Attorney Quits Post At Altamonte Springs

The lawyer who has served the City of Altamonte Springs as city attorney for the past 11 years, since the fast-growing community operated out of a "cigar box," resigned the position last night, effective July 31.

S. Joseph Davis Jr., former legislator and member of the Sanford law firm of Stanstrom, Davis and McIntosh, listed "increasing demands of my private law practice" as a major reason for his leaving the post.

"As the city continues to grow, additional responsibilities are placed upon the office of city attorney which tends to limit my private practice," he said in his written resignation. "Because of this it is to the best interest of my law firm and the City that I submit my resignation as city attorney . . .

"I, of course, will continue to complete all work which I am presently undertaking and will work with the Council in the transition period with the next attorney."

Davis told The Herald today he will continue in his position as city attorney of Longwood.

Altamonte Council did not act on the resignation last night.

'Government In The Sunshine' Probe Solon To Testify To Grand Jury

By DONNA ESTES

State Sen. Bill Gunter will be among the first witnesses to testify before the Seminole grand jury Monday in its probe of the alleged violation of the "Government in the Sunshine" law by three Altamonte Springs councilmen. The Herald was reliably informed today.

Gunter, who was subpoenaed to a high source, will be questioned closely about the letter sent to his legislative auditing committee over the signatures of Altamonte Councilmen William Nuckols, Albert Sabbarose and Donald Martin requesting a state examination of city records.

In addition, the Seminole Orange senator is to be asked to identify the written annual special delivery communication.

According to The Herald's informant, others to be called to testify include former City Clerk Dorothy Henderson, Mayor W. Lawrence Stafford and Vice Mayor Neil Stolin.

Stafford, at last night's meeting of the Altamonte City Council, called the act of the three in requesting the audit outside a Council meeting a "shameful, ultra-liberal and cowardly" and stated the audit "is the second time a hoax like this has been pulled on the citizens of Altamonte Springs."

Assistant State Attorney Thomas Spear today denied the fact his office does not have funds to hire an investigator to place in the field to look into the charges. He said, however, that with beginning of the budget year, July 1, funds will be available and his office will have the opportunity to use men on a part-time basis from the sheriff's department and the Florida Law Enforcement Bureau.

Plaintiff of the Year

GOVERNOR'S Citation for the "Plant of the Year" award was presented to Mary Plant of General Dynamics at a luncheon meeting held by Florida Power Corporation. From the left: Tom Cawley, manager of industrial relations; Ellis Foust, advance planning; L. M. Kieck, materials manager; Mayor Lee P. Moore, who made the presentation; Ben Ward, Chamber of Commerce vice president, and Charles Johnson, Florida Power Corporation division manager.

'Wrong Conception' Of School SIC Aide Hits News Media

By TOM ALEXANDER

The industrial chief reported that Governors Rockefeller and Kirk had sent letters to Vice President Spiro Agnew asking his assistance in obtaining the grant.

Rathel told the Commission meeting at Sanford Airport, the school contract would be awarded to either General Electric or the AVCO Corporation and whichever company was granted the contract would institute skill training in building, electronics, machinist and sheet metal work.

Rathel concluded his remarks on the training school by stating, "These are not what we considered to be migratory skills."

The $3 million grant is about half of what was proposed by the AVCO Corporation, which would have used some 30 buildings at the airport resulting in some $60,000 net profit for the city.

A mobile homes builder was reported to be looking over facilities at the base in hopes of setting up an operation. Vintage Homes, a national concern, has submitted a proposal to take over Building Four for $12,300 per year to manufacture trailers.

Other proposals included: One bid of $1,000 per year for a 20-acre orange grove located on the base.
American Radio Chemical Company of Orlando for Building 137 for $1,200 per year.
Mid State Fiber Glass of Sanford for building 277 at $2,000 per year.
Jeno's Inc., of Duluth, Minn., for a foundation at $60 per year.

In other action, James Ryan, representing the Seminole County Association for Retarded Children, asked if the foundation could lease the officer swimming pool for $300 per year.
The Commission granted the association's request for the facility. Ryan stressed that one of the best areas of therapy for these youngsters is swimming and that his organization also hopes to set up a day school for some 20 youngsters in one of the pool's locker rooms.

Newsman Marion Harman Dies

James Marion Harman Sr., 62, of 472 Rossella Dr., former managing editor of The Sanford Herald for three years, died Wednesday following an extended illness.

A former head of the Orlando Sentinel Star Seminole County bureau, he was bureau chief of West Orange edition of that newspaper at the time of his death.

A native of Augusta, Ga., he moved to Florida in 1948 from Valdosta, Ga. He came to Sanford as program and news director for WTHR radio station.

He was a charter member and president of the congregation of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Sanford, a director of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, an honorary member of the Sanford Jaycees, and member of the Sanford Kiwanis Club and American Legion.

Mr. Harman was a Marine Corps veteran of World War II and when the Sanford Naval Training Station was in operation he was made an honorary member of the Blue Angels, the Navy's precision jet flying team.

He was active in community affairs and especially interested in youth activities. He established three annual literary awards for poetry, short stories and news writing at Seminole High School.

His hobby was collecting antique books and he and his wife have one of the finest collections in the state.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth H. Harman, Sanford; son, Marion Jr., Oxford, Ga.; daughters, Mrs. Harry Williamson Jr., Stone Mountain, Ga.; Mrs. James Hobbins, Tallahassee, and Mrs. James Edwards and Mrs. Bill Kitchner, both of Covington, Ga.; sister, Mrs. Harry Sweeney, Savannah, Ga., and 10 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 4 p.m. Friday, at Lutheran Church of the Redeemer with Rev. E. A. Teuscher and Rev. Herbert Gourea officiating. Interment will be in Oak Lawn Memorial Cemetery.

Wounded Carried For Two Days Through Jungles Marines, Reds Clash In DMZ; Choppers Lost

By GEORGE ESTER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — A U.S. Marine patrol clashed with North Vietnamese troops inside the demilitarized zone, then carried some of its wounded over mountains and through jungles for two days to safety, U.S. headquarters announced today.

Two Marine helicopters were shot down and destroyed as they tried to rescue the patrol of 22 men or more men. All of the helicopter crewmen escaped unhurt and joined the patrol.

It was the first ground clash reported in the DMZ in nearly three months, and a U.S. spokesman said the two choppers were the first shot down over the zone since the halt in the bombing of North Vietnam Nov. 1.

The action began last Saturday near the western end of the DMZ and the last Marines finally made it back Wednesday. Through it all, only a few North Vietnamese were wounded. Four of them were hit accidentally by fire from an Air Force gunship that was covering the patrol's withdrawal.

The patrol ran into about 25 North Vietnamese troops Saturday morning while on a reconnaissance mission about a mile inside the southern half of the DMZ and nine miles northwest of the Marine base known as The Rockpile.

The Americans and the North Vietnamese exchanged machine-gun and small-arms fire. As the fighting continued, Marine reinforcements were flown up by helicopter and joined in the shooting.

U.S. headquarters said three

Marines were wounded in this clash while North Vietnamese losses were not known.

Five hours after the initial contact, a Marine CH-53 helicopter trying to lift out the ground troops was hit by machine-gun fire and crashed. The chopper was destroyed and its three or four crewmen were uninjured and joined the Marines on the ground.

Two hours later, another CH-53 was hit by anti-aircraft fire, crashed and its uninjured crewmen joined the ground force.

