JOHNSON ASKS U. S. PRESS AID FOR NRA CODES

Administrator Says Violation Charges So Far Made Have No Merit In Court

WASHINGTON, Apr. 20. (AP)—General Hugh Johnson told newspaper editors today that no charges of NRA code violation brought against large manufacturers had developed a case that would stand up in the courts.

He was addressing the American Society of Newspaper Editors and said that their reports would be the accomplishment of NRA objectives. "But if you hang around the culture and keep down on every mistake it will take longer."

An afternoon meeting of the National Press Club yesterday formally opened the society's twelfth annual convention which its president, Paul Bellamy of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, said should include frank and open consideration of the new problems precipitated on the press by the New Deal.

"We have proceeded upon the theory that we should not be afraid to tackle hot problems because they were hot," Bellamy told the society in outlining a program of speakers, which included Hugh B. Johnson, NRA chief, and Rexford G. Tugwell, assistant secretary of agriculture.

"For myself I am grateful to those of our number who by their own efforts had that freedom (of the press) reiterated in the newspaper code," Bellamy said. "But in a larger sense, we and our successors will make or break the freedom of the press by the use of the press in the future."

"If we truly serve the people... the freedom of the press... will rest forever secure in the solid rock of public opinion."

Frank Parker Stockbridge, editor of the American Press, was the other major speaker of the opening session. He said editors should be "realistic philosophers enough" to seek for the truth behind the news.

"Mr. Hoover," Stockbridge said, "once remarked to me when he was in the White House, apropos of a pending bill which was more humanitarian than economic: 'The trouble with this country is too much legislation by emotion.'"

"I wonder whether one of the main troubles of journalism may not be too much reporting by emotion."

"I would look with some distrust upon any newspaper reporter who took seriously much of the mass of propaganda, pulpitistic facts and dubious statistics with which governments—our own included—flood the newspaper offices."

Bishop Cannon Says He Could Not Be Guilty As Charged

WASHINGTON, Apr. 20. (AP)—Bishop Cannon told a District of Columbia jury today that he and Miss Ada Barragano could not have conspired to violate the "federal corrupt practices act" in failing to report $48,000 received for his 1932 anti-Smith campaign because the woman never knew he obtained the money.

Bishop Cannon, yesterday testified that separate state committees were set up to handle the campaign against Alfred R. Smith in 1932 and that only one letterhead was used to cut down expenses.

The churchman was replying to charges by the government that he conspired to violate the corrupt practices act by assisting with Ada L. Barragano, co-defendant, not to report all of the campaign expenditures.

'White Collar' Workers Of U. S. Invited To Join League Which Would Protect Them

PITTSBURGH, Apr. 20. (AP)—A call to arms for the long-suffering "white collar" workers, the millions of middle classmen who are flanked on one side by capital and on the other by labor, was sounded yesterday by Eugene A. Holland, Pittsburgh organizer.

Announcing the formation of the White Collar League of America, a non-profit, incorporated organization designed "to work in the interests and for the welfare of that great group of United States citizens commonly known as the 'white collar' class," Holland said the idea was born from watching a "two year parade of hopelessness."

"For two years I watched a steady stream of white collar men straining their last resources by cashing in on their life insurance."

"This is no racket. It is a fight, clean-cut proposition. The man that sneaks gets the most credit. That's why so much publicity has been given to the capitalist, the laborer and the tenant, the long-suffering and silent white collar class must be protected."

The league proposes orderly action for relief and a fight against additional burdens by using the power of mass protests.

1200 CITIZENS OF NEW NRA EAGLE LEXINGTON BAND GOES ON DISPLAY TO 'PROTECT' U. S. IN U. S. ON MAY 1

LEXINGTON, Mass., Apr. 20. (AP)—From Lexington, where "the shot" that was heard around the world was fired yesterday, a parade of 1,200 citizens of Lexington and other towns in Massachusetts, members of Congress, are expected to Washington, criticizing among other things:

"Federal interference in business under the guise of promoting social reform and economic recovery."

"Infinite extension of legislation originally designed solely for the purpose of raising money."

"Parade of legislation without any careful consideration by Congress."

A reading of the petition, which was part of the exercises on the battle green in observance of the 100th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, was held at 10 o'clock.

