County Escapes Roads Carnage

327 Deaths Nationwide

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

No traffic fatalities were reported early today in Seminole County as the four-day New Year holiday ended, although eight deaths were reported in the central Florida area and 21 statewide, according to the Florida Highway Patrol.

Nationwide, the New Year's holiday traffic death toll stood at 327 as bitter weather plagued motorists at the close of the long weekend that began 6 p.m. Friday and ended midnight Tuesday.

Of the eight deaths in central Florida, two occurred in Orlando, two in Daytona Beach and four in Brevard County, according to Sgt. Art Brown, FHP public information officer.

Brown said two of the eight deaths were alcohol-related.

During the four-day period, officers made about 35 DUI arrests in Seminole County, 12 by the FHP, Brown said. In the seven-county central Florida area covered by the patrol, troopers arrested 85 people for driving under the influence, he said. The FHP division of central Florida covers Seminole, Orange, Lake, Brevard, Osceola, Volusia, and Flagler counties.

Brown said about 50 percent of the traffic fatalities in Florida during the four-day holiday were alcohol-related.

The influence of alcohol in half the holiday accidents in Florida is higher than the influence of alcohol in traffic fatalities throughout the rest of the year in the state, Brown said.

During the year, 40 percent of the traffic fatalities in Florida involved alcohol, he said adding that about 50 percent of the accidents nationwide involve drinking.

Though the holiday season ended without a fatality in Seminole County, there were 42 traffic fatalities in the county during 1984, Brown said.

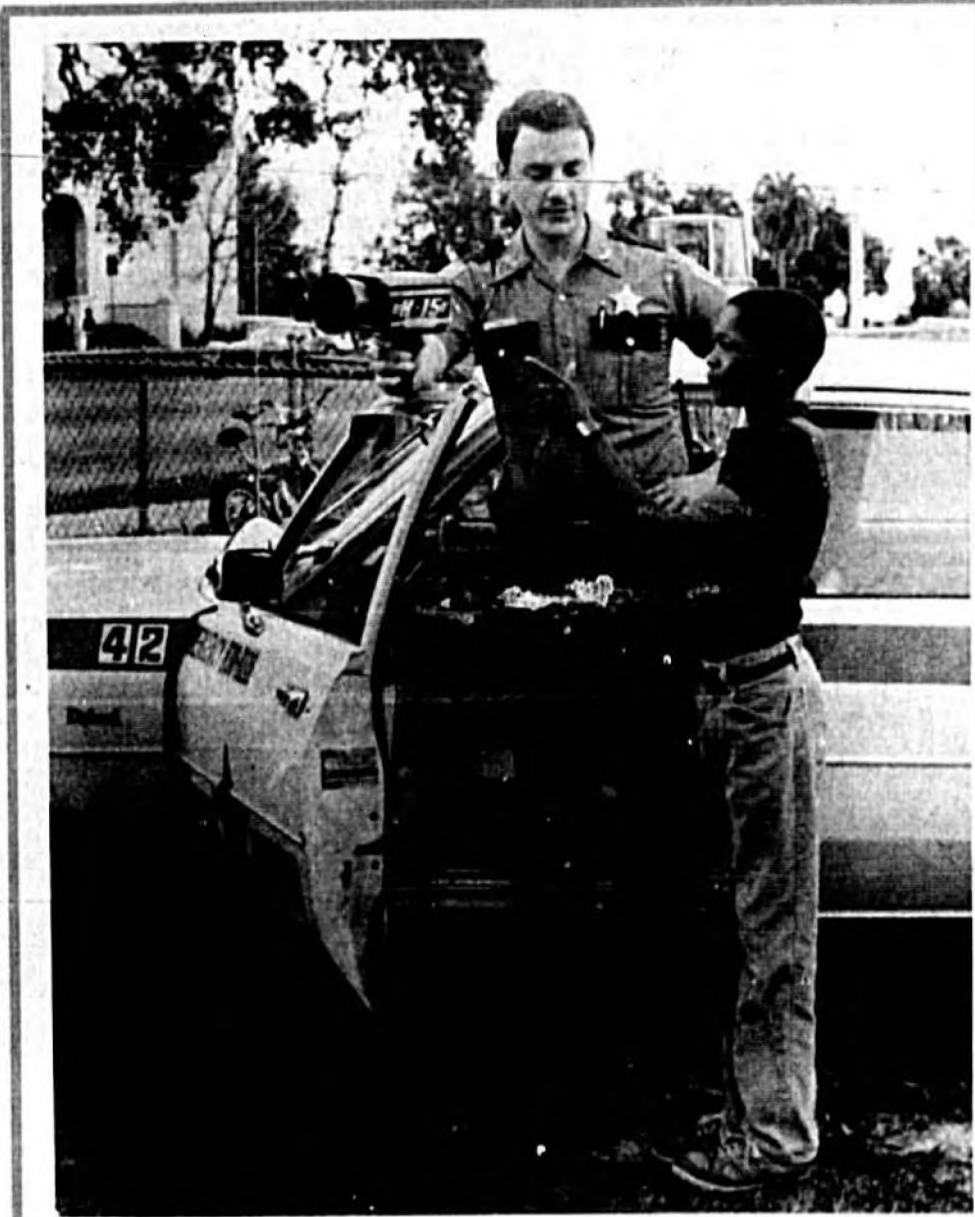

In 1983 there were 26 traffic-related deaths in the county, he said.

"I would attribute the increase to the population growth primarily and to the high tourist count. Seminole County is growing by leaps and bounds," Brown said.

In the seven-county area covered by the patrol in Central Florida, the traffic death toll for 1984 was 480, up 64 deaths from the 1983 count of 416.

Nationwide, New Year's Day, travelers' warnings for freezing rain or snow were posted Tuesday in Nebraska, Iowa, Wisconsin, Kansas and Illinois. Winter storm watches were issued in Oklahoma, Michigan, New Hampshire and Maine.

CADD Founder On State Panel

The founder of a child support enforcement group active in Seminole County has been appointed by Gov. Bob Graham to the Florida State Commission on Child Support.

Marge Van Brackie of Ormond Beach, founder and president of Children Against Deadbeat Dads, joins the commission charged to determine the state's effectiveness in securing support and parental involvement for all children.

The committee's report and recommendations are to be made Oct. 1. The new commission is required by the Federal Child Support Enforcement Program.

Meanwhile, Dick Batchelor, vice chairman of the state council of the Governor's Constituency for Children, will be guest speaker at CADD's 7 p.m. meeting, Jan. 10, at Orlando's Bureau of Recreation, 649 W. Livingston St. The meeting is open for residents of Seminole and Orange counties who are interested or are having problems with collecting court-ordered child support.

$650,000 At Stake

Seminole To Buck Odds For Block Grant

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

Although the chances of Seminole County receiving a Community Development Block Grant of $650,000 from the state "are slim," according to a county planner, a public hearing on an application for the funds is scheduled for 7 p.m., Thursday, at the County Services Building in Sanford.

Planner Anthony VanDerworp said Seminole County will be competing with 130 small cities and counties in the state for a piece of the money and only 10 to 25 projects will be funded.

If a grant is approved for Seminole County, however, the money will be used to provide paving and drainage in the Roseland Park area, east of the Sanford city limits.

The Seminole County Community Development Block Grant Citizens' Advisory Task Force is holding the public hearing on the application for the proposed projects, VanDerworp said. The hearing is a requirement of state law to assure that no persons will be displaced from their homes as a result of the improvements.

Specific projects in Roseland Park between Celery Avenue and state Road 46 include the paving of seven streets, North, Burrows, Hugh, Third, Second, South and Roseberry Lane, and construction of a closed drainage system for the area.

The dirt streets now drain into open ditches, he said.

The county will have to acquire through purchase or donation 3.7 acres within the area for a drainage retention pond and a 25-foot half right-of-way on South Street.

Roseland Park is northwest of Midway, another community plagued with drainage problems.

The $650,000 is budgeted as follows: $162,478 for drainage improvements; $209,444, paving improvements; $60,000, engineering; $2,000, property appraisal and $40,000, administration.

Members of the task force are: Carleton Edge, Rev. Andrew Evans, Dorothy Norris, Ethel Mason, Bonnie

If a grant is approved for Seminole County the money will be used to provide paving and drainage in the Roseland Park area.

Brown, Christine Watkins and Deacon Dell.

VanDerworp says while "chances of gaining the grant appear slim, there is a chance."

The grant application is directed to the Florida Department of Community Affairs under the Commercial and Neighborhood Revitalization category of the Small Cities Community Development Block Grant Program. All of the grant funds would benefit low and moderate income families, the application says.

The Roseland Park area was chosen by the special committee for the improvements because the available grant money is sufficient to do the entire project there and thus solve the drainage problem, VanDerworp said. Since the application can show that a drainage solution would be provided, the Roseland Park area has a better chance in the statewide competition for the grant.

The grant funding available is not sufficient, he said, to solve severe drainage problems in areas like Midway. The estimated cost of providing a drainage solution in Midway is $5 million and to do even the smallest sub-basin there would cost about $800,000, he said.

Proxmire: Lay Off The Limos

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., says government spending could be cut $3.4 million annually by putting the brakes on chauffeur service for many administration officials, including budget director David Stockman.

"I have repeatedly urged this administration and its predecessor to simply abide by the law, which restricts the use of door-to-door chauffeur service to the president, heads of Cabinet agencies, diplomatic personnel and several designated officials," he said.

"Yet, since my first survey of this practice in 1977, the number of pampered officials has continued to climb until my 1982 survey showed a minimum of 190 federal employees receiving such coddling."

Proxmire said at an annual cost of $32,000 for each chauffeured official, "This taxi meter rang up a bill of $3.4 million for the taxpayers in 1982 alone."

"How can this administration ask Congress ... to cut nutritional supplements for poor, pregnant women at the same time that the taxpayers chauffeur high federal officials who can well afford to drive their own car to work?"

Proxmire said a General Accounting Office ruling in 1983 holds all federal officials accountable for strictly adhering to the law on chauffeured limousines as of Jan. 3, 1985.

The Wisconsin senator said he is writing to the heads of all Cabinet agencies to make sure that past exceptions are eliminated.

"The time to put the brakes on this illegal practice is long overdue," Proxmire said.

Tumor Shrivels; Firefighter Back On Job

Friends 'Gave Him The Edge'

By Rick Brunson
Herald Staff Writer

Four months ago 22-year-old Seminole County Firefighter Frank Kucera faced a uncertain future. Growing in his chest was a massive tumor, tangled around his heart and lungs, threatening his life.

Last week, Kucera and his doctor had to squint at an X-ray to find what was left of it.

After numerous gut-wrenching chemotherapy treatments, the tumor had shriveled to such a small size, it was not seen on the X-ray, Kucera said.

Kucera, overjoyed at the news, didn't waste time. He called his battalion chief at county fire station 35 and said he wanted to return to work.

After Chief Joseph Walters had Kucera checked out by a department doctor, the young firefighter was back on the tanker truck, riding calls with the company.

He is still not completely out of danger and must continue his treatments until February. Kucera said doctors told him the cancer could return and that he must have regular check-ups for years to come.

But he is still ecstatic about his progress. Most of his brown hair, which he lost due to the chemotherapy, has grown back. His weight is also back up — from 155 pounds to his normal 180.

"I'm starting to get a belly now," said Kucera, who is also a part-time police officer for the Longwood Police Department. "I'll have to start working out to get rid of it."

He said he has been sustained through the ordeal by the love of family and friends and his own plucky attitude. Nevertheless it has been a long four months.

Doctors told him in September his heart was enlarged. He complained of chest pains one day while fighting a fire, so his superiors sent him to a doctor who took X-rays and said he probably had a heart murmur.

"They thought my heart had enlarged. Actually, it was the tumor next to my heart that was so large."

After he learned of the tumor, Kucera and his mother, Mary, went to a cancer specialist in Rochester, N.Y. After examining him, the doctor told Kucera he had a year to live.

They returned to their Longwood home and he started the treatments.

Losing his hair and weight — in addition to being constantly nauseous — was demoralizing, he said. But he decided to busy himself to keep his mind off his illness. He started helicopter-flying lessons because he believed he would be around long enough to see the day when the fire department would get a helicopter, and he wanted to be able to operate it.

Second Suspect Jailed In Clinic Bombings

PENSACOLA (UPI) — Federal agents have arrested a second suspect on charges of bombing four Pensacola-area abortion clinics — three of them just 15 minutes apart early Christmas Day.

James Thomas Simmons, 21, Cantonment, was arrested and charged Tuesday with violating federal gun control and explosives laws and faces a hearing today before a U.S. Magistrate.

Simmons was charged with the Christmas Day bombings and a June bombing at an abortion clinic just two days after federal agents arrested 21-year-old construction worker Matthew Goldsby, also of Cantonment, on the same charges.

No one was injured in the Christmas Day blasts, but they caused more than $400,000 in damages. One of the clinics bombed Christmas

Day — The Ladies Center — had also been bombed last June.

Federal agents said Goldsby confessed to detonating pipe bombs at the abortion clinics, which had been the frequent target of peaceful picketing by anti-abortion groups.

Goldsby told agents he was heeding the law of God rather than the law of the U.S. Supreme Court, which legalized abortion in 1973.

Goldsby insisted he had acted alone, but agents believed others might be involved after finding in Goldsby's house some T-shirts with the words "Protector of the Code," along with a mask-like emblem.

"It means Mr. Goldsby may have belonged to something," said Jack Killorin, chief of public affairs for the U.S. Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms. "We're looking to see if one or two other people assisted him at some point."

"The entire significance of 'Protector of the Code' is not entirely clear," Killorin said. "But it's not a name that appears in relation to anything but the bombings by Goldsby."

ATF agent Dan Conroy, who is directing the bombings investigation, said he did not believe Simmons or Goldsby might be connected to other bombings of abortion clinics around the nation.

Earlier Tuesday, a blast tore through an abortion clinic in Washington D.C. That brought the number of bombing or arson cases involving abortion clinics across the nation to 30 since 1982 — 24 of them in 1984.

Trade Issue Highlights Reagan-Nakasone Meeting

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI) — In his meeting today with Japanese Prime Minister Yasuhiro Nakasone, President Reagan hopes to persuade Japan to open talks on chipping away trade barriers now frustrating U.S. exporters.

The two were meeting in Los Angeles, a session requested by Nakasone and the fifth in two years between the leaders of the two largest exporting countries in the world.

American officials said Reagan would urge Japan to take some sort of action, probably a formal set of talks on specific problems, but would not "get tough" with Nakasone.

Rather than pressure Japan to further limit exports of cars and steel to the United States — issues already under discussion — Reagan was expected to urge Nakasone to drop a myriad of regulations and tariffs that work to keep competitive American products out of his country.

Of particular interest to the United States are Japanese barriers on the import of American computer software, telecommunications equipment, forest products, tobacco and other farm products.

Interior Chief Clark Resigning

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI) — Interior Secretary William Clark, a "God-fearing Westerner" who loyally went to Washington at the request of his friend Ronald Reagan, has resigned to return to his California ranch.

The White House said Tuesday night Clark, 53, who took over the Interior Department 15 months ago from the ousted James Watt, asked Reagan to let him leave the Cabinet "in two or three months" because his work was completed.

Clark will be the second Cabinet official to leave the administration. Education Secretary Terrel Bell said in late November he would leave his post to return to private life.

Clark, the lawyer son of a California police chief who wears cowboy boots with his dark pin-striped suits, told the president he wanted to go home to his 888-acre barley and cattle ranch in central California.

White House spokesman Peter Roussel said the administration had not yet chosen a successor for Clark. The post traditionally is held by a Westerner and The Washington Post reported in today's editions that possible replacements are Energy Secretary Donald Hodel, Sen. Paul Laxalt, R-Nev., Rep. Dick Cheney, R-Wyo., and Rep. Manuel Lujan Jr., R-N.M.

Beware Of Fatty Foods

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "Eat a bagel instead of a Danish" is one suggestion a consumer group offers to help New Year's dieters stay away from foods containing hidden fat.

The group also recommends popcorn over peanuts and ginger snaps instead of chocolate chip cookies, and fruit and vegetables instead of most anything.

Public Voice for Food and Health Policy, a consumer research and education organization, says dietary fat should be cut to reduce calories and to lessen the chances of heart problems and other major diseases.

Public Voice, in particular, warns against foods containing hidden fat and recommends cutting down on its major sources, such as luncheon meats; milk and cheese products; peanuts and other nuts; doughnuts, cookies and cake and mayonnaise and salad dressings.

Priest's Murder Aimed At Discrediting Jaruzelski?

TORUN, Poland (UPI) — The trial of four secret policemen charged in the death of a pro-Solidarity priest could reveal the crime was aimed at discrediting Polish leader Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski, court sources say.

Three officers accused of killing the Rev. Jerzy Popielusko in October and a colonel charged with aiding in the crime were to return to court in the northern city of Torun today. The trial began Dec. 28.

The court sources said Tuesday one of the defendants, Col. Adam Pietruszka, 47, might give testimony in the next few days linking himself with hardline elements in the Polish government that engineered the plot.

Observers have said a Moscow-backed faction within the Communist Party had ordered the priest's death to discredit Jaruzelski, whom it considered too soft on the outlawed Solidarity trade union.

Lebanon Moves To Secure Road

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — The Lebanese army ordered its security forces to begin the first phase of an operation today to reopen a key coastal road that links Beirut to Israeli front lines in southern Lebanon.