American artillery below the DMZ opened up on the North Vietnamese guns that shot down the two helicopters.

During the night the ground force began moving south, heading for another site from which they might be lifted out.

S. Vietnamese Casualties Up

SAIGON (AP) — The number of Americans killed in Vietnam last week was six less than the week before, but the total of combat deaths among South Vietnamese government forces and among the enemy ranks increased.

The casualty summaries issued today were for the seven-day period ending at midnight Saturday, however, and included only two days of the stepped-up enemy activity prior to the Midway summit conference Sunday.

U.S. headquarters reported 232 Americans killed in action last week, compared with 201 the previous week. The number of wounded was higher, 2,128 compared with 1,819 a week earlier.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 457 government troops killed in action last week, a marked increase from 261 dead the previous week. The number of government wounded last week was 1,391, also an increase over 1,021 a week earlier.

The two commands said 252 enemy were reported killed last week. The total for the previous week was increased from 2,537 to 2,067 in accordance with reports received since last Thursday.

The casualty reports raised to 41 the number of Americans reported killed across a wide stretch of the midcontinent today, raising some areas with wind and hail and drenching others with torrential rains.

The storms boiled up along a cool front which dropped the temperature in freezing in Montana before dispersing and weakened the community of Cut Bank with 2 inches of new-fallen snow.

Tornadoes dipped into parts of Kansas, Oklahoma and Iowa late Wednesday. Violent wind and hailstorms also pounded sections of northern Illinois, southern Wisconsin and northwestern Missouri.

A tornado churned into the central Iowa town of Gilman, nearly midway between Des Moines and Cedar Rapids—Wednesday night and caused extensive damage in fallen trees and power lines. One man was reported injured when a tree fell on his house.

Now, More Than Before

SEMINOLE COUNTY, Fla. (AP) — Seminole County is spending more than ever on its cancer search.

Cigarette tax receipts returned to Seminole County and the six municipalities rose some 12 per cent in June over the comparison period last year, topping the state wide average.

A. E. Beutler, director of the State Beverage Department of Florida, reports average increase across the state at 20.12 per cent.

Funds returned to Seminole and its cities from the tax totaled some $508,011.56 during the fiscal year ending December 31, 1968.

Next largest amount went to City of Casselberry at $9,425.84 for fiscal year total of $94,400.48.

Amounts during the comparison period last year to Sanford was $16,583.82 and to Casselberry was $6,215.51.

Received by the other four municipalities with first amount being June receipts, second amount comparison period last year and fiscal year total to date are: Longwood—$5,206.11, $2,725.89 and $46,237.48; Altamonte Springs—$2,802.85, $2,980.25 and $20,856.27; Oviedo—$2,207.02, $1,472.88 and $22,979.80; and North Orlando—$415.78, $271 and $2,876.75.

The county government at the same time received $6,688.36 in June from cigarette taxes for a fiscal year total of $46,098.15.

Councilmen Best Altamonte Mayor

By DONNA ESTES
Battle which has been waged over the past five months between Altamonte Springs Mayor W. Lawrence Swofford and the City Council was won hands down by the governing body last night.

The mayor had insisted the chief executive has the power to appoint a zoning board while the Council had maintained that under the charter it should do the appointing.

Opinion from Attorney General Earl Farello, read into the record, stated "it would appear . . . that it was the intent . . . (of the charter) that the Council rather than the mayor make the appointment to the zoning board."

The Council and mayor, at odds over this problem, requested legislative during the last session to leave no doubt about the appointment powers of the mayor to the zoning group.

The legislation was not passed, according to a reliable source, because of conflicting letters from members of the governing body. One councilman, the source said, has his signature not only on an official letter requesting the change but also on another asking that the change not be passed.

Swofford, despite the language of the charter, had cited at an earlier meeting precedent for his filling the seats on the zoning board with Council approval and had declared the intent when the charter was passed to continue this power with the municipal chief executive.

City Attorney S. Joseph Davis Jr. agreed the intent had been as Swofford stated but noted Farello's opinion on the matter is clear.

The mayor previously agreed to heed the opinion of the attorney general.

Viet Cong Switch Leaders

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
Associated Press Writer
PARIS (AP) — The Viet Cong's new provisional revolutionary government took over the seats of the National Liberation Front today at the weekly session of the Vietnam peace talks. But there were no new faces at the table.

Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, former minister of the Viet Cong-proclaim government, took over the leadership of the front's delegation in which she had been No. 2. She replaced Tran Bau Kiem, who is returning to Vietnam to assume "duties for the presidency" in the revolutionary government.

Deputy U.S. Delegate Lawrence E. Walsh minimized the importance of the changeover. He told newsmen:

"We don't think it will have any significance as far as this conference is concerned. We shall continue to deal with the other side regardless of what they call themselves."

NEW BOOKKEEPER of the City of Altamonte Springs, O. W. Bennett, assumed duties of handling municipal accounts first thing this morning.

President May Lose Tax Race

By EDWARD LEBRITTON
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration appears to have slipped behind in its race to have Congress extend the 16 per cent income tax surcharge by the June 30 expiration date.

And there remained considerable doubt that the extension would pass at all unless the administration changes its present position and speeds up tax reforms to accompany the extension.

While the administration was stepping up its pressure for the surtax, President Nixon called a bipartisan meeting with House leaders today. Among those invited was House Speaker John W. McCormack who told a news conference Wednesday he favors Nixon's proposal to keep the surtax in effect for another year on a diminishing basis.

ACT IS UNFOLDING, hopefully, but mother's little helper was inspired early to lift the rug at the Dubuque, Iowa, library. She alone knows what she was looking for while her friends gave their attention to an international children's art exhibition.

Space Lab Lost To Spy Satellite?

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Science Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Aerospace industry sources say major breakthroughs in the art of spying by satellite may have automated techniques for unmanned satellite systems in such fields as research, communications, navigation and meteorology.

The key word, industry sources believe, was "re-usable." Under this broad heading falls development of surveillance techniques designed to make sure no nation can fire a missile, test nuclear weapons, move troops or ply the oceans without the U.S. government knowing about it in time to take defensive action if necessary.

The Defense Department prices the SSS, a multimanned missile, at $30 million each. The smaller U.S. Air Force Minuteman ICBMs range from $7 million to $10 million.

Pentagon officials point to the $9 billion expense as illustrating the Soviet Union's determination to field a missile powerful enough to knock out the Minuteman silos in this country.

5 Priests Sent To Jail For Military Rebellion

Spanish military court has sentenced five Roman Catholic priests to prison terms ranging from 10 to 12 years for Basque separatist activity, authorities announced today.

The sentences were the stiffest penalties meted out to priests in the Franco government's current drive to break up the independence movement in the three Basque provinces of northwest Spain.

