Laxative Doses Could Hurt Man

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB— I am concerned about my husband. Many years ago he had an operation for hemorrhoids and is afraid of becoming constipated. He takes 12 or 13 MILK of Magnesia tablets at night. Please let me if this can harm him.

DEAR READER— Yes, it can. After all these years of taking such a large dose of laxatives, he'll probably need some professional help to get rid of the habit. He can help avoid constipation by using a proper diet that includes adequate amounts of bulk. He may need some bowel training and other help, however, at this stage of his problem.

I don't believe in the regular use of any of the magnesium salt laxatives. These salts function by "pulling the bowels." A major portion of the magnesium stays in the bowel and draws water out of your circulation and body tissues. In this way the excess water stimulates bowel function. In larger amounts it can cause frank diarrhea.

Magnesium salts may act in other ways as well. The principle action is by their inability to be absorbed from the digestive tract. This is not complete and that's why they can be dangerous. About 20 percent of the magnesium can be absorbed into the bloodstream. The problem in the person who has normal kidney function, that won't pose any major problem because the kidneys will just simply get rid of the excess magnesium.

The problem in the person who has abnormal kidney function for any reason, this is particularly apt to occur in older people. They may not be able to eliminate this 20 percent of magnesium that's absorbed. As a result, the magnesium

DEAR DR. LAMB— I've had a swollen gland for 12 years and the uppermost part of my leg. There is no pain. This past year though, because I've been very active, it has been bothersome. Could this be treated without surgery?

I'm 59 and have been taking medicine for high blood pressure for two years.

DEAR READER— "When in doubt, take it out," is not a good idea in all cases but it is a good idea regarding lumps. It is important to know what a "lump" is before deciding what to do about it. The length of time you have had your lump suggests that it is not dangerous. But it is really lymph glands? If so, do you have other swollen lymph glands and why are they enlarged? Is it something else, such as a small femoral hernia? The point I'm making is that it will have to be examined before anyone can tell you what it is. Your doctor may have a pretty good idea by feeling it. If he is still in doubt then he will want to be sure what it is before advising you.

HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL
For Wednesday, November 19, 1980

YOUR BIRTHDAY NOVEMBER 18, 1980
Something you have always been treated as a hobby could be prepared to make some coming "it" may require someone with marketing experience to get to the public's attention.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
It's important today to give that which requires priority top place in your list of duties. Poor scheduling could mess you up. Romance, travel, leisure, resources, possible pitfalls and career for the coming months are all discussed in your Astro-Graph which begins with your birthday. Mail it for each to Astro-Graph, Box 60, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10101. Be sure to specify birth date.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
A leader will be required in your group involvements today, and it looks like you're the best one to handle the role. Take charge if others appear to be disgruntled.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
Your goals can be achieved today, but perhaps not directly. Be flexible. Adjust your actions as necessitated by the trend of events.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
Someone you've come to know could express some strong views today which you won't agree with. Rather than start a fracas, that's your response.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)
Don't let setbacks disturb you today, even if they appear insurmountable at first glance. You have the wherewithal to overcome CHIEFS (March 21-April 19) compromises today in dealing with associates on a one-by-one basis. They'll cooperate if you're fair.

FRICTION (April 20-May 20)
Friction could result with coworkers today if your collective labors are unequalled. Don't be discouraged. Neither party should dodge assigned duties.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
A friend won't appreciate it today if you make light of his or her problem. Strive to help—in positive, serious ways.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
It's likely you'll achieve what you start out to do today, but perhaps not to its fullest potential. Your normal involvements may be threatened.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
Your salesmanship can be enhanced today by avoiding pressure tactics. Bring a little humor into your presentation and, by all means, use the soft touch.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
Should you feel something has to be readjusted in your business dealings today, try not to let too much time elapse before correcting it. The clock isn't your ally.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)
Guard against a tendency today to do things in fits and starts. Once you undertake something, complete it, then begin new projects.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

Competitive bidding is perhaps the most difficult facet of bidding for players to grasp. There are fewer written rules in this area than in any other. Although most bidding can be taught, there is so much judgment attached to competitive situations that experience in generally the best teacher. Even though North had five high-card points, four trumps and a doubleton, he should have restrained himself from bidding a game after South's bidding a game. But he had enough strength to bid game, but four of his points were almost certainly wasted as the auction and his four spades virtually made his partner with one or no spades.

West started out with ♠ 4, and East started out with ♠ 4. The trump lead picked up East's singleton king. After two declarer led a spade toward the king-jack in dummy, West played a spade and a singleton and had no more. East had played his right of spades. This was his highest spade and West realized this must be an emphatic diamond signal. Therefore, West played ace and another diamond signal.

West considered safely exiting with a trump when the solution suddenly occurred to him. When he won the ace of spades at trick two, East had played his right of spades. This was his highest spade and West realized this must be an emphatic diamond signal. Therefore, West played ace and another diamond signal.

Rape Blamed On Split Personality... And The Devil

By DAVID M. RAZLER
Herald Staff Writer

Was it Willard Patrick Johnson who raped a Winter Springs woman in her apartment last April, or was it one of the two personalities inside his body which committed the crime? A Seminole County jurist is expected to answer that question when Johnson's trial ends today.

Tuesday, defense attorney Chandler Muller admitted that Johnson committed the crime he is charged with, but said he would prove his client suffers from a rare psychological disorder, having two personalities, one criminal, striving for control of his body.

While several witnesses told of seeing or hearing Johnson engage in debates with himself, using two different voices, a Seminole County Jail volunteer chaplain had a different answer. Johnson is possessed by Satan, the chaplain told the court.

Johnson remained almost motionless during Mook's testimony and throughout the whole day's proceedings, starting at the table in front of him.

While Mook blamed Johnson's behavior on the devil, psychologist John Cassidy, called as a defense witness, told the court there was another answer. Johnson is possessed by two completely separate personalities, — soft spoken, religious "Pat," and criminal "Willard."

Other defense witnesses, employees of Florida Hospital-Altamonte, where Johnson was held in September for tests, told how they had heard him arguing with himself, with Willard berating Pat in a loud, deep voice for talking about him and Pat answering back in a higher-pitched, soft voice.

A hospital employee said he had had a conversation with a crying "Pat" who suddenly changed his manner and voice and told him how "Pat's always suffering," identifying himself as "Willard."

Johnson's attorney, Robert Hatway, said he is fighting for control of Johnson's body. He filed "mirror" letters written by Johnson, readable properly only if held in a mirror or held up to a light, as further evidence of his disease.

But Assistant State Attorney Ralph Erickson kept pointing out to the jurors that Johnson was not diagnosed until September, giving him the chance to make up a story "as things heated up."

Johnson is charged with entering the apartment of the Winter Springs woman on April 17 to install two small burglar alarms.

Carrying a gun and a knife, Johnson installed one alarm, then attacked the woman, holding her captive in her home until the next day, Erickson said.

Johnson, of 3423 Amberly Ave., Orlando, was arrested later that month on charges of robbery, kidnapping and sexual assault.

