

BIG CELEBRATION TO BE HELD IN SANFORD NEXT FRIDAY, APRIL 26

Anniversary of War Will Stimulate Liberty Loan

This will be Booster's Week for the Liberty Loan and Chairman Forrest Lake intends to make a record for the week.

Tonight there will be a big Liberty Loan rally at Oviedo and Chairman Lake and other speakers will be present to tell the people about the loan and ask for their assistance in winning the war.

Friday of this week which is really the anniversary of the entrance of the United States into the war will be made a big rally day in Sanford and Seminole county.

Seminole County will "go over the top" that day and if we have not already subscribed our quota by that time it is confidently expected that it will be subscribed that day.

Yesterday afternoon at the Carnes Hotel a full meeting of business men headed by Chairman Lake, met and planned arrangements for Friday as follows:

Committee to request all places of business to close for the entire day Friday, the 26th:

Mayor Davison, Rob't Newman, F. W. Mahoney, L. P. McCuller and C. H. Dinglee.

Drug stores will be asked to close at 10 a. m. for the remainder of the day.

Committee on Arrangements: C. M. Berry, chairman, O. L. Taylor, F. L. Miller, F. F. Dutton, F. L. Woodruff, H. McLaulin, L. A. Brumley, J. J. Dickinson, F. P. Forster, Forrest Lake, R. J. Holly, P. M. Elder, C. M. Hand, D. C. Marlowe.

Hon. Forrest Lake will act as chairman and open the introduction. He will be followed by the following well known orators: Dr. W. F. Blackman, Dr. E. D. Brownlee, Judge E. F. Housholder and Hon. Geo. A. DeCottet.

The parade will start from Central Park promptly at 10 a. m. The Sanford Band will assemble at the band stand at 9:45 sharp.

Sanford Band leading, next the County Guards, next the Red Cross, Woman's Club and all ladies under the marshalship of Mrs. J. W. Dickins. Next to these will be the Board of Trade, Liberty Loan Committee, Boy Scouts, and all men, under the marshalship of Mr. R. J. Holly.

The parade will be led by Grand Marshal Hon. Forrest Lake. The various organizations will form as follows: County Guards on Park avenue, between 4th and 5th streets, headed north. Red Cross, Woman's Club and ladies interested, on Park avenue, between 4th and 5th streets, behind County Guards, Liberty Loan Committee and men interested on Fifth street between Park avenue and Oak, headed east.

The parade will start at Central Park and take the following route: Down Park avenue to 2nd, Second St. to Sanford Ave., Sanford Ave. to First St., First to Oak, Oak to Eighth St., across to Park Ave. and down Park to Central Park.

At the completion of the parade, the speakers will be heard from the band stand and all are requested to remain and hear the true facts that these speakers will give you.

Every person in parade is requested to "have" small American flag.

Seminole First Hero

Corporal Elbert Clive Trafford was born in what is now Seminole county March 14th, 1878. He was the only son of English parents whose interests were prominently identified with Sanford's earlier history and whose mother is still a property holder in our little city.

With the bold spirit of the Anglo-Saxon in his blood, both British and American, it was not strange that Elbert Trafford should be impatient to join in the great struggle across the seas for international democracy.

Company C of the 54th was duly sent to the trenches and for months our brave young soldier was on the "firing line."

He fell Oct. 12th mortally wounded and died two days later.

We cannot visit the military cemetery at Albert, France and place a wreath of immortelles on the grave of our first hero, but we can enshrine the name of Elbert Clive Trafford in grateful memory and tender appreciation of the gift of his brave young manhood on the altar of lofty devoted patriotism.

"Ah, soldiers, to your honored rest, Your truth and valor bearing; The bravest are the tenderest; The loving are the daring." A Friend.

Delightful Entertainment

A most delightful entertainment and business meeting of the Sunday school home department officers of the Methodist church was held at the home of Mrs. Jno. D. Jenkins on last Thursday evening.

The business meeting was presided over by Mr. C. S. Bragg, Supt. who after instructing the district superintendents as to their duties and hearing reports from them, called on Rev. Hiburn who gave a short talk of much interest to all.