Drawn in the form used by Lexington citizens in 1776, to protest to provincial and state authorities, the "declaration" concluded:

"We are resolved that the individual rights of private enterprise and its rewards must continue, free from unreasonable interference by the federal government, and we demand their preservation at their hands."

Opening Gun In 1934 Campaign Due May 1

The official Seminole County Democratic Executive Committee approved opening gun in the 1934 political campaign in this county will be fired at a mass meeting to be held at Lake Mary on Tuesday night, May 1, it was announced by Sherman M. Lloyd, secretary-treasurer of the committee.

Mr. Lloyd, releasing the following list of public speaking dates which have the sanction of the committee, stated that the dates are subject to change and that dates for meetings other than those scheduled can be arranged by application to H. L. Holly:

DAKOTANS ASK FOR 30 DAYS OF MARTIAL LAW

20,000 Farmers Seek Action To Prevent Actual Battle Over Land Foreclosures

BISMARCK, N. D., Apr. 20. (AP)—Predictions of "actual battle" by farmers to defend their land against foreclosures, accompanied a petition yesterday asking Governor William A. Langer to declare martial law.

Offering aid of 20,000 men, the North Dakota Farmers' Holiday Association asked martial law for a 30-day period to prevent interference with operation of the mortgage foreclosure courts.

The governor had the request under advisement.

"Despite attempts are under way throughout the state to oust the farmers and prevent them from putting in their crops," the plea to the governor said.

"There will be an actual battle. Already some owners are in jail. We advise putting the state under martial law for 30 days and we offer you 20,000 men."

"Martial law will preserve peace, save the farmer and the mortgagee and will have a chance to get some money if we have a crop."

Mrs. L. H. Gibbs' Father Buried in Greenwood

Funeral services for Albert H. Gibbs, 78, who died at his home on Orlando, today afternoon were held at the City Hall chapel in Orlando yesterday afternoon, with Dean McCallie Johnson, of the Episcopal church officiating. The body was brought to Sanford to be buried in Greenwood cemetery.

Woodmen Lodge Gets Three New Members

W. C. Coleman, N. J. Phelps, and A. C. King were introduced and given the Protection Degree as new members of Colony Camp No. 625, Woodmen of the World, at a meeting held in the Woodmen Hall last night.

Salvation Army Human Needs Appeal Is Ended At Supper In Parish House

The 1934 Salvation Army human needs appeal was concluded in a supper at the work of a large Army of workers is concerned, at a supper held at the Parish House last night, with Sidney J. Nix, Sr., general chairman, presiding.

The $289.73 goal was not reached, but a small group of contributors confident that continued efforts would be successful, will set a new goal of approximately $300 that must be raised before the goal is reached.

Speakers at last night's supper included Mrs. Arthur Branson, Captain Mitchell of the local post, and Frank L. Lohman and Frank L. Lohman.

A special army of high school girls who will give "top up" tag day sale on home appliances tomorrow, Mrs. E. E. Hines introduced the several "sisters" of this army.

Announcement was made that the girl workers who will be in the field tomorrow will be in the field tomorrow.

FLORIDA WILL GET PWA CASH FOR ITS ROADS

New Building Program Places Emphasis On Highways Wiping Out Bad Crossings

WASHINGTON, Apr. 20. A recent federal road building program, to become a part of the new PWA operations, appeared certain here yesterday following a letter check-up of congressional sentiment.

The road building program will be financed wholly by the PWA under plans identical to those in effect last year. Whether the sum this year will equal the total of $400,000,000 and yet has been determined.

In those states among which is included Florida, a relatively high index of first class trunk line construction, emphasis, it was said, will be placed on the elimination of grade crossings. This type of construction equals road building in many hours of work, and the grade crossings involved have added to the misery of the relief plan.

Maintenance and betterment also will take large part of the expenditure of the funds in Florida, although several important gaps in the state's system of trunk roads will come in for development.

Last year's road construction in Florida included as a major project a bridge crossing built at an average cost of $100,000. Florida also especially requests the construction of almost exclusively the type of work said to be specified in the new program.

Appropriation of the PWA funds, authorized here to fill the about $100,000,000, probably will be the final step of the administration's legislative program of the 1934 congress. The prevention of log rolling is said to motivate congressional leaders in placing of such bills.