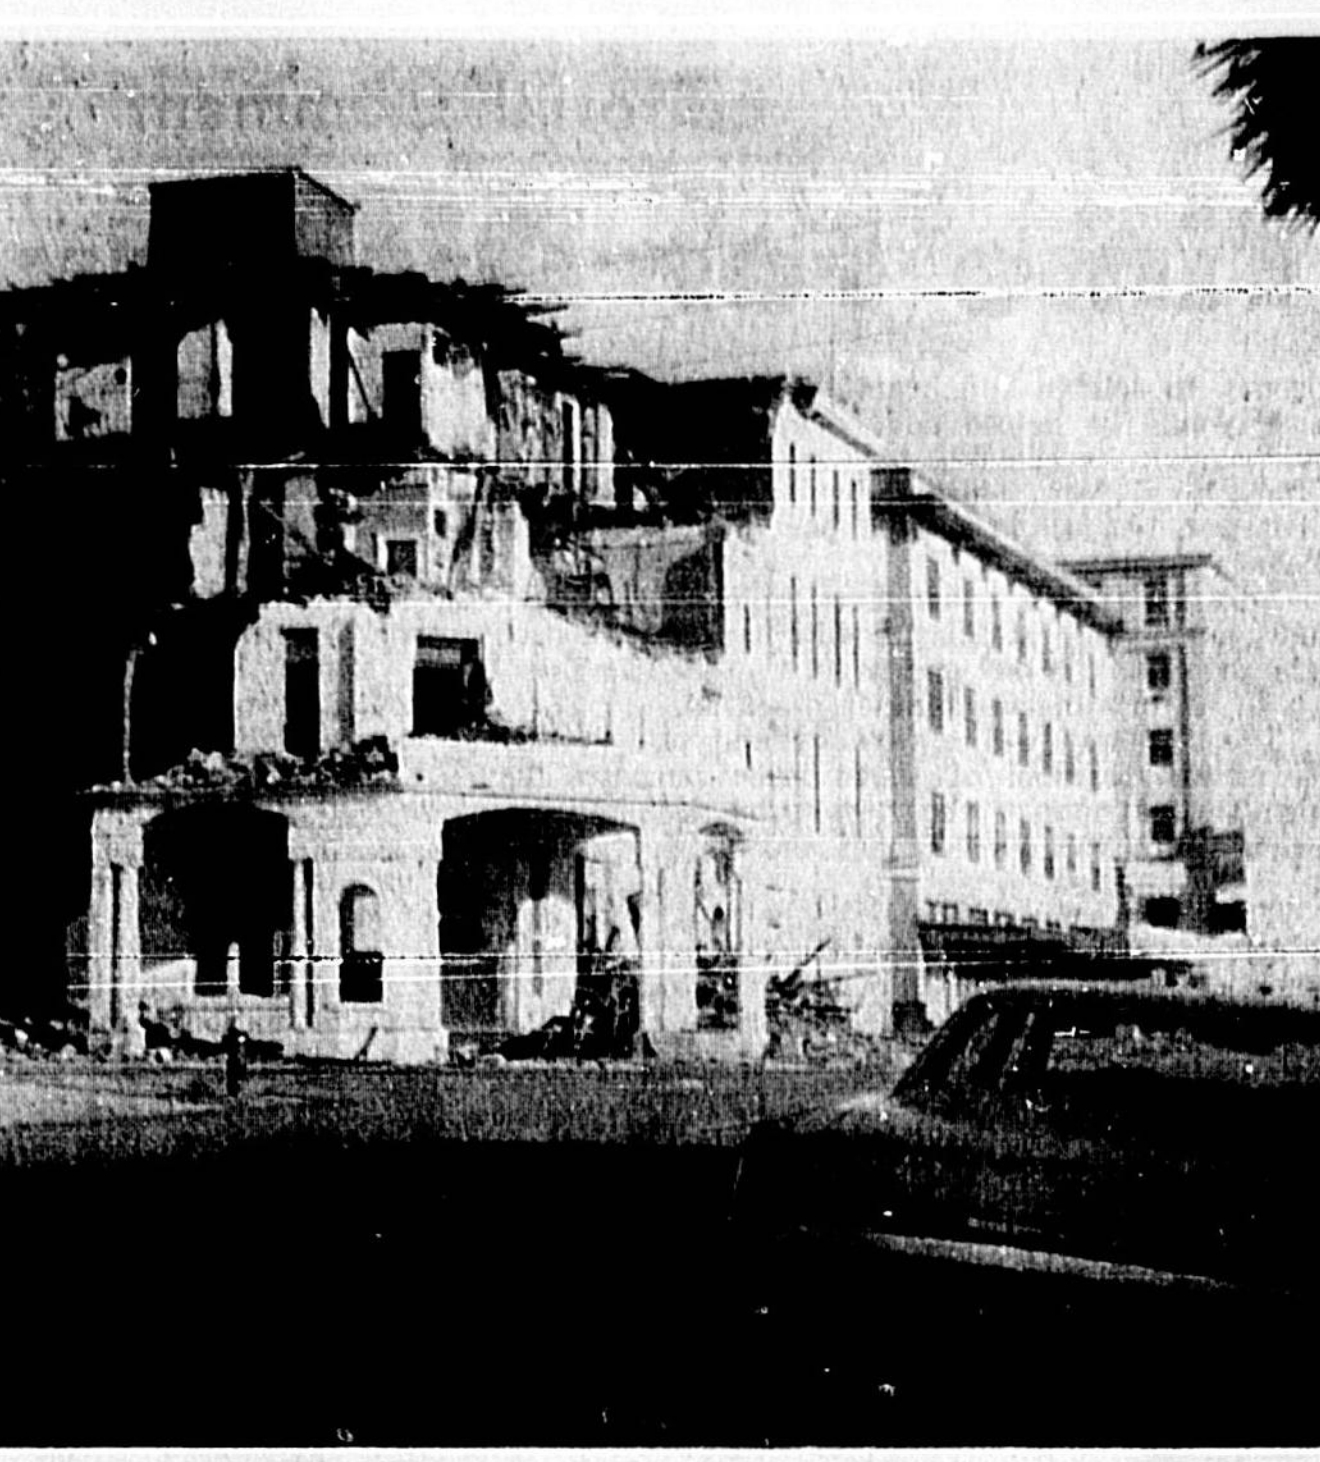

Meanwhile in Catalonia, another hotbed of anti-Franco sentiment on the northeast coast of Spain, six priests were in the sixth day of a hunger strike at the Barcelona diocesan seminary in support of the Basque priests.

The Basque priests were tried behind closed doors Wednesday on charges of military rebellion and dispensing subversive propaganda. They were sentenced to 10 to 20 years in prison prison.

Hundreds have been jailed. The arrests of priests have raised a thorny issue between the Franco government and the Vatican.

Under the 1883 concordat between Spain and the Vatican, priests are immune from civil authority unless their bishop gives permission for them to be tried. The treaty also guarantees that church buildings will be regarded as sanctuaries except in cases of "urgent necessity."

The authorities used this to get around the refusal by the bishop of Bilbao to surrender the five priests.

Congress Ponders Campus Unrest

By JOHN BECKER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration's top education officials have been summoned to Capitol Hill to clear up what some congressmen say are conflicting statements on a bill dealing with campus unrest.

Secretary of Health Education and Welfare Robert H. Finch and James E. Allen, the commissioner of education, were called into the private meeting today by Republican members of the House Education and Labor Committee in order to outline their views on the legislation.

The GOP members are supporting a bill that would require colleges to file plans for dealing with campus disturbances with the government or face a cutoff of all federal education funds.

Another provision of the bill would broaden an existing law cutting off aid to students involved in serious uprisings by including students receiving veterans' education benefits and social security payments.

Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., chief sponsor of the bill, told the committee that Finch informed her he would not oppose the bill, although in an earlier appearance before her subcommittee he had said no new federal laws were needed to deal with student unrest.

But Rep. Ogden L. Reid, R-N.Y., the only GOP member of the committee against the bill, said Finch had expressed strong opposition in several private conversations with him.

Rep. Albert H. Quie, R-Minn., said after talking to Finch he was unsure where the secretary stood. "That's what we want to find out," he said.

