NEW YORK (UPI)—As a result of disinflation measures, the bond market has been enormously strengthened. Argus Research Corp. says. The huge volume of long-term borrowing anticipated for this year "will go a long way toward improving the liquidity position of non-financial corporations, it adds. Over the long run interest rates should continue to drop, the firm says, but "the heavy volume of new issues may lead to occasional traffic jams and temporary increases in bond yields."

NEW YORK (AP)—Proper treatment of thyroid deficiency, or hypothyroidism, can prevent premature heart attacks in people suffering from a lack of thyroid hormones. It can also improve the life span of post-operative patients of coronary disease, a report to the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology has revealed.
The scientific study of 125 men and 84 women with hypothyroidism showed that only four new cases of heart disease developed instead of the expected 22. This 94 per cent reduction was achieved without changes in diet, exercise, or smoking habits.

Juvenile, Mental Centers Outlined

The Juvenile Detention Facility and the Mental Incompetency Facility, which will be among five issues for referendum on the Nov. 3 election ballot, were explained by Judge Wallace Hall to interested citizens at a meeting of the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce.
Judge Hall explained that the bond issue will feature two columns on the ballot, one for freeholders and one for non-freeholders, as a result of a pending court decision on who is eligible to vote in a public referendum.
Judge Hall said that the Juvenile Detention Center would be used for youths under 17 years of age; would have a school and work program. He cited that facilities in Orange, Volusia and Brevard Counties were not available to this county due to overcrowding, and that the only facility available in the county jail. Judge Hall stated that the jail is "no place for 12-15 year-olds and is analogous to solitary confinement." He continued that this would "drive an immature person psychotic." Cost for the facility is $200,000 and is $100,000 more than the estimate given two years ago.
Judge Hall mentioned that the impact of Disneyland in Orange County, Calif., increased the juvenile cases from 50 to 500 per day in a two-year period. Relative to the increase in ad valorem taxes needed to fund the bond issue, Judge Hall said that it would approximate 80 cents per year. The jurist said, "I wouldn't ask for the taxes if I did not feel that it is a needed expenditure... I don't think we can afford not to do it."
Citing the facility for Mental Incompetents, Judge Hall said that the cost of placing the mentally disturbed in Florida Sanatorium amounts to $35 per day, and that when there is no longer any funds, they must be placed in the county jail.
Judge Hall continued that it would be two years from the date the issue is adopted until it could be in operation due to the validation and sale of bonds and construction. If the issue does not pass, Judge Hall said, "I don't know what we'll do... we may have to go to a barbed wire encampment thing."

From the EDA—Economic Development Administration comes this word, "Southeastern States Get $37.9 Million in EDA Funds in Fiscal '70."
The projects and the total dollars, which this state will receive in comparison to others in the South is ridiculous. "EDA approvals for the southeastern states in fiscal 1970 were as follows: Alabama—20 projects, $7 million; Florida—3 projects, $218,254; Georgia—11 projects, $11 million; Mississippi—48 projects, $27.21 million; South Carolina—14 projects, $6.21 million; Tennessee—6 projects, $5.56 million."

Do you really know what EDA is? This assistance is available to help communities with severe unemployment problems provide public facilities essential to industrial and commercial growth. The agency makes grants and long-term loans for projects designed in local overall economic development programs. EDA planning funds encourage adjacent communities to unite in their efforts to overcome mutual, area-wide problems.

Police Academy Decision Due

Local Men Will Push City Site

By BILL SCOTT
A group of Sanford and Seminole County officials are expected to leave for Tallahassee Monday afternoon to attend a Tuesday morning session of the Florida State Cabinet at which time a decision on selecting a site for the proposed State Police Training Academy is expected to be made.
This was confirmed in a letter from William Kittle, Director of training and Inspection for State Department of Law Enforcement, to David F. Kelley, Sanford Industrial Commission director.
Kittle's letter arrived at the industrial director's office yesterday afternoon and the trek to Tallahassee was arranged to include Mayor Lee P. Moore, Sheriff John Palk and Kelley. These three men will appear before the State Cabinet, for the second time in three months, and attempt to persuade the officials to locate the training academy for police at Sanford Airport's building 310 on a $30,000 annual lease.
Local groups have attempted since an Aug. 4 meeting of the Cabinet to convince members that savings to the taxpayers could be realized in placing the academy here instead of Tallahassee as has been recommended by William Reed, State Law Enforcement Commissioner.
A Sanford location also would mean that state lawmen would have a more centrally located place to train and this would, save South Florida municipalities and counties from additional costs involved with sending men to north areas of the state.
At the present time, the training is being conducted in rented space at a state building. Reed desires a Tallahassee location because other crime fighting apparatus, including a computer, is located there at the capital.
Cabinet members have toured the Sanford site and all have been impressed with the facilities offered by a former Navy barracks building.

To Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce

County Parks Proposal Is Outlined

By MARION BETHEA
Residents of Lake Mary fired a barrage of questions to Mrs. William Burckett, representing the county's long range planning committee for parks and recreation, at a meeting last night of the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce.
Mrs. Burckett gave a presentation of the seven park areas which will be placed on the ballot on Nov. 3 for public referendum on a 20-year bond issue. These areas include Wekiva-St. Johns, 500 acres at a cost of $162,500; Lake Monroe, 105 acres costing $180,250; Lake Monroe, 55 acres costing $104,750; Island Park, 230 acres at a cost of $247,500; Big Tree, 895 acres costing $459,750; Sand Lake, 100 acres costing $984,000; and Lake Howell, 80 acres at a cost of $100,000. Total estimated acreage is $1,222 at a cost of $1,707,750.
The speaker showed several slides and transparencies delineating the areas and gave an impassioned plea for passage of the bond issue by the statement that the county is becoming an "asphalt jungle" and needs retention of a "green belt" and park area. Mrs. Burckett further cited that the tropical swamp aspect of the Wekiva-St. Johns should be kept intact, since this is a disappearing scene and many children of the future will not know how a Florida swamp appears.
Preservation of nature in the parks, especially for the nesting osprey, now facing extinction, also was elucidated by Mrs. Burckett. Citing one park as a water recharge area and others as being utilized for bike, nature trails and swimming, Mrs. Burckett said that there is no longer any place for children to swim in the county.
Regarding the Big Tree Park, the speaker said that it is hoped that federal matching funds could be secured to purchase the additional lands which were eliminated from the original package due to the excessive cost. Mrs. Burckett said that this bond issue would meet federal criteria in that it is a unique area. If the bond issue fails, according to Mrs. Burckett, it will be two years until another election can be held and there is a possibility that the lands will no longer be available.
Mrs. Burckett continued that if the bond issue is approved, she would be able to live on property in Seminole County. The resident countered that there should be some way of getting the people who would be using the parks to return the investment to the county; that taxes are getting "out of hand" and that if the bond continues, "we won't be able to live on property in Seminole County." County Commissioner Robert Parker said the only way the county is empowered to tax is by ad valorem taxation and that this is the only way the land can be acquired.
Another resident questioned what would happen if the cost of the land rises above the appraisal, and Parker replied that the county would buy as much land as possible, then negotiate and, if necessary, proceed to condemnation. "What happens if the land goes to condemnation and the jury says the land is worth more," asked the resident, "what do you do then?" Parker replied "That's a good question." Mrs. Burckett concluded her plea by the statement that this "is a matter of real urgency... there are no lands left."

Georgetown Residents Drop Suit On Streets

A U. S. District Court suit filed against the City of Sanford by a group of Georgetown property owners has been dropped.
This was disclosed last night during a special meeting of city officials and Georgetown area residents held at Sanford Civic Center.
Mayor Lee P. Moore, City Manager W. E. Knowles, City Attorney W. C. Hutchison and B. C. Conklin, engineer with Clark Dietz Associates, met with the property owners to explain the special five-year tax assessment on 335 property owners in the affected area.
The attorney stated he would have to have an affidavit from the court where the suit was filed or from Hill that the suit had been dismissed before he could advise the City Commission that it would be proper for them to proceed with paying the north-south streets in the Georgetown section.
Mayor Moore explained that this meeting was set so officials could answer questions from the people living in the area and he did not know the court suit had been dropped.
A group known as the Georgetown Taxpayers Association, consisting of Aurelia M. Davis, Rev. John T. Owens, Raymond R. Fields, Thomas Ashley, Rev. H. Kim Brewington, Pearl Tapper, Willie Brown Jr., Bertha Chandler and Ruby Lee Hunter had filed the action after being notified that they would be assessed at a cost of $118.84 a running foot for each foot of their property that abutted the streets.
City is borrowing the money from local banks at six per cent interest to be repaid by affected property owners over a five-year period. City Manager W. E. Knowles said the total project cost including all engineering, legal fees and financing amounted to $311,300.
Contractors will bid on the project and Knowles estimated bids could be advertised immediately and the project could start in about 90 days, since all engineering has been completed. Completion time is estimated for six months, Knowles stated.

County Woman Held In Car Sticker Sale

Mrs. Joyce Caraway Huber, 29, of Casselberry, was arrested Thursday in Orlando together with two other persons in connection with a black market operation in stolen motor vehicle stickers.
She was arrested, police said, when she delivered a bag of the stolen stickers to Floyd Absher, Orlando used car dealer, who helped the Orlando police set up a trap to catch members of the ring, behind a motel on West Colonial Drive.
Additional inspection stickers, dynamite, blasting caps, torches, two-way walkie talkies and burglary tools were found in the car which Mrs. Huber was driving with a stolen sticker on the windshield.
Mrs. Huber is being held in Orange County jail on a $4,002 bond. Also jailed on the charge were Robert W. Rogers, 40, owner of Rogers Auto Sales, 8000 East Colonial, and Elmer Lee Hart, Orlando.
Lt. Jack Walden of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Division indicated he has warrants out for six more persons and that other car dealers in Seminole, Marion and Orange Counties are involved.
Mrs. Huber was also charged with possession of marijuana, which was found in her cigarette lighter.
She came before Circuit Judge William Akridge Sept. 30 in Sanford on a previous charge of possession of drugs. At that time her attorney, Ed Kirkland, made a motion to suppress the charges but a written brief on behalf of the defendant is still to be filed. The trial is scheduled for the week of Nov. 2.