Bridge Needs Lengthy Repairs

The right eastbound lane of Interstate-4 at the State Road 434 interchange will be closed for the next three to four months, as Department of Transportation crews work to repair damage done Tuesday afternoon when a truck carrying too tall of a load slammed into the bridge, smashing through it.

Don Patterson, 324 El Portal Ave., Sanford, was driving the flatbed truck carrying an earth moving crane which hit the bridge at 2:30 p.m.

Patterson, who was treated at Florida Hospital and released, suffered only minor injuries in the crash, which caused $100,000 to $200,000 damage to the bridge and several thousand dollars damage to the crane, highway department says.

The crane, owned by the truck owner, Brian Construction Co., Longwood, was apparently too tall to fit under the bridge. It fell off the truck and was on the surface of the road and the bottom of the cement beams which make up the bridge.

Patrolmen say state DOT investigators will be doing further structural testing of the bridge, but now believe they will be able to rebuild it, leaving the westbound lanes open and eastbound lanes open. — DAVID M. RAZLER

County Tests Water Near Dump For Contamination

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County's Department of Environmental Services staff today were at the Sanford site where 3,700 drums of chemical waste were dumped in 1976 to determine whether there is contamination.

The Sanford City Commission has called a special meeting for 4 p.m. Thursday with the Environmental Protection Agency and state Department of Environmental Education officials to discuss the chemical storage and possible action to be taken.

Kenneth Hooper, environmental services director, said the samples are being taken at the request of DER.

Hooper said during an inspection of the site earlier this week two drums labeled, "Cyanide" were found as well as an "avalanche labeled" drum.

Hooper said, "No one has opened or is going to open those drums." Hooper said, adding barrels that are usually labeled by the original manufacturer.

The drums are then delivered to other firms and the empty drums usually filled with waste from the use of the original chemical.

"The contents of the drums marked 'cyanide' now probably contain a mixture of cyanide bound with other chemicals, he said. 'There's also a lot of drums labeled 'flammable'." Hooper said.

"We don't know what it would take to liberate the cyanide," Hooper said.

County Public Safety Director, Gary Kaiser said, "There is an ignition source at the site, so we could have an explosion," he added the Sanford Fire Department is taking precautions by having a 24 hour watch at the site.

State Mulls Reversal On Hospital

By DIANE PETRYK
Herald Staff Writer

The state official who rejected the proposal to build a new hospital in Sanford is reconsidering his decision, according to State Rep. Robert Hatway, D-Altamonte Springs.

Hatway said this morning he told Gary Clarke, deputy assistant secretary of health planning and development, that the people in Seminole County are better suited to make decisions about their hospital than someone from Tallahassee.

"I was very frank with him," Hatway said. "I expressed my view that the county had taken the proper steps and had made every investigation."

Clarke ruled Nov. 7 that it would be more cost effective to renovate Seminole Memorial Hospital than build a replacement facility. He said the hospital could be adequately repaired and expanded for $6 million.

His decision blocked issuance of a certificate of need, required before construction of the new hospital can begin.

But officials of Hospital Corporation of America, the firm selected by the county to construct the new facility, said they will appeal the decision to a state hearing office next month if necessary.

HCA contends that a $6-million renovation would be inadequate and an adequate renovation would cost about as much as a new hospital and would not serve as well.

County Attorney Nikki Clayton and HCA officials met with Clarke for an hour and a half in Tallahassee Tuesday, presenting the county and company positions.

"He took it all in," Clayton said. "He was fairly objective and neutral. We'll just have to wait and see."

Schools Refuse To Let Students Debate Abortion

By CHARITY CICARDO
Herald Staff Writer

"We'll be back," said a small but determined group of Lake Branley students after the county school board refused to allow a classroom debate on state funding of abortion.

"Senior political science teacher Dosta Horner and five political science students asked the board Tuesday to let the students debate on adult entertainment and state funding of abortion.

"The issues are part of the class's 'mock legislature' session — a simulation game based on the operation of the Florida Legislature.

About 35 students would be exposed to one of the issues in each of three classes, Horner said.

"We're more than 30 minutes of discussion about the debates, the vice-presidential debate, Board Vice-Chairman Roland Williams voted no.

The Board policy states, 'extreme care shall be exercised when controversial subjects arise in the classroom.'

"We don't know what it would take to liberate the cyanide," Hooper said.

County Public Safety Director, Gary Kaiser said, "There is an ignition source at the site, so we could have an explosion," he added the Sanford Fire Department is taking precautions by having a 24 hour watch at the site.

American Dream Dead For 'Libertyville' Family

LIBERTYVILLE, Ill. (UPI)—The American dream ran out on Bruce and Darlene Rouse.

Someone or some persons killed parents Bruce and Darlene Rouse with a shotgun as they slept together in their home during the night of June 5-6. Sheriff's spokesmen do not deny the focus of the investigation is upon the children of the family.

The knife which came down upon Rouse time and again has not been found. The investigators give the strongest indications the reason they cannot or will not say why they cannot yet prove anything.

Two of the children, sleeping directly above their parents, say they did not hear the shotgun and slept through the slaughter.