Allen, has been quoted in newspaper reports as saying the bill would be impossible to administer and would amount to federal intrusion in the internal affairs of a university.

Church Sets Building Ceremony

By VERGIE PECK
Ground Breaking Ceremony will take place at 12 noon, Sunday, for an all purpose building at the St. Peter & Paul Catholic Parish site on Howell Branch Road, Goldenrod.

Officiating at the ceremonies will be the Very Reverend Monsignor Terence J. Farrell, pastor of St. James Church, Orlando, and dean of the Central Florida Diocese.

The primary elements of Triodetic are hubs and structural tubes, which combine to form structures as simple as lattice trusses or as complex as the braided dome.

This system will be exposed to form structure as simple as a white background formed by the roof deck, giving St. Peter & Paul Church a most modern, unique architectural interior decor.

J. Lewis, Ex-Union Chief, Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — John J. Lewis, ex-union chief who led the coal-buck future of thousands of miners in the soot grim company towns and backwoods hollows.

In his time, the unsmiling, bushy-haired labor giant with the leonine head and shoulders like a bear, was called a dictator. He was accused of stopping a nation in its tracks.

He said, "The nation's coal is stained with blood."

Now John J. Lewis is dead. He died Wednesday night at Doctors Hospital where he was admitted Sunday night suffering from internal bleeding. He was 89.

His last words to a reporter—five years ago—was "Organize." The same language he used in leading the United Mine Workers Union and founding the CIO.

Henry Bridges, another labor figure and boss of the longshoremen union, said about Lewis: "His whole history in his words, deeds and action. I've never seen his equal yet, and I never expect to live long enough to do so."

Lewis' death was mourned. As a youth in the mines he brained the mule with a "sprang," the wooden break-lever of a coal car. In 1933 he checked an A.P.I. leader at a union convention with one punch.

But Rep. Ogden L. Reid, R-N.Y., the only GOP member of the committee against the bill, said Finch had expressed strong opposition in several private conversations with him.

Flag Day-Time For Display-Demonstration

Have you been flying our Flag this week? If not, then Saturday — Flag Day — affords an opportunity that should not be missed. For our national emblem on that date in 1777 was named by the Continental Congress as the Flag of the United States. On Feb. 14, 1778 it was flown by Capt. John Paul Jones on the RANGER and given its first salute by a foreign state at Quiberon Bay, France.

Those were the days of trial and test for the infant republic. Before long the same banner with its stripes of red and white and its white stars dancing on a field of blue would be the symbol of liberty and freedom which would carry the message all over the world.

It would be the rallying point for patriots bearing arms and it would, from them, attain the symbolism which would move the citizenry to solemn and heartfelt respect.

It would be helped and harmed by those who would exploit its meaning to a surface performance of marching feet, blaring bands and pageantry which would spotlight only a part of its true significance.

The Flag is much more than that and demands much more at this period when re-evaluation is the order of the day and when the need for a return to its pristine meaning is essential.

The "Colors" will always be and properly so, the outward symbol of those basic purposes for which the patriots of the Revolution gathered and pledged "our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor."

That this concept has been distorted and been subjected to the grossest sort of misinterpretation is witnessed by the very depth of the debate which now challenges our society.

It is a first step, but a very important one, for our citizens to render unto the Flag the kind of respect which it must have to perform its important function in the stabilizing of our public conscience. Flag Day is not a time for jingoism. It is not a day in which the Flag's historic function of being the rallying point for our military forces should be emphasized.

But it is a day when everyone can spare a moment or two not only to display its beauty but think what great hopes have been raised as the brilliance of its Stars and Stripes have proclaimed the message to all who would see!

Those who have served in the armed forces overseas, and we number in the millions, will always receive a special thrill as memories of the Flag floating over foreign places in foreign skies come back.

For this sight is not a reminder of the sordid part of national mobilizations, of battlefield mistakes or of support area profiteering, but it prick the conscience to a lively awareness of what great purposes and great achievements it symbolized.

Today we are awaiting the placing of the Flag on the moon. This is dramatic. It is important. This is greatly to be honored and appreciated.

But the real meaning of the great principles of liberty and freedom which are embraced in its folds need no moon-shot achievement for practical application.

These broad principles have most practical and needed performances awaiting staging in our own states, counties, villages and cities.

Such performances, however, need to have the full and understanding support of all citizens. A first and easy way in which this can be shown here in Sanford-Seminole is a proper display of the Flag on June 14.

Raise it! Respect it! Understand it!

Want To Swim?

Don't tell young Paul Grishaber that our City Commission meetings are not worth attending.

He knows better and has proved it. For this youngster is one of the many who have felt that it was more than unfortunate that the Sanford municipal swimming pools were not to be in use this summer.

Not content with just grumbling, this lad went about a very practical and very effective process of democratic government. He put together a petition asking for the opening of the pools.

Then he had 180 boys and girls sign this and was ready to present it to the next City Commission meeting. This was on Tuesday night.

We all know that such pool operations cost money. We all ought to know that our municipal government is on short rations for dollars with one glaring obvious exception.

But not Paul. All he knew was that there were pools and here were the youngsters who wanted to swim in them and that would be pretty hard if the city decided not to fill them with water.

Now it appears they will be opened on a trial basis during July and August. This is quite a feather in the cap for all the citizens of Sanford who have felt thwarted at the closed pool.

More importantly, however, it is one more witness to what we have been saying editorially for some time now: Attendance at City Commission meetings by civic-minded Sanfordites is the true evidence of the real interest the citizens have in our municipal government.

In this instance it was, to be sure, a young citizen who took a specific interest in his interest that brought about action. But that is beside the point.

The point is that action was had and that the City Commission to perform its difficult function of governing our growing metropolis effectively.

Crane's Worry Clinic:

Parents And Tranquilizers

By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph. D., M. D., CASE K-522, Mariann E., aged 21, is a jolly nurse.

"The year she presided over the health of the boys in a ritzy camp in Maine.

"These lads came from New York and their parents paid approximately $1,000 for each child's summer tuition, food and housing.

"The nurse, Mariann, simply recounted her experiences. "It was fun for me since I could combine a lot of swimming and boating with my professional duties."

"But one 9-year-old boy came to camp, loaded up with bottles of tranquilizers had given them to him, for he said he could never go to sleep without them."

"Well, I took them away from him at once for I knew it was very unwise to make a drug addict out of this little boy."

"He protested and said he would never be able to sleep, but after a few nights, plus the outdoor exercises, he drifted off into slumber just as readily as the others."

"But, Dr. Crane, how could a 9-year-old child be given tranquilizers?"

"You laymen may not realize the fact that America (plus England) is on a tranquilizer 'binge.' Mothers, take note! In fact, in England the doctor now must treat 7,000 to 10,000 cases per year of heart-turpise poisoning. And we are not much better in the U.S.A. Marilyn Monroe and many other stage screen stars have ended their lives by taking too many sleeping pills or tranquilizers."

"But, Dr. Crane, such an addict may be a tranquilizer addict?"

"Yes, Dr. Crane, such an addict may be a tranquilizer addict. I am a victim of insomnia, so I simply MUST have drugs to get my rest at night."

"But, Dr. Crane, what can you do about it?"

"You don't die of insomnia! You can die from too much doing with pills."

"Most of the insomnia victims are afraid of God, which is why they can't fall asleep when all alone in their bedroom.

"They are the unchurched or 'pagan' Americans who try to live without an active partnership with the Almighty."