The Cabinet, meanwhile, meeting for its weekly session today was expected to discuss ways to end protests by relatives of Lebanese missing in nine years of civil war, official sources said.

The demonstrators, who blocked roads between the two halves of Beirut for the sixth straight day Tuesday, have vowed to continue their protests until the fate of 2,000 kidnap victims was publicized. Most are believed to be dead.

Despite New Year's Day fighting that reportedly left one person killed and 12 wounded, army commanders ordered the reopening of the coastal highway leading to Israeli-occupied southern Lebanon under a month-old Syrian-backed plan.

U.S. Embassy Attacked

TOKYO (UPI) — A leftist group fired three small, homemade rockets at a U.S. consulate south of Tokyo Tuesday but a U.S. embassy official reported no injuries or damage in the New Year's Day attack.

The rockets were fired at the consulate at Kobe, 220 miles southeast of Tokyo. Two of the homemade devices exploded, police said. A third landed near the consulate but did not go off.

The consulate was unoccupied at the time of the attack and no one was injured, an embassy official said.

The Chukaku-ha — which translates as "middle core faction" — telephoned the Kyodo news agency and said it fired the rockets to protest the summit meeting between President Reagan and Prime Minister Yasuhiro Nakasone.

To Buy Or Not To Buy?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Would-be buyers of houses and cars will have to wait and see what interest rates will do in 1985 because there is more disagreement than usual among the experts.

Interest rates are at the mercy of an unusually large number of imponderable factors, mainly the price of oil, sentiments of foreign investors about the dollar, Federal Reserve policy and the strength of the economy, analysts say.

"They may very well continue on a roller coaster downward ride," Commerce Department chief economist Robert Ortner said. That means interest rates could well go up again as the roller coaster climbs the heights then perhaps drop lower than their current level some time in the future.

Year after year of large deficits in the federal budget and trade balance have finally turned foreign investors into a major factor influencing U.S. interest rates. Although they are still pumping money into the American economy, they would be sorely missed if they started taking money out.

The capital that foreigners provide, attracted by high interest rates and U.S. growth prospects, helps finance the amount of spending Americans do in excess of what they produce.

"Foreign investors, at the moment, are the biggest cloud on the horizon," Ortner said.

In his last speech of 1984, Federal Reserve Board chairman Paul Volcker described it a little differently. "We are addicted to foreign borrowings to reconcile our deficit."

Another cloud looks much the same yet has a subtly different composition. It is the level of anxiety in the financial markets generated by the amount of foreign investment and the distortions being caused by the high budget deficits. The worries themselves could force long-term rates up in the coming year, analysts say, as lenders tack on a larger uncertainty premium to their rates.

Conventional mortgages, with a fixed rate for 30 years, averaged 12.7 percent at year's end and are likely to fall further in 1985 if only because they take a while to catch up to the rest of the money markets.

The benchmark prime rate charged customers by commercial banks fell to an 18-month low of 10.75 percent.

The Fed's discount rate the banks themselves have to pay — the only rate set by a government entity and not the market for money — was pegged at 8 percent in December, a six-year low.

Then around Christmas the short-term rates suddenly stopped falling, adding even more unwelcome uncertainty to the 1985 outlooks of the professional forecasters.

Couple Charged With Child Abuse

An Orlando woman and a Longwood man have been charged with child abuse and committing a lewd and lascivious act in the presence of the woman's 6-year-old daughter.

Altamonte Springs police report arresting the pair Monday after being called to the Day's Inn on Wymore Road by two private detectives who had been following the woman at the request of her husband.

The girl's father, Juan Fouces of Orlando, who is separated from his wife, hired the detectives because he was concerned about the child's welfare, a police report said.

The private eyes told police that at about 9:30 p.m. Monday the couple checked into the motel with the girl and left her alone in the room, the report said.

The detectives told police the trio had also been at the motel Sunday night. Police knocked on the door of the room and got no response. They entered the room using a key provided by the motel manager and found Vanessa Fouces alone and asleep. The child was awakened and taken into police custody, the report said.

When the couple returned to the room at about 11:58 p.m. they were arrested, the charges stemming from their leaving Vanessa alone and from statements she reportedly made to police and a state Health and

TIE THEFT

A Casselberry man charged with trespassing and grand theft after reportedly stealing railroad ties in Lake Mary has been released on $500 bond.

Lake Mary police report searching for and not finding the suspect after being dispatched to Seaboard Coastline property on Tilton Road at about 12 p.m. Monday.

The officer returned to the site at about 2:10 p.m., spotted a man with a pickup truck and trailer which held nine railroad ties, a police report said.

Ties had reportedly been stolen from the same site on Dec. 24 and were sold to J&W Landscaping for $5 each. They are valued at $15 each, the report said.

Larry Dee Suggs, 20, of #200F Georgetown Drive, was arrested at 2:14 p.m. Monday.

SCHOOL BUS CRASH
Deputies say a Seminole County school bus driver will be charged with failure to yield after making a left turn in front of oncoming traffic near Longwood where the bus collided with a car today.

No youngsters were injured in the 7:15 a.m. crash which occurred when June F. Boyles, of 230 Ibis Road, Longwood, turned the bus left onto Longwood Lake Mary Road from county Road 427, sheriff's spokesman John Spolski said.

The driver of the 1973 Buick involved in the crash, Keith Roger Tinker of 105 Burma St., Longwood, received bruises to his head, but was not hospitalized, Spolski said.

Tinker's car was totaled and there was minor damage to the bus. Ms. Boyles was not injured, he said.

Mrs. Kucera said her son's friends gave him the edge he needed to beat his illness.

"Thank God for the friends we've had," she said.

Walters said he is glad to have Kucera back on the job, adding that his presence was sorely missed.

He praised the "fraternity spirit" of the firefighters who rallied behind their company tanker man.

"We're hoping and praying for his continued recovery," Walters said.

Meanwhile, Kucera doesn't show any signs of planning to slow down. He spent New Year's Eve patrolling the streets of Longwood in a police squad car.

Disabled Ex-Cop Fasts To Gain Pension Benefits

PORT ORANGE (UPI) — A 33-year-old former policeman disabled in the line of duty has been fasting since Nov. 28 to persuade Daytona Beach officials to pay him the pension benefits he believes he deserves.

Jeff Amsel, who is drinking only distilled water, has lost 36 pounds in his 30 days of fasting, but there is no sign of reconciliation on either side.

"I'll fight them to my last living breath," said Amsel.

The four-year veteran of the Daytona Beach Police Department has been unable to work since suffering injuries to his spine, arm, head and back during a scuffle with a burglar in March 1982.

Amsel, the father of four, did not retire immediately because he hoped surgery and rest would permit him to return to work. But he has little use of his right arm and suffers from frequent headaches and severe back pain.

The delay in retirement is the source of the impasse.

Amsel was injured while covered by one pension plan for police and firefighters. But he didn't retire until August 1984, which was 1 1/2 years after a later pension plan drastically reduced benefits.

Amsel contends he is entitled to the benefits of the old plan, the city says he retired under the new plan and must live with it.

Bowl Fireworks Burn 10

MIAMI (UPI) — At least 10 people were reported injured in a fireworks display during Tuesday night's Orange Bowl game halftime festivities.

Joe Dalman said those injured received minor burns when something went wrong with the fireworks launching at the annual bowl game.

"We don't know if it was a miscalculation or a malfunction," Dalman said.

Four victims were treated and released at Jackson Memorial Hospital shortly after the incident.

Three victims were being treated at Cedars Medical Center. A nurse said one suffered chest burns and one suffered hand burns. She believed the other person received a back burn. At least two of the patients were from Oklahoma, the nurse said.

Dalman said one of the victims refused treatment, one reported to a stadium aid station and one victim was unaccounted for.

FHP To Crack Down On Drug Smugglers

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A 1984 anti-drug program that led to nearly 2,000 arrests will be put on the road this year as specially trained state troopers and canines are dispatched to crack down on marijuana and cocaine traffickers.

Sixteen drug-sniffing dogs will be assigned to ride in Florida Highway Patrol cars this year and the troopers will patrol the state's major drug smuggling routes.

Col. Bobby R. Burkett, patrol director, announced the crackdown after analyzing the results of a one-year pilot program that represented the patrol's first entry into the anti-drug fight on a wide-scale basis.

The experiment, begun in January 1984 under Burkett's orders, led to 1,919 drug-related arrests by troopers and the seizure of nearly $35 million worth of marijuana, cocaine and other illicit drugs. Both numbers far exceed comparable FHP figures for past years.

"It's been a tremendous success. We have even surprised ourselves," Burkett said. "It has also rekindled the enthusiasm of many of our troopers. There's been a tremendous boost in morale."

The pilot program included:

- The training of 1,300 troopers in search and seizure procedures, drug identification and other skills related to drug arrests;
- The training of 11 FHP pilots to recognize marijuana fields as they conduct their routine aerial patrols;
- The assignment of specially trained dogs to four troopers to help detect drugs in vehicles stopped for traffic violations where the motorists are suspected of being smugglers.

—And the assignment of Trooper Barney "The Nose" Stallworth, nationally known for his ability to sniff marijuana, to a popular drug-smuggling corridor near Pensacola.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: Nearly 300,000 customers in Michigan were without power today in the wake of a New Year's Day storm that spewed snow and ice at the Midwest, while snow in the southern Plains triggered accidents that shut down six interstates. Ice, rain and up to 19 inches of snow Tuesday blacked out more than 330,000 customers in Michigan, Illinois and Indiana. Today in lower Michigan, 200,000 Consumers Power Co. customers and 70,000 from Detroit Edison were still in the dark, utility officials said. Consumers Power crews worked all night to repair power lines that snapped when Tuesday's rain froze. Detroit Edison crews were given the night off so they could get some sleep after working 16-hour shifts. In the southern Plains, snow fell today from New Mexico to southwest Missouri with 5 inches on the ground in the Texas Panhandle. The snow also reached into eastern and central Texas, dusting Dallas with 2 inches. Chain-reaction accidents involving as many as 30 cars forced the Texas Department of Public Safety to close sections of I-10, I-20, I-30, I-35 and I-40. An accident on Highway 360 left hundreds of cars stranded. Blowing snow and icy roads also closed schools and colleges. Among major employers, Texas Instruments canceled some shifts, adding an extra day of vacation for 25,000 workers. An 86-mile section of Interstate 40 in Oklahoma, the state's major east-west route, was closed Tuesday after sheets of ice sent cars sliding into ditches. State officials said they expected to open the road today — too late for holiday motorists who filled motels on both sides of the closed section. The New Year's Day storm spread snow and rain in New England today, after tying up traffic on the ground and in the air across the Midwest.

Telephone Anniversary

It's been a year since the telephone company was split up, and here's what there is so far to show for it: A great deal of consumer confusion, accompanied by the creation of a booming new telephone consultant industry; poorer service, unmitigated by all the fancy new equipment available; slightly lower long-distance rates, but higher local rates that more than make up for the difference for most phone users.

After one year, there's still nearly universal telephone service in the country, but the trend is away from that, with basic-service charges rising. And the Federal Communications Commission just added to the increasing cost by deciding to tack a $1 per month access charge onto all telephone bills starting next June and a $2 charge the year after.

There's probably no one to blame for the mess. Probably it would have occurred eventually in any case. Once the decision was made to allow AT&T to compete in the development of high-tech communications — and how long would it have made sense to keep AT&T or its competitors out of this field? — all the rest followed.

If AT&T was to compete fairly, it couldn't be allowed to hold on to its vast monopoly profits from basic telephone services, an advantage no potential competitors could come near to matching. And once AT&T's high-tech equipment and long-distance businesses were separated from its basic telephone business, there was no way to maintain the subsidies for basic service that those high-profit businesses used to provide.

There were probably better ways to phase in these changes. But eventually there would have been no way around things like the new access charge. Given the technology and the competitive market that now exists, the biggest long-distance users and providers are capable of simply bypassing local telephone networks. And whenever it is cheaper per call for them to build their own systems than to pay the local networks for use of local telephone lines, they will. Once they do, the cost of local service will have to go up, to cover the full expense of maintaining local lines. The only way to prevent or forestall that is to keep the price of long-distance calls below the level at which bypass systems make sense — which means raising the basic charge of maintaining local lines. One way or the other, local customers would eventually have to pay a greater access charge for maintaining local lines.

Confusion was similarly unavoidable. As soon as there was competition, it was inevitable there would be variety in both products and services. As soon as there were competitors, choosing among them and coordinating between them was bound to get complicated.

The benefit the general public is eventually supposed to gain from all this is considerable: The new competition is supposed to bring lower costs, faster innovations, improved economic growth and greater efficiency in the long run. But if there are — one year into the process — precious few signs that that's what's happening, there's also precious little to be done about it. Other than lobbying for smoother transition rules and for special programs to help poor people as telephone costs rise, one can only wait and hope that it will all turn out to have been worth it.

Real Help For Crime Victims

WASHINGTON — "I will never forget being raped, kidnapped and robbed at gunpoint," a witness told the President's Task Force on Victims of Crime. "However, my sense of disillusionment of the judicial system is far more painful."

These words have been echoed by countless victims of crime who, after surviving brutal attacks, turned to the government for aid and comfort, only to find little of either.

Last year approximately 6 million people were the victims of violent crimes. Sadly, more than half of them refused to report the incident, many because they observed that a system designed to help them often does just the opposite.

Those who did come forward frequently found themselves embroiled in lengthy court proceedings that cost them time and money and sometimes — in the case of violent-crime victims — left deep psychological scars. Little wonder, then, that there is a growing consensus that something has gone wrong with our judicial process: The criminal has had all the rights, the victim none.

Believing that something must be done for the victims of crime, President Reagan organized a Task Force on Victims of Crime in 1982. One year later, the panel issued a report that called for the enactment of a Victims of Crime Act.

The proposal, which Reagan signed into law in October, creates a general Treasury fund of up to $100 million a year to both compensate and assist the victims of crime. Grants from the fund will be awarded to state and local victim-aid programs — half for victim compensation and half for victim assistance.

Forty states operate programs of basic compensation for medical expenses, stolen or damaged property and wages lost due to court appearances. The new program will offer funds for other assistance and, it is hoped, will encourage creation of similar programs in the remaining 10 states.

Now, if you are thinking that no matter how worthwhile this program is, this is no time to be dipping into Uncle Sam's deficit-ridden treasury, you can relax. All revenues for the Victims' Fund will come from federal criminal fines, forfeited appearance bonds and other collateral, plus other seized criminal assets. Federal revenue from fines and forfeited bonds alone amounted to $78 million last year.

The new program also gives U.S. attorneys the authority to seek any "literary profits" of a federal criminal whose crime resulted in physical harm to others. Death Row killers who write books about their exploits may find their royalties going to their victims' families.

Moreover, by disbursing the funds through existing state programs, additional federal bureaucracy is minimal.

Assistant Attorney General Lois Herrington, who chaired the President's Task Force and helped push the victims' assistance bill through Congress, says the program is long overdue.

Without the cooperation of victims in reporting crimes and testifying against their assailants, it is impossible for society to hold criminals accountable. Mrs. Herrington told my assistant, Joe Martin.

They Set Fires

By Elizabeth Pennisi
UPI Science Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — White, middle-class boys motivated by curiosity, anger or frustration set nearly a third of the nation's fires, a California sociologist says.

Two out of every five arsonists apprehended are under 18 and almost 90 percent are white, said Wayne S. Wooden, associate professor at California State Polytechnic University in Pomona.

A disproportionate number of the young white fire-starters are from families with incomes of $25,000 or more, he said.

For them, "it's a means of striking back without physically confronting your enemy," he said in a telephone interview. "It gives them a sense of power."

Children of lower socioeconomic status release aggression by fighting, swearing or name-calling — things their middle class suburban peers are taught not to do, said Wooden. So aggression is let out through arson.

According to the FBI Uniform Crime Report program, 6,457 out of 17,203 people arrested for arson in 1983 were 18 or under in 1983. That represents the highest percent of juveniles involved in any of the crimes reported to the FBI.

Writing in the December issue of Psychology Today, Wooden said young arsonists comprise four groups, with varying but identifiable emotional characteristics.

About 15 percent are children ages 4 to 8 who start fires accidentally while playing with matches and who tend to strike out at things close to them — their mother's clothes, their beds, their sister's hair — Wooden said.

A second group, which made up about 40 percent of the children in his study, set fires as a cry for help, he said. These children are 8 to 12 and usually have problems at home.

Another 35 percent are teenagers who are acting out feelings of aggression and set fires at schools in defiance of authority.

The fourth group includes children any age who are mentally disturbed.

Wooden said fires are not as feared as they once were. One possible reason for this is that safety education used to warn children strongly about the dangers of playing with matches, but such indoctrination is not given as widely now.

JACK ANDERSON

A Very Bad Year For The Mob

WASHINGTON — Tonight, while millions of American families celebrate their hopes for a brighter new year, the champagne will be a little flat for the "families" that make up the Cosa Nostra underworld.

If they're at all realistic, mobsters from boss to button man will be toasting each other, not with "Auld Lang Syne," but with a mournful rendition of "Those Prison Walls Are Breaking Up That Old Gang of Mine."

The numbers alone are enough to chill any underworld festivities: In 1981 there were 515 convictions of organized crime figures; in 1983, there were 1,331. And many of those convicted were high-level mob bosses, like Carlos Marcello of New Orleans, Frank Balestreri of Milwaukee, Russell Bufalino of Pennsylvania, James T. Licavoli of Detroit and Eugene Smaldone of Denver. ("There goes Frank, there goes Jim....")