Love And Fellowship

By REV. LEROY D. SOPER
Holy Cross Episcopal Church

All of us need the Church. We may not recognize the need from one year to another. We may never join an organized congregation of worshippers. But if we absent ourselves from church, we are missing something which is almost beyond description.

First of all, we need the fellowship. In this world which seems to move so rapidly, we very often form no lasting friendships. While we may understand and have love within our immediate family group, it is a whole lot harder to know in terms of neighborliness and support in times of crisis or sadness. If we belong to a church, there we have an immediate fellowship in brother love which reaches out to grasp us in loving arms. There is something about the worshiping community which unites all its members and gives them that strong sense of belonging to something useful that most of us need.

The Church is also a guarantee of morality. Many people think that if the churches were to close down it would be necessary to increase the size of the police force. I'm not so sure that we within the Church are doing such a good job at guaranteeing morality right now. At least the newspapers seem to be a catalog of sin and lack of love. But for those who are within the fellowship of God's Church, there are moral demands and standards of conduct which, since they are witness to love and fellowship, enable men to live together without friction and without fear.

The Church is the source of a power which practically is beyond description. Call it the power of God. We Christians often call it the power of the Holy Spirit. But whatever we call it, being a part of the fellowship of those who are called to know God and worship Him together gives men power to rise above themselves to reach great pinacles of sacrifice or love. This power of God enables the most ordinary of persons to see his value in the eyes of a power far higher than man and which beckons him to a fulfillment which is nearly impossible to achieve outside of the fellowship of God.

Within the Church we find understanding of our feelings of sorrow and of guilt. More important, we find forgiveness at a time when we are reluctant to seek it, but need it to maintain our sanity. We find that, even when we cannot forgive ourselves, God continually assures us in His forgiveness. Most church services have these assurances built into their liturgy. If confession and absolution are not a part of the liturgy, still these necessary aspects of our lives are found in the words of scripture, or the words of the preacher, or in the loving fellowship of the congregation.

Most of all, within the Church we find fellowship with our Creator whom we call "Father." We find that we can know God, not just as the driving power of the universe, but as the Lover who has reached out to us by sending His Son into the world that we may know and respond to Him.

Knowing God, and being a part of the fellowship of His community, we can then recognize and appreciate beauty and love, forgiveness and hope.

Street Priest Quits To 'Keep My Sanity'

By HARRY EISENBERG
Associated Press Writer

BOSTON (AP) — The Rev. Paul Shanley, Boston's "street priest" for the last four years, has given up walking the beat.

"It was the only thing I could do to keep my sanity," Father Shanley said in an interview. "I couldn't hack it any more."

Shaggy-haired, hippie-garbed and sometimes bearded, Father Paul, as he is called by those who know him, was a familiar figure wherever runaways gathered in Boston. They were his "kids," off the streets, kids, youngsters who had left their homes and turned for the most part, to drugs.

The controversial 35-year-old priest, assigned by Richard Cardinal Cushing, Roman Catholic archbishop of Boston, to work with runaways, considered his unorthodox dress and appearance his tools.

"I adopted the dress of my people," he said.

He has been off the streets now for almost seven weeks, at his own request.

"There wasn't anything more I could do for the kids," he said.

The first want he recognized was that of the kids, Father Shanley said. "The second year we were able to keep them on the streets, off the killers. Last year we could only keep them alive. This year we couldn't even do that."

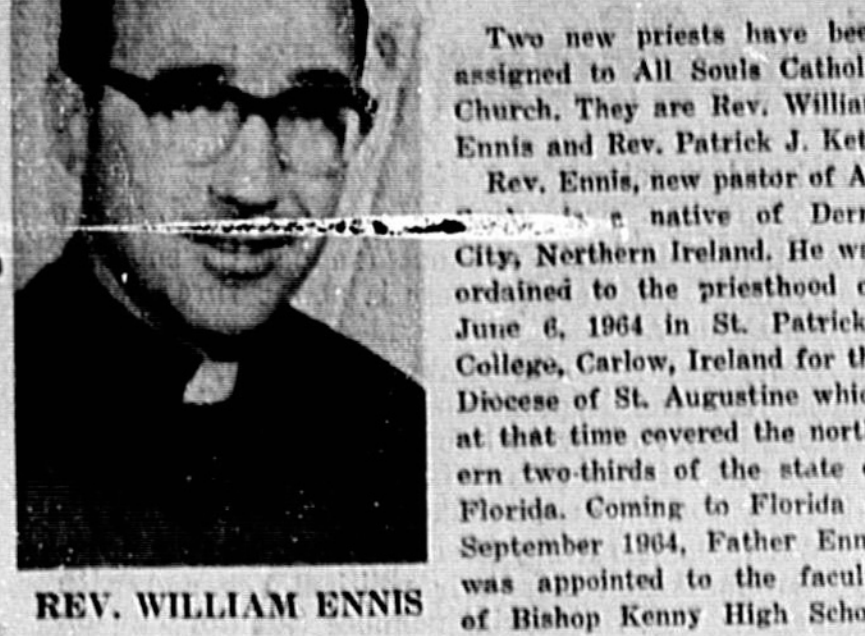

"We just wanted to get them off the streets, give them a place to crawl, sleep for the night," he said.

New Bible Translations Arouse Much Interest

Through the centuries few events in religious history have aroused more interest and indignation than new translations of the Bible. In the early returns, public attention is apt to center around the sign to learn that it was really by.

Similarly in the 20th century the Protestant Revised Standard Version changed the word "virgin" to "young woman" in Isaiah 7:14, and some outraged citizens were moved to burn the new version.

Earlier this year a new Protestant translation was published as a modern alternative to the Authorized King James Version, and now we have a new Catholic translation in the New American Bible written in contemporary language.

One can understand a certain regret at the passing of the highly literate "Bible English" of former versions, with its "thees" and "thous" and old-fashioned formalized expressions. Even when their meaning was obscure, the words had a comfortable familiarity of sound.

Against this, however, one must weigh the gains of a new translation. Scholars today have the advantage of centuries of progress in Biblical science, including the critical use of such newly discovered ancient sources as the Dead Sea Scrolls and the Masada manuscript. The result is fresh clarity and intelligibility for a vast number of words and passages.

ROLLING HILLS MORAVIAN CHURCH Youth Club will begin Oct. 4. It is a program of Christian Education for junior and senior high school people. Sessions will be held every Sunday, 4:30-7:15 p.m., and will include a Bible study hour, recreation, dinner, and music. Under the direction of Rev. David R. Burkette, church pastor, the church will use curriculum materials developed by Youth Club Program, Inc., an association of over 500 churches throughout the country now sponsoring similar programs. Over a series of 14 years, Youth Club has proven to be an effective tool in linking home and church together. It is not a substitute for the standard Christian education program, but supplements and supports them in many ways. The club program at Rolling Hills Moravian Church will be offered to young people in sixth through 12th grades. Information on this program may be secured by calling the church office or Rev. Burkette's home.

REV. DANIEL Woodward of Portsmouth, Ohio, evangelist, singer, musician, and specialist in youth revivals, will be conducting revival services at Paola Wesleyan Church Friday, Oct. 2-11 at 7:30 p.m. each evening. Homer Brown is pastor of the church. The public is invited.

Baptist Girls Coronation Staged

By LIZ MATHIEUX
GENEVA—The Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church of Geneva held a coronation in the sanctuary of First Baptist Church, Oct. 1, in celebration of the church's 100th anniversary. The church chancel was ornamented with two floor standard candelabra containing long lighted tapers which were lit by Mrs. Mary Buttinton and Miss Cathy Reeves. A "gold" crown was suspended over the Baptists and the words of the chosen theme, "O Worship the King," were inscribed above in all golden letters.

Mrs. Louise Maxwell, pianist, was accompanied to the girls' trio which presented "Do You Know My Jesus?" and later announced the arrival and the departure of the candidates as they entered and departed.

Mrs. Janie Hart, secretary of the Women's Missionary Union, opened the coronation with a prayer. As each candidate entered, she was interviewed by Mrs. Rice and presented with a charge from Mrs. Himejoia.

Fruited punch was served from a crystal punch bowl and was served with cake.

Serving cake was the active-rites chairman, Mrs. Lois Scott. Active-rites chairman Mrs. Himejoia Edwards served the punch. Floating hostesses were the Misses Debbie Edwards, Paula Edwards and Sandy Buffington. Rev. Leo D. Barnes pronounced the benediction.

Christian Science Aide Addresses Members

Members of Christian Science churches and societies in the Greater Sanford area met at First Church of Christ, Scientist, Sanford, on Section Street, to hear a report from Roy K. Bortoff, Christian Science Committee on publication for Florida.

Bortoff, whose headquarters are in St. Petersburg, told of his work in connection with Christian Science activities in the state with special reference to his work with the state legislature in connection with bills being considered.

In telling of his close work with various state legislators, Bortoff cited examples of cooperation which had been shown and expressed his gratitude for the spirit of fair play and unbiased judgment displayed in so many instances.

Of special interest to the group of Christian Scientists was the explanation Bortoff gave of ways in which the directors of the mother church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, were keeping in touch with the changes of times. In this connection, he pointed out the manner in which the wisdom and clear sight of Mary Baker Eddy, discoverer and founder of Christian Science, was being proved daily.

Such visits and reports by the committee on publication—the office is appointive and is filled by vote by the largest Christian Science church in Florida—are keeping the many branch churches informed and are delivered about every other year.

FOREST CITY BAPTIST CHURCH Girls' Auxiliary will meet Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. at the church with Mrs. William McGee as leader. The Royal Ambassadors will also meet at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday at the church. Ted Overall is leader. This Sunday a Brotherhood Breakfast will be held at 7:30 a.m. at the church.

Nazarene Church Plans Relocation

The Sanford First Church of the Nazarenes, now located on the corner of Second Avenue and Maple, is currently making plans to relocate. The new site is at the corner of 24th Avenue and Maple.

Reverend William Norris and the church building committee are busy finalizing the plans for the relocation.

The Building Fund Drive will be kicked off on October 5 by a buffet dinner, which will be held at the Sanford Civic Center. The guest speaker for the evening will be G. Dean Keaton.