CONSTRUCTION INCREASES

NEW YORK, Apr. 20. (AP)—Federal awards for public works projects during the week ended April 14, 1934, totaled $2,242,000, the second largest volume of the year, says a "Public Works" survey. For the year to date, the total amount of PWA work has not been included in the publication by the Federal Works Administration.

HELD ON COUNTERFEIT

MIAMI, Apr. 20. (AP)—Charged with possession of 22 counterfeits valued at $100,000, William Francis Taylor was held in $5,000 bond for grand jury action by United States Commissioner J. C. Morlock yesterday.

HAIL IN GEORGIA

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Apr. 20. (AP)—Hailstones, the size of part dime eggs which were white, a storm raged here killed chickens and damaged small plants and flowers Wednesday.

LAWYERS DROWN

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Apr. 20. (AP)—Roose Bond, 41, and Robert S. Webb, 36, widely known Nashville lawyers, were drowned Wednesday when caught in a treacherous eddy which caused their small boat to overturn near lock No. 2 on the Cumberland River.

3 Convicted Slayers Die In Electric Chair

CHICAGO, Apr. 20. (AP)—Three convicted slayers paid for their crimes with their lives here today. Within 26 minutes, the three who followed each other in the electric chair at the Cook county jail were dead.

They were: John Schack, 21-year-old slayer of Policeman John Revic, slain last July as Schack shot his way out of a crowded courtroom; George Dale, 29, who last August killed Gustave Hoeh, aged haberdasher; Joseph Francis, 35, negro who slew Joseph Hartel, milk wagon driver, last September.

BURGLARS TAKE LOOT

VERO BEACH, Apr. 20. (AP)—Burglars who broke into a store at Sebastian, 15 miles north of here, late Wednesday night, carried off 12 rifles and shotguns, two adding machines and two typewriters, the sheriff's office reported yesterday.

2 OF GEORGIA'S 'BAD MEN' ARE GIVEN RELEASE

Talmadge Says Smith, Harvey Had Better Records Than Did Many Big Bankers

ATLANTA, Apr. 20. (AP)—Governor Talmadge today pardoned Leland Harvey and Aubrey Smith, two of Georgia's most notorious prison escapees.

Harvey at one time had 110 years to serve, and Smith 145 years.

Both had participated in a series of robberies, and Smith once had boasted that he "was never captured alive," but he was returned to prison each time he got away, without serious trouble.

Governor Talmadge, in announcing the pardons, said that during his visit to the prison farm at Milledgeville a year ago when he commuted Harvey's sentence to ten years, he had seriously considered a pardon for both men.

The Governor said he was motivated partly by a comparison of the records of the two men with those of several bankers who had "beaten Harvey, and orphaned out of their widows, and driven light sentences or no sentences at all."

"These boys had no mother and were only waifs who might say, and the sum total of their thefts was only a few hundred dollars. Go in peace and sin no more," the Governor advised both Harvey and Smith in sending them their pardons. Both men also had Florida prison records.

'Osceola' Forced To Use Municipal Pier Because Of Storm

The river freighter "Osceola" will load and unload its cargo at Municipal Pier for the next few days, pending repairs to a small amount of damage done late Wednesday afternoon when the craft was swept from its moorings by a sudden wind which preceded a terrific rain storm.

The wind ripped the craft away from four clusters of piling that had been erected to protect the new Central Florida Transportation Co. dock, and sent the boat drifting helplessly, for several minutes, eastward toward the Municipal Pier.

Members of the crew, who were leading the boat at the time, managed to halt the boat when it had reached a point just off the Chamber of Commerce dock. Within two hours, the boat was swung from its unusual position, and was moored to Municipal Pier. Damage to the piling, which must be re-set, probably will exceed $50.

The same windstorm wrecked a portion of the wire fence which protected crowds attending diamond ball games at the field near the Chamber of Commerce, and tore down several small signs and protective posts along the boulevard.

INGALLS AT SAN JUAN

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Apr. 20. (AP)—Laura Ingalls, United States flier, arrived here yesterday after a flight from Fort-Au-Spain. It was her first contact with United States soil in many weeks, following a solo flight around the rim of South America in which she flew over the Andes. Miss Ingalls is expected to continue her journey to Miami today.