But even the impressive figures don't tell the whole story. As FBI Assistant Director Oliver "Buck"

Revell told my associate Tony Capaccio, mob bosses can often run their family crime businesses from their prison cells. So the Justice Department has been indicting the entire leadership on grounds that the "family" itself constitutes a criminal enterprise.

This not only cripples the organization's tight administration, but allows the government to seize bank accounts and other assets that keep the criminal cartels functioning. This tactic has been used in Los Angeles, Denver, Cleveland and Milwaukee.

The latest chapter in the government's war on organized crime is due to unfold on Wednesday (Jan. 2) when a federal judge in New York will set a trial date for nine indicted members of the Joseph Colombo family. Even though the 100-member crime group declined in influence after the 1971 gunshot wounding of Colombo and his death in 1978, the family is still regarded by law enforcement experts as perhaps the third strongest of New York City's five crime families.

Two of the Colombo bosses, Carmine Persico and John "Sonny" Franzese, are already in prison, and the latest indictment names Persico on bribery counts stemming from his current tour in the federal pen.

Here are some other developments in the new year that should mute any merrymaking by the Colombo crime family tonight: — On Jan. 28, Martin Hodas, a family associate known as Times Square's "King of the Peep Show," will be sentenced for his role in an attempt to flood Canada with hardcore pornographic video tapes. — Gerry Langella, whom the G-men have identified as the boss of day-to-day Colombo operations, faces charges that he conspired with a concrete-workers' union official to extort 10 New York area firms of amounts ranging from $700 to $29,000 since 1981.

— The crime family's legal adviser, or "consigliere," 78-year-old Thomas "The Old Man" DiBella, is charged with extorting $800 per alleged authorities — who are willing to lie outright in order to junk the idea. You begin to wonder whether Margaret Thatcher, the "Iron Lady," suffered brain damage when the Irish Republican Army blew up her hotel.

When the Soviet number two, Mikhail Gorbachev, visited London and lost no time attacking Star Wars, Thatcher began making noises about not putting the arms race into space — thus preempting the entire negotiation and offering Gorbachev exactly what he wanted free of charge. She modified all of this after a couple of hours with Reagan at Camp David, but the smell of sell-out remains strong. One wonders whether Thatcher asked Gorbachev when the Soviets are going to stop funneling money to Arthur Scargill's striking mine workers.

We now begin to see the real meaning of the forthcoming exit of Jeane Kirkpatrick from the Reagan administration and the meaning of the "Christmas purge" of Reagan appointees at the State Department.

The George Shultz State Department is clearly preparing for a re-run of our triumphant foreign policy in Iran and Nicaragua, where we exchanged the Shah and Somoza for the Ayatollah and Daniel Ortega, the latter now complete with the largest military force in the region plus thousands of Cuban and East European advisors.

Volcker Adjusts Dials

By late December, the economic forecasts for 1985 are just about all in. Almost uniformly, the professionals see moderate real growth in the range of 3 percent, with unemployment staying roughly at the current level. Although Alan Greenspan, former chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers says "Optimism is a misreading of the facts," his firm sees 3.8 percent growth and 7 percent unemployment.

The most prominent news about economic forecasting in the past year has been how wrong it has been. The council predicted GNP growth for 1983 of 1.4 percent. Instead, it soared 6.4 percent.

As usual, the economy's performance this year will probably come in somewhere between bullish and bearish — modest growth, stagnant unemployment, and little change in interest rates.

Most Americans have already lost interest in the budget and tax battles still to be fought in Congress.

Instead, the performance of the Federal Reserve in regulating the nation's money supply is getting all the attention. Two years ago, the Fed was crucified for recession, when it reduced money supply growth to a near-standstill. When recovery arrived in late 1982, the attacks turned to praise. Today, all look to Fed chairman Paul Volcker to keep the nation prosperous, as if he sits at some all-powerful economic console, adjusting dials. "Fine tuning," writes Lindley H. Clark, "is back."

There is something ominous about the crediting of such vast power to the Federal Reserve. Mr. Volcker's enormous grasp of monetary issues merits enormous influence — so he has it. But there are limits to tinkering. Our reasonably low inflation rate of 4 percent is affected by factors other than monetary growth. In response to high U.S. interest rates generated by the Fed, foreign capital has been flowing into this country, augmenting domestic investment, and keeping the dollar strong against competing currencies. But will inflation remain in its place when the dollar grows weaker? How long can U.S. industry sustain recovery — even with lower inflation and lower interest rates — when Americans continue to purchase foreign goods priced artificially lower by our strong currency? A strong dollar and low inflation is a two-edged sword.

home from the MJR Construction Co. at the Driftwood Landing development in Atlantic Beach, N.Y.

— A Colombo "capo," John J. DeRoss, is accused of using his position as an official of two restaurant workers' union locals to extort money from such Big Apple restaurants as Cafe Ziegfeld on West 45th Street and Ciro's at One Lincoln Plaza.

— Frank "Beansie" Melli, a family "soldier," has been charged for his role in the alleged fencing of $2.2 million in stolen Arnex watches and $700,000 worth of Oriental art objects stolen from the Robert Ellsworth Gallery in Manhattan.

— Another family capo, Benny Aloi, has been charged with loan-sharking — charging the owners of Sylvie's clothing store in New York City 2 percent weekly interest on a $50,000 loan. This shylock activity is said to have occurred in 1982, while Aloi was being given $30,595 99 in gambling credits and freebies by Atlantic City casinos.

Congress Convenes Defense Spending, Budget Cuts Top The Agenda

Steve Gerstel
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The 99th Congress convenes Thursday in a ceremonial ritual of bipartisan pomp that masks the legislative wars over budget cuts, defense spending, the MX missile and civil rights soon to consume Capitol Hill.

At noon, the banging of the gavel will bring to order the Senate and the House, breaking the months-long stillness of the two chambers and marking the opening of the first session of the 99th Congress.

For one day, and one day only, Congress will dispense with politics and partisanship in a festive display of fellowship as House members and new senators take their oaths of office.

Mandated by the Constitution to begin deliberations on Jan. 3, Congress will, as usual, get off to a slow start — waiting for the inauguration of President Reagan Jan. 21, the State of the Union Address and the submission of the president's fiscal 1986 budget.

The Senate could get embroiled in a dispute with the White House quickly — as soon as Reagan submits the nomination of top presidential aide Edwin Meese as attorney general. Although cleared of wrongdoing by a special prosecutor, Meese still faces some opposition.

But even before Congress meets Thursday, the outline of the year ahead has taken shape — and it portrays what could be a fractious relationship with Reagan as he begins his second term.

There is no indication that Congress, with Democrats firmly in control of the House and Republicans with a weaker majority in the Senate, is prepared to give Reagan an extended "second honeymoon" to steamroll his programs on Capitol Hill. In contrast to 1981-82 when a friendly Congress gave Reagan sizable cuts in the budget, a big buildup in defense spending and an across-the-board slash in taxes, the 99th Congress will offer stiff resistance on many fronts, very much as in 1983-84.

But Congress and Reagan share one overriding concern — reducing the federal deficit now projected to be about $200 billion for the coming year. The issue is certain to dominate throughout the session.

The details of the administration's proposed budget cuts — which may include a partial or total freeze on spending — will not come to Capitol Hill until near the end of the month.

But the price Congress is certain to demand from Reagan in return for holding down the costs of domestic spending is a deep cut in military spending, far more than the administration has indicated it will propose.

Even as the battle of the budget opens, Reagan will get quick notice from Congress on where he stands on two other major issues: the MX missile and more aid for the guerrillas fighting the Sandinista government in Nicaragua.

By the end of February, Congress must act on additional financial aid for the rebels and by late March, whether to build 21 MX missiles.

The MX missile, which survived in the Senate last session only with Vice President George Bush's tie-breaking vote, now appears in even more jeopardy. Incoming Armed Services Committee Chairman Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., has come out against production of the missile and Senate Democratic leader Robert Byrd of West Virginia appears ready to switch his vote.

Congress earmarked $14 million in aid for the Nicaraguan rebels, subject to approval by the Senate and House sometime after Feb. 28 and there is no indication the House — which this year votes four times against the cut-down aid — will back off.

Without question, Congress will again mount major drives to pass two bills that failed to meet the adjournment deadline — reform of immigration laws and a package of civil rights bills.

Congress also must deal with an omnibus farm bill, a series of environmental measures, increased aid to Israel, federal aid to highways and a variety of programs due to expire unless they get new authorization.

The administration's proposal for tax reform and demands by conservatives for constitutional amendments for school prayer and abortion could crop up but are more likely to be raised during the pre-election 1986 session.

The Democrats will open the session with their leadership intact. Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill of Massachusetts, House Democratic leader Jim Wright of Texas and Senate Democratic leader Byrd. But the Republicans, with the exception of House GOP leader Robert Michel, are going with a new team.

The Senate's new majority leader is Robert Dole of Kansas, the assistant majority leader is Alan Simpson of Wyoming and there are new chairmen of the Armed Services, Finance, Foreign Relations and Commerce committees.

Huskies Derail Oklahoma's 'Bandwagon'

MIAMI (UPI) — In a fitting cap to the 1984 season, no team came out of the the Jan. 1 Bowl games as an overwhelming choice as national champion.

No. 3 Washington's 28-17 victory over No. 2 Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl Tuesday night made the Huskies the chief competition for No. 1 Brigham Young in the final ratings, which will be released today at 6 p.m. EST.

But the Huskies might not have won impressively enough to overcome the 120 points separating BYU from Washington when the regular season ended.

The Huskies, 12-1, finished their best season ever with several upbeat notes. Jacques Robinson gained 135 yards on 28 carries to become the first running back to crack 100 yards against Oklahoma this season, and deposed quarterback Hughson came back to lead a fourth-quarter rally.

But the game — which featured nine fumbles, four interceptions and a 15-yard penalty against a mascot — wasn't becoming of a national championship battle.

"We're No. 1," Washington Coach Don James said. "We've got my vote. All I was worried about was a 1-point victory."

Washington is one of six teams which were ranked No. 1 in this upset-filled season.

Oklahoma Coach Barry Switzer agreed that Washington should have earned its first national title Tuesday night.

"Washington's a better team than BYU, I guarantee that," Switzer said.

Switzer, James and BYU Coach LaVell Edwards all vote in the UPI Coaches' ratings.

Millen, who started the first eight games, entered the game after Paul Securo threw three interceptions and lost a fumble through three quarters.

Millen capped his second series with a 12-yard touchdown pass to Mark Pattison. Pattison's catch in the left corner of the end zone finished a 74-yard drive to give Washington a 21-17 lead. Tim Lashar's 35-yard field goal had given Oklahoma the lead three minutes earlier.

"It's been a couple of months since I lost my job and it never leaves the back of your mind how frustrated you are with yourself," said Millen, who completed two of four passes for 41 yards.

The Sooners, 9-2-1, had a 22-yard field goal by Lashar nullified with the score tied 14-14 1:02 into the fourth quarter. Oklahoma was penalized five yards for having a player with an illegal number on the interior line and the Southeastern Conference officials tacked on 15 yards when the Sooner Schooner came onto the field.

The subsequent 42-yard field goal try was blocked by Tim Peoples.

Switzer was just as upset at the illegal number penalty as the one called on the red-and-white horse-drawn covered wagon.

"Before the game, we asked the officials if every player (with non-interior line numbers) had to report in directly and they said 'naw, we're not going to be that strict. We're going to be good guys,'" Switzer said. "Then they said 'naw, we're not going to be one thing and then do another.'"

"And if they don't want our wagon on the field tell them before the game

'don't come on the field.' That's a school tradition. They've done it for 50 years."

"They don't belong on the field, but I wouldn't have penalized them," James said of the Sooner Schooner.

Following Pattison's TD, Oklahoma's Buster Rhymes fumbled the kickoff out of bounds on his own 2. Sooners quarterback Danny Bradley's pass was intercepted by linebacker Joe Kelly on the next play and Rick Fenney scored from 6 yards out two plays later to make it 28-17.

"We beat Oklahoma by enough points," Fenney said. "I just don't see how they can deny us (No. 1)."

Washington moved to a 14-0 first-quarter lead on Securo's 29-yard pass to Danny Greene and Robinson's 1-yard run.

Oklahoma came back in the second quarter on a 1-yard run by Bradley and a 61-yard Bradley strike to Derrick Shepard on the final play of the half for a 14-14 tie.

Less-Than-Super Flutie Leads BC Past Cougars

DALLAS (UPI) — Doug Flutie has been such a perfectionist during his career at Boston College that coach Jack Bicknell has had to remind him of something every now and then.

"We tell him that he is allowed to be less than super sometimes," said Bicknell.

In his last game in a Boston College uniform Flutie was, indeed, less than super Tuesday.

But it made no difference to the Eagles who put together a record-setting offensive production anyway in the 49th Cotton Bowl game.

With Flutie struggling in the wind and near freezing temperatures which made the day a test of survival for the 56,522 fans, the eighth-ranked Eagles abandoned their normally potent air game in favor of their generally overlooked running attack and fought off the Houston Cougars and came away with a 45-28 victory.

The Eagles thus produced their first post-season victory in 44 years.

"It was not one of my better days by far," said Flutie, a landslide winner of the Heisman Trophy this season who in his four-year career became the first NCAA quarterback to ever throw for more than 10,000 yards.

"The important thing is the win and this win fulfills the goal that the team and myself set going into the season," he said.

"This last game is extra special and it will stick with me the rest of my life."

Flutie threw for three touchdowns in the first half as Boston College rolled to a 31-7 advantage.

But by late in the third quarter, the Southwest Conference co-champion Cougars had climbed to within three points of the lead.

Houston, which finishes the season 7-5, appeared ready to finish off its comeback since Flutie was on his way to a second half performance that included just two completions in 13 throws for 14 yards and two interceptions.

But the Eagles' running game, with Troy Stradford and Steve

Football

Strachan leading the way, finished off Houston's hopes.

While Flutie was throwing for his second lowest production of the year with 180 yards on 13 completions in 37 attempts, Stradford was running for 198 yards and Strachan for 93 more. Despite being outgained by his teammate, Strachan was voted the game's most valuable offensive player.

The Eagles' 45 points and 533 total yards were both Cotton Bowl records.

"There are many games that are not a Flutie show," said Bicknell. "We have a lot of good players on our team." Boston College seemed ready to produce a 70-point afternoon early in the game after Flutie quickly hit Kelvin Martin with a 63-yard scoring pass and then threw an 8-yard touchdown to Stradford for a 14-0 advantage.

Houston then got a Cotton Bowl record 98-yard kickoff return from Earl Allen for a score but the Eagles came back with a 31-yard field goal by Kevin Snow, another Flutie touchdown pass of 13 yards to Gerard Phelan and a 2-yard scoring run by Strachan.

The Cougars started their rally late in the first half with a 15-yard touchdown throw from Gerald Landry to Larry Shepherd and kept it going in the third quarter with a 2-yard scoring run from Frank Tate and a 25-yard interception return for a score by Audrey McMillian.

Those last two touchdowns came only a minute apart and put Houston very much in the game.

The Cougars regained the ball and quickly broke a big play down to the Eagles' 30-yard line. But that play was called back by a clipping penalty and Houston never again threatened.

Instead, it was Boston College grinding out the yards on two drives that ended in a 4-yard touchdown run by Strachan and another of 18 yards by Stradford.

Lake Mary Teams Host Blue Darters

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Three county basketball teams get a head start on the rest when they hit the hardwood tonight on the first day back from the holiday break. Two of those teams — Lake Mary's Lady Rams and Lake Brantley's Lady Patriots — were in action at the Lady Hawk Invitational last week. The other, Lake Mary's boys, competed in the Oviedo Outlook Tournament two weeks ago.

Both Lake Mary teams stumbled in the first round and then came back to play well in the consolation bracket. The Lady Rams were massacred by Winter Park before bouncing back to thrash Lyman and lose a close one to Lake Brantley.

Lake Mary's 5-4 boys lost to tournament champion Edgewater before taking care of Lake Brantley and South Sumter for a fifth place

Sundberg Hurls 3 TDs To Swamp LSU, 28-10

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Nebraska's Craig Sundberg believes in the power of prayer.

The senior quarterback, in danger of missing what he figured would probably be his last football game because of flu, recovered in time to be named Most Valuable Player in Tuesday night's Sugar Bowl. Sundberg threw three touchdown passes and ran for another to lead the 4th-ranked Cornhuskers to a 28-10 victory over 12th-ranked LSU.

"It was very important for me to play," said Sundberg, who regained the starting quarterback role for the first time since midseason. "I prayed all day — and the Lord healed me."

The favored Cornhuskers were trailing 10-0 before Sundberg awakened their slumbering offense in the second quarter.

He set up his 31-yard screen pass to Doug DuBose for Nebraska's first touchdown with a nifty fake; put the Cornhuskers in the lead with a 9-yard run midway through the third quarter after failing to find an open receiver; then applied the coup de grace with touchdown passes of 24 and 17 yards to tight end Todd Frain within a two-minute span in the final quarter.

"I thought that up until 3 o'clock that it was very doubtful whether he could play," said Nebraska Coach Tom Osborne. "But, as long as he told me he could play, he was going to start."

