decision of military men as to Lee's rank as a soldier, we cannot but feel that his place as a man will ever be higher. His efforts to revive the spirit of camaraderie and to heal the wounded feelings in both the North and South following the war, and his work in behalf of education and high moral character while president of the college now known as Washington and Lee, amply qualify him for an even higher rank among men than do his campaigns while leader of the Southern forces.

THE CRY OF A WIDOW. Miami Herald. Since it has been definitely settled that all the men on the submarine S-4 are now dead and that there is no more hope even for recovering their bodies this winter, the nation is turning an attentive ear to the voice of Mrs. Roy K. Jones, wife of the commander of that ill-fated undersea boat, and the corresponding embarrassment of the navy department. By now it is generally admitted that the attempted rescue work was badly handled, bungled and so mismanaged as to make the department itself ridiculous in the eyes of the nation.

As Brisbane Sees It

Coast To Coast Crime. Bootleg and Fights. Annie Kills John. Surprises For Faraday.

GALLUP N. M. Jan. 19.—The beginning of our prohibition age which was to empty prisons, insane asylums and eventually put an end to crime is strangely the beginning of the worst crime age in our history.

THE WINSLOW DAILY MAIL says in big type front page, "Jury Probes Double Murder." Nearby a three column picture shows Ruth Snyder walking to the electric chair, her eyes fixed on a crowd held before her and the electrician just beyond. The picture was sent by teletype.

KILLING HUSBANDS all over this country, usually, like the Snyder murder, have bootleg whiskey for their mainpring. The Winslow Mail's Arizona murder has a western atmosphere. John and Annie Tillman, married but separated, asked the assembled company to excuse them and stepped outside the ranch house. He had an automatic, she a revolver. She dropped dead, then he dropped dead. Other newspapers along the line bring their tales of holdups, robberies and kidnappings with murders, with bootleg whiskey playing a part in all. Something should be done to discourage bootleg whiskey.

NEXT IN news importance to well planned or impromptu killings come carefully organized prize fights held on profits and legitimate corruption. Messrs. Dempsey and Tunney will fight a game next June. Fifty thousand fools will spend millions to see that imitation of the brook that went on forever.

UZUDUN, A Basque, imported from the Pyrenees for prize fighting, as they used to import fair haired northerners for gladiator fights in Rome, walks all over Ed Keeley of Boston, hatters him over in submission in two minutes, and 50 seconds. Rather a come down for Uzudun, playing hired thug. His ancestors used to harpoon whales in the rough Atlantic off the west coast of France 2000 years ago.

BOOTLEG WHISKY, paying a profit of 70 millions a year to the criminals of Chicago alone, degraded public officials legalizing prize-fighting as a national amusement, intelligent and highly organized finance running the country and giving the 120,000,000 enough prosperity to keep them satisfied; such is the picture of our civilization. But even so, it is better than it was once.

HUMAN BEINGS as a whole, like individuals, do only one thing really well. The work of the human race today is scientific and industrial, making new discoveries in science, applying them to man's material welfare. Today scientific workers are like builders installing plumbing, heating and other conveniences in a big building; later families move in and live comfortably.

AFTER A FEW years or centuries of industrial scientific development this nation will move into the four-hed structure and find for amusement something better than bootleg whiskey, crime waves, prize fights and struggling to get more money than it needs.

LITTLE FARADAY imagined all that was to follow when he discovered electro-magnetic induction, showing that an electric current is produced by moving a magnet inside of coiled wire. George Eller Hale, chairman of the national research council, says Faraday could not have imagined that this discovery would develop the entire electrical industry, and in the United States alone give work to six million people.

THAT INCIDENT related by Mr. Hale shows that Faraday foresaw dimly the extent of his discovery. But he could not have imagined that it would be used to kill Ruth Snyder and send through the air, without wires, pictures of the killing. He could not foresee the human beings talking across the ocean and around the world. The wonder may go farther and produce eventually a race of really civilized human beings.

THE COURSE OF EMPIRE

BRADENTON HERALD

Less than a year ago, when the Nationalist army was headed toward Peking, many of our more optimistic idealists were in ecstasies over the expectation that the long-suffering Chinese were about to establish for themselves a strong, united and progressive nation.

That fine dream went bloomy. China remains divided and not far from chaos. The war lords still rule their various spheres.

China has developed a high civilization while Europe was still a wilderness, thousands of years ago. Empire and civilization have gradually come west and now make their abode in these United States.

George Wilhelm Friedrich Hegel, the old German philosopher, said that "China and India lie still outside the world's history, as the mere presupposition of elements whose combination must be waited for to constitute their vital progress."

HATHAWAY ANNOUNCES MIAMI LABOR NEWS

Fons A. Hathaway, chairman of the Florida State Highway Commission, has made known his purpose of entering the race for governor, reserving his formal declaration to be made later.

Since the death of President Murphy of the University of Florida, it has been persistently rumored that Hathaway would be chosen to succeed him.

Until the time of his appointment as executive secretary to Governor Martin, Dr. Hathaway's experience had been in educational work.