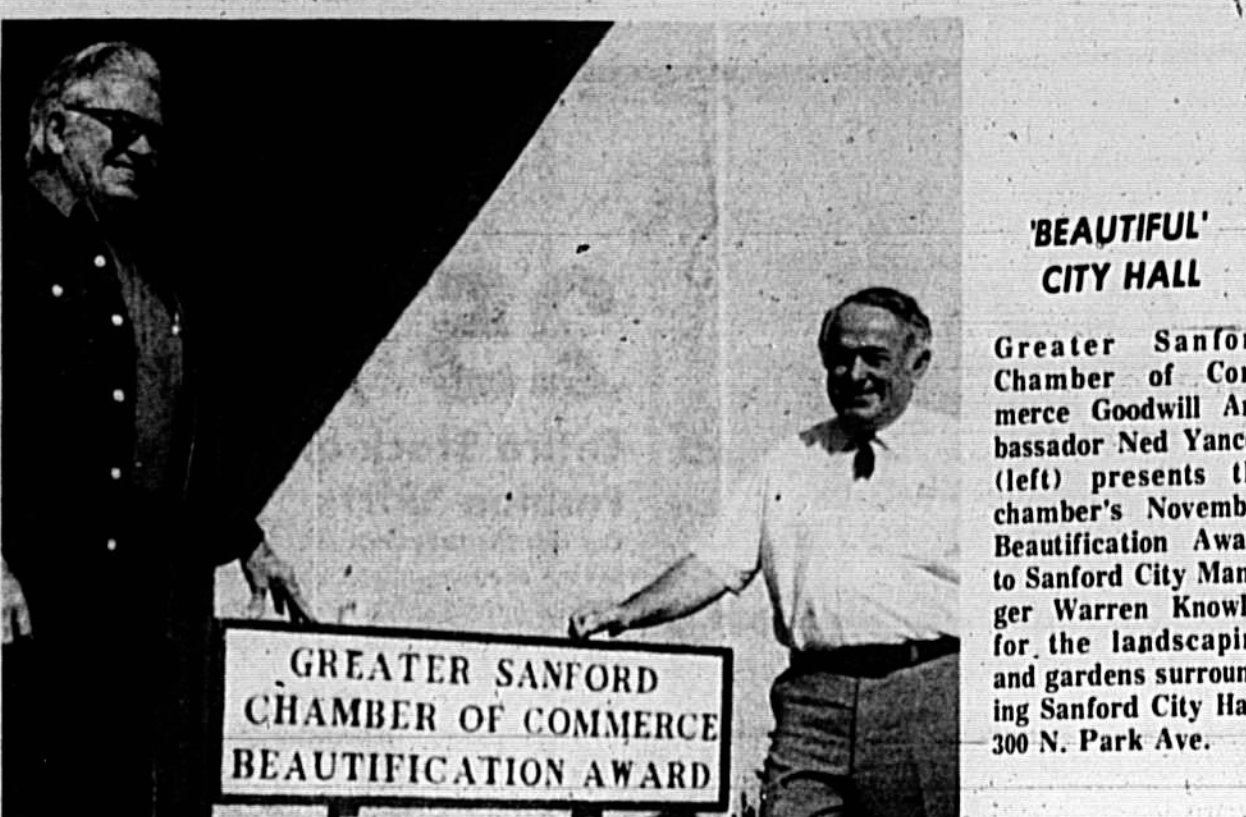

They were grease-stained. Hard, long work seemed his obsession. Darlene met him when they moved to the Libertyville High School. As he prospered, she blossomed. Much of her life was preoccupied by bridge clubs, bowling, and meeting her friends at Miss Alice's Restaurant on Milwaukee Avenue.

The twisted, narrow, two-story Rouse home now seems to be a neomade haunted house. No one answers the doorbell. But anyone who cares to can gain a fair knowledge of its interior simply by walking around it and looking through the picture windows.

Investigators find it hard to explain why two healthy teenagers supposedly sleeping directly overhead would not be awakened by the shots which killed their parents, or why their brother, sleeping nearby, said he heard nothing.

A theory has been advanced that the sound of the shotgun could have obscured the sounds of the shot. This, however, might imply the killer had the good fortune to time his blasts with the thunder.

There was trouble among everyone. The parents didn't get along. The kids didn't get along.

Cotillion Season's Most Glittering Gala

The Old-South Cotillion sponsored by Ballet Guild of Sanford-Seminole and the BGS Auxiliary Saturday night no doubt rates as the season's most glittering gala as the Holiday Season approaches.

The former Mr. Papper Club in downtown Sanford was transformed into a charming New Orleans-style setting where southern hospitality was the order of the evening from the 30-foot magnolia trees to the floral mist pipes.

A variety of tempting party fare supplied by the board and auxiliary members was served from a beautifully appointed table decorated with a large doll and tall silver candelabra.

Presiding over the punch table were Mary Tillis, Sally Sewark, Helen Malloy and Frances Kujala.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—One in four Americans above the age of 20 no longer eat breakfast, but 38 percent of the population snacks at least once a day, a government survey shows.

The breakfast eating habits also differ with age. A total of 68 percent of those age 65 or more report eating breakfast, while more than 35 percent in the 20 to 34 age category start the day on an empty stomach.

The survey of 118,000 persons living in 41,000 households was released by the National Center for Health Statistics. It showed: —81 percent eat breakfast every day, 15.8 percent eat it sometimes and 3.1 percent never do. —Blacks are more likely to go without breakfast than whites or Hispanics.

The countdown for king and queen contestants in the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce's Christmas Parade has been changed from Thursday 7 p.m. Dec. 4, at the Sanford Civic Center.

According to spokesman Martha Yancy, the king and queen will be crowned then after contestants are given their final hour to garner more votes at one each stage. There will also be live entertainment and light refreshments. The public is welcome.

Cooks Of The Week

Recipes In Book Called Oldies But Also Goldies

BY TOM NESTEL
Herald Staff Writer

Last week athletes from all over the country converged on Sanford to participate in the Golden Age Games and to demonstrate their athletic abilities on the playing field. But there was another group of people being held in the games in an indirect manner, and while they may have been champions on the playing field, they did not prove to be champions in the kitchen.

These were the contributors who were selected to be included in the Golden Oldies Cook Book sponsored as a fundraising project for the Golden Age Games by the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce.

The idea was originated by Virginia Longwell, executive assistant to the chamber and the Evening Herald's Cook of the Week Oct. 22. Earlier in the year she requested recipes through articles in the paper, at senior meetings and elsewhere, with the idea of compiling the best in a cookbook and offering it for sale with the proceeds benefiting the Golden Age Games.

While many of the contributors were Golden Ages themselves, the recipes are great for cooks of every age. "They're not just of old (old) recipes," Mrs. Longwell said.

The book, on sale for $5 at the Chamber of Commerce in Sanford, is divided into eight chapters: Appetizers and Beverages, Breads, Casseroles, Skillet Dishes, Desserts, Salads and Salad Dressings, Jams, Jellies, Pickles and Relishes, and Soups and Measurments.

Mrs. Longwell typed all the recipes during the summer then turned it over to Sanford's Chai and Ernie Herrel for proofreading before it went to the printers.

The book is dedicated "to all those persons whose tireless, unselfish efforts have made the Golden Age Games an annual tribute to Senior Citizens everywhere."

There is also an apology included which states: "Put together by amateurs. We do not doubt have made some mistakes. Those who look will find them, so we ask, please be understanding, don't just enjoy these delicious recipes."

After each recipe, credit is given to the person supplying it. In some cases contributors wished to remain anonymous and used only their initials or pen names, such as, mystery chef, a young mother, Grand Ma, or a local friend. Even though some cooks were hesitant about having their names included, the recipes supplied are a mouth-watering selection that fill almost 200 pages and would make a worthwhile addition to any cook book collection.

"And they'd make wonderful Christmas gifts," added Mrs. Longwell.

A FLORIDA TRADITION: THE PUBLIX TURKEY.

Start your Thanksgiving dinner with our self-basting (broth-basted), Broad-Breasted, Publix brand Turkey. It's broth-basted for extra tenderness and rich, natural flavor; broad-breasted so you can enjoy plenty of succulent white meat.

Only a quality turkey could earn the Publix name. Our broad-breasted Publix turkey comes with the Publix guarantee. That's our way of saying its quality is the very best, just like all the fine products that bear the Publix name.