Sundberg started in Nebraska's first five games but lost that position to Junior Travis Turner for the remainder of the season. Osborne felt he earned another chance after he completed 7 of 10 passes for 171 yards in the loss to 2nd-ranked Oklahoma that dropped Nebraska from No. 1 to No. 4 and knocked the Cornhuskers out of the Orange Bowl. The favored Cornhuskers looked flat in the first quarter when they gained only 29 yards and although they trailed only 10-7 at halftime, the Bengals had out-gained them 291-141.

Football

"I just didn't feel like we had anything to be proud of in the first half," said Osborne. "We were being outthrust and out-hustled. We just looked lethargic."

But the Nebraska defense showed in the second half why it was ranked No. 1 in the nation during a 9-2 campaign.

In the first half, LSU quarterback Jeff Wickersham connected on 17 of 25 passes for 212 yards. In the second, Nebraska limited him to 3 of 12 for 9 yards and intercepted him three times.

In all, Nebraska made five interceptions and a fumble recovery and with its offense winding up with 423 yards left no doubt it is entitled to wind up among the nation's top 10 for the 15th year in a row.

"We'll just have to wait and see," said Osborne. "The polls depend on how people vote. I just hope we end up pretty good — second or third. We could have a slight chance to win it. It would be great if we backed in."

Wickersham, who led LSU to an 8-2-1 regular season, blamed himself for his second half performance.

LSU drove from its 28 to the Nebraska 8, then settled for a 37 yard Ronnie Lewis field goal to take a 3-0 first-quarter lead. The next time the Bengals had the ball, they marched 72 yards with Dalton Hilliard going the final 2, putting them up by 10 in less than 17 minutes.

But two other scoring efforts went awry.

The first time, midway the second quarter, they gave up a 28 yard field goal for a penalty that gave them a first down at the Nebraska 6 — and, after getting one foot from the goal tried another field goal, which Lewis missed.

Then, in the closing seconds of the third quarter — while down only 14-10 — they drove to the Nebraska 2 only to have Lewis miss another sharply-angled field goal try.

Lee's Dream Field Goal Stifles 'Canes

TEMPE, Ariz. (UPI) — To UCLA's John Lee, his game-winning, last-minute field goal in the Fiesta Bowl was a "dream."

To his teammate, quarterback Steve Bono, it was a satisfying end to his collegiate career.

But, to the Miami Hurricanes, the 39-37 loss before 60,310 fans Tuesday was just the third straight disappointing defeat for the defending national champions.

Lee's third field goal of the contest, a 22-yarder, came with only 51 seconds remaining and marked the third time the 15th-ranked Bruins had come from behind in the game.

The field goal, a chipshot for the record-breaking Lee, climaxed a game highlighted by one big scoring play after another. It came just 2:07 after 13th-ranked Miami took a 37-36 lead on a 3-yard touchdown pass from Bernie Kosar to Melvin Bratton.

UCLA won its third New Year's Day bowl game in three years after two Rose Bowl victories and ended with a 9-3 mark. Miami dropped to 8-5.

Lee, a junior who set an NCAA record this season with 29 regular season field goals, said he wasn't worried about the game-winning kick.

"There's no reason to put pressure on yourself," Lee said. "If I do the same as in practice, I can't miss. If I did miss the kick, I was going to dig myself a hole and crawl right through it."

Bono, credited by Bruin Coach Terry Donahue with "one of (his) greatest games," said he and his teammates reached their goal.

"We knew we had to keep the ball in our hands and out of Bernie's hands," Bono said of his Miami counterpart, the focus of all the pre-game hype.

"We knew we had to score every time we touched the ball," Bono said. "That didn't happen, but we came close."

"I can't end up a career better than this. It was just a matter of putting things together."

The Hurricanes, who ended the regular season with two-point losses to Maryland and Boston College, again were stunned.

"In the last three games, I've seen a lot of things happen to this team," Kosar said. "I think the three straight losses have been very disappointing to the team, but I'm confident the program will bounce back."

Miami Coach Jimmy Johnson looked back at the Maryland game and said his defense "seemed to lose confidence" after that.

Peterson Leads Milwee Wins Strickland's 32-Point Parade Can't Stop Lakeview March

Valerie Peterson pumped in 50 points in two games over the weekend to lead Milwee Middle School's eighth grade girls team to a pair of victories in Seminole Youth Sports Association (SYSA) basketball action.

Peterson pumped in 28 points in Milwee's 42-11 thrashing of Tuskawilla and she poured in 22 in a 32-26 victory over Teague.

The highest point output of the opening weekend of play came in a losing effort as Leticia Strickland's scoring parade wasn't enough to overcome Lakeview's balanced attack though. Strickland's 32 points in Sanford Middle's 49-39 loss to Lakeview.

Milwee also came away with a pair of victories in seventh grade girls action, outscoring its opponents, 85-15.

Tiffany Durham connected for 20 points and Tammy Hudson rilled in 18 in Milwee's 54-6 trouncing of Tuskawilla on Saturday. Hudson came back to hit 15 points in a 31-9 win over

SYSA Basketball

Teague on Sunday.

Teague took the early lead in the eighth grade boys standings with a pair of close victories over the weekend.

Jeff Engle tossed in 16 points and James Morse added 14 as Teague edged Rock Lake, 50-49. Kristopher Winningham led Rock Lake with a game-high 18 points and Alex Brite contributed 10. Teague came back on Sunday to pull out a 35-33 victory over Milwee. Engle's 15 points led the way for Teague. Mickey Whittington had 10 for Milwee.

Milwee's seventh grade boys picked up two victories, 60-11 over Tuskawilla and 35-24 over Teague.

Sanford Middle used 14 points by Willie "Sugar Tex" McCloud and 12 by Reginald "Cheese" Bellamy to trounce rival Lakeview, 78-48. Lakeview's Jerod Jones had 12 points to lead the Mustangs. — Chris Flister finish.

Lake Mary entertains Apopka tonight. The girls' game begins at 6:15 p.m. and the boys tip-off at 8 p.m.

The Lady Rams should line up with Courtney Hall, Aileen Patterson, Kim Averill, Liz Stone and Larra Hall.

Tonight's other game pits Lake Brantley against Mainland at Lake Brantley

High School. The Lady Patriots had two all-tournament selections in the Lady Hawk Invitational in Michelle Brown and Kirsten Dellinger. They are joined in the starting five by Sherry "Ice" Asplen, Kim Lubenow and Cammie Twaddell.

Citrus Bowl Tennis Tennis Highlights Holiday Schedule

Tennis fans in the Central Florida area received a belated Christmas gift if they attended any of the Citrus Bowl Tennis Tournament held this past week at the Orlando Tennis Center.

Starting the day after Christmas and finishing up last Monday, this annual holiday event seems to get better and better every year. The event started in 1980 and was then called the Tangerine Bowl Tennis Classic. Of course, last year, the entire package was changed from the Tangerine Bowl to the Citrus Bowl.

I say Citrus Bowl package because from Dec. 8th through Dec. 31st the Citrus Bowl Sports and Activities Committee offers a wide variety of sporting events. From the half marathon and the Rugby Tourney, to the Sailing Regatta and, of course, the football game.

The holiday season is jammed with tournaments and games of all types and levels. I personally think they saved the best event until last. But I'm slightly biased. To be honest with you, though, the tennis tournament this year was extremely well organized, highly competitive and the caliber of tennis played was really outstanding.

Dr. Ed Roger, who is the backbone of this huge tournament, and who has been in charge since its inception, was the tournament director. His tournament release was host for Joe Casandl. Casandl does a great job and is very experienced, having been the tournament director at the State Junior College Tennis Tournament for many years.

Some of the top umpires in Florida were also on hand, most notably were veterans Jan and Bill Elos. This husband and wife duo are two of the best in this area — if not the nation. They bring a great deal of professionalism to the event and help keep things running smoothly.

Competition was held in men's and women's collegiate singles and doubles. Men's and women's open singles and doubles and men's and women's club singles and doubles. Prize money was offered in the open division and this division attracted some really top players from Florida or well as many fine players from all over the U.S.

In the men's singles final Andy

Larry Castle
Herald Tennis Writer

Burrow of Miami defeated Joey Rive of Palm Springs and Florida State University 7-6, 6-2. Burrow was a stand-out college player at the University of Iowa and Rive plays #1 for FSU. This year, Rive is also the current Florida Inter-Collegiate singles champion. Burrow collected $250 for his win and Rive garnered $150 for being runner-up.

In the open doubles, Gene Desdunes and Rick Davidson of Miami defeated Rive and John Vinson in the finals.

In the women's college division singles on unseeded player, Maron Bollegar, from Indian River Community College and Holland defeated #1 seed Mary Dinneen in the first round and went on to win the championship with a hard fought three-setter over Rita Winebarger of the University of South Carolina.

In the women's club division, Kristen Longmire defeated Peggy Davis 6-3, 6-2. In the women's club doubles Posser and Fowler defeated Schwank and Hubbard 6-4, 6-1. All of these ladies are from the Orlando area.

In the men's club singles, Bong Imperial of Orlando was far and away the class of the field as he went through the entire tournament without losing a set.

Naturally, the showcase event in this tournament was the men's college division. Players from all over the U.S. competed in this event. Many universities brought full teams and, indeed, some of the big names in college tennis were these. Perennial powers Arkansas, Clemson, Tennessee, South Carolina, Auburn and Houston all brought several players. Most college and universities in Florida sent players and our local college power, Rollins, had several players who made a really fine showing.

The tennis was played on a very high level and one could not help but be amazed at the depth of talent that was there. Sixty-four players were in the singles draw and some really great players did not even get past the first round.

The final four read like a who's who in college tennis. No. 1 seed Bobby Blair of the University of Arkansas, #3 seed Shelby Cannon of the University of Tennessee, #5 seed Necvet Demir of South Florida and former #1 player at Seminole Community College, and Richard Schmidt of Arkansas and the #6 seed.

In the hard fought semifinals, Cannon beat Demir 7-6, 7-5 in a truly great match and Schmidt upset #1 seed Blair 6-2, 6-4. In the finals, Shelby Cannon played an almost perfect match to defeat Schmidt 6-3, 6-3. The southpaw Cannon played superbly all over the coast and appears destined to make his mark in pro tennis.

This writer, for one, has not seen a better run or more entertaining tennis tournament in a long time. From day one the Citrus Bowl offered quality, excitement and a wide variety of tennis talents and skills to enjoy.

It should be bigger and better than ever next year.

ICBA Opens 3rd Season Saturday

Daunic's All-Around Performance Earns Most Valuable Player

By Mickey Norton
Special to the Herald

The annual pre-Christmas Tourney, round-robin series of games kicked off the third season of play for the Inter-County Basketball Association. Only a handful of teams participated as most spent their time practicing and getting ready for the season-openers on Saturday and Sunday with games scheduled for both Lake Howell and Oviedo high schools.

Four teams played in the varsity boys' (8th grade) division with the South Seminole Bobcats coming out as champs. They defeated the Jackson Heights Lions 47-35 in the opener and topped the Tuskawilla Warriors, 58-26 in the championship game.

Willy Daunic, the tourney MVP, led South Seminole in scoring in both games with a consistent 14 average. He also had 8 assists, 9 steals and 16 rebounds in the two games. Curtis Robbins scored 9 against the Lions, Larry Watkins 6, Danny Rubin 6, Brad Bolton 6 and Billy Siegrist 6. Donovan Williams led the Lions with 10, Chris Kewley and Ricky Hampton had 7 each, Matt Blanton 6.

Following Daunic in the Tuskawilla game were Rubin 12 (on 6 for 7 shooting in the first half), Watkins 12, Bolton 8, Robbins 6 and Ron Roux 6. Steve Johnson led the Warriors with 12, Lance Pruitt had 6.

Basketball

In another first round game, Tuskawilla defeated the Jackson Heights Knights, 45-21. Johnson threw in a tourney-high 17. Dave Ramey scored 12. Wayne Selover and Tommy Binkley had 4 each. Craig Zeh and Gary Blocker 3 apiece. Andy Barth led the Knights with 11. Tyrone Hrd had 6, Tracy Childers 3.

In a girls exhibition, the South Seminole Kittens nipped the Jackson Heights Scorpions, 14-12. Erica "Raising" Cain led the Kittens with 7 and handled the ball with perfection. Brigitte Szobar had 3, Stella Chestnut and Jennifer Waters 2 each. Bridget Jennerette topped the Scorpions with 6. Cheryl Buntz, Michelle Wynn and Anna Hollis all had 2 each.

In JV boys action, the Jackson Heights Lions only played one game and won that, 35-19, behind the scintillating speedy play of Donovan Williams (he will also play on the varsity level). The losing South Seminole Tomcats were led by Robbie "Gulliver" Crager with 10 points and 18 rebounds. Theron Perkins add 5 (all in the last period), Corey Riggins 2 and Seth Rubin 2.

In another JV game, the Tomcats came back to topple the Jackson Heights Wildcats, 34-21. It was Crager dominating again, with 16 points and 12 rebounds. He also blocked a pair of shots. Chuckie Atkins scored 6, Rubin 4, Perkins 4, Rhys Daunic 2, Cade Reaves 2. Atkins chipped in with 5 assists — he and Reaves and Kenny Kroog had 8 steals among them.

Chris Westbury scored 14 for the Wildcats. Jim Morris added the other 7. Co-MVPs in the JV division were Williams of the Lions and Crager of the Tomcats.

Jimmy Connors plays Jimmy Arias today in the Challenge of Champions.

Vilas: Only Luck Kept Noah Close

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Guillermo Vilas says his victorious match against Yannick Noah was close only because his opponent was lucky in the beginning of their battle in the $1.3 million Challenge of Champions. Vilas, who defeated Noah, 5-7, 7-6, 6-4, in the opening round of the tournament Tuesday night, said that once his luck began to sour he began to play a crisper game.

Ivan Lendl breezed to a 6-4, 6-4 victory over Vilas Gerulaitis in the other first-round match.

He is grouped with Lendl, Noah and Vilas in the round-robin format while the other four-man group consists of John McEnroe, Jimmy Connors, Jimmy Arias and Johann Kriek.

In today's matches: Connors takes on Arias, McEnroe meets Kriek and Gerulaitis plays Vilas.

Working Mom Shares Recipes With Today's Woman In Mind

By Brenda Lowe
Herald Correspondent
With time being at a premium for today's woman, who often balances a career with home life, it's a treat to find new recipes for quick, but delicious meals.

This week's cook, Sarah Evans, who is a wife, mother and executive assistant, shares recipes which are tailor-made for today's busy woman. A variety of color, texture and flavor accents these offerings.

Sarah, who recently returned to Sanford from Naples, is married to Ron and they have two sons, Ronald and Scott. Also a very important member of the family is "Baby," their lively thasa-poo.

Although Sarah has lived in several places in Florida, Sanford has always been "home." Her husband's job involved transfers to St. Augustine, Spring Hill, and most recently to Naples. But Sarah adds that she is happy to say this time Sanford will be their permanent home.

Since quality time with her family is important to Sarah, she is always trying to think of creative ways to initiate projects in which every family member can participate. One of her favorite ways is to have a yard sale. This enables them to sell their handcrafts and various accumulations, but it also gives the children a chance to be involved in decision-making and some of the experience of buying and selling. Besides, it can be just plain fun!

When she isn't busy with work or family activities, Sarah says that she enjoys painting in watercolors, oils and acrylics. Her favorite subject is butterflies with baby animals a close second.

To keep their home running smoothly, Sarah says that everyone pitches in and helps with a little bit of everything, including kitchen duty. She is preparing her sons to be proficient in the kitchen as well as with the other many tasks to be done. Husband Ron helps out too. Sarah says that his specialty is barbecue sauce and that he has developed a "state of the art" style at the grill.

Whether you are an active career woman or a busy homemaker, Sarah's recipes will help you get out of the kitchen faster to enjoy some quality time with your family. Following are some of her favorites:

PEPPER STEAK

- 1 small onion, chopped or strips
- 1 green bell pepper, sliced in strips
- 1 red pepper, sliced in strips
- 1 pound sirloin or round steak, cut in strips
- 1 cup beef bouillon

Old Age Doesn't Have To Be An Affliction

DEAR ABBY: My dear departed mother, who had a wonderful sense of humor, gave this to me:

A SENIOR CITIZEN'S LAMENT
Thought I'd let my doctor check me

'Cause I didn't feel quite rite. All those aches and pains annoyed me.

And I couldn't sleep at night. He could find no real disorder, but he wouldn't let it rest.

What with Medicare and Blue Cross it wouldn't hurt to do some tests.

To the hospital he sent me, thought I didn't feel that bad. He arranged for them to give me every test that could be had. I was fluoroscoped and cystoscoped, my aging fram displayed. Stripped upon an ice-cold table while my gizzards were X-rayed.

I was checked for worms and parasites for fungus and the crud.

While they pierced me with long needles taking samples of my blood.

Doctors came to check me over, probed and pushed and poked around.

And to make sure I was living, they wired me for sound.

They have finally concluded: (their results have filled a page)

What I have will someday kill me.

my affliction is old age.
(Author unknown)
I REMEMBER MAMA

Dear Abby

my right leg is also 101, and it doesn't hurt a bit."

Apropos aging, I have just come up with a wonderful handbook titled "Help Yourself to Good Health," compiled by the National Institute on Aging — a part of the Department of Health and Human Services, whose secretary is Margaret M. Heckler.

This excellent handbook will be a godsend for people 60 years old and older.