REV. DANIEL Woodward of Portsmouth, Ohio, evangelist, singer, musician, and specialist in youth revivals, will be conducting revival services at Paola Wesleyan Church Friday, Oct. 2-11 at 7:30 p.m. each evening. Homer Brown is pastor of the church. The public is invited.

More Abroad

DUBLIN AP — In proportion to its population, Ireland has more Roman Catholic missionaries serving abroad than any other country, according to a survey just completed here. Its population is 2.9 million, of which 2.7 million are Catholics. Yet it has 7,085 missionaries overseas. The Missionary Service Center, which made the survey, said America, with a population of more than 200 million, of whom 4.4 million were Roman Catholics, had only 9,633 missionaries abroad.

EVANGELISTS Jerry and Rosa Craig will conduct revival services beginning Sunday morning, Oct. 4, at the Church of God, West 22nd and Holly Avenue, and continuing through Oct. 18 with services nightly at 7:30 p.m. and 7 p.m. on Sundays. Mrs. Craig will offer a ministry of music. There will be special prayer for the sick at most services. Pastor James T. Pitts is minister of the church.

Republicans Strive For Campaign Unification

Editorial Comment

Licking its self-inflicted wounds the Republican Party of Florida is hastily trying to straddle itself for the November elections.

This time it is the Democratic party which is united and offering new, young, appealing and aggressive candidates for governor and United States senator.

This time it is the GOP who has to support an incumbent governor whose conduct of the office and shifty stand on issues lost a First Primary victory and had to employ some rather questionable campaign practices to win a Second Primary by a lull-factor 47,000 margin.

This time it is the Republican candidate for the United States Senate who is an old (but respected) face and it is the Democrat who is the new personality, the vote-winner, the young man with the long stride and the long vision.

Thus the GOP is trying to bring together the massive internal split which has but one source —

Gov. Claude R. Kirk Jr., seeking a second, history-making term.

For the party unity which followed Kirk into office in 1966 was shattered early by the flamboyant governor. Now it is the Democratic party which the Republican governor has unified.

As we have commented before: Florida is a key state in the eyes of the National Republican Party and, even more importantly, in the eyes of the White House.

Thus the quickly called "unity" gathering of Republican leaders in Orlando tomorrow can be rated as only a curtain-raiser for the grand opera which is sure to take place before ballots are cast on Nov. 3rd.

Stars in this GOP opus will include the sharp-tongued Vice President Spiro T. Agnew for a two-day fund-raising visit; Attorney General John M. Bell, who has a date in Miami on Oct. 13th for a cocktail party.

So far, these national Republican leaders are coming to Florida in the interest of Rep. Bill Cramer of St. Petersburg who is the GOP senatorial nominee. For it is the Senate seat which means the most to the national Republican planners.

Relations between Candidate Kirk and the Washington Republicans have ranged from chilly to the lukewarm. It was the Kirk flirtation with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York when the Floridian was dreaming dreams of national office and a vice presidential spot on the 1968 Republican ticket, that started the disenchantment of many long-time Republicans with the governor.

Now this is the basic fault in the party structure which must be remedied if the Republicans are to stage election campaigns with any confident hope of success.

This is not at all to discount the importance of the political influence which is exerted by any incumbent official, especially one with the patronage power which flows from the Mansion in Tallahassee.

Republican strategists must count this as a major asset. Yet the manner in which the patronage club has been wielded by Governor Kirk, especially in Sanford-Seminole, has been so ruthless that the question must be raised whether this, now, has gained or lost votes.

Republicans, of course, cannot elect any official on a state-wide basis without Democratic support. The ratio of registered voters is about three-to-one for the Democrats.

Unity and a closed ranks posture is, therefore, essential for the Republicans. But the Kirk-Cramer split has been so long in being and so deep in its development that Herculean efforts must be the order-of-the-day for the peace makers.

With Democratic gubernatorial nominee Senator Reubin Askew as their political foe and with Democratic U.S. Senatorial nominee Senator Lawton Chiles carrying the Democratic standard, the Republicans are confronted with an uphill fight against a newly inspired, well-balanced force.

Florida needs a responsible two-party political party which will be able to stand up to the fast structure. Democrats have to do so, too. But responsible, respectable, trustworthy leadership must be provided!

The Friendly Season

By: Fred Van Pelt

Political leaders are scurrying around seeking to heal internal wounds brought on by the bitter campaigns before the party primaries and in preparing for the state elections on Nov. 3.

Jack Eckerd, going down to defeat Tuesday to Claude Kirk after a particular bitter and dirty party campaign, was quoted Wednesday that he will vote for Republican Kirk in November but will not assist him financially.

Reubin Askew pulled a big surprise in being victorious over Earl Faircloth. And Faircloth offered his active support to Askew.

And so the old "rule" — if it can be called that — holds true: That no candidate from South Florida will occupy the Governor's Mansion. (Faircloth voted in South Miami. Askew is from Pensacola. Eckerd from St. Petersburg and Kirk from Jacksonville.)

Nothing in past history of presidential elections under the Electoral College system could possibly foretell how politics would be played under a popular vote system.

The Senate debated the House-approved proposal for a month. Toward the end, it became obvious that the purpose was to keep the amendment from coming to a vote, not to debate the issue.

Last Tuesday, the Senate apparently killed it by refusing for a second time to shut off the debate.

But should it ever be in order to impose a constitutional limitation on a constitutional amendment? The Senate was evasive by the framers of the Constitution as a deliberative body of thinkers and prophets. But with a third of the members often gone, and others occupied with other matters in an adjournment and political campaign period, there was not a great deal of deliberating and prophesying.

Perhaps it might prove to young people, as Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., suggested, that the system sorely needs changing.

Perhaps, instead, it will prove that the system of Franklin and Adams and Jefferson should be changed with great care.

That Governor Kirk's political machine is plenty strong in Central Florida and especially Seminole County was evidenced in Tuesday's second primary. He carried every precinct in this county.

Further, his candidate for the GOP nomination for state representative, 33rd district, Eugene C. Mooney, won handily over Paula Hawkins, GOP national committeewoman. And Mooney didn't bother to campaign in Seminole County.

Kirk and Mooney "saw" the Republican vote in Seminole's precinct 29 (polling place at Crooks High School). Kirk received two votes each; Eckerd and Hawkins received none.

It is again pointed out that of the 16 nominees seeking the eight Seminole-Orange County seats in the State House of Representatives only one is a resident of Seminole County: incumbent E. Pope Bassett, Republican.

Sandy's Democratic opponent, Robert C. Milburn, and his campaign manager, Anthony Ponticelli, were in The Herald newsroom this last week, seeking support.

Republican David L. Orlando, learned Tuesday that his opponent for commissioner of the Florida Public Service Commission, group 2, will be William H. Bovis, who won the Democratic nomination from Wilson W. Wright.

Lindsay was so quiet in the early days of the campaign that we almost overlooked that he has a candidate for state office in our midst. He was elected to the Florida House of Representatives for Seminole and Orange Counties in March 1967 and again in November 1968.

Lindsay told The Herald that "the motivating factor which prompted me to run for the Florida Public Service Commission was to contribute to public safety generally but more specifically the laxity of the commission in behalf of the consumer public. Naturally people are concerned with ad valorem taxes, etc., on their homes which often times are assessed in comparison to utility bills ranging from $20 to well over $100 monthly for electric, telephone, water, sewer, etc."

"These commodities cannot competitively be bargained for and yet remain essential for each and every household on a take it or leave it basis."

"This board now as in the past is completely dominated by one political philosophy with the negative business as usual attitude. At one of the most conservative legislatures in the state, I feel my voice and influence will be a healthy transition for all Floridians."

For years, when I was teaching children, I kept a copy of this book under my pillow.

"I appreciate the comprehensive briefing about what's going on back home, but do you HAVE to include what Marthe Mitchell has been saying?"

'71 Recommendations Eyed DeBary Paving Studied

A heavy agenda of activities for next month, was adopted by the DeBary Public Affairs Committee at its October 1st meeting.

DeBary's street paving needs were reviewed based on a study made by William E. Keller last spring. The committee at a meeting in May discussed the study findings and recommendations with County Commissioner Harris Saxton and the District Five Road Superintendent Byron Nettles.

It was agreed at this conference that recommendations for the 1971 street paving program would be presented later in the year. The committee decided Saturday that primary emphasis should be placed on completing the paving of the streets which were paved or repaved in the year. Car Insurance Hit For Higher Rates

Leonard V. Wood, Republican nominee for the 4th Congressional seat presently held by Ocala Democrat, William Chappell, hit out at the automobile insurance industry in a speech before the DeLand Chamber of Commerce Tuesday.

Wood not only criticized Chappell's sponsorship of the automobile insurance industry in the California Plan in the 1970 legislative session already has jeopardized his previous relationship as a defense attorney with certain legal clients, but I refuse to be further intimidated by corporate legal clients that have never been asked or voluntarily contributed of directly or indirectly to my previous or present campaigns."

"The reckless steamroller tactics employed by Broward Williams and Bill Chappell when they pushed the California Plan through the Legislature did not allow time for proper study... because of this both the insurance industry and consumers have been hurt."

Back in Business?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Filibusters, by their nature, are degrading and anyone who doesn't believe it ought to have to cover one.

But there is a queer logic in the system that permits unlimited, endless, droning on in the Senate. It was demonstrated when a group of senators talked to apparent defeat a constitutional amendment to reform the Electoral College system.

Both friend and foe of the amendment considered it most fundamental change in the American method of electing presidents that has ever reached a vote in Congress.

It was brought to the floor at the worst conceivable time for methodical consideration. The debate in the middle of a heading rush for adjournment and in an election campaign when attendance is often spotty.

It is difficult enough for ordinary bills to be considered under such circumstances. But change in the Constitution is something else.

The amendment in question has vast implications for the political system. It would eliminate the Electoral College system — under which all of a state's electoral votes usually go to the candidate who has the most votes in that state.

It would substitute direct popular election.

The driving force behind the amendment was the fear that a third party candidate would deadlock the Electoral College, and prevent anyone from getting a majority, and force the election into the House of Representatives.

The solution proposed was direct popular election, which is the historical trend in the United States and probably an irreversible one.

But the question that was posed — and never answered in the Senate debate — was what effect it would have on the internal stability in the United States.