"That's too big a task in this hectic modern age!

"So, you either must gain serenity of soul via teamwork with the Lord, or become idolatrous and worship us doctors as little gods!

"Ten million Americans thus hound us doctors every week for reassurance, plus sedatives or sleeping potions, though they have no diagnosable physical ailments whatsoever!"

"Others try to soothe their jugged nerves by slipping over the barroom stools and talking their troubles to bartenders."

"Please remember that every time you swallow any foreign chemical, whether a tranquilizer or sedative, you add more work for your kidneys, liver and heart."

"Instead of trying to knock yourself unconscious with such a chemical club, why don't you read yourself to sleep?"

"For the main purpose of sleep, anyway, is to get you into the horizontal plane! For then your blood pressure drops and your pulse slows down 2 or 3 beats per minutes, thereby idling your human 'motor' for 8 or 9 hours!"

"Then drop your hand back upon the coverlet and notice how fast you'll drift off into 'easy slumber!'"

"(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)"

Interpretive Report:

Slow Vietnamization Of War

By RICHARD WILSON WASHINGTON, D. C. — A year and a half has now elapsed since the declaration was made not to increase military forces committed to Vietnam but to move toward the repatriation of our troops with forces of the Republic of Vietnam.

It has taken all this time to implement the withdrawal of 25,000 troops scheduled for the end of August. Now that the process has begun the program of replacement could move faster but even so it is evidently a long process.

The decision not to increase the commitment but to reduce it was made in the Johnson administration after Defense Secretary Clark M. Clifford took over from Robert S. McNamara. President Nixon is now executing a policy which had its inception with the war policy review at the end of 1967 to combat insomnia. The Nixon administration after Defense Secretary Clark M. Nixon Aim - Impress Thieu

States remains in South Vietnam with huge numbers of men, the more the politics, the economy and the culture of that country will be warped. The Communists are given a rallying cry that must in the end win them more converts. Past a certain point in time, the longer the United States stays in force, the less able the South Vietnamese will be to develop their own strength. It is like the man who relies so much on a crutch, he never learns to walk by himself.

These American advisers remember Laos, whose politicians wouldn't co-operate and whose armies didn't begin to fight until U.S. aid was cut drastically. Only then did the Lao realize they were on their own to strike or swing. They decided to go to the United States.

Nixon wanted to convince Thieu that time was running out, that Thieu must come up, and quickly, with some practical political plans for a postwar South Vietnam. This advice could best be done in face-to-face talks. In a memorandum, or in messages sent through an American ambassador, this sort of talk tends to sound like an ultimatum, the last thing Nixon wants.

Nixon wants Thieu to face the fact that there must be peace within some reasonably short States not to stay in Vietnam in force for years to come.

Key Nixon strategists now are convinced the longer the United period of time—not four, five or six years in the future.

He wants Thieu to set his sights accordingly and get to work quickly on getting the democratic forces in South Vietnam ready for that peace.

Nixon wanted to urge Thieu in person to come up quickly with some sort of a practical approach, satisfactory to the South Vietnamese, for bringing the war to a satisfactory end.

Nixon wants more progress in the negotiations. Since his administration has decided that the political solution must be what the South Vietnamese want, the basic initiative in Paris therefore depends on the South Vietnamese.

Though administration officials talk blithely of U.S. negotiations on further troop withdrawals and South Vietnamese talk on political solutions, the hard fact is that troop withdrawals are so dependent on political solutions that U.S. troop negotiations until Thieu's government makes progress in its approach to the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese on the political matters.

Thieu's approach on this is somewhat leisurely by U.S. standards. Nixon wants to implant a sense of urgency in the mind of South Vietnam's president.

The optician differs from the ophthalmologist or optometrist in that he is not permitted to examine or prescribe for the eyes. Instead, he fills the prescriptions of the other two by fabricating glasses and contact lenses. He learns through on-the-job training formal apprenticeship (four or five years), regional schools or junior colleges (one or two years), and the optician. The last two specialties are described below. Through most vision specialists are men, the fields are extremely well-suited to women, and there are good prospects for the physically handicapped, as well. Something new: several optical firms employ women as fashion eye-wear consultants. The optometrist: Examines and tests eyes to correct defective sight through the use of lenses and or vision training. He does not treat with drugs or surgery. Not less than six years of specialized college education leading to the degree of Doctor of Optometry, and the passing of a state board examination are required to practice. California Planning Plush Capitol

By BILL BOVANSKY
Associated Press Writer
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A group of legislators has been meeting weekly in secret to plan what could be one of the most lavish state capitol buildings ever constructed. A drawing shows it to be an edifice to the proud. So why the secrecy? Its supporters, who are shy about discussing it publicly, say privately they fear that disclosure before plans are completed will stir taxpayer resentment over cost.

THE SANFORD PAPERS, all 50,000 of them, neatly boxed, form the background for William Harris, history professor from the Citadel as he studies one of these historic documents in the inner vault of the Florida State Bank.

Gen. Sanford Papers Under Study Again

By CHAMBER LEONE
The Sanford Papers, one of the outstanding collections of its type in the nation, is again the subject of scrutiny by an historian, William L. Harris, professor of history at The Citadel, the military college of South Carolina in Charleston. Harris is visiting Sanford this week to continue his study of the papers, which he began 10 years ago. He will continue the study of the papers in Venezuela this summer under a grant from The Citadel.

NEW YORK — One night late in April Jerry Kosman threw a fast ball in Montreal and there was a sharp pang in his arm that felt like it had been stretched out like a slab of taffy and that it would never come back to normal.

"I tried to lift it," said the Mets' left-hander, "and it just wouldn't come up. I scooped the ball out of me."
"I mean, my arm is my livelihood!"

For the next three weeks Kosman, who won 19 games last season, his rookie year, rested his arm, took heat and whirlpool treatments, massages, and tossed in a soupcon of prayerful thoughts. The combination worked and Kosman returned to form and recently struck out 15 men in a game to prove it.

"Those three weeks were awful," he said. "Nightmares and nightmares plagued him." "Sure, I thought, 'Am I through at 25?'"

"I wondered what I would do if I were finished as a pitcher. And I just didn't know."
Don Drysdale of Los Angeles and Mickey Lolich of Detroit also have arm problems which have threatened to cripple their baseball futures. Drysdale injured his right shoulder last season when he dove to tag Ron Santo and suffered a severe dislocation of his right arm.

NEW YORK — One night late in April Jerry Kosman threw a fast ball in Montreal and there was a sharp pang in his arm that felt like it had been stretched out like a slab of taffy and that it would never come back to normal.

"I tried to lift it," said the Mets' left-hander, "and it just wouldn't come up. I scooped the ball out of me."
"I mean, my arm is my livelihood!"

For the next three weeks Kosman, who won 19 games last season, his rookie year, rested his arm, took heat and whirlpool treatments, massages, and tossed in a soupcon of prayerful thoughts. The combination worked and Kosman returned to form and recently struck out 15 men in a game to prove it.

Panthers Schedule Tryouts

ORLANDO, Fla. — The Orlando Panthers, getting ready to defend their National Football League championship, are accepting tryouts for their coaching staff.

As the season nears, the Panthers that live in the Orlando area need to work out and the coaching staff to get ready for the upcoming try-out camp on June 28, and July 12 and 19. These three camps are to give hopeful coaches a chance to make the regular training camp which commences on July 29.