Some chapter titles: Accidents and the Elderly; Aging and Your Eyes; Arthritis Advice; Cancer Facts for People Over 50; Constipation; Dealing With Diabetes; Hearing and the Elderly; Urinary Incontinence; What to Do About the Flu; Prostate Problems; High Blood Pressure; The Safe Use of Medicine by Older People; Senility, Myth or Madness?; A Healthy Diet; How to Find Good Medical Care; Protection Against Crime; Sexuality in Later Life; and more.

It is written in large type in simple language that everyone can understand. It contains a wealth of information for everyone over 50 who wants to live a long, healthy and independent life.

It is absolutely free — including postage!

For your book, write to: Pfizer Pharmaceuticals, P.O. Box 3852-DA, Grand Central Station, N.Y. 10163. Ask for the book Dear Abby mentioned for older people. (A postcard will do.) Please print your name and address clearly. And don't thank me, thank the National Institute on Aging and Pfizer Pharmaceuticals, which funded this fine project.

P.S. This offer includes our Canadian neighbors.

DEAR ABBY: I am getting married soon, but there is one thing we cannot agree on. I want my fiancé to wear a wedding band after we are married. He says he will not wear one because he does not care for any kind of jewelry.

I notice he always wears a wristwatch. He says he "needs" to wear one so he won't be late for court or business appointments. (He's a lawyer.)

I told him that he "needs" to wear a wedding band so women will know that he is a married man.

Am I wrong to insist he wear one?

ANONYMOUS BRIDE

DEAR ANONYMOUS: You're being unrealistic. A wedding ring will not stop your husband's circulation — no matter how tight it is. Back off. A wedding band does not a faithful husband make.

DEAR REMEMBER: What an amusing poem, but old age never "killed" anybody. Unfortunately, some doctors still equate aging with inevitable mental and physical decline.

Dr. Robert N. Butler, former director of the National Institute of Aging, tells the story of a 101-year-old man who complained to his physician about a pain in his left leg.

"Well," said the doctor, "what do you expect at your age?"
The man replied, "But doctor,

Chronic Lung Disease Seminar

Dr. Ross B. Armour will discuss "Chronic Lung Disease" at a free public program at 7 p.m. Jan. 10 at the West Volusia Medical Services building, 1681 Providence Blvd., Deltona.

The speaker is an internist on the staff of West Volusia Memorial Hospital which sponsors monthly programs as part of an ongoing health education service.

Dr. Armour's topics will include the physiology and structure of the lungs — what they do and how lung function is evaluated. He will talk about treatment and answer questions at the end of the one-hour presentation.

The program will be repeated at the hospital in DeLand at 7 p.m. Jan. 24.

...Cook Of The Week

4 tablespoons Heinz 57 steak sauce
2 tablespoons cooking oil meat tenderizer cooked noodles

Sprinkle tenderizer on steak, set aside for 5 minutes. Heat oil, brown steak strips to desired brownness, remove to serving dish. Cook in same oil the onions and pepper till tender. Add bouillon, 57 sauce, stir till mixed and heated well. If a thicker sauce is desired, add diluted cornstarch (1/2 cup water and 1 tablespoon cornstarch). Cook until sauce bubbles. Return steak to sauce, simmer 10 minutes. Place on warm stove until noodles are prepared. Serve sauce over hot buttered noodles.

CHOP BUEY BAKED DISH
1 pound ground beef onion (if desired)
1 can chicken rice soup
1 cup raw rice
1 can chow mein vegetables or 1 cup finely chopped celery or both

1/2 cups water
3 tablespoons soy sauce
Brown ground beef and onion. Put into a greased baking dish and add balance of ingredients except vegetables. Bake 1 hour at 325°. Then stir in chow mein vegetables. Sprinkle with 1 can chow mein noodles (or serve on the side to be used as desired). Bake 1/2 hour more.

PUMPKIN CAKE ROLL
Beat 3 eggs on high speed for 5 minutes. Gradually beat in 1 cup granulated sugar. Stir in 1/2 cup pumpkin and 1 teaspoon lemon juice. Stir together 3/4 cup flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1 teaspoon ginger, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Fold into pumpkin mixture and spread in a greased and floured 15x10x1" pan. Top with 1 cup finely chopped walnuts. Bake at 375° for 15 minutes. Turn out on towel sprinkled with powdered sugar. Roll like jelly roll, starting at narrow end. Leave rolled until cooled, then unroll.

Filling: Combine 1 cup powdered sugar, two 3-ounce packages cream cheese, 4 teaspoons margarine or butter, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla. Beat until smooth; spread over cake and roll up again. Chill before slicing. Serves 8-10.

CROCKPOT SPICY BRAISED HAM
2-2 1/2 pound smoked boneless pork shoulder butt
2 cups water
6 whole cloves
1 bay leaf
4 whole peppercorns
1 stalk celery, cut up
1 carrot, pared and sliced

Place all ingredients in crockpot. Cover and cook on low for 6-8 hours, or on high for 3-4 hours. Drain and serve.

Serving suggestion: Slice cooked ham about 1/2" thick; place in shallow baking pan. Cover with glaze of 10-ounce jar of currant jelly (or apple), 3 tablespoons fresh horseradish, and 1/2 teaspoon prepared mustard which has been heated until smooth. Bake uncovered 30 minutes. Serve.

ANGEL FLAKE BISCUITS
5 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
1 cake yeast
3 tablespoons baking powder
3/4 cup melted shortening
2 cups buttermilk
1/2 cup warm water

Add yeast to warm water. Mix dry ingredients; add buttermilk, shortening and yeast. Mix well. Place on floured board and knead. Put in plastic bag and store in refrigerator. When needed, just pinch off dough and place in pan in 350° oven for 25-30 minutes.

STRAWBERRY DUMPLINGS
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup water
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup sifted flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons butter or margarine

1/2 cup milk
1 pint strawberries (2 cups, or any frozen berries)

In saucepan, combine 1/2 cup sugar and water. Bring mixture to boiling; reduce heat and simmer uncovered 5 minutes. Stir in vanilla. Sift flour, 2 tablespoons sugar and baking powder and salt together. Cut in butter or margarine till mixture is crumbly. Add milk and stir just till well combined. Place berries in a 1 1/2 quart casserole pan; pour hot sugar mixture over. Immediately drop dumpling dough in 8-10 spoonfuls over berries. Sprinkle the remaining 1 tablespoon sugar on dumplings. Bake in hot oven 450° for 25-30 minutes or until dumplings are golden brown. Serve warm from casserole. Top with scoop of vanilla ice cream or whipped topping. Serves 4-5.

CHILI RICE BEAN SOUP
Good with chef's salad and hard rolls or toasted French bread.

1/2 cup long grain rice
2 tablespoons minced onion
2 1/2 cups beef bouillon
1 (15 1/2 ounce) can chili with beans

Add rice and onion to bouillon in sauce pan. Bring mixture to a boil. Reduce heat. Cover and cook gently until rice is tender, about 18 minutes. Remove cover. Add chili. Return to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer 15 minutes longer. Serves 4.

RON'S B-B-Q SAUCE
1/2 cup butter
1 very small chopped onion (optional)
1/2 teaspoon seasoned salt
1/2 cup Worcestershire sauce
2 tablespoons vinegar
1/2 cup water

Bring ingredients to quick boil. Turn down the heat and simmer for 15 minutes. Can be used on any kind of meat, but is especially tasty on chicken. (Note: Taste for saltiness before basting meat. If it's too salty, add a little extra water.)

Florida Wines Debut At Village Festival

LAKE BUENA VISTA, Fla. — The Wines of St. Augustine will be the first Florida winery participating in the four-year history of the Village Wine Festival, set for Jan. 11-13 at the Walt Disney World Village Conference Center.

The year-old Tampa winery will be among a prestigious group of 60 domestic and international wineries participating in the fourth annual festival, regarded by wine industry spokesmen as Florida's biggest showcase for premium wines. Participants typically will pour two premium varietals or sparkling wines each day of the festival.

The Wines of St. Augustine will showcase its Pale Golden Charyne and Mimosa — both produced from Florida oranges rather than grapes.

"We expect people to have some doubts about wine made from 100 percent oranges," says St. Augustine winemaker Edward Gogel. "Once they taste the product, it will eliminate the skepticism. It tastes like grapes."

The Pale Golden Charyne, Gogel says, has the characteristics of delicately blended chablis and rhine. Mimosa is a blend of sparkling orange wine and orange juice described as "festive, hearty."

Gogel, a 51-year-old Chicago native who began his winemaking career with Mogen David shortly after graduation from DePaul University in 1956, says his work with orange wines grew out of simple logic: "Florida is sunshine, and Florida is oranges. Why not develop a product taking advantage of that?"

Gogel says that challenge grew out of an even more basic challenge: convincing investors to back a Florida winery. "Florida is third in the nation in wine consumption, behind California and New York," he explains. "California has 750 wineries. New York has 75 wineries. Florida had four small wineries."

"We have the people, we have the climate ... why not wineries?" he asks.

Ironically, Gogel says, the first bottle of wine produced in the United States was in St. Augustine, Fla. That historical point tying winemaking to the Sunshine State became the basis for naming the Tampa winery The Wines of St. Augustine.

Village Wine Festival hours are: Friday, Jan. 11, 7-10 p.m.; Saturday, Jan. 12, 4-7 p.m.; and Sunday, Jan. 13, 1-4 p.m. Tickets ($20 per session) are available at Guest Services and Village Spirits in Walt Disney World Village. Hours are 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily. From outside of Greater Orlando, tickets may be purchased by telephone (305/828-3058) using American Express or MasterCard. Admission includes a complimentary Festival wine glass and guide. All wines represented at the tastings will be available for purchase.

Further information is available by writing to Special Events, Walt Disney World Village, P.O. Box 35, Lake Buena Vista, FL 32830.

Here Comes 'Street Hawk'

By Joan Hanner
 UPI TV Reporter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Remember the $6 million dollar man? Well, now there's a television series built around a $3 million motorcycle.

The name of the motorcycle — and of the show in which it stars — is "Street Hawk." It premieres on ABC Friday at 8:30 p.m. in a 90-minute special form, then goes to its regular hour format at 9 p.m., the following Friday.

The series could also be called "Son of 'Knight Rider,'" which is the name of the NBC series about a supercar. That vehicle is named Kit and it talks with the voice of William Daniels. The motorcycle in "Street Hawk" is silent except for the "vroom" normal to the breed and the screech of brakes necessary to motorized mayhem.

The supercycle can be controlled from a room that, as one character describes it, looks like the bridge of the Enterprise in "Star Trek." The machine is ridden by Rex Smith as an ex-motorcycle cop with a busted-up knee who is testing the machine for the federal government — and also avenging the murder of his cop partner.

For all practical purposes, the machine is the star of the series. It goes into "hyper thrust" for superspeed, which is not quite as fast as a speeding bullet. It has a vertical lift capability that doesn't quite leap tall buildings in a single bound. It is armed with a high-energy particle beam gun for which James Bond might give up his license to kill. It also can stop on a dime.

The man in the saddle wears a specially molded suit and shiny black face mask so that he can't be recognized at the scene of his heroics — from which he skids away before he can be thanked, along the lines of "Who was that masked man?"

"Street Hawk" is geared to appeal to the little boy in all of us. For the big people, there's always "Dallas."

Father Sarducci Herding Sheep

FAIRFAX, Calif. (UPI) — Don Novello, the chain-smoking priest known as "Father Guido Sarducci" of the old Saturday Night Live shows, has led a sheepish existence of late.

He even learned to tell one b-a-a-a from another while herding sheep around a high school in the small Northern California town of Tomales — all, of course, in the name of art, or at least entertainment.

"I turned into a shepherd," Novello said. "At first it was hard remembering who was who and what sheep did what. They all have their own personalities, you know."

He took the sheep into the school cafeteria, classrooms, the gymnasium, and the football field to be photographed for a tongue-in-cheek senior yearbook.

"There's something very funny about sheep," said Novello. "Pigs, you couldn't get to sit up. Cows are too big. With sheep, once you set them up, they stay put."

Instead of students pictured in various school activities, the sheep were substituted in what turned out to be a hilarious lampoon of classroom life published as the "Shellville High School Blade." (Collier Books, New York, $6.95).

Novello, 41, grew up in Loraine, Ohio, and lives in the Marin County town of Fairfax, where he works on creative projects between trips to Los Angeles and New York to perform. To do the yearbook takeoff, Novello called the California Sheep Advisory Council, which suggested contacting Tomales High.

In the book, one horned ram facing a microphone is identified as Principal Raoul V. Weavers. Nearby, a ewe typing letters is tagged as secretary Beverly Stimmel. There are mug shots of 10 woolly faculty members and profiles of the senior class engaged in various activities — including skydiving.

"In parachuting, waiting is the hardest part," says Skydive Class President Merv Moss, shown dangling by all fours from a tree where his chute is entangled. "Sometimes it takes hours for those strings to break."

Butter Cookies With Old-Fashioned Flavor

Although the holidays are over, delicious old-fashioned cookies are popular year-around.

The following recipes for butter cookies have been kitchen-tested by the American Dairy Association:

MINCEMEAT POINSETTAS

Yield: 40
 1 cup (2 sticks) butter
 1 package (8 oz.) cream cheese
 2 tablespoons sugar
 2 eggs
 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
 2 cups all-purpose flour
 2 teaspoons baking powder
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 Mincemeat
 Candied cherries, cut in half
 Cream butter and cream cheese in a large mixing bowl until light and fluffy. Beat in sugar, eggs and vanilla. Combine flour, baking powder and salt. Stir into creamed mixture to form stiff dough. Cover and chill. Preheat oven to 375° F. Using one half of dough at a time, roll out to 1/4-inch thickness on a lightly floured surface in form a 15x12-inch rectangle. Cut into 3-inch squares. Place on lightly buttered cookie sheets. Cut with sharp knife dipped in flour from corners of each square halfway to center. Place 1 teaspoonful of mincemeat in center of each square. Bring every other point of dough to center, pinch to hold in place. Press a candied cherry half in the center of each. Bake 12-14 minutes. Cool on wire racks.

APRICOT STRIPS

Yield: 36
 3/4 cups all-purpose flour
 1/4 cup sugar
 2 teaspoons salt
 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
 1 1/2 cups (3 sticks) butter
 1/2 cup water
 1/4 cup fresh lemon juice
 1 can (12 oz.) apricot pastry filling
 1/2 cup chopped candied red cherries
 Preheat oven to 400° F. Combine flour, sugar, salt and lemon peel. Cut in butter until mixture resembles fine crumbs. Combine water and lemon juice; add to dry ingredients, 1 tablespoon at a time, mixing well after each addition. Shape dough into a ball. Cut into three equal pieces. Roll out each piece on a lightly floured surface to form a 12x5" rectangle. Mix pastry filling and cherries. Spread 1/2 of filling in a band three inches wide, lengthwise down center of each piece of dough. Fold over one inch of dough on each side of filling. Brush dough lightly with milk and sprinkle with sugar, if desired. Bake on unbuttered cookie sheet 18-20 minutes or until pastry is done. Cool. Cut into slices one inch wide.

ANISE BUTTER COOKIES
Yield: approx. 6 dozen
 1 cup (2 sticks) butter
 1/2 cup sugar
 1/2 teaspoon crushed anise seed
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 2 1/4 cups all-purpose flour
 Granulated sugar
 Red and green candied cherry halves
 Cream butter in a large mixing bowl. Gradually add sugar and beat until light and fluffy. Blend in anise and salt. Gradually add flour. Chill for ease in handling. Preheat oven to 375° F. Shape into balls 3/4" in diameter; roll in sugar. Place on unbuttered baking sheets. Flatten with bottom of glass dipped in sugar to make 1/4" thick. Decorate with cherries. Bake 12-15 minutes, or until lightly browned around edges. Remove to wire rack to cool.

PECAN CREATURES
Yield: approx. 5 dozen
Cookies:
 1/4 cup (1 1/2 sticks) butter
 1 cup sugar
 1 egg
 2 tablespoons milk
 2 squares (1 oz. each) unsweetened chocolate, melted
 1/4 teaspoon vanilla extract
 1 1/4 cups all-purpose flour
 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup chopped pecans
Frosting:
Yield: 1 1/2 cups
 3 tablespoons butter, softened
 3 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
 3-4 tablespoons milk
 2 squares (1 oz. each) unsweetened chocolate, melted, cooled
 Pecan halves
 Preheat oven to 375° F. Cream butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Add egg, milk, chocolate and vanilla; mix well. Add combined dry ingredients and nuts to creamed mixture; mix well. Drop rounded teaspoonfuls of dough on unbuttered cookie sheets. Bake 10-12 minutes or until set. Cool. For frosting, combine butter, sugar, vanilla, two tablespoons milk. Add chocolate; mix until smooth. Add 1 or 2 additional tablespoons milk, as needed, to make icing a desirable spreading consistency. To assemble, lightly frost flat side of cookie. Arrange five pecan halves to form head and legs.

Gently press into frosting. Carefully turn over. Frost top of cookie.

WALNUTS DROPS

Yield: approx. 6 dozen
 1 cup (2 sticks) butter
 1 1/2 cups firmly packed brown sugar
 2 eggs
 2 teaspoons vanilla extract
 3 cups all-purpose flour
 2 teaspoons baking powder
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup dairy sour cream
 3/4 cup chopped walnuts
 Colored sugar
 Cream butter in a large mixing bowl. Add sugar, eggs and vanilla; beat until light and fluffy. Combine flour, baking powder and salt. Blend into butter mixture alternately with sour cream. Stir in nuts. Cover and chill dough. Preheat oven to 350° F. Drop dough by rounded teaspoonfuls onto buttered cookie sheets. Sprinkle with colored sugar. Bake 10-12 minutes. Remove from cookie sheets to wire racks to cool.