Sen. Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., said there was good reason to believe that if the amendment had been in effect in 1968, no candidate would have received a majority in the fall election.

Not only that, he said, no one may have received even 40 per cent of vote, which under the amendment would have forced a runoff.

George Wallace may have siphoned off 35 per cent; Eugene McCarthy might have run and captured another chunk of votes from those sick of the war; and Nelson Rockefeller might have been tempted to run in the general election as a consensus candidate. Judging from the polls, Rockefeller might have given Nixon and Hubert Humphrey a close run.

What would have happened to the Republican and Democratic parties after that? Nobody had any way of knowing for sure.

Nothing in past history of presidential elections under the Electoral College system could possibly foretell how politics would be played under a popular vote system.

Consumer Guards

So much has been said of the need to protect consumers from the chicanery of manufacturers and retailers — in fact practically all business — that many people have lost sight of the elementary principles of the competitive, free market system that offer built-in consumer protection.

The house organ of a major chain retailing organization (G. C. Penney Company, Inc.) describes how its products it sells to its customers are put through rigorous testing procedures at its central office. Its Merchandise Testing and Quality Control Department, occupying two floors of a New York skyscraper, performs over 100,000 individual tests each year.

Everything from wearing apparel and household appliances to toys and TV sets are tested for quality, safety and performance. There's one marked distinction between the consumer protection efforts of a retailer such as this and a Washington agency.

The retailer's reputation and the life of his business depend on how well he satisfies his customers. In other words, the retailer has a selfish interest — to stay in business — that impels him to make quality control a personal concern. A government agency, by its nature, has no such interest.

This is the strongest recommendation for the self-policing methods of the free market. The merchandise testing and quality control of this one major retailer is an illustration of how the system works. It is unfortunate that more consumers cannot see it firsthand and more merchandisers follow this example.

Domestic Comment: "Brain Drain" Of Dope Rings

By RAY CROMLIE

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — What is now abundantly clear is that some of the major lessons learned the hard way in Vietnam in anti-guerrilla war are now being applied in President Nixon's attack on the vicious groups who peddle narcotics and other dangerous drugs.

These internationally based organizations have many guerrilla characteristics — in their type of organization and in their combined "military," economic, propaganda and bribery operations. Like the guerrillas, they are also protected by the fear or "loyalty" of their victims, protectors, sometimes out of shame by the families of their victims and by the officials they bribe.

As with the Viet Cong in Vietnam, they are protected, too, by the fact that their victims and the rank and file in their organization know that they, to have broken the law and therefore cannot expose the organization without exposing themselves to punishment by the law, and in some cases to death by a gang enforcer.

What is being accepted now in the United States is something very close in concept to the much-publicized Operation Phoenix in South Vietnam, which seeks to identify and take out of action the key Viet Cong North Vietnamese underground political, economic, propaganda and military leadership in the south in order to cut the heart out of the Hanoi invasion.

Here in the United States, a combination of major federal agencies in co-operation with state and local governments, has been making a concerted effort over the past months to identify the major illegal organizations dealing in narcotics and other dangerous drugs and their connections and associates in the United States and other countries and to learn the key personnel of those organizations.

Strangely enough, except for his and pieces of the facts on these groups have not been known with certainty in the past. There were bits and pieces of data and large amounts of conjecture and rumor but not the concrete knowledge necessary for effective government action.

Instead of attempting to catch every user, every pusher and every local wholesaler, the objective is to find the men who are key links in administration, in distribution, in import and in processing (whether these links are in the United States or in Europe, Latin America, Asia or the Middle East) and to then find ways to immobilize these key men.

(A key man jailed for assault and battery is as much out of circulation, though perhaps not as long, as one arrested for dope distribution. And assault and battery may be much easier to prove.

As a result of the preliminary intelligence gathering, it is now believed that the major national, international organizations, heavy import and distribute a heavy percentage of the illicit dangerous drugs in the United States.

These nine are known to have bases in major U.S. cities and in a spread of foreign countries. They possibly account for 80 per cent of the heroin and almost 100 per cent of the cocaine, some of marijuana and millions of dosage units of other dangerous drugs.

One of the nine is an organization of Spanish ethnic background scattered through the United States. These men secure heroin and cocaine from Spanish-speaking criminal organizations in Latin America and Spain.

Dick West Says: Spiroing In On Doctor Spock

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If asked to pick the most significant development in the 1970 election campaign, I would unhesitatingly point to Vice President Agnew's recent attack on Dr. Benjamin Spock, erstwhile running for anything.

In case you have been too busy looking after the kids to keep up with the political news, I shall summarize briefly.

Agnew accused the well known pediatrician for espousing "permissiveness" in child-rearing. The vice president feels that permissiveness is having a deleterious effect on American youth. Particularly after they grow up.

Considered alone, his anti-Spock remarks might not impress you as being exceptionally significant. What makes them so is the context in which they were uttered.

For Agnew gave Spock this verbal hand-spanking in one of his speeches in behalf of Republican congressional candidates. Thus, for the first time, at least to my knowledge, child-rearing as been set forth as a campaign issue.

This could lead to some very interesting situations. Specifically in cases that might have bachelors in the ball.

Well, I always try to stay abreast of political currents, so I obtained a copy of Spock's famous "Common Sense Book of Baby and Child Care," which Agnew had cited as excessively permissive.

For years, when I was teaching children, I kept a copy of this book under my pillow.

But I only used it for medical emergencies. (It comes in handy when one of your children gets bitten by a gorilla or something of that sort.) Therefore, I was not familiar with the book on training and discipline.

Upon glancing through them I found that there is indeed a pattern of permissiveness in Spock's advice. Consider, for example, the matter of letting a child out of his crib or play pen.

"Sooner or later," Spock writes, "he must be let out to room around, if not at 18 months, at least by 15 months when he's walking."

If that isn't permissiveness I don't know what is. You let a 15-month-old child start roaming around outside his play pen and the next thing you know he'll be doing something wild. Like studying pediatrics. Or getting into politics.

I personally believe a child should be kept in his play pen at least until he is old enough to vote for himself. Or until he is drafted. Whichever comes first.

Republican David L. Orlando, learned Tuesday that his opponent for commissioner of the Florida Public Service Commission, group 2, will be William H. Bovis, who won the Democratic nomination from Wilson W. Wright.

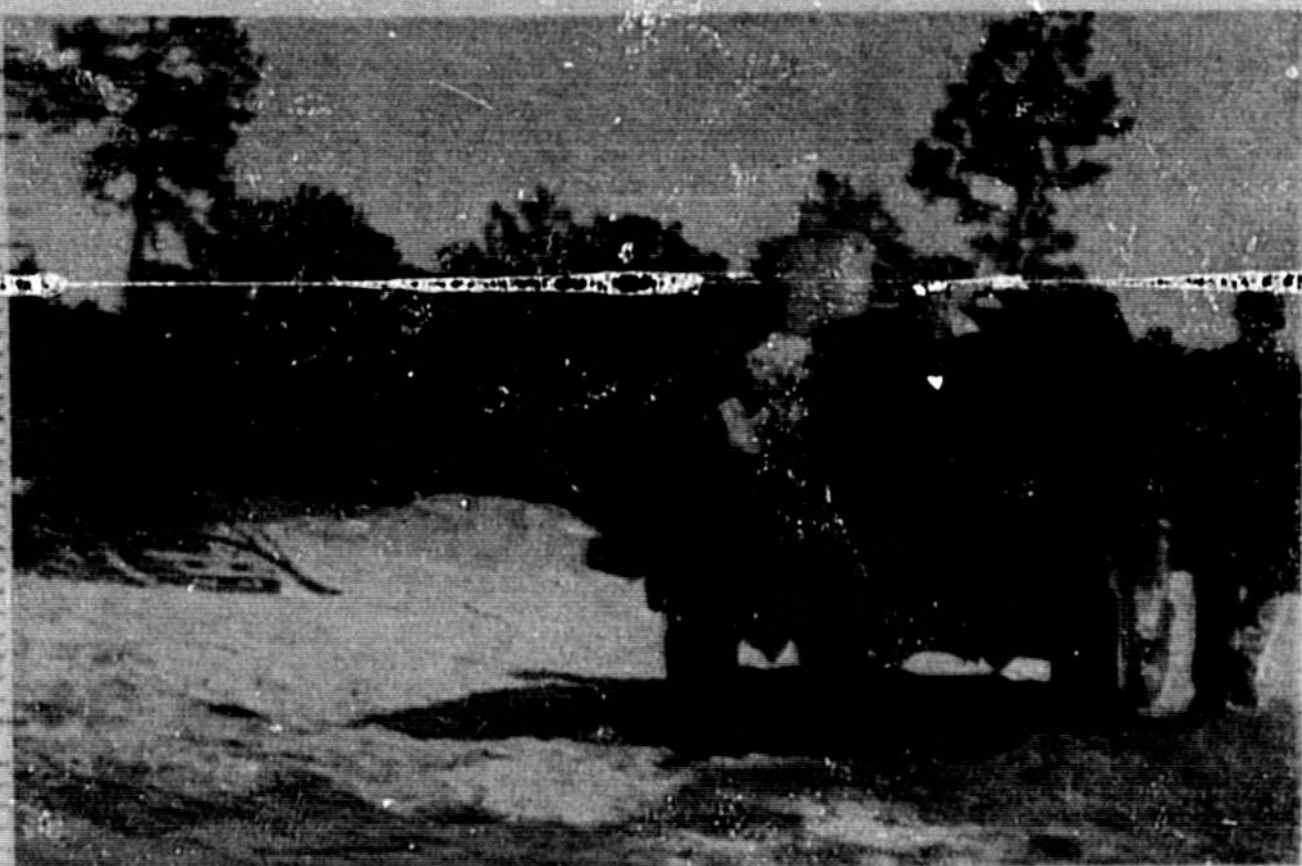

Lindsay was so quiet in the early days of the campaign that we almost overlooked that he has a candidate for state office in our midst. He was elected to the Florida House of Representatives for Seminole and Orange Counties in March 1967 and again in November 1968.