Anyone interested in information concerning the try-out camp should contact Coach Peascoe or Assistant Coach Bill Muir at 425-2115.

The Panthers, champions of the Continental Football League for the past two years, open their seven-game home season on August 23 against the San Antonio Toros, at the CFY's Texas Division.

Perhaps the most important items of safety equipment to consider at the beginning of a cruise is the life saving device. All too often tragedy on the water is traced to the failure of the one operating life preserver on board.

Not only is such laxity indicative of gross negligence and lack of common sense, but a flagrant violation for which the Coast Guard with justification may impose a fine of $100.

The Coast Guard or State regulations require that there be one life saving device for each person aboard. On Cleveland, A, 1 and 2 this may be an approved life preserver, buoyant vest, ring buoy, special purpose water safety buoyant device or buoyant cushion. On Class 3 these devices are restricted to one approved life preserver or ring buoy for each person on board.

Coast Guard approved equipment are those items which have been approved by the Commandant after it has been determined that they are in compliance with various Coast Guard specifications and regulations relating to the materials, construction and performance of such equipment. Names of manufacturers of approved equipment and approval numbers assigned to them are available from the Coast Guard in the booklet CG-196. All CG approved life preservers manufactured after 1

Demos Out Working For Campaign Funds

By JACK BELL, Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Embattled Democrats, trying desperately to piece together the cross-purposes puzzle of party unity, expect to pick up $1.5 million in 1970 campaign funds in the process.

But two fund raising dinners, one in New York tonight and another here June 26, seem likely to find former President Lyndon B. Johnson among the absentees. Johnson, whose Vietnam policies contributed to fragmenting the party, has made his political retirement stick so far.

Democrats who remember his habit in the White House of waiting until the last minute to divulge his plans still hope Johnson might change his mind and attend the Washington dinner honoring the party leader who served so long.

The President's club, which required $1,000 in contributions for membership during the Johnson administration, will provide most of the audience at the $1,000-a-plate dinner in New York. Now called the National Democratic Sponsors Club, it no longer can offer its members choice White House invitations. It only can hold out the hope of such recognition after 1972.

As a mark of their efforts to get the Democrats to speak to — and not at — each other, former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, will be the featured speakers in New York. Humphrey, the 1968 presidential nominee; Muskie, his vice presidential running mate, and Kennedy can be expected to ignore their potential rivalry for top place on the 1972 ticket.

Alvin A. Spivak, public affairs director for the Democrats, estimated the dinner will gross $550,000 for the debt-burdened Democratic National Committee's operations.

Neale Roach, director of the June 26 dinner, said he is shooting for a $1 million intake. The dime would be used to help finance Democratic senatorial and House campaigns next year on operation independent of the national committee.

Humphrey will be on hand, while Kennedy, as a member of the congressional leadership, will be one of those honored. Humphrey has been named chairman of the Democratic Policy Council, which presumably will help party candidates take on issues. National Democratic Chairman Fred P. Harris hopes to announce the council's membership before the dinner but has encountered delays in reaching proposed members.

Roach said he has had no first word on whether Johnson might attend the Washington dinner. All members of the Senate and House — as well as most Washington lobbyists — have been invited to chip in by buying 500 seats, or 10-seat tables.

Observers will be watching to see if Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., the hero of the disillusion at last year's Chicago convention, shows up. McCarthy has said he would campaign as a Democrat for re-election in 1970 or seek his party's presidential nomination in 1972, but he may be in the process of changing his mind.

Money Magic

DAR ES SALAAM (AP) — Two southern Tanzania men, said to have burned 320 pounds in banknotes after claiming they could double the money by magic, have been cleared of charges of obtaining the money by fraud.

John Bosco, 28, and Barak Althman, 54, were said to have gotten the money from three men who watched Bosco apparently burn banknotes and then pull double the amount from the ashes.

Bosco was said to have wrapped the men's money, placed it in a basin and apparently burned it. Nothing was left but ashes, the plaintiffs said.

The judge dismissed the charges because the victims did not report the matter for a month, and because no ashes had been produced in court. These could have been examined, the judge said, to determine whether they were from banknotes.

Crows have various calls to signal the approach of danger, discovery of food and presence of enemies. When a group is feeding together, a sentinel alarm will be given if a predator is nearby.