- CRISPY PORK STRIPS WITH SWEET SAUCE
(from Chai Herrel)
- Pork strips: 2 pounds boneless lean pork
 - Salt and pepper
 - 1 clove garlic, mashed
 - 1/2 cup Japanese soy sauce
 - 1 egg, well beaten
 - 1/4 cup cornstarch
 - 1 tablespoon sherry
 - meant oil, about 1/4-inch deep
 - Sauce: 2 tablespoons peanut oil
 - 1 clove garlic, mashed, chopped
 - 1 bunch scallions, trimmed and chopped
 - 1 (4-ounce) can sweet green chilies, drained and chopped
 - 1 (1-ounce) can tomato sauce
 - 2 tablespoons vinegar

- CHAI'S PUPPER SUPREME
(from Lou Jones)
- 1 cup shredded natural Swiss cheese (4 ounces)
 - 1 unshredded 8-inch pie shell
 - 1 (7 1/2-ounce) can crab meat, drained and flaked
 - 2 green onions sliced with tops
 - 3 beaten eggs
 - 1 cup light cream
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon peel
 - 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
 - dash of Worcestershire sauce
 - 1/4 cup sliced almonds
- Sprinkle cheese evenly over bottom of pastry shell. Top with crabmeat, sprinkle with green onion. Combine eggs, cream, salt, lemon peel, dry mustard and Worcestershire. Pour over crabmeat and top with almonds. Bake in a slow oven, 325 degrees, about 45 minutes or until set. Let stand 10 minutes before serving. Serves six.

- LIMA BEAN CASSEROLE
(from Bob Daehs)
- 1 pound dried large lima beans
 - 1 stick margarine or butter
 - 2 teaspoons salt
 - 1 teaspoon dry mustard
 - 1 tablespoon molasses
 - 1/4 cup brown sugar
 - 1 cup sour cream
- Bring beans to a boil and boil for two minutes. Cover and let stand for one hour. Then cook until tender. Drain. Add remaining ingredients and bake in casserole for 40 minutes. Serves four to six.

- MINT CHIFFON PIE
(by Minnie Kane)
- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
 - 1 cup milk
 - 1/4 cups sugar (darker mint (4-ounce package)
 - 2 eggs, separated
 - 1 cup heavy cream, whipped
 - few drops green food coloring
 - 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
 - 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 Batch pie shell, baked
Soften gelatin in 1/4 cup milk for five minutes. Scald remaining milk. Add mint and stir until dissolved. Gradually beat a fourth of the mint-flavored milk into beaten egg yolks. Stir in remaining milk-flavored milk. Cook over moderate heat

Cereal Adds Coating For Crunchiness

What has a tart fruit flavor and is crispy-crunchy all over with a hole in the middle? Crunchy Apple Rings, that's what! These fried apple slices get their crunchiness from a coating of cereal adding flavor by teaming up honey and nuts.

A melba is a vanilla ice cream dessert with raspberry sauce. When it's Honey & Nut Melba Pie, it means "delicious." The crisp crust made with Honey & Nut Corn Flakes contrasts with the smooth ice cream filling. Smother each wedge with raspberry-red melba sauce for a simply delicious dessert.

CRUNCHY APPLE RINGS
4 cups Kellogg's Honey & Nut Corn Flakes
1/2 cup all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1 egg, separated
2 tablespoons sugar
1/3rd cup milk
2 apples, cored and sliced into thin rings
Vegetable oil or shortening
Confectioner's sugar
Crush Honey & Nut Corn Flakes to 1/4 cups. Stir together flour, baking powder, salt, cinnamon and nutmeg. Set aside. In small mixing bowl, beat egg white until foamy. Add sugar. Beat until stiff but not dry. Set aside. In a second small bowl, beat egg yolk with milk. Stir in flour mixture. Fold in beaten egg white. Dip apple rings in batter. Coat with crushed cereal. Fry in 1/4 inch of oil at 380 degrees F., turning once, about 1 minute on each side. Drain on absorbent paper. Dust with confectioner's sugar. Serve warm. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

HONEY & NUT MELBA PIE
1/2 cup corn syrup
2 tablespoons firmly packed brown sugar
1 tablespoon margarine or butter
3 cups Kellogg's Honey & Nut Corn Flakes cereal
1 quart vanilla ice cream
Combine corn syrup, brown sugar and margarine in medium-sized saucepan. Cook over low heat, stirring occasionally, until mixture begins to boil. Remove from heat. Add cereal, stirring until well coated. Press evenly in 9-inch pie pan to form crust. Freeze until firm. Allow ice cream to thaw slightly. Spoon into frozen pie crust, spreading evenly. Freeze until firm. Let pie stand at room temperature about 10 minutes before cutting. Serve with Melba Sauce. Yield: 8 servings.

MELBA SAUCE
1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen raspberries in heavy syrup, thawed and undrained
1 1/2 teaspoons cornstarch
1/2 cup currant jelly
Stir together raspberries with syrup and cornstarch in small saucepan. Add jelly. Bring to boil over medium heat, stirring constantly until jelly melts and mixture thickens. Chill.

The French have a way with marinated pork and flagolets (that's beans to Americans).

Pork, Beans Set Pace For French Mood

Pork and beans take on new meaning when pork chops are marinated and pan-cooked on top of the stove with a sweet-tart sauce.

This is a French sleight-of-hand with thick pork chops you'll want to add to your recipe file. Called Porc St. Hubert, in honor of St. Hubert who is the patron saint of hunters, it is ideal for when the winter wind bites and leaves us with a hearty appetite.

The chops cook in about 45 minutes and are served with a glaze made of pan drippings, flour and Bar-Duc, a red currant jam.

Keeping in the French mood, serve with mellow flagolets, similar to our baby lima beans, cornichons or little gherkin pickles, and a robust wine, such as Gevrey-Chambertin from Burgundy.

Cheeses, such as a sharp Roquefort, a delicate, cream Boursault, or a Brie served with crisp apples, grapes or pears and French bread top off this Gallic experience.

For a quick family meal, Porc St. Hubert with flagolets and a crisp, green salad is soul-satisfying.

PORC ST. HUBERT
8 pork chops, 1 1/2 inches thick
Salt and pepper
1/4 cup French olive or peanut oil
1/4 cup Dijon mustard
1/4 cup French red wine vinegar
1/4 cup butter
4 shallots, chopped
1 cup water and 2 chicken bouillon cubes
1/4 cup minced parsley
2 tablespoons flour
1 jar (3 ounces) Bar-Duc (French currant) preserve

Sprinkle chops on both sides with salt and pepper. In bowl, mix oil, mustard and vinegar. Brush chops heavily with mustard mixture on both sides. Let stand for 3 hours or in the refrigerator overnight. Drain chops.

In large skillet, heat butter and saute shallots for 5 minutes. Add chops and brown on both sides. Add water, salt, bouillon cubes. Simmer in any remaining mustard marinade.

Cook chops uncovered for 45 to 60 minutes or until tender. Turn chops occasionally to permit even cooking. Remove chops and place on serving platter. Keep warm. Stir in parsley, Wild Rice and currant preserves. Stir over low heat until sauce thickens and bubbles. Spoon hot sauce over pork chops. Serve garnished with French flagolets (baby lima beans) and parsley sprigs. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 servings.