FRIDAY, APRIL 20, 1934.

According to the Miami Herald, Congress should investigate what they had to drink at that West dinner. There may have been some "red eye" in it.

Colonel Roosevelt, the President's tenth cousin, says that the New Deal is just the old deal in new clothes. Well, it's something to get a new suit of clothes out of it.

We suppose if somebody did develop a plan for controlling the direction of a gasp of utter quiet, someone would be sure to arise and question its constitutionality.

Maybe the thing that made Professor Wirt so dogmatic about that fellow saying Roosevelt was only the Keeney in this revolution, was that Wirt wanted him to be the Stalin.

New York University students predict that the United States will again become involved in a great war in 1936. Doggone! Wish you could put it off a few more years. We won't be quite old enough to go then.

With all these controversies over stock market legislation and various monetary measures coming in Congress, we wouldn't be surprised to see a law passed giving the stock exchange an act of silver teeth.

When we rode down town last Friday night and saw the street lights actually turned on we were almost tempted to get out our extra-lake County tires, say that would be news in a number of Florida towns these days, wouldn't it?

See where some of the aviation companies are using Postmaster Farley as an individual for carrying their air mail contracts. It has about reached the point where a man has to put his property in his wife's name before accepting public office.

Florida newspapers are for once in almost unanimous accord that they showed a praiseworthy spirit of altruism in offering to forego the publication of delinquent tax notices previously advertised. The press of the state modestly puts itself on the back, shading that the press, like everybody else, is, after all, only human.

Congress is about to investigate Congress. A certain committee can't understand how the newsmen got wise to the signers of a certain petition supposedly known only to the members of the committee. In the process of the investigation, Congress may discover that there are more ways than one of skinning a cat, and the newsmen know both of them.

Picturesque Governor Bill Murray of Oklahoma calls out the National Guard to prevent tax collectors from foreclosing on non-taxpaying home-owners. Were he President of the United States, he would doubtless wage war on the depression with the entire Army, Navy, and Marine Corps. In fact he can even picture his right now directing from the White House an air raid on Wall Street.

We hear a great deal these days about decentralization and the necessity for decentralizing business, industry, and agriculture, before we can ever again reach a permanent basis of prosperity. The only country in the world we see that has done this is Germany, and the result is that all Germany is now a thoroughly decentralized, chaotic, and starving nation. We are inclined to believe that all American decentralists who talk about decentralization are just a bunch of fools.

Reforming The World

It may be a splendid thing for the veterinarian to get his gang together on a cattle ship and go among the cows spraying them with Filix in order to get rid of the ticks, but it is hardly the time to do it in the middle of a storm when all hands are needed on deck and there is grave danger of the ship's sinking.

That is the way we feel about some of this so-called humanitarian legislation which is being proposed these days in practically every country in the world. Our law-makers seem to be concerned not alone with the problem of saving the ship from sinking but also with the idea of creating a perfect world.

Take for instance the matter of sterilization. Such laws have already been passed in Germany—or decreed, we believe we should say—and they are being seriously discussed in this country. There is a movement on foot even in Florida to have the state legislature pass a law authorizing the sterilization of all mentally diseased persons.

Now under ordinary circumstances the consideration of such a measure might well be in order. We do not know whether it is practical or not. If it can accomplish the purpose which its proponents claim for it and if it could be administered fairly and decently, there is certainly much to commend it, but we wonder if this is the time to debate it, when the debaters themselves are more or less nuts.

As a matter of fact, hasn't this depression rather shaken the mental stability of all of us? Aren't we doing things these days, and advocating things, which we wouldn't consider under any circumstances in ordinary times? Have we not been so harassed by business worries, and so disturbed by sensational disclosures of one kind and another that our normal mental processes are in something of a jam?

Is it the time to attempt to make the world perfect when not one in a million of us can even think straight? Should we try to say that this man is insane and should therefore be sterilized at a time when it is almost impossible to distinguish between rationality and madness? Should we allow temperamental reformers to try to make a perfect world when no one is able to tell right from wrong? Should we undertake to rewrite the Constitution of the country while the ship of state is in imminent danger of sinking?