Lindsay told The Herald that "the motivating factor which prompted me to run for the Florida Public Service Commission was to contribute to public safety generally but more specifically the laxity of the commission in behalf of the consumer public. Naturally people are concerned with ad valorem taxes, etc., on their homes which often times are assessed in comparison to utility bills ranging from $20 to well over $100 monthly for electric, telephone, water, sewer, etc."

"These commodities cannot competitively be bargained for and yet remain essential for each and every household on a take it or leave it basis."

"This board now as in the past is completely dominated by one political philosophy with the negative business as usual attitude. At one of the most conservative legislatures in the state, I feel my voice and influence will be a healthy transition for all Floridians."

5 AF Cadets Quit Over Drugs

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
 AF Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five Air Force Academy cadets have resigned this school year rather than face court-martial hearings on marijuana charges. Allegations of drug violations have been made against another 14 students.

Air Force officials at the Pentagon say the accusations have led to an investigation into the use of marijuana and LSD on the Colorado Springs, Colo., campus.

Until this year, 13 cadets had been dismissed for possession, use or sale of narcotics during the school's 15-year history. All violations occurred since 1967. The Air Force confirmed the current investigation in response to queries by The Associated Press. However, it stressed that "no academy-wide investigation of drug abuse is under way or planned."

The allegations of drug abuse against 16 cadets were made by their classmates last week.

This followed the resignation earlier in the month of five cadets who had been charged with drug violations.

The Air Force said three resigned the first week in September as a result of marijuana charges brought by the academy's chain of command. There is no evidence at the time that all cases have substantive facts to them. This will be determined when the investigations are completed.

possession of marijuana and the third with possession and bringing marijuana onto a military reservation.

Colorado Springs police arrested two other cadets Sept. 12 after a search of their car allegedly turned up marijuana. Police dropped the charges and turned the pair over to the academy. The two, both seniors, subsequently resigned rather than go before a court-martial board.

In a statement concerning the other 14, the Air Force said: "The investigations are based on alleged reports brought to light last week through the cadet chain of command. There is no evidence at the time that all cases have substantive facts to them. This will be determined when the investigations are completed."

Nursing Home Movie By HUD Is Criticized

By DICK BARNES
 Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Housing George Romney has temporarily held up distribution of a HUD produced film on nursing homes which was branded misleading by a congressional critic of the nursing home industry.

Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., said recently the Romney had promised him in a telephone conversation that the secretary's office would investigate the eight-minute film about the Federal Housing Administration's nursing home program.

HUD officials screened the film for Pryor at his request Tuesday and defended the production when he raised objections.

In a letter sent to Romney after the screening, Pryor said in part: "The film made no mention of the costs of the nursing homes shown, which are among the most expensive in the country, or that many—if not most—accept only private patients."

$1 Billion In Capital Available Federal $$ Open To Mexican-Americans

By EUGY SIMPSON
 Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A little-publicized agency, created to give Mexican-Americans a foothold in the free-enterprise system, is seeking to place $1 billion in capital under direct control of Spanish-speaking people within five years.

In its first month as liaison between the Spanish-speaking community and federal lending agencies, the National Economic Development Association—NEDA—has processed $5 million in loan applications.

"Our goal for the first year is $50 million," Ben Fernandez, head of NEDA, said in an interview.

"We believe this is the way to alleviate economic and social change—and we are doing it within the system at virtually no cost to the American taxpayer," he said. "We don't want a handout. All we want is the opportunity to compete."

NEDA has a three-phase program, advising Spanish-speaking Americans seeking to start or expand a business, guaranteeing scholarships and on-the-job business training for students, and attempting to break Mexican-Americans into financial ownership.

INVENTORS—Consider the late Albert Armour. All he did was design the folding door now used worldwide on telephone booths. Nothing much to that. Still, no inventor, so far disconsolate with success, should forget the fact that Mr. Armour sold his patent rights for $3 Million, he, ho. Is that not inspirational! Would think so.

ALL RIGHT, WHAT'S the largest state east of the Mississippi? Spring that one at the dinner table. He who says Georgia gets dessert. . . . AN UNMARRIED WOMAN in search of a husband might bear in mind there are twice as many eligible 30-year-old men as eligible 30-year-old women. . . . RIGHT UP TILL 123 years ago, the gorilla was regarded by civilized man as a mythical beast. Of the same kidney as the Abominable Snowman.

LOVE AND WAR—That most wives outlive their husbands is something else women tend to take for granted now. The insurance boys don't object. But our Love and War man would like to point out such was not the case 180 years ago. Widowers outnumbered widows considerably then. It wasn't uncommon for a man to marry two women, one to bear children, another to bring them up. And that relatively rare lady who did outlive her husband had little trouble finding another gentleman friend.

CUSTOMER SERVICE—Q. "Even though I know horoscopes are bunk, I'm still amazed at the accuracy of your Planet man's remarks. How does he manage to hit the bull's eye every time?" A. Nothing so to be said. He shoots first, then draws a ring around the hole. . . . Q. "How much material does it take to make a Scottish kilt?" A. About eight yards. . . . TURNS OUT Sweden's infant mortality rate is not really lower than that of the United States. But just looks that way. Because Sweden doesn't reckon from birth, but from one or two or three days afterwards. Stillborns aren't counted. . . . AMONG MEN AND WOMEN in their late twenties and early thirties, more than 98 out of 100 in Japan can read and write, and more than 88 out of 100 in Africa's Sudan can't. CONSIDER THIS—Am now advised it was not the prizefighter Jack Dempsey who originated the line in the 1920s, "I zigged when I should have ragged." A. New Jersey gentleman claims said quip was current years earlier. But who started it? That's what our language man wants to know. He says any customer who can come up with the origin date will win first prize. That may be a new necktie, and if so, such will be announced right after Christmas.

Harlow, who was born here, made the disclosure Wednesday at a reception honoring Jenkin Lloyd Jones, past president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, and oilman W. W. Keeler, board chairman of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Harlow served as an aide to the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower from 1953 to 1961. He is now a presidential counsel with Cabinet rank.

Commission Divided On Its Anti-Smut Law Report

By JIM ADAMS
 Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A presidential commission's call for repeal of U.S. adult anti-smut laws has been blasted as "the Denmark option" by three dissenting members—but two others say it doesn't go far enough.

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew dismissed the 18-member Commission on Obscenity and Pornography report out of hand during a speech in Salt Lake City Wednesday night. He called it a product of former President Lyndon B. Johnson's administration.

"It's not our baby," Agnew said of the 12-member majority's report. "This commission was not named by President Nixon. As long as Richard Nixon is President, Main Street is not going to turn into Smut Alley."

However, two members of the commission, both sociologists, said the panel should have recommended repeal of all U.S. anti-smut laws, including those banning the sale of pornography to children.

"There is no substantial evidence that exposure to juveniles is necessarily harmful," said professor Otto N. Larsen of the University of Washington and Marvin E. Wolfgang, chairman of the University of Pennsylvania's sociology department.

"There may even be beneficial effects," they said, "if for no other reason than the encouragement of open discussion about sex between parents and children, relatively early in young lives."

But Charles H. Keating Jr., President Nixon's only appointee to the commission, accused the panel of "following the Pied Piper of Denmark." He said his proposals would turn the United States into a "pagan, animalistic" country if Congress paid any attention to them.

Oviedo Lions Host Middies Tonight

By LARRY NEELY Herald Sports Staff The Oviedo JV's will try to put one in the winning column tonight as they play host to the Sanford Naval Academy Middies at John Courter Field...

The Oviedo prep gridders sport a 6-1 record going into tonight's contest after falling victim to Seminole High School which is ranked third in the Herald's statewide Class A prep football poll.

According to Oviedo Head Coach Tony Wise the Lions learned one primary weakness in the county contest with the Lion defensive secondary proved to be the weakest spot on the Lion team. Wise had expressed earlier in the season that Oviedo's strongest asset would be its defense and Wise and Defensive Coach George Dean have been striving to assure that fact for the past two weeks.

The Lions had no game last Friday which allowed for two more full days of practice. Wise noted that Otis Cone has made the greatest improvement of all the defensive backs and should be one of the Lions' stronger men in the defensive backfield.

Offensively the Lions seem to be shaping up well. The passing arm of junior quarterback Lynn Burch is getting more accurate as time goes on and he should be putting on quite an aerial display tonight. Burch is expected to be a new target for Burch as Edgers will start as Burch's backup.

The light end set seems to be a hard one for the Lions. The light end set seems to be a hard one for the Lions. The light end set seems to be a hard one for the Lions.

Texas Fears UCLA Bruins; Will Defend Longest Streak

By TED MEIER Associated Press Sports Writer Royal Fears Dummie. That could be the headline for the Texas-UCLA clash as the Longhorns go after their 23rd straight victory in one of college football's leading games Saturday.

Darrell Royal, coach of Texas' defending national champion, says he is concerned about Dennis Dummie, the UCLA quarterback.

"He's a fine passer," Royal commented. "And he's throwing to somebody who can do something with it when he gets it."

"It's ridiculous that we are three touchdown favorites," added the Texas coach, whose Longhorns now boast the longest winning streak after Colorado shattered Penn State's string last week.

The Longhorns, ranked No. 2 in Ohio State in the week's Associated Press poll, tangle with the 13th-ranked Bruins at Austin, Tex.

The top-ranked Buckeyes are at home against the Duke Blue Devils in Columbus, Ohio, and Woody Hayes, the Ohio State mentor, figures his running game will offset any threat from Duke's passer, Leo Hart.

The national television game on ABC pits seven-ranked Mississippi and Archie Manning against 14-ranked Alabama and Scott Hunter in a night game at Jackson, Miss.

Other leading contests include Purdue at No. 3 Stanford, No. 4 Notre Dame at Michigan State, Oregon State at No. 5 Southern California, No. 6 Nebraska at Minnesota, No. 8 Colorado at Kansas State, Texas A&M at No. 9 Michigan and Colorado State at No. 10 Air Force.

The weekend program opens with two games tonight, Maryland at Miami (Fla.) and Tulane at Cincinnati.

Ole Miss and its superstar, Manning, are set to turn the tables on Alabama, which pulled out a 33-22 victory last year as Hunter hit on 22 of 29 passes for 262 yards and scored the winning touchdown. Manning gained 540 yards in total offense in the game.