Miss Margaret Cowan entertained with piano, music and song. Mrs. Charles by a reading, sacred songs by all. Then the committee served delightful refreshments and all went home happy because of having attended.

Connor a New Com.

A line from Mr. R. F. Connor, teacher of mathematics until recently "called," and dated "Camp Jackson, Columbia, S. C., April 19," conveys the intelligence that he is now a non-commissioned officer, and is looking for farther rise, in furtherance of which laudable ambition he has made application for place in the "Fourth Officers' Training Camp" about to open, slated to be in operation not later than the coming month.

GOVERNMENT BUYS RAILS TRACTION RY.

Old Sanford Traction Road Disappears From Streets

After being laid some seven years ago with our hopes and fears and tears the tracks of the Traction Co. are being taken up from Fifth street down Sanford avenue and all of First street to Oak.

With the failure of the growers and the failure of the money that was to have been raised for this great project the owners sold the Sanford & Everglades to the A. C. L. who are operating this branch line today and making money out of it.

The street car line after various vicissitudes among them being the burning of one of the cars also stopped running the cars and left the steel rails in the city as payment of their city taxes.

Now with the war on and the price of steel rails higher than they have ever been in history the government wanted the rails for a shipbuilding plant in Tampa and the city officials of Sanford with the idea of helping the government and also getting something out of the rails sold them and today they are being taken up and the street will be repaid.

PANDORA IS OUT

High School Publication Makes Big Hit With Readers

The Seniors of Sanford High School have issued the magazine for the current year and the name has been changed from the old Salamagundi to that of Pandora. Now Pandora, as we know was the old girl in ancient history that had all the troubles of mankind stored up in a jeweled receptacle and she turned loose on the world.

Pandora is a neat magazine printed on good paper of fourteen pages and cover of green and gold, containing pictures of the seniors and snap shots of school life and many good articles from the pens of the pupils and contributors.

The Pandora is dedicated to the beloved teacher of the High School, Miss Agnes Edwards and the staff are as follows: Editor in Chief, Edna F. Chittenden, Associate Editor, Ercel E. Little, Business Manager, Zeta C. Davison, Noko Editor, Rosamond Radford, Historian, Muriel V. Rhodes.

The Pandora is different from the other school magazines of former years in that no advertising is contained in the book and no price is given for the magazine but it is well worth a good price and is beyond compare.

If you have not seen Pandora get a copy from the Seniors of the Sanford High School.

NEW SYSTEM RED CROSS ACTIVITIES

Organization Under New Methods Will Help Work

At a meeting of Seminole County Chapter, A. R. C., on Tuesday evening the Woman's work was re-organized according to the chart suggested by the Woman's Bureau of the Southern Division.

The cutting out committee is almost disorganized. With twelve or fifteen cutters there is seldom more than one or two present on cutting days.

Red Cross Dues Explained: There seems to be some misunderstanding with reference to Red Cross Annual dues, hence the secretary of Seminole County Chapter offers this explanation.

Kindly report to me during the next week the results of your endeavors, as I desire to be able to state to the public before school closes that every school child of Seminole county is a soldier to the extent of at least one Thrift Stamp.

An Appeal for Boxes: The local Red Cross is facing a serious problem in the lack of suitable packing boxes, in which to ship the finished garments and surgical dressings made by the workers of Seminole County Chapter.

It is earnestly hoped that every member now enrolled will renew, for as the war goes on the need for garments and surgical dressings will become more and more urgent.

Red Cross Briefs: The Red Cross is healing whole nations, and is rendering national service as well as individual.

The Red Cross is an active, economic agency in strengthening the hands of our allies, and in conserving the energies of our own boys.

SEMINOLE COUNTY GUARDS PRESENTED WITH FLAG APPROPRIATE CEREMONIES

Woman's Club Had Fine Program At Star Theatre

The Woman's Club presented the Seminole County Guards with a fine silken flag Sunday afternoon, the presentation being made a part of a most interesting program at the Star Theatre.

The presentation was the culmination of a desire upon the part of Mrs. Norris Lewis of this city to have the Guards equipped with a suitable flag, the desire being fostered by their appearance at the Presbyterian church several months ago without a flag and this patriotic little lady then and there started out with the idea that the Guards should have a flag.