CANDY CANE AND WREATH COOKIES

Yield: 4-5 dozen
 1 1/4 cups (2 1/2 sticks) butter

1 cup confectioners' sugar
 1 egg
 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
 1/2 teaspoon almond extract
 3/4 cups all-purpose flour
 1 teaspoon salt
 Red and green food color
 1 egg white
 Red and green decorating sugar
 Cinnamon candies
 Cream butter in large mixing bowl. Gradually add sugar and beat until light and fluffy. Beat in egg and flavorings. Combine flour and salt; gradually add to creamed mixture. Set aside half of dough. Divide the other half into two parts. Tint one part light green and the other light red with food color. Keep dough chilled for ease in handling. Preheat oven to 350° F. For candy canes, roll with hands one teaspoonful of white dough and one of red into strips about four inches long. Place strips side by side and twist together lightly. Carefully put on unbuttered baking sheets and curve the top down to form a handle. Brush with egg white and sprinkle with red sugar. Bake 10-12 minutes. For wreaths, roll one teaspoonful of white dough and one of green. After twisting them together, form into circle on the baking sheet. Brush with egg white and sprinkle with green sugar. Use cinnamon candies for garnish and bake the same as the candy canes.

MADELEINES

Yield: 4 dozen
 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 4 eggs
 1 1/2 teaspoons each: vanilla extract, grated lemon peel
 3/4 cup sugar

 1/2 cup (1 stick) butter, melted and cooled
 Confectioners' sugar
 Preheat oven to 325° F. Brush Madeleine pans well with melted butter and dust well with flour. Combine flour and salt. Beat eggs, vanilla and lemon peel until light and lemon colored. Gradually add sugar and beat until light and fluffy. Fold in dry ingredients. Add melted butter; mix carefully but thoroughly. Fill Madeleine pans 3/4 full. Bake about 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool in pans on racks about three minutes; remove cakes from pans and cool on racks, shell side up. Just before serving, dust with confectioners' sugar.

BRANDIED APRICOT TEACAKES
Yield: approx. 8 dozen
 1/2 cup boiling water
 1 package (6 oz.) dried apricots, chopped
 1 box (10 oz.) currants
 1 cup apricot brandy
 1/2 cup (1 stick) butter
 1/4 cups firmly packed brown sugar
 3 eggs
 2 cups all-purpose flour
 1 teaspoon each: cinnamon, cloves, allspice

 1/2 teaspoon each: baking soda, salt
 Add water to apricots and currants. Pour brandy over fruit; cover and let stand overnight. Preheat oven to 325° F. Cream butter in a large mixing bowl. Gradually add sugar and continue beating until blended. Beat in eggs. Combine flour, cinnamon, cloves, allspice, soda and salt; gradually add to creamed mixture. Blend in fruit mixture. Place midget foil baking cups on a jelly roll pan. Drop one rounded tablespoon of mixture into each cup. Bake 25-30 minutes or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Remove to wire rack to cool. Before serving, dust with confectioners' sugar.

Note: For smaller teacakes without baking cups, use buttered 1 1/4" muffin pans. Drop one tablespoon mixture into muffin pans. Bake 15-20 minutes. Yield: 6-7 dozen.
NEAPOLITAN COOKIES
Yield: about 8 dozen
 3/4 cup butter
 1 cup sugar
 1 egg
 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
 2 1/4 cups all-purpose flour
 1 1/4 teaspoons baking powder
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup finely chopped nuts
 1 square (1 oz.) unsweetened chocolate, melted
 Few drops red food color
 1/4 cup chopped maraschino cherries, drained
 Cream butter in a large mixing bowl. Gradually add sugar and beat until light and fluffy. Beat in egg and vanilla. Combine flour, baking powder and salt; gradually blend into creamed mixture to form a stiff dough. Stir in nuts. Divide dough into thirds. Add chocolate to one third. Add food color and cherries to second third. Leave remaining third plain. Shape each color into a roll 14 inches long; flatten to a width of 1 1/2". Place layers one on top of the other. Press lightly. Cut into two equal pieces, each 7x1 1/2". Wrap tightly in waxed paper. Refrigerate several hours or overnight. Preheat oven to 375° F. Cut dough into 1/8" thick slices; place on unbuttered cookie sheets. Bake until lightly browned, about eight minutes.

Cool completely on wire racks.
CHRISTMAS CUTOUTS
Yield: about 4 dozen
 1 cup (2 sticks) butter
 1 1/4 cups confectioners' sugar
 1 egg
 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
 1/2 teaspoon almond extract
 2 1/4 cups all-purpose flour
 1 teaspoon each: baking soda, cream of tartar
 Red and green food colors OR paste colors
 Cream butter in a large mixing bowl. Gradually add sugar and beat until light and fluffy. Beat in egg and extracts. Combine flour, soda and cream of tartar; blend into creamed mixture. Pinch off 1/2 dough; tint it red with food color. Tint remaining 3/2 of dough green with food color. Cover and chill doughs. Preheat oven to 375° F. Roll out green dough on a lightly floured surface to 1/8" thickness. Cut with floured cookie cutter to form Christmas trees and with floured donut cutter or two crinkled biscuit cutters to form wreaths. Roll out red dough on a lightly floured surface to 1/8" thickness. Cut with small floured cookie cutter to form stars. Place stars on trees and wreaths to decorate. Carefully transfer to lightly buttered cookie sheets with a wide metal spatula. Bake 7-8 minutes. Cool on wire racks.

Former County Commission Chief Fined $250 For Reckless Driving

A former Seminole County Commission chairman charged with driving under the influence and driving with a suspended driver's license has pleaded no contest to a reduced charge of willful and wanton reckless driving and been fined $250.

Sidney L. Vihlen Jr., 43, of 670 Vihlen Road, Sanford, was arrested Sept. 27 after he attracted the attention of a Florida Highway Patrol trooper who reported seeing the former commissioner travelling east on Interstate 4 at 85 mph.

According to court records, Vihlen's blood alcohol level was 0.06 when he was stopped, less than the 0.1 which is considered legally under the influence.

According to the arresting officer, Vihlen, who was carrying a passenger, Catherine M. Marble, of Minnesota, "was passing vehicles using both inside and outside lanes."

As the trooper pursued Vihlen 1 1/2

Sid Vihlen Jr. ...originally charged with driving under the influence miles west of Lake Mary. Vihlen's car reached a speed of 115 mph, according to the arrest report.

The trooper reported forcing Vihlen to stop by pulling his patrol car in front of Vihlen's vehicle and slowing down, cause the "defendant to put on his brakes hard and stop."

The trooper reported that Vihlen's eyes were "bloodshot and glassy" and that there was a "strong odor of alcoholic beverage on his breath."

Vihlen, who served on the Seminole County Commission from 1970 until 1976 when he unsuccessfully ran for Congress, was also charged with driving with a suspended license.

County Judge Alan Dickey dismissed the latter charge after Vihlen entered the plea Nov. 5.

According to court records, Vihlen has been stopped 11 times by police for traffic infractions since 1977. The stops include nine stops for speeding in four Florida counties, the DUI charge, and one for having an obscured tag on his vehicle. Six days before he was stopped in Seminole County on the DUI charge he was ticketed in Volusia for speeding, according to court records.

Orders have been issued twice for Vihlen's arrest for failure to pay traffic fines, court records show.

Plane Down

U.S. Ambassador's Wife Listed As Passenger

LA PAZ, Bolivia (UPI) — Rescue teams struggled through fog and freezing temperatures today to reach aircraft wreckage believed to be that of an Eastern Airlines plane missing in the rugged Andes Mountains south of La Paz.

"It appears it is the wreckage of the Eastern plane," said Jack Barker, a spokesman for the Federal Aviation Administration in Atlanta.

An FAA spokesman in Washington said the agency's communications center had been informed, presumably by Bolivian authorities, that aircraft wreckage had been located approximately 50 miles southeast of the Bolivian capital but there was no confirmation it was the Eastern jet.

The Boeing 727, carrying at least 33 people but perhaps as many as 41 — including the wife of the U.S. Ambassador to Paraguay and six other Americans — was last in contact with La Paz' El Alto airport less than 11 minutes before it was due to land Tuesday night.

An Eastern official in Bolivia, Gonzalo Ferrufino, said heavy cloud cover made it difficult to use planes to conduct air searches for wreckage, and the search was therefore limited to a number of jeeps and other land vehicles.

He said seven Americans, including Marian Davis, the wife of U.S. Ambassador to Paraguay, Arthur Davis, were on the list of 31 passengers aboard the plane.

Ferrufino said 31 passengers and 10 crew members were on the jetliner, but an Eastern official at the airline's headquarters in Miami said the flight carried 25 passengers and eight crew members.

Five of the crew aboard the jet, an Eastern official in Chile said, were Chileans.

The flight, Eastern 980 bound ultimately for Miami, left Asuncion Tuesday evening and the last radio communication was registered 11 minutes before it was to land at El Alto airport, Eastern communications director Paula Musto said. There was no indication at the time that anything was wrong, she said.

Jackson To Try And Free U.S. Hostages In Lebanon

NEW YORK (UPI) — Civil rights leader Jesse Jackson, who heads to Rome today to pray for world peace with Pope John Paul II, says he wants to arrange the release of three American men kidnapped in Lebanon last April.

Jackson spoke at a Harlem memorial service Tuesday held for Jerry Levin, 51, the CNN Beirut Bureau chief; William Buckley, 55, a U.S. embassy political officer, and Benjamin Weir, 60, a Presbyterian minister.

The three men were kidnapped in Beirut last April, and Jackson said Tuesday he is willing to go to the Middle East, at a later date, to bargain for their release.

"We don't know specifically who is holding them or where they are," Jackson said. "It is inappropriate to go to Lebanon and Syria now."

Little has been heard of the men since their abduction last April by unknown gunmen, but Jackson — who won the release of downed Navy flier Robert Goodman from the Syrians last year — said he believed the missing men were still alive.

"On behalf of the Levin and Weir families we'd like to express our tremendous gratitude to Rev. Jackson," said the wife of the missing CNN correspondent. Levin's wife attended the service at the St. Charles Catholic Church in Harlem along with about 300 other people.

Jackson, the unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination last year, said he was not visiting the pope to enlist his help in finding and freeing the missing men.

"I have reason to believe the mission is morally the right thing and practically the feasible thing," he said.

Jackson said, "At this time a year ago Lt. Robert Goodman was captured there and once we found out appropriate sources to communicate with, we made a moral appeal to break the cycle of pain ... and we would like to do that in this instance as well."

Pro-Abortionists To Fight Bombings

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A New Year's Day explosion at an abortion clinic in the nation's capital has sparked the Planned Parenthood Federation to find a way to fight back against what they call a "reign of terror."

The Hillcrest Women's Surgi-Center in Washington was empty when a blast ripped through the clinic, collapsing the ceiling and sending debris flying into the air. No injuries were reported in the 12:10 a.m. explosion.

It was the third abortion facility bombed in the Washington area in two months and it is the eighth such blast in two years. No one has claimed responsibility for the blast, police said.

Officials rushed to condemn the blast. Washington Mayor Marion Barry called the terrorists "deranged" and called on the "Jerry Falwells of the world to condemn such activities."

Faye Wattleton, president of the national Planned Parenthood federation, called on President Reagan to put law-enforcement agencies behind "seeking out, arresting and curtailing" participants in abortion clinic bombings. There have been at least two dozen such attacks across the country in 1984.

"This senseless attack of a Hillcrest abortion clinic and counseling service is further evidence of terrorist activity by a small group determined to force its will upon the American people," she said.

Roseanne Wiseman, executive director of the Washington-area Planned Parenthood federation, said pro-abortion groups will meet this week to build a strategy to prevent and fight against the terrorist activity.

Police said there was no immediate link of yesterday's blast to the three Christmas Day bombings in Pensacola, Fla., nor to the seven other bombings in the Washington area.

Shultz Gets Final Plans For Upcoming Arms Talks

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI) — President Reagan has defined the mandate Secretary of State George Shultz will have next week in pursuing new negotiations with the Soviets on defensive weapons and offensive nuclear arms.

During a New Year's Day summit with his senior national security advisers at the 200-acre estate of publisher Walter Annenberg, Reagan made final decisions that will guide Shultz in his talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko Monday and Tuesday in Geneva, Switzerland.

The specifics were kept secret, but the basic elements were consistent with signals that emanated from the administration in recent weeks.

While administration officials described the strategy for Geneva as a consensus of intensive inter-agency deliberations, the recommendations forwarded to Reagan appeared to only paper over substantive and unresolved differences between hardliners at the Pentagon and their less-rigid counterparts at the State Department.

Among the principal U.S. objectives, officials said, is a resumption of formal arms control negotiations under two distinct headings: one dealing with defensive weapons, including anti-satellite systems and Reagan's "Star Wars" missile defense proposal, and the other focusing on intermediate-range nuclear missiles and strategic arms.

Separate negotiations on intermediate- and long-range systems were brought to a halt in late 1983 by a Soviet walkout.

Administration officials said the U.S. position, if successful, could lead to a resumption of full-fledged negotiations over the next three months and said the United States is prepared for an early return to the bargaining table.

Prostate Surgery Saps Fertility, Not Ability

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — I would like as much information as you can give me on prostate surgery. Can a man still father a child after surgery? Does the type of surgery done make a difference? They say that sex is not the same after it, but my husband, who is 67, had prostate surgery around 15 years ago and he still enjoys sex just as much. If not more.

DEAR READER — Yes, there are several different ways of doing prostate surgery. An open incision may be made and the prostate gland removed in that way. There are several different operations for this approach, too. The most common surgical procedure is the transurethral prostate resection (TURP). This consists of inserting a rod with a light and visual apparatus through the urethra. The end of the instrument has an electric cutting device that is used to cut away the inside of the prostate gland. Some call it a Roto-Rooter job. When the hole is made large enough, the obstruction is eliminated and the man can pass urine more normally.

After prostate surgery, the valve mechanism that shuts off the bladder, which is adjacent to the prostate, usually is damaged and cannot close well. As a result, when a man ejaculates, the semen flows backward into the bladder. He won't have the normal forward emission, but he will have all of the same sensations.

This also means that he may not eject enough semen ejected normally to cause pregnancy. And in some operations, the vas deferens tube, which carries sperm from the testicles to the prostate, is tied off, causing sterility. This is done to help protect the testicles from inflammation after the surgery.

Neither of these aspects of prostate surgery need interfere with a man's sexual ability or enjoyment, but they do affect his ability to father children.

DEAR DR. LAMB — It used to be a common practice to have the tonsils and adenoids removed. Was it really beneficial to one's health, or has it been proven to be unnecessary surgery?

DEAR READER — They also used to rest a lung that had tuberculosis by collapsing it. Many things change in medicine as more is learned.

Tonsils seldom need to be taken out. There are exceptions, though: Enlarged, chronically infected tonsils filled with pus-like material and food particles are one cause of bad breath, although this is a very rare cause of bad breath. The tonsils are just lymph glands. Removing them because they are "enlarged" is seldom justified.

Send your questions to Dr. Lamb, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
Here it is only the second day of the new year, and our South declarer has already forgotten his resolution about looking ahead at the bridge table.

The slam contract was aggressive, but on a good day it would certainly have come home. Unfortunately declarer turned sunshine into rain in the play. After the opening jack of diamonds lead, things looked rosy. After winning the diamond, South played the ace of spades and a spade back to the king.

West showed out. There was now nothing left to do but pick up trumps and run the diamonds. Late in the day, declarer led a heart to the king, but the ace was offside and down he went.

How far ahead did declarer have to look? Not even far enough to squint. If the opponents' spades were 3-2, there would never be any problem, but if they were 4-1, some measures were needed.

The right play is to play the ace of clubs at trick two, lead a spade to the queen and ruff a club low. Now play the king of spades, East showing out. Play a spade to dummy, finessing against the jack, and cash the other high spade, pitching a heart from the South hand. The remaining diamond tricks will now bring the total to 12.

Bridge hand diagram showing North, South, West, and East cards and a vulnerable dealer.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY JANUARY 3, 1985

Greater chances for success this coming year will be in areas where you already have expertise, experience and knowledge. Stay in your own bailiwick.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Do not let your attention wander today when working with unfamiliar tools or materials. Keep your mind riveted on the job at hand.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Have fun and enjoy yourself today but try to do so as inexpensively as possible. Spending lots of bread won't assure you of having a good time.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Take ample time to reason your steps out carefully today. Attempting to move too swiftly in complex situations could prove counterproductive.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Be safety conscious when in motion today. Don't be in such a hurry to get where you're going that you're tempted to take foolish chances.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Resist pressure from companions today to spend money you know you shouldn't. If you give in, you could end up regretting your actions later.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Ambition is an admirable quality but don't be so eager to get to the top today that you do things associates might find distasteful.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Before pointing the finger of blame at others today, be certain that it wasn't your actions that got things all mixed up in the first place.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) If a friend has done something recently that you have found disturbing, bring it out into the open today where it can be resolved. Don't let it fester.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Unless objectives are clearly defined today, you will end up spinning your wheels. Don't decide upon one course of action and then shift to another.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Strive to be considerate when dealing with subordinates today. If you are arrogant or lord it over them, you'll create a lot of ill will.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Give the one you love the same mobility and independence today that you desire for yourself. Putting restrictions on him will invite rebellion.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Introducing volatile topics at the dinner table this evening could turn a pleasant discussion into a heated debate. Keep everything light.