John Faurch, coach of the favored Rebels, looks for "Alabama to be as tough a game as we'll have all year."

Duke's Hart and his favorite receiver, Wes Chesson, may prove a threat to Ohio State. "Our major concern is not talent, it's depth," said Tom Harp, the Duke coach. "If we stay healthy not even Ohio State will embarrass us."

Quarterback Lynn Dickey, who didn't play last week because of a bruised rib, is back for Kansas State and if he is up to par the Wildcats may prove a stubborn foe for Colorado.

This year the blue and gold is faced with a team that lacks size and depth. They have good attitude and have the desire to carry on the winning tradition. Head coach Klein said, "The whole team looks like they're trying... they're small and young... but I know that they are all putting forth a great deal of effort."

When asked who he thought would be his outstanding player this year Klein referred to his tailback Bob Garcia, who connected with a pass from Jim Rutherford and scored SNL's only touchdown in the game against Bunnell last week; and David Lett who plays tight end and connected with two passes in the same game.

This year Jim Rutherford is quarterback for the Middies and is taking the place held last year by all-star quarterback Randy Leader, who is now attending Harvard University on an athletic grant scholarship.

1971. Buick introduces a new set of values.

Value, not gimmicks or ornamentation, sells cars. More people have been coming to Buick each year for just that reason. Buick concentrates on value. And this year, Buick introduces a new set of values. Features that will help make your new Buick perform better, last longer and get you more of a return on your investment at trade-in time.

1971 Buick Riviera. A totally new design concept. And that's not all. Riviera offers Max Trac, an exclusive power control system you can order with its own on-board computer. It helps get you securely over slick surfaces by reducing rear-wheel slipping.

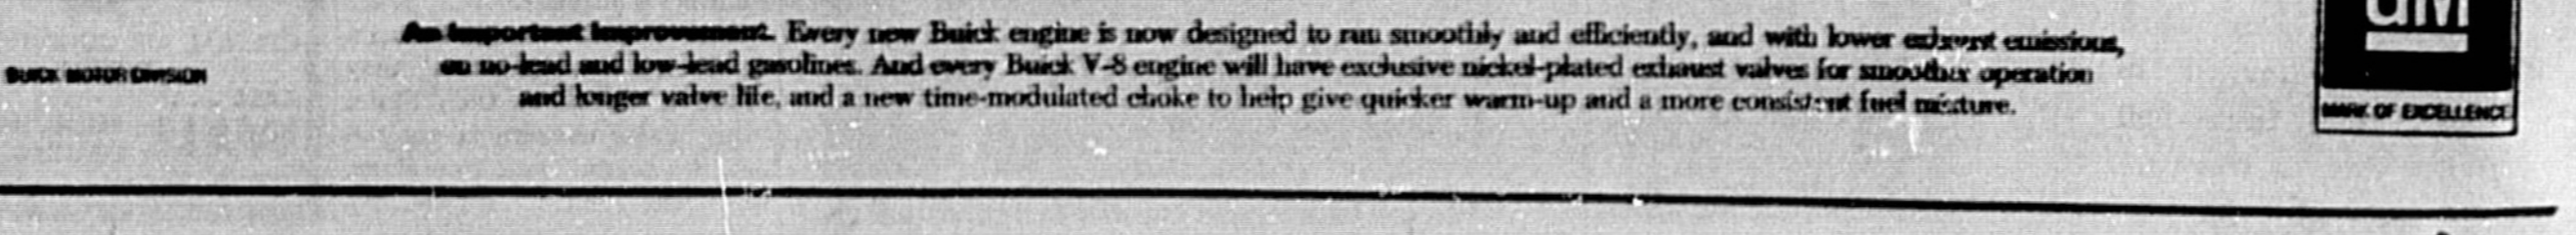

1971 Buick Electra 225. A new interpretation of quiet elegance. We've improved our Electra everywhere you look. There's more room in every direction, interiors that can be appreciated as much for their durability as for their beauty and comfort.

1971 Buick Centurion. This is our newest Buick, a city car with sleekness and grace as well as muscle. It features more nimble variable-ratio power steering, power front disc brakes, Full-Flo ventilation, and a vinyl roof on the Centurion Formal Coupe as standard equipment.

1971 Buick LeSabre. An incredible new offering of Buick value. The LeSabre, like the Riviera, Electra and Centurion, features Acco-Drive, a new version of the directional stability system we pioneered. It will help give you smooth, banking.

1971 Buick Skylark Custom. This is a car that has set the pace for value in its price class. Rocker panels that wash and dry themselves, big back room and comfort inside, a cooling system that should never overheat, inner fenders that protect the outer fenders, and a noisier piece have put our Buick Skylark traditionally among the leaders in its class.

President, Mrs. Nixon Fly To Franco's Spain

MADRID (AP) — President Nixon arrived for a visit to Franco's Spain today after making the first visit by a U.S. president to Communist Yugoslavia.

Spain's leader, Gen. Francisco Franco, arrived at Madrid's Barajas Airport minutes before Nixon's plane landed. Wearing the uniform of a general in the Spanish army, Franco waited at the bottom of the ladder as the President and Mrs. Nixon got off the plane.

"Candid Chatter"

Needless to say, most women are noted for spending a few hours primping, etc. before entering the critical eye of the public.

So I questioned her re clothes, grooming, etc. Her solution to this is she has to take time out to go to the self-service laundry during the campaign and launder clothes just like all other wives. She wears very little make-up and she does her own natural red (shades of strawberry blonde) hair.

How long do you plan to wear your skirts during the next fashion year? I asked the very attractive redhead shortly after JO ANN ROWE introduced us.

A broad smile flashed across her pretty face, which was sprinkled with freckles, and her hazel eyes sparkled as she answered. "The length I am wearing now."

The occasion was a small dinner party at Holiday House when Jo Ann entertained for COBRISS (COCKY) SLADE, wife of SEN. TOM SLADE, Republican candidate for State Treasurer and Insurance Commissioner.

Jo Ann, her husband, JIM ROWE, and Tom were neighbors and school chums during their childhood days in Starke.

The senator and his youthful wife received National recognition last winter when a plane they boarded at Mexico City (for Miami) was skyjacked en route and they touched down in Cuba.

Corky promptly put her talents in their proper perspective and began questioning the 17-year-old skyjacker (at gun point). Her news release of the encounter was carried in major newspapers across the country, after the plane returned to Miami.

Prior to her marriage, Corky was a newspaper columnist for Fort Pierce "News Tribune" and today, "Cocoa."

Corky claims to be a native "cracker," having lived in Fort Pierce most of her life. When I mentioned that I thought she was born in Virginia, she quipped, "But I was conceived in Florida and my mother returned to her home in Virginia for my birth."

A bundle of bubbling energy and endowed with a zest of personality and poise, the vivacious redhead held the dinner guests captive with "girl talk" and how she manages to campaign with her husband, from as early as 6 a.m. daily until late at night.

During the Slade whirlwind visit to Semole County Sept. 30, Corky was honored at a tea that afternoon at the beautiful Spring Valley home of Mrs. JACK CATTLEY.

Co-hostess for the affair was Mrs. HARVEY WINCHESTER.

On the same night MIKE WHEICHEL was host at Mayfair Country Club to a cocktail party honoring both Tom and Corky Slade.

The beautiful, friendly people bowed out, including both Reps and Demos and a grand old time was had at the grand old party... yea!

For this occasion, Corky wore a pale coral pure silk frock.

XI BETA ETA CHAPTER

Three special events marked the September calendar for Xi Beta Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Early in the month the group gathered at the home of Betty Rathel for a luncheon and pool party. Topic of conversation centered around summer activities and plans for the new sorority year.

The first meeting of the year was held Sept. 14, at the home of Jan Cattley. Aside from the usual business, Betty Rathel was elected as Valentine Girl to represent her chapter at the annual Valentine Ball.

Following the meeting a farewell party surprised Faye Wynne. The group presented her with a gift inscribed with the words "We miss you and wish you much happiness and good luck in her new home in North Carolina."

On Sept. 28, Xi Beta Eta had the privilege of giving the Exempter Ritual to 12 local Beta Sigma Phi and assisting them in forming a new Exempter Chapter.

Following the Ritual Xi Beta Eta and their new Xi Beta Eta, Xi Epsilon Sigma, opened refreshments comprised of open faced sandwiches, punch and petit fours.

Xi Beta Eta's social committee was in charge of refreshments and Jo Ann Gardner was hostess for the evening.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We are in the process of raising four children, and have asked ourselves a thousand times, "Why are we doing it?" The only conclusion we can come to is that we didn't know any better than to have had them in the first place, and obviously we had rocks in our heads for ever thinking we wanted to be parents.

It's the most thankless job in the world. If every young couple would stop and ask themselves why they want children, and answer the question honestly, 9 out of 10 wouldn't have any.

After being a mother for more than 19 years, I honestly can't think of one good reason anyone would choose to be a mother.

MICHIGAN MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: If the truth were known (and there is no way of getting an honest count), the number of children who were really "wanted" would probably be shockingly low. Many young couples want "a baby" without considering the headaches of rearing a child.

"Parenthood is the most thankless job in the world," as the child should "thank" his parents for having had him. Children do not ask to be born, and they don't owe anyone (mother or father) "thanks."

Parents become parents (or should) because they want children, but they should first seriously consider the responsibilities that go with parenthood. In answer to your question: YOU are raising four children because you had in needs a good attorney to advise him of his "rights" as well as obligations. And if you get out of this one he should never go ashore with the chaplain.

DEAR READER: I am continually receiving letters from readers who ask, "How can you give advice to parents on rearing children when you're a mother?" Or, "The lady next door told me that the picture you use around your column was taken in World War I." Others have asked, "You're married! Have you ever been divorced? Do you have any children?"

I have on numerous occasions answered these questions in my column, but for those who apparently still do not know, I offer my vital statistics:

Abigail Van Buren is the pen name of my own choosing. I was born on the 4th of July in 1915. I am an American citizen. I was married in 1939. I have two grown offspring—a boy for you and a girl for me. The picture that appears with my column is a new one. (It's a passport picture.) I've never had plastic surgery, but I'm not saying it.

I state five feet nothing and weigh 108 pounds and was raised on Iowa corn. (No remarks, please.)