The presentation was made by Mrs. Edgar Lewis of Ft. Pierce, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs of Florida and Mrs. Lewis from the time she was introduced by Mrs. Galloway, president of the Sanford Woman's Club, until the close of her address held her audience upon her every word.

There are probably few women in Florida that can face an audience with as much ease as Mrs. Lewis and certainly there are but few women anywhere that can make an address in such an able manner.

Mrs. Lewis pointed out that the club work of the ladies in the past few years had eminently fitted them to take up the war work and they are now carrying the double load of assisting their own communities as well as assisting the nation and working hand in hand with the home guards of the state to keep the home fires burning for those who have gone to the front line trenches.

Mrs. Lewis then presented the flag to the guards upon behalf of the Woman's Club of Sanford and the flag bearers, Misses Lewis and Higgins gave it into the hands of Capt. C. H. Dinglee, who in a few well chosen words accepted it on behalf of the company, and it was given into the keeping and care of Color Sergeant Schelle Malnes.

Mrs. E. M. Galloway presided at the meeting and the following program was carried out: Sanford Band, America, Rev. E. D. Brownlee Prayer, Mrs. Julius Takach Song, Keep the Home Fires Burning, Boys and Girls 8th Grade Reading—Your Flag and My Flag, Miss Mollie Abernathy, Presentation of the Flag, Mrs. Edgar Lewis, Reception of the Flag, Capt. C. H. Dinglee, Toast to the Flag, Mrs. Norris Lewis, Mrs. Robert Herndon, Star Spangled Banner, Band and Chorus, Band.

After the presentation the company marched out of the theater and trooped the colors on the street where the flag was greatly admired by all who saw it. It is a beautiful silken flag with silk cords and tassels and a golden eagle at the head of the flagpole.

The company was up to the full quota with a few exceptions, the members coming in from every part of the county.

to take part in the exercises and they made an excellent appearance as they paraded the streets.

Cars are now running on the new electric railroad between Jacksonville and Camp Johnston.

Supt. Asks Children of Schools to Become Thrift Soldiers

The County Superintendent of Schools Lawton in a letter to the teachers last week asked that each school child become a soldier to the extent of at least one Thrift Stamp.

This is a good way for lots of us boys and girls that are too old to go to school to become good soldiers—let's all get a Thrift Stamp and keep on getting them.

For the benefit of the school patrons and the public in general Mr. Lawton's letter to the teachers is herewith produced.

To Teachers of Seminole County Schools: I am very desirous for every pupil of Seminole County Schools to possess at least one Thrift Stamp before the school term expires.

Will you please start a campaign at once among your pupils in the interest of this proposition? It may be well to make an especial appeal to the parents of these pupils now holding a Thrift Card; and in case that appeal fails, then to request some of the patriotic citizens of your town to donate the first stamp to these pupils, so that they may thus have a start in the right direction.

Kindly report to me during the next week the results of your endeavors, as I desire to be able to state to the public before school closes that every school child of Seminole county is a soldier to the extent of at least one Thrift Stamp.

With best wishes for success, I am Sincerely, T. W. Lawton, Supt. Pub. Instruction for Seminole County, Florida.

FEDERAL FARM LOAN SYSTEM

About $80,000,000 loaned to the farmers on over 30,000 applications.

The Treasury Department has issued the following:

The Federal Farm Loan System has completed its first year of actual operation. The first charter issued to a Federal land bank is dated March 1, 1917, and the charters for the eleven others were issued during that month. Borrowing under the Federal Farm Loan System is done through national farm loan associations, and the first charter granted to one of these associations is dated March 27, 1917; so that while most of the work of organizing these banks, systematizing their business, appointing and training appraisers and the like had to be done after the end of March, 1917, it may be said that the banks have just about concluded their first year of operation. A statement of the business done during the first year is therefore of interest.

2,808 Associations Formed
Before the system was put in operation it was argued that our American farmers would not organize for cooperative borrowing. The answer to this seems to be found in the fact that up to March 31, 1918, 2,808 national farm loan associations were incorporated, representing about four associations to each five counties in the United States. These associations average about 20 members representing a total membership of about 56,000 farmers.