WINE-MARINADE
1/4 cup dry red wine
1 teaspoon meat tenderizer
1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
one-third cup salad oil
one-third cup soy sauce
With a fork, pierce meat deeply several times on each side. Combine above ingredients; pour over meat. Marinate for two hours in refrigerator, turning several times. Remove meat from marinade and pat dry in paper towels. Broil over high heat until done to taste. Brush often with the marinade while grilling.

BACARDI FROST
1 can (8 ounces) crushed pineapple, undrained
1 cup apricot nectar
1 cup dark rum (80 proof)
1 cup lemon sherbet
1 cup crushed ice
2 cups granadine
In blender container, combine all ingredients. Blend until smooth and frothy. Pour into chilled footed glasses. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Holiday feast variables: Fresh Carrot Mold, Southern Rice Dressing and Holiday Pear Salad.

Holidays Reflect Harvest, Religion And Tradition

Trace the origins of holidays can be interesting and surprising. Many were started to celebrate an agricultural event... sometimes the planting season, but more often, the harvest. Others trace their origins back to religious rites. Family traditions can be credited with adding unique variations to many holiday festivities.

It's these differences in customs that make holidays so fascinating, particularly when it comes to food served. In spite of menu variation, though, one almost universal holiday food is turkey.

The mouthwatering aroma seems to fill every nook and cranny, and half the fun of turkey at holiday meals is what you serve with the big bird!

To vary your holiday turkey dinner, here are some new ideas: for the dressing (try rice instead of bread); vegetable (carrot souffle - filled with broccoli); salad (canned Bartlett pears and other fruits with a luscious dressing); dessert (mince-meat pie, made lighter with pear slices). See how flavors are harmonized and blended by using a flavor enhancer.

Look forward to leftovers with turkey chowder... or turkey fritters. With these new ideas you may start some new mealtime traditions of your own!

SOUTHERN RICE DRESSING
Dress up the dressing, with rice. Much easier to make than regular stuffings (the rice cooks right with the seasonings), yet with all of the traditional flavor.

FRESH CARROT MOLD WITH BROCCOLI
AND LEMON SAUCE
New way with colorful vegetables. A great answer to the problem of what to do with the vegetables: puree the carrots and make a souffle ring filled with broccoli and top with a lemon sauce.

MINCEMEAT PEAR PIE
New way with traditional dessert. Canned Bartlett pear slices and brandy create an extra special mince-meat pie. Pastry for 3-4 cup pie.

Dinner For Two, Please, James

A superb holiday dinner, just for two, may be the most memorable meal that you can share with someone you love. And, planned down to the last perfect detail, it is a most personal and thoughtful gift. Classic dishes, usually cooked for a larger audience, taste extra special when eaten leisurely in an intimate atmosphere. And you don't need James to make it elegant — you can do it all by yourself!

Picture the table set with snowy white cloth, your cherished serving dishes, the thinnest goblets for a toast with a glass of wine, and a cornucopia of fresh flowers for their promise of abundance in the future.

The menu is selected to please every lover of tradition, but prepared in the spirit of today, with a fresh, alive flavor — cooked to a delectable turn. The plump roast turkey sits proudly on its platter awaiting the carving knife, surrounded by a bounty of garden fresh vegetables and a sparkling salad. Extravagant as it sounds, it needn't be. You will find the cooked bird and vegetables can later be combined to make several delicious meals.

ORANGE-STUFFED ROAST TURKEY
 1 8- to 9-pound turkey, thawed if frozen, giblets removed
 4 tablespoons butter or margarine, at room temperature
 1 teaspoon dried leaf rosemary
 1/2 teaspoon dried leaf thyme
 2 Florida oranges, cut into 1/4-inch-thick slices
 1 small onion, sliced
 4 sprigs celery leaves
 4 sprigs parsley
 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
 Salt
 Pepper

Holiday Citrus Ideas

- Whirl 1 cup Florida orange juice with 1/2 pint orange sherbet for an icy refresher.
- Replace plain ice cubes with citrus cubes: freeze Florida orange or grapefruit juice in ice trays; once frozen, remove plastic bags for longer storage.
- Mix 4 teaspoons grated orange peel with 1/2 cup sugar. Sprinkle over cereal or on buttered toast.
- Dip the tips of fresh Florida orange, tangerine or grapefruit sections into melted semi-sweet chocolate. Put on wax paper and let stand until chocolate hardens. Serve as a light dessert.
- Sugar-frost a glass, chill first. Moisten rim with orange wedge and dip rim in superfine sugar.
- To get the most juice out of citrus, roll each piece on counter top with the palm of your hand; cut in half and squeeze. After squeezing, remove crushed pulp and membrane, scalding edges and use for serving fruit salads, relishes or frozen lites.
- Cut peeled bananas in length chunks. Dip in orange juice and roll in chopped pecans and shredded coconut. Arrange on a platter with wooden picks in each. Chill well before serving.
- For a quick dessert, mix 1/2 cup rum and 1/2 cup honey. Add about 4 cups diced, fresh pineapple and 3 Florida oranges, peeled and sliced. Cover and chill several hours. To serve, spoon into stemmed glasses and top with thawed frozen red raspberries. Serve with cookies, if desired.
- Oranges with a Mexican Flair: Mix 1/2 cup sugar with 2-teaspoons ground cinnamon. Sprinkle over 4 Florida oranges, peeled and sliced and arranged in a glass dish. Cover. Refrigerate several hours before serving.

Honey Cake Roll Fits Well Into Hanukkah Meals

Hanukkah is an eight-day Festival of Lights observed by those of Jewish faith throughout the world. This year it begins Dec. 3. The holiday is often marked by a Hanukkah play by school children, followed by a dairy supper, with latkes and cheese daibes.

Each night in homes and temples, a candle is lit on the menorah as Jews celebrate their deliverance from the enemies of the Maccabees.

A honey cake cherry roll fits well into a dairy meal during these days of "KINDLING THE LIGHTS."

HONEY CAKE CHERRY ROLL
 (Dairy)
 1 can (16 to 17 ounces) dark sweet cherries
 3 eggs
 1/2 cup honey
 2 tablespoons water
 1/2 cup flour
 1 teaspoon baking powder
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon each cinnamon, ginger, and allspice
 Powdered sugar
 Cherry sauce

Grease jelly roll pan (15 1/2-by-10 1/2-by-1-inch). Line with waxed paper and grease paper very thoroughly. Drain cherries, reserving syrup. Halve cherries and blot thoroughly with paper towel; set aside. In small mixer bowl beat eggs until thick and lemon-colored about 5 minutes; gradually beat in honey. On low speed, beat in water, flour, baking powder, salt and spices. Beat just until batter is smooth. Pour into prepared pan; bake at 375 degrees F. for 15 minutes or until cake springs back when touched lightly in center.

Immediately invert cake onto clean towel liberally dusted with powdered sugar. Using spatula or table knife to help free edges, carefully remove waxed paper. While hot, and starting from narrow end, roll cake and towel together. Cool on wire rack 30 minutes.