Any more questions?

SINCERELY, ABBY

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 6709, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Jacoby On Bridge

In some Stayman variations, the two-club response guarantees at least eight points. In JACOBY MODERN, it merely guarantees that responder has 13 cards, including a major suit of some sort or other. Responder also guarantees that he will know what to do next.

North doesn't like no-trump at all and is justified in his dislike. South would probably be two down at that contract.

He prefers two spades and in some Stayman forms he would bid two spades. He wouldn't quite make it, but he would come close. He could complain about the bad luck of the trump break and the misplacement of the ace of clubs.

Playing JACOBY MODERN, North responds two clubs. South bids two hearts and West made his best lead of a low heart. East won and returned the suit. A third heart led South in. He played ace-king and another spade to ruff with his last trump. Now he led ace-king and another diamond. At this point, he could have ruffed in dummy and led a club to go one down, but South would have a better chance.

West led his last diamond and was allowed to hold that trick also. This forced him to play a club up to South's hand and South made his contract.

What would have happened if South had replied with two hearts? North would have bid two spades and in JACOBY MODERN that two-spade bid is every bit as much a sign-off as an immediate two-spade response would have been.

Worry Clinic

By Dr. Crane

But she vividly realized that she was not alone in her worries. She had many friends who were also worried. She had many friends who were also worried. She had many friends who were also worried.

By GEORGE W. CRANE, PH. D. M. D.

CASE 0-547: Marcia B., aged 42, is the grieving wife whose husband announced he was seeking romance elsewhere.

"Dr. Crane," she pleaded, "what can I do to stop him from leaving me?"

Well, Marcia was 40 pounds too heavy.

So she had lost her former seductive charms and now had the waddling figure of a good old motherly soul.

You wives who have been married 20 years, should meditate seriously as to why even virile young men seldom sexually attack fat girls!

So a middle aged husband, whose erotic verve may not be 25 per cent what it was when you were first married, naturally gets very little incentive to be romantic.

There are quick shortcuts, plus some "slow but sure" methods by which a wife can almost always rekindle her husband's ardor for her.

The shortcuts consist of smiling cheerfully and never mentioning the parsimony of the outside air.

When she quit looking like a true lost and began to regain the classy charms of her youth, he began to seek her kisses and grow romantic.

Wives, the odds favor wives when you will just play your cards selectively and stress more cheesecake.

So send for the medical book, "How to Lose 10 Pounds in 10 Days," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. It contains a calorie chart and other helpful hints for slenderizing.

Remember, you will be much happier with a devoted husband than with merely an alimony check to cuddle.

But it takes strategy to build good husband till your Golden Wedding Day.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, return envelope and 20 cents to cover printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Horoscope Forecast

SATURDAY, OCT. 3, 1970

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A good day for discussions with close allies. Get their suggestions and give yours to develop mutual understanding. Fine for casual entertainments, also.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Approach others with a complimentary attitude and you find you can clear up former misunderstandings early. A matter involving another person may be brought to you for settlement. Give it some thought and show wisdom.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You are ruled by Venus and can use your fine abilities to put your points across. Intrigue the appearance of your surroundings. Take health treatments that increase vitality. Avoid bad risks.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You can perfect hobbies that improve your recreational life. Consult others about helping you work money with your skills. Show efficiency.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Put aside own interests today and do whatever you can to make him happy. Buy gadgets that reduce labor at home. Being more concerned with comfort is important, too.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Make these appointments that improve your life. Plan time for efficiency. Planning time for efficiency with congenial friends is good also. Avoid those who like to argue in p.m.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) This is an excellent day for getting everything spic-and-span, and adding self-care that improves appearance of surroundings. Discuss with business experts you can increase income.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Good day for improving appearance. Do something you enjoy. Excellent for giving a party or going to one. Evening party particularly happy time for you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You love to delve into the truth of many subjects, and excellent day for this. Help others get ahead, also. Retire early.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can gain some insight into your heart at this time with the help of a friend who has warmth and generosity. Go out with those who appreciate the things you do. Do not be less bombastic.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Civic work can open new avenues of success for you. Give support to some worthy cause in gaining their highest aims and they will help you in turn. Make some small changes in your appearance which perk up spirits.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have many fine new ideas, but will make a success of those which are most modern in nature. A good day for social activities, also.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Follow your hunches and you will know how to handle responsibilities correctly. Get them behind you for once and for all. You can get excellent romantic response from mate in p.m. Use finesse.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those young people who want a strong arm to lean on for a feeling of security. Be sure to give the finest education possible to the young person. He will learn to stand on two feet and can deal with others on an equal basis. There is a tendency to be self-conscious early in life. Give the right spiritual training while young, also. With such preparation, your progeny will be able to meet persons in every walk of life successfully.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1970

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A beautiful day and evening for delving into whatever you are in high position of executive or official authority and to grant you a favor that is vital to your welfare. The remainder of the afternoon, evening finds you very much inclined to force issues and to be reckless. Therefore be careful of accidents.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Visiting new places until the middle of the afternoon is fine. Later, avoid anything that could cause you to lose your temper. Handle routine work wisely after that. Retiring early is fine.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You have much vision now and can plan some new course of activity that will be worthwhile in connection with newcomers. Investigate various outlets for your talents. Be less talking and more listening.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You intend to give you the answers to certain enigmas. Make these appointments that improve your life. Plan time for efficiency. Planning time for efficiency with congenial friends is good also. Avoid those who like to argue in p.m.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) This is an excellent day for getting everything spic-and-span, and adding self-care that improves appearance of surroundings. Discuss with business experts you can increase income.

Grow A Fall Garden For Food, Exercise

By DAVID BEVILL
In the past few years, the concept of a fall garden has become a popular one. To get all three, you should grow a fall garden. To get all three, you should grow a fall garden. To get all three, you should grow a fall garden.

FOOD LABORATORY of Florida Department of Agriculture is studying under way on "black-filled" food cartons. Is the jumbo box — often only 70 or 80 per cent filled inside — actually designed to help feed the hungry? The Food and Drug Administration is studying the project. Jury Indicts Driver For Man's Murder

Seminole County Grand Jury indicted Henry Porter Joyce, 31-year-old Baltimore truck driver, for first degree murder in the Sept. 25 slaying of Maynard G. Powell, 62-year-old Lake Monroe resident.

Powell's body was discovered Sept. 26, by a neighbor, lying in a yard close to his home. A .38 caliber pistol was near the body.

The grand jury returned no true bills against five Sanford men charged with the rape of a 17-year-old girl, who alleged that she was the victim of a gang assault.

Cleared of the charges were Robert Randall, 19; Willie James Bennett, 17; Roosevelt Lamarr, 17; Edward Mitchell Duval, 18, and Vernon Jerome Dillon, 18.

Sanford police arrested two Longwood youths early Saturday on possession of marijuana charges after the car in which the two were riding was stopped by Lt. Charles Fagan at intersection of French Avenue and 22nd Street.

William Michael Lane, 18, of 881 Logan Drive, and a 15-year-old male passenger in the car were charged with possession of marijuana after three cigarettes containing the drug were found in the car, according to Detective Ralph Russell.

Lane was placed in the county jail in lieu of $5,000 bond and the juvenile was also jailed until he could be released to juvenile authorities. Russell said the marijuana came from Orange County.

Burglars entered the Loxcrest Company, Inc., on Silver Lake Drive last night and escaped with $50 stolen from the firm's petty cash box. The entry was made by an intruder who pried open a window to the screen factory.

Osceola Landfill Question To Be Aired By Commission

By MARION BETHA

A report upon the use of Osceola Airfield as the county's central sanitary landfill will be given at tomorrow's meeting of Seminole County commissioners by the consulting engineering firm of Clark, Dietz and Associates. The firm has been reviewing the suitability of the site relative to subsurface soil conditions and have been conducting test borings at the site.

Also on the agenda is a report from County Engineer William Bush upon the sidewalks at Howell Branch Road. This item has been the object of much contention, with Commissioner Robert Parker favoring the use of a pasture as an access route to Eastbrook Elementary School. Other commissioners maintain that this remote area, encompassing drainage ditches, would be conducive to motility.

It is proposed to widen both sides of the road from Eastbrook Boulevard to Tangerine Drive to make a 24-foot strip at a cost in materials of $6,000. A petition will be presented to the board from residents of Greenbriar subdivision, requesting that the county install devices at Rantoul Lane to in-

Boy, 4, Traffic Victim

By BILL SCOTT

A four-year-old boy was killed in a traffic accident and a Winter Park man had his left arm severed in a boating mishap Sunday in Seminole County.