The 12 Federal land banks have received applications for over 120,000 loans, amounting to about $300,000,000. Many of these applications have been rejected, reduced or withdrawn. About 80,000 loans have been approved, amounting to over $160,000,000, and on over 30,000 of these loans money has been paid to the farmers to the amount of about $80,000,000. Many of the loans approved were for reduced amounts, which the borrowers declined to accept.

Expense of Operation
Notwithstanding the unusual expenses incident to the operation of new machinery and to the appraisal and determination of title on many loans that have not yet been closed, the expense of the banks in doing business has been within such limits as to justify the expectation of the Farm Loan Board that these banks will easily be able to operate on a different loan of one-half of 1 per cent between the loaning rate and the rate which they pay on their bonds. None of the banks, of course received any appreciable income from their business during the first half of the year, but during the last half the business of the Spokane Federal land bank, for example, was sufficiently profitable to come within about $10,000 of wiping out the excess of expenses incurred in the first half, and the volume of business on its books assures it a handsome surplus for the second year.

Senator Fletcher, who introduced the first bill and took a prominent part in securing the passage of the Farm Loan Act by Congress has been advised by the Treasury Department that, up to March 31, 1918, 54 farm loan associations have been incorporated in Florida with a membership of approximately fourteen hundred; that the total amount of loans approved aggregate the sum of $1,515,720.00, and that the amount of loans actually made totaled $288,100.00.

The position of old cabbage was little changed, holding at $10-12 per ton to growers in Western New York, with supply becoming light and total movement of old stock only 38 cars. The distributing markets were somewhat irregular, good New York Danish seed ruled $35.00-55.00 per ton in most Eastern markets and showed a tendency in New York, Boston, Pittsburgh and St. Louis, closing near the top. Wisconsin Holland seed was strong at $35.00 in Chicago. New cabbage ranged in the shipping sections $1.65-1.85 per crate for Flat stock, and $1.35-1.60 for pointed, f. o. b., cash to growers. Florida shipped 540 cars, a gain of 105, and South Carolina 76, a gain of 71. Total movement of new cabbage was 711 cars compared with 529 last week and 403 the week before. Florida Fat stock ranged $3.00-4.50 per crate, and pointed type $1.25-2.25 per 1 1/2 bu. hamper and $3.00-4.00 per crate in northern markets.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

For Member Legislature
To the Democratic Voters of Seminole Co.: I hereby announce my candidacy for representative in the next Florida legislature from Seminole county, subject to the democratic primary to be held June 4th of this year, and invite your consideration of my qualifications.

Respectfully,
J. J. DICKINSON.

Frank L. Woodruff Announces for Legislature
To the Voters of Seminole Co.: I hereby announce that I am a candidate for re-election to the house of representatives from Seminole county. Having served you in that capacity in the session of 1917 I feel I am prepared to give you better service in 1919. I do not know of any reason why you should not give me a second term, which has always been accorded all representatives in the past. I fully appreciate the high honor paid me by electing me in 1916 and I have endeavored at all times to look after the interests of the people of Seminole county and the state of Florida. I hope I have not failed to fulfill your expectations and I trust you will see your way clear to give me a second term. Again thanking you for the many favors bestowed on me in the past, I promise that I will be faithful to the trust imposed in me.

Yours very truly,
FRANK L. WOODRUFF.

For County Commissioner
I hereby announce myself a candidate for County Commissioner for the 5th District of Seminole County, subject to action of the Democratic Primary of June 4th, and solicit the votes of all Democrats. My platform is a square deal to all.

Respectfully,
E. H. KILBEE

Orlando's curb market opened last week in a veritable blaze of glory and vegetables and the Town Blotch writing in the Orlando Sentinel was so badly intoxicated with an overdose of cabbage and butter-milk that he was heard singing the following as he was carried to the following:

It's hard to 'beet' this market,
It will turn up just in time
To appear our call for dinner
And will save us many a dime.
It suits us all egg-actly,
And seems the butter way,
To sell the beans and carrots,
If you have the cash to pay."