In chilled bowl, whip cream until soft peaks form. Fold in 2-tablespoons powdered sugar. Carefully unroll cake; spread whipped cream over entire surface. Sprinkle halved cherries evenly on cream filling. Reroll without towel. Sprinkle with additional powdered sugar. Serve with cherry sauce. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 8 to 10 servings.

CHERRY SAUCE: Add water to reserve cherry syrup to equal 1 cup. Gradually stir into 1 tablespoon cornstarch. Cook and stir over medium heat until thickened and clear. Stir in 1/2 teaspoon almond extract. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 1 cup.

Rinse turkey; pat dry with paper towels. Mix the 4 tablespoons butter with rosemary and thyme. Gently lift skin away from turkey breast and spread about 2 tablespoons herbed butter mixture under the skins. Stuff turkey cavities with orange and onion slices, celery and parsley. Sew with remaining herbed butter. Truss turkey closed and turn wing tips under shoulder joints. Brush turkey all over with melted butter and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Place turkey on rack in shallow roasting pan. Roast in a 325-degree F. oven 3 to 3 1/2 hours or until a meat thermometer inserted in breast meat registers 180 degrees F. or until juices run clear when the thickest part of the thigh is pierced with a fork. Let turkey rest 30 minutes before carving.

To make gravy: Remove turkey from roasting pan to warm platter. Pour off all fat from pan; reserve. For each cup of medium-thick gravy desired, return 2 tablespoons fat to roasting pan. Heat in 3 tablespoons flour. Stir in 1 cup water or chicken broth. Stir to remove all browned turkey drippings from pan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until thickened and bubbly. Taste, add salt and pepper if necessary. Yield: 1 to 8 servings.

ORANGE VEGETABLE MELANGE
 1 quart water

1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 cup fresh cauliflower
 4 small white onions, peeled and cut in half crosswise
 1/2 cup cut, fresh green beans
 1 carrot, thinly sliced diagonally
 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
 2 tablespoons chopped onion
 1/4 cup Florida orange juice
 1 teaspoon grated orange peel
 1 whole clove
 2 whole allspice
 1 Florida orange, peeled and sectioned

In a medium saucepan, bring water and salt to a boil over high heat. Add cauliflower and cook 4 minutes. Add onions, beans and carrots; cook 4 to 8 minutes longer until all vegetables are just tender. Drain; cover to keep warm. Meanwhile, in a small saucepan, melt butter over moderately high heat; saute chopped onion until soft but not brown. Add orange juice, orange peel, clove and allspice; simmer 5 minutes. Toss orange sections with hot vegetables and serve with orange sauce. Yield: 2 servings.

Note: Recipe may be doubled for enough extra vegetables to make Shepherd's Pie.

A small bird with an aromatic orange stuffing and a melange of vegetables makes a holiday dinner for two a delight.

Sink 'Jaws' Into Zesty Shark Supper

Americans are now finding out what many other countries have known for years — that shark meat is a sea-licious delight!

The Florida Department of Natural Resources recommends shark for many reasons. Some of the many appealing characteristics of shark meat include a lack of bones, mild flavor, firm texture, and preparation versatility.

Zesty Caribbean Shark Supper is an excellent introduction to shark if it's the first time, or just to add to your collection of shark recipes if you're already a fan. This savory dish features shark meat broiled in butter, then covered in a pungent sauce brimming with vegetables. Simply add a green salad and side dish of your choice to round out this adventurous meal. A deliciously different culinary experience is yours for the asking.

ZESTY CARIBBEAN SHARK SUPPER

2 lbs. shark meat, fresh or frozen
 2 cups thinly sliced onion
 1 1/2 cups thinly sliced carrots
 1 cup melted margarine or butter
 1 large green pepper, cut in 1-inch squares
 1 1/2 cups water

1/2 cup vinegar
 2 teaspoons sugar
 1/4 teaspoon liquid hot pepper sauce
 1 large bay leaf
 2 teaspoons salt
 1 teaspoon cornstarch
 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
 2 tablespoons lemon juice

Thaw fish, if frozen. Cut fish into 6 equal serving portions and set aside. Sauté onion and carrot in 2 tablespoons margarine until onion is tender but not brown. Stir in green pepper, 1 cup vinegar, sugar, liquid hot pepper sauce, bay leaf, and 1 teaspoon salt; cover and simmer until vegetables are tender, about 25 minutes. Blend together cornstarch and remaining 1/2 cup water; add to vegetable mixture. Stir in parsley; cook and stir until thickened. While sauce is cooking arrange fish in a single layer on a well-greased broiling dish, 15 X 18 X 1 inches. Combine remaining 2 tablespoons margarine, lemon juice, and remaining 1 teaspoon salt. Brush over fish.

Broil about 4 inches from heat source until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork, 10 to 15 minutes. Baste once during broiling with remaining margarine mixture. Spoon sauce over broiled fish, and serve hot. Makes 8 servings.

24 HOURS A DAY OPEN MONDAY 7 A.M. UNTIL SAT. MIDNIGHT (SUNDAY 7 A.M. UNTIL MIDNIGHT)

Potpourri

GUACAMOLE DIP
 2 large ripe avocados
 3 tablespoons minced onion
 2 tablespoons mayonnaise
 2 tablespoons lemon juice
 1 teaspoon paprika
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
 3 to 4 drops hot pepper sauce

Cut avocados in half. Spoon out and mash pulp. Blend in remaining ingredients, mixing until smooth. Makes 2 cups dip; plastic wrap over surface of dip to prevent discoloration.

FRESH PARSNIP PATTIES
 2 cups mashed cooked parsnips
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 1 teaspoon sugar
 1 teaspoon paprika
 1 teaspoon fresh lemon juice
 1 egg
 1/2 cup fine dry bread crumbs

Four
 Combine mashed parsnips, salt, pepper, sugar, paprika, lemon juice, egg and bread crumbs. Mix well. Shape into 1/4-inch-thick patties 1/2-inch thick. Dip in flour. Cook in butter or bacon drippings in skillet, turning to brown both sides. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 to 5 servings.

BRAN BREAD
 (Makes 8 loaves)
 8 1/2 to 9 cups unfluffed flour
 2 cups All-Bran cereal or Bran Buds cereal
 1/4 cup sugar
 4 teaspoons salt
 3 packages active dry yeast
 1/2 cup (1 stick) margarine, softened
 3 cups very warm water (120 degrees F. - 130 degrees F.)
 1/4 cup dark molasses

In a large bowl thoroughly mix 2 cups flour, cereal, sugar, salt and undissolved yeast. Add softened margarine. Gradually add warm tap water and molasses to cereal mixture and beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add 1 cup flour. Beat at high speed 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Stir in enough additional flour to make a stiff dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board, knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 to 10 minutes. Cover; let rest on board 15 minutes. Divide dough in half. Roll each half into a 12x8-inch rectangle. Shape into loaves. Place in greased 8x4x4-inch loaf pans. Cover; let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour 15 minutes. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 40 to 45 minutes, or until done. Remove from pans. Cool on wire racks.