Eye-Opener

Link Up With Sausage For Breakfast

Breakfast has long been considered the most important meal of the day. It's the early morning eye-opener that prepares you for the day ahead.

The addition of sausage to breakfast will provide the nutritional link to protein, vitamins and minerals that will get you off to a good start.

Sausage Apple Pancake is a light and fluffy flapjack topped with juicy sausage links and fresh sliced apples. This colorful skillet-style treat includes selections from all the basic four food groups—flour and cereal, meat, fruit, and milk. Other fruit, in season, may replace the apples to vary the taste and color of the pancake.

Corny Link Sticks or Corny Link Muffins will become the main event when served with your favorite style eggs, chilled juice and steaming hot coffee or flavorful tea. Precooked sausage links are baked into the form of sticks or muffins made from corn muffin mix and seasoned with herbs.

Pancakes, corn sticks and muffins made with sausage are simple to prepare and require a minimum of ingredients. All three items are suitable for brunch as well as breakfast.

SAUSAGE APPLE PANCAKE (Makes 1-3 pancakes; 408 servings)

1 (8-ounce) package breakfast link sausages (or ¾ pound bulk sausage, pre-cooked and broken into pieces)

1 cup milk
½ cup flour
2 eggs
¼ cup crushed bran cereal (nuggets, flakes or squares)
1 tablespoon sugar
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons salad oil
1 to 1½ cups sliced apples*

Fry sausages over medium heat for about 7 minutes until they begin to turn golden. Remove sausages and drain on paper towels. Measure 1 tablespoon sausage drippings and add to mixing bowl along with milk, flour, eggs, cereal, sugar and salt. Beat mixture until smooth.

In 10-inch skillet with oven-proof handle, or 9-inch square pan, place salad oil; tilt skillet to coat bottom evenly. Pour in batter. Arrange sausage and apples on top. Bake in 425 degree F. oven for about 40 minutes, until pancake is puffy and golden brown. Serve at once.

*Other fruits, such as bananas, fresh or frozen berries, or any well-drained canned fruits, may also be used.

NOTES: One recipe may be poured into 3 small 8-inch skillets. Reduce baking time for small skillets to about 30 minutes. Recipe may be doubled.

CORNY LINK STICKS (Makes about 12 sausage cornbread sticks)

1 (8- to 9-ounce) package corn muffin mix
1 teaspoon chopped chives
¼ teaspoon dried marjoram leaves

12 small link breakfast sausages, precooked and drained

Prepare mix as directed on package, adding herbs along with liquid. Spoon about 2 tablespoons batter into each well-greased section of cornstick pan, spreading evenly over bottom. Place one sausage link on top of batter in each section of pan. Bake in 400 degrees F. oven for about 18 minutes, until golden brown.

NOTES: Herbs are optional. A favorite home recipe may be used instead of the corn muffin mix.

CORNY LINK MUFFINS (Makes 8-12 medium-sized muffins)

Fill well-greased muffin pans half full of batter, described above. Cut precooked and drained sausage links in half, crosswise, and stand 2 half links in center of each muffin. Bake as directed for 22 minutes.

NOTE: A 9- to 12-ounce cornbread mix also may be used for Corny Link Muffins.

Start the day off with Corny Link Sticks or Sausage Apple Pancake

French Are Saying Au Revoir To Wine

PARIS (UPI) — They invaded France with supermarkets and "le fast food," they started packaging wine in boxes, and now, if marketing men have their way, even the Gallic tradition of wine sipping may be destroyed by "le long drink" and other alcohol aberrations.

The French are setting aside wine goblets and taking up the range of refreshments Americans discovered long ago.

"France has seen trends almost exactly opposite to what happened in the United States," said Olivier Desforges, marketing chief of Societe des Vins de France.

"In France, the wine market is shrinking. Fewer people drink wine. Those who drink it drink less."

Surveys picked up the evolution of French tastes in the mid-1970s when there was a dramatic drop in wine consumption. In the 1950s, the average French adult drank 53 gallons of wine a year. Now the annual intake is 33 gallons.

That is still 15 times the American average of 2.2 gallons and almost as much as the world's leading wine drinkers in Italy. But "the French wine market here will keep on shrinking," said Desforges.

Enter the salesman. A decade ago they peddled whiskey as a fashionable alternative to wine. Sales of whiskey doubled from 1971 to 1981. Whiskey was "a la mode" for the upwardly mobile while wine continued dropping about 7 percent a year.

Now a new trend has taken hold. The French are trying out low-alcohol drinks, and the major drink companies are giddy with delight.

Low- or no-alcohol drinks are the "in" thing, said Denise Declercq, Boisset, deputy director of the government's committee on alcoholism.

"They are trying to do to drinking what McDonald's did to eating," she said. "They are trying to capitalize on the trend away from wine to dehydrate Coca Cola. The trend to spirits has been reversed."

New soft drinks, ready-bottled mixtures of beer and lemonade and other low-alcohol "coolers" made with fruit base, are booming. Light drinks are up to about 10 percent of the market.

In 1983, Pernod became the first major French firm to try to capture the low-alcohol market with its Pernod Light 20-percent alcohol drink.

"We had to overcome the problem of the complete novelty of a low alcohol product," said marketing director Michel Boinet. "It is proving more difficult than we thought."

Licorice-flavored Pernod is traditionally a "southern, lazy, Mediterranean drink" but the firm wants to develop a "young, upwardly mobile, sophisticated market" for Pernod Light.

"We are trying to seduce the market away from long drinks and spirits," Boinet said. "But it is a long process developing appreciation for a new kind of product."

Last year its sister organization Pernod-Ricard burst on the market with Brut de Pomme, a sparkling equivalent to potent apple cider but with less than 1 percent alcohol. Brut de Pomme has "surpassed all expectations," with summer sales 24 percent higher than forecast, said Denis Berthou, its publicity director.

"It is sold in grocery stores and supermarkets, with a smaller emphasis on bars and restaurants. Already we have an excellent level of consumer loyalty."

French wine producers want to elbow in by trying to convert the French to another strictly American idea — light wine.

One firm, Chantovent, has just launched a light red wine. Moet et Chandon, prince of champagne producers, hopes to sell 2 million bottles of its sparkling new white Pierlant Imperial next year. Its sales pitch? Only 0.5 percent alcohol, compared to 12 percent for champagne or up to 14 percent for red wine.

"It is an elegant drink without being too intoxicating," said Louis Hainguerlot, marketing chief for Pierlant Imperial. He said it appeals to figure-conscious women and men who want to keep their alcohol intake down.

Gifts From Kitchen Welcome Any Season

The hand-crafted appeal of homemade gifts of any type is particularly sought-after in today's mechanized and computerized society. And homemade gifts from the kitchen rank high with people in all walks of life.

Many remember the tradition of grandma's homemade candy packaged in colorful tins for gift-giving throughout the holiday season. Or perhaps it's the cookie exchange ritual that sparks reminiscences of gatherings of family and friends. Bowls of nuts in their shells for impromptu nibbling throughout the holiday season is another fond memory for many.

The assortment of kitchen treats presented here offer new memory-making opportunities in recipes carefully fine-tuned for today's lifestyles.

California Pistachio Cookie Bars are a two-layer bar cookie that goes together fast. Crunchy pistachios decorate the top of these rich, chocolate-glazed cookies. Bake these when time is tight.

CALIFORNIA PISTACHIO DIVINITY

2 1/2 cups sugar
1/2 cup each light corn syrup and water
2 egg whites
1 teaspoon vanilla
3/4 cup coarsely chopped shelled natural California pistachios

Combine sugar, corn syrup and water in heavy 2-quart saucepan. Cook to 260 degrees F. (hard-ball stage); stir just until sugar dissolves. While sugar mixture cooks, beat egg whites until stiff peaks form. Beating at high speed on mixer, gradually pour sugar mixture over egg whites. Add vanilla and beat until candy loses its gloss and holds its shape. Quickly add nuts; mix well. Quickly spoon teaspoonfuls onto greased waxed paper or spread in buttered 8-inch square pan and cut into squares. Makes about 36 pieces.

CALIFORNIA PISTACHIO COOKIE BARS

1 cup butter or margarine, softened
1/2 cup each sugar and packed brown sugar
1 egg
1/2 teaspoon brandy flavoring or vanilla
2 cups flour
1 package (6 oz.) milk chocolate morsels
1/2 cup chopped shelled natural California pistachios
Cream butter and sugars; blend in egg and flavoring. Stir in flour; mix well. Pat into greased 15 x 10 x 1-inch baking pan. Bake at 350 degrees F. 20 to 25 minutes or until lightly browned. Melt chocolate morsels over hot water; carefully spread over hot cookies crust. Sprinkle with pistachios. Cut into 1 x 2-inch bars. Makes about 5 1/2 dozen.

CALIFORNIA PISTACHIO ICE BOX COOKIES

1/2 cup butter or margarine, softened
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 egg
1 1/2 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder

1/2 cup chopped shelled natural California pistachios
Cream butter and sugar. Add vanilla and egg; blend until smooth. Combine flour and baking powder; add to creamed mixture. Stir in pistachios. Shape dough into 2 rolls, about 1 1/4 inches each in diameter. Wrap in waxed paper or plastic wrap; chill thoroughly. Cut into 1/4-inch thick slices. Bake at 400 degrees F. 6 to 7 minutes or until barely brown on edges. Makes about 6 dozen.

Tip: Dough can be refrigerated up to one week. Slice and bake as needed following directions.

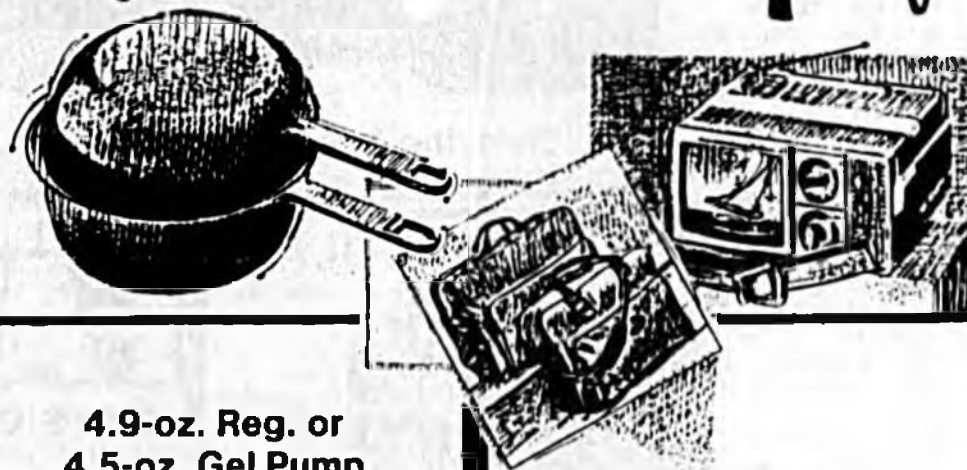

Pistachios impart a rich flavor and crunch to homemade treats.

For Dessert, Pop A Pear In Microwave

More people are turning to microwave ovens as the pace of living quickens, especially during the week.

Here's a quick cinnamon-spiced pear dessert for serving eight or two. It takes less than 10 minutes in the microwave. The pears also may be baked in a conventional oven.

For added richness, serve with whipped cream or ice cream.

CINNAMON-SPICED PEARS (Microwave Method)

4 Western Bosc pears
1/2 cup each packed brown sugar and chopped nuts
3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/4 cup water

Halve and core pears; place cut-side up in shallow microwave-proof dish. Combine brown sugar, nuts, butter and cinnamon; spoon into pear halves.

Pour water around pears. Microwave uncovered at HIGH 6 minutes or until pears are tender; turn dish twice during cooking. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 8 servings.

Conventional method: Place pears in shallow baking dish. Fill and pour water around pears as above. Bake, covered, at 350 degrees 20 minutes or until pears are tender. Recipe can be halved.

Two-serving variation:

Halve 1 pear. Fill with mixture of 1 tablespoon each packed brown sugar and chopped nuts, 2 teaspoons melted butter and generous dash ground cinnamon. Pour 2 tablespoons water around pears. Microwave on HIGH 2 minutes. Makes 2 servings.

Serving Tip: Serve with whipped topping, whipped cream or vanilla ice cream if desired.

Cook A Delicious Dinner Quick As A Wink

Serve salmon loaf with creamed peas.

How many times have you wished you could cook dinner quick as a wink? Or needed to prepare a nutritious meal for your family when your heart just wasn't in it? Well, this recipe for a complete Salmon Loaf Supper from a Whirlpool microwave oven cookbook is just the thing to add a little spring to your step.

SALMON LOAF SUPPER

Total cooking time: 15 minutes
 1/4 cup chopped onion
 2 tablespoons butter
 2 beaten eggs
 1/2 cup milk
 1 1/2 cups soft bread crumbs (2 slices)

2 tablespoons snipped parsley
 2 teaspoons lemon juice
 1 16-ounce can salmon, drained, flaked, and bones removed
 1 10-ounce package frozen peas in cream sauce
 1 package 1-layer size spice cake mix
 4 preheated crescent rolls
 Canned white frosting

In a mixing bowl combine the chopped onion and butter. Place in microwave oven.
 Cook at high for two minutes till onion is tender. Stir in the eggs, milk, bread crumbs, parsley, lemon juice, and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Add the salmon, mix well. Shape into 7x3" loaf. Place in 8x8x2" baking dish. Cover loosely with waxed paper. Place to the far right on the rack in the microwave oven. Place the frozen peas with cream sauce mix in a 1-quart casserole. Add water or milk and butter as directed on the package. Cover and place to the far left on the bottom of the microwave oven.

Cook the salmon loaf and the peas mixture at medium high for eight minutes. Give the salmon dish a half turn and stir the peas. Meanwhile, prepare cake mix as directed on package. Spoon 2 tablespoons batter into each of four 6-ounce custard cups lined with paper bake cups. (Refrigerate the remaining batter to bake later.) Arrange filled cups to the left on the rack in the microwave oven. Cook cupcakes at high for 4 minutes. Place the crescent rolls on the bottom of the microwave oven, below the salmon loaf.

Cook at high for one minute till the rolls are warm. Top the cupcakes with canned frosting. Serve slices of salmon loaf with peas spooned over. Serves 4.

CASSEROLES AND BAKING DISHES

A casserole is round or oval-shaped and often has a fitted cover. A baking dish is usually square or rectangular and is shallow. A loaf dish is rectangular with deep sides. Use waxed paper or vented plastic wrap when the recipe calls for a cover.

Many manufacturers imprint the volume or size on the container, usually on the bottom or under the handles. To determine the volume of the casserole, measure the amount of water it holds when filled completely to the top. To determine dimensions of a baking dish, measure across the top from the inside edges.

Remember that if you substitute a 2-quart casserole for a 2-quart baking dish, it may be necessary to adjust the cooking time because the depth of the food in the container will change.

ITALIAN VEGETABLE MEDLEY

Total cooking time: 6 minutes
 2 cups zucchini, sliced 1/4 inch thick

1 small onion, thinly sliced and separated into rings
 1 tablespoon butter or margarine

1 tablespoon snipped parsley
 1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon dried basil, crushed

1 cup cherry tomatoes, halved
 In 1 1/2-quart casserole combine zucchini, onion, butter, parsley, lemon juice, salt, and basil. Cover; place in microwave oven.

Cook at HIGH for 5 minutes till zucchini is almost done. Add cherry tomatoes. Cover and cook at HIGH for 1 minute till heated through. Makes 4 servings.

CABBAGE-CARROT TOSS

Total cooking time: 6 minutes
 3 cups shredded cabbage
 1 cup shredded carrots
 1 medium red onion, thinly sliced and halved

2 tablespoons snipped parsley
 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
 1/4 teaspoon dried basil, crushed

In 2-quart casserole combine cabbage, carrots, onion, parsley, butter or margarine, basil, and 1/4 teaspoon salt. Cover and place in microwave oven.

Cook vegetables at HIGH for 3 minutes; stir. Cook at HIGH for 3 minutes till vegetables are crisp-tender. Makes 4 servings.

ZUCCHINI PARMESAN

Total cooking time: 10 minutes
 6 cups sliced zucchini (about 1 1/2 pounds)
 2 tablespoons butter or margarine

1/4 teaspoon celery salt
 3 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese

In 8x8x2-inch baking dish combine zucchini, butter, and celery salt. Cover with waxed paper; place in microwave oven.

Cook zucchini mixture at HIGH for 10 minutes, stirring every 3 minutes. Sprinkle Parmesan cheese atop. Serves 6.

TIPS & TECHNIQUES

Peeling tomatoes: In a 2-cup glass measure or medium bowl bring 1 cup water to boiling. Remove dish from microwave oven. Spear a tomato with a long-tined meat fork. Submerge the tomato in the hot water; hold to count of twelve. Hold the tomato under cold running tap water; peel.

Cutting into equal pieces: Fresh vegetables will cook more evenly when they are cut into uniform sizes and shapes. Irregular-shaped pieces have a tendency to overcook and become mushy in spots while other areas may require additional cooking time.