There is no doubt that he would be a worthy successor to the late Dr. Murphy. The fact is, he is very much the same type. Dr. Murphy was one in whom the ability to manage men and affairs overtopped his attainments of scholarship.

Regarding at least two of these problems Florida has more to hope from Dr. Hathaway than from any other. He is particularly qualified to handle road construction and school system problems, and none of the others has any advantage over him in regard to drainage and the tax matter.—Joe Hugh House in Miami Weekly News (La-hof Organ).

SANFORD'S NEW MANAGER

It was with interest that the numerous friends of G. H. Cairns in Gainesville learned that he has been appointed the new city manager of Sanford. Mr. Cairns severed his connections with this municipality some time ago after a long career of service.

Star "What Price Glory" Comes Here In Newest Picture

Victor McLaglen, whose fame as Captain Flagg in the screen version of "What Price Glory" is sweeping the nation, has turned to the camera. Cast as Eszenillo in Fox Films production of "Loves of Carmen," directed by Raul Walsh, McLaglen devoted a month to the study of the art of bull fighting. He went to Mexico City with Director Walsh, where they witnessed several exhibitions of the Spanish sport and studied the customs and personalities of the experts.

Walsh, who also directed McLaglen in "What Price Glory," brought back with him from Mexico Rafael Valverde, well known in Spain and Mexico as a taurine. Valverde gave McLaglen daily lessons in his native art and "Captain Flagg" soon became quite an expert. Incidentally, this is the second version of "Carmen" to be made by Walsh. The first had Theda Bara in the star role.

Walsh has made this new edition of "Carmen" a very candid affair. The gypsy cigarette girl will be shown as she was and not the tinsel personality of opera and other screen productions. Dolores Del Rio, who gave Charmaine such reality in "What Price Glory," will play the title role. Others in the cast are Don Alvarado and Ben Bard.

Nearly all the wardrobe and equipment for the new Fox Film edition of "Carmen" has been imported from Spain, where Edwin C. Hill, an agent for the company, has been gathering it for months. The picture comes to the Milane Theater today.

Bridge Club Meets At Mrs. Frank L. Miller's

An unusually delightful social affair of the week was that of Wednesday when Mrs. Frank L. Miller entertained at bridge luncheon at her home on Magnolia Avenue. The guests were the members of the Fortnightly Bridge club.

Spring flowers with sweet peas and calendulas predominating were used in profusion in the rooms where the tables had been spread for play. The small luncheon tables were overlaid with dainty covers and centered with crystal baskets filled with sweet peas. Place cards done in baskets filled with spring flowers were used to mark the places of the guests and at one o'clock a tasty three course luncheon was served.

Games of duplicate bridge were enjoyed during the afternoon hours and after all the boards had been played, scores were compared and the prizes for highest scores. A brass bowl filled with calendulas were won by Mrs. Hal Wight and Mrs. W. J. Thigpen. The cut prize a brass tea ball in the form of a colonial girl went to Mrs. W. Wallace Wright.

Enjoying the games were: Mrs. Walter S. Coleman, Mrs. W. Wallace Wright, Mrs. J. E. Brouse, Mrs. G. D. Bishop, Mrs. F. E. Rounhill, Mrs. W. J. Thigpen, Mrs. Hal Wight, Mrs. D. L. Thrasher, Mrs. Harry B. Lewis, Mrs. Donald P. Drummond, Mrs. George A. De Cottes and Mrs. Miller.

WELFARE DEPARTMENT

The Welfare Department of the Women's Club held its regular business meeting Wednesday afternoon at the club house at 3:30 o'clock. In the absence of the department chairman, Mrs. Henry Wight and also Mrs. Fred R. Wilson, vice chairman, Mrs. E. A. Douglass presided. A very interesting and instructive parliamentary drill was conducted by Mrs. E. M. Galloway.

The various committees were called for. Mrs. Endor Curlett, chairman of the plant committee gave a splendid report on the rose sale, the proceeds of which amounted to $117 for the department. Mrs. Following the drill reports from Curlett and her committee were congratulated on the excellent result of their work. The Welfare Department recommends to the general club a resolution favoring the passage of a bill in Congress which will establish a department of education. Miss Margaret Young, chairman of the education committee read the plans for the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs history contest, which will be extended to high school students.

An easy triumph of wifehood

You are a wife. You must be a nurse, a home decorator, a domestic scientist, a seamstress, a laundress a beauty specialist, a bureau of information, a buyer, a banker, a hostess. You must be all these professionals almost every day, yet you must not be tired at dinner. You must have good news. And you must not only keep up your professions, but grow wiser in them each day.

Sounds hard, but is it? Not if you use your daily university—the advertisements. For here are the best safety-firsts; the most beautiful, most lasting draperies and home furnishings, and how to arrange them best.

The information in advertisements is latest and correct. Yet a brief glance is sufficient to give you their news. Just a daily reading of the advertisements—and there's an easy triumph of wifehood! In selecting, buying, arranging, using. In keeping fresh for dinner.

*Reading advertisements regularly means keeping to the fore. Read these,