Some people here need a charge of dynamite placed under them to bring to their minds the fact that we are in war and that the Stars and Stripes are not only sacred in peace but are doubly so in time of war. These wooden heads allow the flag to pass in parades of all kinds and never think of taking off their hats and this is becoming so noticeable that a few patriotic citizens are of the opinion that they should go along with the parade and knock the hats off of those ignorant dolts who stand along the sidewalk with their mouths open and fail to salute the flag. Last Sunday afternoon as the Home Guards paraded from the Star Theatre with their new flag there were but three patriotic citizens who removed their hats. Sometimes people forget to do this and sometimes they deliberately fail to do this for the simple reason that they have no kin people in the war and care nothing about it. And then sometimes I think that we have a cold blooded bunch here anyhow.

Richardson Wright, in "Letters to the Mother of a Soldier," in The Red Cross Magazine for May, reminds us that "Mother" is not the only one to pity when the boys go off. "Father" needs a helping hand to bear his sorrow too." Says he: "The going of their sons has worked a great transformation among fathers. They look ahead, just as you look ahead, fearful of the outcome. The man child who bears their name is at the front. Here is pride for you! Here is also dread and anxiety and speechless horror.

"For a man looks on a son as an artist looks on the statue or the painting that his hands have created. He is the embodiment of his dreams, his wealth, his playmate, his scholar, his tutor, his available future. The mistakes he has made he shall rectify in his boy. The weaknesses to which he has succumbed, his boy shall conquer. To a father his son is his second chance, his beginning again, his hope of eternal salvation

Farmers and Fruit Growers

Items of Interest for the Man Behind the Plow

Grow Forage for Hogs
To make hog production most profitable the farmer should provide pasture for his hogs wherever possible. Swine of any age relish green feed, and its use always reduces the cost of producing gains on hogs. In addition it keeps the animals in good thrifty condition.

The University of Florida extension division recommends the following crops at planting at about this time of year to provide green feeds for hogs:

Cowpeas, German millet, peanuts, sorghum, chufas and cassava. Cowpeas can be pastured when the first blossoms open, millet when six inches high; pasture the green peanut vines. Sorghum may be used when three feet high. Chufas can be used when matured and cassava when ripe.

A silo is an economical part of the equipment needed for raising livestock or in dairying. Ask your county agent to help you erect one this summer.

Value of Organized Work

That the value of the co-operative demonstration work of the University of Florida to farmers of the state is more than two million dollars is shown by the annual report for the year 1917, just published. While figures are usually uninteresting, these should vary from the rule. The total value to farmers is given as $2,241,024, which sum is shown by adding four sets of values:

That obtained by increased crop production, $280,764; by livestock added to farms or saved from disease, $616,913; by improvements to farms, $242,835; by fertilizers or manure applied, $3,101,412.

According to these figures, for every dollar spent in co-operative work in Florida by the state or federal governments, the farmers are nineteen dollars better off. In other words the dollar comes back with one hundred and eighty per cent interest. Not such a bad investment at that.

And the results as measured by the dollar scale at the end of the year are not final. Take the value of livestock added to the farms. A part of this consists in purebred dairy and beef cattle and purebred hogs. Only the initial cost is placed in the year's summary, yet the real value will come through the succeeding generations of better blooded animals.

Another estimate is of interest. The value of hogs saved by treatment against cholera is placed conservatively at $160,000. And this value is not final. For many of these hogs were of improved breeding and their real value can be computed only by tracing their descendants through succeeding years. Yet this is not all. Many of the hogs were given the anti-cholera treatment in the presence of their owners. The owners were thus taught how to administer serum, the recognized control for cholera, and by having this knowledge and the means for applying it cholera will not make the same inroads on the hog population in the future that it has in the past. For this reason a certain percentage of the value of the hogs in the state in succeeding years might well be added to this item.

Then there are results that cannot be measured in dollars. Boys and girls have been taught how to raise better corn and hogs, and to can or otherwise save the surplus products of the farm gardens. They will become better farmers and better house wives than their parents are. Farmers are using better seed for planting and better breeding stock as a basis for their herds of livestock. They are planting new crops and handling old ones in new and more profitable ways. They are learning how to manipulate their land in keeping with the plan for diversified farming.