Rape Of Florida Seen In Dredging Of Okeechobee

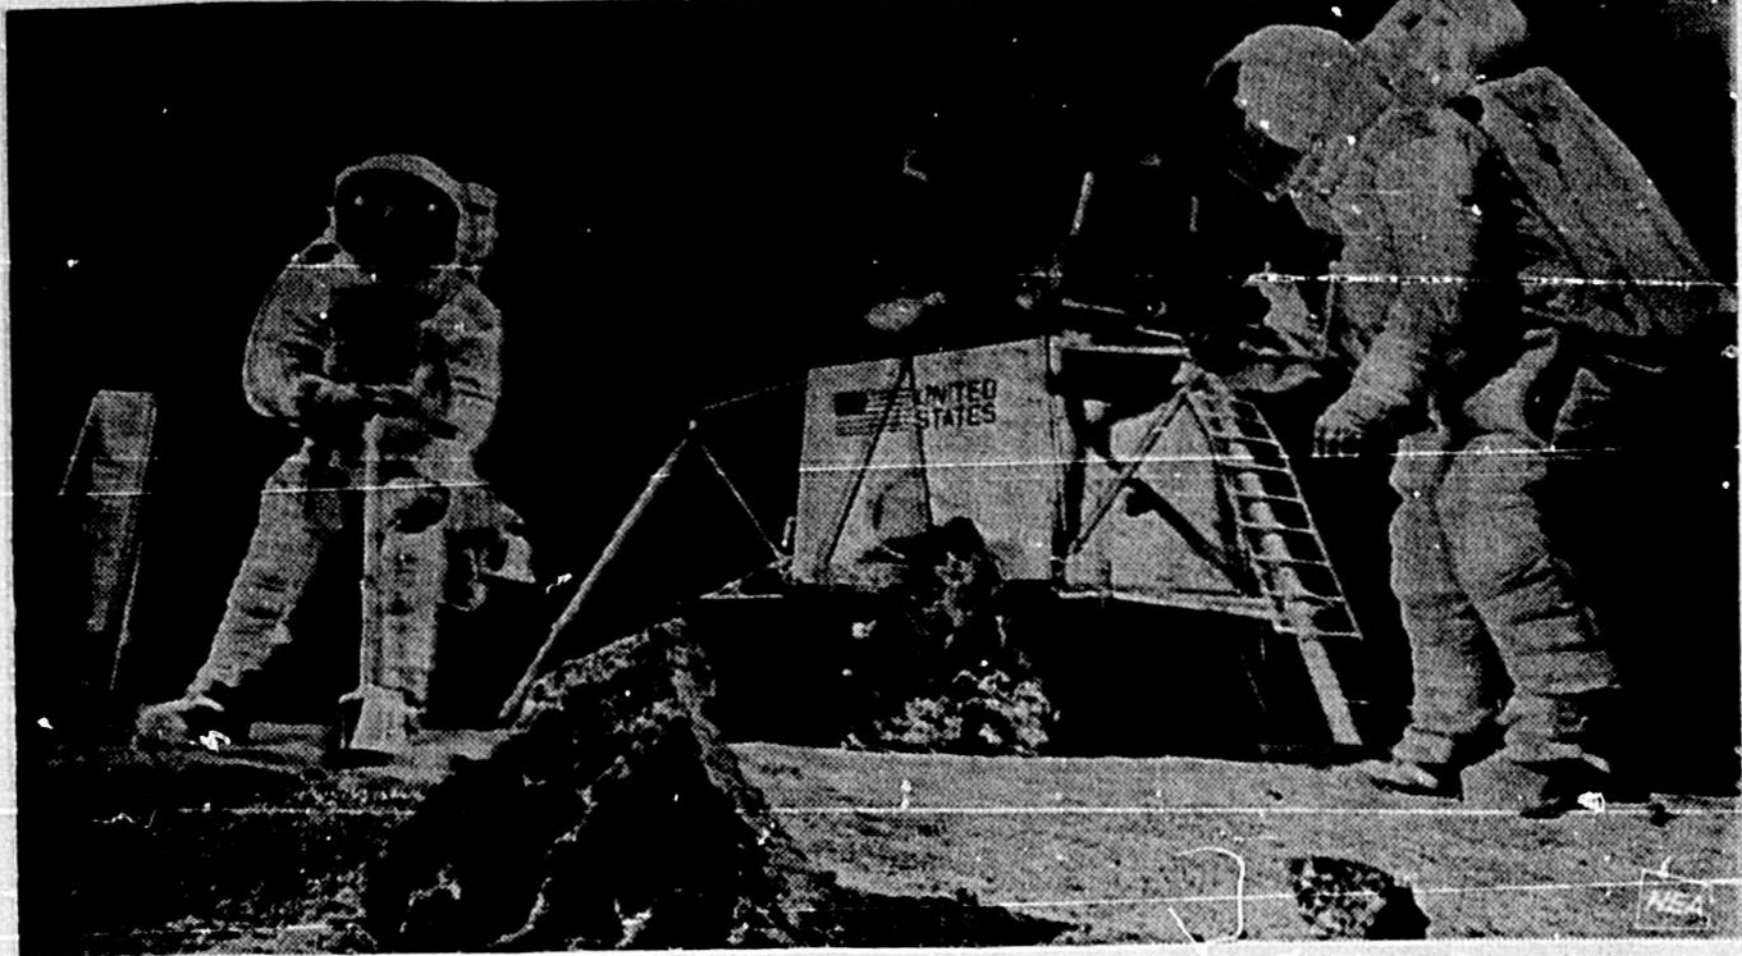

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Atty. Gen. Earl Faircloth said today that Coastal Petroleum Co., which wants to blast and dredge limerock from the bed of Lake Okeechobee, could devastate South Florida in the process.

Two months ago, Faircloth protested to President Nixon after state officials were advised by the Corps of Engineers that an exception was being made to the normal policy of getting state and local approval before considering the Coast application.

The State Cabinet canceled Coastal's lease on May 27 on grounds that it had not fulfilled its part of the agreement. The Florida Legislature unanimously passed a memorial to the Corps of Engineers to deny the lease drilling permit.

But the Corps of Engineers went ahead with its plan and ignored untapped potentials in its part of the agreement. The pilot program, Faircloth said, "is innocuous on its face but devastating in its ultimate result."

Robert W. Patrick, chairman of the governing board of the Central and South Florida Flood Control District, told the hearing that the mining might bring other disastrous results.

Tax Potentials Said Overlooked

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Southern states are losing billions of dollars annually through tax systems that over-emphasize selective levies while virtually ignoring untapped potentials in personal income and property.

Dr. Quincy said his study shows that Southern states that exceed the national average in the proportion of family income collected in sales taxes. Only Maryland, Oklahoma, Texas and Virginia have levies at or below the national level.

On the other hand, the report said, 11 of the 15 Southern states exceed the national average in the proportion of family income collected in sales taxes.

Governor Kicks Off Unicameral Drive

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Gov. Claude Kirk, armed with special committee has officially set out to find 175,000 signatures to force a vote on a unicameral legislature.

Kirk kicked off his unicameral drive Wednesday after the special committee headed by Lt. Gov. Ray Osborne submitted its recommendations.

Kirk's petition calls for a constitutional amendment to create a one-house legislature of 72 senators. He said the committee arrived at that figure because it would provide for one senator for every 90,000 residents according to population projections for 1970.

He said he is following the committee's advice to confine the petition to the subject of a one-house legislature and any other drive to force a vote for a constitutional amendment to reduce legislators' salaries.

Boy Killer Gets Death Sentence

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—A 25-year-old mechanic who testified he wanted to change his sex was convicted and sentenced to death Wednesday for the murder of a 6-year-old boy during a game of cowboys and Indians.

Wasley testified that he had tied the Johnson boy during a friendly game of cowboys and Indians, when "suddenly he became my father and I struck him with my fists."

Wasley said he thought the boy was dead, so he wrapped his body in a blanket, put it in the trunk of his car and drove to a swampy area where he began digging a grave.

Wasley testified that as a child his father beat him repeatedly, his mother beat him and his father wished I had been a little girl instead of a little boy.

Wasley testified he wanted to change his sex and did so symbolically by wearing women's clothing. Once, he said, his mother beat him for stealing a neighbor's clothes.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Every December day as some people still call it) my mother goes out to the cemetery and tears herself apart over the graves of her mother, her father, her brother, and some other relatives who are buried there. I have been glad her not to go, but she doesn't listen to me.

My mother is not a well woman. Abby and I carry on that way can't help but take a lot out of her. This year when I asked my sister to help me try to talk my mother out of going, she said, "If she wants to go, let her. It is a person's good to have a good cry," I say, "It is a person's good to have a good cry (and believe me, this is one) if it is better to avoid it."

Please ask some of your medical consultants for their opinion.

A DAUGHTER
DEAR DAUGHTER: There are psychiatrists who agree that what may appear to you to be an "emotional upset" may actually be a healthy reaction to the person. It depends upon the person. It's a good guess that your mother has some unresolved feelings of grief and she feels better after "tearing herself apart," so let her cry.

DEAR ABBY: I have a couple of parents like you would believe. My mother would now, what do you do with a stubborn or like that? CONGRATULATIONS! I'm glad that she is willing to admit that she has a hearing loss, you may as well talk to her about it. Give it your undivided attention. Impatient persons are apt to be harassed, and therefore are not likely to be of much help to you now. Use control.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): You want to dash around doing this and that. Make a schedule your time first so that you don't waste it. Don't make those sarcastic remarks you are tempted to be wise.

TALIBUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Finances are upstern in your mind now. Be sure you add to your present holdings, instead of spending. But I think two is plenty. My husband wants four. Can you settle this?

DEAR ARGUING: Why not split the difference and plan on three? Or better yet, have two and then decide if you want to go for more.

DEAR ARGUING: I have a relative who I am sure does not have half of what is going on. He's the absolute refuses to admit that she is deaf. Every one tells her and even then they have to repeat what they've said two or three times. I once mentioned that I thought she should have her hearing tested and she exploded in anger. Why is it a disgrace to wear a hearing aid? People who can't see are perfectly willing to go to an eye doctor and get themselves fitted with glasses.

FRIDAY, JUNE 13
GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is likely to be a really annoying Friday, the 13th, unless you make a special point to complete whatever may have been left undone. Give it your undivided attention. Impatient persons are apt to be harassed, and therefore are not likely to be of much help to you now. Use control.

Jacoby On Bridge

One variation of the loser-ender play is the avoidance play. The basic idea is to keep the dangerous opponent out of the lead.