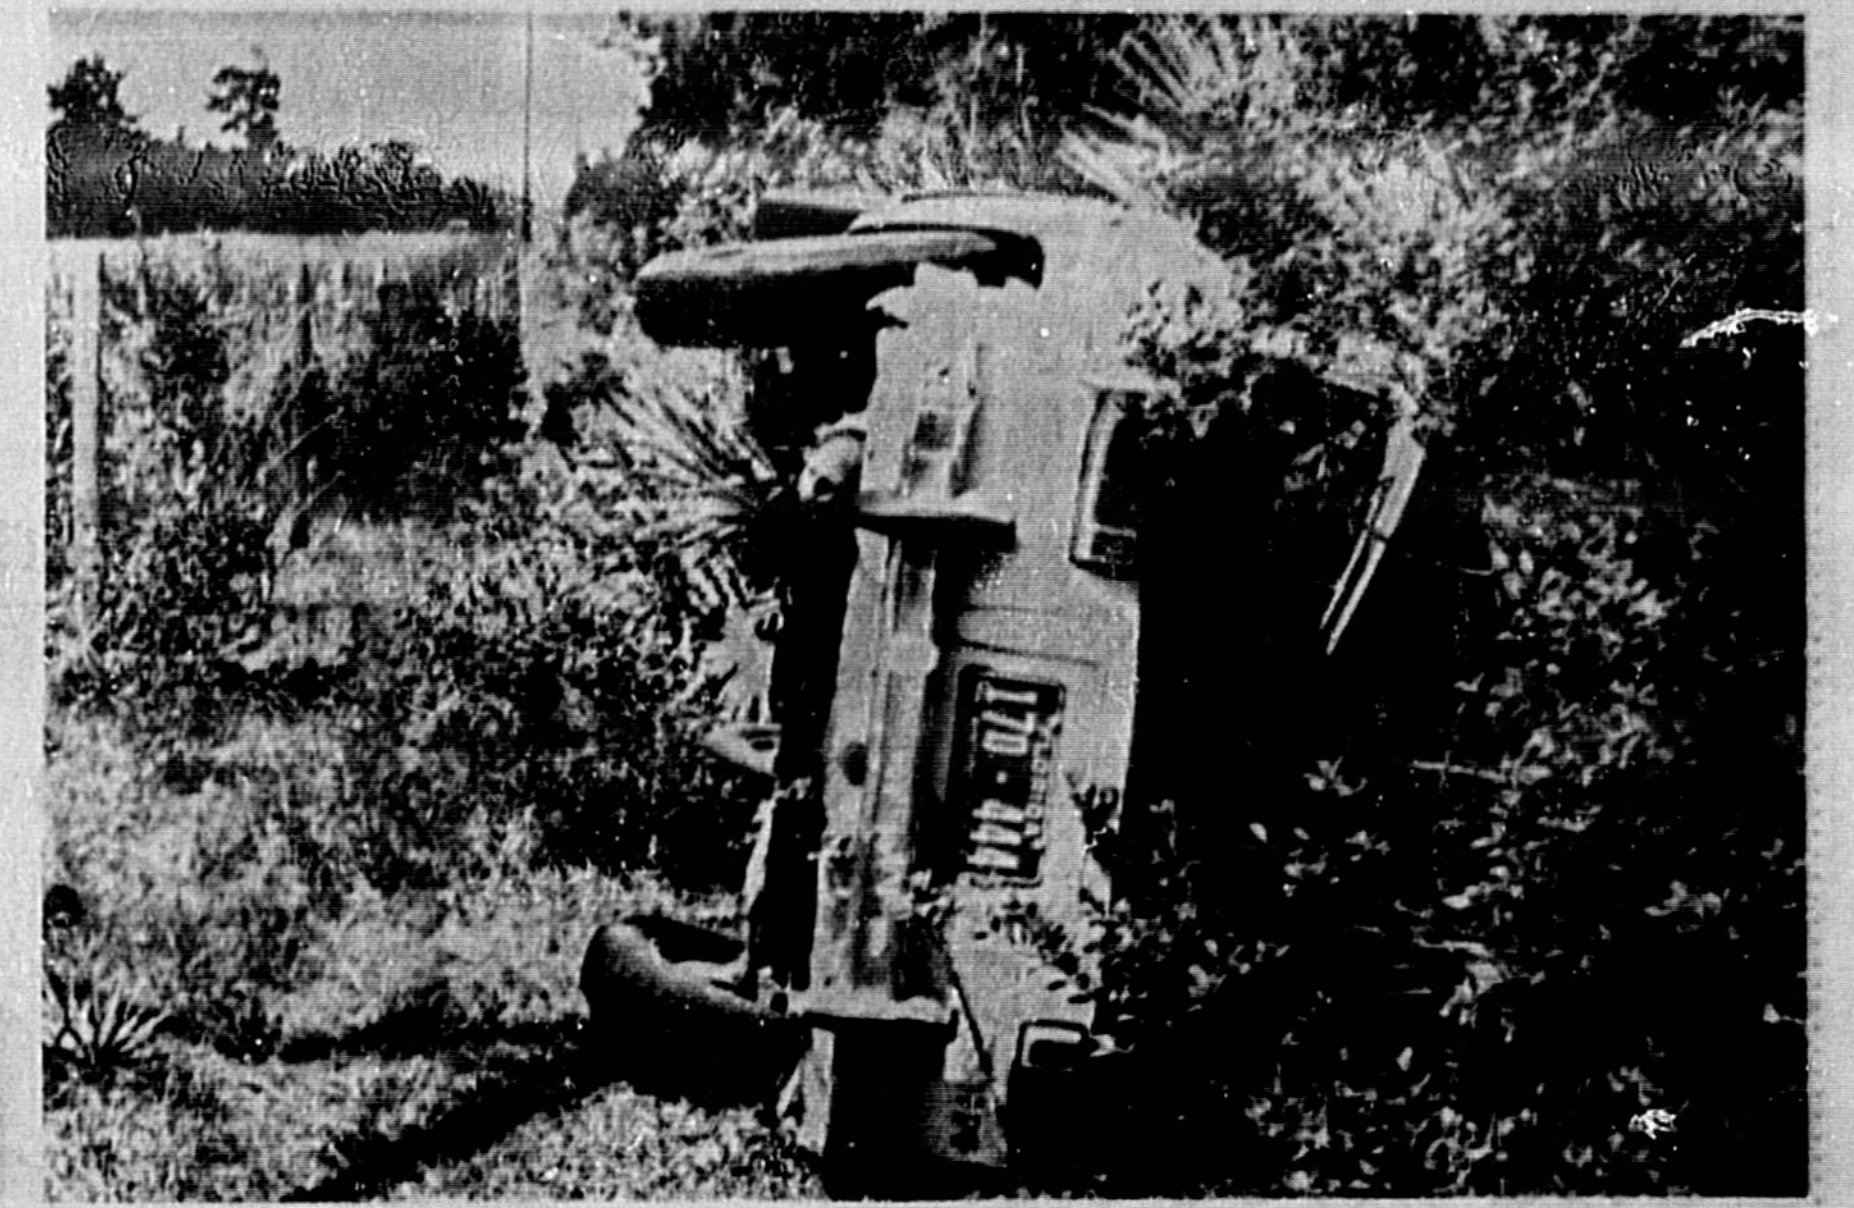

The child was John Patrick Bongiamani, of 200 Idylwild Drive. He died shortly after noon when the car in which he was a passenger went out of control, left the road and overturned, crushing him.

Highway Patrol Troopers T. E. Depuy Jr. and G. O. Hawthorne investigated the accident which occurred on SR 46 East, approximately two miles west of Geneva.

DePuy reported the car, driven by Francine Bongiamani, 16-year-old sister of the dead boy, and containing Billie Accardi, 24, of 3509 Park Avenue, Sanford, and owner of the vehicle, was traveling east, when it suddenly went out-of-control.

Trooper DePuy said the car ran off onto the right shoulder of the road and then back to the left, the rear of the vehicle spinning around before leaving the roadway and overturning.

The driver and surviving passenger were removed to Seminole Memorial Hospital where they were treated for shock and superficial injuries. Trooper DePuy said charges from the mishap are pending.

THE END OF THE ROAD . . .

TWELFTH TRAFFIC DEATH of the year was recorded in Seminole County Sunday noon, when John Patrick Bongiamani, four-year-old Sanford boy, was killed when the small foreign car above went out of control on SR 46 east and overturned.

Francine Bongiamani, 16-year-old sister of the dead child, was driving the vehicle accompanied by 24-year-old Billie Accardi, the car's owner. The car came to rest on its side, causing superficial injuries and shock to the driver and Mrs. Accardi.

Neighbors, Policeman Save Life

By JANE CASSELLBERRY

Mrs. Sandra Gardner, of 869 North Winter Park Drive, Sunday afternoon, when the car in which he was digging caved in, trapping him.

Danny and his eight-year-old companion, Robert Oldham of 881 North Winter Park Drive, were digging a cave with a shovel in the sand under nearby power lines, when Robert glanced away for a minute. When he looked back the hole had caved in and his friend was entombed in the 7½-foot tunnel.

He summoned Edward Drebert and his son, David, from a neighboring mobile home. When he pointed out the location of the cave-in they began to dig. They dug three feet before they saw the victim's hand and then continued until his head was exposed. Then the hole caved in again.

Meanwhile, Officer Tamburo had arrived on the scene with a portable oxygen kit. Danny already had started to turn him when they again uncovered his head and administered oxygen. With the aid of another neighbor, Fran Phillips, they continued digging until the boy's body was uncovered to

On the agenda for tonight's continued meeting of the Casselberry City Council will be the reading of both the Civil Service Ordinance and City Management Ordinance and approval of an amendment to the Fire Ordinance.

Also to be discussed will be the authorization of expenditures for jury trials so vehemently opposed at the last session by Councilman Edith Duerr, and the approval of the hiring of an appraisal firm to appraise the value of the water and sewage facilities owned by the City of Casselberry and South Seminole Utilities Company, which the city hopes to acquire.

TAKING PART IN DEDICATION

RIBBON CUTTING CEREMONIES for the official opening of the Seminole County Mental Health Association took place Sunday afternoon at the clinic in the Longwood Plaza. Edd Hitt, the executive Director of the Florida Mental Health Association was the keynote speaker. Left to right are Mrs. J. J. Sieczkowski, member of the Mental Health Association Board and past president of the Sanford Woman's Club which sponsored the opening of the county facility, Dr. E. Michael Gutman, medical director of the facility, and Robert E. Daehn, president of the Association.

N. Orlando Ponders Building Post

NORTH ORLANDO — Village Council will meet tonight at 7:30 p.m. at Village Hall to consider a lengthy agenda.

The council will undertake the appointment of a building inspector for the Village. Sidney Vihlen Sr. has been serving as the temporary inspector, filling the vacancy created by the resignation of Sid Vihlen Jr. to serve as county commissioner.

The village advertised for an inspector and were, according to Mayor Clifford Jordan, "overwhelmed with applications." Presumably, council will interview the applicants tonight.

A petition for annexation by Jack Rossman of Jack's Mini Mart on U.S. 17-92 will be considered by council.

Also relative to annexation is the acquisition of rights-of-way leading from the Village which has been under consideration for some time. Village Attorney Thomas Freeman will report upon progress made.

An agreement with the Casselberry police department for a police band radio will, in all probability, be extended. Casselberry has indicated approval and will serve in the capacity of a base radio for North Orlando.

A political sign ordinance, suggested by Councilman Charles Kelly, will be discussed. This proposed ordinance will prohibit signs to be erected in the city limits.

Council will consider filling the council seat vacated by the resignation of Commissioner Wayne Miller.

Formal action will be undertaken relative to granting a franchise for natural gas to Florida Public Utilities. Also to be considered is retention of the present franchise for LP gas with Suburban Propane.