One thing at a time is our motto. If the Congress of the United States, and the Legislature of Florida will devote their full capacities to enactment of such laws as will put food in people's mouths and money in their pockets, we for one would be willing to postpone the perfect world until the majority of us, at least, have regained our sanity and are in a position to know what constitutes a perfect world and what does not.

Easy Flying

The remarkably successful jaunt of Miss Laura Ingalls around the continent of South America is coming to a close with Miss Ingalls landing in Puerto Rico yesterday and due in Miami on Sunday. She has made a record of which anyone, man or woman, could well be proud, and though it has none of the spectacular elements of a speed test or endurance flight, it is nevertheless one which required all the technical skill and mechanical perfection of the most outstanding aerial achievements.

Miss Ingalls dropped into Miami on the seventh of March after a flight from New York and on the next day began her journey which was to take her on a 16,000 mile tour across the Caribbean to Yucatan, along the coast of Central America to Peru, thence down the coast of Chile to Santiago. There she did what no woman had ever done before. She flew across the Andes to Buenos Aires. The Andes are among the tallest mountains in the world, noted alike for their scenic beauty and their treacherous air currents.

From Buenos Aires, Miss Ingalls flew up the coast of South America, across the swamps of Uruguay, to Rio de Janeiro, thence to Bahia, Natal and Para. There she braved the hazards of the Amazon country, as wild and desolate an area as there is in the world. Had a leaky pipe, or a faulty motor forced her down in this isolated region, full of canals, and fever germs, she probably never would have been heard from again. But she had no such trouble, reached Pamararibo safely and flew on to Port of Spain, and San Juan.

The success of her trip will doubtless convince others of the feasibility of airplane flying. When a young girl all alone can fly a single-motored plane on such a lengthy trip over such terrain, without a single unpleasant episode, there is small reason for other persons not attempting lesser expeditions. But it takes people of the courage and enterprise of Miss Ingalls to show more timid souls that things actually can be done.

A few more flights such as hers and everyone will be doing it. Then one will think nothing at all of getting into his plane and flying down to Rio, perhaps breezing over to Paris for a week-end spree or across the broad Pacific to Honolulu. Boys and girls of sixteen will be hopping around the country from New York to San Francisco. Just as now they go over to the beach on a Sunday afternoon. Less than a generation ago, it took a whole day to come in from Oviedo.

SANFORD, TWENTY YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Dealey of Geneva entertained last Tuesday night in honor of their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Whitcomb of Bloomington, Ill.

On Saturday evening the young people of Geneva surprised Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Big with a party and a miscellaneous shower. There was a jolly crowd and several hours were spent in games. The bride and bridegroom received many gifts of linen, china, and other household necessities.

Word has been received at Moore's Station that Captain Dean Minkler and Miss Katherine Hayes were married at Springfield, Mass. on Thursday, April 19 and will be at his parents' home in St. Petersburg after their marriage for a short visit. From there they will go to Texas City, where Miss Elsie Cowan has gone to meet them.

SILVER: THE DYNAMIC PYRAMID

LITERARY DIGEST

By FERDINAND LONDREAU. The Roosevelt Administration is faced with two alternatives in the case of silver: it must weaken the currency base of the nation by monetizing silver in response to the pressure of highly-organized lobbies, or it must find another way of liquidating the silver boom before it collapses of its own weight—of the weight of thousands of tons of silver.

The silver boom has proved a bonanza for brokers on the Commodity Exchange in New York, where trading has taken place since the merger with the Metal Exchange. In January, 1932, only 331 contracts were sold on this market. In May, 1932, 5,046 contracts were sold, this being the monthly peak for the year. This top was not passed until September, 1933, just after the London conference ended. In that month 12,069 contracts changed hands, but that was a mere lag. In December, 20,041 contracts were sold, just before agitation for monetization was renewed and the government ordered the purchase of newly-mined metal, even though the world needed no more silver.

Speculators Hoard Silver. Various measures are pending in Congress to handle the silver situation. The Dies bill, already passed by the House, provides that the United States will accept silver in payment for agricultural goods thought abroad its greatest defect is that it makes necessary that silver be acquired in the way it is put to some use. The bill planned for the metal by silver people is the issuance of silver certificates against it by the Treasury. The Senate agriculture committee has unanimously reported another bill which would permit the government to accept silver in payment for agricultural products sold abroad and order the Treasury to buy silver almost until either price of $1.28 an ounce or the 1926 commodity price level is reached.