We don't think much of East's three-club opening. Had he elected to pass, West would have opened with one diamond. The chances are that he would wind up playing a diamond part-score and making four odd.

However, East did open three clubs. West passed. He must have had previous experience with East's pre-emptive North response with a double and South contented himself with a three-heart bid.

West opened the king of diamonds and continued with the ace in spite of receiving the deuce from his partner. We can't really blame West for this although a heads shift at trick two would have cooked South's goose.

Jacoby and Son

The third diamond lead gave South a chance to make a successful avoidance play. Instead of ruffing the third diamond he discarded the six of spades.

From this point on there was no way for the defense to take any other trick except the ace of trumps.

Suppose South had carelessly ruffed the third diamond. West would have led the first trump lead, take the second or third. This would make no difference. Then he would shift to a spade.

South would have no way to get to his own hand to draw the remaining trumps. East would have the lead with the king or queen of spades and would promptly lead a club for his partner to ruff.

Polly's Pointers

DEAR POLLY — I always buy two matching nylon slips at one time. When the straps are worn, I cut off the tops, sew together across the can ends and have a pair of pillowcases. They usually require no ironing, wear like iron and look very expensive.

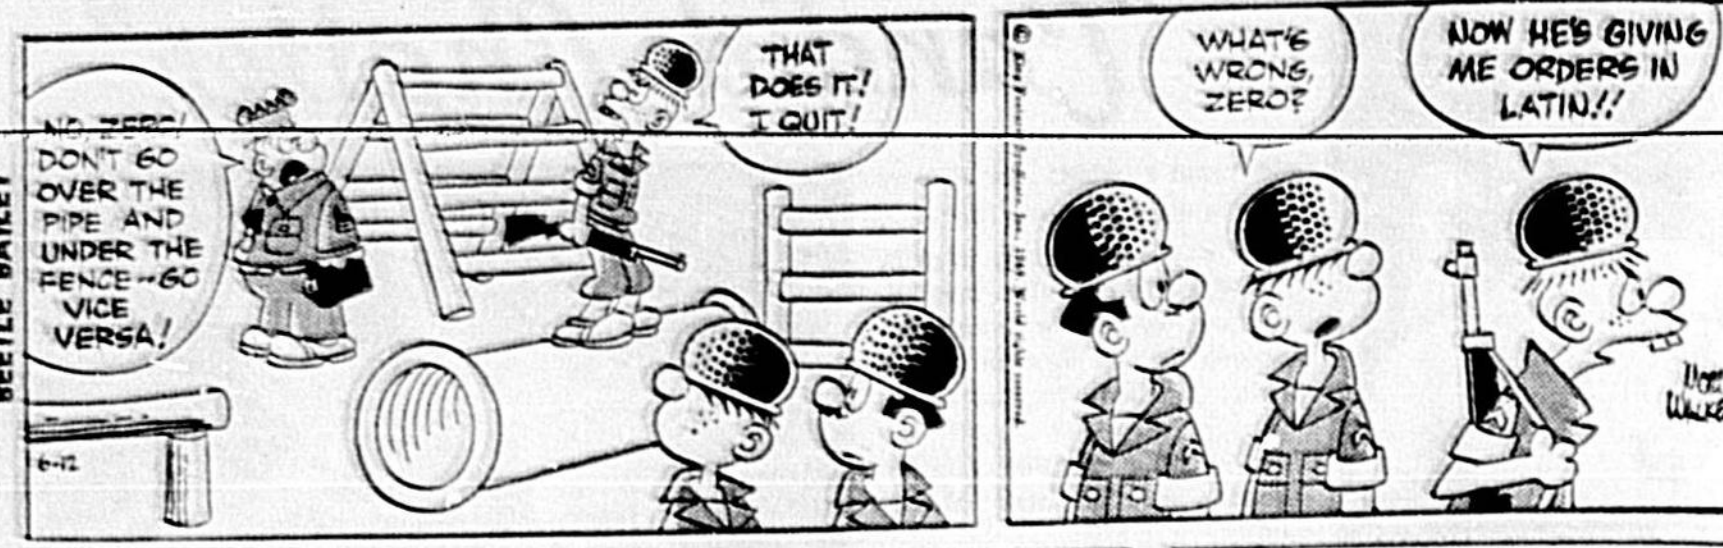

DEAR GIRL: The hand rails placed on nylon slips are great for holding the basic lines in your hair-do. POLLY

We always seem to have fashions in months, but not as we did when Joan Crawford made a wide mouth a beauty asset. The mature woman needs to wear the cheek as much as possible through the art of applying her lipstick. In the U.S.A. we have the finest dental care in the world and it is an offense against your self if you neglect your teeth. After the "denture age" women should be more than ever careful of how they select lipsticks and how they apply it. Much of the expression of your face depends upon your

'Uncle Tom's Cabin' Scheduled At Plaza

A new movie with something for everyone and excitement for all, "Uncle Tom's Cabin" will open Sunday for four days at Sanford's Plaza Rocking Chair Theatre.

When Hollywood's major studios turned their back on the classic of English literature a few years ago, showman Kroger Bahb was successful in interesting three leading European film-makers to do the picture. Combining their talents, resources and capital, they were able to produce the story of slavery in the Deep South with amazing accuracy and tremendous spectacle.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" was filmed in 70mm color, involves a cast of thousands including 22 International Stars and was recorded in stereophonic sound. To enable more U.S. theatres to exhibit the big film, it has been "queered" into 35mm CinemaScope. Picture was nearly 3-years in production.

Among the cast headliners are the lovable negro singer, John Kitzmiller as Uncle Tom, Herbert Ross as Simon Legree, Gertraud Mittermaier as Little Eva, Olive Moorefield as Cassy, Juliette Greco as Dinah, O. W. Fischer as Mr. Saint Clair and many other top-flight performers.

The picture's outstanding musical score was recorded by the illustrious European Symphony Orchestra under the masterful baton of Peter Thomas and the world-famous Spiritual Cello. Among the film's song hits are Mississippi Blues, Go Down Moses, Could Be In The Morning, Old, Old Mississippi, Battle of Jericho, Independence Day, My Baby and others. The film's sound track is available on the distributor.

'G' Programs Set At Plaza

It has been announced by manager Fred E. Pennell of Sanford's Plaza Rocking Chair Theatre, effective Saturday, June 13, that every Saturday afternoon thereafter, as long as attendance will warrant this policy, a (G) general audience classification program will be shown.

In the event the regular program does not have a (G) classification on Saturday, this regular program will not begin until after 5 p.m. and in its place, starting at 1 p.m. there will be a special show.

So the parents will be assured that if they send their children to the first or second show on Saturdays, they will always see a program with a general audience (G) classification.

Pennell said, "This is in response to many parents who have written me about this idea. It will be on a try-out basis during the summer, and if successful, will continue right on during the school term."

Mobile Home Firm Leases Base Site

Vintage Homes, a nationwide concern, became Sanford's newest industry today as it signed a one-year lease to take over Buildings 145 and 146 along with two small warehouses at Sanford Airport.

Maloney's reaction came after he was read the following excerpts from yesterday's Sanford Herald, which reported, "Rathel continued that grants ranging near $3 million will be approved by the Department of Labor and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare."

When asked about Maloney's statement, Rathel replied, "We figured on the basis of people to be trained how much money would be granted. The program was cut from 4,000 trainees to 1,500. That is the way we arrived at the $3 million figure." The original grant was computed at $4 million, according to Rathel's statements and then was cut to $3 million when the program was decreased in size.