Grow Feed for Livestock
While Florida is doing her best to increase the number of animals on the farm, a great mistake will be made if she does not produce enough feeds for them. The old method of importing feeds for farm animals cannot be continued. An overtaxed transportation system demands a change in the method. The price of imported feeds compared with the cost of feeds grown on the farm where they are to be fed makes the change imperative. Realizing the necessity, the University of Florida extension division is urging farmers to grow the cheaper feeds for livestock.

The proper feeding of livestock might be said to be half the business of producing stock for the market. And whether feeds are grown on the farm or bought from the dealer may decide whether the stockman is to have a balance to his credit as profit at the end of the year.

While it is necessary that the herd of neat and dairy animals be maintained if the nation is to be well fed, few farmers are sufficiently patriotic or able to maintain the herds if it cannot be done at a profit. Pastures are essential to the making of economical gains in meat animals. Dry lot feeding is expensive and extravagant. A short period of dry lot feeding may be necessary if an animal is to be properly finished for market, but aside from that the pasture and cheap forage crop must be relied upon for producing the animal's growth.

As forage crops, two of the cheapest that should not be overlooked are velvet beans and sorghum. Velvet beans, their culture and their value as food for beef and dairy animals are well understood. Sorghum is not so generally grown for forage as the merits of the crop demand.

Sorghum is one of the best grain and forage crops for Florida. In its feeding value, pound for pound, the seed is nearly equal to corn. It is a good forage or hay crop when harvested or properly cured. As a soil-building crop it gives good results. It is one of the best silo crops the state can produce.

Rid the Hogs of Lice
The farmer should frequently examine his hogs about the ears, flanks and inside of the legs to see they are lousy. Lice are common pests among swine, and vigorous and persistent treatment is required to eradicate them. They may readily be seen traveling among the bristles, particularly in the parts just mentioned. The eggs or "nits" are small white oval bodies attached to the bristles. Dipping does not as a rule destroy the vitality of these eggs, says the University of Florida extension division. Swine should be dipped frequently in order to kill the lice that hatch out of the eggs after the previous dipping.

These lice are blood sucking parasites, and by biting the hog and sucking blood they cause a great deal of skin irritation. Furthermore, they act as a drain on the vitality of the hog, through the loss of blood which they abstract. When lousy the hog is usually restless and rubs on posts and other convenient objects. The coat looks rough and patchy. This pest is transmitted from one animal to another by direct contact, or by contact with infested bedding or quarters.

To free hogs from lice they should be dipped two or more times at intervals of about two weeks. Several dippings may be required before complete eradication is accomplished. Do not fail at the same time to clean and disinfect thoroughly the sleeping quarters. Cresol compound may be used for dipping and disinfecting. For dipping, mix in the proportion of 2 gallons to 100 gallons of water. For disinfecting, in the proportion of 3 gallons to 100 gallons of water. Although not always as effective as might be desired,

Some farmers favor hog wallows; others are strongly opposed to them. Filthy hog wallows are a source of danger. Hogs wallowing in or drinking contaminated water are likely to contract disease. However there are many advantages to be derived from wallows. A cool bath is very soothing to a hog during the hot weather. It cleans the scurf from the skin and protects the hogs from flies. Crude oil, sufficient to form a thin layer on the top of the water may be poured about every ten days into the wallow. This will tend to keep the hogs free from lice and skin parasites. If the skin becomes irritated from the oil, its use should be discontinued. On some of the larger hogs farms concrete wallows are becoming popular.

In many cases a farmer is not financially able to build a concrete hog wallow or a dipping vat. If this be the case, the dip, properly diluted according to directions can be applied with a spray pump or sprinkling can, or else rubbed on every part of the hog by means of a brush or a swab of cotton waste.

Another method of controlling lice is to tie gunny sacks or similar coarse cloths around a post and saturate the sacks frequently with crude oil.

coal tar—products of the kind ordinarily sold as stock dips are commonly used to treat hogs for lice. For use they are diluted with water in accordance with directions supplied by the manufacturer. A dipping vat is very useful wherever a large number of hogs are kept.