The government simply can not refuse to monetize silver and let matters take their own course. It is worth observing, however, that the problem is presented by the accumulation of stores of silver in speculative accounts in the country.

The statistical position of silver tells the story. Stocks of silver in New York, held by multitudes of speculators who have been trading on the Commodity Exchange, are at staggered record heights. Silver is flowing here from all over the world, has been flowing for more than a year, accumulating in anticipation of large governmental purchases when silver propaganda has led most people to expect.

A great deal of credit has been propped under silver. The New York silver market is a real world speculation center based on the basis of expected government buying of the metal. The piling up of stocks, which has gone on fastest in New York, as well as in other important centers, is a real world speculation center based on the basis of expected government buying of the metal.

While production methods have opened to create more refined silver than ever before, in the history of the world, nations gradually have been reducing its monetary use. Many countries have reduced the silver content of coinage because other metals are cheaper. There also has been a decreased use of coins in favor of checks and bank notes.

EXEMPTION OF HOMESTEAD IDEA WILL BE FOUGHT

Amendment To Face Discussion During Political Campaign

Editor's Note: This is the fifth article of a series dealing with the proposed amendment to the Florida Constitution which would exempt the homestead from taxation. The people by the 1932 Legislature.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Apr. 20. (AP)—Exemption of homesteads from taxation is one of the proposed constitutional amendments which will appear on the November general election ballot.

This amendment, although it would contain only 83 words, probably will be the battle ground for considerable discussion before election time, and afterwards, if it passes.

It would add another section to Article 10 of the Constitution and the new section would read: "Section 7: There shall be exempted from all taxation, other than special assessments for benefits, to every head of a family who is a citizen of and resides in the State of Florida, the homestead as defined in Article 10 of the Constitution of the State of Florida up to a valuation of $5,000. Provided, however, that the title to said homestead may be vested in such head of a family or his lawful wife residing upon such homestead or in both."

This proposed amendment presents several questions of law and in their views of it. First, the amendment says "exempted from all taxation, other than special assessments for benefits."

Immediately arises the question of what constitutes "special assessments for benefits," and this leads on into whether "special assessments for benefits" includes taxes for payment of county, city or district bonds.

Lawyers point out that bonds have been voted and sold in just about every county, city and district in the state, and that they are backed by a contract agreement to pay principal and interest. Ad valorem taxation upon the taxable property in the area where the bonds originated is pledged to payment of them.

The Supreme Court of the United States has held that contractual agreements cannot be impaired by legislative enactment or constitutional amendment.

If tax exemption, then, means only that the homesteads valued up to $5,000 will be exempt from taxation for current operating expenses of the governmental agencies, such exemption, it is estimated, would total only about 47 percent of the present taxes, and in some instances less than that.

General property taxes for all purposes in 1932 amounted to $24,000,000. State Auditor Bryan W. His estimated 25 percent of this represented taxation upon homes, or $12,000,000.

Exemption from 40 percent of the taxation now levied upon

DR. BOWIE LAYS LEGION 'GRAB' TO BIG BUSINESS

Director Asserts Industry Has Fostered A 'Take-It-Now' Policy

NEW YORK, Apr. 20.—American big business is accused by the Rev. Dr. W. Russell Bowie of bringing about the demoralized condition which prompts the American Legion "to grab what it can get" through its veterans' lobby. Continuing his attack on the Independent Officers' bill from his pulpit at the Grace Protestant Episcopal Church Broadway and Tenth Street, Dr. Bowie ignored the American Legion's threat of a $100,000 libel suit growing out of his condemnation of what he called its "political banditry" at Washington.

Lamenting the lack of general interest in opposing encroachments of certain groups on the national treasury, Dr. Bowie explained that from time immemorial it had been the minority that had revolted against injustice. He expressed the hope that if opposition to veterans' payments was not carried by the majority, it could be actively and successfully upheld by a strong minority.

"One of the difficulties in the way of rousing public indignation against the plundering activities of such groups as those represented by the veterans' lobby," Dr. Bowie said, "is the demoralizing idea that everybody else is out to grab what he can get, and so 'why not the ex-soldiers too?' The low standards which have been tolerated in many aspects of American business have helped to produce that demoralization, and 'it is high time our whole business world faced the need of moral repentance.'"