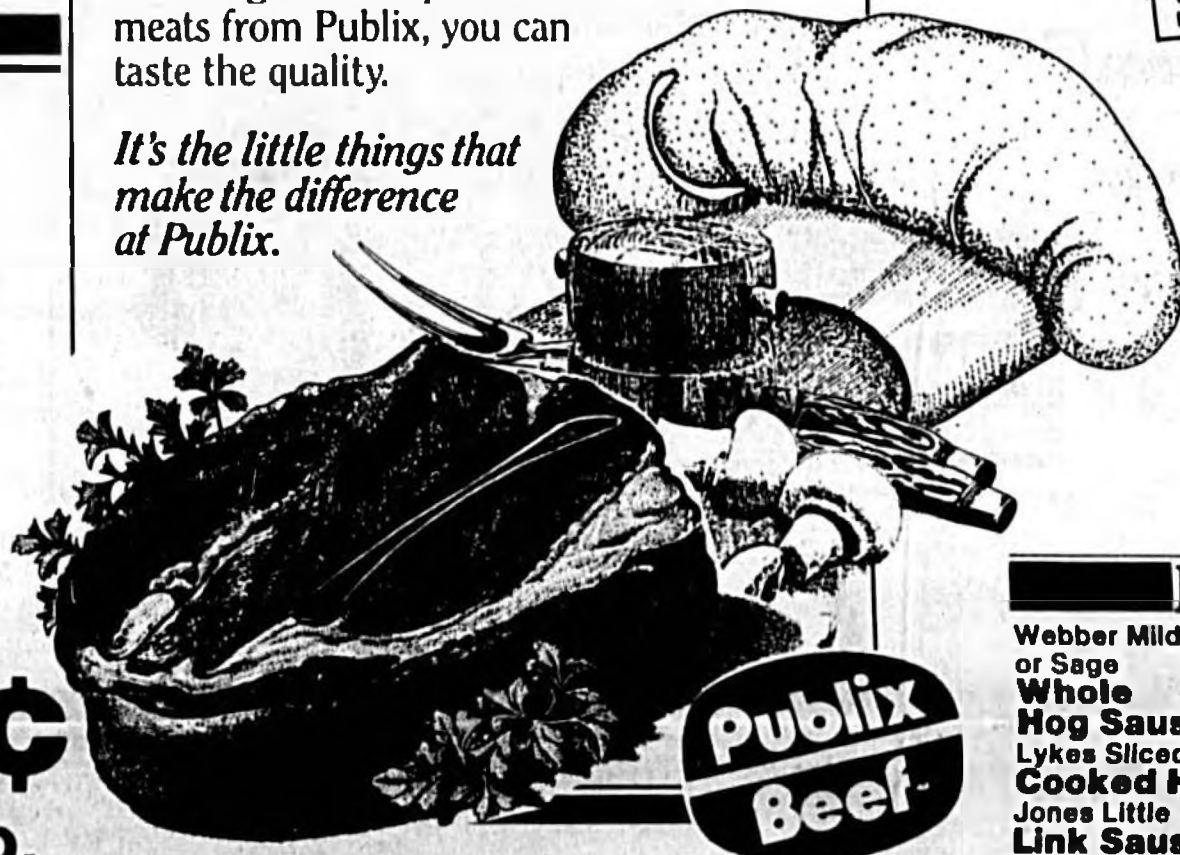

Cooking spinach: To cook leafy vegetables, such as spinach or collard greens, wash and trim leaves. Place the greens in a large casserole; cover and cook as directed in your microwave oven cooking chart. The water that clings to the leaves will be adequate moisture for cooking.

January Shopping Basket Full of Florida

The January fresh vegetables and fruit shopping basket will have kumquats to tomatoes from Florida. There'll be enough of everything to observe any New Year's holiday tradition.

Recipe ideas capitalizing on the abundance of Florida commodities in January offer compatibility with most any menu plan. These ideas include:

PORK CROWN ROAST WITH CELERY-WILD RICE STUFFING

- 1 14-16 rib pork crown roast (about 7 1/2 pounds)*
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 2 6-ounce boxes long grain and wild rice with seasoning packets
- 2 cups Florida celery, sliced thin
- 1/4 cup onion, chopped fine
- 8 ounces fresh Florida mushrooms, sliced
- 1 cup butter
- 1 teaspoon sage
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup fresh Florida parsley, chopped
- 1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning
- 1 cup Florida pecans, chopped
- 2 Florida eggs, well beaten
- Parsley
- Cherry tomatoes

Sprinkle pork roast with one tablespoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Place roast, rib-end down, in open roasting pan; roast two hours in a preheated 325° oven. Meanwhile cook rice according to package directions; set aside. Simmer-saute the celery, onions and mushrooms in butter until tender, but not brown. Take off heat and add all but last three ingredients. Add eggs slowly while continually beating. Mix lightly but thoroughly with rice (enough for 14 1/2-cup servings). After two hours remove roast from oven; invert roast so ribs are up. Fill cavity of roast with stuffing. (Bake leftover stuffing in covered greased casserole during last 30 minutes of roasting time.) Insert meat thermometer between two ribs into center of meat, being careful not to touch bone. Return to oven and continue roasting 45 minutes to 1 1/2 hours or until meat thermometer reaches 170° F. Place roast on platter; let stand 15 minutes for easier carving. Garnish with parsley and clusters of cherry tomatoes. Slice between ribs to carve. Serves 14-16.

*Order a crown roast (loin roast curved into crown shape) from your meatman several days ahead.

BLEU CHEESE STUFFED CELERY

- 2 packages (3 ounces each) cream cheese
 - 1/2 cup Bleu cheese
 - 2 tablespoons milk
 - About 24 ribs crisp celery, 3-4" long
 - Paprika
- Soften cream cheese and mix with Bleu cheese and milk. Fill crisp celery ribs neatly with a knife or press the filling through a cake decorator's tube. Garnish with paprika. Yields about 24 ribs.

STUFFED YELLOW SQUASH

- 7 medium yellow Florida squash
 - 1 lb. ground Florida chuck
 - 1/2 cup onion, finely chopped
 - 1/4 cup celery, finely chopped
 - 1/4 cup bread crumbs
 - 3 tablespoons Parmesan cheese
 - 8 ounce can tomato sauce with mushrooms
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - pepper to taste
 - Parmesan cheese
- Parboil squash in salted water for 10-15 minutes or until it can be easily pierced with a fork. Cook; split lengthwise, scoop out pulp and reserve. Saute meat, onion and celery. Add chopped pulp, bread crumbs, cheese, salt, and pepper. Stuff shells and place in casserole. Cover with tomato sauce and sprinkle generously with additional Parmesan cheese. Bake at 350° for 30 minutes. Serves 7.

LIME PUDDING CAKE

- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
 - 1/4 cup sugar
 - 3 Florida eggs, separated
 - 3 tablespoons flour
 - 1 1/4 cups milk
 - 1/4 cup Florida lime juice
 - grated lime peel of 1 lime (about 2 teaspoons)
 - green food coloring
 - Confectioners' sugar
- Preheat oven to 350° F. In large bowl cream butter and sugar together. Beat in egg yolks until blended. At low speed of mixer blend in flour. Add milk, lime juice, and peel. Tint with 2 drops of green food coloring to give delicate green color. Beat egg whites until soft peaks form when beater is raised. Using rubber spatula or wooden spoon, fold egg whites into lime mixture. Turn mixture into shallow 8 1/2" baking dish or 6 small or 4 large custard cups. Set dish in pan; pour boiling water into pan to depth of 1". Bake 40-45 min. for large dish or until golden brown and knife inserted in center comes out clean. (Custard cups will take 20-30 min., depending on their size.) Let stand at least 15 min. before serving. Sprinkle top lightly with confectioners' sugar. Serve warm or cold, with whipped cream if desired. Serves 4-6.

FLORIDA CUCUMBER SALAD

- 1 3-oz. package lime gelatin
 - 1/4 teaspoon salt
 - 1 cup boiling water
 - 1/4 cup cold water
 - 2 tablespoons vinegar
 - 2 teaspoons grated onion
 - dash of pepper
 - 1/4 cup diced Florida tomato
 - 1/2 cup diced Florida cucumber
 - 1/4 cup diced Florida celery
- Dissolve gelatin and salt in boiling water. Add cold water, vinegar, onion, and pepper. Chill until slightly thickened. Then fold in vegetables. Pour into a 1-quart mold or individual molds. Makes about 3 cups, or 6 individual salads.

SKILLET SLAW

- 1 slice bacon
 - 2 tablespoons onion, finely chopped
 - 1 tablespoon vinegar
 - 1 tablespoon water
 - 1 1/2 teaspoons sugar
 - 1/4 teaspoon salt
 - pepper
 - 2 cups Florida cabbage, shredded
 - 1 small apple, pared and finely chopped
 - 1/4 cup dairy sour cream
- In a medium size saucepan fry bacon till crisp; drain; reserve drippings, crumble bacon and set aside. Add onion to bacon drippings and cook 2 minutes. Stir in vinegar, water, sugar, salt and a dash of pepper. Bring just to boiling. Add cabbage and apple; toss to coat. Cover and cook over medium heat 5 minutes or until cabbage just wilts. Stir in sour cream; top with crumbled bacon. Serves 4.

BARBECUED BEEF SHANK

- 3-4 oranges
- 1 tablespoon fresh grated orange peel
- 1/2 cup fresh squeezed orange juice
- 2 pounds beef shanks
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1 tablespoon shortening
- 1/4 cup catsup
- 2 tablespoons vinegar

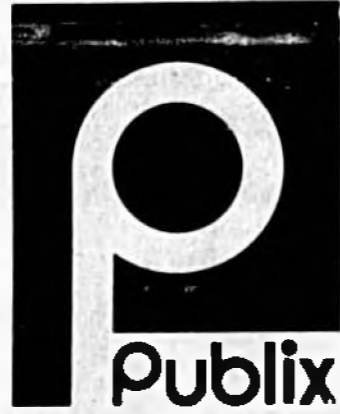

- 1 tablespoon honey
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1/4 teaspoon chill powder

Grate peel from oranges. Peel 2 oranges and slice into half cartwheels. Juice remaining oranges to measure 1/4 cup. Heat pressure cooker and add shortening. Sprinkle beef shanks with salt and pepper; brown on both sides. Combine remaining ingredients; pour over browned meat. Close cover securely. Place pressure regulator on vent pipe and cook 20 minutes with pressure regulator rocking slowly.

Cool pressure cooker at once. Serve meat with sauce and orange half cartwheels.

CARROT AMBROSIA

- 3 cups Florida carrots, shredded
 - 1/4 cup lime juice
 - 2 cups Florida orange sections, chopped
 - 1 3/4 oz. can flaked coconut
 - 2 cups miniature marshmallows
 - 3 tablespoons honey
 - 1/2 cup sour cream
 - 1/4 cup mayonnaise
 - lettuce leaves
- Combine carrots, lime juice, oranges, coconut, and marshmallows. Combine honey, sour cream, and mayonnaise; mix well, and pour over carrot mixture. Toss lightly. Serve on lettuce if desired. Serves 6-8.

Warm Up To Bowl Of Clam Chowder

What better way to satisfy a hungry family on a bitter cold night than with a piping hot serving of homemade soup. Laden with a variety of nutritious ingredients, this recipe for good, old-fashioned New England Clam Chowder was developed by the Home Economists at Kitchen Aid using their large capacity food processor. The weather aside, it's also a good recipe for a busy cook, because it can be prepared ahead in just a few simple steps.

- 3 medium potatoes, peeled and cut into 1-inch pieces
 - 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
 - 1 cup water
 - 2 cans (8 1/2 oz. each) minced clams, with juice
 - 4 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
 - 6 tablespoons flour
 - 4 cups milk
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- Position metal work blade in work bowl. Add onions and pulse 7 to 8 times to coarsely chop.

Chowder perfect for cold night.

Melt butter in a 4-quart pot over medium heat. Add onions and saute until tender. Add carrots, potatoes, and water. Cook until vegetables are tender.

about 15 to 20 minutes. Stir in clams with juice. Combine butter and flour to make a smooth paste. Slowly add flour mixture to pot, stirring consistently. Add milk, salt, and pepper. Reduce heat and cook until soup thickens, stirring constantly. Yield: 10 to 12 servings

Doctor Practices What She Preaches About In Cookbook

NEW YORK (UPI) — Nutritionist Dr. Mary Winston the other morning drank a tall glass of orange juice, spooned "little shredded wheats" into a bowl and poured on skim milk, then munched toast spread with "less than a teaspoon of margarine." That's her usual breakfast. For lunch, Dr. Winston said, she eats almost anything that is not fatty, fried or high cholesterol. And dinner? "The main course is fish or chicken and, on occasion, red meat with all the fat cut off. "I prefer a fish dish."

The glimpse into Dr. Winston's dietary style shows she practices the low-fat, low cholesterol diet she preaches in the "American Heart Association Cookbook" (David McKay, $15.95). Over the last 10 years, 4.5 million Americans have bought it, earning $300,000 in royalties for the AHA.

"The new and revised fourth edition," out recently, contains 600 low fat, low cholesterol recipes, including some for 2-year-olds.

Since 1973, Dr. Winston, Medical Program Science Administrator at AHA headquarters, Dallas, and Dr. Ruthe Esleman, University of Rhode Island, Kingston, R.I., have been official compilers and testers of recipes submitted by AHA affiliates for possible inclusion in the cookbook.

"We want people to enjoy the recipes and take care of their health," Dr. Winston said.

"We want healthy eating to be a happy thing the whole family can enjoy. We don't want eating healthy to be drudgery. The recipe selection reflects that point of view.

"Our philosophy is that food is something to enjoy. It is not a philosophy of deprivation. You start out with these recipes and gradually you're down to 4-to-6 ounce portions of meat and you don't want those 16-ounce steaks anymore.

"You know all along we've always said to try to eat more fish and poultry and if you eat meat, cut off the fat.

"Many recipes in the cookbook emphasize using meat in smaller portions."

Dr. Antonio M. Gotto Jr., AHA president and chairman of Medicine at Baylor College of Medicine and at Methodist Hospital, Houston, said revisions in the cookbook reflect the latest studies on the diet-heart disease connection.

The "latest," he said, supports the theory that reducing saturated fats and cholesterol in the diet can help reduce an individual's risk of heart disease.

Saturated fats are found in most animal products and some vegetable oils, such as coconut oil and palm oil. Cholesterol is in all animal products.

"Heart-healthy eating does not have to be bland or tasteless," Gotto said.

Dr. Winston said, "Low-fat, low-cholesterol recipes can be just as exciting to prepare and just as delicious as our favorite recipes."

She said all the cookbook recipes have been tested for calories, taste, texture, consistency, appeal, ease of preparation and cooking time.

Expanded in the revised edition is the section containing tips on "eating healthy" in ethnic restaurants.

A few samples:
Chinese: "When eating Chinese, skip high-sodium soups and the noodles high in fat and calories. If the noodles are on the table, ask the waiter to remove them. Choose dishes that are boiled, steamed or lightly stir-fried in vegetable oil, rather than sauteed."

French: "A good rule for dining out in French restaurants is keep it simple. Steamed mussels or a salad (with dressing on the side) are fine starters, but avoid French onion soup, high in calories and sodium. Be wary of sauces, the heart of classic French cuisine. Some sauces, including hollandaise, made with egg yolks and butter; bechamel, with milk, butter and flour; and bearnaise, are poor choices. The alternatives are French wine sauces, such as bordelaise; tasty and usually not as high in fat or cholesterol."

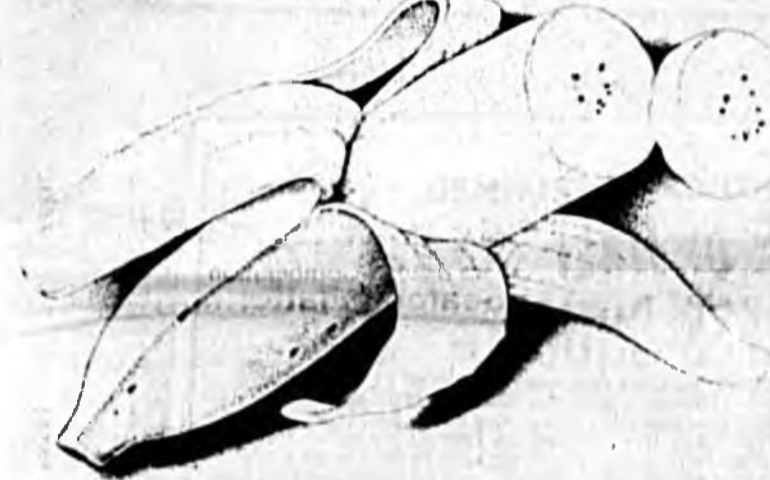

Greek: "If you're counting calories, you may worry that Greek food is too oily. Seek dishes prepared with limited amounts of olive oil, and you'll find many acceptable choices. Tzatziki, an appetizer made with yogurt and cucumbers, is safe to order, especially if the yogurt is the low-fat type. Pita bread is very low in fat.

Italian: "To many diners, Italian food says pasta. And pasta is a good choice for those on low-fat diets, as long as they are not filled with cheese or fatty meat or tossed with butter or cream sauces. Linguini with white or red clam sauce is a fine pasta selection. Acceptable sauces include marinara, made with wine, or marinara, made with tomatoes, onions and garlic (no meat)."

Those on a low-fat, low-cholesterol diet need not shun steakhouses, according to the AHA cookbook.