FALLING TREES

The Herald has time and again called attention to the trees that line the roads of this and other counties in Florida. We do not refer to the oak trees that have been planted for shade trees but especially to the tall pine trees that line all of our public roads and the constant menace to travel by these trees falling across the right of way.

This week one of our doctors had a very narrow escape from death by a tree falling across the road while his car was in the path. He escaped death by a miracle and his car was a wreck. He was lucky to escape serious accident but who will pay for his car?

The Herald believes that the county commissioners of this county could do nothing better than call for the elimination of all pine trees that are near the right of way on our public roads. This may entail some loss to the owners of these trees but no financial loss will compensate for the loss of life and the county will save time and labor that it takes to remove the trees after they fall and obstruct traffic for many hours as they do time and again.

Let Seminole take the lead in this great movement. Let Seminole take the lead in this great movement. Let Seminole take the lead in this great movement.

PUTTING THE EGGS OF A COMMUNITY IN ONE BASKET

As pointed out in a recent editorial by Joe Hugh Reese, in the Palm Beach Post it is time that Floridians began definitely to produce in abundance the staple food crops, such as corn and other cereals, potatoes and sugar cane, and devote herself to the raising of cattle and hogs and the production of milk.

The secret of the million dollar potato crop at Hastings is not only the land but co-operation and shipping. In a word, lots. Any small community should plant heavily in one crop so that it can be harvested and marketed together. Around the shores of Lake Okechobee where fields of fresh onions were plowed under because there were no transportation facilities, sugar cane could very likely be grown with much profit.

Throughout the whole of Florida corn and other grains may be grown with great success. The reports from the Boys' Corn Club of the state show that corn planted and cultivated properly in Florida will yield a greater number of bushels to the acre than in Illinois, which is considered one of the big corn producing states of the Union.

Florida, since she can produce grain and hay for feed, and since her climate will permit live stock to live in the open all the year round, is bound to be one of the great dairies and dairy producing states. Tallahassee and Leon county are now shipping three car loads of milk daily to Jacksonville and this market was established less than a year ago. Probably in another year a train of dairy products daily will leave the Hill City. The campaign for the eradication of the tick and for the purchase of purebred stock will work wonderful results, and we may well hope that the day is not far distant when Florida will really be producing not only all she eats but a large surplus. As it is now, while she exports much food she also imports a vast amount.—St. Augustine Record.

HAVE A LITTLE PITY

Suppose you were running a grocery store near an army camp, and the order went out that the government would expect you to furnish groceries free of charge to any of its people who wanted them.

Then you'd be in the position in which the country newspapers find themselves now.

It is to the great credit of the publishers that they have strained their resources in the effort to comply.

The publishers do not receive one red cent for the only merchandise they have to sell.

They don't even get a copper button or a card of thanks.

They are also expected to buy as many Thrift Stamps and Liberty Bonds as other folks.

Leaving aside all question of the right or wrong of the situation, there is only one thing which should be done at Washington:

There should be some channel through which all requests for free publicity should pass.

As it is each department of our government makes its requests absolutely regardless of all other departments.

The fact that the Breville Bugle has agreed to run $20 worth of publicity for one of the departments in a given week doesn't excuse the publisher for not running a like amount the same week for each of the others—under present arrangements.

Verily, some folks at Washington are of the belief that a newspaper is like the widow's cruse of oil.

We have received in one day requests for free publicity, accompanied by copy, sufficient to have entirely filled our paper for a period of more than three months—even if we had omitted to publish any news or advertising over that period.

Here are some of the various sources from which such requests come regularly:

- War Savings Stamps
Liberty Loans
Canning Club Agent
County Agent
Committee on Public Information
Department of Agriculture
Forestry Service
Council of National Defense
Food Administration
Committee on Training Camp
Army Recruiting Service Activities
Navy Recruiting Service
Department of the Interior
Council of State Defense
Red Cross
Civil Service

To the requests from these may be added odds and ends of special movements, like the censor-bureau propaganda and similar things.

It stands to reason that the newspapers cannot comply with a good part of those requests—or their subscription lists would drop to nothing in a very short time.