The lack of public service on the part of big business men and their constant "greed for huge money gain" will yet cause an economic upheaval, he warned, Dr. Bowie then referred to testimony given last week in supreme court by Charles E. Mitchell, former chairman of the National City Bank.

"The New York papers reported the testimony given by Charles E. Mitchell, former chairman of the National City Bank, on behalf of the defendants in a suit for $70,000,000 entered against the bank's directors for losses to stockholders due to alleged 'mismanagement,' he said. Mr. Mitchell was asked, 'Was it necessary to pay you more than a $1,000,000 a year to sustain the morale of the bank?' He answered in part 'Unless the man of energy, and perhaps ability, can see within his own organization a point that has great material benefit attached to it, that he can reach by his own effort, his ambition becomes dulled. Our entire organization was spurred to endeavor by the fact that I was receiving a substantial consideration for my services and because I was turning that sum back into stock of the bank.'"

"Mark the meaning of that," Dr. Bowie continued. "In effect, those words say that greed for huge money gain is the only stimulant in American business which will keep a man's ambition alive. Nothing here about the possible motive of public service. Nothing here about the honorable contentment of a moderate salary plus the satisfaction of doing useful

Macon Leaves Basel California For Miami

SUNNYVALE, Calif., Apr. 20.—(AP)—The United States Navy dirigible Macon, largest in the world, left its hangar here at 7 A. M. (Pacific standard time) today for a flight to Miami.

Commander Dressed, informed yesterday that weather conditions along the southern trans-continental route were rapidly improving, gave orders to prepare for taking off in the morning.

The cruise, which has been postponed several times awaiting "perfect weather," will take the huge ship across the southern tier of the states to Miami where she will join the United States fleet in maneuvers in the Atlantic.

Coal Shortage Looms As Result Of Strikes

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Apr. 20.—(AP)—Concern was manifest in industrial circles last night over the probability of coal shortage and its resulting effect on employment in the Birmingham district as conditions remained quiet among the 21,000 idle miners.

R. T. Daniel, spokesman for the Alabama commercial coal operators, expressed an opinion that within a week to 10 days all except the larger industries that had good supplies of coal on hand would begin to shut down their plants adding to the idle in the district.

The Alabama fields supply most of this state, south Georgia, north-west Florida and north Mississippi, and Daniel said some of the smaller industries that could not build up supplies already had shut down.

South Florida Crops Hurt By Heavy Rains

That section of the Everglades around Canal Point and north of there suffered about 60 percent damage, while around Belle Glade and that vicinity, about 40 percent, according to Mounts' information. He said that taken generally, the damage would run around 40 percent.

THINGS REPORTED AS PICKING UP IN PHILADELPHIA

Collection Plates Are Heavier, People Eat Dessert At Dinner

PHILADELPHIA, Apr. 20.—Heavier collection plates in thousands of Philadelphia churches; increased demands for dessert in downtown lunchrooms; growing clientele reported by established bootback stands; advance sales mounting in various theaters; tourist agencies recording heavy bookings for summer cruises...

of his ribbon is sold for use in the ornamental wrapping of candy boxes and bouquets. Luxury products—the sort that people seldom buy until after they have stopped worrying over grocery bills and rent and have reached the conclusion that life's running again in its normal channels.

Telephones ringing in more homes and more frequently than a year ago; house painters and interior decorators accepting a swelling number of orders; book sales sustaining their upward trend; wrestling and boxing reporting heavier gates; clothing and hat sales, crowding production capacity; home building and remodeling showing increases...

Local subway, elevated, surface car and bus travel was greater in January and February of 1934 than during the same months of 1933. This wasn't exactly pleasant travel. The men who analyze such things say it probably resulted because more workers were riding to and from their jobs and more of them had jobs to go to.

Probably they are among the people who are making days, or rather nights, brighter for the sports promoters, who report a great increase in patronage of their events. Here and elsewhere indoor track meets have broken records for attendance and intelligently matched boxing and wrestling bouts have attracted great numbers of ticket-buyers.