STEWED PLUM SAUCE
 2 cups water
 1/4 cup sugar
 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
 4 cups sliced fresh plums (about 3 pounds)
 Combine water and nutmeg in heavy saucepan. Bring to a boil, reduce heat and simmer until thickened, about 10 to 15 minutes. Add plum slices and simmer until fruit is tender, about 10 minutes. Remove from heat and cool to room temperature. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 4 cups.

CREPES BELLENO
 (Stuffed Crepes)
 1 cup milk
 2 eggs
 2/3 cup all-purpose flour
 1/2 cup enriched corn meal
 Dash of salt

FILLING:
 1/2 cup chopped onion
 1 tablespoon vegetable oil
 1 lb. ground beef
 One 8-oz. jar taco sauce
 1/4 cup mild-flavor nuts
 1/4 teaspoon ground cumin
 1/4 teaspoon garlic powder

TOPPING:
 Guacamole
 Dairy sour cream
 Shredded sharp Cheddar cheese

For crepes, combine all ingredients, stirring until smooth. For each crepe, fill 1/4 cup dry measure half full. Pour into hot, lightly greased crepe pan or 8 to 7-inch skillet; immediately tilt pan to coat bottom evenly with thin layer of batter. Cook 45 to 60 seconds or until top looks dry. Turn; cook about 30 seconds. Stack crepes between sheets of wax paper. SEE NOTE.

For filling, saute onion in oil. Add meat, broiling lightly; drain. Stir in taco sauce, mild-flavor nuts, cumin and garlic powder; simmer about 5 minutes. Heat over 225 degree F. Fill each of 12 crepes with 1/4 cup meat mixture; roll up. Place foam side down in 12x8-inch baking dish; cover with aluminum foil. Bake at 325 degree F. for 10 to 12 minutes or until heated through. Serve with guacamole, sour cream and shredded cheese, as desired. Makes 12 filled crepes.

NOTE: In this point, crepes may be wrapped and frozen up to 3 months. Thaw overnight in refrigerator.

BARBECUE SAUCE
 1/2 cup vinegar
 1/2 cup water
 2 tablespoons sugar
 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon cayenne pepper
 1 thick slice lemon (or 1 tablespoon lemon juice)
 1/4 cup butter, margarine or oil
 Mix these ingredients in sauce pan. Bring to a boil and let simmer 20 minutes. Remove from heat and add:
 1 cup catsup
 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
 1/4 teaspoon smoke sauce
 Ready to use. Will coat one or two chickens.

BACARDI SESAME STEAK
 1/4 cup salad oil
 1/2 cup sesame seeds
 4 medium onions, thickly sliced
 one-third cup soy sauce
 1/4 cup dark rum (80 proof)
 1/4 cup lemon juice
 1/4 teaspoon sugar
 1/4 teaspoon freshly cracked pepper
 2 medium cloves garlic, crushed
 1/4 teaspoon sesame oil
 Cut about 1 1/2 inches thick
 Parlay
 Cherry tomatoes

In large skillet, heat oil. Add sesame seeds and brown lightly. In large shallow baking dish combine sesame mixture with onion, soy sauce, rum, lemon juice, sugar, pepper and garlic. Place steak in marinade. Turn several times to coat. Cover and refrigerate at least 4 hours. Turn several times. To cook, remove steak and onions to broiling pan with rack. Broil 4 inches from heat to desired doneness. Turn once. Brush often with marinade. Turn onions occasionally to prevent burning. To serve, garnish with parsley and tomatoes. Makes 8 to 9 servings.

Long-Term Illness Has Her Depressed

Dr. Lamb. I'm hooked on drugs prescribed for the relief of asthma. I'm almost 73 years old, a widow, and have had asthma for nearly 20 years.

DEAR DR. LAMB—I think I'm hooked on drugs prescribed for the relief of asthma. I'm almost 73 years old, a widow, and have had asthma for nearly 20 years.

I weigh 90 pounds and am down from 110 and I feel used successfully in helping to control asthma. It could be that you were to take one of the medicines used to prevent asthma.

DEAR READER—Your letter suggests that you may have more than one problem. I certainly don't like to hear that you were to take one of the medicines used to prevent asthma.

Abortion Debate Sizzles
Students Seek Board Reversal

By CHARITY CICARDO
Herald Staff Writer
About 100 senior political science students from Lake Brantley High School are going to attempt to change a Seminole County School Board policy that forbids the discussion of abortion in classrooms.
Five political science students and their instructor, Della Horner, asked the board Tuesday to let the students debate state funding of abortion.
The issue is part of the class' mock legislature session, a simulation game based on the operation of the Florida Legislature.
The board unanimously voted not to allow the abortion debate because of a board policy which states: "The topics of birth control and abortion shall not be incorporated in any classroom... until written material, film, lecture notes, or other forms of communication has been reviewed and approved by the district school board in advance of presentation."
Student Verna Lenihan said they were really fired up about this. We'd like to get the policy changed in time for our debates, which start Dec. 15.
The students are hoping to be on the board's agenda for Dec. 10.
Lenihan said if the students can't get the policy changed in time for their debates, then they hope to get the policy changed for future classes.
Lenihan said parents are also organizing to get the policy changed. Lenihan said they are going to make up their own policy after consulting board attorney Ned Julian to see what the current policy states.
The students feel the board should be able to review material and films, she said, but not forbid discussion or debate of the topic.

WOMAN RESCUED FROM HER HOME

Seminole Fire Investigator Ray Pippin (right) and Charlene and Glenn Drake help an elderly woman from her Paola home following a fire reported shortly after 9 p.m. Wednesday. The woman shared the home at 2220 Via Bonita with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keeney. Pippin said the fire started when the heating system was turned on, overheating a flue up against ceiling joists. The home suffered about $4,000. Pippin said. Neither the Keeney family, their dog or their neighbors, the Drakes, who helped them from their home, were injured in the smoky blaze.