Some must be disappointed. As a matter of fact it is most unsatisfactory all the way round.

Some way of handling should be possible so that each department would have some regard for the rights of the others—even if the rights of the publishers be entirely forgotten.—Bartow Courier Informant.

ANOTHER NEW INDUSTRY.

Florida Insecticide Co. to Open Plant Here

Among the other new industries coming to Sanford is that of the Florida Insecticide Company, formerly of Apopka. In the latter city their plant was destroyed by the high winds and they have been casting about the state for another location and Sanford appealed to them on account of the water and rail transportation. J. G. Grosebacher, the manager, is here now and has leased the building occupied by the Fibre Factory on the lake shore and a location on the A. C. L. tracks giving them ample railroad facilities and plenty of room. The Florida Insecticide Company makes insecticides of all kinds and is one of the state's growing firms and in their new location and increased facilities for production they are bound to forge ahead and put their goods in the hands of the growers of this and other states. They were induced to locate here through the efforts of the Sanford Board of Trade.

VAGRANCY PUNISHED IN FLORIDA

Vagrants, Loafers and Bums Must Go To Work

To the Sheriffs, Justices of the Peace and Constables of the several Counties of the State of Florida:

Whereas, It has been brought to my attention by the representatives of the Federal Department of Labor and Agriculture for Florida, who have made a special study of this problem, and by letters from farmers that there is a serious shortage of labor throughout the state of Florida, and this shortage is largely due to the fact that thousands of able bodied men can be found scattered over the state who are idlers or habitual loafers, living upon the earnings of others, and thus consuming the nation's food supply without adding to its production or being engaged in any useful industry, and

Whereas, The agencies of the Federal Government referred to above in order to relieve the labor shortage in certain sections of the state have been instrumental in getting operation of the United States Immigration laws modified thereby admitting Bahama Island labor to assist farmers in cultivating and harvesting their crops; and

Whereas, Due to the serious war situation it is incumbent upon every citizen to lend his assistance to relieve this situation and every official to enforce such laws as are in Florida to discourage idleness and promote industry; Therefore,

I call the attention to all the sheriffs, justices of the peace and constables and other officials concerned to Section 3570 of the General Statutes as amended by Chapter 5720, Laws of Florida urging a rigid enforcement of such section, the same reading as follows:

"Rogues and vagabonds, idle or dissolute persons who go about begging, common gamblers, persons who juggling, or unlawful games or plays, common pipers and fiddlers, common drunkards, common night walkers, thieves, pilferers, traders in stolen property, lewd, wanton and lascivious persons, keepers of gambling places, common railers and brawlers, persons who neglect their calling or employment, or are without reasonable continuous employment or regular income and who have not sufficient property to sustain them, and mispend what they earn without providing for themselves or the support of their families, persons wandering or strolling around from place to place without lawful purpose or object, habitual loafers, idle and disorderly persons, persons neglecting all lawful business and habitually spending their time by frequenting houses of ill fame, gaming houses or tippling shops, persons able to work but habitually living upon the earnings of their wives or minor children, and all able bodied male persons over the age of eighteen years who are without means of support and remain in idleness shall be deemed vagrants, and upon conviction shall be subject to the penalty provided in Section 3571."

Yours very truly, Sidney J. Catts, Governor.

FERTILIZER SCARCE

Another German Propaganda Story Nailed

The propaganda attempted a few days ago wherein it was rumored that the government would commandeer all fertilizers and restrict its use only to staple crops is certainly nothing but propaganda and in order to get first hand data the Board of Trade immediately wired the authorities at Washington and the following message was received yesterday:

Washington, D. C., April 22. Board of Trade, Sanford, Fla.

No action being taken toward commandeering fertilizers.

M. M. Mein, Asst. to the Secretary.

The Board of Trade requests all persons who hear rumors of this to immediately notify the secretary so that investigation can be made. It was evidently the desire to create the impression by the above rumor that fertilizer would not be sold to vegetable growers and thereby prevent his planting his usual crops.

Information has been given out at Tallahassee by the state road department, to the effect that road maps of the state of Florida are now available to all who desire them. This is an official map made by the state road department showing the principal roads of the state as late as September, 1917.