ROOSEVELT BOOK IS ATTACKED BY SENATOR SCHALL

Solon Says President Should Practise What He Preaches

WASHINGTON, Apr. 20.—President Roosevelt, whose newest book, "On Our Way," has just appeared, was bitterly attacked yesterday by Senator Thomas D. Schall, Republican of Minnesota, who declared that the President "was not in a position to state that no man should make over $25,000 a year and then receive a million a year in royalties by bookwriting."

Turning to the recently widely publicized Wirt investigation, Mr. Schall said that "he was pretty mad in his statements in connection to what he might have said."

"I think there is enough there to have a thorough investigation made and look into the philosophy of the entire matter," the senator said.

Mr. Schall also attacked the NCA as being a "complete failure."

SAVING, FLORIDA, Friday, Apr. 20, 1934. Earlier shipments of celery in the United States for Thursday, Apr. 19, 1934: Florida 114 (total); 1 boat, 2 cases; Total 121. Passings through the Florida gateways: Jacksonville 1 (including Jacksonville); Winter Park 6 (total); for a 24 Hour Period Ending at 8:00 A. M. Today.

For the more profound students of statistics there is encouragement in the report of the Industrial Research and Development Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce which lists twenty-three new manufacturers and twenty-six new wholesale houses established in Philadelphia during March, and seven manufacturers and three wholesalers who expanded their plants and activities.

Still more significant is the report of the University of Pennsylvania employment survey showing 77,400 fewer unemployed in the city last February than during the same month a year ago. These facts, along with reports of pay increases in steel and other lines, amicable settlements of labor difficulties in the automobile industry, and larger returns in both national and local taxes, are doing much to revive hopes that the much-discussed corner, behind which lurks recovery, is finally being rounded.

er Clark made an early reference to the "Gross mis-statements" which are "Scare-headed in every big newspaper in the country." Going back to the Paris caucus out of which came the American Legion organization, he reminded his comrades that it was formed for the purpose of perpetuating the comradeships of the World War, and to help the disabled wrecks who came out of that struggle.

tion, he stated that "At no time has the Legion urged or sponsored any legislation that would permit a 'gold brick' to enjoy unjust benefits, and I charge our enemies to deny this."

Senate Bank Board Completes Action On Stock Mart Bill WASHINGTON, Apr. 25.—(AP)—The Senate Banking Committee yesterday beat off a series of efforts to attach weakening amendments to the Stock Exchange bill, and all but completed action on the measure.

Explaining the cardinal principles of the Legion as expressed in the Preamble to the Legion Constitution, Commander Clark pointed out that all of the policies, principles, and programs of the Legion spring entirely from the 10 purposes outlined in the Preamble.

He then explained the Legion's four-point legislative program which calls for (1) the restoration of all direct service connected men who were injured in the line of duty and who were cut off last year, (2) Free hospitalization of all veterans who are disabled and in need of it and who could not reasonably pay for it, (3) Restoration to the rolls of the 29,000 presumptive cases which the government recognized for 13 years as service connected, (4) A guarantee that the widows and orphans of World War veterans be given the same equal treatment as was accorded to the widows and orphans of veterans of the Spanish-American War.

One hundred and thirty five million dollars of the total cost under the bill is to pay for the restoration to the rolls of federal employees who were cut off, he stated as he added that Spanish-American War vets and their dependents would get about $37,500,000; that the cost of restoring direct service connected cases to the rolls would be about $50,000,000, and the restoration of the 29,000 presumptive cases would cost about $11,000,000.

He pointed out that from 1921 to 1933, the government had told the presumptive that he was a service connected case and that "It is unthinkable that after such a term of years, these men should be slashed from the rolls."

Ninety percent of the presumptive are tubercular, he said. "And they are hanging on the barb wire of No Man's Land now. You owe a duty to those men even if many of them are 'gold bricks.' I predict that one-third of them will be cut off the rolls before very long, however."

"The American Legion is not dominated by any political group," he stated, "and I tell you men that as long as I am at the head of this Department I'll fight for the principle that politics has no place in our organization. I told you when you elected me that I'd try to bring the Legion back to the Legionnaires and to do that we've got to have unity of thought, action, and expression. Even now I can say that there is no more confusion and bickering. We're all thinking and acting alike, and we're going forward into a greater day of service."