Special Commission Meeting
Decision On Chemicals Expected

The Sanford City Commission will decide today on action to end chemical waste storage in the western section of the city.
City Manager Warren Knowles has suggested the commission consider requesting a court injunction to stop City Chemicals from storing additional chemicals at the site as well as an order demanding that the chemicals now stored there be removed.
At the special 4 p.m. meeting, David Kirkhoff, a lifelong resident of the area and a hybridizer of day lilies by profession, will present petitions seeking removal of the 3,500 drums of waste chemicals stored on a one-acre parcel in the community. Kirkhoff began circulating the petition Wednesday.
The storage site is off Jewell Lane and Airport Boulevard, leased by City Industries Inc. from the Seminole Employment Economic Development Corp. (SEEDCO). Horace Orr, president of SEEDCO, has said the lease — for a one-year period beginning in September 1980 at a fee of $20 a month — has been canceled and the firm has been given 30 days to remove the drums from the property.
Kirkhoff, an environmentalist, said today the petition being circulated through the city is directed to the Sanford City Commission, the city manager, mayor, all governmental agencies, "bureaus, agents, bureaucrats, elected and appointed officials."
The wording of the petition is as follows: "We the people of Seminole County, wish to protest the storage of hazardous chemicals in Seminole County. We desire an immediate ban on all such storage of hazardous chemicals now and in the future."
The state and federal agents also will meet with the city commission at its 4 p.m. meeting.
Knowles has notified the commissioners that it appears the chemical waste operation is in violation of at least three city ordinances. He cited the city zoning ordinance which permits an operation of this sort as a "conditional use" only after a special permit is granted by the city's Planning and Zoning Commission following public hearings. No permit was requested or granted, Knowles said.
He noted that another city ordinance, the fire prevention code, requires a permit for such an operation and none was requested or issued.
Knowles also pointed to the National Fire Code, which the city adopted, that requires a permit if combustible material in excess of 2,500 cubic feet is stored. He said the code also sets requirements on the type of containers which must be used.
Commissioners have also been given a report from the state fire marshal's office which recommends the city "immediately order the owner of the property or leasee to separate or isolate any chemicals that in combination with other substances may bring about a fire or explosion or may liberate a flammable or poisonous gas. And to require the owner of the chemicals to remove them from their present location to an area appropriately suited to maintain such substances."
John Nelson, state fire protection specialist, wrote the recommendations after inspecting the site earlier this week.
The storage site is an open, unfenced field.
Knowles told the commission in a report that Sen. John Vogt, D-Cocoa Beach, and State Rep. Robert Hattaway, D-Altamonte Springs, have been assisting the city by seeking help from state agencies.
Labels on the chemical drums indicate a variety of chemicals are stored on the site.

Iran Asks U.S. To Clarify Position

United Press International
Iranian Prime Minister Mohammad Ali Rajai, stating the United States has agreed in principle to Iran's four demands for the release of the 52 American hostages, said today his government has asked Washington to clarify its reply — especially regarding the return of the late shah's wealth.
Rajai's remarks, quoted by the Kuwaiti News Agency, were a clear indication Iran is negotiating on the hostages issue despite frequent statements in recent days that the demands were non-negotiable.
Diplomatic sources, quoted by KUNA, said Iran has accepted the U.S. reply to two conditions and the Algerian mediators had extended their stay in Tehran to work for the hostages' release.
KUNA said Rajai told a Tehran news conference Iran needed clarification on the clause dealing with the return of the shah's wealth.

Rape Trial Nears Jury
Court Psychiatrists Disagree On Sanity

By DAVID M. HAZLER
Herald Staff Writer
After three days of testimony about rare psychiatric disorders, demonic possession and exorcisms at the Seminole County Jail and the legal definition of sanity, six Seminole County residents were scheduled to decide this afternoon whether an admitted rapist knew right from wrong when he committed his crime.
Closing arguments began this morning in the trial of Willard Patrick Johnson, 37, of Orlando.
Three court-appointed psychiatrists to consider while making their decision, the three doctors were not consistent in their opinions. Two called Johnson legally sane while a third called him absolutely incapable of controlling his actions or knowing right from wrong on April 17, the night of the assault.
Dr. Michael Gutman explained to the jury that he believed Johnson was "a mish-mash of a man" torn between "Willard," a criminal, anti-social being and "Pat," an entirely separate personality who is religious and tries to reform the person as a whole.
Johnson is constantly torn by "the hurricane" of his mind, Gutman told the jury, and cannot control himself.
According to Gutman, "Pat" was created by the partial rehabilitative effects of an earlier prison term. Johnson tried to reform himself, but ended up with two very separate, very different personalities, possibly with separate sub-personalities, Gutman said.
But doctors J. Lloyd Wilder and Robert Kirkland told the jury the dual personality defense and Johnson's actions were simply ways to avoid punishment.
Kirkland told the court none of the security information on multiple personalities suggests a person suffering from the condition would commit criminal acts.
He added he believed Johnson was faking the separation between Willard and Pat.
But on cross examination, Kirkland said he considered Johnson's "mirror writing" called by other witnesses evidence of his personality disorder, a fraud, probably copied from a letter turned over and traced.
Kirkland was unaware of the testimony earlier in the day of an expert handwriting specialist, who told the court Johnson's reversed writing was perfect and definitely not traced or copied.
He told defense attorney Chandler Muller he would be "interested" in knowing the writing was real and left the stand still not knowing of the earlier testimony.
Kirkland also told the court he had not spoken to persons who observed strange behavior in Johnson in the past and did not take into account an assessment of tests given to Johnson by a psychologist and used by Gutman to help back up his conclusion the suspect was insane.
Wilder testified for the shortest time of the three doctors, telling the court Johnson was "malingerer," trying to avoid punishment through claiming a mental disorder.

"He had the ability to know what he was doing, to know right from wrong," he said. Johnson tries to separate good and evil, but has only one personality, he said.
He called the mirror written letters irrelevant. "I have known people who know how to do that," he said, calling it a skill, not as described by other witnesses as a sign of a "disassociative" personality disorder.
Throughout the day, Johnson remained almost motionless, starting at the desk in front of him, occasionally blinking.
Even when his wife, Kathy, testified, Johnson remained unmoved.
Mrs. Johnson, who met the defendant in prison in 1975 while she was singing with an evangelical Christian group and married him when he was released in 1978, told the court he had suffered in the past from amnesia periods, similar to the one Muller claims blocked out memory of the Winter Springs rape and robbery he is charged with committing.
She told how on one occasion Johnson did not come home from work, but called from Indiana, saying he did not know who she was, but found her number in his wallet.
When Johnson finally arrived back at an Orlando bus terminal, he walked right past her, Mrs. Johnson said.
But Johnson's Winter Springs victim and the woman he tied up and robbed two weeks earlier in College Park told the court they believed he was sane when he committed the crime.
Testimony in the trial finally ended at 7:30 p.m.
Earlier in the day, two Episcopal priests testified they had witnessed evidence of demonic possession in Johnson when they visited him at the Seminole County jail.
Rev. Richard Bowman, of the Church of the Holy Spirit, Apopka, and Rev. Fred Eastham, of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Maitland, said they had seen Johnson stricken by the kinds of symptoms testified to Tuesday by a Sanford minister.
Bowman said he even attempted exorcising the demon from Johnson, commanding it to come forth.
Under Florida law, persons are only legally insane if they do not know the difference between right and wrong and the penalties they may face at the time they commit a crime.
Johnson is charged with robbery and rape, for the April 17 attack on a Winter Springs woman in her condominium, a crime his attorney admitted the defendant committed.
The attack continued through the early morning of April 18.
If found guilty, Johnson faces a maximum of life in prison. If found not guilty due to insanity, he may spend the rest of his life in a state hospital.

RETURN OF THE RITZ

Although it's hard to tell from this flipped-over banner, Sanford's Ritz Theater on Magnolia Avenue will open soon. The theater will reopen in the next two weeks under the ownership of Louis Santiago of Boston, according to George DeJesus of Deltona, the new manager. DeJesus said the theater, now being given a new coat of paint, new carpeting and seats, will show double features for $2.50, featuring mostly family oriented films.
